

GREATER PLYMOUTH ASSOCIATION IS LAUNCHED

MUNICIPAL PLANNING AND DEVELOPMENT IS AIM OF NEWLY FORMED ORGANIZATION

Dinner Mass Meeting to Which All Are Invited Planned for Thursday Evening, March 24th.

NUMBER OF GUESTS FROM NORTHVILLE

Co-operation of Sister Community is Invited in Report of Committee Adopted By the Association at Dinner Meeting.

A gathering of more than seventy-five men, including business and professional men, members of virtually all of the civic and semi-civic organizations of Plymouth, augmented by eleven of Northville's prominent business men and several Detroit men who have property interests in this locality, met at the Plymouth Hotel Restaurant last week Thursday evening, to formulate plans for a Greater Plymouth Association.

The meeting was presided by a splendid chicken dinner served by the proprietor, Mrs. Mary Madison. The invocation was pronounced by Oliver Goldsmith. Following the dinner, the meeting was called to order by Frank Rambo, chairman of the local committee, who in turn introduced C. R. Livengood, secretary of the committee.

Mr. Livengood, in his usual pleasing manner, welcomed the guests present and made known the purpose of the meeting. He stated that several weeks ago an informal meeting had been held, which included representatives from the Real Estate Board, Chamber of Commerce, the two luncheon clubs and the Grange, and a preliminary organization had been formed to bring about a movement that it was hoped would culminate in a Greater Plymouth Association. At this meeting a committee was appointed to draft a prospectus embodying the activities of such an organization. He then read the prospectus as set forth by the committee, which was later unanimously adopted by the meeting, and which follows:

The committee appointed to suggest a course of action for the Greater Plymouth Organization submits as follows:

That the area known as Greater Plymouth shall be within the following boundary lines: Bounded on the north by Six Mile or Waterford road, on the west by Beck road, on the south by the Canton township line, and on the east by the Livonia township line; Realizing the need for planning and co-ordination of effort the committee suggests that the organization put forth an effort to enroll to membership, all property owners in the Greater Plymouth area and environs, counsel with the owners regarding the development of this and contiguous properties, and endeavor to maintain a uniform plan of action that will be conducive to the greatest civic good;

Elect a Board of Directors, which shall include the officers, and five additional members to act in the organization's behalf between meetings;

Appoint an Industrial Committee of not less than five members, empowered to represent the association in negotiations with prospective industrialists, survey the trackage and utility potentialities, negotiate with railroad officials regarding the extension or betterment of rail and delivery conditions, co-operate with industrialists, present or prospective, and the village commission regarding municipal utilities and advise with the association regarding the proper segregation of industry;

Appoint a city planning committee of three or more members, whose duty it shall be to make observations and recommendations to the association regarding the residential and business development of Greater Plymouth, advise and co-operate with the village commission and county authorities in all matters having to do with roads, streets, parks, condemnations, street widening, paving and zoning;

Appoint an advertising and publicity committee to devise and recommend plans for a publicity campaign extolling the virtues and possibilities of this section of Wayne county;

Invite the co-operation of the municipality of Northville, their interests being harmonious with Plymouth.

The geographical location of the two communities alone suggests coordinated action.

Co-operate with the Chamber of Commerce in every essential and provide that all subscriptions to the organization of $25.00 or more, will automatically include membership in the Chamber of Commerce, the regular membership fee being placed to the credit of that body.

The committee also recommends a semi-monthly dinner meeting, officers and directors meeting weekly, and a dinner mass meeting on Thursday evening, March 24, at 6:30 p. m., with an invitation extended through the press to all property owners.

Respectfully submitted, C. R. Livengood, Geo. H. Robinson, Allan A. Horton, Committee.

Mr. Livengood emphasized the great need of an organization of this kind in Plymouth, and very aptly pointed out the things that could be accomplished by a united effort directed in a way that would bring the greatest amount of good to the community as a whole, and stressed the point that since a greater civic growth was so certain with the ever westward extension of Detroit industry and population, now was the time to prepare for such growth and a Greater Plymouth.

Mr. Livengood welcomed the delegation from our neighboring village of Northville, and expressed the hope that they would join hands with Plymouth in the movement to organize a similar association, as their interests were identical with our own. He then called upon our former townsman, Nelson Schrader, who responded in his usual happy manner.

Mr. Livengood then introduced the speaker of the evening, D. P. Martin, vice-president of the Marquette Park Association. Mr. Martin is a very convincing speaker, and we might say is thoroughly sold on the prospects for the great development of Plymouth and the community which surrounds it. He emphasized the fact that Plymouth, with her strategic and exceptional location, was certain to feel a tremendous growth impulse in the coming years. He spoke in very commendatory terms of the efforts that were being put forth to bring about the organization of a Greater Plymouth Association. He said that if the city of Detroit had taken some such action years ago, vast sums of money could have been saved by the proper planning of the city.

Mr. Martin pledged the whole hearted support of the Marquette Park Association in joining hands with Plymouth in the organization of a Greater Plymouth Association.

Following Mr. Martin's talk a letter was read from one of Plymouth's business men, pledging $500 and more if needed for a Greater Plymouth Association.

Charles Edwards of the Smith & Burns Realty Co. of Detroit, pledged $1,000 to the movement, and volunteered to raise $10,000 more through personal efforts.

Brief remarks were made by Elton R. Eaton, editor of the Northville Record, Clarence Elliott of Northville, Charles Edwards of Detroit, E. C. Hough, Charles O. Ball and Dr. B. E. Champe.

Mr. Youngs of Newburg, stated that a similar association was being organized at Newburg, and they would be desirous of co-operating with Plymouth in every way possible.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS' ANNUAL MEETING

Monday, March 14, the Plymouth League of Women Voters had its annual meeting, with a luncheon at the St. John's church house. Seventy members and their friends were present. A delicious luncheon was served by the Episcopal ladies at beautifully decorated tables, after which the officers for the year were elected as follows:

President—Mrs. A. B. Van Akin. First Vice-President—Mrs. Ruth E. Huston-Whipple. Second Vice-President—Mrs. Roderick Cassidy. Secretary—Mrs. Frank Spicer. Treasurer—Mrs. Paul Wiedman.

The program consisted of a splendid piano solo by Miss Carolina H. Penney, a talk about the election April 4 by Miss Lina Durfee, and greeting from Mrs. Henry Steffens, who is president of the Wayne County League of Women Voters.

Then Mrs. Henry Gray Sherrard, of Detroit, who is president of the Michigan League of Women Voters, gave a most interesting talk on her experiences at the meeting of the International Woman Suffrage Alliance in Paris last year. Later Mrs. Sherrard gave an exposition of the Wayward Minor bill, which is before the present session of the legislature. This bill will include under juvenile court jurisdiction all persons under 21, whereas now juvenile court supervision ends when the minor is 17.

The next meeting of the Plymouth league will occur Monday, April 11. Three delegates were elected to represent the local league at the annual meeting of the Wayne County league in Detroit, March 22, namely: Miss Mary Connor, Mrs. George H. Robinson and Justice Phoebe Patterson. Other members of the league who desire to attend will be welcome Tuesday, March 22, at the Hotel Statler.

The meeting of last Thursday evening would indicate not only by the large attendance, but the manner in which the matter of a Greater Plymouth Association was received by those present, that such an organization would prove of great benefit to the community.

Officers of the association are: Frank Rambo, president; Charles Flinan, vice-president; C. O. Ball, treasurer, and C. R. Livengood, secretary. A board of directors will be elected at the meeting of March 24th. An extensive program is being arranged for the dinner mass meeting to be held at the Masonic temple on Thursday evening, March 24th. Dinner will be served, beginning at 6:30. Speakers of note will be heard and music will be provided for the dinner hour.

A general invitation is extended to all interested property owners in the Greater Plymouth district and contiguous territory to be present. Tickets may be procured at Beyer's Pharmacy, on Liberty street; Dodgus Pharmacy, Chamber of Commerce information booth, Plymouth Mail or any member of the association.

SON OF PLYMOUTH CITIZEN WINS PROMOTION

We take the following from the Medford Mail Tribune of Medford, Oregon, regarding the promotion of David T. Wilcox, son of John Wilcox of this village:

The Medford friends and acquaintances of David T. Wilcox, well known Medford young man until two years ago, and nephew of Mrs. C. S. Butterfield, will learn with pride that in this short space of time, following his graduation from the O. A. C., he has been promoted to be office manager of the Burroughs Adding Machine company branch at Chattanooga, Tenn., having been transferred by the company from Greenville, N. C., where for the past year and a half he had been a salesman with the company's branch there.

Mr. Wilcox was reared by Mr. and Mrs. Butterfield. When he left here two years ago, he went to Detroit, Mich., for a time, and then went into the adding machine company's service at Greenville.

VILLAGE ELECTION RESULTS

The annual village election held last Monday, brought out a total of 285 voters. The result of the vote for each candidate was as follows:

Frank J. Pierce 218
Henry J. Fisher 138
Carl G. Shear 146
Warren B. Lombard 124
Frank K. Leinard 87
Paul Nash 74

The village commission for the ensuing year will be as follows: John W. Henderson, Henry Houdorp, Frank J. Pierce, Henry J. Fisher, Carl Shear.

DEATH OF FORMER RESIDENT

Word was received here Sunday of the death of Mrs. Mary Chaffee, a former resident of Plymouth, which occurred at Jackson, at an early hour that morning. Mrs. Chaffee had been ill for some time. She was 77 years of age, and spent her girlhood days in Plymouth, where her father, Rev. B. F. Murden, was pastor of the First Presbyterian church from 1863 to 1868. Soon after the death of her husband, the late Theodore Chaffee, which occurred fourteen years ago, she resided until going to Jackson five years ago.

Mrs. Chaffee was a member of the First Presbyterian church of Plymouth. She was a sister-in-law of Mrs. Jennie Chaffee and Mrs. Ella Chaffee of this place.

The funeral services were held at Pontiac Tuesday afternoon, at 3:00 o'clock, with burial in the family lot in the cemetery in that city. A number of Plymouth relatives and friends attended the services.

ALUMNI COMEDY PLAYS TO CAPACITY HOUSE

ANNUAL DRAMATIC EVENT WELL PLAYED—WILL BE REPEATED TONIGHT.

"The Whole Town's Talking" was presented by the dramatics committee of the Plymouth High School Alumni association at the High school auditorium last Tuesday night to an audience of about 400 people. This popular comedy, which was written by John Emerson in collaboration with Anita Loos, was probably one of the best local talent presentations that has been seen in Plymouth.

The work of Jack E. Taylor in the star role of Chester Binney, the bashful Romeo who eventually turns to a benefactor, was probably the outstanding feature of the comedy. This latest addition to Mr. Taylor's public appearances should qualify him for stellar honors in the local theater profession. Mr. Taylor was ably supported by Mrs. Fernie Block in the role of Ethel, her father's daughter.

Forrest Hubert as Roger Shields, Daniel Murphy in the role of Mr. Simmons, Miss Regina Polley as Mrs. Simmons, and Harvey Springer in the role of the jealous Mr. Swift added much to an enjoyable evening by their splendid acting.

Miss Doris Coleman as Letty Lythe, the movie actress, was a "knockout." Her presentation of this part was exceptionally true to life and made those who did not know her wonder if a Nita Naldi had not been brought from Hollywood for this occasion.

"The reception the Plymouth public gave to our annual dramatic event was all that we hoped for—and more," said Mrs. Austin Whipple, president of the association. "In fact, the play was so enjoyable that there has been a consistent demand for its reappearance, and I am pleased to be able to announce that we will again present this play to the Plymouth public Friday evening, March 18th, at 8:30 o'clock. Our dramatics have become so popular that they have almost become an annual institution, and I hope that future administrations will keep up the work."

Mr. Leslie Alexander, who directed this play, produced results worthy of a professional and, of course, deserves the major portion of the credit for its success.

FOURTEEN BIDDERS FOR NEW HOTEL

The opening of bids for the new Mayflower Hotel took place at the Chamber of Commerce rooms, Monday noon at 12:00 o'clock. There were fourteen bidders for the general contract, on account of the number of close bids and a number of alternate bids, the board of directors have deferred the letting of contracts until they can check over the several bids. A meeting of the board of directors was held Thursday afternoon.

