HOCKEY CLUB HELD MEETING

HOCKEY CLUB MEETING AND BANQUET HELD AT HOTEL MAYFLOWER.

PLANS DISCUSSED FOR NEXT SEASON.

Last Wednesday evening the Plymouth Hockey Club met at the Hotel Mayflower where they enjoyed a fine banquet and "talked hockey" for two or three hours. After reviewing the past season, playing over some of the games etc., the possibilities of the coming season were discussed, and from all indications at the present time there will be a stronger and better team in the race another year.

When the Hockey club organized last fall and decided to enter the Detroit Municipal league, the players were handicapped in more ways than one. The greatest handicap, however, was the lack of a place to practice. Money had to be raised to buy equipment for the players, the league entrance fee and for rent of ice for practice.

Two practice games were held at the Olympia, but $12.50 per hour for each team proved rather expensive, so the boys journeyed to Windsor for four practice games, also to Ann Arbor two or three times.

In spite of the fact that the team lacked sufficient practice during the season, they made a real good showing by finishing the regular schedule in a tie for third place out of ten teams, and secured a place in the play-offs.

Each team played nine games in the regular schedule. Plymouth won six and lost three. In the play-offs they were eliminated by losing two games.

Exclusive of the games played in Detroit, a few games were played with Ann Arbor team, one with Brighton, and one in Bloomfield, Ontario. Letters were received from Battle Creek, Flint and Monroe, asking for games, but those teams wanted return games in Plymouth, which of course couldn't be arranged, on account of not having a rink.

Plans for the coming season were talked over and many were of the opinion that unless a rink could be built in Plymouth, there would be little use of entering the league another year. However, the local club, with the assistance of the fans are going to keep up interest, and do all in their power to secure a rink of some description for next season.

Hockey is gaining in favor in the states by leaps and bounds and many towns and cities are erecting rinks, knowing it to be a paying proposition not only for hockey, but for skating, ice carnivals, curling etc.

A committee was appointed to gather information relative to the cost of a rink similar to the rink in Bloomfield, Ont., the cost of running same, average receipts etc. and when this information is secured the proposition of an enclosed rink in Plymouth will be up for discussion.

Grim Reaper Calls Frederick Schroder

Frederick Schroder was born in Mecklinburg, Germany, July 12, 1851, and died very suddenly April 9, 1929, of heart disease, aged 77 years, eight months and 27 days. He was united in marriage to Frederica Furstenow on the third of November, 1880. Six children were blessed of this union, Charles and Herman, born in Germany, and Louis, Henry, Emma and Albert in this country. Henry having been deceased at the age of eleven years. He leaves one grandchild, Betty Ann of Detroit.

They came to this country in the year 1884, and have spent the greater part of their lives in the vicinity of Plymouth.

A very impressive funeral service was held at Schrader Brothers' Funeral Home at 2:00 o'clock Thursday afternoon and was conducted by Rev. Shoen, pastor of the Salem Evangelical Church of Farmington. Interment took place at Clarenceville cemetery.

New Bus Stop.

On or about May first the bus stop for the Detroit busses is to be transferred to the northeast corner of Ann Arbor and South Main streets, on the Ann Arbor street side of Kellogg Park. This is being done to eliminate the congestion of the Hotel Mayflower entrance and to provide a location where busses may turn into South Main street without making a left hand turn. The new location will likewise be less convenient for patrons than the present stop.

Village President Makes Appointments

At a regular meeting of the Village Commission Monday evening, President George H. Robinson announced the following appointments for the ensuing year, which appointments were duly confirmed by the Commission.

Village Attorney—Roger J. VanGuhn. Health Officer—Dr. A. E. Patterson. Board of Review—Fred J. Thomas and Walter Smith.

All are new appointees except Dr. Patterson, who has served as health officer for the past year.

Kiwanians Hear Interesting Talk

The members of the Kiwanis club were fortunate at their regular luncheon meeting at the Hotel Mayflower Tuesday noon, in the selection of Dr. Eugene Carr, Associate Professor of Sociology at the University of Michigan, as speaker of the day. Dr. Carr who was brought to Plymouth by Kiwanian Jack Emens, talked on "Horse and Buggy Chauffeurs" stressing some of the problems confronting the modern sociologist. While offering no solutions for the weighty problems brought up, the doctor's observations made an interesting half-hour for those who heard him.

Achievement Day Saturday, April 27

The boys and girls 4-H Club achievement day will be held Saturday, April 27th, in the Dearborn High School beginning at 10:00 o'clock.

Following the luncheon at noon, a program for the boys and girls, the style show of clothing girls and the announcement of the county champions in all of the projects will take place.

Miss Lola Beale Green and Nevels Pearson, assistant state club leaders, will be present to determine the placings and to announce the winners.

Parents and friends of the boys and girls are cordially invited to attend and enjoy the events of the day.

Woman's Club Met At Hotel Mayflower

A regular meeting of the Plymouth Woman's Club was held at the Hotel Mayflower last Friday afternoon, April 12th, with a goodly number in attendance. In the absence of the president, Mrs. D. N. McKimmon, the first vice-president, Mrs. Frank Burrows, presided over the business session. The program was presented as follows with Mrs. J. T. Chapman, chairman of divisions, acting as leader, in the absence of Mrs. E. A. Landrum:

Piano selection, "Fantasia," Mozart, was pleasantly rendered by Mrs. James Honey.

Mrs. Chapman then introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Miss E. Genevieve Gillette of Detroit, who spoke on "Our Gardens." Miss Gillette is a landscape architect of considerable note in Detroit. She was connected with the Breitmeyer Florists for seven years, and is vice-president of the National Rose Society, and also chairman of the garden club work of the North American Flower show.

Her talk was intensely interesting and was appreciated by all present. She gave several helpful suggestions for the small garden. At the conclusion of her talk, the club extended to her a ringing vote of thanks.

The closing number of the program was a pantomime, "Comin' Thru the Rye," presented by little Dorothy Ann Richard, assisted by Mrs. Homer Baughn, with Mrs. Richard at the piano, after which little Dorothy repeated to an encore, with "How the Elephant Got His Trunk."

On motion the club adjourned.

A COAST TO COAST HOOK-UP.

Judge J. F. Rutherford, president of the International Bible Student's association, will be on the air from coast to coast Sunday, April 21st, 10 to 11 a. m. WKH, Cleveland, is one of the stations. Thirty-four stations in the program.

ASST. GAS MANAGER GOES TO ALMA PLANT

PERLEY H. DEAL ASSUMES MANAGERSHIP OF ALMA PLANT; WAS POPULAR IN PLYMOUTH.

Perley H. Deal, who has been assistant manager of the local plant of the Michigan Federated Utilities, has been transferred to the managership of the Alma, Michigan, plant of the same company. The Alma plant also supplies service to the neighboring towns of St. Louis and Brookridge.

The place made vacant by Mr. Deal's transfer has been filled by Carl Hanner, formerly sales manager of the company's plant at Mt. Clemens.

During the time Mr. Deal has been in Plymouth, he has been an indefatigable worker in helping to build up his company's business, and in giving the best service to its patrons. He is going to be missed in social circles and in the civic affairs of the village in which he always took a keen interest. He was president of the Chamber of Commerce and an enthusiastic Kiwanian.

Mr. Deal will not move his family to Alma until after school closes.

Perley's many Plymouth friends wish him all kinds of success in his new position, although they are reluctant to have him and his family leave Plymouth.

The Mail takes pleasure in welcoming to Plymouth business circles, the new assistant manager Mr. Hanner, and wishes him success in his new undertaking. He will move his family here soon after school closes.

M. S. C. Extension Class Met Tuesday

The Canton Home Furnishing class met Tuesday, April 16th with Mrs. Albert Griffith, Canton Center road. The subject of this lesson was "The Lighting of the Home." The first point discussed was natural lighting which takes up the placement of windows and their influence on both the interior and exterior of a home. This was followed by a discussion on the different kinds of artificial lights and their placement. Candles, oil lamps, gas and electric lights were all taken up in turn. If lights are arranged to form a triangle or a square in a room, more pleasing and interesting shadow effects will be obtained.

Special emphasis was placed on electric lights, portable lamps and their design, and the making of parchment and wrapping paper lamp shades.

Anyone interested in the subject will find members of the class glad to answer questions and help in any way possible. The next and last lesson of this series will be on accessories in the home. The date and place of the meeting will be announced later.

Detroit-Wayne Airport To Open July First

MODERN TERMINAL IS PLANNED TO CARE FOR ALL FACILITIES.

July 1st is set for the completion of the Detroit-Wayne Industrial Airport, according to an announcement made by the sponsors of the project at the All-American Aircraft show at Detroit, recently.

The airport has been planned to provide adequate facilities for the manufacture of aircraft and the development of commercial aviation activities.

The new Stinson factory is in operation at the industrial airport, turning out one plane a day. A daily production of five planes is planned.

The airport is situated between two highways leading to Detroit, the Ecorse and Van Born roads, and is bounded on the east by the Pere Marquette Railroad. The field is a mile square and when completed will afford a minimum landing area of 3,500 feet in every direction, and the maximum of 4,800 feet east and west. Besides the landing area for aircraft which comprises 280 acres, 360 acres are available for sites for aircraft factories, hangars, flying schools, and other airport facilities.

A modern terminal is planned and is to be equipped with all facilities for handling passenger traffic mails, express, freight and baggage. Restaurants, machine shops, service garages and a clubhouse are also to be provided at the airport.

Industrial sites fronting on the railroad and flying field provide ideal locations for manufacturers of both aircraft and aircraft accessories.

Transportation facilities to and from Detroit include 20 minute bus service. Shipping facilities are provided by both the Pere Marquette and Michigan Central Railroads.

WAYNE CO. STARTED ROAD WORK MONDAY

Board of Commissioners Hire 1,200 Men and Send 12 Paving Machines Out to Work on Highways.

Wayne County's road construction season started April 15th, with the dispatch of 12 paving machines to several "jobs" awaiting early completion and the employment of about 1,200 men for a variety of construction work, according to John K. Norton, road engineer of the Board of County Road Commissioners.

"The work laid out for this season is about the same volume as that of last season," Mr. Norton said. "A few new jobs will be started, but in the main the program for 1929 calls for the completion of work which had to be left unfinished last year when frost and winter weather ended road building."

The 1929 program includes the following road construction work, according to Mr. Norton:

- Fort street, a 240-foot superhighway, is to be completed from the

Smudge Calls Out Fire Dept. Sunday

Attend Meeting.

Raymond Bachelder, Wm. Petz and G. A. Bakewell of the local real estate board, attended a conference of real estate brokers in Pontiac, Thursday of last week. John Berge, sales counselor for the National Board, had for his topics, "Maps and Charts" and "Closing a Sale." These gentlemen are making a nation-wide tour of all the principal cities, with the expressed idea of bringing to the realtors all the best methods now used by the most successful realtors throughout the country. The meeting was held in the Masonic temple, and was the second largest in attendance in the state.

VILLAGE CLEAN-UP NEED IS CITED

VILLAGE COMMISSION HAS SET THE WEEK OF APRIL 22 TO 27 AS CLEAN-UP WEEK.

Plymouth's clean-up campaign which is to start April 22 and continue until April 27, is of vital importance to the health and attractiveness of the village.

The part that the cleanliness and attractiveness of a village or city plays in attracting the favorable attention of visitors from points outside is unestimable. It is of much importance to the man who is looking for a place to establish a home.

