$1.50 PER YEAR

TWO DESERVED PROMOTIONS

H. K. WRENCH, MANAGER LOCAL GAS COMPANY, PROMOTED TO DIVISION MANAGER AND P. H. DEAL TO ASSISTANT MANAGER LOCAL GAS PLANT.

H. K. Wrench, who for the past two years has been manager of the local gas plant of the Michigan Federated Utilities, has been promoted to division manager and secretary and treasurer of the Michigan Federated Utilities, having charge of all the gas properties of that company in Michigan, which includes plants at Mt. Clemens, Owosso, Alpena, Sault Ste. Marie, Alma, Marshall and Plymouth.

Mr. Wrench will continue to reside and have his headquarters in Plymouth. The position of division manager is a very responsible one, and in choosing Mr. Wrench for this place the company made a wise selection, as he not only thoroughly understands every phase of the gas business, but has a keen understanding of the needs of the public and a desire to give the best service possible. These are the factors that have made the local gas plant a splendid success under his management.

The promotion of Mr. Wrench also makes it possible for another well earned promotion in the local personnel of the company. P. H. Deal, who for a little more than a year has been office manager, has been promoted to assistant manager of the local gas plant. Perley is a thorough office man, genial and courteous, and his promotion is well merited and especially pleasing to his many friends.

During the time Mr. Wrench and Mr. Deal have been associated with the company, the local plant has been practically rebuilt and the gas mains extended to Wayne and nearby subdivisions, and the business has had a rapid growth. Both gentlemen have had an important part in this development, and have been untiring in their efforts to give service and satisfaction to the patrons of the local gas plant.

C. WHIPPLE CLOSING OUT HIS BUSINESS

On account of poor health, Calvin Whipple, who has conducted a shoe and gent's furnishings store here for the past five years, has decided to close out the business, and has taken a double page advertisement in today's Mail to announce a great closing out sale of reasonable merchandise. Mr. Whipple's many friends and patrons will be sorry to learn of his leaving the mercantile field, but all hope that the change will speedily restore his health.

The big closing out sale will start today, Friday, August 26th, and will continue until everything is sold. In order to close out the stock quickly some exceptional bargains are offered. We call your attention to the big ad.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MRS. ELIZABETH GAYDE

Mrs. Elizabeth Gayde was born August 18, 1850, in Krumbach, Hesse, Darmstadt, Germany, the daughter of Ludwig and Anna Marie Born. She was baptised in the protestant church of that country and received her education in the parochial school of that church. In the year 1873 she came to America, and lived in Detroit until April 8, 1877, when she was united in marriage to Peter Gayde of Plymouth, and came here to live the rest of her life. In marrying Mr. Gayde, she became the mother of his four motherless children, and entered into a life of care and strenuous work. And God also blessed her union with Mr. Gayde with four more children. But beside the care of her home for her family, she assisted her husband with his work in the store and also found time for work of charity and church work.

When Mr. Gayde died in the year 1904, Mrs. Gayde remained in her home on Starkweather avenue, one son and one daughter living with her, but the store was put under the management of Gayde Bros.

Mrs. Gayde had a restless disposition, and always sought employment in her own home or in her daughter's or some one else's home. Even a week ago last Monday, she was at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Otto Beyer, trying to employ herself.

Although Mrs. Gayde had had a severe ailment for years, she first became seriously ill on Tuesday, which illness ended in death on Wednesday evening at 9:10 o'clock. Seeing the end near, she, in the presence of her daughter, prayed unto God to give her a blessed end.

She attained the age of 77 years, dying the evening before her birthday. She leaves to mourn her departure, William Gayde and wife, Albert Gayde and wife, Mrs. Otto Beyer and husband, Edward Gayde and Amelia Gayde, besides nine grandchildren, one brother, Phil Born of Bay City, and one sister, Mrs. Fred Gentz of Plymouth, and other distant relatives and many friends.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock, at the home on Starkweather avenue, and in St. Peter's Lutheran church, Rev. Charles Strasen officiating. Interment was in Riverside cemetery.

Thompson of Ohio, treasurer of the National Republican Committee; Postmaster-General Harry S. New; Commissioner of Pensions Winfield Scott; Chauncey W. Herrick of Chicago, internal revenue collector, and others. Henry W. Busch, past national commander-in-chief, is general chairman.

ROYAL ENTERTAINMENT FOR PLYMOUTH KIWANIS AND THEIR WIVES TO BE GIVEN BY BATTLE CREEK.

On October 5th and 6th, the Michigan convention of Kiwanis will be held at Battle Creek. The Plymouth Kiwanis Club is trying to make a 100 per cent attendance at this convention. Many are planning to drive their cars; each car will have a Plymouth banner. The following committee was appointed by President Freeman Hoyer, to make arrangements for this trip: J. M. Larkins, chairman, Chet Livengood and Dewey Holloway. Kiwanis now has 100,100 members and 1,640 clubs.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Hench of Benton Harbor, are visiting relatives here.

NETHEM WINS FROM M. C. RED CAPS

Rousseau Rouge Park, Newburg, was the scene of a very interesting ball game last Sunday, the contestants Netem and Michigan Central Red Caps, the latter belonging to the colored gentry. Netem could not bear suffering a defeat from the colored boys, so they politely noosed the M. C. Red Caps out by a score of 7 to 6.

Hy Gale pitched the game, and held the boys to scattered hits, while Combs mounted the rubber for the M. C. boys. He, too, pitched a brilliant game, but the support given him was ragged at times.

The ninth inning started with a tie, 6 to 6. Hy Gale retired the M. C. boys very graciously without a run, while Combs was not so effective. With two on bases, L. Holmes came to bat, and singled nicely over the infield, scoring the runners ahead of him, bringing home victory to the local boys.

M. C. Red Caps 401001000—6 7 0
Netem 300200011—7 9 3

Batteries: M. C. Red Caps—Combs, Knight; Netem—Hy Gale, Joe Schombert.

O. E. S. PICNIC

The annual picnic of the Wayne County Association of the Order of the Eastern Star will be held at Bob-Lo, Wednesday, August 31st. Plans are made for a good time, and it is hoped we may have a good crowd from our chapter.

STRENG REUNION

About thirty relatives met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Sommers in Toledo, Ohio, Sunday, August 21st, for a family reunion. A pot-luck lunch was served at Walbridge Park, one of the beauty spots of that city, and the afternoon passed all too quickly. The following attended: Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Schoof and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Schoof and family, Mrs. Barbara Kenster, Wm. Strong, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Block, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fisher and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Strong and family, Mr. and Mrs. Goodwin Crumble, all of Plymouth; Misses Mary and Kate Strong, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fisher of Detroit, and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Sommers of Toledo.

ON TO SCHOOL

With summer vacations drawing to a close, pupils of our schools and their parents should turn their minds to the important business of continuing youth's education.

The recent flight of Lindbergh is an inspiring example of seeing the task through. Just as Lindy turned his plane East and set out for Paris, so must the student turn his thoughts toward our educational institutions with the determination, "On to School."

