

62 SENIORS GRADUATE FROM LOCAL SCHOOLS

Largest Class in History of Plymouth Receive Their Diplomas Thursday Evening at High School Auditorium

Dr. Alvin Magary of Detroit, Delivered Address and Supt. George A. Smith Presented Diplomas to Class

Baccalaureate
The baccalaureate sermon to the senior class of 1929 took place at the high school auditorium last Sunday evening. The class, wearing their caps and gowns, were ushered to their seats at the front of the auditorium, by the presidents of the sophomore and freshman classes. The invocation was pronounced by Rev. Walter Nichol of the First Presbyterian church. The scripture reading was given by Rev. Donald Kelley of the Baptist church.

The girls' high school quartet, composed of Velma Pez, Maurine Dunn, Dora Gallimore, Kathryn Nichol, Pauline Deal, Hazel Rathburn, Jean Strong and Marguerite Wood, under the direction of Miss Gladys Schrader, rendered a selection most acceptably.

Rev. Oscar J. F. Seltz of the Episcopal church, then gave the sermon of the evening, taking for his theme, "Highways." He brought a message that could not help but leave a lasting impression upon the young men and women who are about to take their places in life. He said:

"Life, when we take it seriously, as occasionally we do, confronts us as a journey toward a definite goal. Those who would achieve success, that is to say, arrive at their destination, must study the guidebooks and choose highways to follow. One could travel over roads where the mud is huddling all the way, but the wise man chooses a highway and follows it. Highways are ways which by long experience men have found to be the best ways.

"In this great age of invention, and discovery, and opportunity for new learning, young people especially are to be cautioned not to despise the ancient ways of wisdom. There are some things which never become 'out of date.' Modes of travel change; the ox-cart and stagecoach make room for the railway and automobile, but the main highways still follow old trails.

"In questions of right and wrong, wisdom or folly, life and death, the Ten Commandments, and the Golden Rule, and the great Christian virtues still stand as mile-posts along life's highway. The characters of heroic men and women, and especially the example of Jesus Christ, are dependable guides to the true goal of humanity."

A male quartet composed of Austin and Elmore Whipple, James Lendrum and Harold Joffile, then sang a selection in their usual pleasing manner.

The benediction was pronounced by Dr. F. A. Lendrum of the Methodist church.

On two pages of section two of the Mail today will be found pictures of the graduating class of 1929; pictures of boards of education, faculty, athletic teams, etc. Extra copies can be obtained at the Mail office.

Class Night
"Around the Campfires" was the theme for the class day exercises at the Plymouth High School auditorium on June 18th. The class of '29 were the Gypsies, and P. H. S. was the camp.

"Gypsy Greetings" by Elmore Carney, welcomed everyone to the exercises. At that time, he also thanked the class for the splendid cooperation and thanked the patrons for their untiring efforts in their work for the class.

Alvin VanBonn, with his "Caravan Journey," related the history of the class—the success of the class as a whole and the success of some individual members who have been outstanding in Girl Reserve work, debating and oratory, and last, but not least, athletics.

Music called "Gypsy Rhapsodies," was next enjoyed by the audience. The Class Will was next given by Leroy Simmons. This revealed many things both foolish and otherwise that the class of '29 solemnly bequeathed to their successors.

During their four years at P. H. S. each senior has acquired some short coming, and in order that each might not forget his shortcomings, an appropriate gift was presented to each by Margaret Dunning and Charles Beagle in "Ransoms."

Ruth Root, the class poet, next gave the class poem, "Gypsy Lore." A Gypsy camp is not complete without its dancers, and so the dancers of the camp of '29 were Doris Whipple and Virginia Giles, who gave the "Dance of the Tambourines."

Fortune telling also goes hand in hand with gypsies. In "Cursed Palms," it was revealed what each member of the class would be doing ten years from now. Some fond mothers and fathers were quite surprised at the prophecies for their children.

To end the splendid program, the class sang their class song, written by Rhen Beck.

