

WOODWORTH BLOCK DAMAGED BY FIRE SUNDAY MORNING

Prompt Work of the Fire Department Saved the Building From Destruction--Loss on Building Estimated at $5,000.

Fire did considerable damage to the Woodworth block on Main street, last Sunday morning about seven o'clock.

The local fire department responded to the alarm very quickly, and it is due to their prompt and efficient efforts that greater damage was not done.

The office rooms on the second floor were not damaged, but the living rooms occupied by W. F. Boening were badly damaged.

Perry Woodworth, owner of the building, estimates his loss in the neighborhood of $5,000, which is covered by insurance.

Mr. Woodworth is already having the building repaired, and Mr. Rheiner of the Rheiner Electric, and W. E. McCrum of the DeLuxe Music Shop, will occupy their store again as soon as the repairs are made.

PLYMOUTH BOY IN PANAMA

Charles Hurt, son of Marlon Hurt, of 210 Pearl street, Plymouth, Michigan, who recently enlisted in the Regular Army, sailed recently from the Brooklyn army base with three hundred soldiers on the U. S. Army Transport Cambrai, for the Panama Canal Zone.

The trip to Panama will include a cruise along the Atlantic coast and a stop at San Juan, capital of the tropical island of Porto Rico, abounding in historic relics and scenes where Captain "Kid," the intrepid rover and pirate, sheltered his craft.

The War Department has arranged special tours for soldiers from army transports at San Juan. When the ship docks at that port, natives operating "guaguas," which is Porto Rican for motor busses, take soldiers on sight-seeing trips over crooked mountain roads that were built three hundred years ago by Spanish slaves.

Hurt, who volunteered for duty in Panama and who selected the coast artillery branch of the army for services, will be assigned by Major-General Charles H. Martin, commander of the Panama Canal Department, to one of the units that guard the canal.

Before sailing, he was a member of the garrison of Fort Slocum, N. Y., an army post on the Long Island Sound, where he received his military training under the supervision of Colonel J. J. Bradley, commander of the post.

PLYMOUTH MAN OPENS NEW CAFE.

H. J. Dye of this place, has opened his new cafe in the old Washington West homestead on Grand River, three miles west of Farmington, and a mile and a half east of Novi.

Mr. Dye's long experience in the restaurant business and his reputation for serving first-class meals is well known throughout the country, and he will no doubt enjoy a large patronage in his new location.

Young men especially follow the life story of J. B. Stetson, the first chapter of which appears in Green & Joliffe's ad. of this week.

LOCAL REAL ESTATE BOARD ENTERTAINS

ERNEST M. FISHER, PROFESSOR OF REALTY MANAGEMENT, U. OF M., GUEST OF HONOR.

SPLENDID BANQUET SERVED BY LADIES OF O. E. S., AT MASONIC TEMPLE, THURSDAY EVENING.

Honoring Ernest M. Fisher, professor of realty management, U. of M., the Plymouth Real Estate Board last night covered itself with honor in arranging and handling one of the best dinner meetings that has been held in the real estate annals of Michigan.

Approximately one hundred guests sat down to a delightful dinner served at the Masonic temple by the ladies of the Eastern Star, the guest list including visitors from Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Dearborn, Ferndale, Detroit, Lansing, Grand Rapids and other cities.

The guest of honor, Professor Fisher, has just been appointed to the chair of realty management, University of Michigan, and in a splendid address outlined the aims and objects of his department. He brought out the fact that the U. of M. is the first large university in the United States to recognize the rapid development of realty practice and management by the establishment of a special curriculum devoted to this phase of business education.

Professor Fisher stressed the point that the nation-wide work of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, the standardization of procedure and the ethics adopted by all realtors were working toward a point where all colleges of note in the United States would be forced to follow the lead of U. of M. in establishing chairs of realty management and practice.

He stated that conferences are now being held with authorities in all phases of realty practice wherein discussions regarding the organization of educational courses for realty boards, methods of conducting classes and correlation of real estate literature and books are being considered.

Following a splendid dinner, the meeting was opened by the president of the local realty board, Roy R. Parrott, who welcomed the guests on behalf of the Plymouth realtors. He stated that it was the desire of the members of the Plymouth board to reach the highest stage of efficiency possible, and the meeting was arranged for the purpose of interchanging ideas as well as honoring Professor Fisher.

Mr. Parrott then introduced the toastmaster for the evening, C. R. Livengood, of the Plymouth board, who took charge of the speakers' session of the program.

Previous to his introduction of the first speaker, Mr. Livengood paid a high tribute to the spirit of Plymouth citizens and emphasized the fact that cities of today are measured not so much by population as by the calibre of civic interest and municipal ambition. He pointed to past achievements as indicative of the greater accomplishments of the future.

John Doelle, executive secretary of the Michigan Real Estate Association, was the first speaker on the program, and he spoke at some length regarding the forthcoming state advertising campaign and the legislative program of the state association.

In the opinion of Mr. Doelle, Michigan has all the assets that will make of her the greatest summer resort state in the union, and the comprehensive advertising campaign now being arranged is expected to attract to this state a tremendous influx of tourists and resorters annually.

as one of the strongest in the nation. The next speaker was one the Plymouth board helped to elect at the Kalamazoo convention last September. John Buys, president of the Michigan association, Mr. Buys spoke of the work of the state body and outlined the objectives it is hoped to attain this year.

Harry E. Lyon, of Ferndale, vice-president of the state board, was introduced to the assemblage and was followed by the guest of honor, Professor Ernest M. Fisher, who spoke at considerable length. Previous to assuming the chair of realty management at Ann Arbor Mr. Fisher was the head of the educational department of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, with headquarters in Chicago.

Following the speaking program the toastmaster, Mr. Livengood, made an appeal to all brokers who are not members of the board to join forces with this very necessary adjunct of the city's progress, and lend their individual effort toward the more ethical conduct of the realty business.

Among the guests from out of town were Arthur W. Webber, president, and S. R. Kitenour, secretary, of Dearborn; Nathan Kornold, president, and Maynard Newton, secretary, of Ann Arbor; Harry T. Hanover, president, and Earl L. Freeman, secretary, of Ypsilanti; O. C. Eckley, secretary of the Ypsilanti Chamber of Commerce, and Arthur W. Smith, prominent Detroit realtor.

The arrangements for the dinner-meeting were in the hands of a committee composed of Roy Parrott, D. P. Murphy, William Petz, Russell Wingard, Bert Giddings and Raymond Bachelder. The reception committee was composed of D. P. Murphy, Herald Hamill, G. A. Bakewell and William Wood.

TWO HANDSOME STORE FRONTS

The two new store fronts in the Green & Joliffe and Dodge Drug stores, are practically completed, and they both present a handsome appearance, and would be a credit to large city stores. The display windows of the Green & Joliffe store are very deep, and will allow a splendid opportunity for the display of goods. A tile floor is used in the entrance way of both stores. These two store fronts make a great addition to the metropolitan appearance of Main street.

INSTALLS NEW FIXTURES

The Dodge Drug Store has installed this week, a complete set of show cases and wall cases, which does away with the old shelving and show cases. The new fixtures are of the latest design for stores of this kind, and are finished in walnut. Together with the new modern front, the store presents a very handsome appearance, indeed, and is a credit not only to Mr. Dodge, but the business section of Plymouth as well.

The William Wood Insurance agency has secured a series of interesting life insurance ads, the first one of which appears in today's paper. Be sure and read it.

By reviewing the greatest literary men of a century, Sidney Landon has contributed new dignity to the art of impersonation. With wigs, grease, paints and a precisely vivid imagination, he gives faithful reproductions of noted authors. He completely loses his own identity, assumes a new role and quotes from the works of the genius impersonated.

One of Mr. Landon's most popular presentations is of Mark Twain making his historic birthday speech, Edgar Allan Poe is pictured in his story of "Annabel Lee." A humorous selection by F. Hopkinson Smith, a Rudyard Kipling poem, a humorous reading from James Whitcomb Riley, Bill Nye's "American Boy" and a group of Longfellow poems are favorites of his repertoire.

Sidney Landon

Many of the later-day writers Mr. Landon knew personally. Other writers in both England and America he learned to know through visits to their former homes and libraries, and through interviews with relatives and close friends.

Sidney Landon's "Great Literary Men" is a masterpiece in popular and unique intellectual diversion.

Don't miss this entertainment at the High school auditorium, Monday evening, December 6th.

APPRECIATES MAIL'S ADVERTISING SERVICE.

We have received the following letter of appreciation from Roy E. Crowe, manager of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company for this district, in which he wrote as follows: Editor Mail: "May I express the appreciation of my company and of myself for the splendid treatment you have accorded our advertising in your columns the past year.

"As manager of the Plymouth exchange, I feel certain that I can testify to the worth of the Plymouth Mail in an advertising way. We have been advertising our long distance and toll service particularly this year, and excellent results have attended our use of space in your publication."

"Thanks! It is always a pleasure to get letters like this. It makes us feel our efforts are appreciated.

THE CHRISTMAS SEAL CAMPAIGN

The annual sale of Christmas seals, the proceeds of which go to fight tuberculosis, began in Plymouth Monday, November 29th.

All rural schools surrounding Plymouth have joined forces with the Plymouth High school to make this year's sale greater than ever before. These seals will also be on sale at the three pharmacies—Community, Dodge's and Beyer's.

In these days it is very unusual to see letters without being stamped with these cheery Christmas seals—so buy early and use these attractive seals for your Christmas packages and correspondence.

The campaign is under the auspices of the Plymouth High school.

