LOCAL KIWANIS INSPECT DETROIT EDISON PLANT

Forty Plymouth Kiwanians drove to Trenton last Tuesday noon where they were guests of the Detroit Edison Company at lunch and an inspection of the Elizabeth Park power plant at that place. After a generous lunch the manager of the plant told his guests of the functions of his gigantic workshop where coal and water were turned into electric current for the use of Southeastern Michigan and cited some pertinent figures in giving statistical information on the operation of the plant. Six complete units are available for the production of electricity at this plant, although three or four are sufficient to meet the demand at one time. The plant uses fifty thousand tons of coal per month and converts about seven hundred twenty thousand gallons of water per minute into steam. The boilers are seven stories high and nearly a city block square. Into these, finely pulverized coal is pumped under high pressure which creates a veritable inferno of heat capable of producing 200 thousand kilowatts of current in the huge generator above. The plant represents an investment of thirty million dollars.

This most interesting trip was arranged by Norman Denne, local manager of the Edison Company and the days' events were highly enlightening as well as entertaining.

Ex-Servicemen's Club Held Monthly Meet

The regular monthly meeting of the Ex-Servicemen's Club was held Monday evening, April 8th, in the Jewell & Hatch Hall. After the usual delicious supper, to which about twenty-five couples did justice, both the men and the ladies' auxiliary held their business meetings.

Then the announcement was made that all should remain for the entertainment to be given by the ladies as a surprise was in store for the men.

When all were seated in the dance hall, the doors opened, and to the tune of "Dixie" twelve "black mamies" marched in playing a kitchen band. They gave an excellent minstrel show, and any ex-serviceman who missed it, certainly missed a treat.

The men's entertainment committee will have to step lively to beat it. Much credit is due Mrs. Karl Hillmer, whose able assistance enabled the ladies to put on the show.

Attend Beauty Trade Show

The sixth annual Chicago and Mid-West Beauty Trade Show held in Chicago, last week, proved to be one of the largest ever held, there being over 10,000 people there from Canada, Texas, New York, California and every state in the middle west. Mrs. Claudia Housley was the only one from Plymouth who went to the convention, and she reports it to have been one of the largest affairs she ever attended.

The very latest in equipment and supplies for the modern beauty shop was displayed. The 1929 show was a complete success.

A Pretty Wedding.

Miss Hah I. Eckles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Eckles, and Benjamin J. Holcomb were united in marriage by Rev. F. A. Lendrum at the Methodist parsonage, Friday, April 5, at 7:30 p. m. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Lester Lindquist.

Following the ceremony, a luncheon was served at the home of the bride's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bordline, the house being prettily decorated in pink and white. The bride is a graduate of the Plymouth High School in the class of '28, and has been employed as stenographer in the school. Mrs. Holcomb has obtained a position in the office of the cashier of the University of Chicago.

The bridegroom was a teacher in the local school until the past year, when he entered the University of Chicago. Mr. Holcomb is now Director of Religious Education in the Salem Evangelical Church. Mr. and Mrs. Holcomb will reside at 6023 Kenwood Ave., Chicago, Ill., and their many friends wish them prosperity and happiness.

Death of Mrs. Mary E. Loud

Mary Elizabeth Rogers was born June 14, 1836, in Plymouth township, the oldest daughter of Christian and Maria Rogers, and departed from this life after a very brief illness at her home in Waterford, having attained the age of 92 years, 9 months and 18 days. She received her education in Waterford and Northville schools, later teaching in Livonia.

At the age of sixteen years, she married W. B. G. Ames. To this union one son was born, Waldo B. Ames of Grass Lake, Mich. In a short time she was left a widow, her husband having passed away two years after.

On the 27th day of September, 1857, she was united in marriage to James Myron Loud. To this union two daughters were born, Jennie and Carrie, who preceded her to the higher life many years ago. After twenty-three years of happy married life, Mr. Loud passed away July 22, 1880, and since that time she has lived alone.

She leaves to mourn their loss, one son, Waldo B. Ames of Grass Lake; two grandsons, Earl and Glenn King of this place; two granddaughters, Mrs. C. C. Hammond of Seattle, Wash., and Mrs. Lloyd Brown, and three great grandchildren of Grass Lake; one niece, Mrs. Ida Hughes; two great nieces, Mrs. Charles Waterman and Mrs. Frank Magraw; two great, great nieces, Mrs. Camilla Jayska and Kathryn Waterman, one great, great nephew, Donald Waterman; four great, great, great nieces and nephews and a host of other relatives and friends.

Mrs. Loud spent practically all her life in Waterford, with the exception of one year in Northville. She was a devoted mother and grandmother, never losing interest in her home and family. It was her interest in her dear friends that kept her young. She was never too busy to sit down and visit with them. She had a wonderful memory, and it was very interesting to listen to her tell things that happened many, many years ago. If anyone was in doubt as to a date or record of any kind, it was Mrs. Loud they came to. One could not help but admire her independence and ambition. She was always capable of taking care of herself at all times, and in all places wherever she chanced to be.

She attributed her long life and good health to walking and plain foods. It was nothing for her to walk to Northville or Plymouth and back, when she was past 85 years, and carry home a basket of groceries. Her last years she spent cutting on her neighbors and friends as she did so enjoy her visits with them. She always wore a smile and could always see some good in everybody. One would only have to know her to love her. To the last her memory and mental faculties were remarkably clear and keen.

The funeral services were held from her late home, Wednesday, April 3, at 2:00 o'clock, Dr. F. A. Lendrum officiating. Interment in Waterford cemetery.

Mandell-Burger

Joseph Mandell and Miss Golda Burger of this place, were married at Bowling Green, Ohio, Tuesday, March 26, by Rev. Paul Gilbert of the Presbyterian church. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ray of this place. The young couple have the best wishes of their many friends for a happy and prosperous wedded life. They are making their home for the present with the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Szymanski.

ROTARY CLUB ENJOYS A TREAT AT ITS FRIDAY MEETING.

Rotarian Dick Lawrence, of Detroit, manager of the Shubert-Lafayette and Cass theatres, in company with Ray Nelson, a singer from the opera, "Hello Yourself," and Paul Osterley furnished the program. Mr. Lawrence gave an interesting and instructive talk relative to theatre management. Mr. Nelson rendered two pianologues and vocal selections which were especially enjoyed. Mr. Nelson certainly is an A-1 entertainer.

INSTALLATION CEREMONIES

The O. E. S. will install their new officers Tuesday evening, April 16, at 8 o'clock in the Masonic Temple. Each member is invited to bring a guest. Refreshments will be served after the work.

FORMER RESIDENT DIES SUDDENLY

DR. JOSEPH H. BENNETT, SUPERINTENDENT OF ELOISE HOSPITAL PASSED AWAY LAST SATURDAY.

DR. BENNETT WAS WELL KNOWN IN PLYMOUTH AND FORMERLY PRACTISED MEDICINE HERE.

Plymouth citizens were much grieved to learn of the death of Dr. Joseph E. Bennett, a former Plymouth physician, and superintendent of Eloise hospital, which occurred at his home at Eloise at an early hour last Saturday morning from heart disease. He was 63 years of age.

Eloise had been the home of Dr. Bennett for the greater part of a half century and the interests of the institution had been his interests during that period.

He went there as a boy when his father, the late Dr. E. O. Bennett, became the hospital's first medical superintendent in 1881 and began the period of administration that has brought the Wayne County institution to the place it now occupies as one of the finest and largest in the country.

The elder Dr. Bennett resigned his post at Eloise in 1900 after 19 years of service. That same year Dr. Joseph E. Bennett was graduated from the University of Michigan. His father was succeeded as superintendent by Dr. John J. Marker, who had been the younger Dr. Bennett's roommate at Ann Arbor.

Dr. Joseph Bennett began a private practice in Wayne on his graduation, but maintained his interest in the affairs of Eloise. Thirteen years later he gave up his private practice and went back to Eloise as a member of the staff. He later became superintendent of the infirmary and the tuberculosis division.

Dr. Marker was killed in an automobile accident in September and two weeks later Dr. Joseph Bennett was named superintendent.

Friday evening was the occasion of a family gathering. Dr. Bennett's son, Dr. Harold S. Bennett, a dentist of Dearborn, and wife visited Eloise. Apparently Dr. Joseph Bennett was in the best of health.

Shortly after 2 a. m. Saturday, he awakened his wife, Mrs. May Bennett, and told her he was sick. She summoned Dr. W. H. Squires, a member of the staff. Dr. Bennett suffered a heart attack and while being assisted down the hall by his wife and Dr. Squires, suffered a second attack. He died on a day-bed in the hall.

Dr. Bennett leaves, besides his wife and son, a sister, Mrs. George P. Meyers, of Detroit. Funeral services were held at the residence at Eloise at 2 p. m. Tuesday. Burial was at Wayne.

Dr. Bennett was born in Nankin township, Wayne County. He was graduated from high school in Detroit and attended the State Normal College at Ypsilanti before enrolling at the University of Michigan.

He was a member of the Wayne County Medical Society, the American Medical Society, the Michigan Superintendents' association, the Birch Hill Country Club and the Masonic lodge. He also was a director and vice president of the Peoples State Bank of Wayne, Michigan.

To Hold Supper.

Next Wednesday, April 17th, will bring another of those St. John's Men's Club suppers at the little church at Harvey and Maple. The Women's Guild will serve supper at 6:30, and those who have attended these affairs before know that the meal will be a treat. After the supper will be a garden program. Miss E. Genevieve Gillette, whose connection with all the Detroit garden clubs and with the annual flower shows needs no advertising, is providing this program.

Miss Gillette is chairman of the garden club work of the North American Flower Shows and is vice-president of the National Rose Society. She will bring with her, Mrs. Mary H. Grosvenor, who will be the main speaker. Mrs. Grosvenor is in charge of the garden work among children in the Detroit schools, under the recreation department of the city of Detroit, and is chairman of the Home and School Garden Committee of the Twentieth Century Club. She will tell of her work, and will have with her an exhibit of things the children have made in school, such as seed testers, bird feeders and bird houses, etc.

Come and bring the family. This promises to be a very profitable and entertaining evening.

Canton Home Furnishing Class Will Meet Tuesday

The Canton Center Home Furnishing class will meet with Mrs. Albert Griffin, Tuesday, April 16th. Bring magazine illustrations showing room where figured and plain upholstery is necessary, also contrasting bands or piping slip covers. Bring your samples of plaques and seams for slip covers.

"Cupid-up-to-Date" A Big Success

"Cupid-up-to-date" was given Tuesday and Wednesday evenings in the high school auditorium under the auspices of the Women's Guild of the St. John's church. It was directed by Miss Miriam Weaver and the accompanist was Miss Elizabeth Strong. The high school orchestra, directed by Miss Gladys Schrader, rendered several selections between acts.

The play took place at the present and was a dream of what might take place a hundred years from today.

The cast did their part to entertain the audience and the chorus dances were enjoyed by all. There are two of the choruses that really should be mentioned, those are the Charleston Babies and the Bed Time Kiddies. Because of their youth and ability to demonstrate various dance steps they were one of the main attractions of the evening's entertainment.

A Pleasant Occasion.

The Plymouth township board met at the home of Miss Linn Durfee, the retiring township clerk, as usual on Tuesday evening, and after regular business was finished, Miss Durfee was pleasantly surprised by the arrival of several township officers and their families.

The occasion was in recognition of the many years of careful and faithful service by Miss Durfee as township clerk. She has been singled out on many occasions for praise and congratulation on account of the particular excellence and fertility of her records, by officials and others having occasion to refer to them, and the township officials all testify to the pleasure and satisfaction they always experienced in working with her.

The following guests were present: Supervisor, Chas. H. Rathburn, Jr.; Mrs. Rathburn and daughter; Treasurer, John Quartel and Mrs. Quartel; Justice T. F. Chilson and Mrs. Chilson; Justice Oliver H. Loomis and Mrs. Loomis; Justice, John L. Crandell. Miss Durfee received many expressions of appreciation and good will for her long tenure in the office which she filled so capably and honorably.

DEATH OF FORMER RESIDENT.

Mrs. Robert Kernahan, formerly Miss Gertrude Panches of this place, died at her home in Detroit, Saturday, April 6th. She was a sister of Bert Panches of this place. Funeral services were held from her late home, 2533 Glynn Court, Tuesday at 2:30 p. m.

