SENIOR CLASS WILL SPONSOR LYCEUM COURSE THIS YEAR

Five Numbers Will Make Up a Program of Unusual Merit.

Tickets for the Fourth Senior Course Will Be on Sale Next Week.

The tickets for the fourth Senior Lyceum course will be on sale next week. An unusually strong course has been provided and the seniors are hoping for cordial support as in previous years.

The first number will be Jack Woods' Male Quartet and Bell Ringers. This group, the successors of the famous Dunbar Quartet, are among the most popular singers on the Lyceum circuit. Everyone likes a good male quartet and everyone in Plymouth will enjoy hearing these men. In addition the bells used by the company will provide an entertainment absolutely new in our community. This number alone should be worth the price of the season ticket to most people.

The other musical number is the Groesjean Trio. This popular musical company features on its widely varied program the music of the marimba-xylophone. There will be a special Chinese selection given in costume. Miss Floss Groesjean, feature artist of the company, is a well known impersonative entertainer. Harry L. Jensen, the b-man of the company, brings his saxophone right with him. This is also a most attractive number and we are sure it will please the people of Plymouth.

Captain T. Dismore Upton will be here for the third number of the course, but the football fans who remember the years when Grand Rapids was winning the state championship will recognize him better as "Dinale" Upton, one of the cleanest athletes and cleverest coaches Michigan has seen. Those who have heard him know him also as a forceful speaker and the great apostle of righteousness through recreation. If you believe in athletics you want to hear him: if you don't you can't afford to miss him.

Dr. Hilton Ira Jones, a Fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, is our fourth number. He is to give us a startling account of discoveries of modern science; but unlike many scientists, he has the ability to present complex scientific ideas in terms we can all readily understand. It is worth while to every one of us to come and see how the test tube may tell us our bodily needs and foretell the progress of industry.

The fifth numbers on the program will be Edward Reno, the expert illusionist. Reno has been a magician for thirty-five years and has traveled all over the world. He is constantly inventing new things in magic and illusions. Reno uses unusual light parapermalia and never fails to amaze his audiences. Not the least enjoyable feature of Reno's performance is the running fire of comments with which he enlivens everything he does. This number will be especially interesting to the children and illustrates the policy of having each year one number for all the family.

WOMAN'S CLUB WILL MEET NEXT FRIDAY

The rare privilege of seeing and hearing about oriental rugs, direct from the Orient, will be given club members at their club rooms in I. O. O. F. Temple, next Friday afternoon, October 7th, 1927.

Mrs. Howard R. Merrick of Ann Arbor, importer of Chinese rugs, will lecture on the subject, "Over The Shoulder of a Chinese Rug Maker," which will be illustrated with lantern slides. Every woman will want to hear this very interesting talk.

Mrs. Merrick will bring several specimens of rugs with her, from the Orient, where she has spent the past summer.

A luncheon will be served by the Rebekah degree staff club in their dining room, beginning at one o'clock. Tickets may be bought from the division leaders.

NEW MEN'S STORE OPENS SATURDAY

PAUL HAYWARD WILL OPEN NEW STORE IN PENNIMAN ALLEN BUILDING—MUSIC AND SOUVENIRS WILL FEATURE OPENING DAY.

Paul Hayward will open a new clothing and men's furnishings store in the Penniman Allen building, next door to the post office, Saturday, October 1st. For the past week workmen have been busy remodeling the front of the store. Instead of one large display window, the front has now been provided with two windows, with the entrance in the center. New store fixtures have been installed, and the whole store presents a very beautiful appearance.

PAUL HAYWARD

The new store will carry a complete line of clothing and men's furnishings. He will feature the well known Kuppenheimer line of clothing, the Wilson Bros. line of furnishings and other nationally advertised goods.

Mr. Hayward has had considerable experience in the mercantile trade. He was with the Comstock Dry Goods Co. of Ypsilanti, for five years, and the Fletcher & Fletcher clothing store of the same city for four years. During the war, Mr. Hayward served in the navy.

ORLOW OWEN

Associated with Mr. Hayward in the store here will be Orlow Owen, who has been clerking for Fletcher & Fletcher at Ypsilanti for several years. He is a graduate of the Ypsilanti High school and the State Normal. Both Mr. Hayward and Mr. Owen are well acquainted in Plymouth and vicinity.

Mr. Hayward extends a most cordial invitation to the public to call and inspect the new store on the opening day, Saturday, October 1st. The ladies will be presented with flowers while the men will be given cigars. A pleasing feature of the opening day will be music by the Florida Pelicans orchestra of Ypsilanti.

RILEY-FEAST.

An attractive wedding was that of Miss Mildred Josephine Feast, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Feast, and Rev. Donald Washington Riley, of Taylorville, Ill., which took place at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening, September 20th, at the First Baptist church, Plymouth, of which Rev. Riley is pastor.

The church was attractively decorated with palms and cut flowers. The ceremony was read by Rev. William W. Colman, of the Ford Avenue Baptist church, Highland Park.

The wedding march was beautifully rendered by Mrs. Ray Swartzbaugh, and solos were sung by Miss Gladys Fox and Miss Zella Torne, of Highland Park.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and looked charming in a gown of white satin and lace which was beaded with cut pearls taken from her mother's wedding dress. A wreath of orange blossoms held her tulle veil in place. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses.

The bridesmaid, Miss Lena Patterson, friend of the bride, was becomingly gowned in soft green taffeta and tulle, with large velvet hat to match, and carried pink roses.

Little Ilma Gertrude Findlater was flower girl and wore a dainty frock of pink georgette and carried a basket of tiny flowers.

Rev. Richard Loyde, class-mate of the groom in the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, was the best man.

Colson Feast, brother of the bride; Kenneth Richardson and Robert Howland served as ushers.

The bride's mother wore rose crepe with velvet and rhinestone trimmings and carried pink carnations and rose buds.

The church was crowded with guests and friends who witnessed the ceremony.

A reception and buffet luncheon followed at the home of the bride's parents, 30 Church avenue, Highland Park.

The home decorations were of palms, gladiolus and asters.

The bride's going-away dress was of blue velvet and metallic cloth, with coat of tan and brown, and hat to match.

Mr. and Mrs. Riley left for a motor trip through Ohio and Illinois, and will be at home after October 1st at 494 North Mill street, Plymouth.

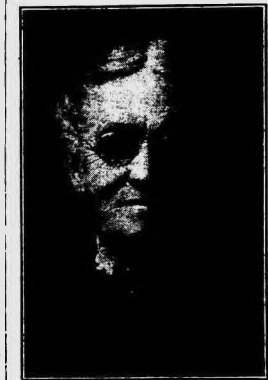

The many friends of this popular young couple extend hearty congratulations and best wishes for their future happiness and success in their work in Plymouth.

OLD CLINTON TAVERN TO BE MOVED BY FORD.

The old Clinton Tavern, at Clinton, Mich., a landmark for nearly 100 years on the road between Detroit and Chicago, is to be taken down and rebuilt on the old Ford farm, the birthplace of Henry Ford and the site of the new Ford Museum, at Ford and Division roads, according to an announcement by Mr. Ford. The tavern was built in 1830. It was recently purchased by Mr. Ford.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MRS. SARAH HOISINGTON

Sarah M. Sherman was born September 14, 1836 in the town of Lyons, Wayne County, New York, and came with her parents to Michigan at the age of seven years. They settled first in Plymouth, which at that time was a very small burg. Afterwards her father located in Livonia township on the farm which later was purchased by her husband, and where she spent forty-five years of her life, moving to Plymouth village in the year 1923. At the age of 18, she was united in marriage to Henry Hoisington, who preceded her in death in 1893. To this union eight children were born, five of whom survive and who were all here helping to care for her in her last sickness. She was confined to her bed only three weeks, passing away Sunday morning, September 18.

Mrs. Hoisington was a life-long member of the Newburg M. E. church. She was always of a bright, cheery disposition, never complaining, and was always glad to have her friends around her and was remarkable for her loving hospitality. She will be missed by a large circle of relatives and friends.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon, September 20th, at the Schrader Bros. Funeral Home, and were conducted by Dr. F. A. Lendrum, assisted by Rev. F. I. Walker of Newburg. Burial was in Newburg cemetery beside her husband.

DEATH OF MRS. HARRY WILLS

Mrs. Harry Wills, for many years a resident of Plymouth, passed away at Dr. Ostrander's private hospital, last Monday evening, September 26th. Mrs. Wills had been in failing health for some time. Her husband, the late Harry Wills, preceded her in death last July. Mrs. Wills was nearly 82 years of age, and was born in New York state. She had lived in the Wills home on Maple avenue for the past fifty-five years. She is survived by one son, Julius Wills of Grand Ledge, with whom she made her home.

Funeral services will be held from Schrader Bros. Funeral Home, today, Friday afternoon, at 3:00 o'clock. Rev. Walter Nichol officiating. Interment in Riverside cemetery.

Congressman Earl C. Michener of Adrian, will be the speaker at the Rotary Club luncheon today. Mr. Michener will also speak at a meeting of the League of Women Voters at the Masonic temple this afternoon.

ROTARIANS HEAR SPLENDID TALK.

