CHAMBER OF COMMERCE CAMPAIGN NEARING END

Mandate of Members for Full-time Secretary Near Fulfillment.

Since the annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, when every person present voted to instruct the incoming board to procure the services of a full time salaried secretary to manage the affairs of the organization, the board of directors has spent much time and energy working out a plan to accomplish the desires of the membership. This work has now taken form in a detailed plan and budget which, if acceptable to the public, will enable the directors to make 1929 a banner year for Plymouth. The experience of other towns and cities is to the effect that the right man on the job at the Chamber of Commerce office can bring about development and improvements of a far greater cash value to the community than the cost of maintaining the office. Preliminary steps have already been taken to get a nucleus organization from the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs to pledge their moral and financial support. When this is done a campaign will be conducted to raise the budget of $10,000.00 which has been deemed necessary. Cooperation has been promised from many concerns outside of Plymouth who will benefit by Plymouth's prosperity and it is estimated that nearly one half of the amount sought can be secured from this source. The balance will have to be raised locally and a membership fee of $50.00 annually, payable in quarterly installments, will be sufficient if a substantial degree of cooperation is encountered.

Many persons do not realize the importance of a live, active commercial organization to a community. During the past year more than one hundred business concerns have made inquiries regarding possible location of their business in Plymouth. In every case these have been investigated by one or more of the directors, and encouragement or otherwise given as the case warranted. The services of a full time man trained in this work could, in this field alone, more than earn his salary by aiding in bringing desirable industry to Plymouth.

That which makes for the growth of Plymouth benefits every citizen of Plymouth in actual dollars and cents. An additional pay roll in the community increases the demand for every article or service sold in town; it increases the taxable valuation; it provides additional market for labor; it increases the value of real estate; it makes the town better known outside its own boundaries and it dispenses the chances for periodic slumps in business.

What helps Plymouth helps you and it is only good business to make a small investment in an organization that has for its sole aim the development of your town. When you are called upon to take your share of the load to the extent of a dollar a week, do not fail to respond. Outsiders have proclaimed Plymouth ideally situated in every way to attract industry. This advantage must be backed up by a strong progressive Chamber of Commerce with a trained man at its head with nothing to do but boost Plymouth and everyone must help do it.

AGED RESIDENT PASSES AWAY

Mary Elizabeth Hodges, second daughter of Wells and Thankful Hartson, was born September 18, 1837, and died March 26, 1929, at the age of 91 years, six months and eight days.
On April 3, 1856, she was united in marriage to Francis Hodges, who preceded her in death about 25 years. To this union was born one daughter, Mary Alma, who died at the age of 20 years in 1881.
She leaves two sisters, Hattie and Ursula, and one brother, Rev. Palmer, all of Plymouth, with whom she was making her home at the time of her death. Her sister, Sarah Amella, preceded her in death in 1893.
Mrs. Hodges united with the Redford Baptist church in early life and had been a faithful member of the Plymouth Baptist church for the past 65 years.
The funeral was held from the Schrader Bros. Funeral home Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock, Rev. Donald Riley officiating. Interment was in Riverside cemetery.

Is Elected To Tau Sigma Delta

James Thoburn Lendrum, a junior in the College of Architecture at the University of Michigan, has just received announcement of his election to Tau Sigma Delta, the national honorary fraternity in architecture.
This fraternity was organized in 1913 at Ann Arbor, Michigan, and at present there are 14 chapters, located in the leading architectural schools of the country. Membership in this fraternity is open only to juniors and seniors of the school of architecture who have obtained the highest rank in their respective classes and are approved by the dean of the school. It is a purely scholastic fraternity and corresponds to the Phi Beta Kappa in the literary school.
Mr. Lendrum, who is the younger son of Dr. and Mrs. Lendrum, is to be congratulated on having been chosen for membership in this fraternity.

Spring Gardening.

Most people who like to garden are already planning on what to plant this year and how most effectively to arrange their gardens. What shrub will thrive best in a certain spot? What perennials can you plant that you have not had in your garden before? Information on varieties, arrangement and culture of plants may be obtained from the Plymouth library at the village hall, where there are also nursery and seedmen's catalogues. A few of the garden books found in the collection are:
Design of Small Properties—Bottemley.
Practical Landscape Gardening—Cridland.
Art of Landscape Gardening—Parsons.
A Thousand and One Garden Questions Answered—Hottes.
Real A B C of Gardening—Macself.
Garden Cinderellas—Fox.
Complete Garden—Taylor.
Garden Guide—De la Mare.
Landscape Gardening Book—Tabor.

Baker has moved his garage business into the new building which has been erected in the rear of the Mail office the past winter, and is now ready to take care of his patrons in his new location. Mr. Baker expects to make an announcement in next week's Mail regarding the formal opening of the new garage.

Kiwanis Club Hears Travel Talk

The local Kiwanis club was very pleasantly and instructively entertained at its regular luncheon meeting last Tuesday when Earl Potter, president of the Potter Travel Bureau of Detroit spoke under the chairmanship of vice president Paul J. Nutting. Mr. Potter has sampled his own wares extensively and in so doing has seen most of Europe on many different occasions. His impressions of Germany, Holland, France and the British Isles made a most interesting subject.
Mr. Potter's organization is sponsoring a cruise to the International convention at Milwaukee in July aboard the S. S. South American which will carry a thousand Kiwanians and families from the East and Central West to the annual affair which will be held this year at the Wisconsin metropolis. The cruise will last ten days during which time the whole Great Lakes region will be visited. At Milwaukee the ship will be docked to serve as hotel for its passengers.

ANNUAL TOWNSHIP ELECTION NEXT MONDAY, APRIL 1

Besides Election of Township Officers
Several State and County Officers
Will Be Elected.

Annual Town Meeting Will Be Held at
Village Hall at 1:00 P. M.

Proposition to Light Plymouth Road to Livonia Line Will Be Voted Upon.

FIREMEN BUSY ON WEDNESDAY

The village fire department responded to three fire calls, two of which were for grass fires.
At about noon the chemical truck was dispatched, with a crew, to South Mill street near Golden road, where a bad grass fire was rapidly spreading. This was subdued within a few minutes.
A call was turned in at about 2:00 p. m. for a fire at 143 Union street, where clothing and furnishings had caught fire from a bathroom water heater. The fire was extinguished before the arrival of the trucks.
A third call was received at about 7:00 p. m. to the residence of C. V. Merritt, 1952 Penniman avenue, where a grass fire had gotten beyond control and had nearly surrounded the garage. The fire was extinguished with no loss.

The annual township election will take place next Monday, April 1. There is only one ticket in the field for township officers, the Republican, the Democrats having failed to put up a ticket this spring. There will be two justices of the supreme court, two regents of the University of Michigan, superintendent of public instruction, member of the state board of education, two members of the state board of agriculture, state highway commissioner, fourteen circuit judges and a county auditor to be elected next Monday.
The polls of the election will be open in both precincts from 7 a. m. to 6 p. m. Eastern Standard Time.
There will also come before the voters a proposition to light the Plymouth road from the village limits to the Livonia township line, which will require a total of 21 lights, at a cost of $48 per light annually.
The annual town meeting will be held in the village hall at 1 o'clock in the commission room on the second floor.
The state offices to be filled at the election April 1 are non-political in nature. Because of this fact the Republican State Central committee, at its organization meeting last week, decided that no active campaign would be pressed in behalf of the party candidates. Instead, they and their record will simply be presented by the committee to the voters.
While the off-year spring elections are never as bitterly contested as those in the general election years, both Republican and Democratic parties have previously put on some sort of campaign.
The Republican State Central committee believes it has one of the best tickets that it has ever presented at a spring election. The candidates, they believe, are highly qualified. All of the offices to be filled are either educational or judicial in character with the exception of the state highway commissioner. This fact has convinced party leaders that "politics" should be kept out of the spring election.
All sections of the state are represented on the Republican ticket. For justices of the supreme court the party presents Judge Louis H. Fead, of Newberry, in the upper peninsula, and Judge Walter H. North, of Battle Creek.
Grover C. Dillman, candidate for re-election as highway commissioner, is widely known throughout Michigan because of more than 16 years of

Former Pastor Conducted Service

Rev. George Ehms, of Monroe, Michigan, former pastor of the St. Peter's Lutheran church for 18 years, conducted services in this church Palm Sunday.

The church was packed to capacity, over 175 of his former members were much pleased to hear him again. Rev. Ehms has a very fine little church a little south of Monroe where he is now pastor. Rev. Ehms said he would be pleased to come again at any time that a vacancy might be filled.

Bishop's Visit Postponed

Owing to the serious illness of Dr. A. W. Stalker it is imperative that Bishop Nicholson should go to Ann Arbor on Easter Sunday. His visit to Plymouth will be made one week later, on Sunday, April 7.

Death of Aged Cherry Hill Man

James Furlong, aged 83 years, died at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Elliott at Cherry Hill Tuesday, March 26. Funeral services were held Thursday, March 28, at 2 o'clock from the Schrader Bros. Funeral Home, with interment in Kinyon cemetery.

Overcome By Gas.

Lee Lofton was overcome by gas last Saturday while working on the lines of the local gas company. Prompt action on the part of Dr. Brishols with the assistance of the gas company's pulmonator, brought him back, none the worse for his experience.

Plymouth Country Club Opens Next Monday For 1929 Season

The officers of the Plymouth Country club announce that the club's golf course will be open for play next Monday, April 1. On June 1 the club will have ready for play another nine-hole course, with bent grass greens, etc. This will give the club a full 18-hole course and as pretty a ball set one as can be found anywhere. This is a public course and the public can have the opportunity to play there at any time at a nominal fee. The grounds are located six miles west of Plymouth on the North Territorial road, only a few minutes run from Plymouth over a splendid highway. The public is cordially invited to visit the Plymouth Country club at any time.

The officers of the club are as follows:
President and manager—B. E. Champe.

Vice-president—J. A. Kaiser.

Treasurer—B. A. Fisher.
These officers, with the following, compose the board of directors: C. A. Fisher, Dr. F. B. Hover, Wm. Petz, Ralph McNaughton, Paul J. Wiedman.

Held Regular Dinner.

The regular dinner meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club was held Thursday evening at the Hotel Mayflower. About 25 were present. After the business session a short play, entitled, "Honest Abe," was very creditably given by five children of the sixth grade, under the direction of Miss Mae Hallahan. Miss Catherine Schultz also entertained with several fancy dances. The hostesses for the evening were Misses Blanche Freeman, Lucille Colquitt, Elsa Gayde and Mrs. Beatrice Schultz.

A CORRECTION.

In the report of the St. Patrick's party given in the auditorium of Our Lady of Good Counsel church March 18, which appeared in last week's Mail, the names of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Goldsmith were unintentionally omitted from the list of patrons and patronesses.

INSTALLS REFRIGERATING COUNTERS.

The Plymouth Parity Market has installed the Copeland sanitary iceless refrigerating system in the display counters of their market. This will give plenty of opportunity for the display of meats at all times and under any weather conditions and in the most improved sanitary manner.

THE PARENTS' TASK.

There's a lot of talk these days about crime waves, and criminals seem to be getting younger and younger. What is the trouble? Well, for one thing, failure to teach boys and girls a few simple facts about money matters can be cited. Most crimes grow out of a false notion concerning wealth. They are perpetrated with the idea of securing something valuable without giving any service in return—like gambling. The most logical way to eliminate crime is to teach youth something of the sacredness of money.