Back yards and alleys should be given a thorough cleaning during the accumulation of rubbish during the forepart of the week and place along the curb or street line for the village trucks to gather on the last two days. All manner of rubbish will be trucked away without expense to the householder.

There are lots of places where flowers might be planted and thereby enhance the beauty of and attract the favorable attention of the passerby.

The village commission has requested citizens to gather this winter's accumulation of rubbish during the forepart of the week and place along the curb or street line for the village trucks to gather on the last two days. All manner of rubbish will be trucked away without expense to the householder.

Kiwanis Ladies Hostesses To Enjoyable Affair

Last Friday night the members of the local Kiwanis club and their ladies enjoyed one of their frequent "Ladies Nights" at the Hotel Mayflower which, unlike its predecessors, was a 100 per cent ladies' night in that the whole affair was arranged and conducted by the ladies themselves. After an excellent dinner had been served several musical and verbal numbers were presented which made the event a most pleasant evening which will in all probability, be repeated in the future.

The committee in charge consisted of the following ladies of Kiwanis, Amy Larkins, Flora Rathburn, Ella Robinson, Minnie Gayde, Margaret Mastick and Beatrice Bachelder.

UNITING THE FAMILY

Every now and then we see in some family around Plymouth a lack of sympathy and cooperation that should not exist. It is more conspicuous at the present time than heretofore, because life is more complex than ever. If children look upon parents as “back numbers,” and if older people regard youth as unappreciative of advantages it is because there is a lack of comradeship between them. One of the easiest and most important methods of overcoming this difficulty lies in a plan whereby parents train their offspring in regard to money matters. Take the young people into paternal confidence. Teach them what it means to turn honest endeavor into dollars. Show them how every cent of the family income represents conscientious energy and life blood and is, therefore, a sacred commodity to be treated accordingly. There is nothing better calculated to bind members of a family into a united group, all interested in making a success of the enterprise. Understanding each other's problems, those problems will be more easily solved. No matter what the home contains, it is never complete without harmony.

WHAT NEGLECT COSTS

According to estimates sent out from Washington, American farmers who neglect or delay the regular painting of their homes, barns, fences and mechanical equipment from year to year, are piling up an annual loss of approximately $800,000,000.

The government, in urging a painting campaign, points out the false economy of the idea that a property owner is saving money by failing to protect his buildings from the weather. The decay of wood, the rust and corrosion of metal, both of which can be prevented by paint and made to serve far longer than if paint is not applied, is eating away the profits of rural residents at an alarming rate, declare Uncle Sam's experts.

Rural residents around Plymouth need not be told that changing climate—heat and cold, moisture and dryness—quickly affect wood and metal. They know that without being told. But they have not learned, at least not all of them, that they can save more money by applying a coat of paint every three years than they can make by not applying it. And neither are all of them aware that one coat every three years is better than a double coat at long intervals. But these are facts, worked out after careful experiments over a long period of years and with every kind of wood and metal. Since there isn't any more money floating about this neighborhood than is good for us, let's study this paint proposition a little and see if we can't stop at least one leak by protecting property exposed to the elements, instead of letting it go to rack and ruin.

CLEANING IT UP

Uncle Sam appears to think the grocery business of this country needs cleaning up. So the Federal Trade Commission has drawn up a code of ethics for the grocers of America and asked them to sign it and abide by it. It provides that there are to be no more secret rebates, secret concessions or price discriminations; no more giving of premiums involving a game of chance or lottery; no more false, untrue or misleading advertisements; no more deceptive shaped containers and no more selling below cost for the purpose of injuring a competitor. It is also ordered that there are to be no more misleading selling prices, no free deals by manufacturers, and no substitution by a wholesaler or retailer of another product for the product ordered. To most of us it will be news that all this has been going on among a certain class of grocers. But the government must be aware of its existence or it would not be asking the guilty ones to quit it. The fact that there are more honest grocers than there are dishonest ones ought to help a lot in the house-cleaning.

THOSE “AIR SERMONS”

Quite a good while ago we predicted that the radio, while a blessing in a great many ways, might some day prove a serious problem in church attendance. And now our prediction appears to have come true. The man who substitutes an hour of listening in on a radio sermon instead of going to church in person is betraying the spiritual interests of his entire community, asserts Dr. S. Parkes Cadman in an interview.

Dr. Cadman preaches every Sunday afternoon in Brooklyn, N. Y., and his sermons are broadcast regularly over a network that reaches many millions of listeners. We are sure a large number around Plymouth regularly enjoy these sermons. And yet this same Dr. Cadman realizes that unless radio listeners pledge themselves not to let their “air sermons” interfere with their regular attendance at some church, the church itself, and especially those in our small towns and rural communities, are going to suffer.

“No sermon on the air can bring that satisfaction that comes with sitting in the presence and listening to the minister who is also your neighbor in the community,” asserts Dr. Cadman. Nor can a radio sermon minister to the sick like the neighborhood minister does in person, we might add. The radio, as we have all along contended, is a blessing. But it can also be abused. And it is being abused to the detriment of the whole community if you depend upon it for your sermons and thus rob your neighborhood church of your presence.

THE SMALL TOWN WINS.

It ought to be gratifying to Plymouth citizens to note that Calvin Coolidge, upon leaving the presidency of the United States could have joined a New York law firm and his earnings would have been more than $200,000 a year, but instead of living in America's greatest city, and instead of plunging himself into complicated legal practice he chose to return to his home town of Northampton, Mass. In his home town he can live the simple life he so much loves. He can be more free in doing what he wants to do. With the world from which to choose, he chose his home town to make his home. His action is a fine commentary upon the smaller towns of America, and upon their opportunities and attractions. It proves that in spite of opportunities to live any place in the world, there is one man at least who prefers the advantages of the small town.

X-Ray Used on Flies to Help Human Race

Washington.—Flies which have long been held in had esteem as spreaders of disease are about to do their bit in helping the human race. They are being used now for studies of the effect of X-rays on future generations. In flies, the harmful effects of these rays appear in the third and fourth generation, Dr. Mary B. Stark of New York city reported recently. She has exposed flies to X-rays for varying lengths of time.

While the individuals exposed continue to grow and breed, their descendants die off. Doctor Stark believes this is because the reproductive cells of the grandparent or great-grandparent flies were injured by the rays. This injury is inherited and finally causes death. In this same way cancer may be produced in third and fourth generations of flies.

Doctor Stark believes that the experiments on flies will throw some light on this problem in human beings. Her theory is not accepted by all scientists, however. Because the human race breeds slowly, it will be some time before the inherited effects of X-rays can be noticed in man.

FOUR-YEAR-OLD AVERAGES BOOK EVERY THREE DAYS

Preocious Precision Corrects Grammatical Errors.

Birmingham, Ala.—Just at the age when other children in the neighborhood are content with stories in colored pictures and Mother Goose jingles, Howard Young, four, of Birmingham, is completing the reading of his thirtieth book. The book is a reader suitable for a fourth grade child and contains many words that would cause an older child to stumble.

Howard has been reading since he was three, according to his parents. He reads aloud, pronouncing each word distinctly. When he hits an unfamiliar one he repeats it syllable by syllable until he has mastered it. When he comes to a word whose meaning he does not understand, it is explained to him with illustrations from every-day life.

In his father's library is stacked on a table a high pile of books. These are Howard's, and each is marked with the date it was begun and finished. Examination showed that Howard averaged a book every three days. The group includes a variety of primers recommended by school authorities for first, second and third-grade children, and numbers of supplementary readers. Among the titles are "Reynard Fox," "Windmill and the Wooden Shoes," and James Baldwin's "Fairly Readers." Howard's father estimates that the child has read 4,000 pages.

The "word method" was used in instructing the child. The first word in the primer was "flag," which appeared under a picture of a flag. When he had definitely learned the word and its meaning he was taught the separate letters of the word. After he had learned a number of words, his lessons were advanced to the study of sentences.

In his conversation Howard shows evidence of his unusual mental development. He seldom makes a grammatical error and he uses words that the average child of that age has not learned. When Howard hears his playmates make an error in speech he is quick to notice it.

When he recently heard a small chum say "that's a good 'un," he informed him that he should have said "good one" instead. He even corrects his elders when necessary. Not long ago he was visiting with his parents, when his hostess used the word "ain't" he quickly remarked that there was no such word in the dictionary.

Howard's parents hope that he will be ready to enter Harvard at the age of fourteen.

Illusions of Romantic
East Lost After Trip

Philadelphia.—Three adventuresome young men who recently completed a rapid 14,000-mile tour into the heart of Transjordan, Arabia, and Syria returned with shattered opinions about romantic illusions of the desert.

The travelers—Robert P. Brown of Moorestown, N. J.; Richard A. Tausig and Chester P. McCreery, both of Germantown, Pa.—were entertained by three kings of the Near East.

Dusky beauties of the desert are non-existent, the youthful travelers said. The women, they said, are mere drudges. The bandit tribesmen, instead of sailing forth in gay garments, mounted on beautiful steeds and armed with antiquated guns, now use motor cars and machine guns in their forays, they said.

Finds Way to Color Pictures by Radio

New York.—Color printing of pictures sent by radio is one of the latest laboratory developments.

A new heat sensitive wax coated paper has been devised by Frank G. Morehouse of the Radio Corporation of America.

A hot-air brush passes over this paper, with air jets actuated by radio. The air jets melt the wax, making a pattern corresponding to the lights and shades on the original photo.

An ink roller run over this pattern brings out the picture instantly and permanently. Mr. Morehouse has arranged a signal code to enable the receiving operator to ink pictures in colors.

Why Fish Get Away

"To go a-fishing," said El Ho, the sage of Chinatown, "is to serve notice that, even in the midst of public demonstrations, time is required for personal, serious thought. And this is why so many fish escape."—Washington Star.

EXILED SWEDES WANT TO RETURN

Stockholm.—After 250 years of exile from their ancestral homeland a Swedish colony which now numbers 800 villagers and farmers of Gammalsvensky in the government of Cherson, southern Russia, has appealed to the Stockholm government to be brought back to Sweden.

Their story is that of a community exiled for centuries yet always dreaming of their homeland, and for generation after generation rigidly maintaining their native schools, language, customs and religion. Their ancestors left Swedish shores about 1670, and for 100 years were settled on the Esthonian island of Dugoe.

In 1781 Empress Catherine II of Russia ordered them to the Ukrainian steppes near the falls of the river Dniaper. Cossacks escorted them on that forced march. Their caravans, like the wagon trains that crossed the western plains of America in the days of '49, crawled 1,200 miles to the new home.

The journey took nine months, and more than half the colonists died on the way. In 1792 the group numbered only 200 persons, according to the cherished church record of the Swedish vicar.

When forefathers of the group left Sweden, Dague Island and all the Baltic territory belonged to Sweden. The liberties they had enjoyed under Swedish rule were taken from them in 1721 when Russia, expanding toward the sea, took possession of Baltic shores. Russian landowners attempted to force the Swedish settlers into a condition of serfdom.

The Swedes sent deputy after deputy to the empress, and at last, in 1780, succeeded in getting an imperial ukase which defended their rights, a precursor of the liberty granted all Russian peasants 80 years later.

But under the new freedom the colony was ordered to the Ukrainian steppes.