We should employ as much determination, zeal and thoroughness in continuing this great adventure as Lindy did in his flight to France. The happy partnership of Lindy and his plane, which he termed "we," finds parallel in our partnership with our schools. We should unite the spirit of youth with the spirit of education, just as Lindy joined the "Spirit of America" with the "Spirit of St. Louis."

Lindbergh did not make his trip primarily for gain but for accomplishment. However, the former proved a valuable by-product. Let us follow his example, and, as he did, continue our flight in education for the good of the nation and the cause of progress, as well as for the returns of youth. Though the impulse is unselfish its fruits are substantial, for out of such enterprise springs the inspiration that generates creative power. A hundred plans in aviation are maturing because of Lindy's signal achievement. A thousand advantages accrue from the achievements of education.

Pupil no less than aviator must follow through to attain success. Lindy did not stop with the acclaim of the world ringing in his ears. He had just begun his start on a constructive career. He had finished but one lap of the race. The same application can be made to commencement and promotion in our schools; these are but steps to a higher service.

Parents are reminded that Lindbergh's backers had no guarantee of any returns. Loyalty and admiration for the spirit of this youth and the cause he championed inspired them to make any necessary sacrifices. This should be the attitude of parents and taxpayers who appreciate that education is the foundation for life.

It is timely, then, right now, when school days are just ahead, to turn our eyes toward our schools, also toward our boys and girls called on for an important decision, and sound the slogan, "On to School."—Better Schools League, Inc.

MRS. EMMA BRADNER PASSES AWAY

Emma Moreland Bradner was born in Murray, N. Y., August 11, 1850, and came to Plymouth when four years of age. She was married to Charles Bradner on December 2, 1869, and settled upon the Bradner farm on Golden road, where they lived until 1911, when they removed to the Village of Plymouth. Mr. Bradner, who was supervisor of Plymouth for several years, passed on in 1916.

Mrs. Bradner realized that happiness grows at our own firesides, and is not to be picked in stranger's gardens. Though oft afflicted by ill health, her home life was ideal, brightened by smiles of welcome, kind words and good cheer. Life is always beautiful to whomsoever will think beautiful thoughts. Life is a fragment, a moment between two eternities, influenced by all that preceded, and to influence all that follows.

The passing of such a friend and neighbor, charitable, patient, genial, always striving to make others happy, leaves a vacancy which can never be filled, a revered memory, a life worthy of emulation.

The funeral services were held from the Schrader Bros. Funeral Home Tuesday afternoon at 3:00. Rev. Walter Nichol officiating. Interment in Riverside cemetery.

The happiest heart that ever beat Was in some quiet breast, That found the common daylight sweet And left to Heaven the rest.

SCOUT PRESENTATION

Next Thursday evening, September 1st, at the Methodist Community Hall, there will be a presentation ceremony for the Plymouth Boy Scout troop. Three Eagle badges, one veteran pin and one star scout pin will be awarded, and four new recruits will be formally sworn in. It is hoped that as many of the boys' parents and friends as possible will attend.

REV. KARL P. MILLER TALKED TO ROTARIANS

The members of the Plymouth Rotary Club had the pleasure of hearing a splendid talk by Rev. Karl P. Miller of Franklin, Indiana, at their noon-day luncheon last Friday. Mr. Miller was a former pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Plymouth. Rev. Miller paid a splendid tribute to Rotary and the high ideals for which the organization stands, and based his remarks upon these standards. Mr. Miller is always a welcome guest at the Rotary Club gatherings.

Mrs. W. Eckles and daughter, Leah, Miss Lillian Schreyer and Mrs. M. M. Willett returned home Friday, from a motor trip through the northern part of the state.

PLYMOUTH MERCHANTS DEFEAT WEST POINT

Plymouth Merchants defeated West Point, Sunday, in the first of a two game series, by the score of 6 to 5. The game started out to be a walk-away for the visitors. Some solid blows of the visitors' bats coupled with loose fielding by the locals, followed five runs to cross the plate in the first two innings, but starting the third inning, the local infield settled down, (maybe Doc cleaned his specs). Anyway, they gave Quinn gilt edge support the remainder of the game. Some sparkling plays were turned in by both teams. Hobbin's catch of a foul fly while leaning over right field fence, shone for the visitors. Quinn's bunched-up stop of a live drive and Millross' stop and perfect throw enabling Strasen to block Castleman at the plate, stood out for Plymouth.

August 28th, at 3:00 o'clock, on West Point field, these two teams resume their argument. Let's hope next Sunday dawns bright and clear for the benefit of umpires as well as players.

A ball game between the Plymouth Merchants and the Netem team will take place during the afternoon. This is sure to be an interesting game. A horseshoe pitching contest will attract the attention of the devotees of this sport. There will be a speaking program and reminiscences by old time residents.

Everybody is extended a cordial invitation to come to Newburg, Saturday, August 27th.

The deceased was the widow of Marvin Berdan, who passed away here 24 years ago, and will be remembered by old friends in Plymouth.

A CORRECTION

In the municipal notes of last week, it was stated that a charge of $30.00 would be made by the village for any sanitary sewer tap previous to the 1927 program. This should have read $35.00 instead of $30. It was a typographical error, and we are glad to make the correction.

Many from Plymouth are planning to attend the first Newburg Home-coming celebration, which takes place tomorrow, Saturday, August 27th, at the Newburg school grounds. Many former residents of Newburg, who now reside in various places throughout the state, have planned to attend the event and renew acquaintances with friends of other days.

The committees who have the affair in charge, have left nothing undone to make the celebration a success in every way, and everyone who attends is assured of a good time.

One of the features of the day will be a basket picnic at noon on the school grounds. During the afternoon there will be a program of small sports for the boys and girls, for which suitable prizes will be offered in each event.

A horseshoe pitching contest will attract the attention of the devotees of this sport. There will be a speaking program and reminiscences by old time residents.

Everybody is extended a cordial invitation to come to Newburg, Saturday, August 27th.

MANY ATTEND SUNDAY-SCHOOL PICNIC

Over three hundred men, women and children of the Presbyterian and Methodist churches motored to Island Lake on Wednesday, where their annual picnic was held. The tables were bountifully spread with good things, and at one o'clock, after singing grace, everyone fell to with hearty good will, also with hearty appetites, and all were busy for some time.

The efficient men's committee served all who wished it with fresh brewed coffee and lemonade, and later brick ice cream was given to all present. Needless to say the ladies had prepared the best of everything, and all did full justice to the dinner.

Immediately following the dinner the men gathered for the quilt pitching game, and the boys and girls for the races. There were the usual kinds of sack, potato, etc. Appropriate prizes furnished by the two churches were given to the winners of these races.

Later in the afternoon, baseball teams from the two societies crossed bats, the Presbyterian brothers being the winners, as were they also in the tug-of-war which followed.

The children enjoyed the playground swings and slides, and many of the boys and girls went in bathing.

