

THIRD FATHER AND SON BANQUET TO BE HELD FEB. 16

Banquet is Sponsored By Hi-Y Club, Boy Scouts and Newly Organized Torch Club.

Speaker of Note to Be on Program— Tickets Are Now on Sale.

The third annual community father and son banquet will be held in the High school auditorium next week Thursday, February 16th. This banquet is sponsored this year by three organizations, the Hi-Y club, the Boy Scouts and the recently organized Torch club, who are entering on this as their first community activity.

Plans of these organizations are being developed along the same lines as in the two previous years. The principal speaker of the evening will be Irwin C. Johnson of Detroit, who is director of boys' work for the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan. His subject will be "Fathers and Sons—Pals." Mr. Johnson has made an enviable record with his work among the young people, and his first public appearance in Plymouth should prove very inspiring.

For the sons, the toastmaster will introduce Lynn Partridge, a senior in high school. Although this is his first year in Plymouth, the committee is agreed that he is the logical boy for the job, and all will be glad to hear him.

For the fathers the response will be given by Sidney D. Strong, one of the advisors of the Hi-Y club and scoutmaster of the local Boy Scout troop. Everyone who knows Mr. Strong recognizes his keen interest in boys, and all are sure to be well pleased in coming to hear him.

The banquet will be served by the ladies' organization of one of our churches in the High school auditorium, and "a real feed" is promised. Music has not been forgotten, and the Whipple-Jolliffe male quartet will sing again, as last year.

Tickets are in the hands of boys of each organization, and may be reserved at each church Sunday or by calling the high school. The number of seats will be limited, and it is hoped that those who wish to be present will make their plans early. As in previous years, the tickets are only seventy-five cents, so as to be within the reach of all. Last year about two hundred enjoyed the banquet together. Will you be there to have a part in the greater celebration next Thursday?

ROTARIANS HEAR MISS GLADYS L. PECKHAM.

The members of the Plymouth Rotary Club had the pleasure of hearing a very interesting talk by Miss Gladys L. Peckham, home economics instructor for the Michigan Federated Utilities, at their noon-day luncheon hour last Friday. Miss Peckham gave a brief outline of the work in the cooking classes which she is conducting here every Wednesday afternoon for a period of six weeks.

The speaker pointed out the advantages to be gained by the instructions received at these cooking classes, and stated that the local gas company wanted every homemaker in Plymouth to have the opportunity of receiving these free instructions in the most up-to-date labor saving devices and in the proper methods of using household appliances.

At the conclusion of Miss Peckham's talk she was given a hearty round of applause, and was presented with a beautiful bouquet of flowers from the club.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

At a meeting of the board of directors and membership committee of the Chamber of Commerce Wednesday evening, it was decided to put on the annual membership drive next week. Frank Rambo, F. D. Schrader, Edward Gayde, Paul Wiedman, George Robinson, Carl Shear, Lawrence Johnson, Frank Pierce and Wm. Wood were appointed to have charge of the campaign, with power to appoint assistants. If you have not already joined the Chamber of Commerce or renewed your membership, you will be given an opportunity next week to do so.

COMMISSION FIXES NEW WATER RATES

A regular meeting of the village commission was held Monday evening, at which a large number of citizens were present. After the disposal of the regular routine of business, the matter of raising the water rates, which has been under discussion for the past several weeks, was taken up. A proposed rate which had been worked out by Commissioner Learned and Village Manager Weltner was then presented. The proposed rate was as follows:

0 to 25,000 gallons, 25c per 1,000 gallons
25,000 to 100,000 gallons, 15c per 1,000 gallons
100,000 gallons and up, 8c per 1,000 gallons

In addition to the above rates, the meter charges as noted below were to be added. These rates included a rental charge of $4.80 for fire hydrants.

After considerable discussion of the above rates in which a number of citizens participated, the commission finally adopted the following schedule of rates as recommended by the American Water Works Association:

0 to 25,000 gallons, 25c per 1,000 gallons
25,000 to 100,000 gallons, 20c per 1,000 gallons
Over 100,000 gallons, 15c per 1,000 gallons

This rate provides for a fire hydrant rental the same as in effect at the present time, $10 per hydrant, or $1,000. In addition to the above rates the following meter charges will be made:

5/8-inch meter, 60c per quarter
3/4-inch meter, 90c per quarter
1-inch meter, $1.50 per quarter
1 1/4-inch meter, $3.00 per quarter
2-inch meter, $6.00 per quarter
3-inch meter, $8.40 per quarter
4-inch meter, $10.80 per quarter
6-inch meter, $18.00 per quarter

The cost of producing the water to the consumer has been figured out to be .10875 per 1,000 gallons. The present water rates are not adequate to take care of a deficit in the water department, and it was for the reason of putting it upon a self-sustaining basis that made necessary the readjustment of the rates.

The new rates will not be effective until they are incorporated in an ordinance and given first, second and third readings.

New Church Edifice of Our Lady of Good Counsel

OUR LADY OF GOOD COUNSEL CHURCH

We are pleased to present herewith a half-tone picture of the new edifice of Our Lady of Good Counsel church, which is practically completed in all its details. The old building which has been in use for several years, had become inadequate to meet the demands of the growing membership, and early last fall steps were taken to provide a larger building.

The old church building forms the nucleus around which the new building has been constructed. The new edifice is Gothic in design, and presents a splendid exterior appearance.

The entrance to the church is made through massive oak double doors into a large vestibule, and then into the church proper, which has a seating capacity of 475 persons. This room is 40x72 feet in size and has a sanctuary 20x22 feet in size. Six large Gothic colored glass windows are on each side of the room, admitting plenty of light and ventilation.

The sanctuary has been beautifully carpeted and otherwise furnished. On the east side of the sanctuary is the priest's sacristy and on the south side is the altar boys' room. The organ loft is at the front of the church, and is reached by a stairway leading from the north side of the building near the vestibule. A stairway on the south side of the building leads to the basement. About midway between the front of the building and the sanctuary on either side of the room, are two confessionals.

Comfortable oak pews have been provided. The walls of the main room have been decorated in a cream color with stencil design in light green. The ceiling is in an ivory tint. The sanctuary is done in old gold. Two rows of hidden ceiling electric lights and a number of side wall lights provide plenty of artificial light.

The wide aisle down the middle of the church is covered by an inlaid tile hioleum.

Passing from the front of the church down into the basement, one enters the mahogany room, which has been fitted up for the smaller social functions of the church. This room is provided with a fully equipped kitchen, check room, and lavatories for ladies and gentlemen. Large folding doors from this room lead into a splendid auditorium, 40x60 feet in size. This room is well lighted and ventilated by windows on either side. The walls are decorated in a two-tone stencil work, while the ceilings are done in an ivory tint.

The floor is of terrazzo. A ladies' rest room has been provided. An outside entrance to the basement on the north side of the church, on Dodge street, makes it easily accessible from the outside.

The large auditorium and mahogany room will provide plenty of facilities for carrying on the social activities of the church. The entire building is heated by steam.

The opening of the new auditorium will take place next Tuesday evening, February 14th, when the O. L. of G. C. will give a dancing party, to which the public is cordially invited.

The W. E. Wood Co. of Detroit, had the general building contract, with Neil D. McLellan, superintendent in charge. The Corbett Electric Co. of Plymouth, had the electrical contract.

Our Lady of Good Counsel church was organized as a mission here, and was held for several years in the Grange hall, and was supplied by a non-resident pastor. About seven years ago, Rev. Fr. Frank C. Lefevre was assigned to this parish, and he has continued as pastor of the local church since that time except for a period of about two years which he spent in the west for his health.

When Fr. Lefevre assumed the pastorate here, the church had a membership of only thirty-five families, and today it has a membership of 135 families.

REV. FR. F. C. LEFEVRE

He is and is enjoying a steady growth. Fr. Lefevre has been a tireless worker in behalf of the church, and it has been largely through his efforts that the church has grown and prospered, and the handsome new building stands today as a worthy monument to the pastor and his loyal parishioners. The new edifice is not only a credit to the members of the church, but to the whole community as well.

During the time Fr. Lefevre has been a resident of Plymouth, he has always taken an active part in every movement that was for the good of Plymouth. He is a genial and courteous gentleman, and is highly esteemed by the citizens of Plymouth and vicinity.

Soon after Easter the Rt. Rev. M. J. Gallagher, bishop of Detroit, will be extended an invitation to visit Plymouth and view the new church and preside over the dedication services.

HOME SERVICE CLASSES GROWING IN ATTENDANCE AND INTEREST.

About seventy ladies attended the Home Service class conducted by Miss Gladys L. Peckham at the office of the Michigan Federated Utilities in the I. O. O. F. temple building last week Wednesday. The lesson last week was on the preparation of baking chocolate biscuit, muffins, orange sandwich and whole wheat raisin bread. The important points brought out were the baking, cutting the fat into the flour, handling the dough as little as possible and baking quickly in a hot oven. Miss Peckham's methods are very clearly written and easily followed, thereby bringing up many important points in the baking and preparation of other foods.

This week Wednesday the lesson was on cake baking. Pineapple and English marble cake was prepared and served to the order of the class. The principles of baking were explained, also the reasons why some cakes fall because they crack on top, crumble or are soggy and fall.