For his four years of faithful work as president of the class, Elmore Carney was presented with a kodak as a token of appreciation from the class. The senior gift to the school must not be forgotten. After the valedictory, Margaret Dunning presented to the school a statue of Abraham Lincoln. Mr. Smith, on behalf of the school board, thanked the class of '29 for the gift. He said Lincoln symbolized everything that a school stands for—honesty, integrity, citizenship, strength and purity.

Commencement
The annual commencement exercises of the Plymouth High School were held in the high school auditorium, Thursday evening, and were largely attended, stressing further honors paid to the class of '29.

The members of the class, 62 in number, is the largest ever graduated from the local school. At 8:00 o'clock, to the strains of a march played by the high school orchestra, the class took their places upon the stage. The invocation was pronounced by Dr. F. A. Lendrum of the Methodist church.

The salutatory was given by Miss Ruth Hamilton, followed by a piano solo by Miss Heloise Travis. The valedictory was then given by Miss Irene Krauter, which was followed by the class song.

The class and audience then had the privilege of hearing a splendid and timely address by Dr. Alvin Magary of Detroit. It was a most interesting discourse, and left a deep impression upon all who heard it.

Superintendent George A. Smith, on behalf of the Board of Education, presented the class with their diplomas, with a few appropriate remarks. The splendid program was brought to a close with the singing of "America," by the audience.

We are pleased to publish herewith the salutatory and valedictory:

HOBBIES—SALUTATORY
By Ruth Hamilton

Since the beginning of the nineteenth century there have been a great many problems, one of the greatest of which is the use of leisure time. We who live in an age of labor-saving devices can hardly realize that only a few centuries ago man was doing his own work by hand. In the fourteenth century Sir Thomas Moore set forth in his "Utopia" an ideal community in which every one shared work and used his leisure time for his own advancement by studying or hearing lectures on the subjects that interested him most.

With the growth of factories man gained more time for himself and then began to search for avocations. Some were able to find diversion in art, literature or science, but others became thieves and gamblers. Many crimes result from the lack of useful occupation during idle hours. Today with so many fields to choose from it ought not to be difficult to find a hobby for everyone.

Hobbies are something everyone should have because of their life values. If you pick out a hobby interesting to yourself and work at it, you will soon gain some greater appreciation and will have increased your knowledge of some subject.

Try making a collection of flowers, ferns or leaves if you are interested in the outdoors, or a collection of bugs or butterflies if you enjoy small life. I know a woman who gathers woolly caterpillars and feeds them until they go into their cocoons so that she may watch the butterflies emerge. One may raise rare flowers or collect pictures of famous actors and actresses or take kodak snapshots of beautiful natural scenes. From any hobby one generally gains something worth while.

I have tried several and among the earliest was a collection of cigar bands which I carefully gathered together and pasted into note books. You may wonder what I gained from this hobby that was worth while. But I believe I gained something; the desire to have a really big hobby.

WILL INSTALL TALKING MOVIES

LOCAL THEATRE WILL CLOSE DURING JULY AND AUGUST WHILE SOUND TALKING EQUIPMENT IS INSTALLED

The management of the Penniman Allen theatre announces that the theatre will close during the months of July and August. This is made necessary in order to make changes in the theatre to provide for the installation of sound talking equipment.

The management of the local theatre has always given the patrons the best entertainment that it is possible to give, and the installation of the most up to the minute sound, equipment is only in keeping with the policy of giving the patrons the best word in moving picture entertainment.

The interior of the theatre will be redecorated during this time. The Northville theatre will continue its regular policy of three changes a week, Sunday, Wednesday and Saturday.

The Plymouth theatre will reopen on September first, and a real treat will be in store for the patrons of this popular playhouse.