It was an ideal day, and everyone voted it the best picnic ever. Let's go again next year.

The following are the results of the athletic contests:

- Girls running race, 10 to 16 years—Wilhelmina Rucker
- Boys running race, 10 to 16 years—Frank Clemens
- Sack race, girls and boys—Emerson Robinson
- Potato race, girls and boys—Forbes Smith
- Girls race, 6 to 10 years—Beth Gordon
- Boys race, 6 to 10 years—Romaine Lee
- Children's race, up to 6 years—Doris Buzzard

RATS ON THE RUN.

So much big news comes out of Washington city that the average Plymouth citizen is apt to lose sight of some of the things which really deserve his attention, and which have a direct bearing on his daily life. We are too interested in war talk to catch every little bit of gossip that has to do with our own peace and comfort.

That is why we believe very few in this neighborhood have heard the glorious news from the department of agriculture to the effect that there has been a vast decrease in the number of rats in this country in the past few years. The expert says the rats are on the run, and that at the present rate of extinction they will soon be so scarce they will actually be a novelty. Metal grain bins are driving them from the farm, and the disappearance of stables and barns, now replaced by garages, sounds his death knell in the city. Not only that, but he has been recognized as a carrier of disease, and patent rat-killing nostrums sold all over the land are doing their part toward his elimination.

There are not as many flies as in former years, we know that. Maybe the auto has had a part in this, since our highways and streets are cleaner than ever before. But whatever the cause, we're thankful for the effect. Now if we are soon to be without flies and rats this part of the world ought to commence to feel like paradise.

LOOKING TOWARD WINTER.

There are two "peaks" to the canning season in this country. In the early spring and along about this time of year. Busy days are here for the housewives of Plymouth and vicinity, and many of them are making the most of it. Gardens and orchards are now unloading their harvest of food-stuff, and with beans and tomatoes, pears, apples and plums to be had in fairly generous quantities there is no reason for any family going hungry during the long winter days now fast approaching.

True, the summer canning season is losing some of its prestige in the eyes of the younger set, for it is now possible to buy at the store nearly everything in the fruit and vegetable line already canned. It is not like it was when mother was a girl. But, even with the modern ways of doing things—making a meal off of store-bought canned goods—local women are preparing for well-stocked larders through the winter. Early apples are finding their way to the kettles and come forth in the form of sauces and butters. Plum jelly and plum butter is also being stored away to later on add zest to the breakfast table.

Reports from various parts of the country indicate that the fruit crop has really turned out better than forecast along in the spring. And while the corn crop is short of normal, it is also not to be sneezed at. Taken all in all, we have approached the fall season with the country as a whole in far better shape than we have seen it at various times in the past, and we seem to have about as little cause for complaint now as we have had for a good many years.

GOOD RADIO AHEAD.

News dispatches state that the federal radio commission has completed its work of assigning wave lengths and its program of weeding out stations that have been guilty of cluttering up the air has started. Twenty stations have been eliminated in New York city alone. Others have been forced to reduce their power so they will not drown out everything near them. Air pirates are realizing for the first time that the commission means business and that it is backed by laws that are going to be strictly enforced all of which brings a smile to the faces of radio fans around Plymouth. To them it forecasts the best fall and winter radio conditions they ever had. It means that the family now putting its money into a radio set is going to get more satisfaction out of it. Everything comes to those who wait, and goodness knows radio fans have waited long enough for the air pirates to be put out of business.

WHEN CARE IS NEEDED.

In a recent house-to-house canvass in a Missouri town it was found that 12 per cent of the women residents use gasoline for dry cleaning, while kerosene is used in 11 per cent of the homes visited, chiefly for starting fires. We do not know if the percentages will run as high in Plymouth, but we do know that enough of our homes contain gasoline and kerosene to make a warning necessary. There is only one safe way to use oil in kindling a fire: that is to put a few coils of tightly rolled newspapers in a can of oil and then lay the oil-soaked coil or paper under the kindling. If there is any possibility of a live coal in the ashes, light the coil or paper torch just before it is placed in the fire box of the stove. And in using gasoline for cleaning articles of clothing don't forget that it is never safe to rub the garments when they are taken from a pan of the liquid. Even the friction of rubbing will cause an explosion. There's a right and a wrong way to do everything, and this applies particularly to the use of explosives.

WHY IS IT?

We can usually find answers to our own questions, but here is one that stumps us, and we'll have to ask

Plymouth auto drivers to answer for us. Why is it that motorists forget all about courtesy and etiquette when they get behind a steering wheel? Few men seldom think of swearing at anyone at the dining table if they don't pass the salt as soon as it is asked for. And most everybody says "Please." But behind a steering wheel there's loud honking or a cuss word or two if the driver ahead doesn't start us soon enough, and we never hear the word "please" coming from the driver's seat. We spurt around corners regardless of others; we slam on the brakes, and instead of taking an accident calmly and sanely, we yell at one another. Why is politeness left behind or forgotten by most drivers the minute they step into their car? We have plenty of room in these columns to print the answer.

Touch of Elegance

SURELY it is with a feeling of great satisfaction that the housewife, at table, hands to waiting husband or child a cup of coffee drawn fresh and fragrant from the electric percolator before her; or a slice of toast lifted hot and crisp from the toaster at her elbow. And then the touch of elegance lent the table by a handsome electric appliance! The eye is not less pleased than the palate.

Economical, also! Not only are time and trouble and labor saved, but expense as well. For one cent's worth of current a percolator will make six cups of coffee, a toaster will make ten to twelve slices of toast, a waffle iron will make five waffles, a grill will cook cereal and bacon for two.

Brooms on Wheels A device that, it is claimed, enables a child to operate a 4-foot broom, usually requiring a strong man's efforts, has been perfected by a San Francisco man, says a writer in Popular Science Monthly. The broom is mounted on two rubber-tired wheels the same height as the broom. Pushing down the handle throws the broom on the wheels and lifts it two or three inches off the floor. Lifting the handle sets the broom down on the floor ready to sweep. The broom is moved easily from one spot to another without lifting it off the floor, and the sweeper can operate it a great deal faster and with much less effort than an ordinary broom. 401p

The cast will be headed by established Wayburn artists including John Ryan, singing and dancing juvenile; Bernice Ackerman, prima donna soprano; Shirley Richards, high kicking specialist; Blanche and Elliott, some what different adagio dancers, and one dozen more Ned Wayburn proteges. WEDDING RING OLD SIGN OF AFFECTION

Has Long Been Regarded as Symbol of Eternity.

Of all the symbolisms that have centered around the marriage ceremony of the past, perhaps none is more interesting in all of its modernized life as the wedding ring. The true origin of the wedding ring may never be known, but the sacred privilege of bestowing a ring upon the betrothed bride has been traced to the Roman practice of the second century B. C. Plain iron rings were first employed for this purpose, but as early as the second century of the Christian era gold rings came into use in the ceremony of betrothals. In olden times the circular form of the ring was accepted as a symbol of eternity, thus indicative of the stability of affection.

