PLYMOUTH COUNTRY CLUB GOLF LINKS NOW OPEN

One of the Finest Golf Courses in the State is Now Open to the Public.

The Plymouth Country Club golf course, which was constructed last year, is now open to the public. The club is composed entirely of Plymouth residents, and is one of the finest natural courses to be found in the state. The course, which is of nine holes, the permanent greens of which are now being constructed, was laid out by Wilfred Ried, an expert in this line of work, and a member of the Detroit Country Club.

The location of the club property is ideal, being situated about six miles west of Plymouth, on the Penman or Territorial road, and is about equidistant from Plymouth, Ypsilanti, Northville, South Lyon and Ann Arbor, and the advantages of this location will be readily apparent to the golf enthusiast. Noted club architects have declared the property to be perfectly adapted for a sports course. Natural hazards are plentiful, and the tract of 190 acres includes beautiful playgrounds for the player and his family. The public is cordially invited to enjoy the advantages which this course provides, and with the support of the golf enthusiasts in this section, the club will be enabled to create one of the finest 18-hole courses in the state, augmented by a water-front playground development that will be unique and appreciated by every member of the family.

The fees for playing have been placed at 50c a round for nine holes; 75c for 18 holes, and $1.00 for all day. A charge of $1.50 per day is made on Sundays and holidays.

Take your "bag o' sticks," and drive out to the Plymouth Country Club, and enjoy a day of pleasure on this splendid course.

WOMAN'S CLUB

The fifteenth regular meeting of the Woman's Club was held at the club rooms, Friday afternoon, April 15th.

The first vice-president, Mrs. Wm. Pettigill, presided at the business meeting. Several new names were added to the club membership at this time.

Being Good Friday, Division XV, with Mrs. George Wilcox the leader, presented a most fitting program. The opening number consisted of community singing of the hymns, "The Son of God Goes Forth to War" and "Come Thou Almighty King," with Miss Melissa Roe at the piano.

Mrs. George Wilcox read a very appropriate paper on the "History of the Observance of Good Friday." Following this, Mrs. Walbridge, a new club member, played three lovely piano solos, "The Lark," by Gilinka, "A Major Waltz," by Levitski, and "Chopin Scherzo."

At this time, the dramatic committee presented one of the finest plays of the year, "Vengeance Heigh!" Characters: The blind grandmother Gormly—Mrs. R. E. Cooper; grandson, Clay Gormly—Miss Julia Wilcox; Hope Tuvender—Mrs. Frank Burrows; Lem Carmut—Mrs. Dan Murray.

On April 29th, the annual meeting of the club will be held at the usual place. There will be election of officers and committees.

Mr. Hillman extends a most cordial welcome to everyone to visit the salesroom on these days and see the new Paige cars and the wonderful values which they offer.

HALEY-LEHMAN.

Our Lady of Good Counsel church was the scene of a gorgeous wedding Tuesday morning at ten o'clock, when John Franklin Haley and Catherine Gertrude Lehman were united in marriage by Rev. Frank Lefevre.

The church was beautifully decorated in Easter lilies, palms and calla lilies. The pews were faintly tied off with chiffon ribbons; the aisle was canvassed in white, and the kneelers and chairs for the bride and groom adorned with white satin coverings for the occasion.

The beauty and solemnity of the wedding was marked by soft, mellow strains of the "Bridal March," gracefully rendered by Miss Agnes Quenwa at the organ. To these strains the bridal party walked. The ushers, Mr. Thomas Mullaney, of Plymouth, and Mr. Billy Kelley, of Detroit, led the procession. Following came the bridesmaids, Miss Harriet Perry and Miss Catherine Strehl, of Detroit. Miss Elizabeth Lehman, sister of the bride, acted as maid of honor and preceded the bride, in front of whom walked the little flower girl, Marie Albright, of Detroit. The bride walked on the arm of her father, who gave her away at the altar.

The bride was charmingly gowned in white taffeta, a basque effect, with full pointed skirt, the simplicity of which marked its beauty. Her veil consisted of shirred cap caught with a spray of orange blossoms at each side. The train was carried by little Miss Betty Jane Strehl, of Detroit. In each corner of the veil a little wedding bell was neatly interwoven. White kid pumps and hose completed the costume, together with a rope of pearls and a beautiful shower bouquet of white roses, lilies of the valley, hair fern, the long, bowed and knotted ribbons and streamers of the bouquet bore little tufts of the fern neatly caught.

The maid of honor was neatly dressed in orchid taffeta fashioned similarly after the bride's gown. She wore a large orchid hat of hair braid, black broaded satin pumps, tan hose and gloves, which blended beautifully with the lace trimming on her dress. She carried a bouquet of orchids, sweet peas, tiny pink tea roses and fern and was daintily tied in streamers of orchid satin ribbon and pieces of chiffon of the same color.

The bridesmaids wore gowns modeled similarly after the bride's in changeable taffeta. Miss Strehl wore pink and peach taffeta and Miss Perry in two shades of green. Both wore large hats of the colors of the dress, black pumps of satin and tan hose. Miss Strehl's bouquet was of peach-colored peas and pink roses tied with peach-colored chiffon and ribbons, and Miss Perry's consisted of pink peas and peach tea roses tied with the pink ribbons.

The little flower girl was dainty in white crepe de chine and carried an arm basket of peas and tea roses of pink and little Miss Betty Jane Strehl looked lovely in pink crepe de chine.

The bride's mother was charming in blue.

Mr. Haley was attended by Mr. Walter Berry, of Detroit. Rev. Frank Lefevre officiated at the solemn nuptial mass, assisted by Rev. John Dowdle, of Deerfield, as deacon and Rev. A. W. Graber, of Sturgis, Mich., as sub-deacon. Rev. Frank McQuillan, of Pinckney, was master of ceremonies and Rev. Joseph Schuler acted as acolyte.

Much was added to the occasion by the choir, who so beautifully sang the Mass of Our Lady of Loretto. A reception was held at the home amid baskets of flowers and ferns. Many out-of-town guests, together with friends of Plymouth, extended congratulations and best wishes.

Breakfast was served to about forty of the relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Haley will reside in Detroit and will be at home to their friends May 1st.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER BANQUET.

The mother and daughter banquet will be held at the High school auditorium, Wednesday evening, May 11th. Mrs. Ray, personal advisor for girls at Highland Park High school, will be the speaker.

PLYMOUTH BOY NAMED MANAGER OF BIG HOTEL

Harold A. Sage, a former Plymouth boy, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sage of this place, has just been named manager of the Savoy hotel of Detroit. Harold recently resigned as manager of the property management division of the Guaranty Trust Company, in which capacity he operated the Clifford, Gotham and Park hotels, as well as twelve apartments. He will remain managing director of the Hotel Murray Hall, and manager of the Stratford Arms hotel, the latter also operated by the Savoy corporation.

Mr. Sage is the youngest manager of a metropolitan hotel in the middle west. He began his hotel career in 1920, as assistant credit manager of the Hotel Statler, and has made rapid advancement ever since.

Harold's many Plymouth friends are pleased to learn of his splendid success, and look for him to go still higher in his chosen work.

MISS IDA BELLE McCLUMPHA PASSES AWAY.

Miss Ida Belle McClumpha, aged 72 years, died at her home on Blunk avenue, last Monday evening. The funeral services were held from the Schrader Bros. Funeral Home, Thursday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. Rev. Walter Nichol officiating. The interment took place in Riverside cemetery.

A more extended notice will be given next week.

A SERIOUS AUTO ACCIDENT

A Hudson coach, driven by Mrs. Thelma Schallhorn of Pontiac, accompanied by Mrs. Edna Wheeler, also of that city, met with a serious accident at the corner of Ann Arbor and South Harvey streets, last Friday evening. Shortly after five o'clock, the ladies were driving into town from Ann Arbor, and a pedestrian was crossing the street as they approached the corner. To avoid hitting him, the brakes were applied, and the car skidded on the wet pavement up onto the curb and into a tree.

Both ladies suffered severe cuts about the face and head, and Mrs. Wheeler was rendered unconscious for a time. They were taken into the home of Sheldon Gale, where they were given every attention, and Dr. A. E. Patterson was called and rendered surgical attention. Mrs. Wheeler was able to return to her home the same evening. Mrs. Schallhorn was removed to the home of Wm. Weltner, on Blunk avenue, Saturday evening, where she is recovering nicely. Mrs. Weltner is a relative of Mrs. Schallhorn's husband.

FORMER PLYMOUTH BOY PRO- MOTED.

Max Hillmer, son of Mrs. Mary Hillmer of this place, and a former Plymouth boy, who has held a position with the Delco-Remy Corporation at Anderson, Ind., for several years, has been promoted to the superintendent of the new 10-may plant No. 2, in that city. Mr. Hillmer's many Plymouth friends will be pleased to learn of his well merited promotion to this responsible position.

Notice is hereby given that all dogs owned or kept in Sumpter, VanBuren, Canton, Plymouth and Northville townships, Wayne County, State of Michigan, unless properly vaccinated against rabies within one year by a qualified veterinarian and tagged for ready identification, shall be securely chained or otherwise properly confined on the premises of their owner or keeper, or if allowed to run at large shall be securely muzzled to prevent the aforesaid dogs from biting any other animals, or persons. All owners or keepers of dogs are hereby prohibited from removing any dog whatsoever from said townships during the period of this quarantine, unless the dog has been properly vaccinated against rabies by a qualified veterinarian within one year of date of removal.

CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Volney Gunning celebrated their golden wedding anniversary by being guests of honor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmore Whipple on Ridge road, Monday, April 18th.

Mr. and Mrs. Gunning were the recipients of many lovely gifts of gold, as well as lovely gifts of flowers. At 6:30 o'clock, dinner was served to the guests, who included Mr. and Mrs. Joe Brooks of Birmingham; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Halstead of Novi; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bentley of Plymouth; Mr. and Mrs. Elmore Whipple, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Whipple, Miss Dorothy June and Master Edwin Whipple of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Whipple, the Misses Doris and Janet Whipple and Mr. and Mrs. Austin Whipple.

