Alaska Wants Ice Bluffs Made a National Park

Anchorage, Alaska.—The ice bluffs of Kotzebue sound, near the Bering straits, just within the Arctic circle are one of the world's wonders, and Alaskans will ask congress to make the site a national park. The bluffs, resembling high plateaus or mesas, are of solid, clear ice, covered with two to three feet of soil and volcanic ash, in which trees and shrubs are growing. About 100 miles up the Kobuk are still higher ice bluffs, on top of which are growing spruce trees more than two feet in diameter at the stump, also birch, alder and willow. Spilled the Beans. Caro, Mich.—The theft of 30 bags of beans is the immediate cause of a life sentence for Frank Bower. His fourth conviction on a felony made him a habitual criminal.

BERING SEA ISLE HINTS OLD RACE

Indications of Ancient Civilization Found.

Fairbanks, Alaska.—New evidence of an ancient race of Eskimos has been uncovered on St. Lawrence Island in Bering sea by Otto W. Geist, of the Alaska college at Fairbanks.

Geist, who is spending a year in explorations on the island, has forwarded to the college several stone axes which he believes were made by a race of cave dwellers centuries ago. Several old mounds will be investigated by Geist before he leaves.

The discoveries are similar to those made last summer by Harry B. Collins of the Smithsonian institute. Collins found on Bering sea islands old villages and other indications of a civilization more pretentious than that of present day natives. Still other evidences of former days were uncovered during the summer by the Stoll-McCruken expedition of the American Museum of National History.

Stone implements found by Geist were uncovered where there had been a dirt slide on the north shore of St. Lawrence island. He said the axes reminded him of those used by prehistoric people in upper Bavaria, Germany. He added that none of the island Eskimos had seen any thing like them, nor did they know what they were.

"Perhaps the age of these axes corresponds with the age of the human bodies excavated by Mr. Collins on Punock island," Geist said. "These bodies were found several feet below sea level. Since there is a jumbled mass of rock with cavellike rooms directly above this slide and there are several others near the site, I have advanced the theory that the makers of the axes perhaps lived in them and were real cave men."

It Takes Fire to Melt Their Neighborly Ice!

New York.—It is generally supposed that people who live in city apartments seldom know the other tenants in their buildings. Usually that is true, but exceptions may be found in certain dwellings that house virtual colonies of artists, writers, or actors.

Such a building is that at 142 East Eighteenth street, known as the first apartment house in New York. Erected in 1888, it has been altered from time to time for the installation of modern conveniences. Mrs. Ruthierford Stuyvesant of the "first family" Stuyvesants is the owner. The tenants include an actress, Crystal Ferne, an author, Clayton Hamilton, an illustrator, Eric P. Pe; three editors, and the widow of an editor.

Most of the tenants in the 16 apartments have been there a long time. Hamilton has lived there 15 years. But even such permanent occupants are apt to have a stranger in their midst.

One night a tenant went to the roof to watch a fire in the neighborhood. He found a man already there whom he had never seen before.

"How did you get here?" he asked. "This is a private roof."

"I know it," the other replied. "I've been living in this building for a year and a half."

U. S. May Install Radio and Cut Cable to Alaska

Tacoma, Wash.—The cable between here and Alaska may be abandoned. Curtailment of the War department's cable service and the substitution of radio, under consideration by Gen. George Gibbs, chief signal officer, has raised a storm of protest from both ends of the 1,500 mile wire. Beside abandoning the cable the plan would mean the retirement of the cable ship Dellwood.

General Gibbs estimates the installation of the radio system would cost about $200,000, whereas the upkeep of the cable costs that much a year. Much of the cable is new, having been laid in 1927 at a cost of $1,500,000.

London Fog Only Friend of Youths in Courting

London.—A lovers' lane in London where young folks may have leisure and privacy for courting is urged by Rev. J. Shepherd, an Islington clergyman.

"The curse of the crowd is the ruin of romance," he said in pleading the cause of the city's youth.