REPUBLICAN CAUCUS

The Republican township caucus held at the High school auditorium last Saturday afternoon, called out one of the largest crowds that has attended a caucus here in several years. The meeting was called to order by O. H. Loomis, chairman of the township committee. J. W. Henderson was chosen chairman, A. V. Jones secretary, and Henry J. Fisher and Robert Warner tellers.

For the office of supervisor, there was only one candidate presented, Charles H. Rathburn, Jr., P. B. Whitbeck, the present supervisor, who has held the office for a number of years, declined to become a candidate this spring. There being no other candidates, Mr. Rathburn was nominated by acclamation.

For the office of township clerk, there was but one candidate, Miss Lina Durfee, the present incumbent, and she was nominated by acclamation. John Quartel was nominated for the office of township treasurer without any opposition.

For the office of justice of the peace, there were two candidates, Mrs. Phoebe Patterson, who now holds the office, and Norman Miller. A vote by ballot resulted in Mrs. Patterson receiving 113 votes, and Mr. Miller 102. Mrs. Patterson being the nominee by a majority of 11 votes. There were five scattering votes.

For member of board of review, W. H. Hoyt was nominated by acclamation. Two candidates were in the field for the office of highway commissioner, J. B. Stark and Peter Miller. A vote by ballot gave Mr. Stark 133 and Mr. Miller 82. Mr. Stark received the nomination by a majority of 51 votes.

For the office of highway overseer, there was but one candidate, Lee Eldred, the present incumbent, who was nominated by acclamation.

The four constables were renominated by acclamation. The complete ticket as nominated, follows:

Supervisor—Charles Rathburn, Jr. Clerk—Lina Durfee. Treasurer—John Quartel. Justice of Peace—Phoebe L. Patterson. Highway Commissioner—L. B. Stark. Highway Overseer—Lee Eldred. Member of Board of Review—William H. Hoyt.

Constables—George W. Springer, Fred Reiman, Fred Stanille, Leo Armbruster.

During the counting of the ballots, Supervisor Whitbeck took the opportunity to explain to the taxpayers the propositions that had been received by the township board relative to placing lights upon the Northville-Plymouth road from the village limits to Phoenix road, at an annual cost of $720, and on Moreland road from Penniman avenue road to Phoenix at an annual cost of $1,050.00. These propositions, he said, had been laid upon the table, because of the expense involved, the board did not deem it wise to take any action upon the matter as a board.

He also brought the attention of the taxpayers to another matter under consideration, the improving of a road that extends from the Penniman avenue road near the old Bogert farm, through to the Phoenix road, just west of the prison farm buildings.

The lighting propositions will be voted upon by special ballot at the coming township election, April 4th.

The matter of the road improvement above spoken of, will come before the annual town meeting held on that day, at 1:00 o'clock p. m.

PRESIDENT OF PLYMOUTH LUMBER & COAL CO. DIES

E. F. Jenks, president of the Plymouth Lumber & Coal Co. of this village, died at his home, 510 Lakeview avenue, Birmingham, Michigan, Tuesday. Mr. Jenks had been identified with the local company for the past 18 years.

The funeral was held Thursday afternoon. As a mark of respect, the Plymouth Lumber & Coal Co. offices was closed Thursday afternoon.

The Plymouth High school basketball team, accompanied by their band and three hundred enthusiastic boosters, went to Ypsilanti last Saturday, where they had the satisfaction of seeing the local team win over Dearborn in the Class C tournament in the High school gym in that city. This game proved to be one of the hardest fought games of the tournament, and the final result was in doubt until the very end.

Plymouth, led by Doudt and Rambo, started scoring early and were soon in possession of a fair sized lead, the score at the end of the first quarter being Plymouth 9, Dearborn 3.

The Dearborn team rallied in the second quarter and led by Lawther cut their opponents' lead until half time found the two teams even with 11 points each.

Fighting for every point as though it meant the game the two teams battled through the third quarter and at the end of that period were still deadlocked, the score being 14 all.

The score changed hands twice in the final quarter and then with about two minutes of play remaining, Plymouth through the efforts of Doudt, who scored what turned out to be the winning field basket, went into the lead and held a two point advantage until the finish.

The locals, in pulling down the Class C title, showed some clever team work built around the work of Wendall Doudt, Plymouth star forward.

Doudt scored 12 of Plymouth's 20 points. Foster and Carney also played fine ball for the locals, but Carney was ejected from the game in the third quarter on four personal fouls.

Lawther, Rhodes and Scott were the outstanding players for Dearborn.

Dearborn Lawther RF Doudt
Munroe LF Hickey
Rhodes C C Foster
Scott RG H Carney
Arndt LG R Hubert

Field Goals—Dearborn: Lawther 3, Rhodes 2, Scott 2; Plymouth: Doudt 5, Foster 2, Carney 2.

Free throws—Dearborn: Munroe 1, Parker 2, Arndt 1; Plymouth: Doudt 2.

Substitutions—Dearborn: Parker; Plymouth: Rambo.

Referee—Brown; Umpire—Rydearson.

Tonight, Friday, the locals will play the Howell High team in the Regional tournament at the High school gym at Ypsilanti. The game will be called at 7:00. It is expected that a large delegation of fans will accompany the team.

LOCAL ORATORICAL CONTEST MARCH 23

Plymouth's local oratorical and declamation contest will take place next Wednesday evening, March 23, at 7:30 o'clock, in Plymouth High school auditorium. At this contest an editor and a declaimer will be chosen to represent our High school in the sub-district oratorical contest which takes place after spring vacation.

The students who are competing in the oratorical contest are Mac Donnelly, David Nichol, Franklin Atkinson and Dorothy Hillman. Those who are competing in declamation are Ruth Root, Dora Gallimore, Laurence Livingston, Madelon Binghamton, Elizabeth Strong, Lucille Eberts, Lois Caldwell, Frances Learned, Mary Haskell and Elizabeth Spicer.

The Plymouth chapter of the National Forensic league are awarding a medal for first place in oratory and another for first place in declamation.

Save Wednesday evening, March 23, for the oratorical contest.

THE ANNUAL TRIP

With the first signs of spring, come thoughts of outdoors and motoring, and those who are accustomed to take at least one good auto trip each year have already commenced laying their plans for their next one. Incidentally, it might not be out of place to suggest to the Plymouth family contemplating a motor journey this spring that they get in touch with someone who has already had experience along that line. What to take along and what to leave at home; the best route, the difficulties that are apt to be encountered; the emergencies that are apt to arise, all these figure in on a long motor trip and only those who have had actual experience are in position to offer suggestions and advice. But the big thing is to plan the trip well in advance. Last-minute decisions and arrangements are pretty apt to mar what would be an enjoyable outing. The time to start the planning is now.

THE WEATHER

Topics of conversation come and go; people will even quit talking about prohibition some of these days. But there is one topic which has held its place on the conversation program ever since conversation was invented—and that is the weather.

We are far enough out of 1926 and far enough into 1927 to point out the errors of a few weather prophets, and we propose to do so. It has always been a favorite pastime with a lot of people to call attention to every error they find in the papers—why isn't it just as fair for the papers to show that the weather sharks can also make mistakes? Our readers will recall that more than a year ago a Chicago weather prophet predicted that 1926 would be a "year without a summer." But we saw enough panting and sweating around Plymouth last summer to know that the prophet missed it. Then he came back last fall with a prediction that the winter of 1926-27 would be one of the hardest within the memory of the present generation. And here we are about out of it, and taking the country as a whole, it has been the mildest winter for twenty years.

Long distance weather prophecy may some day be placed on a scientific basis, but right now it is a hit-or-miss proposition and one man's guess is as good as another's. Unusual weather is always to be expected, but take it year in and year out and old Mother Nature just about overens things up. So with this in mind, and the weather still the chief topic of conversation, we'd like to inquire if you've done anything yet toward planning a better garden than you had last year?

WATCH THE CHILD

Children are supposed to be taught not to leave the sidewalks unless they are holding the hands of their elders, and it is also supposed that all parents point out to their offsprings the danger of walking in the street or road. Most children try to obey instructions, but their little minds are apt to forget about danger; it is hard for them to think of anything but play.

This is especially true just now, when there is a little touch of spring in the air, and when it is real punishment to keep them indoors any more than is absolutely necessary. It is therefore necessary that our auto drivers exert unusual vigilance. No matter what the children may be doing on the sidewalks now, even if they seem to be sitting quietly, motorists should play safe and keep as near to the center of the street as possible. A child might suddenly jump up and dart out unaware of consequences. Blowing the horn may be more confusing than it is a warning. This should be avoided and, instead, extreme caution should prevail. It will be well for Plymouth motorists to keep their minds on the children, because the children do not always keep their minds on danger. They think only of play, and for that reason drivers must think for themselves and the children too.

DEATH OF ADOLPH RENAUD

Adolph Renaud, son of Charles Renaud and Elizabeth Gignac Renaud, died last Friday morning, March 11, 1927, at his home on the Farmington road. Death was due to a paralytic stroke. He was born in Lafall, Canada, on the 15th of April, 1869, and lived for a number of years in Detroit, following the barber trade. For 17 years he was found in one shop, and became known to all patrons as "Dolph the Barber." Some two years ago he retired and purchased a little farm on the Farmington road, intending to build and make his home there. He leaves to mourn their loss his aged mother at LaBelle, Canada; two brothers and a sister, together with his wife, Cecile Bastien Renaud, and three children, Lloyd of Plymouth; Earl, of South America, and Mrs. L. F. Sawyer, of Miami, Fla. The funeral was held from the Schrader Brothers Funeral Home to our Lady of Good Counsel church on Tuesday morning. Interment at Riverside cemetery. The services were conducted by Father F. C. Lefevre, assisted by Fathers J. Schuler and D. Foley.

Almost Impossible to Fool Master of Magic

A student of the history of magic, he had collected a large library of the literature of magic, containing many rare volumes, and few persons were more familiar with magicians of the past and their feats than was Houdini, writes William Johnston in the New York Times.

Yet he was always eager to hear about new stunts. The surest way to get an audience with him was to tell him you had a new trick. He immediately wanted to see it and learn how it was done.

One night when he was at the New York Hippodrome, just about ten minutes before it was time for him to appear in his act, word was brought to him that a young man with a new trick wanted to see him. Houdini bounded out of his dressing room to meet his visitor.

"What have you got?" he asked eagerly. "I can stop the beating of my pulse at will."

"Let's see you do it," demanded the magician.

The young man extended his arm. Houdini felt his wrist. His pulse was beating normally. "Now watch," said the visitor. Houdini felt the pulse again. No movement of the pulse could be detected.

"Do it again," said Houdini. The young man complied, beginning to feel triumphant that the trick was baffling the great master.

He never had seen the trick before, but his logical mind reasoned that the easiest way to stop the pulse beats would be to apply pressure to the artery. He suspected that the effect was produced by a pad under the arm, and sure enough it was.

As Others See Us

An aspiring candidate, with a keen sense of humor, relates an unique stunt that he got on his own rather dubious position before the recent election. Several weeks before November 2 he approached a man in his district in order to see what his chances might be with one who was known to vote a split ticket.

"Did you know that I was running for councilman, Sam?" the politician asked optimistically.

"Yes, I knew that you were running," reluctantly replied the nonpartisan voter.

"How did you know that I was running?"

"Well, George told me." "What did he say about my running when he told you?" the candidate hopefully questioned.

"Well," more reluctantly, replied the voter, "he didn't say anything—he just laughed."

Nervy "Borrower"

The cheekiest person I know is a girl who came over to our house one Friday and begged my mother to lend her a new old-rose dress of mine which I had worn once; her reason—she was going to be a bridesmaid the next day (Saturday) and didn't have a dress to wear nor money to buy a new one.

Mother refused at first, for she never were in the habit of lending clothes to anyone, but after seeing the girl's tears and listening to her hard luck story, mother consented, making her promise to bring back the dress the next day.

She took the dress and then asked mother for some carfare. Having 30 cents in change, she gave it to the girl. Time has passed, but we never did see the dress, the 30 cents not the girl.—R. R., in Chicago Tribune.

