PLYMOUTH GETS SECOND IN SUBURBAN TRACK MEET

A Large Number From Plymouth Attended the Meet Held at the Normal College Field Last Friday.

The Relay Won By Plymouth Proved Most Exciting Event of the Meet.

Plymouth High school lost out to Dearborn by nine points, in the Suburban League track meet held at the Normal College field, Ypsilanti, last Friday afternoon. Dearborn scored 59 points; Plymouth 50; 16 for Roosevelt High and 7 1/2 each for Farmington and Northville. Wayne failed to score a point.

Eleven new records were set up during the meet, only three of the old marks standing.

Hickey of Plymouth, won the opening event, the 100-yard dash, in 10.7 seconds, breaking the old record made by Vallance of Wayne, last year by 1-10 of a second.

The mile run, second on the program, was won by Middlewood of Farmington, who ran his four laps around the track in 4 minutes 59.5 seconds, breaking the old record of 5 minutes 9 seconds, made by Don Smith of Roosevelt last year.

The third event was the 220-yard dash, and was won by Jackson of Dearborn, who ran the stretch in 24.7 seconds. Vallance of Wayne made the time 23.6 last year.

Stanton of Dearborn, won the 120-yard hurdles in 18.4 seconds, and his time will go down as a record, as there was no former mark for this event.

The high jump was the next event won by McCordle of Northville, who set a new record of 5 feet 5 1/4 inches, the old record being 5 feet 3 1/4 inches.

Stanton of Dearborn, winner of the high hurdles, won the javelin with a heave of 142 feet 3 inches, breaking the old record of 128 feet 6 inches.

Calder of Dearborn, ran the 440-yard dash in 55.8 seconds, breaking the old record of 56.4 seconds made by Doudt of Plymouth, last year.

Shaw for Dearborn, won the 220-yard low hurdles in 28.3 seconds, breaking the old record of 29.8 seconds made by Randall of Plymouth, in 1926.

Foster of Plymouth, won the 880-yard run in 2 minutes 13.3 seconds, which was not as good as that of Morton of Wayne, who made it in 2 minutes 10.8 seconds in 1926.

The discus was won by Thiel of Dearborn, heaving the platter 101 feet 6 inches, breaking the old record of 101 feet 2 inches, made by Salloy of Farmington, last year.

Jackson of Dearborn, won the broad jump with a leap of 20 feet 3 1/4 inches. This beat Doudt's record of last year, which was 19 feet 2 1/4 inches.

The relay was the most exciting event of the program, with Doudt of Plymouth, beating the Dearborn runner by inches.

Doudt with 10 1/2 points, was high scoring man for Plymouth, followed by Hickey with 9 1/2 points, and Crum with 9 points.

WORK STARTED ON NEW MAUSOLEUM

MODERNLY EQUIPPED TWO-HUNDRED CRYPT MAUSOLEUM FOR RIVERSIDE CEMETERY

Ground has been broken for Plymouth's new mausoleum, which is to be erected in Riverside cemetery by Manson & Abbott of Toledo, Ohio. The new mausoleum will be the last word in structures of this kind. Constructed along massive lines with a beautiful type of architecture, this memorial will add a great deal to the beauty and the general appearance of Riverside cemetery.

The new mausoleum is being erected on a site just in the rear of the present receiving vault and the building used as a tool house. The mausoleum will contain a modernly equipped receiving vault, with a capacity of twenty-four bodies. The old receiving vault which has been in use for many years, will be torn down and the tool house will be moved to another location in the cemetery.

The large vestibule in the mausoleum will provide ample room for the holding of a funeral service during inclement weather, which sometimes happens when bodies are brought here from a distance for interment.

The building will be approximately thirty feet in width and seventy-five feet in length. It will be constructed of Bedford limestone, reinforced concrete and marble. The doors are of heavy bronze, while the windows will be of leaded art glass. The roof is to be built of reinforced concrete. The mausoleum will have a total of 200 crypts or compartments. The architects have provided for good light, ventilation, permanency of construction, ready accessibility to every compartment.

Perpetual care of the new mausoleum is assured from an endowment fund, the interest of which can be used only for the care and maintenance of the building.

It is expected that the mausoleum will be completed and ready for use late this fall.

Mr. Abbott of the firm of Manson & Abbott, informs the Mail representative that there are only a few crypts yet unsold, and anyone contemplating the purchase of crypts had better decide at once or there will be none available.

A BUSINESS CHANGE

Alex Vatez and Emanuel Fastas, of the Palace of Sweets, have purchased the poolroom business of Perry Woodworth on Main street. Mrs. Fastas will manage the business, while Mr. Vatez will remain at the Palace of Sweets. In the near future, the new proprietors expect to remodel the place and will put in a soda fountain, full line of confectionery, cigars and tobacco. It will be modern in every way, and will be operated in the same successful and business-like manner that characterizes the Palace of Sweets.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS HELD SUCCESSFUL MEETING

Last Monday evening, June 13th, the Plymouth League of Women Voters held their "Know Your Town" meeting in the kindergarten room of the High school building. About 60 citizens were present to hear about and discuss Plymouth's problems.

Mrs. VanAken, as president of the club, introduced the first speaker, Henry Fisher, our village president, who read the financial statement of the village, which explained where our money goes and for what.

Then William Welter, our new city manager, spoke on "Some Present Problems in Plymouth," which include sewers, both sanitary and storm; paving, larger water mains, water connections, sewer connections, city planning and sanitation.

Mrs. Ada Murray, secretary of the Board of Education, talked on "The Expansion of Our School System," which again emphasized the problem of taxation and expense. She pointed out that in 1919 we had 19 teachers, while next year we shall have 45.

Much discussion followed all of the talks, after which punch was served by the social committee and a social hour was enjoyed. The social committee consisted of Mrs. Celia Hamilton, Miss Bertha Warner, Mrs. VanAken and Mrs. Nettie Dibble.

At the close of the meeting a few remarks were made by Miss Geraldine Knight, executive secretary of the Wayne County League of Women Voters. She pointed out how the League of Women Voters were working toward their ideal of more responsiveness on the part of officials. The next regular meeting of the Plymouth League of Women Voters will occur the second Monday in September.

PLYMOUTH TEACHER WINS U. OF M. SCHOLARSHIP

At the opening of school last fall, the Tuberculosis Society of Detroit and Wayne county informed the teachers of Detroit and Wayne county, that a Health Scholarship to the University of Michigan would be awarded to the teacher who would put across the most complete health program in her school. In accordance with this, Miss Alma Fisher, the teacher in the Bartlett school last year, was notified by George F. Granger, secretary of the Tuberculosis Society that the scholarship had been awarded to her.

Every Wayne County teacher was eligible for this work, which was the organization in the school of a modern health crusade. The program consisted of poster work, inspection by health officers elected by the Zone Citizenship League for a year; milk, fruit and vegetable charts, pictures and health stories, etc.

The scholarship will be presented to Miss Fisher at a luncheon given by the Tuberculosis Society at the Statler Hotel, Detroit, Monday, June 20th. Miss Fisher will give a short talk on the health work program which she carried out in her school the past year.

Miss Fisher gives a great deal of credit for the accomplishment of the winning of the scholarship to the loyal cooperation of the pupils and patrons of her school.

PLYMOUTH BOY BREAKS COLLEGE HURDLE RECORD

DONALD SUTHERLAND SETS NEW COLLEGE RECORD IN HURDLE EVENT FOR YPSILANTI NORMAL.

Donald Sutherland, of this place, who graduates from the Ypsilanti Normal this year, has made a great record in the athletic activities of the college this year. The Normal College News has the following to say in part of his work:

"Donald Sutherland, of Plymouth, gained distinction two weeks ago by defeating Edwin Spence, of Detroit City college, in the high hurdles and setting a new college record in the event. Sutherland's time was 15.6 seconds, which broke an eleven-year-old record established by Meade in 1916.

"Sutherland is a senior this year and so his race with Spence in the high hurdles here in the conference meet June 4th will close his college track career. He has been on the team for three years, but it was not until the intercollegiate meet last spring that he showed signs of being a real hurdle star, when he placed third in both timber-topping events."

UNCLE SAM'S JOB.

We believe everyone in Plymouth will agree with us when we say that the greatest problem confronting our government today is flood prevention along the Mississippi and its tributaries. For years the subject has been looked upon as local. Every state has been expected to protect itself. Now, thank goodness, that foolish idea has been wiped out, even though at a tremendous cost of life and property. Preventing these floods is the government's business and the quicker it sets itself to working off methods for curbing the flood waters the better for the entire country. We dug the Panama canal when France had failed in the attempt, so there is no reason why we can't do another job as big or even bigger. The people of the United States do not care what it costs to prevent floods in the Mississippi valley—it is their tax money that is being spent any way you look at it. They want prevention, regardless of cost, and they want it with the least possible delay. With the nation a unit in demanding this, it seems like suicide for a senator or congressman to lay a straw in the way when congress convenes in December.

EASY TO FORGET.

