NOTED LECTURER WILL SPEAK HERE

DOCTOR HILTON IRA JONES
WILL GIVE FOURTH NUMBER
ON LYCEUM COURSE, THURS-
DAY EVENING, JANUARY 26TH.

Have you ever seen a chemist at work? Have you felt that you would like to know how he "does his stuff"? Do you like to see things happen, and find out why, at the same time? Your chance is coming next week.

Have you wondered why some folks try all their lives to get fat and don't, while others diet to get thin—and some of them don't either? Or why this boy that wants to get tall stays so short, while his buddy grows so tall and slim that he has to hunch over to feel right?

Dr. Hilton Ira Jones, noted scientist and author has been selected to come here next Thursday evening, January 26, in the high school auditorium at eight o'clock, and deliver his notable new lecture, "Self-Management," a startling account of the discoveries of modern science with relation to the chemistry of the body.

Dr. Jones has been connected with leading schools and universities in America; is a member of numerous scientific societies in this country and in Europe, among them being the American Chemical Society, the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the American Institute of Chemical Engineers and the Chemical Society of London. Many of his articles have appeared in leading scientific publications throughout the world. His books on scientific research and his writings for various publications have been widely discussed and quoted.

Recently he resigned his professorship with an important Western State University, a position which he had held for some time, to become head of the department of Scientific Research for the Redpath Bureau.

One of the leading daily papers recently ran an editorial upon his lecture, a part of which is quoted here:

"It is not easy to pass on many vital truths Doctor Jones presented to his audience on the chemistry of the human body; the value of suggestion and auto-suggestion; their influence upon the subjective mind; the power of the subjective mind upon the chemical forces within the body; the highly important part played upon the individual character and destiny by the ductless glands; how health, happiness and success can be gained by a knowledge of all these and other forces and their intelligence and persistent application."

"Not often have we had in our midst a speaker with the technical knowledge and the breadth of view to tell the people new truths of science. Still less often have we had men who added the high moral purpose to interpret these discoveries in terms of right of living and increased personality."

A Jones lecture is one which everyone should hear, for it is one from which everyone will derive great benefit.

This is the fourth number on the Redpath Lyceum Course given by the senior class. This is to be given next Thursday evening, January 26, at 8:00 o'clock, in the High School auditorium. Single admission fifty cents.

FIVE PETITIONS FILED FOR VILLAGE COMMISSIONER

The time for the filing of petitions for village commissioner was up Monday, and the petitions of five candidates were filed with the village clerk. Petitions were filed for the following: Carl Shear, Paul Nutting, Henry Bondorp, Frank Lernout and J. W. Henderson. The first four are for the two year term, and Mr. Henderson for the one year term. Owing to the fact that there are only four candidates for the two year term, it will not be necessary to hold a primary election.

RATHBONE SCHOOLHOUSE, A PYTHIAN SHRINE

For many years the "Rathbone Schoolhouse" at Eagle Harbor, where Justus H. Rathbone wrote the first ritual of the Knights of Pythias, and where the order was really born in his heart and brain, has been a mecca for Pythians who knew of the early history of the order.

This schoolhouse, of which the above is a cut, is now and has been for some years the property of the Grand Lodge of Michigan, and is being preserved as a Pythian Shrine and memorial to the founder of the order. Thousands of Pythians from this and other states have visited Eagle Harbor and the little building where Rathbone, after school hours, penned the ritual. Thousands of others have wished they might make this visit, so full of meaning to every Michigan Knight.

While all cannot have this wish fulfilled, the Grand Lodge has started a movement which will bring the Shrine into every lodge, so that all members can pay their tribute to it and to the founder of the order. The grand keeper of records and seal has had built a small replica of the original schoolhouse, which is an exact copy of the building as it now looks, after being placed in good repair by the Grand Lodge. This little schoolhouse was constructed by Arthur Reif, a member of Ann Arbor Lodge, No. 44, and it was a labor of love with him, he donating his services. As he is an expert cabinet maker, the little building is a beauty, with a door that opens, windows that can be raised and lowered, a blackboard where the original one was located, sills and shingles, and everything "real"—so that when you look at it you gaze on the Rathbone schoolhouse in miniature.

The schoolhouse made its first appearance in a lodge on Tuesday evening, Jan. 18, when a large crowd was out to welcome it. A book has been prepared that will accompany the schoolhouse with a record of each lodge where it appears, giving names of officers and the total number of members present. On the front pages of the book is a history of the schoolhouse and also a brief biography of Justus H. Rathbone. Pictures showing the schoolhouse before it was taken over by the Grand Lodge, as it now looks, and of scenes in and about Eagle Harbor are also included in this book. The plan is to have the Shrine carried from lodge to lodge until it has been received in every lodge in the state. No lodge will receive it, however, unless that lodge will first promise to carry it on to the next lodge on a schedule that will be prepared in advance.

This schoolhouse will be in the Plymouth Castle hall of the Knights of Pythias, Jan. 28. I earnestly request every member to be present.

VERY SATISFACTORY ONE.

The members of club were so pleased with the one luncheon and efficient service the crystal dining room of that, that they cast a unanimous vote to make the "Mayflower" their headquarters.

The president, M. E. Cooper, filled the chair and short business session. Mrs. Man gave a brief outline of club's plans for next year.

Miss T. was accompanied at the piano Mrs. Gilbert Brown. A reading "She Lied to Her Husband," splendidly interpreted by Mrs. Humphries.

The next number which many of the ladies had looking forward to with pleasure, talk on "Night Life in Paris," etchen Mount Gretchen comes from The Detroit Free Press very much liked and admired frank and sincere manner, did in part:

"Since my notebook in the form of a letter with my map right with me, forthwith displayed the gowns wearing, the pattern of which soft shades, gave one the idea of kaleidoscopic view of Paris, and many of the more illuminating. She then continued her audience with "be for each one sees Paris or of the world in which one may through one's own eyes. Mention of restaurants, theatres, cafes and markets was very interesting.

Mrs. Moun that any woman, unescor (travel in Paris night or day, if she is a lady and know "place." That Paris is no coked than New York, that is in many instances over rights, especially in their "parties," and are insulted.

Mrs. Mon spent some five summers in Paris, the French sincere, aff and humorous. She says, "I kiss the baby and pet the cat, have no difficulty with the cat."

LOCAL DEBATERS DEFEAT NORTHVILLE

LOCAL DEBATING TEAM GETS
UNANIMOUS DECISION OVER
NEIGHBORING TEAM LAST
FRIDAY EVENING.

Plymouth High school had its third state league debate Friday evening, January 13th, at Northville. The decision was 3 to 0 in favor of Plymouth, so our team has eleven of the twelve points necessary to entitle them to enter the elimination debates.

The Northville debating team consisted of Arthur Sautler, Margaret Safford and Russell Atchison, who upheld the negative. Plymouth had the affirmative side of the question, "Resolved, that the direct primary should be abolished." Our Plymouth team, consisting of Ruth Root, Harold Hubert and Franklin Atkinson, did well and deserved the decision which they won.

Ruth Root showed splendid poise, had excellent volume and was very convincing. Harold Hubert was conversational and genial in his usual manner; he also adapted his material very well to that of his opponents. Franklin Atkinson spoke with great pep and enthusiasm, and was quick and direct in refutation.

The judges for the debate were Miss Wagner, the debate coach at Monroe; Mr. Moody, who teaches public speaking at Central high school, Detroit, and Mr. Downs, superintendent of the Ferndale schools. Philip Bieger was time-keeper for the Plymouth team.

Plymouth's next debate will be here in Plymouth high school auditorium, next Friday evening, January 27, at 7:30. Save the date, January 27, for the debate which will be the last of the four debates in the preliminary series. Plymouth's opponent will be Ypsilanti Central high school here, January 27th, in the Plymouth High school auditorium.

ROTARY CLUB HEARS CAPT. DENNISTON SPEAK

The members of the Plymouth Rotary Club had the pleasure of hearing a most interesting talk by Edward Denniston, superintendent of the Detroit House of Correction at the noon-day luncheon of the club last Friday. "Cap" is a former member of the local club, but resigned some little time ago because of his work keeping him in Detroit, but nevertheless he is considered as belonging to this club, and he is always a welcome visitor at the club's luncheons.

Captain Denniston spoke upon penal institution work, a subject with which he is thoroughly familiar and a work which he has made a life's study.

He spoke of the great changes that had come in penal reform work, and the methods of handling prisoners. The speaker pointed out that segregation by classification was the greatest factor in the reformation of the inmates that all our penal institutions.

Mr. Denniston said the average daily population of the Detroit House of Correction was 1,257. The total number of men and women committed to the institution during the year was 20,997. On January 1, 1927, there were 880 inmates, and on December 31, 1927, 801.

The captain said the women's prison which is fast nearing completion, is the most modern institution of its kind in the country. He invited the club to pay a visit to the prison and inspect this model institution.

HOME MAKING CLASSES TO BE GIVEN IN PLYMOUTH

MODERN COOKING METHODS
WILL BE DEMONSTRATED AT CLASSES.

To instruct women on the best use of ranges, the most up-to-date methods of cooking, and the economical use of gas and oil, Miss Gladys L. Peckham, representative of Michigan Federated Utilities, will conduct a six weeks' school at Plymouth, Northville and Wayne.

To those attending free out of six lectures a prize for the home will be given.

