MOTHERS AND DAUGHTERS BANQUET

OVER THREE HUNDRED ATTEND BANQUET SPONSORED BY CAMP FIRE GIRLS AND GIRL RESERVES.

Exactly 310 tickets were printed for the third annual mother and daughter banquet, sponsored by the Camp Fire Girls and Girl Reserves, and by Wednesday, the day of the banquet, there were numerous calls for tickets and none available. Practically every seat in the auditorium was filled, which means that almost all of those who bought tickets came to the banquet. The girls are very much pleased by the support of the women in Plymouth as shown by their attendance and by their willingness to take part in the program.

Mrs. Martha Ray, personnel worker with the girls in the Highland Park High school, was the main speaker of the evening. She has a fine personality and is an easy and interesting speaker. Her talk was not one purely for entertainment, but was full of ideas her audience could carry home and think about for some months to come. Mrs. Shattuck, as toastmistress, presided with an easy graciousness, and introduced the speakers with the wit and humor that her friends know as characteristic of her. Virginia Giles presented to the mothers the ideals of the Camp Fire Girls; Ruth Hamilton those of the Girl Reserves. Each speaker could be heard over the whole dining room and each presented her subject clearly and forcefully. These girls, together with Katherine Wilcox, who spoke about "The Mothers of 1827 and 1927," and who brought out the idea that mother love is a force that is extending itself into community life, show by their work that they have the qualifications for community leadership when they are graduated. Mrs. Evered Jolliffe, dealing with "The Daughters of 1827 and 1927," showed that human nature does not change and that problems today were those of yesterday. She indicated some of the characteristics that are emphasized today, such as good sportsmanship, which were perhaps not emphasized in 1827.

Taken all together, the program was one of unusual merit, and we hope that the mothers of 1927 will respond as generously in helping with the program and in their attendance as they did this year.

The Baptist Ladies' Aid society is to be congratulated on their organization and the H-Y boys for their speed in serving; the two organizations working together consumed only eight minutes from the time the first plate was served until the last.

BLOMBERG-DU BOIS

Halvar Blomberg and Miss Ruth D. DuBois were united in marriage at the groom's home, 678 Ann street, Saturday morning, May 14, at 11:30 o'clock. Rev. A. K. MacRae performing the ceremony. Kenneth Anderson acted as groomsmen, while Mrs. Anna Anderson was bridesmaid. During the ceremony, Mrs. Bessie Little sang "O Promise Me." Mrs. Little also rendered the wedding march.

Following the ceremony a wedding repast was served the guests.

During the afternoon, the bride and groom left for a wedding trip to Washington, Philadelphia, New York City, and other eastern points. The groom is employed at the Ford Waterford plant. They will make their home in Plymouth.

FISHER-VANDERHOEF

A very pretty occasion took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Fisher, Thursday evening, May 12th, at 7:30 o'clock, when their daughter, Flossie, was united in marriage to Milton Vanderhoef, son of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Vanderhoef of Marion, Mich.

The ring ceremony was used by Rev. Paul R. Havens of Pontiac. The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Vanderhoef of Birmingham.

After the ceremony, a bountiful dinner was served at the bride's home in Robinson subdivision. Guests at the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Vanderhoef, brother and sister-in-law of the groom; Mrs. Belle Fisher, grandmother of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Jeddies and Rev. and Mrs. Paul Havens.

The bride is well known in Newburg and Plymouth. Her many friends wish her much joy and happiness for a long married life. The couple will leave next week for Marion, Mich., where they expect to make their home.

The board of directors of the new Mayflower hotel purchased a passenger elevator for the hotel Tuesday.

The hour from ten to eleven will be given over to the arrival of the crowd with the renewal of acquaintances. At eleven o'clock the annual address to the eighth grade class will be given, followed by the presentation of the diplomas. The basket picnic dinner will follow the commencement exercises.

A program of field sports, consisting of races and other contests, will begin at one thirty. Suitable prizes will be given to the winners of these contests. The program of field events will be sent out next week and teachers are requested to send all the entries to the commissioner's office. Prizes will be given to schools that come in the most original and attractively decorated autos or trucks.

DEARBORN MINSTRELS WELL RECEIVED

ENTERTAINMENT WAS GIVEN UNDER AUSPICES OF MEN'S CLUB OF ST. JOHN'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH. WELL ATTENDED.

The entertainment given by the Dearborn Darktown Minstrels, composed largely of members of the Men's club of Christ Episcopal church, Dearborn, under the auspices of the Men's club of St. John's Episcopal church, at the Pennington Allen theatre last Friday evening, was one of the best of the kind that has ever been given in Plymouth and was very largely attended. The songs were new and well rendered, and the vocal soloists were assisted by a well trained chorus. The end men pulled off a few good jokes on local citizens, that brought out much laughter.

A feature that pleased the audience was the exhibition of old time dancing in costume, and Henry Ford's Old Time Orchestra. The dances were executed with the grace and daintiness of ye olden days. This part of the program was under the direction of Benjamin B. Lovett.

The Men's Club of St. John's Episcopal church will realize a neat sum from the proceeds of the show.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ford were present for the entertainment.

After the show, the members of the cast were given a lunch at the St. John's Parish House. The Men's Club of St. John's church are very appreciative of all the assistance that was given them in putting on this entertainment.

A GOOD SUM RAISED FOR FLOOD SUFFERERS

Plymouth citizens have contributed liberally for the relief of the Mississippi Valley flood sufferers, in the campaign that has been carried on here under the direction of George H. Robinson, president of the Chamber of Commerce, which organization sponsored the movement. Mr. Robinson reports about $950 has been contributed, and sent to the proper authorities, at the time of our going to press.

Mr. Robinson, as chairman, wishes to express his appreciation to all those who have so liberally and willingly contributed to this fund, and to those who have assisted in any way in carrying on the work of solicitation.

Mrs. Anna Hayes of Detroit, is visiting Mrs. Carl Helde.

Miss Ethel Smitherman of Ann Arbor, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gayde.

Mrs. F. D. Schrader left Monday morning for a motor trip through the east, accompanying her sister, Mrs. Bert Norton, and Mrs. Brown, of Rochester, Mich. They will attend the graduation of Mrs. Norton's daughter, Miss Nellie Norton, at Penn Hall college at Chambersburg, Pa.

MANY ENTRIES IN ESSAY, BIRD HOUSE AND POSTER CONTEST SPONSORED BY KIWANIS CLUB.

The bird house, essay and poster contest which was sponsored by the Kiwanis Club, and which has been in progress in the public schools for the past three weeks, was culminated last Friday evening, when prizes were awarded the lucky contestants, at the High school auditorium. Dr. F. B. Hoyer, president of the Kiwanis Club, presided over the program. During the afternoon, the judges had passed upon the essays, bird houses and posters, and found it no small task to decide which was best from among the entries which had been submitted.

Preceding an address by Mrs. C. Munger, president of the State Audubon Society, the High school band under the direction of Mr. Dykhouse, band instructor, rendered a short program that was greatly appreciated by all present.

Mrs. Munger, who is an authority on bird life, illustrated her lecture with colored slides, and it not only was intensely interesting, but entertaining as well.

SCHOOL CENSUS BEING TAKEN IN PLYMOUTH

Mrs. Martha Egge has commenced the taking of the school census in this school district. The work is to be completed this month. In order that the census be accurate and cause as little trouble as possible, the following suggestions are given:

All parents are requested to answer correctly the information asked for, and this information concerns the birth date, birth place, and present age of each child between the ages of five and twenty years. Hence no child born on or before May 31, 1907, and no child born on or following June, 1922, is entitled to a place on the 1927 school census; but any child born between the dates of June 1st, 1907, and May 31st, 1922, inclusive, is entitled to a place on the school census of 1927.

Parents will assist the enumerator very much by having this information at hand when called upon. Parents are urged to have this information ready.

Mrs. George Hunter, son, Will, and daughter, Jean, and Mr. and Mrs. William Squires and daughters, Marlan Jean and Grace Agnes, were Saturday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wagenschutz and family.

ROTARY CLUB PRESENT MEMBER WITH GIFT

The Plymouth Rotary Club held a very interesting meeting last Friday. The time was given over to the giving of reports of Round Table discussions at the recent convention at Mt. Clemens. Dr. B. E. Champe gave a report on Boys' Work; John S. Dayton on Rotary Education; W. T. Conner on Classifications; and Carl G. Shear on Business Methods. The talks were all splendid.

