GRAND OPERA COMPANY COMING TO DETROIT

PLYMOUTH MUSIC LOVERS WILL HAVE OPPORTUNITY TO HEAR GRAND OPERA IN DETROIT MARCH 19, 20, 21.

Plymouth music lovers are enthusiastic over the grand opera season in Detroit, when the Chicago Civic Opera Company will present four superb performances at the Masonic auditorium in Detroit, March 19, 20, 21.

Three of the most tuneful operas of the Italian repertoire will be given, and one novelty, Alfano's opera, "Resurrection," in which Mary Garden made one of the great successes of her career.

Detroit will be the last city visited on the post-season tour of the Chicago Civic Opera, which will play in the leading cities of the country during February and March.

A matinee performance of "Tosca" will open the three-day engagement Saturday, March 19. Claudia Muzio will sing the title role, which is one of her greatest characters.

The second offering, Saturday night, will be Wolf-Ferrari's "Jewels of the Madonna," with the famous dramatic soprano, Rosa Raisa, as the strong-willed Matilda, and the tenor role of Gennaro sung either by the American tenor, Forrest Lamont, or by Antonio Cortis, a Spanish tenor from Valencia.

Sunday night, March 20, will bring a de luxe performance of "Aida," Verdi's opera of pomp and splendor, which was written for the Khedive of Egypt. It will be mounted in magnificent Egyptian settings designed by Julian Dove, and will enlist the full resources of Rosa Raisa, Cyrena Van Gordon, Charles Marshall, Richard Bonelli, Virgilio Lazzari and Edouard Cotreuil.

For the closing performance, Monday night, an entirely different phase of the company's art will be shown by the production of Franco Alfano's opera, "Resurrection," which was the American premiere last winter in Chicago, with Mary Garden in the role of Katusha, and was an instantaneous success.

Reservation may be made of Carolina Penney, local representative of the Chicago Civic Opera Company.

PLYMOUTH BASKETEERS AT NORTHVILLE TONIGHT

MOST IMPORTANT GAME OF SUBURBAN LEAGUE SEASON WILL TAKE PLACE ON NORTHVILLE FLOOR THIS FRIDAY EVENING.

The most important game in the Suburban League season is to be played at Northville Friday, February 11, between Northville High school and Plymouth High school.

Plymouth first place; Northville second place; Farmington third place; Dearborn fourth place; Wayne fifth place; Ypsilanti sixth place.

Plymouth High school has not lost a game in the league this season and Northville High school has only lost the game which it played with Plymouth. Both teams are particularly anxious to win this game because if our boys win, the league championship is decided, because it would be impossible for Plymouth to lose the championship after winning from Northville.

FORMER PLYMOUTH LADY REACHES HER NINETY-SECOND YEAR

The following from the South Lyon Herald will be of interest to the many friends of Mrs. R. Barnes, who formerly resided here and at Newburg:

Mrs. R. Barnes, of South Lyon, is to our knowledge the oldest resident of this town. On Sunday, February 13, she will have reached her 92nd birthday. Despite her advanced years Mrs. Barnes is unusually bright and active. During the past few weeks, however, she has not been very well, but remains as cheerful and contented as always, and when we were talking to her Monday stated she was feeling very much better and expected, in the spring, to get outdoors and work among her flowers.

Mrs. Barnes can always see the sunny side of life, and says she feels very thankful for the many blessings she is receiving, especially concerning her health. Mrs. Barnes was born at Long Island, New York, February 13, 1835. Her husband died while they were living in Plymouth about eight years ago, and for nearly eight years Mrs. Barnes has resided in South Lyon. We trust she completely regains her former good health and can enjoy many more years in her home.

THE DARKEST DAY IN HISTORY

HENRY CRAWFORD

A wedding of unusual interest occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Crawford in W. Highway Street, Vicksburg, at two o'clock Saturday afternoon, when their daughter, Clara May, became the bride of Charles Henry of Plymouth, Michigan.

To the strains of Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" played by Carl Swenson, the bridal party descended the stairway, preceded by Rev. R. B. Gilley the officiating clergyman, followed by Leona Merrehew, a niece of the bride, bearing the ring in the heart of a rose. Mrs. Irving Merrehew, a sister of the bride, accompanied by Mrs. Swenson at the piano, sang "I Love You Truly."

A beautiful gown of white satin-faced canton crepe was worn by the bride, her long veil caught up with orange blossoms. The groom wore conventional attire. The bride's attendants, Miss Gladys Reynolds and Miss Claudia Moore of Detroit, were gowned in yellow tulle. The attendants of the groom were Kenneth Drise, Detroit, and Russell Emery, also of Detroit.

White roses were used lavishly about the rooms. Following the wedding ceremony the bride's parents entertained the guests at a four course dinner at the hotel. The dining room decorations were of yellow and white.

After February 15th, Mr. and Mrs. Henry will be at home to their friends at Plymouth, Michigan.—Vicksburg Semi-Weekly Commercial, Feb. 1.

The guests present were: Mr. and Mrs. Udriks and family of Battle Creek; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Swenson and son, Robert, of Grand Rapids; Miss Beulah Hazelton of Shepherd; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hazelton of Stanton; Mrs. Solon Moore, Mc; and Mrs. Robert Reynolds and son, Robert, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Towart and Earl McMann of Detroit; Miss Aline McCully of Northville; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wagenschultz, Miss Ella Jackson, Mrs. Mollie Rodman and Miss Beatrice Douglas of Plymouth.

CAMPBELL-ELLIOTT

A very pleasant occasion was the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. James Elliott's youngest daughter, Inez, to Mr. John R. Campbell, of Plymouth, at 512 North Mill street, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. H. E. Sayles, pastor of the Baptist church, read the ring ceremony and then introduced Mr. and Mrs. Campbell. Miss Marion Elliott, of Toledo, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Alex. McLellan of Plymouth, was best man. The bride wore a gown of Roumanian blue satin, and the bridesmaid was dressed in beautiful rose-colored satin. They will make their home at 117 Caster avenue. Their many friends wish them a long and happy life.

McLEOD-POWELL

George McLeod and Mrs. Alice Powell were quietly married in Detroit Monday, February 7th. Mr. McLeod has been employed as foreman in the Plymouth Mail office for the past three years. They will make their home in Plymouth. They have the best wishes of their many friends for a happy and prosperous wedded life.

MASONIC DANCE A GREAT SUCCESS

The dance given by Plymouth Rock Lodge No. 47, F. & A. M., at its temple Friday evening was one of the most pleasing events that has ever occurred in the new Masonic temple. Those in charge of decorations had completely converted the otherwise rather plain banquet room into one of exceptional beauty, the colors blending in such a way that everyone entering was impressed with a welcome and the spirit of joy which particularly marked the whole evening.

Charlie Stone and his splendid orchestra rendered music in such a way that many of the older ones were heard to remark, "It seems like old times."

The large crowd taxed to its capacity the ballroom but no one was heard to complain. It must have taken a great deal of energy and planning on the part of the entertainment committee to provide such a well-planned evening of games, refreshments and dancing, but they must have been fully repaid when they saw the large gathering express the universal sentiment of the evening, which was that each had had a splendid time and were looking ahead to the possibilities of another such evening.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

The February meeting of the Plymouth League of Women Voters will be held at the home of Mrs. Phoebe Patterson on East Ann Arbor street Monday afternoon, February 14th, at 2:30 o'clock. The program is on the subject of "International Relations." This is the first meeting which the Plymouth league has had on this subject this year, although our chairman of international relations, Mrs. Louis Hillmer has attended a number of meetings in Detroit on this subject.

The speakers of the afternoon promise to be very interesting. Miss Blanche Rinehart, secretary of the Detroit Y. W. C. A., will address us on "The Washington Conference in December on the Causes and Cure for War." Miss Rinehart was one of the seven Detroit women who attended the conference, so she will give us some interesting and worthwhile information.

The second speaker, is Miss Geraldine Knight, executive secretary of the Wayne County League of Women Voters, who will speak on "Germany and Its Relation to World Peace."

BASKET BALL TONIGHT

TWO GAMES AT THE M. E. CHURCH HOUSE.

The M. E. church teams will play both boys' and girls' basket ball teams from Ypsilanti at the church house tonight at 7:30. The girls play the Ypsi Presbyterian girls' team, captained by Alice Hathaway, formerly of this village. At 8:30 the boys will play the Ypsi Catholic boys' team, and fans are promised two excellent games. Admission 25 cents.

REV SAYLES WILL PREACH FAREWELL SERMON HERE SUNDAY

Next Sunday, February 13th, Rev. H. E. Sayles, pastor of the First Baptist church, will preach his farewell sermon in the local church, after a most successful pastorate for the past several years, during which time the church has had a good growth, and is in excellent condition in all of its departments.

Rev. Sayles has accepted the pastorate of the Baptist church at Stockbridge. During the time Rev. Sayles and family have resided here, they have made a large place for themselves, not only in the church but in the social and civic affairs of the town, and they will be greatly missed by a large circle of friends. They take with them to their new home the best wishes of all.

LOCAL REALTORS AT ANN ARBOR

Several of the members of the Plymouth Real Estate Board are attending the conference of Realty Brokers and Subdividers of Michigan in Ann Arbor Thursday and Friday of this week. The list of speakers includes a number of men of national reputation in their field. Several of them are Detroit men.

ENLARGES HIS STORE

D. A. Holloway has been making some extensive improvements in his wall paper and paint store at the rear of his home at 263 Union street. Mr. Holloway has built an addition on the south side of the original building that gives him much additional room for the display of his wall paper and paint stock. New fixtures and shelving have been installed and the whole store presents a neat and attractive appearance.