Miss Peckham received a B. S. degree in Home Economics at Rhode Island, which includes basic training in household physics, chemistry of foods, nutrition, and kindred subjects so essential for effective home service instruction.

Did Work In East
Immediately after graduation she was employed by the Providence Gas company with two other college trained women to organize their home service department. Her work consisted of broadcasting two radio talks weekly, giving lecture demonstrations, talking before women's clubs, and conducting courses for organized groups in the churches. At the same time Miss Peckham was chairman of the division of Home Economics teaching in the Rhode Island state federation of Women's clubs, which gave her further opportunity to study the needs of women in the home.

Since that time she has directed home service activities for the city of Norwich, Connecticut.

A course in "Gas and Household Gas Appliances" given under the direction of the American Gas association at Columbia University has better fitted Miss Peckham in her work of educating the housewife on gas cooking problems.

The Plymouth classes will be held each week during the six weeks course at the gas office in the I. O. O. F. building on South Main street, on Wednesdays at 2:30 o'clock. The first class will meet on Wednesday, January 26th.

Miss Peckham will visit homes of students and instruct them individually on their cooking problems. During her six weeks' stay in Plymouth, she will write a column of suggestions for the home, including tested recipes. Watch for them each week.

MICHIGAN BUILDING & LOAN LEAGUE.

Building and loan totals for 1927 reflect a healthy condition in the affairs of average folks according to officials of the Michigan Building & Loan League. Preliminary reports show eleven million, three hundred and five thousand members in building and loan associations throughout the country. Aggregate assets of 12,710 associations are seven billion, sixty-two million, four hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars. Average thrift fund per member figures at $642.72. Building and loan financed approximately sixteen hundred homes a day during the year, a total of six hundred thousand dwellings.

Seventy-eight Michigan associations will show total assets of $127,000,000, a gain of fifteen million dollars over the preceding year.

League officials believe that conditions for 1928 point to another year of impressive progress, both in terms of homes financed and earnings realized for investors.

PUBLIC INVITED TO DISCUSS REVISION OF WATER RATES

The general public is invited to attend a discussion on the revision of the village water rates, Wednesday evening, Jan. 25, at seven o'clock, at the Village Hall. The operating statement of the village water department for last year shows a deficit of $9,538.18. This does not include the retirement of water bonds. There were $7,000 worth of water bonds retired last year, which should have been paid out of the income from the water department. This makes a total loss for last year of $14,538.18.

The total income for last year as shown by the audit was $15,744.01. The total expense for last year including depreciation and retiring of bonds was $30,282.19. All of these figures are taken from the audit made by Miller, Bailey & Co., the public accountants employed by the village last spring.

A MILLION BILLION YEARS. DEAD BANK BANDITS. AT THE AGE OF FORTY. AN $110,000,000 IDEA.

The Reverend Dr. Cadman remarks that "This planet may exist for nearly a million billion years longer." An anxious Christian asks, "Do you believe that the soul sleeps in the grave with the body a million billion years, waiting for the judgment? If I really believed it, I think I should try to have a pretty good time while still in the flesh."

The Reverend Dr. Cadman tells the inquiring soul that when you are unconscious a million billion years seems no longer than a minute and a half, and tells the soul: "It is better to awake from a prolonged torpor with clean recollections in your conscious just than as a moral idiot."

The child that "can't wait a week for Christmas" and the Christian "that can't wait a million billion years for the judgment day" are both interesting, and both children mentally.

Texas wants bank bandits, and wants them dead. Texas banks carry this sign: "$5,000 for each dead bank robber—not one cent for 100 live ones."

Banks don't want live robbers because they are hard to identify, hard to convict, hardly ever kept in the penitentiary after going there.

This may discourage bank robbing. It will impress on bank robbers the fact that they must kill first, or be killed.

Mr. Babe Ruth amazes "sportdom" by saying "nearing advanced age of thirty-four," that he believes in all year round training and expects to be "just as good at forty," as he is now.

For such work as Babe Ruth does, hard hitting and running, forty should be the best age, and fifty about as good. It isn't their work, but their play between times, that makes men old.

Long ago, near Batavia, N. Y., a boy was born and soon had an idea. He once told this writer how he gave up smoking "extravagant fifty-cent cigars," saving money to carry out his plan and build his first car.

Two men slept in the upper, two in the lower berth, for fifty cents apiece. Abraham Lincoln was one of his first passengers, going from Chicago to Springfield, and was too long for the berth. The other man protested. The man selling the tickets beside the car was George M. Pullman, and now the Interstate Commerce Commission fixes the value of his Pullman company at $110,238,788, which is far below its real value.

Get a good idea, stick to it, make sacrifices, and the idea will take care of you, later.

Mrs. Hickman, mother of the Los Angeles kidnaper, will testify that she was once insane and attempted suicide, thus seeking to save her son by a plea of hereditary insanity.

It is not conceivable that anything could save that murderer from the extreme penalty. A crime almost as great as his own was lightly locking this young criminal up and lightly letting him out again on former occasions.

The learned Dr. Stockard, professor of anatomy at Cornell University has experimented with alcohol on five thousand guinea pigs during seventeen years. This is his conclusion:

"Guinea pigs drunk with alcohol are, if anything, a little healthier than teetotal guinea pigs and live just as long. One guinea pig was made drunk with alcohol six days every week and his health was perfect."

But first, the guinea pig has nothing to do but eat, breath and digest. He doesn't need to use his brain. Second, the kind college professor gave good alcohol to his drunken guinea pigs, not bootlegger alcohol.

There is excitement at Red Lodge, Mont. Mrs. A. Pollard, opening the glizard of her Christmas turkey, raised in that neighborhood, found small gold nuggets. Prospectors are seeking desperately the spot where the turkey picked up the nuggets. To the turkey those nuggets were simply rough stones swallowed to help grind corn. To "proud man" those nuggets are the beginning and the end of the earthly ambition, ninety-nine times out of a hundred. Wise turkey, foolish man.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving memory of my dear mother, who passed away one year ago, January 18, 1927.

Go, from me, dear mother, forever,
Your voice, so dear, is still,
I try to be brave in my sorrow,
I know 'twas the Lord's will,
But, oh, the bitter heartaches,
The longing to see you again;
God only knows how I miss you,
Calling you back to me,
One little word, but in it lies
A magic in an other;
For all of this and hope and love
Is in that one word, Mother,
Mrs. Ruby McKinney
and Children.

NOTED LECTURER WILL SPEAK HERE

DOCTOR HILTON IRA JONES
WILL GIVE FOURTH NUMBER
ON LYCEUM COURSE, THURS-
DAY EVENING, JANUARY 26TH.

Have you ever seen a chemist at work? Have you felt that you would like to know how he "does his stuff"? Do you like to see things happen, and find out why, at the same time? Your chance is coming next week.

Have you wondered why some folks try all their lives to get fat and don't, while others diet to get thin, and some of them don't either? Or why this boy that wants to get tall stays so short, while his buddy grows so tall and slim that he has to lurch over to feel right?

Dr. Hilton Ira Jones, noted scientist and author has been selected to come here next Thursday evening, January 26, in the high school auditorium at eight o'clock, and deliver his notable new lecture, "Self-Management," a startling account of the discoveries of modern science with relation to the chemistry of the body.

Dr. Jones has been connected with leading schools and universities in America; is a member of numerous scientific societies in this country and in Europe, among them being the American Chemical Society, the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the American Institute of Chemical Engineers and the Chemical Society of London. Many of his articles have appeared in leading scientific publications throughout the world. His books on scientific research and his writings for various publications have been widely discussed and quoted.

Recently he resigned his professorship with an important Western State University, a position which he had held for some time, to become head of the department of Scientific Research for the Redpath Bureau.

One of the leading daily papers recently ran an editorial upon his lecture, a part of which is quoted herewith:

"It is not easy to pass on many vital truths Doctor Jones presented to his audience on the chemistry of the human body; the value of suggestion and auto-suggestion; their influence upon the subjective mind; the power of the subjective mind upon the chemical forces within the body; the highly important part played upon the individual character and destiny by the ductless glands; how health, happiness and success can be gained by a knowledge of all these and other forces and their intelligence and persistent application."

"Not often have we had in our midst a speaker with the technical knowledge and the breadth of view to tell the people new truths of science. Still less often have we had men who added the high moral purpose to interpret these discoveries in terms of right of living and increased personality."

A Jones lecture is one which everyone should hear, for it is one from which everyone will derive great benefit.

This is the fourth number on the Redpath Lyceum Course given by the senior class. This is to be given next Thursday evening, January 26, at 8:00 o'clock, in the High School auditorium. Single admission fifty cents.

FIVE PETITIONS FILED FOR VILLAGE COMMISSIONER

The time for the filing of petitions for village commissioner was up Monday, and the petitions of five candidates were filed with the village clerk. Petitions were filed for the following: Carl Shear, Paul Nutting, Henry Henderson, Frank Learned and J. W. Henderson. The first four are for the two year term, and Mr. Henderson for the one year term. Owing to the fact that there are only four candidates for the two year term, it will not be necessary to hold a primary election.

RATHBONE SCHOOLHOUSE, A PYTHIAN SHRINE

For many years the "Rathbone Schoolhouse" at Eagle Harbor, where Justus H. Rathbone wrote the first ritual of the Knights of Pythias, and where the order was really born in his heart and brain, has been a mecca for Pythians who knew of the early history of the order.

