HOW CUSTOMS CHANGE.

Back in the days when women wore bustles and "mutton-leg" sleeves, the Plymouth man who was going fishing dug from the rag-bag a pair of patched trousers and a coat that would disgrace any city beggar. The idea seemed to be that the more you looked like a scare-crow the more fish you would catch. Generally a battered old derby hat topped it off. Today the modern angler wears the same clothes fishing that he wears in the office or the store, or even has a special outfit of corduroy, rubber boots that come to the hips and a water-proof hat. It seems that fishing customs have been changing along with everything else, and that a fellow no longer has to be a walking rag-bag to catch them. We knew we were living in a pretty fast age, but who in this neighborhood every expected to live to see the time when a fellow could go fishing dressed in his best Sunday clothes?

LAGGING BEHIND.

We read where the makers of soft drinks are spending more than $30,000,000 annually in pushing their wares and in trying to educate the public to their particular kind of soft drinks. It has set us to wondering why the milk producers are not organized in such a way that they can get the people to drink more milk—the healthiest drink in the world. Millions of gallons of milk are wasted yearly and millions of gallons sold at practically no profit because the producers are not as wise as the soft drink makers, or the fruit growers of the country. The latter have found a way to educate the people to use their products, and a way to make a profit on what they produce. They have sensed the value of advertising—and they are making it pay. Maybe some day the milk producer, with the finest and most healthful liquid drink in the world, will get wise to the plan and reap the profit that is coming to him. Faith in printer's ink is about all that is necessary to success.

FREAKISH WEATHER.

Six of the twelve months of the present year have passed and from all sections come reports of the most freakish weather within the memory of the present generation. According to Plymouth amateur weather prophets, no such weather has been recorded since the "year without a summer," back in 1816. People in every part of the country have been looking for spring since March 21. But they have been disappointed, and even though there has been a satisfactory amount of sunshine everywhere, it has been sickly and not of the kind we have been accustomed to having during May and June.

In many sections fruit trees bloomed earlier than usual and frosts came later than ever before known. Other sections report more rain than for any spring in 20 years, while still other parts, particularly the extreme south, are complaining of a lack of moisture. Even the Florida Everglades have been on fire, entailing heavy losses. Spring has certainly not been on the job this year, and it now remains to be seen if July and August can furnish heat enough to make up for the shortage.

We haven't the time to consult our local weather sharks as to the probable cause of all the freakish weather the first half of the year, but we are willing to wager right here and now that almost before the ink is dry on this issue that someone will be hobnobbing up with the statement that "I predicted a chilly, backward spring as far back as last fall."

DON'T BLAME THE HEN.

Next to the newspaper business, we believe more people have started and failed in the chicken business than in any other. Perhaps no other field has claimed such high hopes and returned as little success. Here and there this man and that have made tremendous profits in the industry, and tales of their success have spurred thousands of others to try it. A vast majority have sunk their money in the poultry business—and charged it up to experience, to dabbling in something that looks easy but is not.

There are many in this class today, and yet a greater percentage are making it pay than ever before. Chicken raisers in this neighborhood have told us that more depends on the man than on the chicken. Success is not going to come to the fellow who doesn't know the fine points of poultry raising, no matter how good his stock may be. High egg production per bird is necessary to profit, and only experts know how to get high egg production. We have no desire to discourage any Plymouth man who thinks he can make a profit in the poultry and egg business, but if he wants to make a good living, or perhaps more than a living, by raising chickens and selling eggs, then the thing for him to do is to remember that more depends upon him than upon the hen.

LET'S VISIT MORE.

Is it possible we are losing the old neighborly spirit, for which every family in this section was once noted? Is there as much visiting and as many reunions and neighborhood get-togethers now as there used to be? Pleasant days have made us wonder if the old spirit of visiting among each other, family dinners to which the neighbors were invited, and Sunday afternoon reunions out under the trees are about to go into the discard. We certainly hope not, for the passing of these customs really means the dying out of community spirit, and a healthy community spirit is the best asset a town the size of Plymouth can have. In the city it is not necessary to be on speaking terms with your next door neighbor, but it's different here. We must cultivate the community spirit if the neighborhood is going to be the good place to live in that we all want it to be. Don't lose the old-time neighborly spirit. Plan a little reunion or Sunday dinner, or group picnic—do more visiting among your neighbors and encourage them to do the same thing. It's the best way to make a community worth bragging about.

