

KIWANIAN HOSTS TO INTER-CITY MEETING

OVER TWO HUNDRED KIWANIAN FROM NEIGHBORING TOWNS GUESTS OF LOCAL CLUB THURSDAY EVENING

The Event Was First District Meeting of Kiwanis Clubs Ever Held in Plymouth.

Banquet and Program Held in Crystal Dining Room of Hotel Mayflower—A Great Success.

Plymouth Kiwanians, always alert to a public service and always anxious to impress upon visitors the hospitality of this community, Thursday evening added new laurels to their fame when they entertained in a royal way over 200 visiting members from this part of Michigan.

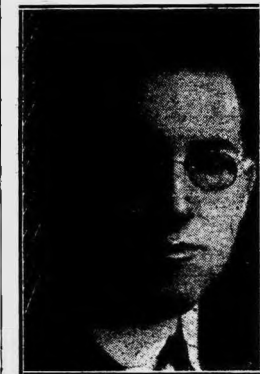

The event was the first district meeting of Kiwanis clubs ever held in Plymouth. In fact, it was the first big district club meeting of the kind ever held here. The meeting was made possible because the community now has first-class hotel facilities that can be used for gatherings of this character.

The visitors were not only loud in their praise of the welcome given to them by local Kiwanians, but they declared that the Mayflower hotel was one of the prettiest and pleasantest they had visited. The service given for the dinner and the menu provided by the hotel exceeded by far the expectations of the most critical.

Every one made himself right at home in the hotel. In fact, Plymouth Kiwanians made them feel that way. It was a sort of "opening night" again and the management co-operated to the fullest extent in aiding Kiwanians members to welcome "The Builders," as Kiwanians term themselves.

They are builders. There is no opportunity of my two and a half years of Kiwanianism to extend to you the greetings of our local club. We feel highly honored in that your various trustees and officers entrusted to us the responsibility of sponsoring so important a "get-together" inter-city group meeting as this occasion exemplifies," he stated.

GEORGE MILLAGE, Ypsilanti, Lieut. Governor Michigan District Kiwanis International

"We again feel honored that so large a number, many of whom came a considerable distance, have shown their confidence in the Plymouth club's ability to do it right, by their presence here tonight.

"You are our guests and as such we want you all to feel the freedom of your home while in our midst. Not the least of Kiwanis accomplishments is the building of friendship, and as brother members of Kiwanis International we are all friends, meeting on a mutual basis with one thought in mind—"To Build"—to make the old world better for the next generation."

The visitors from the Northwest club of Detroit, Ecorse, Wyandotte, Wayne, Ypsilanti, Chelsea and Ann Arbor let President Bob know by their applause that his welcome was just as cordial as the words he expressed.

ARCHIE CASE, Jackson, Governor, Michigan District Kiwanis International question about that. Good will of great value for Plymouth was builded last night.

The Plymouth High School band, the players dressed neatly in uniforms of white trousers, blue capes and caps, provided plenty of music during the arrival of the visiting delegations. Under the direction of Prof. Clark Dykhouse, the band played many selections, and played them well. To Plymouth Kiwanians belongs the credit for the existence of this organization. The club sponsored the band and equipped it with its instruments and uniforms. Since its organization it has provided numerous concerts at various nearby institutions as well as locally, and the entire community as well as members of Kiwanis are proud of the band and pleased with the excellent showing they made at the big meeting Thursday evening.

The banquet program was opened by invocation delivered by Rev. Dr. Frederick A. Lendrum.

"The Builders," a Kiwanis club song, was sung by the entire group, Wayne Van Dyne, a member of the Northwest Kiwanis club of Detroit, leading.

President Bob Jolliffe of the Plymouth Kiwanis club in his address of welcome made it emphatic to the visitors that Plymouth was not only pleased but honored to welcome such a fine group of men as represented at the gathering.

"I deem it the most outstanding

The introduction of club officers preceded the remainder of the program.

George Millage, prominent Ypsilanti insurance man and lieutenant-governor of Michigan Kiwanis clubs, was introduced and spoke as follows:

Plymouth Kiwanians are co-operating with other Kiwanis clubs of the state in the planting of 5,000 acres of burnt-over forest land in the upper part of the state, and the speaker in his talk placed much emphasis upon this piece of public work that has been undertaken by the clubs of the state.

The Michigan district of Kiwanis International, under the leadership of Harry Black, of Flint, chairman of operating and has agreed to furnish the land, stock, tools, etc., while the Michigan District of Kiwanis proposes to raise the necessary funds to pay for the actual labor involved. This will mean the expenditure of $6,000 of Kiwanis money in a huge project that is dedicated 100 per cent to future generations as the work done at this time cannot possibly bear material fruit until the young trees have reached maturity, which, in most cases, will require about 70 years.

The 5,000-acre tract lies in Iosco county and is being officially christened "Kiwanis Forest" by the U. S. Forestry department.

The dollars and cents value of this project, though not accruing to this generation, is stupendous. For every acre reforested a cash return of $300 is expected when the trees mature, thus with a $6,000 investment the Michigan District of Kiwanis is bringing more than $1,500,000 actual cash into the public treasury of the future. In addition to the money returned to future generations the culmination of this project will mark a perpetual memorial to the Kiwanis ideal, which has been summarized in the two words, "We Build." It will also go a long way toward putting a large proportion of Iosco county back on the state tax rolls.

The forestry department of the University of Michigan has proclaimed this project the outstanding attempt of history to reclaim lost natural resources. To further foster the idea and sell it to each individual Kiwanian, the university is sending a faculty member of its forestry department to every Kiwanis club in the state to explain the proposition in detail.

It was the pleasure of the Kiwanians to have present, Archie Case, of Jackson, governor of Michi-

ROBERT J. JOLLIFFE, President, Plymouth Kiwanis Club

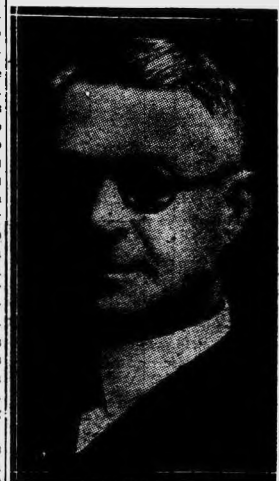

the district committee on conservation, has undertaken one of the biggest and farthest reaching projects known to the history of service clubs.

Michigan, in past generations, has contributed vast amounts of lumber to the industries of the United States. For many years lumber was one of Michigan's outstanding crops, but the men who cut the lumber failed to make any provision for its replacement, and even nature herself has not provided the means for the reproduction of Michigan's countless acres of forests. The result of this policy is the barren wastes of millions of acres of Michigan's land. Practically the whole upper peninsula and more than one-half of the lower peninsula consists of this waste land, which is valueless to its owners, produces no revenue to the country, and pays no tax to the counties in which it is located. As a matter of fact, this land, besides being profitless, is an actual liability to the state, as many counties in the state are made up almost wholly of this land upon which no tax can be levied, and as a consequence these counties draw more money from the state treasury than they put into it, putting an additional burden on the more populous counties. This state of affairs has presented an economic problem which has been much discussed and berated, but about which very little or nothing of a concrete nature has been done.

The Michigan District of Kiwanis International has been fortunate in having Harry Black, who is one of the outstanding students of conservation in the state, as chairman of its committee on this work. Mr. Black has given several years of study and thought to the problem and has now fathered the plan by which 5,000 acres of this waste land will be reforested and put back on a revenue-producing basis. The 3,000 Kiwanians of Michigan are backing Mr. Black in his program almost to a man. The Flint club, which numbers Mr. Black on its roster, has subscribed to more than 600 acres for its own. The United States Forest Service is cooperating and has agreed to furnish the land, stock, tools, etc., while the Michigan District of Kiwanis proposes to raise the necessary funds to pay for the actual labor involved. This will mean the expenditure of $6,000 of Kiwanis money in a huge project that is dedicated 100 per cent to future generations as the work done at this time cannot possibly bear material fruit until the young trees have reached maturity, which, in most cases, will require about 70 years.

ROY E. CROWE, Vice-President, Plymouth Kiwanis Club

Dr. George L. Nuckolls, of the Northwest club, also made a most interesting talk. It was the quartet from his club that provided some of the pleasing musical numbers on the program. He praised the spirit of the Plymouth club and declared that the community ought and doubtless was proud of its many accomplishments.

The committee which so successfully planned the affair was composed of Roy Crowe, Paul Nutting, Warren

Lombard and William Sturgis.

For the occasion the Mayflower hotel was most attractively decorated with flags, streamers and flowers. Each visitor was presented with a Daisy or King pop gun as a souvenir of the occasion. Plymouth is the manufacturing center of air guns, and the club saw to it that this fact was impressed upon the guests of the evening.

The excellent menu served consisted of the following:

- Tomato Bouillon
- Celery Hearts
- Roast Fresh Ham
- Mashed Potatoes
- Hot Mince Pie
- Olives
- Apple Sauce
- Pears
- Perfection Salad
- Coffee

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS PLAN LUNCHEON MEETING

Two spring elections are almost upon us. Are you informed about the issues on which you must vote?

It is the function of the League of Women Voters to help Plymouth women vote intelligently at every election. Save Monday, March 12th, for the luncheon of the Plymouth League of Women Voters. Mrs. Myron B. Voice of Detroit, will discuss the Lucretia Mott (equal rights) amendment which is now before congress; Mrs. Cameron of Dearborn, will tell of her department in the County League; Miss Lina Durfee, clerk of Plymouth township, will point out the main issues in the spring election. There will also be another short talk on the candidates in the presidential primary.

The luncheon will be served in the crystal room of the Hotel Mayflower. Further announcements of details will appear in The Plymouth Mail of March 9th. Save Monday, March 12, for citizenship day.

MRS. EMILY LEVAN PASSES AWAY AT OSCODA

Emily C. Peellos was born in the township of Salen, December 5, 1837. She was united in marriage to James A. LeVan on February 27, 1854, who preceded her in death in 1917. To this union were born five children, all of whom have "gone on before." In 1841 the family moved to Ann Arbor, later coming to the farm on the Plymouth road, where she resided for nearly fifty years. Mrs. LeVan united with the church at the age of seventeen, remaining a faithful and devoted Christian all her life. She was a lover of her church, and labored untrudgingly to help and comfort others. Of a sunny disposition, she made true friends of all with whom she came in contact. The last year of her life was spent at Oscoda, Mich., where she died February 25th, at the age of ninety years, two months and twenty days.

She leaves to mourn, one sister, of Loveland, Colorado; eight grandchildren, fifteen great-grandchildren and a number of nephews and nieces. The funeral services were held from the Schrader Bros. Funeral Home, Tuesday afternoon, Rev. Joseph E. Dutton of the Canfield M. E. church, Detroit, officiating. The Misses Anna and Ada Young sang two selections, "When I Can Read My Title Clear," and "I'm A Pilgrim."

The out of town friends attending the funeral, were: Mrs. R. A. Ryder of Chicago; Mrs. C. G. Casterlin of Flint; Prof. and Mrs. Francis E. Ross and Mrs. Amanda Waldron of Ann Arbor; Mrs. D. L. Dickerson of Farmington; Mrs. Clark Day and Charles Day of Jackson; Mr. and Mrs. Dewey of South Lyon; Mr. and Mrs. Willis Wilson of Traverse City; Arthur LeVan and Mrs. Ada LeVan of Oscoda; Mrs. Jennie LeVan, Mrs. Frank Eichen, Mrs. Owen Coleman, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Holsington and Merritt Lemm of Detroit; and Mrs. Charles Barnes of Lansing.

DEATH OF HENRY J. HEIDE

Henry J. Heide was born in Olpenitz, Schlesswig-Holstein, Germany, October 31, 1841, where he also spent his life up to the age of forty years. On October 27, 1865, he was married to Miss Louise Margaret Meier, which union was blessed with eight children, seven daughters and one son, of which one daughter preceded the parents in death.

In the year 1881, Mr. Heide and his son came to America and to Plymouth, and a year later he had his wife and daughters follow him.

Mrs. Heide died June 30, 1912, and since her death, Mr. Heide had made his home with his son, Carl Heide.

The deceased had been confined to his bed only for a few days, when death released him from all earthly troubles. He died Monday at 1:15 p. m., at the age of 86 years, four months and sixteen days. He leaves his six daughters and one son: Mrs. Charles Livrance, Mrs. Jacob Streng, Mrs. Henry Sage, Mrs. Albert Gayde, Mrs. Wm. Sutherland, Mrs. Louis Gerst and Carl Heide, all of Plymouth. Among the bereaved are also ten grandchildren, four great-grandchildren and many friends.

The funeral services were held from the Schrader Bros. Funeral Home, Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, Rev. Charles Strasen officiating. Interment in Riverside cemetery.

Willoughby Bros., Walk-Over Boot Shop, are announcing a special sale week on Onyx Pointex hosiery, from March 5th to 10th. See their large ad in today's paper.

WOULD LIGHT PAVED ROADS IN TOWNSHIP

PETITIONS HAVE BEEN CIRCULATED BY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE; TOWNSHIP BOARD WILL SUBMIT QUESTION AT APRIL ELECTION.

A petition sponsored by the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce has been circulated and presented to the township board asking that the proposition of lighting the paved highways in Plymouth township be submitted to voters of the township at the coming April election.

In pursuance of this petition, the board will submit the question to the voters as requested. In view of the fact that our neighboring township of Livonia has lighted all the paved roads in that township, there has been a feeling on the part of many of our citizens that Plymouth should keep pace with our neighbors in this respect and do likewise.

The Detroit Edison Co. has prepared a diagram and sketch showing the highway lighting required to properly illuminate the paved roads of Plymouth township.

If the roads of Plymouth township are lighted, it will not only provide light along the highway, but it will enable people living along these highways to enjoy the benefits of electricity for lights and power.

We understand that the matter of lighting the main highways leading out of Northville, is being agitated in that village, and is likely to come before the voters of that township at the coming spring election.

On another page of this paper, the township board has set forth a full explanation of the matter, and the cost thereof. Every taxpayer should read this, so that he will be able to vote intelligently on the question at the coming election.

CENTRAL SCHOOL P. T. A. WILL MEET

The March meeting of the Central School Parent-Teacher Association will be held in the kindergarten room of the high school, Monday, March 5, at 3:30 p. m. There is to be an election of officers, and the following program has been arranged by the committee in charge:

Song—First grade girls of Mrs. Root's room

Reading class demonstration by children from Miss Hodge's first-A grade

An explanation of the Palmer Method of writing by Mrs. Bird

Piano Duet—Two sixth grade girls

A feature of physical training—Girls from the fifth and sixth grades

There will be a nursery room, held in Mrs. Root's room, in charge of some of the older girls, so that the mothers of young children may leave them there, knowing that they will be capably taken care of during the meeting.

It is hoped all mothers and anyone interested will be present.

ANNUAL VILLAGE ELECTION

The annual village election will be held, Monday, March 12th. Besides the election of three commissioners, there will be three amendments to be voted upon which are important matters. On another page of today's Mail these amendments are printed in full. Every citizen should read them over carefully, so he will understand them fully before casting his ballot.

PLYMOUTH HOCKEY PLAYERS WIN FROM ANN ARBOR

The Plymouth Hockey team played the Ann Arbor All Stars a return game last Sunday morning, winning by a score of 5 to 3. The Plymouth boys, with their strongest line-up of the year on the ice, were too strong for the college town boys. Clark and MacDonald's playing stood out; their teamwork had Ann Arbor's boys worried. Clark scored three goals, going in all alone for the first two, and then taking a pass from MacDonald for the third. Block and Quirk scored the other two goals for Plymouth.

For Ann Arbor, Hatch and Lowry played great hockey. Hatch's work in the nets for Ann Arbor, featured.

Plymouth line-up: Dobbs, goal; Farrell and Douglas, defense; Gariett, Block, Clark, MacDonald and Quirk, forwards.

WHY COUNTRY BOYS WIN.

Despite the great increase in city population in recent years, country boys, that is boys reared on farms or in small towns, still seem to capture their share of the important places in the business and professional world. America's two wealthiest men, Ford and Rockefeller, were both country boys. President Coolidge came from a farm, and so did the governors of more than one-half the states of the Union.

There are probably many good reasons why boys from the farms and from towns like Plymouth take high places out in the world. One reason is that the country boy usually arrives in a big city without friends or influence, and with little cash, but with a determination to make good. City boys, on the other hand, have relatives and friends to depend upon, through whose influence they can get a good job to start with.