A pleasing feature of the luncheon hour, was the presentation of a fine travelling bag to Rotarian E. C. Hough, by Past President B. E. Champe, on behalf of the members of the club. Mr. Hough will leave next Sunday for Ostend, Belgium, where he goes to attend the International Rotary Convention, and the gift was made as an expression of good wishes of the members for a pleasant journey and a safe return home. Mr. Hough expressed his deep appreciation of the gift and the thoughtfulness of his fellow Rotarians. Mrs. Hough and his daughter, Miss Athalie, will accompany him to Europe.

CAR HITS TRAIN, DRIVER KILLED

TWO OTHERS INJURED IN CRASH AT PERE MARQUETTE CROSSING ON GOLDEN ROAD EARLY SUNDAY MORNING.

Another fatal automobile accident occurred at the Golden road crossing of the Pere Marquette R. R., about four o'clock last Sunday morning, when an automobile skidding on the wet pavement, wrecked itself against the side of a moving freight train, resulting fatally for one man and seriously injuring two others. All three lived in Detroit.

George Robinson, aged 24 years, driver of the car, was killed, apparently instantly. Ralph Sauve, aged 19, and Thomas Pennell, his companions, were seriously injured, although hopes are held out for their recovery.

The party were on their way to Erin's Lake, when the accident happened. Half the train was across the intersection, when the automobile crashed against it, rear end foremost, the car having swung half way around on the pavement when Robinson turned the wheel and jammed down the brakes a few yards from the train, according to the injured men.

Shortly after the accident, a passing motorist found Sauve, and took him to the hospital at Ann Arbor, where he also notified the police. After finding the injured man, he attempted in vain to get in touch with the authorities at Plymouth by telephone, he said.

Before the arrival of the police from Ann Arbor, at the scene of the accident with an ambulance, a second motorist had found Pennell and Robinson's body. Pennell was brought to Dr. Patterson's office in this village, where he was given surgical attention, and he was later removed to the Ann Arbor hospital. It is estimated some little time must have elapsed before the second motorist found him.

Robinson's body was removed to the Schradler Bros. Funeral Home, and later taken to his home in Detroit. He is survived by his widow and a four-year-old son.

Justice Phoebe Patterson empaneled a coroner's jury, who viewed the remains, but it is not likely that an inquest will be held.

DETROITERS ENTERTAIN LOCAL KIWANIS CLUB

Plymouth Kiwanians were treated to a diversified program at the regular meeting last Tuesday noon, when John B. Hulbert, chairman for the day, presented two very able exponents of song, humor and business.

Russell Reeder of the Fidelity Trust Company, Detroit, entertained with several vocal selections that were enthusiastically received by the Kiwanians. Mr. Reeder has a delightful voice, and his appearance Tuesday was the second in Plymouth this week. He was a member of the minstrel troupe from Dearborn, that played a benefit for St. John's Episcopal church at the Pennington Allen theatre last week Friday evening.

Following Mr. Reeder's number, Chairman Hulbert introduced D. B. Fritz of the trust department, Fidelity Trust Company, who interspersed business and humor in a manner that convulsed his hearers. Mr. Fritz covered a multitude of topics pertinent to the conduct of a trust business, including administration of estates, wills, executor's duties, inheritance taxes, living trusts and other points. A vein of humor carried throughout his talk, lightened the seriousness of Mr. Fritz's address and made it doubly enjoyable. Following his talk, he invited questions from the floor, which brought out many important points.

President Hoyer and committee chairman of the bird house contest announced the prize winners in the various sections, a report of which is given in another column of this paper. Announcement was also made regarding the "Band Instrument" show to be given at the Pennington Allen theatre, June 2 and 3, proceeds of which will be devoted to outfitting the members of the high school band with uniforms. This is a meritorious undertaking and the public is urged to assist by purchasing tickets from members of the Kiwanis club. The feature film prepared for this occasion is "Knock-out Riley," one of the funniest releases of the year.

Mrs. Earl Stevens and son, Jack, of Detroit, are visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Olsen.

GOOD EXAMPLES.

Every day now sees new cars on our streets and highways. Not every one but a great many of them are operated by new drivers, men or women or boys or girls just learning to drive. This means the experienced driver will have to exert a little more precaution. But that is easy. And it ought also to be easy to remember that these new drivers are going to follow the example of those who already know how to operate a car; they are going to do what they see the experienced drivers doing. Here is our chance to get them started right by setting them good examples. Use the hand signals on all occasions; be courteous to others on the road; be patient and give the other fellow the benefit of the doubt. All of which will be copied by the new drivers—they learn by imitating others. You'll get your reward through having helped to clear the highways of careless and reckless and inconsiderate drivers. And that in itself is an abundant reward.

OLD KING APPLE.

It looks now as if the apple is going to remain king of fruits in these old United States. We have a bulletin from Washington to the effect that the apple has escaped early frosts in practically every section of the country, and that from present indications we are in for a bumper crop this year. There have been many attempts made to snatch the crown away from the apple as America's most popular fruit, but all of them have failed. Florida and California have offered a strong competitor in the orange, and while its sale increases annually, it is not as great a favorite in the country as a whole as the apple has always been. Peaches, plums and grapes have their supporters, and housewives who do their own canning—there are still thousands of them—would feel lost if these fruit crops should fail. But ask any Plymouth housewife what she considers the best all-around fruit for domestic purposes and in almost every instance she will favor the apple.

You can't grow oranges everywhere, but it is possible to grow apples almost anywhere. And the average family can, without much expense, have enough apple trees around the premises to produce sufficient fruit for its own consumption. Put a few around the edge of the garden or the yard. They won't be long in reaching fruit-bearing size, and even though you happen to strike a poor variety as to bearing quality, you'll still be more than repaid in shade.

TOOK ALL DELIGHT FROM TRIP ABROAD

Traveler Writes Feelingly of Passport Picture.

A real gentleman came in the other day (he is my friend forever now; I have great confidence in his taste) and asked why not more stuff about that trip abroad. "I read every word of it," he swore glibly, and I almost believed him. Those things "get to you" easier as you get older. The excuse I made for not doing more of it was the fear of boring an already too indulgent public.

But this perfect gentleman had hardly left the office when another man came in to ask about the trip abroad. He was going over in May. How about it? He began to talk about the passport and the passport picture. I haven't fully got over the shock of the latter yet. And it seems such a little thing, too—that passport picture.

The trouble with the passport picture is, or one of them, that the photographer gentleman isn't out to flatter you. He doesn't "touch you up" any. You just sit there in the picture like a solemn or grinning Hindu idol, unregenerate, and in all your unadorned awfulness, unrelieved by shadow, without excuse and without hope in the world. Your skull bulges in the wrong places, your ears stand out and your bumps proclaim gluttony, licentiousness and avarice. Your expression is that of an unrecalled rooster when chased, startled and distracted.

I shall never forget it. I looked upon the passport picture after the shooting was over and a perceptible shudder ran through me. Only by superhuman fortitude did I show it to a friend of forty years' standing in the office and with the bitter cry: "This can't look like me!" But he was relentless.

"It's exactly the way you look!" I gazed at it for a long time and I finally said with something like a sigh: "Anyhow, God loves me!"

And that is what you have to go through to get the unflattering passport picture and to get over it before embarking on the great deep. It has taken away much of my desire to go to Europe again. If that has to be done over again. And I suppose, that must have been exactly the way I looked to the Europeans! They are certainly a polite race. Nobody said anything.

Of course, a man ought to forget himself; if he is out for a holiday, and just sit back and enjoy life. He should forget family, and friends, and early training, and the office, and business, and think of himself as a young millionaire poet and novelist tasting the nectar of life from the golden cup of the gods so freely held to his lips. And this I came very near doing. Once about a hundred and fifty miles from land, the remembrance of the passport picture somehow rolled off of my heart and buried itself fifty fathoms deep and I suffered a sea change into something new and strange, and began to take notice of a few of the companions de voyage—mostly feminine.—A. J. R., in the Minneapolis Journal.

Ingenious Advertising

The city of Berlin is proud of the stage settings provided for performances of notable works at its civic opera and is turning them to advertising advantage. In one of the windows of the large city information bureau which the municipality maintains near Potsdamer platz some especially good sets are reproduced in miniature. The brilliantly illuminated tiny stages with diminutive reproductions of the settings all in place inevitably attract the eye of the passerby. Realism is added to the scene by a Lilliputian figure or two of characters from the opera being advertised.