During the afternoon and evening, Mr. Gunning and Mr. Brooks entertained with music on their violin and bass viol, which they have played at many of Henry Ford's old-fashioned dances.

Mr. and Mrs. Gunning's numerous friends in Livonia, Northville and Plymouth, wish them many more happy wedding anniversaries.

FRANKLIN ATKINSON IN ORATORICAL CONTEST

Franklin Atkinson will represent Plymouth High school in the district oratorical contest, next Wednesday evening, April 27th. The contest is to be held in Northwestern High school auditorium, at the corner of Grand River avenue and West Grand Boulevard, at 8:00 o'clock, Wednesday evening, April 27th.

This contest will determine the winners in oratory and declamation for Wayne County, who will represent this district in the state contest in May.

Last year, Julia Wilcox won first place in oratory for Wayne County, while Franklin Atkinson won third place in declamation.

With his oration on "The Constitution and Citizenship," Franklin Atkinson won first place in the sub-district contest in March, when he defeated the orators of Wayne, Dearborn, Belleville and Northville. Because of this, he has the right to compete with the orators of the winning Detroit High schools.

The board of directors of Plymouth's new community hotel, The Mayflower, at a meeting held in the office of F. D. Schrader, vice president, Wednesday morning, awarded the contracts for the new building.

The general contract was awarded to the Stibbard Construction Co. of Detroit. The heating contract went to Ralph P. Beckham of Detroit. The plumbing was awarded to W. J. Phillips of Royal Oak. The ventilating contract was awarded to R. C. Campbell of Redford. The electrical contract was awarded to the Corbett Electric Co. of Plymouth. There were fifteen bidders in all.

Work on the new building will be started at once, and is to be completed by October 1st.

The hotel will have fifty-one rooms, and will be modern in every respect, and a great credit to the civic spirit of Plymouth citizens. The building will also contain six store rooms, for business purposes.

The architects are Vernor, Wilhelm & Molloy, of Detroit.

The architect's drawing of the new building, in colors, has been placed in the show window of Schrader Bros. store. This picture shows the building five stories in height, for which provision has been made in the plans, and it will be so constructed that it will carry two extra floors, but for the present, the building will have but three floors, as was originally planned.

It is certainly a handsome building, and the board of directors have made every effort in providing the best building possible for the money, and they are entitled to much credit for the careful consideration which they have given to the many details involved in an undertaking of this kind.

MINEHART-JACKSON

Charles C. Minehart of this place, and Miss Ira Jackson of Deerfield, Mich., were married at the groom's home on the Moreland avenue road, north of the village, Saturday, April 16th, at 12:00 high noon, in the presence of about forty relatives and friends. Rev. Walter Nichol of the First Presbyterian church of Plymouth, performing the ceremony. Miss Helene Minehart of Ann Arbor, was bridesmaid, and Ralph, owner of Grand Rapids, attended the groom.

Following the ceremony, a sumptuous wedding dinner was served the guests. The young couple have the best wishes of many friends for a happy and prosperous wedded life.

EASTER IN THE CHURCHES

The local churches observed Easter with appropriate and impressive services, made still more beautiful with exquisite flowers and lovely Easter music. Altars and choir lofts were expressive of the spirit of the day, and joy and beauty radiated in the several services conducted during the day and evening. All the services in the various churches were largely attended.

At the Methodist church a cantata was given in the morning and a pageant in the evening. Both were especially fine. The music, under the direction of Wayne Vaudyne, was highly commented on.

ACTO HITS BOY.

Richard Innis, the seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Innis, met with a painful accident last Sunday noon while crossing the road in front of his parents' home at Phoenix. Richard did not see the approaching auto from the north, driven by a Mr. Adams, of Mt. Clemens, formerly of Plymouth, and the boy walked right into the moving car, colliding with the rear right wheel and fender, having him violently to the ground.

His uncle, George Innis, who was near the roadside at the time, picked the unconscious lad up and rushed him to Dr. Peck's office, where an examination revealed no bones were fractured, but severe contusions of the left side of the face and head.

A BIG DIFFERENCE

We never knew how time has changed this old world until we overheard of a couple of Plymouth women comparing dresses of 40 years ago with those of today. One of them consented to write out what it took to make an ordinary afternoon dress along about 1887. It required 15 yards of wide silk, 5 yards of skirt lining, 3 yards horsehair cloth to stiffen the skirt, 4 yards of silk for dust ruffle, 5 yards velvet skirt binding, 24 inches of skirt belting, the same of waist belting, 1 1/2 yards of sleeve lining, 12 inches buckram for collar stiffening, 4 dozen fancy buttons, 1 card large hooks and eyes, 2 cards medium and 1 card invisible hooks and eyes, 5 spools silk thread, 3 spools cotton thread, 4 spools button-hole twist, 2 yards featherboning for waist, 1 yard small boning for collar, 1 bolt of seam binding. Today it takes four yards of silk and two spools of silk thread. Yet no man on earth can figure why today's dresses cost far more than those of 40 years ago.

LOOKING AHEAD

It is only natural that parents should always be anxious to do all they can for their children. They want to leave them as many of the comforts of life as is possible; in fact, parents spend the later years of their life in trying to leave something worth while for their offsprings. Yet few of them realize that at small expense they could make the acres they are going to leave really worth many times their present value. The government gives the tip, and it consists in nothing more than the planting of black walnut trees. Seedlings can be had at small cost. And only last week a walnut tree sold for $850 cash, the buyer removing it. In years to come, when the boys and girls of today have reached the age when they will need the comforts of life most a few black walnut trees would bring a small fortune. Plant them now—nature will do the rest. Each year finds black walnut becoming scarcer. Fifty years from now it will be almost, if not in truth, as precious as ivory and ebony. Here is a real tip for the man who wants to leave his children something worth having.

DON'T BITE AT IT

We have a letter from a subscriber not far from Plymouth, who says: "I have received four ties in the mail I did not order. I do not want them. Can these people force me to pay for them or pay postage for their return?" When anyone sends you merchandise you did not order and do not want, you have no legal or moral respons-bility whatever. Probably the easiest way to get rid of it is to return it to the postmaster or mail carrier. If you receive threatening collection letters, don't answer them, but turn them over to the postmaster. The mails are being used these days by a good many smooth individuals and they resort to many subterfuges to sell their stuff. Don't answer their letters unless it is to return their stuff with a warning not to repeat the offense as you are not in the market for anything they have. Then you're soon almost as free from bother as the man who does all his buying at home.

GOOD CITIZENS

Good citizenship doesn't consist wholly in paying your debts, going to church on Sunday and keeping out of jail. There's more to good citizenship than donating to this or that charity and inquiring about the condition of a sick or injured neighbor. These things all help to make a good citizen, of course, and it is hard for a man to be a good citizen unless he practices them. But at this season still another means of proving one's good citizenship is offered, and we are referring to it in the hope that everyone around Plymouth will make a firm resolve to observe it.

We refer to the preservation of other people's property along the roads and highways over which you may be driving your auto. It may be that at this season you are tempted to break or damage flowering trees or bushes that attract your eyes, or the eyes of some member of the family riding with you. Don't yield to the temptation. Others will be passing a little later on, and it is not fair to rob them of the beauties of the country of which they, too, are citizens. Above all, the property belongs to someone else, and no good citizen will appropriate another's property without first having secured full and free permission from the owner to do so.

Breaking even one bush or mutilating even one tree or flower bed detracts from the general beauty of the community. Think what it would mean if everyone resorted to the same practice. Let's save our outdoor beauties for others to enjoy. Let's demonstrate that we are good citizens by setting other drivers a good example. The season for such demonstration is here right now.

MINDING OUR BUSINESS

For a nation with a reputation for minding its own business and keeping out of controversies, we are certainly giving the world a lot to think about just now. Part of our army is in Nicaragua, trying to settle an argument. Another part of it is getting ready for a demonstration along the Mexican border, since we are again having a row with that country. And whole shiplouds of marines and machine guns, as well as battleships and cruisers are hurrying to protect American interests in China. With a finger in the trouble pie in three different places, it begins to look as though we are in danger of losing our hard-earned reputation of being the one great nation that could mind its own business and remain at peace with the world.

As far as the trouble in China is concerned, we've heard some substantial citizens of Plymouth argue that those who go over there on mission work know the dangers in advance, and should assume all consequences. That is a question open to argument. But we do believe that when a nation invites foreign capital and promises it protection by selling it concessions to do business, and then breaks those promises, the nations so treated are justified in using such force as may be necessary to uphold their own rights. Let one element in China start grabbing and they will all be grabbing, even though they had previously urged foreign business to come in and help build up the country. There should be a settlement of this part of the trouble at once. Then we'll be in better position to talk about making all Americans come home—and stay at home when they get here.

NETHEM CLUB WINS OPENING BALL GAME

Sunday, Rousseau Rouge park, Newburg, was the setting for the opening ball game between Newburg and Nethem club. No finer day could be chosen for the opener, and a proof of this was attested by the very large crowd that was present on the field.

Manager J. Van Boon announced that he would hold Gale in reserve and start Dobozy with Schomberger on the receiving end.

The batteries for Newburg were Jensen and Hess.

The Nethem club was by far superior and outplayed their opponents by a score of 9-1. Dobozy pitched a fine game and at no time lost control of the situation.

Rebetzke played a very spectacular game in left field.

Nethem 1 0 0 1 3 1 3 0-9

Jensen-Hess.
Sobozy-Schomberger.

The Nethem club crosses bats next Sunday with the Plymouth Merchants at Burroughs field at 3 o'clock. This game promises to be one of the best for the season, as each represent Plymouth in sport and each wishes to be a leader. Both teams are evenly matched and both are out to win. Manager J. Van Boon will have his boys in tip-top shape for the game and most likely will see Gale and Schomberger for his battery.