One also hears discussions around Plymouth about the antics of the "younger generation." Gin and jazz along with petting in parked autos are frequently featured events. Most of this wildness grows out of misconceptions about money. Young people trained in the proper use of cash find no logic in spending it for bad liquor. The few who do are living examples of parental negligence. The fact that the U. S. is the wealthiest nation in the world and is adding to its richness at the rate of ten billion dollars a year makes it important for children to understand the truth about money. When these children grow up they will have more wealth to handle than any other children on earth. Parents must make money mean more to their children. The schools hardly touch the problem. The church leaders pass by on the other side. Here is the big task for parents, and they can't start in on it any too early.

Make the children realize that handling money is a responsibility far too important to be glossed over or ignored.

FALL IN LINE.

Here's the first call for the bucket and mop brigade, the rake and shovel regiment, the paint and whitewash corps and the hatchet and saw recruits. The spring push is about ready to start. The whole nation is arming for its annual war on dirt and rubbish, soot and grime, cluttered up yards and alleys and disease-breeding dumps. It's a mighty army that is now forming and it behoves everyone around Plymouth to fall in line without further delay.

There's no way of estimating the benefits of a clean house, clean surroundings and a clean community as a whole. It means not only more pleasant living conditions and a pleasant greeting to strangers, but it makes for health and wards off epidemics that might easily claim a heavy toll of death. Starting early means more time for other duties, too, and lightens the job all around.

It is well to remember that no better beautifier and no more effective sanitary agent than whitewash has been discovered. Use it plentifully. It takes but a moment to start, and once you start you'll find your neighbors falling into line. Even our city fathers will join in and give sidewalks and streets the attention they need to put them in shape for spring and summer. Come on—the call is sounding and the whole nation is responding. Roll up your sleeves, whistle if you can't sing, and let's make the old town shine like the noonday sun.

FIGHTING THE FIRE MENACE.

The stock fire insurance companies of the United States, through the National Board of Fire Underwriters, are conducting a practical, educational program to teach the public fire prevention.

As a result of consistent effort fire hazards have been reduced, better buildings have been erected and the public has been saved $349,956,311 through lower insurance rates than would otherwise have been necessary.

Lower insurance rates inevitably follow a better fire loss record; lower insurance rates inevitably follow a fire prevention program properly conducted; lower insurance rates inevitably follow consistent public service work of stock fire insurance companies.

No business has had a finer spirit of public service than fire insurance, which has given a consistently high standard of public service at a constantly decreasing price.

BLESSED ARE THEY.

Blessed are the merchants who advertise, for they believe in their business, for their prosperity shall increase many fold. Blessed is the woman who sends in a written account of a party or wedding, for she shall see the details and the names of her guests correctly reported. Blessed are those who do not expect the editor to know everything, but who tell him whenever an interesting event occurs for them, for they shall have a newsy paper in their town. Blessed are they who get their copy in early, for they shall occupy a warm place in the editor's heart. Blessed are those who co-operated with the editor in his efforts in behalf of the community, for their town shall be known to all men, far and wide, as a good place in which to live and in which to do business.

GAS INDUSTRY CANNOT STAND STILL.

That former sectional problems of the gas industry have become national and that scientific research and production form the key to success in gas production and distribution was pointed out at the recent midwinter conference of the American Gas Association, held in Los Angeles. The gas industry in the United States today represents an investment of some $4,500,000,000.

"The gas industry cannot stand still," H. C. Alled, vice-president of the Electric Bond and Share company, told the association. "It must progress through research to keep pace and bring the greatest benefits to those who use its services and to itself."

A FAIRY TALE.

The accusation often is made that we as a nation are money mad. It is high time some one refuted this gross libel in words that will ring around the world. As a people we are interested only in the higher reaches of thought; our materialistic motives are only those of necessity. Go where you will in the United States and you rarely hear people so forgetful of themselves as to converse on the subject of money or the attainment of material possessions. One seldom sees the dollar sign in the public press. Personally, we have quite forgotten here in Plymouth what it looks like. So let us hear no more of this false indictment. Those who hurl the charge that money is our god utter words as false as they are cruel.

IT'S DIFFERENT NOW.

About 30 years ago a few of the more progressive states began to make an investment for their public. This was the beginning of our modern highway system, which now embraces 630,000 miles of improved roads and parkways. The automobile was at that time starting to loom up as "the new vehicle of transportation." We heard citizens around Plymouth howl about the "good roads waste." They called it an extravagance; they said it was catering to a "toy" and encouraging reckless "joy riding." And they further declared they would not be taxed to build roads they could not use. Few, if any, of them ever hoped to own an automobile. But it's different now. Good roads have, during the past 20 years, proved of value far beyond the claims of their early advocates. During 1928 the investment in new roads in the United States by the federal and state governments was $1,500,000,000. This was exclusive of $500,000 spent by municipalities on streets and parkways within their corporate limits. And there are none to say it isn't a good investment.

Largest Hangar to House New Dirigibles at Akron

Akron, Ohio.—Erection of the world's largest hangar, which will house the construction of the United States navy's two giant dirigibles, is now well under way.

The new hangar, which will be 1,200 feet long, 325 feet wide and 200 feet high, is being built in the newly established Akron airport, less than a mile from the main factories of the Goodyear Rubber company. Akron was chosen as the site of the Goodyear-Zeppelin project after more than two years of discussion which involved consideration of Cleveland, Los Angeles and St. Louis.

Although the Goodyear company has constructed more than 100 nonrigid airships here in the last two years, the two new navy air leviathans will be the first of the Zeppelin rigid type ever undertaken by an American concern.

Move to Save Home of Wilson's Boyhood

Columbia, S. C.—A state movement to establish a Woodrow Wilson memorial museum in the old-fashioned white frame house in which the wartime President spent his boyhood days is under way here.

The house was built in the early '70s by Dr. Joseph R. Wilson, father of Woodrow Wilson, who from 1870 to 1874 was a professor at the Columbia Theological seminary.

Going into private hands after a number of attempts to make it public property failed, the Wilson home was resold to make room for a proposed municipal auditorium. This development roused again attempts to save the house.

Bills were introduced in the state legislature to provide that the state appropriate $17,500 contingent upon an equal amount being raised by public subscription and that the property be held by the state historical commission as a permanent memorial museum.

Titled Beauty Turns to Modeling Dresses

London.—Mayfair's trek from bridge to business has gained another recruit. The countess of Erroll is shortly leaving England to become a manikin for a Paris dressmaking firm.

Lady Erroll, wife of the earl of Erroll and a sister of the earl de la Warr, is noted for her gift of wearing clothes beautifully. It is said that the simplest frock becomes distinguished when she puts it on, and a Paris dressmaker once offered to dress her for nothing if she would wear only his creations.

Her inclusion into the manikin parade will be made at Cannes, where she will show dresses for the famous designer, Captain Molyneux.

Woman Will Carry Mail in Mountains

Luray, Va.—Miss Carrie Shank of this county, who has been appointed by the Post Office department service to fill a vacancy on route No. 1 from Kimball, will be the only woman rural carrier in northern Virginia. She began serving the 24-mile route February 13.

The Kimball route is almost entirely in the Blue ridge, and crosses one stream of water 15 times in ascending and descending the steep mountain grades, at times covered with snow and ice. The road in many places is dangerous on account of ice during the winter months.

MAN THRIVES WITH HIS STOMACH OUT

Surgical Marvel Performed in England.

London.—A man can live and thrive without a stomach, provided that not too many of the pancreatic glands are cut away. This has been proved by an operation of removing the stomach and stitching the upper part of the small intestine to the gullet, performed in the Bailey hospital in Leeds and now reported in the British Medical Journal.

The man on whom the operation was carried out was in such a condition that the removal of the stomach gave him his only chance of life. The doctors decided to give him that chance, and cut away the stomach bit by bit until it was completely removed.

As some of the pancreatic glands could be saved, the patient was not without digestive juices and soon could take nourishment. After 24 hours he took some water, and the quantities were gradually increased. Then milk and tea were added and at the end of 10 days he could have as much food as he asked for. Solid food was taken at the end of a fortnight.

After a month the man was out of bed and eating ordinary food, though in small quantities and often. An X-ray examination after five months showed that the operation was entirely successful, and at present the patient appears to be in good health and able to do a reasonable amount of work. He enjoys his food. The operation is regarded as a surgical marvel.

Bulgaria Chooses Village to Honor Unknown Hero

Sofia.—Bulgaria is the last of all belligerent nations to perpetuate the memory of her unknown soldier.

Unlike the other countries which erected impressive temples as a national tribute to their unnamed warrior, Bulgaria, which is essentially an agricultural nation, has selected the picturesque small town for the site of this monument, because most of those who fell on the field of honor for a "Greater Bulgaria" came from the villages.

The monument to Bulgaria's unknown soldier has been erected in the village of Dorkova, near Sofia. It is in the form of a towering obelisk resting on a white marble pedestal.

1,000 Turkish Boy Scouts to Visit Italy in Spring

Angora, Turkey.—Turkish Boy Scouts will make their first visit to foreign lands next spring when they embark for Italy in response to the invitation just received from Mussolini. The duke's invitation follows the recent visit to Constantinople of 4,000 junior Fascists, among whom figured his two sons, Benito and Vitorlo.

The Turkish government will choose for the trip to Italy the 1,000 Boy Scouts who have stood first in their classes in schools throughout the land this year.

Voltaire's Geneva Home Menaced by Expansion

Geneva.—Heroic efforts are being made to preserve the house at Geneva occupied by Voltaire, the great French philosopher and historian.

This house, called Les Delices, and situated in the heart of old Geneva, was Voltaire's home for many years. The writer had lost favor with King Louis XV and had taken refuge in Prussia. Dissatisfied there, he came to Geneva in 1744, seeking, as he said, a land of liberty.

Later Voltaire abandoned Les Delices and moved to Ferney, just across the French border, where he lived for twenty years. The famous house is now used for apartments and the owners want to replace it with a modern structure. Voltaire's friends wish to buy it and hand it down to posterity as a historic monument.

Pig for Wife Basis of Cannibal Trading

London.—Primitive tribes which trade pigs for wives and occasionally practice cannibalism were described by John R. Baker in a lecture at the Royal Geographical society here. The tribes had never seen a white man until Baker and his wife visited their wild country in previously unexplored parts of the northern New Hebrides.

Asks $2,000 for White Alligator; First of Kind

Jacksonville, Fla.—Two thousand dollars for an alligator!

Those who prefer blonds will have to pay that much to W. D. Godfrey, alligator farm owner, for what he believes the only white alligator in existence—rare as the celebrated white elephant of India.

Godfrey and his taxidermist, Oscar Swed, were searching in Florida swamps for turtle when they saw what looked like a whitewashed fence rail moving. The rail turned out to be a six-foot saurian, apparently a yellowish white from trawling through a lime pit.

Later, after its capture, the alligator men found they had an albino alligator—the first ever known in Florida.

An offer of $2,000 from the London zoo was turned down. The rank and file of dusky alligators sell for $15 to $20, but whoever heard of a white one?

Godfrey believes his find is seventeen years old, judging by its weight, 60 pounds, and length. This is youth for an alligator, as many live for hundreds of years. The albino is said to be unusually ferocious.