Getting the Days Placed

Boater, age three, is trying to learn the days of the week.

Almost every morning his first question is, "Mother, what kind of a day is this?"

He also has a habit of expressing his views in the form of wishes. Recently his mother found him in possession of her fountain pen. When she took it from him he studied a moment and then said: "I wish I had a mother what would not take pens away from people when they want to mark on magazines."

Tooth Caused Rattle

An annoying rattle that had baffled automobile mechanics, both professional and amateur, caused Harry A. Sattler of Rye, N. Y., to have his new car overhauled. Nothing wrong was found, but the rattle persisted. Then, stepping into his machine one day, Mr. Sattler noticed a bit of gold glittering in the sun. It proved to be a peg attached to a perfectly good false tooth which had lodged in a cavity beneath the floor board. When the tooth was extracted the rattle stopped.

Bear Suffocated in Tree

After sawing through a large cedar tree stump near Revelstoke, B. C., two ranchers were amazed to discover that they had decapitated a bear. Evidence showed that bruin had entered through a hole at the roots of the tree. Scratching the rotting wood inside, the animal released enough chips to block the hole and cut off his air supply. The body was in a rolled-up posture, suggesting that he had been attempting a turn when he died through suffocation.

No Bath House.

"Have some whiskey?"
"No, thanks, I never touch anything but water."

"Well, I'm not asking you to wash your hands in it."

A liner ad in the Mail will help you to dispose of that piece of used furniture.

Sun and Fire Symbols

There are to be found occasionally upon the walls of old brick houses, at about the line of division between the first and second stories, flat pieces of iron 5 or 6 inches in length and shaped somewhat like the letter "S."

The use of these articles was clearly brought from England, where it is still continued and there is a curious origin and meaning attached to them.

The figure in question is an early symbol of the sun. It is still used in Herefordshire and other parts of England. There one is informed that the reason for the particular form of these trons is that they were made thus in order to protect the house from fire as well as from collapse.

MUNICIPAL NOTES
BY THE MANAGER

The fire department was called to put out a fire at Fred Hietzer's, 1059 Holbrook, last week Thursday. It was only a roof fire, and was soon under control.

The village commission ordered all outside fire calls hereafter to cost $75. This will include a radius of six miles from the village hall. Every property owner's name within this radius, must be on file with the village manager, and must leave a certificate of deposit or certified check with the village manager. Many of our outside calls have not been paid for in the past, forcing us to do this. It is understood that people not making deposit do not wish fire protection, as the money has to be paid in advance, before answering any calls.

There was a special meeting Wednesday, April 18th, at 7:00 p. m., to decide on the budget.

The village seems to be getting cleaner. We did not have as much rubbish to collect this year as last year.

A CLEVER SCHEME TO GET MONEY.

Mrs. Sarah Talaisero of Detroit, was in Justice Phoebe Patterson's court last Saturday night, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses and larceny. She pleaded guilty and was given a fine of $50 and costs, or 90 days in the Detroit House of Correction.

It seems that a week ago last Saturday, members of the Salvation Army who conduct services on the street on Saturday evenings, became aware of the fact that someone else had been taking up a collection for them, who was not authorized to do so, following the band concert and during the religious service. Last Saturday night, one of the members of the army band saw a strange woman wearing the regulation bonnet of the Salvation Army, emerging from one of the business places, and she was taken into custody by Officer Fred Statule. She had collected a little over seven dollars in a tambourine which she carried for this purpose.

The woman had brought the Salvation Army bonnet and tambourine to Plymouth in a handbag. Ensign O'Cheyne made the complaint.

One of the Collection
Edsel Ford, who is a great collector of automobile anecdotes, said the other day:
"A man once went to the Blank headquarters to try a Blank car. A stock car was brought round and a demonstrator drove the man 20 miles out into the country. Then the car stopped. The demonstrator got down to see what the trouble was.
"My goodness me!" he said.
"What is it?" was the demand.
"They forgot to put a drop of gasoline in the tank," said the demonstrator. "The car has done these 20 miles on its reputation alone."

Recording Land Sales
The Torrens system has been described as follows: It is a system of registration of titles to land (as distinct from registration of deeds). It was introduced into South Australia by the Real Property (or Torrens) Act (laws of 1857-58), drafted by Sir Robert Richard Torrens (1814-84). The essential feature of the Torrens system is the guaranty by the government of properly registered titles. The system has been generally adopted in Australia and British Columbia, and in its original or a modified form in some other countries, including some states of the United States.

Cow Invades Movie Theater
Escaping from the yards of the railway station at Woking, England, recently, a cow entered a moving picture theater and stood in the front row of the main floor during an orchestra rehearsal. Apparently tired of the music it left by the emergency exit, walking carefully down 20 steps until it startled a woman attendant, who locked the door. The bossy was unable to turn around and remained trapped on the stairs until released just as the picture program was started.

TEMPLE THEATRE
Detroit, Michigan

Dr. George Rockwell, one of the funniest men in American vaudeville, headlines the bill at B. F. Keith's Temple Theatre, starting Sunday matinee, May 22. Dr. Rockwell offers his famous medical classic, "Quack, Quack, Quack," in which he expounds his own theory of how to live 150 years, touching on balanced rations, vitamins, cut and grow thin, coffee drinking, etc., and treating it all in a delicious comedy vein. Others billed: Marie Vero, the school girl coloratura, a sixteen year old New York girl regarded as the vocal "find" of the generation; Gordon Bostock's mystery play revue, "Haunted," a burlesque of Broadway's mystery successes with a corking good cast of nine players including Florence Crowley and William Wilson; Walter and Paul Briant in their famous pantomime comedy classic, "The Dream of a Moving Man;" Mitchell and Dove in "Hokum A La Class;" Dixie Hamilton, personality comedienne in "A Syncopeated Cocktail;" the Merediths, unspoiled aristocrats of danceland; the Sterlins, and the new screen subjects.

the young people will be present at this dance, as well as their friends.

A very cordial invitation is hereby extended to all the young people to be present at the Nethem meeting next Tuesday night. This means all the young folks. To date each meeting shows an increase of membership and interest, but more will be done if each person becomes affiliated. Do not forget to be present next Tuesday night. The club meets every Tuesday night. The dance to be given for the Nethem baseball team will be announced later and will be taken care of by the baseball team itself, receiving the support and assistance of the club.

The ball team plays the strong Gamard team next Sunday at 3:00 o’clock at Heeneys ball park. This is the opening game on the boys’ own grounds. A cordial invitation is extended to all to witness and cheer for the home team.

A number of friends of the pastor have presented him with a beautiful fifty-foot flag pole, which will be erected this week and blessed on Memorial day. The pastor and parish hereby gratefully acknowledge this beautiful gift, and we will now feel proud of our grounds; the possessor of the emblem of our faith, the cross, and of our patriotism, the flag. The little brick church around the corner now exemplifies loyalty to God and duty to country. This gift is a saving to the parish of one hundred and fifty dollars.

We were sorry to learn of the illness of George Elliott, who has undergone an operation at Providence hospital, Detroit. It is, however, reported that he is on the gain and will soon be home.

Congratulations are being extended to Mr. and Mrs. Sid. Donovan upon the birth of a daughter, Mary Patricia. The first communion class is now in progress and it is hoped that all will be faithful to the instructions and be present each Saturday.

Next Sunday is Holy Communion Sunday for the children. Rev. F. J. McQuillan called at the rectory this past week.

LIVONIA UNION CHURCH NOTES

It is too late to clean house at the Livonia Union church. The church has been thoroughly cleaned the past week. The Aid Society room on the second floor takes on a splendid appearance with new linoleum, new window shades and new ruffled marquisette curtains. Next week this room is to be fully furnished, and will have several rockers, a davenport, center tables, electric table lamp; also plenty of good reading matter. This room is to be used for young people’s meetings, Aid Society meetings and social functions of the church.

The box social held last Wednesday evening, was a splendid success. $33.80 was added to the treasury. The next meeting of the Aid Society will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Seiting on the Schoolcraft road, Thursday afternoon, May 20th. A cordial welcome is extended to all.

We are pleased to say that our pastor, Rev. H. O. Lucas, has been appointed visiting hospital minister of the Detroit Council of Churches. This church is unanimous in the belief that the Detroit Council of Churches has made a wise choice in selecting Rev. Lucas for this position, as he is a man of congenial, pleasing personality; in short, we would say we truly believe he will be the right man in the right place.