The lesson for Wednesday afternoon, February 15th, at 2:30 o'clock, will be on meats, broiled and roasted. Chicken will be roasted, carved and served.

The ladies of Plymouth and vicinity are cordially invited to come and avail themselves of Miss Peckham's help at these Home Service lessons.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN

In the scroll of the illustrious men who have lived and died for America, no name shines more brightly than that of Abraham Lincoln, the rugged, typically American figure whose deeds and words are a light and an inspiration for all the time to come. For Abraham Lincoln was not born to pomp and power; Abraham Lincoln had no heritage of wealth or royal blood; Abraham Lincoln had no smooth road to tread. What he accomplished came of the sweat of his brow, the labor of his hands, the strain of his every faculty. And at the last his life was lost in the great causes for which he had fought with an ardor seldom equaled in history.

A poor boy was our Lincoln, without even the advantage of an easily accessible education; he trod miles to get a book, which he studied in the cabin freight of his humble home. Tall and ungainly, a veritable tree of strength and courage, he strode from the log cabin to the White House.

Few men have inspired such reverence as he. Writers have split hairs about the qualities of the great of our land; the one unassailable figure, perhaps, is Abraham Lincoln. No one has split hairs about the character of the revered rail splitter; it shines through the ages with undiminished flame; his heart-beat is still echoing in the nation today.

THE MUD HOG.

Now that the season of thawing, with its slush and mud, is but a short time away, we might as well begin making room for a new type of hog. He is the fellow who looks neither to right nor left but drives his car through mud-puddles and enjoys watching pedestrians hop back in anticipation of what is to come. Pedestrians are quite often stopped while crossing a street before they reach the opposite side. It is then that the new kind of hog gets in his work by splashing them with mud or muddy water instead of driving slowly to avoid such an occurrence. We believe Plymouth motorists are as considerate as those to be found anywhere else. And yet some of them become careless and forgetful. Wouldn't it be a good idea for everyone who drives a car to make a resolve, now that the thawing season is near at hand, that he or she will not operate their cars so as to be classed as "mud hogs"?

LEARNING FROM FORD.

The Plymouth man who knows how to profit by the examples of others can find something of value in the way Henry Ford has just finished scrapping the 199 wartime ships he recently bought from the government. He paid $1,697,470 for them, and that he has finished the most complete job of salvaging the world has ever seen. It is estimated that he made something like four times that sum out of them. Pieces of wood too small for use were saved for kindling; the sawdust was sold for covering the floors of meat and fish markets. Nails and rivet heads were melted down, and the big rope cables unstranded and made into twine. Paper was ground up and made into cardboard for shipping containers and broken glass was melted and run out into new sheets. Everything was saved on every boat but the squeak of the windlass, and when the job was done we had the best evidence ever offered to prove the truthfulness of the old adage that if we waste not we will want not.

ANOTHER PREDICTION

Now that water power is coming into more general use and electricity is so cheap in many communities that it can be used for heating as well as lighting, some writers are predicting that the day is not far distant when coal will be scored as fuel. They predicted the same thing about gas a quarter of a century ago, and in more recent years they've had crude oil replacing coal. All of which reminds us that not many years ago we were somewhat alarmed at the prophecies that our coal supply could only last 100 years or so, and then humanity would be in for a good long shiver. But so many of these terrible problems have been solving themselves naturally and casually, like the water power of the country is going to solve any possible shortage in coal, that we don't worry as much as we used to. It takes more to frighten us now than it took to frighten our forefathers.

THE BUILDING OUTLOOK.

Business and financial writers are assuring us that prosperity is apt to be "spotted" throughout the year. By that they mean that some sections are due to have more than their share of prosperity, while other sections are going to find business lagging. But on one thing they are agreed, and it is something that ought to interest everyone around Plymouth who have dreams of some time owning their own homes. They agree that the cost of building this spring and summer is going to be lower than for several years. Competition in building materials is said to be growing keener as spring draws nearer, while labor is going to be easy to secure since there is more than a normal amount of unemployment.

Considering these reports, it seems to be a good time for those who have long contemplated building to go at it in earnest. Real estate values in this section are not going to slump. Ground here will always be worth as much as it is now, and each new house erected will serve to make it still more valuable. So, with this fact in mind, and the additional knowledge that it may be a long time before building material can be had at present prices, it would look as though the prospective home-owner who doesn't make his dream come true this spring or summer is going to miss a mighty fine opportunity.

HOME-TOWN OPPORTUNITIES.

We frequently hear the complaint voiced by younger residents of Plymouth that they are fed up with the small town and that they long to get out into the world where they can do things and enjoy life to the fullest. We suppose that only experience can teach them the disappointments the outside world holds for many of them. Sometimes the only way to convince the growing boy or girl is to let them go their own way and learn for themselves.

While those who have gone through the same thing can sympathize with the boy who isn't satisfied with his home town, they know nevertheless that when all things are weighed and considered opportunities in it are far greater than they were a generation ago and, as far as happiness and contentment are concerned, still greater than in the larger places into which they want to drift. We have the auto, the radio, the picture show the same as boasted by the large cities. But along with them we have something that the big city is usually short on, and that is genuine sociability and the friendship of those about us. We may not live as "fast" as they do in the big cities, but we are due to live a little longer. And that means something.

Of course, not all of our boys and girls can remain in the old home town. No one expects them to. But those who do take advantage of opportunities and find a life-work here at home are not going to regret it in later years. There's still a chance to grow up and amount to something in the old home town, and the boy who is seeking real happiness will try to work into that chance. There's always plenty of time to go elsewhere when you can't make good at home.

REGISTRATION NOTICE

The Board of Registration of the Village of Plymouth will meet at the Village Hall Saturday, March 3rd, and Saturday, March 10, from 8:00 o'clock in the forenoon until 7:30 o'clock in the afternoon, for the purpose of completing the registration of the electors of the village.

MUNICIPAL NOTES
BY THE MANAGER

The plans and specifications for the paving of Penniman avenue from Harvey to Moreland are all ready for advertising for bids and the plans and specifications for Arthur and Adams streets will soon be ready. These contracts will be let in about thirty days.

Would the parties circulating the other petitions kindly get them signed and bring them into the village hall at once, so that they can be let with the bids mentioned above?

Plans and specifications are being made for a storm sewer on Harvey street from the north line of Eckman's subdivision, which is just south of Brush street, to the creek, on Byron avenue. This will probably be let with the paving contracts.

As soon as the weather permits the downtown streets are to be painted for parking. There will be no angle parking on the south side of Penniman avenue from Main street to Harvey street. There will be parallel parking only on both sides of Penniman avenue in this block after that. Free parking will be provided behind the theatre and stores on a vacant lot.

The burning of paper boxes, etc., behind the stores without anybody watching these fires has got to be stopped entirely. As soon as this vacant lot is used for parking there will be no fires of any kind permitted there. This will be strictly enforced by our fire marshal and police department.

One of the Sell-Out-Quicks
By AD SCHUSTER
(Copyright.)
IN MANY parts of the world are to be found proud families founded upon the wealth which came from the Comstock lode in Nevada. Playner Pratt, who was the most influential citizen of a small Massachusetts city, had little in his elegant bearing and manner to recall a sun-tanned and bearded man who urged a mule up the slopes some fifty years ago.

Playner was fat now and his hands and hair were white. He was possessed of wealth, a family, and a large sense of importance. It may have been that the hardships put into the acquisition of his fortune demanded the largest rewards, or it may have been the ambitions which come to the small man suddenly possessed of power that determined the course of the old miner's life. He was resolved that his daughter Millicent would marry a millionaire or a title, was overbearing and pompous and, with it all, was thoroughly convinced that the country held few men so shrewd or responsible as he.

The father was the obstacle in the way of the romance of Millicent and Lawrence Greer.
"But you, sir," the young man argued, "started out poorer than I am. Of all men you should understand that money isn't everything."
Playner swelled and thumped the arm of his chair.
"The times have changed," he answered. "I made my money by taking it from the ground, the most honorable way of all, for not a cent of it came from the pockets of anyone else. While I worked I made my plans and you, sir, are not in them." He leaned forward and something of the old miner showed in the softened face. "You're not to think of it any more. Give it up or else," he smiled, "go out and make a million like I did."

Lawrence took his troubles on a vacation trip, a transcontinental automobile journey which his father in course of time into the very Nevada where Playner Pratt had struck it rich. Because he had heard from Playner and Millicent some of the stories of the old Virginia City, Lawrence went there, driving up a steep grade over the mountains from Reno. There he found Virginia City, a place of memories which had given to the world some $700,000,000 in gold and silver. He saw the old "Enterprise," boarded up and given to the dust, and recalled that this was the paper upon which Mark Twain had worked. Then he dropped into the "Chronicle" office where a press fifty years old was still doing duty three times a week, and where the files, way back into the sixties were shelved in a corner. Lawrence felt the charm of the place and lingered for several days visiting the second-hand store, the old "Sawdust Corner" and, above all, the soft-drink parlor which was once the Con. Aern resort. Here he saw upon an old register the names of William T. Sherman, Henry George, Thomas A. Edison, Phil Sherman and hundreds of others who had dropped into the famous place in the days when there were thirty thousand or more in the city which gathered its men from all parts of the earth.