The members of the Plymouth Rotary Club were privileged to hear a splendid talk on the principles of Rotary by Phil Lovejoy, assistant superintendent of the Hamtramck schools, at the Rotary luncheon last Friday. Mr. Lovejoy brought a message that was an inspiration to every Rotarian who heard it. It is hoped to have Mr. Lovejoy address the club again at some future time.

SPECIAL ELECTION IS CALLED BY COMMISSION

Two Propositions to Come Before the Voters on Wednesday, October 12th.

Bond Issues of $9,130 for Village's Share of Penniman Avenue Paving and $25,000 for Improvements and Extensions to Water System Are Asked For.

PETERSON-BARNES

A lovely wedding took place last Saturday evening, September 24th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chumney H. Ranch on Church street, when Miss Lulu Barnes became the bride of Clyde Peterson of Flint. At exactly seven-thirty, the beautiful song, "Oh Promise Me," was sung by Miss Ruth Shattuck, followed by Mendelssohn's Wedding March, played by Miss Gertrude Borges of Detroit, during which four ribbon bearers, Misses Rhoda Peck, Elizabeth Burrows, Dorothy Dibble and Ernestine Roe, formed an aisle through which the bridal party passed to an altar of palms, ferns and roses.

Jake Albro of Flint, acted as best man, while Miss Edna Brown, dressed in tan georgette and carrying yellow roses, was Miss Barnes' bridesmaid. The bride was charming in a gown of pale yellow embroidered tulle and gold lace. Her shower bouquet was of white roses and lilies of the valley.

The impressive ring service was used, Rev. Nichol officiating. After delightful refreshments, Mr. and Mrs. Peterson left for a trip through the east. The guests numbered about forty-five, coming from Detroit, Cass City, Cadillac and Flint.

Mrs. Peterson has resided here for eight years, during which time she has been employed in the purchasing department of the Daley Mfg. Co. By her gracious manner she has won many friends, who wish them all happiness. They will return from their trip in two weeks, and will be at home to their friends in Flint.

BAKERY MOVES TO NEW LOCATION

On another page of this paper will be found the half-page advertisement of the Plymouth Bakery, announcing the opening Saturday in their new location, in the Voorheis block, in the store room formerly occupied by the Plymouth Wall Paper Store. Herman Weberlein, the proprietor, has purchased a new and modern baking oven, together with other new equipment, and in the new location will be better prepared than ever to serve his patrons with quality baked goods and confections. During the several years Mr. Weberlein has operated his bakery business here, he has built up a splendid patronage, and in his new location he hopes to greatly increase his business. See his ad today.

CLINIC FOR PRE-SCHOOL CHILDREN HELD HERE

The fall clinic for pre-school children was held at the St. John's Episcopal parish house, under the auspices of the Wayne County Council of Parents and Teachers. Mrs. George Bentley, president of the council, and Mrs. Arthur O. Huston, zone vice-president, were in charge.

Mrs. Lois Barrington Sharpe, supervising nurse of Wayne county, assisted by Miss Reid, zone nurse and Miss Wood and Mrs. Strasen, took charge of the children, weighing, measuring, testing eyes, skin and posture.

The idea of this fall clinic was to check up on children examined last spring, to see what improvement had been made. Dr. Brisbois was the examining physician, and the council wishes to take this opportunity to publicly express their thanks to Dr. Brisbois for his loyal support and untiring cooperation. We also wish to thank the restyman for the use of the church house, and to all others who cooperated. Special thanks to Miss Jamison, Zone A teacher; Miss Olive Quinn, county service chairman, and Mrs. Lois Corbett, county demonstration agent, who were present.—Cor.

A special election has been called for Wednesday, October 12th, for the purpose of submitting two important propositions to the voters of the village.

The commission, in compliance with petitions presented to that body asking that Penniman avenue be paved from the west line of Harvey street to the east line of Moreland road and the construction of certain storm sewers in connection therewith, has determined that it is an expedient and necessary public improvement.

The village commission has decided to pay out of the funds of the village, the cost of paving all street intersections and one-third of the cost of constructing storm sewers.

In order to make this improvement it will be necessary for the village to borrow the sum of $9,130, and issuing bonds therefor, for paying its part of the cost.

There should be no question in the minds of the citizens of the village of the great need of paving Penniman avenue. It is one of the main arteries of travel into the village, and a heavy traffic passes over this thoroughfare daily, and a dirt roadway can never be made to stand up under this traffic. There is only one way to permanently improve this street, and that is to pave it. It is the cheapest in the long run and more satisfactory in every way.

Another proposition that is to come before the voters is that of borrowing $25,000, and issuing bonds therefor, for the purpose of enlarging and extending the present water works system and making up a deficit in the water fund.

The growth of the village in the past few years and the annexing of several new subdivisions has made it necessary to make extensions to the water system, so that these new additions can be given fire protection and water for domestic purposes.

The board of registration will be in session on Saturday, the 1st day of October, 1927, and on Saturday, the 8th day of October, from nine o'clock in the forenoon until eight o'clock in the evening, at the village hall, for the purpose of completing the registration of the qualified voters of the village.

MRS. JENNIE CHASE PASSES AWAY

Mrs. Jennie Chase, aged 64 years, passed away last Saturday, September 24th. Mrs. Chase had been in failing health for some time. She leaves one brother, John Renwick of this place, and a sister, Mrs. Mary Duncan of Iwarborn.

The funeral services were held from Schrader Bros. Funeral Home, Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, Rev. Walter Nichol officiating. The interment was made in the Leland cemetery.

A CHANGE IN BUSINESS FIRM

A. Sage & Son will operate the retail and wholesale oil station for Red Indian gasoline and Havoline oils and greases.

D. E. Kellogg & Co., wholesale milliners of Detroit, suffered a considerable loss last Friday night, by smoke and water, when fire broke out in a clothing establishment on another floor in the building which they occupy on Jefferson avenue. Mr. Kellogg resides in Plymouth, and was notified of the fire on the following morning.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK.

"Fire Prevention Week" is to be observed throughout the United States during the week of October 9-15, and we are calling attention to it in the belief that every resident of Plymouth and surrounding territory will take steps to make it an occasion of value. It will not be necessary to hire a band, shoot fireworks or listen to long-winded speeches. That is not a part of "Fire Prevention Week" at all; but it is made effective by each citizen seeing to it personally that his premises are put in shape for fall and winter, and that children in our schools are taught the extreme danger of handling fire in any form.

You can observe the week in no better way than to see that stoves, furnaces, flues and chimneys are cleaned and put in perfect condition. More fires result from defective flues in the smaller towns and rural districts of America than from any other cause. See to it, too, that the house, the garage and the barn are cleared of all useless trash. Clean it up, carry it out into the open and burn it. If you have occasion to make a fire in the open, remember that this is the dry season, when fire can spread rapidly and when danger from it is greatest. Teach the children the danger of making camp fires in the open; and if you are a smoker, take a pledge during "Fire Prevention Week" that you will henceforth be more careful with matches while out motoring or hunting or walking in the open places than you have ever been before.

By all means clean up the flues and chimneys and see that every inch of pipe is in perfect condition. When you do that you are helping to make "Fire Prevention Week" 100 per cent successful.

A HORSE SHORTAGE.

Not everyone owns a horse, of course, and not everyone expects to get everybody interested in them. That is due to the fact that until the auto came the horse really did more for us in the way of advancing our prosperity and our comfort than any other member of the animal kingdom. So when J. O. Williams, of the department of agriculture, sends out word that the shortage of work horses in this country is becoming serious it is of more than passing interest in Plymouth, where there are as many friends of the horse as can be found in the same amount of space anywhere on earth.

Estimates of all the horses and mules on farms the first of this year showed a total of 21,013,000 head, a decline in work stock population of 17 per cent since 1920. It is practically certain, Mr. Williams says, that the next five years will show a reduction of the present number by 30 or 40 per cent. Although the average age of horses has increased considerably, the average value during the past three years has not changed much. The present low prices may not be expected to continue long, as the increasing shortage is bound to turn it back the other way and high-class work and saddle horses will in a few years bring the highest prices ever known.

The theory that the auto would replace the horse altogether was exploded long ago. There will always be a demand for work horses, because there are many kinds of work that can be done better by horses than by motor power. Besides, from purely sentimental reasons, no one wants to see the horse wholly displaced. It is this sentiment, now nation-wide, that makes the report of a horse shortage a matter of alarm.

HERE'S SAD NEWS

Now comes something else to worry about. Uncle Sam says you may have to ease down on potato eating during the next 12 months. The average per capita consumption of potatoes in this country is 2 1/2 bushels. Latest reports, however, show but 287,700,000 bushels will be available for eating purposes, so the result may be more like two bushels to every citizen. The entire crop is estimated at 411,000,000 bushels, a decrease from former years. But something like 125,000,000 bushels will go to foreign lands, as usual. Of course, a shortage means a little higher price than we are accustomed to paying, unless all signs fail. The price, however, will not cause the average Plymouth family as much worry as the shortage, for the potato has just about come to be the one vegetable that we would hardly be able to get along without, no matter how high the price may soar.

VACATIONS FOR FARMERS.