DE-HO-CO BASEBALL SEASON OPENS MAY 5

The opening ball game at the House of Correction farm will take place, Sunday, May 5, De-Ho-Co vs. Buick Majors will be the attraction. A band concert will be given at 2:00 p. m.

OPENING BASEBALL GAME HERE TODAY

Interest in baseball will be at a high pitch Friday, April 12 at 4 p. m. when Eastern High, of Detroit, meets the Plymouth boys on the local diamond.

We know Eastern has a good baseball team and that we will have a hard game from beginning to end.

"Rip" Collins, who is beginning his fourth and last year of high school baseball, will probably start the game. The catcher, infield and outfield was not certain.

Twelve new uniforms have been purchased and the game today will initiate them.

We hope the people will take an interest in our baseball team and turn out one hundred per cent.

Salvation Army Chief Gives Interesting Talk

PLYMOUTH PEOPLE HEAR INTERESTING TALK OF THE SALVATION ARMY FOUNDER.

Col. Martin of Chicago, gave a most interesting talk about the Army's founder, Wm. Booth, last Tuesday evening, in the Baptist church. He briefly touched on the most interesting episodes of the late general's life. How though at first misunderstood and often stoned, imprisoned and ill-treated in all ways by the people, he pressed on with his God-given work, till at his death he was loved and respected by all.

The colonel also told how the body of the founder laid in state three days while crowds viewed the remains from early morning till late at night.

There was also the presentation of the colors to the local corps, American and Salvation Army flags, from Highland Park corps, Capt. Watkins in charge of Highland Park, said how it was a double pleasure in that Capt. Wright was at one time a member of that corps. Col. Martin, in making the presentation, told briefly what the different flags meant to all; how the army flag was international, and the colors stood for the blood of Christ, blue for purity of heart, and yellow for the holy spirit.

Ann Arbor and Highland Park bands furnished the music which was enjoyed by all, and at the close the people all wished for a second visit of the colonel in our midst.

Frederick Schroder Dies Suddenly

Frederick J. Schroder died at his home on Starkweather avenue, last Tuesday, aged 78 years. The funeral took place yesterday afternoon from Schroder Bros. Funeral Home. A more extended obituary will appear next week.

NIGHT FIREMAN NOW ON REGULAR DUTY

Mayor Lodge Opens Tuberculosis Drive

Mayor John C. Lodge officially opened the local drive for the early diagnosis of tuberculosis which is being conducted by the Tuberculosis and Health Society of Detroit and Wayne County and the Wayne County Medical Society when he issued the following proclamation:

"Louis Pasteur said it is in the power of man to cause all parasitic disease to disappear from the world. While we have the knowledge required to extirpate tuberculosis, we have failed to do so because of a lack of application of the knowledge we possess. The scientists know how to kill off disease that in itself kills off hundreds of thousands of humans, but he cannot sit in his laboratory and force people to apply that knowledge. The public—every man, woman and child in the community, must cooperate to doom tuberculosis. Each one must honestly ask himself whether he has the early danger signs of the disease which frequently are:

Too easily tired.
Loss of weight.
Indigestion.
A cough that hangs on.

I call upon all the people of Detroit and Wayne County to get behind this campaign. There is little to fear from tuberculosis when it is discovered in time. And discovering it in time means before you have the visible symptoms that make your friends tell you how bad you look. Go to your doctor immediately if you have the danger signs described above for a thorough physical examination. And if the evidence of tuberculosis is found, follow the doctor's advice of rest, fresh air, nourishing food, and sunshine.

If everyone in this city will cooperate by applying this knowledge to his own case, we will be well on our way to a lasting and final victory over tuberculosis.

I heartily endorse the campaign for early diagnosis being waged during the month of April by the Wayne County Medical Society and the Tuberculosis and Health Society of Detroit and Wayne County. Human beings are the most important things in the world."

There will be an illustrated lecture by Dr. Braehman at the high school, Tuesday, April 16th at 12:45 p. m. Visitors are urged to come. There will be also a lecture Wednesday, April 17th at 7:30 before the Starkweather Parent-Teacher's association; and a short talk Monday, April 15th at 7:30 before the Central Parent-Teacher's association.

League of Women Voters Met Monday

The League of Women Voters held a board meeting at the home of the vice-president, Mrs. Phoebe Patterson, Monday evening. Plans were completed for the dinner to be given at the Hotel Mayflower next Monday evening.

Miss Grace Brown and Miss Alexa McPherson will present their play, "Behind the Scenes in Recorder's Court," following the dinner. This play has been given in most of the district leagues during the past two months, and has won the most hearty response from the audience. This play brings a good deal of information to those who have had little experience in court procedure. Special music has been arranged to add to the evening's enjoyment.

As a step in the direction of improving fire protection service in the village, provision has been made to keep a fireman upon regular night duty at the fire hall from now on. This service was inaugurated last Sunday night.

The maintaining of a fireman upon regular night duty required the fitting out and furnishing of sleeping quarters above the fire hall. A gong alarm connected with the fire siren circuit insures the wakening of the man on duty when an alarm is turned in. Access to the fire hall from the sleeping room is provided by means of a ladder down through the hose drying tower. The fireman upon duty must be one of our regular drivers whose duty it will be to have the truck ready to get under way immediately upon arrival of the volunteer crew. The drivers will take alternate weekly turns remaining upon night duty.

The installation of this service is certain to speed up the response to night fire calls, for it will insure the presence of a truck driver upon the truck within a minute to two after the alarm is sounded. It is readily seen that the few minutes thus saved will give the fire crew a real advantage whenever the call may come to fight a serious fire.

Death Calls Mrs. M. G. Hill

Mrs. Matilda May Hill, wife of M. G. Hill, a former postmaster of Plymouth, died at her home on Harvey street, South, on Saturday, April 6th. She had been failing for many months during which everything which love could suggest and science and skill could perform was done to help her in her brave struggle to regain her health.

Mrs. Hill was born at Warsaw, Ind., November 18th, 1873. She was the daughter of James Vories Van Gilder and Elizabeth Saure Van Gilder and was one of a family of twelve brothers and sisters, ten of whom are now living.

Some years ago Mrs. Hill with her husband came to live in Plymouth, Michigan. With them was a nephew, Russell Van Gilder, who for many years shared their home as a son. Mrs. Hill entered actively into the life of this community proving herself a helpful member of the First Presbyterian church, of the Women's club of Plymouth and other organizations. But on Saturday death, the strong reaper, overtook her at the age of 55 years, 4 months and 22 days. To the bereaved husband and family the sympathy of the entire community is extended.

A largely attended funeral service was held at Schroder Brothers Funeral Home, Plymouth, on Sunday evening at 8:30 p. m. o'clock. After the service conducted by Rev. Walter Nichol, of the First Presbyterian church, the Order of the Eastern Star took charge, impressively performing the funeral rites of that order. The many floral tributes bore testimony to the esteem of citizens and friends.

The body was conveyed to Plymouth, Indiana, where on Tuesday, April 9th at 2 p. m. a service was conducted by Rev. S. Conner Hathaway, of Ypsilanti, a former pastor and intimate friend of the family. Interment took place at Plymouth, Indiana.

Rotary Club Elects New Directors

Last Friday at the regular luncheon hour of the Rotary Club, the following board of directors was elected for the ensuing year: Allan Horton, Walter Nichol, Otto Beyer, Paul Wiedman, Carl Shear, Edward Gayde, Arthur Blunk. The new board of directors will meet in the near future and officers will be elected.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MRS. F. W. SAMSEN.

Funeral services for Mrs. F. W. Samsen who passed away at her home on Church street, Thursday, April 4th, were held from her late home last Saturday afternoon at 2:30, Rev. Walter Nichol officiating. As a mark of respect, the business places in the village were closed during the funeral hour. The interment was made in Riverside cemetery.

THE CHUCKLER

Did it ever occur to you that the Plymouth man who chuckles is a fellow that everybody likes? There is a wonderful lot of meaning in a chuckle. In the first place a mean man, a gully man, or a man of low principle cannot chuckle. He may sneer, but he never chuckles. And again, a man who is afraid, who is weak or lacks assurance, does not and cannot chuckle. He may have a little apologetic laugh, but that is all. The man who chuckles is the man at ease with his conscience and his neighbors; a lover of humanity and in accord with it. He is unselfish, he is not a hypocrite, he is friendly and sociable and without guile—he likes us and we like him. When we hear a man chuckle we know he is a man we can both love and trust. Such men are the salt of life.

WE MISSED THIS

No matter how much any section of America may have suffered from cold during the past winter, we fared far better, according to newspaper reports, than our friends across the sea. It is estimated that 10,000 people perished from cold in Europe during January and February and some strange tales are told of conditions. Wolves and wild bears came out of the woods and raided barnyards; gypsies would camp at night and be nothing but a bunch of frozen corpses in the morning. Trains stuck in snowbanks, ships froze in the solid ice, while fuel, water, gas and electricity failed. Graves had to be dug with dynamite. Only for airplanes, used in carrying food to towns that could not be reached in any other way, the death toll would have been far greater. Some of us in Plymouth may feel our lot is a hard one when King winter grips the community. But we are lucky, on the other hand, and ought to be thankful we do not live in Europe where winters are far colder than anything this continent ever experienced.

IT ALWAYS PAYS

There's no excuse for anyone with a plot of ground large enough for growing vegetables not having a garden. It is healthful and wholesome to get outdoor recreation, and gardening furnishes it. But it is far more satisfying to have vegetables on the table without having to go into your pocket for the price of them. Then, too, there is a lot of pleasure to be had in watching the things you plant with your own hand mature into something both pleasing to the eye and the stomach. We know it is pretty hard to keep from "burning out" under a hot sun, and we know it takes a lot of fighting to lick the weeds. But there's always more fun in doing something hard than in doing something easy, and that is still another reason why gardening pays such valuable rewards.

THAT EXTRA SESSION.

Everybody is interested in the special session of congress soon to get under way, for it is generally believed that it will develop some method whereby the farmers of this country will get relief they seek. It's a good idea to remember, however, that the farmer still has one law to contend with that cannot be wiped out, changed or set aside. That is the law of supply and demand. So long as there is a surplus produced and not consumed before the next crop is marketed, the price will show it sooner or later. Better markets, more scientific selling methods and more certain economies can, however, help conditions. It is within the power of congress to study and devise some method of bringing these things about, and therein lies the hope of the country in the work of the forthcoming special session.

We would warn our friends around Plymouth that they must not expect miracles. Congress can, if it will, enact helpful legislation. But if there is an over-production, or if there is a decreased demand for farm products, then all human power cannot legislate higher prices, nor bring them about. Some of these days, and we are fast approaching the time, farm relief will come in a large way through the use of by-products of the farm that are now only so much waste. As we learn to utilize that which we now waste we will bring about better economic conditions. So while congress is striving to find a better method of marketing it is up to the farmers to seek a better way of cashing in on his by-products, many of which he now allows to go to waste.

MORE ROOM NEEDED

It becomes more and more apparent every year that with America buying 4,000,000 new autos annually more room for traffic must be provided. More and wider and safer highways will have to be built in the rural districts. There is no reason to believe the number of autos will ever be decreased unless the country falls under harder times than any of us want to see.

It is officially estimated that there are at present 23,000,000 autos of all types in operation in this country. We can believe it when we see how rapidly they have increased around Plymouth alone. The present good roads mileage entered in the route all the machines were operated simultaneously on all the good roads this would give about 44 yards as the open-road allowance for each machine. Imagine what a mess there would be if there was a machine travelling over every 44 yards of highway in the country. But of course all cars and trucks are operated at the same time and on the same roads. Nevertheless, there is not any too much room as it is, and conditions are getting worse every year.

A lack of roads held back the advancement of the autos for years. Those days are gone forever. So no matter what it costs, if we add 4,000,000 more autos annually to what we've already got we're bound to have more roads and wider roads on which to operate them. And this community, in order to keep up with the profession, is going to have to do its share.

You've had him long enough -NOW I WANT HIM!

THE girl suddenly faced her hostess. "I can't stand it any longer," she cried—"all this sneaking and lying and deception. Dan and I love each other. He's been your husband long enough. Now I want him!"

The older woman, deathly pale, turned to her husband.