Mr. Holloway has greatly enlarged his stock and now has a very complete stock of wall paper and paints, that affords his patrons a splendid selection. He has just received his new spring stock of wall papers and is showing all the latest patterns and colorings. The wall paper designs this year are unusually attractive and pleasing. Your attention is called to Mr. Holloway's large ad in the Mail today.

LIVONIA COMMUNITY CHURCH FATHER AND SON BANQUET

The Livonia Community church Father and Son banquet will take place at the Grange hall, Plymouth, Thursday evening, February 17th. There will also be tables set for ladies. The speaker of the evening will be Judge Charles Bowles of Detroit.

The members of the Woman's Club and their husbands of this place are invited to Wayne, this Friday evening, as guests of the Arche Club of that village. The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. John Ziegler, 506 West Park street. Paul Hickey of Detroit, will be the speaker. As many as possible are urged to attend.

WOMAN'S CLUB HEARS INTERESTING ADDRESS

A regular meeting of the Woman's Club was held in the lounge room at the I. O. O. F. temple last Friday afternoon. About sixty-five members and guests were in attendance and the business session was in charge of the president, Mrs. R. E. Cooper. Several names were presented for active membership and one new name was added to the club list. An invitation was received and accepted for the members of the Woman's Club of Plymouth to be the guests of the Arche Club of Wayne, this Friday evening, Feb. 11.

After the business meeting the program was in charge of the tenth division, with Mrs. J. T. Chapman as leader, and was presented as follows: Two vocal selections, "Homeing" by Thoresen Dietz, and "The Garden of Tomorrow," by Jesse L. Deppen, were beautifully rendered by Wayne Van Dyne of Northville, with Mrs. Gilbert Brown accompanying.

Mrs. Chapman then introduced the speaker of the afternoon, John Crest of Michigan State College at Lansing, who took for his subject "The Physiology of Gardening" and treated the subject in a larger sense, namely, "The Garden of Human Life." His talk was interesting and instructive. At the conclusion of Mr. Crest's talk Mrs. William Bake favored the company with a vocal solo, "For You Alone" by Gecht, with Mrs. Brown at the piano.

At the close of the program a rising vote of thanks was extended the speaker and all who had aided in making the afternoon a success.

Mrs. Florence Webber acted as hostess and Mrs. Maxwell Moon had charge of the music. Light refreshments were served and a social hour was enjoyed.

The next meeting will be held at the I. O. O. F. temple Friday afternoon, February 18. A splendid musical program is being prepared and a large attendance is desired.

FATHER AND SON BANQUET FEBRUARY 22

THE BIG EVENT WILL TAKE PLACE AT HIGH SCHOOL AUDITORIUM AND PROMISES TO ECLIPSE THAT OF LAST YEAR.

The community father and son banquet, announced in last week's Plymouth Mail to be given Tuesday, February 22nd, at the High school auditorium, is to be served by the Baptist Ladies' Aid Society. This fact and the menu promised for the occasion assures everyone of a good supper and one in itself more than worth the price of the tickets.

Not all the details of the program are ready for announcement, but the committee is sure of a male quartet to furnish part of the music, and the High School Boys' Glee Club will also render one or two numbers.

As was announced last week, Mr. I. B. Gilbert, superintendent of the State School for the Deaf at Flint, will be the speaker of the evening. Mr. Holcomb, of the High school, who has known Mr. Gilbert since his own High school days, assures us that we will all enjoy hearing Mr. Gilbert. The toastmaster and the further details of the program will be given next week.

Tickets for this annual event will be in the hands of members of the committee by Sunday. As the auditorium will accommodate only 350, only that number of tickets have been printed, and it is predicted that all will be sold by the following Sunday, February 20th. Get your tickets from the member of the committee in your church, from some Boy Scout or from Allan Strong at Beyer's Pharmacy, or Elton Ashton at Kroger's, or have them reserved for you by one of those people. The price is 75 cents, as it was last year.

NEW STORE OPENED LAST SATURDAY

The new Donovan's Accessories Store opened in the Woodworth block last Saturday, with a large and complete stock of auto and radio accessories of every description. A stock of sporting goods and golf supplies will be kept in season. This company operates a chain of these stores in many of the principal towns and cities in Michigan, and are doing a large volume of business. The local store has been equipped with new fixtures and shelving, and presents a very attractive appearance. Joe Campbell, who has been connected with the Donovan store at Ann Arbor, is manager of the local store. Mr. and Mrs. Campbell have moved to Plymouth, and will make this their future home.

WILL DEDICATE NEW EPISCOPAL CHURCH NEXT SUNDAY

VEN. ARCHDEACON RAMSAY, OF DETROIT, WILL DELIVER THE DEDICATORY SERVICE IN THE NEW CHURCH EDIFICE.

SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 20, DATE OF DEDICATION SERVICE FOR NEW EPISCOPAL CHURCH—VEN. ARCHDEACON RAMSAY WILL PREACH.

Sunday, February 6th, the old Episcopal church on Union street was vacated and services were held in the new church. This building, which was dedicated by Bishop Williams in September, 1920, although having been of very good service, was thought to be inadequate to carry on the work of the church. After some discussion the diocese was called on, and with their help the church was able to secure five lots facing on Maple and Harvey streets, as a new site.

Actual work on the new building commenced early in December. Great credit should go to those men who supervised the financing and construction of the church. The building should be complete in every detail by February 20th, at which time, Archdeacon Ramsay, of Detroit, will deliver the dedicatory sermon at the morning service at 10:30 o'clock.

The new church is a very modern building. The main room, which is used for church services, can be used for social events as well. The altar, pulpit and other church effects can be concealed behind wooden doors at the south end, thus making a large room, which will be used as a community hall when needed. At the north end of the main room there is a large modern kitchen, completely equipped. Access to this can be gained by means of a sliding partition. There are two smaller rooms, one of which will be used as a committee or club room, and the other as a cloak room. The heat is furnished by a hot air heating plant.

At the first service in the new church there was an attendance of 70. Such an attendance, under adverse weather conditions, is very encouraging, and those who are responsible for the building of the new church feel that the project is bound to be a success.

Anyone who wishes to attend any service at the new church may be sure of a very happy welcome.

ENJOYED TRIP TO BERMUDA

Reporting a very interesting trip, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rambo, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. K. P. Kimball, returned to Plymouth this week from a ten days' sojourn in Bermuda, West Indies.

Following a convention of the National Brokers' Association at Atlantic City, Mr. Kimball joined the Rambos and Mrs. Kimball at New York, from which point they embarked for the islands.

The ocean voyage consumed two days each way and was very interesting to all members of the party, although it was noticed by Mr. Kimball that Rambo refused soup the second day out. The transformation from mid-winter to summer had the effect of releasing the "golf bug" before the island was reached and Rambo disembarked, clothed in golfing attire.

"I went to Bermuda with the belief that onions were the principal crop," said Mr. Rambo, "and when I got there I found that I was all wrong. The principal crops are tourists and bar files. However, I found two of the best golf courses it has ever been my pleasure to play over. My worst trouble was in shooting balls into the bay; then the natives charged me two-bits to swim out and get them.

"The climate is wonderful and it was interesting to cross the gulf stream and experience the change of climate that came as we approached the stream and sailing through it. The customs of the people and the quaint buildings in Bermuda were also very interesting," continued Mr. Rambo, "and I was forever confused in tendering U. S. money and receiving British coin in exchange. I don't know to this day whether I was copped or not, but I had a fine time, anyway."

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kinyon of West Branch, Mich., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Robinson, this week. They were former residents of Plymouth, and Mr. Kinyon is a former sheriff of Ogemaw county.

BACK-SEAT DRIVING.

According to letters being sent out to Newspapers by the American Automobile Association, that organization is going to launch a publicity campaign by which it is hoped to reduce the dangers arising from "back seat driving." "At present," reads the letter, "the back seat passenger either thinks too much about the driving of the machine or too little.
Either way is dangerous. The first gets the driver as nervous as the passenger, and the driver is apt to lose control of the car. The other extreme may result in distracting the driver's attention from the main job at hand—that of directing the car safely and well. The passenger in the back seat must be taught a greater appreciation of the driver's responsibility, and educated in the necessity of leaving the driving to the driver."
And we can imagine a motorist around Plymouth saying: "Thank the Lord for such a campaign."

FRIEND OR FOE

One thing merchants in towns like Plymouth have not been able to figure out, is whether the auto is their friend or their foe. We are not referring to those who profit through carrying a side-line of tires and accessories and gasoline, but to the store proprietor who depends on general merchandise sales to keep going.
There are two sides to the problem, of course. In the first place the auto enables people to get to town from a much greater distance than when they had to depend on the horse and buggy, and it also permits them to get there oftener. But it also provides means whereby the town residents, and many rural citizens, can get to the city stores more conveniently and quickly—and there will always be some who believe they can "do better" in the big stores. Wise buyers know that after they figure wear on tires and gasoline, to say nothing of traffic jams and frayed nerves, they really save money by trading in their home town. But others haven't yet learned all this, so they use the auto to take them to the city for much of their shopping.
Of course there are some compensating factors. It takes money to keep the auto going, and that means business for our garage and repair men.
That money, as a general rule is spent here at home. But it is hard to determine whether, taken up one side and down the other, the auto is a friend of few of small town merchants.
Whatever the answer may be they seem to get along, and the more enterprising among them are in better shape than merchants were back in the horse and buggy days.