The Treasure Chest is open

In it was a GENERAL ELECTRIC ALL-STEEL REFRIGERATOR Model G-40

IN place of diamonds, gold, and finely wrought silver that might have tumbled out when the great Treasure Chest was opened, there stands revealed a thing of greater value still—the new small-family, All-Steel General Electric Refrigerator, Model G-40.

Into this new model have been put the efforts of the scientists and engineers of General Electric Company; the same group of men who perfected the sealed-in mechanism of the General Electric Refrigerator. This new achievement of the research laboratories marks the greatest improvement during the past 30 years, in the design and construction of household cabinets.

It's all steel, with electrically welded joints. Bronze hardware is bolted onto the steel. Black faced door edges . . . self-closing latch . . . gliders to protect linoleum . . . these and many other features are built into this new General Electric product.

This new small-family model makes electric refrigeration possible in every home. Its price is remarkably low. Only a small down payment is required. The balance can be paid conveniently over a period of time. Just a few dollars a month will do it.

ANNUAL TOWNSHIP ELECTION

service in the highway department. Eastern Michigan is represented on the ticket by R. Perry Shorts, of Saginaw, who is candidate for regent of the University of Michigan. Western Michigan is represented by Allen M. Freeland, of Grand Rapids, who has served six years on the State Board of Education, and is up for re-election. Two candidates for the State Board of Agriculture give central Michigan. In Clark M. Brady, of Lansing, and southwestern Michigan in William H. Berkey, Cassopolis publisher and farmer, representation. Dr. Walter H. Sawyer, of Hillsdale, candidate for re-election as regent of the University of Michigan, rounds out the ticket.

"I know of no other ticket previously presented by the Republican party in any election which has been so representative of the state at large and which has been made up of candidates so well qualified as those we present this spring." Chairman Howard C. Lawrence of the State Central committee said today. "We are proud to present these men to the electors of Michigan. They are not politicians, but men bent upon public service, and we know that when the qualifications of these men are considered by the electors, there can be but one result—a sweeping Republican victory April 1."

James Walter H. North, of Battle Creek, candidate to succeed himself as a member of the state's highest court, was born in Hillsdale, graduating from Hillsdale college in '96 and from the U. of M. law department in '99. He was circuit judge in Calhoun county 21 years until he was appointed to fill a vacancy on the supreme bench in 1927.

Louis H. Fead, of Newberry, the party's choice to succeed himself as justice of the supreme court, was born in Lexington, Sanilac county. He was graduated from Olivet college and from the law department of U. of M. He was prosecuting attorney of Luce county for 12 years and circuit judge of the eleventh judicial district 15 years until he was appointed to the supreme bench in March, 1928, to which office he was elected to fill vacancy in November of the same year.

The choice of Dr. Walter Hulme Sawyer, of Hillsdale, for university regent is regarded by Republicans as a fortunate selection. Dr. Sawyer was born in Huron county. He was graduated in medicine from U. of M. '84; received degree of doctor of laws Hillsdale college '26; has served as university regent, member of the Republican state central committee, state board of registration in medicine, president of Michigan State Medical society and fellow of the American College of Surgeons. He is an Episcopalian, a Knight Templar and member of many clubs and fraternalities. During the World war he was a member of the Michigan State Defense commission, executive committee member of the State Commission for Volunteer Medical Service Corps and member of the Hillsdale draft board.

R. Perry Shorts, of Saginaw, for university regent, is a nominee whose election is widely approved. Mr. Shorts came with his parents to Michigan from Winnipeg, Canada, when he was one year old. Thrown upon his own resources at the age of nine, he completed high school at Mt. Pleasant and was graduated from Central State Normal at Mt. Pleasant, class of 1900. In '06 he was graduated from the U. of M. law department and began practice in Saginaw county. He has been general attorney and vice-president of the U. S. Health and Accident Insurance company, and chairman of directors of Massachusetts Bonding and Surety company. He is vice-president and trust officer of the Second National bank of Saginaw. Is a director in many business enterprises and an authority on business economics, a writer and speaker of note.

Webster H. Pearce, of Mt. Pleasant, for superintendent of public instruction to succeed himself, was born in Washtenaw in 1876. His father was Rev. F. E. Pearce, a Methodist minister. He received degrees from Xpsilanti State Normal, Albion college and U. of M. Dr. Pearce has been high school principal and mathematics professor. Was elected state superintendent of public instruction in April, 1927.

Allen M. Freeland, of Grand Rapids, candidate to succeed himself on the State Board of Education, has been identified with the public schools of Kent county as teacher and superintendent virtually all his life. He has held many educational offices, served as county school examiner, for 22 years commissioner of schools, and for 10 years has been a member of the State Board of Education, of which board he is president. He has degrees from Valparaiso university, Hope college and Michigan State Normal college.

Clark Brody was born in Three Rivers, Michigan, in 1879. He was graduated from Michigan State college with B. S. degree class '04, and operated the home farm in St. Joseph county until 1917. He was director of the St. Joseph County Farm Bureau and in 1914 became president of that organization. In 1915 he was appointed county agricultural agent of St. Clair county. In 1921 he became secretary and general manager of the Michigan State Farm Bureau, which position he still holds. He has been a member of the State Board of Agriculture, the governing board of M. S. C. since 1922.

Wm. H. Berkey, of Cassopolis, for member of the State Board of Agriculture, when a child came from Pennsylvania to Cass county. Was graduated from Cassopolis high and at 18 became editor and manager of the publications of the late James M. Shepard, of Cassopolis. He has combined newspaper publishing with operating a farm of 180 acres and has been identified with the Cass County (Quarner Breeder) association, the Cass County Cow Testing association, the Farm Bureau and other local agricultural movements.

Grover C. Dillman, candidate to succeed himself as state highway commissioner, was born on a Van Buren county farm. He was graduated from Bangor high school in '09 and from Michigan State college in '13, receiving a civil engineer's degree. In 1927 he received the honorary degree of master in highway engineering from M. S. C. In 1913 he began with the state highway department as draftsman. In 1915 he became assistant district engineer. In 1916 district engineer in charge of road and bridge maintenance and construction in the upper peninsula. In 1920 he became maintenance engineer in charge of maintenance of all state roads. He was made deputy commissioner in 1922 and in 1924 deputy commissioner and chief engineer. He was appointed commissioner the first of the present year to finish the unexpired term of Frank F. Rodgers, resigned. Commissioner Dillman is a member of the American Society of Civil Engineers, past president of Michigan Engineering society, member of Detroit Engineering society, president of Mississippi Valley Association of State Highway Departments, chairman of maintenance committee of highway research board of the National Research Council, and has been active in committee work in the American Association of State Highway Officials.

Plymouth Girl
Directs Big Choir
In City Church

"The Holy City," the beautiful cantata by Gaul, was presented in costume by the choir of forty voices under the direction of Nellie Beatrice Huger, on Sunday evening, March 10, to a splendid audience. The pastor and congregation were unprepared for the effective colorful setting which added greatly to the story of the promised city beautiful.

A trumpeter, dressed in a bright, eastern costume, came down the central aisle of the church playing a Hebrew melody. Upon reaching the platform he faced the audience and gave a loud trumpet call. This was the signal for the choir to begin a slow march down the three aisles of the church singing "Great and Marvelous Are Thy Works."

The singing as well as the picture of the forty young people in costume gave the audience a thrill that still is the talk of the temple. Several music critics were present to witness what had been done in six months' training through a ministry of music program. They pronounced the work wonderfully done by so young a choir. At one time in the cantata all the lights were out save a beautiful illuminated cross above the choir.

On March 17 a southern musical picture was presented that was also a surprise to Dr. Reisner, the pastor. A side platform was built to represent the front of a southern home, with flowers creeping over the latticed veranda. A woman was heard crooning "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot." She came through a flower-draped doorway singing the closing strains of the song. She then called "the children," who came out upon a balcony singing a Negro spiritual. They came down the steps to the platform, singing and grouping themselves informally around the stage. With appropriate conversation intermingled, the junior choir presented a beautiful program of Negro spirituals. The children left the stage singing "Ain't Goin' to Study War No Mo'." and finished singing after they were out of sight of the audience. The pastor enjoyed this program so much that a vote of the congregation asked for its repetition the following Sunday night.

The Apollo Male quartet, all well-known artists, Guy Hunter, the blind baritone, and Honorable William C. Redfield, appeared on the same program.

The temple Good Friday service will be of the finest in New York. The speakers will be Dr. E. Stanley Jones, Dr. S. D. Gordon and Dr. Christian F. Reiser, pastor. The cantata, "The Seven Last Words," by Dubois, will be presented by the choir of forty voices under the direction of Miss Huger.

HONEY BEE IS HIJACKER, OR MAYBE ONLY CANNIBAL

Court Buzzes With Excitement as Experts Testify in Suit Against Railroad.

Chicago.—Dead honey bees, a Superior court jury decided, are worth about 0.000175 of a cent each.

For a week the court of Judge John Prieis had buzzed with this bee business. J. W. Cunnea and Ezra Ross of Morris, Ill., sued the Rock Island railroad for $50,000, claiming 175 hives of bees—some 20,000,000 of them—had died on their first railroad trip, a ride from Pike Road, Ala., to Morris.

The railroad did not dispute the demise, but there was much disagreement as to the cause. The complainants said holes in the car roof allowed the rain to come in and the bees were drowned outright or died slow deaths from exposure.

The railroad produced a bevy of bee experts who told of the strange goings on in a bee hive. Bees, said the experts, were not the industrious, peace-loving creatures generally supposed but often were like gangsters or hijackers.

One said bees were cannibals and consumed their young. Another testified they were too temperamental to travel on trains. Railroad attorneys advanced the theory that the bees had been hijacked and killed by a swarm of wild bees or had developed cannibal tendencies and eaten one another, or had buzzed about with excitement until they dropped dead.

The jury brought in a verdict of $6,300 for the complainants.

Today's Reflections

An optimist is a Plymouth boy who believes everything he reads on a circus poster.

Play safe. Never lend a man money who speaks of it as a "mere trifle."

The reason most of our prayers are not answered is because we're selfish enough to expect the Lord to do our hustling and worrying for us.

Any Plymouth husband has a right to his opinions—if they happen to be the same opinions as his wife holds.

There are so many disagreeable people in this world it's a wonder lung injuries aren't more common.

If we had guns of a smaller calibre and men of a larger calibre we would be a step farther on the road to peace.

The average Plymouth man is just mean enough to regret the things he hasn't done more than he regrets the things he has done.

Our only objection to the man who can quote from Shakespeare is that he is always doing so.

Mr. Hoover has been in many a grim famine campaign, but never in anything to equal the present mad rush for the pie counter.

How unfortunate that the only men who know how to handle world problems should waste their time in whittling on dry goods boxes.

Nobody in Plymouth has yet been able to figure out why a politician or a lawyer calls a man to one side when they want to say something to him.

Turks Protect Allah From Public Insult

Constantinople.—Smasher of Moslem traditions, the Turkish government is nevertheless adamant against insults to the Moslem religion.

Kiazim Tevlik Bey, editor of Free Thought, was brought to court for publishing "An Open Letter to the Prophet Mohammed." One passage in the letter stated:

"To kiss the pages of the Koran, to sacrifice one's life and goods to visit a city hidden in Arabia (Mecca), is not this the worst sort of idolatry?"