Alumni Reunion Occurs Tonight

The thirtieth annual reunion and banquet of the Plymouth High School Alumni Association will be held this (Friday) evening, in the high school auditorium. A record attendance was enjoyed last year, and the committees are planning for a larger number this year. The ladies of the Presbyterian church are preparing the banquet, which will be served by the H-Y boys. After the banquet and business meeting, the following program will be given:

Song, "America."

Local Gas Co. Changes Method of Billing

Effective June first, the Michigan Federated Utilities is making changes in their method of billing gas service to customers in Plymouth, Northville and Wayne. These new methods consist of a machine method of preparing gas bills, and a simplified method of keeping the accounts. Under the revised method the company will be able to render a neat, typewritten bill and will be in a position to give better service. The company at this time is also changing the dates on which customers' meters are read, bills delivered, and the day on which the discount period expires. This change is also for the benefit of the customers.

In the past there has always been a congestion at the cashier's window on the 14th and 15th of each month, because the discount date for all service bills expired on the 15th of the month. The inconvenience to customers standing in line to pay their bills will be considerably reduced with the installation of the new meter reading schedule which provides for spreading, throughout the month the days on which customers' bills become due.

Mr. Haner, assistant manager of the local office, states that these new methods are practically the same as installed in the larger cities throughout the United States, and are in keeping with the policy of the company who continue to render better service to its customers.

ROTARIANS HEAR LOCAL BUSINESS MAN

At the regular luncheon hour of the Rotary Club last Friday, the members of the club heard a splendid classification talk by Rotarian Arthur Blunk. Mr. Blunk's talk was very interesting, and he held the closest attention of his hearers.

WAYNE COUNTY LIBRARY IN NEW LOCATION

The Wayne County Library is now nicely settled in the new location in the south room of the Plymouth Furniture Exchange building on Main street. The room has been newly redecorated and fitted up for the convenience of the library. New linoleum has been placed upon the floor, and the whole room has a cheerful and restful appearance.

Besides plenty of book shelf room, there has been made available, magazine and newspaper racks—something that was not possible in the old location. One of the chief features of the new location is the fact that the children do not have to cross the street to the village hall, where the library was formerly located.

The public is most cordially invited to make use of the library, for it is for their benefit that it is maintained.

The library hours are from 12:30 to 9:00 p. m., and from 9:00 a. m. to 9:00 p. m., Saturdays. Mrs. Ada Murray is the librarian in charge.

KIWANIS CLUB ENJOY IMPERSONATOR

NOBLE G. LARKINS OF DETROIT, BRINGS INTERESTING MESSAGE

The members of the Kiwanis club were close to 100% in attendance last Tuesday noon, as an expression of appreciation for the interesting program brought through the chairman, Kiwanian John M. Larkins. Mr. Larkins introduced his nephew, Noble G. Larkins of Detroit, who presented his impersonation of a narcotic addict at the bar of justice.

Profacing his remarks, the speaker gave an interesting account of the recent Shriners convention held in Los Angeles. Over 650 Shriners in special trains left Detroit for the western city. Chicago sent a delegation numbering over 1500. From all over the United States, Los Angeles was host to over 100,000 Shriners. On this 8,000 mile journey, "no stone was left unturned," to give the visitors the enjoyment of a real convention city.

During the remainder of the allotted time at this Kiwanis lunch hour, Mr. Larkins gave an excellent impersonation of the narcotic addict. He impersonated to perfection, that type of a human being society is trying to cure and reform. Statistics were given showing there are over 10,000 drug addicts in the city of Detroit, today; and over 20,000 in the state of Michigan.

"Our worst criminal does not make drug addicts; but drug addicts do make and are responsible for our worst type of criminals." More people become drug addicts through associations with those already afflicted with the habit, and when it takes on an average of only ten days with such associations, one can readily see how quickly and easily the habit is formed; and when once the habit is acquired, society is confronted with its greatest problem in bringing these people back to a normal and happy life.

Throughout his entire address, Mr. Larkins demonstrated his ability to handle the subject in an intellectual manner, and the luncheon hour passed off all too quickly for those who were privileged to hear him.