America had always driven its horses from the right side of the driver's seat. That left the whip in its socket, ready for right-hand use. The wagon turned to the right; why should not its driver sit to the right? Then came the automobile. Its driver was governed, in choosing his seat, by none of the old reasons. Yet, to the right he went. Harry F. Kreuger, to whom first occurred the idea that for the auto the reasoning was all the other way, recently died, at the age of 60 years. But automobiles had been in existence over 10 years before he thought of it and they had been in existence over 10 years more before the right-hand driver was wholly abandoned. The entire change in custom of driving from a seat on the right to a seat on the left has come about in less than 20 years, yet how many of us around Plymouth remembered the man who was responsible for it?

NO CAUSE FOR ALARM.

With the knowledge that millions of dollars in crops of various kinds have been lost through disastrous floods in the middle western states and that unusual rainfall has wrecked havoc in other sections, the general impression around Plymouth seems to be that it is going to be a very poor crop year.

Recent bulletins from the department of agriculture, however, indicate that the harvest will, taking the country as a whole, be much better than expected a few weeks ago. These bulletins are made up from reports from practically every state in the union. None of them are of a nature to make one over-enthusiastic, but taken as a whole they show that there have been many years when we've had more reason to complain than we will have when all crops now growing are harvested.

Corn and wheat have been hard hit, but it is believed a better price than usual will make up for it. The same is true of cotton and tobacco. Production may be shorter than we are accustomed to, or than would have been the same but for excessive rains. Yet the demand will not be curtailed, so better prices will average things up, and there ought to be as much money in circulation this year as in years of bumper crops. From present indications we are going to have a good deal to be thankful for when Thanksgiving day rolls around.

IT LOOKS EASY.

An ambitious Plymouth boy dropped in a few days ago to announce that he wants to break into the newspaper game, and to ask if we would please tell him how to make a success of it. Believing a lot of people would be interested in the answer we are going to print it, just to show that we are not stingy with advice.

You can run a newspaper easily and happily if you can listen with a smile to tiresome things you've heard before; if you can refuse to do what three or four people want you to do without making them mad; if you can write in a way to make people laugh when they feel like swearing; if you can keep silent when you feel like you'll bust if you don't talk; if you can refuse a woman's request for a lot of free space for her pet ail society without making the whole congregation sore; if you can explain a typographical error without using up more than two or three hours' time; if you can explain why Mrs. Smith's poem on "Spring Flowers" did not get into the paper; if you can take a four-line item and spread it to a whole column when your best advertiser threatens to quit if you don't; if you have a nose for news and an itch for writing and have trained yourself not to get drowsy when called to work about 18 hours out of every 24; if you can make your subscribers understand that paper and ink dealers insist on being paid for their product; if you can go to church on Sunday and see a man drop a dollar bill in the contribution box when he is nine years back on his subscription—and yet not begrudge that dollar to the Lord—if you can do these things you ought to get by in the newspaper game.

EPISCOPAL NOTES

Last Sunday was Trinity Sunday. There was special serving, with the holy communion, and we were pleased to welcome to Plymouth the Rev. Mr. Stacey, rector of Dearborn. The Rev. Stacey preached a very inspiring sermon, taking as his subject “The Trinity.”

During the offertory the duet was splendidly rendered by Mrs. Birchall and Joseph Tracy. The fine blending of the voices, accompanied by Miss M. A. Pierson at the new organ, was very much appreciated by the congregation.

The new organ which has just been installed in the church is certainly a valuable help and an addition to the singing part of the service of the church and much credit is due to Miss Pierson, our organist, in this respect. The only thing required now is the completion of the choir. This is progressing nicely and it will not be long before the choir will be formed.

METHODIST NOTES

The children's day program by the Sunday-school provided a very delightful service for the large congregation last Sunday morning. The many messages presented by the children and their songs were a real inspiration. Eleven babies were baptized. The water used in the sacrament service was from the River Jordan in Palestine, and was brought to Dr. Lendrum by Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Chrysler, of Detroit, who visited the Holy Lands last winter.

Mr. F. A. Lendrum, Manager,
Michigan Bell Telephone Company,
Lansing, Michigan.

Dear Mr. Lendrum:

We operate in this state and in Ohio as you undoubtedly know, upwards of thirty bean and grain elevators. We also carry on a jobbing business with upwards of two hundred state elevators.

During the season of the year when the movement of beans and grain is at its height, it is necessary that we keep in almost hourly touch with our branch plants. Many state elevators depend on us for their market information and we perform this function constantly throughout the day. We are absolutely dependent on good wire service, without which we would have to close shop.

As we approach the end of our present fiscal year, I want to send you these few words to express our appreciation of the splendid service which your company has been furnishing us, and the personal interest which you have taken in our business. With best regards, I am

Very truly yours,

Electricity in Favor
Fifty-eight per cent of the people of the United States have discarded the match in favor of the electric button as the means for lighting up the home. According to a recent report by the light and power industry 68,500,000 persons now use electricity in preference to all other lighting systems. In the last decade the number of electrically lighted homes has tripled and now totals 16,000,000, not including those with private plants of their own.

Getting His Bearings
Judge Nilek of South Bend said at a South Bend luncheon: "Expert testimony—the testimony of handwriting experts and medical experts and so forth—sometimes makes me think of the witness who, after he had been sworn, leaned forward over the bar of the witness desk and asked anxiously: 'Which side am I on, Judge—the fat lawyer's or the thin one's?'"—Chicago News.

Pilgrim Strayed From Path of Righteousness

John Billington was one of the Pilgrim Fathers. He led a tumultuous life, made numerous enemies and distinguished himself by being the first person hanged in Plymouth colony. The day of his execution was one of triumph for the righteous. There had been a great deal of controversy as to whether Billington's life should be taken, whether in fact the colony had legal right to hang him; but in the end the question was decided by expediency.

He was one of the signers of the compact on board the Mayflower, that document which has so often been the theme of orators. His family were public figures from the beginning of the colony, and this man's death was a turning point in the life of the settlement. Yet the inquiring reader will search far in school histories for any inkling that such an individual ever existed.

Textbooks for the new generation generally paint the Pilgrims as God-fearing, heroic people, who came to these shores so that they might worship the deity in their own way. They are credited with courage, perseverance, democratic ideals, devotion to duty. But if one digs into the early records of Plymouth for the story of John Billington he will find that not all the Mayflower voyagers were love-ly folk. There was conflict among them, and castles, and doctrinal divisions. Dissord had arisen on the ship long before land was sighted.

Billington was hanged in Plymouth on September 30, 1630, ten years after the arrival of the 102 colonists off Provincetown. He had waylaid a young man named John Newcomb, with whom he had quarreled, and shot him. Newcomb had interfered with his hunting deer. The defendant was arraigned before both grand and petit juries and was found guilty of willful murder, "by plain and notorious evidence."—John N. Beffel in McNaught's Monthly.

Spread of Infection Blamed on Handshake

The question has often occurred to us: Why is a handshake such a risky affair? We put with which we might possibly dispense? Much has been written about the custom, its origin and its meaning; yet nothing to justify it from a sanitary standpoint.

It is a strange thing, but nearly universal, that people cough and sneeze into or upon their right hands—the ones with which they shake hands. Germs cling very readily to the skin of the hands and it requires much mechanical and chemical scrubbing and disinfection to remove them; yet, so-called little things that they are, they are ever ready to transfer their affections from one hand to another, or from hand to lip or food. Under ordinary conditions the human hand is a culture bed of germs and liable at any time to have its millions of germs augmented, or transferred, as the occasion presents. If you want to realize the possibilities of the transfer of disease by the hand just watch any one for a day and see where he puts his hands, what he allows to touch and soil them and how democratic he is in passing his germs along to his friends and family.

That the custom of handshaking will ever go out of use may be doubted, but that it is a means of conveying disease is susceptible of scientific demonstration. Our only hope is that people realizing the danger will take every precaution against putting their hands where they may either acquire or transmit infection. The Chinese have a very commendable custom of shaking their own hands when meeting friends, a custom we might well adopt. We make a lot of fun of China, but often may profit by her ancient wisdom if we but would. At least, your own germs will stay at home if you shake your own hand.—Ohio Health News.

INSECTS THAT ARE SUPERIOR TO MAN

Bee's Government Cited as an Instance.

No human government has ever approached in efficiency the economy, patriotism, self-sufficiency, devotion and persistence of the bee.

Biologists have sought in vain for a means of sex determination in our race, writes K. E. Brooks in Nature Magazine of Washington. Bees, wasps and some other insects produce males, females and workers at will, in accordance with the needs of the colony.

We have learned to send wireless messages, but the insects have long been able to send one another relatively long distances by some system which we do not understand.

One of our problems in illumination is to create a fire which glows, but which does not burn. So far, our best light, most of the energy of combustion is wasted in the form of heat. Light-producing insects, such as the fireflies, however, are able to keep in their bodies a little blaze which is more than 90 per cent light and less than 1 per cent heat.