"She's right," he said. "There's no use trying to hide it any longer. You are my wife, Jean, and I love you as a companion. But I love Marie—the other way."

So this was her reward for sacrificing the best years of her life to her home and family. First her son, then her daughter—were swept headlong to disaster by the modern tide of jazz. And now her husband yields to the

Woman Is Auctioneer; Husband Is Her Clerk

Bournemouth, England.—When Mrs. Ernest Comer of Christchurch road, Bournemouth, mounts the rostrum of one of the leading auction rooms in this town and begins wielding the hammer, dealers sit up and take notice.

For although Mrs. Comer is a pioneer of her sex in the strenuous profession of auctioneering, she is acknowledged by male competitors to be one of the cleverest in England. With true womanly intuition she is keen to drive a bargain, and this ability, together with the feminine "gift of gab," has contributed greatly to her success.

Mrs. Comer took up auctioneering about ten years ago, when, owing to her husband's illness, she was compelled to become the family bread winner. Mr. Comer now acts as her clerk.

Furniture is Mrs. Comer's specialty, and her husband is an expert on pictures.

"But I have sold motor cars and many other articles by auction with success," she added.

Every Thirty-Second Dane Owns an Auto

Copenhagen, Denmark.—Denmark may lag behind California and Kansas in the number of automobiles owned per family, but 80 per cent of all cars sold in this little country in 1928 were of American manufacture. Sales of automobiles increased 17.6 per cent during the year, and now every thirty-second Dane owns a car, instead of every thirty-seventh, as in 1927. There are 107,971 motor vehicles in the country.

The medium-sized car is gaining favor.

TRAIL OF JOAN OF ARC TO BE MARKED

Stone Tablets to Follow Route of Maid.

Vaucouleurs, France.—The trail of Joan of Arc, Maid of Orleans, is to be marked permanently as France's tribute to her on the five-hundredth anniversary celebration of her exploits.

Her progress from the little town of Domremy to the court of the dauphin at Chinon; to Orleans, where she raised the 100-day siege; on to Reims, where she crowned the dauphin, King Charles VII.; to St. Denis, close to Paris, and eventually to the stake at Rouen in the north, is to be described serially in stone tablets set up at points of greatest importance in connection with her story. It will take 18 months to put them in place.

Three Thousand Weary Miles.

In all the trail will cover more than 3,000 weary miles which the girl soldier, clad in armor and riding a white horse, traveled in less than fourteen months of terrific campaigning. She always pushed forward faster than her seasoned warrior counselors advised, never resting or sparing herself.

This little town, a few miles from peaceful Domremy, where Joan, daughter of a tanned peasant family, heard the voices which started her on her military career, was the starting point of her journey. The story begins at dawn February 23, 1429, when Joan, disguised as a young merchant and accompanied by six faithful local followers, set out for Chinon and the court of the dauphin, to tell the story of her voices and offer her sword to France.

She rode a white horse, given her by an uncle, and she left her mother and father in angry tears, berating her for her willfulness.

A Big, Healthy Girl.

She was a big, healthy girl of eighteen years of age, strong from working in the fields, tending her father's flock and doing the housework of a medieval peasant cottage. Eighteen months later she met her death, almost too feeble to stand up. War, hardships and imprisonment made a white-faced, hollow-eyed shadow of the peasant girl.

Joan raised the siege of Orleans April 29, 1429. She crowned the dauphin king of France in the Reims cathedral July 16 of the same year. She was taken prisoner at Compiègne May 24, 1430, and met her death at Rouen May 30, 1431. Dates of dedication of memorial tablets will coincide with the five-hundredth anniversary of these dates.

Time's Changes

Before long the familiar names for the parts of a horse's harness will be as little understood as the greaves, hawberks and kneecaps of medieval armor.—Boston Herald.

BRITISH EXCHANGE HAS LONG HISTORY

Brokers Are Mentioned as Far Back as 1483.

London.—The growing public demand that the London Stock Exchange be opened on Saturday in conformity with the New York Stock Exchange, a question which has been hotly fought out in the house of commons, has brought the institution into the limelight.

The discussion illustrates the great changes which the stock exchange has undergone as the result of the war. Saturday closing is a postwar practice, but it is one of the few viewed with disfavor by advocates of better business. The majority have been very improvements on the methods previously permitted.

There now are more facilities and greater protection for the investor than formerly, and there is a higher efficiency of service. Before the war it was possible for anyone to introduce shares on the stock exchange.

Rule on New Issues.

The committee for general purposes, composed of thirty members elected annually, has now so tightened the rules that no issue may be introduced without its permission. This is given only following the publication of responsible statements giving information about the firms controlling the particular issue. The committee's procedure has greatly increased the respect in which the stock exchange is now held as a public institution with grave responsibilities toward the community. It is this committee that will finally rescind Saturday closing if it becomes evident that public opinion demands it.

The stock exchange has its roots as deep down in history as the reign of Edward III, 1483-1485, when brokers and brokerage are referred to by contemporary writers, but, practically speaking, an exchange of stocks as a business enterprise began only toward the end of the Seventeenth century.

London stock brokers first conducted their business in and around the royal exchange, then in the coffee houses of Change alley and in the rounda of the Bank of England. In the year 1773 they formed themselves into an association called the Stock Exchange, Ltd., with headquarters at the corner of Sweeting alley and Threadneedle street.

Built in 1861.

The present stock exchange at Capel court, Bartholomew lane, came into existence in 1861, when a capital of $100,000 was raised and the new building was commenced. The structure was entirely rebuilt some years later and considerable extensions have since been made.

Stock brokerage and jobbing did not always command the respect that is now accorded them. Manipulation of the market brought down the censure of parliament in 1897, which declared in an act that brokers and stock jobbers were habitually combining unlawfully to raise or lower the value of securities for their own private advantage. Dealers in stocks were in those days looked down upon as odious, and many were executed for fraud.

Membership in the London stock exchange is on a very different basis from that in the New York Stock Exchange. A member is elected for twelve months only and must be re-elected annually if he wishes to retain his membership. The year ends March 25. The candidate must be recommended by three members, who become surety for him during the first four years from the date of his admission in the sum of $2,500 each.

Every member must purchase at least one share in the stock exchange (limited), but may not own more than 200 shares. The company is under the control of nine trustees and managers, appointed by the shareholders.

Horse Thought Lame Wins Big Fortune

Berlin.—A shot that was not fired brought a fortune to Baron von Oppenheim, one of the leading sportsmen of Germany.

The baron, who owns a great racing stable, had among his lot a horse called "Oleander," which in 1926, had won a few races. One day it fell and could not get up again. Veterinary surgeons and other experts tried in vain to cure the horse. Finally they declared it had broken its pelvis and that nothing could be done but shoot the animal.

The trainer refused to kill the horse. For days and weeks he delayed the execution till finally Oleander got on its feet again. It raced during the 1927 season, won numerous races and brought his owner winnings totaling 105,000 marks ($25,000).

Came the season of 1928. Oleander came from victory to victory, won even the Austrian Grand Prix and gained the greatest sum ever won by a German horse in one year, 254,000 marks (roughly, $60,000).

Baron Oppenheim is said to have become somewhat skeptical of the knowledge of "experts."

DARING ATTEMPT TO FLEE PRISON FOILED

British Warden Thwarts Sensational Jailbreak.

Cowes, Isle of Wight.—A prison warden's decision to mail a letter at seven o'clock in the evening probably frustrated one of the most daring and most carefully planned attempts ever made to get out of Parkhurst prison, here.

Two men, George Taylor and one Jackson, were concerned in the attempt, which, but for the warden's quick action, would almost certainly have been successful.

Taylor was described in a sensational case at the Old Bailey, London, in May, 1927, as "a professional black-maller, an associate of thieves, and a drug addict." He was sentenced to penal servitude for life for his part in what the judge described as "the worst case of blackmail I have ever known." He comes of a good family, is well educated, and speaks several languages.

Breaks Strait Jackets. Jackson was a housebreaker, a man continually in trouble within the prison, having tried to escape before. As a result of this attempt and the fact that he had even broken strait jackets and caused destruction in padded cells, he was under special restrictions and was watched more than any other man in the prison.

One of his regulations was that his clothes had to be placed outside his cell at 7 p. m. each night, and another that he was visited by a special watch during the night.

At seven o'clock on the night of their attempt, all the cells were opened and inspected and the roll taken as usual. Jackson's clothes were put outside his cell and all the cells doubly locked.

The locks cannot be tampered with from inside because they are covered on the inner side by a sheet of steel. During the next 20 minutes, however, Jackson was outside his cell.

It was afterwards found that he had made a hole through the steel with smuggled tools, and had then released the levers, relocking his cell with a specially made key, one of several which, by some astute means, had been smuggled in.

Another key, however, had been made in readiness, and in a second they were through, locking the door behind them, with nothing barring their way to the inner yard.

About a hundred yards had to be crossed in the darkness to the last formidable obstacle to freedom—a wall some 20 feet high and 20 yards from the gate. A rope was waiting—dangling on the other side of the wall—but attached to it, on the inner side, was a piece of string, scarcely to be seen in daylight.

Seen by Officer.

On the other side of this wall was another yard bounded by a lower wall. A shed against this outer wall would have enabled the men to escape. Then they would have had a fast car, a change of clothes, and freedom. Dummies in the beds—no alarm within the prison for 12 hours.

At 7:20 p. m. an officer crossed the inner yard to post a letter. He was passing through the gates when he saw shadow thrown from a high up on the wall. He noted it once. The gate man tolled the bell, and within a few seconds 30 warders and other officials from the canteen outside the gates were dashing into the inner yard.

Taylor was within easy reach of the top of the wall, but he dropped back and the two fled into the shadows of the inner yard. They ran behind the officers' mess and were lost. But a few minutes later there was a shout from inside. Taylor and Jackson had re-entered the way they had escaped. Jackson actually got back into his cell but Taylor was caught on the landing.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear wife and mother, Mrs. Wm. J. Beyer, who passed away ten years ago, April 11, 1919:

Our "wife and mother" dear is gone from here. We always loved her so and miss her every day. For everyone she always did her best we know. And then she had to go so suddenly. We still miss her voice and loving care. Our thoughts of her are as dear and sweet as ever.

Her smiles no more will we see. Till together at yonder Golden Gate we will be. As long as our life and memory lasts. Remembered always she will be.

—Loving Husband and Daughter.

Montana Revives Title, "The Treasure State"

Butte, Mont.—Lacking only the glamour of gold rush days, Montana's mines, with copper again selling at prewar level, again are justifying its claim to be "The Treasure State." For the first time since the postwar depression Montana copper properties are operating close to capacity, miners are in demand and wages at or near the peak.

Miners of the Anaconda Copper Mining company and other concerns at Butte, with correlated industries scattered over the state, have been rapidly restored to production during recent months. Eleven thousand miners in Butte, 3,000 smelters at Anaconda and 1,500 more at Great Falls now are at work under wage scales increased twice within the last five months.

Poisonous Lizards. The Gila monster and a similar Mexican species are the only poisonous lizards known.

Samuel Bills and Mrs. Emma Bills of Wayne, spent Tuesday with Mrs. Belle Bachr.

The people of this community were greatly shocked at the news of Dr.

Bennett's death at Eloise. His family has the sympathy of the entire community.

A number from this vicinity attended the men's club meeting at Newburg, and report an evening well spent in games and music.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Kubie of Wayne, April 3, an eleven pound girl. Mother and babe are doing fine.

Boy's Letter on Graf Zeppelin Is Worth $15

Monrovia, Calif.—A little ingenuity in using the mails netted Joe Elliott, high school student, more than 1,400 per cent on an investment in postage stamps.

Joe wrote a letter ostensibly to his father but addressed it to a fictitious street number in Hamburg, Germany. The letter was placed aboard the Graf Zeppelin on its return flight to that country and bears the special stamps prepared for mail on the famous trans-oceanic trip.

Postage cost young Elliott $1.05. Collectors appraised the envelope and stamps, with cancellations and special marks placed there by both German and the United States government officials, at no less than $15 present value. And, they declared, the value is destined to increase with each succeeding year.

NOTABLES SHUN RINGS OF 'PHONE IN WASHINGTON

Leading Officials Keep Their Home Numbers Out of Capital's Directories.