PLYMOUTH STORES TAKE ON YULETIDE APPEARANCE.

Plymouth stores are already taking on a Yuletide atmosphere in their interiors, and early shoppers will find a large selection of Christmas gifts awaiting their choosing.

During the past few weeks the merchants have been preparing for the event with the result that merchandise has been secured earlier than usual, and last Saturday saw the real starting of Christmas buying.

The advantage of shopping early, before the rush starts, is being recognized more and more by the buying public, the last minute crowds, picked over stock, and unsatisfactory assortment all combine to take the joy out of late Christmas shopping.

The advantage of preparing a shopping list is advisable. Read over the advertisements in the Mail carefully and prepare a list from the gift suggestions found in this edition. It will be a great help in making your shopping easy.

In buying your Christmas gifts, you will find you can do better by buying them right here in Plymouth.

CELEBRATED FIFTIETH WEDDED ANNIVERSARY.

Mr. and Mrs. Sowell L. Bennett celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at their home on Starkweather avenue, Thanksgiving Day. Thirty-seven relatives and friends helped them to celebrate, and enjoyed a delicious turkey dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Lyndon of Ann Arbor; Mrs. Dora Cole of Kalamazoo; Mrs. Carrie Bennett-Cook of Howell, Silas Sly and Mrs. Chloe Brooke of Plymouth, were at the wedding fifty years ago. The youngest guest was Sanford Paul Barr, great-grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Bennett.

Large baskets of yellow "mums" and yellow crepe paper carried out a golden color scheme. Mr. and Mrs. Bennett received many beautiful and useful gifts.

COMMUNITY FUND CAMPAIGN STARTS DECEMBER 6TH

The Campaign Is Under the Auspices of the Chamber of Commerce.

Every Citizen in Plymouth Is Urged to Contribute to This Most Worthy Cause.

The annual community fund campaign will be inaugurated in Plymouth commencing Monday, December 6th. The solicitation of subscriptions will be carried on by committees chosen from the membership of the Chamber of Commerce, under whose auspices the campaign will be conducted.

The same efficient committee who has had charge of the fund for the past two years has kindly consented to continue to act in this capacity for the coming year, and they have been duly reappointed by the Chamber of Commerce. This committee has done excellent work during the past two years, and their continuance in the work will meet with the hearty approval of all. The committee is composed of the following:

Mrs. Frank J. Burrows, chairman. Mrs. J. Lawrence Johnson. Mrs. William T. Pettingill.

The committee from the Chamber of Commerce who have been appointed to carry on the campaign for funds are as follows:

J. M. Larkins, chairman. C. G. Shear. Paul Wiedman. S. A. Spleer. Harry Lash. Oliver Goldsmith. George Robinson.

At a recent meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce it was definitely decided that the money received for the community fund this year would be used for local purposes only.

This has been a prosperous year; we have more people in Plymouth this year than ever before, and it has been decided to raise more money this year than was raised the previous one, and therefore everybody is urged to increase their subscriptions a little this year, and those who did not subscribe at the last campaign are asked to do so at this time. Last year a total of $73.30 was raised; this year it is hoped to increase this amount to $1,000, which will be necessary to meet the requirements of those in need of money, fuel and clothes.

The need for an adequate community fund in Plymouth has been demonstrated during the past two years. It is a matter that should interest every citizen in Plymouth, as every well regulated town and city in the country maintains a community fund from which funds are available for worthy charitable purposes, which is handled and directed by a committee appointed for that purpose.

Every citizen is urged to get back of this most worthy movement. This fund is a community matter, and every person in Plymouth should be a contributor. It is not the affair of the business men or the wealthy. It is everybody's business that this drive be a success.

The following is the report of the committee for the past year.

Plymouth, Mich., October 26, 1926. To the officers and members of the Chamber of Commerce your Community Fund committee respectfully submit the following report:

From November 17th, when the community drive started, to the present date the following amount has been subscribed: $773.30.

Table with 2 columns: Item, Amount. Total disbursements as follows: Christmas baskets and toys 468.00, Salvation Army 200.00, Provisions and necessities 238.33, Coal 74.00, Dental services to Dr. Champe 39.00, Clothing 36.82, Star Home for Boys 25.00, Milk fund for school children 20.00, Advertising for community drive 10.50, Balance on hand in First National Bank saving account 76.04, Balance on hand in Plymouth Savings Bank commercial account 9.57.

Twenty families have received assistance during the past year. A large amount of clothing has been given your committee and has been distributed among needy families, also household goods.

During the winter several positions were secured for unemployed men and women. Your committee has assisted the supervisor in investigating the poor families and has secured the services of the Red Cross nurse for the sick.

It has been their desire to use the money placed in their hands judiciously and to serve to the best of their ability.

ZAIDA BURROWS, MAUD PETTINGILL, ZAIDA JOHNSON.

A HANDSOME SIGN.

One of the very handsomest and largest electric signs in Plymouth was erected this week for the Penniman Allen theatre. The new sign is thirty-two feet in length, and has a fash border, which, when lighted, produces a beautiful effect. The sign has the words "Penniman Allen" running perpendicular its entire length. It takes 1,070 electric bulbs to light the sign.

There are very few theatres in the state, and it is safe to say none in towns much larger than Plymouth, that have anything that can compare with it. The new sign is in keeping with the policy of the Penniman Allen management, that there is nothing too good for Plymouth.

ROTARY CLUB ENTERTAINS FOOT BALL TEAM.

The Plymouth Rotary Club had as their guests at the noon-day luncheon of the club last Friday, the members of the 1926 foot ball team and Coach Page, of the local High school. After a splendid feed, President B. E. Champe spoke a few words of welcome to the team, and called upon each one to rise and give his full name and also his nickname. He then turned the program over to the Boys' Work Committee of the club, and Sidney D. Strong, in the absence of Harry R. Lash, chairman of that committee, presided over the program. Mr. Strong took the opportunity to congratulate the team upon the splendid record they had made in upholding the foot ball honors of the school and the sportsmanlike manner which has characterized the work of the team during the season just closed. He then introduced George Veenker, one of Coach Yost's assistant coaches on the great University of Michigan eleven of 1926.

Mr. Veenker gave a splendid talk, in which he told of many incidents in his work with the University team. He was given a hearty round of applause at the conclusion of his talk. Rotarian Strong then, in behalf of the club, presented the school with ten basket ball uniforms and sweat shirts. The presentation was most ably responded to by George A. Smith, superintendent of schools.

MANY ATTEND STORE OPENING.

The opening at Blunk Bros. last Saturday was well attended, many people taking the opportunity to see the improvements that have been made in the store, and the addition of much more floor space, which was announced in last week's Mail. Souvenirs were given out to the ladies, men and children who called, and the Messrs. Blunk were the recipients of many compliments upon the splendid appearance of their store.

AUTO LICENSES WENT ON SALE DECEMBER 1.

The 1927 issue of automobile license plates went on sale at the 90 branches of the Secretary of State's office throughout the state, Wednesday, December 1st.

The new plates have a burnt orange background and the legend in black. They were manufactured by convict labor at the Michigan state prison at Jackson.

There are between 1,100,000 and 1,200,000 automobiles in Michigan. Approximately one-third of them are owned in the Detroit district.

The various fees, of which there are about 2,000, start at $7.95—the license tax on a Ford roadster—and go as high as $250—for certain types of heavy trucks. The standard tax on passenger models is 55 cents per hundredweight, while the standard tax for trucks is $1.25 per hundredweight.

CALLING HOGS

"Go out and shut your barn doors, folks, 'cause when I call hogs they come," said Mrs. Chas. Martin, of Walkerton, Ind., from a Chicago radio station a few evenings ago. Then she gave an exhibition of hog calling that several around Plymouth who have radio sets and were listening-in declare to be wonderful. There were several farm women in the contest, but Mrs. Martin won. She gave three kinds of hog calls, and they sounded loud enough to be heard all over Chicago. In addition to entertaining thousands of people who had no idea what a hog call sounded like, she is getting a lot of free publicity. All of which goes to show that in this world there are many ways of becoming famous.

AN EARLY SUGGESTION

Here's the holiday season approaching, the time when everybody in Plymouth will wish they had a little more money to use. It is the one season when selfishness has no place in any human heart—the time when we want to give freely and to us many as possible.

So for the benefit of those who never are prepared when Christmas comes we want to call attention to figures now being published in many daily papers of the land. Between now and Christmas day banks that encourage Christmas savings clubs will distribute the enormous total of $400,000,000 to boys and girls and men and women who have been saving during the year at the rate of a few cents a week. It will average just $58.50 for each of the more than 7,000,000 who belonged to these clubs. Even the ones who put in a quarter a week will have an extra $12 and those who put in a dollar a week will have, of course, $52 to spend that they would not otherwise have had.

These figures won't help you out this Christmas if you didn't happen to belong to a savings club. But they ought to make you determined to do a little saving next year. Of course, the banks will gladly keep your money for you; so will your employer be glad to hold back a stipulated sum each week if you wish. Or a number can get together and organize their own Christmas club, appoint a treasurer, and turn over the savings agreed upon each week. It doesn't make much difference what plan you select—but select some kind that will help you to save. Don't let another Christmas catch you short of the money you would like to have to make it happier for those you love, and for your own self as well.

WIND AND WEATHER

"Every wind has its weather," we heard a Plymouth man say recently, when the most popular of all subjects was being discussed in a local store. All of us have to agree with him. In fact, even the weather bureau agrees with him.

