They Are Like That

Customer—I am looking for a book that will interest a youth of about seventeen or eighteen.

Clerk—Sorry, sir, but we haven't any of that type in stock just now. You see, we've been raided twice this month.

The Judge's Joke

Stop—Go
St. Peter (to spirit at gate) Stop! What was your worldly occupation?
Spirit—I was a traffic cop.
St. Peter—Go.

Green Is Right

He—How are you going to vote, my dear?
She—In my green velvet walking out with a hat to match!

We've Ridden That Kind

Jack (in driver with one minute to catch a train) Can't you go a little faster, Bill?
Bill—Sure, but I don't want to leave the machine.

Some Other Time

She—I'm sorry to disappoint you, but I became engaged to Dick last night.
He—Well, how about next week, then?

As Per Usual

She—Spent my vacation up in the mountains.
He—Really. Did you have a guide?
She—Well, only my conscience.

The Ideal Maid

Mistress—Can you serve company?
New Maid—Yes; either way.
"Either way?"
"Yes, ma'am; so's they'll come again, and so's they won't."

Standing Room Only

Metinks the best way to describe The modern skirt we know would be to hang upon its side. The placard S. R. O.

One Seat At a Time

Large Lady (beamingly)—Could I have a seat near the stage, please?
Box Office (surveyingly)—Why, certainly. What row do you want?
Fat Lady (indignantly)—Don't get fresh, young man!

And Only an Appetizer

Wife—I can't find my last year's bathing suit.
Husband—"Probably a moth ate it."

Not Worth The Risk

The risk is greater than the saving and not worth while when the home, eyesight or maybe life itself is endangered by "home cleaning" of apparel or fabrics to save a few cents.

Let us do your dry cleaning—first because ours are the most modern methods—therefore best; second, because we can do it so much better because we are equipped to do such work; and third, because we can give you prompt service at very lowest prices—and really much more cheaply than you can do it at home. EVERY DAY IS BARGAIN DAY AT DONOVAN'S

Years ago when Donovan was struggling to meet the public's desire with his first store, he made the startling discovery that by selling "ten articles for a total profit of $1.00" he was further ahead of the game than had he sold one article for the same profit. As besides giving the public the same article for less, and gaining their respect and support, his larger volume of business enabled him to buy in carload quantities, assuring a quick turnover of stock, and as the volume grows, the cost to you is reduced. Why pay more for the same quality merchandise?

THE THEATRE

"THE BRONCO TWISTER"

Some of the most beautiful sequences ever seen in a western picture are shown in Fox Film's "The Bronco Twister," which comes to the Penniman Allen theatre Saturday, August 6th. This latest Tom Mix starring vehicle is a thrilling tale of western ranges, that is far above the average in story material and plot construction. In fact, it is one of the best motivated films shown locally in some time.

It is a colorful romance of adventure with many nerve tugging situations, moments of high suspense and comedy of a very high order. Tom Mix is even more daring than usual. In fact, some of his stunts appear dangerous in the extreme.

The backgrounds are beautiful, especially the scenes showing the old Spanish style of home in southern California, and also the settings of a festa where the ladies are dressed in the garments of Old Spain.

Playing opposite Mix is Helene Costello, who not only makes a very dainty heroine, but is also a decidedly accomplished actress, admirably suited to the role. The giant, Malcolm White, is cast as the heavy and stages a splendid battle royal with Mix. Others in the cast are the ever charming Doris Lloyd, George Irving and Dorothy Kitchen. John Stone, who wrote the scenarios for "The Iron Horse" and "Three Bad Men," wrote the continuity of "The Bronco Twister" from an original story by Adela Rogers St. John.

This is a really delightful entertainment that is sure to please every member of the family.

"THE TELEPHONE GIRL"

Herbert Brennon's latest Paramount production, "The Telephone Girl," comes to the Penniman Allen theatre next Sunday and Monday, August 7th and 8th, with what is really a top-notch cast. Leading roles in this adaptation of William C. DeMille's play "The Woman" are enacted by Madge Bellamy, Holbrook Blinn, Warner Baxter, May Allison and Lawrence Gray.

The story is one of political intrigue, of powerful secret factions, of crooked journalism, of an unwarred scandal—all hanging on the frail shoulders of one Kitty O'Brien, telephone girl. It seems that years ago, Matthew Standish had spent an indiscreet vacation in Atlantic City. Now, on the verge of winning the gubernatorial election, rivals have dug it up, hoping to smash his aspirations. Only one thing is missing—the woman's name. With that, victory will revert to the present incumbent, Governor Mark Robinson.