This schoolhouse, of which the above is a cut, is now and has been for some years the property of the Grand Lodge of Michigan, and is being preserved as a Pythian Shrine and memorial to the founder of the order.

Thousands of Pythians from this and other states have visited Eagle Harbor and the little building where Rathbone, after school hours, penned the ritual. Thousands of others have wished they might make this visit, so full of meaning to every Michigan Knight.

While all cannot have this wish fulfilled, the Grand Lodge has started a movement which will bring the Shrine into every lodge, so that all members can pay their tribute to it and to the founder of the order. The grand keeper of records and seal has had built a small replica of the original schoolhouse, which is an exact copy of the building as it now looks, after being placed in good repair by the Grand Lodge. This little schoolhouse was constructed by Arthur Reif, a member of Ann Arbor Lodge, No. 44, and it was a labor of love with him, he donating his services. As he is an expert cabinet maker, the little building is a beauty, with a door that opens, windows that can be raised and lowered, a blackboard where the original one was located, sliding and shingles, and everything "real"—so that when you look at it you gaze on the Rathbone schoolhouse in miniature.

The schoolhouse made its first appearance in a lodge on Tuesday evening, Jan. 18, when a large crowd was out to welcome it. A book has been prepared that will accompany the schoolhouse with a record of each lodge where it appears, giving names of officers and the total number of members present. On the front pages of the book as a history of the schoolhouse and also a brief biography of Justus H. Rathbone. Pictures showing the schoolhouse before it was taken over by the Grand Lodge, as it now looks, and of scenes in and about Eagle Harbor are also included in this book. The plan is to have the Shrine carried from lodge to lodge until it has been received in every lodge in the state. No lodge will receive it, however, unless that lodge will first promise to carry it on to the next lodge on a schedule that will be prepared in advance.

This schoolhouse will be in the Plymouth Castle hall of the Knights of Pythias, Jan. 26. I earnestly request every member to be present.

WOMAN'S CLUB HOLD MEETING

PROGRAM ON FRIDAY LAST, A VERY SATISFACTORY ONE.

The members of the club were so pleased with the delicious luncheon and efficient service in the crystal dining room of the hotel, that they cast a unanimous vote to make the Mayflower their future headquarters.

The president, Mrs. R. E. Cooper, filled the chair during a short business session. Mrs. Chapman gave a brief outline of the club's plans for next year.

The following program, with Mrs. C. L. Wilcox as leader, was enthusiastically received: Miss Margaret Bennett, who has a very pleasing singing voice of splendid quality and control for one so young, sang "Homing" by Del Riego, and "Ishtar" by Spross, responding with an encore "Rainbow" by G. Curran. Miss Bennett was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Gilbert Brown. A reading, "How She Lied to Her Husband," was splendidly interpreted by Mrs. Charles Humphries.

The next number, one which many of the ladies had been looking forward to with pleasure, was a talk on "Night Life in Paris" by Gretchen Mount. Gretchen comes to us from The Detroit Free Press, and is very much loved and admired for her frank and sincere manner. She said in part:

"Since my talk is somewhat in the form of a lecture, I carried my nap right with me," and forthwith displayed the gown she was wearing, the pattern of which in lovely soft shades, gave one the illusion of a kaleidoscopic view of Paris, its river and many of the more important buildings. She then continued to acquaint her audience with "her Paris" for each one sees Paris or any part of the world in which one may travel, through one's own eyes. Her description of restaurants, theatres, the spectacles and markets was vivid and interesting.

Mrs. Mount believes that any woman, unescorted, can travel in Paris night or day, unharmed, if she is a lady and knows her "place." That Paris is no more wicked than New York, that Americans in many instances over-step their rights, especially in their "slumming parties," and are insulted.

Mrs. Mount, who has spent some five summers in Paris, finds the French sincere, affectionate and humorous. She says, "If you'll kiss the baby and pet the cat, you will have no difficulty with the countrymen."

Mrs. Cooper, in behalf of the club, presented Mrs. Mount and Miss Bennett each with a bouquet of flowers as a token of appreciation for their giving so much pleasure to the ladies.

The Arche club of Wayne extends a special invitation to the Woman's Club of Plymouth for a program and social time at the Congregational church in that city, this Friday at 2:00 p. m. Mrs. R. E. Cooper would enjoy a large representation of our ladies.

Please make an special effort to attend Plymouth Club day, Friday, January 27, at the Hotel Mayflower, as matters of vital importance as to the club's future will come before the members for vote.

LOCAL DEBATERS DEFEAT NORTHVILLE

LOCAL DEBATING TEAM GETS
UNANIMOUS DECISION OVER
NEIGHBORING TEAM LAST
FRIDAY EVENING.

Plymouth High school had its third state league debate Friday evening, January 13th, at Northville. The decision was 3 to 0 in favor of Plymouth, so our team has eleven of the twelve points necessary to entitle them to enter the elimination debates.

The Northville debating team consisted of Arthur Sautter, Margaret Safford and Russell Archibson, who upheld the negative. Plymouth had the affirmative side of the question, "Resolved, that the direct primary should be abolished." Our Plymouth team, consisting of Ruth Root, Harold Hubert and Franklin Atkinson, did well and deserved the decision which they won.

Ruth Root showed splendid poise, had excellent volume and was very convincing. Harold Hubert was conversational and genial in his usual manner; he also adapted his material very well to that of his opponents. Franklin Atkinson spoke with great pep and enthusiasm, and was quick and direct in refutation.

The judges for the debate were Miss Wagner, the debate coach at Monroe; Mr. Moody, who teaches public speaking at Central high school, Detroit; and Mr. Downs, superintendent of the Ferrand schools. Phillip Bieger was time-keeper for the Plymouth team.

Plymouth's next debate will be here in Plymouth high school auditorium, next Friday evening, January 27, at 7:30. Save the date, January 27, for the debate which will be the last of the four debates in the preliminary series. Plymouth's opponent will be Ypsilanti Central high school here, January 27th, in the Plymouth High school auditorium.

The Plymouth Kiwanis Club observed the thirteenth anniversary of the founding of Kiwanis at the noon-day luncheon hour of the club, Tuesday. The program was in charge of J. L. Johnson, state representative. The speaker was George Millage of Ypsilanti, lieutenant-governor of the state Kiwanis organization.

ROTARY CLUB HEARS CAPT. DENNISTON SPEAK

The members of the Plymouth Rotary Club had the pleasure of hearing a most interesting talk by Edward Denniston, superintendent of the Detroit House of Correction at the noon-day luncheon of the club last Friday. "Cap" is a former member of the local club, but resigned some little time ago because of his work keeping him in Detroit, but nevertheless he is considered as belonging to this club, and he is always a welcome visitor at the club's luncheons.

Captain Denniston spoke upon penal institution work, a subject with which he is thoroughly familiar and a work which he has made a life's study.

He spoke of the great changes that had come in penal reform work, and the methods of handling prisoners. The speaker pointed out that segregation by classification was the greatest factor in the reformation of the inmates that fill our penal institutions.

Mr. Denniston said the average daily population of the Detroit House of Correction was 1,277. The total number of men and women committed to the institution during the year was 20,007. On January 1, 1927, there were 880 inmates, and on December 31, 1927, 834.

The captain said the women's prison which is just nearing completion, is the most modern institution of its kind in the country. He invited the club to pay a visit to the prison and inspect this model institution.

HOME MAKING CLASSES TO BE GIVEN IN PLYMOUTH

MODERN COOKING METHODS
WILL BE DEMONSTRATED AT CLASSES.

To instruct women on the best use of range, the most up-to-date methods of cooking, and the economical use of gas fuel, Miss Gladys L. Peckham, representative of Michigan Federated Ladies, will conduct a six weeks' school in Plymouth, Northville and Wayne.

To those attending five out of six lectures a prize for the home will be given.

Miss Peckham received a B. S. degree in Home Economics at Rhode Island, which includes basic training in household physics, chemistry of foods, nutrition, and kindred subjects so essential for effective home service instruction.

Did Work in East

Immediately after graduation she was employed by the Providence Gas company with two other college trained women to organize their home service department. Her work consisted of broadcasting two radio talks

MISS GLADYS L. PECKHAM

weekly, giving lecture demonstrations, talking before women's clubs, and conducting courses for organized groups in the churches. At the same time Miss Peckham was chairman of the division of Home Economics teaching in the Rhode Island state federation of Women's clubs, which gave her further opportunity to study the needs of women in the home.

Since that time she has directed home service activities for the city of Norwich, Connecticut.

A course in "Gas and Household Gas Appliances" given under the direction of the American Gas association at Columbia University has better fitted Miss Peckham in her work of educating the housewife on gas cooking problems.

The Plymouth classes will be held each week during the six weeks course at the gas office in the I. O. O. F. building on South Main street, on Wednesdays at 2:30 o'clock. The first class will meet on Wednesday, January 26th.

Miss Peckham will visit homes of students and instruct them individually on their cooking problems. During her six weeks' stay in Plymouth, she will write a column of suggestions for the home, including tested recipes. Watch for them each week.

MICHIGAN BUILDING & LOAN LEAGUE.