Washington.—If you ever want to reach Nick Longworth, speaker of the house of representatives, or his famous wife, Alice, by telephone, don't search the directory for the name Nicholas Longworth.

No such name is listed. You will find, however, the name "Mrs. A. L. R. Longworth." That's your number. This is just one of many interesting things in the Washington telephone directory.

One will run into all sorts of difficulty in trying to get the residences of Washington's great and near great by telephone. A great many of these people don't like the sound of a telephone bell when they are at home, and, though all possess telephones, it is impossible to get their number unless they themselves give it to you.

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson is one. Most of the cabinet members have unlisted telephones.

Several familiar and historic telephone numbers have been discarded now that Washington is planning to install the dial system.

For years the Supreme court of the United States was Main 1. It has always been a matter of pride on the part of many that this number was given to this great branch of the government. But with the new order of things Main 1 will go and Chief Justice Taft may now be reached by calling National 3500.

The White House retains its listing as Main 6, using also trunk lines 4, 5, 7 and 8. But this will not be for long. The historic 6 is due to go, along with the Supreme court's cherished number.

Best Cod Livers Are

Worst, Science Finds

New York.—Cod livers that contain the most oil do not have the best, from the standpoint of preventing rickets, Dr. Alfred F. Hess, Dr. Charles F. Bills and Edgar M. Honeywell have found by recent experiments. The antirachitic potency of cod-liver oil is determined by a feeding experiment on young rats. In this way cod-liver oil for the market is assayed. Using the same method, these investigators found that oil from "poor" livers was 200 times more potent than high-grade oil.

"Contrary to current opinion, antirachitic potency varies inversely with the amount of oil in the liver," the investigators reported to the Journal of the American Medical Association. They found that rich livers had oil which was very much less effective in checking rickets. The more potent oil found in poor livers has a very dark color and can only be obtained in minute amounts. Oils from individual fish may vary as much as 1,000 times in their antirachitic value. It was found.

Extend Boundaries

of Shenandoah Park

Luray, Va.—Old lines first designating the boundaries of the Shenandoah National park areas have been obliterated and much new territory is added according to the new map of the United States geological survey just completed in collaboration with the Virginia state conservation and development commission.

In the new map Luray is within three miles of the park limits; Front Royal is two miles away, and six towns in Page county are either within the boundary or almost on the line. The park is seventy miles long, and at its widest point is eighteen miles. The greatest width runs from Stanley, this county, to Wolftown, in Madison, one of the most thriving communities in the Blue ridge.

Find Minerals Vary

in Action on Humans

Cold Springs Harbor, N. Y.—Classification of minerals in the human body is expected to prove valuable to doctors as the result of experiments conducted by Dr. William Salant of the University of Georgia, and the biological laboratory here.

Searching for the reason certain powerful drugs failed to bring the expected reaction, Doctor Salant discovered a definite connection with the percentage of minerals in the blood. The effect of drugs, he decided, varies according to the individual's chemical condition.

The experiments point to the time when physicians will no longer prescribe the same medicine for all persons suffering from the same illness.

Beggars in Hungary

Must Pay Income Tax

Budapest, Hungary.—All beggars in Hungary must henceforth pay taxes on their incomes the same as all other citizens and must register their name and address with the police and prove their inability to work.

It came about when the government discovered that the president of the National Association of Hungarian Beggars had called a meeting of the association to be held at Szegedin recently. The meeting was promptly banned and dissolution of the organization demanded. When investigation proved that many beggars made more money than respectable workmen, the government came out with its drastic regulations.

Municipal Notes

BY THE MANAGER

Within a few days work will begin upon the widening of South Main street, across from the stores and along Kellogg Park. The angle in the curb line is to be removed, and the curb straightened to conform to the line of the line of street light poles. The improvement will result in a maximum extra width of fifteen feet at the angle in the curb line.

With the removal of a number of dead trees from the park, and the planting of new trees to replace those taken out, the changes being brought about are certain to materially improve the appearance of this uptown beauty spot.

The week of April 22 to 27 will be set aside as Clean-Up Week in the village. Citizens are requested to gather their winter's accumulation of rubbish during the fore part of the week and place along the curb or street line for the village trucks to gather on the last two days. All manner of rubbish except ashes will be trucked away without expense to the householder.

"NOAH" HAS ARK SET FOR FLOOD

Pacific Coast Hermit Ready for the Deluge He Believes Is Due.

Olympia, Wash.—The "Ark of the Pacific Coast," built to carry followers of the Lord to higher lands when He floods the Pacific coast, rides on Puget sound under the shadow of the dome of the state Capitol.

The "ark," built by a hermit named William Greenfield, is one of the strangest ships ever constructed. Youth, middle-aged and aged are following in the path of sin, says Greenfield, who has termed himself captain of the queer craft, and who has built the "ark" in answer to God's revelations, to carry him and nonsinners across the ocean to higher lands when He invokes the penalty on sinners.

Captain Greenfield is aided in his work by one known to him as Michael. The "Twentieth century Noah" says that God named Michael to assist him in preparing the vessel.

Neither Knows Date. The vessel floats peacefully on the harbor awaiting the call, which Michael says will come in two years and which Greenfield says will come in one year, apparently neither knowing just when the deluge is to inundate the Pacific coast.

Greenfield has made it plain that he will not carry any animals with him when he takes the journey. He plans on making only a short voyage with the ship.

The hull of the craft was constructed by Greenfield at an Olympia mill in 1922, and hauled to its present location, where at low tide it rests in a specially constructed cradle to keep it clear of mud.

The boat is anchored near the end of one of the arms of Puget sound, approximately a mile from the dome of the new Capitol. One has to fly man and the other by God, so says the "prophet."

A 100-horse power motor is located in the hull. Installation of the motor has not been completed. The craft carries no propeller.

Piano for Hymns. The first deck of the "sin sayer" is fitted up for living quarters where the modern Noah spends much of his time, probably pondering over the present state of the world. The tiny room in which he meditates is jammed with odds and ends. A small piano, in need of tuning, fills one corner. It is to be used by Greenfield after the "ark" has landed on dry land, for singing hymns of praise.

The room is lined with sheet metal and painted white. Toward the stern another room is located, to be used as a guest room for visitors. A narrow walk is provided along the rail of the stern where a ladder leads upward to the top of the deck. This deck is roofed over to keep the rains, that are slated to fall during the tidal wave, back.

Greenfield is of slight build, medium height and about sixty years of age. He is of English descent, but was born in Illinois.

Greeks Follow Italy in Tax on Bachelors

Athens.—The Greek government, following the example of Italy, is introducing a tax on bachelors.

The Greek census of last May showed, practically for the first time, a considerable excess of women—the figures are 52,214. This phenomenon is largely due to the fact that the Greek refugees from Asia Minor numbered more women than men.

The tax will be applied only after the age of thirty, and is removed after the bachelor reaches fifty-five years. War invalids and officers up to a certain rank will be exempt.

The criticism is made that "in these difficult days" men marry later than has heretofore been customary, and the critics say that the taxable age should be set at thirty-five years rather than thirty.

Leaps to Death

New York.—Evading the grasp of her sister, Leah, after sending her nurse away to get medicine, Miss Esther Glasser, twenty-seven-year-old student, committed suicide by jumping from a window of her room on the fifteenth floor of the Medical Arts sanitarium.

Nice If She Would Only Lay 'Em in Pan

Elmdale, Kan.—Much has been written about the "helpful" Kansas hen, and the boon she has been to mankind. But "Old Rusty," a hen owned by Mrs. Heron Straus, adds real service to her egg laying.

Always when it is time for the hen to lay she insists on coming right into the house to lay her eggs. She will leave the other chickens in the poultry house and come to the door of the house, where she will cackle and fuss around and is so persistent that she is admitted. Mrs. Straus has a nest in one corner of the room, where "Old Rusty" settles down contentedly and lays an egg.

Mankind's Opportunity

"When men give to the search for spiritual things the same energy and persistence which they bring to the quest for material wealth, the world will be on the way to the greatest discovery of all."—Dr. Sidney M. Berry.

Georgia Miss Lawyer
at Age of 19 Years

Decatur, Ga.—At the age of nineteen, Miss Irma von Nunes is a lawyer, although she never went to law school.

The nineteen-year-old girl was admitted to the bar recently, the Georgia regulations allowing minors over eighteen to the bar, provided they pass the state examinations creditably.

Her first case was a divorce suit. She also has been before the state Supreme court in a damage suit action, still pending.

Bright-eyed and cheery-faced, the young girl believes herself the youngest woman lawyer in the United States. "I never heard of any one younger, have you?" she asked the interviewer.

Her father, Tillou von Nunes, in whose office she practices, coached her after she graduated from high school, and so good a tutor was he that the state bar examinations were passed with honor in June, 1928. Divorce cases interest her most, she said. The girl thinks folks marry too hastily and regret too soon.

RADIO ASSURES SAFETY IN AIR

Engineer of Bureau of Standards
Outlines Needs of Aviation Service.

New York.—The future development of commercial air travel is virtually dependent upon the use of radio. In the opinion of Dr. J. H. Dellinger, chief of the radio section of the United States bureau of standards, who addressed the winter convention of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers recently, Doctor Dellinger said the percentage of aviation accidents resulting from hazards of weather was due to the slowness with which radio aids to air navigation have been advancing.

"Radio seems the answer to those standards," Doctor Dellinger concluded, "and there is ground for hope that not only this percentage of accidents, but the whole number of accidents will become vanishingly small when the present possibilities of radio are realized in practice."

Destroying Fog Menace.

Doctor Dellinger pointed out that genuine service will not be available until the air traveler may count on schedules as regular as railway trains maintain, independent of weather or other contingencies. All other limitations are in a fair way to be overcome, he said, yet air traffic comes to a standstill when low visibility prevents the pilot from seeing landmarks or lights on the ground. A pilot may continue to fly in a fog, Doctor Dellinger said, by use of such instruments as the altimeter, turn indicator and compass, but it is only by means of radio that he can be certain of keeping to a given course and find the landing field when the ground is invisible.

The radio beacon system which is being established on the airways of the United States is destroying the fog menace, Doctor Dellinger declared, and when this system is fully established, he pointed out, there is every reason to believe that the last great obstacle to safe flying will have been conquered, scheduled flights will be dependable, and passenger flying can be considered established as a serious service.

Doctor Dellinger described some of the means by which radio could be employed as an aid to air navigation for the flyer not traveling the regular airways. The first of these systems utilizes direction finding stations on the ground which determine the direction of radio waves transmitted by the airplane, combine their calculations and by triangulation determine the plane's position, which is then communicated to the pilot.

A second method is the use of a radio direction finder on the airplane. The pilot steers a course in the indicated direction of the radio station on the ground, and can be certain of reaching that point. The third method described by Doctor Dellinger employs the rotating radio beacon for the guidance of the independent flyer. A radio transmitting station, located preferably as an airport, sends forth a beam of radio waves which sweep constantly around. A special signal indicates when the beam sweeps through the north.

All Have Disadvantages.

A pilot listening for the beacon signal with his earphones determines his direction by the time elapsing between the north signal and the instant when the beam is heard with maximum intensity. The elapsed time is determined by means of a stop watch calibrated to read direction.

All of these methods have disadvantages which are not present in the operation of the radio beacon system employed for the United States airways, Doctor Dellinger said. All that is required on the plane now traveling a charted airway is a simple visual indicator on the instrument board, by reference to which the pilot can immediately tell whether or not he is on his course.

Belfast.—The well-dressed young Irishman will sleep in very novel pajamas this year, according to orders received by Ulster shirt, collar and pajama manufacturers. Extra workers are necessary to meet the demand for fancy nightwear, and some firms report a 60 per cent increase in output. The day of the fancy shirt has gone, manufacturers say, as the jazzy patterns have given way to plain materials or neat stripes.

The Bigger Kids Are,
Harder They Think

Boston.—The bigger they are the harder they think, is the conclusion reached by Dr. Nell A. Dayton, director of the division of mental deficiency of the Massachusetts department of mental diseases, after mental research among 11,000 school children. "These studies revealed a positive association between over-average height and weight and high intelligence, and likewise a positive association between the same physical factors and higher school accomplishments," he reported.

MARKET BUREAU AIDS

DETROIT ATTAIN LEAD IN MUNICIPAL SYSTEMS

Efficient Development and Wise Direction Play Important Part in Commercial Life.