The London fog, so generally and violently execrated, is the only friend of youthful Londoners in their courting, the minister said.

Old Country Doctor Is Hard to Find Now

Jefferson City, Mo.—The old country doctor, who drove through any kind of weather at any time of the day or night to minister to his patients, is disappearing from Missouri.

A survey conducted by Dr. James Stewart, state health commissioner, shows that there are too many medical practitioners in the larger cities of Missouri while the number is diminishing in the rural districts.

There is one physician for every 400 persons in the urban sections but only one for every 865 persons in the rural districts. Doctor Stewart learned.

Keep Cellar Whitewashed

Cellar walls should be whitewashed once or twice a year. Whitewash is a disinfectant. If the cellar walls admit moisture it is recommended to wash them with a dilute solution of hydrochloric acid (one part acid and five parts water), and then apply a plaster of oil-mixed mortar.

$2,000,000 TO BE PUT INTO
WAYNE COUNTY BRIDGES

Grade Separation Construction to Play
Big Part in Wayne County—To Widen Plymouth Road at Rouge Park.

Wayne County will spend from $1,500,000 to $2,000,000 on bridge work and grade separation construction this year, according to H. A. Shuptrine, bridge engineer of the road commission.

Besides five contemplated projects for which agreements are being sought, this year's programme calls for completion of five grade separations and the same number of bridges.

"Without a doubt our outstanding grade separation is that of the two highways," Shuptrine asserted, "at Michigan and Southfield. At present one-half is being used already by Michigan traffic and we are pretty sure the rest will be ready by mid July.

"This grade separation is like none other that I know of in this section of the country. It is a huge proposition from an engineering and a financial standpoint.

"Adjacent—also on Southfield super-highway—is the grade separation over the Michigan Central Railroad. This too, we hope, will be ready for highway traffic by the middle of July.

"Likewise we expect that by July the Warren avenue crossing over the Pere Marquette Railroad, in Fordson, which is now about half completed, will be ready for traffic.

"Another separation job, comparable in size, perhaps, to the Michigan avenue one, is the Fort street crossing of the Wabash, the Pennsylvania, and the Michigan Central railroads. This should be completed by August. The viaduct is practically finished and the delay will be only in allowing the fills to settle.

"In Allen Park on Southfield, the crossing over the D. T. & I. will be getting a good deal of our constructive attention. We are waiting for the railroad to get up its temporary structures. Traffic should be able to use the separation by winter.

Has It's Share.

"In the matter of bridges Southfield also has its share. Over the Rouge river there is a double bridge proposition of 40-foot roadway and sidewalk. This is about half complete and should be ready for public duty by summer.

"Another Rouge river project is the Merriman crossing just north of Elyse. This is a pretty arch bridge nearly completed. By June the approaches will be paved and traffic will be able to start.

"Two bridges on Grosse Ile, which have just been started, should be finished by mid-summer. The first of these is located at the Meridian crossing and the other is on the Park road crossing of the thoroughfare canal.

"We have just started on the fifth bridge project, which is the reconstruction and widening of Plymouth road over the Rouge River in Rouge Park, in Detroit. There will be no detour forced by the construction work and completion is slated for mid-summer.

Signed Agreement.

"We have just signed an agreement with the Wabash railroad on the crossing on Southfield in Allen Park. Work will start soon and the highway traffic will be using it, we expect, by winter."

Following is a list of the agreements sought: in most cases, according to Shuptrine, plans are already under way and the signatures are mere formalities:

Southfield separation from the D. T. I., the D. & T. S. L. and the Michigan Central in Ecorse.

Outer Drive and the Michigan Central in Dearborn.

Fort separation at the Pere Marquette and the Pennsylvania railroads in Detroit, just east of the Rouge River.

Dix avenue separations from the Pere Marquette and Pennsylvania railroads in Fordson.

Eight Mile road crossing at the Grand Trunk Railroad, adjacent to the Fair Grounds.