In a barber shop a hste man with a musical voice showed him an early file of registration books.
"I can look them all up here," said the man, "and any time an argument comes up concerning the age or politics of an old-timer, I turn to my books."
Lawrence turned the pages. Some of the names were marked as "Democrats," some as "Republicans," and some described as "S. O. Q." And there in the list was Playner Pratt "And what," asked Lawrence, "does this S. O. Q. mean?"

The barber smiled. "We had them in those days. They were the 'Sell Out Quicks,' and their votes went to the first man who reached them with money."
"And would you mind if I took a photograph of just one page? It is all very interesting."
The photograph of the page was carried by the air mail from Reno to the East and was delivered to the desk of Playner Pratt who gave it long and thoughtful attention. A week later when Lawrence had reached San Francisco he found a letter awaiting him from Millicent.
"I don't know what has come over father," she wrote, "but he says he has changed his mind and that if I can't be happy without marrying you, to go ahead. Hurry home."

French Farmers Worry
as Prices Decrease
Paris.—French farmers are worried over a fall of 30 to 35 per cent in all farm products since last May.

M. Pierre de Moncault, member of the chamber of deputies and regarded in France as speaking with greater authority on farm affairs than any other man in public life, declares the reduction has brought about a destructive crisis in French agriculture.
"It has resulted," he says, "in an intense movement from the farm to town. The number of farms for sale increase daily. The best farmers, those who have been more or less successful in the past, are the ones who are abandoning their fields to seek a happier fortune in the city."
While he blames failure of lower production costs to accompany the fall in agricultural produce as the immediate cause of the present crisis, M. de Moncault attaches considerable responsibility to the lack of suitable farm credits.
Industrial enterprises obtaining capital through issuance of stock are not required to pay until the undertaking is profitable, whereas the farmer who gets credit must pay when his crop is gathered, regardless of success or failure, he says.

Letter Taken From Bottom of Sea Is Delivered
Oakland, Calif.—A letter that had lain at the bottom of the Mediterranean sea for more than ten years is back in the possession of its writer, Ronald Wilkins, here. Mr. Wilkins wrote the letter to his mother, Mrs. A. Wilkins of London, while he was in a hospital recovering from a wound received at Salonika. The transport which carried the letter was torpedoed and sunk. A few months ago the ship was raised and the decipherable mail delivered. When Mrs. Wilkins received the letter she forwarded it to her son here.

IN MEMORIAM
In sad and loving memory of our dear husband and father, Charles F. Rutenbar, who passed away two years ago, February 13, 1926.
Never shall his memory fade,
Sleep on, dear father, thy pain is o'er,
Thy willing hands shall toil no more;
Rest on that bright and peaceful shore,
Where pain and sorrow are no more.
We would not wish him here,
We know God loves him best,
And took him from this world of toil
To the land of eternal rest.
A loving father, true and kind,
No friend like him on earth we'll find,
For all of us he did his best,
And God gave him eternal rest.
His Loving Wife and Children.

Present: Commissioners Hondorp, Pierce, Learned and President Fisher. Absent: Commissioner Henderson.
 The minutes of the regular meeting of January 9th were read and approved.
 Six nominating petitions for the office of Village Commissioner were filed as follows: Paul J. Nutting, Carl G. Shear, Henry Hondorp, and Frank Learned for the term of two years, and Fred D. Schrader and John W. Henderson for the term of one year. A motion was made by Commissioner Pierce, seconded by Commissioner Learned, that the petitions be accepted.

The surety bond furnished by the Michigan Federated Utilities Company was filed as required by the franchise. On motion by Commissioner Learned, seconded by Commissioner Pierce, the bond was accepted as read.
 A petition was presented by the residents and tax payers of Arthur street, asking that Arthur street be paved. On motion of Commissioner Learned, seconded by Commissioner Hondorp, the petition was ordered returned, and the names of owners of all vacant lots ordered to be attached before its acceptance.
 A report was made by the manager of a survey of sanitary sewers on Harvey and Adams streets, and a motion was made by Commissioner Learned, seconded by Commissioner Pierce, that property holders be notified to connect with the sanitary sewers on or before May 1, 1928, and unless this is done they will be connected by the village, and the cost charged to them at the regular rate for sanitary sewer connections.

A motion was made by Commissioner Hondorp and seconded by Commissioner Learned, that a public hearing be held January 18th, at 7:00 p. m., and the representatives of the large users of water be invited to attend for the purpose of considering an increase in water rates made necessary because of a deficit in the water fund, and that a meeting be called for January 25th, for the same purpose, at which the users of water for domestic purposes be invited to attend.
 The following resolution was offered by Commissioner Hondorp, seconded by Commissioner Learned:

RESOLVED, That the following proposed amendments to the Charter be submitted to the voters at the general election to be held March 12, 1928.
 Chapter 9, Section 5.—(Changed by substituting the word "may" for "shall.")
 Special assessments, to defray the estimated cost of any improvement, may be levied before the making of the improvement, when the work is done by the village, the spreading of the assessment may be deferred until the completion of the work.

Section 10.—(Changing number of installments from five to ten.)
 Upon the confirmation of any special assessment, the amount thereof, may be divided into not more than ten installments, one of which shall be collected each year, at such times as the commission shall determine, and the rate of interest to tax payers shall not be greater than the interest rate on the bonds, and not to exceed six per cent per annum, but the whole assessment after confirmation may be paid to the village treasurer at any time in full, with the proportionate interest thereon. The number of installments shall be such that no installment against any parcel of land shall exceed five per cent of the value of such parcel as shown by the village assessment roll confirmed next preceding the levying of such assessment.
 Chapter 10, Section 34.—(Changed to include sentence enclosed in parentheses.)

The commission is authorized and empowered to issue bonds to the amount of any special assessment, or to the amount of the aggregate of all the installments of a special assessment, in anticipation of the collection thereof. Such bonds shall draw interest not exceeding six per cent per annum, as the commission may determine, and shall be payable out of the special assessment district fund when the assessment is collected. (In case the amount collected on such special assessment shall be insufficient to pay principal and interest of such bonds as they fall due, the village shall advance the necessary amount from the general fund, reimbursing itself out of the special assessment when collected.) Such bonds shall be payable in two years, or less as the commission shall determine, from the time limited for the collection of special assessment by the village treasurer. If the assessment is divided into installments, the bonds shall be apportioned against the amounts of the several installments as the commission may determine, and shall severally be payable in two years or less from the time for the collection of the several installments by the village treasurer. The assessment when collected shall be set apart into a separate fund for the payment of such bonds. Contractors for the construction of street pavements and sewers may be required to take their pay in said bonds. Said bonds in no event shall be sold, or otherwise disposed of, at less than their par value.
 A motion was made by Commissioner Hondorp, seconded by Commissioner Pierce, that a check for $1,642.07 be drawn on the Cemetery Fund and deposited with the Security Trust Company for the perpetual care of cemetery lots.

WIRELESS NEARLY 90 YEARS OF AGE

Chicago.—Radio, once known as "wireless" underwent a process of elimination before the present radiation system was adopted. This method was preceded by two others, in which attempts at sending without wires were made by conduction and induction.

The conduction system was discovered by Professor Steinhell, a German inventor, in 1838. He stumbled upon it when experimenting with steel rails in an endeavor to substitute them for telegraph wires. He found that by using only one telegraph wire, with the earth as the return circuit, telegraph instruments functioned as well as with two wires. This method still is in use.
 Steinhell next tried to telegraph solely through the earth. This experimental is said to be the first successful attempt to telegraph without wires, and 50 feet were covered.
 S. B. Morse, inventor of wire telegraph and telegraph code, followed up Steinhell's experiments and in 1814 transmitted messages across a canal 75 feet wide. This was accomplished by two metal conductors in each side of the canal. By the insertion of a battery between the two underwater plates a current was carried across the canal with the water as the conductor. Three miles was the greatest distance reached.

Professor Dolbear of Tufts college, Boston, in 1832 invented an induction transmission device. By this method an electrical influence exerted by a charged body or by a magnetic field is sent to neighboring bodies without wires. Professor Dolbear was able to transmit both telegraph and voice.
 The radiation method is used today in both broadcasting and commercial radio. It comprises a means of disturbing the ether so that a series of electrical waves are produced. Marconi was a pioneer in this field.

The commission adjourned.

 WILLIAM WELTNER, Clerk.

Locomotive Crossed Missouri River on Ice

White Cloud, Kan.—The first locomotive to reach Kansas crossed the Missouri river under its own steam, but the stream was frozen over.
 This locomotive was owned by what is known today as the Grand Island railroad. At that time it was called the Marysville or Palmetto Roseport railroad, which was organized in 1857.
 In 1858 the company had built four miles of line from Elwood, Kan., on the Missouri river opposite St. Joseph to Wathena. The company received at St. Joseph its first rolling stock in the form of a small locomotive which arrived over the newly constructed Hannibal & St. Joseph railroad.