Building and loan totals for 1927 reflect a healthy condition in the affairs of average folks according to officials of the Michigan Building & Loan League. Preliminary reports show eleven million, three hundred and five thousand members in building and loan associations throughout the country. Aggregate assets of 12,710 associations are seven million, sixty-two million, four hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars. Average thrift fund per member figures at $642.72. Building and loan financed approximately sixteen hundred homes a day during the year, a total of six hundred thousand dwellings.

Seventy-eight Michigan associations will show total assets of $127,000,000, a gain of fifteen million dollars over the preceding year.

League officials believe that conditions for 1928 point to another year of impressive progress, both in terms of homes financed and earnings realized for investors.

PUBLIC INVITED TO DISCUSS REVISION OF WATER RATES

The general public is invited to attend a discussion on the revision of the village water rates, Wednesday evening, Jan. 25, at seven o'clock, at the Village Hall. The operating statement of the village water department for last year shows a deficit of $9,538.18. This does not include the retirement of water bonds. There were $5,000 worth of water bonds retired last year, which should have been paid out of the income from the water department. This makes a total loss for last year of $14,538.18.

The total income for last year as shown by the audit was $15,744.01. The total expense for last year including depreciation and retiring of bonds was $30,282.19. All of these figures are taken from the audit made by Miller, Bailey & Co., the public accountants employed by the village last spring.

Is Thirty-five the Age of "Second Speed"?

There is an antiquated idea still going the rounds that when you pass thirty-five you are getting old.

Physical fitness at fifty or eighty is possible for most people just as it is a natural condition in those in the early twenties.

If you have believed that age begins when you pass thirty-five forget it. You can be young, well and happy if you really want these.

Chiropractic can help you as it has helped thousands of other people. Health at thirty-five, forty-five and even ninety-five is available for many people—perhaps you are one. You owe it to yourself, anyway, to consult a Chiropractor. Take adjustments.

CHANGING APPETITES.

Everybody around Plymouth engaged in producing anything to sell to the general public ought to take a little tip from Secretary of Agriculture Jardine and be sure they are raising what the public wants. He shows, for instance, that each American now eats 17 pounds less meat a year than he did in 1907. He is also using less grain than ever before, largely because there isn't so much of it used in making something for him to drink. But he eats more of certain kinds of vegetables than at any time in the nation's history. Growers who have learned what these favorite fruits and vegetables are the ones who are making the money. No need in raising something the public doesn't need, or doesn't want, says Secretary Jardine. "Pick out a few staples you know he has to have and center your labor on the production of these; don't just raise any kind of food and expect to sell it readily and at a high price because it used to be in great demand," he advises. And since appetites seem to be changing along with everything else, it sounds like pretty good advice.

A SIMPLE PROTECTION.

Post reports show that last Christmas broke all records for the number of pieces of mail handled. It averaged 5,000,000 pieces an hour for the two weeks immediately preceding Christmas day. It also shows that the dead letter office is now snowed under with more mail that cannot be delivered than it ever had before. Several million letters, many containing money for Christmas gifts, and possibly quite a few from right around Plymouth, reached the dead letter office since they were improperly addressed and bore no return card on the envelope. Uncle Sam doesn't say so, in so many words, but he points a moral in this: and it is nothing more than the sensible custom of having envelopes printed with a return card in the corner. Then, no matter how poorly the address may be, your letter comes back to you if it cannot be delivered. Printed envelopes cost little, but they offer such a great protection that there is no excuse for anyone using any other kind.

POOR GUESSERS.

From reports covering almost every section of the country we are led to believe our amateur weather prophets have had the worst jolt of their lives. As we recall, many of them were predicting last fall that we were to have the mildest winter for years. And while there was nothing to complain of before Christmas, reports show that the cold wave which rode in on the wings of the new year was not only general but one of the most serious ever known. No less than 40 deaths are traced directly to it.

We have fared reasonably well around Plymouth and we have little, if any, cause for complaint; but in other sections they were not so fortunate. Freezing weather extended as far south as the Everglades, and it actually "spit snow" at Palm Beach, a thing never before known. Fruit and truck gardens in Florida were badly damaged. New England lost thousands of dollars through crippled transportation, while in the larger centers of population of the middle west there was equal suffering among children when heavy snows and temperatures below the zero mark caused a shortage in the milk supply. It's a great country, though, and it wasn't long in digging itself out and getting set for anything else that might follow. We are not out of the woods yet, so far as disagreeable weather is concerned, but maybe if the amateur weatherman will remain quiet, and not predict any more "mild weather," we'll come through all right.

A NOVEL STUNT.

The first of every year newspapers throughout the country are full of bright and cheery forecasts by millionaires and captains of industry; but it remained for the Dayton (Ohio) Daily News to change the order a little this year. It recently printed a lot of interviews from the poorer people of the city, the wage earners, on what they think of present conditions and the outlook for 1928; and, strange as it may seem, about half of the workers interviewed expressed satisfaction and actually believe they will be better off this year than last. "Give us a chance to work at present wages, with no layoffs and no strikes," they said, "and we'll get along fine." Such interviews are really helpful, because they come from people who know what poverty really means. Optimistic talk from a millionaire doesn't mean much. Most anybody can be optimistic if he has got a million dollars.

MUNICIPAL NOTES

BY THE MANAGER

A petition for the paving of Arthur street from the north line of Penniman avenue to the north line of Blanche street, has been filed with the village manager.

Two other paving petitions are being circulated at the present time, one for Blunk avenue from the north line of Church street to the south line of Junction avenue, and the other for Adams street from the north line of church street to the south line of Farmer street.

This will make four streets to be paved this year if the last two petitions come in. One of the amendments to the charter to be voted on at the regular spring election, will be to spread the cost of all improvements over a period of ten years instead of five years as the charter now requires.

Another amendment to the charter to be voted on at this same election, which, if carried, will reduce the rate of interest on all future special assessment bonds.

These two amendments ought to make possible the cost of putting in improvements fair to everyone.

If there are any other streets that people would like to have paved, kindly come into the village hall and we will draw up a petition for you.

The poor condition of some of our unpaved streets is being taken care of as rapidly as possible. Ray Sackett, with his Ford truck, is filling the ruts and holes with cinders, when we can obtain them, and with foundry dirt when we can't obtain cinders. The Michigan Federated Utilities, the Carl Helde greenhouse and the new Hotel Mayflower have been kind enough to furnish the cinders free. All we have to pay for is the hauling. The Pere Marquette R. R. placed a car containing forty yards of cinders on the Markham track for us, free of any charge.

Practically all of our poor streets were torn up for sewers last summer, and with the exceptionally bad weather we have been having this winter, they are almost impassable.

Changing the Edison power contract for pumping at our water springs has caused the following saving to our water department as shown by the following bills:

Aug. 2, 1927 to Sept. 7, 1927.	$366.44
Sept. 7, 1927 to Oct. 7, 1927.	318.29
Oct. 7, 1927 to Oct. 29, 1927.	87.87
Oct. 29, 1927 to Nov. 29, 1927.	127.40
Nov. 29, 1927 to Dec. 29, 1927.	120.43

The first two above bills are figured on the flat rate and the last three are figured on the new energy contract. They also gave us a rebate of $375.29 on the first two bills. These figures readily explain the saving that has been made by one change only.

A LETTER FROM FLORIDA

Jan. 10, 1928.

Friend Samson:

In compliance to my promise, I am sending a message from the Sunshine City.

Florida was first visited by Ponce De Leon in 1519. In search of the fabled spring of "Perpetual Youth," I drank from this spring and have been turning hand-springs ever since.

St. Augustine, settled in 1565, is the oldest city in the United States and claims to have the original fort and relics.

St. Petersburg was settled 50 years ago, and the county named Pinellas, with Clearwater as the county seat.

Tarpon Springs, noted for having the largest sponge industry in the world, and Largo-Dunedin are also in this county.

Pinellas peninsula is nearly surrounded by the Gulf of Mexico on the west and Tampa bay on the south and east.

The normal population of St. Petersburg is 50,000. At this time 12,000 tourists have registered at the city hall, yet not one-tenth of the hotels, apartments and private rooms are occupied.

The average temperature is 72 degrees. Have seen 29 degrees; ice as thick as window glass, and highest 73 degrees. Much injury to garden truck, but citrus fruits, in most localities, escaped. Oranges are not a good crop, owing to frosts when in blossom and lack of rain in summer. Small size, 25 cents for three dozen; common, 30 cents; best, 40 cents; box of choice, $4.50.

Have seen several cloudy days but if the sun shines for one minute it is called a sunshine day. On this basis, during the past 12 years, there have been only 86 cloudy days.

The city has 33 miles of waterfront, of which six miles are owned by the municipality, for parks and playgrounds.

Nature has surely lavished upon St. Petersburg more charms and advantages than are usually bestowed upon any city I have ever seen, excepting Seattle, and I have now seen the principal cities in forty states and Canada from Vancouver to Quebec.

St. Petersburg has had its greatest growth during the past five years and is over-built. 1925 was its most prosperous year, when building permits for $24,000,000 were issued.

Statistics for 1926 show bank deposits $27,000,000; valuation school buildings, $4,500,000; school enrollment, 11,000; postal receipts, $425,000; area city, 55 square miles; has 126 hotels, many costing from $100,000 to one of $3,500,000; forty churches, some comparing well with any in Detroit, and, best of all, people who are law-abiding, affable and courteous.