With city papers devoting whole columns to the need of vacations for "tired business men," it has always looked to us as though the farmer was being forgotten; but here comes a statement from the National Grange to the effect that never in the history of America has there been a time when as many farmers took vacations as during the present season. And why not? Don't farmers work as hard as anybody else—and don't nature demand a rest for them the same as for those who do other kinds of labor? And is there any reason why a farmer cannot get as much enjoyment out of a vacation as anyone else? Surely he can learn something by watching to see how farmers in other states do their work. Getting away from home once a year not only makes him a healthier man but a better farmer.

because it gives him a broader viewpoint of life. With the auto here, and now a part of almost every farmer's equipment, he has no alibi for not taking a vacation. In fact, the day seems to have arrived when there really is no excuse for any farmer not doing so.

SPEEDING OR POKING.

Since Michigan has seen fit to abolish her speed laws, once 35 miles an hour, we've asked several Plymouth motorists what they think of it, and we find them divided in opinion. One points out that speed laws on highways are seldom observed, anyhow. Another says the man who pokes along at 15 miles an hour is a menace because he holds up others, causes congestion and often is responsible for accidents that would not have occurred had he been traveling at a speed of 30 or 40 miles an hour. All seem to agree that it is recklessness in speeding that deserves to feel the heavy hand of the law. Careful drivers are not dangerous, even when they are driving fast, because careful drivers always have their cars under control, argues another. Of course, there are two sides to the argument; that is why it is going to be interesting to watch the Michigan experiment of abolishing speed laws altogether and centering attention on recklessness.

THE THEATRE

"FOR THE LOVE OF MIKE"

If you want to see a notable assemblage of stars in a vehicle worthy of their talents, go to the Penniman Allen theatre Sunday and Monday, October 2 and 3. "For the Love of Mike," the first National picture, comes up to that high standard.

Ben Lyon has the leading role with George Sidney, Ford Sterling, Claudette Colbert, Hugh Cameron, Richard Skelton, Gallagher, Rudolph Cameron and Mabel Swor.

This is a perfect cast, as is evident. The story is no less perfect. It is about a foundling who is discovered by three bachelors living in the notorious Hell's Kitchen district in New York. The men are an Irishman, a German and a Jew and all three claim the little youngster but compromise at last by agreeing to bring him up cooperatively, so to speak.

Ben Lyon has the part of the boy, with George Sidney, Ford Sterling and Hugh Cameron as his "fathers." Claudette Colbert, well known stage star recruited to pictures for the first time by Robert Kane, who produced "For the Love of Mike," is seen as the boy's childhood sweetheart and Mabel Swor enacts the role of the Fifth Avenue blonde who tries to make him forget his old pals and join her ritzy set.

Not only "for the love of Mike," but for your own sake, this is one picture you positively must see!

"TEN MODERN COMMANDMENTS"

Esther Ralston, beautiful Paramount star, fronts out a few kinks and wrinkles in the social code of today in her latest fast moving comedy, "Ten Modern Commandments," which comes to the Penniman Allen theatre Tuesday and Wednesday, October 4 and 5.

To Jack Laft goes the credit of allowing Miss Ralston to juggle direction for it was he who wrote the original story. Then Dorothy Arzner, Paramount's only woman director, who did such a splendid job with the blonde star in "Fashioned For Women" finished it off with a great bit of direction.

"Ten Modern Commandments" is a story of the stage, a story that Miss Ralston has lived before. When she was two years old, her mother carried her before the footlights and from then on it was one round of travel, work and the inevitable theatrical boarding-house. How she uses the "Ten Modern Commandments" to serve her ends makes an amusing and striking screen story.

Supporting the star is a hand picked cast. First in line comes Neil Hamilton of "Beau Geste" fame, who has the leading masculine role. Then there's Jocelyn Lee as the star of the Revels; Arthur Hoyt, the theatrical producer; Romaine Fielding, Rose Burdick and Maude Truax as the old troupers and Roscoe Karns, the funny stage manager.

If you saw "Fashioned For Women," you won't miss "Ten Modern Commandments." If you failed to see the first, take a tip and see the latest.

"THE SUNSET DERBY"

Mary Astor and William Collier, Jr., are seen in the featured roles in "The Sunset Derby," which comes to the Penniman Allen theatre Thursday and Friday, October 6 and 7. It was produced for First National by Charles R. Rogers, under the direction of Albert Rogell, and is based on a short story by William Dudley Pelley.

The picture promises to be a highly colorful story of the race-track, and one which makes a considerable departure from the usual films of this type in that it is an intimate story of the real characters behind the track rather than the conventional plot which has served for so long.

Racing scenes for the picture were made on the track at Tianjuna, with some of the leading jockeys and the fastest mounts in America lending the authentic atmosphere.

An unusual feature of the production is the fact that Collier participates in an actual race, with the spectators unaware of the fact that they were serving as "extras" in a motion picture.

In addition to Collier and Miss Astor, the cast of "The Sunset Derby" includes Ralph Lewis, Lionel Belmore, David Kirby and other well-known screen players.

"MY MARYLAND" IS DETROIT'S THEATRICAL HIT.

"My Maryland," the great American operetta which has taken both New York and Philadelphia literally by storm, has duplicated its success in Detroit, where a fine and large company is playing its fourth huge week at the Shubert Lafayette theatre.

This is the operetta based upon one of the historic incidents of the American Civil war, which originally was sent into Philadelphia last January to smooth it out for presentation in New York, and it was so wildly acclaimed that it has never been able to leave the former city, where it is now playing its thirty-sixth week to capacity audiences. A few weeks ago another company was organized for New York and there it has met with the same great success that the other companies achieved in Detroit and Philadelphia.

"My Maryland" is the product of the same quartet that has given to the American stage some of the greatest achievements in theatrical history, including "The Student Prince," "Blossom Time," and a score of others. Dorothy Donnelly wrote the book and the lyrics and the music is from the pen of the great Sigmund Romberg and most people who have seen all of these fine musical plays unhesitatingly say that "My Maryland" surpasses all of them.

Like the other great hits mentioned above, this latest operetta was staged by J. C. Huffman and was produced under the personal supervision of that master showman of musical productions, J. J. Shubert.

"My Maryland" tells a vivid story of a sweet, clean love of a beautiful young southern girl and a dashing Yankee soldier in the midst of the crashing conflict of the Civil war. A feature of the play is the appearance of a huge soldier chorus which sings among others, "Your Land and My Land," the famous marching song that has swept over the country, although the great operetta has played in only three large cities thus far, Detroit, Philadelphia and New York.

It was originally intended that "My Maryland" should play in Detroit for a couple of weeks and then go into Chicago for a year's run, but the tremendous popularity of the play in Detroit has kept it there for four weeks. Seldom has any theatrical company been seen in this section of the country that measures up to the one now playing at the Shubert Lafayette theatre in Detroit, for there are scenes in which more than one hundred performers are on the stage at one time, while the entire company numbers 150, with a singing soldier chorus of 60, in addition to a large aggregation of beautiful girls in the ensemble.

Lottie Howell, fresh from her Broadway triumph in the native operetta, "Deep River," heads the huge cast, with George Rymer, the international concert star, in the leading male role of the Yankee captain, Alexander Clark, with 42 years of stage success and star of a score of famous plays in New York and London, plays the leading comedy role, while among others there are the diminutive Betty Byron, who will be remembered from "Silks and Satins" and "Song of the Flame," and Helen Doyle, Jean LeMarr, Clara Palmer, Walter Tenney, Ralph Dorst, Ralph Dunn, Roy LaRue, Richard Freeman and Sally Steadler.

Performances are played in Detroit every night, with matinees on Thursdays and Saturdays.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Davis S. Wilson, who left us three years ago, September 27, 1924.
A precious one from us has gone,
A voice we loved is stilled;
A place is vacant in our home
Which never can be filled.
His footsteps now no more we hear,
Nor see the sunshine of his face;
But in God's mansion, oh, so fair,
We will hope to meet our loved one there.
Sadly missed by his loving parents, sister and brothers.

DOROTHY was looking through some cast off garments from the wardrobe of a friend the other day and said: "Polly, dear, why I'm ashamed of you—you are throwing the outfit of an American debutante of fashion into the discard because of thoughtlessness. Why, honey, don't you know that a little time spent upon alterations and a little of your clothes allowance spent for dry cleaning and dyeing would make you the best dressed girl in town?"
P. S.—Polly surrendered.

Turn the key! and your Buick is Double-Locked

No lock could be safer! One turn of the key locks both ignition and steering wheel. But merely turning off the ignition does not lock the wheel. You may shut off the engine and coast, if you like, and still have your car under perfect control.

And no lock could be more convenient! It is illuminated and located within easy reach, where the steering column meets the dash.

The Buick double-lock is an exclusive Buick feature—one of many important refinements which characterize Buick for 1928.

NEW CONCEALED WEAPONS LAW NOW IN FORCE

THE NEW LAW WAS DRAFTED BY ROBERT M. TOMS, PROSECUTING ATTORNEY OF WAYNE COUNTY.

The new concealed weapons law passed by the legislature of 1927 is now in effect and law enforcing agencies are confident that it will go a long way in separating the gunman from his gun. The law was drafted by Robert M. Toms, prosecuting attorney of Wayne county, after an exhaustive study of all the other laws on this subject and after submitting the bill to the National Crime Commission and other organizations interested in the suppression of dangerous firearms.