USES OF CREDIT

The business of the world is run on credit. Firms and individuals buy from each other on time; months after they have received the goods they pay the bills. A firm goes to the bank and discounts its note to meet unexpected expenses or to tide over when collections are slow—and it is said to be good business. But when an ordinary person starts in to do the same thing, a hundred people will shout from every street corner that he is all wrong and that he is doomed to bankruptcy.
We have heard conservative Plymouth men argue that no ordinary person should get credit, that he should save up enough to pay cash for what he wants and not mortgage the future with what he has now by buying on credit. In other words, they contend that business and personal finances should be on different planes. But we don't believe it. Going into debt in excess is, of course, very bad. But used in moderation credit is a fine thing because it enables a person to save and enjoy having things when interest in a voluntary system of saving, he would not have the will power to go through with. If a man knows he has to save to meet his bills, he saves. He also learns, if he is the right kind of man, that his credit in the community is just the same as money in his pocket, and for that reason he is careful to meet his obligations, so as to always keep that credit good. There is such a thing as credit abuse—lots of people show themselves unentitled to credit. But for the man who is honest, nothing better has even been invented.

SPEEDING UP WORK ON BIG CATHEDRAL

Modern Methods Hasten Completion of St. John's.

Construction of the nave of St. John's cathedral, New York, promises to establish records for speed in such work, walls and pillars having reached an average height of 75 feet from the floor or 85 from the ground at the end of a year. An excellent impression of the general appearance of the completed nave is already emerging. In raising the great cathedrals of the Middle Ages a generation or more passed in the building of the naves alone.

The speeding up of the work at St. John's, as compared with the European cathedrals, is largely due to the employment of modern American building methods. The stones used in great structures of the past were usually raised by man power, being slowly pushed up long inclines or ramps. Elaborate scaffolding was required, some of which remained in position about the cathedrals for long periods.

In building the New York cathedral a series of six steel towers were first raised on the floor of the nave, reaching to a height of 95 feet. Electric derricks attached to the sides of these supports lift the blocks of stone quickly to their places on the walls. As the walls rose, the derricks were also placed higher on the steel scaffolding. The new cathedral, it is believed, will endure longer than the great cathedrals of the past. Experience of American architects and builders is being utilized to this end. The mortar is superior to that available in earlier centuries. As an additional precaution, seams are often protected by sheets of lead to prevent moisture entering the cement.

In building St. John's the supporting walls, pillars and arches have, it is believed, been designed more scientifically than in the great churches of other days. The theory of strains, for example, is now much better understood. Where the great builders of the Middle Ages worked more or less by rule of thumb, so that when a wall did not prove sufficiently strong it was frankly buttressed—the beautiful flying buttresses being often an afterthought employed to correct a mistake in calculating the strength of the walls—today the exact strains the walls will be called upon to bear are calculated with a mathematical accuracy. Nothing avoidable is left to chance.

Plenty of Time

"The worse case of absent-mindedness I've ever come across," began the club story teller, "happened in London last year.

"It's about old Smithson, the most forgetful chap I've ever heard of. He was asked out to dinner. Half way to the house he suddenly remembered something.

"Hang it!" he said. "I've forgotten my watch."

"Then he put his hand in his waistcoat pocket and pulled the watch out to see what time it was.

"Hurrah!" he said, "it's only 10 past 7. I've time to go home and fetch it."—London Tit-Bits.

Twins, Maybe

An American manufacturer was discussing English labor troubles. "Labor limits output," he said, "and capital taboos modern methods, and so the English public suffers.

"The public is in the position of the woman who was talking about her two husbands.

"Yes," she said, "I was married to both those hounds, and they both beat me with equal severity."

"I see," another woman giggled. "A striking resemblance between them."—Los Angeles Times.

Rice in Imperial Valley

Much interest is being taken in the culture of rice in the Imperial valley, California, says the Los Angeles Times. The state experimental station here has been growing rice for three years, and this season farmers are growing a total of 160 acres of the grain.

Rice growing is advocated by station authorities on lands where flooding is resorted to as a means of ridding the land of alkali. While this is going on, rice may be grown at a profit, it is asserted.

Open Southern Rhodesia

What is believed to be a move to throw open southern Rhodesia to settlers was revealed in the sale recently of two large holdings by the Chartered British South Africa company. One, the Nuanetsi ranch, comprising 2,743,094 acres, is the largest compact holding in that district. The other the Rhodesdale estate, is the next in size, and the new owner has announced that settlers from Europe will be encouraged to emigrate to take up tobacco and cotton cultivation.

Women in Jap Industries

There are 8,100,000 women and girls working for their living in Japan, including 6,000,000 engaged in silkworm rearing, rice planting and other forms of agricultural labor, according to a report of the social bureau of the home office. House servants and restaurant waitresses number 614,000 and there are 78,000 women school teachers. About 1,000,000 girls are factory hands and there are 9,500 typists. The moving-picture industry in Tokyo alone employs 620 actresses.

How to read Percentages

Were Dodge Brothers to sell 100 motor cars one year and 200 motor cars the next, they could truthfully announce that their sales had increased 100% in a single year. Yet they would only have sold 300 motor cars in all.

In other words, PERCENTAGE of annual gain is not conclusive. The NUMBER of cars sold is the true test.

That Dodge Brothers sales in 1926 showed an increase of 27.6% over 1925 is not the MAJOR fact to consider—striking as it is.

But that Dodge Brothers sold 259,967 cars in 1925, and then in 1926 sold 331,764—a gain of 71,797 sales in twelve months—tells a story of growth that stands out like a tower on the skyline of the industry.

Three hundred and thirty-one thousand buyers LAST year! Many more vital improvements added THIS year! No increase in price! Three powerful arguments for earnestly investigating this smart and sturdy product before deciding what to buy!

WILL CONSTRUCT SECOND TOLL CABLE LINE.

Plans for the immediate construction of a second large telephone toll cable between Dearborn and Detroit, carrying circuits to a number of nearby and distant points, have been announced by R. E. Crowe, Michigan Bell Telephone Company manager here. Very heavy increase of the use of the telephone circuits between the outlying towns and Detroit makes the addition to the interurban telephone toll plant necessary, Mr. Crowe states.

Six years ago the present toll cable was placed from Detroit to Dearborn and contained 231 pairs of wires. It was expected then that the cable carried sufficient circuits to care for the service needs between Detroit and Dearborn and the cities north and west for several years, but development in the territory has exceeded expectations.

Besides carrying circuits between Dearborn and Detroit the cable forms the Detroit gateway for long distance telephone service from Howell, Jackson, Romulus, Northville, Plymouth, Wayne and Ypsilanti. During the past year the cable was extended from Dearborn to Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor, Plymouth and intermediate points, and this year will be built to Jackson on its way across the state. Investment in the cable to date totals more than a million dollars.

From the Bell building, at Cass and State streets, Detroit, the new cable will be placed underground in Cass and Michigan avenues to the western village limits of Fordson, from where it will continue aerially. The distance of the cable run is ten and a half miles.

Manager Crowe says the new toll cable will contain 403 pairs of wires and that the cost of construction will approximate $10,000,000. Delivery of the cable, which is being manufactured in the Western Electric plant at Chicago, is expected to begin this month. The new circuits will be in use before the close of the year, it is anticipated.

	Number of Stations in Service
	Jan. 1, 1926	Jan. 1, 1927	Increase
Exchange	1926	1927	Increase
Dearborn	1,115	1,455	300
Wayne	592	731	139
Romulus	97	128	31
Northville	730	789	59
Plymouth	1,078	1,170	92
Ypsilanti	2,867	2,940	73
Ann Arbor	8,774	9,157	383
Howell	961	988	27

MUNICIPAL NOTES

BY THE MANAGER

The Commission, Monday night, passed a motion raising our firemen's pay. The boys certainly earn all they get, and any amount that they could get would be insufficient when the nature of the work is considered. From the 15th of February, the firemen will get $2.00 per call, and $1.00 per hour after the first hour. For each attendance at the monthly meetings the officers will get $1.50 and the men $1.00.

The commission and firemen are in receipt of a very nice letter of appreciation from German & Sons of Northville, for the work the department did at their recent fire.

Property owners along Tonquish Creek are receiving releases of right of way from the County Drain Commissioner, to be signed. These papers simply amount to giving the county permission to go upon these lands during the work of cleaning and straightening the creek.

The assessment rolls for three storm sewers were approved by the board of review last Saturday, and confirmed by the commission, Monday. Statements for the first installments of these rolls—the Holbrook, the York and the Forest-Care—will be sent out presently.

The Sanborn Map Company, which makes insurance maps, has a representative in town bringing their Plymouth map up to date. These maps are used in rate making, and for other insurance data, and are a very handy and valuable adjustment to the insurance agents' work.

Evidently the building game in Plymouth for 1927 has made an early start. We have received several applications for sewer and water taps.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear husband and father, Charles F. Rutenbar, who passed away February 13, 1926. One lonely year has passed, dear father, since the angels came for you. Your ever patient, worn out frame has found sweet rest at last. When the evening shades have fallen, and we are all alone; into our hearts there comes a longing—if you only could come home. No one knows the silent heartaches; only those who have lost can tell. The sweetest memories are all that's left of a loving father, one of the best. When days are dark and friends are few, dear father, how we long for you. Sadly missed by his loving wife and children.

A NEW CLUB ORGANIZED

A most delightful meeting of the young people of Our Lady of Good Counsel church was held in the Mahogany Room, Monday evening, February 7th, at 8:30 o'clock. The meeting was gracefully opened by a short address rendered by our reverend pastor, Father F. C. Lefevre.