Archeological Treasures

Golden relics of the Fifth century were recently discovered by Professor Mora, director of the Municipal museum of Szeged, Hungary, according to a dispatch in the Frankfurter Zeitung. The professor saw a group of children playing with something that looked like a copper baton. It turned out to be a portion of a finely chiseled scepter found in a garden. Digging there, he came upon 92 gold coins and several gold cups and dishes, believed to be treasure from the tomb of one of the kings of Gepidae, an early Germanic tribe.—Chicago Tribune.

Emancipation of Man
by Electrical Energy

President Walter Dill Scott, of Northwestern university, not long ago made the statement that the average American has at his service the equivalent of the energy of 170 slaves. Doctor Scott had been reading statistics of the number of motors and electrical devices in every-day use in the country.

But the thought is worth considering from a different angle from that intended by the university president. There was a time when men thought civilization could not exist without human slavery. But only the rich owned slaves. A ruler who had 170 slaves in personal attendance might have prided himself on his resources.

In those days the average man who earned his daily bread by common labor, was not in much better position than a slave. What consternation would have been spread if some trusted prophet had foretold that mechanical devices would take the place of personal servants. Thousands upon thousands of working people would have cried out, "What shall we do for a living?"

But the era of the motor slave and the electrical slave has come and just the average run of common folks have mechanical energy at their service equivalent to 170 slaves each. And instead of this transformation bringing starvation for slaves and workers, it has abolished slavery and given the average working man many advantages and comforts never dreamed of by nobles and princes in ancient times.

Good old Grecian Archimedes boasted that he could move the earth if he could find a place to stand while doing it. He foresaw great things to be accomplished by mechanical means. But the disciples of Archimedes of modern times have found what their master was looking for. And they didn't have to go off the planet to get a basis of operation.—Exchange.

Rich Find of Fossils

More fossil fishes and sharks are being turned out in a day by a power shovel operating in the region to the west of Cleveland, known to geologists as the Big Creek basin, than the patience of old-time collectors would bring to light in a whole season. Since lots are being laid out in this part of Cleveland shale prized by scientists for its fishy relics of a past age, the Cleveland Museum of Natural History has obtained the co-operation of one of the land companies and funds from friends to manipulate a steam shovel. Though Big Creek is only one foot deep, sharks five feet long are caught by the shovel while the bungalows creep closer every day. Many choice fishes, millions of years old, are being saved to science that would otherwise be lost, according to Dr. J. E. Hyde, curator of geology of the Cleveland museum.

Wretched Fake

Secretary Merrill of the shipping board said at a luncheon in Washington: "The foreign rivals of our mercantile marine like to poke fun at us. They pretend that we Americans are greenhorns on the water—whose clipper ships were once the wonder of the world.

"An English skipper, for instance, told a fake story the other day about an American freighter that was entering the port of Liverpool when the captain was heard to yell furiously to the mate:

"Say, are you bringing in the blunt end or the sharp end of this ship?" "A minute later, wanting her to slow down, the mate howled:

"Whoa! Whoa!"

Final Decision

"Do you love the girl?" asked her father. "Good gracious," cried the practical young man. "Do you think for a minute I'd mortgage my future happiness, my social aspirations, my business hopes and my investment program, my shovels and my salary, if I didn't have the firm conviction that I'd never be satisfied without her to help me, prod me, spur me, advise me, pity me, bore me, pep me up and egg me on?"

"No," sighed the father, shaking his head sadly. "But you can't have her, my boy. You talk too much like a man who's had something to do with women before."—Life.

PLANNING TO PUT VOLCANO TO WORK

Scientists Seek Method of Harnessing Crater.

Not so many years ago the people of Iceland conceived the idea of harnessing the famous hot springs which abound in that country and, by means of pipes, conveying the hot water to their homes for heating and domestic purposes.

The wise men of Naples, Italy, are seeking for some method of impressing the volcano, Little Vesuvius, into service, and utilizing its heat for train car operation.

For 800 years the crater at Pozzuoli was considered extinct. A few years ago it awakened, and two volcanic cauldrons opened at the crater base, while more recently an eruptive mouth appeared.

Men of science consider that if the forces, heat and electricity, at this point were controlled by a power plant, it would be possible not only to provide sufficient electricity for the supply of the surrounding towns, but for Naples as well.

The great difficulty is in finding a piping which can resist the corroding power of the hydro-sulphuric and sulphuric dioxide of the soil near the volcanic mouth.

The commune of Naples had a huge iron pipe sunk, but after a short time it was entirely destroyed by the action of these gases. Later a smaller pipe of white metal was used, but this, too, corroded.

So far it has not been possible to find a piping which lasts more than a few weeks, after being sunk.

The Solfatara, ever since Roman times, has been celebrated for its curative properties.

In Roman days its baths were famous and today remains of them can be seen in the hillside.

Since the war the sulphurous vapors from the different apertures have brought health to many ex-soldiers suffering from lung trouble.

During the past five years vast quantities of kaolin have been taken from the crater basin, for the Neapolitan industry of chalk statuettes.

It was this extensive digging which caused the ground to cave in, when a volcanic cauldron of lava mud made its appearance.

A small observatory was erected. In order that the crater could be studied. The volcano was given the name of "Little Vesuvius," though it is miles away from Mount Vesuvius, and situated on the other side of Naples.

Experts consider the Pozzuoli crater as far more wonderful than Vesuvius itself.

The heat generated by the mud cauldron is 100 degrees hotter than boiling water, and is thus capable of generating power for electrical purposes.

Its vapors also carry a positive charge of electricity.

The only recorded eruption of lava from Solfatara is one of doubtful authenticity ascribed to the year 1198.

Early Life Insurance

Originally life insurance was not much more than an incident of marine insurance. When the success or failure of a voyage depended largely on the personal qualities of the master of the ship, the owners of ship and cargo would insure themselves not only against the perils of deep, but also against the danger of loss through the death of the master—that is, they took out insurance on the life of the master for the voyage. These early life insurance policies were written by individuals long before life insurance companies came into existence. The earliest policy of which anything definite is known was issued in London in 1583, insuring the life of one William Cybbon for 12 months. This was underwritten by 13 persons acting individually; the premium was $80 per thousand. A similar policy would cost today about $10, or 30¢ thirty-five.

Standards Vary as to Man's Hours of Sleep

An older school of moralists, and possibly an older school of doctors, would have been gravely shocked by the suggestion, just made by an expert in mental diseases, that even eight hours' sleep a day is not necessarily enough for a man.

"Eight for a man, nine for a woman and ten for a fool," was given by Sir Robert Armstrong Jones in his lecture to the Medical society of London as the old standard, but he added that he would reverse the order and give ten to the men.

Even the lecturer's version of the old standard seems more generous than the facts; not eight hours' sleep but seven was definitely laid down in the famous health rules of Salerno, and enough for either a young man or an old one, and some ancient authorities were ready to brand as sluggish the man who slept for longer than six hours out of twenty-four.

Indeed, to judge by its proverbs and precepts the world of three or four hundred years ago was constantly at war with the sluggards, and forever maintaining a stiff fight against the undue claims of sleep.

Here and there an isolated hero like Sancho Panza stands up to praise sleep and its inventor, or the Venetians produce a proverb which recommends slumber as a sort of medicine, but in general both doctors of medicine and divinity seem to have agreed that sleep was the enemy of their age.

Like the Dormouse at the Mad Hatter's tea party, the public at large was always being well shaken and told to cast off dull sloth and joyful rise.

The picture is the more curious because so little is heard of such rebukes today; though we are fiercely warned by our medical advisers not to do many things, from overeating to underexercising, we are hardly ever expected to refrain from oversleeping. It is the one possible excess which no one bothers to rebuke; and here one eminent authority boldly declares that five-twelfths of the whole day may be spent in sleeping without reproach. Are we, then, so active that we need urging to slumber? And were our forefathers so sleepy that only the constant thunder of the sages could keep them awake? Strange as these conclusions seem, the facts appear to justify them.

Strange as these conclusions seem, the facts appear to justify them.

The picture is the more curious because so little is heard of such rebukes today; though we are fiercely warned by our medical advisers not to do many things, from overeating to underexercising, we are hardly ever expected to refrain from oversleeping. It is the one possible excess which no one bothers to rebuke; and here one eminent authority boldly declares that five-twelfths of the whole day may be spent in sleeping without reproach. Are we, then, so active that we need urging to slumber? And were our forefathers so sleepy that only the constant thunder of the sages could keep them awake? Strange as these conclusions seem, the facts appear to justify them.

UNITED STATES FIRST IN TOY MANUFACTURE

Because of the fact that several of our industrial plants in this village are engaged in the manufacture of toys, Plymouth citizens will be interested to know that the United States is the largest manufacturer of toys in the world, followed by Germany, Japan, Czechoslovakia, France and England. Twenty years ago Germany largely supplied the market for toys in the United States and in other countries. Today she supplies less than five per cent of the toys sold in this country. The World war gave a marked impetus to the toy industry in the United States and Japan. The industries in those countries not only met the home demand but in many instances fell heir to markets temporarily abandoned by Germany. Toy industries in Italy, Spain and Sweden were virtually created by the war, and now not only supply a large part of the home demand but are looking for outside markets. The industries in France and England have returned to their pre-war status and, with Czechoslovakia, are making every effort to extend their foreign outlet. Germany's exports in 1925 were greater than in 1913, and in every worth-while market in the world great effort is being made to obtain and to insure German dominance.