It was quite a question at first how the locomotive would be brought over the river to the new line. There was no bridge at that time and the owner of the little ferryboat was not willing to risk all his invested capital in the sinking of his vessel in transporting the engine across. He refused to let the engine be put on board.
 The weather, however, solved the problem. Being a very severe winter, the Missouri soon was frozen over from bank to bank. Over the rails on the ice the engine was sent under its own steam, though it is said the engine men were unwilling to take the perilous journey and a second man had to step aboard as the western shore was reached to bring the engine to a stop.
 The country's annual candy bill is certainly a jawbreaker.
 Lindbergh sets politicians a good example by always keeping his feet on the ground except when he's flying.

A motion was made by Commissioner Hondorp, seconded by Commissioner Pierce, that the chairman appoint a committee of five, one each to represent the factories, the Chamber of Commerce, the domestic consumer, the Village Commission and the Manager. Said committee to meet on Monday afternoon, January 30th, at 2:00 p. m., to consider a rate to be submitted to the village commission at a special meeting to be held at 7:00 p. m., January 30th. The motion was carried, and the following committee appointed: Paul Nutting to represent the Chamber of Commerce; E. C. Hough to represent the factories; George Robinson to represent the domestic consumers; Frank Learned and the manager to represent the Village Commission.
 The commission adjourned.

Life Span to Continue to Grow, Says Doctor

Washington.—The world is becoming healthier and the span of life will continue to increase, in the opinion of Dr. Marf F. Boyd of the Rockefeller Medical Institute of New York.
 Doctor Boyd, who has written a thesis on preventive medicine for the annual report of the Smithsonian Institution, forecasts a world offensive on disease.
 "There will first be a gradual diminution of the total death rate, due to the gradual disappearance of the preventable diseases as causes of mortality," he predicted.
 "A change in the age distribution of deaths will next be apparent."
 Doctor Boyd said that individuals, under improved conditions, will have a better chance of a "normal duration" of life.
 He also forecasts that unhealthful regions of the earth will be made habitable, relieving overcrowding, and "more of the earth's treasures will be made available for mankind."
 "The economic productivity of the individual as well as of the race will be increased and as a consequence individual and national wealth will increase and poverty and want diminish," he continued.
 "The supply of animal foods will increase."
 "Lastly, we may prophesy an improvement in the general physical condition of the race."

Only Child Makes Best Playground Head
 Memphis, Tenn.—The young man or woman who has been brought up in a large family is not so likely to be successful in directing children on a playground as one who is the only child of a family or has only one brother or sister. This was reported before the National Recreation congress by Floyd Rowe, in charge of recreation in schools of Cleveland.
 Studies made to find out what types of applicants make the best playground leaders, he said show that high school or college athletic coaches are not promising candidates because they are accustomed to working for skill in sports, and this is not so important on the playground as keeping a large number of contestants active and interested. The investigators also have shown that workers who make unusually high ratings on the Ternan psychological test are not, as a rule, successful because they have less patience with children who are slow to grasp directions.
 Girls between eighteen and twenty-three years old, and men between twenty-one and twenty-five are at the best age for playground work, Mr. Rowe said.

Army Bank System Has Proved Success
 Washington.—In the 54 years that the government through the army has been acting as a savings bank for enlisted men, deposits made by them have reached the total of $65,215,243.22, and interest paid on those deposits at 4 per cent aggregated $2,748,938.19 during the same period.
 The deposit system was started in 1872 by congress, which provided that enlisted men of the army might deposit their savings in sums not less than $5 and that upon deposits of not less than $50, requiring for a period of six months or longer, interest would be paid at the rate of 4 per cent a year.
 These deposits are returned to the soldier with accumulated interest on his discharge.
 The original purpose of the act was to provide for soldiers' savings at a time when the greater part of the army was on frontier duty where banking facilities were not available, and was successful from the outset.

A Man of Inexhaustible Patience
 To people of all times there's a valuable lesson in one of Lincoln's outstanding characteristics—PATIENCE.
 Lincoln won out because he had patience backed by persistence and led by foresight. He never looked upon discouragement as defeat. These qualities are just as essential in advancing the life program of the humblest and most obscure as in furthering the ambitions of the eminent and prominent.
 Patience exercised in slowly accumulating the "first hundred" dollars, or the "first thousand" proves a valuable aid when later applied to greater problems in financial progress.

In respect to the memory of Lincoln, this bank will not be open on Monday, February 13th.

PLYMOUTH LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS PLAN INTERESTING MEETING.

Monday, February 13, at 2:30 o'clock, the Plymouth League of Women Voters will hold its regular February meeting. This is the third of the three child welfare programs which our Plymouth League planned for this year. In September we had the first child welfare program, with Prof. Egley of the University of Michigan, Representative Earl Michener of Adrian and Washington, D. C., and Miss Florence Harrison of Washington, D. C., as our very able speakers. The January meeting was addressed by George A. Smith, chairman of the State Institute Commission, who spoke on "Our State Institutions for Child Welfare," on which subject he is so well informed.

Now for our third child welfare meeting we are to have talks by Mrs. Louis Ives of Dearborn, who is chairman of the child welfare committee of the Wayne County League of Women Voters. Mrs. Ives, who is a woman of unusual charm, will speak briefly on the work of her department, and on the results of the child study classes which she has conducted this winter at the Women's City Club in Detroit.

The second speaker for the afternoon will be P. R. Sawyer of Redford, who will speak on the subject of "Our Youth and Law Enforcement." Several members of the Plymouth League who have heard Mr. Sawyer give this talk in Detroit, requested that he be asked to speak before our local league, because he presented the subject so well. The Plymouth league extends a cordial invitation to all women citizens to hear Mr. Sawyer speak on this vital subject.

The meeting will be held Monday, February 13, at 2:30 o'clock, in the sun room of Schrader Bros. Furniture Store.

With the presidential election of next fall, and the primaries of the spring, bearing down upon us, it behooves every woman to become well-informed politically.

World Owes Much to St. Valentine

If for Nothing Else Than the Establishment of Pretty Custom.

It is a far cry from the year 270, with its pagan celebration and St. Valentine suffering martyrdom, down to the present one, and yet he still holds majesty in the heart of today. Down through seventeen centuries has persisted a pretty custom which proves that human nature does not, after all, change so very much.

The origin of observances of St. Valentine's day is somewhat clouded in obscurity, but it is fairly well established that the saint who met his death by being first beaten with clubs and then beheaded had very little to do with the celebration except that his day happened to be at hand when it became desirable to substitute a Christian festival for a long-established pagan observance.

In ancient Rome it was the custom during the greater part of the month of February to celebrate the Lupercalia, or feasts in honor of Pan and Juno; the latter deity was then named Februata, Februalls and Februlla. On these occasions part of the ceremonies consisted of placing in a box the names of young women and then as chance directed they were drawn out by the men.

Old Customs Modified.
The leaders of the early Christian church diplomatically endeavored to quash all such pagan celebrations and superstitions. This was chiefly accomplished through changing the forms somewhat or substituting other thoughts or ideas, for it had been proven that it was impossible altogether to extirpate a ceremony to which the masses had become attached through generations of observance. Accordingly the outline of ancient ceremonies was followed, but modified in ways more in keeping with the Christian era. St. Valentine was a recently martyred priest, and as the festival of the Lupercalia had commenced about the middle of February it was natural to choose his birthday as the day of celebrating the substituted feast.

In various countries the celebration has taken on different aspects. At Norwich, in England, for instance, St. Valentine's eve is kept as a time for general giving and receiving gifts. In "Madder's Rambles in an Old City" is found a description of the scene, as follows: "The streets swarm with carriers and baskets laden with treasures; bang, bang, bang go the knockers and away rushes the banger, depositing first upon the doorstep some packages from the basket of stores. Again and again at intervals at every door to which a missive is addressed is the same repeated, till the baskets are empty. Anonymously St. Valentine presents his gifts, labeled only with 'St. Valentine's love' and 'Good morrow, Valentine.'"

"Fake" Valentines Common.
Many of the gifts were hoaxes, much like April Fools' day, for continuing, he says: "The mock parcels that vanish from the doorstep by invisible strings when the door opens, monster parcels that dwindle to thread, papers denuded of their multiplied envelopes, with fitting mottoes all tending to the final consummation of good counsel, 'Happy is he who expects nothing and he will not be disappointed.' It is a glorious night; marvel not that we would perpetuate so joyous a festivity."

In a series of essays published in England in 1754 other customs of the day are given. One miss, it is recorded, pinned a bay leaf to each corner of her pillow and placed a fifth in the center; if she dreamed of her sweetheart the marriage was sure to take place during the year. As the celebration of St. Valentine comes down to the present generation it is one of purely sentimental remembrance, emphasizing the modern tendency to sweep away the cobwebs of antiquity and retain the sociable customs of merit.

Hearts Old and Young

Young hearts are sending many a rime
To other hearts today,
And I've been thinking all the time
What old hearts have to say.
Young hearts are fading love is bliss
And life is full of song,
And what shall old hearts say to this,
Who knew it all along?

Well, here's a line to you, my dear,
From this old heart of mine;
The festal day of love is here,
And here's your valentine.
Young hearts are sending many a vow,
The way that young hearts do,
So let an old heart send one now,
And send it all to you.

So here's a heart, a simple heart,
A heart of other days—
Although we meet, although we part—
That loves the same old ways.
Yes, here's a heart a little old,
For much the heart endures,
A little flatter'd I am told,
But all that heart is yours!
—Douglas Malloch.