Yes, we can finance you, too. We have a financing plan that we believe will interest you. The monthly payments are small. Come in and talk it over with us. Why pay rent when you might be paying the money on your own home?

CHILDREN OF DETROIT GREET WELSH PUPILS

MESSAGE IN ANSWER TO RADIO FROM WALES.

The Detroit News contained the following article Wednesday evening that will be of interest to Plymouth people, as it concerns the daughter of a former Plymouth boy, Robert Holloway, and granddaughter of Lewis Holloway, of this place:

"Let us, the boys and girls of America, on this Good Will day, May 18th, 1927, send to you, the children of Wales and of all the world a greeting asking you to become our international friends. We have interests in common in our play and work, and we are also reaching for the same goals of physical, spiritual and mental growth. Therefore, let us work in friendship toward these goals."

"This message, written by Doris Holloway, 5611 Lawton avenue, an eighth grade pupil in the McGraw school, was chosen from the many efforts of Detroit school children as the most fitting reply from Detroit to the wireless greetings sent out to all nations by the children of Wales. It was wired Tuesday to New York city, from which city it is to be sent by radio or cable to the boys and girls of Wales."

"Good Will day commemorates the opening of the first conference at The Hague in 1899. Beginning in 1912, the children of Wales every year have sent greetings to children of other nations. The Detroit reply was sponsored by the Detroit Council for Education in International Relations, the work in the Detroit schools being carried on by student members of the council attending the Detroit Teachers' college."

Providing Beauty

It is delightful to have something done without regard to the returns to the doer, to have something spontaneous, ample, gloriously useless; thousands spent for the mere pleasure of spending it on others; to have the savings of years bottled in a flask, and then pour it forth on feet and head . . . and then break the flask. To some it seems like a criminal waste to put all the skill and labor of a lifetime on a few feet of canvas, while the painter can scarcely get bread, and then give that canvas to the world. But it will impart pleasure to thousands. . . . Pour out your money on the beautiful. Encourage the workers in the beautiful. . . . You who are rich ought to provide the beautiful for yourselves and for the poor.—Charles F. Deems, in "Religion in Beauty."

SCHOOL NOTES

J. Burns Fuller, principal of Roosevelt High school, Ypsilanti, gave a very interesting talk to the Junior-Senior assembly last Wednesday. His theme was on morals and character-building.

The fashion show under the direction of Helen A. Cornelius of the J. L. Hudson Company, was given in the auditorium, Monday afternoon, May 16th.

The Seniors repeated their play, "The Man on the Box," Wednesday evening, May 18th, at 7:30 o'clock, in the auditorium. The proceeds will be used for new scenery.

The Junior-Senior banquet will be held on May 20th, at 6:30 o'clock, in the auditorium of the High school.

The new uniforms for the band are to be furnished by the Kiwanians.

Camp Fire Girls

Camp Latohi, whose guardian is Miss Smith, sold more tickets for the mother and daughter banquet than any other camp.

Thursday, May 5th, the girls and guardians of all three camps met at the school house at 6:30 a. m. and biked to the tourists' camp for breakfast. A fire was built and all the girls enjoyed the bacon and eggs cooked over the camp fire. Everyone left the tourists' camp at 7:30 for school.

Eighth Grade History.

Miss Johnson's eighth grade history class has been studying "The Westward Movement" and with that as a background have worked out a project on the sand table. The object was to set up a night encampment of immigrants crossing the prairies.

The boys made the covered wagons and the girls costumed some dolls in the dress of that period. For reference material the school library was used.

Manual Training.

In connection with the bird house contest Friday night the manual exhibit was held.

Clyde Blank has very nearly constructed a solid walnut library table, the value of which will be almost eighty dollars.

Band.

The band played before the bird house contest Friday night and during the exhibit.

Irene Livingston.

Grade Notes.

In Miss Stader's room the children are very much interested in their three bear projects. At four o'clock after the exhibition they gave a puppet show for their parents. For nature study the children went for a walk and afterward discussed what they saw.

Miss Willmore's class will start in their "tree" primer. The children made sewing cards for the exhibition.

The children in Mrs. Root's B-first have finished their color book and their Ellison sent work books. They have illustrated the books themselves. They have also made a border of flowers which consists of sweet peas, sweet William, wild rose and azalia. They made a chain of two different colored pansies for the room. All this is for the exhibition Friday.

Group one has just finished their primer and are now reading the "Child's Library" primer.

Mrs. Harmon's second grade has finished their bird books. The 2-A are reading their first lesson in geography. They studied about wheat. They planted some wheat and are watching it grow.

Miss Holt's second and third grade are working on bird books.

Alva Rowland was a visitor in Miss Dixon's room last week.

The children in Mrs. Bird's 5-a had their spelling test Monday and nearly everyone raised his score.

Emerson Snyder, from Pontiac, entered the 4-a grade in Miss Orr's room.

In Miss Hallahan's sixth grade Robert Ererley has been absent two weeks because of illness. In the spelling test this week Margaret Cline received the highest score.

Several boys from the room made bird houses which were exhibited Friday. Twenty people in our room will receive pins from the Palmer company.

Baseball

Friday, May 13th, was lucky for Plymouth, inasmuch as she won the Wayne-Plymouth game, with a score of fourteen and two. The teams played under the disadvantage of a poor field. Although the teams were fairly matched, there were many errors, caused by the condition of the field, which were not all the faults of the players.

The Wayne fellows played hard and well, but our boys were able to win, adding another victory to Plymouth's glory.

The line-ups were as follows: Plymouth—Collins, R. Lyke, Foster, L. Simmons, Levandowski, Brady, Gebhardt, G. Simmons, W. Doudt, Wayne—Wilson, B. Bird, Glover, Doltsky, Tyler, Janner, E. Bird, Ross.

Today, Friday the 20th, let us go to Ypsilanti and help our team win from Roosevelt. They won the first game, and if we have the backing, we can win the second game. Everyone be there!

Saturday, May 21st, at Ypsilanti, the big regional track-meet is to be held. Plymouth will enter and will need the support of many Plymouthites. Remember the day, Saturday, May 21st, and let's go.

Senior Trip to Ann Arbor

Last Friday, the seniors, as has been the custom, visited the Physics Department of the University of Michigan. The tour was directed by Mr. Dykelouse, Plymouth's Physics instructor. Almost the entire class went, and we arrived at 12:00 o'clock. At 1:00, we all met at the Michigan Union, from where we proceeded to the Physics building.

We went through in two groups in order to avoid interruption of the students working. Of the many worthwhile experiments in process, the most interesting one was probably that of the mechanical room, where some students were testing an automobile to determine the durability of the differential, and were also trying to find a way to eliminate noises caused by the gears.

Another interesting department was that of the sound room, where students measured the time it takes sound to travel, and they also were constructing an apparatus to photograph the sound waves.

All in all, the trip was very interesting and profitable, and this was especially so because of the guide who escorted us around and explained the experiments in process.

MAMMOTH PAGEANT AND FIREWORKS SPECTACLE

For fifteen nights, starting June 26th, the mammoth pageant and fireworks spectacle, "The Last Days of Pompeii," will be presented to Michigan residents at the State fair grounds.

Annually Detroit has staged an event of this kind and the present extravaganza supplants the "Awakening" of past years. It will be staged again by Earl F. Newberry, under the auspices of Shadukiam Grotto and other fraternal organizations on a larger scale than any of the others which have preceded it.

The pageant is adapted from the immortal book by Sir Edward Lytton. Some of the scenes depicted will be the Bacchanalian revels in the palace of Arbaces, the conflict of Egyptian worshippers of Isis and the sect Nazarenes, the famous Amphitheatre scene, chariot races, Roman sports and the eruption of Mt. Vesuvius and destruction of Pompeii.

There will be a ballet of 50 dancing girls, a program of hippodrome acts and fireworks display. Over 1,000 will take part in the gigantic production, which is to eclipse all previous efforts of this kind.

Earl Newberry, the director, has successfully staged the "Awakening" productions in other years and will be assisted by a committee from several organizations. Richard Silvester, of New York, will be stage manager of this year's show.

THE THEATRE

"THE MYSTERIOUS RIDER"

John Waters' talent runs to unique Westerns. He now offers one that is minus a single cowboy.