Ancient Paper Sarcastic

In a recent cleaning of the cellar of the University of Pennsylvania library an old southern newspaper was discovered printed on the back of a piece of wallpaper.

The newspaper, called the Daily Citizen, was published in Vicksburg, Miss., July 2, 1863, by J. M. Swords. Following is a quotation from the paper:

"We are indebted to Major Gilleeple for a steak of Confederate beef, allas meat. We have tried it and can assure our friends that if it is rendered necessary they need have no scruples at eating the meat. It is sweet, savory and tender, and so long as we have a mule left we are satisfied our soldiers will be content with it."

TALES OF DISASTER FOUND IN BOTTLES

Messages Reveal Grim Tragedies of the Ocean.

Scrawled on canvas, on shavings, on sea-stained leaves torn from log-books; written in charcoal and sometimes in blood—such are the messages which drift ashore in bottles from the sea, from those in danger on the oceans of the world.

For hundreds of years, before wireless made contact with the land easy, seamen have thrown their bottle messages trustfully into the sea. Columbus wrote to his queen in that way. And today a sealed bottle still contains sometimes the last message of a despairing crew. Many a tragic message has been cast into the sea from many a stricken vessel. Messages such as these:

"Captain, all crew but me, John Williams, died yellow fever. "Ship burned, only me, Sam Thomas, left in boat."

"Whoever picks this up will know barque Calber Gu run down by steamer."

The list of these bottles containing genuine news of disaster is pitifully long. There was that sad last message from the crew of the American tank steamer City of Everett, which sank with all hands in the Gulf of Mexico during October, 1923. It was washed up in a bottle at Miami, Fla., 99 days later, and read: "S. S. Everett. This is the last of us. To dear friends who find this, good-by forever and ever."

Father Neptune sometimes takes much longer to deliver his mail. Years ago a black cook on board the British ship Pookingham murdered the master. The vessel was off the coast of Bermuda at the time. She carried no wireless, and the mate, fearing further violence, entrusted his report of the crime to a bottle. It was found 5000 miles away, on one of the Shetland Islands. Nearly three years had passed.

A bottle message told the world of the loss with all hands of the Atlantic liner President. She should have reached Liverpool in March, 1841, but became long overdue. At last a ship at sea picked up a bottle containing a message from the famous comedian, Tyrone Power. It said that the vessel was sinking in a gale as he wrote.

In 1902 the Allan liner Huronian left Glasgow and disappeared. Five years later a bottle was washed up by the tide on the north coast of Ireland. Its message read: "Huronian sinking fast. Topheavy. One side under water. Goodby mother and sister.—Charles McFall."

Bottle messages were produced as evidence during an inquiry into the loss of the Grimsby trawler Argus. One which reached Norway read: "Steamship Argus. All hands mutiny. Collision with foreign barque." After the mysterious loss of the Australian liner Waratah between Durban and Cape Town many bottle messages were found, but these were all believed to be cruel fakes.

Sealed bottles are often set adrift for scientific purposes. Many shipmasters are co-operating with British and American government departments at the present time by throwing bottles overboard. In this way the direction of ocean currents may be traced, for finders of these bottles are rewarded if they fill in the card enclosed in each one, giving particulars of the date and place where it was found.

Such a bottle, cast into the sea near Cape Town, was picked up on a Shetland Island beach, nearly four and a half years later. Captain Simpson, F. R. S., who threw thousands of bottles into the sea during a period of years, reported that 10 per cent were found. Many of the bottles had drifted 10,000 miles before reaching land, the average rate of travel working out at half a mile an hour.

Italian "Fascist"

"Fascist" is the name given to the members of a voluntarily organized movement formed in Italy in 1920 to offset the work of the Reds. They have no definite program, and are of widely different political views, merely being bound together by a strong national spirit. The name "Fascist" was taken from the Latin "Facies." The Roman emblem of an ax in a bundle of rods was adopted as their official sign. Their object was to counteract the designs of the extreme Communists and Socialists.

Institute's Good Work
The Institute of Politics is a movement inaugurated by the trustees of Williams college in September, 1919, and consists of annual sessions at which are discussed foreign affairs so as to promote a more sympathetic understanding of the problems and policies of other nations. This is done by offering courses of public lectures delivered by distinguished scholars and statesmen from foreign countries and by setting up round table and open conferences presided over by recognized authorities.

Real Stage Tragedy
While the audience laughed and applauded, thinking it a superb piece of acting, an actress taking the principal part in a musical comedy at a Roman theater died on the stage during the performance. At the end of the second act she stumbled, then clutched at the neck of one of the actors. Both fell heavily to the floor. The curtain fell amid deafening applause and laughter, and nobody realized what had happened until the manager announced the death of the actress through heart failure.

Daring Climbers Risk Lives "Bagging" Birds

The sea cliffs of Faroe islands, which rise, terraced on terrace, from one to two thousand feet in height, are the roosting places of thousands of gulls, guillemots, puffins and auks. From the top to the bottom of the cliff the birds may be seen sitting in series rows, each species having its own terrace, and jammed so close together that a shot would kill scores of them. The islanders bag them wholesale, for salted puffins, dried guillemots and auks, with rashers of smoked whale, supply them with food. The fowling is a dangerous business. One method is this:

Two men agree to ascend a cliff. One climbs up the first terrace, being pushed up from behind by the pole of his comrade below. When he is safely planted on the shelf he pulls up the other, who is attached to him by a rope fastened to his girdle. In this way they climb shelf after shelf, until they reach the one on which are situated the best birds. Should one lose his balance and fall from the terrace, his comrade would go with him. For they are partners in life—and in death.

Another method is resorted to when the nature of the cliff prevents climbing. A man is let down by a long rope from the top of the cliff. Down he goes, several hundred feet, holding onto a string, by which he signals the watcher on the cliff. When he arrives opposite a shelf on which the birds are sitting he oscillates till he swings into the alcove.

Then, disengaging himself from the rope, he uses a long pole, to which a net is attached, to bag the birds, which he catches sitting, or while they are flying close to the cliffs. The spoil is either thrown into a boat below or hauled up by the string.

Electric Hares Advocated
The proposed mechanical hare as a quarry for greyhound coursing has aroused considerable controversy in England. Two years ago Lady Astor supported a bill to abolish the use of the live hare. She contends that coursing a live hare with greyhounds is cruel, and in this belief is backed up by George Bernard Shaw, Galsworthy and other British humanitarians. The new electrical device has won many enthusiasts; but the committee of the Greyhound Racing association asserts that coursing an artificially controlled hare is "not a sport."

Advocates of the dummy hare maintain that it provides better sport, since its speed can be regulated, thus assuring a dependable test for the speed and endurance of the "long dogs."

Beware of Poor Minds
When you are driving look out for the man with the poor mind rather than the one with the poor eyesight. Dr. Harold D. Judd of Detroit has recently made a study of 100 serious automobile casualties in co-operation with the Detroit police department, and has come to the conclusion that poor minds, rather than poor eyes, are the cause of most of the accidents. "A man with only 50 per cent visual efficiency and 100 per cent mentality," Doctor Judd is quoted as saying, "would make a more perfect driver than the man with perfect eyes and half mentality. Observation has shown that the man with perfect eyes and full intelligence is liable to be more careless than the man who knows his eyesight is bad, but who is mentally normal."

No Place Like Home
Billie, age seven, and his mother were going on an overnight visit to the former's aunt. Mother was careful to instruct her young son in the things he should and should not do. "Now, Billie," she said, "for goodness sake, don't begin to ask for something to eat as soon as we get there."

Bill promised he would not. He carried out his mother's various instructions during the journey and apparently was getting along fine. After the arrival at the aunt's, Billie grew restless.

Freak Wagers
One of the most difficult walking feats on record was accomplished by a pedestrian named Lloyd, who undertook for a bet to walk 30 miles backwards in nine hours. This he succeeded in doing with 14 minutes to spare, on the road between Bagshot and Portsmouth, England.

A still more eccentric wager was made by Lord Orford, who backed a flock of geese to race an equal number of turkeys from Norwich to London. He won the bet, the geese keeping to the road all the time, while the turkeys, when darkness fell, flew to roost in the trees.

Not Today
Little Betty Lou, who lives in a new white bungalow, seems to have a tendency to write on the outside walls of the house. One day her father saw her and gave her a spanking. This, however, did not seem to have the desired effect, for several days later her father noticed other markings on the house. Calling Betty Lou, he sternly asked: "Betty Lou, did you mark on the house after daddy told you not to?" Betty Lou slowly answered her father thus: "Yes, daddy, but I don't want a spanking today."—Indianapolis News.

Chinese Students Organized
By "the student movement" in China it is meant that the students are organized into unions which are federated into a national organization. Branches are to be found in most of the middle schools and colleges and committees of correspondence keep in touch one with the other. When a disturbance develops in one place the committee informs the others. One result has been to focus white attention on political conditions in China.

Crier Tells of Deaths

In remote districts of Turkey quaint customs still linger despite Angora's vigilant modernizing arm. One of the strangest is in the distant village of Cesaree. Whenever a death occurs, a public crier shouts the news through the streets. Even though the death occurs in the depths of the night, the crier immediately shouts out the doleful tidings and wakes all the living villagers with his cries. The post of public death crier was established many years ago by the Evkat, an official organization controlling religious affairs, which still continues to pay the crier a regular salary for the performance of his duty.

Cat Strategy

Roy Urban, wireless operator of the steamship President Polk, is authority for a story concerning the migration of a cat. While Urban was aboard the steamer San Jose that ship lost its mascot, a noble Angora with a peculiar slit in its left ear. The cat had belonged to the vessel for four years. "Billy" appears to have walked off the ship at Puerto Castilla. The members of the crew gave him up for lost and were naturally astonished to see the animal walk on board at New Orleans when the vessel reached that port.

Birds Given Fine Service

The Westchester county park commission of New York has made provision for the winter birds and hearty meals at all hours are assured for the winter. For some weeks now birds have been hurrying from everywhere to secure reservations. The houses were built deliberately by the commission. The food requirements are fully taken care of in the way of buckwheat and millet, which was sown last spring by the commission and which has now ripened. The grain has been threshed and it only awaits distribution as needed.

The Simple Life in India

In India they have 50 different religions and every religion has its own meat. The Mohammedans will not eat pork, the Hindu will not eat beef, the Narpalles will eat neither beef or pork, but eat fish and chicken instead. They take a piece of cloth five yards long, and that is the limit of their clothes. The cloth is wound around the lower part of the body, and some who have a few rupees wear a shirt. They live in bamboo huts. They split bamboo and lace it crosswise, and sometimes they put a coat of mud over the outside. The roof is made of banana leaves and is a foot thick.

Gold-Plated Pagoda

The native of Burma is rated much higher than that of India in the matter of intelligence and the country is much pleasanter and more picturesque. There are many beautiful castles surrounded by gorgeous flower gardens and imposing pagodas. The largest pagoda in all Burma, known as the Swaddigonige, is located at Rangoon and is gold-plated from top to bottom, with a ring of diamonds and rubies at the top. It is said to have cost $5,000,000 and is a beautiful temple, where all Burmese can go to worship. It covers between 10 and 15 acres at the bottom.

Moist Air Necessary

The mucous membranes in the nose and throat require a good deal of moisture to function properly. When the air in the house is too dry the membranes must draw an unusual load of moisture from within the body because the dry air passing down to the lungs absorbs so much more than ordinarily. This breaks up the natural adjustment of the bodily functions and creates conditions which favor colds and other respiratory infections.

Favoring Farmers

Farmers have at least two things in their favor towards making a good living from the soil.

First—the agricultural resources of this community.

Second—good, helpful banking service such as they are sure to find at this bank. Our resources are adequate to protect farmers; our facilities are more than adequate for serving them.

KIWANIANS HEAR JUDGE HUNT

Plymouth Kiwanians and guests were entertained with a humorous discourse last Tuesday noon, by Judge Hunt of the Wayne County Circuit Court.