BASE BALL NEWS

DETROIT FIREMEN WIN BY SCORE OF 9 TO 5 IN SUNDAY'S CONTEST.

THREE GAMES SCHEDULED FOR NEXT SATURDAY, SUNDAY AND THE FOURTH.

The De-Ho-Co Club went down to defeat before the hard hitting Fire Department team of Detroit last Sunday. This was the De-Ho-Co's first defeat of the season, and they are determined now that it shall be the last.

Bolde, for the Firemen, opposed German for the farmers. Bolde allowed nine hits to German's fourteen. In each of the first three innings, the Detroiters scored a run, while De-Ho-Co was making ciphers, but in the last half of the third, De-Ho-Co turned on them and tied the game 3 up.

From then to the eighth, both teams went scoreless, providing the fans almost perfect ball and their money's worth in expectancy. In the eighth, German weakened and the Fire Department put across four runs, followed by two in the ninth. The best De-Ho-Co could do was also two in the ninth, the game ending 9 to 5.

Three games in three days will be the attractions at the Detroit House of Correction Farm grounds this weekend.

Saturday, July 2nd, De-Ho-Co plays the Schmidt-Nash team of Detroit, reputed to be in fast "A" class. This is not an Inter-County League game. Sunday, July 3rd, in a regular scheduled league game, De-Ho-Co opposes Grosse Pointe. The feature game of the week-end should be the De-Ho-Co-Municipal Club game scheduled for the 4th. The Munies are out to get De-Ho-Co, and fans are promised a real battle.

PLYMOUTH MERCHANTS WIN AGAIN.

The Plymouth Merchants had another easy time of it last Sunday over at Saline. It was mostly hit and run for Plymouth as they gathered in 11 runs off 10 hits and did some very nice base running. They were all sliding bases just for practice. Some were successful, while others were not, but they took big chances, because the Salineites' basemen didn't seem to know what to do with the ball after they got it, many times holding it until it was too late.

Walker pitched another very nice game, allowing only six hits and these were well scattered. Trimble was right there with his bat again, as he was a week ago, getting four hits out of six chances.

"Tiny" Strasen thought that he would put the game well off ice; after three men had walked he up and hit for three bases, scoring all three ahead of him. He also got a double later in the game.

It is hoped that next Sunday we will have a better game, as we play Northville at Burroughs field at 3:00 o'clock. As everybody knows, Northville is a mighty hard team to beat, and so is Plymouth this year, so a good game is expected.

Last Sunday's game by inning:

Plymouth	10	0	3
Saline	0	0	2

Batteries for Plymouth, Walker and Strasen; for Saline, Armbruster and G. Austin.
Umpires—Gray and Kady.
Time—Two hours and 30 minutes.

NETHEM 4, COMMUNITY 7; NETHEM 3, WAYNEFORD 11.

Nethem stubbornly yielded to a double defeat last Sunday, the first coming from the Community A. C. of Wayne and the second from Wayneford. The Community and Nethem played a good game. Captain Bill Schiuff on the rubber allowed but one hit up to the seventh, and then came the blowout, with the Nethem boys going home on a flat tire.

Wayneford received a trimming from the Nethem club about a month ago, and entered the contest this time with determination to win, as two defeats from the same team was not in accord with their baseball teaching.

Revenge is mine, said they, and the score tells the story. Next Sunday Nethem will play Hawthorne Valley A. C. at the Hawthorne Valley golf course at Warren avenue, near the Middle Belt, and on Monday, the Fourth of July, Fenckell A. C. from Detroit will afford the amusement for the afternoon at Newburg, Rousseau Rouge park. These games begin at 3:00 o'clock.

REDMEN TAKE TWO GAMES SUNDAY.

The Plymouth Red Men added two more victories to their list Sunday, taking the Wayne Merchants into camp the first game, 9 to 2; second game, Northville Cubs, 5 to 0, five innings. Batteries for the Red Men in the first game: Kennedy and Davis; Kennedy allowing four hits, with 10 strikeouts, while his teammates collected 21 hits.

Second game, Battery for the Red Men: Skevy and Davis; Skevy pitching class A ball, allowing one scratch hit, with eight strikeouts.