Plymouth Will Have New Department Store

Plymouth Business Man Weds

We take the following from the Shreveport, La., Times, relative to the marriage of Robert Willoughby of this place, and Miss Maxine Geddes of that city, Tuesday, June 11th. The bride is a former teacher in the Plymouth schools, while the groom is a prominent young business man of Plymouth.

"Elegant simplicity was the keynote for the nuptials of Miss Maxine Geddes and Mr. Robert Willoughby, of Plymouth, Michigan, which was celebrated at 5:00 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at St. Mark's Episcopal church. A large concourse of friends were assembled to witness the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. James M. Owens.

"The stately edifice was beautifully decorated for the occasion, with pink radiance roses and myriads of ferns and palms as a background.

"A beautiful program of nuptial music preceded the ceremony with Dr. Dunster presiding at the organ, who played "Hymn of Love" by Drorak, and during the ceremony "Liebestraum" by Liszt. He was assisted by Mrs. E. Weldon Jones, who sang "All for You" by Brown.

"One of the most delightful features of the nuptial program was the processional hymn, "The Voice that Breathed O'er Eden," given by the Mendelssohn Choral club, of which the bride is an active member. At the opening strains of Lohengrin's wedding march the bride entered with her father, Dr. Paul W. Geddes, who gave her in marriage. She was radiant in her bridal gown of flesh colored chantilly lace, fashioned in modish style, with close fitting basque and flounced skirt short in front and lengthened in the back. A long blue-shaded bow, extending down the back, gave a charming color note, a horse-hair hat with feather trim, completing the costume.

"Miss Margaret Geddes attended her sister as maid of honor. She wore a gown of pink chantilly lace a shade deeper than that of the bride, made in similar fashion, with a lace cocktail jacket and blue hat and shoes as accessories. Mrs. Lyle Runciman, of Detroit, as matron of honor, was dressed in a similar costume. The bridesmaids, Miss Knox William and Miss Cecilia Ellerbe, were gowned alike in pink lace frocks with cocktail jackets, hats and shoes to match. They all carried arm bouquets of pink radiance roses and blue delphinium.

"Mr. Lyle Runciman of Detroit, officiated as best man, with Messrs. John Kennedy, John B. Hutchinson, Jr., Lionel Hawkins and Paul W. Geddes, Jr. acting as hosts, wearing blue coats and white flannel trousers.

"Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Geddes, in Wilkinson street. Dr. and Mrs. Geddes were assisted by the bridal party and their sister, Mrs. R. W. Snyder of Battle Creek, in receiving their guests. Mrs. Geddes wore a beautiful costume of pink georgette with orchid hat, trimmed in deeper purple, and wore a corsage of lavender flowers. Mrs. Snyder wore blue georgette with hat and shoes of beige, her corsage being of pink flowers.

"The house was filled with pink roses and garden flowers. The dining table overlaid with a banquet cloth of lace and satin, was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake daintily embossed in pink. Individual cakes decorated with pink roses and fees molded in form of pink roses were served. Mrs. W. F. Brown presided in the dining room, and was assisted in the courtesies by Miss Mary Virginia Saunders, Miss Miriam Davis, Miss Vera Keith and Miss Sylvia Files.

"The bride's gifts to her maids were chokers of seed pearls and to her maid of honor antique gold earrings. The groom presented his attendants with cigarette lighters.

"Mr. and Mrs. Willoughby left the same evening for New Orleans, where they will take a boat to New York, making their way leisurely down the St. Lawrence river and Great Lakes to Plymouth, where they will be at home to their friends after August 1. The bride traveled in an ensemble in shades of blue, with hat, shoes and gloves in harmonizing colors.

"Out-of-town guests included Mrs. R. W. Snyder of Battle Creek, and Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Runciman of Detroit."