The tenacity with which they have clung to Swedish culture, a record proudly preserved in parish Bibles, has aroused deep admiration through Sweden and the government is studying plans to help the Gammalsvensky colony realize its ambitions.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of dear mother, Emily L. Ballen, who passed away four years ago today, April 15, 1925:

The world may change from year to year, And friends from day to day, Like the one I love, From memories pass away. The blow was hard, the shock severe, God alone knows how we miss you here. And only those who have lost can tell The pain of parting with no farewell. Days of sadness still come over us, Tears in silence often flow, For memory keeps you ever near us, Like the one you died four years ago. Her loving daughter, Mrs. Wm. Powell.

OVERSTUFFED FURNITURE WANT TO RETURN

Stockholm.—After 250 years of exile from their ancestral homeland a Swedish colony which now numbers 800 villagers and farmers of Gammalsvensky in the government of Cherson, southern Russia, has appealed to the Stockholm government to be brought back to Sweden.

Their story is that of a community exiled for centuries yet always dreaming of their homeland, and for generation after generation rigidly maintaining their native schools, language, customs and religion. Their ancestors left Swedish shores about 1670, and for 100 years were settled on the Esthonian island of Dugoe.

In 1781 Empress Catherine II of Russia ordered them to the Ukrainian steppes near the falls of the river Dniaper. Cossacks escorted them on that forced march. Their caravans, like the wagon trains that crossed the western plains of America in the days of '49, crawled 1,200 miles to the new home.

The journey took nine months, and more than half the colonists died on the way. In 1792 the group numbered only 200 persons, according to the cherished church record of the Swedish vicar.

When forefathers of the group left Sweden, Dague Island and all the Baltic territory belonged to Sweden. The liberties they had enjoyed under Swedish rule were taken from them in 1721 when Russia, expanding toward the sea, took possession of Baltic shores. Russian landowners attempted to force the Swedish settlers into a condition of serfdom.

The Swedes sent deputy after deputy to the empress, and at last, in 1780, succeeded in getting an imperial ukase which defended their rights, a precursor of the liberty granted all Russian peasants 80 years later.

But under the new freedom the colony was ordered to the Ukrainian steppes.

The tenacity with which they have clung to Swedish culture, a record proudly preserved in parish Bibles, has aroused deep admiration through Sweden and the government is studying plans to help the Gammalsvensky colony realize its ambitions.

Flawless Gems Rule

Diamond Mart Trade

New York.—Fine diamonds of absolute purity and free from flaws are in greater demand than ever before, and exceptional stones are being produced, valued at $50,000 and $100,000 each, according to Dr. George F. Kunz, noted gem expert of Tiffany & Company, who discusses recent events in the field of Engineering and Mining Journal. Only a small number of diamonds are being cut in brilliant form, many of them being emerald cut or square.

The fine emeralds of Colombia are much in demand, Doctor Kunz declares, and unusual stones are selling as high as $2,000 to $5,000 a carat. Many precious stones with flaws are being sent to India, where a leaf or flower is engraved on them to cover the imperfection.

Historic Old Chair

Is Placed in Museum

Montgomery, Ala.—The chair in which Jefferson Davis sat during his inauguration as president of the Southern states confederacy has been placed in Alabama state department of archives and history.

The historic piece has been in the possession of the department for 25 years, but only recently has been renovated and placed on exhibition. The chair was a gift to the state from descendants of Col. Edmund Harrison, whose home across the street from the state capitol here was utilized by President Davis as his first headquarters.

The exact position of the chair on the portico of the Harrison home during the ceremony is designated by a large metal plaque bearing the date of the inauguration, February 18, 1862.

A specially designed cabinet will house the chair in the state museum.

Universal Desires

It is the beautiful necessity of your nature to love something.—Douglas Ferrod.

NEWBURG

There was a fine attendance at church, Sunday. The new pulpit and three chairs make quite an addition to the appearance of the church. Mrs. Jewel had a beautiful red amefills with five flowers in full bloom, besides two lovely baskets to grace the altar. Our church is quite up to date, with its church calendar, proving the pastor is a live wire.

The Queen Esther girls put on a splendid Sunday evening program.

Sorry there were not more present.

Saturday evening at the church, a wonderful treat was given to all who attended the Sunday-school contest. Cecil, the magician from Detroit, kept the audience mystified and in an uproar of laughter for two hours.

The L. A. S. supper by Mrs. Joy's division, last Wednesday evening, was well patronized.

Friday evening the play, "The Minister Comes to Tea," brought out a full house. It was given by Mrs. Thomas division, and they cleared over $30.00. All those taking part created lots of fun. Alice Bakewell gave a humorous reading. Little Floyd Harwood, Newburg's youngest musician, entertained on the trombone. Our pastor helped out in his usual pleasing manner.

The Men's Club held another one of their get-together parties Tuesday evening. Fred Geney, as chef, knew how to feed them. An upright Sterling piano has been purchased for the club, and paid for through the generosity of Melvin Gutberle and Farwell Brand, for which the club members and the L. A. S. wish to thank them.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bassett and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mellbeck motored to Indiana, to visit Mr. and Mrs. Clark Bassett.

Dr. G. E. McKean of Detroit, was called in consultation with Dr. Cooper, Monday of this week, for C. E. Hyder, who is not getting along as well as his friends might wish.

BULLET HALTS FREEDOM DASH

Boston Billy's Spectacular Attempt to Beat Prison Rap Is Foiled.

Albany, N. Y.—Boston Billy Williams otherwise James Francis Monaghan, ex-street corner tough boy of Worcester, Mass., almost kept his promise recently "to beat the rap."

The rap was fifty years in prison, and the man who police say netted $1,000,000 in thefts and ended up with a cash capital of a sawtooth took another desperate chance in the series of dramatic episodes he has packed into his twenty-six years.

First he kicked down a deputy sheriff while the train in which he was being returned to prison was being transferred here, and then, temporarily freed of handcuffs, seized the sheriff's pistol, smashed with it a car window in the washroom and tried to crawl out. Another guard, a Nassau county detective, drew his revolver and fired as Monaghan tried to scramble over the shattered glass.

Furrows His Scalp.
The bullet tore a furrow in Monaghan's scalp and he fell back to the washroom floor with the cry, "You've got me this time." The bullet, fired at an angle, sped on, drilled through the steel wall of the pullman car and flattened itself against the opposite side of the berth in which a woman and her baby were sleeping. Neither was hurt.

Leaping to his feet, Monaghan fought like a caged rat, in spite of his wound. As he fought the detective a third guard who had been on the platform rushed in. A blow from a blackjack ended the unequal struggle, and the handcuffs were snapped once more on the criminal's wrists. A short time later, his head bandaged, Monaghan lay in his cell in Dannemora prison, Clinton, his dream of freedom still a dream.

Boston Billy is the thief and gang leader who committed the $100,000 jewelry robbery in the home of Jesse Livermore at King's Point, L. I., in 1927.

Alleged Accomplice Arrested.
Brought to Mincola, "Boston Billy" warned the authorities they would not keep him long. The white enameled bars of the Nassau county jail kept him, however, and after a hunger strike the thief set fire to a mattress in his cell. This also failed to lead to freedom.

Brought to trial, he was convicted and sentenced to half a century in Sing Sing.

In Sing Sing Monaghan repeated his threats and balked at prison discipline. Finally he was transferred to Dannemora, where it was believed his chances for escape were less.

Then Monaghan's alleged accomplice, Edgar Kane, former chauffeur for Mr. Livermore, was arrested in Wisconsin and "Boston Billy" promptly advised District Attorney Elvin N. Edwards of Nassau county and Capt. Harold R. King of the county police that he "had his" and was ready to spill everything. Police say they now realize this was merely a trick on Monaghan's part to get out of prison and make a break for freedom.

Asked on the witness stand about his confession implicating Kane, Monaghan denied everything. Questioned as to whether he had not said Kane was involved, Monaghan smiled sweetly and replied: "I did not."

On his way back to his cell in the cellar of the courthouse he remarked to his guards: "Well, I don't want to send another poor devil to jail."

Heads for Prison.
Monaghan started back for Dannemora in handcuffs. Because of his reputation and repeated threats, Sheriff William H. Strohman took unusual precautions. He had Sergt. John Smith of the Nassau county police assigned along with Detective Arthur Boyce and Deputy Sheriff Frank Davis.

While the train was being switched from the upper to the lower level at Albany, Monaghan asked to be permitted to go to the washroom. Boyce was on the platform walking up and down. Smith was standing near the open door of the pullman to guard against a break, and Davis after unlatching the handcuffs walked behind Monaghan to the washroom.

At the door the criminal turned suddenly, kicked Davis in the stomach, grabbed his gun, hurled it through the window and was trying to follow when Sergt. Smith rushed in, his pistol drawn, and fired twice. One shot took effect.

RADIUM BENEFITS ARE EXAGGERATED

Mayo Clinic Physician Tells of Its Value.

Rochester, Minn.—Although its use probably never will give the greatly exaggerated results credited in early investigations, radium has taken a definite place in the field of medicine and has proved of infinite value in the treatment of many diseases, according to Dr. Harry D. Bowen of the Mayo clinic here.

Understanding of the limitations of radium treatment and co-operation between the surgeon, the roentgenologist and the radiologist promise to bring about great advances in use of radium, Doctor Bowen said. The public should be educated, he declared, that radium is of great value in treating some ailments but cannot be regarded as a "cure all."

Since Mme. Curie announced in 1898 the discovery of a substance she called "Polonium," intensive investigation has revealed more about the nature of radium than is known about any other element, the Rochester physician said. In the later and more important developments he classed its increased use in internal treatment.

"Radium can be enclosed in small sealed glass tubes and inserted into the deeper tissues where its therapeutic rays may reach the affected areas," he explained.

Discovery of the therapeutic ray giving properties of radium is credited to Becquerel, who found that the skin near a coat pocket in which a container of the substance was carried became irritated after a few hours. His investigations following this discovery were the beginning of radiolumtherapy.

"The scarcity of radium has to a great extent curtailed its development and use," Doctor Bowen said. Its value he explained, is $70,000 a gram.

"Radium as a therapeutic substance is an ideal preparation. Its energy is liberated at a constant rate and no way ever has been found to alter the process. Neither heating nor cooling will change the rate of its disintegration."

Its intensity is regulated by the distance it is placed from the area to be treated. As the space intervening between the radium and the skin is increased so the "strength of the radium lessens," Doctor Bowen said.

Owing to the large initial cost, Doctor Bowen said, radiolumtherapy must for the present be limited to a small number of treatment stations located at medical centers.

"Should all the patients who might be helped by radium apply today for treatment there would not be sufficient radium at hand or enough trained workers available to care for them."

Vanished Race Leaves

Odd Pictures in Caves

Boise City, Okla.—Carved on cave and canyon walls in the Oklahoma panhandle is the pictorial record of a vanished race, the Faraone Indians.

The pictographs are described by Alfred B. Thomas, history instructor at the University of Oklahoma, as unlike any other known Indian art. They are found only in a restricted area of the Oklahoma and Texas panhandle and in southern Colorado.

Animals now extinct are depicted by the Indians' rock carvings. Foundations of palisaded stone and timber houses once occupied by the Faraones still are found, but efforts to trace the history of the race have been futile.

Superimposed on the Indian carvings are more recent engravings telling of Spanish and Mexican occupation and the visits of such American adventurers as Kit Carson.