The Red Men play Romulus at Romulus Saturday, July 2nd; Milford at Milford, July 3rd and 4th.

BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY PAY BIG SUM IN TAXES.

It requires practically the entire earnings of one in every three telephones served by the Michigan Bell Telephone company to pay that company's annual tax bill, according to Walter I. Mizner, the company's treasurer, who today turned over to the state auditor general, Oramel B. Fuller, a check for $2,037,383.95. For each telephone it operates the company pays taxes amounting to $5.26 a year, of which the state's share is $3.88, the remainder being paid on federal and miscellaneous taxes. The company had an average of 525,570 telephones in service last year.

The Michigan Bell company's total tax bill this year was $2,766,514. Mr. Mizner stated, equal to approximately 32 per cent of the company's total net earnings. Last year's state taxes for the company amounted to $1,736,255.25 the increase paid the state this year being more than $300,000. Federal taxes paid by the telephone company this year totaled $706,818.

The number of telephones connected with the Michigan Bell's lines in Michigan totaled 547,850 on January 1st, 1927. During the first five months of the year there was an increase of 19,951 telephones, including 2,171 acquired through the purchase of the Consolidated Telephone company in the Thumb territory. This gave the company a total of 567,801 telephones in service on June 1st. Companies connecting with the lines of the Michigan Bell Telephone company serve approximately 120,000 additional telephones in the state, the records show.

car owners

say Buick will be their next car

A general and impartial survey of automobile owners recently conducted by a great organization, shows that 344,679 owners of other cars intend to change to Buick next time they buy a car.

These owners have compared their cars with Buick—in performance, in economy, in comfort, luxury and dependability. And they have decided that Buick offers greater value.

Examine a Buick at your earliest opportunity. Find out why so many owners of other cars are changing to Buick every day.

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES

The sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be dispensed after the usual morning worship on Sunday, next.

A meeting of the congregation has been called for Sunday, July 10th, following the morning worship, to consider the entry of this congregation into the Service Pension Plan of the Presbyterian church in the United States.

Presbyterians are talking again about their annual picnic, which has become one of the outstanding events in the church year. A definite announcement may soon be expected.

CATHOLIC NOTES

Last Sunday was a real red letter day for the parish, as eight boys and seven girls made their first holy communion. A very large congregation was present to witness the solemn ceremony, and each in turn was very much impressed. The communicants were William Tidley, Paul Albrecht, Herbert Kalmbach, Richard Delvo, Robert Delvo, Paul Tumberillo, Philip Donovan, Clyde Ernst, Audrey Ferguson, Eva Searpilla, Margaret Horvath, Mary Tumberillo, Shirley Kalmbach, Marie Miskorik, Helen Szymanski. These children have the best wishes from the entire parish.

The Nethem club held its last meeting for this season last Tuesday night in the Mahogany room. The boys very gallantly treated the girls, and then adjourned until next October.

Nethem lost ball games last Sunday. Community 7, Nethem 4; Wayneford 11, Nethem 3. Next Sunday they play Hawthorne Valley at the Hawthorne Valley golf course, Warren avenue, and on Monday, the Fourth, Tenkell A. C. will be met at the Novburg grounds at 8:00 o'clock.

A meeting was held last night of the men and women of the parish, and arrangements were made for the Fourth of July chicken dinner to be given on the church grounds at 2:30 o'clock Monday.

Do not forget to invite your friends over to dinner the Fourth of July. Each parishioner that has been asked to do something, or to give something, let them do so cheerfully and willingly. The proceeds will be used to meet our interest this month.

Mrs. Laura McGorey is reported ill at Sessions hospital, Northville.

The Rev. J. W. Bott, of Racine, Wis.; the Rev. W. P. O'Conner, Ph. D., of St. Francis, Wis., and the Rev. J. A. Koelger, of Random Lake, Wis., were callers at the rectory during the past week.

CHEVROLET TEST CAR STANOS RIGID TEST

THIS CAR WITHSTOOD STRAIN OF 46,150 MILES IN FOUR AND ONE-HALF MONTHS AT PROVING GROUND AT MILFORD.

A romance of the General Motors proving ground at Milford, Mich., comes to light today with the announcement that Chevrolet test car number 112 has been retired from the proving ground service...