Election of officers resulted in the following:

President—Elizabeth Lehman
Vice-President—Matthew Yuchasz
Secretary—Dorothy Fish
Treasurer—Thomas Mulloney
Entertainment Committee—Hazel VanBonn, Marie Miller, Thomas Morrison, Joseph Schomberger, John Schomberger and Walter Klinski.

This being the first meeting of the young people ever held in the parish, many interests of vital importance were discussed. It was voted that the meetings be held each Wednesday evening, in the Mahogany Room, and the young folks decided to entertain the first Thursday evening of each month.

A name for the club has not yet been chosen, but will be discussed at the next meeting. Among those who attended the meeting were: Thomas Morrison, Mabel VanBonn, Hazel VanBonn, Frances Hoban, John Hoban, Thomas Mulloney, Elizabeth Lehman, Elndra Minthorn, Mamie Yuchasz, Mary Dougan, Raymond J. Levandowski, Joseph Schomberger, Marie Miller, Dorothy Fish, Matthew Yuchasz, Anthony Yuchasz, Paul Koss, John Schomberger, Ralph Lorenz, Robert Maskell, Mack Donnelly, Alvin VanBonn, Ralph Minthorn, Arthur Minthorn, Walter Klinski, Joseph Morrison, Lawrence Zielnsko. We hope next week we will be able to lengthen this list considerably, although this was a splendid showing of young folks.

The fundamental factor of this club is social entertainment, for the purpose of bringing together all the young people, and to establish ourselves a prominent prestige to be listed among the social clubs of Plymouth.

—The Secretary.

KIWANIS CLUB HOLDS INTERESTING MEETING.

"Yes, we have no bananas," remarked "Oswold" Corbett, local radio donkey, at the Kiwanis club meeting last Tuesday, whereupon Harry Ceel, candy maker and magician deluxe, proceeded to produce several choice specimens of the fruit from "Oswold's" hat, a portion of his raiment that could be expected to harbor most anything but bananas.

This is the second appearance of Harry Ceel before the local Kiwanis club, and his "bag of tricks" has been materially enlarged since his last visit. Mr. Ceel is the manufacturer of Ceel's Famous Chocolates, of Detroit. His penchant for magic is his hobby. He admits, however, that he is more interested in entertaining than in making money.

The banana episode was one of the most mystifying tricks demonstrated by the magician and his assistant, "Oswold," but there were other happenings, not on the program, that were equally mystifying. One, for instance, was brought forcibly to the attention of Kiwanians, when the magician requested Dr. F. A. Lendrum to assist him with some card tricks. The dexterity with which Rev. Fred handled the cards is causing considerable speculation among the club members.

Another circumstance which created excitement was the manner in which "Doc" Jennings, the irrepressible Scot, handled the cards in another demonstration. "Doc" was exactly as dextrous as a yearling calf wearing boxing gloves. He stuck with the ship, however, and the trick was eventually completed.

A number of the members of the club had as their guests, their sons or daughters, and the program had an especial appeal to them. In recognition of their presence, Mr. Ceel produced several tricks that appealed particularly to the juveniles.

The program was under the joint arrangement of Stewart Dodge and Ralph Lorenz. "Jolly" Jolliffe led the singing in his usual happy manner. Miss Ruth Allison assisting at the piano.

John Larkins, in charge of the local arrangements for the Inter-City meeting at Ypsilanti, next Monday evening, placed tickets in the hands of the members, and indications are that a majority of the Plymouth club will attend. It is to be a dinner meeting, and a splendid program has been arranged.—C. L.

Lincoln's "Dollar an Hour" Pay

He was 18—and taking a flatboat down the Mississippi. Two strangers asked him to set them aboard a river steamer—and for the tiresome hour's work, the future President of the United States received two silver half-dollars.

"It was the first money I had had for some time," he later related. "I made a calculation to myself that if I could earn a dollar an hour and live long enough, I would be a rich man before I died."

The life of Abraham Lincoln, with its stalwart Americanism, great tenderness and understanding, had a foundation of optimism and confidence.

ROTARY CLUB ENJOYS INTERESTING TALK.

Professor John Crest, department of landscape gardening of Michigan State College, gave one of the most interesting talks which the Rotary club has enjoyed during its several years of organization. Mr. Crest's subject was "Things Which Count for Advancement." "The two outstanding things," said Mr. Crest, "which have worked for advancement are education and beauty." He stressed the fact that many of the pioneers in science, industry, sociology and government had paid an exorbitant price in the way of receiving hatred and mistreatment from society in order to give the world the wonderful inventions and advancements which we have now. Professor Crest says that one of the best evidences of education at the present time is the tolerance which we find among people, as superstition is always rooted in ignorance and can never flourish among an educated people.

All members of the club are looking ahead to the possibility of having this splendid speaker return again.

DEBATE

Plymouth's fourth debate in the Michigan High School Debating League series, will take place Friday afternoon, February 11th, at 3:30 o'clock, at Dearborn High school. The subject is, Resolved, that the United States government should own the coal mines.

Last week they had a practice debate at Northwestern High school, in Detroit, on Thursday afternoon, and Tuesday of this week Royal Oak debaters came here for another practice debate, February 11, Plymouth has the negative, and Dearborn, the affirmative.

Michael Dougan and son, Daniel, of Detroit, spent Saturday and Sunday with relatives and friends here.

Dr. Frank Crane Says

OPINIONS ARE LIKE RIPPLES

How long they last depends upon the surface on which they appear.

The mind of the individual who holds the opinion is the surface whose character determines its lasting quality.

Think over your friends. Some change their opinions continuously, others with great infrequency.

You have seen many kinds of ripples—ripples on water, ripples on sand, ripples on ice, and ripple marks in solid limestone.

All are duplicated in the minds of men.

On water, ripples alter with each succeeding breath; in stone they change only with the erosion of years. One type of mind is fluid; another concrete.

The first is plastic but unretentive; the second is retentive but unchanging and indurate.

One changes its opinions too frequently; the other not frequently enough.

In a general way these two characteristics of mind represent two stages of life.

In youth the tendency is to change our opinions too often.

In old age the tendency is to change them too seldom.

Youth is a time for ripples on water. It is a time for alternating, changing open-mindedness, for a sort of spur-row-like hopping from one idea to another.

Opinions are formed, destroyed and re-formed with little effort.

Old age is a time when the ripples of opinion seem marked in stone.

They are fixed. They alter only after long erosion by contrary evidence.

Both attitudes are off balance. One leans too far forward, the other too far back. Between the two extremes is the happy mean.

Of the two attitudes the one that can be most controlled is that of solidity. Little can be done to change the attitude of the mind of youth, and it has time to steady down anyway.

But open-mindedness is a habit that can be cultivated.

"A new truth is a truth and an old error is an error," is a good motto for advancing years.

You've got to see this place to appreciate it. A real buy.

Before you pile up repair bills, try right oil!

TWO simple mistakes cost car owners 75 per cent. of the money spent on repairs. They are—

Use of wrong oil—and Wrong use of oil.

Cheap oil is wrong oil. Even quality oil is wrong oil, unless you get the proper grade.

Adding one quart of new oil to the dirty oil you already have gives you just that much more dirty oil. Unless you refill your crank case every few hundred miles, you are using oil wrong.

With the right grade of Havoline in your crank case, you can feel the difference for yourself. Your power will go up—and power is the one real test of oil.

There is knowledge that will keep you out of the repair shop and save you dollars on gasoline and oil. We give free crank-case service—or you can buy Havoline in one and five-gallon cans.

LINCOLN AND MEMENTOS

A collection of relics of Abraham Lincoln, Civil War President, are exhibited by the Chicago Historical society on the birthday of the martyr President, February 12. Among them are the high hat and umbrella so familiar in Lincoln pictures. There is also shown a photograph of the log cabin which he helped his father to build on Goose Nest prairie in Coles county, Illinois.

Acknowledged as Master of Prose

English Critic's Tribute to Abraham Lincoln Well Deserved.

"It is not too much to say of him (Lincoln) that he is among the greatest masters of prose ever produced by the English race."—The (London) Spectator.

It is said that Nathaniel Hawthorne was once asked the secret of his style. That consummate writer replied—no doubt with one of his inscrutable smiles—"It is the result of a great deal of practice. It comes from the desire to tell the simple truth as honestly and vividly as I can." The flawless perfection of Lincoln's style in his noblest utterances eludes a final analysis as completely as the exquisite pages of our great romancer, yet in striving to understand some of the causes of that perfection we may use the hint which Hawthorne has given us.

Lincoln had "a great deal of practice" in the art of speech long before his debates against Douglas made him known to the nation; endless talks in country stores, endless jests in frontier taverns, twenty years of pleading in the Circuit courts, twenty-five years of constant political discussion. His law partner had noted his incessant interest in the precise meaning of words. His reputation for clear statement to a jury was the result of his passion for putting ideas into language "plain enough for any boy to comprehend." Lincoln's mind worked slowly, and he was long in finding the words that exactly expressed his thoughts, but when he had once hit upon the word or phrase he never forgot it. "He read less and thought more than any man in the country," says Herndon with a sort of pride, and it should be remembered that throughout his gradual development as a master of his mother tongue he was preoccupied, not with words for their own sake, but solely with words as the garb of ideas.