Long before man learned to warm his habitations with fire, the bees had discovered a muscular exercise whereby in very cold weather they could raise the temperature of their homes as much as 35 degrees Centigrade.

The soldier might learn points in his art from the ambrosia beetle, which plants seeds of succulent fungus in its burrows to furnish nourishment for its young.

The farmer might learn the possibilities of poisonous gases in warfare from the bombardier beetle, which hurls discomforting charges of acrid gas at its enemies.

The farmer could discover that good seeds are produced when the flowers are pollinated, by watching the operations of the promissory moth on yucca blossoms.

This insect, with amazing wisdom, Nature Magazine points out, gathers pollen from the anthers of the flowers and applies it directly to the stigma, with no other object, so far as we know, than to insure the formation of plump seeds upon which the caterpillars of the moth depend for food.

The surgeon might get hints on the use of anesthetics from the solitary wasp, which thrusts its drug-laden sting into its spider or insect victim and by that means stupefies and preserves it as food for future baby wasps.

Insects are the original paper, silk and honey makers. We have, perhaps, beaten them in the paper business, but our imitation silk is inferior to the genuine and our synthetic honey an abomination.

Protests Against "Jazz"

A well-known London musical conductor has recently issued a strong protest against the now almost universal use of the epithet "jazz" to describe "what is really syncopated music." The two, he maintains, are entirely different. Jazz music is essentially erratic; it gets the weirdest possible effects by breaking all the rules. As far as he can elicit, the word came from a little town in the southern states of America, where the "toughs" used to shout "Chas! Chas!" for a negro minstrel, Charles by name. "Chas," became "Jazz," and the name stuck to the "music," which took New York by storm at the time of the armistice. But when people cooled down "jazz" gently expired. "Is it not, then, grotesque," he writes, "that a self-respecting syncopated orchestra should inherit this wretched epithet? A syncopated band may behave in an eccentric fashion; it does at least pay attention to the rules of music in its execution and its playing."

Fears Only June Bugs

June bugs hold more terror for Ethel Hawkins of Indianapolis than does the painting of a smokestack which involves swinging on a scaffold 175 feet above the street. Mrs. Hawkins' husband was a stepladder until he retired, and her brother is a member of the same craft, says the American Magazine. She says painting tall buildings and smokestacks does not bother her in the least, but that "if a silly June bug should come clicking along, why, that would be a different story. I am not afraid of anything—bandits or burglars or even bats—but bugs give me the 'willies.' I'd rather paint a dozen 200-foot towers than have one of those horrible insects in my room, whether it touches me or not"

Modern Franklin

What starts a lightning flash, and what determines the path of a lightning bolt through the atmosphere? A modern disciple of Benjamin Franklin, Dr. C. V. Boys, British physicist, proposes to answer these questions by shooting a rocket up into a thundercloud to see whether a lightning flash will follow the track of the rocket, either downward to the earth or upward from the earth to the cloud.

Doctor Boys explains in Popular Science Monthly that the track of a rocket contains countless electrified atoms which are discharged as the explosive drives the rocket upward. Knowledge of whether lightning would follow such an electrified channel through the air, he says, might reveal many unknown facts about the nature of thunderbolts.

Discretion and Valor

Last summer a sewer was being put on the south side of the city. Two boys who lived on the corner persisted in crawling through the large pipes that were to be put in the ground. Alvin, the older, was so heavy he could not run, but Robert, the younger, was thin and wiry.

Their father had cautioned them to stay away from the pipes, and he had asked the foreman to look after them. One day, soon after, while the boys were playing around the pipes, the foreman came up and said: "I'll give you boys just two minutes to get away from those pipes."

Robert jumped up, grabbed the man around the knees, and shouted: "Run, Alvin, I'll hold him!"—Indianapolis News.

Each Baby Boosts Rent

Each baby born in a London apartment causes the rent to automatically raise, according to a plan worked out by the landlord. Under an agreement recently submitted to a prospective tenant of a two-room apartment, the terms were: "Rent 20s. per week or 17s. 6d. on repairing lease, tenant finds on own repairs on going in. No children taken; above rent is for two persons only, or 2s. 6d. per week increase for every additional person or for every child born in the house. Two weeks' rent in advance as standing deposit in lieu of two weeks' notice either side." The rooms were two small ones just under the roof of the building.

Big Japanese Project

The Daido Denroyoku Kabushiki Kaisha of Tokyo have formed the Hokuriku Soden Kabushiki Kaisha (Hokuriku Electric Power Transmission Company, Ltd.), with a capital of 40,000,000 yen for a 50,000-kilowatt development on the Sho river in Toyama prefecture. It is estimated that power stations will cost the company about 22,000,000 yen, and 18,000,000 yen will be spent for transmission lines (154,000 volts) to Osaka. (The yen is now worth 48 cents.) The project will be completed early in 1929.

Helping Erring Youth

The Windsor state reformatory at Green Bay is not a place of punishment, but a place where youths are "corrected and morally remodeled," and they are welcome to all the fun they get out of life there, according to officials of the institution. So they flooded the baseball diamond to provide an acre and a half skating rink, which the boys enjoy for a 90-minute period each day. Skates have been bought out of the school athletic fund, raised by candy sales.—Exchange.

Third Year as Crucial Test of Married Life

The presiding judge of the Domestic Relations court in New York recently, summed up his experiences in an opinion to the effect that "the first year of married life is the hardest."

His conclusion is challenged by Eleanor Blake, writing in the Woman's Home Companion, who declares that "the dreadful third year" is the crucial test of married life.

"I see nothing in all this talk about the trials of the first year of marriage," she says, "save a conspiracy on the part of the brides to call attention to themselves. In general, this first year is a year of delicious adventure."

"With the beginning of the second year a milestone has been passed. Somehow she and John are really married, and she has settled down into a happy routine of getting meals, of keeping the house bright and fresh, and perhaps of preparing for another small life that is coming."

Then the third year creeps on her almost before she knows it. The baby is there, a baby who is healthy and happy as only the most sensible of mothers, following a wise routine, can make him. He is the nicest sort of baby to have around the house, but that is just one of the reasons why his mother is apt to wake up some morning with the dreadful realization that another scheduled day of activity is before her—a day of meal planning and meal preparation, bath, nap, an airing with Junior, another meal, marketing, rest and another meal.

It is the "hated round of routine" which Miss Blake finds the most serious crisis in married life, and for which she proposes as remedy an experiment with schedules designed to simplify routine.

The wise old judge, it appears, reached his conclusions mainly from experiments with marital shipwrecks, while Miss Blake is discussing the much more important classification of normal marriages.

The Dollar Tip

French Consul Maurice Hellman said in his excellent English at a dinner in San Francisco:

"France gets a lot of advice about how to restore the franc, how to pay her debts and so on, but this advice isn't as valuable as it pretends to be. It reminds me, in fact, of a Kansas farmer."

"Them city bunco steersers had oughter be shot," said a Kansas farmer.

"Yep? How so?" said the keeper of the general store.

"I seen an ad in the paper, the farmer answered, 'what said that if you'd send in a dollar they'd tell you how to make butter out of grass; so I sent my dollar in, and they wrote back and says, 'Arter you get the grass ready,' they says, 'feed it into a cow,' they says, 'and churn the milk.'"

Phenomenon in Sky

On a cloudy morning recently, when frost filled the air, McPherson, Kansas, witnessed an extraordinary phenomenon. A peculiar deep pink hue suddenly appeared in the heavens and was reflected on buildings and the ground, like the glow of a strong fire. Through the glow electric lights turned to a greenish color. The phenomenon lasted less than five minutes.

Prof. H. H. Nininger and Dr. H. J. Huruly of the biology department of McPherson college expressed the opinion that an especially brilliant sunrise breaking through low, thin clouds was reflected on the fine frost in the air, causing the pink tint. But they could not account for the greenish tint of the electric lights.—New York Herald.

The Saint in Politics

The president of the Young Men's Republican club of Chicago is named St. Peter. His given name doesn't count as far as this story is concerned.

He came to Indianapolis and put up at a hotel. An Indianapolis woman, much interested in the Republican party, called by phone at this hotel and asked:

"Is Mr. St. Peter there?"
"St. Peter has not come down yet," replied the hotel phone girl, not knowing she had made the "wisest crack" of the day from that exchange.—Indianapolis News.

Demand for Red Diamonds

Demand for the rare red diamond has become so great since the finding of the large crimson stone in the Transvaal recently that prices are climbing and miners are desperately hunting for more of the gems. The 18-carat diamond from the Transvaal that has attracted so much attention is valued at nearly $15,000, while a 6-carat stone mined last April brought $4,500. A perfect ruby-red diamond commanded a price of $3,000 a carat, while an almost perfect "white" diamond recently was sold for $110 a carat.

"BROADWAY" BEGINS TENTH WEEK AT THE GARRICK THEATRE.