If Standish should come out on top, Robinson's father-in-law, the political boss, Jim Blake, will be unable to steer clear of the rocks. So, Blake gets busy. He determines to frighten Standish by stating that the story will be in every paper on the morrow. Sensing the man's reactions in advance, Blake asks Kitty O'Brien, the hotel operator, to divulge the number Standish will call but she refuses as Blake's son is prevented from marrying her only because of his father's opposition. Within the hour another call for the same party comes in over Kitty's switchboard. It is Governor Robinson calling—his wife!

From that time on, action is manifest in every foot of film. Kitty tries to warn Mrs. Robinson but the latter refuses to listen. Standish is beside himself for fear that his beautiful wife will learn of his youthful mistake.

Already the sun is rising on—election day, the day on which he ascends to power or goes down to defeat. What happens? That's what you'll discover on seeing "The Telephone Girl." It's whispered about that the director of "Beau Geste" has delivered again!

"LOVERS"

Spain—the Spain of today—and Slander—the great enemy of the day—are the locale and motivating menace of the most sensational drama the screen has seen in months, "Lovers," coming to the Penniman Allen theatre Wednesday, August 10th.

The new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer feature is a gripping romance of love and the peril of scandal, filmed on a lavish scale as a starring vehicle for Ramon Novarro, with Alice Terry and a splendid cast.

It is a play unique in that it has no conventional villain. His place is taken by the invisible tongues of scandal, which blight lives, wreck souls, and cast the central characters into a maelstrom of poisonous lies in the gripping tale.

The denouement is one of the most remarkable bits of dramatic audacity and playwright's originality in years. Modern Spain is the locale of the story—a Spain as modern as the United States is today. Novarro is seen as a young playwrite, thrown into a sensational scandal with the wife of his best friend—although both are absolutely innocent. This situation is developed with rare dramatic intensity from one climax to another.

The cast, under the direction of John M. Stahl, is one of special interest. Novarro, hero of "Ben-Hur," is a different man entirely as the young playwrite of the present day. Miss Terry, heroine of "Marie Nostrum" and "The Magdalen," charming as the young wife torn between love of her husband and terror of the scandal menacing her happiness.

BIG CIRCUS COMING TO DETROIT

Circus fans and enthusiasts are keenly interested in the forthcoming exhibitions in Detroit, on August 11, of the Haggenbeck-Wallace Circus, known as the foremost trained wild animal show in the universe. Many folks from this community are making arrangements to attend the big circus, as Haggenbeck-Wallace universally is known for its high-class performance.

Haggenbeck-Wallace comes this year with an entirely new program, from the grand and glittering opening spectacle, "The Gelsia," to the closing finale, "Blazing Glory." Several hundred people appear in "The Gelsia," which is from the pen of Rex DeRossett, noted moving picture author and director. A small fortune has been expended in the purchase and wardrobe costumes from leading New York and Tokio firms, while singers of note will have the principal roles.

Clyde Beatty, Bob McPherson and Capt. Bernard are a few of the famous trailers that will subjugate the jungle brutes in the steel arena. Beatty will work a mixed group of lions and tigers, numbering over twenty, while McPherson will handle fifteen ferocious Siberian tigers. Another mixed group of panthers, leopards, bears and tyons will be put thru their paces by Bernard. Many other wild animal numbers will be presented, as well as displays by domestic beasts.

Prominent arena features include the Orrin Da-Coyote Troupe of Equestrians and the Ward-Kimball Family of Flyers. The Invaporps are rated among the first American riders, while the Ward-Kimballs are direct from a successful tour of Europe. Other specialists of note are the Martin Sisters, the Sylvester Trio and the Steele Sisters. Fifty shows, exactly that number, will scamper about the hippodrome track.

W. C. T. U.

Thursday, July 28th, was a red letter day for the members of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Plymouth, when, by invitation, they met with the Northville Union in the Methodist church of that place. Despite the heat of the day there was a fair attendance of members from each union.

The program, with the exception of the musical selections, was furnished by the Plymouth Union. Opening the program, Mrs. Clemens read in a very pleasing manner, a decidedly clever little selection entitled "Coverage."

Karl Starkweather, the speaker of the day, having for his topic, "Does the Eighteenth Amendment Curtail Liberty?" handled his subject very ably and was listened to with the greatest interest by all present.