A clause in the republic's newly adopted penal code subjects those who are found guilty of blaspheming any of the world's established religions, Christian, Moslem, Buddhist, et cetera, to heavy fines or imprisonment.

Real Stay-at-Home

Plazy, France.—That there is no place like home is the belief of Mme. Jeanne Lavigne, who will be one hundred and six years old next month. She says she has never been outside her native town.

Raise Freak Flowers

FLAG CONTEST.

The boys and girls of Plymouth high school are busy working on their essays and answers to the seventy-five questions put up by the Detroit Times in regard to the American Flag.

The purpose of the contest is to vitalize and make interesting the instruction and development of American ideals, tradition, and principles and so know fact concerning the symbol of Americanism. The essays are entitled "Old Glory's Greatest Glory." The boy and girl writing the best essay will each be given an Old Glory medal and also those getting second and third among the boys and among the girls will receive certificates of recognition. Winners in the local group will go to Detroit to compete in the regional contest of which there are eighteen such regional contests in the United States. To the boy and the girl winning the first prize in the United States will be awarded a special trip around the world with $200 for spending money.

Whether Plymouth succeeds in advancing beyond the regional or not is in itself quite unimportant. The outstanding good which comes from this contest will be a knowledge on the part of our boys and girls of the origin, history, purpose, display and use of the American Flag and a thoroughgoing knowledge of the above inspires a better type of love of country or citizenship.

DETROIT LEADS WORLD AS PRODUCTION CENTER FOR MARINE ENGINES

Passes Buffalo and Indications Point to Constantly Increasing Volume of Manufacture.

Recognized throughout the world as leading in the production of automobiles, stoves, pharmaceutical products, electric refrigeration, varnish and numerous other important products, Detroit now has added to her mounting pile of honors by becoming definitely the world's largest marine engine production center, according to information furnished by the Detroit Convention and Tourist Bureau.

Buffalo, according to a survey made by the bureau, could honestly claim the distinction of ranking first in the marine engine field up to a short time ago, but with the increasing activity of such large manufacturing organizations as Gar Wood, Inc., Dodge Boat Works, Packard Motor company, Continental Motor corporation, Detroit Marine Engine company, Scripps Motor company, Caille Motor company, Ker-math Motor company, Dupire Motor company, Grant Marine Motor company, Belle Isle Boat and Engine company and the Cris Smith organization, increasing their production year after year, Detroit's entire output of marine engines has advanced to a stage where it completely overshadows the record of any other city. This growth is in a large measure due to the popular interest manifested by the citizens of Detroit, according to the bureau, and has resulted in an increase in the number of power boats owned by residents here.

Most important of all, in the list of influence on the industry, has been the national interest displayed by persons of moderate means who, in the past, have regarded the sport of power boating as one that could be indulged in only by wealthy sportsmen and racing enthusiasts. Today, since the development of outboard motors of low price and easy adaptability, every inland lake in the country has its quota of outboard motor boats and competitive races for that class of craft always call for more entrants than is anticipated. Low cost power boats, too, are now available in nearly every price and the number of professional and business men who have adopted power boating as an ideal means of recreation is continually on the increase.

In addition, the part that Detroit has played as a boat racing center has done much to stamp it as a marine-engine manufacturing leader, and through the spectacular exhibits of speed that attract thousands of visitors each year to the International Sweepstakes, and the Gold Cup races, it has gained national-wide attention.

Fortunately situated on one of the finest water courses in the country, Detroit also is the key city for alluring lake trips by private boat owners, and with the congestion of country roads continuing without relief, many open-air enthusiasts have turned to water travel as a more than satisfactory substitute for cross country touring and are welcoming new converts to the circle of motor boat and yachting sportsmen every season.

Obviously, with such factors continually at work, marine engine manufacturers have found a need for increased production, so, while other cities of the country have been satisfied to meet an unstimulated trade desire, Detroit has been expanding and enlarging her facilities for the manufacture of boats and engines.

In conclusion, the bureau points out that all signs and conditions indicate that this city is assured of retaining her newly won title and may expect to enjoy a continual increase in the number of marine engines sold to persons who, unknowingly, are keeping "Detroit, The Marine Engine Leader of the World" not an idle statement but a concrete and established fact.—Detroit Free Press.

And Not All Do That

Life is terribly short, considering it takes the average person fifty years to accumulate just a little bit of sense.—Atholson Globe.

Short Talk by a THOUGHTFUL Mother

An Indiana mother tells this: "We find nothing to compare with Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for coughs and colds. My little lad had trouble with his bronchial tubes from his third year, but since we started giving him Foley's Honey and Tar Compound we have been able to control it. We know there is nothing to compare with Foley's Honey and Tar Compound." The very name tells a story. Good also for croup (spasmodic) and troublesome night coughs. Ask for it. Sold everywhere in Plymouth.

Economy in Modern Highway Building

Efficient highway building now calls for a thorough study of all conditions and circumstances before the pavement is laid. Modern highway builders, in considering the location of a pavement, no longer take the original right-of-way for granted. The roadway is surveyed and if practicable it is shortened.

Professor T. R. Agg, of Iowa State college, declares that if a highway carries about 1,000 cars a day, or a total of 365,000 tons of traffic a year, each foot of distance saved to traffic will justify an expenditure of at least $60 for road shortening. In other words, that it would be strict economy to spend $316,800 to shorten a road by one mile.

So, in addition to benefits which are ordinarily thought of in connection with new paving projects, may be added the likelihood of shortening the roadway to the least possible distance. This means money saved to the motorist, who is also the taxpayer, and to the government through lowered maintenance and construction costs.

Effect of Water on Wood

The average life of wood in sea water is from ten to fifteen years. In tropical waters it may be only two years. Sound piles have, however, been removed from fresh water in which they have stood for more than 1,000 years.

Girl "Trouble Clerk" Counts on Her Smile

Reverse, Mass.—Going, perhaps, on the principle that "a soft answer turneth away wrath," the mayor of Reverse has just appointed as official "complaint clerk" a young woman with a charming voice and a persuasive smile.

She is Louise Terminello, nineteen, but with two years of office experience behind her and poise and dignity beyond her years.

The number of persons who call daily at the city hall to see the mayor "personally" is incredible, according to veteran employees. And there are any number who have grievances, legitimate or imaginary, about anything from ash or garbage collection to erroneous tax bills.

In The Theatre

"THE YELLOW BACK."
Depicting a story of absorbing interest and dramatic strength that was filmed amid the wild fastnesses of mountain lakes and snowclad peaks in the far west. "The Yellow-Back," an FBO production of outstanding merit, will be shown here Sunday and Monday, March 31 and April 1, at the Penniman Allen theatre. It will reveal the artistry of such players as Tom Moore, Tom Santschi and Irma Harrison in the leading roles and in the scenic beauties of its many striking backgrounds.

The gripping tale, from the practiced pen of James Oliver Curwood, is laid in the great north woods of Canada and is woven around the Royal Northwest Mounted Police—that intrepid and colorful police organization of the wild places—and its relentless quest for lawbreakers. Taunted by a fugitive from the law with being a "yellow-back"—a coward who fears to come to grips with his quarry—the "mountie," who even has earned the scorn of a girl who fears the outlaw, wipes out the insult with his bare fists and wins her heart.

Tom Moore, handsome and appealing leading man, appears to advantage in the heroic role of O'Mara, the redecoated policeman, and the "heavy" role is in the very capable hands of burly Tom Santschi, who looks every inch the low-browed bully of the deep woods. Irma Harrison, who has been seen in several D. W. Griffith's notable productions, gives an excellent portrayal of the girl whose regeneration, when love comes into her heart, aids in saving the life of the harried "mountie."

Jerome Storm directed and evidences in many light touches, as well as in the broader sweeps of the action, a meticulous fidelity to the atmosphere and to the psychology of the rugged characters involved in the Curwood story. And much praise should be accorded Phil Tannura, chief cinematographer, for the artistic beauty of the mountain and forest scenery he has so glowingly transferred to the screen.

"TEMPEST."
John Barrymore didn't earn his laurels as one of the greatest stars in the history of the stage or screen by always appearing debonair and fastidiously groomed. Immaculate or disheveled, in gold braids or tatters, he is still what critics concede to be the most convincing actor of modern times. For instance, in "Tempest," his new United Artists picture, which is coming to the Penniman Allen Theatre Wednesday and Thursday, April 3 and 4, with modern Russia as a background, Barrymore appears as a dashing army officer who loves a princess and is railroaded to prison by her aristocratic fiancé. In the dungeon scenes, in which the star is revealed in rags, unkempt and wearing long hair and beard, one would scarcely recognize the romantic character of the earlier episodes.

Barrymore himself believes that "Tempest" will be received by the public as the outstanding screen effort of his notable career. The story is the first one with a modern setting that he has made in several years. Camilla Horn, the fair-haired European actress who was persuaded to give up a starring contract abroad and to come to America to play opposite Barrymore, has the role of the princess. Other well-known players in the large supporting cast are Louis Welheim, George Fawcett, Ulrich Haupt, Boris de Fes, Lena Malena and Albert Conti.

Sam Taylor directed the United Artists special. The Barrymore company worked on a day and night schedule over a period of several months during the filming of the lavish feature.

"THE DRIFTER."
Riding Tony, his wonder horse, Tom Mix gallops to the screen of the Penniman Allen theatre next Saturday, April 6, when the FBO production, "The Drifter," in which Tom is starred, will be shown here.

Kiddies and adults alike will find whole-hearted enjoyment in the countless stunts in which Tom participates in the new FBO feature. These thrills include Tom's courageous ride on the wings of an airplane, the pilot of which seeks to shake him off by dare-devil stunting; his fight to keep possession of a mysterious white mule, the only living being which knows the way to a hidden mine; and his fistie encounters with a gang of desperadoes who secretly are a band of narcotic smugglers.

To cope with his ruthless adversaries, Tom is required to perform miraculous feats of horsemanship in which he has the graceful cooperation of Tony. The climax of the film is reached when Tom makes a flying football tackle off the wing of a soaring airplane, in which the pilot has sought to abandon him; catches the pilot about the waist and thus shares a parachute with him in a perilous drop to the ground.

Participating in the thrills of "The Drifter" are Dorothy Dwan, Barney Fuery, Al Smith, Bernard Bolden, Ernest Wilson, Frank Austin, Joe Rickson and Wynn Mace.

The feature was directed by Robert De Lacey who collaborated with Oliver Drake on the story.

Women Hire Children for Effect on Court

Manchester, England.—Widows "mites" may stir the heart, but they do not always ring true.

A Manchester detective reveals that children who cling to women's skirts at the police court are usually hired for the occasion in order to arouse the sympathy of the court. "Hiring" and borrowing babies for police court appearances is becoming a lucrative trade in certain sections of England. For a small fee, he said, it is possible for anyone to hire from one to five babies at a time.

Fresh Air Is Cheap ---Cattle Need Oxygen

MANY MICHIGAN DAIRIES LACK MEANS FOR SUPPLYING NECESSARY ELEMENT.

East Lansing—Fresh air costs nothing except the expense of installing a ventilation system which will admit air into barns and dairy buildings, but meetings held by Michigan State college agricultural engineering specialists in many Michigan counties this year show that a great many dairymen do not make provision for an adequate supply of oxygen in their dairies.