PLYMOUTH FIREMEN HIGHLY PRAISED

LOCAL FIRE LADDIES RECEIVE INSTRUCTIONS FROM EXPERT

Upon Wednesday and Thursday of last week, J. W. Just, engineer, from the Michigan Inspection Bureau of Detroit, put the local fire department through an intensive course of training covering the various branches of work associated with fire fighting and prevention. The course included a lecture upon the investigation and detection of arson cases, and demonstrations and drills covering ladder scaling, rope splicing, rope climbing, carrying of tools for the handling of hose, care and handling of fire fighting equipment, and first aid and life saving work. The members of the department evinced keen interest in all branches of the work covered, appreciating fully its value to them in their work.

Mr. Just incidentally paid the local department a very high compliment by declaring that of all communities in the state depending upon volunteer organizations for fire protection, Plymouth and two other villages, Crystal and Newage, head the entire list in the high standard of fire protection given the communities served. He highly commended the men individually and as an organization for the interest taken in their work and their pride in keeping up to a high standard the service which they are rendering the village.

The village may take just pride in the rating thus given our fire department by an expert in the field of fire fighting and fire prevention.

HERE'S HEALTH.

Our annual hot spell is just around the corner, when we must be more watchful of our health than at any other time of year. "At least a pint of milk a day for each member of the family" is an old health rule for summer. But we don't believe in being stingy with good advice, so here are nine others for the benefit of Plymouth citizens who are anxious to be on the safe side.

- 1—Take exercise and outdoor play
- 2—Get plenty of rest and sleep
- 3—Get fresh air and sunshine.
- 4—Keep clean, both inside and out.
- 5—Take care of the eyes, nose, throat and watch your weight.
- 6—Dress comfortably, and not just to be in style.
- 7—Eat the proper food and not too much of it.
- 8—Sit and stand correctly.
- 9—Think right and you will always be right.

INVESTIGATE FIRST.

About this time of year, and on through the summer, hundreds of boys and girls swarm over the country, piloting dilapidated flivvers, soliciting magazine subscriptions and selling books. All have a pathetic story of trying to "work their way through college," but not all are honest in either their statements or their methods of doing business. Some of them collect a down-payment and never turn it in. The result is they are that much "to the good" and the innocent subscriber is that much out of pocket.

There are reputable magazine agents in every community. If not, it is easy to hunt up a clubbing offer that will include the particular magazine you want. We call attention to the subject merely in the hope of protecting a few residents of Plymouth and vicinity from a fraud that is now, with the aid of the auto, becoming nation-wide in its scope and costing the public thousands of dollars annually for which they get nothing in return.

THOSE FIRST ROBINS.

Another pet theory has been exploded, and that is that the "first robin" is a certain fore-runner of spring. A student of bird life at Michigan University, having studied the habits of feathered creatures for years, says robins, and many other varieties of birds, will stay in the northwest as long as they are assured of plenty to eat. He says unpicked berry patches and unharvested apple crops will tempt them to take chances on snow and ice, and that if the supply of food lasts all winter, then they will stay all winter. He may know what he is talking about; we are not going to argue with him. But since he has exploded another of our pet theories it looks like about all that's left to us now is to pin our faith in the ground-hog and keep it there.

OUTLAWING THE GUN.

It won't be long now until the resident of Indiana, who wants to carry a gun will have to obtain a permit. Under a new law permits will be limited strictly to individuals who can prove they have real use for them.

Men who study crime and its increase in this country are agreed that it is largely due to the ease with which anyone—boy or man, girl or woman—can secure a revolver. No questions are asked, apparently, when the price of a gun is laid on the counter, and since no record is kept of the transaction the matter ends there.

Indiana has taken a forward step, and other states are pretty apt to follow. It may be a little severe on the manufacturers of firearms, and on the man who sells them. But the theory of the Indiana law is to reach the criminal without placing a handicap on people who have a proper and legitimate reason for carrying a gun. The man who has a right to carry one will be protected by his permit; the man who has no business with one must suffer, for he will have no permit to protect him in the event of his arrest.