American Gold Dollar to Be Czech Standard

Prague.—The American gold dollar will shortly become the monetary standard of Czechoslovakia, the government announced recently. The dollar will be used as a standard with the present Czechoslovakian crown convertible into gold on demand. Adoption of the gold standard would involve no increase in prices or in cost of living, it was said. (The present value of the Czechoslovakian crown is about 2.98 cents).

Takes Poison in His Sleep

Scarborough, England.—The coroner's jury investigating the death of Noel Sykes, nineteen-year-old chemist's apprentice, decided that he took poison during a period of somnambulism. He had been addicted to sleep-walking for many years.

Find Havana 'Tunnels'

Ancient Wine Cellars
Havana.—A network of tunnels discovered recently under the ancient municipal building here and first believed to be catacombs or at least secret passageways for the olden time Spanish padra, are, says the public works department, only old wine cellars.

Historians claim that Havana at one time was underlaid with a maze of tunnels connecting the many churches and convents with the waterfront. The purpose was to afford means of escape to priests and nuns who guarded immensely rich religious treasures.

Well-Dressed Irishmen

Adopt Novel Pajamas

Belfast.—The well-dressed young Irishman will sleep in very novel pajamas this year, according to orders received by Ulster shirt, collar and pajama manufacturers. Extra workers are necessary to meet the demand for fancy nightwear, and some firms report a 60 per cent increase in output. The day of the fancy shirt has gone, manufacturers say, as the fuzzy patterns have given way to plain materials of neat stripes.

RECORD AUTO OUTPUT, NEW EMPLOYMENT PEAK SET BY STATE PLANTS

MICHIGAN JUSTIFIES OPTIMISTIC FORECAST IN CONTINUED FORWARD MOVEMENT OF BUSINESS.

BY WAYNE W. PUTNAM, Assistant Vice-President, Union Trust Co.

The forward movement which has characterized business as a whole since the beginning of the year still continues. In general, it may be said that the rate of manufacturing activity and the volume of trade have justified even the most optimistic forecasts made at the opening of the first quarter. The probability is that the country is now witnessing the peak of activity for the first half of 1929 and that some relaxation may be expected during the latter part of the present quarter—the change being from exceptional prosperity to normal prosperity.

Stock Readjustments.

By far the most important development in the world of business during the past month was the readjustment of stock market values. This has been followed by a reduction in brokers' loans. Although expressing satisfaction over the first results of its policy to restrict the use of credit in the security market, the federal reserve board has made it plain that it expects further reduction of speculative loans in order that the overbuilt speculative structure may be corrected and business supplied with bank credit at reasonable rates. It is readily apparent that much good would result from slow and orderly readjustment of the stock market.

Building construction since the turn of the year has been the principal sufferer from the high interest rates that have prevailed since last fall. Construction contracts awarded in 37 states in the month of March, according to the F. W. Dodge corporation, amounted to $484,847,500, which was 34 per cent above the total for the preceding month, but 18 per cent below the total for March a year ago. Adverse conditions in the building industry have a far-reaching effect, since it is closely related to many labor groups and manufacturing lines.

Most Indices Favorable.

If the American Petroleum Institute is successful in carrying out its recently announced program for a reduction of 8 per cent in the production of oil below the output at this time last year, it will result in the revival of that industry from the unfavorable factors in the economic situation.

Most of the indices of business activity and prospects are favorable. Shippers of the country, through estimates of the shippers' regional advisory boards, anticipate that carload shipments of the 29 principal commodities in the second quarter of the year will be 7.5 per cent greater than those of the corresponding period of 1928. The indicated gain for the Great Lakes region is 9.6 per cent. New production records are being made by the steel and automobile industries. The new winter wheat crop is reported to be showing up better than usual and to be making generally favorable progress. February exports were the highest in five years.

Business failures in March were nearly 15 per cent fewer than in the corresponding month of last year, while liabilities were 32 per cent less. Most of the large business organizations are in a strong financial position. Employment is on the increase. Stocks of goods are not heavy. Trade is taking on a brighter color as the spring days have come.

Michigan Is Active.

Production of manufactures in Michigan during the past month was at a rapid pace. Most factories have sufficient orders booked to keep them well occupied for the next two or three months. Reports of overtime are more numerous than at any time during the past year. Chemical, vacuum cleaner, pharmaceutical, electrical appliances, cereal, farm machinery and electrical refrigeration establishments are exceptionally busy. Improvement is noted in the wood-working industry 58 of the 60 reporting factories operating on close to full-time schedules. Paper plants are also enjoying a good volume of production. Commercial fishing is beginning to open up. Ice conditions at the South are favorable to the resumption of navigation within the next few days.

Auto Industry Leads.

The fastest pace in the Michigan industrial situation is being struck by the automotive industry. March output is estimated at 595,000 passenger cars and trucks, the best monthly showing that the industry has ever made. February production, which broke all former monthly records, was exceeded by the number of vehicles manufactured last month by approximately 100,000 units, an extraordinary showing. Cars and trucks produced in March, 1928, amounted to 430,783 units. Ford output last month is estimated at 151,894 cars and trucks, as against 151,000 in the month of February. So far, April activity for the industry has been at the same high rate which prevailed in March.

Employment Good.

The industrial employment situation in Michigan is highly satisfactory. There is a shortage of skilled workers in numerous cities. Many unskilled workmen will be absorbed by the large amount of road and farm work which is beginning to open up. Available figures on the Detroit employment situation indicates a daily payroll of approximately 450,000 industrial workers, a new high record and an increase of about 75,000 compared with this time last year.

Consumption of electricity by Michigan manufacturers in March amounted to 224,853,530 kilowatt hours, as compared with 177,287,828 kilowatt hours in March last year.

Twenty-three Michigan cities issued permits in March for building having a total value of $17,127,814, as against a total value of $8,632,240 in the preceding month. The total for the same cities in March 1928, was $26,359,640. Debts to individual accounts in Bay City, Detroit, Flint, Kalamazoo, Muskegon and St. Joseph in March aggregated $1,967,942,000, as compared with $1,708,475,000 in February, and $1,633,925,000 in March a year ago.

Trade Advances.

Michigan's agricultural situation is promising. Winter wheat came through in good condition and fruit trees are in excellent shape.

Wholesale trade is substantially in advance of last year. Collections, both wholesale and retail, in Detroit are a little slower than they were in February but show an improvement out in the state. Retail distribution throughout Michigan during the past four weeks was much better than in the previous month.

Uncle Sam Owes Debt to Former Employees

Washington.—Fifty thousand persons in the United States can have an average of $20 each from the government merely by asking for it. But they don't. They are former employees of the United States who paid from 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 per cent of their monthly salaries into a retirement fund and then evidently forgot it. The retirement division of the pension bureau is trying now to locate them.

Nearly all these persons, the bureau explained, remained in the government service but a short time and then went elsewhere. When they left they either forgot the money they had paid to the retirement fund or else left it with the government, thinking it would draw interest. But it does not.

Last year the comptroller general called on all government departments to make a list of former employees to whom refunds were due. A list of $500 of the 50,000 has been compiled to date.

Many of these were employees in navy yards, post offices, or the veterans' bureau. Some of them have only a few cents due them. Others have $500 or more.

Uncle Sam doesn't want to keep the money, for there are none of his accounts to which it can be permanently and legally credited. But he is having trouble in finding its rightful owners.

In The Theater

"SYNTHETIC SIN"

"Synthetic Sin," regarded as the most entertaining and exciting comedy-drama in which Colleen Moore has ever appeared, has been booked for the Pennington Allen theatre Sunday and Monday, April 21 and 22.

Miss Moore, always a favorite with Plymouth theatre-goers, is said to have surpassed anything she ever done before as a comedienne with her portrayal in "Synthetic Sin." She will be seen as an innocent little Southern girl, who goes in search of "experience" in the underworld to obtain a dramatic background that will enable her to become a great actress. Her hilarious and melodramatic adventures are interwoven with an unusual romance that provides an exceptionally amusing plot. Antonio Moreno plays opposite Miss Moore in this First National picture, others in the cast being Montague Love, Gertrude Astor, Edythe Chapman and Kathryn McGuire.

"Synthetic Sin" will be remembered as a successful Broadway stage play, written by Frederick and Fanny Hayton. Tom J. Geraghty wrote the adaptation from which Director William A. Selter filmed the screen version, which was produced by John McCormick.

"HOMESICK"

When "Homesick," Fox Film featuring Sammy Cohen, the irrepressible comedian, comes to the screen of the Pennington Allen theatre, Wednesday and Thursday, April 24 and 25, those who see the picture will enjoy an experience akin to riding on the rear seat of a bicycle from New York to Los Angeles.

"Homesick," the story of which is a product of the Fox scenario department, deals primarily with a trans-continental bicycle race for which a prize of $25,000 is awarded the winner.

Coincidental with the announcement of the race in New York, there appears an advertisement inserted by a California girl who seeks a husband, but the applicant for her heart and hand must be in a financial position to buy a chicken ranch.

"Sunny," a New York boy, reads the ad, yearns to be the favored one, but finds himself without even the proverbial thin dime.

He edges into a poker game and, after two days' contumacious session with the pastboards, cleans out his partners.

The net proceeds, however, furnish him enough money to buy a bicycle, pay his entrance fee and take part in the big race with a pot of gold and a wife at the end of his rainbow.

His bitter enemy also enters the race, but Sunny and the two battle all the way across the continent.

Whether he wins the race and gets the wife remains to be told on the screen.

But those who see "Homesick" are promised a record-breaking entertainment of real laughs.

Marjorie Beebe, inimitable comedienne, is the girl in the case, and Harry Sweet, the impeccable enemy of Sammy Cohen, the hero.

Henry Lehman, who has directed comedies from the birth of films, is said to have done his finest work in this picture, screened solely for laughing purposes.

"HUNTINGTOWER"

Vera Voronina, the Russian actress who has won repeated praise for her successful appearances in American films, was selected to play the important feminine role in Sir Harry Lauder's first screen vehicle, "Huntingtower." This picture, in which the world-famous star won unstinted praise from the London press, will show at the Pennington Allen theatre Saturday, April 27.

In spite of the fact that Miss Voronina is very young, her biography reads like a moving picture scenario. Her motion picture career began in Vienna where she lived for a year after fleeing from Russia. She had worked as a mannequin for nine months with an interlude of motion picture extra work on one short production, when, one night in a cafe, a director introduced himself, arranged a screen test and gave her a leading role. Thereafter she played stage and picture roles in Munich, Berlin, Paris, Biarritz, Stockholm and other European cities before coming to the United States and Hollywood.

In "Huntingtower," she has one of the few sophisticated roles in a humanly sympathetic story of Scotch rural life and international adventure. Harry Lauder's performance in this picture won for him universal acclaim which indicates that his moving picture career, so auspiciously begun, will open to him an entirely new field for his art.

RIVALRY FICTION'S GREAT SLEUTHS

Detective Never Read Doyle,
but Gets His Man.

Canton, Ohio.—Ora Slater never read Sherlock Holmes nor heard of S. S. Van Dine, but he is a detective of fictional qualities just the same. Slater has figured prominently in three famous Ohio murder mysteries. He solved the Nesbitt case at Troy a few years ago, and later conducted the investigation of the mysterious shooting of Don Mellett, the Canton publisher.

One of his recent cases was in connection with the death of Margaret Heldman, twenty-year-old wife of a Lorain furnace salesman. Wilbur O. Heldman, her husband, was charged with the murder.