"Broadway," undoubtedly the outstanding "smash" of the dramatic season, will enter its tenth week at the Garrick theatre, Detroit, beginning Sunday next, with high prospects through advance reservations, of even "topping" the record business that has come to the Garrick since "Broadway" opened. The patronage of "Broadway" is verification again that "the play's the thing."

Opening in Detroit at the end of a somewhat dull season in theatrically, "Broadway" immediately caught on as it had done in New York and London where it is still playing. The author-director, Jed Harris, and the producer, George Abbot, gave the same care and attention to the excellent script and the casting and rehearsals as they did to the original New York production. They gathered a company which can hardly be improved upon and they gave Detroit as near a perfect presentation as has been seen in many years. If there is one dissatisfied patron of "Broadway," he must be hiding himself somewhere in the tall timbers, for nothing but praise is heard.

When Philip Dunning wrote the original script of "Broadway," he based the character of the "hooper," Roy Lane, on his old chum, Roy Lloyd, a buddy of the theatre whose supreme optimism in fact of early struggles was an inspiration to ambition. When "Broadway" was produced, Dunning tried to get his old chum to play himself. Lee Tracy, however, had already been engaged by Jed Harris, and Roy Lloyd was given a minor role in the play and understudied himself. When the London company of "Broadway" was organized, however, Lloyd was given the Roy Lane role and incidentally is still playing at the Adelphi Theatre in London.

The engagements of the New York and London companies developed to the indefinite stage and Wallace Ford was engaged for the company now offering "Broadway" at the Garrick theatre in Detroit. Mr. Ford was not very well known in Detroit prior to this engagement, but his characterization of the hooper has now stamped him indelibly as one of Detroit's favorites.

In speaking of the prosperity now being enjoyed by "Broadway" now at the Garrick, Detroit, as well as New York and London, comparisons are frequently made with "Abie's Irish Rose." "Abie" has it on "Broadway" in point of length of run but the "Broadway" enthusiasts point out that the gross takings of "Broadway" in New York average about three times weekly that of "Abie" in New York, owing to the higher scale. In Detroit, however, the scale of "Broadway" is at the same low range of prices as "Abie."

NEWBURG

Last Sunday, Rev. Walker preached at Shelton in the morning, while John Marvin, a student of Albion College, came here. Don't forget next Sunday, June 19th, will be "Children's Day."

Next Sunday evening, Mr. Snavely, the manual training teacher of the Plymouth High school, will give an illustrated lecture for the Epworth League, at 7:30.

On Tuesday morning at ten o'clock, Miss Elsie Snyder of Nankin Mills, and Frank Ott were united in marriage by Rev. Walker, in the Newburg church. Their many friends extend congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Gutherie spent several days last week in Grayling, Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Mackinder, in company with Mr. and Mrs. Norris and son, Walter, spent last Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Norris and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Carney went to Flint, Saturday, to attend the funeral of a cousin.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Will Smith spent Sunday afternoon at Cass Lake, visiting their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Schroder.

Mrs. Walker and son, William, spent Saturday in Rochester, visiting Mrs. Walker's sister.

Word has come from Mrs. C. E. Ryder at LaGrange, Ill., that her son, Raymond, is some better, but he is still in the hospital, where he went five weeks ago, for an operation for appendicitis.

The "Home-Coming" for Newburg has been planned for the last Saturday in August, to be held on the school grounds.

Mrs. Henry Grimm and daughter, Miss Clara Grimm, attended a shower in Detroit last Saturday evening, in the home of Mrs. Campbell. The shower was in honor of Miss Clara, a June bride elect.

Wool From Pine

Chemically treated pine needles have worked out in Germany as a substitute for wool for certain purposes very successfully. By varying the process a woolly product is obtained that comes either in the shape of fine sheet wadding or in soft fleeces that are used to stuff mattresses.

The pine wool has fine, strong fibers not unlike hemp, and finds its best use when woven into heavy materials, such as carpets and horse blankets. The new process has a valuable asset in one of its by-products that result from the chemical treatment necessary to remove the resin from the needles. The sticky residue is shaped into resinous briquettes, which have a very high fuel value and which have found a ready use in the manufacture of artificial illuminating gas.

Our liner ad column has helped many people find their needs. The results are satisfying and the cost is small.

Elevator to the Belfry

When Anton Brees, formerly of Antwerp, Belgium, but now carillonneur of the Park Avenue Baptist church in New York city, goes up to play the bells given by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., in memory of his mother, he does not have to climb a narrow flight of belfry stairs to reach the keyboard in the church tower. Instead there is a special electric elevator available, and, further, the room set aside for the keyboard of the carillon is heated in winter by electric heaters and cooled in summer by electric fans.

G. VanStickle, who has been employed at Simon's Store for nearly two years, has resigned his position there and has taken a position with Roy Woodworth as merchandising manager at the bazaar. Mr. Woodworth's business has grown to the extent of making it impossible for him to handle it alone.

Miss Merinda Pierson of the P. M. R. R., had the honor of writing the Detroit Passenger Club Song. The club is composed of members from various railroad and steamship lines, and the song was introduced and sung by the club at their banquet at the Book-Cadillac hotel, Tuesday evening. Miss Pierson accompanied at the piano.

Several members of the Masonic fraternity visited Orrin Cook of Salem township, last Monday afternoon, to congratulate him on attaining his 94th birthday anniversary. Mr. Cook is the oldest member of the local Masonic order. He is remarkably hale and hearty for a man of his years, and it is needless to say he enjoyed the visit of his Masonic brethren very much.

The Pythian Association of the First District of Michigan will hold a joint memorial service at Roseland cemetery, Woodward avenue at Berkeley, Detroit, on Sunday, June 19, at 3:00 o'clock. A program has been arranged for the occasion. Wives, families and friends are cordially invited. Members of Plymouth Lodge No. 238, Knights of Pythias, should plan to attend.

Miss Leona Gale, Superior township, who has been selected as one of the two 4-H club girls to represent the state of Michigan at the new national 4-H club camp at Washington, D. C., left for Washington, Sunday, June 12th. She made the trip by car with the club leaders of the state, who also went to Washington to attend a club leaders' conference. Plans were made to visit Niagara Falls, Cornell University at Ithaca, New York, and Frank Eslick, former club agent of Washtenaw county, who is now club agent of Chemung county, New York. The party will return from the camp Saturday, June 25th.

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Robinson and son, Russell, spent the week-end with relatives at Oxley, Ontario.

Mr. and Mrs. Lauren Goodale of Northville, have moved into Miss Verne Rowley's cottage on Kellogg street.

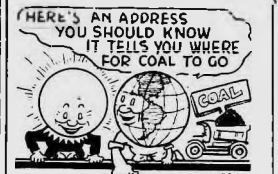

Work on the new school building is progressing rapidly. The brick work is all completed, and the steel girders for the roof are nearly all in place.

The Woman's Club will hold their annual picnic at the Washtenaw Country Club, Friday, June 24th. Luncheon will be served at 1:00 o'clock.

The total amount of money contributed by Plymouth citizens for the relief of the Mississippi valley flood sufferers, was $1,269.36. This is certainly a splendid showing for Plymouth.

ENTERTAINS AT HOUSE PARTY

Miss Marion Beyer, who is attending the U. of M., returned home last week-end to be hostess at a house party in honor of two seniors, Miss Marcelle Sadtler of Indianapolis, Ind., and Pauline Jenson of Muskegon, Mich. Miss Katherine Helms of Dayton, Ohio, and Miss Ruth Coon of Ann Arbor, were also guests at a delightful dinner Saturday evening, served in honor of Miss Ruth Coon, a June bride-to-be. Miss Margara Muffy of Detroit, and Miss Julia Wilcox of this place, also attended the dinner. After a merry week-end, the guests returned to their homes and school.

OUR GRADUATES.

So many things have come into the lives of Plymouth citizens since they finished school, and business cares have set so heavily on their shoulders that they have lost sight of what was really a supreme event in their lives—the high school graduation. And yet, even though forgotten by those who have passed through it, or if not forgotten at least seldom recalled, the event is still rated as a red-letter day in the life of every boy or girl permitted to achieve the distinction of having participated in it.

We are again in the season of high school graduations, or commencements, if you prefer. Here and elsewhere boys and girls, just on the border-land of manhood and womanhood, are closing an eventful period in their careers. They are reaching a fork in the road, and directing signs to Success and Failure are not easily interpreted. Each must read for himself, each must choose the road over which he will travel through life. Graduation marks the point from which they launch their battle against the hard and exacting tasks of life—it is the day when they lift the burden of responsibility from the shoulders of their own parents and start out to carry it themselves.

We are proud of the young men and women this community is graduating this season. Many of them will remain in the neighborhood, carrying on in future years the tasks of those now in active business and professional life. Others will be scattered to far places, to stand or fall on the training they received in the old home school from which they are now taking a final farewell. We can wish no greater thing for them than that each and every one lives as happily and successfully as have been the school years now brought to a close.