Number 112 has a standard light delivery panel body on the standard commercial car chassis and had been taken out of regular production at the Flint plant...

Forty miles out of Detroit in the hills and vales of Livingston county, where the great outdoor automobile laboratory is located, this Chevrolet, like others there, underwent supreme tests in the cause of improved automotive transportation.

It was kept on test for 135 days, "working" on an average of 341.8 miles a day. There were 500 miles in order to try its stamina.

Engineers and technical men who drove and checked the car at the proving ground had in mind the many difficulties an automobile has to contend with in its lifetime.

Although they realized at the same time that only a very small minority of drivers do these things today, they wanted to study the ability of the Chevrolet to withstand these abuses and to be constantly on the watch for developments that might further improve the product.

Although the proving ground boasts some fine stretches of pavement, number 112, during the four and one-half months it was on test there, never left the gravel and dirt roads, except on its trips out of the grounds as a mail car.

Asked why, a Chevrolet engineer replied: "Concrete makes it too easy."

Taking the horse and buggy out on the road for a Sunday ride these days is a far more hazardous voyage than any Atlantic ocean air hop.

Quite a row was stirred up at Yale when a Dramatic coach was fired off the job. Did they mean it—or were they only practicing the stuff he had taught 'em.

Today's Reflections

For those who go to Paris for their divorce decrees, Lindbergh has shortened the time to 33 hours and 29 minutes.

Scientists say the sun will last another fifteen billion years. Then what's the idea of all this daylight saving?

The Plymouth man who laughs at the idea that we will some day be running around in individual airplanes should remember that the hen once laughed at the incubator.

A helpmate is the one who does everything except paint the house when you go fishing or attend a ball game.

About a third of the wells drilled for oil turn out to be dry. Most of the drilling for loans also turn out that way.

We know one Plymouth family that is getting so many labor-saving devices that it will soon have to employ a mechanic.

The principal trouble is that when brides are urged to take for better or for worse they forget the worse.

It has about gotten so around Plymouth that a two-cent drop in the price of gasoline occasions more talk than a two-cent reduction in the price of bread.

Who can remember when Plymouth girls were so modest they always did their nose-powdering behind closed doors?

They say two heads are better than one. Maybe that's the reason they always put two of them in a barrel.

If you want to attract attention be kind and polite to people. That sort of conduct is growing so rare that it always attracts favorable comment now.

Even the brightest young men around Plymouth haven't any sense in the moonlight—if there happens to be a young lady present.

We never sympathize with the underdog until we make sure that he didn't start the fight.

As soon as some folks get on the band-wagon they want to do the driving and direct the music, too.

Every Plymouth married woman gets a lot of comfort out of the belief that her husband can't lie to her without being found out.

They say travel broadens, but after you've paid vacation bills you'll probably agree that it also fattens.

You don't have to train up a child in the way it should go nowadays. The state legislature looks after that.

JUNGLE GROWS OVER ONCE MIGHTY CITY

Americans Find Place Older Than Ancient Rome.

A city in Indo-China, known through Chinese literature to have been old and powerful when Rome was new, has just been discovered by the Americans—Harry Hervey and Carlton Hildreth.

Writing of the lost city, in McCall's Magazine, Mr. Hildreth tells of the people whose decaying capital he helped in discovering.

"The Khmers were a people more mysterious than the Incas, and their greatness is comparable with the civilizations of China and Babylon. Indeed, the ancient Khmer capital, Angkor-Thom, whose ruins stand today in the Cambodian jungles, was a city more thrilling than Rome at its height.

"The Khmer empire reached its height in the Twelfth century, then declined, and after a series of wars with the Thai race (now the Siamese), and the people of Chlampa (modern Annam) the Khmers slipped out of history, leaving the ruins of their mighty cities and a few meager inscriptions as the only records of their spectacular rise and fall. What became of the Khmers? Did their defeated armies retreat into the hinterlands and there build other cities? Or did they die out, leaving only a thin stream of their glorious blood to filter down through the centuries into the present-day natives of Cambodia?"