The program, arranged by John Crandell and Russell Roe, was replete with witticisms, especially Judge Hunt's reading of "The Greatest Fish Story Ever Told." The speaker brought out the fact that it is only through the saving grace of humor that we are enabled to face the strain of modern business and hurried life. He said the court room provided so much tragedy, that he had found it necessary to balance his mental machinery by projecting and absorbing humor when away from the bench. Judge Hunt came from his court room especially for the occasion, and the only disappointment of the day came when he was forced to conclude earlier than usual, to return for the opening of the afternoon court session. Tuesday's meeting was one of the largest of the year, in point of attendance, many Kiwanians being accompanied by guests.

Graduated as Dog Nurses

It is the established custom about the country houses in Great Britain to keep a number of dogs, some as house pets, some for hunting, others for no special purpose save to gratify the Englishman's love for dogs. Hence there is a continual demand for veterinary service for the dogs. Recently the animal hospital at Totteridge graduated a class of young women who had completed the training for dog nurses, their plan being to locate in the wealthy country sections and sell their services to dog owners whose pets might be in need of medical attention, and they expect to make a fortune in their profession.—Ohio State Journal.

English Name Hurt Singer

Beatrice Sherrard, a soprano who made her debut last year at the Municipal opera house of Rio de Janeiro in "Aida," said that her English name was such a hindrance in Italy when she went there to study that she was forced to adopt a Latin substitute. "I succeeded in obtaining a hearing before the Italian impresarios only by assuming the name of Beatrice Gherrardi," she said. "They scoffed when I was introduced, exclaiming 'What, you are English! They have no talent!'" Miss Sherrard's mother was Brazilian, her father English. She was born in Brazil.

TO RESTORE TOMB OF OLD VIRGINIAN

Posterity to Rebuild Sepulcher of Colonial Figure.

Nearly two hundred years ago Robert Carter of Corotoman, an outstanding personality in the pre-Revolutionary history of northern Virginia, died at his palatial home on the banks of the Rappahannock in Lancaster county, and was buried in the nearby churchyard of Christ Episcopal church. He left 300,000 acres of land, 1,000 slaves and $50,000 in money. His vast holdings and his tremendous influence caused him to be known to his contemporaries as King Carter, and posterity still applies to him that sobriquet. When he died in 1732, at the age of sixty-nine, and was buried beside his two wives, Judith and Elizabeth, a magnificent tombstone of white Italian marble was erected. For more than a century and a half this Virginia aristocrat slept peacefully in the little churchyard. About thirty years ago, however, his bones were rudely stirred. A charge of dynamite was set off at the tomb, the imposing monument which marked the king's last resting place was shattered and the sarcophagus of this monarch of the Old Dominion was riddled. The three Carter gravestones were wrecked, and these, for the past 30 years, have been little more than broken fragments. Some of these fragments, including the bronze plate bearing the epitaph of King Carter, have been taken by souvenir hunters. In consequence, several of the king's descendants have recently launched a movement to restore the monuments. A committee headed by Mrs. O. H. Funsten of Richmond has been organized, and plans are being formulated for assembling the scattered pieces and reconstructing the sarcophagus. An effort is being made to locate the souvenirs carried off by tourists, and some of these have already been returned to the committee. The three Carters lie near the road, and the mass of broken stone is plainly visible to travelers passing along the highway. Hence their posterity is banding together with a view to restoring the tombs to their pristine grandeur. King Carter was born in 1663, the son of John Carter, who had come over from England as the first of that name. John was a well-to-do planter, and was prominent in the colony as a burgess and councillor. His wealth enabled him to send his son to England for a part of his schooling. When his father died, Robert inherited a large estate, and, being a man of great energy, marked business acumen and dominant personality, he steadily increased his patrimony. He began his public career as a burgess from Lancaster in 1691. Subsequently he was chosen treasurer of the colony, speaker of the house of burgesses and member of the council, in which last named body he served 27 years. He was finally elected president of the council and was acting governor for more than a year, from the death of Governor Drysdale until the arrival of Governor Gooch. Colonel Carter's estate grew to such enormous proportions that Governor Nicholson on one occasion dubbed him king, and the name stuck. His prestige was that of a feudal lord, and he became the most powerful landholder in his section of the Old Dominion.—Baltimore Sun.

Bedtime Story

Once there was a statesman who decided that a new era had come. "Illiteracy has vanished from the land," he said. "The people are now enlightened. Bunkum is as obsolete as the 30-cent dinner. Henceforth I shall tell them only the truth." So, when he came up for re-election, he made no extravagant promises. He told them that business was bad and he didn't know how to make it any better. He told them that he had voted for laws that he now believed were rotten. He told them that taxes would have to be raised and that no millennium was in sight. But he added that he would do all that a normally intelligent person could do to improve conditions. His opponent got the biggest plurality in history.—Kansas City Star.

Another U. S. A.

Speaking of United South Africa, I addressed a letter once to Richmond, Va., U. S. A. The letter, with a Richmond, Natal, postmark, was returned indorsed: "Address unknown." On complaining to the post office I was indignantly informed that U. S. A. stood for United South Africa, and that the United States of North America should be U. S. O. N. A. American friends, please accept this, the only limitation. Of course, it may be perfectly all right when mail sorters get to know it, but I am afraid if I mailed a letter to Savannah, Georgia, U. S. O. N. A., it would be put in the bag for Asia Minor, or wherever the original Georgia may be.—From Spedding's "Reminiscences."

Overalls for Evening Wear

Wearing overalls to an evening party is regarded as good form in the gold-mining districts of Alaska, according to Edward McKelvey, former Wisconsin resident, who knew Jack London and Rex Beach in the early days of the Klondike fields, says the Milwaukee Journal. McKelvey, who recently spent three days with relatives at Prairie du Chien, Wis., was a partner with Rex Beach in a wood-cutting contract. The noted author, McKelvey says, spent eleven years in the Far North laying the foundation for most of his stories and nearly all of his characters were persons Mr. Beach had known, with only a change of name.

Flying-Machine Idea Older Than Balloon

Contrary to popular belief, the principle of the flying machine was introduced long before the balloon came into notice. But the lighter-than-air carriers were for a long period considered the only possible method of air travel, and for that reason have become the symbol of pioneer aeronautics.

Without even considering Ovid's mythological tale of the mechanical flying bird, Aulus Gellius, in his "Attic Nights" writes of a wooden dove invented by the Greek mathematician, Archytas of Tarentus, in the year 400 B. C. The same Archytas is said also to have invented a navigable kite.

There is then a long gap in "aeronautics" until the fifteenth century, when Leonardo Da Vinci, famous as the painter of "Mona Lisa," is reputed to have in about the year 1480 outlined the plan of a flying machine. Nothing has ever been found of the draft.

Two hundred years later one Borelli presented a pair of mechanical wings to a wondering public, while in the same period Besnier, a French locksmith, built a pair of oscillating wings with which he is reputed to have traveled short distances.

Perhaps the most definite and practical plan for an airplane left to posterity, prior to the modern conceptions of Maxim, Langley, the Wrights and others, is that conceived by Swedenborg, the extraordinary universal genius of the eighteenth century. His carefully worked out draft was planned about 1720 and is now in the archives of the government of Sweden. Swedenborg also left plans, or working drafts, of a submarine, airplane, universal musical instrument, a mechanical carriage, etc.

BUILD YOUR OWN HOME Surely you must know that it is much cheaper to build than to buy. Your ideas are as good as any one's else. Plan your own home with the help of some good plan books; then make little changes if you want, to suit yourself. Have your new home and everything in it just the way you want it. The most important thing to consider is Sound Construction. Use the best building materials, it will pay you big. Use 2x10 joists, 2x6 overlays and rafters, solid oak flooring, best grade of plumbing fixtures, copper flashings and troughing. They speak for themselves. Plan a home of beauty, convenience and comfort. Your home is your permanent receipt for the money that it cost you; a daily reminder; either a pleasant one of money well spent, or a discouraging reminder of a foolish investment. Why not give me a ring and let me show you a number of plans and talk things over? You will not be obligated in any way. ROY C. STRENG BUILDER AND GENERAL CONTRACTOR Phone 259J South Harvey Street

Richards March 29th, 1884, who departed this life December 2nd, 1921. Mrs. Richards spent the most of her life at Elm and near Plymouth. Four children were born to this union. Mrs. Maud Tait, Courtland, Harry and Leroy Richards. She was a kind and loving mother and a kind friend to all who knew her. She leaves besides her children to mourn their loss, ten grandchildren and a host of friends. Funeral services were held at Schrader Brothers' Funeral Home, Saturday afternoon at three o'clock. Rev. D. D. Nagle officiating. Interment at Riverside cemetery.

BRIGGS SCHOOL NOTES
By Carl Reding
We have three new pupils. They are: Frank, Rose and Katherine Steingasser, who live where Hayball's did. One of our new pupils, Henrietta Vorbeck, broke her left arm, Tuesday, March 15th. She was swinging very hard when the bell rang, and tried to stop. In doing so, she fell out backward. When she felt herself falling, she put out her left hand to check herself from falling hard, and in that way she turned her hand back and suffered a double fracture. The roads in all directions from our school, except west on the Waterford road, are impassible.

Precedence in Parade
Organizations in a parade proceed by order of the dates of their establishment and organization, the oldest being to the front, as: First, the Grand army; second, Loyal legion; third, Spanish War Veterans; fourth, Veterans of Foreign Wars; fifth, Military Order of Foreign Wars; sixth, American Legion; seventh, Military Order of the World War, and eighth, Disabled American Veterans. The men in the regular services of the United States army, navy and marine corps parade last.

STARK SCHOOL NOTES
The usual P. T. A. meeting will be held Wednesday, March 30. Come and make this meeting a success. Remember, it is your children who attend this school, and it is for their good that you come.
Phyllis Kahrl has returned to school after several months' absence. Everyone is glad to see her back.

The Elm school teachers and pupils paid us a visit on Wednesday, for a practice spelling contest. They won most of the honors. The pupils do not lack interest, for they study words whenever there is time, and have practice spelling bees every day. The first selection of grade champions will be made Friday afternoon, March 19th. All parents and friends are welcome at this contest. It will probably remind you of the time you stood up in front of the room and spelled down your opponents.
The boys have organized a base ball team, and have purchased a complete outfit. Tuesday afternoon, they will play the Perrinville school team.
The upper grade room has a new picture, entitled, "The Flower Girl."

Clean, Smooth Streets OF LASTING BEAUTY

WHAT impression does your town make on visitors—on you?

Consider your streets. Are they crumbling under motor traffic which must pick its way around ruts and holes? Or are they smoothly paved—clean and attractive—a good investment?

Portland cement concrete is the ideal pavement for this motor age—in towns and cities of all sizes. It is economical to build and maintain, permanently beautiful and—the safest pavement wet or dry.

The Portland Cement Association is a national organization to improve and extend the uses of concrete, with offices in 31 cities.

LOCAL NEWS

The Alumni play, "The Whole Town's Talking," at the High school auditorium, tonight, Friday, March 18.

H. A. Spicer, who has been confined to his home for the past eight months, attended the alumni play, Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Lawrence Hill entertained the Art-Us Club on Thursday afternoon, at her home, 662 Blunk avenue. A delicious luncheon was served.

W. D. Stewart of Dodge street, who has been seriously ill, is slightly improved at this writing. His many friends wish him a speedy recovery.

Everybody who can do so, is urged to go to Ypsilanti, tonight, Friday, where the High school basket ball team plays Howell, in the Regional contest.

Mrs. Clyde Smith entertained the Elire Bridge Club, Wednesday evening, at her home on Ann street. First and second honors were awarded to Mrs. Pauline Cobb and Mrs. Ethel Faber, respectively.

The dancing party given by the Ex-Service Men's Club, at the I. O. O. F. temple, Wednesday evening, was largely attended, and everybody had a good time. Stone's orchestra furnished splendid music.

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Spicer and daughter, Elizabeth, Mrs. H. A. Spicer and Phillip Doerr were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Spicer in Detroit, Sunday, and attended the National Flower Show at Convention hall in the afternoon.

Last Sunday's Detroit News contained a splendid likeness of our genial mayor, Harry C. Robinson. An article with the picture describes Detroit's horse market and Mr. Robinson's experiences as an auctioneer of horses for the past forty years.

Muritz Langendam, Jr., and Harold Hurr, both aged nineteen years, were in Justice Patterson's court Tuesday, on a breaking and entering charge. Langendam pleaded not guilty, while Hurr pleaded guilty. Both were bound over to circuit court, with bail fixed at $500 with two sureties.