Under the provisions of the new law every person owning a firearm under thirty inches in length is required to register it with the chief of police in incorporated cities or the sheriff outside of incorporated cities before November 1st. Upon doing so he receives a certificate of inspection, and a record is kept by the Department of Public Safety in Lansing of every weapon so registered. In order to purchase a pistol a person is required to secure a license without cost from the chief of police or sheriff. Citizens are prohibited from carrying pistols concealed on their persons or in vehicles, whether concealed or not, without first obtaining a license. This means that it is now against the law to carry a pistol in the pocket of an automobile or on the seat or floor without a license. Applications for such a license are filed with the county clerk on blanks provided by him and are passed upon by the licensing board, consisting of the prosecuting attorney, commissioner of public safety and the chief of police or sheriff. Licenses will only be issued where some special need for carrying a gun is shown.

The new law does not in any way interfere with the possession or carrying of hunting weapons, such as rifles and shotguns, and the sportsman need have no fear that his activities will be interfered with. It is, however, aimed directly at the holdup man and the thief who carries a deadly weapon concealed in such a manner that citizens have no notice of his dangerous character.

Made a Winning Fight

CONSTANCE LATTIMER, actress, was quite certain she was a victim of conspiracy.

"It's my good looks," she told herself. "They are jealous and the managers side in. That is why I have never been given a real part." She stamped her small foot, tilted her chin and resolved that she would go on trying until some day her friends, the real friends, the people across the footlights, would give her such a salvo of applause as would rout jealousies and force the tardy recognition.

It was a brave resolution, but back in the head of the pretty actress was born a tiny doubt. Could it be that her only appeal on the stage was that of beauty? Were they right, those managers, who said she could not act?

As the questions persisted she worked the harder saying to herself that for one triumph she would give up the stage and the career which had beckoned. But she must first have that triumph. Then came Capt. Donald Trail in his handsome uniform and with his pleasing ways, and the problem became the more difficult.

"I cannot marry you, Donald," she said, "because it would be to surrender right now when the battle is at a crisis. You are soldier enough to understand. You see, I wish to prove to myself that I can act, to show that my efforts and dreams have not been in vain. If I stop trying, to be married, I will never know whether I could have succeeded." She looked at him wistfully. "You understand, don't you, and maybe it won't be long before I make good."

"And then?" asked the captain. Constance sighed and a hopeful look came into her eyes. "And then I will quit the stage forever. I'm tired of it, tired of walking about in pretty clothes, repeating foolish lines, when I might be making ginger cookies in my own kitchen and for, for my own husband. Oh, Don, I hope I succeed but, until then, we can't talk about it any more."

With a double incentive the girl put still more of her energies into the task of acting. Perhaps she tried too hard, strove too eagerly, and her very anxiety defeated its purpose. She remained the same dependable member of the cast, attracting little comment favorable or other. In the company the beginners may have envied her. The older ones shook their heads and remarked that it was strange that a girl with her beauty and promise had never really arrived.

"There is something, just that little something which we would give the world to discover, that is holding her back."

There came a chance to Constance, not a great one but a part of some few more possibilities than those which had gone before. The girl put strength and brain into the rehearsals, shutting Donald and her dreams of love out of her mind. She must make good and then—she would quit with the applause ringing in her ears! She would show them, she would show Donald, and better than all, she would show herself.

A thoughtful manager stood in the wings on the evening of the dress rehearsal. The same lack, he thought, was present in her work. "Serves me right," he grumbled, "for thinking she could do it. I will have to find another to take her place when we move on to the big season in New York." All evening he studied her. "And yet if she could just shake out of it, just to find that flaw and side it, she would go over big."

The opening night came and with it a cool and determined Constance fighting the greatest battle of her career. Donald was down in front and some critics from the city were there. Somehow she did not care. She wanted to win the applause of the people of the town, the ones who had paid their money to get in and who made up a part of the great American audience.

At the end of her first scene she was almost frightened when she heard them clapping and it did not seem possible that it could be for her. Then she took her first curtain call bewildered at the enthusiasm she evoked. Now she was entering the spirit of the play as she had never thought she could. She was playing to people who liked her and the applause increased.

"Donald!" she ran to her lover when the curtain had gone down on the last of many calls. "I've made good, made good at last and we'll have that house, and—and those ginger cookies!"

And Capt. Donald Trail thanked his lucky stars and the sixty men in his company who, at his command, had applauded so bravely in various parts of the house.

Vast Industry That Had Small Beginning

When James Kitty, an obscure inventor, sold a newfangled contrivance to the owner of a mining store in Coaltion, Ohio, in the early eighties, the transaction formed the foundation for a business whose sales today run far into the millions. When punched forcibly, the device registered on a strip of paper the amounts of cash sales. It could not have cost more than $20 to make and the price was $100. The mining store was steadily losing money, yet the Patterson brothers, who owned it, bought two of the devices, because the salesman recommended it as a good thief-catcher. During the next year, without any apparent increase in turnover, the business made a profit of $12,000. One of the brothers was the late John H. Patterson. After three years had passed, at a time when the contrivance seemed an assured failure, he bought control of the manufacturing business for $6,500 and renamed it the National Cash Register company.—Silas Bent in Century Magazine.

Music as a Pastime or as a Livelihood

If you wanted your son to be a tailor, would you ask a tailor to give him one lesson a week and then let him practice for one-half or one full hour daily on making clothes? Music is a more profound and difficult study than tailoring. A great many people earn their livelihood through music. Just as a great number earn their livelihood by tailoring. If you want your boy to reach that livelihood earning stage, then he will have to work about six hours a day and take at least one lesson daily. However, if your aim is merely to have him study music as a form of culture, just as one would study French, Latin, Spanish, drawing, etc., within the day's study, devoting a fraction of the day's study to each, then, of course, he will derive a great deal of beneficial and worthwhile knowledge from the study, but very little real and lasting knowledge from any particular one.—Musical Observer.

The Name of London

The name London is the subject of much discussion among philologists of Great Britain.

One theory is that it means "the fort by the lake," from the Welsh "llyn," lake, and "din," a fortified place. Another is that it is derived from the Norse word "Lund" (diminutive "Lunden"), a sacred grove.

There is a town in Yorkshire called Lund, after Lund in Scandinavia, at one-time one of the chief commercial cities in Sweden. Its merchants traded with Britons in Roman times. It is thought that Lund in Yorkshire, Lund in Sweden, and Lunden, or London, were probably the sites of sacred groves, where the priests of the Bronze age offered human sacrifices to the sun god.—Boston Transcript.

Bark Vital Part of Tree

The stem of a tree, also called trunk and bole, is the main axis extending from the roots to the crown or to the tip in case of an unbranched stem. Tree stems range from long to short, straight to crooked and from erect to prostrate. An examination of a cross-section of a stem will show bark, wood and pith, says the American Tree Association. In the central part of the stem is the pith. About it is the wood, which in many trees can be divided into the darker heartwood and the lighter sapwood. Between the wood and the bark is a thin layer known as the cambium. This is the most vital part of a tree, for it is here that all new wood and bark are made up.

British Coal Abundant

For her size, Great Britain has more and better coal than any other country in the world. The coal seems, lying one below another to an unknown depth, not infrequently cropping out at the surface, are proof that tropical conditions once prevailed in the latitude of these islands. The district which is now Great Britain was connected in primeval times with the continent, and the coal of England doubtless runs under the channel and the southern part of the North sea, continuing in the coal fields of northern France, Belgium and Flanders.

Baseball's Origin

Baseball was known in various forms in the East for years before it received organized recognition, but its birthplace is a matter of dispute. Philadelphia takes the credit as far back as 1833, and New York claims that its Washington club, organized in 1843, was the first exponent of the actual game. Baseball as a national game really came into existence in 1858, with the formation of a National Association of Baseball Players, including the clubs of New York and vicinity.

All Pairs at Wedding

At a double wedding held recently at Traralgon, Australia, the brides Ivy and Ethel Matheson, were sisters; the bridegrooms, Roy and Lenard Battley, were brothers; the best men R. and J. Pudney, were brothers; the bridemaids, Misses Matheson, sister of the brides; the groomsmen, B. and C. Webb, brothers, while the officiating clergymen, Reverend Prickett and Reverend Craig, had been fellow students. The traveling dresses and hats of both brides were identical.

Electric Cash Counter

Money flows like water in the Bank of England, in London, where a novel electric machine sorts and counts silver coins and discharges them into bags hung beneath. Amounts of from £5 to £100 sterling are automatically allotted to the proper receptacles, says Popular Science Monthly. Far more rapid and infallible than a human hand, the device measures out the equivalent of $7,500 in an hour.

NOTICE OF MEETING

The annual meeting of the Livonia Union Church Society will be held at the church Thursday evening, October 6th, 1927. A pot-luck supper will be served at 6:30. Business meeting at 8:00. Everybody interested in this church is most cordially invited to attend.

MUNICIPAL NOTES BY THE MANAGER

Several people have inquired about registering firearms under thirty inches in length. There was a meeting of all the police officials in the County of Wayne in the prosecuting attorney's office, Thursday, September 29th, where a full explanation of this law was given. This new concealed weapons law comes under Act 372 of the Public Acts of 1927.

We will publish later the results of this meeting, and when we can furnish blanks for this registering.

The sewer contractors are all through with the construction of the 1926 and 1927 sewer program except with the house connections and cleaning up those sewers, which they are doing now.

The broken catch basin grates on Main street have all been replaced.