The prevailing direction of the wind in middle latitudes is from west to east, roughly speaking. Winds from any different direction, and especially shifting winds, imply a storm disturbance of some kind. For instance, the cyclone, or region of low atmospheric pressure, is always accompanied by a system of winds directed spirally inward. This wind system almost invariably moves eastward and is nearly always accompanied by precipitation on its front side and clearing weather at its rear.

Wind from the east may therefore mean that a storm is close at hand; wind from the west, that the storm is past and gone. Wind from the south is commonly the most humid and frequently brings rain. Wind from the northeast is generally cold, and being caused frequently by an approaching storm is almost certain to bring disagreeable rain or snow, justifying the old saying: "The wind from the northeast, neither good for man nor beast." According to the proverb, "Wind from the west suits everyone best." Another old proverb advises people to "Do business with men when the wind is in the northwest." The weather bureau supports this shrewd saying because when the wind is from that direction at any place in the temperate zone of the northern hemisphere the weather there is likely to be cool, dry, fine and bracing.

When Boy and Puppy Meet

When boy and puppy meet, even though it is against the tuberculosis sanatorium rules, there is joy in the hearts of both. And why shouldn't there be joy, especially in the heart of the boy for he is going home soon after a stay in the Ingham county tuberculosis sanatorium, and then he can play with puppies to his heart's content. Through the Christmas seals, which finance the work of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association, frail lads are found throughout Michigan, and helped to grow into strong and healthy ones.

Do your Christmas shopping in Plymouth.

The Seal With the Double-Barred Cross

If you could know
That the pennies
That you spend
For Christmas seals

Might chance to be
The very pennies
That would surely bring
To some little child
The health that otherwise
It might not know.
Would you not
spend,

More and more such pennies!
Would you not forego
Some lesser pleasure even If you knew
You could do that?
Or it might chance

That your might be
The pennies
to restore
A stricken mother
To her stricken brood.
Or to bring a broken
father
Back to earning power.
Would you not spend mor-
pennies?
The more
the pennies
That you spend
The more
the good
The pennies
do.

Then buy the Christmas seals nice gifts. Miss Ida Hanchett spent Thanksgiving with her mother and family at Ceresco. Mr. Jason Hix is spending a few days with his daughter at Hamburg. Mrs. Josephine Hix had the misfortune while going down cellar Wednesday to slip and hurt her side quite bad. We all hope it isn't serious.

This Week

By Arthur Brisbane

NOISE CUTS LIFE. THAT VEHEMENT FLAME. WORLD MONEY LENDER. FARMERS NEED CANALS.

Dr. Bundeson, Chicago's Health Commissioner, says human life would last seven years longer, on the average, if nerve-destroying noises were eliminated.

We think we are "used" to a certain noise, but use up as much energy conquering noise, crowding it out of the brain, as in doing real work.

Millions of brains are cut down 20 to 60 per cent in efficiency by noise. Absence of noise means greater efficiency, less wear in machines. But men pay no attention to their own machinery, worn away by noise every day. And to complain of noises is considered effeminate. If unnecessary noise were accurately classified with assault and battery, life would be longer.

When the Bible says jealousy hath a most vehement flame; it doesn't exaggerate. Horrible testimony given by a doctor as to the killing of Mrs. Mills, in the Hall-Mills murder case, proves it.

The unfortunate woman, after three bullets had been fired into her head, was dreadfully mutilated. Her throat was cut twice, her tongue cut out, and there were other horrible wounds inflicted on the dead body. The tongue is supposed to have been cut out because the woman's singing had charmed her clergyman from his straight and narrow path.

The horrible case will again remind men that whoever stirs up jealousy stirs up danger. They have been reminded of it, often enough, for five hundred thousand years, by blows on the head with sharp flints, by poison in the Middle Ages, by pistols later. But they never seem to learn.

Wasn't street is very proud of having "supplanted London as the world's money lender." This year the United States will lend more than a thousand million dollars in gold to foreign borrowers. In three years past this country has lent Europe four thousand million dollars. Gratifying, of course, but when will they get that money back?

London as world money lender charged usually moderate, and always legal, rates of interest. Our financiers lend money to Europe on a basis that makes the borrower pay at the rate of 12 per cent for the first year, as much as 7 and 8 per cent thereafter. The usurer in many States loses principal and interest. Some of those American lenders will get unpleasant replies later when they ask for their principal. Meanwhile it is profitable for middlemen that get the "rakeoff."

All farmers and some Congressmen are wondering what "can be done for the farmer." The farmer says: "Guarantee me a definite price for my crops." Common sense says that invites overproduction, such as now breaks the price of cotton.

With wheat at $1.40, farmers will increase their average by 11 per cent. How much wheat would they plant were the price $2.49, which the farmers feel they ought to have? And where would the Government get money to buy the surplus $2.49 wheat?

Farmers can help their wheat situation by backing Secretary Hoover's plan for a canal to the Gulf through the Mississippi Valley and another from the Great Lakes to the Atlantic ocean.

That would make every bushel of wheat worth from six to eight cents more.

Since the war railroads have raised rates six to eighteen cents a bushel, and surplus American wheat on its way to Liverpool pays that tax.

Argentina and Australian wheat has the six to eight cents advantage per bushel over American wheat at Liverpool, where the price is made.

A nine foot canal from the lakes to the gulf would send freight in barges carrying a thousand tons, as against box cars carrying fifty tons, hauled by a tugboat instead of a locomotive. And ten such barges, carrying ten thousand tons, would require no more men than one of the old-fashioned river boats carrying one hundred and fifty tons.

Women Outnumber Men
New York is one of half a dozen states in the Union in which there are more women than men, and this condition has existed for more than twenty years. In the United States as a whole women outnumber men by 4 per cent. The only states with a preponderance of women are New York, North Carolina, Alabama, Georgia, South Carolina and Massachusetts. In Nevada there are 150 men for every 100 women and in several states 120 or more men to 100 women.

Improving Big Waterway
Construction of a permanent bridge across the Rhine river has been decided upon by the German authorities. This will not only remove the old pontoon bridge, which has more or less obstructed Rhine navigation, but it will also serve in promoting the transportation development of southwest Germany and in removing certain traffic disadvantages to the reich by attracting much traffic hitherto routed over indirect lines.

TEMPLE THEATRE. Detroit, Michigan.

Pat Rooney and Marion Bent, after the most successful of their stellar things in musical comedy, are home again, in vaudeville. This time the stellar combination is a trio. Sharing equal prominence with Mr. Rooney and Miss Bent, is Pat Rooney, 3rd. Vaudeville and legitimate theatres know them through "The Daughter of Rosy O'Grady" and "Love Bird." Pat Rooney and Marion Bent, Pat Rooney and Company are seen in "Rooneyisms of 1926-27." Others billed: Charles O'Donnell & Ethel Blair in their exceedingly funny sketch, "The Plasterers." Frank Jerome & Evelyn, an exceptionally capable pair of skitologists in "A Breeze from Broadway." Coogan & Casey in a new laughing vehicle, "The Shrinking Violet." Louise Wright a singer of Dialect Character Songs. The Flying Hartwells in a Sensation on a Swinging Rope. This week is "All Nationality Week," and special features by well known local organizations representing various communities will be staged.

Thief in Hard Luck Shinkicki Yoshida, a light-fingered resident of Kobe, Japan, picked three snapping turtles off a butcher's slab and slid them into his capacious kimono sleeve, safely out of sight. He had not proceeded far with his loot, however, before he uttered a lusty yell. Then he yelled louder still. When help reached him it was found that one snapper had taken a grip on Shinkicki's forearm and that the other two were attached to two of the fingers of the hand he had hastily thrust into the sleeve. The snappers were pried off and handcuffs snapped on.

Trader Got Bargain For two fat oxen a farm of 16,000 acres was bartered in the Fraserburg district of South Africa. This was told in a right-of-way case in the Supreme court, Capetown. A witness stated that in 1838 his grandfather had a very fine pair of fat oxen, and as the owner of the farm was anxious to join Bette's trek into the Transvaal and had no cattle strong enough for the long journey, he exchanged the farm for the two oxen. The present value of the farm is not less than $20,000.

A GREETING FROM THE BROWNS

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 27, 1926
A greeting to Plymouth friends:
"ARIZONA"

Over the hills and far away—
Out where the sun shines every day;
Where the air is light and the days are bright—
Among the mountains' towering height!

Out in a great southwestern clime!
Away from floods and where hurricanes blow
Out where the orange blossoms grow—
Protected by a staunch old mountain wall.

Where storms nor cold can e'er befall.
In a valley transformed from a desert bare
Into a garden of blossoms fair—
Where not a thing refuses to grow
When watered by the Roosevelt's constant flow.

Over the hills and far away,
Where the roses bloom on a winters' day—
And the grass is green the live long year!
That's where I am, in Phoenix here,
From Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Brown.

AN OLD LANDMARK DESTROYED

The residence occupied by John Gray at the corner of Schoolcraft and the Ridge road, was discovered on fire about 7:00 o'clock Thanksgiving evening, and burned to the ground. The local fire department responded to an alarm but the building was in a mass of flames when the firemen arrived. The fire is thought to have originated around the chimney in the attic on the south side of the house. Scarcely a thing of the household furniture was saved. The house was one of the landmarks of this vicinity and was known for many years as the Worden place. It is now owned by the Burroughs Adding Machine Co.

EARLY MORNING FIRE

The fire department was called to the home of William Parks on South Main street, Tuesday morning about five o'clock, where a garage was on fire. The building, together with an Overland sedan, was completely destroyed. How the fire originated is not known.