The country boy, determined to show "the folks back home" that he can make good in the big town, rolls up his sleeves and goes to work at anything that offers him a chance for advancement. His employers notice the difference between his attitude and that of those who are satisfied with a comfortable, well-paying job. The result is that they advance the country boy to more important positions when the opportunity offers. And more of them keep on climbing until they reach the top.

THE RAINY SEASON.

According to the weather-makers, we are due for our "rainy season" pretty soon; but there is nothing in the prediction to cause alarm. Just remember, when it does come, and if it doesn't pass us by completely, that it's something we must have, no matter how disagreeable it may be. Try and remember that if all the rain that falls on the earth during a single year could be gathered at one time it would cover the entire globe to a depth of over 20 feet—and then be thankful that it runs off as fast as it falls. When we consider that without spring rains we wouldn't be on earth another year, then we've no cause for complaint if it seems to come a little more abundantly than we think it should. If we have more than seems necessary, don't complain. Nature knows her business, and even if she didn't she would probably go right ahead sending rain, or withholding it, without any suggestions from us.

FARMERS AND SUCCESS.

What are the things that make a farmer successful? The U. S. Department of Agriculture has got some light on that subject from a 12-year study of 400 farms. No flat answer can be given, of course, but some few things stick out pretty clearly. They are summed up thus:

"While high crop yields alone do not necessarily insure a good farm income, the yields on the successful farms averaged higher than on the unsuccessful farms. In general the men obtaining the best yields kept considerable live stock, used commercial fertilizers, drained their land and limed the soil when necessary, used good seed or varieties adapted to local conditions, and treated their seed to prevent diseases, and followed good methods of cultivation."

These things, says Uncle Sam, are things that make a farmer successful.

TIME TO ACT.

We don't want to appear in the role of a "knocker," but we believe everyone in Plymouth will agree with us when we say that it adds nothing to the credit of the U. S. to approach another spring season without a single land turned toward averting another tragedy in the Mississippi valley.

Last spring when 100,000 people were rendered homeless by the fury of flood waters, our government made a great ado about immediate work toward forestalling another calamity. But here we are, on the edge of another flood season, and the Mississippi is in the same position to go on a rampage that it has always been. Congress has done a lot of talking about flood control and small-fry politicians have crept into the limelight to speak their little piece about it; but the real work of building higher and stronger levees and reservoirs, dredging channels and changing the courses of small tributaries hasn't even started.

Under what is said to be the most feasible plan before congress, it would require an expenditure of $700,000,000 to give the people of the Mississippi valley the protection they are entitled to. When we realize that we make billion dollar appropriations for battleships, the cost of flood prevention looks like only a drop in a bucket; but what is most needed now and what everyone would like to see is actual work toward preventing a flood that is sure to come if we sit idly by and wait for it. The cost is secondary. The American people are willing to foot the bill. What they want is flood prevention, and it is our guess that there are going to be a lot of new faces in the next congress if they don't get it.

THAT NEW MONEY.

We note a news item from Washington to the effect that Uncle Sam will start distributing his new dollar bills on October 1st. Since we have gas and oil stations, and nearly everyone who buys oil and gas tenders a dollar bill in payment, our paper money has been wearing out faster than it used to. It is attributed to the oil and grime on the filling station man's hands. So we're to have a smaller, and less expensive, dollar bill. It will be an inch shorter and an inch narrower than the present size; will contain 75 per cent linen and 25 per cent cotton, and is expected to last 50 per cent longer than the old variety. And that's what should interest Plymouth citizens most—getting a dollar that will last longer than they have been having. Now if they can go a little farther and make it buy 50 per cent more than ever before we'll be satisfied that this is, after all, the best old nation on earth.

CANTON HOME FURNISHING CLASS.

Tuesday, February 28th, the Canton Home Furnishing group met at the home of Mrs. Sam Spicer, East Ann Arbor trail. The previous lesson on color and design in the background of a room was reviewed and illustrations showing ceiling color poor in value, ceiling color brought down on the walls, and good color for walls considering size, use and exposure of the room, also wall papers of good and poor design and illustrations of woodwork which harmonizes with wall covering were criticized.

The new lesson on design and color in floor coverings and the braided rug was then taken up. Materials to be used in the rug, design and color were discussed, also cutting, joining, folding and pressing, braiding and sewing. From three to ten strands may be used in braiding, but the class experimented with from three to five strands only. A very interesting way of folding materials was demonstrated.

The meeting adjourned to meet April 4th at the home of Mrs. Griffin.

Charity not only begins at home but in most cases ends there, too.

HOLE-IN-ONE

The following is taken from the St. Petersburg, Florida, Evening Independent:

"Mr. W. S. Bate of Plymouth, Mich., and a guest of the Jungle hotel, turned in one of those things called a hole-in-one yesterday while playing with Mr. J. A. Gordon and Mr. Hodges of this city.

"The unusual feature occurred at the eleventh hole which is 192 yards and was made with his driver."

YIELD INCREASE LOWERS BEET PRODUCTION COSTS

A decrease in production costs for sugar beets from ten dollars a ton to less than four dollars is secured when the yield is increased from six tons to 18 tons per acre, is the statement of the soils department at Michigan State College.

One of the practices that increases yields is the use of high grade fertilizers. The increasing use of sweet clover and alfalfa in Michigan will also assist farmers in cutting production costs on crops which follow the legumes.

HAT'S A SUIT WORTH?

Some folks don't get all the wear-worth out of a suit that is possible in the opinion of Daisy Dorothy. There are some men and women of her acquaintance she says are very neglectful when it comes to taking an inventory of their wardrobes.

She believes that our cleaning and dyeing is one of the biggest home saving helps ever established. You'll be inclined to agree with her after you investigate our worth.

When Her Feet Bothered

By CORONA REMINGTON

(Copyright.)

"YOU can't do anything if you haven't anything to do," said Kathryn Greenlee practically.

"But I'm going to find something to do," declared Grace Edington. "I'm going out to get a job!"

"You!" scoffed Kathryn, slipping a bonolr pillow behind her head and relaxing comfortably. "And what training have you had? What could you do? Unhappily, losing all your money doesn't automatically teach you how to earn more."

"I can be a salesgirl. That doesn't take any training."

An Edington a saleswoman! Grace, for goodness sake, don't lose your mind. What would everybody say? You forget your position. A saleswoman!

"I'd rather be a saleswoman than a hungry woman. I've quite made up my mind. Tomorrow at eight o'clock I'm going down to Denton's and I'm going to take Charles Denton in a corner and tell him I've got to have a job."

"Oh, I see. The old crush is still on, eh?"

"Yes, the old crush is still on, but it's all on my side," Grace told her chum frankly. "It's simply that since I have to work somewhere I'd rather work there, if I can only get a job."

"Well, you know what I think about the whole thing," said Kathryn, "but your life's your own. And if you had any hope of ever winning Charles you certainly are killing the last chance."

The next morning, true to her word, Grace went down to Denton's and tackled the very immaculate son of old man Denton, millionaire founder of Pembroke's finest ready to wear.

"Certainly," he said warmly, after he had heard her story. "I'm sure we can put you on. It's mighty fine of you, Grace, the way you're taking your—reverses."

"Nothing fine about it," answered Grace quietly, but her blue eyes shone at the compliment. "I don't mind it half as much as I thought I would."

He put her in the misses' dress department and as the day dragged on she decided that minutes could sometimes be hours and hours weeks. The other girls eyed her from a distance and made no effort to make things easier for her. Her head was splitting by noon and only one refrain kept screaming through her brain: "Oh, my feet!" After lunch Charles came around and was shocked by the sight of her drawn white face.

"It's too much for you," he said quickly.

"Nonsense! I'm doing fine! And I sold a dress to Evelyn Mabry. It's doing to be lots of fun," she declared, trying to force enthusiasm into her voice. "Oh, my feet! How adorable he is! I wish he wouldn't be kind to me. I'm afraid I'll cry," her brain kept rattling along hysterically while she stood nervously wishing he would go away, yet longing for him to stay.

"You've got spunk," he said after a moment, "and, say, don't let the other girls' manner toward you bother you. They're jealous of your social position."

"I haven't any, any more," Grace answered with a wry little smile.

"Hats! You must think you're living in 1859 when girls did nothing but lounge around and faint!"

With a smile he was gone. She no longer felt tired; the very sight of him had refreshed her and she found herself looking forward to tomorrow when he would probably visit the department again. All next day she watched for him, listened for the first sound of his voice, could hardly wait on the customers for longing for him. But he did not come. His visit was the thing she had to look forward to in the long, head-splitting humiliated day and now he hadn't come. As soon as the bell sounded she gleefully went to the dressing room, put on her chic little felt hat and went down in the elevator. At the big side door her world of gloom burst into sunshine as young Denton dropped into step beside her.

"Been wanting to run up all day and see how things were going, but I simply couldn't get a minute. Come along, let's have dinner together," he invited, leading her toward his car. He took her silence for consent and soon she found herself sitting opposite him in a quaint little restaurant with shaded lights. He looked across and smiled.

"This is cozy," he said.

"I'm so happy I hardly know where I am," she answered.

"What about?" he asked.

She flushed, then replied quickly enough: "I sold seven dresses today. I believe I'm going to make good."

"You know what, Grace," he said, slipping a hand over hers, "I've always liked you—and I believe you like me a little, but I've been afraid—afraid you were like the rest of our bunch: sort of light and flippish. Now, I see how wrong I've been. I believe you'd stick by a fellow if it came to a crisis. You'd stand up and fight!"

"I certainly would," she answered with warmth, her voice ringing, "especially if it were a certain—fellow."

"Let's get out of here, quick," he said, "before I shock these gaping idiots."

And to reply Grace remarked as she rose, quite automatically, "Oh, my feet!" But there was only joy in her voice as she spoke.

Dear Friends:

A man came into the store here yesterday and said to Mr. Draper: "I want to get a present for the wife. It's our anniversary." He and Mr. Draper selected a nice 100-piece china dinner set. You can guess how pleased that wife will be.

I'm in no position to advise married men how they should treat their wives, not having any wife of my own.

But I'll leave it to anybody in Plymouth if an anniversary gift like that doesn't show the right spirit.

When's your anniversary?
TICK.

MERCHANTS' SERVICE BUREAU.

The members of the Merchants' Service Bureau had a very interesting meeting at the Hotel Mayflower on Wednesday evening of this week. The meeting was in the form of a dinner, after which all present took part in a very interesting and lively discussion. The principal topics discussed were credits, ways of improving Bureau Service, more uses for the weekly bulletin and a "pay promptly" advertising campaign.

The members enjoyed the discussion so well that they voted to hold monthly "get-together" dinners.

STARK SCHOOL NOTES

Geraldine Schmidt
Mrs. Blake, president of the P. T. A., drilled the children for the patriotic play that was given Wednesday evening, February 29. This program included a patriotism, health and Founders Day celebration. The play was given by the children in the upper room. The characters were dressed as in Washington's days.

The characters were: George Washington—Ralph Wachtel; Martha Washington—Lillian Blake; Benjamin Franklin—Donald Streb; Thomas Morris—Oscar Luttmoser; John Adams—Kenneth Kahn; Betsy Ross—Isabelle Winkler; Margaret White—Marjorie May; Jane Hill—Catherine McKinney; Mary Dandur—Geraldine Schmidt.

After the play, the characters took part in the Virginia Hoop.

Miss Tucker, the Wayne County Librarian, visited our school Monday, February 27th. She brought some new books and took the ones we had back with her.

Miss Corbett brought Miss Wixon to visit our school, to look at the girls' sewing.

Mr. Carr brought Mr. Thomson, also, to look at the boys' club work. We were glad to have them stay to have hot lunch.

In connection with our dental campaign, we have made dental charts. The children are making dental posters.

We are collecting pictures for our posters for Miss Corbett.

We are having spelling charts. The fifth and sixth graders are trying together, and the seventh and eighth graders are doing the same.

The children made some booklets to keep their perfect and important papers in.

The sixth graders are making maps of the North Central States. They are also having a contest in arithmetic. They are divided into two teams, first and second.

We are getting ready for the spelling grade championship, March 16th.

We are proud of our new flag. The boys' club is well supplied with tools that the P. T. A. bought for them.

The girls are also equipped with a sewing machine.

We have a very nice reading table, that was recently purchased.

We are very sorry to say that Mr. and Mrs. Streb and family are moving.

WILL GIVE FREE LECTURE AT I. O. O. F. TEMPLE

Dr. Frank C. Pacific will show the most interesting things he saw in his three months of travel last year in Europe at the I. O. O. F. temple, Friday evening, March 9th, at 8:00 o'clock. England, the land of, and the changing of the Royal Guards in front of the Royal Palace; Holland and Marken Island, with customs and uses of centuries ago; Germany with the famous Cathedral of Cologne; the Rhine river; Switzerland, with its mountains; France and all the beauty of Versailles; Italy with the interesting work of art; Milan, Venice, Florence, etc., and finally back to New York, where we saw the Statue of Liberty.

DR. FRANK C. PACIFIC

Dr. F. C. Pacific has been a specialist with a clinic of eye, ear, nose and throat, with offices at 1041 Grant avenue for over 16 years.

He is a major, assistant surgeon and special aide de camp on Major-General T. Calvert Crowe's staff. He is a faithful worker in Odd Fellowship and belongs to all branches of the Masonic order. He is well liked in our fraternities, and we are glad that he gives us the opportunity of hearing him.

Portrait of a Lady

By DOROTHY DOUGLAS

(Copyright)

NADINE made her way swiftly toward the gallery in which the portrait of her mother was hung. She could scarcely walk for excitement. To Nadine's hungry eyes it was not only the Portrait of a Lady by Van Dyne—it was the likeness of her very own precious mother.

Nadine's shabby little costume and well-worn shoes were distinct evidence that she was no longer of the wealthy class that her family had known when the portrait was painted. She remembered the painting as it had always hung in the wonderful old drawing room of their English home.

Her father had been one of the brave men to fall for his king and country and after that the precious mother went on to join the husband she had loved and Nadine was left alone—practically penniless and homeless. The portrait had been bought by a wealthy American who, rumor had it, had since lost his fortune. Nadine knew little about the story except that the picture was now in the Metropolitan museum, whither Nadine had come to see it.

It was ten years since she had seen it and now, so far away from the old home, and hanging here among the hundreds of famous paintings, the portrait of Nadine's mother brought with it a throng of memories so poignant that it was small wonder Nadine felt shaky.

It was students' day at the Metropolitan and there was an artist making a most divine sketch from the portrait. The young man was standing beside him.

"The beautiful lady of the portrait seemed to smile softly down at Nadine. She fancied her mother's white hand moved as if she would caress her daughter's wistful face. "Mother, mother mine," cried Nadine, and fell limply to the floor.

When she opened her eyes she was looking into those of the old artist who had been sketching her mother's portrait.

"My dear child," he said, "you're not well—you shouldn't be out alone." "Oh, I'm quite all right," smiled Nadine wistfully. "I hadn't seen my mother's portrait for ten years—and it almost seemed as if she smiled at me." She looked up more brightly, "It was silly of me."

"It wasn't silly at all," said the young man, "I feel almost like doing the same when I come here. My uncle owned that portrait for years—until the crash came—and it was like parting with one's own flesh and blood when it was removed from the old home. He—my uncle—loved—her—loved her long before she married your father. He bought the portrait when—when it had to be sold. I have looked at it every day for nearly ten years and—worshipped her, too."

"Life is a very strange affair," said the artist with a shake of the head. "Here are you two young people, from different sides of the ocean, meeting before a portrait which has been lost to both of you and each emotionally upset by the personality radiating from it. Your mother must have been an extraordinarily lovely young woman," he continued and glancing straight into Nadine's eyes he added tenderly, "and her daughter—well, my dear—you could sit for the portrait."

Nadine blushed and hid the light in her eyes. The young man had been standing silently listening but his eyes had never left Nadine's face. It seemed as if the entire world of joy had been suddenly tossed into his lap, so wonderful was the expression on his face.

"And I have come back to the land of my mother's birth," said Nadine, "and have taken a position. I hope to make good," she added shyly.

"You will," the artist told her, "and you're going to be very good to an old man and let him paint a portrait of you—perhaps it may hang beside this one by Van Dyne—a companion portrait."

"Then you are—," cried Nadine swiftly.

"Yes, my dear—I am Van Dyne, and I, too—loved your mother. Every soul who knew her—loved her and now—you will both come to my studio to have dinner and celebrate this wonderful meeting."

Up on the wall of the Metropolitan the Lady of the Portrait smiled down upon the trio but the Mother Spirit of the portrait took her daughter in her arms and whispered softly in her ear, "Be happy, my sweet. We're watching over you and have guided you to your love. Put your hand in his when the time comes and fear not poverty nor anything the world can do to you, for love overcomes all fear. Smile, my love, he's waiting to see your smile."