Mr. Hervey adds to what is known of the city as a result of his exploration. He traces something of the rise of the city and says:

"It was Suryavarman II, some centuries later, who ordered the building of Angkor-Wat. Out of the toll and death of thousands of slaves, that mammoth edifice rose stone upon stone, tier upon tier, until its towers crowned with golden lotus, it dominated the surrounding marshy jungle and the torn pyramids of Angkor-Thom, a monument to the cruelty and magnificence of the Khmers.

"Near the end of the Twelfth century the empire reached its height. A comparatively short time after that—between the years of 1295 and 1297—Angkor was visited by a Chinese ambassador, Tchou-ta-Khouan, whose memoirs are the only records of the manners and customs of this people.

"The splendor of Angkor at the time of Tchou-ta-Khouan's visit was prodigious. Golden rot was eating into the heart of the Khmer empire. In one mighty gesture, spending their wealth and their strength, these people had built Angkor—and their own tomb. In the Thirteenth and Fourteenth centuries they were attacked again by the Chams, also by the great Thai race, the Siamese. Then the slaves rose up against them. The end of the Fourteenth century saw the last of Angkor's lavish beauty and brutality.

"As a final ironic humiliation, the city, deserted, sacked, and delivered over to the jungle, whose monstrous greenness inundated it, ripped wide its exquisite walls, tore its gods from their shrines, and held it captive until, more than 500 years later, a wandering Frenchman came upon it and so stirred his country with his account of its greatness that in 1907 France acquired it from Siam by one of those political feints which is called diplomacy. . . . Thus ends a history brazen as a scarlet poppy."

Houses of Cork

Among the great number of new houses required for men to work the new Kent coal field are some that are being built on a novel plan.

The walls are 6 inches thick apart from the inner half-inch coating of plaster. The outer three inches are of concrete, while next to the plaster are two inches of compressed cinder, called breeze. Between the concrete and the breeze is one inch of compressed cork! The whole is built solidly about a steel frame, the cork taking the place of the usual airspace in the wall.

The cork, being a nonconductor of heat, keeps the heat in during winter and keeps it out in summer, and those already in occupation are proving very comfortable on that account. Over a hundred have been built during the past twelve months, and two hundred more are under construction.—London Tit-Bits.

He Had Proof

The young son of a certain family having among its musical friends one of the best singers of the city, whose name is often mentioned in connection with musical affairs, came to his mother one day saying:

"Did you know that Mrs. — sings at the Lyric?"

"No, my dear, she sings in concerts and some times in church, but not at the Lyric," replied mother.

"Well," said he triumphantly, "look here at this program, it says 'Mrs. —, lyric soprano.'"

And then it was up to mother to explain what a lyric soprano is.

Wind-Made Snowballs

The wind made snowballs and George E. Sanderson of West Townshend, Vt., says he never saw anything like it in his sixty-four years. Meadows owned by Mr. Sanderson and John Chapin adjoin, making a comparatively level area nine acres in extent and the entire acreage was covered with snowballs. The snow was wet, so it did not drift, but the wind rolled it up into balls from three to four inches in diameter.—Boston

A Clean Record

"A woman will go through a lot for a man when she marries him." "Yes, the one I married went through my trousers, my bank account, and a divorce suit."

He may be known as a "Cavaller" in France, but he's just plain "Landy" to Americans.

An oyster doesn't seem to have much fun in life, but it gets a mighty long summer vacation.

NASH ANNOUNCES THREE ENTIRELY NEW SERIES OF CARS

Three entirely new series of cars including 21 models on four different chassis lengths are announced today by the Nash Motors Company.

The new series will be known as the Advanced Six, the Special Six and the Standard Six and despite a wide array of costly improvements these cars are also featuring new lower prices, the reductions ranging as high as $195.00.

A new radiator design, lower and more sweeping body lines and a brilliant array of new color combinations make these new models without question the most beautiful ever produced by Nash, and the cars fully justify reports which have been current for the past week that Nash would introduce an array of cars which would command nationwide praise.

Important mechanical refinements and improvements are also announced at this time, keeping pace with the progress which has been made in increasing the beauty of the cars' appearance. Outstanding among these are the introduction of new springs of a secret alloy steel which is said to increase riding comfort in amazing degree.

The new body lines are lower and more sweeping than ever before and the wheels are smaller, giving an additional appearance of lowness to the cars although interior roominess has not been sacrificed in the smallest degree.