An excellent band gives two-hour daily concerts. Its many religious, social and fraternal societies vie with each other in welcoming tourists.

It has the only open air postoffice in the world. Its streets are lined with palm, rubber, camphor, mango, oleander trees eight inches in diameter, blossom twice yearly, all kinds of tropical plants and flowers; has wider streets than Detroit. Over 600 varieties of fish are found in its waters—extra large clams, good oysters and sea food in abundance.

Tampa is twice as large as St. Petersburg, connected by the Gauzy bridge, costing $3,000,000; longest auto bridge in the world, now paid for. Toll for auto, 25 cents each; passenger, 5 cents. Bridge is six miles long and shortens distance to Tampa by 33 miles.

Shall close by quoting beautiful sentiment on monument to World war heroes.

"God gave us sons; we gave them to our country; our country gave them back to God."

Shall remain until balmy zephyrs blow in dear old Plymouth.

P. B. Whitbeck

NEWBURG SCHOOL NOTES.

Hazel Lomas.

Since Michigan is being studied this month, the seventh and eighth grades are dramatizing the story of "The Conspiracy of Pontiac." The sixth and seventh grades find that making booklets on Michigan is as interesting as the eighth grade think the making of the file is. The primary pupils also think that Michigan is interesting, so they are making booklets.

Some of the second graders are beginning their readers. There are 31 in the primary room.

In the intermediate room the fourth and fifth grades are studying the geography and history of Michigan. As they study the facts they are putting them into a booklet. The fourth grade is studying Hiawatha.

We have a new basket ball court for the boys and girls of the grammar and intermediate rooms.

We have four new pupils. In the sixth grade is Marcus Scheffer; in the third grade is Francis Scheffer; in the first grade is Louis Scheffer, and in the kindergarten is Clair Scheffer.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The dates for the regular meetings of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce are the second and fourth Mondays of each month. The directors extend an invitation to you to attend.

MERCHANTS' SERVICE BUREAU

The Bureau Secretaries and Managers from Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Michigan will hold their annual convention at Toledo, Ohio, on January 23rd, 24th and 25th. They are known as the "Big Four" and are becoming stronger and better organized each year.

Plans are now being made by the board of directors to hold monthly meetings of the bureau members.

STARK SCHOOL NOTES

There will be a meeting of the Stark P. T. A. Wednesday evening, January 25th, at eight o'clock. The program will be given over to Michigan history.

Free delivery from Partridge's new grocery. Phone us your orders.

"Do you notice how fat all the choruses are?"

"Yes, the manager is very economical, and the fat ones get the same pay as the thin but fill the stage better."

"Here, what's this?" demanded the editor of the comic journal.

"What's what?" faltered the artist.

"This joke doesn't mention the blapper."

He: "What do you mean by saying this is a possum car?"

She: "Oh, it plays dead in the most convenient places."

Applicant: "I'm thinking about joining the Marines. Is your drill intense?"

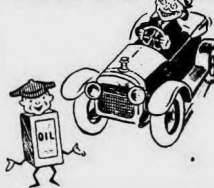

Sergeant: "Now, outdoors—on the parade ground."

"There's one word in the English language that is always pronounced wrong."

"What word is that?"

"Why 'wrong' of course."

IN JUSTICE COURT

Richard White, a farmer of Livonia township, pleaded not guilty in Justice Phoebe Patterson's court Tuesday, when arraigned on a charge of aiding a prisoner to escape from police officers. The man is his son-in-law, Earl Shoebridge. Shoebridge was arrested at his home here on January 8, charged with stealing fowls on a farm in Salem township. While being taken to the jail by local officers, he broke away from them and escaped. Recaptured later, he was free of the handcuffs which had been placed upon him at the time of his arrest, and which he testified in court had been chiseled off by White.

Shoebridge was sentenced to from two and one-half to five years at the Michigan State prison at Jackson, by Judge Sample in Washtenaw circuit court.

White was bound over to the circuit court, and was released on furnishing bail of $300.

Walter E. Ballard, 27 years old, was sentenced to serve 90 days in the Detroit House of Correction, Tuesday, by Justice Phoebe Patterson, when he pleaded guilty to a charge of breaking and entering the Laforest barbecue stand, Golden and Plymouth roads.

Aunt Sophronia's Madness

By JOHN DANFORTH

CAROLINE PORTMAN lived in an old, old house with an old, old great-great who was going to leave her orphaned grandniece all her money. And rumor had it that old Miss Portman was as wealthy as she was stingy. If that were so the old lady was wealthy indeed; for there was no known economy that she did not practice. "You must marry a man with money," she told Caroline. "You will have all I have got. Money should marry money."

Caroline's life was not a very exciting one in the dreary old mansion. She faded sparsely and dressed cheaply—she who loved life and laughter, and good fare and pretty clothes. But she compensated herself by indulging in day dreams. Having the idea constantly dinned into her ears by the old lady, the thought of what she would do with wealth when it became hers could not help forming a part of the day dreams of the girl.

Then along came Leonard Richmond—and Caroline fell in love with him. Leonard was not rich. In fact, he had nothing in the world but what he worked for, and she had to reconstruct her castles in the air. But what did it matter? Some day she would have enough for both of them.

When Aunt Sophronia finally woke up to what was going on she said: "If you marry that pauper you need not expect a penny of my money. Send that young man about his business. He is a fortunehunter."

Caroline protested that her Leonard was not a fortune hunter. She was going to marry him anyway—or she would remain single all her life. Then she burst into tears and, after watching her a minute with a grim smile, the old lady soothed her and said: "Oh, Caroline, it is only of your welfare I am thinking. I want you to be far, far removed from poverty when I am gone. That is all. Come now, let us pick out a rich husband for you."

Caroline and Leonard talked it over that night for, in spite of Aunt Sophronia's prohibition, the ineligible youth persisted in calling.

"I suppose," said Leonard, "that your aunt wants you to marry that Robert Cathcart fellow. He has money or pretends he has—and there is no doubt that he wants you—or your aunt's money. I do wish you would not encourage him the way you do."

"Encourage him?" cried Caroline. "I don't encourage him. I am just civil to him and that is all. Don't be so absurdly jealous."

Old Miss Portman was very pensive and thoughtful for two days. Then she said to Caroline: "I see you have not obeyed me with regard to Leonard Richmond. The next time he calls tell him I want to see him. There, there! Don't answer back. And when Robert Cathcart calls tell him, also, that I want to see him. You are too young to know your own mind. I'll take matters in hand and settle them. Run along now. Don't you see I am busy with my accounts?"

Cathcart was the first to call and to him did Caroline deliver her aunt's message.

The interview between Cathcart and Miss Portman was not long. Aunt Sophronia was not given to wasting words. When the young man rejoined Caroline he appeared unusually thoughtful and a trifle vexed. Caroline tried in vain to find out what her aunt had said to him, but Cathcart put her off with jests and rather wry smiles, taking his leave earlier than usual.

"Oh," thought Caroline, "I do hope auntie has said something to offend him—and that he will keep away in future." She can't reproach me for his keeping away if it is because of something she said herself. I do wonder what it was, though.

Then came Leonard and, Caroline having explained the situation to him first, it was his turn for a seance with Aunt Sophronia.

"Young man," said the old lady when they were alone, "is it my niece or my money that you are hanging around after? If it's my money you can spare yourself the trouble. I haven't any money. I pretend I have, but I haven't. I scrimp and save, not because I am parsimonious as people think, but because I have to. And it has been my ambition to see my niece so married that she will never know the sting of poverty as I have known them. I have carefully cultivated a reputation for wealth in order that wealthy suitors might seek her hand. I told all this to Cathcart and he cried off. What do you say?"

"You don't know how happy you make me," cried Leonard. "I have a good position, a good salary and a surety of advancement. Caroline shall never know poverty—I think I can promise that. I make enough now to support her—and you, too, Miss Portman. Let me marry her and you will never have to scrimp and save any more."

"Well, well," said Aunt Sophronia, "we'll see. Go now and make love to her."

A week later old Miss Portman was gathered to her fathers—in her ninety-fourth year, the papers said. When her will was probated it was found that she had left her niece a fortune of nearly half a million dollars. Some said the old lady had been a trifle mad; but if so there had been method in her madness.

Alfonso: "Don't you enjoy those slow motion pictures of horse races?" Tony: "No, they remind me too much of the horses I always bet on."

The Guide: Look at that half-ruined castle. It might be at least eight hundred years old. Believe me, lady, they don't build such ancient castles nowadays!

HUNDRETH SEMI-ANNUAL FURNITURE MARKET

F. D. Schrader, of Schrader Bros., Plymouth, was in Grand Rapids to attend the one hundredth semi-annual Furniture Market now being held in Grand Rapids. The exhibition, which opened January 3rd, will continue through January 21st.

This event, in commemoration of fifty years of service to American homes, marks the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the Grand Rapids Furniture Market, and it is acknowledged to be the greatest and most far-reaching occasion of its kind in American history.

Buyers from the best furniture stores all over the United States are attending, or will attend, this great display. Nationally famous magazine editors from the greatest women's and house furnishing publications will be present, as well as widely known speakers, educators, decorators, designers and manufacturers.

Mr. Schrader visited Grand Rapids for the purpose of seeing the latest furniture styles and vogue and to make purchases of one hundredth market furniture for early spring delivery.