Fearless Professors

Perhaps there is nothing more terrifying to the imagination than an active volcano. Even those who have not read "The Last Days of Pompeii" shudder at the idea. But men of science are a fearless breed. Recently Vesuvius showed signs of intensified activity. There were deep rumblings, and slight tremors were felt at Naples. So Professor Malladra, director of the Vesuvius observatory, went up to study the conditions. He spent the night in the outer crater, and stated on his return that there was no danger at present.

Girl Wins Honor

A girl of sixteen has accomplished the daring feat of crossing the most tempestuous part of the Black sea in a rowboat. Tamara Schumarino started alone in a small rowboat down the Dnieper river. After many thrilling experiences she ultimately reached Sebastopol, having covered a distance of approximately 1,000 miles, and being the first woman to have shot the Dnieper rapids. In recognition of her bold venture, Tamara Schumarino was made an honorary member of the Red fleet, in which she is the first woman to be enlisted.

Efficiency

Eight-year old Margaret, who dislikes dish-washing and bed-making, has given much anxious thought to the problems of domestic life. A caller asked her what she meant to do when she grew up. "Oh, get married!" she answered. "But suppose nobody asks you?" "Then I shall ask somebody," she replied, decidedly. "My mind is made up. I shall be married and have six children, four white ones, and two black ones to do the work."

LOCAL CHEVROLET MEN ATTEND BREAKFAST

Ernest J. Allison, local Chevrolet dealer, J. C. Rutherford, sales manager, salesman George Atkinson, Theodore Rutherford and Ralph Keger attended a breakfast tendered to Chevrolet dealers, sales managers and salesmen at the Statler hotel Monday morning at 8:00 o'clock. R. H. Grant, vice president of the Chevrolet Motor Company, and in charge of sales, was one of the speakers. Mr. Grant announced that there would positively be no change in models during 1927. He also stated that the general outlook for 1927 was exceptionally good. Mr. Grant anticipates that 100,000 Chevrolet cars will be sold during the month of June.

PENMANSHIP AWARDS IN PLYMOUTH SCHOOLS

At honor assemblies this week considerable recognition was given to those students who have attained skill in the art of handwriting.

Tuesday a special assembly was held for the pupils of grades 1-6, inclusive.

Following musical selections rendered by the High school orchestra, Mr. Lindquist, supervisor of penmanship in the High school, gave a short talk, emphasizing the importance of writing and a review of the Palmer method plan.

As a result of samples of writing sent during the year to the Palmer company, Chicago, buttons, pins and medals had been received. The awards earned in each room were attractively arranged on colored cardboard, which Mr. Lindquist presented to the teacher who was in charge of the room it represented. The teachers in turn presented the individual awards to the following: M. Mattison, E. L. Nystrom, H. Clark, J. Workup, N. Gould, A. Lavers, J. Urban, E. Cline, M. Drows, H. Norgrove, D. Cool, G. Cline, R. Deal, C. Dongan, E. Egge, I. Humphries, F. Machine, G. McGorey, D. Wank, R. Reed, R. Meurin, progress pins.

When Mr. Lindquist presented penmanship awards in the High school Wednesday, he said:

"I hate to appear 180 years behind the times, but let me quote a statement made then: 'Among all the inventions of mankind none is more admirable, necessary, useful or convenient than writing, by which a man is enabled to delineate his very conceptions, communicate his mind without speaking, and correspond with his friends ten thousand miles distant and all by the contrivance of twenty-six letters.' It is true that the telephone, typewriter, wireless, printing and radio sometimes take the place of writing, but I am of the opinion, as commerce and industry has increased, there is much more handwriting done today per person than there was 180 years ago. Many questionnaires have been sent to business men by commercial educators the past few years to find what they consider as essentials for students entering the business world. Always we find 'Good, legible handwriting is an important requirement.'

"The importance of writing, I believe, is sensed by the majority of the students of the Plymouth school, for your work in penmanship has been successful. It is seldom you need to re-write a paper for your teachers because of its illegibility. The speed and ease of your writing is not found in every school.

"Not only is our handwriting of a high standard in our own opinion, but during the past decade certain educators, particularly Freeman and Ayres, have made a survey of handwriting throughout the country. From the result of their work certain standard scales have been made by which we can grade or score our writing. These scales have been used extensively this year and we find Plymouth students' writing is above the average.

"You did not learn to write this year, and those of you who are to receive your certificates of proficiency and final diplomas today surely realize that it has been a gradual process throughout the grades. I agree fully with the author of our text, 'Under Palmer method penmanship there is persistent, consistent progress from grade to grade as the flexed muscles are brought more and more under control, and pupils co-ordinate the easy rhythmic muscular movement, with better and better formation.'

"Probably the first writing was in the form of pictures. We find evidence of this in old ruins. After many centuries characters were used to represent sounds, similar to Chinese writing of today, these characters were laboriously inscribed on tablets of clay, pieces of papyrus or skins of animals.

"In 1700 books were printed with the purpose of teaching the art of acquiring good writing. In those early books we find such advice given: 'Have your writing neat and plain, struck at once which will impart a mastery beauty to your writing.'

"The first books concerning penmanship deserve praise. They contained many sound principles. 'Platt R. Spencer, who founded a school in which free, easy, muscular movement was taught, is sometimes called the father of modern penmanship. His theory of teaching has, in a large measure, lived.

"Since his time many styles of handwriting have been tried and failed. Most of us are familiar with vertical writing and back-hand. Copy book systems were used in many schools until recently. Great accuracy in formation was acquired by even primary pupils, but it was a long, slow drawing process which broke down under pressure, and a generation of poor penmen the result.

"Our particular type of penmanship has stood the test and it is considered throughout the United States as the best. To those who have made it possible for us to study the Palmer method much credit is due. As a result over 100 persons today are receiving certificates and diplomas representing skill in writing—writing which is done rapidly, easily and legibly. To many progress pins are being awarded as recognition of good writing. It is almost without question that these people will be candidates for final diplomas next year."

Awards were granted to the following:

- Final diplomas: M. Schulz, D. Nichol, W. Norris, M. Miller, E. Hoyball, C. Hamilton, P. Deal, M. Cole, B. Cline, V. Coughay, A. Beckwith, E. Ash, A. Stroh, I. Mott, R. Allison, E. Adams, F. Hills' milk is good milk, the best to be had. Tests highest and richest in food values. Increase your milk budget, the best investment you can make this summer. Try it for a few weeks—and you'll never alter the program. Fresh every day, rich, creamy milk.

FARMS AND MACHINES.
OIL WASTE—PAY LATER.
OUR CIGARETTE TAX.
FORD NO. 15,000,000.

The hope of the farmer is in better machinery and more intelligent use of it. It is not alone the selling price of a bushel of wheat that counts but the amount of farm time and labor used to produce the bushel. A man working with pick and shovel could not afford to dig up and sort out gold bearing gravel if it paid him five dollars a ton average. But giant dredging machines in the Sacramento Valley are making millions working gravel that pays less than twenty cents a ton.

Edwin J. Clapp shows what machinery is doing and will do to help solve farm problems, and why United States farms can compete with European cheap labor, and even survive high railroad freight rates.

On American farms one worker on the average produces twelve tons of cereal. In Europe one worker produces one and one-half tons.

From 1910 to 1920 American farm population increased only four per cent, while production of wheat increased fifty-eight per cent, corn thirty-five per cent, cotton forty-seven per cent, cattle thirty-seven per cent, hogs sixty-five per cent.

The farm problem is not to be solved, according to Mr. Clapp, by "keeping the boys on the farm," but by letting the boys go to the factories, using more machinery on farms and thus reducing cost of production.

"Light automobiles and trucks are being produced in greater volume than ever before." Such is the official report. There is only one cloud on the automobile horizon, and that's an oil cloud.

Reckless production and reckless price cutting in the oil industry mean trouble ahead for motor owners. Oil is being wasted, poured out and squandered on sandy roads, wherever public officials can be persuaded to buy it at public expense.

Oil production is wastefully managed, prices are low—but today's low prices will be paid for with high prices later.

The country needs a continuous oil and gasoline supply, at fair prices, which the government should regulate.

The nation now is acting like a drunken youth, squandering a rich inheritance.

Lindbergh has good ideas. An enthusiastic French lady intended to spend 150,000 francs for a cup to celebrate his flight. He accepted gratefully and asked that the 150,000 francs be spent instead on children of French aviators who lost their lives promoting aviation. Lindbergh is a good representative of this country in Europe.

When Count Witte was in this country, representing Russia in the peace arrangements with Japan, he told this writer the national monopoly of vodka, the Russian drink, forty per cent alcohol, and sixty per cent water, which he originated, gave a profit just big enough to pay the cost of the Russian army.

It would interest Witte to know that the United States tax on cigarettes just about pays the cost of our army. Uncle Sam collected $227,000,000 in ten months this year from cigarette smokers.

A full fiscal year's cigarette tax will about pay all army costs.

If the government could collect the tax that the public pays to bootleggers it might pay for all government expenses.