Two Loving Hearts

On St. Valentine's day
Look like that at a miss,
And you've got the girl pat
If she looks back like this.

Heroic Inoculation

Mildens have always their little secret ways of invoking dreams. Here's a confession of such a maiden, 100 years ago: "The night before Valentine I got five bay leaves and pinned four of them to the four corners of my pillow and the fifth to the middle, and then if I dreamt of my sweet heart, we should be married before the year was out. But to make sure, I boiled an egg hard, took out the yolk and filled it with salt, and when I went to bed, ate it, shell and all, without speaking or drinking after it." Well, such stolid behavior was certainly deserving of something in the way of nightmares.

Sentiment Almost Gone

Down through the ages has come the observance of St. Valentine's day. Today the celebration amounts to not much more than a display of passionate-colored cards in shop windows, with Cupid cavorting with a crimson quiver.

"With Malice Toward None: With Charity for All."

ABRAHAM LINCOLN

The name of Lincoln is linked inseparably with a love for his fellow men, a passion for the welfare of humanity.

Dealing with a nation's destiny, he came to be clothed with a nation's majesty. In his own great heart, as in a nation's crucible, he assembled and resolved the nation's complexities; and in his own pure unselfish desire, as in a nation's purified hopes, he defined and described our national goal.

Abraham Lincoln's conscience was his only guide—his conscience was king.

Although Lincoln's face has long vanished, his voice hushed, this sweet and beautiful soul—one of the most beloved characters in American history will live forever.

SCHOOL NOTES

BASKETBALL

Plymouth played Roosevelt High School of Ypsilanti in a league basketball game, in which both Plymouth teams lost with a hard, high spirited game. As Ypsilanti's score began to climb, the players on Plymouth's second team did little more, as they were playing as strong as their opponents and could only win with continued luck, which Ypsilanti had. At times it looked as if the ball could not stay away from Gerald Houdorp, who was always "there" no matter how little or difficult the place.

The guards stopped Ypsilanti from making many goals, and returned the ball to Plymouth's end, just to be disappointed in poor caging luck; leaving the score: Plymouth 9, and Roosevelt 15.

The High School band played; and in their number, "The Right Song," put the "Spirit of '76" into Plymouth's first team, who were fighting to their utmost.

Candy was sold to the crowd who couldn't eat it, except at times when the fight was settled, for a time, by the shrill whistle, only to find that it did not taste good on a hoarse throat. When yells were not given by friendly groups or the yellmaster, they were given by individuals.

The first team game was fast and even on both teams, with well played defense and offense, leaving the score at the end of the half: Plymouth 10, and Ypsilanti 12. When the long half was called, and the teams again brought onto the floor the spirit that all schools should have, Archie Cramm, with shell speed, caged two shots and later a third, while Roosevelt made two, leaving the breathless score of 16 all, for the third quarter. Elton Knapp scored three points while Roosevelt made five. And then, knowing the need of two points, Russell Sockow made one free shot. This left the score: Roosevelt 21, and Plymouth 20, with a no-substitute game and one time out when the floor gave Elton Knapp a nose-bleed.

The regular men who played the game were:

Miss Wells, our patroness, rendered a solo, which we all enjoyed. The meeting and banquet was enjoyed immensely and we hope to have another such meeting in the future.

The junior girls defeated the freshmen in the last class basket ball game, which gives them the championship again this year.

Picked Up About Town

It begins to look as though the greatest heat at Houston next June will not be generated by the sun.

"If you ever saw a man in a bathing suit," asserts Dad Plymouth, "then you can understand why they wear long pants."

If the cost was as little as the clothes girls wear we could think of pennies and nickels as money.

Dad Plymouth says that mother could have just as white hands as daughter if she didn't have to put them in the dishwasher any oftener than daughter does.

Dad Plymouth wants to know what has become of the old-fashioned girl who was always burning her hair by having the curling iron too hot.

"I've noticed," declares Dad Plymouth, "that the fellow who gets stuck on a second-hand car seldom sticks to facts when he's trying to sell it."

"My idea of a dyed-in-the-wool liar," says Dad Plymouth, "is the woman who says she doesn't mind having people listening in on a party line when she is telephoning."

Ned: "He plays a fair golf game, doesn't he?"

Ted: "Yes, if you watch him."

"Where is the manager's office?"

"Follow the passage until you come to the sign reading 'No admittance.' Go upstairs till you see the sign 'Keep Out.' Follow the corridor till you see the sign 'Silence,' then yell for him."

This comedy was made about ten years ago. You remember when Bebe Daniels played opposite Harold Lloyd. It will be interesting to see the difference in comedies of then and now. We hope you will like our program, and the prices remain the same.

INDIAN GASOLINE vaporizes at 96°

What does that mean to you?

A WHOLE lot — on these zero-cold mornings. Low instant boiling point means quick, easy starting — hair-trigger action. In your cold cylinders, Indian Gasoline vaporizes easily and you get quicker action from the spark, more complete combustion — and fewer cuss-words.

Save your temper. In cold weather (and any weather) have us fill 'er up with Indian.

Facts for Automobile Owners

The gaseous vapors from an oil well may be compressed into a liquid. This is called "casing head gasoline" and is universally used for blending. Casing head gasoline has a high gravity of 75° to 80° Baumé but lacks power. Since it is made from a vapor it will again vaporize at low temperatures. For this reason it is blended with other gasoline to start the motor quickly in cold weather. Indian Gasoline contains a small portion of the best quality "casing head" to insure easy starting and quick pick-up.

THE THEATRE

"FRISCO SALLY LEVY"

Sally O'Neil, pigmy as tabasco, and charming as a May breeze, has found her forte. "Frisco Sally Levy" proves it.

The new picture, which comes to the Penniman Allen theatre Tuesday and Wednesday, February 14 and 15, proves a veritable triumph for the tiny heroine of "Mike," "Slide, Kelly, Slide," and other recent hits. It is her best role since "Mike," the picture that made her famous. But — it is a much better Sally O'Neil playing it — her experience in the past months since her "discovery" has done wonders for her.

It is a Jewish-Irish comedy — with a few heart throbs mingled with the laughs, and Miss O'Neil is at once captivating, wistful, and hoydenish — often extremely funny. She plays the daughter of a Jewish father and Irish mother. In which two lovers, a family quarrel, and a dash of adventure enter. The story is a frothy affair that every now and then digs deep into life and tugs at the heart-strings.

William Beaudine, director of "Little Annie Rooney," and other noted plays, handled the megaphone with rare skill, and the cast was one of the best balanced organizations the screen has ever seen. Tenen Holtz, as the father, gives a superbly natural portrayal, while Kate Price as the Irish mother is equally effective. The three children, the household troubles and other details of the study are screamingly comical — still under it all lies a vein of pathos that creeps out at the psychological moments.

The rival suitors of Sally are played by Roy D'Arcy, in the role of a stock broker's clerk of the "shelk" type, and Charles Delaney, hero of "College Days," as a young Irish motor policeman.

The children, Turner Savage, Helen Levine and Leon Holmes, add much comedy to the play by their unstudied naturalness under Beaudine's direction — and just a bit of the laurels must also go to "Cameo," the dog, whose comedy ability has often been demonstrated. Cameo is a show all in himself.

The story is an original by Lew Lipton and Al Cohn.

"THE GAY RETREAT"

Those who have seen "What Price Glory," will never forget the two mischief making, trouble seeking marines, played by Sammy Cohen and Ted McNamara, who brought peals of laughter from the audience every time they appeared on the screen. Their success in these comedic roles was so marked that Fox Films has teamed these two together again in a war comedy that is said to be the funniest yet produced.

The name of this feature farce is "The Gay Retreat," and it was written especially for these two by William Conselman and Edward Marshall, the former one of the most popular makers of comic strips.

The story deals with a sleep-walking son of a millionaire who enlists in the ambulance corps and his two faithful attendants who also enlist to be near him and to keep him out of trouble when he is sleep-walking. Gene Cameron is the somnambulist and Ted McNamara and Sammy Cohen are his buddies. Trouble starts for the three when Cameron takes too much time to say goodbye to his sweetheart nurse, and they get on the wrong troop train. From that time on their military life consists of a series of episodes that keeps them jumping out of the frying pan into the fire and back into the frying pan again.

Of course there is a very intriguing romance for each one of them and in the end their very propensity for mischief wins them honors. But in the meantime the team of Cohen and McNamara are said to exhaust an audience with laughter with their humorous characterizations.

A cast of screen favorites support the featured players, including Judy King in the feminine lead of the French girl, Betty Francisco, in the role of a Red Cross nurse; Holmes Herbert, Jerry the Giant and Charles Gorman in the part of the hardboiled sergeant.

"The Gay Retreat" will be shown at the Penniman Allen theatre, Sunday and Monday, February 12 and 13.

"MOCKERY"

Fantastic shadows, grim horror and the stark realities of the throes of a great nation in revolution — plus a romance so transcendently sweet that it seems hardly possible to mention it in the same breath with its startling surroundings — and through it all Lon Chaney, a sinister, mysterious figure, woven into an amazing plot of intrigue, danger and heart interest — this is "Mockery," Chaney's latest and probably one of his most startling screen vehicles.