Nadine looked into young Chatwood's eyes and smiled, then all three went out of the gallery with the knowledge that a supreme moment had been given them and that even portraits can speak.

If you stood in the position you sleep in... would your pose be a restful one?

You will immediately notice the nervous and muscular strain of this tiring standing position. Sleeping the same way prevents complete relaxation.

When you sleep on a Rome De Luxe bedspring the spine is straight and natural; the body is fully relaxed.

MANY sagging beds seem comfortable because of long use. But actually the body is forced into strained, tiring positions. Most people sleep this way, never realizing the harmful results of the unnatural position they have become accustomed to.

Sagging, with its many ill effects, is impossible when you sleep on a De Luxe bedspring. Every coil in a De Luxe moves independently of all other coils, yielding to the pressure of hips and shoulders yet rising to relieve all strain on the vital organs between. The spine lies naturally, straight and free from strain. Nerves and muscles are fully relaxed... refreshing sleep comes quickly.

Enjoy this new deep sleep right now. We will gladly bring a Rome De Luxe bedspring to your home for a trial. Phone us today for details, and let us give you a copy of Dr. Royal S. Copeland's interesting booklet, "How Better Sleep Builds Better Health."

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Geer and Ben Geer of Ypsilanti, and John Root, Choe Rooke, Mrs. Charles Honeywell, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Gates, of this place, spent Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. James Gates.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Lutheran church will hold a thimble party in the church basement, Wednesday afternoon, March 7th. Mrs. C. Drews and Mrs. James Horan will be hostesses for the afternoon. Everybody welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. James Stevens of Blum avenue, entertained the members of their neighborhood five hundred club at their home, last Tuesday evening. Mrs. Forrest Smith was awarded first honors for the ladies, and Wyman Bartlett for the gentlemen. A most pleasant evening was enjoyed by all.

NORTH AMERICAN FLOWER SHOW.

The orchid—queen of flowers—will be enshrined once more when the North American Flower Show opens in Detroit on March 17th.

The orchid is royalty among flowers. There are those who prefer the blush of a perfect rose, America's own flower. Others lean to the chaste lily, the demure violet, flaunting clematis or cameo-like carnation. The orchid, however, is the pampered pet of flower lovers the world over.

And what an exacting pet is the fragile orchid! Only an expert can grow them successfully and their cultivation is a painstaking process that requires years of work. They are hard to handle, to market, and to transport. One firm, exhibiting at the National Flower Show last spring, was compelled to use an airplane for carrying orchids because of their extreme perishability.

Despite the handicaps, perfect orchids are raised and considered by fanciers the most coveted of flowers. They blossom in new and ever more beautiful hues, so that a master painter could spend a life time in pursuit of their elusive loveliness and never capture it. Like the royalty that they are, moreover, the orchids run mainly to purple and gold.

In its native haunts, the orchid lives high in the sequestered crotches of jungle trees, tossed in the wild tropic storms. Its sustenance is drawn from the damp ground and the cool nights, breeding an aerial wonder that shames the mundane earth below. The quest of the orchid in its native surroundings is an engaging adventure for flower lovers and many have lost their lives in field jungle quests.

An especially large exhibition of orchids is planned for the North American Flower Show. The exposition will be held in Convention hall and will continue until March 25.

NEWBURG

Despite the very cold weather, there were 61 in Sunday school last Sunday, and Rev. Johnson preached a very good sermon on the subject, "Interrupted Religion."

The Queen Ester Circle will meet Friday evening, with Miss Joy McNabb.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Carney spent the week-end in Port Huron.

G. A. Bakewell, local realtor, attended a subdividers and brokers conference at Ann Arbor, last Thursday and Friday, and Friday evening attended a concert in Hill auditorium.

Donald Ryder attended a Peoria Life Insurance meeting in Ypsilanti, last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. I. Gunsolly and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith attended an Eastern Star banquet in Plymouth, Tuesday evening.

Several from Newburg attended the funeral of Mrs. James LeVan in Plymouth, Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. LeVan was a charter member of Newburg L. A. S., which was organized in 1890, and was its first president. There are only two more charter members now, Mrs. C. E. Ryder and Mrs. M. Eva Smith.

Rev. Johnson officiated at a funeral in Dexter, Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Raymond Ryder of LaGrange, Ill., attended her grandmother's funeral, Mrs. James LeVan, and also visited Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Ryder.

Malcolm and Rueling Cutler spent the week-end at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Cutler.

Clyde Smith, Henry Melbeck, Lloyd Basset and Harold and Milo Thomas and Rev. Johnson worked Saturday, drawing gravel for the church basement.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Mackinder are enjoying a new Crosley electric radio.

Mrs. James McNabb entertained a party of twelve for dinner, Wednesday. Guests were present from Detroit, Plymouth and New Hudson.

Mrs. Gay Casterlin of Flint, visited Mrs. C. E. Ryder, Wednesday.

The regular meeting of the L. A. S. will be held next Wednesday, March 7, at the hall. Dinner will be served at 6:00 o'clock.

A PLEASANT SURPRISE

Mrs. J. J. Wollgaat was pleasantly surprised Wednesday evening, when relatives and friends to the number of forty came to honor her birthday. Cards furnished entertainment for the evening and a fine lunch was served. Mrs. Wollgaat was the recipient of many remembrances of the occasion, and at a late hour, all departed for their several homes wishing her many more happy birthdays.

THE SCHOOL PAGE.

The Plymouth schools have a regular staff of writers for the school notes which are now appearing each week under the head of "Pilgrim Prints." This is a most interesting page and our readers are requested to turn to this page in the second section.

St. Patrick's dancing party at Masonic temple, Friday, March 16th.

MUNICIPAL NOTES

BY THE MANAGER

A grass fire which started about 11:00 a. m. Monday, February 27th, just north of Pearl street, between the P. M. R. R. and Starkweather avenue, was put out by our fire department with fire brooms. A strong wind was blowing from the northwest, which might have started the houses on Pearl and Starkweather to burn. The P. M. R. R. had about six or eight men with shovels and brooms aiding in extinguishing it.

Another alarm came in at 4:10 p. m. Tuesday, February 28th. A load of coke which came from the Ford Motor Co. for the Lee Foundry Co., got as far as Plymouth road and Mill street when the driver noticed that it was on fire. This was quickly put out by the fire department, a hydrant being handy right along side of the truck.

The following is an exact copy of the Charter on Special Elections, page 7, Special Elections. How appointed. (20) Sec. 16. Special elections may be appointed by resolution of the commission, adopted at least twenty-one days in advance thereof, which shall set forth the purpose and object thereof and the time when the same is to be held; provided, there shall be no more than two special elections held in one year unless a greater number shall hereafter be permitted by general law.

Bids will be opened for the paving of Pennington avenue, on March 14th, at 7:30 p. m., at the village hall.

Before we can advertise for bids on any other streets, we have to have a special election to vote on the general obligation bonds, as the village pays for one-third of the cost of the storm sewers and for the intersections. This shows that it takes about five weeks after petitions are accepted by the commission before we can receive bids on these streets. There are only two other petitions in besides Pennington avenue, which have been accepted at the present time. If we call a special election to vote on the bonds for these two streets, then we can only have one more special election during the year. It costs money to call a special election, and the bids we get on one or two streets will not be as low as on a large program.

I am not trying to hurry these petitions to get all the streets paved, but the people ought to be informed as to the procedure necessary before we can advertise for bids according to our charter. I am only trying to save additional special elections, and to get the best bids obtainable for all that want their streets paved this year.

WENDLAND-BEYER.

A pretty church wedding took place on Saturday evening, February 25th, when Frieda Beyer, of Plymouth, and Jervis Wendland, of Inkster, were united in marriage. Rev. Oscar Peters performed the ceremony in the Livonia Center Lutheran church. To the strains of a wedding march played by Mr. Schultz, of Wayne, the wedding party took their places before the altar.

The bride was attended by her sister, Hazel, the maid of honor and also her sister, Anna. The groom was attended by his brother, Ernest, the best man and Kenneth Hanchett. The two little flower girls were Marion Leader, niece of the bride, and Marie Keller, cousin of the groom.

The bride's white satin gown was trimmed with lace and beads. She wore a veil and a head-dress of pearls and orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaids were dressed in taffeta and each carried a bouquet of pink roses. The flower girls wore yellow silk dresses and each carried a basket of flowers.

A lovely supper was served to about forty guests at the bride's parents' home on Pearl street. The young couple will be at home in Dearborn to their friends after March 1st.

ROBBERS BREAK INTO COUNTRY STORE.

Thieves broke into the general store of Colburn Dennis at the corner of Canton Center and Cherry Hill roads, by forcing a rear door of the store, some time late last week Wednesday night or early Thursday morning. The robbers took a quantity of boots, shoes, rubbers, automobile tires and tubes, dry goods, groceries and meats, to the value of about $400. No clue to the robbers has been obtained.

WARNING TO MOTORISTS.

Motorists are again becoming lax about observing the stop lights and stop signs in the village, especially so at Church and North Harvey streets. I again warn you that if these signals and signs are not observed offenders need not be surprised when they are ordered to appear in court and are fined in accordance with the law. The police department has orders to see that these signals lights and stop signs are observed, so watch your step from now on.

GEORGE W. SPRINGER, Chief of Police.

ROTARY CLUB OBSERVES 23RD ANNIVERSARY.

The Plymouth Rotary Club observed the 23rd anniversary of the founding of the first Rotary Club, at their noon-day luncheon last Friday. The first club was formed by Paul P. Harris and a small group of business men in Chicago, Ill. From this small beginning, Rotary has been extended until today there are clubs in forty-four countries of the world. There are a total of 2,768 clubs with a membership of about 147,000.

The program last Friday, was in charge of Rotarian Walter Nichol, as chairman, and Rotarians R. P. Woodworth, S. A. Spicer and John S. Dayton. Each one gave interesting talks on Rotary, tracing its origin and growth up to the present time.

Rotarian Harry C. Robinson gave a short talk on the coming meeting of Rotary International, which will be held in Minneapolis, Minn., next June. The local Rotary Club was organized March 19th, 1924, and has a present membership of forty-two.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MRS. ELLA KING.

Plymouth friends were saddened last week Thursday morning to hear of the death of Mrs. Ella King, aged 78 years, and for many years a resident of this place, who passed away at the home of her niece, Mrs. Fred Wheeler in Ann Arbor, Wednesday evening, February 22nd. Mrs. King had been rapidly failing in health for the past year, and was confined to her bed several weeks prior to her death.

The deceased was the daughter of Lewis and Catherine Westfall, and was born at Lyons, New York, December 24, 1849, but at an early age came with her parents to Plymouth where she has since resided. She was the youngest of seven children, all of whom have passed to the higher life except one brother, Oliver Westfall of this place.

On September 27, 1877, she was united in marriage to John King of Plymouth. Mrs. King was a woman of unusual strength of character, true to friendships and always a friend in need. Her happy, genial disposition endeared her to many friends, who will miss her greatly. Besides her brother, Oliver Westfall, she is survived by several nieces and nephews.

The funeral services were held from the Schrader Bros. Funeral Home Friday afternoon at two o'clock. Rev. Walter Nichol, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this place, conducting the services. Appropriate music was pleasingly rendered by Mrs. Carl Shear and Mrs. J. T. Chapman. Mrs. King was laid to rest beside her husband in the family lot in Riverside cemetery.

Relatives and friends from Cooley Lake, Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Ferndale, Detroit and Plymouth, attended the services.

HOUGH SCHOOL NOTES

Jeanett Merriman, reporter
Mr. Hastings of Lansing, will give an illustrated lecture on conservation in Michigan, on the night of March 5th, at the hall in Cherry Hill. Everybody welcome. No charge for admission.

Be sure to attend the meeting of the Hough school P. T. A., as it is the election of officers, on March 7th. Everyone come prepared to pay dues. The date for the meeting has been changed to March 7th, because of the meeting in Cherry Hill on March 5th.

The following children were neither absent nor tardy for the month of February: Raphael Mettetal, Lester Reddeman, Phyllis Reddeman, Jerome Stiers, Walter Stiers, Bernice Witt, Edward and Tony Wudyuka.

As it is the month of February, we have our blackboards decorated with hats and pictures of Lincoln and Washington.

The children of Hough school sold subscriptions for the "Farmer's Wife" magazine, and received the picture of "Can't You Talk?" as a reward.

We have a hot lunch club at our school now. Everyone belongs to it but one family.

We have a new library in our school; that makes three libraries now. We had a Valentine party, February 14th, and we invited our mothers. We had Ell Mettetal, Ronald Swegles, Betty Reddeman, Margaret Merriman for visitors in the morning, and for the party in the afternoon we had Catherine Lane, Catherine Miskerik, Evelyn Elliott, Mrs. Elliott, Mrs. Gerst, Mrs. Fogarty, Mrs. Gust, Mrs. Hix, Mrs. Miskarik, Mrs. Reddeman and Mrs. Lane.

We have three families moving out of the district. They are George Elliott, who is moving near South Lyon; Howard Lane, who is moving on the Artley road, near Michigan avenue; and Ernest Reddeman, who is moving near Dexter.

A party and social was held at the home of Raphael Mettetal on February 22, 1928, by the P. T. A. Progressus pedro was played, and supper partners were chosen by archery. The three families who are moving away were presented with gifts of books of poems by Edgar Guest. A most enjoyable time was had by all present.

A CARD—I wish to thank the friends who sent me the flowers and cards while at home and at the hospital.

William Michael.

PLACE BIRDS AVOID MENACE TO AIRMEN

Mysterious Threat Lingers on Pennsylvania Mount.

Pittsburgh, Pa.—Recalling the fact that each year several United States army air service pilots come to grief on the rugged mountain slopes in the vicinity of Uniontown, Pa., scientific investigation to determine whether a deadly airplane menace hangs over that section is to be undertaken by the Pennsylvania State Aeronautical commission.
 The investigation is to be made in connection with the work of surveying and routing new airplanes across the Keystone state.
 In years gone by, when Langin field, Moundsville, was the midway station on the model airway between Dayton, Ohio, and Washington, the fall and winter was a usual period for crashes in the mountain sections. Almost miraculously the pilots of army planes escaped death one year, when there were no less than nine valuable ships hauled from the mountain recesses as wrecks after the pilots had lost control.

Avoided by Birds.
 Many airmen assert that a mysterious threat to flying men lingers over sections of the high ridge which separates the seaboard from the vast continent to the west. They point to the deaths of Pilot E. R. Emory of Newark, Ohio, and William D. Zollman, mechanic, of Fredericksburg, Ohio, who were killed when their plane, modern in every respect, crashed. Both men tried to jump, but had no time. Their broken bodies were found beside their wrecked plane in the mountain forest.
 And the pilots point also to a fact long known to dwellers in the mountains; that there are certain spots birds avoid in their flight. Even in the spring and autumn migrations, when the birds generally fly in a straight airline, they detour from these suspected areas.

"Spotty" Atmosphere.
 There may be a key to the conditions when it is established why motorists traveling the National or Lincoln highways over the "Big Fellow" suddenly find their motors stalled. There seems to be a peculiar atmosphere "in spots," unbalanced air probably, or that condition which all research in physics seems to disprove—an atmospheric vacuum.

Aviators may have this same motor trouble over the mountains. It is pointed out, and they talk of the Pennsylvania ridges as of "bad lands" or, in the vernacular of the air, as "bad clouds." A number of machines dependable in every way have crashed in the mountains—they just have dropped.

What did the aviators, who looked death in the face, see? What did they realize in their helpless, slipping planes? If any in that instant comprehended the cause of the disaster, the knowledge died with him. None who fell over the mountain lived to disclose it.

World Is 75,000,000 Years Old, Says Professor

Berkeley, Calif.—How old is the world?
 About 6,000 years, according to the account in Genesis.
 More than 75,000,000 years, according to three University of California scientists, who have just returned from a geologic survey in Arizona, Utah and Colorado.
 The California professors—C. L. Camp, paleontologist; S. C. Pepper of the philosophy department, and James P. Fox, geologist—studied the deep gorges of the Grand canyon and the peculiar geologic formations of Arizona's Painted Desert.
 Three fragmentary phytosaur skulls, which they brought back with them, fix the age of the world at more than 75,000,000 years, the professors contend.
 The skulls, furthermore, according to the discoverers, show that even at that somewhat remote age the process of evolution was at work.