Anyone wishing to connect to the 1927 sanitary sewers must get a permit at the village treasurer's office before doing so. The charge for this is $1.00.

Anyone wishing to connect to a sanitary sewer built previous to the 1927 program will have to pay $35.00 to the village treasurer. The village men will then put the connection in to the sidewalk line. The sanitary sewers are built to take care of the house sewage and the inside basement drainage. All storm water of any kind must be kept out of these sewers.

We would appreciate it if you would phone or send news items to the Mail office. We are always glad to get them.

WOULD WIDEN PART OF U. S. 16 PAVING

HIGHWAY COMMITTEE OF STATE BOARD TO CONSIDER BRIGHTON TO DETROIT PLAN.

Doubling the present width of Grand River Road, U. S. 16, from Brighton to the Seven Mile road in 1928 was suggested to the administrative board at its Monday meeting by Governor Fred W. Green. The present width of the road over the strip indicated is 20 feet.

The cost of the proposed widening was estimated by Frank F. Rogers, highway commissioner, at between $35,000 and $40,000 a mile. The 30-mile project would therefore cost from $1,050,000 to $1,200,000, which would be taken out of the highway construction funds. The suggestion was referred to the highway committee of the board.—Brighton Argus.

KIWANIANS HEAR INTERESTING TALK: ATTEND THE FAIR

An instructive discourse on the development of serums in the treatment of contagious diseases was given before the Plymouth Kiwanis club last Tuesday noon by M. J. Cloonen, prominent druggist of Pontiac.

The program was in charge of Stewart Dodge, a former associate of Mr. Cloonen. The latter prefaced his remarks with a number of humorous incidents that have come to his attention in the years he has conducted drug stores.

In introducing the speaker Mr. Dodge stated that he was formerly his employee and found Mr. Cloonen "a good boss." The speaker inferred that Dodge was in fact "the boss" and had filled the position so satisfactorily that he was able to open a business for himself in a short time. Dodge dodged the issue and denied the allegation.

Mr. Cloonen's remarks respecting the development of toxins and serums and the infinite care taken in their development was both interesting and instructive. He compared the period before vaccination became universal with the present-day record of small-pox and other contagious diseases, statistics proving the efficiency of vaccine treatments.

Announcements were made by John Larkins regarding the forthcoming Kiwanis state convention at Battle Creek. A large number of local Kiwanians expect to attend.

Wayne Van Dyne, with his usual efficiency, led the music program Tuesday, assisted by Miss Strasen at the piano.

Sponsored by the Kiwanis club, the High School band Thursday led a concourse of several dozen automobiles filled with Plymouth residents in the regular annual pilgrimage to the Northville fair.

At the meeting of the Kiwanis club last Tuesday it was voted to procure the services of the band, and after a half-hour program at Kellogg park, the band and fair visitors took automobiles for Northville, where selections were given at Center and Main streets, after which the visitors proceeded in parade formation to the fair grounds. Reservation of space for all Plymouth automobiles were made by the fair committee.

The members of the band, in their natty uniforms, were given quite an ovation upon the conclusion of their selections before the grandstand and Kiwanians in attendance were proud of the part their club took in providing instruments and uniforms for the youthful musicians. Mr. Dykehouse, who has had complete charge of the band in rehearsals, directed their playing Thursday.

Superintendent George Smith of the Plymouth schools declared a half holiday Thursday and practically all Plymouth merchants closed their places of business for the occasion.

PLYMOUTH-NORTHVILLE GAME

By William Bake

Referee—Mitchell
Head line—DePorter.
Umpire—Hedding.

During the first quarter the teams played about even. Neither side was able to make yardage, and the ball was kicked back and forth from one team to the other.

In the second quarter Northville made three touchdowns, and was the superior team during the rest of the game. The second touchdown was the result of a bad fumble in the backfield. The ball belonged to Plymouth, but was fumbled in the backfield and scooped up off the ground by a Northville man who ran until he had passed the goal.

In the third quarter the ball passed from one team to the other most of the time. Northville made one touchdown and a place kick for the extra point.

In the last quarter Northville made one more touchdown, which made the final score 31 for Northville and nothing for Plymouth. This was not a league game, but just a practice game. Plymouth intends to win, or at least put up a good fight when the league game is played. Northville's team was about the same weight as Plymouth's, but seemed to be much faster and to have more pep. Hence the score of Northville 31, Plymouth 0.

Miss Tied, our school nurse, visited school recently.

The children of Briggs school sold twelve subscriptions to the "Farmer's Wife" magazine. The children who sold the subscriptions got pencil boxes, and now we have earned a picture for our school room.

We have a party every month for those who have birthdays in that month. We had a party September 23rd, in honor of Lois Dunn, Katherine Stoenasser, Gertrude Schwadaski, Arthur Bannerman and Mrs. Watson. We gave them each a present in remembrance of Briggs school. The refreshment committee served lunch of birthday cakes and Jello. The entertainment committee planned a number of games which we played.

We have a school exhibit at the Northville fair.

We have new busy work for the little folks, which they enjoy.

The Thomas children are moving to Lansing, this week.

The lower grades are interested in their health work.

Miss Marjorie Peck, who is Mrs. Watson's sister, visited school recently. She is attending Ypsilanti Normal College this year.

OBITUARY

Friederike Wilhelmine Schroeder, nee Kapernek, was born September 24, 1845 in the Province of Brandenburg, Germany, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Christian Kapernek. In her youth she was baptized and later confirmed in the Lutheran church of that country. She came to America and Detroit in the year 1875, and in 1875 was united in marriage with Henry Schroeder, and lived with him in Livonia township. Six children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Schroeder, of whom two preceded the parents into eternity.

After the death of her husband in the year 1903, the deceased lived alternately with two of her daughters, until sixteen years ago she came to stay with her daughter, Mrs. John Gerst. She has been ailing for a number of years and bedfast for about two years, with ailments of old age. On Wednesday morning, September 21st, her end came, and brought her age to 82 years less four days.

She leaves to mourn her departure four children, Mrs. Charles Durow of Salem, Mrs. John Gerst of Plymouth, Mrs. Albert Hoffman of Grayling, and Charles Schroeder of Wayne, and also twelve grandchildren, one brother and other distant relatives.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at two o'clock, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Gerst, Rev. Charles Strasen officiating. Interment in Newburg cemetery.

Picked Up About Town

Dad Plymouth says he has always noticed that love thrives without money about like flowers thrive without rain.

When married life starts getting tough they even quit giving each other tender looks.

"Corn will never again be king in the west," says Dad Plymouth, "until it can bring in the 'jack'."

It remains for Dad Plymouth to declare that some men think they have the world at their feet while others think they have it on their hands.

The Prince of Wales has declined to attend a bull fight in Spain. Maybe it's because he isn't mad at any bulls.

"Liquor used to age in the wood," asserts Dad Plymouth, "but now it ages in the corpse."

It is also well to keep in mind the fact that a nation that can lick the world will never have to lick the world's boots.

"At that," says Dad Plymouth, "a man probably meets a heap more women he's glad he didn't marry than he does women he wishes he could have married."

Colds, The "Flu" and Pneumonia

Chiropractors have adjusted thousands of cases of colds, La Grippe and Pneumonia with unusual success. There is no doubt of the results in acute cases, little doubt in semi-acute cases and results have often been attained in some desperate chronic cases. People suffering with this type of disease should not wait until all the physicians have given them up, then call a Chiropractor and expect him to work miracles in an incredible short time. Thousands of cases of so-called "Flu" have been given Chiropractic and equally as many lives saved. The death loss is less than 1-10 of 1%. This proves, beyond question what Chiropractic can do when given half a chance. Call the Chiropractor only when you are certain you are going to be sick. Rely in him and his adjustments and you will have little to fear.

ALL SCIENTISTS AGREE NOWADAYS THAT THE REAL HEALTH-BUILDING power is within the body itself, and needs only to be brought into action to re-new health completely.

Do you know that a fever, no matter how "high," can be broken up, and sweating produced, with Chiropractic adjustments? Do you know that respirations, rapid and shallow, and pulse, full and strong and fast, become normal under Chiropractic adjustments? Do you know, even after pneumonia has become very serious, consolidation occurring rapidly, with its resultant weight and non-expansion of lung substance, that exudate is expectorated, pain subsides, and breathing becomes easier, after a releasing of pressure on the nerves that supply these terminal bronchioles and communicating air cells, involved so seriously when this stage has been reached?

These results have been accomplished in thousands of cases. And when the CHIROPRACTOR is called in the beginning, pneumonia does not follow "grippe."

We are presenting to you no flimsy meta-physical mist—but FACTS—CHIROPRACTIC FACTS—that have been proven and re-proven, clinically, many times, by the many practitioners of this science, all over the globe.

The most powerful search-light in the world today is the SEARCH-LIGHT OF PUBLICITY. Any enterprise, any science, any new invention which can "stand up" under the piercing rays of PUBLICITY is bound to be a lasting success.

Pure, straight, unadulterated CHIROPRACTIC does "stand up" under this SEARCH-LIGHT, the strongest investigations and acid tests are unable to find any defect.

CHIROPRACTIC includes no drugs, no surgery, no osteopathy, no electricity, no stretching machine, has nothing to conceal, has everything to recommend it. Is so simple that any ordinary person, with average intelligence, can at once grasp its principles. Is for ALL the people, ALL the time. Is the solution of your HEALTH PROBLEMS.