The second dancing party of the season was given Monday evening, by the Ex-Service Men's Club to their families and friends. About thirty couples enjoyed the dancing, and later in the evening, the supper provided by the ladies. It was decided, during the supper, to form a ladies auxiliary, composed of the wives of the ex-service men; and a committee of ladies was appointed to carry out this plan.

The following are among those who have purchased tickets for the Chicago Civic Opera at the Masonic auditorium, Detroit, March 19, 20 and 21: Miss Edna Allen, Miss Ursula Cary, Miss Gladys Hake, Miss Mena Bolten, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Whipple, Mrs. Wm. Shaw, Mrs. Coello Hamilton, Ruth and Clarence Hamilton, Hazel Helner, Norma Shaffer, Dora Gallimore, Mrs. C. E. Penney, Mrs. E. O. Huston, Miss Mary Parrott, Perry Richwine, Miss Helen Farrand, Claude Rocker, Miss Helen Fish, Miss Carolina Penney.

NEW DAIRY IN PLYMOUTH

The Plymouth Dairy, located at 461 South Harvey street, announce that they will commence the delivery of milk and cream, Monday, March 21st. New and up-to-date dairy equipment has been installed, and the new concern is prepared to handle dairy products under the most sanitary conditions. Mrs. Margaret Hills and her son-in-law, H. H. Behler, are the proprietors of the new dairy.

LIVONIA UNION CHURCH NOTES.

Another most enjoyable event of the church took place last Thursday evening, the occasion being a free chicken supper in connection with the regular mid-week prayer service. Nearly one hundred were in attendance. After the delicious chicken supper, to which all did justice, everybody went into the church, where a most enjoyable prayer meeting was held. The Burch orchestra played several selections; the male quartet sang a beautiful selection, "Come Unto Me"; Cyril Baxtresser rendered several selections, which were most thoroughly enjoyed by all. Carl Flynn conducted the prayer service in a very able manner, taking for his subject Galatians 6, 7-8. "Whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap." Very fine talks were given by Charles Weaver, Earl Baxtresser and Cyril Baxtresser. Cyril Baxtresser said in all of his travels all over the United States he had never been received with a more cordial welcome than at the Livonia Union church. He thanked all for their kind hospitality. All in all, it was a very pleasant evening for all present.

The Easter basar, which was to have been held March 21st, has been postponed indefinitely on account of the illness of the president, Mrs. Roger Sherwood.

The next meeting of the Aid Society will be held Thursday, March 24th, at the home of Mrs. G. B. Flynn, 12945 Quincy avenue, Detroit. A cordial welcome extended to all.

A CORRECTION

The Donovan Stores

ARE LEADERS
NOT FOLLOWERS

It is very important that SMALL DEALERS find it necessary to cut their regular price on a FEW ARTICLES, and have to depend on the public paying the same high price, as they have been in the custom of doing, for other merchandise, in order for them to maintain their same high percentage of profit.

Compare the difference between the volume buying for 22 Donovan Stores and the smaller dealer buying for one. It is only natural for the 22 stores to have the larger buying power, and therein lies the secret, friends. By buying right, the lower selling price comes as a matter of course.

Sporting Goods

SCHOOL NOTES

HIGH SCHOOL

The Aggie club banquet committee are making plans for their sixth annual banquet, which will be held in the Plymouth High school auditorium April 8th. Mr. Hasselman, from Michigan State college, will be the main speaker. The Baptist ladies will prepare the banquet and the Camp Fire Girls will serve. All ex-Aggie club members are invited. Tickets may be purchased by the public from any members of the club.

Everett Cummins, of the class of '25, has been chosen freshman member of the Student Council at the Michigan State college. This is one of the highest honors than can come to a freshman.

The following students have received final diplomas in penmanship: Martha Schultz, David Nichol, Wilva Norris, Marie Miller, Elizabeth Hayball, Clarice Hamilton, Pauline Deal, Marjorie Cole, Bernice Cline, Val Dee Caughey, Agnes Beckwith, Esther Ash.

The following students have received certificates of proficiency:

Gladys Welher, Josephine Schmidt, Doris Shackleton, Doris Jewell, Naomi Hinton, Edith Hann, Leonella Grove, Alice Gilbert, Dorothy Freiheit, Luella Criger, Archie Crumm, Alvin Collins, Adele Carson, Helen Carruthers, Basil Carney, Evelyn Ash.

Mrs. Whipple's public speaking class will finish their study of oration this week.

The English Eleven class has finished the study of William Cullen Bryant and James Fenimore Cooper in American literature.

Grade Notes

Miss Hathaban's 6-B completed project maps of South America. Margaret Cline received the highest score in the spelling test Wednesday. We have had a blackboard border of red and yellow tulips.

Mrs. Lee's 5-A language class wrote picture stories for their lesson Tuesday, each one bringing a picture from home. The class voted Ruth Mourin's, Burton Tobey's and Evelyn Smith's stories most interesting. We are memorizing "The Children's Hour," by Longfellow. We are very much interested in our picture study. We now have three pictures in our art booklets: "Sir Galahad," "The Windmill," and "Baby Stuart." Ralph Roy, who has been absent on account of bad eyes, has returned to school with new glasses. In our penmanship test this week, Evelyn Smith scored the highest. Mrs. Lee is reading "The Secret Garden" to us, and we all like it very much. The 5-B and 5-A geography classes are studying pictures of South America and Asia. We have a new blackboard border of daffodils.

Mrs. Bird's 5-A in geography, are making Japan and China booklets. The children are interested in the spelling contest. Ruth McConnell spelled the room down Monday. The grade spelling "Bee" is March 18th.

Jack Williams of Miss Hall's third grade room was absent three weeks.

Mrs. Blossom's 2-A and 2-B have finished making the fresh air health posters. Donna Ruth Anderson has just returned after a long absence because of her grandfather's death. The entire class has formed a Junior Audubon Club, for the purpose of studying birds. We are impatiently waiting for our pretty membership buttons. In language, we are studying Holland. We are enjoying the "Dutch Twins." We have a train called the "Health Special." Each row having answered "yes" to the five honor health questions, gets a "ride on the train." Riding on the train for five days earns the row to "ride in the engine" with the engineer. The 1-A finished their primers this week.

Miss Stader's first grade room is decorating the windows for Easter. The children are bringing seeds to plant and watch grow. The children in the 1-B are playing story plays at recess time. The names are "The Trees in the Storm," "The Wind in March" and "Automobiles." Cletos Pelky, from New Albany, Indiana, has entered this grade.

Kindergarten

Patsy Bronson, Ardith Williams and Areal Sulkowski, returned to kindergarten after a long absence.

Camp Latohni

Camp Latohni initiated new members Wednesday. They are Roberta Robinson, Elva Hill, Christine Nichol, Elizabeth Nichol, Roberta Chappel, Elizabeth Parrish, Elnora Sackett, Dorothy Stauffer and Eileen Jordan. Friday night after school, a party was given, at which they sang and held court while each new girl did a stunt. They played games and had refreshments consisting of apples and lollipops. At the same time each girl was required to say the law and Wood Gatherers desire. At a ceremonial meeting, to be held soon, the new girls will be formally initiated. A bake sale is being planned, for the purpose of making money to go to camp next summer.

Camp Tulahkiad

Camp Tulahkiad will have its actioned ceremonial meeting March 18th, at the home of Mildred Grant, guardian. They will take in three new members, Alice Swanson, Marian Dreyour and Maurine Dunn.

The following people will receive the first rank of Camp Fire or Wood Gatherer—Irene Livingston, June Jewell, Alice Chambers, Zephra Blunk, Dora Gallimore, Jean Mitchell, and Camilla Ashton. There will be guests present who are interested in activities of Camp Fire Girls.

Music Memory

The music memory people have been working very hard for the final contest, to be held March 18th, at Orchestra Hall, Detroit. The fifth and last concert will be there March 15.

Grade Exhibitions

Physical training exhibitions were given Thursday, March 17th, at 3:30 p. m., by the first three grades. The third to sixth grades will give an exhibition Thursday, March 22, and 7:00 o'clock p. m. The public is invited. Admission free.

PLYMOUTH GIRL RESERVES AGAIN WIN SCHOLARSHIP SHIELD.

At the annual high school girl reserve banquet held at the Highland Park Masonic temple, Saturday evening, March 12th, at 6:30 o'clock, the Plymouth Senior Club again won the scholarship shield, which it won on the same occasion last year, and held during the spring semester of 1926.

Seventeen schools were represented, the evening opening with a grand march around the tables, which were decorated by each club in its own individual way. After the delicious dinner was served and the talks had been given, honors were awarded to the different clubs having the best table decorations, the best posters, the best original song, and the highest scholarship.

The Southeastern Club was doubly honored by having the best posters and the cleverest original song. The Cass Technical High school club took the honors for the best table decorations, which were carried out very cleverly in the plan of a gold and silver web of friendship.

The scholarship award, which our own club won, is a very attractive shield, twelve inches long, on a black walnut base. The plate is bronze, outlined in silver, with the name of the Plymouth club engraved on it. A silver girl reserve triangle finishes the bottom. This shield will hang in the third floor corridor for another semester, and will serve as an inspiration to the thirty-four girls of our club to keep up their good work in the semester to come.

MUNICIPAL NOTES BY THE MANAGER

The election Monday resulted in the following tally:

Total votes	285
Spotted votes	9
Frank J. Pierce	218
Henry J. Fisher	158
Carl G. Shear	146
Warren B. Lombard	124
Frank Learned	87
Paul A. Nash	74

The first three men named are therefore elected to serve as commissioners for two years. They take office March 28th.

Don't forget the special election March 28th to vote on the bonding for this year's sewer program. The amount asked for is $22,000. Notice of this election will be found elsewhere in this paper.

A week ago tonight the commission and manager met the president and clerk of Wayne in their village hall to talk over their paving program. In that village the property holder pays for all the paving except intersections and paving frontage on public property. The cost of the paving of 1926 to the property was from $5.00 to nearly $8.00, as the width of the pavement varied from 24 feet to 30 feet. Ten years is allowed for payment of assessments.

The Plymouth commission has instructed their attorney to prepare some changes in our charter which will allow our people 10 years to pay assessments and which will also place the village legally behind all special assessment bonds. This will enable us to make better sales of this class of bonds.

Complaints have come in again about speeding on Blinnk avenue, Ann Arbor street and South Main street. We do wish drivers would be reasonable in their driving. A certain few seem bound to disregard the safety and comfort of others along their streets. We hope we can catch them.

Dr. Frank Crane Says

TOO MUCH BAD MOTHERING

Most mothers are good. But many mothers are too good, that is, they lenn backward, and they do more harm than good for their children.

For instance, there is the too-indulgent mother. Everything her child does is right and she cannot ever bear to reprove him. I recall an incident of the wife of a prominent man who was out walking with her child. For some offense she slapped him, and she immediately knelt down in the snow and asked his pardon and promised never to do it again. Piffle.

It is all important to the young human being that he shall learn to recognize and respect the laws of the universe, moral as well as financial. This is no pink tea world. Sooner or later he is going to run up against it.

Unless a mother recognizes these limitations and teaches her child to recognize them, she is doing him harm.

I know a son who has lied, stolen and done almost everything wrong, but who yet is the apple of his mother's eye. What he needs is to get some good stiff punishment for his sins, but he always appeals to his mother and is saved from paying for his crime.

Another kind of mother who wrongs her son is the one who will not let him go when he has reached the age of manhood and chooses a wife. This mother tries to continue her hold on him with the result of making the wife jealous.

One essential element of good motherhood is to let the fledgling try his own wings when he is old enough.

A mother should control herself and should know the inevitable laws that govern souls. She should be wise and see that her son obeys them. It is to his interest to find them out soon and to govern his life by them. She must not prevent him from doing this.

Very often the devoted mother sees her son is patted gently when he really needs a swift kick. In the end the hearty kick does him more good than the gentle pat.

MICHIGAN BOYS WIN JUDGING CONTEST

HIGH SCORES RECORDED IN EVENT WHICH CLOSED SHORT COURSE FARM SCHOOL AT M. S. C.