$250,000 Smuggled in Child's Teddy Bear

Gleiwitz, Germany.—How 1,500,000 zloties (Polish national currency), or about $250,000, were smuggled in a large teddy bear will be told in the courts at Konigsbote.
 Karl Kessler, a Polish postal employee, is charged with having stolen the money from a mail train. He is alleged to have handed it to a married couple named Cieslik. The zloty bills were sewed inside a teddy bear, with which their little boy was told to play while crossing the frontier by train into Germany. In this way they hoodwinked the customs officials, but at Offenbach, where they tried to change the zloties into other currency the Ciesliks were arrested, as were also Kessler's brother and a number of accomplices on the German-Polish border.
 Kessler, who fled with false passports, was arrested in Bavaria.

 Mr. and Mrs. Herman Nankee and daughter, Cecil, spent Sunday in Detroit, visiting relatives.
 Miss Gladys Freeman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Freeman, was united in marriage to Edwin Billock of Grand Rapids, Saturday afternoon at 5:00 o'clock, by Dr. M. S. Rice, Detroit, at his home. The bride was attended by Miss Beatrice Peltier, Chatham, Ont., and Mrs. Winifred Boyd of Detroit. Frank Hyna of Detroit, acted as best man. The bride was gowned in a navy blue crepe street dress, trimmed in silver, and wore a hat to match. The young couple will make their future home in Grand Rapids.

NEWBURG SCHOOL NOTES

By Avis Perkins
 Miss Corbett, who visited school Wednesday, taught a music lesson and was our guest during the lunch hour.
 Miss Reid also visited school Wednesday, and presented the grammar grades with the health and hygiene stars which we were very proud of receiving.
 A new pupil, George Ellis, entered the intermediate room on February 27.
 On Miss Reid's last visit she left the intermediate and primary rooms several posters which they enjoyed coloring.
 The book, "After the Rain," which tells about health in foreign countries, was left to the pupils of the intermediate room by Miss Reid. The first story which is about France was enjoyed by all the pupils.
 The fourth grade is studying the multiplication tables, with great interest. They wish to complete card three of Courts drill in six minutes.
 The fifth grade is studying the division of fractions.
 The fourth and fifth grades are working on oral language.
 The third, fourth and fifth grades have been studying sketches and reciting poems of Henry W. Longfellow.

The last number of the National Geographic magazine contains sixty-seven illustrations of Michigan, and among them is one which points to the fact that Michigan makes more than nine-tenths of the air guns produced in the world. The illustration shows Arthur Burden testing the accuracy of finished rifles in the Daley Mfg. Co. plant in Plymouth. Mr. Burden enjoys the distinction of having fired more shots from more guns than any other man. He has been at this particular job about every day for 33 years.

Mrs. Adella Markham spent last week-end in Detroit, on Friday evening attending a Mayville reunion of former and present residents, in the Campbell avenue M. ## SERIES OF HOME SERVICE LESSONS TO CLOSE

MISS GLADYS L. PECKHAM WILL CONDUCT LAST LESSON OF THIS MOST SUCCESSFUL SERIES NEXT WEDNESDAY.

Pastry making and the art of baking the "all-American dessert," pie, was the subject of the fifth Home Service lesson on Wednesday at 2:30 at the office of the Michigan Federated Utilities on Main street.

Miss Peckham explained carefully and simply the best methods for correct mixing of the pastry, stressing the importance of handling the mixture as little as possible, chilling the pastry before rolling it out and baking at the proper temperature. Fillings for custard, apple and raisin pies, pineapple gelatine pie, coconut cream, and lemon divinity pies were discussed. Difficulties found in making a perfect meringue will be helped by these three points:

1. Beat egg whites until stiff and dry.
2. Add two tablespoons of granulated sugar for every egg white.
3. Bake at a moderate temperature, 325 degrees F., 350 degrees F., for 30 minutes, or until browned.

The last lesson of the series will be held next Wednesday, on "Ham Oven Dinner," the cooking of an entire meal in the oven at one time for three to five-hour periods.

Sets of aluminum measuring spoons will be distributed free to all attending this class. Awards will also be made to all those who have attended five of the Home Service classes. Bids will be received on the kitchen cabinet and the enameled work table, both of which will be sold at this time to the highest bidder.

Miss Peckham leaves next week for Marshall, Michigan, where a similar series of classes will be given.

RESOLUTIONS

Resolutions adopted by Plymouth Rebekah Lodge, No. 182, I. O. O. F.: Whereas, in His divine wisdom, it has pleased our Heavenly Father to remove from our midst our beloved sister, Rose Burrows, be it

Resolved, That Plymouth Rebekah Lodge, No. 182, I. O. O. F. has lost a member, one for whom we mourn, who was in every way worthy of our respect and regard. We extend to the bereaved husband, children, grandchildren and brothers our deepest sympathies. And out of the darkness and sorrow may God's richest blessing shine as a comfort to those who remain to mourn her decease; therefore, be it

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of the deceased, that they be published in the Plymouth Mail, and that they be placed upon the minutes of this Lodge, and the charter be draped for a period of sixty days.

Oh, thou who mournest on thy way, With longing for the closing day, And gently whispers, be resigned, Bear up, bear on, the end shall tell, The dear Lord doeth all things well.

WOMAN'S CLUB HELD

INTERESTING MEETING

The Woman's Club of Plymouth met at the Hotel Mayflower, Friday afternoon, February 24th. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. R. E. Cooper. There was a short business program and the following announcements of business to be attended to at the meetings of March 9 and 23, were given. At the March 9th meeting the question of the continuance of luncheons will come to a vote. As that meeting is the club anniversary day and a luncheon will be served, it was voted to permit each member to invite a guest. The price of the luncheon will be 85c. At the March 23rd meeting the nominating committee will be elected.

With the conclusion of the business session, Mrs. Charles Humphries took charge of the program, whose subject was Japan. The club year book carries a brief quotation from the Emperor Shomu, to the effect that "The gathered cherry branch can scarce convey a fancy of the blossom-laden trees," but it is certain those present were well satisfied with the delightful Japanese numbers presented.

Mrs. Hilda Smyth Stevens, accompanied by Mrs. B. E. Champe, opened the program with a Japanese Love Song. Mrs. Paul Nash gave a very interesting paper on the Japanese theatre, after which dancers from Tokio further illustrated the art of these people. This clever arrangement was performed by Misses Elizabeth Burrows and Pauline Deal, with Miss Thelma Peck at the piano.

Mrs. Charles Humphries gave a brief explanation of the play, Bushido, by Idzumo, which was then read by Mrs. Edwin Block. The closing numbers were a group of songs, "The Home in the Heart of the Sea," Chrysanthemums and Can't Remember, by Mrs. Hilda Smyth Stevens, and a piano solo, Lotus Land, played by Miss Gladys Schrader.

Miss Florence Davies, a special writer for the feature section of the Detroit News, will be the speaker at the next luncheon meeting, Friday, March 9th.

RURAL CARRIERS OF COUNTY MET AT NORTHVILLE.

The first annual banquet and get-together meeting of the Wayne County Rural Carriers Association was held in the banquet room of the First Methodist church at Northville, last Saturday evening. The carriers had invited as their guests, all the postmasters and their wives of the county and a goodly number were present. A chicken dinner was served by the ladies of the church at 6:30 o'clock.

C. L. Davison of Belleville, was toastmaster. Among the speakers were J. L. Blackman, vice-president of the state organization, and J. L. Hoyt, of Belleville, secretary of the state rural carriers association, and J. D. Brown, president of the Wayne County Association was also present and made some remarks.

Mrs. J. L. Hoyt of Belleville, president of the auxiliary association, also was one of the speakers. It was a most pleasant occasion for all present. All of the Plymouth rural carriers and their ladies were in attendance, and report a fine time.

SENIOR CLASS PRESENTS GASFORD CONCERT COMPANY

Casford Concert Company

The Casford Concert company, which has been secured by the senior class to appear at the High school auditorium the evening of March 6th, is headed by Miss Fern L. Casford, reader and pianist. From the most intense dramatic interpretations to the ridiculous situation of her humorous numbers she carries her audiences from tears to gales of laughter. "Whistle Breeches," the story of a persecuted school boy later occupying the governor's chair and his opportunity for revenge on his persecutor, whose son is under sentence for crime, is one of Miss Crawford's numbers which gives full range for her remarkable ability as a reader. The way her stories call into play the best emotions of her audience and fix in the memory her characters mark Miss Casford as one of the outstanding entertainers of the platform. The sorrowing Irish father, the winsome child, the ridiculous boy, yearning mother, the stately governor, nature's children, the birds and animals become fixed in the memory as she brings them in succession to her aid in entertaining her audience.

Miss Winifred Casford is violinist of the company. From the lighter selections to those of deeper appeal her playing is sympathetic and full of appeal and her program of solo numbers as well as in company with the harp is a delightful musical experience. The harp, always an instrument of beauty, perhaps is as interesting and has as long been associated with the joy and romance as well as the religious expression of the people as any instrument. Under the skillful fingers of Miss Byrne Smith its golden tones add much to the delightful program presented by the Casford company. The stirring airs and classic arrangements for the harp will be used by Miss Smith in her part of the program.

- This is a sample of the program that will be given:
1. Allegro ..... Hoberg
  1. Meditation "Thais" ..... Mussenet
Violin, Harp, Piano Trio
  2. a. Serenade "Student Prince in Heidelberg" ..... Romberg
b. Deep In My Heart, Dear, "Student Prince" ..... Romberg
  3. Reading—Fern L. Casford.
  4. a. Spanish Dance ..... Rehfeld
b. Forsaken ..... Koschat-Winteraltz
c. Creole ..... Ball
Violin, Winifred Casford
  5. Vocal Solo, "Because I Love You" ..... Kramer
Winifred Casford
  6. a. Romance ..... Rubenstein
b. Poupée Valsante ..... Poldini
Trio
  7. Costumed Sketch—Trio
  8. a. Beautiful Memories ..... Hahn
b. Marienetta ..... Tedeschi
c. Wooden Shoe Dance ..... Rogers
Harp, Byrne Smith
  9. Reading—Fern L. Casford
  10. a. La Cinqquantaine .....
Gabriel Prosser-Marie
b. Pizzicato "Sylvia" ..... Delibes
Violin-Cello Duo
  11. Musical Reading "The Minuet" .....
Beethoven Accompaniment
  12. a. Serenade ..... Musszkowski
b. On Wings of Song, Mendelssohn
Trio
  13. A Goodbye to Audience
- Changes in the order and number of selections given by the Casford Concert company are made from time to time. A beautiful harmony and unity always characterizes their programs. The harp, violin, piano, together with vocal selections and readings, make up a program which lingers long in the memory. The friendly and altogether charming personality of the young ladies makes friends of every audience they meet.
- Wherever these popular young entertainers go critics are unanimously enthusiastic. The following comments are typical:

"Wonderfully pleasing, highly talented and much appreciated."—Rochester, N. Y.

"Miss Fern L. Casford is a real artist. She puts both head and heart in her work as an entertainer. She has that rare ability to please folks under adverse conditions as well as under most favorable environments. She always leave something worthwhile to think about."—Lincoln, Nebraska.

"We want to thank you for making possible the hearing of such highly-class entertainers in places of this size."—Grayling, Michigan.

"People were all enthusiastic about the program they gave. It was varied, pleasing and artistic in every way."—Ewart, Michigan.

Tickets may be purchased from any auditor. Adults 35 cents and school children 25 cents.

Gives Paper Away When Sun Fails to Shine

DURING A PERIOD OF SEVENTEEN AND ONE-HALF YEARS ST. PETERSBURG, FLA., EVENING INDEPENDENT HAS ONLY HAD TO MAKE GOOD THIS OFFER BUT NINETY-ONE TIMES.

The following notice appeared in the St. Petersburg, Florida, Evening Independent on Thursday, February 16, which will be of interest to our readers:

"This edition of The Independent is a FREE PAPER.

"DON'T PAY the newsboys, carriers, or anyone else for a copy.

"It is given away, absolutely free to everybody, because the sun has not shone upon the city today, up to the hour of going to press.

"This is the ninety-first time the papers have been given away under The Independent's SUNSHINE OFFER, although the offer has stood continuously for nearly seventeen and one-half years (209 1/2 months; 6,379 days), and through all seasons of the year—an average of five and one-quarter free papers per year.

"The Independent's SUNSHINE OFFER is that it will give away its entire first edition, which includes all of its home distribution, with thousands of extra copies printed to meet the demands of everybody, upon EVERY afternoon when the sun has not shone upon St. Petersburg up to the hour of going to press for the first edition (3:30 p. m.). And it has been called upon to 'make good' 91 times in more than 17 1/2 years—certainly a fine record for the Sunshine City. The last free paper was December 20, 1927, and the last free paper before that was December 16, 1926, one year and three days previous.

"Copies of The Independent are being given away free on the streets and at the office to every one who asks for one. For the regular subscribers a record is kept, and each time we have had six sunshinless days each subscriber's credit is advanced one week. EVERY SUBSCRIBER on The Independent's paid subscription list was given a FULL WEEK'S FREE CREDIT December 20, 1927.

"The Independent is the only newspaper in the world that ever made such an offer. It has attracted attention all over the United States and has been a great advertising feature for St. Petersburg, having created the name 'Sunshine City.' The Independent is 'game' and the offer still stands to prove to the world that St. Petersburg has more sunshiny days than any other place in the United States—excepting only the western deserts."

LABOR SAVING MACHINES.
EMPLOYMENT FOR ALL.
THOMAS EDISON A YOUNG MAN.
17,000 YEARS FROM STONE AGE.

"If a drop of salt water could talk it would tell the whole story of the Pacific."

One Santa Fe freight train going through the Kansas City yards to Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas grain fields told the story of progress and prosperity in this country and promised a solution of its labor problem, aggravated by immigration restrictions.

That train of thirty-one cars carried $250,000 worth of "Combine Harvesters" and will soon be followed by a thousand carloads of these labor-saving machines. They cut grain, thresh it, pile up the straw, delivering the grain in sacks or by spout to miniature grain elevators. In Kansas last year they saved the work of 40,000 men.

Employment conditions are not satisfactory in New York State and Governor Smith instructs public officials to help "take up the slack" by putting men to work on public enterprises.

That should be, automatically, part of National and State programmes.

A farmer finds something for his own hands and his own hands to do in winter, when crops are in. A good farmer keeps his horses at work, earning their keep in winter, hauling wood or otherwise.

National and State governments, all needing roads, canals, drainage, all sorts of improvements, should find work for everybody willing to work, and at decent pay.

Thomas A. Edison says he is really 162 years old, because he has done two days' work every day of his eighty-one years.

He did ten thousand years' work when he changed man's lighting system from kerosene to electricity. His habit of working two days in one accounts for the fact that mentally he is forty, not eighty-one.

An active mind stays young in man or woman.

Women grow old prematurely because badly organized civilization gives them nothing to do except talk and dress when their children are grown.

Eskimos, within reach of civilization, sell their valuable furs to white traders and wear coats of leather and cheap, ready-made suits. They can sympathize with some farmers that sell cream and butter to cities and eat oleomargarine.

Americans talk today of many things—prosperity, politics, assorted crimes, sports.

News that will interest future generations is the fact that actual moving pictures of human beings were sent through the ether, without wires, across the Atlantic Ocean.

Human beings actually saw each other, separated by three thousand miles of water.

If that is done by a race only 17,000 years from the Stone Age, who can doubt that a million years hence our race will see pictures, coming through the ether, of life on other planets.

Mr. Bonfils, through his Denver Post, tells the world he wants "every family in the United States to own a home, automobile and radio," because "this would tremendously increase the happiness and prosperity of all our people."

It would have seemed preposterous in Rome to suggest that anybody but the Emperor and a few of the great should own a bathtub. There was serious protest against installing the first bathtub in the White House, on the ground that it was not democratic. The Bonfils trinity of comfort—home, automobile and radio, plus freedom from worry in old age, more important than the other three.

Flubb: "He's always boasting that he keeps his word!"
Dubb: "Well, no one else ever takes it!"

POULTRY SCHOOL DATES CHANGED

The two-day Poultry School which was announced through these columns to be held at the Dearborn Library this week, has been unavoidably changed to March 7th and 8th. J. A. Hannuh, Poultry Specialist from the Michigan State College, will be in charge, and sessions will be held both mornings at 10:00 and afternoons at 1:30. Details of incubation, brooding, feeding, housing and treatment of diseases will be discussed.

CIVILIZATION'S DEBT TO MONEY IS FOUND

DEVELOPMENT THROUGH AGES TRACED IN LOCAL BANK'S NEW SERIES.