Cows must have plenty of oxygen if they are to manufacture milk and butter fat efficiently, and experiments have shown that a mature cow uses approximately 30 cubic feet of air per minute. If cracks in the building and feed chutes are depended upon for the admission of fresh air there is either an insufficient supply or else the building is cold and draughty.

To admit a proper amount of air intake lines with a cross sectional area of one foot square foot should be installed for each six cows. The outlets for impure air should be of the same size as the intake flues.

The ventilation system will be most satisfactory when several flues of small cross section are placed in buildings so that the fresh air enters at several different points. In a properly installed system air moves through the flues at a rate of 250 feet per minute.

Any one interested in planning for installation of ventilation systems in farm buildings can obtain information about successful systems now in use in this state by writing to the agricultural engineering department at Michigan State college.

Montevideo Proves Reno for Unhappy Couples

Buenos Aires.—Divorce is not recognized in Argentina, and consequently many mismatched couples have made a Reno of Montevideo, the capital of Uruguay just across the River Plate.

In some ways Montevideo provides a more convenient spot for undoing marital bonds that does even Reno or Paris, because suits can be brought there by power of attorney. "Incompatibility of temperament" is among the accepted grounds.

Procedure in Uruguay is similar to that under French law in that three months are allowed for "conciliation," at the end of which time the would-be divorcees appear, in person or by attorney, to explain that they still want to be legally separated. At the end of three months a decree is given.

Uruguayan divorces granted to Argentine citizens are recognized by the civil law here if they are registered with the Argentine authorities. But without this registration, an Argentine divorced in Uruguay may, if he marries again in Buenos Aires, be liable to prosecution for bigamy.

COMB WORLD'S MARTS FOR MILADY'S FURS

Millions of Foreign Pelts Are Imported.

Washington.—American fur wearers force American fur buyers to search the fur markets of the world to meet the demand for fur garments. Although the United States is the world's greatest fur producer," says a bulletin from the Washington headquarters of the National Geographic society.

"Stand for half an hour on a busy corner of the shopping district of an American city, and literally watch the animals go by—animals that roam dreary Arctic wastes, African jungles, and all the wild places between. Then, picture the trappers, and your imagination conjures a procession of Eskimo, swarthy Asiatic, bronze African and Canadian adventurer. The romance of furs is one of the most thrilling chapters in all the annals of trade.

Millions of Pelts Imported.

"Wild squirrels and rabbits covort about all the forests of the United States; muskrats infest the marshes of every state except Florida; for some reason the raccoon avoids only Montana; martens, minks, foxes, opossums and skunks range over a wide area of this country. Yet more than 100,000,000 pelts are imported annually to trim women's dresses, line men's gloves and make fur coats for both sexes.

"China is America's largest source of furs, but only in the supply of dog and goat pelts does China excel other foreign countries. Karakul comes from the herds of karakul lambs in India and Central Asia; most of our foreign mink pelts are from the traps of the Japanese. The United Kingdom leads the list of sources of squirrel, fox and mole pelts; Germany supplies most of our foreign marten pelts; Peru, Chile and Bolivia, chinchilla pelts; Siberia, ermine pelts; Australia, rabbit pelts, and for our additional supply of beaver and muskrat pelts, we look to Canada.

"Early fur wearers wore only genuine furs. Only the trapper and the wealthy could afford fur garments. Then the demand for cheap furs developed. Like actors in a commercial drama, dressers of cheap furs appeared in the fur world. Experts discovered that pelts of rabbits, dogs, alley cats, goats, ponies and many other animals could be made into exquisite furs by the deft hands of trained fur workers. Australia had been offering a bounty for killing rabbits which had overrun the continent, but the new fur trade turned a liability into an asset.

"More than a hundred million cheap furs are used annually. With a little dye and expert workmanship, bunny pelts are made to imitate those of the aristocrats of the fur-bearing animal world. Rabbit furs dyed seal are known as Arctic seal, bay seal and Northern seal, seulette and sealine. Dyed to imitate fox, they grace the counter of the fur store as Baltic brown, red and black fox, or fox hair. A leopard may not be able to change its spots but leopard spots dyed on rabbit pelts make Baltic, French and Russian leopards. These are but a few of more than fifty aliases by which rabbit pelts are known, when they leave the hands of the furriers.

Rival Gold in Exploration.

"Civilization is invading the domain of the fur-bearing animals in the United States, yet from $45,000,000 to $75,000,000 worth of furs were taken in 1927. The greatest wild fur producing area in the world lies within a 600-mile radius of St. Louis. In an attempt to increase the supply of genuine furs, fur farms or ranches have been established in the United States. Approximately 99 per cent of the silver fox pelts sold on American markets are ranch bred. Prince Edward Island, north of Nova Scotia, where fox ranching began about 30 years ago, is literally covered with fox ranches. Skunk, muskrat and rabbit ranches have also been established.

"Furs have played an important part in exploration. Explorers often find the cabins of fur trappers marking the farthest outpost of civilization. St. Louis owes its founding to the early French fur traders who established a station on the site in 1764. Trappers and traders from the St. Louis station and those from Canadian stations opened up a large part of northern and western United States. Long before the 'forty-niners' crossed the plains the Frenchmen reached what is now the state of Utah where they learned that Canadian fur traders had already been in that region.

"Russian trappers crossed the bleak expanse of Siberia to Kamchatka in quest of furs and then pushed on to Alaska. Furs and gold have vied in opening up 'Seward's Folly' or the 'Seven Million Dollar Ice Box,' as Alaska formerly was called. But gold booms have come and gone. Fur trapping and trading have continued and today two little islands of the Pribilof group in the Bering sea send $200,000 worth of seal and blue fox furs to the St. Louis fur market annually. Blue foxes are also successfully ranches on many of the Aleutian islands."

CAPITOL GUIDE CAN GIVE THE ANSWER

Old-Timer Has Ready Reply for Every Tourist.

Washington.—A little girl of seven came down from Massachusetts the other day to visit her grandfather. He met her at the train. As the two emerged from the Union station the little girl glimpsed the dome of the National Capitol in the distance, and with a cry of delight turned to the old man.

"Grandpa, I know what that place is."

He looked at her with interest. "That's your capitol," the little one said. "Your capitol."

And "grandpa"—Capt. B. J. Cady, chief of guides for more than 50 years at the National Capitol, admits that he regards the building in pretty much the same way.

Took Post in Hayes' Regime.

Rutherford B. Hayes was President of the United States when Captain Cady took up his post in the rotunda of the Capitol building. That was 50 years ago. Since that time Captain Cady has conducted untold thousands of people through the many interesting corridors and chambers of this structure.

To sit and talk with Captain Cady is to obtain an unforgettable picture of the great events and outstanding figures in the last half century of America's national life. He has observed all of them at close range during this 50-year period, and talks of them with as much ease as he uses in describing one of Trumbull's paintings.

But it is his experiences as a guide that he delights most to talk of. His daily contact with people from every section of the country affords him a rare opportunity to study the tourist. He is called upon to answer as many foolish questions as any other man in the United States. And just how foolish some of these questions propounded by tourists can be no one knows better than Captain Cady.

Always an Answer Ready.

Until the other day he thought he had been asked every possible question about the Capitol building, but one visitor popped a brand new one.

"How much does this building weigh?"

Not daunted, the captain gravely answered: "Approximately 990,753,210 pounds."

The chap walked away, perfectly satisfied.

He is frequently asked, after a party has been shown both the house and senate chambers, to point out the place where congress meets. More than once a visitor has requested an introduction to a senator or representative from his home district when that senator or representative is not a member of congress, but the state legislature.

Couples on their honeymoon flock to Washington and Captain Cady entertains them. He has become an expert in picking out the bride and groom from among the others in the party.

Would Inflict 10,000 Goats on North Carolina

Kinston, N. C.—D. Eugene Wood, Kinston sportsman, would have the general assembly of North Carolina spend $10,000 to buy 10,000 goats and turn them loose in the eastern and western part of the state in the hope that the number would increase to 100,000 in ten years.

He believes, does Mr. Wood, that the goats would:

Rid the state of weeds and undergrowth and thus beautify woods and natural parks.

Eradicate snakes and other pests by eating up weeds and things that snakes lurk in.

Give the mosquito population a wallop by eating weeds in marshes and allowing the sun to dry up the water puddles.

And, another thing, they would provide a new supply of game, he says, adding:

"If you don't believe it try to catch a tame hilly goat when he doesn't want to be caught."

French Rush to Defend the Innocent Oyster

Paris, France.—France has rushed to the defense of the oyster against attacks by British medical scientists. F. Borde, a French oyster magnate, on behalf of the republic takes vigorous issue with the British position that oyster vitamins are of "little importance."

The research work, said M. Borde, of Madame Randuin and Doctor Porter of the Sorbonne had proved to a skeptical world that the oyster contained a large quantity of vitamin C. He added that American experiments had disclosed the existence of vitamins A and B.

Ancient Tombs Dug Up on Playgrounds Site

Varese, Italy.—A number of tombs of the Gallo-Celtic era have just been discovered at Sesto Calende in the course of preparing the new sports ground for the "ballistas" or Fascist Boy Scouts.

The tombs contained funeral urns and cases of ornamental style. More interesting was the small collection of arms, shields, buckler swords and other warlike implements which came to light in the largest of the tombs. Some worked bronze ornaments of a certain fineness were also discovered.

Luck Picks Its Pals

"I have found that good luck is a wise chooser of its companions," says Irving Bacheller in the American Magazine. "It prefers to run with the man who sees his way clearly and is prepared to act quickly when approaching decisive moments. Luck is no laggard nor wastes of time."

EPISCOPAL NOTES

“If ye then be risen with Christ, seek those things which are above, where Christ sitteth on the right hand of God.”—Epistle for Easter day.

“Easter, the feast of feasts, with its triumphant message of life and joy, calls forth all faithful people of the Christian church to worship and communion with the Risen Christ.

Notice that in order that all members of families may find it possible to make their communions on this day, there will be two celebrations of the holy communion, at 8:00 and 10:00 o'clock.

The sacrament of holy baptism will be administered after the second service. All who wish to stay for this service may do so, but it will be separate from the service preceding in order to permit others who wish to leave.

This is the day for the return of the children's mite boxes. There will be no classes at church school, but a service of presentation of the Lenten offering and other interesting features. Every child will want to be there.

At the evening service “The Awakening,” an allegory of the resurrection, will be presented as an enacted sermon. It is hoped that parents will come and bring their children to this very impressive service.

Today (Good Friday) at 2 o'clock the last of the Holy Week union services will be conducted at the Methodist church. It has been very encouraging and gratifying to see such a goodly number of our people attending these services.

Tonight, at 7:30 o'clock, Good Friday service of the Litany and a short address. As we have entered into the days of sorrow with the Master, we have prepared ourselves to be worthy of His joys.

The men's club of St. John's church will entertain at an evening of five hundred on Wednesday night, April 3, at 7:30. The general public will be cordially welcomed. We urge the support of all our people.

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES.

Remember the change in the hour of service. Next Sunday the morning service will begin at 10 a. m. o'clock. A large group will be received into the membership of the church Sunday morning.

Miss Marjorie Pollock, of Detroit, will assist the choir at both services Easter Sunday.