The industry in the United States has been satisfied with meeting the demands of the domestic market. There has been no real attempt to capitalize the unique advantages in foreign markets created by the war. Production is equal to the domestic demand, but our competitors are again entrenched in the overseas markets. It is obvious that if the industry is to continue its growth there must be serious endeavor to find foreign outlets. Production in the toy industry of the United States in 1925 was valued at approximately $75,000,000. The United States is not generally thought of as the greatest toy manufacturing nation in the world, yet its production is more than twice that of Germany.

the nearest rival. The industry in Germany was well organized by the latter part of the eighteenth century. It has been developed in the United States almost entirely in the last 20 years. In that time production has increased 1,300 per cent. The toys of the different national industries have definite characteristics, and to the extent of their differences are not competitive but co-operative in supplying world markets. For example, the Japanese toy instantly suggests fragile paper novelties of bright colors, beautifully blended; celluloid articles of an inexpensive grade, and artistic tea sets, distinctly Japanese in pattern and coloring. The German toy, despite the fact that some of the most artistically conceived and beautifully made toys are the product of that country, suggests pre-eminence in toys that can be sold at a very low price. The outstanding characteristic of the American toy is not type, variety, mechanical ingenuity, but the sum of all these characteristics expressed as quality. While cheap toys are manufactured in this country, the bulk of American toys is of the more expensive grade and suggests superiority in design, material and workmanship, whether an article retailing for 15 cents or $150.

CHILDREN'S CLINIC WILL BE HELD HERE

The Wayne County Council of the Michigan branch of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers will conduct a clinic for all children in Plymouth and Northville and the nineteen rural schools in the surrounding communities who will enter school next September. If there should be any time left we will be glad to examine any pre-school child. The county nurses are giving us their full co-operation and support and several will be present during the clinic. Our local physicians have been invited to give professional examinations and advice to parents as to the needs of their children.

This clinic will be held on May 22nd at 9:00 o'clock a. m. at the new St. John's Episcopal church house at the corner of Harvey street and Maple avenue. All parent-teachers' associations in Zone A are urged to aid the council in establishing this first clinic. We would like volunteers who will bring the children who have no means of conveyance to the clinic and back to their schools. If anyone can render this valuable service in their school district, will you kindly notify the teacher of the school. All schools will co-operate whether they have a parent-teachers' association or not. Let us all pull together and see that every child to enter school in September be examined at the clinic. There will be no cost and everyone interested is invited. We expect to have with us at this time the county supervising nurse, our zone nurse, our county social worker, our home demonstration agent, our county nutritionist, a pre-school expert from Merrill Palmer school, and other pre-school advisors; also several of the Wayne county council's officers, who will answer all questions and offer suggestions that may help you. We hope every association in this zone will have at least one representative present to aid wherever needed.

Protect Your Crop Profits

From ploughing to threshing, your crops depend upon your tractor. And the life of your hard-working tractor depends upon the kind of lubricating oil you use. Mobiloils are especially made for your every farm need. They stand up. They don't thin out. They last longer—therefore cost less per mile and per year. You can't risk a tractor breakdown so you can't afford to use a cheap oil. Make sure! Protect your tractor and your crops with Mobiloil. It will save you money in the long run. We can supply you with Mobiloil in cans or drums—in handy sizes for farm use.

The beautiful sunny day called out a large crowd to listen to the impressive Easter service. Rev. Walker preached from Rev. 1:17-18. APPOINT LOCAL MEN IN BORER CAMPAIGN

WILL INSPECT CORN FIELDS AND MAKE RECOMMENDATIONS FOR FEDERAL COMPENSATION.

The appointments of county corn borer supervisors and their corps of inspectors have been confirmed by L. H. Worthley, federal administrator of corn borer control work, Toledo, Ohio, according to advices received by the state department of agriculture.

For Wayne County, L. A. Seaman of Ypsilanti, has been named corn borer supervisor. The inspectors are A. M. Bacon, 8960 Gilson avenue, Detroit; J. A. McGarvey, Dearborn; Roy Losey, Dearborn; Arnold Haener, New Boston; John Ferstle, Jr., Flat Rock; Raymond Bates, Trenton; Albert Ebersole, Plymouth; J. M. Swegles, Plymouth.

These men are in charge of the regulatory work in the county and any questions concerning the clean-up work should be referred to them for action. Application should be made to the supervisor for the use of special government machinery which is now available in the county.

During April, a survey of the county will be made and advice given as to what a satisfactory clean-up means. After May 1, Mr. Seaman and his staff will inspect all farms to determine who is eligible for the compensation provided in the federal corn borer act.

Worthley says that in each township several inspections will be made by special inspectors from outside the county which will be used as a check in determining what constitutes a clean field and which will serve as a guide for the local inspectors.

D. E. S. INSTALLATION

The members of Plymouth chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star met at the Masonic temple, Tuesday evening, April 19th, for the installation of officers. Each member being privileged to invite a guest, over 250 persons were reported present.

Mrs. Maude Schrader acted as installing matron, assisted by Chauncey Rauch as patron, Anna Stever as marshal and Edna Richwine as chaplain. Alvina Crumble, the matron elect, was presented at the altar, invested with the insignia of that office, and duly declared Worthy Matron for the ensuing year. In like manner, B. J. Holcomb was installed as worthy patron; Pauline Cobb as associate matron; Ada Murray, secretary; Florence Furman, treasurer; Margaret Rauch, chaplain; Lucile Buzzard, conductress; Clara Alexander, associate conductress; Carrie Lombard, marshal; Helen Stevens, Ada; Cora Springer, Ruth; Mildred Jewell, Esther; Mae Borek, Martha; Nellie Shattuck, Electa; Josie Innis, warder, and M. G. Hill, sentinel.

Little Barbara Jean Olsvaver assisted as flower girl in the installation of the star points. She performed her duty in a manner an officer might emulate, and it is hoped she may sometime be numbered among them.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Roberts of Royal Oak added to the enjoyment of the evening by singing two very pleasing numbers, and Messrs. Calvin, Austin and Elmer Whipple with Evered Jolliffe formed a quartet, that was thoroughly enjoyed.

After all new officers were installed in their respective positions, Worthy Matron Alvina Crumble gave a brief address, thanking the members for the confidence they had placed in her, and promising her best efforts. Retiring Worthy Matron Clella Smith expressed her appreciation of the support given her during the past year, emphasizing the value of such interest and cooperation to the matron, and as she urged all members to continue in their good work, she closed her remarks, confident that with so capable a leader, the chapter was beginning a very pleasant and profitable year.

Chauncey Rauch, retiring worthy patron, welcomed the new officers in his cordial manner, and then as he thanked those who had assisted in the ceremony of installation, presented each with a well chosen gift, in behalf of the chapter.

At the close of the ceremony of installation, the members and guests were invited to the dining room, where the men of the Order of the Eastern Star served luncheon. Miss Ruth Allison, Robert Haber and Alvin Collins provided very good music, so that part of the entertainment was much enjoyed.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The 7th and 8th grade physical training classes are working on the exhibition to be given the latter part of this month.

A musicale will be given by the boys' and girls' glee clubs, orchestra and the band, April 29th, in the High school auditorium.

About three hundred invitations have been sent out for the J-Hop tonight. The auditorium is going to be decorated in pastel colors, with indirect lighting. Patterson's orchestra will furnish the music.

Plymouth High school has again been approved of by the North Central Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges. Plymouth has been on this ever since 1916. Last Tuesday, the teachers of Plymouth were invited to the Wayne County Training School, to hear Supt. Rutherford of Ionia, speak.

The advanced sewing class has started to make their second summer dresses.

The English 10 classes have been making posters advocating clean and better speech.

—M. Gust.

THE SENIOR PLAY

The senior class will present "The Man on the Box," May 6th. The play is very interesting, snappy and amusing, and differs from any other that has been given here before.

It concerns a young lieutenant who, liking very much to tease his sister, planned to jump on her coach, that she would ride in at the close of a large dance, and drive it at break-neck speed, then bring the horses to a sudden halt, jump off the coach, seize his sister in his arms, kiss her, then run, leaving her to guess who the young man was. But his plan failed, as in the rush after the dance he gets on the wrong coach and kisses the wrong girl. Immediately complications set in. He has some very exciting times which keep you guessing what will come next. The circumstances he gets himself into are so amusing that it will keep you laughing all the while. There is not one dull moment during the whole play; it is filled with action from first to last. Of course, there is a villain who tries to do some underhand work, and affords a serious trend to the story.

Those taking part are: Lieutenant Robert Warburton—Robert Hulbert

Charles Henderson—Edwin Schrader
Col. George Amosley—Wilbur Murphy
Count Karloff—Wendell Doudt
Col. Frank Raleigh—Elton Ashton
Monsieur Pierre—Clifford Wood
Magistrate Watts—Owen Partridge
Clerk of the Court—Claude Gobhardt
Officer O'Brien—Rustling Cutler
Officer Cassidy—Ray Leandowski
William—Columbus Wilkins
Miss Betty Amosley—Barbara Horton
Miss Nancy Warburton—Irtih Allison
Mrs. Conway—Josephine Schmidt
Cora—Gertrude Grainger

These seniors are working hard to have their play the best possible, and play with the support of everyone. The play will be given May 6th, at 8:00 o'clock sharp, at the High school auditorium. Tickets are being sold by the seniors, and are 50c for adults and 25c for school children. Reserved seats may be obtained from the senior from whom you purchase your ticket, and cost an additional 10c. Everyone be at the play.

HIGH SCHOOL MUSICALS

The various organizations of the music department of the Plymouth High school, will present a musicale on Friday evening, April 29th, in the auditorium.

The entertainment will consist of singing, dancing and instrumental music. Selections will be sung by both the Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs, separately and combined. The band and orchestra will also play several numbers. Costume folk dances, representing various countries, will occupy a prominent place on the program. A little Japanese operetta entitled, "A Box of Dolls," will be given by eight little girls. Other interesting numbers will be offered by the High school students.

Tickets may be obtained from members of the glee clubs for fifteen and twenty-five cents.

COAL-PIT WORKERS HELD IN SLAVERY

Scottish Miners Long the Property of Owners.

At the beginning of the Seventeenth century when coal was first mined in Scotland, the miners, who daily risked their lives in their hazardous employment, were slaves.