In the Grand Rapids Market more than 400 manufacturers of the best furniture produced in America exhibit their latest creations twice yearly. To this market in January and in June come upwards of 3,000 buyers for retail furniture stores, representing the bulk of the furniture purchasing power of America. At this market is displayed furniture and furniture accessories for every room in any home, furniture that ranges in price and quality from that suited to the finest mansions to those homes of modest incomes. The buyer attending the Grand Rapids market not only has the opportunity of purchasing exactly what he desires for his particular trade, all the way from the cream of furniture production in the United States to the more popular and commercial lines, but his visit is comparable to a short course in a furniture university, for in Grand Rapids he has an opportunity of meeting the biggest men in the furniture industry, of acquainting himself with the latest style trend, the prices that will govern the trade to a certain extent, of hearing some of the greatest authorities on furniture and furniture styles, and of actually attending the National Retail Furniture School, which is now about to hold its fifth session.

The one hundredth Grand Rapids Market was officially opened by President Coolidge at 8:00 p. m. on January 2nd, when he pressed a gold button in his office in the White House. Immediately three miles of street lamps and retail store windows were lighted along Monroe avenue, Grand Rapids' principal business thoroughfare. Practically every retail window on both sides of the street for its entire length contained displays of furniture from the stocks of a hundred or more manufacturers who show in the Grand Rapids Market.

SCHOOL NOTES

A PHILOSOPHY OF LIFE

Thursday, January 12th. In an assembly of the tenth, eleventh and twelfth grades. Mr. Smith gave a very interesting talk on "A Philosophy of Life." He said that no matter what your own little philosophy of life is, if you hold steadfast to it, it will help you. If you had expected to go to college a certain year, and for some reason were unable to go, you would need a philosophy of life to help you. Mr. Smith said that his philosophy of life was based on three books in literature. The first one was "Atlas Marner," from whom he learned that every human loves something or someone. The second selection was "The Great Stone Face," showing that if we hold an ideal before us, we gradually become like our ideal. The third part of his philosophy of life was taken from Ivanhoe. The crazy woman in the burning house shows that we are taken from within ourselves and we cannot be taken from without. Mr. Smith also believes that nothing is worth while doing unless we can make someone happy by doing it.

and two red stars, which is equivalent to 85 perfect lessons this semester. Ardath Baker has been absent several days because of illness.

In language classes last week, we wrote friendly letters.

We have completed the required work in most of our subjects, and are now reviewing.

Ninety-one per cent of our room received 100 in spelling every day last week. Friday everyone received 100.

SEVENTH GRADE SEWING

The 7-B section girls are commencing slips for themselves. The girls are estimating the cost of a ready made slip.

The A section has commenced cooking aprons. These will be used by the girls next semester. The Hoover style of apron was selected by the girls. This style presents several new problems to the girls, as: Using a commercial pattern, application of collars and cuffs, flat fold seams, set-in sleeves and bound buttonholes. The McCall pattern company has supplied the girls with doll patterns, characteristic of a commercial pattern for their aprons.

In art they are making snow men and Eskimo posters.

In music they are learning songs about the little New Year and Jack Frost.

Evelyn Bower, Bobby Perkins, Catherine Schrader, Douglas Sockow, Arlene Roth, Junior VanAtta and Jean Woodworth have been neither absent nor tardy this semester.

We have learned a lot about using a dictionary, so that now we can find almost any word we look for.

MISS FENNER, 6-B

The boys and girls have been making health posters for their hygiene work.

The girls planned a week's menu which proved to be very interesting. Edessa Seeley and Robert Champe were spelling captains.

BASKETBALL

Plymouth's second team lost to Wayne's second team 11 to 21, in a basketball game played in the High school auditorium. The players all worked alone for several times when the ball was taken down the floor, there wasn't another Plymouth player near him to help make a basket. All players were working hard to get the ball from Wayne, and when they did get it there were not enough fast players and clear plays to keep it, and Wayne would easily take the ball and make Plymouth start all over again.

The Plymouth High school band played, in uniforms of blue and white, but there seemed to be no fighting spirit in any of the four teams.

The first game made little difference to Plymouth's first team who won from Wayne, with a high score. Wayne's team started the game with a few tricks, but Plymouth soon ended them for the evening which cut down Wayne's speed. Plymouth also slackened out of some of their signals and speed. Elton Knapp, playing a good game, made 21 of Plymouth's 42 points. Wayne scored 13 points.

THE ONLY CAR OF ITS KIND IN THE WORLD

For numberless puzzled motorists Dodge Brothers new Victory Six will simplify the problem of selection, for nowhere in the world is there a car like it. Greater expenditure will not duplicate it.

To possess this car's unique advantages you must possess this car.

A Radical Departure in Body Design

In The Victory, for the first time in history, the body sill is eliminated. Body and chassis are built as a single integral unit.

Thus, the wide, deep chassis frame of The Victory, now fused with the lines of the body, avoids the customary overhang of a wide body upon a narrow frame; and the chassis itself, rather than the body, supports all weight—body, floor, seats and passengers.

Amazing Results

The results of this construction are astonishing.

330 body parts are eliminated.

175 pounds of superfluous weight are cast off.

The all-important CENTER OF GRAVITY is materially lowered.

Without the slightest sacrifice of headroom or road-clearance, the over-all height of the car is also lowered—one of the secrets of The Victory's great beauty.

The amazing resources of the car's brilliant 4-DOOR SEDAN, F.O.B. DETROIT power plant are multiplied still further by perfect distribution and economy of weight.

Power in relation to load is materially increased—pick-up quickened—far greater flexibility achieved.

21 valid miles per gallon at 25 miles per hour is made possible FOR A SIX! Incredible smoothness at high speed is another great gift of this new design!

Elimination of back-wheel "chatter" when the 4-wheel Lockheed-Hydraulic brakes are quickly applied is still another!

And thanks to The Victory's low center of gravity and wide chassis frame, swaying, skidding, tipping—each a factor of weight and its proper and improper placement—are reduced to a new and negligible minimum.

Another New Safety Feature

Yet Dodge Brothers have taken a further revolutionary step to insure the safest motor transportation it is possible to create.

For the first time in automobile history, they have applied the so-called battleship construction to closed car design.

In other words, the body has a double steel shell, locked together, with an air space intervening—is actually TWO bodies, one within the other—yet lighter by 175 pounds—and the safest body known.

Dr. Frank Crane Says

THE COLUMBIA BASIN

President Coolidge, in an address the other day, alluded to the effort of the Government to create new territory.

This is the true method of conquest. A lot better than going to war and subjecting another State is to turn water on to a desert and make a new State.

Mr. Coolidge said, "A waterway system for the Mississippi Valley and its tributaries with one arm reaching to the Gulf and another to the Atlantic is only a question of time. The Colorado River is pressing, the Columbia Basin is not far distant."

To many of my readers this phrase, the Columbia Basin, is a sort of also ran. I confess until recently it was to me.

But I am writing this in Spokane, Washington, just a few miles from this basin and right here it is a subject of supreme interest. As far as that is concerned, it is of considerable interest to the whole country and not merely a local affair.

The Panama Canal fired the imagination of the world. Huge reclamation projects sat various times have interested us and applied for aid to the general Government.

But this Columbia Basin project will be about the biggest thing we have ever undertaken and are ever liable to undertake.

It means a bringing into cultivation or a transforming from desert to thrifty farm lands about two million acres.

This can be done by merely utilizing dead waters which now run waste. Fortunately these waters are at a higher level than the irrigated land, so all that is necessary is the motive power of gravitation.

It would mean, however, building some dams, making tunnels and constructing huge concrete lined canals, and the project is so immense that nobody could take it up but the general government.

We hear a lot about the Colorado River and the Boulder Dam, but really this thing is bigger.

This country once was settled during what they call a wet cycle and 25,000 farmers lived in it.

But then came the drought and they all had to leave, for they couldn't raise crops on 7-inch rainfalls during the year. Now the land is sand and sage brush.

The soil is wonderfully fertile, as it is probably the bottom of an old lake, and all it needs is water. With water they can raise two crops of potatoes a year and the finest potatoes in the world. They would have a climate even superior to Yakima for the raising of apples, and corn, wheat, and other midwest products could be grown in abundance.

The men who are pushing this thing are public-spirited citizens, for they will probably all be dead before the scheme could be brought into completion, as it will take probably 15 years.

The project has the full endorsement of President Coolidge, Secretary Work, Secretary Hoover and General Goethals.

Redeeming worthless land and making it productive is about the best business a Government can engage in.

THE THEATRE

"WOLF FANGS"

"Thunder," the newest dog discovery, whose work in "Wings of the Storm" created such a sensation last year, has added new honors to his name through his performance in "Wolf Fangs," his second starring vehicle for Fox Films which, comes to the Penniman Allen theatre Sunday and Monday, January 22 and 23.

"Thunder" more than lives up to his reputation as a dog with almost human intelligence and understanding. His reactions to every situation are spontaneous and true, and the way in which he leads the other dogs amazes every member of the audience.

The story is well suited to the dog in every respect. It deals with the novel situation of a puppy lost among the wolves and raised as one of their pack. Through his superior intelligence he becomes their leader and incidentally a great menace to the flocks of the sheep men who come to the forest to graze each summer.

The manner in which Thunder's civilized instincts assert themselves, and force him to turn against his pack is the high point of the story.