WAYNE HIGH WINS SUBURBAN LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP.

Wayne High school won the Suburban league football championship last Wednesday afternoon by defeating Northville in the playoff 25 to 0. The Wayne eleven scored in every quarter except one, the second. Wayne scored two touchdowns in the first quarter.

Scoring honors were divided between Russell Smith, left halfback, and J. Vallance, end, both accounting for two touchdowns. Smith was the first to score when he made 20 yards on an end run in the opening period.

In the second quarter the Northville line held, and although Wayne threatened it, was unable to get the necessary yardage for another marker. The pace told on Northville in the third and fourth quarters, the Wayne backs repeatedly breaking through the forward wall or making large gains around the ends. In the third period Vallance intercepted a pass and raced 50 yards for a touchdown. Both scored in the final period on line bucks.

LOCAL BANKS DISTRIBUTE CHRISTMAS MONEY.

During the past few days Christmas savings checks aggregating nearly $26,000 have been sent out by the two banks of Plymouth to the members of Christmas savings clubs, who have been depositing various amounts each week during the year in a savings system that is designed primarily to provide "ready money" for the holiday shoppers.

This amount may be said to represent actual thrift savings, much of which would have been spent by the depositor day by day, with nothing to show for it at the end of the year. These Christmas clubs have stimulated systematic saving during the past year, and in many cases have been the means of helping people to accumulate a bank account for perhaps the first time.

The system provides for the deposit each week of an amount ranging from a few cents to several dollars, in an account that remains with the bank for a year. Depositors may pay as little or as much as they like, and receive a check to close their accounts at the holiday season.

Not all of the money in the total paid out by the local banks will go for Christmas presents. Many will use their savings checks for taxes and to meet other obligations. Some will transfer the amounts to permanent savings accounts. A few parents take advantage of the easy saving method to start a permanent savings account for their children. The bulk of the money, however, will find its way into the channels of the Christmas trade for which it is primarily saved during the year.

WATERFORD HOUNDS

The last meeting of the season held by the Waterford Hounds on Saturday, November 27th, was most successful and enjoyable. There was a good field, the hounds worked beautifully, and the hunters pronounced the hunt one of the best, if not the best, of the season.

Dinner was served at the club house on Waterford road, at seven o'clock, and the evening was spent in motion pictures and dancing.

Among those present, were: Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Grennan, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. McCullough, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Crowley, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Nicholls, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Newkirk, C. W. Dunham, W. D. Bronson, Mrs. Idabelle H. Warneke, Mrs. C. M. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Pasquello, Mrs. W. Elfstrom, Mrs. F. J. Bayley, Mrs. G. S. Hughes, Mrs. M. H. Kramer, Miss Ada V. Wallwork, Mrs. J. G. Palmer and son, John, Norman Scott, J. J. Browne, F. C. Hansen, C. A. Bray, W. R. Flattery, Miss Jerry Kulp, Miss H. Monde, Mrs. Adele Cook, G. E. Preston and J. T. Aleock.

ELM SCHOOL NOTES

The pupils of Elm school are giving an entertainment at the school this, Friday evening, December 3, at 8:00 o'clock, to raise funds for their Christmas. A good laugh is promised all who attend. Dancing will be enjoyed after the entertainment, and refreshments will be available. Come and bring all your friends.

Toxin anti-toxin was given pupils of Elm school, Tuesday, November 30. The last of the series of three injections will be administered on Tuesday, December 7th. Dr. Bernard of Dearborn is the physician in attendance.

Elm school was represented when all of the citizenship clubs of Wayne county met in Dearborn, November 23. Charles McKinney, president of the State Normal College, Ypsilanti, gave a splendid talk on what a good citizen should be. He should have kindness, cooperation, thrift, be law abiding and trustworthy. After the address given by Mr. McKinney, the officers received pins for their offices.

On November 24th, the boys and girls of Elm school made their "Code of Morals." The code is:

1. Respect the property of others
2. Be clean
3. Be kind
4. Respect God and our Country
5. Be orderly
6. Be trustworthy
7. Be loyal to your school
8. Be fair
9. Be true
10. Have good health habits

The oath of Elm school is, "I will, to the best of my ability, be a good citizen and obey our 'Code of Morals.'"

The Elm Parent-Teacher Association will hold its regular meeting on Friday evening, December 10th, at which time Miss Hutzel, of the Michigan Department of Health, will address the parents, teachers and friends of our boys and girls. Miss Hutzel will have a very helpful message for all, and it is hoped that this meeting may be well attended. Other associations are cordially invited and urged to come.

MUNICIPAL NOTES

BY THE MANAGER

Our fire department had its customary run of three fires and a rest may now be expected—at least, the boys say so, and we hope they are right. Thanksgiving evening the department answered a call to a house on the Ridge road north of the P. M. tracks, owned by the Burroughs Company and occupied by John Gray. We were not in time to be of any help, Sunday morning the boys did a very fine job in stopping a very stubborn fire in the new Woodworth building. Tuesday morning a garage and car in the rear of 555 South Main street, were destroyed.

The water records for November show an average daily use of 386,830 gallons, a decrease from the 412,455-gallon figure of October. The average water level in the reservoir was 91 inches.

The Blum & Dickinson sewer digger has completed the stretch of sanitary sewer on Wing street from Tompkins creek to Forest and on that street from Wing to Sutherland. This firm's hand gang has started the line from Gravel avenue behind the Main street houses towards the Presbyterian church.

We have been busy making water and sewer taps and getting streets ready for winter. The rainy weather has interfered a bit with this work.

Statements are now being made out for payment installments due on eight or nine sewer and street projects. They will be mailed soon.

Do your Christmas shopping in Plymouth.

"What shall I buy?"

AS THE gift-giving season approaches, the choice of a suitable Christmas souvenir presents its usual difficulty.

We suggest that you solve the problem and give peace to your mind—as well as pleasure in plenty to the other one—by choosing an electrical gift.

A beautiful, and everyday useful, coffee percolator, for example, or a handsome toaster, or waffle iron.

These, and other, electric dining-table appliances are warmly appreciated in the home and keep the giver in friendly memory.

We shall be glad to show you these and other suitable Christmas gifts at our office.

POOR oil is what's wrong with most cars. Nearly 80 per cent. of repair expense is caused by faulty lubrication! Cheap oil, or old oil, will kill your engine long before its time. You can test any oil for yourself by the way it holds your power.

We sell and recommend Havoline Oil—the oil which proved its power in 20,000 cars tested on the Wasson Motor Check.
If power is right, oil is right. Refill with Havoline. You will be able to feel its power.

PAIGE-DETROIT MOTOR CAR CO. ANNOUNCE NEW SERIES OF CARS.

Having announced three new series of cars, the Paige-Detroit Motor Car Company is now one of the few manufacturers in the advantageous position of being able to supply models covering the entire range in the vast field between the lowest and the highest price class.

Twelve models, comprising the Jewett 6-45, the Paige 6-45 and the Paige 6-75, have been announced, and two additional Jewett models will be presented just about the time of the New York show. The three series give Paige-Jewett dealers a range of models from the Jewett touring at $1,150 to the Paige 6-75 limousine at $2,245.

It is in the class of five-passenger closed cars, however, that the Paige-Jewett line offers the greatest range of choice. There are no less than five of the five-passenger closed models, starting with the Jewett brougham at $1,195 and going up in gradual steps to the 6-75 Paige sedan at $1,685. Each of the five cars is a distinct model, the Paige company having recently abandoned the practice of supplying cars of the same model differing only in finish and appointments. All models are now of de luxe style.

Of the fourteen models that will comprise all three series, there are only three actual open cars, the Jewett four-passenger roadster, the Jewett five-passenger touring car and the 6-75 Paige seven-passenger touring car. All the others are either closed cars or convertible models that are normally to be classed with the closed cars in appearance, comfort and appointments, such as the 6-75 Paige cabriolet roadster.

The difference in the three series is mainly in size, as all are Paige-made, all are finished to meet Paige standards of appearance and all are completely equipped. Hydraulic four-wheel brakes are standard equipment on every one of the three series, as are also shock absorbers, air cleaner, cowd ventilator, stop light, automatic windshield wiper, co-incident lock, rear view mirror, sun visor, dash gasoline gauge, steering post light switch and two or three-tone lacquer finish.

Cooper School Notes.

Wednesday before Thanksgiving was a day of some excitement. In the morning we repeated the citizenship meeting held at Dearborn Tuesday night for the benefit of the members and officers of the Citizens' Junior club who could not attend. We gave the pins and ribbons to the vice-president and health officers. Later in the morning Miss Grim made a short call and at recess Miss Cochrane came and she awarded us two gold stars. We are trying very hard to be a gold star school. In the afternoon two of our former scholars, Margaret Kubie and Clinton Baehr, visited us and enjoyed our Thanksgiving program.

The fourth grade know the dimensions of everything about the school through the experiences of map making Monday in geography. A fine map of our room was the result.

Our Citizenship club is actively planning a Christmas program. We are also thinking of giving Christmas baskets.

OBITUARY.

The deceased, Friederika Ash, nee Wagenschuetz, was born March 24, 1852, in Jacobsbagen, Kreis Tempeln, Germany, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wagenschuetz. She was baptised in infancy in the Lutheran church of that country, and received her education in the parochial schools of that church.