An original poem entitled "The Gods" was recited by Miss Nettie Polheim, in response to an encore, was followed by a second poem, "An Awakened Conscience," also original. A beautiful solo was given by Mrs. Giles of Northville, and the Cussy children delighted the audience with violin and piano selections.

At the close of the program, delicious refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed by all.

The next meeting will be a picnic the time and place to be announced later.

ESTABLISHES PATROL FOR BORER CONTROL

AIM TO PREVENT SPREAD OF PEST BY MOTORISTS CARRYING SWEET CORN OUT OF INFESTED AREAS.

With the arrival of sweet corn on Michigan markets, particularly shipments from Ohio, road patrols have been established by the State Department of Agriculture on all highways leading out of the corn borer area to regions where the pest has not yet been found. The aim is to prevent roasting ears from infested localities entering borer-free territory and possibly causing new infestations of the pest.

State and federal quarantines prohibit the shipment of all corn on the cob outside of the quarantined area, according to Herbert E. Powell, state commissioner of agriculture, and embargoes have been placed on such shipments by transportation companies.

Tourists, hucksters, and other human agencies, however, have been found to constitute a real menace to control of the pest, he says, by not complying with the quarantine regulations.

Because sweet corn matures earlier than field corn, the corn borer seems to prefer it. For this reason, roasting ears are very likely to contain living borers. If the unrestricted movement of sweet corn were permitted, the pest would soon spread to all parts of the United States, Commissioner Powell says.

Large signs have been erected at patrol points to caution people against carrying sweet corn outside of the borer area. Automobiles and conveyances, upon approaching a quarantine line, will be required to come to a full stop. The occupants will be questioned by the patrols and any corn on the cob which is found, will be confiscated. At night, torches and flares will serve as a signal to motorists that they are approaching a patrol.

The importance of road patrol work is stressed by corn borer officials. In Ohio and Michigan during 1926, 7,546 dozen ears of corn were taken from automobiles. Corn containing living corn borers was confiscated from tourists found for Florida, Missouri and Iowa. The interception of this corn undoubtedly prevented the introduction of the European pest into these states, Commissioner Powell asserts.

OBITUARY

It pleased the Lord of Life and Death to summon out of this world Margaret Emma Mielbeck at Ford hospital on Wednesday evening, July 20th. She was born in Livonia township on the 17th of December, 1862. She was baptised in the Lutheran faith. She attended catechetical instructions and was confirmed in this faith at St. Paul's Lutheran church of Livonia. At the time of her death she was an earnest and sincere worker in the church, being teacher in the Sunday school. She taught her class on Sunday, July 17th. After a very brief illness she passed away in faith toward her Savior after an earthly pilgrimage of 34 years, seven months and three days. She leaves to mourn, her widowed mother, Mrs. Augusta Mielbeck of Nankin Mills, five brothers, Paul, Emil, Otto, Henry and Walter, two sisters, Mrs. Bertha Perlin and Mrs. Clara Eggert. She was laid to rest from St. Paul's Lutheran church in Livonia cemetery. Rev. George Ehms of Monroe, officiating.

IMPONDERABLE ETHER.
HEROES ARE GENTLE.
A SICK WHALE.
BE JUST TO ELIJAH.

Sir Oliver Lodge says the ether is the most important reality of the physical universe. Life and mind are associated with matter only indirectly through the ether, says he, and the ether is primarily man's habitation, not pseudo "solid matter," earth, houses, automobiles and money that we call the real world.

Matter reduced to atoms is only electric particles revolving at frightful speed around an electric centre. The real thing is ether.

Science tells us the ether is like a great stream of water, flowing on forever, and matter like a fisherman's net spread across the stream through which the ether flows, that ether is essential to the cosmic scheme, that Newton's law of gravitation should not work without it, and that ether is the only solid reality in the realm of ideas. But for the average man it is hard to conceive of ether as a reality. It seems as unreal as the fourth dimension.

Our minds are adjusted to the work we have to do, which isn't big or very important.

Thomas A. Edison was three days in New York's Botanical Gardens library, searching for some new rubber plant. He may find it, but it will probably be chemistry, not botany that will supply the new rubber. Elasticity, plus wearing quality, are needed. Human intelligence will produce something better than rubber, just as it produced something better than wood, in the bronze and iron ages.