Told Truth Simply. Furthermore, Lincoln's mental characteristics illustrate with singular force the remark of Hawthorne that style is the result of a desire to tell the simple truth as honestly and vividly as one can. He was "Honest Abe"; not, indeed, so innocent and frank and unsophisticated as many people believed; not a man who told all he knew, by any means; but yet a man essentially fair-minded. He looked into the nature of things. He read human nature dispassionately. A man of intense feeling, he was nevertheless, in mature life, at least, without sentimentality. He was not fooled by phrases. As a debater he made no attempt to mislead his audience; as President, when he found frank conversation impossible, he told a humorous story of more or less remote bearing upon the subject in hand. He kept inviolate his mental integrity. And without integrity of mind the would-be master of speech becomes a mere juggler with words.

In the letter to Thurlow Weed concerning the second inaugural address, Lincoln described that memorable utterance as "a truth which I thought needed to be told." No description could be more subtle.

That Lincoln's gift of humor added much to the vividness and homely naturalness of his style will not be questioned. But the connection between fair-mindedness and humor is not always remembered. The man of true humor—not, of course, the mere joker or wit—sees all sides of a proposition. He recognizes instinctively its defects of proportion, its incongruities. It is the great humorists who have drawn the truest pictures of human life, because their humor was a constant corrective against one-sidedness. Lincoln's mind had the impartiality, the freedom from prejudice, the flexibility of sympathy which belongs to the humorist alone.

Always Purpose in Stories. It has sometimes been argued that his fondness for story-telling showed a deficient command of language; that, knowing his inability to express his ideas directly, he conveyed them indirectly by an anecdote. It would probably be nearer the truth to say that the stories were a proof of his understanding of the limitations of language. He divided the boundaries of expression through formal speech and knew when a picture, a parable, would best serve his turn.

As great responsibilities came to rest upon him, as the harassing problems of our national life pressed closer and closer, the lonely President grew more clear-eyed and certain of his course. The politician was lost in the statesman. His whole life, indeed, was a process of enfranchisement from selfish and narrow views. He stood at last on a serene height than other men of his epoch, breathing an ampler air, perceiving more truly the eternal realities. And his style changed as the man changed. What he saw and felt at his solitary final post he has in part made known, through a slowly perfected instrument of expression. So transparent is the language of the Gettysburg address and of the second inaugural that one may read through them, as through a window, Lincoln's wise and gentle and unselfish heart. Other praise is needless.—Biles Perry, in Christian Science Monitor.

Lincoln's Plea to Voters. Every man is said to have his peculiar ambition. Whether it be true or not, I can say, for one, that I have no other so great as that of being truly esteemed by my fellowmen by rendering myself worthy of their esteem. How far I shall succeed in gratifying this ambition is yet to be developed. I am young and unknown to many of you; I was born and have ever remained in the most humble walks of life. I have no wealthy or popular relations or friends to recommend me. My case is thrown exclusively upon the independent voters of the country, and if elected, they will have conferred a favor upon me for which I shall be unremittent in my labors to compensate. But if the good people in this wisdom shall see fit to keep me in the background, I have been too familiar with disappointments to be very much chagrined.—Abraham Lincoln.

Lincoln on "Main Street". Four immense stone heads of Abraham Lincoln grace the route of the Lincoln highway in as many different states. Each head is 15 feet high and they are mounted at vantage points along the highway. The work was executed by George Bernard, famous sculptor.

An American Idea

The Community Mausoleum is an American idea of comparatively recent growth and is meeting with general favor throughout the country.

A little thought will convince you that a mortuary chamber in Riverside Mausoleum can be secured at less cost and more satisfaction than the ownership of a desirable burial lot with a suitable monument or a private tomb.

A room or compartment in Riverside Mausoleum will receive constant care and attention and is not exposed to the inclemencies of the weather. It affords more per dollar than can be secured in any other chamber of sepulchre.

Space in the Mausoleum is limited; make your reservation NOW at pre-construction prices.

The America of Today

The needs of a growing nation change like those of a growing man. The first America was a land of poverty and toil. The pioneers wanted—nor could they have—little besides food, shelter, simple clothing and the primary domestic comforts.

They buried their dead on the farms and on their estates. Later, as settlements grew, burial grounds were established and the tourist finds them, spotted in the fields and the hill tops, lonely, neglected and often forgotten.

But America today is a vastly different nation. Wealthy, powerful, gathering momentum at every stride; demanding the ultimate in comfort, luxury and display.

Gone with the horse and buggy and the old simplicity of life is the graveyard of the days that are gone; supplanted by the modern burial park and community mausoleum with perpetual care.

Demanding and securing comfort, seeking the richer things of life, happiness and health, there comes, too, the age-old desire to preserve the dead and to beautify the place of sepulchre—and so it was with the nations of antiquity as they grew to affluence and wealth.

Much of the history of man comes to us through his tombs. In all ages and among all the peoples of the earth, civilized and otherwise, it has been the custom to erect costly tombs and monuments to commemorate the memory of their great ones—soldiers, statesmen, heroes and prophets.

The most sumptuous commemorative monument of ancient times was the mausoleum of Halicarnassus, erected by Queen Artemesia in B. C. 353, in memory of her husband, Mausolius, King of Caria.

The most celebrated architects and sculptors of the age were employed by the sorrowing queen, who had resolved to raise a sepulchral monument which would surpass anything the world had yet seen. It was long known as one of the seven wonders of the world. The name Mausoleum is derived from this monument.

FARMINGTON MILLS

THE THEATRE

"BIGGER THAN BARNUM'S"

The essence of that greatest of all "Shows," the circus, is caught and held in deathless celluloid in "Bigger Than Barnum's," the first of F. B. O.'s Gold Bond specials, which will be seen at the Penniman Allen theatre next Saturday, February 12.

Heralded in Hollywood as an outstanding hit, the production boasts an exceptional cast as well as a strong melodramatic story of the sawdust arena, where life goes on and the public must be pleased, whatever the danger to the actors or their own personal feelings. Viola Dana is said to have one of the most colorful roles of her career as the little high-wire acrobat, and Ralph Lewis gives a splendidly sincere performance as the old acrobat who is losing his grip through advancing years. George O'Hara takes the part of the son, and Ralph Ince gives an unusual interpretation to the villain's character. These four great players collaborate in one of the best interpretations of which any picture can boast, and the direction of Mr. Ince is powerful throughout. The story, which gets away from the circus itself long enough to permit of a spectacular fire sequence in which a thrilling rescue is performed high above the street, is the work of Arthur Guy Emery, and has been ably adapted to the screen by J. Grubb Alexander.

"THE CANADIAN"

A story of the great open spaces with many a cowboy, Indian or dirty-dog villain. A tale of Canada with hardly any snow and not a single Northwest Mounted Policeman. If it were only for the absence of these two features, Thomas Meighan's latest Paramount feature, "The Canadian," which arrives at the Penniman Allen theatre Sunday and Monday, February 13 and 14, would be a fine picture! But add a stirring plot, one that won success on the stage as W. Somerset Maugham's "The Land of Promise," a strong cast, headed by Mona Palma, Wyndham Standing, Dale Fuller and Charles Waininger; and the capable direction of William Beaudine; and a better-than-average film is sure to be the result.

Meighan enacts the part of a wheat harvester who works for his friend, Wyndham Standing. In an effort to finance a return to his own fields, while living with Standing, he meets the latter's sister, Mona Palma, a young English woman, just arrived in the provinces after having lost all her money. The new mode of living comes hard and she soon embroils herself with Standing's wife, Dale Fuller. Knowing that Meighan is "looking for a wife who will work," she offers herself and he takes her to his little cabin, off in the center of a vast wilderness of wheat.

The Canadian's eternal struggle with the climate for a living, and the vast underlying drama in which a he-man tries to break down the resistance of his cultured wife, help build up toward the picture's dramatic climax.

In it, Meighan is said to do the best work of his career. Arthur Stringer adapted Maugham's play. J. Clarkson Miller wrote the scenario.

"THE GREAT GATSBY"

Search for superlatives. "The Great Gatsby's" here!

Paramount's latest production comes to the Penniman Allen theatre Wednesday and Thursday, February 16th and 17th. It is by all odds one of the finest dramas to reach us this season. In it, Warner Baxter blossoms out as an actor of depth and feeling. The title role which he enacts is truly an amazing one. Gatsby, a poor boy who has scaled the heights by accepting aid from unscrupulous parties, and who lives but for one thing—the love of a weak-minded society girl, now married to another man—will evoke admiration, disdain, sympathy and devotion—all at the same time. His is as complex a character as has ever reached the screen.

Lots Wilson, with a brand new hair bob, gives a fine account of herself as Gatsby's idol, Ney Hamilton and Georgia Hale. (Chaplain's leading lady in "The Gold Rush.") The two other featured players, are both seen to advantage.

F. Scott Fitzgerald wrote "The Great Gatsby" as a society satire, and Becky Gardner who scenarized it, and Elizabeth Meehan, the adaptor, have carried out the author's motive.

The director, Herbert Brenon, deserves credit for the way he has handled a difficult theme. Certainly, two of his shots—the auto accident and Gatsby's wild party—could not have been improved on.

See "The Great Gatsby." It's great!

HONESTY AT LAST

Owing to the large volume of business that is coming to the company, the Stinson Aircraft corporation of Northville will have to enlarge its plant at that place.

Eighteen members of the Ypsilanti K. of P. lodge were guests of the local K. of P. lodge last Thursday evening. The Plymouth lodge conferred the first rank and Ypsilanti lodge exemplified the Lesson of Friendship.

The dedication of the new Holly High school gymnasium, which took place recently, was witnessed by a large audience. Although the building has a seating capacity of 1,000 persons, many were obliged to stand throughout the exercises.

The Milford Board of Commerce will be known in the future as the Milford Exchange club. As both organizations are composed of practically the same people it was thought that the merging of the two would serve the town in a much more practical manner.