Henry Ford last week watched his machinery grind out Ford car No. 15,000,000, and celebrated by taking a ride in the first car he ever built, old car No. 1 with its two cylinders was taken out of the Ford museum and driven by Henry Ford with car No. 15,000,000 driving beside it.

A new Ford car, with a different gear shift, double the old Ford power and a speed of sixty miles an hour and more, will be seen in the late summer or early fall. That will begin a new Ford family.

How much have 15,000,000 Ford cars meant in happiness to this country—through freedom of movement? How many billion miles have they traveled?

JARDINE TO SPEAK AT M. S. C. MEETING

U. S. SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE BOOKED FOR KEYNOTE ADDRESS AT COUNTRY LIFE WEEK IN AUGUST.

Hon. William Jardine, secretary of agriculture in the Coolidge cabinet, will speak at the Michigan State College on August 1, according to announcement made at East Lansing this week.

Secretary Jardine's address will be one of the keynote speeches of the big country life week which is booked for East Lansing during the first week of August. Eighteen different organizations interested in agriculture and rural life are to hold conferences at M. S. C. during this period, in what is said will be the largest gathering of its kind ever held.

The American Country Life Association, holding its tenth annual meeting, and the American Farm Economics Association will be two of the prominent groups which will gather during the week, along with the International Country Life Association and several other organizations of national and even international scope.

The annual summer farmers day, an occasion which has grown during the last decade to a point where ten thousand Michigan farmers and their families gather at M. S. C. for the day, will be held on Thursday, August 4, this year. The program for the farmers day will be so arranged that visitors may also take in some of the interesting features of the country life week.

Take Your Choice.

THE THEATRE

"ROUGH HOUSE ROSIE"

"Rough House Rosie," the Clara Bow starring picture that has made critics search for new superlatives, is the attraction booked for the Penniman Allen theatre screen, Sunday and Monday, June 19 and 20.

This new Paramount production comes to the Penniman Allen with the reputation of having broken box office records everywhere, rivalling her sensational success in "IT" the Elinor Glyn story that added a new word to slangdom.

In "Rough House Rosie," Clara is Rosie O'Reilly, the belle of Tenth Avenue and sweetheart of big first-class Joe Hennessy, about to engage in battle for the middleweight championship of the world. It brings Clara to the screen as a chorus girl, as a pug,acious defender of her honest name, as an alluring member of the fast-stepping upper social set and as the best ringside supporter a fighting man ever had.

Reed Howes, a strapping handsome youngster, plays opposite Miss Bow, in this Frank Strayer production. Doris Hill, one of filmdom's best known beauties, has an important part as do Arthur Housman and Douglas Gilmore.

Nunnally Johnson wrote the story. The adaptation was prepared by Max March. Ethel Doherty and Louise Long wrote the screen play.

"THREE HOURS"

Corinne Griffith at her best, in an emotional dramatic role of the type that has made her famous, will be seen at the Penniman Allen theatre, Tuesday and Wednesday, June 21 and 22.

Supporting her in her newest picture, "Three Hours," is a cast of prominent screen players, including John Bowers, Hobart Bosworth, Paul Ellis, Ann Schaefer and Mary Louise Miller. Bowers, who plays opposite the star, was recently "discovered" by Gloria Swanson, who made him her leading man in "Smya."

Adapted from May Edington's story by Paul Bern, famous director and scenarist, the picture, directed by James Flood, deals with a modern society matron who is the victim of the wrath of an insanely jealous husband.

The victim of circumstantial evidence, the wife is banished from her home carrying with her the undesired stigma of infidelity, and for years is not allowed to see her child, then, after its death the husband, when in revengeful mood, allows the socially ruined woman to see her child as it lies dead.

Miss Griffith's work in this picture is said to be the greatest dramatic performance that she has ever given for the screen, calling as it does for a portrayal of the most tense type of nationalism. The picture will pull at the heartstrings of those who see it, and picture-goers in Plymouth who enjoy a melodramatic thing to their screen fare will be more than satisfied with this feature.

"A KISS IN A TAXI"

"A Kiss in a Taxi," Bebe Daniels' latest bit of Paramount hilarity coming to the Penniman Allen theatre, Wednesday and Thursday, June 23 and 24, lives up to all expectations that this little comedienne has instilled into her enthusiastic admirers. Her reputation as a provoker of a healthy laughter built up by a succession of screen comedies, the last of which was "Stranded in Paris," is enhanced in this funny-bone tickler, that concerns the adventures of Ginette, waitress in the Cafe Pierre, Montmartre, Paris.

Ginette is a dark-haired, dark-eyed bit of fiery femininity who besides breaking the hearts of all gentlemen, breaks glassware over their heads when they attempt to show their affection. Douglas Gilmore is cast as Lucien Cambolle, an artist with whom Bebe falls in love, and who receives her caresses with impunity. The plot is complicated by Gilmore's father who has a keen sense of the value of social position. Bebe's lowly station in life leads him to forbid his son's marrying her.

The inimitably be-mustached Chester Conklin parades through the film leaving laughter in his wake. Agostino Borgato's portrayal of the excitable cafe owner is excellent. In support are Henry Tucker and Richard Kolker, whose past performances speak for themselves.

Clarence Badger directed this adaptation of the successful Broadway farce of a few seasons back.

"THE GREAT K & A TRAIN ROBBERY"

Honest-to-goodness screen entertainment is what Tom Mix will supply at the Penniman Allen theatre Saturday, June 25, in "The Great K & A Train Robbery." There's a real, thrilling story which shows the ever-popular Tom in the best role of his career. The scenic effects are gorgeous, the surrounding cast is excellent and the direction of Lew Seiler is all that could be desired. The picture is a Fox Films product.

Director Seiler started out with an excellent plot, which is based upon the novel by Paul Leicester Ford. But he didn't let one opportunity go by the boards. He grasped every situation and developed it to the utmost degree.

The star is cast as Tom Gordon, a noted detective who has been assigned to the tough job of rounding up a gang of desperadoes who have had great success in looting K & A Trains. Burton Holt, division superintendent, is really the brains of the gang and Tom soon finds this out. Meanwhile, he meets Madge Cullen, (Dorothy Dwan) the daughter of the president of the railroad. Madge mistakes Tom for a bandit, which does nothing but add to the detective's troubles. From the time of Tom's big encounter with the bandits to the end of the picture, "The Great K & A Train Robbery" travels at terrific speed.

RECORDS SHOW TESTS RETURN GOOD PROFITS

COWS TESTED IN MICHIGAN ASSOCIATIONS GAIN IN BUTTER FAT PRODUCTION.

There are several ways in which membership in a cow testing association may become profitable, according to the reports made to Michigan State college by testers employed in such associations.

In the Lansing-Ingham association, which has been organized for four years, the records show that the average production of butter fat per cow has increased 16 pounds in the four years. There were 241 cows tested the fourth year.

The average production in the association last year of 361.8 pounds of fat per cow was worth $180.90. The butter fat produced by the average cow the first year of the association was worth $122.90.

Feed costs were higher the fourth year but butter fat prices had also increased so that the return above feed costs for the average cow in the association was $44.61 greater the fourth year than it was the first. For the 241 cows in the association the gain was $10,753.01.

In the Osceola Cow Testing association one member bought a nine-year-old grade Holstein cow for $55. The cow was put on test in the association and produced 415 pounds of fat in eight and one-half months.

The owner of the cow had a sale and the cow and her calf sold for $200. In this case the increase in the sale price over the purchase price was directly due to the proof of the value of the cow as shown by association records.

Today's Reflections

If the Mississippi river is the father of waters it's a pity mother doesn't make him behave.

The average Plymouth man will feel sorry for you if you wear your arm in a sling or your foot in a bandage, but not if you've got a black eye.

The old-time shot who put notches into his gun handle for his victims left a grandson who has several dents in his off fender.

It must be discouraging to insist for 30 or 40 years on an open door in China and then have to come out through the transom.

Maybe the reason some Plymouth people always seem to get their prayers answered is because they never quit nagging at the angels until they stop and listen.

Revival of the Hughes boom raises the question of whether a man with whiskers can still be elected president of the United States.

Aimee McPherson's new boyish bob may keep her hair from falling out but not her congregation.

Any Plymouth citizen who wants to get rich quick might try inventing a method whereby an income can be stretched as easily as some people stretch the truth.

Paris has a new drink called "onion peel," but at that we'll bet it isn't as bad as most American bootleg stuff.

Few now living ever expected to see the day when a grownup Plymouth girl could go wading in water up to her knees without having to hold up her skirts.

The biggest fools in the world are the couples who make marriage the place where they quit loving and start scrapping.

Now that Uncle Sam has decided to decrease the size of paper money why can't he also find a way to increase its purchasing power?

We hope none of our delinquent subscribers around Plymouth mistake toadstools for mushrooms while they are still in arrears.

When you consider all the exercise she gets in jumping at conclusions you wonder how a woman can get fat.