As a young woman, in 1870, she immigrated into our country with her mother and came to Plymouth, here, on April 10, 1875, she was united in marriage with Carl Ash, and has lived with him in this God ordained estate for 51 years and seven months. This union God blessed with eight children, of which one died in infancy. The living are: Mrs. Anna Zarn, Fred Ash, Carl Ash, William Ash, Mrs. Bertha Manzel, Ernest Ash, Mrs. Ida Freiheit.

Up to about five years ago, the deceased lived with her husband on a farm in Livonia township, where she raised her large family and helped her husband with the work on the farm. Her health and also Father Ash's health failing, they bought the home here in Plymouth, on Mill street, where they have lived for about five years, with their children, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Freiheit, and their son, Fred Ash.

The last two years, Mrs. Ash's ailment became serious and caused her much pain, but she bore it patiently. She saw that the end must come and prepared for it and prayed to God to release her. This prayer was heard, when she died Wednesday evening at 9:30 o'clock. Her end was peaceful and we hope that in faith in Jesus she has obtained life eternal and is now home. She, with her husband, was a member of the Lutheran church all her life, in which faith she also brought up her children. She leaves to mourn her departure her aged husband, the above named children with their wives and husbands, 22 grandchildren, other distant relatives and friends. To her family she has been a faithful wife and loving mother. She attained an age of 74 years and eight months.

Funeral services were held at the home on North Mill street at 2 o'clock, Saturday afternoon. Rev. Charles Strasen officiating. Interment took place in Riverside cemetery.

Discretion at Bottom of All Good Manners

When two beasts of the jungle meet in a path and do not wish to fight or to devour one another, each steps aside to allow the other passage.

When two civilized men meet in a path, each steps aside and calls his surrender of the right of way a virtue. It is not at all probable that good manners originated in kindness of heart. The first manifestation of the quality we call courtesy must have been mere discretion.

But because man delights in his own approval and ever makes a virtue of necessity, we now have a universal belief that good manners are wholly a result of good breeding and libern grace.

The truth is that good manners are acquired, now as always, to avoid punishment.

Children acquire them to avoid being spanked; youngsters who lacked proper training in childhood acquire them to avoid being ostracized; the new-rich acquire them to avoid being snubbed.

It is all very well to scold the rustic and domineering bully who can lift a yearling heifer, and praise his humble and considerate brother who tips the scales at 96, but who knows how much of the manners of each is caused by the strength of his hips?

There is nothing in the Teuton Junker's nature that makes him a bully. If he swaggered through life with a chip on his shoulder before the sad days of 1914, it was because he believed he could lick the world.

Who expects a five-ton truck to exhibit exquisite road manners? The truck can dominate the highway, and the driver knows it. It isn't in human nature to be gentle if one has the whip hand.

Give the average man authority, civil or military, and he wastes little courtesy on those of lower rank.

There are gentle folk who, for pride's sake, preserve their good manners under all circumstances, but these are relatively few.

The average man is well mannered because discretion counsels him. The voice he uses to drive out a book agent isn't the one he employs when he is trying to sell you something.—Baltimore Sun.

Old Slave "Station"

The "grand central station" of the underground railway system, through which fugitive slaves were smuggled northward to Canada in antebellum days, still stands at Fountain City, Ind., nine miles north of Richmond. It is a two-story brick house, the old Levi Coffin homestead. It appears almost the same today as when it was used as a hiding place by the slaves. The room in which about three thousand slaves secreted themselves during operation of the "railroad" is the parlor. Coffin's enterprise and courage in smuggling slaves excited him to leadership of the movement. As early as 1828 he began to take fleeing slaves into his home.—Indianapolis News.

Warfare Between Plants

Some of the plants, vegetables and trees Nature placed in the world will not live in peace when near each other; they are at war and destroy each other ruthlessly. Scientists have learned the roots of the walnut and butternut trees are poisonous to the roots of many plants, while tomatoes and potatoes will destroy each other if planted close and their roots touch each other. The cinquifol weed in Vermont dies if seeds are sown near a butternut tree, while in Indiana land clear of walnut trees will grow no crops for a number of years, so strongly have the roots of the trees affected the chemical qualities of the soil.—Ohio State Journal.

Had "Baptism of Fire"

An Idaho forest fire ravaging a section of a mountain peak, and rapidly spreading towards a heavy stand of valuable timber was recently extinguished by 40 boy scouts encamped two miles away.

Five of the boys discovered the fire while scouting near the camp. They quickly returned for their comrades. Within 30 minutes after the discovery the entire camp was at the scene of danger, pitting their combined strength and their training against the flames. The fire burned over an area of six acres, and when finally brought under control was within 25 feet of the valuable timber stand.

A Title Gets Her Jobs

Society is turning its hands to many jobs these days, but the palm for originality must be awarded to Lady Paul, who has made good as a canvasser for a London firm of window cleaners and carpet beaters. Lady Paul receives a salary and commission, and tells me she enjoys her work immensely. She hasn't had a snub or a door banged in her face yet! But perhaps that is because she gives her attention mainly to big West End houses and city business firms. I wonder if she might not find it more exciting to move farther afield?—London Tit-Bits.

What Is a Sovereign?

It is difficult to take the statement without the proverbial pinch, but a writer in the Midland Venture, the staff organ of the Midland (England) bank, quotes as sober and serious matter of fact the following incident, reported from Rugby, by way of illustrating the extent to which cash currency has passed beyond our ken: "A man called in quite recently with a sovereign, and asked the cashier to tell him what the strange coin might happen to be."

ROUGE PARK WILL BE ONE OF FINEST IN THE COUNTRY

Anticipating the growth of greater Detroit and the consequent call for wholesome outdoor activities and amusements, a colossal municipal playground and park is in the making. It is located in the park of the city hall in a great virgin 1,300-acre tract located ten miles east of Plymouth. While most of the features planned have not as yet been completed, the broad meadows and long valleys afford one of the most pleasant picnic grounds and recreational districts in the state. It is called River Rouge Park. On this playground more than one and one-half million dollars have been expended. With the Rouge river wandering through dales and forests from its north to south borders, this park is destined to be one of the most useful and most picturesque of natural parks, rivaling the famous Prospect park of New York, fit playground for Detroit's future millions. The park is nearly twice as long as Belle Isle.

The new Outer Drive, which will soon be to present-day Detroit what the Grand Boulevard was, leads from Rouge Park directly through Dearborn to the river, while the new Western Drive, the first road north of West Chicago boulevard, is the main entrance to the park.

Seven units will characterize the park when the plans of the city commission have been carried out. Henry W. Busch, commissioner of parks and boulevards, stated. These plans contemplate two broad valleys surrounded by tree growth offering a view one mile long, a polo field, a music grove, a casino, a flower conservatory, pools and a walk bordered by a great 50-acre parade ground, a natural crescent-shaped amphitheatre, where outdoor pageants may be presented; an 18-hole golf course, three artificial lakes from five to twelve acres, offering skating in winter and bathing and boating in summer and a colossal playground for all athletics.

Pleasant drives curve through the park, presenting a vista of rare beauty and restfulness to those who walk or motor.

RICH MAN'S DELIGHT IN PETTY ECONOMY

Practice Gives Rockefeller Keen Pleasure.

Every once in a while somebody raises the question as to whether or not John D. Rockefeller, now getting along toward ninety, has had a successful life. Admittedly he has grown rich, but has he found happiness? My own impression, based on acquaintance among Rockefeller's early associates, is that he has been both successful and happy. It may not have been the same brand of success that you or I would have picked. At the age of sixteen, when he was about half way through his high-school course, he went to work. For a time he was a shipping clerk at one of the Cleveland docks for $40 or $70 a month.

Only a few years later he was able to put up $5,000 as his share in the partnership of Clark, Gardner & Co. An indication that Rockefeller is finding happiness, it seems to me, is his eccentric little habit of giving new dimes to people he meets. If he were unhappy he might give nothing at all, or possibly as much as a quarter, but limiting himself to a ten-cent piece may be taken to show that he still has his interest in life—is still playing at his money hobby—still thinking of relative values, even in subsidiary coins. He usually says, "I hope you won't take offense if I offer you a little souvenir." Then he pulls out a dime. These dimes are usually treasured highly.

All his life petty economy has given Rockefeller an astonishing amount of pleasure; at least, he has practiced it with great zest. On the golf links he has frequently been known to delay a game for twenty minutes while carrying on a search for a ball, and when a lost ball is recovered he follows biblical precedent by rejecting more over the one that was found than over the dozen new ones in his caddy bag that were not driven astray.

I have heard stories to indicate that John D. Rockefeller has a sense of humor. This doubtless has helped keep him happy. For one thing, he is an inveterate story-teller. Here is one of his latest stories:

Once when he was buying a new automobile and was himself seated in the demonstrating car, Rockefeller inquired: "What is the cost of maintaining this machine?"

"That," replied the salesman, "depends entirely on the price of gasoline."

"Then," observed Rockefeller, with a faint suggestion of a smile, "I think perhaps I can afford to buy it."

Then there is that famous story of his wedding present to a couple of whom he seemed particularly fond. His present to the happy pair was a highly ornate, double-tanked oil lamp! —Fred C. Kelly in Everybody's Magazine.

If you know of an item of news, send or phone it to the Mail Office. When a girl changes the spelling of her name from May to Mae, a lot of her old friends are due to be snubbed.

Adam's Apple Receding?