How important a part the development of money has played in the advancement of civilization from the earliest days to the present is brought out in interesting fashion in a new series of unusual illustrated folders just prepared for distribution in this community by the Plymouth United Savings bank.

Speaking of the series yesterday, C. A. Fisher, president of the bank, declared that the main purpose of the material, which will be distributed free, is to bring about a more general appreciation of the evolution of money as a medium of exchange, the principles that govern its use, and the part it has played in determining the character of the modern business and industrial world. That this important message can best be carried by handsomely printed folders, illustrated in colors and with attractive pen-and-ink sketches by skilled artists, is the thought of the bank's officers, since there will be an incentive to save the series not only because of the pictures but because of the entertaining manner in which the text is written. Every fact is well authenticated.

It will be impossible to read the folders without obtaining a clearer idea about the origin and development of money, its real nature, what it does and what happens when the fundamental laws concerning its manufacture and use are disregarded.

Money has always been something of a mystery, even to those who are most successful in accumulating it. The people of most nations in the past have relied blindly upon their rulers or others in authority to produce it honestly, to protect it from inflation and to redeem it promptly. Economists are authority for the statement that most of the economic disasters that have come to nations in the past have been due to mistaken judgments and unwise actions in the administration of the financial policies of those nations.

To practically every American the subject of the development of money is vitally interesting, for we all are concerned with it because of its effect upon our happiness and prosperity.

Our country has been a laboratory for experiment. Our forefathers made mistakes, but through profiting by them we have developed a sound currency and equally strong, effective and adaptable banking system. Here is a subject that touches every one. It is full of human interest, of amusing episodes and of dramatic incidents. It is just as important that we should know our country's financial history as that we be familiar with its political history. One concerns us as much as does the other. One is as interesting as the other. Furthermore, neither can be understood completely without a knowledge of the other.

A review of the folders in the new series indicates that they will be well trained for reference by a great many people. Written clearly and entertainingly, they at the same time emphasize facts that will be new to even the best informed.

THE THEATRE

"GET YOUR MAN"

Parisian life! Of what does it consist?

Although the locale of "Get Your Man," Clara Bow's latest starring picture for Paramount, coming to the Penniman Allen theatre, Sunday and Monday, March 4 and 5, is Paris, a new background has been established. There is no apache atmosphere, no gay life, no fashionable resorts.

The story is one of sparkling humor with a wax-works museum as the center of Parisian activities for Clara Bow and her leading man, Charles Rogers.

The plot also carries one to a massive chateau, into an exclusive perfume shop, along the business streets of Paris, down quaint French roads and through foreign gardens.

The atmosphere is decidedly different.

A new twist has been added to the love element. A boy and a girl meet and fall instantly in love. But between them and happiness stands a huge barrier—that of French tradition in the matter of how mates are chosen for children of the nobility.

Into the midst of French customs, which are about to bind Charles Rogers and Josephine Dunn to each other for life because their fathers believe they should marry, comes an American girl, Clara Bow.

With her American ideas of freedom she cannot understand why she and Rogers should not be permitted to marry. She undertakes to break the betrothal which has existed for 17 years and the complications into which her scheme throws her supply much of the humor.

The parts of the two fathers who bring about the engagement are played by Joseph Swickard and Harvey Clarke.

"FRENCH DRESSING"

Take one pretty girl and bob her hair to a fashionable length. Apply a coiffure by an expert. Furnish with sheers and most expensive underthings and hose of rare net. Attire her in a chic frock of the latest mode. Supply a little toque with a filtration veil. Slippers to match and jewelry to suit taste. Furs to match. One expensive roadster. Mix thoroughly and serve.

That might apply very nicely to Lois Wilson, as she appears in "French Dressing," the First National Picture which comes to the Penniman Allen theatre next Tuesday and Wednesday, March 6th and 7th, and in which are also such notable players as H. B. Warner, Clive Brook and Lilyan Tashman.

This Allan Dwan production which Robert Kane is presenting, tells the story of a sedate married couple living in Boston. The wife is a solemn, serious, almost dowdy young matron. But she goes to Paris for a divorce when hubby inadvertently gets mixed up in an innocent flirtation. There she discovers that fine plumage is sometimes essential to the happiness of a husband. In the end it all comes out perfectly with conjugal felicity restored.

Lois is a dream in her French frocks. The demure maid of "The Covered Wagon" has vanished and in her stead is the lovely, fashionable girl who wins every heart.

If H. B. Warner is seen in the role of the quiet husband who turns out to be not so quiet when the time comes to assert himself, Lilyan Tashman is seen as a vamp—but not as a bad camp. In reality she is quite innocent of any desire to break up the Boston couple but appearances for a time are against her. Clive Brook fills the role of a polished Parisian gentleman of fashion, who succeeds admirably in giving the quiet little Boston matron a sense of her own importance.

"French Dressing" is reported to be brilliantly directed by Allan Dwan, who is responsible for not a few fine pictures of this and recent seasons. It is a sophisticated comedy-drama and one of the best ever made by Robert Kane for First National Pictures.

"THE LAST WALTZ"

At the Penniman Allen theatre on Thursday and Friday, a German UFA picture that is released by Paramount will hold the spotlight. It is a cinema that was adapted from an operetta that played very successfully in New York at the Century Opera House. Its name, "The Last Waltz," has not been changed. It is a delightfully romantic tale of a Balkan intrigue of love and loyalty.

The leading actor, Willy Fritsch is a star in Europe and he gives many reasons for his holding this high spot in the eyes of the old world. Suzy Vernon who is the female lead, is a French girl who has captivated the continental film lovers to so great a degree, that the mere mention of her name is enough to pack any European theatre.

The story is simply told and the action has no drag at any time. Some of the shots are artistic to the extreme. Most of the out door photography was obtained at St. Moritz, the famous winter resort of Switzerland.

More countries are represented in this picture than perhaps any other that has ever been shown on this side of the ocean. Arthur Robison, an American, directed. Charles Whitaker, an Englishman, supervised, Willy Fritsch, a German, has the male lead. The female lead is Mile, Suzy Vernon, a French girl, and the rest of the cast is made up of people from nearly every other country in Europe. This is truly an international picture.

"MONTE CRISTO"

John Gilbert is coming back to the Penniman Allen theatre, Saturday, March 10th, in "Monte Cristo," an old success, which was first released some four years ago. Gilbert, playing the title role, is the hero of the multiple adventure borne by the famous Alexandre Dumas character and has a cast of stars to support him.

The story of the Count of Monte Cristo is so well known that to retell it is only the occasion to explain what portion of the contents has been picture-ized. Director Emmett J. Flynn has captured the most dramatic portions of the long tale.

Edmond Dantes is a young, buoyant sailor, who returns from a voyage to marry the charming Mercedes, beloved also by his rival, Fernand. Fernand and another enemy, Danglars, conspire against him, naming Dantes as an ally of Napoleon Bonaparte in a letter to DeVillefort, the prosecutor. Dantes is arrested on his wedding day and thrown into a dungeon, where he languishes for fourteen years. But by tunneling his way to another cell he is constantly in the company of an Italian priest, who educates him and leaves him the map of the island of Monte Cristo, where there is untold wealth.

How Dantes escapes from prison, and avenges himself upon Fernand, Danglars and DeVillefort form some of the dramatic sequences.

Many of the most famous episodes of the great novel are pictured with realistic and startling fidelity in the screen version, including the hurrying of Dantes, sewed up in a sack from a high cliff, and the great duelling scenes.

The supporting cast includes Estelle Taylor, Renee Adoree, Robert McKim, George Seligmann, Virginia Faire and Ralph Cloninger.

Picked Up About Town

What if the bootlegger does put counterfeit stamps on his booze? The stamps are as good as the booze.

"The astonishing part of it," says Dad Plymouth, "is how the girls can spend as much money as they do in not making themselves look any better."

Dad Plymouth declares that it is just as easy for a man to get out of patience with a fountain pen that is empty as it is for a woman to get out of patience with a husband who is full.

It looks as though most foreign nations have the idea that the best way to keep the old American machine running is by tossing monkey wrenches into it.

"There are a lot of ways of losing friends," asserts Dad Plymouth, "but nobody ever lost any by attending strictly to his own business."

Dad Plymouth is authority for the statement that the only things you get by waiting are the things you get by waiting on yourself.

You can lead a flapper to talk of clothes but you can't make her wear them.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The seniors are planning to have very nice diploma covers. They have ordered Michigan blue leather covers for their final "papers" from the good "alma mater." Many will be the times when they will look longingly at their diplomas preserved in these cases, and wish they were back in high school.

Members of the cooking classes were pleased to announce last Wednesday, February 22, that they would prepare a special Washington dinner. It was done in real southern style, with sweet "taters" and an omelet. The menu was posted on the boards of all the assembly rooms, and a great many students partook of the splendid dinner.

The cooking class will have a fine new electric range to work with. It is being installed this week, and that is what the pounding consisted of which some of the classes over of the cooking room heard. This is a very excellent addition to the already numerous conveniences of our domestic science department.

Who says that only the cooking classes are able to make ice cream? The physics class is trying its luck this week in making the frozen delicacy. We all hope they will pass it around if their expectations as to luck are fulfilled.

A fine chance for some talented members of the senior class is being offered by the Union Trust Company. This company is giving five one-thousand dollar scholarships to any college for the five best essays on "Installation Daying." This offer is open to all high schools in Wayne, Macomb and Oakland counties.

The staff of "The Pilgrim Prints" met Friday, fifth period, to discuss the section in the Mail. Suggestions were made for betterment and constructive and destructive criticisms were offered. The members are trying to make a success of the new experiment, and hope that readers will be interested in the section.

THE SENIOR PLAY

Next comes the senior play in order of spring events. It falls on March 22 and 23. The cast has been selected and is working all extra time to have the play perfected by the time it is to be given. The title of the play is "You and I," a Harvard Prize Story by Philip Barry. It is a smart 3-act comedy. The cast chosen is as follows:

Maitland White—Mildred Nelson
Nancy White—Vera Stenburner
Roderick White—Mac Donnelly
(Chester Dix, understudy)
Veronica Duane—Angeline Rousseau
Jeffrey Nichols—Franklin Atkinson
G. T. Warren—George Brady
Etta—Elizabeth Murray

Maitland White is not content because his ambition is to be a painter. His heart is set upon his boy becoming a great architect, but Roderick falls in love with Veronica, and announces his intention of marrying her and seeking a job. The father produces a picture. But investments fail, and he is threatened with ruin. Veronica breaks her engagement with Roderick in order that he may study just when there is no money to pay for it. At this juncture Mrs. White and a friend arrange a ball, at which the picture shall be sold at auction. Maitland is delighted at learning that $4,000 has been bid, until he finds that it is his own "boss" who wishes the picture for advertising, but his pride is overcome by realization of his own limitations, and he sacrifices to parental duty.

PLYTHEAN STAFF

GRADE NEWS

Starkweather School

The P. T. A. of Starkweather school met Wednesday evening, February 22, from 7:00 to 8:00. Open house was held. A very interesting speaker, J. Myron superintendent of the Belleville Consolidated school, was present. After the meeting light refreshments were served.

The school is enjoying a new stove which has just been installed. Also the teachers' rest room has had some very pretty red furniture put in, making the room comfortable and cozy. Mrs. West substituted for Mrs. Lee while the latter was absent.

Since February contains the birthdays of two great men of our country, it is only appropriate that the children should study about them, and they did. Nearly all the classes made posters and booklets on Washington and Lincoln.

Learning poems is great fun. If you don't believe it, just ask any of Mrs. Moore's fifth grade pupils, who have been studying and learning them in language during the last week or so.

Even Miss Sundberg's kindergarten pupils have studied about Washington and Lincoln, making handwork concerning both of them. These small pupils are going to be very patriotic when they grow up, because on Washington's birthday they get on their hands and knees and sing the hymn. These same children had a Valentine box, and each child received some very pretty Valentines which pleased them.

CENTRAL SCHOOL

As in the Starkweather school the children in this school made posters and booklets on Washington and Lincoln.

It seems that the parents of Miss Farrand's 4-A pupils must be very much interested in the school. For Mrs. Erickson, Mrs. J. Johnson, Mrs. LeRoy Jewell, Mrs. Bichy, Mrs. Rhead and Mr. Thumme visited the 4-A pupils during the last week or so.

Betty Moulton must be a very good speller, for last week she spelled the room down. There are other good spellers besides Betty, including Irma Strohmair, Jean Brocklehurst and Myrtle Low, who each had 100% in spelling for the month.

Miss Weatherhead's second grade pupils must be good little workers, for twelve were on the honor roll, including Margaret Broegmann, Ruth Reddeman, Jane Burley, Francis Dugan, Gerald Greer, Joan Hadley, Betty Mastick, Dorothy O'Leary, Marie Robinson, Lois Schmitz, Mike Stutz and Warren Todd.

They are now busy making booklets for pictures and art. Miss Hodges' 1-A pupils have even beaten Miss Weatherhead's for the number on the honor roll. Just see the long list on the honor roll in the first grade: Betty Barnes, Phyllis Barrows, Virginia Bellier, Evelyn Bauer, June Clark, Deborah Harve, Arthur Hinton, Keith Joffile, Misner Kreeger, Raymond Lefever, Celia Lewis, Barbara Okaver, Warren Ossendelner, Joyce Shoemaker, Catherine Schneider, Lawrence Smith, Douglas Sockow, Arlene South, Donald Junior VanAnta, Jean Woodworth and Lawrence Albert.

Mrs. Root's first grade pupils are talking about March and the wind, in language class. They are also studying about the children of Holland and the windmills that are so common there.

In handwork the pupils are making border patterns for the blackboard, of the "house" type of Holland and her geese, and the windmills of Holland.

The group called the "fairies" has finished the chart, and are now reading from a book. Don't you think this ought to make those little ones feel quite big?

The children have started phonograph songs, and on the first page used "at" as the helper and built all the words they could think of by placing consonant sounds before "at," as cat, fat and rat.

ANNUAL J-HOP

The second annual J-Hop to take place in Plymouth High School was sponsored by the junior class of '28, last Friday evening, February 24th. A big problem to be solved was the decorating. The class wished to have something different from the previous dance decorations, but found it difficult to find anything new. They received the idea from Orin Owen and Paul Hayward, to decorate in pirate style. The class decided to have the decorating done, and so Mr. Owen and Mr. Hayward are to be given very much credit for the fine looking auditorium.

Entrance into the ballroom over a real old game-plate, gave the impression of coming on deck of a ship. As the couples stepped off the plank, their view was met with the most uniquely decorated dance hall ever seen. The ceiling was swung quite low in red and black, alternating strips. Down the center red lights were strung, lighting the hall with their soft glow. At intervals around the walls of the hall were placed silhouettes of skill and cross-bows, plates and pirate ships. At the end of the hall hung two life-savers all ready to be thrown overboard.

In front of the stage a very clever imitation of a pirate ship was anchored. On the stage the orchestra was played in such a manner as to seem that they were on the deck of the ship. The background was of red and black strips, the same as the ceiling. The excellent music, furnished by the State Travelers of Detroit, made dancing enjoyable for all present.

The refreshments, consisting of punch and wafers, were served from a so-called "bar" decorated with a large skull and crossbones at the side of the hall. The punch was drawn from kegs, and the wafers were contained in large wooden bowls. Several members of the class were fitted out as real pirates, and served the refreshments.

Such a crowd has never been seen at a school dance in Plymouth before. It was so large that it was almost impossible to carry out the plans of the grand march. The march was followed through in a little different manner than had been anticipated, but the leaders, Elmore Carney and his guest, Miss Marie Miller, formed the march so that it worked out excellently. The line wound in and out of the doors, into the halls and back again. Finally the line divided, the ladies going one way and receiving balloons as favors, and the men going the other, receiving paper hats.

This lovely party was not only a decided success socially, but financially as well. The class has passed another milestone in its career, and has made more than any previous class on such a project. The most comments ever made on a dance have been made on this one, and they are to this effect: "It was the nicest party ever given in Plymouth High School."

THE ORCHESTRA

Since Plymouth High has had a band, it has lost some of its interest in the orchestra. The orchestra is very much alive, and has helped out at nearly every high school gathering this year. At the assembly last Wednesday, it was a welcome addition to the rest of the program. From now on this is to be a regular part of all assemblies. Our debates at home this winter were all preceded by the orchestra's playing.

When the juniors gave their play they were very glad to have an orchestra to use between acts. Last night everyone who saw the Methodist play, "Young Doctor Devine," which was given at the school, knows that our orchestra made another appearance. Our orchestra really deserves some special credit, as we know that each of its members must have to give up something in order to practice or to play, and it has practiced enough to show a great improvement during the year.