BASE BALL NEWS

DE-HO-CO WINS FROM REDFORD

Inter-County League games Sunday were all interesting insofar as scores go except the De-Ho-Co-Redford affair at De-Ho-Co park, which developed into a field meet instead of a ball game. At that, fans who like a lot of Babe Ruthing got their money's worth, five home runs being the day's total of fence-busters credited to the De-Ho-Co clonors.

Four Redford moundmen tried unsuccessfully to stem the flood of farm-or-hits. Harry German for the De-Ho-Co Club allowed seven hits to Redford, while De-Ho-Co were collecting twenty-five hits off the opposition.

Detroit Firemen defeated Wyandotte, 12 to 3. Municipal Club topped Grosse Pointe, 12 to 8, while Belleville upset the dopsters by winning from Wayne, 4 to 2. Wayne's defeat Sunday gives De-Ho-Co undisputed leadership of the Inter-County circuit.

Next Sunday, June 19th, the De-Ho-Co boys meet Wyandotte. Plymouth fans are assured of a close game in this fracas, as Wyandotte has strengthened considerably, and is out to wipe out their previous defeat at the farmers' hands.

NETHEM CLUB DEFEATS KEEGO HARBOR, 7 TO 4

Rousseau Rouge Park at Newburg was the scene of a very interesting ball game last Sunday. Keego Harbor having suffered a prior defeat from the Nethem boys, came well prepared for revenge, and for a time it seemed as though the spoils would belong to them, but not so says Captain Bill Schlaf, who tripled in the seventh with three on, turning defeat into victory. Hy Gale allowed but six scattered hits, and would have given Keego a zero return, but for the errors made by the Nethem boys. However, they redeemed themselves, and brought victory to their teammate, Hy Gale. Keego Harbor boys played a nice game of baseball and accepted their loss as gentlemen.

Manager J. VanBom announces that a very stiff game is on the schedule for next Sunday, at the Rousseau Rouge Park, at Newburg, in the aggregation of the Oakland Motors of Pontiac, and he requests all the boys to be on deck Sunday, filled with pep and gumption, ready to win. Keego Harbor 3 0 0 1 0 0 0 0—4 6 3
Nethem 0 0 0 0 2 0 4 1—7 8 2

Batteries—Keego Harbor: Taylor, Jantor; Nethem: Hy Gale, Joe Schomborger.

Next Sunday, Oakland Motors vs. Nethem, at Newburg, at 3:00 o'clock.

MERCHANTS WIN ANOTHER.

Last Sunday's game over at Worden just meant another victory for Plymouth. The game was a very one-sided affair, Plymouth taking Bob Baulman's husky farmers down the line to the tune of 13-1.

Plymouth's new pitcher, Mr. Quinn, allowed Worden only two hits and one run, and in only one inning did more than three men face him, which isn't bad pitching in any man's league. In the whole game there were only 28 men faced him, which goes to show that besides his good pitching he was well supported by his fellow team-mates.

Our boys got 12 hits off Mr. Call for a total of 13 runs, which is using a pitcher and a team rather mean on their home grounds. But it just seems as though these Plymouth boys can't be stopped after they get to going.

Next Sunday Plymouth will play Sallne out at Burroughs field at 3:00 o'clock. This is a game that was postponed some weeks ago on account of rain, so all who have rain checks can use them at this game, which promises to be a good one, as Sallne is one of the strongest class A teams in southern Michigan, having many of the best amateur players in these parts in their lineup. So come out and you will see a good game, as our boys have won seven out of eight starts so far this season.

Last Sunday's game by innings:

Batteries—For Plymouth: Quinn and Strasen. For Worden: Call and Sweet.
Umpire—Trumble.

Section 3. All applications to make connection with said system of waterworks shall be made at the office of the Village Treasurer in writing, and upon blanks to be furnished by the Village. Such applications shall fully describe the locality and where such connection is desired. A tapping fee of TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS shall be paid at the time such application is made and if the connection is larger than three-quarters (3/4 in.) of an inch, the total cost, including said TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS paid, shall be the actual cost of making the connection, plus FIFTEEN PER CENT (15%), all of which amount remaining unpaid shall be due and payable immediately upon making the connection.

Sec. 2. This ordinance shall take effect on the 1st day of July, A. D. 1927.

Made and passed by the Commission of the Village of Plymouth, State of Michigan, at a meeting thereof held on the 6th day of June, A. D. 1927. Henry J. Fisher, Village President. Wm. Weltner, Village Clerk.

BUILD FOR FIRE SAFETY URGES FIRE CHIEF

In reviewing measures now being taken by the International Association of Fire Chiefs to combat the appalling loss of life and property by fire in the United States, Fire Chief Fred Wagenschutz points out that one of the most effective ways to reduce the fire danger is to give such buildings as we erect the highest degree of incombustibility.

"It would be impracticable, of course, to build an all-fireproof structure," Chief Wagenschutz continued. "In a residence of this nature the beds would have to be steel or concrete slabs and furniture would have to be of a similar material. There could be no draperies, rugs, linen and clothing. But it never is impracticable to construct a building as fire-safe as is compatible with comfort."

"Take the average wood frame house as an example. When the wood frame is covered with a sheathing of wood, and this in turn is covered with wood siding; and when the lath under the plaster and the shingles on the roof are of wood, you have a highly combustible, confagration-breeding type of construction—one that would put surrounding structures in jeopardy if a fire should break out, particularly if there were a high wind blowing. For a high wind would carry burning embers to adjoining roofs and scatter sparks far and wide.

"But it is probably a long way off before wood frame houses will be altogether abandoned, particularly since the development of modern building materials has resulted in a protected type of wood construction that retains all the good features of the all-wood house.

"In building such a fire-protected wood house the wood frame is erected in the regular manner. But instead of a sheathing of wood being applied over the frame, an incombustible type of sheathing is now used. This protects the frame from the outside. To protect it from the inside a metal or rock lath is used in place of wood lath. With a roof-covering of asbestos or other fire-resistive material a house so built possesses as high a degree of protection from fire as is possible in a frame structure."

Chief Wagenschutz feels that preventing fires is just as important a part of the fire department's work as fighting fires, and along with the thousands of other fire chiefs throughout the country, he is actively co-operating with the International Association of Fire Chiefs in its great movement which it is hoped will acquaint the public with means for reducing the annual fire toll.

MOTORCYCLE RACES AT STATE FAIR GROUNDS

REVIVAL OF MOTORCYCLE RACES WILL TAKE PLACE NEXT SUNDAY.

Next Sunday the revival of motorcycle racing in Michigan will take place at the State fair track, Detroit.

The occasion is Gypsy Tour day, a sort of national holiday for American Motorcycle association clubs, and Promoter Newberry has arranged an eight-event program that has attracted a splendid array of nationally known and Michigan riders, including the two class champions of 1926, Jim Davis, of Columbus, Ohio, class A, and Joe Petrall, the class B champ.

The list of events includes two five-mile and an eight-mile for 45 cubic inch machines, and two five-mile and a 15-mile for 21.35s. Davis will ride in all class A events against such stars as Art Pecher, class B champion of '26; Bob Sarkogian, 25-mile champion winner last year, and Joe Petrall, who is riding class A this year, and other mid-western class A riders.

Petrall holds the world's record for 45 cubic inch machines from one to 20 miles. He set these marks at Altoona speedway last year. They are: One mile, 33.42; 107.71, m. p. h.; 5 miles, 2.33.7; 103.75; 10 miles, 100.84, m. p. h.; 20 miles, 12.46 3-5, 94, m. p. h.

Davis is the oldest racer now in the game. He has won several races in Michigan and won the 20-mile national championship for 45 cubic inch motors at Salem, N. H., the eight-mile title for the 30.50 class at Syracuse and the five-mile national title for 21.35 at Altoona, Pa.

The list of class B riders to compete includes John Vance, Dayton, O.; R. Steele, Lima, O.; Harry Kelley, Hammond, Ind.; L. Perry, Kalamazoo; K. Caviness, C. Palmer, V. Moran, Battle Creek; L. Richardson, George Hettrick and Alec McDonald, Detroit.

George Bozo Snyder, national referee, will officiate in Detroit. He handled the Picketon races Sunday and most of these riders raced there.

It has also been our observation that it usually costs money to get rid of the things you got for nothing.

Picked Up About Town

Dad Plymouth says that no matter how much else in the way of clothes she leaves off a woman never feels fully dressed until she has donned an invisible hairnet.

Another thing, you have to be either a mighty burdened old stunner or a perfect saint not to be bothered by your conscience.

"One of the hardest things for me to understand about some women," says Dad Plymouth, "is how they can be jealous of the husbands they picked out."

If the reformers keep on with their Blue laws Sunday may yet become a day of rest.

"If it was against the law to stay at home at night and behave themselves," asserts Dad Plymouth, "a lot of fellows would never leave the house after supper."