Tracks Down Every Clue. Slater's method of solving homicide mysteries is to trace down every clue, question every possible suspect, search minutely for a loophole—he says there always is one—and then peer long and patiently through the loophole.

The detective gained a local distinction in Indiana, his native state, handling investigations for the government during the World war. Afterward he became a private detective in Cincinnati.

One morning Mrs. Jake Nesbitt, young Ohio State university graduate, was found beaten to death in her Troy home. Jake helped the officers seek the slayer, at first believed to be a vagrant. Slater was called in. Nesbitt said he slept at home the night before the murder. The lower portion of his pajamas could not be found. That was Slater's loophole.

Caught by Loss of Pajamas. Jake eventually confessed the murder. He had burned the pajama trousers after killing his wife during a quarrel.

In the Mellett murder Slater faced a blank wall until a mysterious telephone call from Massillon, later traced to Ben Rudner, convicted as the "pay off" man in the plot, provided the loophole.

Slater is a long-distance talker and a story teller of interest. Often he has disarmed a suspect merely by talking him into security.

Mastick to Show New Plymouth Cars

Plymouth motor car dealers throughout the United States are preparing for a national display and demonstration, starting April 20 and ending on April 27. During this period the public is invited not only to view these Chrysler-built low priced cars in the dealer's showroom, but to receive a road demonstration during which they may experience how smoothly the Plymouth performs and how comfortable are these full sized cars.

Earl S. Mastick, local Plymouth dealer, has been busy for the past several weeks preparing for this display and demonstration at his showrooms. "On the night of Saturday, April 20," declares Mr. Mastick, "we will draw the curtain at the Plymouth showroom on one of the most unique displays of automobiles ever exhibited in this city. Here we will show the beautiful, stylish but low-priced Chrysler-built Plymouth car in all its spring glory and beauty. There will be a wide variety of new, sparkling spring colors and smart color combinations and we will announce some very important mechanical improvements. The motor-wise public, which during the past few weeks has looked over other cars in the low price field, now has the opportunity of viewing a low-priced car which in appearance and performance belies its price tag."

From the viewpoint of style and beauty, color and comfort, the Plymouth not only surpasses all other cars in its field, but rivals many in the high priced division of other makes of automobiles. In performance, in power and acceleration, in easy riding at all speeds, the Plymouth is the outstanding purchase at its price.

To those who take the opportunity of viewing these cars and of riding in them and of driving them themselves during the Plymouth display and demonstration, the question most certainly will arise "how can these cars, with their distinctive style, power and ease of operation be offered at such low prices?"

"The answer is that under the famous Chrysler principle of standardized quality, the Plymouth has embodied in its structural advantages of the most expensive Chrysler products. Among these are Chrysler weather-proof hydraulic brakes, the Silver Dome engine, full pressure lubrication, and many other features. As a Chrysler Motors product it enjoys the advantages of group financing, consolidated buying and co-operating research and engineering facilities, with resulting economies that may be passed on to the purchaser."

During the display and demonstration beginning Saturday, April 20, Mr. Mastick will show a complete line of Plymouth cars, which include the coupe, roadster with rumble seat, 2-door sedan, touring de luxe coupe with rumble seat and 4-door sedan.

One of the striking features of the display will be the special roadster which is in silver with black molding and trimmings and which has black wire wheels.

It is anticipated that the Plymouth display will arouse wide public interest and that a great number of people will take advantage of the opportunity to drive these cars in the planned demonstration.

Low Cost Premits Use of Good Corn

FARMERS SHOULD PLANT VARIETIES OF KNOWN ORIGIN TESTED FOR GERMINATION.

The cost of seed for planting an acre of corn is very low in comparison with seed costs for other crops even when seed corn which is certified for purity of variety, per cent of germination, and place of origin is purchased, and the farm crops department at Michigan State College advises the use of known quality seed corn to avoid any losses from poor stands.

The average annual production of corn in Michigan is one and one-half million bushels a year and the crops department at the college believes that only a small percentage of the seed from which this corn is grown is tested for germination before planting.

As the climate in Michigan is not ideal for the production of corn, growers of this crop should be sure not only that their seed corn will germinate but also where the seed was produced. Many varieties which give excellent yields in States further south will not produce well matured ears in Michigan. Northern or local grown seed usually is most satisfactory in this state.

Some of the corn varieties grown in southern Michigan are not adapted for counties further north. The crops department or county agricultural agents will furnish lists of adapted varieties for any section of Michigan if a request is made for these lists.

MEYERLING LEGEND IS STILL ARGUED

New Version of Austrian Tragedy Talked Of.

Berlin.—Seemingly the legend of Meyerling will not down.
It has been four decades since Crown Prince Rudolph of Austria and his mistress, the seventeen-year-old Baroness Marie Vetsera, were found dead in Meyerling chateau near Vienna. That they killed themselves has been fairly well established; nevertheless the legend that they were murdered continues to grow and to find credulous audiences.
There are at least four popular "solutions of the crime" at present in circulation. One has it that a short-woodman or peasant killed the pair, but the motive varies with the narrator. Another substitutes an outraged kinsman of Marie for the woodsman. A third contends that Rudolph shot his mistress and then himself in the midst of a drunken revelry. Number four, employing vengeance as the motive, was a few weeks ago, upon the occasion of the fortieth anniversary of the tragedy, given new life by a usually conservative Berlin newspaper.

Biography Differs.

The journal published what were represented as authentic documents supporting the theory that the fiance of the young baroness was the "murderer." According to this version he broke into the chamber where she and the crown prince were sleeping and without preliminary formalities fired the shot which disposed of his alleged rival in love. Thereupon Marie unhesitatingly took her own life.
Critics of this "solution" however, assert that Marie was not engaged to be married, although it was understood at the time that she was soon to be betrothed to Duke Aligned of Braganza. Moreover, they point with considerable satisfaction to the biography of the crown prince, published a few months ago, which was written by Baron von Mills, erstwhile keeper of the royal archives of Austria. The biography is said to contain documentary evidence which makes it impossible to accept any but the suicide theory.
Among these documents are several farewell letters which Rudolph and Marie addressed to their relatives and friends shortly before the occurrence, and all of these strongly suggest that the couple was contemplating self-destruction. To her mother the baroness wrote: "We are already very anxious to see what the other world is like," while to her beloved intended, Duke Aligned, she bequeathed her treasures for neckpiece, which in a mocking cheerful note she asked him to hang on his cupped hand as a tribute to her memory.
It was on January 28, 1889, that Crown Prince Rudolph, accompanied by his brother-in-law, Prince Philipp of Coburg, and by Count Hoyos, drove out to Meyerling ostensibly for a few days of shooting. Rudolph, however, excused himself from the dogout, pleading a bad cold. The following evening he dined alone with Count Hoyos and retired early, commanding his man servant, Loschek, to awaken him for breakfast at 7:30 in the morning.

Both Found Dead.

When the next morning the probe failed to respond to Loschek's repeated knocking, Prince Philipp and Hoyos were summoned and they broke in the locked door of Rudolph's chamber. On the bed Rudolph and Marie lay dead, each with a bullet wound in the right temple. In his right hand, the index finger still tightly gripping the trigger, Rudolph held a revolver, which when broken open was found to contain two empty cartridges. Near his left hand lay a mirror, which he apparently had used in taking aim.
During the night of the 30th of January the body of the prince was removed to the Imperial palace. The following night, under even more remarkable circumstances, the body of the baroness was taken out of Meyerling. Wrapped in a fur mantle, it was placed in a sitting position in a cab between two uncles of the girl, and the cab was then driven off with unusual haste to the private burial ground of a religious order. And there, without ceremony, without benefit of clergy and under the cover of night, a shallow grave was hurriedly dug and into this mean trench was lowered all that remained mortal of the baroness.
Complying with the legal forms of the day, a protocol concerning the burial was drawn up by the two kinsmen. This read: "Within the communal precincts of Meyerling was found a female corpse with a bullet wound in the head, which was recognized by the undersigned witnesses, Count Stockau and Herr Baltazi (the uncles of the girl) as that of Baroness Marie Vetsera, and they buried it in the Holy Cross."

Stockholm Bridal Couples Prefer Church Wedding

Stockholm.—Church weddings, with flowers, music and candle light are preferred by Stockholm couples to the more prosaic and colorless civil ceremony. According to the city statistical office only 1,096 of 4,575 marriages were performed by the city magistrate in 1928, a decline in number of some 60 ceremonies, as compared to the year before.

Varieties of Waterfowl

The term "waterfowl" includes ducks, geese, swans, gulls, pelicans, etc. There are 350 different kinds of birds found in Oregon and Washington, about half of which would be water birds. They are found along the coasts and in the marshes of rivers and lakes.

NUMBER XXVII

PLYMOUTH NINE TIES EASTERN.

Playing in a driving wind, and partly during the rain, Plymouth high school baseball team lunched their hits well to gain a 6-6 tie, Friday, April 12. At the end of the seventh inning the coaches decided to call the game on account of cold and darkness. Sloppy fielding was shown on both sides, particularly by Plymouth. Collins or Plymouth pitched a very good game, striking out 11 men, and with some better support would have won the game. Collins allowed six runs, one in the first, two in the second and three in the seventh. Of these two were earned and four kicked in. On Sosnowski, of Eastern, three runs were made in the seventh and all were earned. Of the three runs made off Orr in the seventh, two were earned and one kicked in. This just goes to show that later on in the season, when our fielding is improved, Plymouth will have a team of championship caliber.

An inning by lining account of the game follows:
FIRST: Tarte struck out. Gust fumbled G. Chalou's last strike and he was safe at first base. G. Chalou stole second when Gust fumbled, and stole third on the next pitch. Gust fumbled again on the third strike. Tarte was safe at first. G. Chalou scoring. A. Chalou bunted safely along third base line, sending Tort to second. Sage walked, filling the bases. Then Collins settled down and fanned the next two batters. Dahorski and Morad, to pull himself out of a bad hole.

Two base hits—Morad, Forester, Collins. Three base hits—G. Simmons, Morad. Stolen bases—G. Chalou 2, Sage, Atchison 2, Waltz, Sockow, L. Simmons 1. Double play—G. Simmons to Herick, bases on balls off—Collins, Sage, Waltz. First base on errors, Eastern 6; Plymouth 3. Sacrifice flies—Gust, Atchison, G. Simmons. Struck out by Collins 11 (Tarte, Dahorski, Morad, Roehrig, G. Chalou, A. Chalou, LeBlond). By Orr 7 (Atchison, Van Bonn, G. Simmons, Orr, Van Bonn, Sockow, Van Bonn).

For Plymouth—Atchison fanned. Van Bonn struck out. L. Simmons singled to left. Herick rolled to the box for the third out.
FOR EASTERN—Forester fanned. Sage fanned. Tarte fanned. Waltz stole second. G. Chalou fanned. Herick made a good catch of Orr's foul fly. No runs, no hits, no errors.

For Plymouth—Collins singled over short. Smith flied to Roehrig at short. G. Simmons fanned. Collins was out stealing second.
Plymouth substitution—Orr for De Porter in right field.

FIFTH: For Eastern—A. Chalou fanned. Sage singled to center field. Dahorski struck out. Sage stole second and third bases on successive pitches. Morad lined to Van Bonn at short.

Plymouth substituted Sockow for Gust.
No runs, one hit, no errors.