The real mission of the CHIROPRACTOR, as also that of any earnest physician, is to prevent the occurrences of disease. One of the most interesting features about CHIROPRACTIC is its hygienic or prophylactic influence; in other words, its ability to ward off disease.

THE RESISTANCE OF THE BODY AGAINST DISEASE DEPENDS UPON THE CONDITION OF THE SPINAL COLUMN—PRESSURE REMOVED FROM NERVES— ALLOWING NATURE TO DO HER WORK UNINTERRUPTEDLY.

NEWBURG SCHOOL NOTES

Miss Mary Jameson visited Newburg school September 15th. She told the children how pretty she thought the location of their school, with the winding road and trees and hills. Upon reaching the school, one does not find a typical country school but an attractive brick building, modern in every respect. Her praise was strong for the clean and well kept condition. She told the children that Newburg school is ideal.

Miss Jameson brought the three prizes won at the picnic for citizenship posters. Miss Reddenman's room received second prize in their group. The prize is a victrola record. Mrs. Waterman's room received first prize. Their prize is a beautiful wool flag

Mrs. Campbell's room received a victrola record as third prize for its group.

The hot lunch club, under the supervision of Mrs. Campbell, won a $7.00 check for their hot lunch posters at the state fair.

Miss Reid visited school and presented the upper room. Miss Reddenman's, with a fine thermometer as a prize on their health booklet.

The three teachers enjoy the work in such a clean building. The walls have been repainted, and the hall floor and steps were painted for the first time. The room floors were scrubbed and scrubbed to get off every trace of dirt possible. The windows were washed until they were clear and bright. Other details which make school more pleasant have been carefully attended to.

The teachers find that the children have not forgotten as much as they usually do during summer. All the children seem to be starting with the energy and interest that brings success to all at the end of the school year.

Each group is very desirable and the teachers look forward to a very successful year with such splendid co-operation of school board and community.

The school board, with the support of the community, has completely redecorated the interior of the school. However, their plans are only begun. Effort will be made to make the exterior more attractive by landscaping.

The Best Laid Plans

By H. IRVING KING

(Copyright.)

WHY his parents had named him Clarence it would be hard to say. But his middle name was William and when, after a careful preparation by a tutor at home, he was sent to school at the age of fourteen and the boys, learning that his name was Clarence, began to jolly him by, by a happy inspiration, insisted that his name being also William he should be called Bill. After "punching the heads" of several youths who failed to comply with this demand, Bill he became. She had been christened Beatrice, which easily glided into Bee.

From an early stage of the game they were accustomed to discuss their respective futures with each other—from the days when Bill was undecided whether he would be a policeman or an engine driver; and Bee hovered between becoming a missionary or an equestrienne, like the young lady she had seen jump through a hoop from a horse's back.

And now they were children no longer; they were grown up and of marriageable age. Bill's bright and boyish dreams of driving an engine or carrying a policeman's nightstick had been laid away in the cedar and lavender of the locked trunk we all keep for our youthful ambitions. Bee's visions of palm-clothed cannibal islands and sawdust glades were no more. Bill had just been admitted to the bar and Bee was just out of Vassar. The idea of matrimony had, somehow, got into their heads as a part of the future, and they discussed it in that calm and abstract way which became two college graduates.

They talked very learnedly of marriage "as an institution"; not by any means agreeing upon all points of theory but united upon one point in practice: which was that each of them should marry for money—for each of them needed it. The little that Bill's father had left him had been mostly expended upon his education; Bee's parents lived in style, but the style was kept up by an annuity which ceased at her mother's death.

"With your beauty and your intelligence, Bee," said Bill when they were having one of their conferences on the subject, "you ought to be able to marry a great fortune. With me the case is not so simple. Heiresses are not, as a rule, given to marrying briefless young lawyers, and if they did have that habit I should be very careful in making a choice; the woman I marry must have attractions for me outside of her money. I will never marry a woman for her money alone, but the woman I marry must have money."

It stands for beautiful and Bee was beautiful. Launched in society she had plenty of admirers, and there were several young men who plainly indicated that they would like to become something more to her—if they had a little encouragement. True to her plan Bee saved most of her smiles for those admirers who were possessed of wealth. Among them was a certain George Talcott whom she preferred above all others. She found herself thinking about him continually. Here was just the man she and Bill had imagined for her husband. But now that the plan so carefully elaborated was evidently about to come to a successful conclusion a strange nervousness and feeling of doubt took possession of her. All at once the plan appeared to her detestable. George proposed—and was rejected.

Bee slept but little that night, and the next day went down to Bill's law office to tell him all about it. "You know that wonderful plan of ours," Bill, said she.

"Yes," replied Bill with a rather sheepish look. "I was coming to see you about that. I have got something to tell you. It was a great plan—but I am afraid it won't work. You and I have been like brother and sister ever since we were little children. We have always planned our futures and confided our plans to each other. You remember how once you planned to be a harness rider in the circus and I to be a policeman? Those plans somehow went flying—and I guess our great joint matrimonial plan has gone the same way."

"I guess it has," sighed Bee.

Bill looked at her in a puzzled manner. "What you have heard?" asked Bill.

"Hear what?" exclaimed Bee.

"That I am going to marry Amy Caldwell," said Bill.

"Amy Caldwell?" cried Bee. "Why, she has no money."

"Not a cent," replied Bill; "but I'm going to marry her. You see, I love her."

"Oh, you are all right," sighed Bee, "but I am afraid I am in love with George Talcott—and I can't marry him because he has money. It would be too much like carrying out our 'ostentatious old plan.'"

"Nonsense," said Bill; "forget his money and forget our infernal plan. We made the plan together and you see I have thrown it to the winds. Forget it. George is sure to ask you to quit and you say 'yes' this time you love him, marry him."

It took but a little encouragement to induce George to propose again and this time he was accepted. But the first told him all about the wonderful plan she and Bill had made—and George laughed at it.

Highly Dangerous

While two gay spirits were giving an unusually hair-raising display of acrobatics at a recent flying pageant, and to the lay eye seemed to be trying their best, with the aid of some five hundred or so of horse power, to tear the wings off their frail steeds of sticks and canvas, a solemn voice came through a loudspeaker: "Would spectators be good enough to refrain from the highly dangerous practice of standing on their seats!"

This Law of Business is Unyielding . . . !

"The Patronage a Merchant
Receives--is in Direct Ratio to the Value He Gives"

So long as man must earn the dollar he spends this law will be effective. No merchant can change it. Sheer weight of advertising or a high-priced location, or luxurious fixtures, cannot disturb its principles! We recognize this law at this inception of our business—and shall obey it. Nothing can cause us to disregard it, for by following it this store is bound to reach the goal toward which it is set—the LARGEST CLOTHING AND FURNISHING BUSINESS IN PLYMOUTH.

The clothing and furnishings you will find here tomorrow is our first step towards Plymouth's greatest men's wear business. Based on values like these, we should and will attain our goal. We invite you to see them at our opening tomorrow. Flowers for the ladies, cigars for the men. Music in the afternoon and evening.

Dr. Frank Crane Says

MR. LEISURE CURES DISCOURAGEMENT

When I am discouraged, when my toe aches or my eyes bother me or something happens to make me feel sorry for myself, I like to think about Mr. S. M. Leisure who lives in a little town near me.

Mr. Leisure was seventy years old the other day and he was out mowing the lawn. This is quite remarkable when taken in connection with the fact that since he was thirteen years old he has been without arms.

"No matter what happened," he said, "I was always able to paddle my own canoe. Why cry over losing two arms or two legs? The joy of living is just as sweet."

I hear and read of many people who are having rough shelling. They have housemaid's knee or dandruff or some other trouble that make them think there is no use going on.

I have had several letters from people seriously contemplating suicide because events were all conspiring against them.

It would do them all good to go out and see this gentleman. He ought to build a circus ring and charge admission. Then somebody would probably go and see him. It wouldn't need any preaching nor anybody to point the moral. Just looking at him would be enough.

To me he is equivalent to a good spanking. I want to brace up and tighten my belt, wipe my nose, pull down my vest and try again.

If this man with no arms for almost sixty years is still cheerful and hopeful, goes out and mows the lawn and otherwise paddles his own canoe, why shouldn't I?

There are lots of brave people in the world and it takes more courage and "intestinal stamina" to go on and keep your chin up and look pleasant than it does to go out in the garden and eat worms or select a nice telephone pole and leg yourself. Anybody can quit, and self pity is the easiest leg to slip into.

But me for the man with the indomitable spirit, the man who refuses to be licked and the man who takes with a grin whatever Fate sends him and buckles in and makes the most of what he has left.

These are the people who are the backbone of the country, and the people who win wars, the people who present an unbroken front against the assaults of pessimism.

What this world wants is cheering up and bucking up. It doesn't need anybody to teach them how to weep, nor anybody to make them feel sorry for the human lot.

Today's Reflections

There's a place for everything in Plymouth homes, and if a woman is an old maid living alone she probably can keep everything in its place.

A groom is at the wedding just because there has to be a groom, but later on he sticks around because the family has to have something to eat.

Middle-age is the time of life when you're going to feel just as well as you ever did—in a day, or two.