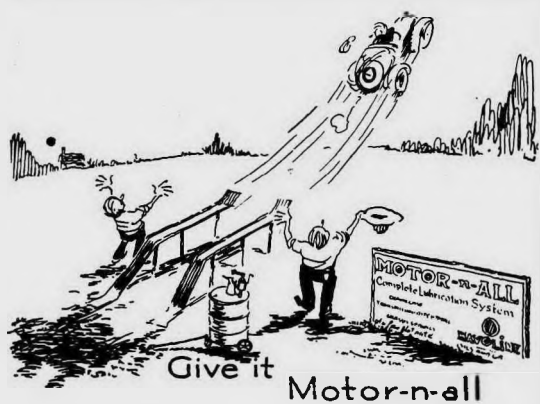

Dad Plymouth declares that some men never seem to learn that there isn't any money in attending to other people's business unless they hire you to do so.

Dad Plymouth says he is looking for the old-fashioned man who used to say "You can't always sometimes tell."

They and the rest of their gang have actually made millions laugh with their mischievous antics. Their local appearance in a skit entitled "The Day Off," will give screen fans an opportunity to see them in real life. Our liner ad column has helped many people find their needs. The results are satisfying and the cost is small.

Dr. Frank Crane Says

WE ARE BISCUIT CUTTERS.

The charge is brought against America that it represents a biscuit cutter civilization.

That is, that goods which are manufactured, as well as the minds of the people generally, are in a set form. There is too much uniformity and sameness about life and not enough individualism.

Well, the biscuit cutter idea has something to be said in its favor. It means standardization of products. It means that parts shall be made by machinery and shall be of an interchangeable nature. Almost all the reduction in price and the enormous product of our concerns have been due to the elimination of waste and expense by standardization.

In newspaper columns it is said that in five years the industrial output has increased 40 per cent. One manufacturer says: "One man working steadily for eight hours used to turn out 60 pieces an hour, or 480 a day. He got $65 a week. Then we put in machines. We have 30 men on the job and we put out 14,000 pieces a day."

This story has been multiplied by many. Cotton seed, once a waste product, has been used in many ways. In Wisconsin they are making paper from peat. Because of this standardization and our immensely increased products we have become the wealthiest nation in the world. We are producing not only surplus cotton and wheat, but surplus industrial products and we have a surplus of money.

We are richer than ever was a nation before.

We own 20,000,000 motor cars, millions of homes and we travel and live luxuriously.

Savings deposits in banks are twice as much as they were 20 years ago. We are supplying the world with capital. New York has effectively challenged the financial leadership of London. Our people now hold bonds to the extent of six billion dollars and the foreign indebtedness to the United States is now in excess of sixteen billion dollars.

Mr. Welton says: "The fact is that America is not only the richest country in the world, but richer than any country ever was before and it is destined to become still richer."

The biscuit cutter civilization, reduced to its lowest terms, simply means that our people have learned to co-operate and to save waste as well as utilize the forces of nature.

MICHIGAN BUILDING AND LOAN LEAGUE

"If anyone thinks that America is wasting its prosperity on extravagant living, let him examine the figures on the growth of Building and Loan Associations and savings institutions," says J. W. Leslie, president of the Michigan Building and Loan League, and Secretary of the Mutual Home and Savings Association of Grand Rapids.

"The Building and Loan Associations of the United States have virtually doubled their assets since 1922," said Mr. Leslie. "Last year, the Associations added seven hundred seventy-one million dollars to their aggregate assets, a gain of 14 per cent. A similar gain has been registered each previous year, the total combined assets today of six billion five hundred million dollars comparing with only one billion seven hundred fifty million dollars in 1917.

"These assets represent the thrift of wage earners and people of ordinary means. And while the average man is spending more for automobiles, fine furniture and other luxuries than he ever spent in the world's history, he is also setting out to own his home and put aside something for the rainy day."

"To my mind," continued Mr. Leslie, "nothing so reliably illustrates the financial habits of the average man as the Building and Loan. It is primarily an institution by and for the working man. In the face of such prosperity as building and loans have had and are continuing to have, it is hard for me to believe that the American citizen is not handling his prosperity with the good hard common-sense that has always been typical of this nation."

Down to Facts.

"In my business, the harder I work the lower I get," bemoaned the trench digger.

An adjourned regular meeting of the Commission in the Commission Room of the Village Hall, Thursday evening, June 9, 1927, at 7:00 p. m.

Present: All five Commissioners.
The Commission recommended that the office help have two weeks' vacation this year, the Manager to approve of the time.

The Manager was asked to write Mrs. VanDyne to pay her village taxes and to seek relief from the township supervisor.

The report of the Assessor's roll was accepted and ordered filed. The Commission unanimously decided that the tax rate for the year of 1927 be placed at fifteen mills.

The Manager was authorized to replace the broken walks on the south side of Spring street from Starkweather avenue to Holbrook avenue and the west side of Holbrook avenue from Spring street to Caster avenue, also the cross walks at Spring and Holbrook avenue and charge to Nolan's account.

The Manager was also authorized to set line and grades for a walk on the east side of Janer street in front of P. A. Nash's property.

The Commission decided to cancel the fire insurance policy on the hose house and contents for the coming year. "THE LAST DAYS OF POMPEII"

Roman sports day in the huge amphitheatre will be one of the outstanding scenes of "The Last Days of Pompeii" to be presented for 15 days at the State fair grounds under the joint auspices of Detroit lodge of Elks, Shadukiam Grotto, Wayne County Council Veterans Foreign Wars and County Chapters of the Eastern Star.

This scene depicts the annual athletic games of Pompeii in the days of Emperor Titus. It is sort of a prelude and will include a thrilling chariot race between three chariots pulled by four horses each, tests of strength and athletic skill by Roman gladiators and the tossing of Glaucus into the lion's den. Glaucus is thus punished for the alleged slaying of the Priest Apaeides, and conquers the lion. A full-grown African lion is used in this act.

Gus Hornbrook will present a Rodeo with 30 cowboys and rough-riders, who ride and lassoo wild horses, buffaloes, ponies and steers. The hippodrome program will include a variety of vaudeville acts. Opening night for the Pompeii is Sunday, June 9th.

AUTO OWNERS LOSE MORE THAN MILLION DOLLARS

ACCESSORY THIEVES REAP BIG HARVEST LARGELY BY NEGLIGENCE OF OWNERS.

More than a million dollars in property loss was chalked off as liability to the Michigan motoring public during the past year as the result of the free handed operations of the automobile and accessory thief, who was aided by the negligence of the owner himself.

Parking in alley ways, on the outlying streets for the entire night and in irresponsible parking lots caused a large percentage of the accessory loss, according to Raymond Bachelidor, manager of the Plymouth branch of the Detroit Automobile club.

A recent investigation report of the club's legal department disclosed that only one motorist out of five locks his machine when leaving it parked. An equal number leave valuable property in the seats of a closed car, which invites the accessory or common thief to twist open a door lock and pilfer the property within.

Spare tires, most of which are sold over secret fences throughout the state at a dollar or two apiece, are inevitably new tires which have never been on a wheel. It is rarely reported to the club's theft department that a used tire was stolen.

"When a used tire is stolen," said Mr. Bachelidor, "it indicates that an amateur has taken the tire for his own use and not for sale over a fence."

"If a new spare tire is transferred to a wheel there is little chance that the spare will be taken. Tire covers are slit open with a knife to examine the condition of the spare, rendering the cover a total loss, though the tire may not be worth taking.

"A gas pipe wrapped in a paper and easily concealed in a coat pocket is the most effective tool for twisting door handles on closed cars and breaking the locks.

"Giant snippers, with which a ton's pressure may easily be brought upon a lock, chain or bolt, are carried with the other crude implements of pilferage under the hood of the thief's machine.

"Radiator emblems, motor meters, costly spot lights and interior hardware from fine cars are as desirable loot for the accessory thief as the new tire.

"Upon several occasions the thief has been arrested a short distance from the machine which he had just pilfered, awaiting the owner of another alley parker to leave his machine unlocked. To delay a theft is practically to prevent it. The owner, in using the locking devices which he has upon his automobile, can reduce the accessory and merchandise loss from his car to a desirable minimum.

"However, the owner often relies upon his theft insurance to cover the loss, without thinking that in doing so he is feeding and patronizing an army of accessory thieves who are often criminals of a more desperate type. The owner, in displaying this negligence is also raising the cost of his next year's theft insurance which is based upon the approximate losses of the previous year."

The Detroit Automobile club, during the past year, has recovered numerous cars which were driven off by an accessory thief to be stripped of accessories at the country's edge and left at the wayside.

Officials of the Detroit Automobile club, through the efforts of Representative Joseph E. Armstrong, of Detroit, recently secured the passage of house bill No. 102, at Lansing, which curbs the most effective weapon against the operations of the accessory thief yet devised.

This bill now adopts the Baumes law principle of New York to the accessory thief convicted in Michigan. The penalties range from the first to third offense with increased severity until the third repetition of the offense names it a felony and prescribes a sentence of several years with no alternative fine.

"Regardless of this new measure," said Mr. Bachelidor, "the individual automobile owner must take it upon himself every precaution in parking and locking his machine. If this type of devastating criminal is to be driven from Michigan."