Supporting Thunder are a trained cast of dogs and a pack of wolves which provide most of the thrilling moments in the picture.

Charles Morton, a newcomer to the screen, does some very fine work, his dramatic talent winning the audience from the first flash on the screen. Caryl Lincoln gives a splendid performance in the role of the abused niece of Bill Garside, a role depicted by James Gordon, who portrays the part in his usual finished manner. Frank Rice and his dog Mutt provide the comedy in a very clever manner.

"THE ROUGH RIDERS"

Great pictures have that intangible something called spirit. Sometimes the quality that lifts a production from mediocrity into fame is love. Sometimes it's war. Often it is both, combined with the elements of humor and drama lifted to a zenith of popularity by the sterling performance of the players.

Taken all together, this is a meager description of "The Rough Riders," which comes to the Penniman Allen theatre, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, January 24, 25 and 26.

Picture if you can a nation thrown into a fever of patriotism by the sinking of The Maine—many remember it—visualize a man of dynamic instincts, picturesque leadership, and profound intelligence—things that appeal to men of all races and all classes—sprawling to the forefront of an epic campaign in behalf of human liberty. Such a man was Roosevelt. And thus he is portrayed in Paramount's splendid production.

Consider in this maelstrom of war and sacrifice and deeds of daring a love theme centralized in two brave boys and a girl of rare sweetness and loveliness. Until you have seen Charles Farrell, Charles Emmett Mack and Mary Astor in this unusual triumvirate of screen sentiment you will not appreciate how marvellously the drama of the human heart can be portrayed under circumstances that wrench and tear one's soul. It would be spoiling romance itself to divulge which one wins the girl.

It is of general knowledge that when Jesse L. Lasky and B. P. Schulberg, two of the screen's finest showmen, saw the completed reels of "The Rough Riders," they told Director Victor Fleming and members of the cast that they had helped bequeath something of infinite value to history, art and entertainment.

The charge of the uniformed individuals, rangers and paupers society dandies, up San Juan Hill, is something never to be forgotten. It is breathless. It is the epitome of valor and adventure. It is an inspiring lesson in patriotism and manhood.

There is humor bound up bodily with this magnificent story, and to Noah Beery and George Bancroft goes much of the credit for characterizations of strength and fun that are finely native and genuine. Fred Kohler, the hard-boiled top-sergeant, gives an able performance. Frank Hopper as Roosevelt is a revelation. Col. Fred Lindsay as Leonard Wood is every inch the soldier and a gentleman.

When Hermann Hagedorn, biographer for the immortal T. R., wrote "The Rough Riders," he created something distinctive from the depths of his being.

The picture is truly a new page in motion picture achievement.

"TIP-TOES"

Dorothy Gish, Will Rogers and Nelson Keys, three of the funniest people in this funny world, will be at the Penniman Allen theatre, Friday, January 27th. "Tip-Toes," a Broadway stage hit of last season is their screen vehicle. The picture was produced in London by British National Pictures, Ltd. and imported by Paramount.

"Tip-Toes" is the story of "The Three Kays," dead-broke American Vaudeville team in London. After their tryout Al ruefully remarks, "Well, an Englishman's face was never made to laugh with," to which Hen replies, "Right, but mine was made to cut with—and how." To which the answer appears in the form of one Lord William Montgomery, titled innocent, and very nice too—who immediately falls in love with dainty, dancing, "Tip-Toes."

Now London is an awful foggy town to be hungry in—so who can blame Al and Hen for plotting to marry "Tip-Toes" to Lord William and his fortune? And who can blame the "Three Kays," for occupying the finest suite in London's smartest hotel when his Lordship's unsuspecting influence placed them in it under the supposition that "Tip-Toes" was an American heiress and Al and Hen her two uncles? An invitation to Montgomery Castle lands the three adventurers plump into the lap of aristocracy, where dining is a holy rite and conversation a fine art,—while the "Three Kays" had always known that grub is to eat, the quicker the better, and table talk a nuisance unless it be loud and funny.

Of course their true status is soon discovered. Lord William issues an ultimatum. Internment under police supervision threatens the Yankee invaders. In other words, they're in an awful jam. After a party aboard his Lordship's yacht, "Tip-Toes," manages to convince him of the severity of her love.

Added to the talents of Gish, Rogers and Keys, is the direction of Herbert Wilcox, said by some to be England's most talented megaphonist. "Tip-Toes" is indeed found, added to which is a real imported production.

METHODIST NOTES

What is to occur on February 23? The L. A. S. annual bazaar and chicken supper? Correct.

Dr. John Martin of Ann Arbor, superintendent of Ann Arbor district, will preach the annual home missionary thanks offering sermon Sunday morning. Dr. Martin had charge of all city missionary work in Detroit for several years, and is very well informed on the subject and is a most interesting speaker. So there is a treat in store for all who attend. He will preach in the evening also, and the young people's choir will have charge of the music. Come and bring someone with you.

Tonight, Friday, the Booster class will have supper at 6:30 at the church. Following this will take place the annual business meeting with election of officers for the ensuing year.

On Thursday evening, January 26th, the Philathea class will hold its monthly party at the home of Mrs. Sutherland on South Main street.

Next Wednesday, January 25th, the junior missionary children will meet at the church directly after school. This is to be a special birthday party, so all the boys and girls are urged to come. Those who have not paid their dues are to bring them to this meeting.

CATHOLIC NOTES

The work on the new church is just about completed, and the workmanship on it is a real pride. The decorators have given us a very beautiful job, making the church a real place of devotion, an invitation to all mortals to pray to the Almighty for spiritual and temporal benefits. The interior

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES

The men's meeting on Monday evening last was very enjoyable. The dinner served by Mrs. Shaw's class left nothing to be desired, and the songs led by Cal Whipple kept everybody in a merry mood. After dinner, the men repaired to the church parlors where C. H. Bennett delivered a most interesting travel talk. A series of lantern slides, accompanied by vivid descriptions and interspersed with personal experiences carried the audience on a trip through Palestine, touching at many points of interest to students of the Bible and the life of Christ. A hearty vote of thanks voiced the appreciation which the men felt when Mr. Bennett had concluded his talk.

On Tuesday a fine company of the women of the congregation met at the church, under the auspices of the Ready Service Class. The day was spent in work upon the hospital quota allotted to this church, and much excellent work was accomplished. The quota is now well in hand, and will be forwarded in due time.

The Board of Trustees is preparing the congregational budget for the year beginning March 1, 1928. It will be submitted to the people shortly, for their consideration and approval.

The meeting promises to be of interest, and members are urged to be present. Guests will also be made welcome.

HOME FURNISHING CLASS

The South Plymouth Home Furnishing group met at the home of Mrs. Lola Tallman, 299 Ann street, December 19th, with an attendance of ten. Under the leadership of Mrs. Glenn Gordon and Mrs. Renwick, and with Mrs. George Cramer as chairman, the subject, "Color in the Home and Home Dyeing" was proven very interesting.

The next meeting will be held Monday, January 23, at the home of Mrs. George Cramer, 443 North Harvey street.

STARKWEATHER SCHOOL NOTES

Kindergarten—Hazel Sundberg
This is the month we are studying snow and Eskimos. We have been making sleds, snowmen and snowflakes. We have been discussing how God protects the flowers and plants with the snow blanket, also how God protects our winter birds.

First Grade—Opal Lajo
The first graders are starting a war against tea and coffee. We have our room decorated with snow and Eskimo scenes. We are saving the crumbs and crusts left from our lunches, and throwing them to the birds each day. We learned in nature study that they can scarcely find food enough in the winter.

Second Grade—Florence Stader
We have a blackboard border in white and black, of snow, Eskimo houses, dogs and sleds, cut out by the children. We have a school world of politeness and behavior, a device which aims to encourage good citizenship. The 2-A's are reading in a new book, "Ish and David."

The 2-B's are reading in their first supplementary book, the "Child Library Reader," Book II. Three more pupils passed Monday from the class where they were given extra individual help, into their regular classes.

Fifth Grade—Clella Moles
The 5-B class members have made some interesting booklets about the silk industry of Europe.

Fifth A, Sixth B—M. Adeline Lee
The fifth graders have memorized "A Winter Song."

The following received a free period Thursday afternoon, for room citizenship: Helen Ribar, Rosemary West, Doris Jean Lockwood, Jeanette Lath, Mary Price, Catherine Compton, Billy Swadling and Wilbur Kincaid. We made some interesting bird posters at this time.

Mrs. Lee has finished reading "Mrs. Wiggins of the Cabbage Patch," to us, which we all enjoyed. She is now reading "The Little Colonel's Hero."

Homer Miles has left, having moved to Pontiac.

Ralph Roy has been absent for some time on account of sickness. The fifth graders are making industry maps of the United States.

The sixth graders are making drawings of the teeth. We are reviewing in all of our subjects, getting ready for our semester exams.

AUTOS NEED CONTROL SHOWN FARMERS WEEK

STUDENTS BUILD CAR GUIDED BY AGENCIES DETACHED FROM OPERATING MECHANISM.

Apparatus that should interest every careless automobile driver will be used to demonstrate the possibility of operating a car with a system of remote controls at the electrical show held during Farmers Week, January 30 to February 3, at Michigan State College.