Matching the beauty of line is the new array of color combinations which Nash has adopted for these cars. Many striking new harmonies are used, giving these cars a brilliance of appearance which is unexcelled in their fields.

The radiator design of the Standard Six causes this series now to possess a beauty of appearance which not long ago was confined entirely to cars costing two or three times as much.

The size of the motor in the Standard Six has been increased, giving this car a degree of performance ability which, according to Nash officials, is entirely new to this price field.

In addition to increasing the size of the motor, the size of the crankshaft has also been made larger to achieve greater motor smoothness. The crankshaft will, of course, continue to be of the 7-bearing type which has made Nash smoothness famous.

The new springs of secret alloy steel which Nash now introduces will be used on the Standard Six as well as on the Special Six and the Advanced Six for increased riding comfort. And another contribution in this respect is the use of shock absorbers at the front as standard equipment.

The Standard motor is now insulated from the frame at all points of contact with rubber, providing a quicker operation and saving the motor from road shocks.

Other important refinements are the carburetor heat control valve on the instrument board, a new type of head lamp, a new 4-blade fan, a new stop light switch, a heavier oil pump cover plate, new parking lights, new instrument panel indirectly lighted, new remote control door locks, a new light control on the steering wheel and new body hardware of special Nash design.

As far as the Advanced Six series is concerned, the most important change is, of course, the adoption of new lower body lines, new body colors and a deeper radiator. A number of important refinements in the interior and under the hood have also been made, however. The clutch, flywheel and crankshaft are now balanced as a unit on a highly sensitive machine for increased smoothness in operation. Body quietness is increased by the use of a fender welt consisting of a contoured piece of heavy fabric-covered felt between the body and the fenders of the car. Springs are of the new secret process alloy steel type for increased riding comfort.

Other refinements are: Complete encasing of battery and tool boxes, preventing entry of dust or water; new friction pads on front brake support plates, preventing rattles; new carburetor heat control valve; new heat indicator on the instrument panel; new reinforcement of the frame for rigidity; new heavier and longer parking brake lever; new nickel steering column; new improved horn and new type of foot accelerator.

New and more beautiful body hardware for the interior is also adopted throughout the Advanced Six series to match the beauty of the new exterior colors and new upholstery.

The improvements which have been made in the Special Six series are very similar to those which have been made on the Advanced Six. The body lines are lower and more sweeping and the wheels are smaller. New alloy steel springs have been adopted.

And the other refinements including balancing of the clutch, flywheel and crankshaft, the fender welt, the nickel steering column, the new accelerator, etc., are now a part of all Special Six models.

FIVE-RING CIRCUS POSITIVELY COMING

RINGLING BROS. AND BARNUM & BAILEY TO BRING SACRED WHITE ELEPHANT AND OTHER BIG FEATURES.

Yep, youngsters, it's really true! Meaning that a rumor heard some time ago is now confirmed by the official announcement that the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey combined shows will positively exhibit at Detroit three days, July 8th, 9th and 10th.

At that time the world's first and only five-ring circus will be within easy reach of local sawdust fans. With it will come the only genuine white elephant ever brought to America. He is "Pawah," the world-famed sacred white pachyderm from Burma, who will be the foremost feature of a menagerie composed of more than a thousand animals.

The big show is now a third larger than it was when it last visited this locality. Enormous new displays have been introduced, such as ninety zebras, camels and horses performing at one time on a mammoth pedestal. On a similar series of circular raised platforms thirty-two of the show's forty-three elephants dance, run and perform in unison with the topmost of the ponderous actors twenty-feet above the ground. Prior to this gigantic display five herds of elephants appear in the five separate rings. At another time the rings are given over to five companies of liberty horses. At still another juncture of the program two hundred of the show 900 horses, each ridden by an expert, are seen in the brilliant maneuvers.

Of the sixteen hundred people carried on tour this season more than eight hundred are the world's foremost aerialists, bareback riders, ground and lofty gymnasts, high-wire artists and super athletes. These are now seen in extensive groups and troupes, each display led by its particular champion, a new method of presentation that is in keeping with the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey 1927 plan of extending acts in equal number over the entire length of the mammoth main tent. Little folks will be delighted to learn that the bringing of a score of European clowns to America has increased the fun-makers to more than a hundred.