In those far-off days, miners, both men and women, were bound for life to the pits in which they worked, and were actually transferred with the collieries, when these were sold to a new owner, as part of the property. This extraordinary state of bondage, sanctioned by Scots law in 1696, continued for nearly two centuries.

Even for the children, there was no hope of escape, for as soon as they started to work, they too were "thralled" to the pit for the rest of their lives. Parents were so inured to the hardships of their own lot that they regarded slavery as inevitable for their children also.

Some infants were sold to the masters at the time of their baptism, in the presence of the minister, who witnessed this bargain in human life. The employer then presented "arles" or earnest money to the father, and from that moment the babe was bound for life to the pit.

If any miner, roused by a bitter sense of injustice, tried to gain his freedom by running away from his servitude, he was immediately arrested as a thief. In the eyes of the law, a miner was the property of his master, and if he dared to make his escape he was punished for the crime of stealing himself, a valuable piece of property that belonged to his owner.

Toward the middle of the Eighteenth century, the first glimmer of independence began to stir in the breasts of the miners, and in 1743 15 men who worked in the Gilmerton pits managed to make their escape. Their master, Sir John Baird of Newbyth advertised for them, that they might be arrested, and also to prevent any other master from breaking the law by employing slaves who were not his own property.

In the same year, three boys belonging to the marquis of Lothian ran away from the colliery of Newbattle, and took refuge upon another estate. The marquis wrote to Lord Oxenford explaining that the boys were his property, "and if my claim is found to be good, shall expect the boys be returned without my being obliged to find them out."

The compensation that the miners had for this life of slavery was that the master was compelled by law to keep his serfs all their days, and to supply a coffin for their burial.

But gradually the public conscience was awakened, and in 1775 an act was passed to emancipate all persons who after that date, "shall begin work as colliers." The act also provided that the existing miners should be set free, some in seven years, and others at the end of ten years.

To many of the miners, the new act brought no relief, for its provisions were somewhat complicated, and quite beyond the comprehension of ignorant men whose intelligence had been sapped by generations of serfdom, and so they continued in the bonds of slavery till the end of their days.

But the year 1799 saw the dawn of freedom for the miners of Scotland, when a new law was passed which gave unconditional liberty to all who worked in the pits.—Weekly Scotsman.

Pure Iron From Scrap

Scrap iron rusts all over the world in piles of scattered pieces. Heretofore there has been no process economical enough to be applied to the reclaiming of most scrap iron. Now, however, engineers have found a way to do it electrically. They have made a commercial application near Niagara Falls, N. Y., using Niagara electric power. Bundles of ordinary cast iron scrap are used as anodes of huge wet batteries, the liquid being a solution of iron chloride. The other battery terminals are steel rods. When the electric power is turned on, the iron dissolves from the anodes into the liquid and is deposited on the steel rods. Iron so deposited is said to be almost pure.

L'Aiglon Death Mask

The world has long been familiar with more or less idealized portraits of that pathetic figure of the Napoleonic era, the Duke of Reichstadt, king of Rome, known in the sphere of art as "L'Aiglon." According to Vienna newspapers, his authentic death mask, made by Franz Kiell, has been found and will presently be exhibited either in the Vienna Burg or in the Castle of Schoenbrunn. The unhappy youth died in 1832, and his death mask was made by the same artist who five years before had made that of Beethoven.

To Save Chinese Babies

Efforts to stop the abandonment of girl babies in China are being made by the officials of the public health demonstration station which was established in Peking a little more than a year ago. The doctors say that the greater part of the high death rate, which is three times that of the average city, is due to the traditional prejudice in the country against females, and that when a family is poor the parents usually abandon girl babies. It is hoped to establish free clinics which will help to educate the poor against the practice.

"Oh, you mean skunk?" said the salesman.

Dignified Banker: "Neither my wife nor myself are interested in that sort of thing."

Fair Enough.

She: "Well, old dear, I wasn't born with shoes on, either."

The Way It is Done.

"I guess I may as well double my income," said the newsboy, as he folded his dollar bill.

Never Thought of Twelve.

"I say, tailor, my bill should be thirteen dollars, and you've made it fourteen."

"Well, I thought you might be superstitious, sir!"

Forewarned.

"A reference, Jane?" exclaimed the mistress. "Why, you have only just come."

"Yes," admitted Jane, "but you might not be wanting to give me one when I'm leaving, ma'am."

MANY YOUNG MEN WANT TO JOIN STATE TROPPERS

The youth of New Jersey are rarin' to go on the high roads of adventure, via the State Police organization, it was divulged by the recent examination conducted by New Jersey State Police officials at Trenton. Although there were but 26 vacancies in the whole department, 1,500 applications were received from all parts of the state, and about 400 youths appeared at the State House prepared to stay two days, in the hope of finally passing the mental, physical, medical, structural and oral examinations, that are preparatory requisites in joining the ranks of the state troopers. The future troopers are now undergoing the right test at the training school, and within three months will be sent out to protect the rural districts of the state.

NASH

Leads the World in Motor Car Value

15 extra hours on the NASH motor to be certain it is right

The illustration shows two Nash Advanced Six engines hooked together in the great Nash testing room.

One of these motors is driving the other, to limber it up. After a few hours of this, the motor now being driven will limber up another.

Then, after 8 to 10 hours on its own power, it will be taken apart. Bearings, connecting rods and pistons carefully inspected. Valves ground and resealed.

Next, the trained ear of an engine expert will listen to the operation of this motor. When he is sure it is absolutely right, it will be mounted on its chassis. Then another rigid examination, in the car, out on the road. 15 extra hours in all are consumed before the motors shown above are ready for their owners.

How easily Nash could save this time and expense. You would never be able to see the difference.

But every Nash owner knows there is a difference!

There are extra hours of extra care in every Nash, to lift it above the level of the average car—to be certain Nash performance leads the world!

Two are indicted for fraud through the mails, in a "how to get thin" swindle. Fraud is not the worst of such enterprises. Many women who think they are too fat, ruin their vitality seeking to be thin. The way to "reduce" is by regular sleep, deep breathing, reasonable exercise, moderate, wise eating. It is not necessary to be fat or to faint.

New York to Chicago air service is set to the able Coffin-Henderson converted at $1.24 a pound. A lower bid at $1.23 was rejected, pilots flying the machines owned stock in the company.

That should be a reason for giving the contract, instead of refusing it. Pilots owning stock in machines would take care of them and the mail. If any law forbids pilots owning stock in a flying company that law should be changed.

A famous bear named Colonel Broadcaster and fourteen other pedigreed American swine were sent to Greece last week. The mountains that look on Marathon will soon see finer pigs rooting along the beach than they ever saw before.

Poetry is above pigs, but pigs that America sent to Greece will do Greece more good than the poetry that Byron wrote.

Greece has won for herself the freedom that Byron wished her. She couldn't win without foreign help—such a pedigreed pig as Broadcaster.

The Bolshievi are certainly uncouth. They convict three high Russian officials of taking bribes in connection with a big German lumber trust; and what do you suppose happened? also that at such time of letting from nine o'clock in the forenoon until five o'clock in the afternoon, the assessment for benefits and the lands comprised within the Newburgh Drain Special Assessment District will be subject to review.

CLEAN CULTURE AIDS BORER CONTROL WORK

SPRING TOOTH HARROW NOT RECOMMENDED TO FIT PLOWED CORN LAND IN INFESTED AREA.

Great care should be exercised to keep the surface clean in fitting fields for crops when such fields have been plowed to turn under corn stalks, stubble, and corn refuse in an effort to control the European corn borer.

The use of the spring tooth harrow is not recommended after plowing corn land in the infested area as it is apt to bring stubble to the surface. It is essential that a clean job of plowing be done and that the surface be kept clean in fitting the soil for the next crop.

Turning under corn refuse does not kill the borers. After plowing, a large number of them find their way back to the surface. If there is no refuse on the surface to shelter the borer, most of them die while seeking for a hiding place. The weather, small animals, and birds aid in their destruction.

Where standing stalks or stubble are turned under, some means of compacting the soil following the plow should be used. A cultipacker or roller will compact the soil and press the stubble roots into the ground. The cultipacker or roller may be followed with the disk and spike tooth harrow.

The disk harrow should not be set to cut too deeply. The spike tooth harrow should be set with the teeth sloping backwards. These operations will produce a well fitted seed bed and in case any refuse is exposed, it is recommended that it be picked up and disposed of satisfactorily.

Extension bulletin Number 55, "Plowing For European Corn Borer Control," is now available for distribution by the Michigan State College. It contains timely information on plowing and fitting corn land in the borer infested area.

CLEAN CULTURE AIDS BORER CONTROL WORK

SPRING TOOTH HARROW NOT RECOMMENDED TO FIT PLOWED CORN LAND IN INFESTED AREA.

Great care should be exercised to keep the surface clean in fitting fields for crops when such fields have been plowed to turn under corn stalks, stubble, and corn refuse in an effort to control the European corn borer.

The use of the spring tooth harrow is not recommended after plowing corn land in the infested area as it is apt to bring stubble to the surface. It is essential that a clean job of plowing be done and that the surface be kept clean in fitting the soil for the next crop.

Turning under corn refuse does not kill the borers. After plowing, a large number of them find their way back to the surface. If there is no refuse on the surface to shelter the borer, most of them die while seeking for a hiding place. The weather, small animals, and birds aid in their destruction.

Where standing stalks or stubble are turned under, some means of compacting the soil following the plow should be used. A cultipacker or roller will compact the soil and press the stubble roots into the ground. The cultipacker or roller may be followed with the disk and spike tooth harrow.

The disk harrow should not be set to cut too deeply. The spike tooth harrow should be set with the teeth sloping backwards. These operations will produce a well fitted seed bed and in case any refuse is exposed, it is recommended that it be picked up and disposed of satisfactorily.

Extension bulletin Number 55, "Plowing For European Corn Borer Control," is now available for distribution by the Michigan State College. It contains timely information on plowing and fitting corn land in the borer infested area.