The new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer drama, coming to the Penniman Allen theatre Thursday and Friday, February 16 and 17, is starting in its originality. It is painted on the broad canvas of a whole nation in travail; its central theme is a love that passeth understanding, and its mingling of the fantastic, the mysterious, and the romantic makes it a blend the flavor of which has never been tasted before by theatregoers.

Chaney plays as complex a character as has ever fallen to his lot, as Sorozzi, the strange, animal-like peasant, ignorant, timid with the fears of generations of oppressed peasantry, who, thrown suddenly into the red madhouse of revolt, becomes a dangerous beast, and then, when loyalty and love touch this strange metamorphosed character, into the linkwork of a besieged aristocrat. It is a vivid study of human nature with the vividness of DeMunnassant or Tolstoy.

His disguise is as amazing as the complexity of the character he plays, but the charm of the role lies in his delicate shading of meanings and subtle acting. It is one of the chances Chaney has had to be a really great actor — and he makes the best of it.

Benjamin Christensen directed the picture with a subtle mingling of the technique of America and Europe. The Danish director used a little of each of his experiences in pictures in handling the lavishly-staged play.

Barbara Bedford makes a charming heroine as Tatiana and Ricardo Cortez is a romantic figure as Dimitri, the young officer she loves. One of the outstanding bits of character work is furnished by Charles Puffy as the sinister Ivan and Emily Fitzroy, Mack Swain, Kal Schmidt, Jules Cowles and others of note have splendidly balanced roles in the strange drama of Russia.

Billy: "I see that Fanny Footlights roped in old Moneybags in approved fashion."

Tom: "You mean she lassoed him?"
Billy: "No, the lass sued him."

IMPORTANT NOTICE

The commission at a regular meeting on January 16, 1928, unanimously passed a resolution that all houses, stores, factories, etc., in the village of Plymouth, adjacent to a sanitary sewer, be connected properly to them by May 1, 1928. All houses, stores, factories, etc., which are not properly connected now to these sewers must also connect properly by May 1, 1928. A permit must be obtained from the village treasurer before any connections are made.

Where the house connection has been put in to the sidewalk line by the contractor, the charge for the permit is $1.00, and where the connection is not in a charge of $35.00 for a permit is made. The village puts them in to the sidewalk line for this $35.00 charge.

These connections must be made with 6-inch standard vitrified sewer pipe, with cement joints. The inside basement drainage and house sewage can go into the sanitary sewer. All roof water, overflow from cisterns and outside basement drainage must go into the storm sewers. Where no storm sewer exists, the roof water must run on the ground. If these connections are not made by May 1, the village will start putting them in and charge the property for it.

STUDIES PROBLEMS OF WORKING GIRL

Organizations Debate Question of Relief.

Washington.—Have you a daughter who must go to work this year? Will you like it if she has to work long hours each day, until she loses that healthy youth you have spent so many years building for her?

These are questions put to American mothers by Miss Mary Winslow, economic analyst and director of special studies for the women's bureau of the United States Department of Labor, who has completed a nation-wide study of the regulation of hours of work for women.

"Are you resting secure in the knowledge that your state has already said she shall not work longer than 48 hours a week, and that she shall not work at night at all?" asks Miss Winslow.

"Oh have you heard tales about that 48-hour law? Have you heard that it may keep her from getting any job at all, because employers don't want to have to stop work at the end of an eight-hour day?"

Debated by Thousands. Thousands of people throughout the United States have been discussing and debating the question of regulating women's work.

The largest of two opposing groups led by the working women themselves, including such organizations as the National Women's Trade Union League, the League of Women Voters, the Young Women's Christian Association, the Consumers' League, the National Council of Catholic Women, and the General Federation of Women's Clubs, believe in the necessity of regulation because, they say, women are largely unorganized and so more liable to exploitation than men.

The other group, much smaller but very active, has been led by the National Women's party, which is sponsoring the "equal rights amendment" in Washington.

According to Miss Winslow's findings, legislation to protect women workers in industry has not harmed them. With practically no exceptions, the few handicaps resulting from protective legislation have occurred only in a small number of special occupations in which normally few women are employed—and in semiprofessional work, such as that of pharmacists, proofreaders, etc., where legislation is largely unnecessary, due to the more individual character of the work and to the greater training required.

"In the course of our investigation," she reports, "we were continually impressed by the fact that what is needed is not the abolition of existing or proposed laws, but the more careful rewriting of those laws. There is all the difference in the world between legislation that regulates the employment of women and that which prohibits it. Certain adaptations must be made in order to fit special cases. Laws need to be cut to the measure of the individual situations in the different states."

Find Women Necessary.

"The women's bureau study has already shown that women are necessary to industry and that reasonable legal standards for their employment do not bar them from industrial work. In fact, that the great majority of up-to-date employers realize the value of such standards and often exceed them in their own plans. Many of them approve such legislation because it largely does away with the cheap, unfair competition of unscrupulous employers."

The selection of Mary Winslow for this study came as a result of her own long experience with industrial problems. She was trained at the New York School of Social Work and served first as a civil service appointee of New York city in the department of public charities. During the war she was with the council of national defense in Washington, but after the armistice took the examination for the woman in industry service, which became the women's bureau in 1920. She is the author of ten of the bureau's publications.

Baron, Wife, Renounce Title for Citizenship

Providence, R.I.—Valuing American citizenship above their place in Hungarian nobility, Baron and Baroness Francois De Levas De Wolf have sworn allegiance to the United States.

The baron is a grand-nephew of the late Senator La Barre B. Colt of Rhode Island and as a lieutenant in the Austrian army during the World War he won five decorations for bravery. He came to America with his bride, Edith von Magyar of Budapest, in 1922, at the invitation of his maternal grandfather, Francis E. De Wolf of Bristol, R. I., and when his grandfather died in 1924 the will left the baron a legacy on condition that he change his name to De Wolf, which he did.

The baron and baroness—now just Mr. and Mrs. F. D. De Wolf—are living at Bristol. They explain that neither cared about titles and that both wanted to become Americans.

AN INTERESTING LETTER FROM FLORIDA

Winter Haven, Fla., Feb. 8.
To the Plymouth Mail:

As some of the home town folks like to hear from other parts of this old U. S. A., a letter from Winter Haven may be of interest to some of them. Located in Polk county, on the ridge in central Florida, in the heart of the citrus fruit belt, this city claims the distinction of being the citrus center of Florida. They have the largest citrus packing house in the world, and ship one-tenth of all Florida citrus fruits. There are 16,500 acres of citrus groves in its immediate territory. Polk county ships about one-fourth of all Florida's citrus fruits, specializing in grapefruit, of which 4,800,000 boxes were shipped in the season of '26-'27.

Winter Haven, like most other Florida cities, is over-built for the present, though in the boom year of 1925, they say, it was crowded. It has a population of 7,138, spread over the seventeen square miles within its limits.

It joins with Lake Alfred and Auburndale, both of which are four miles apart, like it would be if Plymouth and Northville were to join limits. There are four first-class hotels, the largest has 150 rooms; half a dozen other hotels and many large apartment buildings for winter tourists.

The city has a fine recreation park, 106 miles of hard surfaced streets, 100 miles of water mains. The city tax rate is nine mills. I should say so many miles of paving are accounted for by streets being paved for miles out through the groves and around some of its many lakes. It is known as the city of one hundred lakes, and it is said there are twenty-nine lakes within the city limits, and ninety-seven in a radius of five miles.

The annual Polk county orange festival was held here January 20, 1928. One hundred and seventy-five booths were erected on one of the main streets, and all were sold for the display of produce and merchandise. Three blocks of the same street were turned over to the Johnny Jones Shows for a midway.

They have a tourist club here, with rooms furnished in one of the hotels.

At the annual tourist service at the Presbyterian church last Sunday night, the roll was called by states, those from each state standing to be counted. Ohio led with 83 present; Pennsylvania, 60; New York, 48. Thirty-eight states and Canada were represented in a total of 360 tourists present. Of course not all tourists were out.

The built-up section of Winter Haven is not much larger than Plymouth, and the school enrollment is a little over 1,200. Winter Haven is especially favored for climate, being on the high ridge; it is drier than on the coast, and less subject to frost. Only had one really cold spell here this winter, January 3, with very little damage then, none to the citrus fruits in this section. It is claimed they have an average year around temperature of 68 degrees. Also they had 364 days when the sun shown last year. The sun has shown at least an hour or more every day since I arrived here on December 27th.

Well, I think I have taken up enough of ye editor's time, and space in these columns, so will stop here, and go down and hold a park bench down a while.

Respectfully yours,
C. W. HONEYWELL.

SET NEW RECORD AT FARMERS' MEET

SPEAKERS POINT TO MORE OPTIMISTIC FUTURE FOR AGRICULTURE AT ANNUAL CONFERENCE AT M. S. C.

More than 10,000 Farmers' Week visitors, a new high attendance record, was the estimate made at M. S. C. at the close of the annual agricultural conference last week.

Increased interest and increased attendance were evident in most instances in both the group and general meetings held during the week. For the first time in the history of Farmers' Week, a building large enough to house the huge crowds comfortably was available. The new demonstration hall accommodated all of the general meetings this year, as well as the more extensive exhibits.