Constancy and heaven are round, And in this emblem's found. A further reason for choosing the ring rather than some other object to bind matrimonial pledges was that anciently the ring was a seal by which all orders were signed and things of value secured. It was, therefore, a sign that the person to whom it was given had been admitted into the highest friendship and trust. In early Roman times it was the duty of the bridegroom to deliver the keys to his house with the ring at the marriage.

There has been a great variety of opinion among different countries regarding the proper finger for the wedding ring. In certain marriage rituals of olden times the ring was placed by the husband on the top of the thumb of the left hand. With the words "In the name of the Father" he then removed it to the forefinger, saying "and of the Son"; then to the middle finger, adding "and the Holy Ghost." Finally the ring was left on the fourth finger, with the closing word "Amen." The custom of placing the wedding ring on the fourth finger seems undoubtedly to owe its origin to the fancy that a special nerve or vein ran directly from this finger to the heart. The earliest record of the practice was among the ancient Egyptian women, who wore their wedding rings on the left-hand fourth finger, as in the Twentieth century.

In early Greek and Roman times the ring was worn on the index finger, as was the marriage ring in the Jewish ceremonial. There it is also found in the "Betrothal of St. Catherine," by Murillo, and the "Betrothal of Marie de Medici," by Rubens. The index finger also holds a ring in many women's portraits of the fifteenth to seventeenth centuries, other fingers being devoid of rings.

Queen Louise of Germany wore her wedding ring on the right-hand little finger, while in the time of Queen Elizabeth of England wedding rings were worn on the thumb. This was also the custom during the reign of George I of England and is attributed to the exceptionally large wedding rings favored by fashion at that time. The early Anglo-Saxons wore the ring on the right-hand third finger.

Summer Games for All "Athletes for everybody" is the slogan of the public recreation department of Manila in its campaign to have everyone in the city take part in the summer vacation program that has been outlined. Not only will all playgrounds be kept busy, but many events will be held outside. Bankers, messenger boys, clerks, students, boot-blacks and newsboys and others have been invited to take part, and no entrance fees will be charged. Volley ball, basket, playground ball and tennis tournaments will be held, and playground instructors are organizing field and track teams to be entered in a city athletic league. Silvester Torres, playground instructor, expects to have most of the men, at least, of the city actively interested in the campaign for better health.

Veteran of the Turf Earl of Coventry, believed to be the world's oldest race horse owner, has just celebrated his eighty-ninth birthday at his home in England. He is one of the most famous figures on the turf. He has been a member of the Jockey club of England for 67 years, a peer for 85, and winner of the Grand National two times, and has seen 60 Derbyes and as many Ascots. His beautiful home, Coombe, was built by the Brothers Adam, famous for their architecture and interior decorating, and nothing has been altered since their death. One of the brothers died while the dining room was being decorated, and the room was left uncompleted, his drawings still lying untouched as he left them. One of the tables will seat 40 people.

Strange Beast Terrorizes A mysterious beast that walks on its hind legs is terrorizing natives in the Kenya colony of India. It has killed a number of blacks, and the "Nandi bear," as they call it, is inspiring more fear than a lion. No white hunter has seen it, but Kenya's acting game warden, who examined the tracks, agrees that it walks on its hind legs. It has been described as being a strange species of lion, or even gorilla, but natives believe it is a hitherto unknown member of the hyena family that climbs trees. One report is that it has cream-colored hair, long tapering feet, with huge claws, and long nose covered with hair to the tip. It is said to roam only at night.

Blow Bubbles for Beauty German girls are blowing bubbles to become beautiful. It has long been known that persons who play wind instruments are healthy and it is asserted that bubble-blowing can produce a similar effect. The girls who participate in the bubble-blowing parties say there is nothing like it for rounding out thin cheeks and scraggy necks.

MUNICIPAL NOTES BY THE MANAGER

Any person wishing to connect with the sanitary or storm sewers has to apply to the village treasurer for a permit. A charge of $35.00 instead of $30.00 as printed in last week's Plymouth Mail, is made by the village for any sanitary sewer tap previous to the 1927 program. A charge of $1.00 is made by the village for a tap to the 1927 sanitary sewer, where the connection has been put in by the contractor. All house connections are to be made with a good grade of 6-inch bell and spigot sewer pipe. All joints are to be made with cement mortar or Joliffite.

All connections to our sanitary sewer should only contain basement drainage and house sewage.

All storm water, either from the roof or from the overflow of the cistern, cannot be connected to the sanitary sewer. The storm water must go into the storm sewer if there is one, or on the ground if there is no storm sewer.

A charge of $1.00 is made for taps to any storm sewer on which the assessment has been made.

received her vocal training under the direction of Prof. Archibald Jackson. No doubt many Plymouth people have heard Miss Towne sing, as her voice has been broadcasted a number of times over the radio from Detroit and the First Baptist church of Pontiac. Miss Towne comes to us from one of Detroit's largest churches, the Highland Park Baptist church.

The pastor and people of the Plymouth church are very happy to have Miss Towne with them, and wish to extend a cordial invitation to the public to worship with them.

DEHOCOS WIN THREE MORE

LARGEST CROWD OF SEASON SEEN FIREMEN FALL BEFORE ON-SLAUGHT OF DEHOCOTES.

The DeHoco boys had been told that they were about to meet their Waterloo when the Detroit Fire Department team came out here last Sunday. They didn't say much about it, but between you and me, they had settled that question long ago, and decided that if there was to be anything of a Waterloo aspect to the game that they would be holding the Wellington and Blenheim end of the stick. To this end the game on the field determined to make every move count and bring home the bacon. Their victories over Holly and Pontiac on Saturday, undoubtedly increased their buoyancy of spirit.

Big Bill Here, noted and acknowledged to be one of the greatest ball players in this section of the country, didn't miss one bit of his share of the DeHoco "fight" spirit, and if the Firemen ever had any hot ideas regarding Sunday's game, Bill certainly turned the hose on them. He went to bat four times, and demonstrated to Holde that getting hits from him was every bit as simple as getting a thirty-day stretch from Judge Brennan.

We are proud of Bill, not alone because his three hits meant four runs for DeHoco, but also for his general ability as a ball player and all round sportsman. We have no hesitancy in nominating him as our outstanding man for candidate for election to the hall of fame. Saturday afternoon, August 27th, the farmers will play Belleville at Northville. Belleville packs quite a stiff wallop and this ought to be a very interesting game. Sunday afternoon, August 28th, the farmers will play Monroe at Monroe. These Monroe boys are close enough to Toledo to know a little bit about what it's all about, and this game is sure to be a real good one. Sunday afternoon, August 28th, the Firemen will play the Municipal Club at DeHoco park. Those of you who would like to see fast and furious baseball as it is played, are urged to put forth every effort to attend this game.

Box scores for Thursday's, Saturday's and Sunday's games follow:

DeHoco vs. Holly at Milford Fair grounds, Thursday afternoon, August 18th.