We're again around to the time in Plymouth when most of us would ask nothing over the desert of Sahara hunting for a mess of dandelion greens.

REAL "CLASSICS" IN PROSE AND POETRY

Qualities That Render Them Immortal.

In literature the word classic was originally limited to Greek and Latin prose and poetry. It has now come to mean any piece of literature whose quality is such that it has survived for fifty or a hundred years and is by common consent regarded as so good as to be permanent. A literary classic should possess one or all of the following qualities:

1. It should reflect the mode of thought and the customs and manners of its time.

The travels of Herodotus, the dialogues of Socrates, and the novels of Jane Austen are examples.

2. It should be written in a beautiful and striking style.

Lincoln's Gettysburg speech is an example.

3. It should spring from and appeal to a cultivated imagination.

The poems of Keats are an example.

4. It should be a contribution to the thought of the world and should stimulate the thought of the world.

The essays of Ralph Waldo Emerson are an example.

5. It should possess a universal human interest and express all phases of human experience.

The old Testament and Shakespeare's plays are examples.

No one generation can determine what classics it is producing. The final judgment must and will be pronounced by succeeding generations. Walt Whitman and Lincoln were looked on with contempt by many of their most highly educated contemporaries. And yet Whitman's "Drum Taps" and Lincoln's "Gettysburg" will live as long as the English language lives.

Nor does a classic have to be "high-brow stuff." If it is a genuine intelligent and witty picture of a certain aspect of society, even a "best-seller" may become a classic; although I am bound to say that most of our modern best-sellers have very little chance of achieving this immortality.

The "Pickwick Papers," the "Biglow Papers," and "Night With Uncle Remus" were all best-sellers and are all classics. I hope I shall shock nobody by saying that I think "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" is more likely to become a classic than many contemporary novels or stories that are much more pretentious. Artificial and pretentious writing never makes a classic. Sincerity, simplicity and spontaneity are qualities that every true classic—whether in music, painting, prose or poetry—possesses; all others pretending to the titles are counterfeits. Let nobody hoodwink you into supposing that the classics are pompous, stilted, and boring. If they were, nobody would read them—not even your teachers and professors.—Lawrence F. Abbot, in the Outlook.

Plant Societies

The science of botany has been greatly advanced by the development of what may be called the sociology of plants—that is, the study of their relations to one another as well as their adjustments to surroundings. Botanists recognize that plants are not scattered haphazard over the globe, but are organized into definite communities. A pond has its plant society, all the members of which fall into their proper places. A swamp forest consists of trees possessing a certain social relationship and differing from those that form a forest on dry land. There is progression from one social organization of plants to another. A lily pond may give place to a swamp moor, this to a society of swamp shrubs, and this again to a swamp forest of tamarack, pine and hemlock. So societies of plants on dry land succeed one another as the conditions change.

Two Schools of Thought

Fundamentalists believe that the canon of the Scriptures is closed and that revelations are not now made. They also affirm belief in the miraculous happenings which are related in the Scriptures; that they are of divine origin and that the Bible was written through divine inspiration and is not subject to modern interpretation. Modernists believe that revelations are still being made and that it is quite possible according to developments of modern science to account for the so-called miraculous happenings in the Bible. They do not accept such doctrines as that of the virgin birth without question.—Washington Star.

Egg for Radiator

Does your radiator leak? Try white of egg—an old farmer's remedy, which several motorists have used with success. The theory is that after the white of egg is poured into the radiator the hot water carries it to the leak and cooks it there until it becomes virtually hard boiled. The remedy has lasted in some cases for two or three years at a stretch, indicating that the egg does not rot even in that length of time, or else attracts enough sediment to keep the hole plugged up.

Not a Farmerette

Little two-year-old Anita went to the country to visit her grandparents and was taken out to the rabbitry to see the New Zealand Red rabbits. When she saw the red rabbits, her eyes fairly danced and reaching out her little hands and beckoning with her fingers, she exclaimed, "Come on, little cows. Come on, little cows."

AN INTERESTING LETTER FROM BOMBAY, INDIA

Mr. and Mrs. C. Drows have received an interesting letter from Alfred Strassen, who is making a trip around the world with Fischer's orchestra of Kabumzoo. The letter was dated March 15, Bombay, India, and said in part:

"This trip is more like a dream to me, starting at Havana, Cuba, not so far from home, but a beautiful place, then the Panama Canal to Balboa, another place with its queer natives, then to Los Angeles and Frisco, California; then to the Hawaiian Islands, the garden of the Pacific ocean, and Japan, with its display of beautiful silks, sold cheaper than our cotton, and China, where you see thousands of little 'chinks' sleeping on the walks after 12 hours work for about 12 cents a day. Then to the Philippine Islands, made beautiful by the U. S. A.; and then to Bangkok, Siam, where we left our ship and boarded the queer little trains, riding through the dense forests, now and then passing through funny little native villages, with their little straw-roofed huts, and all of the natives standing along the tracks to see some white people. Then finally arriving to Bangkok, to see the beautiful temples and shrines erected by their kings. While in Siam, we played for the king. We were the first jazz band he ever heard. After we finished, some attendants showed us through the palace. Above his throne the ceiling is set in beautiful stones such as diamonds, sapphires and other precious stones.

"From here we went to Batavia, Java. Stayed there four days, and then to Singapore. While there, we saw the really religious ceremonies of the natives.

"From here we went to India, where we are now. Bombay is our last stop in India. We have visited Calcutta and Ceylon, and are here at Bombay six days.

"At most all ports we play at the hotels and get real money, because they seldom hear real dance music. You should see the crowds at the dances. For example, at Batavia they have a big floor built outside in the beautiful big palms, and when you sit on the stage and look over the big mass of people sitting at their tables, the little barefooted black waiters rushing to and fro with beer laden trays, it sure is a sight. At one table you will hear them talk German, and at another French, English or Italian, and all other languages. These people come from all over the world. Some are tourists and others live there. When you finish playing, they do not clap their hands, but holler for more. This is the way it is at every port.

"Here in India the natives go nearly naked, and as you watch the thousands walking down the streets, among them now and then you'll see a holy or sacred cow. This cow is their god, and when they feed it they are doing their god a favor. They burn all their dead, and before burning them, they dip them in the holy Ganges River.

"From here we go through the Suez Canal to Cairo and Jerusalem, Egypt."

MUNICIPAL NOTES BY THE MANAGER

At the meeting of the village commission held Monday evening, Frank K. Learned was appointed a member of the commission to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Carl Shear. Mr. Learned will hold office until the next regular election.

This office realizes that spring work has commenced by the number of calls we have to set grade stakes for sidewalks.

Mr. Reddeman's men are busy making sanitary sewer connections and water taps.

The commission authorized a 6-inch water main to be laid on Holbrook avenue, from the end of the present line to East Union street, and place a hydrant on the end of the line.

Don't forget, we have a village dump that can be used on Saturdays only.

Harry Minthorn is our park man for this season. He is getting the parks cleaned up, and later there will be some flowers planted in the several beds now in place.

We would appreciate it if you would phone or send news items to the Mail office. We are always glad to get them.

feast of the resurrection. We trust that all will be present at the services each Sunday morning.

Tuesday, April 26th, is the feast of Our Lady of Good Counsel, and it will be celebrated with a high mass at 7:30 a. m. and devotions to Our Lady of Good Counsel in the evening at 8:00 o'clock. The Rev. W. A. Graeber of Sturgis, Mich., will deliver the sermon. The neighboring clergy will be present to assist at the services.

The first communion class will begin the first Saturday of May.

Next Sunday is Holy Communion Sunday for the children.

BAPTIST NOTES

The children's exercises at the Baptist church last Sunday evening were very well attended and the program was well rendered. The two short dramas by the older members of the Sunday school reflected credit upon the committee in charge. The singing by Mr. Tracy and the orchestra numbers were well received.

Next Sunday the Rev. Mr. Lane, a young man of twenty-five, who is graduating at the Syracuse (N. Y.) seminary this year, will preach on trial at 10:00 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. All are welcome to these services.

Thursday evening, April 28th, is the annual meeting of the Baptist church and election of officers.

LIVONIA UNION CHURCH NOTES

Easter day proved to be a very enjoyable day, indeed, at the Livonia Union church. The church was well filled both morning and evening. The pastor, Rev. H. O. Lucas, delivered two most inspiring sermons. The choir furnished very fine Easter music. Twelve new members were taken into the church. Two children were baptized.

Miss Dorothy Bentley is the new organist, as Mrs. Edward Richmond, who has been the organist for some time, is away for the summer.

The prayer meeting this week is to be led by Eston Lambert. Mr. Lambert attended this church when a small boy, and is glad to come back a truly converted Christian man and lead the prayer meeting in the church of his childhood days.

Next week the prayer meeting is to be led by R. P. Clark of Detroit. This man is also truly a man of God, and you should not fail to hear him.

We are glad to note that little Willie Wolfson, who has been sick for some time, is some better at this writing.

CATHOLIC NOTES

A card party was given in the Mahogany room last night and a good attendance was present.

The officers of the Nethem club hereby call a special meeting of the club for Monday night to make arrangements for a surprise party.

The pastor wishes to take this occasion to thank all for their generous Easter offering last Sunday.

A very large congregation was present at the services last Sunday morning, and it was indeed very gratifying to learn that so many took advantage of the beautiful morn and rendered thanksgiving to God on the

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES

The Men's Class are to have as the speaker at their next dinner meeting, Rev. Karl W. Miller, D. D., of Franklin, Indiana, former minister of this church.

The Ready Service Class had a delightful meeting at 209 Ann street, on Tuesday, with Mrs. Tallman and Miss Bertha Warner as hostesses.