For the characters in "The Mysterious Rider," Paramount's latest Zane Grey picture coming to the Penniman Allen theatre Sunday and Monday, May 22 and 23, are desert homesteaders, ranchers, not cowboys, and the film depicts the actual conditions among homesteaders trying to wrest a living from the arid wastes of the west. Although there is plenty of riding in the picture as the title suggests, it is not after cattle. Jack Holt in the title role, rides furiously to help the homesteaders who are likewise riding their best in an attempt to catch him and lynch him, since they suspect him of plotting to deprive them of their hard-won lands. He proves himself their friend by uncovering the real plot, and regaining them their title to their holdings. A pleasing love story is interwoven with Holt's fancy. She is a new-comer in Paramount pictures, but her performance augurs well for her future.

The cast includes Tom Kennedy, Arthur Hoyt, Charles Sellon, Alfred Hart and Guy Oliver.

"THE SAVAGE"

"The Savage," a First National picture featuring Ben Lyon and May McAvoy, comes to the Penniman Allen theatre Tuesday and Wednesday, May 24 and 25.

In this picture is everything one can possibly want in a motion picture. There are thrills, love story, laughs by the score, beautiful women, perfectly marvelous settings, and Ben Lyon gives one of the best performances of his screen career. May McAvoy is admirably cast and gives a splendid characterization, and the other players could not have been more wisely chosen.

Sam Hardy, as the managing editor of a scientific magazine, is immense. Charlotte Walker, as a wife who believes the wife should be the better ninety-five per cent, could not be excelled. Philo McCullough is an excellent "heavy" and Tom Maguire apparently was born to play the role of the hen-pecked scientist husband of Charlotte Walker.

Most of the story is laid in the South Seas, and there are some unusually fine jungle scenes in which Ben Lyon dashes about garbed in only a loincloth. He even rides on the back of a prehistoric brontosaurus. To tell the plot always spoils a story, so we will only say that Ben is sent to the South Seas to play the part of a white savage and is discovered by a party of scientists so that they may be exposed and made a laughing stock of. Fred Newmeyer is to be complimented for some excellent direction.

"NEW YORK"

Imagine the situation in which a young man sits down at a piano and remains there all night composing a love ballad to his sweetheart—not knowing that in a room less than ten feet away lies the body of a friend who has been murdered!

That's one of the punch situations contained in Paramount's latest production, "New York," which arrives at the Penniman Allen theatre, Thursday and Friday, May 26 and 27. Ricardo Cortez is the musician; Lois Wilson, his fiancée; and Estelle Taylor, the victim.

Briefly, the story is that of four Bowery boys who have erined a "gang spirit" since childhood. All four attain maturity and branch out to make their own way in the world. One becomes a politician, two join a jazz band and the fourth develops into a professional gangster. Then, a shadow in the form of a woman comes between them. Miss Taylor finds it hard to hide her love for Cortez, but his mind is enraptured by a society belle. Cortez spurning her, she marries William Powell so that she may stay near his friend.

One night, the girl determines to make a last attempt to win Cortez. She goes to his apartment and telephones her husband, Powell arrives there first and in a jealous tirade shoots her. He sticks the body in a neighboring room and—

Sounds thrilling, doesn't it? From what we hear, "New York" shapes up as great entertainment. Luther Reed directed. Forrest Halsey adapted an original screen story by Barbara Chambers and Becky Gardiner.

"THE SCARLET LETTER"

Lillian Gish, celebrated star of the screen, has just fulfilled an ambition of some six years in playing the role of "Hester Prynne" in Nathaniel Hawthorne's classic romance, "The Scarlet Letter." For six years the actress has mentally rehearsed the role, hoping that some day she would be given an opportunity to play the dramatic heroine of one of the most famous romances in the world.

The fulfillment of her ambition will be seen at the Penniman Allen theatre Saturday, May 28th, when Metro-

Goldwyn-Mayer will present her in the role.

Miss Gish regards the role as a tribute to her ancestors, as she is directly descended from one of the original Puritan families. In fact, family home at Deerfield, Mass., is being maintained by the Daughters of the Revolution as a museum where the ancient furnishings and possessions of the actress' ancestors are on public display. Miss Gish is herself a member of the D. A. R.

The new picture is the dramatic story of a Puritan woman who carried a badge of shame through life to shield the man she loved. It was staged on a lavish scale, with a huge cast of celebrities, nearly a thousand men, women and children in the larger scenes, and in elaborate settings. An entire replica of America's first Puritan village was constructed for the big production, her second Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer vehicle, "La Boheme" being the first.

Victor Seastrom directed the production. Lars Hanson, famous Swedish star, makes his American debut as her leading man, and Henry B. Walthall, Karl Dane, Marcelle Corday, William H. Tooker, Jules Cowles, Fred Herzog and other notable players appear in supporting roles.

Cold, hard facts are usually just that—except cold, hard tonestones.

Ignorance of the law excuses no one—but knowledge of the law confuses every one.

Stretching the truth is one way of making things go as far as they can—but look out for the snap-back.

Wealthy English woman scientist donned overalls and worked in the engine room of a freighter coming to America, rather than bear the social monotony on a luxurious liner. Now if she'll come out here to Plymouth and find the miss in our wheezy fivver's cyinders—we'll say it's not a publicity stunt.

NASH

Leads the World in Motor Car Value

NASH has the power you need on the HILLS

Every Nash owner notices that he has very little gear shifting to do on hills, no matter how steep the grades may be.

Nash is a very powerful motor car. There is nothing half-hearted or sluggish about its response—the motor never "talks back" at you—even though you are climbing mountains.

One reason is the more than adequate power designed into every Nash motor car. Nash engineering has provided reserve energy for situations that tax the resources of other cars, and extend their engines to the point of strain.

Another reason for the powerful performance of Nash is 7 bearings. 7 bearings in every Nash model, instead of 3 or 4, means that power is not thrown away by crankshaft "whip." Proper bearing support conserves energy that older motor types waste.

Quick acceleration—powerful responsiveness—such as Nash provides, is a safety factor you cannot overlook. It is invaluable on the hills, very handy in traffic.

When you select your next car, be sure to see how unfavorably the power and pick-up of other cars compare to Nash, before you decide! There are 26 models priced from $865 to $2090 f. o. b. factory.

Watches

that last a lifetime!

ANY other kind of watch is not worth the buying, for watches have a heritage value—they should be passed on down to successive generations. When Sonny Boy hears the first tick of his first watch, it is an important event in his life.

But then there must be cheaper watches for him—watches which will stand the wear and tear of childhood—and finally the watch that will remain with him during all his life.

We have both kinds and all kinds—particularly those delicate watches for women, which must combine perfect utility with beauty.

By the way—we have just received a complete new W. W. W. line of pearls and rings. Pearls—yes, this concern is now putting out a wonderful guaranteed pearl in a special jewel case. You will want to see it.

And the W. W. W. White, green and yellow gold wedding and engagement rings—they are worth a visit alone.

WHAT BIRDS SAY AND SING

Since the beginning of time, the forest has been singing its song, but there are few who have cared to learn either the words or the melody. Its chorus differs from that of any other kind of music. Its insect, bird and animal life harmonize until they all unite in one mighty volume to create the chorus of the forest. Of this chorus, the birds play an important part. The songs of some of the birds at their present state of evolution are such a rolling jumble of sound that I never have heard any scientist or musician attempt to translate it into our language, or set it in notes on a musical staff.

A good example of this warbling music is the crow. He is such a pecking, babbling little wisp of feathers and bones that his jumbled notes are hopeless of reproduction. He sings constantly around nesting locations, aggressively during his courting season, endlessly while at the joyous task of rearing his young. He sings under any condition, in any location, during the time he remains with us. His call note is a wisp of a sound, no more reproducible than his song. He is a valiant little fighter, but what he says can be described no better than as an angry chatter. He also uses profane and pushed to the limit, swears like the proverbial sailor.

No bird of our ornithology is more beloved in the north than the bluebird, one of the first birds to make his appearance in the early spring. Poets have written more concerning his gorgeous blue coat, and the cheerfulness of his disposition, but no one has had much to say about his song. The first we hear in the spring is a long drawn, melodiously inflected call-note. "Su-gar! Su-gar!"

The most dominant note is the crow. His music is constant, and when undisturbed, of most interesting character. There are three distinct calls: a guttural croak that seems to translate "All right!"; the sharp vehement "Caw! Caw! Caw!"; warning those of the family farther away of the fact that there is something unusual afoot; then there is a syllabic, repeated cry, consisting of fine notes that would hardly do to call a song; it might be called a recitation.