Night Baseball Coming

"Five years ago in the world's series between the New York Giants and Yankees it cost the owners of the two clubs $100,000 to call a game because of darkness," says Billy Evans, big league umpire in a magazine article. Enraged fans protested the umpire's ruling at the end of the tenth inning with the score a tie and Commissioner Landis ordered the whole business of the day turned over to charity. "Just think how soft it would have been if the umpire had needed only to call the groundkeeper and say 'Let there be light.' I have no doubt that in a short time lights for outdoor sports will have extended the playtime of the nation and long after sundown Baseball at night will offer a new venture that should prove highly successful."

Spelling to Fit News

The value of the alphabet if you apply it to spell words simply instead of using the favored method, which you see is not followed here, was discussed recently at the twenty-first annual meeting of the simplified spelling board, held in the trustees' room of Columbia university.

The way the board spells words is illustrated graphically in a pamphlet prepared by filologists of the board, which points out that 'sh' need to be spelt "syssle" and 'dg' need to be spelt "dooze" until etymologists grow hostile to this practice.—New York Herald-Tribune.

Warn of Rock Slides

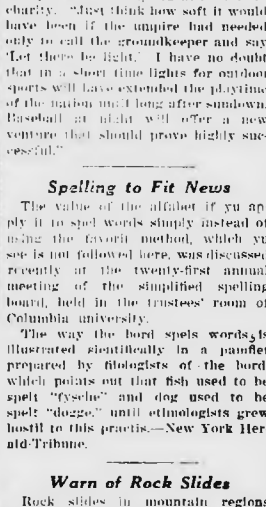

Rock slides in mountain regions have wrecked so many unwary trains that the Southern Pacific railway has installed a signal system to mark their movements. In regions where slides are most likely to occur the railroad has string insulated wire connected to block signals located along the right of way. If earth and rocks move down onto the track the wire breaks, the electrical circuit is opened and the special block signals automatically set at "danger" thus stopping all train movements.

PLANES SHOW 55 TIMES MORE DUST IN CITY THAN IN COUNTRY ATMOSPHERE

Federal Observer, Who Aided Lindbergh, Studies Particles to Show Effect of Showers and Time of Day—Suburban Air Seems Good.

Tests in the airplanes have shown that in the morning more dust is found near the ground than in the afternoon and, further, that more dust is found near the ground than at a height of from 2000 to 7000 feet. Showers, of course, will reduce the number of dust particles and a country breeze has the same effect. Other scientists have made various studies as to the effect of certain chemicals on laying dust. Foremost of these has been calcium chloride, a white and flaky chemical which attracts moisture to itself, dissolves when exposed to the air and combine with the road surface to which it is applied. The feller who insists that life is a joke usually lives to learn that it is on him. A local Dumbdora remarked this week that the percentage of accidents in airplanes was very small—only one to a person.

BIG EVENT IN HISTORY WAYNE COUNTY ROADS

ROAD COMMISSION WILL OPEN 60 MILES OF NEW PAVEMENT SOON AFTER AUGUST 31ST.

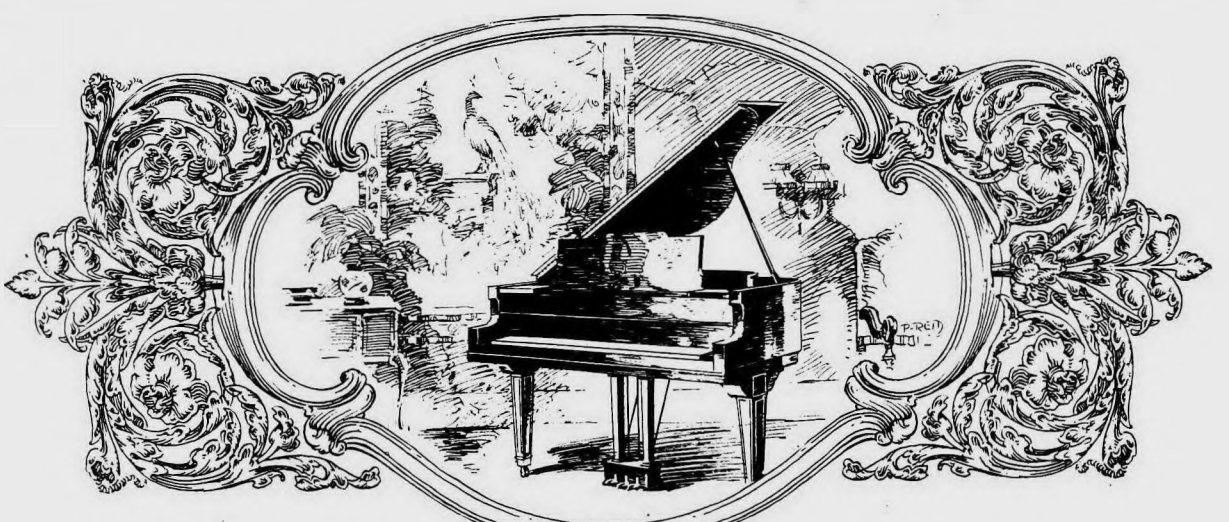

The Wayne County Road Commission is commencing the biggest construction year in its history. The commission's fiscal year ends August 31, and soon after that there will be opened to public use more than 60 miles of new pavement, the result of the commission's operations this spring and summer.

Up to Aug. 1, there had been built, this year, by the county, either as strictly county roads, roads built under the Covert Act, with the cost borne by special assessment, or as inter-county roads, financed by the state, 34.19 miles of pavement, containing 523,900 square yards of concrete. In addition, 27.01 miles of pavement were widened from 18 and 20-foot strips to the 40-foot ultimate minimum width which the commission has set as standard for great trunk lines or "Super-Highways." During this month, the commission estimates, it will lay 250,000 additional square yards of concrete in widening or extension operations.

WORLD OWES MUCH TO THE PURITAN

Tremendous Influence for Good of Humanity.

The following editorial, in London Tit-Bits, with its praise of "Puritanism" as a factor in the progress of the world, has called forth some criticism and much comment in the English press.

"Like everything that has life and individuality, words have their triumphs and tragedies, their ups and downs. A word which used to be ignoble becomes honorable; another which used to be noble becomes debased. Occasionally one can watch a word go wrong. Take the word 'puritanical' as an instance.

"Judging from letters and leaders in the daily papers, one would think that anything described as 'puritanical' was a mixture of tyranny, philistinism, intolerance, prejudice, narrow-mindedness, and a lot of other unpleasant things.

"So widespread seems this conception that one is led to wonder whether the history of our country is taught today, or, if it is, whether it is intelligently taught. For instance, is the history of our own country ever compared, step by step, with the history of any other, and results referred back to causes?

"We hear and read so much about the French revolution that we are apt to think it was the first of those revolts against intolerable tyranny which resulted in the rise and rule of democracy. Yet the fact is that there were two prior revolutions, the first in Britain and the second in America. Both these were Puritan revolutions.