Michigan boys, representing practically every section of the state, have won the various special livestock judging contests held at the conclusion of the agricultural short courses at Michigan State College.

Sheldon E. Markle, of Albion, won first place in the "all-events," scoring a total of 845 points in the different classes. Albert E. Holforth, Fenton, was second with 835 points; and Carl M. Haskin, of Ovid, took third place, scoring 825 points.

But one man from outside Michigan landed among the leaders, Joseph Zikmund, Chicago, Illinois, finished ninth in the open class for all events.

The judging events are held annually at the conclusion of the winter's work in livestock study, practically all the men in the short course classes at M. S. C. taking part. The standard of judging is very high, and winners are regarded as having achieved an unusual honor among the scholastic achievements of the college.

Winners of the special judging classes: Horses—Forest J. Brown, Ironton; beef cattle—H. C. Blakely, Romeo; sheep—Edwin M. Krauss, Bay City; dairy cattle—A. E. Holforth, Fenton; swine—Arthur J. Hagerman, Tekonsha.

WORK STARTED MONDAY ON 60 MILES OF HIGHWAY

WAYNE COMMISSION TO SET 5 CREWS OF 200 MEN TO TASK OF IMPROVING COUNTY SYSTEM.

Grading, drainage and widening of 60 miles of Wayne County roads will be started Monday. It was announced Saturday by J. K. Norton, road engineer for the Wayne County Road Commission.

Five crews of 200 men will start the work of preparing the roads for paving. Laying the concrete will be delayed until May 1 to avoid frost. When the concrete work is begun, the number of men at work will be increased to 1,200, Mr. Norton says.

The Allen road pavement, considered the most direct route from the city hall to Ford's Airport, will be widened from 24 to 50 feet from the South Dearborn road to Ecorse road. A contract has been let for the grading and drainage of four miles of Bonaparte road at a width of 40 feet. This road will be the entrance into the city's new River Rouge park and will connect up Warren and Plymouth roads, which were built last year.

Townline road will be graded from oakwood boulevard to Belleville road, a distance of 15 miles. When it is completed, it will be the first road to be built under the Covert Act, whereby a district is created and frontage owners pay a certain percentage of the cost.

Other roads to be graded are:

Division road from Michigan avenue to the Seven Mile road; Southfield road between the Seven and Eight-Mile roads; Toledo road from Northline southerly to Telegraph road; Six-Mile road from Grand River avenue to Telegraph road and the erection of a bridge over the River Rouge, and Huron River Drive west of Belleville to Wayne-Washtenaw county line.—Sunday's Detroit News.

Picked Up About Town

Dad Plymouth says that even though some men never get anything but a sample copy of a mail-order paper it's pretty hard for them to wait until the mail is distributed.

"I often wonder," says Dad Plymouth, "what became of the old-fashioned man who used to be able to take a nap every afternoon and still keep his family out of the parlorhouse."

If Sherman was living today, he no doubt would say the same thing about automobiles that he said about war.

"One way," says Dad Plymouth, "a husband can get even with his wife for using his razor for a can-opener, is to shine his shoes with her powder-puff."

"I've always noticed," declares Dad Plymouth, "that children tell the truth until the older people break them of it."
The champion coffee drinker of the world is said to be looking for a wife. Maybe what he really is after is a new coffee pot.

THE THEATRE

"THE POTTERS"

"The Potters," those comic strip characters of J. H. McEvoy, have finally reached the silver screen. W. C. Fields' new and extremely amusing Paramount comedy arrives at the Penniman Allen theatre, Saturday, March 19th, and will create a stir of approval. It is the consensus of opinion that this picture carries Fields still another rung higher on the ladder of fame.

Opening in a typical American home, we meet Ma, Pa, Bill and Mamie Potter. One immediately knows who's boss as Pa merely reads the motto on the wall—"God Bless Our Home," and sighs. Complications arise when it is disclosed that Pa disapproves of Mamie's friendship with Red Miller, but as time goes by we discover Pa isn't nearly as affluent as he'd have us believe. Instead, he's merely a hard working stenographer. Suddenly, Pa determines to step out of the rut by plunging all his mortgage money in oil stocks. How he sinks deeper and deeper, only to stagger out and finally find himself going around in circles, provides a satisfying climax and one which contains a superfluity of laughs.

Fred Newmeyer directed. Ivy Harris and Mary Alden are featured.

"TELL IT TO THE MARINES"

Through negotiations with the United States government and the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios, life in the United States Marine Corps, aboard battleships, in barracks and in the field in action, has been filmed in what is probably the most elaborate attempt ever made to picture the actual life of a great government service.

This was done in "Tell It To The Marines," the new epic of the Marine Corps, coming to the Penniman Allen theatre, Sunday and Monday, March 20 and 21. It was played aboard battleships and in Marine barracks, on the field with regular members of the Marine Corps in battle and maneuvers. In a romantic story in which a notable cast tells the life story of the "soldiers of the sea."

Lon Chaney plays the principal character role in the gigantic production, in which the great battle fleet practice of the Pacific fleet is shown; in which the huge guns are seen in action; in which Marines, in the field, fight a battle against Chinese bandits in which 1,200 men take part, and other thrilling details.

The picture was staged on a huge scale; entire Chinese towns were built and destroyed; the whole Pacific fleet co-operated in some of the most spectacular scenes of the big picture, and the camera followed the Marine Corps all over the world.

George Hill directed the new picture, with William Haines in the romantic lead as a recruit under Chaney's tutelage. Eleanor Boardman as the heroine, and a cast that includes Carmel Myers, Eddie Gribbon, Mitchell Lewis, Maurice Kains, Daniel C. Tomlinson, and others of note.

Several hundred regular Marines and officers take part in the spectacular details on board ship and in action in Manchuria.

"JUST ANOTHER BLONDE"

Dorothy Mackall and Jack Muhlall score a decided screen hit in their latest feature vehicle for First National, "Just Another Blonde," which comes to the Penniman Allen theatre, Tuesday and Wednesday, March 22 and 23.

It is difficult to say who deserves the most praise in this picture, Miss Mackall, Muhlall, or Director Alfred Santell, who has added another real success to his already long list of fine pictures made for First National.

"Just Another Blonde" is a delightful little story, with plenty of love interest, suspense, comedy and thrills. It is an adaptation of the late Gerald Beaumont's story, "Even Stephen," and is the story of two young men and two young women of an unusual walk of life.

Muhlall and William Collier, Jr., play the parts of young gamblers at a gambling house. Dorothy Mackall and the smart-looking Louise Brooks are a dance hall hostess and an attendant at a shooting gallery, respectively. The two young men have vowed never to fall in love, and their life is a fifty-fifty affair. But, of course, love finds a way, even though an airplane crash does help out, and all ends happily.

This quartet of young players are admirably fitted for their roles.

"3 BAD MEN"

"3 Bad Men," an inspired screen story of one of the most romantic periods in the history of American empire building, dealing with the opening of the many millions of acres of Indian land to the white man, will be the feature event which will appear at the Penniman Allen theatre, Thursday and Friday, March 24 and 25.

"3 Bad Men" will stagger by the immensity of its theme and the grandeur of its production. Over 15,000 people appear in some of the scenes, depicting the never-to-be-forgotten invasion of the Dakotas. The horses, oxen, dogs, cattle, prairie wagons and other vehicles, including bicycles, surrises, wheelbarrows, hand wagons and prairie schooners, run into the thousands. The huge sets reach proportions where mere figures become meaningless.

The cast includes the notable J. Farrell MacDonald, Tom Santschi and Frank Campeau in the roles of the "rascally three," who will win the plaudits of the world by their characterization of this strangely assorted trio. George O'Brien and Olive Borden play the pioneer lovers, supported by such well-known character actors as Alec Francis, Otis Harlan, Lou Tellegan and Jay Hunt.

Some time ago we wrote an article about a triple yolked egg from the birds in the A. M. Bailey flock. This week Mrs. Bailey reports another curiosity—two soft-shelled eggs fastened together at one end. One of the eggs was somewhat larger than its mate. The Bailey flock numbers between 500 and 600 White Leghorns, from which they are now getting about 350 eggs a day.—South Lyon Herald.

Edward Hurley has been erecting a building, suitable for business and residence occupancy, on his place on Grand River road near the Kensington bridge. It is said the building stands on the site formerly occupied by the Kensington hotel, an old tavern built nearly a century ago. Former years saw many of these old taverns along Grand River. The most of them have long since been demolished.—South Lyon Herald.

METHODIST NOTES

An unusually large number of women gathered at the parsonage last Thursday, for the monthly meeting of the missionary society. This was president's day, and after the routine business, the president, Mrs. Dickerson, introduced Mrs. Wm. Richards of Northville, district stewardship secretary of the W. H. M. S., who took charge of the devotions and gave an interesting talk on stewardship. Mrs. Fleming, superintendent of the Esther Home in Detroit, followed with an interesting account of the work that is being done in this home for business girls between 17 and 21. The different auxiliaries in this area are helping to support this home, and after hearing the experiences of the home mother, as she comes in contact with the different girls, all the women felt repaid for any effort they made in behalf of the Esther Home.

Mrs. Ruth Huston-Whipple delighted the congregation Sunday evening, with her talk on prohibition. Mrs. Whipple not only told why she believed in prohibition, but also gave the reasons why she believed that prohibition is the only course to follow, and showed very clearly that by thinking, talking, acting and voting prohibition, the present day habit of speaking lightly of and joking about the enforcement of the law will soon be abolished.

Rev. Amos F. Betts, manager of the Methodist Book Concern in Detroit, will be the speaker at the evening service next Sunday. There will be a song service, and the junior choir will sing.

The Philathea class will meet at the parsonage next Thursday evening, at 7:30 o'clock. Installation of the officers and a program.

The “Boosters” are to enjoy their regular “get-together” supper this Friday evening; supper served at 6:30 o'clock, en punto. A short business meeting will be held before the evening program.

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES

Mr. Becker is chairman of the committee in charge of the next Men's class dinner meeting. The meeting will be held April 12th. An excellent speaker has been secured. Reserve the date.

The Ready Service class met Tuesday of this week, at the home of Mrs. H. A. Smith. After dinner and a short business meeting, the members spent the time in sewing, in preparation for the next church bazaar.

The following have been elected as officers of the Sunday-school for the next year: Superintendent, C. B. Weaver; secretary, M. G. Hill; treasurer, Wm. Kaiser; Librarian, Miss Rose Fulton.

Mrs. W. S. Bake and Calvin Whipple will sing a duet at the morning service Sunday.

CATHOLIC NOTES

The lenten services conducted on Tuesday nights at eight o'clock, by the pastor, are well attended, and each service brings out more families to do honor to God, in this season of penance and self-denial. It is hoped that a member of each family will be represented at these services each week. Tuesday night, the Rosary and Litany are recited, followed by an instructive sermon on some Catholic doctrine, concluding with the benediction. Last Tuesday's sermon was “Hero Worship—Worship of the Saints.” Next Tuesday's topic will be “Reverence to the Holy Name,” and the sequel, the “Observance of the Lord's Day.”

The services on Friday night consist of the “Way of the Cross,” a meditation on Christ's journey to Calvary and His Crucifixion, concluded by benediction. These devotions last about an hour, and these sixty minutes could not be spent in a more suitable way than in church. Appropriate lenten music and hymns are rendered at these services, by the choir.

Good Friday will soon be here, April 15th, and we trust that all business places will be closed as heretofore, between the hours of 12 to 3, to meditate upon Calvary's tragedy.

The fifth annual St. Patrick's ball held at the Masonic temple last night eclipsed all events given by the parish this year, and we are very grateful to

BANQUET SERVED IN STONE-AGE MANNER

European Scientists Enjoyed Unique Feast.

A distinguished European archeologist and a member of the Anthropological society lately conceived the original plan of preparing a banquet in the manner of the Stone age. There were many volunteers to aid in the work of making the proper preparations for the unique function. It was necessary first to select an appropriate spot for the dining place. After many sites were examined, it was finally decided to hold the "banquet" on a sand bank in the middle of the Danube river, far from habitations. This was done in order to remove all semblance of the life of today and to insure surroundings that would indicate a time when the only habitations were caves or the shelter of trees.