Soft living, the broad spread of athletic endeavor and tight-fitting collars are blamed for the admittedly lessened prominence of Adam's apples. Haberdashers assert that the active bit of thyroid cartilage is disappearing, but surgeons at Johns Hopkins hospital are more conservative, holding that the Adam's apple is becoming less prominent. There was a time, the haberdashers say, when the finest men in the land wore their thyroid cartilages out in the open, where they could best express the owner's keen emotions and dominant virility. No lecturer felt complete without one, and any lawyer who languished a stolid jury without the aid of a convulsive Adam's apple at a time when words alone were inadequate was sadly handicapped. The surgeons say the Adam's apple is really of recent origin, seeming not to have been present in the thick-necked prehistoric man.—Baltimore Sun.

Today's Reflections

One election result is sure—it didn't settle the wet and dry question enough to keep it from bobbing up at the next election.

Some Plymouth men are pretty meek until their wives talk of having their hair bobbed, and then they lay down the law.

It is possible that there wouldn't be so many tears shed at a rich man's funeral if his will was read before he died.

Why is it that so many fathers around Plymouth blame the cussedness of the younger generation on everything but heredity?

November is certainly the month of the axe. First the candidate gets it and then the turkey.

The only thing that keeps some Plymouth people from doing their Christmas shopping earlier, is getting hold of the money.

One trouble with the country is it wants to raise nothing but cotton and wear nothing but silk.

Plymouth people have reached the season when it's hard to tell whether a funny feeling in the stomach is appendicitis or mince pie.

In Japan, they are executing editors without a trial. But they possibly know that editors have trials enough anyway.

There are always some houses that look as though the front door hadn't been opened since the last funeral.

It must be an awful strain on the Plymouth woman who never says anything worse than "Mercy," to be content with that word when she hits her finger with a hammer.

That insurance man who says girls are becoming taller, probably only measured from the ground to the skirt hem.

People do a lot of kicking about life, but any doctor around Plymouth can tell you that few of them want to part with it.

The man who gives his son an auto, must figure on depreciation on the boy as well as the car.

King George has bought a lot of Belgian hares. That's one investment that's sure to multiply.

Have your job printing done at the Mail Office. Prompt service and reasonable prices.

A COMMUNICATION

Any team will consider 18 games out of a possible 23, a very successful season. The writer, therefore, believes that the Plymouth Merchants' base ball team should receive at least some praise for their showing during the last season.

Two years ago, this team started under the management of Chester Burley and coached by Homer Williams, and by their excellent co-operation, have improved steadily. A team which has sprung up from a slow class C team to one which would give any class A team a real battle. The only thing lacking is support by the town.

Although the crowds were of fair size last season, it was always the same crowd, a crowd that enjoys seeing a team from their own home town win from a better known opponent. The team, as it is entirely composed of young fellows, will surely develop into one of the best in the state if they receive the backing which they deserve.

In closing, I wish to mention the loyal support and help received from A. Eckles and Jesse Hinko. If everyone in Plymouth would boost the team just one-half as much, you would have a team to be proud of. Let's strive for a successful season for the team next year.

right now is the ideal time to have your Ford overhauled

You have a good car and it will continue to give you first class service if you give it a square deal. Every car needs tuning up after a period of use to offset the effects of natural wear. If you neglect this, your car actually grows old before its time and will probably cost more to operate because of imperfect mechanical condition. ### BAPTIST NOTES

For week ending Nov. 21.
The pastor's sermon in the morning was on “The Wages of Sin is Death.” King Ben and the Hall-Mills cases were used as examples of this fact.
The evening service was a Thanksgiving sermon, Ps. 107. A good crowd attended.
Supt. Allenbaugh and Secretary Mrs. Allenbaugh were absent from Sunday-school. They were at Mr. Allenbaugh's parent's home in Mt. Pleasant. Walter Postiff, the assistant superintendent, had charge of the school.
The B. Y. P. U. was invited to meet with the Epworth League, Sunday evening, November 21.
A pot-luck supper was held in the dining room of the church last week Friday evening, November 19th. The tables were all full, and a good time was enjoyed by all. A freewill offering was taken by the Aid to buy more silver for the tables, and a good sum was given.
Tuesday, November 23, Walter Postiff and Rev. Sayles, pastor, drove to the Baptist Children's home on the 13-Mile road, with a good big load of provisions for the children, to help supply their need for this cold winter.
Rev. Sayles was presented with a beautiful large type Bible from his Sunday-school class. S. L. Bennett made the speech just before the supper, on Nov. 19, and gave it to their teacher.
Sunday, November 28, was a bright day, and the worship all day was enjoyed by all who attended.
The evening service was full of pep, and more seem to be coming each evening.
Next Sunday evening, you will see the picture of the Moody Institute of Chicago, and its work. It's free. Five reels. Come.
December 12, the report of the H-Y conference, which was held in Jackson, and concluded last Sunday, will be in the form of a union meeting to be held in this church. Be sure and come.

The Ladies' Aid Society and the Women's Missionary Society will hold their Christmas party at the church Wednesday, December 8th. A Christmas dinner will be served at noon, followed by the usual program. All women of the church and congregation are invited.
The union Thanksgiving service last week was very well attended, and the message by the Rev. Mr. Nichols was greatly enjoyed. The offering, amounting to $10.55, was divided between the Red Cross and the Michigan Society for Crippled Children.
The mid-week church training program has been remarkably successful. Each week has found a larger number in attendance. Next Wednesday evening the 8th will be the last of the special classes until after the week of prayer services.

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES

Yes, good plumbing is a boon. That caveman stuff may appeal to us as a story and may look quite dramatic upon the screen, but that good old, solid, comfortable plumbing hits us right where we live.

NASH

Car Value

Great Events in Motor Car History

The 3 or 4 Bearing Crankshaft is now obsolete in Nash engineering practice

Here's something of real importance for every prospective buyer of a SIX to think about——if you buy a new car now that still has the old-type crankshaft with only 3 or 4 bearings, what is going to happen to its resale value?

Manufacturers who still cling to the 3 or 4 bearing crankshaft design know just as well as you do that the MODERN crankshaft has 7 bearings. And certainly with Nash setting the pace they are not likely to hold to the old style of design any longer than they are compelled to under their manufacturing conditions.

The authority of Nash engineering submits to your own good judgment that the motor with a 3 or 4 bearing crankshaft cannot be called a truly modern type of motor.

M. S. C. OFFERS HOME EXTENSION COURSES

USE OF THE OIL ALSO AIDS BIRDS TO RESIST DISEASE AND TO PRODUCE EGGS WHICH HATCH WELL.

An important addition to the extension work of the Michigan State College has been announced in the establishment of a correspondence school with courses in economics, sociology and home economics to be ready for enrollment by January 1, 1927.

Administration of the new correspondence courses will be handled by the office of continuing education of which John D. Willard is director. Mr. Willard, formerly director of extension at Massachusetts Agricultural College, came to M. S. C. in September to take up his new duties.

Details of the correspondence courses and the question of college credit for such work will be determined later, according to Mr. Willard. It is probable that a nominal fee will be charged for enrollment.

The courses which will be ready by January 1 will parallel courses in the regular college curriculum. Instruction will be under the direction of the regular college faculty members, and the material offered will approximate that which is studied in a four-hour course during one term of the college year.

Additional courses will be developed by other departments of the college as rapidly as possible. It is expected that special emphasis will be given to material which is covered in extension projects in agriculture and home economics.

Courses which are expected to be ready by January 1 are as follows: Economics—agricultural economics, history and principles of co-operation, and principles of marketing; sociology—principles of sociology, and rural sociology; home economics—the modern family, and household management.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Reporter, Jeannet Merriman
Miss Cochrane visited our school on Tuesday, November 16th. When she was here, she told us about handwriting and what we should be careful of to improve it. So we decided to make handwriting booklet covers to keep specimens of our handwriting in. She also mentioned the Citizenship meeting at Dearborn, Tuesday, Nov. 23. The officers went and got their citizenship pins.

We have now started our newspaper.

Douglas Lane has started school. We have made signs to remind us that we are to close the door after us, walk lightly, and refrain from whispering.

We had a little Thanksgiving program Wednesday, November 24. Just before we were dismissed.

A Renewed CADILLAC is a sounder investment than a new, lesser car

On many of these renewed Cadillacs you save $1000 or more. Many have been traded in, with but a small fraction of their mileage used. In many instances, these cars are so new that they do not have to be repainted. Others are repainted, and equipped like new cars. Mechanically, they have been made like new.

Their owners tell us that in investment value and downright economy, a renewed Cadillac is superior to new cars selling at about the same price. Why not enjoy the prestige and the pleasure of driving a Cadillac that looks and performs like new? You will be interested in our trade-in appraisal of your present car. Drive in.

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT
BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

No Engine Fumes in Buick closed cars

In the 1927 Buick, the new Vacuum Ventilator pulls engine fumes and gases from the crankcase and ejects them outside the car.

This vital new Buick improvement does away with noxious odors. It adds greater luxury and pleasure to enclosed car operation.

The Vacuum Ventilator serves another very important purpose. It prevents crankcase vapors from condensing and diluting the oil. Owners of 1927 Buicks are advised to drain their crankcase oil only 4 times during the year.

For luxury, and for economy, own a Buick.

AROUND ABOUT US

Speaking of freaks of nature, wonder if poultrymen in this locality ever found an egg with three yolks. Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Bailey, of this town, own a flock of about 500 White Leghorns. When gathering the nearly 300 eggs the other day, they came across a soft-shelled one somewhat smaller than the others, and prepared to use it for their own table needs. Upon breaking it open, it was found to contain three yolks, all perfectly formed and all of the same size. It is a common thing for them to find double-yolked eggs, but one with three yolks is quite a curiosity as one has never been found in their flock.—South Lyon Herald.