For Plymouth—G. Chalou fumbled Sockow's last strike and threw it away at first base. Sockow stole second. Orr fanned. Atchison sacrificed Sockow to third. Van Bonn struck out.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

SIXTH: For Eastern—Roehrig flied to L. Simmons in center. Waltz flied to Smith in left field, who would have caught it except for interference by L. Simmons. Waltz was caught stealing second. Tarte flied safely to right field. Tarte was "hot boxed" between first and second and put out. No runs, 1 hit, 1 error.

Eastern substitutions—Forester for Sage. Crooks for Tarte.

For Plymouth—L. Simmons was safe when Forester, at first fumbled. L. Simmons stole second. Herick hit safely. L. Simmons going to third. L. Simmons tried to make home when the catcher fumbled but was caught. Herick going to third. Collins doubled to right field, scoring Herick. Smith reached first when Forester fumbled his catch. Collins going to third. G. Simmons sacrificed. Collins scoring. Smith scored on a wild pitch. Sockow fanned out.

No runs, no hits, no errors.

SEVENTH: For Eastern—G. Chalou singled to center field. Tort singled to left field. When G. Chalou stole third, Sockow threw over Atchison's head and Chalou scored. A. Chalou struck out. Forester doubled to right field, scoring Tort. LeBlond batting for Dahorski, struck out. Morad tripped, scoring Forester, which tied the score.

Pankow went in for Collins. Morad was caught trying to steal home. 3 runs, 4 hits, 1 error.

For Plymouth—His batting for Orr, flied to right field. Atchison batted for one in an in-field hit and then stole second and third. Atchison tried to steal home and was put out. Van Bonn struck out. No runs, 1 hit, no errors.

FIRST OLDER BOYS AND GIRLS CONFERENCE.

For the first time on Thursday and Friday evenings, April 11 and 12, boys and girls met together to discuss their problems. The conference was held at the Immanuel Presbyterian church in Detroit and was attended by boys and girls of H-Y and Girl Reserve clubs of Western Detroit.

Mr. Loveloy struck the key note when he said the conference was held to create a better mutual understanding between boys and girls socially, morally and in every other way. He also said that boys and girls live together but they do not know how to solve their problems. There are three things in solving problems—(1) self-reliance, (2) then try to solve it, (3) then have it power enough to solve it. What am I going to do? What is my plan of getting there? What is my purpose in life? These were a few of the questions Dr. Loveloy left each one to solve for himself.

After this the boys and girls went to separate group meetings where the questions were made out which were to be discussed Friday evening.

A banquet was given Friday night at 6:30 in the gym of the Immanuel Presbyterian church for all the delegates to the conference. After a delicious supper of mashed potatoes, gravy, meat loaf, succotash, salad, bread, butter, pickles, cherry pie and coffee a short program was given. Among the speakers was Mr. Loveloy, who also spoke the evening before. A. Chalou also gave a very clever interpretation of a girl hurrying to get ready for a party while her "boy friend" waited. The toastmaster afterwards stated that he presumed every fellow present had been in such a predicament some time or other. To end the banquet the assistant pastor of the church led the group in singing and in yells.

After the banquet everyone went to his respective group meetings where we discussed the questions asked by the boys and girls the evening before. These had been put under eight headings, namely: (1) Things boys and girls could do together. (2) How many boy friends the girl should have and how many girl friends the boy. (3) The money question. (4) How to create a better understanding between boys and girls. (5) The question of petting. (6) Of attraction. (7) Of bashfulness. (8) Attitude of the parents. We had only one hour in which to ask questions and so not all the topics were discussed, however, we talked thoroughly about the things we might do together, money questions, understanding, petting, amount of "friends" and attraction. As we left our group meetings every boy had learned something from the girls and the girls understood better the attitude of the boys and the questions discussed.

An assembly of everyone followed the group meetings at which Mr. Freeman, Michigan Y. M. C. A. secretary, spoke. In his speech he brought out a number of points—that of the boys playing the game square with the girls they went with, so they would have nothing to regret in later life. To the girls he appealed by asking them to be companions of their boy friends. His speech was made more interesting by telling of personal experiences. And after listening to him one could help being serious and very one that left the building after singing "Follow the Gleam" unusually quiet.

The leaders of the Conference and the H-Y's and Girl Reserves who attended the conference Thursday evening, Friday night Ruth Hamilton and Heloise Travis went down.

CENTRAL GRADE NOTES.

Janet Peterson, Emmett Hall, and Robert Fortin are new members of the kindergarten. This makes a total of thirty-three in the morning session and nineteen in the afternoon session. The children are making spring posters.

In Mrs. Root's room the different groups of silent reading, outwork are working when they have the ability to read and do the work independent of the teacher. This work consists of cutting out pictures and placing them above the correct word, cutting out words and phrases and placing them in the proper places, and drawing lines under the word or phrase which best answers the question asked.

In nature study the children have studied the large pictures of the robin and the crow. These pictures have been placed in their nature study books. A number of other bird pictures are in this room and as soon as a child sees a bird similar to one of these pictures the name of the bird is learned and the children talk about its color and size.

The children have also been studying about seed germination. Lima beans, peas and flower seeds have been placed on wet cotton and the children are very interested in watching them sprout.

Norman Peterson, from Anstin, Minnesota, and Kenneth Harnden, from Salem township are two new members in the A-1 grade.

Mrs. Solderbridge Bailey visited the Mrs. Weatherhead's class last week. Louis and Velma Harnden are two new pupils in Miss Dixon's room.

In Miss Orr's room the two arithmetic lessons are given. The fourth grade is studying the red-winged blackbird and the third grade is studying the Baltimore Oriole.

Luth Reddeman, Richard Delvo, and Margaret Broegman won merit pins in penmanship. Betty Barnes and Melvin Sackett won Palmer buttons.

In Miss Farrand's room Jack Birchall has the highest rating in reading. Earl Tiffin from Detroit and Jean Jolliffe visited this room last week. The children are making food posters.

Walter Smith from the Starkweather school entered Miss Hulahan's room last week. Jean Jolliffe visited this room last week. Jean was formerly a pupil in this room.

Romaine Lee had his name added to the perfect theft chart.

Gerardine Vealey, the Central school spelling champion, is studying hard for the district spelling bee to be held in Plymouth on April 19.

Thirty one people in this room have had a perfect spelling record during the five-week marking period.

TENNIS MATCHES.

By John Randall.
Match No. 1: E. Knapp defeated B. Cline in a three set match in which nearly every game went to deuce. Cline won the first set by a series of fast serves and hard drives to the rear of the court. Knapp tightened and by continually driving the hard hit balls of Cline to backcourt was able to defeat him 6-4, 6-3 in the two final sets of the match.

Match No. 2: A Miller, commonly known as "Red," a promising beginner who turned out for the tennis team, easily defeated L. Daly in a match characterized by easy serves and returns. Score, Miller winner, 6-1, 6-1.

Match No. 3: In an exciting three set match H. Stevens, by using slow, accurate returns, conquered H. Segnitz in spite of Segnitz's faster returns. After losing the first set Harvey rallied to take the second set but again he slumped to lose the last. Score: Stevens winner, 6-0, 6-8, 6-1.

Match No. 4: One of the upsets of the tournament occurred when G. Ball, a steady accurate player, easily defeated the diminutive left hander, L. Fritz. Fritz has a fast serve and an accurate forehand, but seemed to be off form. Score: Ball winner, 6-1, 6-1.

Match No. 5: By fast, well placed returns, B. Bako without trouble defeated J. Randall. The match did not necessitate any great effort on the part of Bako. Score: Bako winner, 6-0, 6-3.

Match No. 6: K. Groth, a sophomore beginner, retired R. Smith, a Junior, with ease. Neither plays a fast game but both place their shots well. Score: Groth winner, 6-2, 6-3.

Match No. 7: M. Partridge, after losing the first game, bucked strong by taking the next two and winning the match from T. Baughn. Score: Partridge winner, 6-8, 6-4, 6-3.

Match No. 8: G. Hondorp did not appear so his match was forfeited to Frank Clemens.

GOLF SEASON OPENS.

A cold, wintry windy day greeted the golf team Tuesday, April 9, when they practiced at Maple Ridge Golf and Country club. In spite of bad weather conditions and the condition of the course, a few good scores were turned in. A list of the six low scores follows:

Table with columns for Player and Score. Includes names like C. Ball, R. Lorenz, S. Horvath, C. Simpson, D. Rittenhouse, L. Livingston.

The practice was in the form of matches composed of three foursomes, for the purpose of helping determine who will compose the team that will meet Redford Tuesday, April 16 at Maple Ridge on the Seven Mile road. Redford is the state high school champion, and Charles Kocia, their captain, is the individual champion. Plymouth will play a dual match with Redford, one at Maple Ridge and one at Redford Golf club at Seven Mile and Lahser roads. As Redford is not in the suburban league these matches will be for practice only, and Redford will surely give our boys some practice.

UNIQUE BIAS TRIMMINGS

Bias tape has always seemed a rather uninteresting subject but the Wright Bias Binding Co. has created new enthusiasm in it by sending to the sewing classes, under the direction of Mrs. Dyckhouse, a group of lingerie and dresses trimmed with bias in many decorative ways. The company lends this display to schools to widen the use of the tape and the pattern and number along with the trimming material, etc., come with each garment so that they can be duplicated by the girls.

There was an especially attractive one made of cotton crepe which cost fifty-five cents a yard. A little ways away the dress looked wholly brown but a closer inspection, fine strands of tan and black could be seen running through the brown thread. The skirt was pleated on both sides and was drawn in at the waist by a wide, dark brown silk bias. It had long sleeves and was finished at the cuff with silk brown and yellow bias in a rather modernistic design. This same design is repeated on the lower left side of the waist and the tan silk scarf. The scarf is worn knotted on the shoulder. It was a wonder to behold how neatly the tape had been turned in at the corners and there were a good many corners turned in the design.

The display is in the sewing room at the school now and is open to all those who care to note the many and pretty uses of bias tape.

THE SOPHOMORE TRACK TEAM.

By Clinton Postiff. With Marvin Bannerman as high point man the sophomore class took third place in the interclass track meet held Tuesday night at four o'clock. Following are the sophomores who placed in the various events: L. Daly, third in the mile, third in the half mile; M. Bannerman, second in the hundred yard dash; J. Randall, second in the low hurdles; E. Bannerman, first in the discus, second in the shot-put; K. Burs, third in the high jump; J. Randall, fourth in the pole vault and Randall, Daly, Towle, and Bannerman, third in the relay.

FIRST GOLF PRACTICE SUCCESSFUL.

Twelve fellows turned out for golf practice at Maple Ridge, Tuesday, April 9. One half of them having had previous experience brought in several good scores and three of them were letter men which indicates Plymouth will have a very good team. A few of them were: Edward Deporter, Charles Ball, Steve Horvath, Dale Rittenhouse, Howard Dicks and Mr. Emens.

The green fee will be fifty cents which will partly be in care of by the money taken in by the refreshment committees at the baseball games. The first match will be with Redford.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

The first annual boys tennis tournament of P. H. S. is being held this week. As this is the first tournament, there is much interest taken by the boys. There was a meeting of the tennis squad Monday, the fifth hour in Room 31. Here 16 boys drew for chances to play. A series of four matches is being held every night this week, the pairings for the first eight matches were:

Match No. 1. Court No. 1—Knapp and Cline. Match No. 2. Court No. 2—Daly and Miller. Match No. 3. Court No. 2—H. Stevens and H. Segnitz. Match No. 4. Court No. 1—Ball and Fritz. Match No. 5. Court No. 2—Bako and Randall. Match No. 6. Court No. 1—Groth and R. Smith. Match No. 7. Court No. 1—Clemens and Hondorp.