The choir will render a special Easter musical service Sunday evening. The Busy Women's class will meet at the manse on Tuesday of next week. Co-operative dinner at noon, followed by a business and social hour. The sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed Sunday, April 7.

CATHOLIC NOTES

Happy Easter to all. Sunday is Easter Sunday. General Holy Communion—Sunday for the parish.

High masses Sunday at 8:00 and 10:00 o'clock, both the adult and children choirs singing.

Preparations are being made for a program to be given by the children soon after Easter.

BAPTIST NOTES

“I am the resurrection and the life: he that believeth in me though he were dead yet shall he live.”

The pastor's subject Sunday morning will be “The Risen Lord.” Communion service shall be present. Baptismal service will be held at the evening service.

Last week special services were held each evening, which were very helpful to those who attended. The different speakers from our neighboring Baptist churches delivered addresses which were fitting for this season of the year.

REIGN OF GOLD JEWELRY ENDED

Fashion Now Calls for Stones in Platinum.

Paris.—The French theory that a woman's jewelry definitely establishes her position in elegant and fashionable society has not been overlooked in the many transformations that have taken place in arts and crafts since the war. Jewelry itself has been modernized. Moreover, the fastidious fashions of cut jewels formed by prisms in all their angles and slanting reflections synchronize perfectly with the trends of modern art.

For a while, at least, the days of fancy filigreed gold and silver and gem-encrusted jewelry are over. Madame now must wear big clear stones set in cold platinum, rectangles, cubes, triangles, in amethyst, emerald, aquamarine, rubies and diamonds.

There are many points and acute angles in the new jewelry. There are flat surfaces that scintillate lights in the manner of a cubist painting. Sheer elegance calls for simplicity defined by clear-cut lines. . . . a smooth satin manteau, a neat felt hat with a triangular plin, a bracelet in alternating platinum and crystal rectangles, an emerald set lengthwise along two alternating semi-circles, and brooch of brilliant set in the form of a tiny sailing yacht or the helmet of a knight at arms. . . . such is the modish Parisienne of today.

It was the Exposition of Decorative Arts in 1925 that brought about the transformation of jewelry. Modern art was followed in the same trends that we see in architecture, in interior decoration, and in furniture.

The new jewelry started with the Gitanes or so-called zypsy bracelet. It was set with big stones, usually inde or semi-precious pieces, and anywhere from a half inch to two inches wide. Its success was immediate and now the Gitanes is expressed in even bolder forms.

Modern jewelry, to quote a prominent Paris designer, is inspired by the exciting and rapidly moving pace of present-day life. He says, “Modern jewelry is inspired by our new enthusiasms. It has a certain coquetry with early arts, its inspiration is derived from cubism, and its manifestations are also affected by the marvelous technique realized by the Persians and the Chinese.

“The jewelry of today is nourished by the life we live, the automobile wheel, the airplane, the radio, sports and a thousand evidences of modern events.”

Few Visitors Admitted to London Exchange

London.—Admittance to the London stock exchange is limited to members, authorized clerks and “blue buttons,” or holders of recognized passes, and any seeking entrance without possessing qualifications is in for a rough time at the hands of lynx-eyed bouncers. A fourth class, called “sewer rats,” is admitted to the basement, but this is limited to junior clerks who daily check bargains.

Distinguished visitors are sometimes shown around, but they, like the “blue buttons,” are not permitted to deal. One of the most distinguished guests was King Faisal of Iraq, who was taken in to hear dealers shouting “Anglo-Egyptians” and “Sudan Plantations.”

“Personalized Warmth”

When there are children in the family, a “personalized” form of heating is invaluable. The portable electric heater is especially designed to warm a small area, and that area thoroughly. As children are very “close to the floor,” and do much of their playing on the floor itself, an electric heater placed nearby will keep them safely warm and guard them against colds.

Throughout the winter months, and during all seasons of cold, damp weather, you will find these heaters very useful and comforting. They are excellent for quickly heating the bathroom on chilly mornings. Simply plug into any wall outlet, and they respond instantly with satisfying warmth.

English as Written by Man in West Africa

St. Joseph, Mich.—Any contention that residence in the British empire is prima facie evidence of mastery of the king's English falls on the deaf ears of C. E. Blake, exporter of automobile accessories.

In refutation of what he believes is a commonly erroneous impression, Blake offers the following letter, received from a prospective customer in Accra, British West Africa:

"Sir:—Will you be kindly allow me to offer myself to you as having knowing me but have kept your kindness through all my health. Yes it was last week I picked up your name and address from my friends table that recommending you so highly, which at once effected my love; I shall be much pleased to have a present catalogue and few Examples of your powers, coming this very mail; in order to order the same. I cannot recommend my self too self too you as an egotist, but my activity will prove itself. I beg to remain, I am,

"Yours faithfully,
"E. E. M. ———"

At the regular meeting of the Wayne Village Commission Tuesday night, members of the commission requested that H. E. Harrison, city engineer, draw up plans and specifications for a new reservoir to hold 1,500,000 gallons of water and present them at the next regular meeting.

The Dearborn Press, Dearborn, has recently moved into their new building on West Michigan avenue. A feature of the opening of the new shop was the installation of a new Duplex printing press capable of printing and folding 3500 8-page newspapers per hour.

William A. Mara, secretary of the Stinson Aircraft Company, announced last Thursday that because of unavoidable delays the new Stinson factory in Wayne will not be ready for production before April 6. Almost immediately after beginning operations the company expects to deliver five planes daily and it will employ three hundred men.—Wayne Dispatch.

BONDHOLDERS BUY ASSETS OF MICHIGAN RAILWAY

Spirited bidding between bondholders comprising a group of New York financiers and scrap iron syndicates of Michigan and New York marked the recent auction sale in Battle Creek of the holdings of the Michigan Electric railway. The bondholders finally were declared winners on their bid of $650,000 and the confirmation of the sale must be made by the Federal district court at Detroit within the next month. Motorization of cities which have been provided with street cars and interurban service by the railway is seen as a result of the sale.

The scrap iron interests sought the sale of the buildings in four divisions. Separate bids on real estate and personal holdings of both the western and eastern divisions, however, aggregated only $354,000, the final tabulations disclosed, so the bondholders were declared the buyers. In addition to the purchase price of $650,000 the bondholders also assume taxes due, amounting to $240,000.

Financiers believe the bondholders will dispose of the property under a salvage plan which would net the greatest possible income. It is expected that real estate holdings in the cities along the interurban lines and personal property such as the equipment and road beds will be disposed of as separate units. Street railway and bus lines now being operated will be offered to operating companies which may desire continuance of these services.

The Michigan Railway company was organized in 1900 and operated successfully until the World war, when it was thrown into the hands of a receiver. Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo, Battle Creek and Jackson were connected by the lines.

Dad Plymouth says still another thing as sure as death and taxes is that a lot of girls would have more satisfactory faces if they could have done their own picking.

The true optimist is the man who suffers in a dentist's chair to preserve his teeth for another ten years.

"A woman used to be a lot more thoughtful and considerate of her husband," says Dad Plymouth "when she thought he was the only husband she was going to get."

Dad Plymouth says old-fashioned parents once worried about getting daughters married but now they worry about getting them to stay married.

"Naming a baby Tiny or Cutie," says Dad Plymouth "isn't going to keep her from growing up and having a shape like a ten-ton truck."

41 STATES NOW HAVE LAWS CONTROLLING BILLBOARDS

Roadside Advertising Signs Regarded as Menace to Safe Auto Driving.

Washington, D. C.—Roadside advertising signs, considered by many as a menace to safe driving, now are controlled by law in forty-one states.

South Carolina, Arkansas, Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Kansas and Wyoming are the only states without state regulation of commercial signs and billboards.

Control in states is widely diversified, with some barring all signs from certain sections while others have wide limits within which the billboard operator and sign poster may function.

Connecticut, Massachusetts and Vermont have the most rigid laws. Before any agency can erect commercial advertising signs in these states it must be licensed by state authorities at a certain annual fee or furnish a bond if it is an out-of-state company.

Advertising signs in Connecticut must not be placed within fifteen feet of the right of way on any highway and in Massachusetts within 500 feet.

Florida, Georgia, Mississippi, Nebraska, Nevada, North Carolina and Tennessee impose fees for advertising signs. Mississippi collects a fee of 75 cents for each sign from 10 to 100 square feet of area; $1.50 for an area between 100 and 300 square feet and $2.50 for an area of more than 300 square feet.

Tennessee forbids erection of signs upon the right of way of any state highway, and prohibits erection of signs resembling railroad crossing symbols on any public highway or street or on private property within one-quarter mile of the road.

In Florida the state road department prohibits advertising signs on state highways and imposes on agencies in the bill-posting business a certain tax on the basis of population in the cities and towns where they seek to operate.

Nebraska requires a state permit for advertising signs with a fee of 25 cents to $5 for each sign, and no sign may have more than ten square feet.

In nine states no advertising agency may erect or maintain upon any highway or right of way any commercial advertising sign. These states are Minnesota, Colorado, Maine, Iowa, North Dakota, West Virginia, South Dakota, New Hampshire and Illinois.

Harem Customs Bring Argentine Protests

Beirut, Syria.—To protest against the attitude adopted by Syrian Moslems toward Argentine women, the Argentine government has closed its consulate in Beirut.

The consul stated that Argentine women of the Christian faith marrying Syrian Moslems abroad and later accompanying their husbands to Syria suffer considerable hardships. On arrival in Syria they are confined in harems as is customary with native women, and forced in every way to conform to the Moslem mode of life.

The average Plymouth man believes he is broad-minded when he admits there are some few good men in the opposite political party.

ENGLISH ROBOTS TO ACT AS INFORMANTS

Will Be Placed in Stations and on Corners.

London.—Although England's first Robot was created only a few short months ago, he already has six brothers ranging in height from Jasper's six feet six, to little Rupert's five feet ten.

Despite their tender ages the services of all seven have been hired out under the contract-labor system during the schoolboy's exhibition at Horticultural Hall, and soon after the exhibition closes the Robot family will be broken up and the brothers sent out to different railway stations and street corners to take 24-hour-a-day jobs answering questions and giving directions. A pathetic fate for such youngsters, that would seem to call for intervention on the part of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children!

Where Can I Eat?

How these dully gleaming giants of steel work has now been revealed for the first time in connection with the schoolboys' exhibit, where Rupert, a bright little fellow, is to be seen with his chest and head cut open and all his insides revealed. Young John Bull, Jr., presses a button on Rupert's tummy. Almost instantly lights start from under Rupert's heavy eyebrows and a voice incredibly deep for such a youngster booms out: "What do you want to know?"

Young John, startled, stutters: "Please, where can I get a bite to eat?"

"Take the third aisle on your left and walk straight on," booms the voice. Then the lights die out and Rupert is once again a senseless structure of cold steel.

Bewildered, young John follows the directions, and sure enough, walks straight into a restaurant.

Now what has happened is this: When the youth pushed the button on Rupert's tummy a light showed on a switchboard in front of a man at a table in a control room.

May Soon Be Common.

He immediately "plugged in" on Rupert, lighting up Rupert's eyes and establishing a telephonic contact with a microphone hidden behind a silver gauze-covered hole in Rupert's front. Thus the man at the central control station heard young John's question and he promptly answered back by telephone, his words being amplified by a loud speaker in Rupert's chest.