Be careful if you meet tarantulas. Its ordinary name is the "black widow" and it's the deadliest spider on earth, possessing a bite causing death within twenty-four hours.

This tiny black spider has recently caused more than a dozen deaths on the Pacific Coast. On general principles, keep spiders and flies out of the house. Let them carry on their ancient war in the open.

Real courage is always gentle. Homer's "Mildest Manners and Gentlest Heart" are part of a fearless nature. Of all photographs taken of our Atlantic flyers, the finest shows Commander Byrd standing beside a wounded French soldier, helpless in a wheel chair. The expression on Byrd's face, pitying and tender, is that of a real hero. Happy the mother and father of such a son.

Commander Byrd, always in search of interesting occupation, plans a flight to the South Pole, and before the new year he will be flying through the coldest region on earth. He is determined to be the first man to fly over both poles.

In centuries to come, what we call our North and South Poles will again be warm, and some other spots on the earth will be the poles. Oil wells that Standard Oil has located inside the Arctic region will supply nearby gas stations if men still use power as primitive as gasoline in that future day.

Gas by then will probably be completely out of date, as whale oil is now, for lighting. But do not be frightened into selling good oil stocks.

If told that the sickness of a sperm whale in the Atlantic Ocean could set up an ancient sailor man in a comfortable chicken business, you might say "impossible." But it happened.

When whales don't feel well, lumps of a substance called "Ambergris," valuable to perfume manufacturers, form inside of them.

Jeremiah Pratt, seventy-four years old, lookout on a schooner, saw gulls hovering over a big lump of Ambergris, worth $12,500. With that money, Sailor Pratt will retire to a chicken ranch and thousands of women will go around perfumed by the Ambergris.

Udine Utley, fifteen-year-old girl revivalist, who says Billy Sunday is greater than Mousolini because Sunday conquered the devil, is in New York City saving souls. She saved forty last Sunday, and doubtless they will show gratitude when they meet her in heaven.

Miss Utley, who brings everything close to her hearers, says: "Lindbergh was not the first to make a non-stop flight—the Lord did it, before him, by flying from heaven to earth and then from earth to heaven." It's an excellent thought, but not fair to Elijah, who, in a "chariot of fire and horses of fire" went up "by a whirlwind into heaven." See second Kings, chapter two, verse eleven.
That happened 900 years before the birth of Christ.

NEW OLDSMOBILE NOW ON DISPLAY

NEW CARS ARE ATTRACTING MUCH ATTENTION AT SHOW ROOMS OF NORTH SIDE SALES & SERVICE. LOCAL SALES AGENCY.

New smartness, dash and beauty have been added to Oldsmobile by refinements in body design and line and the introduction of new color combinations. These latest Oldsmobiles are now on display. Despite these latest improvements and refinements, the new lower prices recently announced continue in effect.

The influence of engineering artistry is strikingly displayed in these latest achievements of Oldsmobile. They reflect the trend which is making the automobile, already a mechanical marvel, an outstanding example of beautiful design, decoration and color harmony.

The same basic Oldsmobile lines that have proven so popular have been retained by the designers, but by skillful refinements in curve and line, additional beauty and smartness have been made strikingly apparent.

New beautiful curves have balanced the graceful contour of the rear of the body. Front corner posts on the closed cars have been narrowed, which adds to appearance and increases visibility. The new narrow corner posts have been achieved without sacrifice of strength of the composite steel and wood construction that has made Fisher bodies noted for durability.

The artistry of the designers is also apparent in the interiors, where careful attention to detail has brought new smartness and luxuriousness. Duco upholstery, fittings and design have been combined and harmonized to achieve this effect.

One of the most pleasing interior changes in the closed cars is a new type seat cushion. This is aptly named "form fitting." Instead of having a continuous upward angle, this new type cushion extends out horizontally for several inches from the seat back and then slopes on an upward angle to the outer edge. This new shape provides comfortable support for the body.

The interior finish of the closed cars include harmonizing tones in Duco on the instrument board, cowl and on door and window frames. In the landau, four-door sedan and sport coupe this color harmony is further enhanced by flugel boards, or walnut finished strips inlaid on doors and under windows. The ash and mahogany receptacles in landau and four-door sedan are now covered with fabricoid of the same color as the Duco interior finish.