The start of the consolation series includes the losers from the first matches; these are as follows: Losers: B. Cline, L. Daly. Losers: H. Segnitz, L. Fritz. Losers: J. Randall, R. Smith. Losers: T. Baughn, G. Hondorp. Don Robinson was chosen manager of the squad. The captain will be chosen after two of such types of tournaments.

By Arnold Hix. Although the track practice has only been under way for two weeks the regulars are rounding into shape for the first meet with Dearborn which promises to be a hard fought struggle because of the conditions they gave us in basketball. This meet is April 26, and as the place is not decided upon this cannot be told at present.

WHERE SHOULD STUDENTS PARK THEIR CARS?

By Doris Haines. Driving around the block in search of a parking space near the high school at eight-twenty or twenty-five in the morning is not very pleasant, as students who drive to school have found out last year to remedy this situation the school board issued a notice stating that all students with cars should park in back of the school. This is probably very well at the time, but when during the week afterwards the students had to wade up to school through mud and water three or four inches in depth, matters had to be changed.

The ground in back of the school would be a suitable parking space were it not for the lack of drainage for the boys' cars. The students would need rubber boots.

Although there are between forty and fifty student's cars, thirty-five of which are parked around the edge of Central Park across from the school while the rest are parked anywhere in this vicinity most being on Adams street. Students parking around the park should put their cars closer together. To enforce this, white or yellow lines should be painted five feet apart, which would make room for at least three or four more cars. If a suitable parking space was made and reserved for student's cars only, probably this would eliminate yellow tickets and the confusion caused by complaints.

CAMP WETOMACHICK

By Jean Strong. Seek Beauty, Give Service, Pursue Knowledge, Be Trustworthy, Hold on to Health, Glorify Work and Be Happy—such is the law every Campfire girl should put their cars closer together. To enforce this, white or yellow lines should be painted five feet apart, which would make room for at least three or four more cars. If a suitable parking space was made and reserved for student's cars only, probably this would eliminate yellow tickets and the confusion caused by complaints.

In the fourth meeting the girls were asked by Gladys Zeitch and Irene Humphries to write a short story or essay working in the law Be Trustworthy. For the next law, Hold on to Health, two interesting Indian legends about health were read by Margaret Enskell and Madelon Blunk. In the next meeting all the sheets for the Record Book are to be handed in and placed in the book. The last two laws Glorifying Work and Be Happy, will be in the charge of Elizabeth Nichol, Christine Nichol, Janet Blikensthal, and Elaine Hamilton. In the last of April or the first of May a song festival is being planned.

Madelon Blunk has invited the camp to her home in May for a potluck supper, afterwards having the annual Grand Councilfire. They are hoping to have it out of doors if the weather is suitable.

The scrapbooks being made for permanent exhibit at National Headquarters are to be handed in May 17 to be judged. Only the best three will be sent in.

The week of March 17 to 23 was National Birthday week. The camps earned birthday honors by learning a flower poem and giving it at the council fire the next week. At the council fire they also embroidered their honors designed by their guard, Mrs. Stevens. The honors were green triangles with the year nineteen twenty-nine and the number seventeen, denoting the seventeenth anniversary of the Campfire Girls.

FRESHMEN TRACK 1929.

By John Carley. The freshmen did not do as well as they expected to do in the track meet which took place Monday evening, April 15, between the high school classes of Plymouth.

The first event was the mile run with Dudek participating for the freshmen but he dropped out before the end in the 440. Ayers ran for the freshmen, grabbing the lead. The class did nothing in the 880 and 100 yard dash. Wagenschutz ran the low hurdles, taking third. In the discus, javelin, shot-put and high jump the class got nothing. By letting Gordon Roy do the broad jump they got fourth. Ending the meet was the relay with freshmen having four entries. They won six points in the meet.

DETERMINED FRESHMEN

By John Carley. This year the freshmen have showed a more and better school spirit than in other years. They have had some very promising men out for basketball and volley ball and have defeated every team in January high but met defeat when they played the seniors. The freshmen came out on top in basketball and volley ball with the sophomores. Some of those who made the best showing in those sports mentioned are: James and Roy Williams, Stimpson, Horton, Ayers, and Dudif. Those who hope to do as well in track are Matevia, Wagenschutz, Horton, James and Roy Williams, Ayers, Dudek and Stimpson.

PLYMOUTH WINS IN ORATORY AND DECLAMATION.

Alvin Van Bonn, speaking on "A World United" won first place in oratory for Plymouth over four other contestants from Belleville, Dearborn, Fordson and Northville. Second place was won by Hayward Poole, of Fordson. In declamation, Harold Stevens of Plymouth who gave "Plea for Cuba," won first from a field of six entries from Belleville, Wayne, Dearborn, Fordson, Northville and Plymouth. Second place was won by Mary Malen, of Wayne, who gave "A Vision of War."

Before the contest which was held Thursday, April 11, Mr. Smith acting as chairman, presented each of the contestants with a dictionary furnished with the compliments of the Detroit News. The judges were Professors A. A. McCall and Carl C. Pray, of Ypsilanti Normal College; and H. M. Hosen, principal of River Rouge High school. Now, having won the state district contest, it is up to Alvin and Harold to do the best they are able in the district contest, and judging by the last contest, it will be a "good" best. The final arrangements have not yet been made concerning the district contest, but announcements will be made from time to time on this page giving the particulars.

LOS GITANOS.

Rev. Lendrum was the speaker of the Travel club last Thursday, April 11. Mexico was the topic. As one contemplates Vera Cruz, one no doubt is disappointed for there is not a trace of Spanish villas and other things that one may connect with the Spanish. It is a real bustling business town. Merchants of many nationalities, including the American are dealing. Asphalt pavements and all other conveniences are nothing out of the ordinary here. Yet it only requires a five minute drive to be in a totally different atmosphere.

Orizaba is known as a place inhabited by very lazy people. This laziness is said to be caused by the very warm climate. Recently many Americans got land possessions and began to cultivate the fruit. The result of this was that bigger and better fruit was grown. The natives, now seeing that this cultivated fruit had the preference on the market and that a higher price may be had for it, began to be more industrious.

Just a little further on is Orizaba, known as the rebel center of Mexico. The Orizaba Mt. is one of the wonders here. Orizaba is about eight thousand feet high. Snow lies on the peak all year around. Another interesting thing to be noted is the cultivation of the century plants in such a way that an ale equivalent to our beer (but it has a "kick") is produced. This cultivation requires about five years.

GIRLS TO HAVE GOLF AND TENNIS TOURNAMENTS.

By Katherine Truck. Hour upon showing the public in general what girls really can do in the way of athletics, Plymouth High school has decided to organize girls' golf and tennis teams. For the past three years we have been barred from other than inter-class team games, owing to the recommendation of the State Department, but there seems no reason why games such as golf and tennis should not be played by girls and we firmly believe that it is unfair to turn all the school facilities into boys' athletics. The interclass team games are seldom attended by the townspeople whom we would like to have take an interest in our games, as they do in football, basket ball, base ball and track.

Under the supervision of Mr. Emens, personal instruction is to be given by the boys' golf team.

CULINARY HALL.

Some new pointers on that most famous domestic art—cooking—were learned by the older girls in the co-operative classes when the eleventh and twelfth grades clamored by Mrs. Dyckhouse visited the Masonic Temple in Detroit where the Detroit News is sponsoring a cooking school for the women of the city. Miss Jessica Marie DeLoth is the teacher and proves herself very adept at the culinary sciences. A few of the most remarkable features is a dinner cooked in a single pan. There were meat, vegetables, soups and what not all tracked neatly away in one dish so that when it is completed and served the cook has only a single thing to wash. There were even biscuits.

Another pointer that a few of us who stand over ranges each evening could take advantage of was the fact that although Miss DeLoth wore a pink starched apron when she stepped up on the stage, she left it just as immaculate. She said that if one had the proper utensils there was no need of getting one's dress spotted and that she would not fear to prepare dinner in her evening gown. By the way, she was working with flour, meats, etc., which are such a menace to the average woman's aprons.

Besides this there was a laundry demonstration and music by the Gypsy Harons but of course the main event was the cooking school and its interesting new methods of modern dinner preparations.

ENGLISH STUDY.

It has been a long time since we have heard anything about one of the English Department but it has been steadily busy all the time. At present the tenth grade class has been studying the newspaper (not like the hundreds of thousands who study it every night in an armchair, however) and are writing editorials in the Elgiron trials of things around the school in which they can give constructive criticism. The back bulletin board in Miss Allen's room is lined with several pages of different papers published in the United States which they are using in their work.

Did you know the most common poetic background for students are the poems left by Longfellow? Out of fifteen schools represented in an English 11 class it was found that practically everyone had read "Hawthorne," "Evangeline," and "The Courtship of Miles Standish" that stern old captain of Plymouth first colony in America. Besides these three best-known masterpieces most had read "The Children's Hour," "The Wreck of the Hesperus," "The Village Blacksmith," "Paul Revere's Ride," "Psalm of Life," "Skeleton in Armor," "The Old Clock on the Stairs," "The Bridge," "Excelsior," "Rainy Day," and "Stars of the Summer Night." The English Eleven class had this for a recent lesson and it has been interesting to note how Longfellow has been accepted as the standard American poet.

OUR NEW BULLETIN BOARD.

No student of Plymouth High school has any ability to offer not knowing what is happening every day at school. He is able to discover what is going on very easily by simply looking at the bulletin board in the gymnasium. This board, made by the manual training class, and placed near the drinking fountain in the front hall on the third floor. Because Clare Lyke printed headings for the different sports, boys interested in football, basketball, baseball, track, golf or tennis find it easy to flock to their favorite sport and see what chances are soon to be played. The girls on their way to the drinking fountain have only to turn to the right and read what is taking place in their various clubs. The announcements of entertainments, the school calendar, as well as hints on how to study are all worth reading from the bulletin board.

A VISIT TO THE FORD AIRPORT.

The Travel club celebrated the All-American Aircraft Show week by taking a very interesting trip to the Ford Airport. In spite of the raw weather, planes were continually taking off or landing. Quite a few of the club members had a new experience in this sight. So they were thrilled at the sight of giant Ford tri-motored planes being down to perfect landings.

During the air show week to sight-seeing tours were being conducted through the factory, but when the right officials discovered that the Ramblers wanted to see how big airplanes were made, they politely gave over a guide to escort them through. After passing the terminal gates the group followed the guide down the broad runway, lined with planes on demonstration and covered with ships being warmed or refueled. The air was full of them and everybody was continually watching a plane land or take off. Finally after going by the big hangar the party reached the factory. Before entering, the man in charge explained the beginning of construction at one end of the building and the final completion at the other. On the tour the various stages of assembly interested every one from fuselage framework to installing the motors. The newly completed ships resembled pre-historic monsters as they loomed up in the half-light of the factory.

After being conducted through the club members were left to their own devices. Everybody wandered with his or her friends among the small toy-like ships, medium sized cabin ships and the giant planes. The Question Mark was inspected for the interest it gave of being an endurance record breaking plane. The City of Columbus, Lindbergh's flying outfit; the Josephine Ford and the Pride of Detroit were all given the once over, twice. Many of the travelers wrote their names on the scarred side of the Pride of Detroit 'round the world plane.