The old talking point of lake property salesmen that the Creator only made "so many" lakes, and there would never be any more is about to receive another refutation in Livingston county if reports are correct. A new lake, to cover between 200 and 400 acres and to be a mile and a half long, is in prospect for Hamburg and Genon townships. A dam will be built near the Campbelltown mills site, and a large portion of the Ore Creek valley will be flooded. The project will connect a series of small lakes existing at present, and will have a number of islands and peninsulas. It is hoped to have the dam completed by a year from now.—Milford Times.

The Milford Methodist church celebrated its fiftieth anniversary last Sunday.

The Wixom Baptist church is to have a baptistry placed in the church as a gift from one of its oldest members, Marvin Bogart.

Another evidence of the transition of farm lands into recreational centers comes in the announcement that a 600-acre tract on Commerce lake will be developed into a country club community under the name of Mount Royal. The plans include facilities for winter sports, a modern clubhouse and an 18-hole golf course, work on which is to proceed when weather permits.—Milford Times.

While hunting just southwest of town one day last week George F. Babcock caught a hooded mearnsa alive. It is a bird rarely seen in this part of the country, a water fowl about the size of a small duck. Its wing had been injured and it could not fly. Mr. Babcock has placed it with his own flock of tame ducks.—Holly Herald.

E. L. Squires of Ypsilanti, has returned from a hunting trip at Hubbard Lake, bringing back a 300-pound black bear, shot near camp. Carl Badger of Battle Creek is credited with shooting the animal.

On Monday of last week a great snowy owl was captured on the Detroit House of Correction Farm and it was turned over to James Wood, local taxidermist, who mounted the bird and placed it on display in W. A. Ware's show window. The great snowy owls live and breed their young way up in the Arctic regions and they are seldom seen so far away from home. They are a beautiful bird with snow white plumage.—Northville Record.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving memory of our dear son and brother, Harvey E. Huntington, who passed away two years ago, Dec. 3, 1924.

You suffered much but murmured not. We watched through night and day. Your aching heart grew less and less. Until you passed away.

The days are sad without you. And nothing seems just right.

A happy home we once enjoyed. How sweet the memory still.

That death has left a lonesome home. The world can never fill.

For two long, sad years. Loving Harvey was called home. Daddy went to find him, too. And left us here alone.

Sadly missed by his loving mother, sisters and brothers.

STARK SCHOOL NOTES

By Phyllis Kahrl
(Too late for last week)

The dedication of our school was held Friday evening, November 19th. The following program was given: Mrs. Blake acted as chairman of the program. The Shaffer orchestra played a medley. The invocation was given by Rev. Walker. In his usual pleasing manner, E. Luttermoser, director of the board, presented the building, and it was accepted by W. Bieby, in a few well chosen words.

A pleasing solo was given by Lillian Blake. An address by Mr. Fisher was enjoyed by all. He spoke of how much work was accomplished by having two teachers instead of one. He said many neighboring superintendents told him that the present ninth grade was better prepared than ever before.

The dedication address was given by Supt. J. M. Myron of Belleville. This was enjoyed by all present.

The program was concluded by community singing, "America, the Beautiful." Cake and ice cream were then served. Dancing was also one of the entertainments of the evening.

The P. T. A. meeting was held on Tuesday evening, November 30th. The fifth and sixth graders are making posters of the Landing of the Pilgrims, and booklets of the life of the Pilgrims. The sixth, seventh and eighth graders are also making pictures of Thanksgiving.

The following pupils in the upper grades have been neither absent nor tardy during the month: Kenneth Kahrl, Oscar Luttermoser, Donald Stroh, Ruth Schmidt, Sarah Butcher, Donald Adams, Geraldine Schmidt, Viola Luttermoser, Phyllis Kahrl and Roy Schmidt.

The upper grades gave the lower grades a Thanksgiving program and party, Wednesday, November 24th, at 8:00 o'clock.

The following children of the lower grades have been neither absent nor tardy during the month: Eugene Yantassel, Marion Luttermoser, Raymond Stroh, Dorothy Adams, Lillian Mahrley and June DeFer.

The president of the Citizenship Club, Jane DeFer, in the lower grades, has moved to Detroit, and so another president had to be elected. Katherine McKinney was elected.

All the children are working on Thanksgiving stories and posters.

We are all very sorry to have the DeFer children move away.

Dad Plymouth thinks the simplest way to learn to dance the Charleston is to catch the itch.

MOODY BIBLE INSTITUTE PICTURES.

The Moody Bible Institute at Chicago, is the product of the great evangelist's mind and heart. Important as its work may be, the impulse which sends large crowds to see the Institute pictures is generated in the tremendous driving force of Moody, whose name and influence seem likely to endure many more years.

Thoughtful people see unusual significance in the vivid story told by these pictures of the growth of this school started by the great evangelist, D. L. Moody. Now it is the largest agency of the evangelical churches of the world engaged in the training of Christian workers, with a student body from every state in the Union and nearly every country in the world, representing over forty religious denominations, and a faculty of nearly forty instructors.

The pictures show that the training is not simply a study and recitation of the one hundred subjects covered by the six courses of curriculum, but a diversified practical training which sends the students into every section of the city of Chicago and vicinity, from the "gold coast" of the lake shore to the crowded tenements where swarm people from every corner of the earth. Students are shown going behind the bars at the Joliet penitentiary to carry the gospel to the prisoners as well as in street meetings in the ghetto, Chinatown and at factories.

The people are indirectly charging that the neglect of the church to give the children a religious education is responsible for a great percentage of the nation's crime. A staff member of the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago gave a visible demonstration the other night at the Salem church, of what the Institute is doing in a practical way to stem this tide of wickedness and lawlessness that is swiftly coming in upon and inundating our fair land. F. B. Whitrick showed a five-reel motion picture of "The Life and Work of the Institute," revealing to his audience what 1500 young men and women students are doing to make Chicago a better place to live in.

Everyone present was deeply impressed with the wonderful work that this Bible School, founded by the world-wide evangelist, D. L. Moody, is doing in not only training men and women for Christian service, but also in leading them to help men of all classes to turn from darkness to light, from despair to hope, from crime to righteousness, from Satan to Christ.

The history of the Moody Bible Institute was traced from its beginning, nearly forty years ago, to the present, showing its remarkable growth and effectiveness.

You are invited to come and see these pictures next Sunday evening, December 5th, at 7:00 o'clock, at the Baptist church. Admission free.

STATE-WIDE ADOPTION OF THE SCHOOL-BOY PATROL ADVOCATED BY THE DETROIT AUTOMOBILE CLUB.

The School-Boy Patrol idea, which has been operated for some time under the auspices of the Detroit Automobile Club in various communities, together with the co-operation of schools and police officials, has developed results which justify the application of the principle on a state-wide scale, according to a statement issued by L. J. Van Schoek, Safety Director for the Detroit Automobile Club.

This statement was broadcast following an analysis of the experiences of many city officials which have co-operated with school and civic authorities in establishing patrols in the schools in their territory.

"Without exception," said Mr. Van Schoek, "it can be stated that wherever the idea has been put into effect and given a fair trial, it has not only contributed to the development of the safety instinct among school children, but has actually saved many lives and prevented many injuries. No civic activity of the motor club has proved more worthwhile than this one."

Captain W. C. Gillespie, Manager of the Detroit Automobile Club, states the following concerning the School-Boy Patrol idea:

"The experiment has proven successful. Wherever the older boys in their school have been given responsibility for protecting the younger children in crossing the streets at the peak hour of traffic, accidents are being reduced. Apart altogether from this very practical and much desired result, the plan has made a wonderful contribution to the development of the safety instinct among school children and has helped materially to put across the idea of safety as part of the curriculum.

"The idea of selecting the boys, for that matter, who stand best in their work and general conduct, for patrol duty is a splendid training for future citizenship. The lesson passes through the school mass and in addition to the fact that it helps to save lives now, we can feel assured that the child who is taught safety for the first year of his school life is not likely to develop into a careless motorist or pedestrian."

The Detroit Automobile Club officials said that school authorities and civic bodies of various kinds have given splendid co-operation to the Club that has been responsible for the initiation of the movement.

OBTAIN WINTER EGGS WITH GOD LIVER OIL

CORRESPONDENCE WORK IN ECONOMICS, SOCIOLOGY AND HOME ECONOMICS TO BE READY FOR ENROLLMENT, JANUARY 4.

Results obtained by the ration fed to the contest birds in the last egg laying contest held at M. S. C. indicates that cod liver oil is a profitable addition to feed given to birds for winter egg production. Cod liver oil contains vitamins which the hens are unable to get from other sources during the winter months. This vitamin is necessary to enable the hen to assimilate the mineral elements in its food.

The winter production of the hens in the contest was fourteen eggs per bird greater than for a similar period in any previous contest held at the college. The only change made in the ration last year was the addition of the oil. The eggs produced in the winter sell for a much higher price than those sold at any other time, so an increase in production in cold weather has a marked influence on the profits received from the flock.

Hens which are fed cod liver oil appear to have a greater resistance to disease; they lay fewer soft-shelled eggs, and the eggs produced hatch better than those from birds which receive no oil.

Two pints of cod liver oil should be fed every week to adult birds. If semi-solid buttermilk is fed, add one pint to every sixteen pounds of the buttermilk. The oil can be mixed with cottage cheese when the buttermilk is not available. Baby chicks should be given one pint of oil to every twenty pounds of feed during the first month. After that they should get one pint to every thirty pounds of feed until they are placed on outdoor range.