A new school building in district No. 6, Farmington township, was recently dedicated. It is a two-story brick structure at the intersection of Orchard Lake and Thirteen Mile roads, and has ten acres for playground and athletic fields. It will be called the Isaac Bond school, in honor of Farmington's supervisor.

A Fenton farmer lost 17 hogs about a week ago which he had just about completed fattening for the market. The farmer had been collecting garbage at Fenton and feeding it to the porkers. After the animals had died an autopsy showed little bunches of toothpicks which had knotted themselves in little bunches in the intestines, and in some instances they had pierced the intestines.

W. E. Hastings, South Lyon naturalist, leaves Ann Arbor Sunday, en route for Boston, from which place he sails for Panama February 9th, in the interest of the University of Michigan, to take photographs of native birds and collect other zoological data. Mr. Hastings will be accompanied by Dr. J. Van Tine of the University of Michigan and two professors from other colleges.

Two lads around 14 years of age, seeking employment on a farm, aroused suspicions in the Arms grocery Wednesday and they were taken before Justice D. P. Hall, where they confessed to having run away from the Wayne County Manual Training School, near Plymouth. They wanted to return, after being questioned, and were accompanied to the home by Messrs. Arms and Hall.—South Lyon Herald.

A letter from Mrs. E. S. Mastick tells of their safe arrival at Tampa, Florida, on Thursday noon, January 27, making the drive from Plymouth in just four days. The roads were at their best, and the weather was delightful most of the way. She says there is a great change in conditions since last year. There are not nearly as many tourists in resort cities, and prices have been reduced to a very reasonable level. The break in the boom, which really started last year, the hurricane and two severe breezes have had telling effect. Many of the store windows in Bradenton bear placards saying "Drop your hammer and get a harp."—Milford Times.

WITHIN a comparatively few years the watchword of business has become SERVICE. Previous to this broader conception of the relations that should prevail between seller and buyer business was conducted in a more or less topsy-turvy manner, all responsibility ceasing when the customer left the store or office with his purchase.

Today the buyer MUST be satisfied in every particular before a transaction is deemed to have been closed. The ethical procedure that has gradually been woven into the fabric of modern business has created a finer sense of responsibility and a clearer feeling of confidence.

The National Association of Real Estate Boards some years ago adopted a code of ethics that is designed to guide the organization and the individual in the conduct of business. This code is subscribed to by all Realtors. It is designed for the protection of the client and the Realtor. Transgressions of the code will bring strict discipline or dismissal from the organization. It will pay you to deal with a Realtor, for you are assured of SERVICE and proper procedure.

Following is the preamble to the Code of Ethics and those sections having to do with the Realtor's relations to clients. Realtors have subscribed to this code. Read it:

CODE OF ETHICS

of the

National Association of Real Estate Boards

Preamble

Under all is the land. Upon its wise utilization and widely allocated ownership depend the survival and growth of free institutions and of our civilization. The Realtor is the instrumentality through which the land resource of the nation reaches its highest use and through which land ownership attains its widest distribution. He is a creator of homes, a builder of cities, a developer of industries and productive farms.

Such functions impose obligations beyond those of ordinary commerce; they impose grave social responsibility and a patriotic duty to which the Realtor should dedicate himself, and for which he should be diligent in preparing himself. The Realtor, therefore, is zealous to maintain and improve the standards of his calling and shares with his fellow Realtors a common responsibility for its integrity and honor.

In the interpretation of his obligations, he can take no safer guide than that which has been handed down through twenty centuries, embodied in the Golden Rule:

"Whatsoever ye would that men should do unto you, do ye also unto them."

Accepting this standard as his own, every Realtor pledges himself to observe its spirit in all his dealings and to conduct his business in accordance with the following Code of Ethics, adopted by the National Association of Real Estate Boards:

RELATION TO CLIENTS

In justice to those who place their interests in his hands, the Realtor should endeavor always to be informed regarding the law, proposed legislation, and other essential facts and public policies which affect those interests.

In accepting the agency for property, the Realtor pledges himself to be fair to purchaser or tenant, as well as to the owner whom he represents and whose interests he should protect and promote as he would his own.

A Realtor should not buy for himself property listed with him, nor should he acquire any interest therein, without first making his true position clearly known to the listing owner.

When asked for an appraisal of real property or an opinion on a real estate problem, the Realtor should never give an unconsidered answer; his counsel constitutes a professional service which he should render only after having ascertained and weighed the facts, and for which he should make a fair charge.

The Realtor should encourage the naming of the actual or an obviously nominal consideration in a deed.

When acting as agent in the management, a Realtor should not accept any commission, rebate, or profit on expenditures made for the owner, without his full knowledge and consent.

The exclusive listing of property should be urged and practiced by a Realtor as a means of eliminating misunderstanding and dissensions and assureing better service to the owner.

The acceptance by a Realtor of an exclusive listing imposes the obligation of rendering skilled and conscientious service when a Realtor is unable to render such services either himself or with the aid of his fellow Realtors, he should not accept the listing.

Before offering a property listed with him by the owner, it is the Realtor's duty to advise the owner honestly and intelligently regarding its fair market value.

RELATIONS TO CUSTOMERS AND THE PUBLIC

It is the duty of every Realtor to protect the public against fraud, misrepresentation, or unethical practices in connection with real estate transactions.

Property should be offered by a Realtor solely on its merit without exaggeration, concealment, or any form of deception or misleading representation.

It is the duty of a Realtor to ascertain all pertinent facts concerning every property for which he accepts the agency, so that in offering the property he may avoid error, exaggeration, and misrepresentation.

A Realtor should never offer a property without the authorization of the owner.

The price at which a Realtor offers a property should not be higher than that which the owner has openly agreed to take.

Before a Realtor buys for a client property in the ownership of which the Realtor has an interest, he should disclose his interest to all parties to the transaction.

Before a Realtor sells property in the ownership of which he is interested, he should make it clear to the purchaser that he is acting solely for the owner.

A Realtor when acting as a broker should make it clear for which party he is acting, and he should not receive compensation from more than one party except with the full knowledge and consent of all parties to the transaction.

Under no circumstances should a Realtor permit any property in his charge to be used for illegal or immoral purposes.

In closing transactions, the Realtor should advise the use of legal counsel when the interest of any party to the transactions appear to require it; and in all cases he should exercise care in the preparation of documents so that they shall embody the exact agreements reached.

At the time the agreement is reached as to terms of a transaction the Realtor should fully inform each party regarding commissions and other expenses to which each is respectively liable.

Before the closing of a transaction, the Realtor should recommend the examination of title and conveyancing papers.

All contracts and agreements to which a Realtor is a party should be made in writing and should be complete and exact.

A Realtor should never be instrumental in introducing into a neighborhood a character of property or occupancy, members of any race or nationality, or any individuals whose presence will clearly be detrimental to property values in that neighborhood. No instructions nor inducements from any client or customer relieve the Realtor from his responsibility strictly to observe this Code of Ethics.

CATHOLIC NOTES

The first card party held in our new Mahogany Room, was filled to capacity, and a most social time was enjoyed by all. Honors went to Mrs. C. LaFond, Mrs. Homer E. Burton, J. Koss and M. Minthorn.

The Altar Society wishes to take the opportunity at this writing, to thank the men who so kindly donated their services in the building of our new Mahogany Room, and much credit is due Franklin A. Forsgren for the plans and the supervision of the same.

The Altar Ladies will meet at the church Tuesday afternoon, February 15th, at 2:00 p. m. There will be a kitchen shower, and all the ladies of the parish are invited to attend these meetings. Let us have a large attendance, and complete the furnishings of our kitchen.

Keep the date open for Thursday evening, February 17th. A box social and Valentine Party. All the ladies bring a box of lunch, and the young folks bring Valentines for their friends. Drop them in the mail box at the entrance to the Mahogany Room. We assure you a good time. Everybody welcome.

The Altar Ladies, in the name of the parish, wish to sincerely thank the Plymouth business men, for the many favors conferred on the parish.

Matthew Hund underwent an operation at Harper hospital last Wednesday. We hope for a speedy recovery.

Grandpa Koss is ill at his home.

Mrs. Charles Finlan and daughter, Dorothy, have arrived home from San Diego, California.

Mrs. William LeDuc, who has been ill at her home for several weeks, is able to be out again.

On account of the loss of our organist, Mrs. George W. Roth (Phyllis LeDuc), who has resigned, the adult choir will sing the high mass at present, with Miss M. E. Lehman at the organ.

EPISCOPAL NOTES

Last Sunday was a most inspiring day for St. John's, when the first service in the new church was held. There was a very large audience of the congregation and friends of the mission. The service was bright, Joseph Tracy rendering the solo in splendid form. Our old friend and chorister, Mr. Tracy, is always ready to bring us a message in this form, and we appreciate the solos he renders, ably accompanied by our organist, Miss M. A. Pierson, at the organ.

Rev. Charles Wesley, our missioner, preached a very impressive and appropriate sermon, taking as his subject, "The church and what the church means."

The altar was beautifully massed with flowers—red roses, red, white and pink carnations, etc.—and the members of the vestry and congregation extend their thanks and appreciation to those who so kindly sent the beautiful flowers to beautify our first service in the new church; more especially do they thank the Plymouth Elevator Co. and Green & Jolliffe for the beautiful baskets of flowers, and to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wrench who supplied the red roses for the altar vases. After the service these flowers were distributed by the altar Guild, among the sick and aged in the parish.