E. M. Stewart and Mr. Nichol attended the meeting of Detroit Presbytery, at Palmer Park church on Tuesday.

Twenty-five persons were received into membership of this church on Sunday last. The attendance at both church and Sunday-school was large. The floral decorations arranged by H. J. Green, were very effective, while the exercises presented by the Beginners and Primary departments of the Sunday-school proved both interesting and uplifting.

METHODIST NOTES

It is ten years since the present edifice was dedicated, and arrangements are being perfected for the recognition of that event. It was hoped that Rev. F. M. Field, who was pastor when the church was built, could be with us next Sunday, but his own program made this impossible. It is expected, however, that Mr. Field will be present and preach at the morning service one week from next Sunday.

EPISCOPAL NOTES

Easter day was a very happy Sunday at St. John's church. The church was filled, the service was bright, and the singing of the old Easter hymns was hearty and sincere.

Easter lilies and other flowers were massed about the altar and chancel, and about thirty-six pots of Martha Washingtons were placed around the church. As is usual, these were distributed among the children, and sent to the sick and aged parishioners after the afternoon services.

We were pleased to have Rev. W. O. Raymond of Ann Arbor, with us again. He preached a very inspiring and instructive sermon, taking his text from Col. 3:1. "If ye then be risen with Christ, seek those things which are above." Rev. Raymond administered the sacrament of the Holy Communion to a large number, assisted by Rev. Charles Wesley.

The congregation very much appreciated the offertory solo, "Angels Roll the Rock Away," sung by Joseph Tracy, in his usual clear voice, very ably accompanied by Miss Pierson at the organ.

In the afternoon, a special service for children was held, and was attended by a goodly number of children and adults.

The Ladies' Guild meets this week at the parish house. Also, the men of St. John's Club hold their social hour in the parish house, this week.

Took Cocklebur From Lung

A cocklebur, three-quarters of an inch long, was removed from the right lung of Ellis Haiden, twenty-seven, at Poplar Bluff, Mo., at a St. Louis hospital. It was removed with the bronchoscope, an instrument that permits physicians to get at foreign bodies in the lungs and bronchial tubes. Apparently the cocklebur got into Haiden's lung a week before, when he had removed a bunch of them from his mittens with his teeth.

Somnambulist's Luck

The story is told at Concord, N. H., of a somnambulist young man who walked calmly through a plate-glass window, and strangely enough did not receive any cuts or consequence. That he did not walk off into space was because of the fortunate circumstance that the window opens upon a second-story veranda, so that he suffered principally from suddenly emerging, thinly clad, into the chill night air.—Exchange.

We have the authority of the realists and the gloomy philosophers that things are getting worse and worse. Yet somehow the world seems struggling upward.

It has made much improvement in the last eighteen hundred years or so and is liable to make more in the next few years.

every once in a while you hear of a kind deed done by somebody who is not all afflicted with crime motives.

Doubtless there are many kind deeds not recorded all through the world. Many hearts are going up-stream.

It is pretty hard on them at times and the struggle is pretty severe, but taking all in all the company of those who are struggling to make the world better is considerable and they have the cosmic laws in their favor.

Whoever does what is right may be peculiar, but he belongs to a long line of beneficent forebears. He may know that his labor is not wasted.

For there are always a number of people who are going up-stream just as there are many people who are laying down their oars and going with the stream toward the deadly waterfalls of disaster.

There is something in the human breast that inclines men to struggle to push onward and upward, notwithstanding that the stream of things seems to bear them down.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will hold its annual meeting for the election of officers, Thursday, April 28th, at 2:00 p. m., in the Methodist Community Hall.

After the business meeting, reports of officers and the election, a short program will be given, featuring features of which will be a play presented by the dramatic club of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Holly, vocal solos by one of the Holly members, and a reading by Miss Dorothy Hillman.

Members should remember the date and try to be present; also remember that the yearly dues are payable at this time.

Today's Reflections

What has become of the old-time Plymouth smart-neck who used to shout "Skidoo for You?"

You may imagine that an optimist is a man who lives on Easy street, but all of them we know have to work for a living.

The gold rush in Nevada will help the shoe business. People will be taking along a few extra pairs for the return trip.

The Plymouth man who boasts of his wife's temper, her cooking or her good looks, is discounted by other women as being home-broke.

It will certainly be a relief for the printers and proof-readers of this country when that affair in China is settled.

Those new gold diggings will not look right to old-timers when they walk up to the bar and find only ginger ale and lemon pop.

Anyone in Plymouth who is absolutely certain that he can't be wrong about anything, should try his hand at running a newspaper.

The New York hall club seems to be going in for farm relief. They have signed up Wheat and Cobb.

It hasn't been so many years since engagements were longer than most marriages of the present day.

We heard a Plymouth man say yesterday that one reason he is against woman's suffrage is because a woman will go to the polls and kill a man's vote and still eat at the same table with him.

If you think the garden seed catalogue is the biggest of all spring lars, take a look at some of the summer resort folders.

Scientists have discovered that chess was played in England more than 1000 years ago. But we suppose the game is over by now.

How does it come that a lot of congressmen are not clamoring for a trip to China just to "look into conditions?"

A liner ad in the Mail has helped many people to dispose of used articles. The cost is small, but the results are satisfactory.

ASSIGN DATES FOR ACHIEVEMENT DAYS

WOMEN IN MICHIGAN COUNTIES WILL EXHIBIT RESULTS OF GROUP STUDY.

Beginning May 2, Achievement Days are scheduled for 35 Michigan counties. Groups of women in the counties will show some of the work which they have done while taking the courses given by the extension division of Michigan State College.

The projects for the past year have been home furnishing, home management, nutrition, and clothing. Members of the groups enrolled in these courses have made attractive articles of clothing, revised daily menus to meet the special needs of children and invalids, rearranged kitchens to save time and steps, made their homes more attractive by the proper arrangement of furnishings, and have enjoyed the group meetings.

The dates set for Achievement Days are: May 2, Wexford; May 3, Ionia and Genesee; May 4, Livingston and Isabella; May 5, Macomb and Sanilac; May 6, Jackson and Huron; May 7, Branch; May 10, Berrien; May 11, Calhoun and Wayne; May 13, Newaygo; May 14, VanBuren and Muskegon; May 17, Hillsdale; May 18, Washtenaw; May 19, Monroe; May 20, Lenawee; May 21, Barry; May 24, Ottawa and Oceana; May 25, Mason; May 26, Mecosta; May 27, Kent and Clinton; June 1, St. Joseph; June 2, Eaton and Cass; June 3, Saginaw; June 7, Montcalm; June 9, Tuscola; June 10, St. Clair; and June 11, Oakland.

Vermont is said to have a breed of barkless dogs. Now there's hope that some day Plymouth may have a breed of hunkless horn motorists.

THE THEATRE

"LET IT RAIN"

To be exact, Douglas MacLean brings a little more than a mile of smiles to the Penniman Allen theatre, Sunday and Monday, April 24 and 25, with his latest Paramount laugh provoker, "Let It Rain." You see, there are usually one thousand feet of film in a reel and five or six reels combine to make a feature picture. Any bright child will tell you the number of feet in a mile and, as Doug chains a smile for every foot, well, figure it out yourself!

"Let-It-Rain" Riley, leader of the marines on a battleship, is sentenced by his commander to shake hands with Kelly, a girl, every time they meet. While this sounds like a mild punishment for some of the battles they've fought, it really has its disadvantages. For instance, both men fall in love with the same girl. One day they go ashore, but Riley gets there first and takes her to an amusement park. He tells the lady of his love and they are about to go into a fond embrace when the nemesis comes along and insists on shaking hands for fifteen long minutes.

Fun. And how! But in addition to laughs of this sort, "Let It Rain" has a honest-to-goodness story. We see a new phase of marine duty, the guarding of the mails. In fact, some of the picture's funniest and most exciting episodes take place on a runaway mail train, the sole occupants of which are "Let-It-Rain," a wounded buddy, his girl and three bandits!

"THE FLAMING FOREST"

The stirring history of the founding of the great Canadian Northwest Mounted Police, an army of a few who conquered the lawlessness of an almost unexplored empire within the confines of the Dominion of Canada, has been reproduced on the screen by Cosmopolitan and will be seen at the Penniman Allen theatre, Tuesday and Wednesday, April 26 and 27, under the title, "The Flaming Forest."

The picture, directed by Reginald Barker, famous for his direction of great out-of-doors films, is a screen adaptation by Waldemar Young of James Oliver Curwood's immortal story of the establishing of law and order in a territory of three hundred thousand square miles by some three hundred brave men who dared death daily and always "got their man."

The picture, filmed largely in Canada and Montana, is interpreted by a cast of twenty celebrated players with Antonio Moreno and Renee Adoree in the leading romantic roles. Among the other celebrated players of the cast are: Gardner James, Oscar Beregi, Tom O'Brien, Bert Roach, Claire McDowell, Clarence Geldert, William Austin, and little Mary Jane Irving.

"SORROWS OF SATAN"

A film which will do well as a gold-digger and also reap no little praise from those who back really worthwhile productions, is "Sorrows of Satan," which comes to the Penniman Allen theatre, Thursday and Friday, April 28 and 29. Nobody can deny that Griffith, in this latest piece of work, has elicited remarkable performances from the quartet of principal players, and it probably will be conceded generally that his direction of the love scenes in an impoverished neighborhood and his work on these revealing fantastic orgies is masterful.

In swinging from squalor to pomp, depicting wretchedness on one side and passionate orgies on the other, Mr. Griffith reveals himself a master, and in this present offering he has made a photo-drama that excels anything he has done in recent years.

"It is a marvelously beautiful film in which Mr. Griffith has obtained some gorgeous lighting effects.

"The producer draws his contrasts splendidly, reveling being depicted with its wantons and sordid tastes, and then the gentle love of Mavis for Tempest.

"There are vistas in the scenes of reckless luxury that challenge the most discriminating eye. Bright lights glisten during some periods and then soft shadows drift across the beflowered halls.