The present trend for brightness and individuality in motor cars is emphasized in the new color combinations introduced by Oldsmobile. These include on many of the sport models the use of colored Duco on trunk, fenders, dust shields and lamps. Rims of both headlights and cowl lights now are finished in chromium plating, which was introduced to the automotive industry by Oldsmobile more than a year ago. It has been used on Oldsmobile radiator shells since that time and has proven a distinct advancement in plating, due to its blue-white lustre, hardness, durability and the fact that no polishing is needed to maintain its original sheen.

The landau has as its principal color Ladoga green with reveals, or window recesses, finished in Lorenda green. These light shades are admirably set off by black molding extending around the car and double gold stripes following the molding. Trunk, fenders, dust shields and lamps are finished in Ladoga green. Disc wheels are finished to match the car. Natural wood wheels are optional.

Ridge blue is the predominant color of the four-door sedan. The molding is set off with a double stripe of gold. Wood wheels are Ducoed to match the body finish.

The two-door sedan has a black upper structure with the lower and main portion of the body finished in Huntington green, as are the window reveals. Black molding with double gold stripes are used for contrast. Wood wheels are finished in the body color.

The coupe has the same striking color combination as the two-door sedan. These colors are further enhanced by the black fabricoid rear quarter and nickled landau bars at the side. This body type has an exceptionally large luggage compartment, which provides ample room for stunner trunk, handbags and packages.

The sport coupe with drop seat for additional passengers is Ducoed in St. James gray with fabricoid top in a harmonizing shade. Window reveals and molding are in Huntington green with double gold striping. Fenders, dust shields and lamps are Ducoed in St. James gray to match body. Disc wheels matching the body finish and natural wood wheels are optional. The drop seat is upholstered in genuine leather and is standard spring construction. A door opening on the right side of the car gives access to a compartment ideal for carrying golf clubs or medium sized packages.

Black maple gray is the principal tone of the sport roadster, with Matador orange as the contrasting color. An added touch of smartness has been given this body type by the addition of a panel running across each door at the top. This panel is in Matador orange, as are the striping and disc wheels. Natural wood wheels are optional. The sport roadster also is equipped with a roomy drop seat for two passengers.

The sport touring is finished in St. James gray with Huntington green molding. Here again a touch of smartness is added by a panel at the top of the rear door. This is finished in ivory, which is also used for the striping. Disc wheels to match or natural wood wheels are optional.

A new two-tone figured mohair of heavy quality is being introduced as upholstery for the landau and sport coupe. This material is similar to that being used on the latest Pullman cars. It has exceptional weaving qualities in addition to its beauty.

All body types are equipped with front and rear bumpers, automatic windshield wiper, rear view mirror, gasoline gauge on the instrument board, twin beam headlights with control on steering wheel and an improved locking device. Motometers are standard equipment on sport and deluxe body types, and trunks are included with the landau sedan and sport touring.

Today's Reflections

Women who refuse to have birthdays ought to give them to small boys who enjoy them.

It wouldn't be safe just now for the fellow who said this was going to be "a year without a summer" to visit Plymouth.

Keeping a mind on your own business is a good idea, if you don't happen to have a worrying mind.

A man doesn't mind his inability to swim but it does humiliate him to admit he can't swim.

When a Plymouth man begins by saying "I hate to knock, but—" then you can get ready for a hard and healthy knock of some kind.

It has also been our observation that telling people how hard you work doesn't make the work any lighter.

Marriage is a state that lovers look forward to, widowers look back to, bachelors look out for, and no one but the mother of ten kids understands.

What has become of the old-fashioned Plymouth boy who used to use his coat sleeve for a handkerchief?

The reason daughter can always tell what is wrong with the spark plug when she is out in a car is because she hasn't enough mechanical genius to wash dishes when she is at home.

After wading through some of the magazines a man gets the impression that as long as a magazine editor can get a picture of a pink woman wearing a bathing suit for the front cover he doesn't care what is printed on the inside.

It has about reached the point around Plymouth that when a girl marries for a home she wants to cut out the kitchen.

Real estate dealers wax fat at the expense of people who want the earth.

Any time a man is generous to a fault you can bet that it is one of his own faults.

It doesn't hurt to tell the truth once in a while. There are just as many male gossips around Plymouth as there are female gossips.

Maybe this would be a happier world if things were turned around and it cost $500 to get married and $3 to get a divorce.

An old maid's idea of a hog is the widow who manages to catch the second husband.

The reason some Plymouth women don't get a divorce is because they can't fully decide whether it would be harder to get along without their husbands than to get along with them.