With the sand bank as the "table," dishes and utensils were made in models of those used in the Stone age. Those made of wood were fashioned in close imitation of the utensils of that age.

Cabbage soup formed the first item of the menu. It was prepared in a wooden bowl by means of stones that had been first heated and then thrown into the water in which the cabbage had been placed. As fast as the stones cooled others were put in to take their place. The cooking consumed, of course, a much greater time than do modern methods, but time was no object to the scientists on this lark.

Bolled "leg of horse" came next. It had been cooked in the same manner. Roasted pork, cooked over the living coals and far better tasting, the learned gentlemen said, than any offering of today, was an important dish. Stewed maize, cooked by the hot-stone method, went with the pork. Turnips were roasted in the ashes of the fire, the fire-hardened part jerked away and then served steaming hot. After this there was a dessert of dried berries and wild honey. The banquet lasted more than three hours, and when it was over and the scientists were returning to their homes, the guests all insisted that if the Stone-age man fared as well as this he had little of which to complain in the matter of food.

During this strange banquet every possible effort was made to enter into the spirit of the remote age. The scientists ate either with their fingers or out of the bowls that were placed before them. There were no knives, no forks, no tablecloths and no napkins. In fact, nothing in the entire meal suggested the table manners of today. When it became necessary to turn any material that was being cooked, this was accomplished by means of a pronged stick. Not a bit of metal was employed, either in the cooking or in the consumption of the food that day prepared for the scientists.

Woman Marine Engineer

Queen Victoria's granddaughter, Miss Victoria Drummond, recently obtained her "ticket" as a fully qualified, sea-going marine engineer. Miss Drummond is the granddaughter of Lord Amherst of Hackney. She became interested in engineering, and after finishing her studies learned that to obtain a certificate she had to serve the required time in an engine room at sea. She signed on a ship going to Australia in 1922. She stood her watch, inspected boilers, kept the oilers at work and performed all the duties required of her male colleagues. She has not decided whether she will continue going to sea, now that she has the coveted license, or remain on shore and take up the work of a consulting marine engineer.

Athletes Must Study

To discourage overemphasis on athletics in Philippine schools, only students who have a good record in their studies will be allowed hereafter to represent their schools in provincial, interprovincial, and carnival meets, according to recent ruling of the Philippine bureau of education. Credit formerly allowed for participation in these meets will be discontinued, and no pupil who falls of promotion one year will be allowed to represent his school the following year. Athletes, however, are excused from regular physical education and will be given every opportunity to make up work they miss on account of participation in public athletic events.

Her Letters Still Read

France is celebrating the three hundredth anniversary of the birth of Mme. de Sevigne, who was not only a typical French woman but a typical woman—sane, rounded, human, admirable, lovable. And she left the record of her colorful life behind her in a vast collection of letters, which are not only brilliant and satisfying as letters but are full of personality and human nature, both of that of the writer and of the important and colorful personages of her day.—Garnett Bradford in Delinctor.

Controlling City Lights

Electricity is dispatched through thousands of miles of wire in every great city in much the same manner as trains are dispatched on a railroad. The men who sit at the control boards must speed up the system to meet the increase that may come when a storm cloud darkens a city and then slow it down again when the sun reappears. Every city depends on these men, yet only a few people know they exist.—New York Herald Tribune.

NASH

Leads the World in Motor Car Value

Steering is never tiring —when you drive a Nash

A cheerful willingness to answer your hand on the wheel is one of the very first things you notice, when you drive a Nash.

In many ways, Nash has provided for the ease and comfort of the arms that steer the car. In getting into or out of a tight place at the curb you will particularly notice the slight effort needed.

When you turn a corner, you'll welcome the shorter wind-up of the steering wheel.

In an emergency, this short turn of the wheel means quick responsiveness—and an accident averted. Nash steering is easier—faster—less tiring on the arms and wrists—ininitely safer in dense traffic.

Nothing has been spared to build a more delightful car to drive. This steering mechanism is, beyond question, the most expensive type built today for cars in the Nash price field.

Like the steering, every detail in the car reflects the Nash determination to lead the world in motor car value.

Another instance of the outstanding excellence in Nash design is the 7-bearing motor—without a doubt the smoothest type in all the world.

Today's Reflections

Congress has passed the radio bill, but your set will continue to act up and refuse to work when company comes just the same as usual.

Now we know spring is coming. We heard a first-robin argument on the streets of Plymouth yesterday.

The average Plymouth man doesn't have much trouble meeting expenses. He meets them everywhere.

Some Plymouth people will never learn how easy it is to make a bore of themselves just by bragging about their relatives.

Skirts are getting so short that one advertiser recently spelled them "skits."

Sometimes we feel quite sure that the worst thing you can take for a cold is your neighbor's advice.

Our advice to the Plymouth man who has a lot of poor relations is not to start in the filling station business.

There are still a lot of fellows in the United States who seem to think that the bar of justice has a brass railing on it.

You have also probably noticed that a happy-go-lucky man isn't always useful in supporting a family.

Nothing would improve the lot of some of our Plymouth girls more than to build good houses on them and put good husbands inside for them.

In Italy the government is putting a special tax on bachelors. Over here the girls attend to that.

We are acquainted with a few people around Plymouth, who would make good whale hunters. They are always throwing the harpoon into somebody.

A New York magazine says there are a lot of good poets in this country. Then why isn't there more good poetry?

GEORGE E. HUGER'S MASTER GUIDE

Reason priced repairs we'll say are the ones you like to pay. —from the proverbs of Mr. Quick

That's one thing about this plumbing shop that will please you from your basement to attic—from your purse to your check book—our proper prices.

THE MODERN CREDIT BUREAU

For the purpose of enlightenment as to methods of organization and operation of modern credit bureaus, this explanation is offered by the manager of the local bureau:

A credit or service bureau is an organization of the business and professional men and women of a community, whose purpose it is to educate the people of that community and trading territory to pay their bills promptly. The bureau embraces every classification.

The credit bureau, through its centralized office, is a clearing house for the exchange of information as to the paying habits of people, whereby a conclusion may be intelligently reached for the extension of credit and protection against credit losses.

Every firm or individual extending credit in any form is eligible for membership in the credit bureau and needs its services.

The system of recording how people pay their bills is fair and just. If they are honest and pay their creditors at the time they promise to pay, or explain why the bill has not been paid, their record will recommend them.

If, on the other hand, they are slow in paying, or do not tell their reason for non-payment, or do not pay at all, their record will result in their being refused credit.

Today is a credit age, and a merchant cannot avoid choking his books with bad accounts unless he avails himself of the use of the credit bureau: giving credit only to those who pay their bills promptly and turning down those who are poor risks.

No person with any honesty at all should allow an account to become delinquent when they know the history of the account becomes a permanent record in the files of the credit bureau.

When a person asks for credit there are two qualifications which the merchant should take into consideration: First, the financial ability of the person to pay, and, secondly, their willingness to pay.

A person may have a good position, lots of money in the bank and own their own home, but unless their promise to pay is good, that is, they want to pay, there will be trouble when the merchant starts collecting.

They may be willing to pay, but unless their incomes or resources are sufficient, it is impossible to collect.

Each member of a credit bureau sends in a list at regular intervals showing how his customers pay their accounts. This information is placed in the files on cards arranged alphabetically.

When a customer applies for credit, by calling the bureau, the merchant can tell how he pays his grocer, furniture dealer, hardware, insurance, rent or any of his other accounts which have been reported to the bureau.

If he has paid his other accounts promptly he is a good customer. If his record shows that he is slow pay, or has refused to pay other bills, or if an account has been given to a collector, the merchant is better off without his trade unless he pays cash.

The name of a member reporting a rating is never given. All reports are filed under a code number; the merchant uses his code number when calling, and his number is known only to the employees of the bureau office. This eliminates any trouble that might be caused by this information being imparted to the person reported on.

All information given to the credit bureau or to the merchant over the telephone or in the bulletin is confidential.

The bureau, through the affiliated bureaus throughout Michigan and the United States, is able to secure reports on new people locating in the village.

Niagara Soluble Sulphur Compound

The Complete Dormant and Delayed Dormant Spray

In the Delayed Dormant Niagara Soluble Sulphur Compound (complete in itself) controls Aphid, Scale and Scab with one application of one material.

APHIS
A Most Steadily Pest
Soluble Sulphur Compound, alone when used in delayed dormant, at a time when they and green apple eggs are in the cracked stage, will control these insects, if the buds are thoroughly wet by the spray and the application is made according to directions.

SCALE
The Cause of Abandoned Orchards
San Jose Scale is continually devastating trees and burning fruit, making it unfit for market. Next year may be your Scale Year. Niagara Soluble Sulphur Compound kills the scale and keeps the trees free from this orchard foe.

FUNGUS
Worst Enemy of Fruit
Apple scab infection frequently occurs during the delayed dormant period. Niagara Soluble Sulphur Compound is a fungicide and will prevent this possible infection of fungus and start the trees on the road to the production of clean fruit.

No addition of nicotine Complete in itself No addition of a fungicide

It costs less: and does more than other sprays

Come in and talk it over—Remember

One 100-lb. drum is equal to one 600-lb. bbl. of Lime Sulphur Solution. Every pound paid for is a pound of effective spray material.

Spring Building

Don't take our word for it. Ask the man experienced in building—and he will tell you that the best materials are always cheapest in the end. Why? Because good materials resist both age and weather. Wherein so many fail, is the reasoning that the best always costs the most. This is not true, because in lumber often more waste will be sawed from seconds than the saving hoped for—as compared to first grade material. Our yard is now completely stocked with first grade lumber in all woods. We want to serve you.

Lumber of all kind and in all grades for special construction of any nature. Also brick, concrete, lime, roofing, shingles, lath, tile, door and window frames, doors and windows, also builders' hardware.

Whether you plan a complete new structure or only alterations or repairs we can supply just the materials you want. We have plan books for every conceivable job—from shelf to mansion—and they are for your use, without charge of any kind. Come in and let us assist you.

OFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS OF THE VILLAGE COMMISSION.

Plymouth, Mich., March 8, 1927.
A regular meeting of the Commission in the Commission Room of the Village Hall, Monday evening, March 7, 1927, at 7:00 p. m.
Present: All five Commissioners.
The minutes of the regular meeting of February 21st were approved as read.

In order to further protect the Village dump and the adjacent property the Commission authorized the construction of a woven wire fence with barbed wire top as built by the Cyclone Fence Company along the Whitebeck Road frontage of the Village property.
Mr. William Wickman then submitted a preliminary sketch of a proposed subdivision of his property south of the Nash subdivision. On motion this plan was given approval except that the east and west street as shown in the sketch was directed to be opened to Harvey street.

The matter of the Holbrook Avenue storm sewer was brought up again and a hearing was set for the 21st of March at the next Commission meeting to which all the abutting property owners were to be invited by letter.

The following resolutions were offered by Commissioner Henderson, who moved their adoption, supported by Commissioner Fisher.

BE IT RESOLVED, That the construction of certain lateral sewers to constitute a part of the sanitary sewage rights of the said Village of Plymouth be, and the same hereby are declared to be expedient and necessary public improvements.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the report of Messrs. Hoad, Decker, Shoecraft and Drury, Engineers, in relation to said improvements, including the estimate as made by them, covering the probable cost of said improvements be, and the same is hereby received and made a part of the records, said report being in words and figures as follows:

Miscellaneous costs $ 4,380

Total $66,000
1-3 to be a general charge $22,000

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That this Commission do, and it hereby does, adopt the estimate twenty-two thousand and no-100 ($22,000) dollars as the estimate of this Commission as a necessary cost of said improvements to be paid by the Village at large.
Yeas: Commissioners Robinson,

Fisher, Henderson, Hornorp and Pierce.
Nays: None.
Carried.

The following preambles and resolutions were offered by Commissioner Fisher, who moved their adoption, supported by Commissioner Hornorp.