One of the noisiest birds is the falcon. They are the musicians of the hawk family, as well as members of it. By no stretch of imagination could hawks be coupled with melody. The only sound the falcon makes is "Kaw! Kaw! Kaw!" they dash after a moth or grasshopper, making them a great blessing to the farmer.

The professional "warbler" of the forest is the wood pecker. Despite his mournful notes, there is really no sadness in his music, as he is particularly jolly. His variations consist in repetition, with different modulation and in unequal measure; when he mournfully wails "Pea-see" and you wonder if that is all, he adds, "Peer!"

When the day is over and dusk descends, there are still some birds which lend their music to the world. It is then that the lady-dick tune up for their star performance, and the whippoor-will finds truly artistic pause and setting for his remarkable vocal performance.

The whippoor-will is about the only bird on whom naturalists and musicians agreed as to the utterance. To everyone he says too plainly to admit questioning. "Whippoor-will!"

Why is it that everyone shudders when they hear the hoot of an owl? I think the truth is that the shudder which greets the vocalizing of the owl is not really for the bird at all, but is a touch of fear for night which seems to be present in the song of the owl. Placed in the same class with the owl on account of night and silent flight is the bat. About the only sound they make is a faint, sibilant squeal when hurt.

To be sure, new music springs up in the fields to take the place of the chorus of the forest, but it is a mild substitute. On account of its glib, weird, appealing strain, found nowhere else in nature, the chorus of the forest thrills the heart. It is the only place on earth where bird music can be had in perfection. The incomparable music of nature cannot be reproduced in all its grandeur and majesty. The leaf-rattle of the cherub, the mournful wail of the pewee, the impudent chuckle of the crow, and the lullaby of the hawk, are parts of it. The scream of the night-jar, the command of the whippoor-will, and the serenade of the owl combine their notes till all unite to form one bubbling anthem, and if you once learn this wildest music it will become a sacred to you that its call will be with you always.

MIGRATION OF BIRDS

The food problem, perhaps, is the greatest obstruction that stands in a bird's path. Birds that are residents throughout the year in one place can adjust themselves to the food more easily, for they simply change their food with the season. They apparently ly feed with equal relish on seeds, insects or whatever the season may yield for them. The birds that can not change their type of diet and can only feed upon certain things find it necessary to journey to a place where their particular kind of food is plentiful. Some will have to travel farther than others.

Many of the migratory birds pass the winter in Mexico. The sparrows and other berry-eaters, as the robin and blue bird, winter from the middle states to the Gulf coast, while most of the purely insect-eating species cross to Cuba in the winter, or the West Indies. Some even find it compulsory to travel to Central America and northern South America. The snipe and plover make the longest flight of migration. Some birds even go within the arctic circle and on the shores of Patagonia.

If we were to observe the universal migration of birds, we would find that in New York the birds arrive about a week later than in Washington, D. C., and a week earlier than in Boston. During January and February we will see the common birds, as the tree sparrow and junco. Some of the other ones are the shrikes, winter wrens, golden kinglets, and brown creepers. Rarely we see snow flukes, red cross-bills and redpolls. These birds are visitors for the winter from the north, and will be going back about March and April.

The birds that will be seen and will stay with us throughout the year, are the bobwhite, ruffed grouse, red shouldered and red tailed hawks, buff and screech owls, downy and hairy woodpeckers, blue jay, crow, goldfinch, song sparrow, white breasted nuthatch and chickadee.

From February twentieth to March tenth, we may expect to see purple crackles, robins, bluebirds and red-winged blackbirds—birds that have spent the winter a short distance south of us (if not with us), and who have accepted the slightest encouragement as an order to advance. All the first comers will probably be male birds, as the female birds are more timid and cannot readily adjust themselves to the colder climate.

About the middle of March, we may look for the woodcock, meadow lark, fox sparrow, cowbird and phoebe. Their time of arrival is largely dependent upon the temperature, warm weather hastening their moves and cold weather putting a wet blanket on the whole procession.

Along the last of March, Wilson's snipe, the kinglet, mourning dove, swamp and field sparrows are due. Early in April the purple Finch, white throated vesper and chipping sparrows will announce their coming in familiar tones. At about the same time, tree swallows, myrtle warblers, phoebe and hermit thrushes will appear. They will soon be followed by barn swallows and ruby throated kinglets.

The migration is well under way now, and every day some of our old bird friends arrive. Some of the newly arriving ones that we shall undoubtedly see, are the green heron, spotted sandpiper, whip-poor-will, chimney swift, least flycatcher, towhee, green warblers, oven birds, house wrens, brown thrasher, cardinal, wood thrush, purple martin, cliff and black swallows, black, white and black throated green warblers. This group is not without musicians, and in beautiful song, they celebrate the arrival of spring.

From May first to twelfth, the migration reaches its height, and every morning we may see through the scantily leaved branches of the trees, the cuckoo, night hawk, crested flycatcher, kingbird, wood pewee, Baltimore and orchard orioles, boblink, Indigo bunting, rose breasted grosbeak, scarlet tanager, red eyed vireo, yellow throated and white eyed vireos, long billed marsh wren, Wilson's thrush, redstart, yellow warblers and others of the warbler family.

Succeeding days will bring additions to the ranks of these species, and there will also be numerous small warblers to look for. By May 12th, all our more familiar and common birds will have arrived. During the rest of the month, the birds that go farther in the north, pass by and the birds gradually decrease in number, and so by June fifth we have with us left only the ones that will spend the summer here.

August is a molting and moping period for birds. It is also a most exasperating month for the most enthusiastic bird students. Late in the month migrants become more frequent, but on some days between "difts," one may stalk for miles through the wood, without seeing more than a dozen birds.

September is a month of warblers. They crowd in great groups during the latter half of the month, and on favorable nights we may hear their clear "tseeps" echoing through the air. About the twenty-fifth of the month, the winter residents begin to come home, and among them are the junco, winter wren, golden kinglet and brown creeper.

October and November are the months of sparrows. They rise in clouds from every stubble, bush and house wood, to seek shelter in the bushes. If the season proves warm, most of our exclusive seed-eaters will stay with us until early December, but usually they disappear earlier.

We have found in this brief review that the birds may be classed in three groups, as follows: 1. permanent residents—birds that remain in the same locality throughout the year; 2. summer residents—birds that come to us in the early spring, rear their young, and depart in the fall; 3. winter residents—birds that come from the north in the fall, pass the winter with us, and return to their northern homes in the spring.

We wonder why birds migrate. Why do they? It is true they go for warmer weather and want of food, but there is another answer for it, and that is they don't go for exercise. We notice some birds start to go a long time before the snow falls, and even the first frosts set in.

Most birds have an instinctive desire to be in seclusion during the period of breeding their young, and as a result they go from the south to breed their young in the north. They also go from the north to breed their young in the south.

As a result of this going from land to land, or migration, the birds are proved to have some reasoning powers and seem almost human. Their instincts and ours are practically parallel. We all seek food and a home as a means of existence.

To the Public:

The brilliance of Hudson Super-Six performance is nowhere more manifest than on hills that have been the traditional test for motordom's most powerful cars—and these hills are topped by Hudson on a RISING speedometer.

And this power is outstandingly evident at every issue. Alertness and immediate response to the throttle account for the way the Hudson takes advantage of every driving opportunity.

There is no motor labor. There is no sense of the mechanical. All feeling that there is a motor and complicated mechanism is absent.

Whether in city driving or in high sustained speed over country roads, the action and comfort of your Hudson Super-Six is the very luxury of motion.

And Hudson beauty matches Hudson performance.

We invite you to inspect these motor cars—to accept a ride and enjoy the thrilling performance which is theirs.

Yours very truly,

Firestone Dealers

Have Purchased 100% More GUM-DIPPED TIRES

[This Year Compared With Same Period Last Year]

THE demand from car owners for Gum-Dipped Tires has given Firestone Dealers a large increase in volume enabling them to sell these tires to you at the lowest prices in history.

On the cars of motorists everywhere, these wonderful tires are delivering unheard-of long mileage with greater safety and comfort.

The Firestone Balloon Tread, scientifically designed three years ago, and unchanged today, follows the contour of the tire carcass with no excess rubber at the edges to cause "shoulder breaks". Narrow rider strips permit the tread to yield to depressions and cling to the road, preventing skidding. This tough, pliable tread has the wear-resisting qualities for thousands of extra miles.