"What accounts for the marked difference between the French and other similar revolutions, and the revolution under Cromwell and Hampden in England, and under Washington in America? This time, one word is sufficient answer: Puritanism.

"The French revolution, like the Russian, like the Chinese, like many in South and Central America, was an orgy of blood, and was followed by a recrudescence of tyranny which kept Europe in a welter of war and bloodshed for 20 years.

"In France Puritanism failed; in England and America it succeeded. Puritanism was a tremendous force in France before it was in England, but the revocation of the edict of Nantes, and the massacre of St. Bartholomew, either killed or exiled it. France took the wrong turning, and her world influence has been declining ever since. Head the history of the Eighteenth century and see.

"In this country the conditions which sent the Pilgrim fathers to lay the cornerstone of the United States of America in 1620 started the English revolution in 1640. Ever since, Puritanism, despite all signs to the contrary, has been a dominating influence in both countries. Moreover, it will be a sad day for both when it ceases to be.

"Why? Because that serious-mindedness which has always been the ground plan of Puritanism, whatever shape the superstructure has assumed, is not only the most characteristic of British qualities, but it is the one without which there could not be that 'crowned republic' that modern miracle we know as the British empire; without which the unique influence of the English-speaking race could never have developed.

"Puritanism is certainly a brake on the wheel of folly. As such it is an annoyance to all who want to 'go the pace.' But even those who use the adjective 'puritanical' as a synonym for all that is dull, inert, reactionary, and stodgy would hesitate to sacrifice the qualities for which it stands, or to entrust the reins to the irresponsible hands of those who regard the pursuit of pleasure as the main occupation of life."

Real Way to Live

Like the majority of nature enthusiasts, a Detroit sportsman remarked the other day: "Until a man has roughed it in the wilderness for a while, getting as close to nature as a civilized man can get, he doesn't know what it means to live, actually live and enjoy life. Sleeping on pine boughs with the sky for a ceiling, tramping miles to search of bear tracks, then making hearty meals of fish, partridge and venison, cooked in the simplest way, about five or six times a day according to the appetite, puts new life into a person and fits one out for another year of work which doesn't seem at all bad then."—Detroit News.

Long Life Planned

At eighty years of age Mrs. Sarah J. Stone of Denver, Colo., has donned overalls and is painting her two-story house. Three years ago Mrs. Stone was confined to bed with paralysis, and relatives had despaired of her life. But she recovered. "Painting a house is just a pastime," she said. "It's nothing compared to some of the things I will do by the time I've lived another eighty years."

The Conflict

George Ade, the incorrigible bachelor, was the life of a church supper in Brook. "George," said a paterfamilias, "why don't you get married?" Mr. Ade, as he helped himself to Maryland biscuits and fried chicken, answered calmly: "Too proud to fight."—Chicago News.

Picked Up About Town

Dad Plymouth says it's hard to tell which is the best sign of approaching fall—the katydid or the threat of a coal strike.

Maybe Babe Ruth knocks the ball over the fence because he "doesn't choose to run."

"Many a man who refuses to believe in Santa Claus," asserts Dad Plymouth, "still believes he can beat Wall Street."

Dad Plymouth asks how many fellows around town can recall the good old days when collecting cigarette pictures was a national hobby.

One by one our sheiks are coming to realize that America never had a hero who kept his hair slicked down like patent leather.

"As a general thing," declares Dad Plymouth, "a honeymoon trip isn't much more than a honeymooners' excursion."

As between Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney, it's a safe bet that the man promoting the fight will win.

"Politics," says Dad Plymouth, "makes strange bedfellows, but they soon get used to the bunk."

Dad Plymouth suggests that rural carriers always take along a pair of scales so they can weigh the new babies for the women folks along their routes.

C. J. LITSCHER ELECTRIC COMPANY

ELECTRICAL JOBBERS

GRAND RAPIDS, MICH.

December 7, 1926.

Mr. E. H. Dickey, Manager, Michigan Bell Telephone Company, Grand Rapids, Mich.

Dear Sir:

We are great believers in the long distance telephone for keeping practically a personal contact with our customers.

I find that when some dispute comes up between us and our customers, I can usually settle it when I talk personally to my customers over the telephone.

Also when we have something of special importance that we want to get over to a customer in a distant city, that our business is increased, due to the fact that the writer or one of the managers of our different departments use the telephone to put the proposition before the buyer.

As stated in the first paragraph, we are great believers in the use of the long distance telephone.

C. J. Litscher

Our business is increased due to the fact that the writer or one of the managers... uses the telephone to put the proposition before the buyer.

BASEBALL UMPIRES HAVE EASIER JOB THIS SUMMER ON DUSTLESS DIAMOND

Ruth-Gehrig Race for Homers Spurs Others to Hit Long Ones—Grounds Improved in Various Sections of Country, Sports Writers Declare.

BASEBALL umpires every day are getting to be better insurance risks principally because dust, once the bane of the blue-clad arbiters' existence, is being eliminated.

Sports writers all over the country are taking notice of the improvement, even in the wildest regions of Texas and the Far West where the old-fashioned "skin" diamonds are being replaced by grass-sod affairs that compare favorably with major league grounds.

In the older days, decisions at the bases and at home plate were always close because the runner tore up the ground so viciously that he invariably raised a cloud of dust, a dust screen—to borrow the nomenclature of naval strategy, that hid his efforts from the umpire.

Now he has an easy time, speaking comparatively, for dust is scarce. Sporting writers who have studied the matter this year explain the lack of dust as due to several factors.

First, of course, has been the better diamonds. Increased interest in baseball has enabled the club owners to build better plants, with corresponding betterments in equipment. Grass diamonds cost money but the fans are supporting baseball more generously than ever and the bigger "gates" have gone to give the man who pays better surroundings.

On a grass diamond, which means a diamond with grass infield as well as grass outfield, there is only a little earth, chiefly on the paths, around the plate, and the pitcher's box. That small amount of earth can be rolled easily, much more easily and economically than when the whole infield is made of earth, the so-called "skin" diamond.

In addition to the rolling, however, both on the small amount of earth surrounding the grass diamonds and even on the skin diamonds ground keepers have learned to lay the dust with various chemicals, the best of which is calcium chloride.

Another factor producing dustless baseball has been, strange to say, the baseball itself, which seems to be unusually lively this year.

Home runs are more frequent than ever and the wonderful race for home run honors between Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig is causing great excitement over the whole country.

Out of the Frying Pan

Two deaf men were playing cards in a popular Paris barroom the other afternoon and, as both were poor players, they burst into frequent and violent recriminations in the strained, slightly monotonous tones which some deaf persons use. The room was crowded, and finally the other patrons began to complain of the uproar made by the two card players. Whereupon the manager, observing that it was about time to arrange the tables for dinner, courteously stopped the game and confiscated the cards. "It is the hour, gentlemen," said he, "when playing must be suspended."

"Oh, very well then," one of the deaf men bellowed to the other; "we'll just talk for a while."—From Le Figaro Hebdomadaire, Paris. (Translated for the Kansas City Star.)