The boys took the matter of aircraft explaining to the girls upon themselves and some of the ideas advanced were quite enlightening. One of them in particular was dabbling madly about taking pictures of everything in general with not much science to the process. Judging from results he was lucky to get three pictures out of six exposures.

The group, after rambling about the hangar and the ships, finally betook itself, with many a backward glance, home with the memory of a happy Wednesday spent investigating America's new and vital industry.

DETERMINED FRESHMEN

By John Carley. This year the freshmen have showed a more and better school spirit than in other years. They have had some very promising men out for basketball and volley ball and have defeated every team in January high but met defeat when they played the seniors. The freshmen came out on top in basketball and volley ball with the sophomores. Some of those who made the best showing in those sports mentioned are: James and Roy Williams, Stimpson, Horton, Ayers, and Dudif. Those who hope to do as well in track are Matevia, Wagenschutz, Horton, James and Roy Williams, Ayers, Dudek and Stimpson.

Students' Signs Lead to Color Discovery

Troy, N. Y.—The rapid fading of flaming colors on student athletic signs here has led to the discovery of an entirely new set of fast colors at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute.

The man who made the new colors is Dr. F. W. Schwartz, professor of analytical chemistry, whose interest was stirred by the sorry appearance that exposure gave to campus signs. As a chemist he knew that fading of colors is caused by ultra-violet rays of light, and he set out to find a base that would produce printing ink colors but resist these rays.

He found this base in thorium, one of the elements which are the fundamental substances of which all known earthly matter is composed. Thorium is used in making ordinary incandescent gas mantles. He experimented with thorium because it is related closely to elements from which colors ordinarily have been made.

The better durability of the new colors is established by tests with concentrated ultra-violet rays, whereby in the laboratory it is possible to produce in about ten minutes the equivalent of a week's exposure to bright daylight.

The colors are in the form of metallic powders, of every shade of the rainbow. Samples of them in small bottles are mounted in a row on a large, white plaque. In a parallel row are similar bottles filled with some of the color powders now in commercial use, which fade more rapidly. To the eye the rows are exactly similar, except as they may differ in tone.

Although these colors were designed for use in printing inks, Doctor Schwartz says they may be used for fabrics such as silks and cottons.

Logs Found Under Lava Flow 500 Feet Thick

Pasco, Wash.—Where sagebrush now covers the plains about White Swan in the Yakima River valley, centuries ago a dense forest grew, according to evidence brought up recently by a well-drilling machine.

At a depth of 500 feet on the farm of H. E. Kent, the drill encountered pieces of wood, either spruce or hemlock. The ancient forest was buried beneath a flood of lava and ashes which covered this region when Mt. Rainier and other coast peaks were in action.

Tattooing Days Gone Except for Sailors

Norfolk, Va.—The popularity of tattooing is waning. This is the opinion of the needle and ink artists who follow the trade here.

"Tattooing has seen its best days," one veteran holds. "The late czar of Russia was tattooed and there was a time when many society folk took to it, but now our work is confined chiefly to sailors." The veteran needleman believes people get tattooed because "they are still savages underneath, and they like to get themselves up to look pretty."

Picked Up About Town

Dad Plymouth says that another cause of divorce is that no house is big enough for two cases of swelled-head.

Come to think of it women are the cause of all wars. They supply the cannon fodder.

According to Dad Plymouth there is nothing funnier in the world than the 16-year-old boy or girl who "is tired of it all."

Urging the wife to keep account of expenses is just a sly way of calling her attention to how much she spends on herself.

Dad Plymouth wants to know what has become of the old-fashioned editor who used to print things in the paper he wouldn't speak to a man's face.

"The trouble with industry and commerce," asserts Dad Plymouth "is that Congress does too much back-seat driving."

In Mexico about the only formality necessary to hold an election is to issue the ammunition.

Dad Plymouth says you can't make the man waiting his chance to get the use of a party line believe that the art of conversation has been lost.

Today's Reflections

The Plymouth man who used to consider the world his oyster now has a son who kicks because there isn't a pearl in it.

An "improved model" is one that has just enough new attachments to make you dissatisfied with the old one.

Another definition of "Americanism" is sending people across the sea to develop a lot of other people who never did anything and never will.

It won't be long until Plymouth residents can tell how big a liar the fellow is who draws pictures for the seed catalogue.

You never can tell. Many a man gets into the swim only to realize that he has stepped in over his head.

You've seen a lot of different kind of women, but you never saw one who couldn't describe what another one had on.

We don't want to see anybody around Plymouth get killed, and that's why we are not suggesting that someone get up a beauty contest for fat women.

Another reason why we'd like to be a genius because that field isn't crowded like the newspaper business.

A fashion journal says soft collars are here to stay, and now and then we see one that looks as though it had stayed too long.

We know of but one thing around Plymouth more numerous than sands of the seashore. That's cold cures.

If girls are really crazy about clothes, as some people contend, then why don't they wear more of them?

Most anything will be acceptable as farm relief that enables the farmer to keep out of debt two months instead of one.

Every now and then we reach the conclusion that there are a lot of things some Plymouth people can do better than singing.

Maybe a lot of us would get higher on the ladder of success if we'd quit stopping to kick the fellow on the rung below.

Success is a good deal like the kind of woman worth having for a wife. It requires a lot of courting.

Some men's idea of a good citizen is the Plymouth man who only breaks the same laws they do.

About the only way to prevent "petting" altogether would be to start in now and drown all the girl babies.

No Need Then

It's only after the doors of success have been unlocked that a man receives the keys of a city.—Arkansas Gazette.

"KONJOLA GAVE AS A BLESSING INTO MY LIFE."

GRATEFUL LADY RELATES HOW NEW MEDICINE GAVE FIRST AND ONLY RELIEF.

MRS. ANNA BUCK

"Konjola, the new medicine, has been called a 'boom,' a 'blessing' and a 'Godsend' by countless men and women to whom it has brought the first and only relief from obstinate ills of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, and from rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness. Konjola conquers when all else fails; it banishes disease at the source; it is not designed to give mere temporary relief. What encouragement there is in the statement of Mrs. Anna Buck, 80 W. Forest street, Detroit, who writes:

"I was sick, worn out, run down all over, and not a medicine I tried helped me. I was about to give up, when a neighbor urged me to give Konjola a trial. I was extremely nervous, had dizzy spells, sharp pains in my back; my system was filled with poisons and impurities, and my rest was broken at nights. This condition prevailed for three years, but Konjola—just six bottles—put an end to all my misery. Digestion is restored, kidneys are normal and all pain is gone. I feel as though I had never had a sick day in my life."

Konjola is sold in Plymouth at Community Pharmacy drug store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

SENIOR GIRL RESERVES.

The Senior Girl Reserves met with the Seekers, an intermediate group under the direction of Miss Patterson, for a song meeting last Wednesday, April 10. Alice Gilbert was chosen as the chairman, Irene Kratter and Margaret Dunning as speakers. These girls with some boys of the H-Y club are to conduct a church service at the Methodist church on April 28.

Miss Stille, a well-known Girl Reserve leader, explained the new system by which the members will be able to earn the honor rings of the club. Previously, a ring committee was chosen, which determined which girls deserved the ring. Under the new system the girl must be a member for at least three semesters. Each term she is to keep a checking record of herself on various points which are the foundation of the code. Thus she is expected to improve in every way possible. If she thinks she is entitled to the honor of wearing the ring or other insignia, she will consult with an advisor and a committee of girls who are already wearing these rings. The girls are not to set the standards nor criticize her, but are to help the members as much as they can. Now all responsibility will lie on the shoulders of the individual and not on the group. To prove that the girl wants the ring bad enough, she must earn the money for the ring. The aim of this new system is to have more girls recognize the worthwhile things in life.

STARKWEATHER NOTES

Things have changed in the 5-A

Reading class, for now the Red team is ahead of the Purple by thirty-seven points. Richard Miller of the Purple team has the most points of any individual pupil.

The new African chart is stimulating quite a bit of interest. There are four teams, the Purple whose captain is Harry Fischer, the Yellow whose captain is Jeanette Bauman, the Blue with Richard Miller as captain, and the Red with Helen Dely as captain. The Purple team is ahead by one point. The chart has on it an outline map of Africa. The object of the game is to find a fact each day about Africa state it in one complete sentence, be able to recognize your own fact the next day when read aloud, and then locate it correctly on the map after having re-copied it on a narrow strip of colored paper.

Richard Miller received the highest score in clear pronunciation for reading orally the poem entitled "Walter Von Der Vogelweid."

The fourth grade is preparing an article on the industries of Michigan in connection with its Geography work.

Their bird study has been completed and they will next take up the study of wild flowers.

Earl Tiffin and Edith Grissell, both from Detroit schools, visited the sixth grade room last week.

The G-A class is sorry to have Walter Smith leave them. He has been transferred to Central G-A on account of having moved.

The first hepaticas and daffodils were brought to Mrs. Lee's room last week.

Miss Stader's 1-A and 2-B pupils have finished the study of birds.

Joe Scarpella is ill with tonsillitis.

All but one of the pupils have sent penmanship papers to Chicago in hopes of winning a button.

RARE ART FOUND IN MURAL PAPER OF KENTUCKY HOUSE

Famous Caperton Mansion Yields French Block Prints of Napoleonic Era.

Lexington, Ky.—French block wall paper of a rare design, which has adorned the walls of a room at Woodlawn, the colonial home of the late Col. James W. Caperton, near Richmond, Ky., 26 miles south of this city, for more than 100 years, or since 1822, has been sold to J. A. Lloyd Hyde, a dealer in New York city, on the recommendation of the Metropolitan Art Museum, and the painstaking work of removing the paper has been begun by C. T. Wall, a New York decorator.

This wall paper was printed prior to 1810, during the Napoleonic reign in France, according to Mr. Wall, who stated that none of that design was produced after that date. It is very rare, he said, though the Metropolitan museum is in possession of several specimens, one an exact duplicate, now displayed in the American wing of the art museum in New York. As much as $15,000 has been paid for enough of the paper to cover a small room, he declared.

The Caperton specimen contains a panorama of a hunting scene, from the beginning to the close of the chase, exquisitely portrayed. Mr. Wall explained that great care must be exercised in removing the wall paper. When one block is taken off it is mounted on canvas. After being mounted it will be shipped in sheets to New York, where any worn places will be retouched by a skillful hand.

The Caperton home, which is one of the historic manor houses of that section of Kentucky, is no longer occupied, although still owned by Mrs. Caperton, widow of the former distinguished master, who was for years one of the leading lawyers of the Richmond bar. Commenting on the sale, she declared that she disliked to dispose of the wall paper, but the facts that she no longer occupied the old mansion and that this beautiful paper should be preserved to posterity combined to bring her to a decision to dispose of it.

Woodlawn was the scene of John Fox's famous novel, "The Kentuckians." The house, built in 1822, is of a purely colonial type of architecture. It was erected by Col. William Rodes. A noted Kentucky pioneer and large land owner, and his wife, Mrs. Pauline Clay Rodes, daughter of Gen. Green Clay and a sister of the noted abolitionist leader, Gen. Cassius Marcellus Clay, whose historic estate, Whitehall, is only a few miles away.