GIRL RESERVE CONFERENCE

Despite the late hours of the J-hop, if you might have been on the 8:10 bus the next morning you would have noticed several girls going to the Girl Reserve setting-up conference in Detroit. Sleepiness might have betrayed them, but at least they seemed to be in good spirits.

In the auditorium of St. Joseph's Episcopal church the meeting was called to order by the inter-club council president, Jessie Johnston at 10:30. This conference was also for the elementary and intermediate girls, making quite a large number present. The first part of the meeting was devoted to singing, which was a good means of making the girls forget how chilly it was. There is nothing like away shyness and replace it with a feeling of comradeship.

Miss Grace Shearer of Highland Park, led the devotions, explaining our semester's thought which is built about the statement, "Nothing is greater or more necessary in life than human love." After having been properly introduced to the three divisions of the Girl Reserves, namely, elementary, intermediate and high senior, three girls from each of these divisions gave short talks. One of these was especially interesting, as the girls told of the new Y. W. C. A. building. It will be remembered that last spring the Detroit Y. W. C. A. put on a campaign to secure enough money for a building in Detroit. This task they accomplished and now the plans are complete, so that the building has begun at once.

At this point the three groups separated to hold their business meetings, which were followed by the discussion groups for each part of the Girl Reserve work. Luncheon came none too soon, as the chilly air in the church gave everyone an appetite which needed satisfying at half-past twelve. In less than an hour the whole meeting was assembled again, ready for the afternoon session. More songs and discussions formed the afternoon's program, until at last the concluding ceremonial was held.

"There are workers who dream and dreamers who work," repeated Miss Frazier, who was the leader of the ceremonial. In her short speech she told of Grace Dodge, the founder of the Girl Reserve national society, who was a dreamer who worked to make her dream come true. It did, and it is the work that she started and made it stay true. Standing there in the light of a tall white candle, the girls pledged themselves again to this task.

This ended the conference, which gave each girl some new thought or ideal to take back with her to use in her own life or in the lives of others.

THE GLEE CLUB

In looking over the organizations which play a large part in high school life, the glee clubs and junior chorus deserve special mention. During the past year more and more students have begun to take an interest in these clubs. Often during this period of different gatherings in Plymouth, always reported on the sports page, the effect that the audience enjoys in the music and would like to hear them again.

At the present time a trio is being formed in the girls' glee club, which if it can be judged by the number who tried out, promises to be worth hearing. The same may be said of a quartet which is being picked from the boys' glee club. The junior chorus cannot be passed by either, as it is to have a mixed chorus of eight voices.

All of these new features in the music department of our school will add much to the spring musicale which is to be held on the evening of May 11th. Much work is already being used in preparation for this date in our glee clubs. Because the date is already set and everyone knows about it, it will be very easy to play to go. Such an entertainment is not to be passed up lightly, as it is the one program of the year which is devoted to the junior and senior high school musical talent. Miss Schrader has done much for the glee clubs this year, so here is your chance to show your appreciation.

U. OF M. REGISTRAR SPEAKS TO SENIOR HIGH

With only a few months before the seniors will be saying good-bye to Plymouth High, it was very appropriate to have Registrar Ira Smith of the University of Michigan to speak at the assembly last Wednesday. Many of the seniors are planning to enter the university, while others have some smaller school in view. Wherever they are intending to go, Mr. Smith's speech on "From High School to College" will certainly help them.

"Are you going to college or are you being sent?" was the challenging question with which Mr. Smith introduced his speech. He said that if one was "being sent" he might just as well stay at home. Most of the students who are "being sent" are "sent" at the end of the first semester. College should mean enough to one that he would want to go and would do everything in his power to get there.

Mr. Smith does not believe that the subjects taken up in college are so much more difficult than those in high school. The difficult thing is, in his own expression, "being on your own." In any advanced school one does not devote much time to classes. What is done with this extra time determines whether the person will succeed in college. The friends he makes will also play an important part in college life. If he makes friends easily he is naturally popular. From the crowd of students seeking him as a friend, the person must choose those who are the most worthwhile. If he fails to do this his college career is probably ruined. Mr. Smith gave the seniors one warning as he said the advice given by the sympathizing upper classes to the "green freshmen" would usually be far better not used.

As a conclusion, the new system which they are going to try out in Ann Arbor was explained. If the experiment succeeds there will be a junior course consisting of the freshmen and sophomores, and a senior college, consisting of juniors and seniors. The junior college is expected to establish a closer relationship between professor and student. It is also to help the people who only go to college for one or two years to get more out of college. To enter the senior college one must have a good record in junior college. This will tend toward keeping the people who are only wasting their time out of the junior and senior classes.

With these remarks Registrar Smith ended, leaving the impression that he would be a friend to any prospective university student.

REGISTRAR MEETS SENIORS

Registrar Smith of the University of Michigan, after giving a very interesting and educational speech in assembly Wednesday afternoon, went to one of the smaller rooms and there he answered any questions which prospective students of any of the higher institutions of learning wished to ask. One of the first questions asked was about the University college. This he explained was for the purpose of eliminating all those students that were not fit for a university degree. These first two years of school would prepare a person for life with a fairly rounded out general education, and only those who showed themselves competent would finish a full four-year course. After this Mr. Smith answered many questions concerning fraternities, sororities, entrance requirements, the possibilities of working your way through college, and all the other questions that came to the mind of one who is deciding what his or her life work will be. He gave answers that were right to the point, and I am sure that this short interview will be a great help to all who were present.

PLYMOUTH ENTERED IN STATE DISTRICT TOURNAMENT

The Plymouth High Cagers have been coming along fine all season, while Plymouth fans have cheered as well as other schools. These Tuesday night games, that were held to double up in time for the tournament, have had as much support as the others. The Plymouth team has so eagerly won that they took the challenge of the Tuesday night games, at the tournament, with school spirit, trying to go as far or farther than the last year's team that Plymouth has to be proud of.

The basket ball season will soon be over and our school teams have proudly fought their way into the district tournament. It is being held this week-end, March 1, 2 and 3, at Ypsilanti, in the gym of the Central High school, at the corner of Washington and Cross streets, and Plymouth will play Howell at 9:00 on Thursday.

A silver trophy is to be given to the school that has the most points by selling season tickets to all the games for the three nights. The games will start at 7:00 o'clock, so that fans can attend many of the best and last basket ball games of this season.

In order to understand the tournament arrangements in any sport or in debating one must understand how schools are paired in competition. Schools are classed under classes of A, B, C and D. A having 700 pupils or over, are mostly in big cities. B, which Plymouth is in with Monroe, Ypsilanti and Howell, contains 300 to 600 pupils. C is from 100 to 200, and D is less than 100 pupils in their enrollment of the four highest grades.

The tournaments are divided this year into thirty-two districts, nine regional and one state. The state associations have already secured the use of the new Olympia sports arena, Detroit, for the home of the 1928 state tournament. This building has been erected at the corner of McGraw and Grand River avenue and will house all the games under one roof rather than dividing the classes as has been necessary in previous years.

The building is very centrally located and easily reached, being only two blocks from the Northwestern High school and not more than a ten-minute ride from the heart of the city. The rental agreement with the Olympia management guarantees a greater amount of money for defraying the expenses of competing schools than was realized from the divided tournament plan as conducted in 1927 or previous years.

The state association, of which A. W. Thompson is director, by no means feels that the present tournament plan has been perfected, but it has a firm conviction that the plan of having a large number of tournaments in various logical centers, throughout the state has accomplished the following:

1. Given greater opportunity for all schools, large and small, to participate in tournament play.
2. Reduced the cost of tournament play to competing schools.
3. Reduced the fatigue strain on competing boys to a minimum by lengthening the rest periods between games.
4. Brought to all schools and spectators an improved example of game administration under tournament conditions that should result in an improved local administration of regularly scheduled games throughout the season.

5. Resulted in an increased desire on the part of local taxpayers to provide their own pupils with gymnasium facilities more closely resembling those where tournaments were played.

In conducting the 1927 district tournament it was found that a total of 64,337 people attended the thirty-two districts, making an average attendance of 1,877.

The winner and runner-up of the district tournaments go to the regional tournaments. These regional tournaments will be held at Kalamazoo, Grand Rapids, Ypsilanti, Jackson, Pontiac, Saginaw, Mount Pleasant, Potoskey and Marquette.

PLYMOUTH CAGERS LOSE TO DEARBORN

Plymouth journeyed to Dearborn last Friday evening to play the last league basket ball game of the season. The Plymouth team left with the determination to win, but they returned disappointed. Both games fell into the hands of the Dearborn team, the first by a score of 17-9 and the second 25-20.

If the Plymouth fans had all followed their teams over to Dearborn there probably would have been a different story to tell. As the team lacked the yells of their fans to carry them on to victory. The first game was a wonderful game in the second and third quarters, but could not seem to get started on the large, slippery floor.

The first quarter ended with a score of 8 to 0 in favor of Dearborn. During the second quarter Plymouth picked up five points, while Dearborn obtained five. The third quarter was even better for the Plymouth boys, for they chalked up 10 points to their opponents' four. When the fourth quarter was in progress it was almost impossible for the Plymouth team to win, for Dearborn was ahead with the lead of five points, that means a lot of hard fighting when the teams are even. At last the whistle blew with the final score 25-20 for Dearborn.

The lineups for both teams were:

Plymouth.		Dearborn
Knapp, 6 points	F	Reynolds, 11 points	F
Crumm, 8 points	F	McDonald, 1 point	F
Foster, 4 points	F	McLennan, 0 points	F
Beagle, 0 points	G	Thiel, 7 points	C
Sockow, 0 points	G	McKay, 0 points	C
Partridge, 2 points	G	Wilson, 0 points	G
Caldwell, 0 points	C	Soper, 7 points	G
Honolopp, 0 points	C	Daprecht, 0 points	G

WHITBECK'S CORNERS

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bristol of Saginaw, were Sunday guests at the Wm. Rouger home. They all went to Ypsilanti in the afternoon, to visit Mrs. Rouger's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gustin Gale.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Kaiser and son, Dale, were calling on Mrs. Kaiser's mother, Mrs. Parrish, recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hanchett of Garden City, and Mrs. Parrish of this place, visited the latter's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. George Smith, at Sheldon, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dethloff and son, Linwood, were Sunday guests of Mrs. Dethloff's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Klatt, at Perrinsville.

The Helping Hand Society will meet the first Wednesday in March, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Schille, for dinner. All welcome who wish to attend these meetings.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hanchett and daughter, Charissa, were calling on Mrs. Hanchett's mother, Mrs. Parrish, over the week-end.

Revision of Water Ordinance 1928

An ordinance to regulate the installation of water mains or pipes and to provide for the payment of the cost of same, also the use of water from the waterworks of the Village of Plymouth and establishing rates and providing for the collection thereof.

Section 1. All ordinances or portions thereof concerning the laying of water mains and the regulation of rates in the Village of Plymouth heretofore in force are hereby repealed.

Section 2. In any district within the Village of Plymouth which is not served by water mains, it shall be competent for the owners of 50% or more of the real estate in such district to present a petition to the Village Commission of the Village of Plymouth asking that proper water mains be laid to serve such district. Upon receipt of such petition the Village Commission shall adopt a resolution specifying the streets and alleys through which it shall be found necessary to lay such mains and pipes, in order to serve such petition.

Such resolution shall contain a list of lots to be served by such mains or pipes, together with the number of feet frontage of each lot and the name of the owner of the same. Such resolution shall order the Assessor to assess the total cost of such improvement upon such lots according to the frontage abutting on such streets or alleys where such water mains are laid. The cost of laying mains, including all material for the same, is hereby fixed at the sum of ninety cents for each lineal foot of real estate abutting upon the street or alley where such main is to be laid, provided that the Village Commission shall have authority to alter the price per lineal foot at its discretion.

Section 3. No person or persons shall make connection with the water works system of the Village of Plymouth except by application as herein provided.

Section 4. All applications to make connection with said system of water works shall be made at the office of the Village Treasurer in writing and upon blanks to be furnished by the Village. Such applications shall fully describe the locality and where such connection is desired. A tapping fee of TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS shall be paid at the time such application is made and if the connection is larger than three-quarters (3/4) of an inch, the total cost, including said TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS, shall be the actual cost of making the connection, plus FIFTEEN PER CENT (15%), all of which amount remaining unpaid shall be due and payable immediately upon making the connection.

Section 5. Upon the filing of the above application and the payment of the tapping fee, the Village Manager shall cause suitable service pipes to be laid from the water main to and including the curb cock, which shall be located between the curb line and the sidewalk line, and be provided with a suitable service box. The work of furnishing and laying the pipe up to and including the curb cock shall be done at the expense of the Village. The applicant shall furnish and lay the balance of the service pipe at his own expense, subject, however, to the supervision and direction of the Village Manager. Said pipes laid by the applicant shall be laid to the depth of the bottom of the water main, unless otherwise permitted by the Village Manager. All pipe between the shut-off in the street and the meter shall be galvanized iron pipe or extra strong lead pipe. No steel pipe shall be used between the meter and the street. A valve for shutting off the water shall be installed on each service pipe immediately inside the cellar or basement wall. A template, to be furnished by the Village, shall be placed in a horizontal position in the service line immediately after the shut-off. Another shut-off shall then be placed in the service line before any branches are taken therefrom. Both valves shall be drainable gate valves, either Scott drainable gate valves or of equivalent quality. The service pipe must be extended to the point in the basement cellar where the template is placed before any branches are taken therefrom. The Village of Plymouth will furnish the necessary templates at the time of application for water tap to the Village Treasurer. Where on services now in place it becomes necessary to replace the inside shut-off valve, the valve shall comply with the specifications for new valves as given above.

Section 6. No person or persons shall use water without permission, or cause willful or needless waste of water by allowing constant flow of faucet or otherwise, or to allow the occupant of any building not paying water rates to use the water from said premises, and in case of violation of any provision of this section in addition to the penalties hereinafter provided, the offender shall be liable to have his supply of water shut off by the Village without notice.

Section 7. It shall be unlawful for any owner or occupant of any building in which water is used from said system of water works to refuse to the only authorized employees of the Village admission to all parts of said building and the premises in which the same is situated, whenever and wherever it shall be necessary to have water pipes and fixtures, to ascertain whether there is any waste of water, or for the purpose of installing, repairing or testing any meter used in connection with such water works, or to count the number of fixtures from which water is used.

Section 8. No person or persons not duly authorized, shall bore any pipe, open any hydrant or stop-cock or interfere in any part of said water works system under penalty of this ordinance and in addition to said penalty, any damages caused by such unlawful interference with said water works system may be collected from the offender or offenders.

Section 9. Where owners or occupants of property desire the Village to shut off the water from their premises and in case of either because the premises are to be vacant or for the purpose of repairs, a charge of $1.00 shall be made and collected before the water is turned on again.

Meter Rates.

Section 10. All new services shall be metered and the Village reserves the right to place a meter on any service now in use without application from the consumer where such action shall be deemed necessary to prevent waste or to protect the interests of the water department or to continue the policy of metering all consumers. The meters shall be furnished by the Village and shall remain the property of the Village. Where premises have no cellar or basement or where no suitable place for a meter is provided by the property owner, the property owner shall pay the cost of the installation of an outside meter well. The meters will be read and repaired by the water department of the Village as often as may be necessary, and no additional charge will be made for such service, except that when a meter is damaged by frost or hot water or otherwise through the fault of the consumer and not of the Village, the cost of the repair of such damage shall be paid by the consumer, the bill for same to be included with the next water bill.

Consumers or property owners, where meters are located within the building, must not cover the meters or place obstructions that may prevent convenient access to the meter at any time by the employees of the water department for the purpose of reading or making repairs.

The Village reserves the right to determine the size and number of meters required for any service.

When water has been used for a period without the meter registering, the water so used shall be estimated by the Village on the basis of past consumption by the user or by similar users. The current meter schedule shall apply to water used through a meter out of order.

Notice shall at once be given the Village Manager when a meter is found by owner, occupant or tenant, to be out of order.

Section 11. Water bills are payable quarterly, during the months of January, April, July and October, for the preceding quarter. If the water bills are not paid within thirty days after the day that the same are due and payable the water will be shut off and the same will be turned on again until all arrears are paid and in addition thereto the sum of one dollar ($1.00) will be charged for turning on said water. Failure to receive bill does not exempt consumer from the penalty.

Meter Rates.

Quantities in gallons. Bills quarterly.

Section 12. For each service there shall be a charge for the service and meter (per quarter) as follows:

For a service with a 3/4-in. meter, 60 cents.

For a service with a 3/4-in. meter, 60 cents.