It must indeed have been a very pleasant surprise to Rev. Wesley, at the conclusion of the morning service, to see the large number of children assembled for the Sunday-school. The children will be graded now, into their respective classes, and we feel sure that more of our members, realizing the vital importance of service in this, the most important branch of the church's work, will offer themselves to assist in the spiritual training of our children, who are so anxious to learn.

The Ladies' Guild met this week in the Parish House, for their fortnightly meeting, followed by a pot-luck supper and kitchen shower.

The Men of St. John's Club will meet in the Parish House, next Tuesday evening, February 15th, for a social time, and they extend an invitation to men of the village of Plymouth, to be their guests on that evening. Then are assured of a good time.

Sunday, February 20th, will be Dedication Sunday, when the Venerable Archdeacon Ramsay, our archdeacon of Detroit, will be the preacher; and during that week, several social "get-together" evenings will be given, such as community evening, clergy evening, young people's evening; but due notice will be given later.

Rev. Wesley extends an invitation to all who wish, to attend and join with us in any of our services and social evenings.

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES

Rev. S. Conger Hathaway, of Ypsilanti, formerly minister of Plymouth Presbyterian church, will preach here Sunday morning, Mr. Nichol going to Ypsilanti in a friendly exchange of pulpits.

The Ready Service class held a largely attended and very enjoyable meeting at the home of Mrs. C. G. Draper, Church street, on Tuesday.

The father and son meeting on Tuesday evening was excellent. The dinner served by Mrs. Shaw's class left nothing to be desired. The local boys were represented in speeches by Owen Partridge and Edwin Schrader, while Melburn Partridge and E. M. Stewart volunteered for local dads.

Mr. Ray Van Volkenburg, of Northville, delivered an address full of helpful thoughts and inspiration for fathers and sons during the dinner.

The High School Orchestra, under the direction of Miss Ruth Forsythe, rendered a number of selections in a fine manner. Community singing, led by Cal Whipple, chairman, brightened the evening, and the solo numbers given by Mr. Baxtresser, with Mrs. D. G. Brown at the piano, were greatly enjoyed.

Mr. Baxtresser will sing Sunday morning at both church and Sunday school.

On Thursday Messrs. W. R. Shaw, H. A. Smith, Melburn Partridge, E. M. Stewart, John Henderson and W. Nichol attended a meeting at the Book-Cadillac hotel, Detroit, in the interest of the Presbyterian Service Pension fund.

On Tuesday, Feb. 15, the women's organizations representing the congregations of Redford, Northville, Dearborn, East Warren and Plymouth will meet at Plymouth. They will convene at 10 a. m. There are to be several excellent speakers, the meeting to continue through the afternoon. Each woman is requested to bring a box lunch. Coffee, tea and one hot dish will be provided by the local women. The day should prove a fine inspiration to all who share in it.

FORD SERVICE

Here are just a few of the many reasons why Ford owners get the best service by patronizing Ford dealers:—

- 1—The authorized Ford dealer is more interested in giving the Ford Owner satisfactory service than anyone else can possibly be.
- 2—A satisfied Ford owner, operating a car in good mechanical condition, is the Ford Dealer's best advertisement.
- 3—When served by the Ford Dealer the Ford Owner is insured of Genuine Ford Parts, which means safety in driving and longer life for the car.
- 4—Ford Dealers use special shop equipment, which means quick service at minimum cost.
- 5—The Ford Dealer has studied Ford cars, knows how they are made and how they should be repaired. And he passes this knowledge on to the men who work for him.

THE NEXT TIME THE FORD NEEDS FIXING LET A MAN WHO KNOWS FORD CARS LOOK AFTER THE JOB

Today's Reflections

Another thing hard to understand is why the Plymouth man who doesn't get paid for preaching does the most of it.

What has become of the old-fashioned girl who was always afraid she'd be so shocked that she would faint?

If there's anything around the kitchen you don't want your boy to eat, tell him it's healthful.

The world hasn't changed much. Some Plymouth people still refuse to make any spring planting plans until the groundhog has announced his observations.

When the doctor tells you to cut down on your eating, he is giving you food for thought.

Wonder how many men around Plymouth are willing to be president now that the president isn't permitted to eat pork sausage for breakfast?

We see where a St. Louis bootblack told a judge he is a "shine-ologist." We suppose he calls his stand a "shine-sloppe."

It begins to look as though Mexico is going to have something warmer on her hands than hot dogs and hot tumales.

Wonder why none of our Plymouth motorists have thought of painting whiskers on their drivers to make them look like Lincolns.

Maybe the reason some women are not a success in business is because they haven't learned to prop their feet up on a desk.

Women used to go bathing dressed like Mother Hubbard. Now they go in dressed like Mother Hubbard's cupboard.

Another reason why some Plymouth men work so hard is they would rather be at home than in the poor-house.

From the number of accidents in this country every day, autos must have been invented for sowing wild oats.

Another nice thing about Lincoln's and Washington's birthdays, is that you are not expected to give anybody expensive presents.

Another mistake too many Plymouth drivers make is in using their horn instead of their brakes when they see they are going to run over somebody.

DETROIT NEWS SPELLING BEE

The Detroit News through the Spelling Bee manager, Mr. Lee A. White, is arranging for the big annual spelling contest for Wayne, Macomb and Oakland counties. The dates for the various matches have not been announced, but very likely will begin some time in March.

During the month, the teachers and superintendents in the County will receive instructions and more definite information from the Detroit News and further details in the March Newsletter.

The School Commissioner's office is anxious that every school will again be interested in this great Spelling Bee. May the honors go to those best prepared to represent their schools.

COUNTY 7TH AND 8TH GRADE EXAMINATIONS MAY 12TH AND 13TH, 1927.

The State Superintendent has announced that the County examinations this year will be given on May 12th and 13th.

Seventh Grade subjects consisting of reading, spelling, orthography, penmanship, geography and physiology, will be given Thursday, May 12th. Eighth grade subjects, arithmetic, agriculture, civil government, grammar and United States history will be given Friday, May 13th.

The seventh grade reading examination will be based on Lowell's "Vision of Sir Launfal."

Pupils to be eligible to write the Seventh grade examination must have completed the regular Seventh grade as outlined in the State Course of Study, and likewise for the Eighth grade.

Eighth grade pupils who completed the Seventh grade in a graded or city district must file their promotion certificates with the County School Commissioner, otherwise they will have to write both Seventh and Eighth grade subjects this year.

ZONE MEETINGS

February 12 Zone "D", at Corey school, Romulus, No. 4. Zone "E" at Trussett school, Huron, No. 5.

Supr. D. S. Yape of Wayne, gave the afternoon address at the Mt. Pleasant school in Zone "E," January 29th, and Rev. S. Conger Hathaway addressed the meeting at the Bartlett school in Zone "A."

COUNTY SCHOOL NOTES

Hanford school, Canton No. 2 announces 100% attendance for the month of December. No absence or tardiness for an entire month sets a record for other schools to aim at.

Mrs. Viola Hagerty is the new teacher at Sheldon school. Miss Dorothy Fay of Detroit Teachers College, succeeds Miss Eliza Cobb, who has resigned at the Truesdell school. Mrs. Nellie Jewell is now teaching the lower grades at the Heintzen school. Miss Iva Goss at Brainard school and Miss Katherine Thurman at Elm school are also new teachers in the County.

Misses Stenson, Franseth and Ravell, Helping Teachers of Oakland County, were guests of Zone "A" at the meeting at the Bartlett school on January 29th.

Wayne County High school students are busy this month preparing essays for the Union Trust Company essay contest.

If tennis develops the racket arm of players as 'tis said, then we would back President Coolidge in Tex Rickard's heavyweight journey, since he shook hands with 1,220 people in twenty-seven minutes the other day.

FARMERS WEEK GROW BREAKS ALL RECORDS

EIGHT THOUSAND ATTEND MEETINGS OF ANNUAL CONFERENCE WHEN FINE WEATHER KEEPS ROADS OPEN.

Breaking all attendance records for annual Farmers' Week at Michigan State College, between 7,000 and 8,000 farmers and their families gathered on East Lansing campus last week to attend the various meetings and conferences.

Fine weather and open roads made it possible for visitors to come by automobile from almost any section of the state, a factor which is said to have played a big part in the unusually heavy attendance.

New champions appeared at several of the shows held during the week. Large number of exhibits in the grain, potato, apple, egg and floral shows drew a continuous stream of visitors.

Two members of Congress sounded a note of optimism in their talks on the attitude of Congress toward relief legislation for farmers. Other national authorities who spoke at the general sessions stressed the trend of the movement toward general recognition of the importance of a prosperous agriculture to insure the continued prosperity of the country.

Thirty-seven state-wide organizations held their annual meetings at M. S. C. during the week. In the gatherings of these various organizations satisfaction was generally expressed with the accomplishments of the past year, along with a renewed determination to continue efforts in aid of agricultural progress.

Ten billion more cigarettes were consumed by American people in 1926 than in the year before, which is an average of two per day for every man, woman and child in the United States. Have you had your two today?

"My first use of fertilizers convinced me that they were very profitable and that any farmer could not really afford to plant a crop without fertilizing it. I found the use of fertilizers especially profitable on potatoes.

Farther than ever beyond the reach of imitation

$825

Every one knows that when announced a year ago, the Pontiac Six was an extraordinary automotive development.

The General Motors Research Staff pioneered Pontiac Six basic design. The great General Motors Proving Ground provided an unparalleled opportunity to perfect that design without regard to time or cost. And General Motors combined purchasing power assured minimum costs on quality materials.