Commercial cod liver oil can be obtained for approximately $1.25 a gallon in five-gallon lots. The oil should be stored in an airtight container kept in a cool, dark place.

If you have anything to sell, advertise it in the Mail.

It pays to advertise in the Mail. Who says so? Everybody.

THANKSGIVING IN PLYMOUTH

The people of Plymouth and community observed Thanksgiving day in home and church. Scattered families were united for the day in their homes where the customary elaborate dinners had been prepared for them.

Get Out of the Way of the Man Who Knows Where He's Going!

The gentleman at the right is not combative. BUT—he's just been over to neighbor Brown's, where he heard, and has decided—definitely and finally—that his home shall no longer be without a radio—a good radio set. So he is on his way to Tefft's Radio Shoppe, where he knows the famous Atwater-Kent radio is to be had. He is going to give us a Christmas order for a radio set, to be all installed and tuned-in on Christmas morning. Which, by the way, suits us—because that is our promise—and our specialty.

Five years ago—a toy, today—a home necessity! RADIO

When you select a radio set look for all-around performance,—tone, volume—distance—and the ability to tune OUT interfering stations. Look for reliability. Look for simplicity and ease of operation—and it is important—look for the set that is more than a radio—a nice piece of furniture as well. If you look for these qualities—then you, too, will come here because we have the sole selling agency for the famous Atwater-Kent radios in Plymouth.

STETSON THE MAN

This is the life-story of John B. Stetson, told in "tabloid." Stetson was an American businessman. He is one of the moderns. I use the word "is," because the influence of a great personality never dies. The influence of the man is with us, and his soul goes marching on.

Stetson was a workman. He became master of a trade at a time when this trade was a synonym for the shiftless, the unreliable, the erratic. "Mad as a hatter," was a saying that passed as legal tender in the current coin of language. Lewis Carroll, in that very wise and foolish book entitled, "Alice in Wonderland," paid his respects to the mad hatter. Various other writers have done the same. The old-time hatter, like the old-time printer, worked when he felt like it—and a good deal of the time he did not feel like it. He was filled with the wanderlust, and to take off his apron and walk out without excuse or reason was, for him, a very natural thing to do.

When the merry hatter received his pay and left the shop Saturday night, it was quite likely the shop did not see him until along about Tuesday or Wednesday, and then it took him the better part of a day to get his hand in.

It is probable that the particular trade of hatter has been maligned, for the fact is that one hundred years ago all the trades were very much on the same basis.

A Similar Case

John Wesley in his "Journal" describes the condition of the potters of England, during his time. Half their earnings were spent for strong drink. None of them owned their homes. They lived in long lines of hovels, from which they were evicted when they lost their inclination or their capacity for work.

They were a brawling, bearbaiting, restless, shiftless, unreliable lot. They had no gardens, no flowers, no books, no pictures—no ambitions, no ideals. Very few of them could read and write. When they attended the meetings of John Wesley they often showed their appreciation by pelting the speaker with mud balls. The places where they worked were sheds or small shops, managed by a man who lived over the factory or alongside, and looked after his dozen workmen as best he could. The wares they made were mostly jugs for brewers.

As John Wesley rode his old horse, "Timothy," through this Cumberland potters' district one day, greatly to his surprise he saw a sight that caused him to rein in his horse and stop and stare. It was a flowerbed in front of a little house. John Wesley dismounted, tied his horse to the fence, and went inside to investigate. That night he wrote in his Journal these words: "He is small and lame, but he loves flowers and his soul is near to God."

The man of whom he wrote was Josiah Wedgwood, the founder of the town of Etruria, and who from making jugs for brewers evolved the art of making vases. Incidentally, Wedgwood coined the word "Queensware," and made tableware of a sort and kind so that it came into general use among the common people, taking the place of the old-time metal pot—from which each member of the household dipped and speared as suited his own inclination.

Wedgwood raised pottery from a trade to a fine art. In the process he became rich, and he made hundreds of other men rich. There is not a household in Christendom today where the marks of Wedgwood's genius are not shown.

The daughter of John Wedgwood became the mother of Charles Darwin. Darwin has changed the thinking complexion of the world; but even Darwin, who was an innovator, did not do more for humanity than did Josiah Wedgwood.

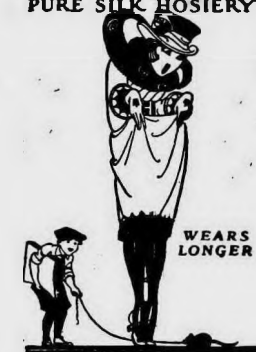

John B. Stetson did for the hatter's trade what Wedgwood had done for the potter's. Stetson made of his trade a business, a profession, a science, an art. He did the thing better than it had ever been done before since history began.

He was an economist, an organizer, and a humanitarian. Incidentally, he became rich, and he made thousands of other people rich. He evolved distinct styles, and he made his name synonymous with the thing he manufactured.

"IT MUST BE LOVE"

Promise of a delightful romance of middle class life in New York is made by the management of the Penniman Allen theatre, where "It Must Be Love," Colleen Moore's latest First National starring vehicle will be shown Saturday, December 4.

"It Must Be Love," adapted from Brooke Hanson's story, "Defiantessin," is declared to be one of the most human stories of the year, being replete with heart-throbs as well as the well-known Colleen Moore chuckles. This production presents a cross-section of the kind of life we all know, centering in the situation a girl finds herself in when she gets a bean and is ashamed to bring him to her home in lack of a delicatessen store.

There are many such cases in our own families, in the families around the corner and on the next block. It is this sense of nearness, this feeling of actuality and everyday humanness which gives Miss Moore the opportunity to draw the most out of her very appealing part as the girl who has to sacrifice living at home for her pride.

Malcolm McGregor plays the role of the sweetheart, who never finds out till the end that his girl has been deceiving him as to her parentage. Jenn Hersholt as the father and Bodil Rosing as the mother make a marvelously effective pair in their German characterizations.

Others in the splendid cast, which Alfred E. Green directed, are Arthur Stone, Dorothy Seaton, Cleve Moore, Mary O'Brien and Ray Hallor. John McCormick presents the picture.

"DIPLOMACY"

"A motion picture to be successful needs three ingredients," says Director Marshall Neilan.

"First—an interesting story which can be vividly pictured.

"Second—a cast to fit the characters, making them live; and—

"Third—sets that provide the story with a real background."

Neilan's most recent Paramount production, "Diplomacy," which comes to the Penniman Allen theatre on Sunday and Monday, December 5 and 6, was carefully checked in all three respects before production began.

The story was adapted from Victorien Sardou's famous stage play. In its transfer to the screen, and during the process of modernizing, none of its rich flavor has been lost.

With very country in the world represented, the picture's casting required a great amount of time and consideration. The eleven leading characters were selected for various reasons.

Blanche Sweet was assigned the role of "Dora" because of her beauty and ability. Neil Hamilton won the hero's part because he offered a pleasing foil for Miss Sweet's fair complexion and hair. Matt Moore typified the breezy young American. Gustav von Seyffertitz gave such a great interpretation in the play that he was chosen for the same part in the screen version.

"HOLD THAT LION"

In "Hold That Lion," which comes to the Penniman Allen theatre Wednesday and Thursday, December 8 and 9, Douglas MacLean breaks all the rules of big game hunting, and in doing so, furnishes sixty minutes of hilarious action and hair-raising thrills.

The smiling and irresistible comedian has in his latest vehicle a story tailored to fit his own particular brand of film foolery, and he succeeds in extracting from it a maximum amount of fun and excitement.

The picture covers a lot of territory and keeps MacLean bounding around from the opening scene to the final flicker. The action starts in New York, where the girls are beautiful and unusually blonde, but winds up on the African veldt, where the boys are plentiful and unusually hungry.

As might be suspected, a girl is the romantic cause of MacLean's hectic activity. He first sees her in a New York office building, but she starts on a round-the-world trip before he can get acquainted. When he does catch up with her in Africa, the meeting proves to be somewhat inopportune, as he is minus his trousers at the moment. To hide his—er—embarrassment MacLean dons a pair of Scotch kilts, but his laughable efforts to live up to his disguise only involve him in further complications.

But the crowning blow comes when he joins a "cat" hunting expedition and discovers that the "cats" are lions! His hide-and-seek experiences with the beasts, ending with his capture of a live lion in novel and unexpected fashion provide an alternating succession of gasps and guffaws.

Constance Howard, a screen newcomer, is the fetching little blonde for whom MacLean leaves the unsocialable lions. Walter Hiers, Cyril Chadwick, Wade Butler and George Pearce ably second the happy-go-lucky comedian.

The directorial honors go to William Beaudine, who wielded the megaphone with a deft and capable hand. Rosali Mulhall deserves credit for the story and Joseph Franklin Poland for the scenario.

1926 Again Chevrolet's Greatest Year

In 1925 Chevrolet astonished the automotive world by attaining an annual production never before reached by any manufacturer of gearshift automobiles. Yet, so spectacular has been the increase in demand for Chevrolet cars, that a new and even more brilliant record is the climax for 1926.

Thus, for two years in succession, Chevrolet has broken all its previous records and has set a new mark in automotive history. This splendid achievement results from a steadfast adherence to the fundamental Chevrolet policy of building a car of the finest possible quality to sell at a low price. That the vast majority of buyers now demand a car of this type—and that Chevrolet has been successful in building such a car—possessing the highest degree of smooth performance, smart appearance, and economical operation—is proved by Chevrolet's success during the year now drawing to a close. Come in and see this record-breaking car.