For a service with a 1-inch meter, $1.80.

For a service with a 1 1/2-in. meter, $3.60.

For a service with a 2-in. meter, $6.00.

For a service with a 3-in. meter, $8.40.

For a service with a 4-in. meter, $10.80.

For a service with a 6-in. meter, $18.00.

In addition thereto for all water used there shall be charged:

For the first 25,000 gallons per quarter, or any part thereof, the domestic rate of 25¢ per 1,000 gallons.

For water used in excess of 25,000 gallons, not exceeding 100,000 gallons per quarter, the intermediate rate of 20¢ per 1,000 gallons. For water used in excess of 100,000 gallons per quarter the rate of 15¢ per 1,000 gallons.

The following are the minimum bills for the different sized meters per quarter:

3/4-in. meter, including 4,000 gallons, $1.80.

3/4-in. meter, including 6,000 gallons, $2.40.

1-in. meter, including 10,000 gallons, $4.30.

1 1/2-in. meter, including 23,000 gallons, $9.35.

2-in. meter, including 41,000 gallons, $15.45.

3-in. meter, including 92,000 gallons, $28.05.

4-in. meter, including 104,000 gallons, $41.65.

6-in. meter, including 369,000 gallons, $79.60.

Where in order to provide a sufficient quantity of water, there are two or more services to a single building or property each with a meter, the regular service charge shall be made for each meter, but the total amount of water registered by all the meters shall be used in figuring the charge for water used, and not each amount separately.

Flat Rates.

Section 13. Where meters are not installed, the following charges shall be made for the use of water from the water works of the Village of Plymouth, the same to be annual charges unless otherwise specified. All flat rates are payable semi-annually in advance and are due on the first of January and July of each year. If the water bills are not paid within thirty days after the day that the same are due and payable the water will be shut off without notice. The water will not be turned on again until all arrears are paid and in addition thereto the sum of $1.00 will be charged for turning on said water. Service charge: Because when a consumer has made connection with the village water main and is paying his water bills regularly, the village must hold itself ready and able to serve the consumer up to the maximum capacity of his service pipe, there shall be charged for each service a "ready to serve," "stand by" or service charge according to the size of the service as follows:

For a 3/4-in., 3/4-in. or 1-in. pipe, the sum of $6.00 per year.

For larger than 1-in., including 2-in. pipe, $10.00 per year.

For larger than 2-in. pipe, $15.00 per year.

In addition thereto, charges shall be made as follows:

For domestic outlet, $2.00 per year.

For water closet, $1.30 per year.

For bath tub or shower, $1.00 per year.

For hydrant or sill cock, $2.00 per year.

For stores, $5.00 per year.

For soda fountains, $3.00 per year.

For barber shops:

First two chairs at $2.50 per year.

Other chairs at $1.00 per year.

First tub or shower, $5.00 per year.

Other tubs or shower, $3.00 per year.

For stables, each animal, $1.00 per year.

For restaurants, $10.00 per year.

Churches, $4.00 per year.

For building or construction purposes the following charges are made for the use of the water from the time of installation of the service pipe until meter is installed:

For 3/4-in. service pipe, $1.25 per month.

For 1-in. service pipe, $3.00 per month.

For 1 1/2-in. service pipe, $7.50 per month.

For 2-in. service pipe, $12.50 per month.

For 3-in. service pipe, $28.75 per month.

For 4-in. service pipe, $51.25 per month.

For 6-in. service pipe, $115.00 per month.

Section 14. Water consumers outside the limits of the Village of Plymouth shall be charged at fifty per cent additional over the rates in force within the corporate limits.

A charge of $10.00 per year shall be made for each fire hydrant connected to the water mains, the said charge to be paid each year to the water department fund from the general fund.

A penalty of ten per cent shall be added to all bills not paid on or before the fifteenth of the month in which they are due.

Section 15. Property owners shall be held responsible for the payment of all water rates. Upon written authorization from a property owner, bills may be sent to a tenant, provided, however, that such an authorization is accompanied by a written guarantee by the property owner for the payment of such rates.

Section 16. It shall be unlawful for any person to leave open any faucet or hydrant so as to allow water to be discharged through the same, except for the purpose of legitimate use, or to knowingly permit any water pipes upon his premises to remain in a condition where the same shall leak. It shall be the duty of the Village Manager to turn off and refuse water to the person or persons violating any of the provisions of this section until such time as such person shall pay the village such amount as the Village Manager shall after investigation estimate the amount to be.

Section 17. Any person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined in any sum not exceeding one hundred ($100.00) dollars, or be imprisoned in the Detroit House of Correction for not exceeding ninety (90) days, or both such fine and imprisonment may be imposed, in the discretion of the court.

Section 18. This ordinance shall take effect April 1, 1928.

HENRY J. FISHER, President.

WILLIAM WELTNER, Clerk.

I hereby certify that the above ordinance had its three readings and was adopted by the Commission of the Village of Plymouth, and may vote being taken as follows:

Ayes—Commissioners Hon. J. P. Learned, Pierce, and President Fisher.

Nays—None.

Dated this 20th day of February, 1928.

WILLIAM WELTNER, Village Clerk.

TOMB IN UR YIELDS ANCIENT SECRETS

Find Bodies of King's Harem Amid Treasures.

Philadelphia.—Rich in treasures, and strewn with bodies of musicians, servants and gold-bedecked women of the harem who accompanied their master in death, one of the most remarkable graves found thus far in Ur of the Chaldees, has been discovered by the joint archaeological expedition of the University of Pennsylvania and the British museum, says a report just received.

The grave is unlike others excavated in Ur, writes C. Leonard Woolley, director of the expedition, and has provided definite information new to science as well as affording material for far-reaching theories concerning the history of civilization.

The body of the king was not found, but presence of the bodies of more than a score of men and women who constituted the king's household, offers proof, Mr. Woolley asserts, that in the fourth millennium B. C. there were practiced in Mesopotamia burial rites and ceremonies about which latter tradition is silent and archeologists hitherto knew nothing.

A magnificently decorated chariot and harp, gold and silver vessels, an exquisite toilet set, and various other treasures yielded by the grave serve to illustrate the extraordinary degree of material civilization which Mesopotamia enjoyed more than 5,000 years ago, says the report.

Excavation of the grave, which closely followed upon that of the grave of Mes-Kalam-Dug, a royal prince, was accomplished only after considerable time had been spent in uncovering an area some 40 feet by 17 feet.

Light Blends With Music in Invention by Woman

Philadelphia.—A basic patent for an invention to blend light with music has been granted to Mrs. Mary Hallock Greenwalt. Mrs. Greenwalt has been conducting experiments in the blending of light and sound for 27 years. She believes that her patent is the first granted for a new means of expressing human emotions in rhythmic form.

While music is being rendered by singer, violinist, pianist or orchestra, Mrs. Greenwalt's apparatus floods the performer with lights of varying intensity. The fluctuations in light are intended to enhance the emotional and intellectual appeal of the music. The apparatus may be operated with a keyboard.

Years of training in music, of professional experience as a concert pianist, of study of physics, mechanics, physiology and psychology went into the achieving of the results now recognized by the granting of the basic patent.

Mrs. Greenwalt was born in Beirut, Syria, the daughter of Samuel and Sara Tabat Hallock. She came to the United States when a girl of eleven. After she left school she took up the study of music.

Balks on Marrying on Hunting License

Conway, Ark.—All licenses look alike to an excited man venturing upon the troubled matrimonial waters for the first time.

W. L. Angel, twenty-four, of Green Brier, near here, rushed into the Circuit clerk and asked for "a license." Deputy Clerk R. A. Nowell, who has been issuing hunting licenses by the hundreds since duck hunting season opened recently, has been married many years and knows little about the romantic end of life. So he handed Angel a hunting certificate.

Not noticing the mistake, Angel returned to his bride-elect, who was waiting at the pastor's home. The minister, however, veteran at performing nuptial knots, was not to be fooled.

Angel returned to the courthouse, where the clerk canceled the hunting license and substituted a marriage certificate.

110 Billion Interest on British War Debt

London.—Before the British war debt is paid the present generation and its descendants will have paid $110,000,000,000 in interest alone, according to Philip Snowden, former labor chancellor of the exchequer.

"It would take a man more than 700 years to count it at the rate of a $5 bill per second," he said.

Ruins Mark Spread of Pueblo Culture

Las Cruces, N. M.—Remains of an ancient pueblo ruin have been discovered here marking what is believed to be the farthest point south that true New Mexico pueblo culture extended.

The ruin is located on the old trail known as the Jornada del Muerto, "Journey of Death," so called by the early Spanish conquistadores because of the dangers both from thirst and from Indians encountered in crossing it.

Archeologists believe that at some remote period communal houses rose to a height of two or more stories on the site marked today only by low mounds and adobe walls level with the surface of the ground.

The office should seek the man, but if a man waited for it to seek him every morning he might have to go hungry.

Diner (indignantly): "Bring the proprietor here at once, there's a wasp in my soup!"

Walter: "It's no use sending for the boss, sir. He's scared of 'em himself!"

Will Talk About Landscape Gardening

Mr. Gregg, landscape specialist of the Michigan State College, will be in Plymouth, March 15th, at the Starkweather school. The meeting is called at 1:30, at which time Mr. Gregg will talk on the use of perennials in landscaping. This is an open meeting for all who are interested in beautifying the home and surroundings. This luxury is primarily a part of the Home Management Course, which is being conducted in the county through the Agricultural Extension office, but knowing that this is the season of the year when people are thinking about what can be done with yards and gardens, it seems probable that many others should wish to be present at this meeting.

Election Notice

The Annual Village Election will be held at the Village Hall in the Village of Plymouth on Monday, March 12th, 1928. The polls of said election will be open from eight o'clock in the morning until six o'clock in the afternoon for the purpose of electing two Commissioners for the term of two years and one for the short term of one year. Said election is also for the purpose of submitting the following amendments to the Village Charter of the Village of Plymouth to the electors of said village:

The following resolution was offered by Commissioner Hondorp, who moved its adoption, seconded by Commissioner Leavard:

RESOLVED, That the following proposed amendments to the Charter of the Village of Plymouth, Michigan, be submitted at the annual election, March 12, 1928.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That these amendments be published in the Plymouth Mail and remain on the table for 30 days before action, in compliance with Section 11, Chapter 15, of the Village Charter.

To change Section 5, Chapter 9, which reads: Special assessments to defray the estimated cost of any improvement (shall) be levied before making the improvement by substituting the word (MAY) for (SHALL) so this section will read as follows:

Special Assessments, to defray the estimated cost of any improvement, MAY be levied before the making of the improvement. When the work is done by the Village the spreading of the assessment may be deferred until the completion of the work.

Shall Section 5, Chapter 9 of the Village Charter be amended by substituting the word MAY for SHALL?

YES ( ) NO ( )

To change Section 10, Chapter 9, which reads: Upon the confirmation of any special assessment the amount thereof may be divided into not more than (FIVE) installments, one of which shall be collected each year, at such times as the Commission shall determine, by substituting the word (TEN) for (FIVE), so that this section will read as follows: Upon the confirmation of any special assessment the amount thereof may be divided into not more than TEN installments, one of which shall be collected each year, at such times as the Commission shall determine, with annual interest at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum, but the whole assessment after confirmation may be paid to the Village Treasurer at any time in full, with the proportionate interest thereon. The number of installments shall be such that no installment against any parcel of land shall exceed five per cent of the value of such parcel as shown by the Village assessment roll confirmed next preceding the levying of such assessment.

Shall Section 10, Chapter 9, of the Village Charter be amended by substituting the word TEN for FIVE?

YES ( ) NO ( )

To change Section 10, Chapter 9, which reads: Upon the confirmation of any special assessment, the amount thereof may be divided into not more than five installments, one of which shall be collected each year, at such times as the Commission shall determine, with the annual interest at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum, by substituting the clause, WITH ANNUAL INTEREST AT THE SAME RATE AS PAID ON THE BONDS, AND NOT TO EXCEED SIX PER CENT, so that this section will read as follows:

Upon the confirmation of any special assessment, the amount thereof may be divided into not more than TEN installments, one of which shall be collected each year, at such times as the Commission shall determine. WITH ANNUAL INTEREST AT THE SAME RATE AS PAID ON THE BONDS, AND NOT TO EXCEED SIX PER CENT PER ANNUM, but the whole assessment after confirmation may be paid to the Village Treasurer at any time in full, with the proportionate interest thereon. The number of installments shall be such that no installment against any parcel of land shall exceed five per cent of the value of such parcel as shown by the Village assessment roll confirmed next preceding the levying of such assessment.

Shall Section 10, Chapter 9, be amended by substituting the following clause: WITH ANNUAL INTEREST AT THE SAME RATE AS PAID BY THE VILLAGE ON THE BONDS, AND NOT TO EXCEED SIX PER CENT?

YES ( ) NO ( )

To change Section 34, Chapter 10, which reads: The Commission is authorized to issue bonds to the amount of any special assessment, or to the amount of the aggregate of all the installments of a special assessment in anticipation of the collection thereof. Such bonds shall draw interest not exceeding six per cent per annum as the Commission may determine, and shall be payable out of the special assessment district fund when the assessment is collected. Adding the following clause: (IN CASE THE AMOUNT COLLECTED ON SUCH SPECIAL ASSESSMENT SHALL BE INSUFFICIENT TO PAY PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST OF SUCH BONDS AS THEY FALL DUE THE VILLAGE SHALL ADVANCE THE NECESSARY AMOUNT FROM THE GENERAL FUND, REIMBURSING ITSELF OUT OF THE SPECIAL ASSESSMENT WHEN COLLECTED.) Such bonds shall be payable in two years, or less as the Commission shall determine, from the time limited for the collection of special assessment by the Village Treasurer. If the assessment is divided into installments, the bonds shall be apportioned against the amounts of the several installments as the Commission may determine, and shall severally be payable in two years or less from the time for the collection of the several installments by the Village Treasurer. The assessment when collected shall be set apart into a separate fund for the payment of such bonds. Contractors for the construction of street pavements and sewers may be required to take their pay in said bonds. Said bonds in no event shall be sold, or otherwise disposed of, at less than their par value.

Shall Section 34, Chapter 10, be amended by inserting the following clause: (IN CASE THE AMOUNT COLLECTED ON SUCH SPECIAL ASSESSMENT SHALL BE INSUFFICIENT TO PAY PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST OF SUCH BONDS AS THEY FALL DUE THE VILLAGE SHALL ADVANCE THE NECESSARY AMOUNT FROM THE GENERAL FUND, REIMBURSING ITSELF OUT OF THE SPECIAL ASSESSMENT WHEN COLLECTED.)

YES ( ) NO ( )

Shall Section 34, Chapter 10, be amended by inserting the following clause: (IN CASE THE AMOUNT COLLECTED ON SUCH SPECIAL ASSESSMENT SHALL BE INSUFFICIENT TO PAY PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST OF SUCH BONDS AS THEY FALL DUE THE VILLAGE SHALL ADVANCE THE NECESSARY AMOUNT FROM THE GENERAL FUND, REIMBURSING ITSELF OUT OF THE SPECIAL ASSESSMENT WHEN COLLECTED.)

Done Up in a Package

By H. LOUIS RAYBOLD

(Copyright)

BOB MALCOLM came home from a discouraging day at the factory to find that a gay party of picnickers had eaten lunch down by his brook and had left remnants of their meal scattered about.

Now although Bob's place was for sale, he nevertheless retained considerable fondness for it—it had been his father's before him—and this wanton stewing of refuse made him see red.

He climbed out of his car. Something white caught his eye. A scrap of paper. Picking it up gingerly, he read the address on it.

"J. W. Knowlton, 254 Madison Street, Bergen Manor."

Ab, ha! He was lucky. Not once in a hundred times would it happen that the marauders would leave an address behind them.

He selected the largest of the cartons on the ground in front of him and filled it with the debris. Then he drove on to the house, wrapped up the package and, in large, careful letters, prepared it for Mr. J. W. Knowlton.

With it he sent a letter:

"Dear Sir: I believe you had your lunch by the little brook on my property and left the things I am sending under separate cover."

"Yours truly, 'ROBERT MALCOLM.'"

Once dispatched, he promptly proceeded to forget all about it. Bob had had that on his mind which precluded any dwelling on an episode of only passing moment.

His business, the manufacturing of window and door frames, was on the brink of collapse. To bolster it up over a bad period he had resolved to sell the old homestead with its hundred acres and had put it in the hands of a realtor. But while many came to look at it, no one had offered him the price he felt it was worth.