One thing impossible to find in Plymouth is a man as smart as he used to believe he was.

This will probably go down in history as the year in which we got all our summer in the fall.

Never grumble with the looks nature gave you. Suppose you had been born so cross-eyed that the tears would run down the back of your neck when you cried.

Another thing we've never been able to understand is why every married man in Plymouth expects his wife to be better than he is.

Why is it that when gossip travels around it always appears to be running in low gear?

There may still be luck in a rabbit foot, but not for the rabbit that lost it.

It may be hard to convince some Plymouth motorists that the world is flat, but it isn't hard to convince them that a tire can get that way.

In many instances politics is like the game of hide-and-seek—the man seeks the office and then hides.

It might be all right to make some of those imported anarchists kiss the American flag, but it's pretty hard on the flag.

What has become of the old-fashioned Plymouth woman who used to think she could keep cool in warm weather by eating cucumbers?

We're around to the season again when most of us hope and pray we can live through to spare-rib and back-bone time.

We expect to live to see the time when the up-to-date Plymouth girl will refuse to elope unless she can go in an airplane.

Another favorite story is the one about the Scotchman who opened his pocketbook in December and a June bug flew out.

RECORDS IMPROVE IN STATE EGG CONTEST

PRODUCTION INCREASES OVER PAST YEAR RECORDS—EXCEPTS AVERAGE TO EXCEED 190 EGGS PER HEN.

Thirty-one pens of ten birds each have crossed the 2,000 egg mark in the fifth annual international egg laying contest at the Michigan State College, as the contest enters the final month. Production has increased substantially this year over last year's records, and it is expected that the average at the end of the 51 weeks will be well over 190 eggs per hen for the entire contest.

Michigan owned pens lead in two of the three largest classes. A pen of ten Burred Rocks owned by F. E. Fogle of Okemos, Mich., leads this class with a total production of 2,030 eggs. Henry Burns, of Millington, Mich., owns the pen of White Leghorns which leads this class, as well as the entire contest, with a total production of 2,375 eggs.

The race is still close in the White Leghorn class, with interest centered on the three leading pens. Ten birds owned by F. G. DeWitt, of Grand Blanc, Mich., are in second place with 2,340 eggs, followed by the pen owned by Marshall Farms, of Mobile, Alabama, with a total of 2,331 eggs.

Egg weight requirements were added to the rules of the contest this year. This requirement, in some instances, is responsible for the number of accepted eggs being smaller than the total. Eggs weighing 18 ounces or more were accepted until January 1. The requirement after Jan. 1 was 20 ounces.

METHODIST NOTES

Let's have all of the old as well as all of the new members of the Sunday-school on next Sunday. In preparation for the biggest Rally Day we have ever had, on October 9th. All together now—hooray.

The October meeting of the L. A. S. will be held in their room next Wednesday, October 5th, at 2:30 o'clock, with Mrs. Frank Maggaw, Mrs. Frank Dicks and Mrs. H. C. Arnold as hostesses. Mrs. Wm. Towle will have the devotions, and Mrs. Arthur Blunk and Mrs. E. J. Allison will furnish the program. All the women of the congregation are cordially invited and expected to be present. Come and get acquainted and enjoy a social time.

Were you one of the "Live Wires" at the mid-week service? If not you are missing something very much worth while. Why not plan to enjoy this hour of spiritual re-birth and christian fellowship together next Wednesday evening from 7:15 to 8:00 o'clock? It will be of great benefit to you.

Official Board meeting Tuesday evening, October 4th.

Twenty-eight members of the Booster class enjoyed a cooperative supper and a social hour at the church on Friday night. At a brief business session, Arlo Sobh and Frank Barrows were appointed to furnish a teacher for each Sunday. Fred Thomas was the teacher last Sunday, and a profitable time was enjoyed. If you are not a member of some other class, why not be a "Booster?"

Have you, who read this, ever thought you would like to teach a Sunday-school class? It is a great privilege to enjoy the companionship of boys and girls every Sunday, and unfold to their alert minds the Bible truths and lessons. It is a big job—a job that well may challenge any serious minded man or woman. If you have any talent along this line, it is your duty as well as privilege to employ this talent. We need more teachers, and if you haven't been asked to take a class, won't you volunteer and be rewarded by the smile with which the superintendent would greet such an offer? After Rally Day we shall need several new teachers.

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES

A considerable group of Plymouth folk will attend the banquet Friday evening of this week, at the Masonic Temple in Detroit, under the auspices of the Presbyterian Social Union. Robert E. Speer, D. D., moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church in the U. S. A., will be the speaker.

Last Sunday was a great day in the local church. The Rally Day service in the Sunday-school, and by the young people at the evening service were of a most helpful character.

The sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed next Sunday morning.

The synod of Michigan is meeting this week at the First Church, Detroit. Rev. Nichol is in attendance.

CATHOLIC NOTES

Sunday being funeral Sunday, the report of September will be read.

Pew rent for the last quarter of the year will be taken up the first three Sundays.

It has been decided to conduct the fall and winter activities in the following manner. An executive committee has been chosen, and this committee, with eight or more families of the parish will be called upon to be host and hostess of one party each month, thus giving all an opportunity for the social life of the parish, and giving all a chance to get a little better acquainted.

The second Thursday night of each month has been chosen for these social events. The men and women will work together for these events, and it is hoped that the parish will cooperate and patronize their efforts so that results will be obtained, socially, financially and spiritually.

The first social event of the season will take place Thursday night, October 13th, in the mahogany room, under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. P. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. H. Maskell, Mr. and Mrs. F. Korte, Mrs. C. Villerot, Mr. and Mrs. O. Passage, Mr. and Mrs. E. King, Mr. and Mrs. J. Simpson and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Kinahan. The executive committee consists of the following: Mesdames Rousseau, Miller, Minthorn, Maskell and Miss Mertens, Messrs. Rousseau, VanBoun, Heoney and Yuchasz. Do not forget the date, October 13, Thursday night, mahogany room.

Sunday the high masses will be resumed by the adult choir, and the children will again sing hymns at the eight o'clock mass.

The choir will practice every Friday in the church, the children at 4:00 o'clock, and the adults at 7:30 p. m.

Catechism for the children will begin Saturday morning, immediately after mass. All who have not completed the eighth grade will kindly be present.

An agreeable surprise is in store for the congregation next Sunday. Let all be at church ready to bear the surprise.

They Last A Long Time

Twelve months' investigation first proved to us the worthiness of Paige sixes and eights. Each day brings us additional evidence of the satisfactory manner in which Paige cars serve their owners over extended periods of time. There are 208,000 Paige-built cars in daily use.

You will find many reasons for this in a careful examination of the improved Paiges now on display. Frames are sturdy, well-braced, carefully balanced, and suspended on long springs.

Bearings in Paige engines are large. Filtered oil under pressure provides thorough lubrication. Engines are fully water-jacketed. Oil sealed universal joints, and ball-bearing, straddle-mounted rear axle pinions contribute to trouble-free performance. Unusual accessibility characterizes all engines and chassis.

Ten of the twenty models are now selling at lower prices. There are two new models, including a Paige for $995, f. o. b. Detroit. Other models, on four chassis, in sixes and eights, range upward to $2665.

Within two months a temporary church building will have been erected by the Catholics of Farmington and vicinity, which will be used pending the construction of a new church building in Farmington. It is stated that the survey for the new church has already been made.

The concrete work on the Twelve Mile road was finished Tuesday of last week. The work of grading the sides commenced Thursday. This road is 20 feet wide, with 10-foot sides at Grand River junction, so as to permit widening of Grand River to a 40-foot road if future needs demand. No doubt this new road will take care of considerable traffic, which is heavy at times on Grand River. Work is being done by the Handyside Construction company, of Detroit.

Huronia B. He plans to have the opening in the next few days. Mr. Lathrop expects to spend many thousands of dollars on improvements in that section, and by the time the summer season for next year arrives he will have a most attractive place. There is no question but what Mr. Rose will make a success of the venture. Very elaborate furnishings have been purchased for the hotel.—Northville Record.

Charles Hallis, who lives out on the Seven Mile road, may not be one of the most expert poultry raisers in the world, but there is no question but what he knows something about how eggs are hatched. Recently he had a goose hide its nest. Just before time for the bird to come off with its brood something happened and it left its nest. He took one of the eggs, removed the shell, but not the lining, and discovered the young goose was alive. He covered the egg with a sort of cement and paper covering, placed it in the right temperature, and in a day or so hatched out the gosling. It is living, and Mr. Hallis thinks it will develop normally.—Northville Record.

CLEAN-UP CAMPAIGN KEEPS BORERS DOWN

RATE OF INCREASE REDUCED FROM 400 TO 50 PER CENT—EXPERTS STUDY PEST AT FIRST HAND.

The ten-million dollar spring campaign against the European corn borer has retarded the insect's rate of increase, says the United States Department of Agriculture, after a survey of 743 townships in the heavily infested areas. The report was made to members of the International corn borer organization at Toledo last week, before they began their three days' tour and study of borer-infested areas in Ohio, Michigan and Ontario.

While the pest increased about 50 per cent in numbers over last year, the increase compares favorably with the increase of 400 per cent in 1926 when there was no control campaign. The western limit of the area of infestation in the state was extended by only Texas township in Kalamazoo county this year. The pest was found as far north as Alpena county, however.