From the standpoint of the part that it plays in the business and commercial life of Detroit, the Municipal Bureau of Markets should receive study and analysis by the merchants, distributors and consumers of this city, the Detroit Convention and Tourist Bureau declares in a statement today.

In 1919, the bureau of markets was created in the department of public welfare to handle the administration, maintenance and general extension of markets in the city. As it grew in size and importance, new duties and functions were added. It publishes a market news and price information service on products sold in farmers' markets, examines street vendors applying for licenses, investigates wholesale houses that wish to use city property for displaying their wares, works with the producers and distributors of milk and wholesale produce to the end of assisting them with knotty marketing problems, acts as a center of information and help on matters pertaining to the local marketing of farm produce and is an effective buffer between consumers, city dealers and country producers.

Efficient Development.

In less than 10 years the market bureau has brought about the efficient development of three large market places, the Eastern Municipal market, the Western Municipal market and the Chene-Ferry Municipal market, which deal both in wholesale and retail selling and consist of 11 buildings, 7 acres of paved parking space, 1,370 stalls and a number of structures, all covering an area of nearly 17 acres. It was also largely through the efforts of the market bureau that the $3,000,000 Union Produce terminal, now under construction on West Fort street, is to become an actual structure and not remain an architectural conception on paper. The new terminal is scheduled to be completed in August and will house and provide facilities for the carlot produce trade of Detroit, which handles a yearly sales business of over $50,000,000.

Activities Extensive.

As to the statistical proof of the importance of the market bureau in the business life of the city, the convention bureau quotes figures furnished by G. V. Branch, director of the market bureau, to the effect that during 1928 a total of 109,887 loads of fresh farm produce were handled in the markets, representing approximately 20 per cent of the entire amount of all fruits and vegetables sold in the city. These figures, although slightly lower than last year, were established in the face of an unprecedented period of change in the retail marketing system and in spite of adverse dry weather conditions.

In special Saturday markets, however, the 1928 total of 8,475 loads of produce exceeds by nearly 5 per cent the record for 1927. Revenue from the three markets was approximately $119,719 with an additional $23,000 for rental of unused buildings, making a total that considerably more than covers the operation and maintenance of the markets and places the market activities of Detroit in the class of important civic business.

Records Compiled.

In addition to the activities connected with the maintenance of the markets, the market bureau compiled and issued during 1928, 161,625 copies of market reports to growers and buyers without charge, mailed 28,364 copies to interested persons and subscribers and sent to Detroit's three newspapers specially prepared wholesale price reports for publication. Regulatory work with relation to vendors called for the investigating and approving of city licenses for 1,640 pushcart and wagon merchants and the approval of application for sidewalk space from 14 wholesale produce merchants.

No small part of the difficult work facing the market bureau is the satisfactory and harmonious handling of the farmers and merchants who make use of the market facilities. Minor disagreements, quarrels and disputes are smoothed out in the offices of the bureau, where all types regardless of race, creed or condition of finances, are treated equally.

Friend and Counsellor.

The market bureau is indeed an ambassador, friend, counsellor and judge, taking upon itself duties that would consume the entire time or any ordinary organization and, through it all, managing to be a business success, a civic government branch of importance, and doing much to destroy the old, soon to be discarded, idea that a market place cannot be made sanitary and clean.

Looking back upon the Campus Martius market of old Detroit, the convention bureau, summarizing the

Advise Beauty Aids for Kitchen Tables

ORDINARY LINOLEUM RESTORES WORN TABLES TO ORIGINAL USEFULNESS.

Kitchen table tops which have become unserviceable through wear can be restored to their former usefulness and acquire an attractiveness which they did not originally have if a piece of linoleum is glued upon the worn surface of the table according to a statement by home economic specialists at Michigan State College.

The linoleum makes a very good working surface for the table, the specialists say, and often a remnant of linoleum can be obtained at a very low price. Linoleum which has an inconspicuous pattern such as jasper or granite should be chosen for this purpose.

The linoleum should be cut flush with the edges of the table and either linoleum cement, glue, or water glass used to cement the material to the table top. If water glass is used, it should be applied without thinning, and it will set within half an hour.

After the linoleum is attached to the table, melted paraffin should be applied with a cloth or brush and then smoothed with a warm iron until the paraffin is perfectly even and fills all the pores in the linoleum.

The restoration is completed by varnishing the entire surface with a good spar varnish. Hot dishes do not affect this surface, and it should last five years without any need for re-varnishing.

MR. HARRY SMITH

"How often it is that sufferers have abandoned hope, and then have found relief, through Konjola, from the ills of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, and from rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness. Konjola triumphs when all else fails simply because it works as a medicine should—right at the source of the ailment. The 32 ingredients of Konjola, 22 of them the juices of roots and herbs, all work together, yet each has its own mission to perform. How Konjola works is illustrated in the case of Mr. Harry Smith, of Dexter, Mich., who says:

"I suffered so long from rheumatism that I believed that there was nothing to help me. Pains filled my entire body, particularly the lower limbs. My kidneys were bad, too, and back pains added to my woe. Though I had no faith in any medicine, I decided to put Konjola to the test. And what happened? Konjola helped me at once, and today I can walk as well as I ever did; all my pains have vanished and life is worth while. I will never lose an opportunity to praise this glorious medicine."

Konjola is sold in Plymouth at Community drug store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

SOCIAL LIFE RUN BY RIGID RULES

Washington Hostesses Must Watch Their Step.

Washington.—Hostesses who come into this capital city with the new administration are certain to find that their social knowledge, however extensive it may be, is not adequate to take care of every situation likely to arise during their stay.

Occasions of ceremony in the national capital follow certain rules and regulations, ignorance of which often brings humiliation; and indifference to those rules calls down stern criticism upon the offender.

Indeed, it is the wise newcomer who acquaints herself with the rules. By so doing she will not only simplify life for everyone, but will also save herself much embarrassment.

Washington is different from European capitals in this respect. On the continent when statesmen are dined and fêted, there is a "protocol" which assigns to every one his or her relative rank, and does so with the official sanction of the government.

No such court of appeals exists in the capital of this country. There are available in the State department certain rules and regulations. The department, however, refuses to be quoted as an authority and supplies no written lists.

It is up to the individual to do the proper thing.

And the proper thing to the uninitiated at times presents a real problem.

Foreign ambassadors and ministers are not, as Lincoln is said to have been: "Willing to follow anyone who wants to precede them." They represent their country or their rulers, whose dignity they are responsible for upholding in their own persons. To use the words of a clever and distinguished ambassador: "Since the God God made us so that we cannot get through the door at once, there must be precedence."

Each year Washington sees men come here in official positions of great importance. They represent sovereign states, each one proud of its dignity. An affront to them is an affront to those states.

Thus the wives of Washington officials are faced by conditions not duplicated anywhere. And they soon come to know that knowledge of the rank of officials at dinners is necessary, not merely in giving entertainments, but even in attending those given by others.

Soldier Lives With Big Hole in Skull

San Juan, P. R.—With a hole in his skull as big as a half dollar where a .45 caliber revolver bullet, fired through the roof of his mouth a month ago, emerged, William Barrio, twenty-four, a soldier, still lives and is expected to recover control of nearly all of his faculties.

Barrio, who is serving his second enlistment in the regular army, was tired of life. While walking post he inserted the muzzle of his revolver into his mouth and pulled the trigger. Rushed to the military hospital, the doctors removed two cupfuls of brain substance, and in three days the patient had regained consciousness. He is unable to speak, but understands what is said to him.

The man's chances of living for a great many years are good. The doctors insist that if death comes it will not be as the result of the bullet that plowed through the brain. A disease of the brain on the order of meningitis may follow, but as yet there are no symptoms.

Cambridge Invents "Universal English"

London, England.—Cambridge scientists and scholars have evolved an international language of 500 words.

English is the basic tongue chosen and it is claimed that people of all nations may pick up "panoptic English," as the reduced vocabulary is called, within a few weeks or months, instead of years.

The entire vocabulary of "panoptic English" can be printed on the back of a single sheet of notepaper and seen at a glance, hence its name "panoptic."

In the new language the majority of verbs vanish and in their place are twelve "operators" or fundamental verbs which cover the essential movements of persons and things. They are come, get, give, go, keep, let, make, put, take, be, do and have.

Ancient Bones Found

Wallertheim, Germany.—Traces have been discovered here of human beings who lived 110,000 years ago. Scientists recently found skeletons of men with big skulls and mouths like spouts.

Gander Nurses Young After Goose's Death

Beaver Creek, N. C.—Sauce for the goose gave a Beaver Creek gander a full winter's work and he has just succeeded in "weaning" four goslings he adopted last fall when their mother died soon after hatching them. The gander, Arthur Merrill, his owner, declared, worked himself this winter and has taken on new life since his breed has ceased to waddle quackingly at his web-footed heels.

"So far as some people are concerned," declares Dad Plymouth "the wisdom that comes with age is confined to the tooth by that name."

The government is able to make smaller bills, but it can't reduce the size of a charge account.

To enable your boy to overcome that shy and retiring disposition, get him a job driving a five-ton truck.

TOTS AGAIN PLAY IN WHITE HOUSE

Hoover Grandchildren to Visit There Often.

Washington.—The Hoover administration will bring children into the White House family circle again for the first time since the Roosevelt administration.

The two little children who know the new President as "grandpa," rather than as Chief Executive of the United States, will not live at the White House, but they will be about often on visits and on every vacation. The Hoovers observe vacations in an old-fashioned way by family gatherings.

The two children are "Peggy," aged three, and Herbert Hoover, III, one-and-a-half years old, daughter and son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hoover, Jr.

Son Lives in Los Angeles. Herbert Hoover, Jr., the President's elder son, and his family will live in Los Angeles. His wife recently went West to select a home for them there. The younger son, Allan, who is twenty-one, will graduate from Stanford university this June, and is expected to go into business on the West coast, probably in San Francisco. He is considering such a proposition, but has not accepted a position definitely as yet.

The whole family was reunited here for the inauguration. Herbert, Jr., who is twenty-five, will leave here in a few days to take up a new position with the Western Airways express. He is an expert in radio and his work will be in connection with development of telephone communication between the line's airplanes and ground stations in the projected extension of its route to Kansas City. The line now operates between Los Angeles, San Francisco, and Salt Lake City.

Distance never has meant anything to Herbert Hoover or his family. They take a trip from the West to the East coast as a matter of fact, they have made it so often. Therefore they are making plans to spend their vacations at the White House.

The new President is a busy man, hard at work almost constantly, but he will lay even the most important task aside with a happy smile when Peggy pushes open the door to his executive office and rushes in eagerly for a romp, her little brother toddling along behind her on tiny legs still a bit wobbly.

Adore Grandpa. The two children adore their grandfather, but not more than he does them. They are expected to be favorites among White House employees. In the hearts of some of the old attaches they will fill a place in the affections once held by Quentin Roosevelt, whose famous escapades as a youngster in taking his pony up on the White House elevator and riding it on the shiny east room floor and shooting with his air rifle still bring fond smiles of memory.

The romance of Herbert Hoover, Jr., and his wife, was a repetition of that of his father and mother. They were classmates at Stanford university, graduated together, and married within a week after commencement, now over four years ago. Mrs. Herbert Hoover, Jr., a California girl, is beautiful and has a very charming personality.

Both of the new President's sons possess the timidity of their father upon first acquaintance. Both are delightful to know. Allan made many friends on the good will tour to South America on which he accompanied his father and mother.

Gang Loots Berlin Bank After Digging for Weeks

Berlin.—Several hundred thousand dollars in banknotes, securities and other valuables were obtained by a gang of safe blowers who tunneled their way into the deposit vault of the West End branch of the Disconto Gesellschaft.

This institution is one of the five largest banks in Germany. The robbery showed the results of many weeks of painstaking labor. Investigation disclosed that the gang had entered the vault by squirming singly through a tunnel connecting with an airshaft.

The task of burrowing through the ground is thought to have required several weeks. Before departing with their loot the robbers destroyed the steel lock from the inside. Expert locksmiths worked 15 hours to open the door of the vault.

Mitered Headgear

The original shape of the miter was that of a cone. It has undergone an evolution until in modern times it is a tall ornamental cap terminating in two peaks.