If the question asked is a "sticker," the man at the control station, and through him, Rupert says: "Wait a minute," and the right answer is looked up in handy reference books. One man in the central office, it is declared, will in this way be able to handle the questions asked of, say, a dozen or more Robots installed in a railway station, big shops, hotels, or even on street corners, and it is predicted that within the next few years these grim formidable Robot servants will be commonplace sights in all large cities.

Mexico Creates Zones for Indian Education

Mexico City.—An experimental zone, in which new policies of the department of public education will be tried out, has been established by the Mexican government in the states of Hidalgo and Tlaxcala. These sites were picked because of the large Indian population in their proximity. It was explained. The department is increasing its efforts to educate the Indians of the republic. Special schools in which new methods of teaching will be employed are being built in this zone. Cultural missions will also work there.

Lightweight Kettles as Good as Heavy Ones

Pullman, Wash.—Heavy aluminum cooking utensils are shown to be no more efficient than less expensive lighter weight kettles, as the result of careful experiments by Catherine Landreth of Dunedin, New Zealand, research specialist in home economics now working at the University of Washington.

Miss Landreth has just embarked on a three to five year project to improve cooking methods for the housewife. She plans to investigate the practicality of the new method of electric cooking in which the current passes directly through the food and to establish definite standards for vegetable cooking.

Flees From Angry Wife Into Wild Beast's Cage

Los Angeles, Calif.—A wild animal cage was the refuge place of a circus man when his irate wife chased him about the "big top" with a horsewhip. This was the testimony of Alpheus G. Barnes Stonehouse, the "Al G. Barnes" of circus fame, in court here in connection with a suit for separate maintenance.

Stonehouse said he had divorced Sarah Jane Hardigan Stonehouse, his second wife, in Las Vegas, Nev., in 1923, and that she was not entitled to an allowance now. The woman claims that her husband was not a legal resident of Las Vegas and that the decree is void.

SIMPLE TREATMENTS STOP LEVIES MADE ON OATS AND BARLEY BY DISEASE.

The annual tax levied by smut on the Michigan oat and barley crops can be stricken from the tax rolls and payment avoided if farmers will spend a little time and a few cents for chemicals to be used in treating seed grains, according to the statement of plant pathologists at Michigan State College.

The treatment recommended for oats is the one known as the formaldehyde spray method in which one pint of formaldehyde will kill the smut present on 30 bushels of seed grain. For smaller amounts of grain, proportionately decreased quantities of the chemical are needed.

The formaldehyde is placed in a small hand sprayer and is sprayed upon the oats as they are shoveled over and over. After the oats are sprayed, they should be shoveled into a heap, covered with a canvas or blanket for four hours, and then spread out for a thorough airing. The oats should be sown as soon as possible after they are aired.

The grain drill and the sacks in which the oats will be placed should be disinfected with a formaldehyde solution made by adding two table-spoonfuls of the chemical to a pail of water. The sacks may be soaked in the solution and it may be poured through the drill.

For the treatment of smut, scab, and stripe of barley the college plant pathologists recommend the use of organic mercury compounds according to the directions of their manufacturers.

This Mechanical Age

It has become the fashion in certain circles to depreciate our modern industrial age, on the grounds that it exalts the machine above the individual, and mechanical above human values.

Yet the results seem to differ from the theory. The machine has, for the first time in history, given a vast amount of leisure to the greater majority of people. It has increased production and shortened hours of work. It has made possible the wide dissemination of luxuries at prices which fit the average purse.

Motor cars and telephones and heating systems and elevators and endless other mechanical devices have lessened the time necessary to perform the duties of life, that more time may be had for the luxuries.

There can be no question that there are many who use their leisure poorly. But it is not the machine that must defend itself against this criticism. It is human intelligence.

And it is not illogical to believe that the machine will be the means to an end—a time when education and knowledge will be really general and this new-found leisure will create a greater and better-balanced civilization.

Sawdust as Fuel Gives Dealers Surprise Profits

Seattle, Wash.—Northwest lumber manufacturing towns formerly hoarded "white elephants"—huge piles of sawdust, for which there was no demand. Last year some one invented a burner attachment that could be connected to any furnace, heater or engine and the use of sawdust was urged.

So many people installed sawdust burners that there now exists a famine of the fuel. All the mountainous piles about sawmills have disappeared and to keep up with the demand for the cheap fuel, sawdust is being brought into the city by scows, auto trucks, trains and electric ferries. Sawdust for Seattle use has been brought from mills 200 miles distant. There is no dearth of waste material from which to make sawdust or hogged fuel, but few mills are equipped with machinery to grind wood. Many dealers are realizing big and unexpected profits.

City of David Quest Bares Byzantine Wall

Jerusalem.—Excavations on the Mount of Ophel, where it is hoped to lay bare the City of David, have revealed an ancient wall at a depth of 20 feet. It is thought to have formed part of a fortress of the Syrian army stationed by the Greeks in Jerusalem.

One street has been cleared of earth. It is lined with the ruins of houses belonging to the Byzantine period. The buildings have mosaic floors of good design. Much of the pottery dates back to the time of the First Temple.

Scheme Went Awry Minneapolis, Minn.—Nelson W. Robinson of Little Falls has a good scheme to make money by sending pencils to persons who had died and then trying to collect $4.00 from their relatives. Federal Judge W. A. Cant sentenced Robinson to 18 months in prison.

Within Arm's Reach

In the most modern homes you will find a telephone conveniently near you wherever you may be. The old time reception hall telephone is retained, but, in addition, extension telephones are placed in the bedroom, library, guest room, kitchen and basement, and even the bathroom.

A telephone makes any room more livable. You may use it not only to talk to near neighbors and distant friends, but the installation can be made so that it will be possible to telephone from one room to another within your home.

Extension telephones are inexpensive conveniences which are becoming more and more popular. There are portable telephones, too, that can be moved from room to room.

We will be glad to have a representative explain to you just how these modern telephone facilities can be applied to your own home, at moderate cost. Call the Telephone Manager.

The Motorist Will Stop for the Signal Light at the Street Intersection Where He Will Not Slow Down for Oncoming Train

IT is one of the strange experiences of railroads in dealing with traffic at the highway crossing that a large number of motor vehicle drivers are indifferent to all danger.

IT is an anomaly of this situation that the motorist will stop for the red light at the street intersection, where he will give no heed whatever to the signal at the railroad crossing on the highway.

DANGER lurks around the corner in both places.

BEHIND the automatic signal at the street intersection there is generally the police officer and the police ordinance with its inevitable fine to back its message.

BEHIND the automatic signal or the crossing watchman there usually is no such force of law, but there may be injury or death.

THE Motorist, through some perversity in make-up, stops at the Street Intersection for the Signal Light which indicates possible peril or a police court fine, where he often will not be awed by the oncoming train with its infinitely greater danger in the event of a mishap.

TOO often this certain type of motorist seems to set a higher value on his pocketbook than on his life.

THE American railroads are doing everything within their power to prevent casualties at the crossings.

THE American railroads have not the money to eliminate all of the grade crossings, for this would involve $20,000,000,000 additional investment.

ELIMINATION of crossings would not be necessary, if the motorist and others were made to take reasonable care in crossing railroad tracks at grade.

PUBLIC authorities, including the Police, State Troopers, and Village Marshals—as well as the Newspapers—should take an aggressive interest in any policy that makes for obedience to the railroad crossing signal.

NEWSPAPERS should constantly impress upon all the importance of observing signal indications.

THE caution so given by public authority—or the warning so sounded by the newspapers—may save a life—or many lives.

AFTER all the saving of a citizen's life alone pays a big return on the good work so done, whether the result arises from individual or co-operative action.

EVERY DISEASE FOUND IN CHINA

Sanitation in Western Sense Completely Lacking.

Washington, D. C.—In China every known disease exists, and floods, wars and famines are common. But the political and economic situation affects the people's health more than any of the diseases, in the opinion of an official of the United States public health service who has recently returned from China. Ignorance and terrific poverty are of course responsible for the prevalence of tuberculosis, smallpox, cholera, intestinal diseases and diseases resulting from faulty diet.

Sanitation in the western sense is completely lacking for all but the wealthy mandarin class. In fact, vast numbers of the Chinese population have not even a roof to cover them while they sleep, or to protect them from the elements. Their entire property consists of the rags they wear as clothing. The ricksha coolies, hot and sweating after their last run have nowhere to sleep at night but the pavement. Such exposure combined with underfeeding makes tuberculosis especially prevalent among them.

No foreigner dares to eat uncooked food in China. Salads of raw lettuce, celery, tomatoes, etc., are so dangerous as to be prohibitive in spite of all precautions, foreigners nearly always get dengue fever if they are in the country for any length of time.

A fungus infection of the feet, known as Hongkong foot, is very common. It is spread by the barefoot coolies, but shod mandarins and foreigners also acquire it.

The civil wars are of course responsible for great loss of life. This is due not so much to the numbers killed in battle as to the starvation that results when all the able-bodied men of a large district are called from the fields to the armies. Crop failure is the first consequence and famine the second. In a country as thickly populated as China, failure of one crop spells disaster far more complete than in other less densely peopled countries.

Traces of Ancient Race Unearthed in Nevada

Los Angeles, Calif.—Traces of the oldest Americans are being sought in Nevada and eastern California by an expedition from the Southwest museum. The expedition, which is led by M. R. Harrington, is exploring a region that is almost unknown country from the archeologist's point of view.

Scattered discoveries made in Nevada show that the early Pueblos lived and farmed that far northward. Traces of the old basket makers, who preceded the Pueblos and lived many centuries before Christ, have also been found.

The territory chosen by the expedition may yield evidence of Americans much older than this, according to James A. B. Scherer, director of the museum, for it is generally accepted that the original Americans entered this country by way of Bering Strait and migrated down through the West, crossing the valleys where the expedition will camp. Special attention is to be given to caves of the region, according to Mr. Scherer, because in these dry and protected recesses the remains and possessions of the early Americans are found best preserved. The caves are being rapidly looted by irresponsible relic hunters, scientists have found, and must be explored soon or never.

Cuba Quits Bongo Drum as Incitement to Savagery

Havana.—The Cuban government has prohibited the beating of the African bongo drum.

The restriction carries heavy penalties on the ground that the monotonous reverberations induce a state of savagery in ignorant listeners and a state of irritation in others.

To those who have studied the history of Africa the bongo drum is well known as the wireless system of African tribes, and bents from these drums, sometimes 25 miles apart, send messages throughout the densest jungles. To those who have studied voodooism the bongo drum is likewise known, for it is used to incite dancers to a dangerous state of savagery.

Flaw in Washington Survey

Madison, Wis.—A flaw in surveying notes made by George Washington showing 30 per cent more acreage than a plot actually contained, has been discovered by a University of Wisconsin student.

Britain Has Lifeboat for Disabled Aircraft

Dover, England.—A new type of motor lifeboat specially designed to go to the aid of airplanes which may come down while crossing the English channel is to be stationed at Dover by the Royal National Lifeboat Institution.

She will be the first British lifeboat to be fitted with wireless. Sixty-four feet long, with a speed of 17 to 18 knots, the craft will be the largest and fastest lifeboat in the world. She will have two cabins to hold about 50 people, be lighted by electricity and have a searchlight and line-throwing gun.