WHEREAS, This Commission has heretofore declared the construction of certain lateral sanitary sewers as expedient and necessary public improvements, and

WHEREAS, This Commission has caused to be made an estimate of the cost of such necessary improvements, which estimate is the sum of twenty-two thousand and no-100 ($22,000.00) dollars as being that part of the cost of said improvements to be paid by the Village at large.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, That the proposition of borrowing the sum of twenty-two thousand and no-100 ($22,000.00) dollars and issuing the bonds of said Village therefore for the purpose of constructing said lateral sanitary sewers be submitted to the qualified voters of the Village of Plymouth at the special election in said Village, to be held on Monday, the 28th day of March, A. D. 1927.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That said election shall be held at the voting place in said village of Plymouth, to-wit: the Village Hall in said Village, and that the polls of said election shall be open from seven o'clock in the forenoon until seven o'clock, Eastern standard time, in the afternoon of said day.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the form of ballot shall be as follows:

Shall the Village of Plymouth borrow the sum of twenty-two thousand and no-100 ($22,000.00) dollars and issue its bonds therefore for the purpose of constructing certain lateral sanitary sewers in said Village?
Yes ( )
No ( )

Shall the Village of Plymouth borrow the sum of twenty-two thousand and no-100 ($22,000.00) dollars and issue its bonds therefore for the purpose of constructing certain lateral sanitary sewers in said Village?
No ( )

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That any elector desiring to authorize the said Village to borrow said sum and issue bonds therefore shall place a cross within the bracket following the word "Yes" in said ballot, and any elector desiring to vote against the borrowing of said sum and the issuing of said bonds shall place a cross within the brackets following the word "No" on said ballot.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Clerk of said Village of Plymouth be, and he is hereby authorized and directed to give notice of said election to the qualified voters of the said Village of Plymouth by causing a copy of these resolutions to be posted at the polling place for said election and in ten (10) of the most public places in said Village, at least fifteen (15) full days before the date set for said election, and by causing a copy of said notice to be published in the said Village of Plymouth in the Plymouth Mail, a newspaper of general circulation, at least twice, the first publication to be at least fifteen (15) full days prior to the date of said election.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Board of Registration of said Village of Plymouth shall meet at the Village Hall in said Village on Saturday, the 19th day of March, A. D. 1927, and on Saturday, the 26th day of March, A. D. 1927, from nine o'clock in the forenoon until eight-thirty o'clock in the afternoon of said day, for the purpose of completing the registration of the voters of said Village qualified to vote at said election.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Village Clerk be, and he is hereby authorized and directed to give notice of the meeting of said Board of Registration, together with and at the same time and in the same manner that he gives notice of said election.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That all resolutions or parts of resolutions in conflict with the provisions of this resolution, in so far as they conflict herewith, be and the same are hereby rescinded and repealed.

Yeas: Commissioners Robinson, Fisher, Henderson, Hornorp and Pierce.
Nays: None.
Carried.

The Commission then on motion directed that immediately upon the successful outcome of a special sewer bond election that the firm of Hoad, Decker, Shoecraft and Drury, Engineers, of Ann Arbor, Michigan, shall prepare detail plans, specifications and contract documents for the sewer included in said bond issue and that said engineers arrange to have said work advertised so that bids may be received by the Village Commission.

The Commission then permitted the contractors for the new Starkweather School to use the hose house in Centennial Park as an office and tool house.

The report of the Auditing Committee recommended the payment of the following bills:

Administration Payroll	$ 375.85
Fire Payroll	77.00

Total	$4,272.69

The Commission then directed that arrangements be made to keep the lower portion of the Comfort Station in better sanitary condition than in the past.

A letter from William Walner applying for the position of Manager of the Village was on motion received and laid on the table.

A petition from the property owners on Harvey street from Williams street to Farmer street requesting the paving of that portion of Harvey street was received. In order to investigate the general subject of paving for the Village the President called a special meeting of the Commission to be held Friday evening, March 11th, at 7:00 p. m., at which time the Commission would go to Wayne to look over the paving program of that Village. The Manager was requested to make arrangements to meet the Wayne Commission at that time.

The Treasurer's report for the month of February was received and ordered filed.

The Commission adjourned.
H. C. Robinson, President.

OUR PROSPERITY'S SPREAD.
THE PORTERS ARRIVE.
REALLY TWO CHANGES.
RED, AND BRIGHT RED.

The good thing about American prosperity is that it spreads further and further from the great control sources of wealth. In ancient days a rich nobleman in his palace was surrounded by ignorant, miserable, half-starved, barefoot peasants. Later the owner of a great factory in New England had the "satisfaction" of knowing as he lay in bed before daybreak that the men and women were already on the way to his mill to make money for him and earn for themselves barely enough to keep alive.

That has changed, and will change more. Millions of men go to work in automobiles. And the automobile widens their sphere of labor. A carpenter or bricklayer can work comfortably anywhere within fifteen or twenty miles of his dwelling. That change is as important, almost, as the invention of the locomotive.

The Dives-Lazarus dinner party is over. Dives still has more than he needs, more than he should have, but Lazarus has plenty, and travels in his little limousine while waiting to travel in Abraham's bosom.

It would have interested you to see a Southern Pacific train getting ready to start from Oakland one evening last week. Half a dozen well-kept, good automobiles drove up, one after another. A man, well dressed, contented, prosperous looking, got out of each. His wife, who changed to the wheel to drive the car home, was prosperous looking and proud to take her husband to his work. Those were colored porters of the Southern Pacific Pullman cars and their wives.

What a change from the days of Uncle Tom's Cabin, and the change is as great for white workers as it is for colored men. Seventy-five years ago pious New Englanders, excited about "abolition" and the terrible lot of poor black slaves in the South, were told by the late Albert Brisbane, "By all means free the black slaves in the South. But what about the white women who go to work in your cotton mills before daylight and get home after dark? It is worse than black slavery, because the black slave owner keeps him fed and healthy that he may continue to live and work, whereas you don't care what happens to your white slaves, since you can get for nothing, more when they die."

Slavery can be and has been as bad on a "wage basis" as on a basis of physical slave ownership. Modern industry, highly productive, intensely organized, immensely profitable, takes a step toward civilization when it allows those that do the work and produce the comforts to have some comfort for themselves.

Those colored women, driving their husbands to work in good automobiles, will cause the foolish to ask, "Dear me, what is the world coming to?" It is coming to better days, greater happiness for the crowd and greater security for the few that skim off the cream.

Certain clergymen are accused of being "red." Their accusers want them investigated by a congressional Judiciary Committee.

A clergyman is "red" when he doesn't believe that a whale swallowed Jonah and coughed him up on the land.

He is "red" if he believes that the advice to give all to the poor was really meant seriously.

He is "red" if he doubts that Joshua made the sun stand still in its trip around the earth, in spite of the fact that it doesn't go around the earth.

He is "red" if he says the four angels could not have stood on the four corners of the earth because it hasn't four corners.

And he is BRIGHT red if he thinks anything should be done to let everybody have enough, here, where so many have too much.

Vinol Helps Nervous, Run-down Man

Musician Found Much of Interest on Tour

To go on a concert tour lasting for five years is in itself something of an achievement, but when it embraces not only the temperate and torrid zones but the frigid zone as well, the achievement verges upon the phenomenal.

And yet Laszlo Schwartz, well known as a violinist and composer in this country, has come back to these shores with much music of interest which he has gathered during his travels.

"In the Fiji Islands," Mr. Schwartz related, "the heat is terrible. Combined with the dampness it is death and destruction to musical instruments. I asked how the piano was and was told 'We are airing it'." "The day of our first concert, the soundpost of my violin came unglued and nothing would make it stick. I tried everything I could think of, but to no avail, so I simply had to tell them that there would be a concert but no violin.

"Sumatra seemed to be the hottest place in the world. A violin will go to pieces there any time. I had to play with clamps on mine to keep it together, which, you may imagine, did not improve the tone.

"In the Fiji Islands we heard a native chorus of 600 with the most marvelous basses I have ever heard anywhere. They have an amazing sense of harmony, like the American negro, but much more intricate. They learn tunes from a phonograph, and then harmonize themselves. They were learning the Tannhaeuser overture while I was there, each member of the band memorizing harmonies from the phonograph.

"I was asked by a rich native how much my charges were for a concert and when I told him the next question was: 'How long will the concert be?' 'About an hour,' I said. 'Oh!' he replied. 'But I can hire a man who will play for four hours for that amount without taking his bow off the strings!'"—John Alan Haughton in Musical America.

A Regular Butcher

One day little Betty heard her mother giving a detailed account of a recent tonsil operation to an afternoon caller.

"Yes, I had a perfectly dreadful time. My doctor was a regular butcher," said Mrs. B.

To her surprise, a few days later she overheard the following conversation between her small daughter and a little neighbor girl:

"Some day I am going to have my tonsils taken out."

"Are you going to the hospital like my sister did?"

"No," replied Betty, "I am just going down to the butcher shop where mother had hers cut out."—Indianapolis News.

Insects on Increase

For a century and more scientists have been listing and classifying insects found in the various countries, hoping they might have, some time, a complete list of the insect family, but the task seems to have no end, new species being found in all lands, so many, in fact, that more than 6,000 are being listed, each year, says Nature Magazine.

The scientists tend strongly to the belief that new species are being provided by some means, for each year discoveries are made of which no scientist in the past ever heard and man must admit in the bug listing business he is a long way behind.

European Air Lines

There are 42 commercial air lines operating daily to all parts of central and eastern Europe, including Moscow. Seventeen lines radiate from Berlin. There are many small companies, all now consolidated with the Deutsche Luftflotte. There are 120 commercial planes and 180 pilots. One hundred and ten planes are constantly in working order. In 1925 the German commercial air service carried approximately 133,638 passengers and 6,000 tons of freight. In 1925 the commercial service in passengers and freight carried and miles traveled tripled its volume of business over the preceding year.

Chinese Official Journal

The Tsien-Tse-Kwan-Pao of Peking, China, recently celebrated its thousandth birthday anniversary, and is said to be the oldest newspaper in the world. A recent article says that "every issue of this newspaper has been carefully preserved and filed in the official archives of the palace at Peking. The penalty for making a misstatement in this newspaper has been decapitation, and it is said that more than a few of its editors have suffered this fate in the past. Since the revolution the paper has changed its title to Tsien-Fou-Koun-Pao, which means 'Official Government Journal'."

Eradicate Deadly Weed

Recently 17 boys of a county home were severely poisoned as a result of eating leaves, roots and flowers of the water hemlock, reports Hygeia Magazine.

This plant grows in swamp land, along irrigating ditches and in meadows, and is known as cowbane, snake-weed, wild carrot, wild parsnip and death of man. The boys found it growing in a swamp near the playground. Since it has little if any usefulness and is poisonous to men and animals, farmers and others in charge of open lands should do everything possible to eradicate it.

Little Bobby

While Bobby, aged five, was visiting his grandmother, a particularly hot day brought forth the following conversation:

"Grandmother, why did this water come out of my shirt?"

"Why, dear, that happens to us all when we get very warm."

"It's," was his response, "I should think smoke would come out."—Min. U. E. in Chicago Tribune.

SOUTH SALEM

Wilbur Jarvis, a resident of this neighborhood for a number of years, but who now lives in Lansing, died very suddenly Monday night after working all day.

Mr. and Mrs. Styckles and children of Redford, have been at Otto Bohling's part of this week.

Miss Hazel Van Bonn spent the week-end with friends in Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Cole and daughters attended Dale Lucas' funeral at Dearborn Sunday. He was only eight years old and had mastoid.

There will be a St. Patrick's dance at the Salem town hall Thursday night. A three-piece orchestra will furnish the music. Everybody come. Bill 50 cents.

Mr. and Mrs. Andy Fahrner spent Saturday and Sunday at Henry Brinkman's.

The Fairview creamery and Harwood's trucks made three runs on the Penniman Allen road west of Jarvis school last Sunday morning.

Ray Gale has sold his farm and will move to Dixboro.

Freda Hanson spent Tuesday night with Doris Cole.

Mr. and Mrs. Donelson and son, of Detroit, came out Wednesday night to George Weed's and attended church night at Salem. A playlet given by 12 boys was very much enjoyed by all.

The Jarvis P. T. A. met with Mr. and Mrs. James Spencer at Whitmore Lake. Nearly all members were present. A nice program and lunch was served. Next meeting at Coda Savery's.

"Down but not out," cried the convict as he lay on the ground inside the prison walls.