Obviously, the Pontiac Six was then beyond duplication. Obviously, it is today still farther beyond the reach of imitation—

—because the Pontiac Six now carries this important additional attraction to buyers:

In a period of more than a year, it has served tens of thousands of owners in performance, reliability and economical operation, to a degree of satisfaction far beyond their fondest expectations!

Pontiac Six, $825 to $975. Oakland Six, comparable to Pontiac Six, $1025 to $1125. All prices at factory. Dealer by Fisher. Easy to pay on the General Motors Time Payment Plan.

Day Devoted to Tender Thoughts

An old idea is that observed February 14 because of an ancient belief that birds began to mate on that date, hence the practice of sending missives of an amatory or satirical nature.

Today's satirists assert that if this is true, the birds that started the habit must have been cuckoos.

Other doubts prevail as to the origin of the name, Saint Valentine.

It is a corruption of the word "galantin," meaning a lover, a gallant, or a dangler, reference books state when consulted about the venerable old saint, whose name sprang into being about 475 B. C.

Miss Modernity, 1926 sport model, alleges that dangler is the correct word. She, it seems, keeps them dangling on a "line," to quote modern slang. Whether or not she lands them is problematical, sheiks and asphalt arabs declare.

Be that as it may, this same reference book sets forth that the name Saint Valentine was selected for the sweethearts' saint, merely because of the euphonious qualities of his name. This is another source of humorous remarks.

Trace the name from the word "galantin" to "Saint Valentine" and you have almost all of the various expressions in use today to denote varying degrees and terms applicable to that symptom of heart infection called by mortals "love."

Latin gives us "valens," meaning valiant. Modern folk jestingly remark that a man to be married must be valiant. Write the old geometrical term, "Q.E.D.," meaning "Quod Erat Demonstrandum"—which was to be proved.

Welsh tongues give us the word "gwan" as one of the by-products of "valens," to which the modern, flippant flapper prefixes "aw," and the present day term, "aw-gwan," seems to have been said several hundred years before this era of store-bought faces and rolled socks.

"Gwan," in Welsh, meant guard, ward or valn. Consequently, one's valentine could be considered any or all three of these.

A wife is a ward. Try and keep her sometimes is the difficulty. She is also a guard, if Monsieur Hen

A VALENTINE

In dusty tomes, in quiet place,
I found a quaint, old valentine,
A thing of silk and paper lace,
And lovers' vows in faltering rhyme,
And on the margin faintly trace
The sender's name in faded line.

How easily we smile and sigh
At love and fashions long outgrown,
And yet perchance her heart beat high,
His hopes were valiant as your own—
The girl who laid it carefully by,
The boy whose fate must be unknown.

Peck or any of his 587,980,007,838 colleagues are to be heard.
This settles the origin of the date and the origin of the name, since it has been traced backward through the dusty pages of some dozens of reference books.

Saint Valentine's observance is an easier thing to ascertain. Chaucer wrote in his "Complaint to My Mortal Foe":

"Saint Valentyn! To you I renovele
My woeful lyf, as I can, compleynynge:
Upon your day doth ech foul chose his mate."

Which means, when translated, that he wished to renew his woeful life as he could, complainingly, however; and added for the edification of others that "on this day does each fowl choose its mate."

Shakespeare, in "Hamlet," refers also to Saint Valentine's day. His must have been in these good old days that we hear about so often, judging from the tone of his words, which would indicate that pretty maids hung about desirable bachelors' windows upon this day.
The exact words used by the Bard of Avon are:

"Tomorrow is Saint Valentine's day,
All in the morning betime,
And I a maid at your window—
To be your Valentine."

"Hod dawg," quoth the office sheik, who happened to see this, "them's the days I woulda like to lived. Wouldna hadda crank Ol' Liz up and go get her. She'd have been on hand just after dawn."

The custom of observing the day, however, has fallen into disuse in England, while in France, where it once prevailed on the first Sunday in Lent, the sending of valentines almost has disappeared from folk-traits.

But in America Kid Kupid is making a heavy fight. Today is the day when the pink and white creations, bought with carefully hoarded pennies by little Jimmy, will find their way to Betty.

And the day when the older folks also will dream of other days, when they, too, eagerly watched the village mail man, waiting for the tender missives that spelled in capital letters—

FAIRY'S VALENTINE

I saw a little elf
Who was sitting by himself
In a hollow that was warm and sunny.
He had made a little pen
Of a feather of a wren
And he dipped it into golden honey.

And he wrote with all his might:
"Oh, my darling little sprite,
You are sweeter than the clover
That the bee is buzzing over.
And I love you, I adore you,
And I'm always longing for you,
And you're always growing dearer.
And I wish that you were nearer,
I can think of nothing clever,
But I'm yours, and yours forever
If you want it so or not!"
And he ended with a blot.

Then I copied out his letter
(Since I couldn't write a better),
And I'm signing it and send it to you,
For it's true.
—Arthur Guiterman, in Delineator.

SCHOOL NOTES

By Dorothy Lombard and Jay McNabb

On Tuesday evening the senior class presented the fourth number of their lecture course. The play, "In Walked Jimmy," proved most interesting to the audience. It being a snappy production of wit and humor. The sympathies of the audience were throughout with Jimmy, who, through smiles and kind words, saved a business firm from ruin.

This semester finds Plymouth High with a still larger enrollment, which is easily seen in some of the crowded study halls.

Home Economics.

11 and 12—The spring semester will be spent by this class in studying the nutritional needs of young children, the infant, pre-school child and school children, as well as considering labor-saving devices for the home, and a three weeks' unit in home nursing.

Ninth and tenth grades. As a beginning problem for these girls, the making of night gowns or pajamas is taken up. The first three weeks will be spent on these. Next the girls will make slips, putting into use the French seam. Seven weeks will be spent in simple seam construction, simple machine and hand finishes, commercial patterns and their alterations and undergarments. The remainder of the semester will be spent on the school girls' wardrobe, including types of dresses suitable to occasions and seasons.

The senior class of '27 will give their prom on February 11th. Jean Goldkette's orchestra has been secured for the entertainment. The seniors have been working very hard to make this a success, many townspeople and outsiders having been invited.

The Girl Reserve program committee has been organizing its program this week for the second semester. There will be included several interesting topics.

Through the courtesy of the costume information bureau of the J. L. Hudson Company a very interesting wool exhibit has been on display. These educational charts have been prepared in wool, silk, cotton and flax, and are available to any high school in the state where the various textile fibres are studied.

One chart gives samples showing various kinds of wool and the different steps in the manufacture of it into cloth. Under this comes the cheviot mixture. Here we see wool after it has been washed, dyed and greased by hand, ready for the carding machine, carded wool ready for spinning and spun wool ready for weaving or knitting. Besides the cheviot mixture there is the cashmere. The natural cashmere is off the goats from India and China; White cashmere, the under-hair of the Himalayan goat, and cashmere after it has been washed, crossbred, carded and spun for knitting, into hosiery or sweaters are given.

Several interesting samples of miscellaneous wools as Scotch and French are shown on the chart.

Charts showing a variety of wool fabrics were also shown. Among the fabrics are: Imported tweed, French flannel, broadcloth, chinilla, charmeen, wool taffeta, cashmere, swedish wool jersey, friska, serge, Camella's hair, velouria.

PLYMOUTH DEFEATS ROOSEVELT HIGH, 30-15.

Plymouth again showed her supremacy by defeating Roosevelt High of Ypsilanti to the score of 30-15. By winning this game Plymouth has defeated every team in the league and they now stand in first place in the league. The next game will be against Northville at Northville.

At the beginning of the game the lineup was:
Hickey R. F. Mott
Doubt L. F. Home
C. Foster C. C. Bodd

Hubert R. G. Hornberger
B. Carney J. G. Spikes
During the first half both teams were playing well and every basket made meant a great deal of playing. The first quarter ended with the score Roosevelt 6, Plymouth 5, and Plymouth fans began to look blue. In the second quarter a new team of substitutes was put in. The half ended 11-11 and Plymouth enthusiasts still looked worried.

However, in the second half the Plymouth team got into its old swing and relieved all the tension. The game ended with the score Plymouth 30, Roosevelt 15.

Field goals made were: C. Foster 5, Doubt 4, B. Carney 2, Hickey 1.

Repetitions and defeated the Roosevelt football goals: Doubt 3, Hubert 1.

The second team overcame all expectations and won the first game they have played and we hope it will not be the last.

Remember the game at Northville Friday evening, February 11. It will be a hard game, but the team will win if they have your assistance. Come and help them win.
David Nichol.

CORN BORER CONTROL DEMONSTRATION

FIELD MEETING AT FLAK ROCK FEBRUARY 16.

Corn growers, machinery men and others interested will meet on the John Fersite, Jr. farm, one mile north of Flat Rock, on Wednesday morning, February 16, to study methods of corn borer control.

The William Ford Company, International Harvester Company, Oliver Chilled Plow Company and the Michigan Central Railroad are co-operating with the corn borer station at Monroe and the Wayne county agricultural agent in showing the machinery available to clear the corn fields of stalks and stubble.

The field demonstration will take place in the morning and in the afternoon a general discussion of the subject by the experts in charge will take place at a meeting in Flat Rock.

STETSON THE MAN

Reaching Philadelphia, he had one hundred dollars left. He bought the tools of his trade, rented a little room at Seventh and Callowhill Streets, and started to work making hats. To buy the fur and make the felt was the first thing to do. Stetson had no credit, but ten dollars' worth of fur was all that was required to start.

He studied the fashions that were in vogue, and made the sort of hat that seemed to be in demand. He peddled these out at the stores of the dealers, one, two, three, half a dozen at a time.