The church of the Nativity is the oldest Christian church in existence. It was built by Empress Helena, A. D. 330, over the grotto where Christ is supposed to have been born.

In The Theatre

"REDSKIN"

A love theme as tender as the story of Romeo and Juliet, enacted against the majestic background of the little-known American Southwest with all the brilliant coloring and beauty of the country revealed on the screen, will appear at the Penniman Allen theatre, Sunday and Monday, April 14 and 15. It is Richard Dix's new epic of the American Indian, "Redskin."

"Redskin" is the drama of a race of people, clinging to old traditions yet seeking to adapt themselves to the new. It is the struggle of youth against the caution of age; of youth seeking release from the chains of tribal custom. It is the romance of a boy and a girl of rival tribes, separated by generations of ill-feeling between their ancestors, who learn to love and rise above the restrictions of their environment.

Richard Dix plays the leading role, with beautiful Gladys Belmont, a newcomer to leading parts, opposite him. Dix has a dramatic role and the picture is a perfect vehicle for him. Hundreds of Indians appear in the picture and some of them play small parts. The cast contains many well known names such as that of Tully Marshall.

The color effects are marvelously real and beautiful. The scenic backgrounds are inspiring and the gripping drama is well conceived and particularly well acted. It is a new epic of the American screen.

"THE BARKER"

The stage, the night club, the circus, the burlesque and the vaudeville show have all had their innings on the screen or stage of late. There seems to be an inclination on the part of the worm to turn, in other words. And when a profession can take them off to laugh at its own peculiarities, it is a healthy sign.

In "The Barker," a stage play of carnival life originally and now a film—a First National picture and a George Fitzmaurice special production—audiences at the Penniman Allen theatre where the screen play will be shown Wednesday and Thursday, April 17 and 18, will find decided amusement and much human interest.

Milton Sills is the star and does a neat job in the title role, exhibiting fine restraint and a thorough understanding of the character.

Dorothy Mackaill, co-starred as Lou, the carnival girl, is demurely attractive and plays with fine discernment. She has as the boy she loves the Barker's son, that talented young artist Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. Betty Compton as the hula dancer and sweetheart of the barker, is a thing of beauty and flame.

The entire production is marked by Fitzmaurice's infallible taste and brilliancy. The picture carries a whimsical story of a people who are so remote from the lives of ordinary folk that they might well be dwellers in another planet, yet their motives and reactions are all human to a degree.

"The Barker" was a great stage success. It deserves to be even a greater success on the screen.

"THE SHOPWORN ANGEL"

It is difficult to conceive Nancy Carroll as shopworn. She is too bright, too elusive, too lovely to give even the faintest suggestion of what the word connotes. Yet she is "The Shopworn Angel" in the absorbing new feature which is to be shown Saturday, April 20, at the Penniman Allen theatre. Gary Cooper, the popular young player of the Paramount studio, is featured with her in this picture.

Nancy Carroll and Gary Cooper are a unique pair of screen lovers. Nancy is the dainty, super-sophisticated little chorine, who has probed the heights and depths of Broadway and has sought and purchased its glittering luxury.

Gary is the shy, bashful, awkward boy from the West, who gets to New York for the first time, when his company mobilizes there on its way to France. These two meet, the clean-minded youth and the gilded Broadway beauty. These two love. Then Nancy realizes that he loves her for what he thinks she is, not for what she really is.

In addition to Nancy Carroll and Gary Cooper, Paul Lukas, the "John Barrymore of Hungary," who has won renown in a long series of important parts on the American screen, has a leading role. There are dancing girls galore and tender, thrilling scenes. It is a super-refined entertainment.

Varieties of Waterfowl

The term "waterfowl" includes ducks, geese, swans, gulls, pelicans etc. There are 350 different kinds of birds found in Oregon and Washington, about half of which would be water birds. They are found along the coasts and in the marshes of rivers and lakes.

The Present Counts

Most of us have quit asking the cost of things. All we want to know is the amount of the down payment.—Arkansas Gazette.

FAMED GARDEN IN SOUTH CAROLINA

Beauty Spot Laid Out in 1741 Still Exists.

Charleston, S. C.—A landscape garden of such world-wide fame that each spring it is visited by hundreds of pilgrims first came into being at Middleton Place. Amid the culture and refinement of the Carolina province in 1741.

One of the first landscape gardens in America, it was laid out by an English gardener on the bluffs that overlook the swiftly flowing Ashley river, surrounded by a vast forest. Here, Henry Middleton made his home and erected Great House which was destined to play a large part in the affairs of the colony.

Ten years were needed to complete the work of mapping the garden, but so successful was it that Middleton Place soon became famous even in the Old world.

With smooth lawns and countless exotic plants, a sunken garden and many lakes it is beautiful at all times, but when spring comes humming through the air and flowers burst into bloom, it is indescribably lovely.

In the crystal waters of Azalea pool are mirrored, like shooting, dancing flames, bright-colored blossoms of overhanging azalea bushes that bend and sway with every passing breeze. From the river, one views a succession of terraces, radiating warmth and joyous life from the brilliant flowers that crown the slopes. On the highest terrace once stood Great House, a massive, three-story brick building in Tudor style, which boasted a secret passage.

The noted French botanist, Andre Michaux, here introduced many Oriental plants, among which were the first four Camellia Japonicas ever planted in America. Today, after a lapse of almost 200 years, three of the original plants may still be noted among the myriads which beautify the place. The only tunnel of camellias in existence is here, and also a magnificent live oak which, it is estimated, has viewed the happenings of 700 years or more.

Great House was adorned with priceless works of art, many of which were mutilated by the British. Almost a century later, the mansion was destroyed by fire in Sherman's march to the sea, one wing alone remaining. This has been restored and here the owner makes his home.

Henry Middleton, second president of the Continental congress; Arthur Middleton, signer of the Declaration of Independence, and others, whose names are linked with the history of their country, rest within the mausoleum near the river.

Chinese Tree in Gotham Gardens Poisons Keeper

New York.—A more curious than careful gardener in the New York zoological gardens recently fell victim to a severe case of poisoning from eating the fruit of the Chinese ginkgo tree.

Failure to remove the fleshy covering that surrounds the edible kernel of the plumlike fruit of the ginkgo was responsible for the gardener's mishap. It is a favorite food of the Chinese, who carefully remove the outer coat, which gives warning of its toxic power by a strong, rancid odor.

Rows of the decorative ginkgos, or maidenhair trees, line the drive west of the museum. They were brought here to help popularize them, as they are remarkably free from disease or insects, and withstand city life. In summer they bear wedged-shaped leaves.

Three Students Enjoy College on $30 Month

Pullman, Wash.—You can get an education on $10 a month and still not miss a thing—if you know how.

Three students of Washington State college do just that. Carl Ellingson, varsity three sport athlete; Ralph Carlton, frosh basketball star, and Kenneth Kadow are the three musketeers who bag a cheap education together. They get free room, light and heat for caring for a furnace. Food and incidentals total $30. Carlton and Ellingson earn by working in the college gymnasium, while Kadow's job as stage electrician in the college auditorium nets the other third of the expenses.

Retribution

Hollywood, Calif.—Leonard Stevens, author of the song entitled "I Faw Down and Go Boom," is recovering after being run over by a hit and run motorist.

Building Since War

Cost $52,000,000,000

New York.—A total of $52,000,000,000 has been invested in new buildings since the war by the American people, according to a survey just made. Expenditures during 1929, it is estimated, will add $7,500,000,000 to this total.

How this expenditure affects lines of activity allied with the construction industry was indicated by a large increase in the production of common and face brick in 1927 as compared with the year 1918.

An honest confession is not good for the soul, but it's good for a column or two in the newspapers.

"I've lived a long time, and I've learned a lot about the way folks are made. The trouble with most of 'em is they're afraid-cats. The only way to get a business of 'em is to give 'em a whop and let 'em rip! If ye just about half-live, ye just the same as half-die; and if ye spend yer time half-dyin', some day ye turn in and die all over, without a cent to show for it—just a kind of a bad habit ye've got yerself into. Some live and some die; but folks that live all over die happy anyhow!"—Dorothy Canfield.

VOLUME II

THE FASTEST HUMAN SPEAKS AT ASSEMBLY

Charles Paddock, noted athlete and member of the Olympic team, gave a very interesting talk to the assembly last Friday on "Athletics and Sportsmanship." Mr. Paddock told of his personal experience in the various events and incidents from the lives of other famous athletes who had competed in events with him.

One day when he was in a hurry to reach a town in Europe where the next series of events was to be held, he found that by hydroplane the crossing could be covered in about two hours while twenty-two hours were required by train and boat. He decided to take a plane as all other travel by plane had been very comfortable.

A spirit of sportsmanship is necessary in the character of an athlete. An American athlete, Jim Thorpe, had been disqualified from entering the events under the amateur athletic laws. A Swedish athlete won the events the Americans would have entered. When he had been awarded his honors, he had them placed in a box and delivered to the Amateur Athletic Association offices in New York, with a message saying that rightfully these belonged to the American, as he was the better man. The spirit of sportsmanship is very noticeable during the Olympic games when competition is at its highest.

Further Forensic Activities
The decision in the local extemporaneous speaking contest was unanimous for Alice Gilbert, who spoke on "Homer's Trip to South America." The contest was held Thursday, April 4th, at 3:45, and was judged by Mr. Smith, Miss Allen and Mr. Emons.

Training plays an important part in an athlete's life. Good food and plenty of sleep are necessary, but the danger of over-training is great. A man may pass his best point long before the events, and begin to decline if his training is not carefully supervised. Mr. Paddock gave this as the reason the American entries in the Olympic games did not make a good showing in the track events this year.

Nature Study Club
Most people feel about wild life as did the lumbermen—that there was an inexhaustible supply, and so used them lavishly and wastefully. Nature endowed our state with a great wealth of forests, and now but few remain.

Back Stage on Stunt Night
Tall trees stretched up in cardboard, painted muslin lengths to a blue cloth sky. Painted flowers waved gently in a very, very imaginary breeze. It was as hot as the fourth of July back there! A very cool looking lake stretched its painted depths back into the mountains. Very cool looking, but oh, so hot in reality!

Music Department
All the music classes are working diligently in order to do their best at the high school musicale. The numbers to be given will be very entertaining. The program is going to be bigger and better this year, and so the date, May 3, 1929, ought to be kept open. Plan now to save that night as a big item among other important dates.

France Visits America
Have you ever visited a French class? If you, yourself, have never taken French, you would probably be confused by the "jabber" in which the students apparently converse intelligently.

The children in the Starkweather kindergarten have been studying birds and already can tell the names of thirteen different ones when they see them. They have also discussed nest building.

First Annual Stunt Night
The week after vacation found the Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors just about working their heads off practicing their stunts and selling tickets. You know the stunts were not supposed to be known but secrets have a way of leaking out especially at school and before the week was over just about everyone knew what was going to happen on Friday evening, April 5. It was announced in assembly on the Wednesday previous that the seniors were ahead in ticket sales.

General Assembly Wednesday
It is the custom in Plymouth High School each year, to ask a minister of the town to address the student body. This year Dr. Lendrum of the Methodist church was invited. Dr. Lendrum chose as his topic, "Fame."

Miss Johnson's students have just finished a language booklet entitled, "Mode of Travel in Different Countries." The pictures about thirty in number, were cut from an almanac and then colored. Almost every pupil received a picture and wrote a short theme about the method of travel shown in it.

The sixth grade is memorizing two poems, "The House of the Side of the Road" and "The Barefoot Boy." Miss Spilberg has two new pupils, Frances and Ralphie Wilder, who have been transferred from the Central school. Two others have moved away, Verne Miner to Sheldon, and Bobby Sully to California.

At last, the bell rang, and even then everyone hated to go out. It was a novel experience to hear a real Frenchman talk and to know how much of the language one could understand by hearing the real thing.

Plymouth High nine will open their season Friday, April 12, with Eastern High School of Detroit. This is expected to be one of the hardest games of the schedule.

Solemn rites were performed at the induction service given for the Northville fellows by the Plymouth III-V Club. They were very much impressed with the ceremonies staged for them. A pot luck supper was served by the Plymouth boys in the school lunch room, and everybody got acquainted at the table.