Three Cardinal Points

The three great essentials to achieve anything worth while are hard work, stick-to-itiveness and common sense.—Edison.

Means Condemnation

The expression "thumbs down" originated from the old Roman gesture expressing disapproval, given as a signal to the victorious gladiator to slay the loser.

MAYAS RETAIN PRIMAL CHARM

White Man Never Able to Convert Yucatan's Ancient Tribes.

Merida, Yucatan.—Life still has charm and romance in the land of the Mayas. There is much that has not changed since the days when Bishop Landra tried his hand at converting the Indians four centuries ago and complained that the Indians instead had converted Gerónimo Aguilar, the first white man who lived among them. Gerónimo, the bishop suspected, had become "as idolatrous as they."

Picturesqueness in the modern Maya village is not destroyed, as it so often is in the Mexican villages on the mainland, by dirt and misery, for the Yucatecan Indian is a luckier creature. He is cleaner, healthier and richer.

The town of Ticul, a dozen miles or so from the famous ruined city of Uxmal, is an interesting example of what has grown out of four centuries of European civilization implanted in the heart of the greatest prehistoric American civilization.

Native Blood Predominates. Ticul was a growing town when the white man came, as the native will tell the visitor. Today nearly everyone who speaks Spanish speaks Maya, too, while a large proportion of the people speak the Indian language only. There is no pure-white blood left and native blood far predominates.

In the native sections of the town the Indians still live in their huts of sticks, adobe roofed with fan-palm, much as they did before the conquest. The most notable change is that they use the hammock, introduced from Santo Domingo, instead of the straw rug or "petate," which they used as a bed before, and hammock making has become a Yucatecan art.

Their huts are in gardens, fenced with limestone walls, rich with orange, banana, palm, papaya and sapote trees. Magenta-colored bougainvilleas and fire-red "flamboyanas" add startling color to the picture.

Women Carry Burdens

The handsome Indian or mestiza women, with spotless white cotton gowns, brilliantly embroidered at neck and hem, walk like bare-foot queens through the stony streets, swinging jugs of water or naked babies on their hips. Statuesque women, with white-enameled washbasins full of beans or ground corn dough on their heads, stalk out of the spotless market with its crisp green piles of herbs and heaps of seeds and washed vegetables.

Maya potters still ply their ancient trade in Ticul, and the town supplies the surrounding region with earthenware dishes, pitchers and pots. The prehistoric disk or "kalin," which was on the verge of becoming a true potter's wheel, is still used. The potter sits on the dirt floor of his hut, turning the "kabin" with his toe and in step while he gouges out the wet mass of clay as it slowly turns and changes into graceful shapes under his strong fingers. Ticul yards are full of pleasant round shapes, drying in the sun, waiting for baking day, when they are burned in primitive ovens, such as were used before America was discovered.

American Girls Help Students in Europe

New London, Conn.—To enable two or three needy European students of merit to attend college in their own country, the student body of Connecticut College for Women has decided to establish a scholarship fund for that purpose.

The accumulation of the fund will be used every other year. The plan heretofore has been for student contributions to be disbursed from New York. The change is due to desire to have more personal contact with students abroad who are aided by the college.

1 of Every 79 Deaths in Chicago a Murder

Chicago.—The health department, which is interested in finding out why Chicago people die, has found out that murder sent 498 to the cemeteries last year.

The toll of homicide far outranks some of the common diseases and even surpasses influenza, statistics show. The killing rate is 16.1 per 100,000 population. This means that of every 79 persons who died in Chicago one was killed by violence.

Overhand Throw Best

The reasons that soldiers were drilled to throw their hand grenades in a stiff overhand manner were that more distance could be gained in that way, and the muscles of the upper arm receive less strain than they would have otherwise.

IMAGE IN EYE
SOLVES CRIME

Unusual Evidence Convicts
Polish Woman of Slay-ing Her Rival.

Warsaw.—One of the favorite moving picture plots of the vanished nickelodeon days. Itself borrowed from a fifty year old French romance, has been re-enacted here, a woman having just been convicted of murder on the evidence of her image photographed on the retina of her victim's eye. What makes the story even more remarkable is the evidence which local scientists are giving to evidence more likely to convince a jury than an eye specialist.

The murder occurred more than a year ago, on October 17, 1927, in the city of Minsk, Mazowiecki, when Adeline Jankowska, twenty-eight, was found dead with 27 knife wounds in her body. The kitchen knife with which the crime was committed was found nearby.

The only clew was a lock of blond hair clutched in the dead woman's hand, from which it was concluded that the killer was another woman. But all efforts to trace her failed until Mary Nowowiejska, thirty, gave herself up in Warsaw several months later.

Admits Killing.

Confessing to the crime, she said that conscience prevented her from keeping silent any longer, although she believed herself safe from detection. She killed the victim because of her husband's infatuation for her.

"My husband and I were happy until he met this woman," Mme. Nowowiejska told the police. "When I married my husband was earning very little money and I had to support him. Then I learned that he had a sweetheart and was giving her part of the money that I supplied him. After he knew that I had learned the truth he left me often, going to Minsk to stay with the other woman and supporting her from my earnings. Finally I learned that the other woman had a child. I visited Jankowska in Minsk and told her that I would bring my husband to see her and he must choose between us in the presence of both of us.

"When I told Steve, my husband, he was furious. He refused to accompany me. So I went to Minsk again alone to ask Jankowska to return to Warsaw with me to confront my husband. She refused. She said Steve would return to her in any case, insulted me, and ordered me out of her house. I don't know just what happened then. There was a struggle. I picked up the knife and struck time after time. Then I ran away."

The Warsaw District court condemned Mme. Nowowiejska to six years in prison, but, frightened at the prospect, she appealed, and offered the defense that her statements had been forced from her by third degree methods and that she did not know Jankowska. It was before the Appellate court that the evidence of the image in the victim's eye was presented.

Discover Image in Eye.

In accordance with standard practice a series of pictures of the murdered woman had been taken by the police immediately after the discovery of the body. In enlarging one of them the police believed that they saw an image of the figure of a woman holding a knife in her outstretched hand. The figure was so small that finding a resemblance was practically impossible. Other enlargements produced no better results. But the evidence was nevertheless produced and how ever deficient it might have appeared to others, it was sufficient to make Mme. Nowowiejska break down and confirm her first confession. The sentence of the lower court was confirmed.

But the most extraordinary part of the story is the belief accorded it by scientists. Prof. Casimir Nolszewski, Warsaw university oculist, told the press that pictures are "very often" fixed in the eyes of murdered persons and may be photographed. He pointed out that such a photograph could not be taken in full daylight when the eyes would be reflecting other images.

Professor Nolszewski based his statement on the theory that the retina of the eye undergoes actual discoloration when light strikes it, referring to the statement of Bell that the retina of many animals and human beings becomes purple in darkness. If a rabbit previously kept in the dark is turned toward a window, the parts of the retina on which the light from the window is reflected lose their purplish coloration.

From this Professor Nolszewski concluded that although images left on the eyes of dead persons would be very small, it might be possible to recognize them from photographs made of such eyes.

Fall Into Hot Water Causes Boy's Death

Chicago.—Max Rubin, ten years old, a school boy, died of scalds suffered when he slipped on a moist floor and fell into a bathtub of hot water in his home. The boy screamed as he fell and his mother, Mrs. Rebecca Rubin, rushed to his aid. Her hands were severely scalded before she could pull him from the water. Both were taken to Garfield Park hospital, where the boy died.

Some of them may not be physically perfect, but no Plymouth girl ever contracted fallen arches from standing too long in front of a dish pan.

SPECIAL MARKETS MAINTAIN
PRICE LEVELS ON THIS GRAIN.

The acreage of barley which is grown on Michigan farms is rapidly increasing and special markets maintain a good price level on the grain produced, according to a statement by members of the farm crops department at Michigan State College.

The popularity of barley has increased because a large quantity of excellent feed can be grown per acre, it will grow on many soil types, it is a good nurse crop for legume seedings, and new varieties are not so unpleasant to handle as some of the old varieties.

Yields of from 40 to 45 bushels are obtained by Michigan farmers and several crops exceeding 60 bushels per acre are reported each year. Barley weighs 48 pounds to the bushel, and a 40 bushel contains as many pounds of feed as a 60 bushel of oats.

Feeding experiments at Michigan State College prove that barley may be substituted pound for pound in the ration for dairy cows, and in localities where the production of corn is endangered by early frosts, barley can be used to replace it. While corn seemed to slightly excel corn in hog fattening experiments, barley ripens early enough so that it can be used to finish hogs for the early fall market.

Many Michigan growers seed 12 to 15 pounds of sweet clover with the barley, and then plow down the clover the next year. Records at the College indicate that barley should be sown as early as the ground can be properly fitted.

EAGLE TRAINED TO ACT AS RETRIEVER

Owner Demonstrates Bird's Rare Talents.

New York.—Capt. C. W. R. Knight of England recently demonstrated his trained golden eagle before an audience of about 20 bird enthusiasts on the estate of George Palmer Putnam on Long Island sound. Mr. Putnam explained that the flight was merely to give the bird exercise and that the bird enthusiasts, some of whom were members of the Explorers' club, had been given permission to view the eagle.

The eagle weighs about 16 pounds and has been trained to retrieve game and other objects thrown by Captain Knight. The eagle, which is being kept at the Bronx zoo, was brought to the Putnam estate in a closed car by Captain Knight and was kept blindfolded until ready for the "exercises." Captain Knight explained that he was better able to keep the bird under control when it was blindfolded.

As soon as the blind was removed from the bird's eyes the eagle perched on Captain Knight's shoulder. Captain Knight threw pieces of meat and dead rabbits as far as he could, and these were brought back to him by the eagle.

Among those who witnessed the flight was Capt. Bob Bartlett of the Morrissey, who took the Putnam expedition to the Arctic.

Grain Links History of Egypt, Abyssinia

Leninograd, U. S. S. R.—The hints of Herodotus that the ancient Egyptians and the Abyssinians were somehow connected has been corroborated by botany.

According to investigations of the well-known Russian botanist, K. A. Flaxenburg, a striking likeness is now established between the old Egyptian emmer found in the sarcophagus of the priests of the twelfth dynasty and the Abyssinian samples collected by the Vavilov expedition in 1927. These Egyptian specimens differ strongly from other forms of emmer and especially from the Persian form in which some scientists found grain.

From Abyssinia the emmer is believed to have spread to Arabia, India and Egypt. In Persia forms arose which are allied to the Abyssinian ones. In Serbia other forms differentiated which approach the Abyssinian types. The Russian emmer originated from these Serbian forms.

Women Cured of Leprosy Stay on With Lepers

Carrville, La.—Because there is no one outside who cares for them two women pronounced cured of leprosy have chosen to spend the remainder of their lives in the United States leprosarium here.

One woman has spent 25 of her 70 years here and the other 14 of her 28. Both told authorities their relatives were unwilling for them to return home. "So, if you don't mind, we'll just stay here," they told Dr. O. E. Denney, chief physician in charge of the colony.

They are the first in the history of the leper colony ever to remain after they had been pronounced cured. Cure of the dread disease is rare. In the history of the colony only 40 persons have been pronounced cured, Doctor Denney said.

It's much better to be able to blame an auto accident on a poor eye than on a poor rye.

Why is it nobody ever seems to make a hobby out of minding their own business?