"Adolphe Menjou is remarkably fine as the Prince who enjoys the ruin of his victims. He is distinctive, almost gentle in setting forth his temptations. Carol Dempster's acting is something exceptional. She presents the portrait of undying hope, and not even in 'Isn't Life Wonderful?' did she give an idea of the talent she displays in this new film. Lya de Putti depicts the siren with a sinuous ease, denoting by her half-closed eyes the nature of the Princess. Another remarkable characterization is that of Ricardo Cortez in the role of Tempest."

BEECH

The Easter services were well attended. The church was beautifully decorated, and Rev. Walker's sermon was very inspiring. Our Sunday-school attendance is increasing each Sunday. This is due to the good work of Mrs. Grant DeFoe.

Mrs. James Glass and Mrs. Fred Woffron are entertaining the Ladies Aid this week.

Mrs. Clyde Ford of Dearborn, visited in Beech, Sunday.

Miss Annabel MacGregor of Detroit, spent the week-end with Mrs. Harold Tuck.

BEECH SCHOOL NOTES

The P. T. A. of Beech held their April meeting in the school, Tuesday evening, April 12th. Mr. Fischer, deputy school commissioner, gave an interesting talk on the functions of the P. T. A.

We are very glad to note that our neighbors in Grand-Dale Gardens are becoming interested.

Several of our members are planning to attend the state convention of the P. T. A., which will be held in Flint, this month.

Helen Jaynes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Jaynes, won the school championship in the spelling contest held recently.

Picked Up About Town

"A man can make it a practice to get up at 5:00 o'clock in the morning," says Dad Plymouth, "but he mustn't expect anybody to believe him if he says he does."

Who ever expected to see the time when a girl would about as soon be cross-eyed as to have a pimple on her face?

Dad Plymouth declares that every husband believes his wife is extravagant, but he would have a awful time proving it.

When the average man reads some verse that he can't understand, he admits it must be real poetry and let's it go at that.

"I've often wondered here of late," says Dad Plymouth, "what became of the old-fashioned storekeeper who used to sell you two of a fifteen-cent article for a quarter."

A small boy just old enough to ask questions can take all the conceit out of a man who thinks he knows it all.

"I've always noticed," comments Dad Plymouth, that the woman whose husband has a face like a catfish, doesn't trust him any farther than another woman trusts a husband who is handsome."

Gentlemen:
That would we do without long distance service? Business would stop immediately. There are thousands of rush orders in stock needed tomorrow in order by long distance phone today. Printers cannot afford to keep their presses waiting for paper. Idle presses, like other manufacturing machinery, are expensive. To secure paper, therefore, on time, we use long distance and thus the telephone does its duty in keeping down the production cost of printed matter. Again, the long distance phone saves in many, many cases, several exchanges of correspondence. Business is expedited, detail work reduced, and serious delays eliminated. Telephone calling has become a necessity. Hours are saved in this way. Billing cost reduced.

AUTOMOBILE THEIVING

The wages of the accessory thief operating in Detroit, according to various police and insurance estimates, far surmount the million dollar mark each year.

Automobiles parked along the curb at night or left in unattended parking lots after darkness are the fruit of the accessory thief's nocturnal ravages.

Tools which industry has devised for the furtherance of mechanical perfection are as valuable to the automobile or accessory thief as they are to the industry itself. A layout of tools was taken from an alleged thief who continued operations between the time of his arrest and trial.

According to William E. Bembridge, an attorney for the Detroit Automobile club, this alleged thief gave over to the police his entire collection of handiwork tools as his total property.

According to police records, a duplicate set of tools was confiscated from the alleged thief's automobile in less than a week after his arrest.

With these massive tools on sale to any citizen at nearly every hardware store, it is not difficult for the accessory thief to equip himself immediately after arrest and resume operations to afford his protection fees. The collection of tools can be carried in the tool compartment of most automobiles without cause of suspicion to the passerby.

"To guard against the return of the thief after a short sentence or fine, to continue his operation," said Howard D. Brown, head of the club's legal department, house bill No. 102 was recently passed by the House at Lansing, and is now in consideration of the judiciary committee of the Senate.

This bill will provide stiffer sentences which should afford sufficient deterrent to reduce theft operations in Detroit.

Certain accessory thieves according to Mr. Bembridge, operate exclusively on tires.

"Of this class," said Mr. Bembridge, "many thieves will take only a new tire. To avoid a theft by this operator, the new car owner may be advised to change his new spare tire as soon as one of the other tires is slightly worn. The numbers may also be copied from the new tire purchased separately or with the new automobile."

"Although it is almost impossible to trace a stolen tire, one might avoid purchasing his own tire back from an illicit tradesman by recording the number as soon as the tire is purchased."

"These weapons are designed to cut the hardest of steel. Very few locks and chains are immune from the thief's drill, hack saw or bolt cutters. Two tons can easily be exerted upon a strand of steel through the leverage of a short instrument."

"Spotlights, radiator emblems and tire covers are listed among the most common thefts. Spare tires are, of course, the most common, but these instances may be guarded against more easily by double locks and chains. Although the lock may not always prevent the theft, it will deter the thief for several minutes and thus in many instances prevent it."

"The thief spots a car at night, locates the patrolman, if possible, and swoops down upon the machine with an accomplice in another automobile, who keeps the motor running while the grab is made. It is doubtful if the average tire theft requires more than thirty seconds."

"As a prevention against the theft of tire covers the owner might well be advised to have inscribed upon the cover his personal monograms or initials. This marks the cover and causes the thief to pass it up in most instances. The small cost of the tire cover precludes the defacing of any peculiar mark which the owner might see fit to inscribe thereon."

"Automatic machine screwdrivers affect the theft of a spotlight in a few seconds. The public might also take precaution to lock closed cars for the prevention of the loss of accessories as well as the car itself. Many of the more costly accessories are bolted through the body with lock nuts on the inner side. If the windows and doors are locked the accessory thief will not take the risk of unlocking the doors for the theft of anything less than the automobile itself."

AROUND ABOUT US

Northville has a traffic officer at the intersection of Main and Center streets. The village has provided him with a uniform, just like a regular city.

The Methodists of Northville, will soon commence the construction of a church house, where meetings, banquets and gatherings of all kinds can be held.

A new city directory of Pontiac gives the population of that city, including Sylvan Lake and Keego Harbor, as 54,855. Oakland county's population is computed as 300,000—an increase of 60,000 in the past two years.

Mr. John J. Tanner of Brighton, has a hymn book that is 98 years old, having been printed in Boston in 1829. Although small in size, it contains more than 300 hymns and psalms printed in very small type without music.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Allen and family, late of Plymouth, have moved to Sandusky, Sanilac county, where they have purchased a home. Mrs. Allen is a former Brighton girl, and a sister of Mrs. John Strick, Brighton Argus.

Within two weeks, between 150 and 200 men, the majority of whom live in Redford, will be at work on the half-million dollar combination theatre, store and office building, now under construction in Redford, with John H. Patterson of Plymouth in charge.

Charles F. Judson, administrator of the Charles Dorr estate, closed the deal recently for the 222 acre farm which lies just this side of Chilson, and has some frontage on Crooked Lake. The Burroughs Adding Machine Co. of Detroit, are the purchasers, and it is their intention to make a sort of recreation park of it, we are informed. It will be another one of the big developments in the Brighton area, all of which attracts trade to this city.—Brighton Argus.

Frank Morse of Novi township has petitioned the circuit court for permission to sell an 80-acre farm in Novi township, of which he was left the life use by the late John W. Morse, whose death occurred in 1903. The petitioner says that the land is no longer profitable as a farm, owing to the high valuation and taxes, making it a liability rather than an asset. He prefers to sell the place and have the proceeds invested for his use.—Milford Times.

PERRINSVILLE

The Easter program was very good, and there was a large attendance. Mrs. Belle Baehr and son, Clinton, called on Lyda Bills at Wayne, Sunday.

About twenty attended the Ladies' Aid Society meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Woods, north of Ann Arbor, Saturday. The ride was beautiful, and everyone enjoyed the day. Mr. and Mrs. Woods are royal entertainers.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Theuer of Fordson, attended Easter services here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Hanchett of Ford road, and Mr. and Mrs. Erlend Bridge and family of Plymouth, spent Sunday evening at George Baehr's.

John Roddenburg is the proud owner of a Hupmobile sedan.

There is strong talk of widening Middle Belt road.

Misses Marion Higley, and Margaret Kubic attended sunrise services at the First Baptist church, Detroit, Easter Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Kubic and daughter, Margaret, were supper guests of the Sells family in Detroit.

The Modern Sink Electrified!

A delightfully easy, satisfactory way of washing dishes—by electricity—has arrived at last. It is totally new and extraordinarily effective—this unique method perfected by Kohler engineers in their determination to give American women the modern sink.

In the KOHLER ELECTRIC SINK the dishes are washed by countless jets of hot water spurting from a central "spray tower." These stinging jets strike the dishes from every angle and are dashed back by the walls and cover of the compartment. They wash every bit of the surface of every dish—spotlessly, specklessly clean.

The dishes do not move. Nothing can happen to chip or crack them. And the whole operation is so simple, and the mechanism so safe, that even the most inexperienced operator can be trusted to do the right thing the very first time.

In addition to offering you the perfected electric dish-washer, the KOHLER ELECTRIC SINK presents a score of other advantages: such as the unusual depth of the sink proper, and the waste control for holding water; the swinging mixing faucet; the removable strainer cups for easy disposal of debris; the rinsing hose with its specially designed, slender nozzle; and the plated dish-washer cover—a perfect extra drain-board.

Most important is the fact that the KOHLER ELECTRIC SINK is a permanent, built-in fixture, free from the shortcomings common to "portable" appliances; also that the whole sink, dish-washing compartment and all, is made in one piece, without a joint or crack, and covered all over with the beautiful, sanitary white enamel for which Kohler Plumbing Fixtures have always been noted.

Come in and let us demonstrate for you the new electric sink.