Outstanding agricultural authorities engaged to address Farmers' Week meetings, for the most part, pointed to a more optimistic future for agriculture, especially along the lines of dairying and livestock production. Attention was called to the latest discoveries in the line of modern and efficient farm practices resulting from research and experimental work by college specialists.

Meetings of 35 farmers' associations were held during the week, in addition to special programs staged by the departments of the agricultural division of the college.

NASH REDUCES PRICES IN ALL THREE SERIES

Announcement today was made by C. W. Nash, president of the Nash Motors company, of reduced prices, effective February 1st, ranging through Standard Six, Special Six and Advanced Six series. These reductions follow hard on the heels of heavy sales at the opening motor shows of the year, where the Nash display, with its emphasis on style and new color harmonies, is attracting great attention.

The new Standard Six prices, all f. o. b. Racine, follow: Four-door sedan, $925; touring, $865; cabriolet, $925; two-door sedan, $845; coupe, $845; deluxe sedan, $995. The new price on the Advanced Six five-passenger four-door sedan is $1,495, and the price on the five-passenger four-door Special Six sedan is $1,295.

Nash officials point to this move as the aggressive forerunner of big Nash expansion in sales throughout the country, with Nash in 1928 assuming even more pronounced leadership in its field than ever before.

In speaking of this price reduction, C. W. Nash said: "Since the New York automobile show I have been traveling the country attending other shows and dealer meetings and everywhere I find encouraging evidence of healthy business. All that I have been quoted as saying about the prosperous general conditions of the country has been confirmed in the course of these trips."

"Our own sales are proceeding with gratifying force and in view of the fact that our new prices now make the current Nash line the greatest values we have ever offered I look for even bigger business."

Will Chiropractic "Cure" Me?

NO—NO!
Chiropractic does not cure. Nature, that something within us that makes us an adaptable creature, is the something that restores one to health when he is sick.

The Chiropractor says that an innate intelligence within each of us can restore one to a condition of health IF the part of the body that is diseased enjoys a normal flow of nerve energy.

Pain is simply a warning sent to our consciousness that something is wrong some place. What is the real cause of pain?

When a segment of the spine becomes out of line it presses upon a nerve. The normal flow of nerve energy is reduced. We may experience pain. Soon we say we are sick. The Chiropractor adjusts this subluxated segment of the spine, the pressure is done away with, and the person begins to get well—and gets well.

You will take adjustments some day—absolutely.

Dr. Frank Crane Says

THE CALENDAR

A questionnaire was sent to 1,000 representative firms the other day in regard to a new calendar of thirteen 28 day months.

George Eastman, head of the Eastman Kodak Company, sent out a statement after the meeting of the United States Chamber of Commerce, which endorsed the movement, in which he says that the new calendar will consist of weeks in which every day of the month falls upon the same week day.

This plan will probably receive the support of the League of Nations and a committee will be appointed in each nation to ratify the proposal.

This is a valiant struggle of common sense against tradition and its outcome will be looked upon with interest.

This plan for the new calendar not only would make every date fall on the same day of the week in each month, but, as this would only result in 364 days, New Year's Day would be a holiday and called January 0. Also the extra day for Leap Year would be designated by a cipher and new months would be inserted between June and July. This month would be called Sol because it would contain the solstice in both the Northern and Southern hemispheres.

Even if every nation accepts the new calendar it can only be put in effect after 1928, when New Year's Day falls on Sunday. After that date, if the new plan is successful, we should have no more calendars, as it could be easily told what day of the week any date

Mr. Eastman and his co-workers deserve a great deal of credit for endeavoring to make this calendar a success as it would undoubtedly be of great convenience to the world.

Almost all business executives in America are in favor of it and it would undoubtedly do a vast deal of good in correspondence and in making our records.

Of course, the past would have to be taken into consideration, but a calendar would only be needed for the past and not for the future, and those who look forward are more apt to favor the new plan than those who look backward habitually. The calendar for one week would be for all weeks, as follows:

S	M	T	W	T	F	S
1	2	3	4	5	6	7
8	9	10	11	12	13	14
15	16	17	18	19	20	21
22	23	24	25	26	27	28

Wayne aVuldyne is singing regularly now for the Arctic Ice Cream company of Detroit. This company has one of the best quarters in that city.

Zina P. King, 88, dean of Ann Arbor's business men, the oldest active insurance man and lawyer of the city, stepped into the realm of retired private life on Wednesday night, after a career here of 62 years.

Dr. Helen Phelps returned this week from Battle Creek Sanatorium and will resume her duties as pastor of the Livonia Community Church, of which she has been pastor for the past three years. Dr. V. V. Phelps has occupied the pulpit during her illness.—Wayne Weekly.

The ways and means committee of the County Board of Supervisors voted to call a special session of the Board in February to place on the ballot at the April 2nd election a proposal to build a $350,000 hospital unit at the Wayne County Home at Elioise. The committee took this action upon the request of officials of the County Hospital, who declared that inadequate facilities make it impossible to furnish proper care to 200 patients in need of medical or surgical treatment.

Edgar Prindle, local resident of 17505 Cooley avenue, who died January 19, left bequests of money to three Redford churches. The will, which was admitted to probate last week named the Baptist, Presbyterian and Calvary M. E. churches, giving $1,000 to each. Prindle left $20,000 in real estate and $45,000 in personal property. A sum of $3,000 was bequeathed to his former wife, now living in Seal, N. D. The remainder of the estate will go to friends and relatives.—Redford Record.

Tuesday was action day for the members of the Rotary Club with Harry Robinson of Plymouth, doing the honors and Rotarians being the eager bidders for the gift packages each had brought to the meeting. It was a case of bidding blind on each package and consequently not a few of the guesses were long way from correct. Cigarette and cigar boxes had a happy faculty of containing baby rattles or a cake of soap, but everything went successfully under Mr. Robinson's hammer, and there was no opportunity given for complaint or exchange. The bidding became so active for several of the more important articles contributed that the club realized over $50 from the auction sale.—Wayne Weekly.

Today's Reflections

You don't need to tell the pedestrian who has to cross a street that this is leap year.

What has become of the old-fashioned Plymouth man who always wanted to settle his arguments with his fists?

Prohibition may have removed one rail from the old-time saloon, but it placed one more on the political fence.

A Florida man is trying to produce a combined lemon and apple. Isn't that the fruit Eve handed Adam?

This may go down as the year of the great war—between low-priced cars.

It would be grand if when a fellow was down and out his creditors were forced to take neutral corners and wait until he got on his feet again.

The main reason why living costs Plymouth citizens more than it used to is because they're not living like they used to.

The trouble is that a man who can afford to go to Florida for the winter can afford to keep warm at home.

We don't know about a five-day week, but a five-day week-end would sure prove popular around Plymouth.

That government employe who has raised 20 children on $85 a month ought to be moved over to the budget department.

College life isn't all pleasant. There is a dreary season between football and baseball when there's nothing to do but study.

From the way they go at it, some Plymouth girls consider powdering their nose as important as scratching a bite.

Three billions for the navy hardly will leave enough money to buy bird seed for the dove of peace.

German carp and German submarines continue unpopular, but German sauerkraut retains its friends.

No Plymouth married woman has ever been able to understand how a bachelor can get dressed with no-body around to find his clean shirt, collars and socks and show him where he left his hat.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN
The Straight Thinker

He said this: "Property is the fruit of labor; property is desirable; it is a positive good in the world. That some should be rich shows that others may become rich, and hence is an encouragement to industry and enterprise. Let not him who is houseless pull down the house of another, let him work diligently and build one for himself, thus by example assuring that his own shall be safe from violence when built."

This Week
By Arthur Brisbane

A COURAGEOUS IRISHMAN.
A HOLLOW MAGNET.
A VARIEGATED CLIMATE.
MORE AEROPLANES NEEDED.

A real fighting Irishman has come to America. William Thomas Cosgrave, President of the Irish Free State. Diffident, keen light blue eyes, soft voice, iron will and a lion's courage. That is a picture of the Irish President, for whom fear does not exist, not even the only fear admitted by his relatives, the Celtic chiefs of Gaul, who admitted that they feared one thing, that the sky might fall on them.

If you asked, "Can NOTHING be more powerful than SOMETHING?" you would get no serious answer. But how do you explain this fact, announced by German science and proved by convincing experiment? A hollow magnet is more powerful than a solid magnet.

The absence of magnetized metal inside the magnet increases its magnetic strength. A magnet containing four hollow lamellae has as much lifting power as one containing nine solid lamellae.

Everything is possible in chemistry and physics, now that atomic construction and the horrible power and speed of the tiny electrons have been added to human knowledge. But that hollow magnet news is a thing to puzzle science.

A. D. Lasker, who ran the Shipping Board, once a young, frightfully energetic boy, sitting in the outside office of Lord & Thomas, in Chicago, now even more frightfully energetic sits in the inside office and owns the place.

He and his wife have just given a million dollars to Chicago University to study the "causes, nature and prevention of degenerative diseases."

Within three hundred years, the average life has increased from thirty to sixty years, but a man of fifty has very little better chance of life than a man of that age one hundred years ago.

Lasker wisely gives money to find out why it is that human beings after fifty break down so quickly.

If the scientists will let him, Lasker should use some of his money investigating suggestions that medical science would call "all nonsense." All nonsense is what the doctors called the theories of Pasteur, who taught them more than they ever knew before.