Students in the electrical engineering department have built a car that obeys the commands of controlling agencies that are not a part of nor attached to the car. If such controls could be made automatically to take over the guidance of cars that are being carelessly operated, pedestrians would get more pleasure out of life.

A smokeless smokestack will also be a part of the electrical exhibit. Engineers have found that it is possible to precipitate the carbon out of smoke by using the carbon in the smoke as part of an electric circuit.

Household appliances, radios, fixtures, lighting plants, and laboratory equipment will have their part in the show. One of the developments from the radio field that will be shown is an amplifier that makes it possible to hear a goldfish swim.

The effect of electrical appliances upon the reception of radio programs will also be discussed.

Visitors to the show will be given an opportunity to determine that a million volts of one type of electricity is harmless in its effects upon the body.

The normal temperature of the human body is 98.4 degrees, but some heads frequently appear hotter.

Today's Reflections

The most unattractive thing to a man is a desk stacked high with bills and to a woman a sink stacked full of dishes.

We may have some pretty dumb men around Plymouth, but we've never, yet heard of one boasting about his wealth to a tax assessor.

This would be a better world to live in if it offered a man as many opportunities to make money as it offers him to make a fool of himself.

It looks as if it would pay the U. S. government to put Lindbergh on the payroll indefinitely as flying ambassador.

As a general rule when a Plymouth boy is sick everybody but his mother thinks he is only shamming to get out of work.

If the women were as strong for the eight-hour day as the men are there would be a lot of dirty dishes around the house every night.

Another advantage of going to church on Sunday morning is the pews don't jolt, skid, climb a telephone pole or turn turtle.

Maybe the reason happiness never latches for some Plymouth people is because they keep chasing the hen off the nest.

The finest man you ever met is the one who agrees with you in everything and then compliments you on your good judgment.

Experts say the auto business has a saturation point. Some of the drivers reach that point quite often.

Just think how much larger the treasury surplus would be if Uncle Sam would quit publishing bulletins that nobody reads but the proof-readers.

The reason some Plymouth men don't have to tire their brains thinking up alibis for their failures is because they have wives they can always blame them on.

We can't understand the craze to break into the senate. The show isn't worth the price of a seat.

If complaining got us anywhere most of us would be kicking over the side of the income tax we had to pay.

And another thing, we might not have as many gossips in Plymouth if we didn't have so many ready and willing to listen.

The new 1928 license plate is just as hard to read after you've been run over by an auto as was the 1927 kind.

So news seems to fit together naturally. We read that 1928 is going to be a big year for the sale of autos, and alongside it an item that more hospitals are being built than ever before.

The way some people around Plymouth drive cars it would be a lot more in keeping to remove the steering wheel and put a bigger horn button on the post.

Wonder what an efficiency expert would do if you asked him to find something in which to wrap up an order of wrapping paper?

The most important thing to a successful marriage is not giving the bride away but giving the bride her way.

These are pleasant evenings for the Plymouth man who brought "the family" a radio for Christmas.

Today's Reflections

The most unattractive thing to a man is a desk stacked high with bills and to a woman a sink stacked full of dishes.

We may have some pretty dumb men around Plymouth, but we've never, yet heard of one boasting about his wealth to a tax assessor.

This would be a better world to live in if it offered a man as many opportunities to make money as it offers him to make a fool of himself.

It looks as if it would pay the U. S. government to put Lindbergh on the payroll indefinitely as flying ambassador.

As a general rule when a Plymouth boy is sick everybody but his mother thinks he is only shamming to get out of work.

If the women were as strong for the eight-hour day as the men are there would be a lot of dirty dishes around the house every night.

Another advantage of going to church on Sunday morning is the pews don't jolt, skid, climb a telephone pole or turn turtle.

Maybe the reason happiness never latches for some Plymouth people is because they keep chasing the hen off the nest.

The finest man you ever met is the one who agrees with you in everything and then compliments you on your good judgment.

Experts say the auto business has a saturation point. Some of the drivers reach that point quite often.

Just think how much larger the treasury surplus would be if Uncle Sam would quit publishing bulletins that nobody reads but the proof-readers.

The reason some Plymouth men don't have to tire their brains thinking up alibis for their failures is because they have wives they can always blame them on.

We can't understand the craze to break into the senate. The show isn't worth the price of a seat.

If complaining got us anywhere most of us would be kicking over the side of the income tax we had to pay.

And another thing, we might not have as many gossips in Plymouth if we didn't have so many ready and willing to listen.

The new 1928 license plate is just as hard to read after you've been run over by an auto as was the 1927 kind.

So news seems to fit together naturally. We read that 1928 is going to be a big year for the sale of autos, and alongside it an item that more hospitals are being built than ever before.

The way some people around Plymouth drive cars it would be a lot more in keeping to remove the steering wheel and put a bigger horn button on the post.

Wonder what an efficiency expert would do if you asked him to find something in which to wrap up an order of wrapping paper?

The United States Employment Service predicts good times and plenty of work for 1928.

The old bugaboo of a bad election year seems to have vanished.

The ranks of millionaire Americans are thinner, only 29,897 in 1926 against 30,518 in 1925. The ultra rich, however, are increasing. Two hundred and twenty-eight Americans had incomes of $1,000,000 or more last year, only 207 in 1925.

Quite a few have incomes above $5,000,000 a year. The government does not give their names.

Young people may be interested in a definition of true love printed by Frank S. Hoag on the front page of the Pueblo Star Journal. "Love is that which a girl has who goes with a man who doesn't own a motor car. But maybe her idea is companionate marriage."

Ho: "I improved my golf game a hundred per cent last Sunday."
Bo: "But I didn't see you on the links."
Ho: "I wasn't. I cleaned out the furnace and my profanity is now practically perfect."

When a Plymouth man has a car that thinks all his money should be spent on it and a wife who thinks it all should be spent on her, which should be given the preference?

Secretary Hoover summarizes the last year as regards wages and employment thus:

"There was little unemployment except during a moderate recession near the end of the year and the rate of real wages remained higher than anywhere else in the world, or than in any other time of the world's history. The high prospect of the year did not represent merely an upward swing in the business cycle, but was the result of that general and permanent progress which has marked the nation's business."

That is a situation for American business men to keep in mind, thus avoiding damaging doubtful hesitation. Business and prosperity in this country have climbed to a permanently higher plane and, barring foolishness, will stay there.

John D. Rockefeller, eighty-eight years old, immediately changes his "stance" at golf, when told by a professional that he stood too close to the ball. That change lengthened his drive by twenty yards.

Mr. Rockefeller has said that his success in the beginning was due to patience and economy.

It may have been due also to his ability to listen to others and take advice. That is a thing that many young men who would like to be Rockefeller's have not learned to do.

Christopher Columbus' memory is to be honored by building a magnificent lighthouse costing $4,000,000. What is left of Columbus' body will lie under the lighthouse on a reservation given by the Government of San Domingo.

Columbus would be puzzled by one feature of his memorial, namely, lights shooting up into the air to guide fliers. He would think angels were expected. Architects are invited to compete in this enterprise, which should stir the imagination.

The late Gavin McNah, an extremely able lawyer of San Francisco, leaves $40,000 to two clients to make up for McNah's bad advice about investments.

It is fortunate for the heirs of certain gentlemen in and out of Wall Street that such requests are not customary or compulsory. If Wall Street gentlemen had to make good losses caused by bad advice on investments, there would not be much left for legal heirs.

The Department of Commerce says that in 250 principal cities of the United States every human being pays an average of $4.09 a year for police protection. Add the cost of courts, prisons, district attorneys, etc., you find that crime costs many hundreds of millions a year. Add the "get-rich-quick crimes" and it runs to billions.

Unfortunately, what Lloyd George says of war is true also of crime, only education can end it. And this earth is many centuries from being really educated.

Picked Up About Town

Dad Plymouth says all your sins may be forgiven, but that they're sure to trouble you again if you run for office.

A Mexican woman 118 years old has just been vaccinated for smallpox. That's what we call optimism.

Dad Plymouth declares that whenever he finds two men in perfect accord as to how a golf game should be played he is going to take up the game.

According to Dad Plymouth an auto show is a place where every part of the car is on display except the mortgage.

That Paris style expert who has decreed longer skirts also doubtless believes that water can be made to run up hill.

"It has always struck me as funny," asserts Dad Plymouth, "that a man who is afraid to marry a red-haired girl will turn right around and marry an empty-headed one."

"Those who think married life depends only on love," asserts Dad Plymouth, "have never tried to live on that."

"They still put a lot of money into clothes," declares Dad Plymouth, "but the girls don't put as much of themselves into them as they used to."

Dad Plymouth says he's glad the holidays are over so he can look forward to the coming of the seed catalog, the first robin and the annual fuss over who mistaid his hat at housecleaning time.

How long the average Plymouth married man is remembered after he is gone depends on how much life insurance he leaves.

"I'm Leaving Hundreds of Bargains Like These."

—says Bargain Bill. And they sure are bargains. High-class merchandise and lowest possible prices—that's what marks bargains, and "these are them" as our friend Bargain Bill would say.

OUR RUMMAGE SALE has sold us a lot of odds and ends of merchandise and you will still find many bargains in Remnants, Underwear, Children's Dresses, Ladies' Dresses and Aprons, etc., etc.

This part of "Bargain Bill's" great sale is in the basement. You are your own saleslady. Look over and choose your own goods.