Members of the International corn borer organization were optimistic over the great improvement in borer conditions in Kent and Essex counties of Ontario, as compared to former years. Although the corn acreage has been reduced 60 per cent, the infestation was reduced fully 50 per cent following the clean-up conducted in Ontario last spring.

After studying the borer situation at first hand, the organization commended the clean-up work done by farmers last spring recommended that further research on the life history and habits of the borer be conducted; and urged that approved farm practices be continued to the end that no serious commercial damage to the corn crop would result.

Dear Friends:

This is my third attempt at writing ads for the Plymouth Mail. The boss hasn't said much and I don't know just where I stand yet.

If you like these ads, I wish you'd tell him so. If you don't, mum's the word.

I asked him this morning what we'd mention this week, and he says:

"Tell 'em about these—"

LET THEM FLY. SCIENCE AND MONEY. GIRL BABIES BEST. WHERE REAL WEALTH IS.

President Coolidge wisely decides to move slowly in forbidding ocean flights. Army and navy authorities say to officers: "You shall not fly across the ocean."

Why not? Flying machines can be developed only by using flying machines. The death of ten or a thousand and brave fliers in experimental work now might mean, because of quick airplane development, the safety of millions in case of war.

There will be no war but an air war, this nation should be ready for it, and courageous young army and navy men should be allowed, not forced, to risk their lives, if they choose, in the good cause.

An automobile fight is coming, and when the dust settles you will find all those that understand the automobile business selling more cars than they ever sold.

With big wages and prosperity, the two car man and the four car family are increasing. Thirty million new cars will take the place of twenty-two million old cars now running in the United States.

Dr. Moes, who directs Mr. Eastman's scientific laboratories in Rochester, says science will end war by making it too deadly and too expensive.

Another force greater than science in our civilization is working to end war, and that force is organized money.

Money has discovered that war kills more dollars than men, that it creates heavy income taxes, and other troubles. Organized money knows that future wars would result, at the very start, in confiscation of capital to meet expenses. Organized money, which usually gets what it wants, doesn't want war—a cheerful fact.

A young man who had been pronounced dead was brought to life fifteen minutes later by an injection of adrenalin, a life substance secreted by one of the mysterious glands. Doctors hope that many apparently dead may be saved. They even hint at artificial creation of life. They may create that which may be called life, but how will they create thought? The great Darwin, explaining much by "evolution," was baffled when it came to explaining the development of the eye and sight.

Japan's Empress has a baby girl, and the young Japanese Emperor is doubtless disappointed. Vanity leads men to value son, not daughters. Yet, as Gilton shows, Japanese girls have made the greatness of Japan, as other girls have made other nations great.

There would have been no Charlemagne without his greater mother, "Bertha of the Big Feet," as Villon calls her in his "Noiges d'antau."

There would have been no Abraham Lincoln without six-foot-tall Nancy Hanks; no Alexander the Great without the wild Olympias, dancing with snakes wrapped around her naked body.

Mr. John E. Madden, ablest horseman in America, will tell you "quality comes through the dam."

The State of Nevada is progressive. Night before last, at Reno, the last remaining street car in the State rolled into the barn to be scrapped. Surface cars vanish from Nevada, with motor buses taking their place. Big cities in the East, West and Middle West take notice.

One single American city, New York, in its public schools last week received 1,100,000 children. The real wealth of the United States, its hope and future, are stored away in those eleven hundred thousand young minds and in the millions of others in many thousands of blessed public schools all over this country.

Wealth is not in mines, factories, crops, buildings or stocks, but in thought, free and untrammelled. From that all other wealth springs.

DISCUSS SOILS NEEDS BEFORE STATE GROUPS

RESEARCH WORK MAKES DEFINITE RECOMMENDATIONS FOR IMPROVEMENT POSSIBLE.

The results of years of experimental work with soils in Michigan will be carried to farmers in the state by series of meetings to be conducted by specialists from Michigan State College, according to an announcement this week by the soils department.

A truck that carries concrete illustrations of the need for lime and organic matter in a campaign of soil improvement is now visiting many southern counties. Soils specialists test samples of soil and mail brought by farmers to the meetings that are held in each county visited.

Later this year, meetings will be held to familiarize fertilizer dealers and farmers with the analysis of fertilizers that are the most profitable when used for the crops raised in the locality where each meeting is held.

Soils survey work in Michigan has progressed to a stage where the soils types and their needs have been pretty well determined. The soils department believes that, at the present time, the development of new areas of marginal lands will prove unprofitable.

The work of the department in assisting owners of muck soils to find profitable crops for their particular soils will be continued.

MERCHANTS WIN TWO MORE GAMES

WIN OVER WEST POINT 3 TO 1 AND OVER WAYNE MERCHANTS

West Point Game

Last Saturday, September 24th, Plymouth took the third game of the season from West Point by a close score of 3 to 1, making it three straight. These teams are very evenly matched and they both played errorless ball. In most of the innings it was three up and three down on both sides. Each pitcher was very stingy about allowing hits. Pardon, for Plymouth allowed five hits while Gerst allowed the Plymouth boys six.

The Plymouth team had seven new players in their line-up on account of so many of our home boys going away to college. The third base job was very well taken care of by Wolfman, who not only made some good assists but got two hits out of three times at bat and walked once, and scored two of Plymouth's three runs. Hanson also came through with a double just when it was needed, as did also "Bud" Giles.

The one thing that our boys have lacked lately was to get a hit when it was needed, and this was overcome in Saturday's game when their hits meant runs.

Hobbs, for the West Pointers, was the only one of their team to get more than one hit. He got two nice doubles and scored their only run.

Gerst, the West Point pitcher, had something on the ball that seemed to bother our boys, anyway there were sixteen strike-outs marked up for him, and in five of the innings there were only three men facing him, which is mighty good pitching.

The game by innings:

Plymouth 0 0 0 1 1 0 0 1—3 6 0
West Point 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0—1 5 0

Batteries for Plymouth—Pardon and Strosen; for West Point—Gust and Jayska.

Umpire—Lamb.
Time—Two hours.

Wayne Game

Sunday, over at Wayne, was a very one-sided game, Plymouth winning 8 to 0. Walker pitched for Plymouth, and allowed the Wayneites only three hits, and in five of the innings there were only three men facing him in each. He only got six strike-outs, so it goes to show that he was well supported by his team mates. The only error made by our boys was made by Walker, but it didn't mean anything, only on paper, as the man didn't get any farther than first base. In fact, there were only two of the Wayne boys who could get beyond first base in the whole game.

In the third inning the Wayne manager gave his team a shake-up and changed catchers, and from then on it was a ball game.

The game by innings:

Wayne 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0 3 7

Umpire—Gray.
Time—Two hours, 15 minutes.

NETHEM LOSES TO BURROUGHS

NETHEM I. BURROUGHS 2

The old saying, "do not count your chickens before they are hatched," proved a true adage for Netem last Sunday, as the score of the game was 1 to 0 in the ninth, and should have been so, but two beautiful wild heaves out to no man's land gave Burroughs a chance to walk two men around the circuit, and hang up a two for themselves. The Schomberger brothers were responsible for this herculean strength, Johnnie, however, winning the contest. Hy Gale again did honors to himself at the mound, while Bill Schaff peppered the old pill with the bat.

The game was a very close one, and each side found it next to impossible to reach third, saying nothing about crossing the home plate. Hy Gale allowed but four hits, while Lindquist offered but five. The largest crowd of the season was present, and each felt satisfied that they had seen a good ball game.

Raymond Levandowski, out in center field, cuffed two beautiful apparent triples; the one brought forth a little gymnastics, "a la Horton, W. W. J."

Next Sunday Netem will cross bats with the strong St. Monica's Brightmoor.

Burroughs 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 2—2 4 0
Netem 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0—1 5 2

Batteries—Burroughs: Lindquist, Sovednick; Netem: Gale, Schomberger.

Silence and Power

Conventional Cylinder Head G-M-R Cylinder Head

Concave curves tend to throw the gases back in the center of the chamber, thereby retarding cooling and causing "detonation" or knock. Convex curves in the G-M-R Head have the opposite effect. They deflect the gases smoothly along the wall into the clearance space above the piston, thereby aiding cooling and reducing knock.

Deep clearance space also retards cooling. Note how the depth of the clearance space in the G-M-R Head has been reduced to facilitate cooling by water. Here knocking is further reduced.

The comparative effects of concave and convex curves are illustrated by a spoon held under a faucet. At the left, the water strikes the concave surface and causes a violent disturbance. At the right, the water, like the gases in the G-M-R Head, strikes the convex surface and glides smoothly away.

Everyone who drives the Oakland All-American Six marvels at the smooth and whispering flow of power produced by the new G-M-R Cylinder Head.

Specifically, the G-M-R (General Motors Research) Head accomplishes three results:

1. It reduces "detonation" or spark knock to a negligible factor while using only ordinary gasoline.

2. It completely eliminates roughness or "thump"—an entirely different engine noise.

3. It provides greater power and economy because it allows the spark to be advanced to the point of maximum efficiency. (Once set, the Oakland spark remains in proper position since it is automatically controlled.)

The G-M-R Head is only one of the engineering advancements which have created such widespread favor for the All-American Six. Come in for a demonstration of the principles involved!