Michael J. Hinch, eighteen years old, touched a live wire carrying 5000 volts and, according to doctors, was "dead for half an hour." Quick action by firemen brought the boy back to life.

At first his mind wandered. Then he recognized friends, knew his own name, who he was and what he had been doing in the previous eighteen years.

The question arises, does the same thing happen to all of us, after we have been dead a long time, perhaps, as one earnest clergyman suggests, as long as a billion years, waiting for the world to end and Gabriel to summon us?

We have a variegated climate, dogs pulling sleds over Alaska's ice, ladies and their friends lying half-naked on the sands of Florida, California and the Gulf States.

And the thermometer does not tell everything about weather. We shiver and growl at 14 above zero, while Donald McMillan, Arctic explorer, sent word, through radio, that he is quite comfortable at Bowdoin, Labrador, with the temperature 35 below zero.

It depends on humidity, elevations, ozone and other things probably of which we know nothing.

A dispatch from Nicaragua says Sandino, the rebel-bandit who killed some of our marines, has been killed by a bomb from one of our airplanes.

The Nicaragua rebels now know that they have no more chance against United States flying machines than a rabbit has against eagles.

That is satisfactory so far as our Nicaragua fight goes.

But our President, Congress and Army and Navy departments should remember that several countries in Europe and at least one in Asia exceed us so greatly in air power that they could do to us, if they chose, what we have just done to Sandino.

WE NEED FIGHTING AIRPLANES, not merely a sample force of the Nicaragua size.

The Emperor of Japan sets an example in economy—carries a $5 watch, cultivates his own rice field. That would surprise his great great grandfather. That Mikado, by lifting a finger, could chop off anybody's head, and he did.

Nell: "Say, does Harold know how to drive?"
Mell: "Does he? Say, he hit a deputy sheriff this afternoon that everybody else has been trying to hit for months without succeeding."

It always makes me laugh,
So wonderful a treat,
To see an athlete run a mile
And only move two feet.

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES

On Thursday of last week a number of the members and friends of the Ready Service class paid a surprise visit to the home of the ex-president of the class, Mrs. Melburn Partridge. Plenty of good things to eat were taken along, and an excellent pot-luck dinner was enjoyed. After dinner, the ladies presented Mrs. Partridge with a beautiful gift as an expression of their appreciation.

The Glee Club of Plymouth High school, under the direction of Miss Gladys Schrader, will assist in the service at the Presbyterian church next Sunday morning.

The young people will have charge of the evening service next Sunday, and will present a pageant entitled, "They Come."

The annual canvas for the budget for next year is under way. The congregation will be visited on Sunday, February 19th.

BAPTIST NOTES

Last Sunday evening, the string quartet from Highland Park, rendered a number of beautiful selections which were very much enjoyed by a fine congregation. The evening service was attended by a goodly number, and everyone present felt they had spent a profitable evening.

Next Sunday evening, Miss Doris Hamill, one of our young people, will favor us with a violin solo. We extend a cordial invitation to the public to meet with us. You are never a stranger in our church but once. Come out and let us prove it.

At our last monthly business meeting, the Sunday-school voted to hold an executive meeting the second Thursday in each month. This month it met at the parsonage. Our Sunday-school has been growing very nicely, and through these meetings we hope to be able to build a bigger and better Sunday-school in our community.

The young people's class will hold a regular business meeting Monday evening, February 13th, in the church basement. A box social will follow.

The young people of our church will meet next Sunday, at 6:00 o'clock. All young people are urged to be present.

LIVONIA UNION CHURCH NOTES.

The supper given at the church last week was a decided success in every way. Although the weather was very cold and the roads very icy, about 125 people enjoyed a delicious supper of roast pork and all the good things that go with it. A very fine program was also given. Proceeds of the evening were $102.00.

The Ladies' Aid society held a very pleasant meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Smith, on West Ann Arbor street, Plymouth, last Thursday afternoon. Thirty-five were present. Five new members were added to the roll. The ladies voted to hold a penny carnival Wednesday, February 29th. The society is in a splendid condition, having better than $300 in the treasury, with all bills paid. The society is also paying $10 per week for the current expense of the church.

The pastor delivered a splendid sermon to a very appreciative congregation last Sunday. At the morning service every seat in the church was taken.

The Sunday school, which follows the morning service, had an attendance of 60.

The Lord's Supper was observed at the evening service.

METHODIST NOTES

A prominent American recently said that the biggest word in the English language is 'service.' He is wrong. A bigger word is 'stewardship,' for stewardship is service plus.

The L. A. S. room was comfortably filled with ladies last Wednesday afternoon, on the occasion of their monthly meeting. The president, Mrs. Fred Lee, presided at the business session, at which time plans were perfected for the annual bazaar and chicken supper to be held on Thursday, February 23, afternoon and evening, until all are served. Mark this date on your calendar, and be present. Following the business meeting, Mrs. E. V. Jolliffe had charge of the social time. First we enjoyed a piano duet by Mrs. Gilbert Brown and Mrs. Howard Richard. Then Mesdames O. F. Beyer, Martin Stringer and E. V. Jolliffe very cleverly gave the play "Suppressed Desire." Mesdames Brown and Richards again delighted us with another duet, and Mrs. Jolliffe gave a thought provoking reading, entitled "Father Forgets."

On next Wednesday afternoon, February 15, at 2:00 o'clock, the L. A. S. circles meet as follows: Mrs. Miller's circle with Mrs. E. J. Allison, 1160 Williams street; Mrs. White's circle with Mrs. H. E. Irwin, 466 Blunk avenue; Mrs. Hillman's circle with James Sessions, 304 Blanche street.

Celebrating the eighteenth anniversary of the founding of their organization, the Boy Scouts will be our guests next Sunday morning, when Dr. Lendrum will preach a special sermon for them. All who desire to be invited to join us in welcoming the boys.

Beginning next Wednesday night, we will again enjoy church training

OIL GREASE

Last Sunday evening, the string quartet from Highland Park, rendered a number of beautiful selections which were very much enjoyed by a fine congregation. The evening service was attended by a goodly number, and everyone present felt they had spent a profitable evening.

Next Sunday evening, Miss Doris Hamill, one of our young people, will favor us with a violin solo. We extend a cordial invitation to the public to meet with us. You are never a stranger in our church but once. Come out and let us prove it.

At our last monthly business meeting, the Sunday-school voted to hold an executive meeting the second Thursday in each month. This month it met at the parsonage. Our Sunday-school has been growing very nicely, and through these meetings we hope to be able to build a bigger and better Sunday-school in our community.

The young people's class will hold a regular business meeting Monday evening, February 13th, in the church basement. A box social will follow.

The young people of our church will meet next Sunday, at 6:00 o'clock. All young people are urged to be present.

night. A cooperative supper will be served at 6:15, (the sure to bring your own dishes and silver), after which B. J. Holcomb will conduct a class in Christian Beliefs; Fred Thomas, a class in Methodist History; Warren Lombard, a class in The Bible and Religion, and Dr. Lendrum, a class in Evangelism. There will also be a class in Missions, taking up Dr. E. Stanley Jones' new book, "Christ at the Round Table," the leaders to be announced later. Mrs. Doerr will tell missionary stories to the children. With such a wide range of subjects, there will be something interesting for every member of the congregation, so let us all bring our families and enjoy the christian fellowship of these meetings, which close promptly at eight o'clock, so the children can be home in time to get their nine hours of sleep.

EPISCOPAL NOTES

The February vestry meeting was held Tuesday night, at the church.

CATHOLIC NOTES

The feature of the coming week is the grand opening of the auditorium Tuesday night, February 14. A very cordial invitation is extended to all. The nature of the event will be a dance, and the committees in charge have been working hard to make this a success, and to let the public know that we have an auditorium that is a real pride to the town. The public is invited to inspect the outlay that is in our possession for social purposes.

The Nethem Club met last Monday night in the mahogany room, and elected their officers for the ensuing year. The past officers were congratulated for their noble work during the past year, and the new officers were installed: President, Miss Flora McLellan; vice-president, Raymond LeVandowski; secretary, John Schomberg; treasurer, Edwin Klinski. A program committee, appointed by the president, consisting of Wm. Stremich, D. McMillan, and L. Queava, was ordered to make arrangements for a dance to be given Tuesday evening, February 21, in the auditorium. Each member was asked to bring another member to the meeting next Monday night. Let all the young people join this club and enjoy the entertainments arranged weekly for them.

The sympathy of the parish is extended to Mr. and Mrs. A. Cardo, Jr., in the death of the baby, Albert.

Mrs. A. Juchass has been removed from the hospital, to the home of her son in Detroit, and is recovering rapidly from her recent operation.

Mrs. H. Lehman is still confined to the house, and slowly recovering.

Sunday is Holy Name Communion Sunday for the men of the parish. Let all be there.

The financial report of 1927 was read last Sunday, and proved to be very satisfactory, considering the condition of the year.

The following Reverend clergymen called at the rectory during the week: R. Dakoske of Lapeer; W. A. Graeber of Sturgis; J. Schuler of Northville.

Lent begins February 22. Services will be conducted on Tuesdays and Fridays during this penitential season. Our new church will be dedicated after Easter.