Such a tread must be placed on a carcass with the qualifications to withstand the terrific flexing that this design permits. The Firestone carcass is made of cords dipped in a rubber solution which not only saturates and insulates every fiber of every cord, but unifies sidewalls with carcass, avoiding separation under the extreme flexing.

Many Firestone Dealers are prepared to offer you a liberal allowance for your old tires, on a new set of Gum-Dipped Tires to start the motoring season.

To meet a demand for a low price tire and tube, Firestone designed and manufactures, for Firestone Dealers only, Oldfield Tires and Tubes, which carry the Standard Manufacturers' Guarantee.

MERCHANTS WILL PLAY WORDEN NEXT SUNDAY

GAME WITH SALINE LAST SUNDAY POSTPONED ON ACCOUNT OF RAIN.

On account of rain and cold weather, the Merchants and Saline were unable to play Sunday, but will meet later in the season.

Next Sunday, May 22, the Merchants will cross bats with Worden, on the home grounds, Burroughs Field, at 3:00 p. m.

Last season these two teams furnished two red hot games, and the same can be looked for this Sunday. The Merchants were on the long end of last year's score. So you can rest assured the visitors are coming strong with Bob Bowman in the lead. The Merchants expect to have their new uniforms for this game.

All players report at 2:30 sharp. Game called at 3:30 o'clock.

DE-HO-COS WILL PLAY SATURDAY AND SUNDAY

POLICEMAN OF BETHUNE AVENUE STATION, DETROIT, WILL OPPOSE THEM SATURDAY AND GROSSE POINTE, SUNDAY.

Misbehavior of the elements was responsible for postponement of both of the week-end games scheduled for the House of Correction diamond on May 14th and 15th. The Schmidt-Nash aggregation of Detroit, which was to have tried conclusions with the De-Ho-Co team on Saturday, is an unknown quantity, but the game between the Farmers and the Detroit Municipal Employees that was rained on, promised to be a contest for blood, the municipal jobholders desiring revenge for the terrible mauling they received at the hands of the prison team on May 1st. The steady down-pour proved a disappointment to the fans in another respect, as Captain Martin of the De-Ho-Cos would have exhibited one or possibly both of his new pitchers, said to be high class moundmen. The De-Ho-Cos now have six fingers in their lineup.

The Sunday game that had to be called off on account of the weather was a scheduled game in the Inter-County league race, and there will have to be a double-header later on to play it off.

Grosse Pointe is the team scheduled in the Inter-County league race to meet the De-Ho-Cos this coming Sunday. This game will bring together two fast teams and some exciting baseball.

Police men of the Bethune Avenue station, Detroit, will oppose De-Ho-Co in Saturday's game. The officers of the law have twice been defeated on the farm grounds, but are determined to make it a different story on Saturday. The feeling between the two teams should result in a game of old-fashioned baseball for blood.

Reserved seats for these games can be had by telephoning Arno B. Thompson, the De-Ho-Co secretary, Plymouth 650. There will be forty-minute bus service from Plymouth to the Sunday game.

Dr. Frank Crane Says

CAPITAL PUNISHMENT IS WRONG.

"The question of capital punishment is opposed to because nobody is willing to kill a man. Killing certainly does the man no good. It doesn't reform him, and he doubts whether it does society any good," says a well known public man.

When a man reaches the point where he wants to kill another man he doesn't care whether he himself gets killed.

This thing of inflicting the extreme penalty upon a man is a practical one. It is not based upon consideration for the man, but upon regard for society. It is supposed to deter others from serious crimes.

Opponents of capital punishment say that as a matter of deterrent it does no good. They bring statistics to support this argument and claim that the more severe punishments are the wider is the spread of crime. Those in favor of capital punishment deny this.

About the worst thing that could happen to most men is to lose life. People who are afraid of nothing else fear death.

In its effort to protect human life, society uses the old argument of fear and claims that people will be prevented from killing others best of all by being in danger of being killed themselves.

It is all a piece with the whole fear argument. Time was when men were supposed to be made better by the fear of hell and youth is supposed to be kept in check by the fear of their evil deeds in later life.

A man will risk his life where he will not risk his property.

If we want to stop crime the thing to do is to remedy the conditions that make crime and not merely indulge in the vengeance of killing.

Killing is vengeance only. It is not punishment.

The argument against imprisonment for life has its chief support in the fact that by and by the prisoner will be pardoned by the governor. Take this pardoning power away from the governor for the present and lodge it in a board selected by the courts. Have all pardons issued by this board and relieve the governor of the pressure that is brought on him to issue pardons.

In this way imprisonment for life will be made surer and one will not receive a pardon unless he is properly entitled to it.

ENFORCED CLEAN-UP COMMENDED IN STATE

CORN BORER REGULATORY FORCES ENGAGED IN COMPULSORY WORK IN TOWN AND COUNTRY TO PROTECT FARMERS WHO HAVE COMPLIED WITH CONTROL MEASURES.

Enforced clean-up of corn land in the country and corn patches in and about cities and villages throughout the corn borer infested area is progressing rapidly, according to C. O. Larrabee, supervisor of corn borer control work in the state. The Government will afford complete protection to farmers who have cleaned up their premises in an effort to control the pest.

County corn borer supervisors have been furnished with notices to serve on owners of property who have made no attempt to comply with regulations. Two days after the papers are served, the regulatory forces have the authority to enter upon the premises and enforce the clean-up. The cost of such enforced clean-up will be assessed against the owner of the property and collected on the same basis as taxes according to existing state legislation.

Forces of men and trucks known as "scavenger crews" are at work in cities and villages disposing of corn debris, remaining in home gardens and in subdivision plats. Government crews with plows and tractors are busily engaged cleaning up farms in the country.

No attempt will be made to molest those who are seriously engaged in cleaning up their premises. Larrabee advises that they go ahead and complete their jobs. He anticipates that very little work of an enforced nature will have to be done, as compared to the whole, as indications are that over 90 per cent of the clean-up work in the state will be done voluntarily.

The Boy Was Right.

"Last winter at college the temperature on three successive nights dropped to zero."

"That's nothing," snorted Freddie the Fresh, "that's nothing."

"What's nothing," indignantly asked Sam the Senior.

"Zero," remarked Freddie snappily as he bolted the door.

Dayton Stabilized BALLOONS

Ride faster---Ride
safer---Ride longer
---Ride cheaper

Years before its appearance, Dayton's engineers and chemists heralded the introduction of the balloon by developing the Dayton Thorobred Cord—the pioneer low air pressure tire. And today the Dayton Stabilized Balloon—the product of these same engineers and chemists—is equally revolutionary.

Its flat, center-traction tread has complete four-point road contact. Its quick-grip, quick-release, non-skid design provides easier stopping and "lightning" get-away. Stabilized brands of friction rubber draw the center of the tread parallel to the center of the rim. This prevents "shimmying." And, in addition to that, its tough, wear-resisting rubber gives thousands of extra miles of service.

Come in and examine the Dayton Stabilized Balloon. You will see a truly great tire. Ride on it, and you'll agree that you are riding on the outstanding tire of the age. Call here before you ride.

DON'T DIE OF CANCER.

GOVERNMENT SHOULD PAY.
NEED NON-EXPLOSIVE FUEL.

A. W. Pond, scientific gentleman, back from Africa, says ladies of 150,000 years ago used cosmetics, "extravagant ornaments" and "painted their cheeks red."

They went to extremes, wore necklaces made of ostrich eggs, and some of them painted their faces yellow and black, as well as red.

Still earlier, 500,000 years ago, when men used "first hatchets," long sharp stones shaped like pickaxes, the ladies, then covered from head to foot with reddish hair, were probably pulling the hair from their cheeks, noticing that gentlemen preferred smooth skin. It has been a long, painful climb to the flapper of today—but worth it.

Don't die of cancer—it isn't necessary. At the age of forty one out of every ten persons has a cancer. 100,000 die of cancer in the United States every year. At least 75,000 die unnecessarily. Autopsies show that thousands, dead of old age, take cancers to the grave with them.

Pay attention to any strange growth on the body. A few seconds' work will often prevent a cancer spreading. Above all, keep in good condition, with regular sleep, moderate exercise, much fresh air and your blood will take care of the cancer.

The government has wondered what to do with surplus taxes. It might use the first few hundred millions to indemnify victims of the Mississippi flood. If government had used its brains and money and had done its duty, in years past, the flood would not have occurred.

Those that realize the importance of soil fertility will be interested in Colonel Ewing's casual remark that men digging for artesian wells in lower Louisiana went through fifteen hundred feet of the richest soil, deposited by the great river, a soil far richer and deeper than that of Egypt.