Wild Life Organized

Monkeys are said to be "born thieves." In the native jungles haunts organize regular bands to plunder adjoining orchards and plantations. Usually they have their "chief" who distributes spoils at strategic points and lines up his forces to make sure of a "clean getaway." Some of the most charming and innocent birds are deliberate murderers. But there are few murders in the snake family. Occasionally one snake will swallow another, but this is usually attributed to hunger rather than hate. However, many snakes despise each other. The king snake, for instance, has no use for a rattler and will seek to choke him to death.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Sorry He Spoke

American tourists in Europe must not presume too much on the ignorance of the local residents. When an American tourist touring Greece was met in one town by a large delegation, headed by a patriarch, he called out facetiously to the dignified leader, "Hello, Bill! How's crops?" The patriarch replied, in equally as understandable English, according to a correspondent of the New York Sun: "Crops is all right. But what the hell—business is it of yours?" The patriarch had lived 14 years in De-

Italian Ships to Be Fast

New York to Cherbourg in four days, to Naples in five days, and Italy to Buenos Aires in seven days is the prospect of Italian shipping interests. Two vessels capable of 40 knots, which would enable these times to be made, are now contemplated. They are to be called the Rex and the Dux, and have a displacement of 25,000 tons each. According to a statement attributed to Premier Mussolini, these ships will be possible as a result of a new and secret invention in machinery, which will give power without vibration. The premier also said that only one class of passengers will be carried on these ships.

Money Saving Facts About Concrete Highway Pavements

Concrete is durable. It will not shove, roll or rut. It remains as true and even as built. Concrete pavement is now satisfying taxpayers in many counties and every state in the Union.

Maintenance cost is low. It does not require periodic resurfacing. Wet or dry, concrete provides the safest surface for traffic.

Oil drippings will not cause concrete to disintegrate.

Concrete pavements are clean, smooth, dustless, free from stickiness and usable twelve months in the year.

6,000 miles of concrete pavement were placed on highways in the United States in 1926.

Concrete gives you more road surface value for each dollar invested than any other type.

"I remember living for a month on one life, and that was out of my leg," said O'Brien, his companion.
"You don't expect me to believe you turned cannibal, do you?" roared the soldier.
"It's true, believe it or not," said O'Brien calmly. "A dog took a bite out of my leg and the insurance kept me like a lord for four weeks."

She—"How many cigars do you smoke in a day?"
He—"Oh, any given number."

Right Back At Him
Two old Scotchmen who hadn't met since they were boys at home, were renewing the acquaintance as they sat on the porch of the summer hotel. One had lost an eye and was very sensitive about it. Finally the other, seeming to notice it for the first time said: "Whaur's yeither eye, Sandy?"
Glancing at his companion's stony pate, Sandy retorted, "Hoot, mon! It's awa' lookin' for ye air."

Hairlock Combs—"Nobody did but I just handed you a piece of gum and you took off the wrapper, threw the gum in the basket, and now you're chawing on the paper."

Professor A—"Do you know, I find it difficult to remember the ages of my children."
Professor B—"I have no such trouble. I was born twenty-three hundred years after Socrates, my wife eighteen hundred years after the death of Tiberius Caesar, our son, John, two thousand years after the entrance into Rome of Tiberius Sempronius Gracchus for the re-entrance of the legions of Lucilia, and our Amanda fifteen hundred years after the beginning of the Folk-wandering—that is perfectly simple, you see."

CHEVROLET LEADING IN SALES IN WAYNE SELLS MORE THAN ANY OTHER IN CENTER OF INDUSTRY.

Figures just released show that for the seventh consecutive month Chevrolet registrations have led every other single make of car in Wayne county, in which Detroit is the leading center. During July just ended Chevrolet not only topped every other make of car by registering 935 passenger models, but also led the list of truck registrations with 106 commercial cars, an increase of more than 100 per cent over Chevrolet's own high mark in July, 1926.

Commenting on these records, R. H. Grant, vice-president in charge of sales, declared that "Chevrolet's consistent leadership is a definite tribute to the public's utter confidence in and appreciation of our cars."

It is especially significant that Wayne county should show this overwhelming preference for Chevrolets. Wayne county is the center of the industry. The people here live on and work in the automobile factories. They are motor wise. They do not put their stamp of approval on a car unless they believe that it represents the utmost in motor car value.

Chevrolet factories, Mr. Grant said, are continuing their record-setting pace by turning out more than 3,500 units daily, so fast that by the middle of August the entire output for 1926 was expected to be passed.

"Indian Giver's" Fate Told as a Warning

"Indian giver," the term applied to persons who give something and then want it back, never fitted the Blackfoot tribe after the Great Spirit brought disaster to Napee, an old man of their nation, according to a legend. The aged Indian, so the legend runs, was travelling alone when he met a coyote and made a companion of him. They came upon a huge rock on the plain and Napee took off his buckskin coat and presented it to the rock. After resuming their journey rain began to fall and Napee sent the coyote back for the coat.

But the rock would not return it and the coyote scampered back to the Indian with its tail hanging between its legs. The aged brave was angered and he returned in haste, took the coat, and again resumed his journey. He and the coyote had not gone far when he heard a loud, rumbling noise.

Looking back they saw the rock rolling after them. It bowled over a herd of buffalo and came on in pursuit. The coyote was killed. Napee saw a hawk soaring in the sky and called to it for help. As the hawk flew down, the overheated rock burst in two with a loud explosion. The Indian went on his way greatly frightened, but he had not learned the moral lesson of the incident, for when he came upon the hawk's nest he forced open the mouths of the young hawks until they died.

The old hawk had followed and the Indian ran into the lake, thinking he would escape the bird, but he could not keep his head above water lest the hawk pick his eyes out. So Napee was drowned. The Blackfoot to this day relate the legend and point gravely to the moral of it. In trading with other tribes they always laid stress on the fact that they believe in standing by their bargains. — Kansas City Times

Cream of the Joke

Lea De Forest, the radio pioneer, told a broadcasting story at a banquet in New York:

"A comedian," he said, "gave a very good broadcasting turn one night, and wound up with the joking words: 'Now, ladies and gentlemen, if any of you have a favorite song I will be very glad to sing it. You need only speak the title into the loud-speaker.' The comedian waited half a minute; then he went on: 'A lady has asked for "Old Black Joe." Music, please.' "And he sang "Old Black Joe" and said good-night. "A good joke," Mr. De Forest ended, "but the cream of it came the next day, when a dozen women wrote in. Each woman thanked us warmly for "Old Black Joe" and said it was she who had asked for it through the loud-speaker."

Centers of Trade

It is a noticeable fact in the cities that industries, shops and professions have a marked tendency to locate in groups, a section often being given over to some one calling. In New York, for instance, the leather trade is to be found bunched around under the approach to the Brooklyn bridge. The fur trade has possessed itself of Eighth avenue in the Thirties, just as Madison and Lexington avenues have gone antique in the Fifties and lower Fourth avenue has become the home of second-hand books, so that section of the city where Cortlandt and Greenwich streets intersect has been taken over by radio shops.