A discussion on a very interesting subject was led by Lydia Joy in the club meeting last Tuesday. It was a topic on how to judge a person's character. Everyone was deeply interested in all the phases of this new field of discussion.

State Farmers Use Eight Horse Teams

MULTIPLE HITCHES SPEED UP PLOWING ON MICHIGAN FARMS.

Michigan farmers are using western methods of hitching horses into teams so that one man can handle from six to eight horses, and the popularity of this form of hitch has caused the animal husbandry department at Michigan State College to arrange demonstrations of the multiple hitch in 17 counties of the state.

With this method of utilizing horse power, any number of horses can be driven, as lines are used on only the lead team. The other animals are tied in so that they have no choice but to follow the lead horses. Unbroken colts can be worked without any previous handling.

The horses are worked tandem so that all side draft in plowing is eliminated. Farmers who are using the multiple hitch say that they can plow an acre per horse per day.

Animal husbandry specialists who will attend the demonstrations will carry materials to show how the evener which are used with the multiple hitch can be made by any farmer. Any of the materials used in this hitch can be home made.

At some of the meetings where western horses can be secured, new methods of horse breaking will be shown. Several car loads of western horses have been sold in Michigan this year and most of these animals had never been harnessed before they were shipped.

Counties in which multiple hitch demonstrations have already been scheduled are Kent, Eaton, Calhoun, Van Buren, Cass, St. Joseph, Clinton, Branch, Jackson, Lenawee, Barry, Ionia, Isabella, Gratiot, Tuscola, Saugatuck and St. Clair.

Farmers Can Obtain Trees From College

NURSERIES AT EAST LANSING AND DUNBAR STILL HAVE EVERGREEN SEEDLINGS.

Almost a half million evergreen seedlings which will be sold at cost for forest and windbreak plantings in Michigan still remain in the Michigan State College nurseries at East Lansing although more than a million seedlings have already been sold, and there are still 100,000 seedlings at the Dunbar Station in the Upper Peninsula.

Shipments of seedlings from the College nurseries already have exceeded last year's total by 200,000.

The forestry department at the College recommends that the seedlings be set at the rate of 1200 to the acre. This gives a spacing of about six feet between the seedlings.

No orders for ornamental plantings can be filled by the College as the nursery facilities are not adequate to furnish all the stock needed for forest and windbreak plantings. Producers of special crops on muck soils in areas like the Gun Lake Marsh find that, unless their crops are protected by windbreaks, wind-driven particles of muck sometimes entirely ruin fields of mint or onions.

Seedlings from the Dunbar Station are shipped for plantings in the Upper Peninsula. The seedlings from that station are adapted to Upper Peninsula conditions and have not begun growth before the soil is in proper condition for planting. Most of the stock from the East Lansing nursery is distributed south of the Straits of Mackinac.

Swede and Finn Barks in Long Ocean Race

Gothenburg, Sweden.—An old-fashioned sailing race from Australia to England has just been begun by a Swedish and a Finnish bark. The Swedish entry, the Beatrice of Gothenburg, is the last four-masted full-rigged ship in the Swedish merchant marine. She is 2,100 gross tons. Her competitor is the Herzogin Cecilie, whose home port is Mariehamn on the Åland island, in the Baltic sea. The distance from Port Lincoln, the starting point of the race, to Plymouth is approximately 15,000 nautical miles.

Last year the same vessels engaged in a similar race between these two cities, at which time the Herzogin Cecilie, won, arriving 13 days ahead of the Swedish boat.

Plane to Map Route in Native Australia

Sydney, Australia.—One of the last remaining unexplored sections of the earth outside polar regions, a section of Australia about the size of England, is about to be opened up by airplane.

The plane will map the route which explorers later will follow. Aerial observations will determine whether the caravan shall attempt to travel with camels, on foot or otherwise.

It is said that no white man yet has set his foot in this territory, which is the southeastern corner of central Australia. The expedition, now being organized, is sponsored by the Royal Geographical Society of South Australia.

Today's Reflections

Say what you will about them, but Plymouth girls dearly love spinning wheels—providing they are on automobiles.

Our advice to every Plymouth man is not to knock the church. It may have improved a good deal since you were there.

Some people in this country don't care who makes its laws so long as they can fix its juries.

Some men will buy $1600 motor cars and then kick if the laundry loses a quarter collar.

The reason some Plymouth women quit calling their husbands "pet," is they soon get so they are about as much of a one as a pet corn.

This generation isn't any worse than the one that went before it. This one just knows enough to pull down the blinds.

Release the money held out of circulation by people who cry hard times and there wouldn't be any hard times.

There is one safe and sure way to keep the hatchet buried, and that's to bury the hammer along with it.

Just think what fun nations will have in the next war in interfering with the radio programs of the enemy.

What we need around Plymouth is not more young men making speed but more young men planting spuds.

If you believe the ads, cigarettes can now cure everything but skidding.

It is all right to "let joy be unconfined," but this day in time the fellow who makes the "joy" is apt to get locked up.

Plymouth parents will do well to teach their boys that well-digging is about the only profession in which you can start from the top.

About the only thing the average wife knows about the perfect husband is that her's is a long, long way from being one.

Dad Plymouth says he isn't hunting a remedy for rheumatism because he doesn't care to lose his best weather forecaster.

A woman likes for her husband to pay her compliments but she also wants him to remember that she can use a little money, too.

Heir to the full fruits of Studebaker's engineering genius, which requires no further evidence than the fact that Studebaker today holds, undisputed, every official speed and endurance record for fully equipped stock cars.

Today's Commander is emphatically today's motor car. Its superb performance is matched by forward, youthful style, which beautifully interprets that performance. ## Receive Vail Medal Award For 1928

FOUR AWARDED 1928 VAIL MEDAL

MICHIGAN TELEPHONE PEOPLE ARE CITED FOR NOTEWORTHY ACTS OF SERVICE.

Award of the Theodore N. Vail medal of bronze for 1928 has been made to four Michigan telephone people, two men and two women, three of them employees of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, and one, an employee of the Benzie Consolidated Telephone Company. It is announced by the committee of award.

Those receiving the award are: Mrs. Mary Smith, chief operator, Thompsonville, Mich., whose work at the switchboard is credited with having saved the town from destruction by fire; Mrs. Irva MacIntyre, operating agent, Hopkins, Mich., whose initiative in handling an unusual call saved the life of an aged woman; Louis B. Flood, construction foreman, Battle Creek, who saved the life of a workman who had come into contact with a high voltage wire at Monroe; James Fisher, lineman, Ann Arbor, whose prompt action at the time of an automobile collision on the highway near Novi prevented a badly injured man from bleeding to death.

Award of the Theodore N. Vail medal was made possible by the establishment in 1920 of the Theodore N. Vail Memorial fund in memory of the man who made universal telephone service possible after the invention of the telephone by Alexander Graham Bell, and whose every public act was directed toward giving the American people the finest communication system possible. The medal is awarded telephone employees who perform unusual, outstanding and especially noteworthy acts of public service, whether in the performance of their regular duties or otherwise, but held to be in emulation of the high ideals of public service that characterized Mr. Vail.

Thirty-nine such awards have been made to Michigan telephone people since the establishment of the Vail Memorial fund, 35 of them to employees of the Michigan Bell Company and four to employees of connecting companies.

Village Saved From Fire
Mrs. Smith's meritorious act, which saved a town from destruction by fire, was a particularly outstanding instance of service additional to that demanded by attention to duty. Early the morning of November 15, she discovered that a building two doors from the telephone office was on fire, and called the Thompsonville fire department and residents of the immediate neighborhood. Doubting that the local department could handle the conflagration, particularly because a high wind was blowing, she acted upon her own initiative and telephoned the fire departments of three neighboring towns, called the telephone office of another village and asked that volunteers to fight the fire be sent to Thompsonville and then aroused all the residents of her own village who had telephone service. Three fire departments and hundreds of volunteers from the surrounding country and towns responded, with the result that, although the blaze was a disastrous one, Mrs. Smith's action undoubtedly saved the village from being destroyed.

The act for which Mrs. MacIntyre was awarded the medal also presents an instance of the employment of initiative and quick thinking in an emergency. Answering a signal at her switchboard, early the morning of May 19, Mrs. MacIntyre received no response, but heard labored breathing that caused her to believe someone was seriously ill or injured. She knew the subscriber was an aged woman who lived alone. Mrs. MacIntyre therefore called the woman's daughter, advising her to go to her mother's home, and then summoned the services of a physician, who found that the patient was suffering from a severe heart attack. He stated that Mrs. MacIntyre's prompt action undoubtedly had resulted in saving the woman's life.

First Aid Saves Lives

While Louis B. Flood was working on the construction of a telephone line near Monroe, July 25, he saw a workman on a dredge in the Raisin River attempt to lift three unprotected high tension wires over the top of a pile-driver, by means of a broom. One of the wires struck the man, hurling him 30 feet to the deck of the dredge. Mr. Flood waded and swam through marsh and river, from the distant shore, and rendered first aid, also instructing members of the telephone crew to summon an ambulance. Aided by another telephone man, he applied artificial respiration, with the result that in about 30 minutes there were signs of returning life. The patient regained consciousness three days later, ultimately recovering. The attending physician declared that Mr. Flood's prompt action, and the first aid knowledge he had acquired in telephone company classes, undoubtedly had saved the man's life.

James Fisher was employed on telephone work along the highway near Novi, February 28, when two automobiles collided, four occupants of one car being injured. Mr. Fisher sent a man for a doctor and attended the driver of the car, who was seriously wounded about the head, applying compresses and bandages to check the flow of blood. He also administered first aid to the others hurt and had them removed to a farmhouse, from where they were taken to a hospital. The attending physician commended Mr. Fisher and declared that his prompt action had left little to be done for the injured people. Mr. Fisher made use of a knowledge of first aid acquired in telephone company classes.

Letters of commendation for prompt action in emergencies, during 1928, were sent by G. M. Welch, vice-president and general manager of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, to five others: Charles L. Tucker, Detroit, who rescued a choking child from a swing in which she had become entangled; Glenn Taylor, Monroe, who helped Flood revive the man injured by shock and fall; J. Morsman, Cassville, who rendered first aid to a man who had suffered from electric shock; Kenneth Wingrove, Ypsilanti, for efforts to revive a man killed by oxide gas poisoning, and Leon Karker, Jackson, for attempting to resuscitate a drowned boy.

Use Underground River
An underground river on the island of Kauai, Hawaii, has proved a boon to the sugar industry of that section. It has been "tapped" for the purpose of irrigating the occasionally dry sugar lands.

Dad Plymouth says there's a lot of lost motion in farm work—he had raised his hoe to hit another hick a few days ago when the dinner bell rung.

"Girls have about quit studying the art of cooking," asserts Dad Plymouth. He says they're all figuring on marrying millionaires now.