Standard Oil of New York will issue $125,500,000 new stock, bringing the total up to about $450,000,000.

The company doesn't need that trifle, but will let employees of the company buy the stock to increase interest in their work. They had already bought ten millions of the stock.

Udine Utley, 15-year-old evangelist, arrived to save souls in New York at an unfortunate moment, with the Snyder case in full blast. Not even a New Yorker can attend to everything at once. Still, she saved forty-five souls on her opening night—not bad, in New York. But some will need to be saved several times. New York's night life is exciting.

In Baltimore Jules Askin, artist, painted from nature on the Sabbath. You are not supposed to work on Sunday in Baltimore. They locked him up. He asked: "Who paints the beautiful sunrise and sunset on Sunday, and what do you do to Him?"

The cold jailer replied: "Ask the Judge: you're not supposed to argue."

A hydroplane struck by lightning, in full flight, falls, the gasoline tank exploding and killing four. This will not discourage flying, but will stimulate work on non-explosive fuel. The Germans are near it, with their extraordinarily light Diesel engine construction.

Some day, wireless power, taken from sources miles below the fier, will solve the problem.

An unfortunate leper, John Early, is at large somewhere in the South, having escaped from the Carville (La.) leprosarium.

Men dread to arrest him, but there is little to fear. Soap and water have reduced leprosy to an insignificant disease. And the newest discovery, chaulmoogoa oil, conquers it.

MICHIGAN STATE FAIR BOYS' SCHOOL CONTEST

The Michigan State fair boys' school will be conducted along lines similar to those of past years.

The school will be composed of one boy from each county in the state, who will be entitled to this honor by having won the Michigan State fair boys' school contest in his county.

Any boy under eighteen years of age who writes on the eighth grade examination in May is qualified to enter the contest. The only entrance requirement is that he signifies his interest in agriculture by answering on a separate sheet or blank the special list of State fair boys' school contest questions in agriculture which will be furnished with the eighth grade examination.

The winner in Wayne county will be selected by a committee of which the county school commissioner, E. W. Yost, is chairman, and will be the boy receiving the highest average standing on the regular eighth grade examination and on the special agricultural examination.

The boys while in Detroit will be quartered at the State fair grounds under proper supervision and will be the guests of the Michigan State fair during the entire four days they are at the fair grounds. They will be given an opportunity to see everything of interest at the fair, hear lectures and talks on many educational topics, receive a full course in physical education and will be in charge of competent leaders at all times. Every effort will be made to make the entire trip interesting, entertaining and instructive.

Picked Up About Town

Dad Plymouth says a good many girls smoke these days but so far he has failed to see one striking a match in the old-fashioned way men used to.

How long will it take the Chinese, if they are let alone, to fight it out among themselves?

"The reason so many people miss happiness," says Dad Plymouth, "is because they are aiming in the wrong direction."

No married man can understand why every bachelor isn't a millionaire.

Dad Plymouth declares that sometimes the only wish a husband and wife agree on is that he had married some other woman.

The man whose home boasts a radio, a telephone, a piano, a phonograph and four or five kids isn't praying for someone to invent something that will make a noise.

"A lot of fellows who think they know enough to run the country," asserts Dad Plymouth, "don't know enough to quiet the baby when it starts on a squalling spell."

Good Judgment.

"You have saved my life," said the man to the youthful hero who had rescued him from drowning. "As a reward you shall marry my daughter."

The young man glanced at the daughter. Then he threw the man back into the river again.

CONSTRUCTION WORK WILL START SOON

The builders of Riverside Mausoleum expect to break ground in about three weeks.

The size of the Mausoleum has practically been determined and the number of compartments available are limited in number. If you have not already made your reservations do so now—delay will not work to your advantage.

A little thought will convince you that the cost of entombment in Riverside Mausoleum is less than for a lot, monument and other cemetery expenses. The building is the monument, far surpassing in magnificence and beauty any other form of memorial.

The architects have provided: Good light, heat, ventilation, permanency of construction, ready accessibility to every compartment and an inspiring and consoling atmosphere.

Perpetual care of Riverside Mausoleum is assured from an endowment fund, the interest from which can be used only for the care and maintenance of the building.

Provision in this beautiful Mausoleum is a good investment, safe and permanent preparation for an emergency which all must certainly meet.

Eventually you will have to decide. You are able to do so today. An inquiry will bring full information, with no obligations to buy.

COUNTY WOMEN MEET

Women from all parts of Wayne county assembled at the Methodist Episcopal church at Wayne on Tuesday, May 10th, to enjoy the annual extension program in home economics. The new feature which attracted considerable interest was the demonstrations of the forenoon. The women interested in the clothing projects during the winter season gave some animated suggestions to the audience on clothes to be worn by tall stout, short stout, tall slender, short slender, and average types. Another group was responsible for the effect produced on outer clothing by different types of underclothing. One group illustrated attractive necklines for different people. Women in charge of these demonstrations were Miss Alice Trombley, of Trenton; Mrs. Anna Kanosky, of Brighton; and Mrs. Clifton Tinkham, of Wayne.

A sleeve demonstration by Miss Carrie Williams, clothing specialist, hit some valuable high points in regard to lines and proper fitting.

The cakes baked by Mrs. Stuart and Mrs. Moyer in the improved and unimproved kitchens afforded a great deal of amusement. Mrs. Stuart appeared in a spotless white frock with her equipment, utensils and ingredients conveniently arranged. The white table, enameled containers, bowls and wooden spoon, approved egg beater and can opener added greatly to her comfort and convenience. Mrs. Moyer, attired in a blue bungalow apron, was not so endowed with advantages. Her large equipment, stove, table, cupboard and cellar were far apart. Her utensils and ingredients were likewise scattered, necessitating many steps. Mrs. Moyer being a resourceful person, used a cup without a handle for measuring to save a better one. When her stuttering egg beater faltered she diligently applied a fork. Leaving the flour and sugar in the sacks saved her the trouble of emptying them into other containers. In the absence of a can opener, a butcher knife and hammer would do.

Miss Edna V. Smith, household management specialist, spoke briefly on the relation of household management to home making. Seemingly they are identical, but technically they are much different; and by efficiently managing the mechanics of the household there will be time for the development of the higher art and profession of home making.

The ladies of the church served a delicious dinner at noon. The afternoon program began with the opening of the question box, conducted by Miss Lois Corbett, Home Demonstration Agent.

Following her suggestion, the questions were passed out to the women, giving them an opportunity to answer each other's questions. If any cases proved to be too difficult to be thus answered they were referred to other authority.

Dr. Lelah Crabbs, from the Merrill Palmer school in Detroit, gave an interesting resume of mental attitude and mental health, pointing out how essential it is to work with other people, how important it is to know how to get along with people, and how innate is the tendency on the part of each individual to crave attention. The interesting example of behavior of the babies in the Merrill Palmer school which Dr. Crabbs cited were only miniature examples of the way adults behave under certain social conditions.

About twenty girls from the junior clubs, who have made smocks, dresses and bungalow aprons, participated in a style review, contributing to the pleasure of the afternoon.

Mrs. Louise Campbell, state home demonstration leader, needs no introduction to Wayne county women and no comment needs be made regarding her sincerity of purpose which so beautifully colors the landscape of home economics. One cannot listen to the things Mrs. Campbell has to say without being inspired to perform the most menial tasks with a real pride. Her experience, her outlook on life, and her real sympathetic understanding all make Mrs. Campbell a rare friend and a joy to those who know her.

LAUDS PLYMOUTH'S PROGRESSIVE SPIRIT.

Cities and towns in southern Michigan may with profit keep their eyes on the achievement of Plymouth. Indeed, the citizens and business men of that city are making it difficult for anyone in this section to avoid knowledge of what Plymouth is doing.

Plymouth is exulting over publicity in Detroit Sunday newspapers. Double-page "spreads" of articles and advertising, proclaiming the advantages of Plymouth, fill the Sunday newspapers and are reprinted in Plymouth's paper with pride. That hundreds of new residents and business enterprises will be drawn to Plymouth by this method cannot be doubted.

Plymouth may have all of the advantages and facilities claimed for the town, and a great deal more. But the one big asset that Plymouth possesses (and it is the greatest any city may boast), is a unity of spirit among all of her citizens and business men, working together at all times for the best interests of the entire city of Plymouth.—Farmington Enterprise.