Yet the little affair of the picnickers was not enough, as Bob had supposed it would be, when he sent after them their refuse. For a few days later, a letter reached him:

"Mr. Malcolm,

"I am reminding the package you so kindly sent me, as I do not care to retain in my possession that which so obviously belongs to another. It is true that, on the advice of the real estate agent that it was exactly what I was looking for, I called to investigate your place. Not finding you at home I took the liberty of strolling about the property which, at that time, I was thinking of purchasing. I sat down beside the brook to do a little figuring and must have left behind some of my note paper. But kindly do not hold me responsible for the misdeeds of vandals who came after me."

"Very truly yours, 'J. W. KNOWLTON.'"

Why, oh, why had he been such a dumbbell as to give way to his anger resulting in antagonizing a prospective purchaser?

He crumpled the letter he had been reading and rose quickly. He would put his pride in his pocket, call on this J. W. Knowlton, and apologize.

As he drove through the traffic he could not but feel that hanging was too good for those picnickers who had caused all the trouble.

"Just a moment," a pretty young secretary bade him wait in the outer office until her employer should be at liberty.

Impatiently, he thumbed the sheets of the morning paper for ten—fifteen—twenty minutes. Then, as the inner door opened and a middle-aged couple came out, he rose and was waved within by a gesture from the pretty secretary.

"Mr. Robert Malcolm?" Bob steeled himself. Was this J. W. Knowlton, who stood fingering his card? This slender, trimly dressed young woman with beautiful eyes and soft chestnut hair?

Everything was settled then and there for Bob. But, of course, Miss Jacqueline Knowlton did not know that she was being taken in love with on the spot. Or, at least, she always claimed she didn't!

"I felt I must tell you that I regret my extreme stupidity," Bob began, a little awkwardly.

But the girl laughed. "Most natural thing in the world!" she said. "Only I couldn't let it go by. And I'm so glad of this opportunity to talk with you about your place. I love it. It's just what I have always wanted. You see, my business is landscape gardening and I need a place in the country for a nursery. Your price is satisfactory, also, Mr. Malcolm."

But a year later, when the window and door-frame business was once more alive and kicking, Bob got his place back again. That is to say, he bought it from Jacqueline and deeded it to her as a wedding gift.

And, who knows, if those vandal picnickers had not caused Bob to go to Jacqueline personally, all the business might have been transacted through the agent? And how would their love affair have been put over?

"Only," said Jacqueline once when Bob said as much himself, "that doesn't mean that the moral is 'Be a vandal!'"

ELECTRIC GIANTS COMBINE POWER IN THE STATE

DETROIT EDISON AND CONSUMERS POWER WELD ENERGIES FOR FIRST BIG CONNECTION IN MICHIGAN.

Two great electric giants wedded their power recently, the better to serve the people of Michigan.

The Detroit Edison Company and the Consumers Power Company were physically joined together for mutual helpfulness when a switch was thrown at Jackson by Vice-President and General Manager Alfred C. Marshall of the former company, and Vice-President and General Manager Charles W. Tippy of the latter company, officially putting into operation the new super-power connection between the systems. Fifty thousand horsepower in electrical energy, equivalent to the strength of more than half a million men, at once became available to either company from the other through the connection. This was preceded by months of preparatory work, including the building of three substations and the construction of 60 miles of tower transmission lines.

The effect of the connection is that each big system in giving service to the hundreds of thousands of customers in its particular field is reinforced by the other to the extent of 50,000 horsepower in electrical energy. This will be available to meet any emergency that may arise in either system and also will be constantly at the call of either company in handling the regular day by day power loads.

The interconnection joins the companies physically—but not financially nor managerially—into a huge electric system covering the greater part of the lower peninsula of Michigan.

The Detroit Edison Company has an electric generating capacity of 859,547 horsepower and serves upward of 510,000 customers, while the Consumers Power Company has a capacity of 377,020 horsepower and serves 263,633 customers.

None of these companionate marriages can be successful until the exact status of the mother-in-law is revealed.

CLUB WORK INDUCES HABITS OF SUCCESS

THOUSANDS OF RURAL YOUNGSTERS IN MICHIGAN TRAINED IN BUSINESS PRINCIPLES.

That the boy and girl who completes a project in boys and girls club work acquires lessons in self discipline, comes into contact with the fundamental rules of business conduct, and goes a few steps toward the formation of the habit of success, is the summation made by the M. S. C. state leader of boys and girls clubs in his annual report.

Last year, 17,913 Michigan boys and girls started club projects and 13,014 completed their work.

In recognition of the value of the training given to rural youngsters, club work has been actively assisted by business men's and women's clubs, by public and private rural organizations, by fair associations, by state and county bankers' organizations, by railway companies, by the Smith-Hughes agricultural teachers' and by many other groups and individuals.

A. G. Kettunen, Michigan state leader of boys and girls clubs, believes that, although the primary purpose of the work is to show the possibility of success upon the farm, the training will be available to the boys and girls later in either city or rural life.

The 1928 plans for state club work include the organization of 1,900 clubs with 20,000 boys and girls enrolled, with club projects in 80 of the 83 counties in Michigan.

Today's Reflections

How many Plymouth citizens can recall the old pewter censer that stood in the center of the table laden with salt, pepper and vinegar bottles?

Nothing tires the average Plymouth man quicker than meeting the fellow who says: "Well, why don't you do as I told you."

Why is it that a married man would rather let a strange woman have his handkerchief to dust off her shoes than let his wife have it to rub the shine off her nose?

We don't know much, but we do know there would never be a divorce in Plymouth if every married man thought as much of his wife as he does of his wife's husband.

It begins to look as though punctuality has played out in this country except among bill collectors.

When a girl doesn't know what else to do with her hands she reaches up and pulls the shoulder straps back where they belong.

Why is it that a lot of Plymouth people will insist on jolting around in a divver on Sunday when they have comfortable chairs at home?

A wife is a person who will go around and brag about her husband's ability even when she knows that he hasn't sense enough to come in out of the rain.

If their actions are any criterion, some of the people who claim to be reading a verse in the Bible every day must be reading the same verse over and over.

In contemplating what he has done for others the average man is apt to overlook what others have done for him.

When the neighbor women see a Plymouth married man bringing home a box of candy they begin wondering what he has been doing that he has to square himself.

What has become of the old-fashioned Plymouth girl who used to spend Saturday morning breathing into lamp chimneys and cleaning them with an old newspaper?

When the yellow streak begins to work out of some people they have a fit of the blues.

It's a wise worm that stays under cover and deprives the early bird of his breakfast.

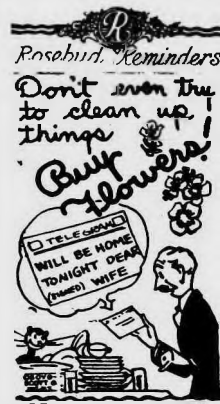

Many things have been preserved in alcohol, but law and order are not on the list.

This being presidential year, every community is going to have more natural gas than it needs.

Father, mother and little Tommy were in the street car. Mother and Tommy had secured seats, but poor father had to stand.

Mother: "Tommy, doesn't it pain you to see your father reaching for a strap?"

Tommy: "Only at home, mother."

A school bond issue totalling $850,000 will be placed before the voters of Ann Arbor at a special election this spring, the board of education has decided. The funds would be used to finance a five-year school building program including the construction of a $500,000 junior high school and three school additions.

The much discussed tentative new line of the Pere Marquette railroad, which would extend from Wixom to Pontiac, has been disapproved by the examiner of the Interstate Commerce Commission. The examiner says that the Grand Trunk proposed belt line would give just as good service and would cost less than the P. M. line. The Pere Marquette will have one more chance, however, to file exceptions, which would bring the matter directly before the Interstate Commerce Commission itself.—South Lyon Herald.

FLOWER GROWERS WILL LEARN CRAFT SECRETS

M. S. C. PLANS SPECIAL SHORT COURSE TO OPEN ON MARCH 5, AND CONTINUE ONE WEEK.

Those who find delight in producing flowers will have an opportunity to study the secrets of their craft in the one week course for amateur gardeners which begins at Michigan State College, March 5th.

Alex Lauric, horticultural specialist, is in charge of the course and has obtained the assistance of many experienced men to conduct the classes. Several of the men are professional florists who have been notably successful in their profession.

The useful as well as the beautiful will have a place in the course, as vegetables occupy a part of the short course student's time. The outline of the course lists annual flowers, perennials, roses, trees, small fruits, and lawns as subjects for study.

Dr. Frank Crane Says

HOW TO LEARN

A school-teacher in one of Dickens' stories has a pupil study the spelling of botany and then go out and work in the garden.

Thus the spelling is impressed upon his mind.

He wasn't much of a school-teacher, but his idea was sound.

The best way to learn is to learn from doing.

All knowledge is connected with life. The way to learn a language is to connect every word with something you actually do or see. In other words, language is to be connected with life and not with literature.

There was a meeting the other day held in one of our cities to discuss the enabling of students to earn while learning. Representatives of forty-two states of the Union and one from Canada were present. Nicholas Ricciardi, President of the National Association of Vocational Education, said:

Under the present system, students are taught various vocations, from watchmaking to hair dressing, during their high school terms. When they graduate from high school they are ready to hold a position. In junior college they are permitted to work at remunerative employment during the mornings and attend classes during the afternoon. They can continue their education on through college, and then their earning power will be sufficient to pay their expenses and enable them actually to save money."

This plan is already actually carried out in Antioch, a small college town in Ohio, where the business men cooperate with the college and the student works part of the time and studies part of the time. Thus while at Princeton the average yearly outlay for a son is estimated at $1,500, while at Antioch the average freshman needs only $400 besides his earnings.

The vocational aims of students include agriculture, architecture, art, business, engineering, medicine, economics, law, etc.

The average weekly wage while pursuing these courses is $22 in the freshman year and $35 in the senior year. They complete the Antioch course in five years.

Thus the student has already learned the most important thing of all in an education, that is, how to take care of himself.

When a man works his way through college he appreciates what education he gets, just as a horse is healthy because he has to walk after every mouthful he eats.

Business men in every community ought to cooperate with the schools in assisting boys and girls to get a practical education.

THE DETROIT EDISON CO.
Eastern Michigan Division.

Northville, Mich., Feb. 1, 1928.
Hal P. Wilson,
725-27 Hammond Building,
Detroit, Michigan.

Dear Sir: In compliance with your request, I am submitting a diagram and sketch showing the highway lighting required to properly illuminate the paved roads of Plymouth township.

Our engineering department advises that there will be nine lamps on South Main street, Plymouth township; there will be 18 lamps on the Plymouth-Canton Town Line road, nine of which will be billed to Plymouth township, and nine to Canton township. On the Plymouth road, east of Plymouth, there will be 21 lamps; on the Plymouth road, west of Plymouth, 35 lamps; on the Ann Arbor road, 35 lamps; on the Five Mile and Phoenix roads, 108 lamps, 51 of which would be billed to Plymouth township and 57 to Northville township and on the Northville road there would be 15 lamps, making a total of 235 600-candle-power lamps in Plymouth township; nine 600-watt lamps in Canton township, and 52 600-watt lamps in Northville township. The annual cost of this size lamp is $18.00, bringing the 235 lamps to $4,230.00. If Canton Center and Northville townships did not care to go in with Plymouth township in lighting the roads which are common to both, there would be a reduction of 60 lamps charged to Plymouth township, and the annual bill would be $3,840.00.

At the present time the installation of this lighting system could be completed in approximately 30 working days. However, there are unavoidable delays in securing permission to construct these lines and in securing material, which under the most favorable conditions would probably require a total of 60 days from the time of signing the order to its completion.

We are expecting a large increase in our construction activities this spring over last spring, and as we are required to handle our construction orders in rotation, I would not attempt to promise at this time any definite time for the completion of the work. However, you may rest assured that there would be no avoidable delay.

Yours truly,
E. L. MILLIS,
District Agent.

At $8.400 annually the rate of taxation for Plymouth township would be raised $1.00 per $1,000 valuation.
Signed,
TOWNSHIP BOARD.

METHODIST NOTES

"He that believeth on Me hath everlasting life."
"Who gave himself a ransom for all."

This is the lenten season when all the world is giving some thought to the "price paid for our redemption." Improve your opportunity and become an "ambassador for Christ."

Wednesday night is church training night, with a co-operative supper at 6:15 o'clock, and at 7:00 o'clock the following classes: "The Bible in Everyday Life," Mr. Lombard; "Christian Beliefs," Mr. Holcomb; "Christ at the Round Table," Mrs. Lendrum; "History of Methodism," Mr. Thomas, and "Bible Stories for Juniors," Mrs. Doerr. Surely a fine way to spend an evening. Come and bring the whole family.

Official Board meeting at the church, Tuesday night, at 7:30.

Mrs. Hillman's Circle of the L. A. S. is planning to sponsor one of the finest entertainments Plymouth has seen in many a day. Watch for further announcements.

Next Wednesday, March 7th, is L. A. S. day, and in view of the splendid program we feel sure every woman in the church will want to be present. It is enough to say that Mrs. Ruth Houston-Whipple is the speaker, and that Mrs. C. Penney has charge of the music. We will get the report on the bazaar of last week, and have our regular business meeting. The hostesses are Mesdames Sara Ross, Marie Whitney and Fannie Doerr, and it has been whispered that we will have tea and a social hour following the program. The president will open the business meeting promptly at 2:30.

The Sunday-school juniors will sing at the church services next Sunday evening.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL ORGANIZED

Proof was given on Tuesday evening, February 28th, of the faith of the people in youth and right, and the growth of Garden City, when about thirty people met to organize a Sunday school, at the home of Mrs. Christner. After a bounteous repast, an election of officers was held, which resulted as follows:

Supt.—Chester Bechill
Asst. Supt.—Mrs. Christner
Secretary—Mrs. Mac Gregor
Treasurer—Lawrence Hanchett
Organist—Mrs. Bechill
A social hour followed.

This Sunday-school is being held in the temporary school house at the corner of Ford and Merriman roads, every Sunday morning at 11:00 o'clock, with preaching service at 7:30 p. m. Everyone will find a cordial welcome awaiting them, so come.

CATHOLIC NOTES

Sunday is financial Sunday, and the report of February will be read. February found many on the absentee list. Lenten devotions are held every Wednesday and Friday night, at eight o'clock, in the church. Services are conducted by the pastor.

Next Thursday night, March 8th, the card parties will be resumed in the auditorium, and a cordial invitation is extended to the public. The families have been appointed to make arrangements for this card party.

Seats are still available in the church, and all are expected to rent at least one seat in church.

Religious instructions are held each Saturday morning at 9:00 o'clock, in the auditorium of the church.

Self denial banks are still obtainable from the pastor; and each should have one to help the cause along, the purchase of a set of stations for the new church.

We are pleased to report that Mrs. A. Yuchasz is back home again, fully recovered from her operation; but Mrs. H. Lehman is still numbered among the sick. She is slowly recovering.

Side altars for the new church are being made, and will soon be installed, adding a great improvement to our already beautiful church.

The choir will practice each Friday night after services, and it is hoped all the members will be present, so as to do justice to their calling at the services. We are very pleased to state that we now have a male choir, a unique distinction for a parish the size of ours.

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES

Mrs. Shaw's class spent an enjoyable evening at the manse, Tuesday. After an excellent pot-luck dinner, the business of the class was discussed and the missionary topic for study was taken up. This was followed by an interesting social hour.

The annual meeting of the congregation will be held on Monday, March 12th. The business meeting will be preceded by a congregational pot-luck supper. Is your report ready for this meeting?

The Sunshine Circle class will meet at the manse Tuesday, March 6th. This class, with Mrs. Melburn Partridge as teacher, has been showing a fine growth and interest. Every member is urged to be on hand next Tuesday evening. Pot-luck supper at 6:30 p. m.

EPISCOPAL NOTES

The next Men's Club supper will probably be held on Wednesday, March 21st. Definite announcement concerning the speaker will be made next week. Next Wednesday is the regular Guild meeting.

Also Tuesday is the regular evening for the business meeting of the Men's Club. Don't forget it.

Remember the lenten services on Thursday evenings.

BAPTIST NOTES

The Millard Orchestra will furnish special music at the Baptist church, Sunday evening, March 4th. The public is invited.

PERRINSVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hanchett and sons attended the wedding of Miss Frieda Beyer and Jervis Wendland, Saturday evening, February 25th.

Mrs. R. Hanchett and sons, Charles and LaVerne, called on Mrs. Helen Barnes of Rosedale Gardens, Sunday evening.

Masters LaVerne and Charles Hanchett attended a Washington birthday party at Harrison Boyer's, Wednesday evening, February 22nd.