It is an institution having a peculiar fascination for pioneers of the Northwest. The provision above referred to was found in the last testament of "Yellowstone" Kelly, whose death recently occurred in Paradise, Calif., at the age of seventy-nine years, and who was one of the most famous Indian scouts known to the history of the West. Boot Hill cemetery derived its name from the fact that every person originally buried therein died with his boots on. It was established in 1879, before the city of Billings was founded upon the construction of the Northern Pacific railroad, and the motivating cause was the need for burial grounds for characters who suddenly snapped out of an earthly existence in and near the town of Coulson, later the western terminus of the line. Later Billings was created as a municipality and Coulson, one mile east, became a ghost city. "Yellowstone" Kelly was well acquainted with the underlying reason for the establishment of the cemetery, which, it is estimated, has a population of about forty bodies. Because of the historic incidents attaching to the cemetery, L. D. O'Donnell, of Billings, sponsored a movement providing for the fencing of the cemetery as well as the erection of a monument. Tombstones were not used in the burials, piles of stone serving as markers. The monument is of round boulders and stands about thirty feet high. To Bury Kelly on "Mountain." In order to perpetuate the name of "Yellowstone" Kelly, Mr. O'Donnell secured a small tract across the highway from the cemetery proper and named it Kelly Mountain. Mr. Kelly's body will be buried there in the spring. An interesting story is told involving "Yellowstone" Kelly and "Liver-Eating" Johnson, another famous early day character of eastern Montana. Johnson gained the rather blood-curdling appellation from the fact that he was said to have pretended to eat the liver of an Indian victim, following a skirmish, to impress the captive Redskins with his ferocity. It seems that Kelly and Johnson were caught by a band of marauding Indians, and to save their lives decided to "ride it out." They mounted their steeds and made a run for it, being outnumbered to such a degree that a fight meant suicide. The Indians began a bombardment with both arrows and bullets, and the situation was critical indeed. Kelly had a better horse than Johnson, but both managed to escape the missiles. The race continued, however, with Kelly gaining ground and Johnson barely holding his own. Kelly looked back and sought to spur Johnson to greater activity. "Come on, Johnson!" he yelled. "If you don't speed up they'll get you." Johnson retorted: "You don't think I'm trying to throw the race, do you?" White Men Win Out. The superiority of their mounts finally told, and they rode to safety after one of the closet calls either had ever experienced. The Billings Commercial club has in charge the arrangements for the funeral of "Yellowstone," whose name was Luther Sage Kelly, friend of the late Theodore Roosevelt and Gen. Nelson A. Miles, the old scout lived his last days in California, in memories of a career such as comes to few men. A native of Geneva, N. Y., Kelly gained fame as one of the greatest Indian scouts in history while he was with General Miles, but his exciting experiences were not confined to this period. Two Alaskan expeditions found him a member. He saw service in the Philippine insurrection, and later was provincial treasurer of Sarago and was acting governor there when a contingent of insurrectionists kept him and a few companions surrounded for more than a year. Fired with patriotism when he saw his former playmates marching as drummer boys at the head of a Union regiment, Kelly took advantage of a few days vacation from school to seek admission into the army. He was under age and was rejected. But he continued, and finally was successful through the efforts of a friendly sergeant. He was a private, and then a corporal, in Company D, Tenth United States Infantry stationed near Richmond, to guard prisoners. He was discharged in 1888 following service at Fort Ripley, Minn.; Fort Ransom and Fort Wadsworth. Braves Rampaging Sioux. The next seven years proved the most adventurous of Kelly's life, and it was in this period that he became known as one of the greatest hunters, trappers and Indian scouts. Against the protestations of Montana miners who ridiculed his plan, Kelly started alone to cross the Missouri on a hunting expedition, facing the dangers of warring Sioux. After an exciting experience with a war party of Sitting Bull's Sioux, he arrived at Fort Berthold, in the heart of a hostile Indian country. Here Mandan, Gros Ventre and Arikara tribes banded together for protection against the Sioux. The following winter Kelly went to Fort Buford, at the mouth of the Yellowstone. He disposed of his horse and walked, reaching an unexplored section of the river region. He remained in that district several years, gaining a wide knowledge of its topography. In 1870 he attracted the attention of government officials by

There is no secret to our success in catering to the younger generation. It is because we give them a little more in style, comfort and service at a lesser price. darling to do that which no other frontiersman would venture—carry dispatches unescorted.

Hearing that the last messenger had been killed, Kelly volunteered his services to the fort officials. He mounted a spirited mustang and started on what proved to be a thrilling adventure. He was attacked by two Sioux, one with a shotgun and the other bearing a bow and arrows. He killed one as he slid from his horse, and engaged in a duel with the other, finally shattering the elbow of the bow and arrow antagonist.

Indian Allies Elated.

The Mandans, Gros Ventres and Arikas were elated at his victory and acclaimed him "The Little Man With the Big Heart." Even the Sioux were impressed with the "strong medicine" of this "man who never lays down his gun."

Kelly engaged as a free trapper in the then mysterious Yellowstone country until he knew it as did no other man. It was because of his life as a wilderness hermit that he became known as "Lone Wolf" and "Yellowstone" Kelly. When in 1873, Gen. George A. Forsyth was sent to explore the upper Missouri and Yellowstone, he took Kelly as guide and Forsyth's report was invaluable when the Sioux war broke out three years later.

Kelly's services for General Miles, for whom he became chief scout during the bitter winter campaign of 1876-77, were invaluable, so General Miles testified. He remained with Miles until 1878 and from 1880 to 1883 was a scout for federal troops in the Ute country in Colorado.

Of the campaigns in which Kelly participated there were three that stood out prominently. The first was against Sitting Bull, who surrounded a wagon train. The "hostiles" were located by Kelly and his followers and routed by Miles.

In a second similar campaign, General Miles' troops defeated the Sioux, who sent several of their number for a conference with the general during which it was agreed that the Sioux should deliver three chiefs as hostages to insure that the tribe would leave the region.

BELGRADE GIRLS WARNED

Belgrade, Yugo-Slavia.—The headmaster of one of the girls' high schools here recently paraded all the pupils from fifteen to twenty years of age, and told them that if they did not wear the plain frocks regulations prescribed, stop using rouge and lipstick, and stop shaving their eyebrows, they would be expelled, "even if they were daughters of a cabinet minister."

Many people regard his step as oppressive. Belgrade is a town that strives very hard to be five minutes ahead of Paris, and eyebrow shaving took hold of the high school girls like fire to tinder. Serbian girls often have a marvelously thick and luscious eyebrow, and there was a trace of regret for the "good old times" in the headmaster's dictum that he "considered a girl's eyebrows her greatest ornament."

Some Dairymen Get Coolie Wage Scale

TESTING RECORDS PROVE PART OF HERD OWNERS RECEIVE FOUR CENTS PER HOUR.

That some Michigan Dairymen receive less for their labor than the wage paid to Chinese coolies is shown by the figures obtained in herd improvement association records.

These figures show that the owners of some herds receive a labor wage of four cents an hour after the cost of the feed is subtracted from the receipts for milk or butterfat. The same records show that other members of the associations are getting 80 cents per hour for their work with the dairy herds.

Production records prove that one third of the cows pay a profit, one third break even, and one third produce milk at a decided expense of their owners. A dairy speedometer consisting of a set of milk scales and a daily weight sheet for recording production is the only means of determining which cows yield a profit and what are star boarders.

Size, age, or breed are not the factors which determine the productivity of a cow, as the records of the association show that cattle of the same age, weight, or breed, may vary in production by thousands of pounds of milk. While the high producer may require more feed than the poor cow, this extra cost is returned many fold in the higher yield of milk and butterfat.

Boarders should be culled out of the Michigan dairy herds, according to statements of members of the dairy department at Michigan State College, and the use of the dairy speedometer is advised in all herds.

Spokane Policewoman Gets Shooting Award

Spokane, Wash.—Mrs. Grace Amick, local policewoman, who totes a "police positive" on her tours of duty, has been awarded a medal for being one of the first four ranking marksmen of the force.

She won the class C shoot and was decorated by Col. Joseph K. Parleto, commander of the Fourth Infantry at Fort George Wright, who said it was a new experience for him, despite a long military career of citations and decorations.

The duties of Mrs. Amick lead her into dance halls and frequently into the necessity of arresting unruly men as well as girls, but so far her well-known ability with the revolver has enabled her to make arrests without difficulty.

Tonight, Friday, the L. A. S. invites all who are interested to come to the church at 7:30, to hear about and see the pictures of Muscle Shoals. No admission. No collection. All will be welcome.

Mrs. Dopp of Detroit, will be the speaker at the morning service Sunday, and Rev. Dopp will give an illustrated talk on the "Goodwill Industries" in the evening. Both Rev. and Mrs. Dopp are very interesting speakers, and all are cordially invited to come and enjoy both of these services.

The L. A. S. circles will meet next Wednesday afternoon, as follows: Mrs. Passage's circle, at the home of Mrs. Arlo Soth, 297 North Harvey street; Mrs. Partridge's circle, with Mrs. Jack Kenter, 512 North Mill street; Mrs. Honey's circle, with Mrs. Wm. Hood, 1177 Penniman avenue.

The mid-week service will be held as usual on Wednesday evening, 7:15 to 8:00 o'clock. It is a season of spiritual refreshing, that we all need to carry us through the cares of the week. The secret of a well rounded Christian life is the time employed in prayer and meditation on the things of God. Jesus spent much time in communication with God.

We were very glad, indeed, to have Bishop and Mrs. Nicholson with us in the Sunday-school last Sunday morning.

CATHOLIC NOTES

Next Sunday is Holy Communion Sunday for the men of the parish—the Holy Name Sunday.

The baseball team had its first practice last Sunday, upon its grounds. Many aspirants for the team were out looking for a regular berth upon the team. The team will be managed by John VanBonn. Joe Schomberger will assist the manager, and Raymond Levandowski will book the games. The opening game will be played upon Nethem's grounds, Ann Arbor and Plymouth roads, Sunday, April 21, against the local Plymouth Merchant team.

Thursday night, April 18th, a card party—five hundred and bridge will be played—in the auditorium, followed by keno. All are invited.

The tickets on the hope chest are still lingering in the homes of some people. Kindly return same as soon as possible, so that the hope chest can be disposed of.

The babes of Mr. and Mrs. P. McIntosh and Mr. and Mrs. J. Remus were baptized last Sunday—John Donald and Martin David.

Saturday at 9:30 a. m., the catechism instructions for the children will resume. The bus will again be in service at Rosedale and Newburg.

EPISCOPAL NOTES

The second of the St. John's spring supper series will be given on Wednesday, April 17, at 6:30 p. m. The entertainment feature for this evening will be a garden talk, which should be of particular interest at this season. Come and hear it!

Those who enjoyed the first of this series can tell you what splendid programs are in store for you, and what a fine supper is served; two good things at about the cost of one.

There will be a special meeting of the vestry, immediately after the service on Sunday morning. All members of the vestry are requested to be present.

Every Sunday is a "Little Easter"—a perpetual memory of the joy of that first day of the week which revealed the living Christ.

One day a week is the Lord's day. "Remember the Sabbath."

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES.

Twenty members of the Busy Women's Bible Class enjoyed a pot-luck dinner at the manse, on Tuesday. The business meeting was followed by a program and games.

Newburg School Notes

By Gladys Allen
Grammar Room

Miss Jameson visited our room Tuesday afternoon, and gave us two more stars, which were for Teacher and Citizenship club. We had a regular citizenship meeting, and gave a short play, "How Antonio Salvo Became an American Citizen."

The boys and girls of the grammar and intermediate rooms, went to the show, "Friends in Feathers," Monday morning, at Plymouth. Mr. Hastings of the State Department of Conservation who had taken the pictures, told us many interesting things about the birds.

The Four-H clubs of the Elm, Stark, Kinyon and Deckay schools met with us to hold their achievement day, Friday afternoon. All the handicraft clubs were 100% finishers. In our school the first place for handicraft was given to Clarence Levandowski, second place to Marvin Schmidt, and third place to Elton Bakewell. In sewing for first year work, first place was tied between Alice Bakewell and Yvonne Hearn, second place, Dorothy Schmidt. Third year sewing, first place was given to Geraldine Schmidt. In the handicraft club, Clarence Levandowski was judged the healthiest boy; in sewing, Alice Bakewell was judged the healthiest girl, and in the hot lunch club, Margaret Osten was judged the healthiest girl.

A great many parents and friends of the club members were present. Mr. Pierson and Miss Green, state club leaders, did the judging. Everyone had a very enjoyable afternoon. At 6:30 p. m., the hot lunch club served a dinner to their parents and the school board.

The boys played their fourth ball game for this season, Tuesday afternoon. They have won every game so far. They are anxious to enter into the baseball league to compete for the cup.

Parents-Teacher meeting will be postponed until a week from Friday, April 19th because of the Ladies' Aid play which is to be given this Friday night. The Parent-Teacher Association will receive their gold star at that time. Miss Jameson, our helping teacher will be with us. The president of the grammar room Citizenship Club, Lester Bassett, will give the star to the parents. We hope as many as possible can will come to this meeting. It will begin promptly at 8:00 o'clock.

The boys and girls are putting on a drive for Parent-Teacher memberships, which will end that night. We hope to have all our new members with us.

We have a new pupil in the eighth grade, Jack Goodsel.

Are You Planning A Home?
Here is a suggestion . . .

Builders of the most modern homes of today are including in their plans specifications for extension telephones in various rooms. The old time reception hall telephone is being augmented by extension telephones in the library, bedroom and kitchen. They promote convenience and quick answers.

The additional cost is slight, and adequate telephone service is a requisite in the present day home.

The Telephone manager will be glad to tell you more about extension telephones and house wiring plans.