One may stand on the corner and count no less than 25 radio shop signs, and around the corner, unseen from that point, are others still.

Planes End Mill's Rest

By carrying a piece of machinery by airplane from London to Turkey recently, a long shutdown of the government cotton mill in Constantinople was averted. A wire order was received by a firm in Belfast, Ireland, for repair parts for a Sirocco fan, which had been damaged in an accident, causing the whole mill to stop. A representative of the mill, at home in England on leave, visited Belfast, carried the parts by train to London, and traveled by airplane to Paris and thence to Bucharest and Constantinople. The trip was made in two days, five days less than had it been by train.

Victory for Perseverance

After four years, P. A. Meyer got his dime. He put 10 cents too much in the fare box of a San Francisco car and asked for a refund. The conductor took his name and address. The company mailed him two tickets to cover the sum. That was four years ago. Meyer had moved. The tickets moved after him, finally catching him in Honolulu. Then the company received a letter from him at a Manila address. The tickets he sent back had expired and he asked for new ones. They were sent to his son in San Francisco, thereby closing the account.

Premature

Judge—It is pointed, pampered dolls like you who shake our baby institutions to their very foundations, young lady, and bring misery and ruin to us, even the third and fourth generations. And it is dissipated, wild youths such as you are, young fellow, with their leering mouths and weak chins, who bring shame and disgrace and ugliness to court and fling it in our faces! Why do you wish a divorce?

He and She—We don't want one. We came here to have you marry us. —Life.

Well, He Asked for It.

"Darling, you would be a marvelous dancer but for two things."
"What are they sweetheart?"
"Your feet!"

A local Dumbdora remarked this week that the percentage of accidents in airplanes was very small—only one to a person.

Dr. Frank Crane Says

DESIRE—KEEP IT EVER GREEN

That is a pretty good title. It is given to one of the recent Antioch College pamphlets and is very suggestive. There is nothing people need more in the world than desire. The great problem is not repressing desire or uprooting it, but properly nursing it.

We need desire all our lives. No great thing was ever done by a man without a great desire.

It was Napoleon's desire for fame that drove him forward, and Alexander's and Caesar's desire for conquest that actuated their efforts.

Marriage is rarely successful without a desire.

A marriage merely for convenience, for money, for position, or such reasons, is usually a failure.

There have been few business successes accomplished by those who had no desire to get forward, and few politicians achieve success without the proper amount of ambition.

Behind the whole human race in every race is the thing we call desire. It is the steam of the human engine. It is the urge in human accomplishment.

The greatest wasters are the wasters of desire. There is need of thrift in desire as well as in other things. You never know when you may want it.

People do not fail so much because they want the wrong things. Some do, but most people do not succeed

THE THEATRE

"THE FRONTIERSMAN"

No more pleasing and virile romance of the American frontier has ever been brought to the screen than Tim McCoy's "The Frontiersman," a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production which comes to the Penniman Allen theatre Saturday, August 27th.

As a western hero McCoy stands in a class by himself. Although a newcomer to the screen, McCoy has avoided the fatal mistake of imitating some other actor. His stories are along original lines, their screen treatment is unusual and McCoy's roles are new characterizations of western heroes.

In "The Frontiersman" this new screen star plays the part of Captain John Dale, an officer and friend of Andrew Jackson, yet at the same time a friend of Weatherford, war leader of the Creek Indian Confederacy.

The story deals with the capture and rescue of Andrew Jackson's ward and the historical high spots of the screen story include the frightful massacre of more than 400 white people at Fort Mims, Ala., and the battle of Horseshoe Bend, where the hostile Creeks made their final stand against Jackson's Tennessee militia.

This battle, in which more than nine hundred Creek warriors were slain, has been reproduced with fidelity to detail, the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio building the great barricaded fortress on exactly the same plans used by the Creeks.

Clara Windsor, as the ward of "old Hickory" and object of McCoy's adoration, gives her usual good performance and is a perfect foil for the star.

Tom O'Brien, who played "Bull" in "The Big Parade," gives another great performance as Abner, a buck private. The cast of the picture also includes Louise Lorraine, Russell Simpson, Eillian Leighton, Chief Big Tree, John Peters and Frank Hagney. The picture was directed by Reginald Barker.

"THE UNDERSTANDING HEART"

The most picturesque country of the world furnishes the background for "The Understanding Heart," the Cosmopolitan production which comes to the Penniman Allen theatre, Sunday and Monday, August 28 and 29. It is the land of the big timber in California, and concerns that band of faithful guardians who constantly watch over the country to save it from the ravages of fire.

The story was adapted from the popular novel by Peter B. Kyne, and it has been given an elaborate production by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. Experiences of scenic beauty that are literally breath-taking greet the eye constantly, and the spectator is given several exquisite views of Yosemite National Park.

However, this is only the setting against which one of the most pulsing virile dramas of the year is enacted. Jack Conway, perhaps best known heretofore as the director of "Brown of Harvard," has breathed into the Kyne story importance and reality. The high point of interest is the spectacular forest fire that climaxes the tale.

The cast of the picture is headed by Joan Crawford as Monica, Francis X. Bushman, Jr., as Tony, Carmel Myers as Keley and Rockliffe Fellowes as Bob Mason.

"The Understanding Heart" is said to be one of the big features of the new season.

"AFRAID TO LOVE"

Proving humorously but convincingly that when a girl decides to marry a man he might as well come to a similar decision. "Afraid to Love," the new Paramount production starring Florence Vidor with Clive Brooks as leading man comes to the Penniman Allen theatre, Wednesday, August 31.

Miss Vidor's famed beauty is placed carefully in the background through exigencies of the plot and unwrapped from its covering of made-up ugliness to blossom forth as an unsuspected rose in the hitherto unlovely desert of a singular honeymoon to Paris.

As Sir Reginald Belsize, Clive Brooks convincingly portrays the cultured English gentleman whose plans for marital bliss are upset by an old uncle who wills him an enormous fortune on condition that he marry any woman at all except the one he wants. The girl uncle disapproves is Helen de Semiano, (Joeylyn Lee) who is carrying on an intrigue before Sir Reginald's eyes with a gigolo.

As Katherine Silverton, whom Sir Reginald marries to fulfill the terms of the will and collect the fortune, Miss Vidor appears first as a dowdy old maid with thick glasses and a bad disposition. She is approved as a wife for Clive by Joeylyn who has agreed to marriage only as a measure of collecting the legacy, and who insists on an immediate divorce as soon as the money is handed over to Clive. But alas for all well-laid plans! Florence's unsuspected beauty complicates matters and Clive's clever solution to his difficulty proves only to have jumbled matters the more.

Comic situations pile upon one another breathlessly. The plot unravels in a series of surprises. Miss Vidor displays an intelligent brand of acting that shows her well on the way to the brilliant cinema future prophesied for her by the critics with her first Paramount starring vehicle, "You Never Know Women."