Today any boy in Plymouth can buy a revolver if he has the price of one, and yet we do not believe there is a boy in town with a legitimate reason for going armed. A law like the new one referred to would be a protection not only to the boys but to the public at large.

We can't help agreeing with the experts in crime study in their belief that a tightening up on gun-toting will reduce crime in every state in the union.

SAVE THE FORESTS.

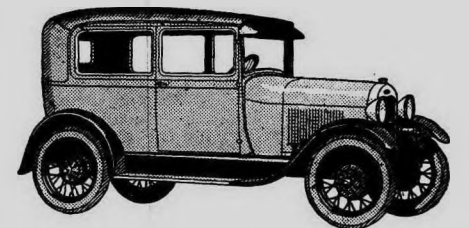

Carelessness of motor campers in the use of matches and lighted cigars, especially in forest areas of the U. S., has led the Bureau of Standards at Washington City to search for some practical means of preventing the dangers it incurs. They are trying to find ways to "fire-proof" matches, to coat them with water-glass or some other inflammable substance up to the point where the flame is needed. And they are experimenting with fireproof cigaret tips so that these, smouldering in the brush of a forest, may not be the source of what has many a time turned out to be a costly blaze.

They will probably have some difficulty in carrying out the idea, yet we believe every rural resident around Plymouth will join with the balance of humanity in hoping that the "fire-proof" match and cigaret are our next blessings in the way of inventions. But even then we can't expect the source of forest fires to be completely eliminated. The hazard remains as long as a match burns or a cigar or cigaret "butt" smoulders.

Meantime we should acquire the habit, especially while driving or camping on forest land, to put out every match we use before throwing it away and to stamp out every cigar or cigaret stub before leaving it behind. Our fast dwindling forest resources must not be further destroyed by our recklessness and carelessness.

Everything you want or need in a modern automobile

There is nothing quite like the new Ford anywhere in quality and price

UNTIL you ride in the new Ford—share its comfort—know the thrills of guiding it easily and safely through thickest traffic or stepping it up on the open road, you cannot begin to appreciate the value that has been built into this car.

It is difficult to believe that so much beauty, quiet, comfort, safety, speed and power can be had at such a low price. It would be impossible if this new car were made by anyone but Ford.

The low price of the new Ford and its exceptional performance are the result of manufacturing practices and economies as unusual as the car itself. The new Ford is more than a new automobile. It is the advanced expression of a wholly new idea in modern, economical transportation.

For here, at a low price, is everything you want or need in an automobile—beautiful low lines and choice of color . . . four Houdaille hydraulic two-way shock absorbing . . . Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield . . . fully enclosed, silent six-brake system . . . vibration-absorbing engine support . . . quick acceleration . . . 55 to 65 miles an hour . . . typical Ford economy, reliability and long life.

Come in and let us demonstrate the performance of this car. You'll get a real thrill in driving it.

Parking lines have been laid along both sides of Kellogg Park, during the past few days. Parking accommodations for approximately one hundred cars have been made available along three sides of the park.

The recent heavy rains have had their effect in reviving the grass in the cemetery and village parks, and making them probably more beautiful than they have been up to the present this year. The flower beds are now at their best, and add very considerably to the natural beauty of the surroundings.

Considerable public improvement work has been authorized by the commission for installation this season. Included in the program are the following:

Water mains in Auburn Ave. from Blanche St. to Junction Ave.; in Junction Ave. from N. Harvey St. to Adams St.; in Sunset Ave. from Farmer St. to Junction Ave.; and in Palmer Ave. over its entire length;

Storm sewer laterals in Sutherland Ave. from S. Main St. to S. Harvey St., and in Palmer Ave. over its entire length;

Sanitary sewer in Pine St. from Wing St. southward a distance of one block;

A 70-ft. monolithic section of 7-ft. cement concrete culvert at S. Harvey St. and the south branch of Tonquish Creek.

Notice has been received by the village from the Wayne County Park Board, that the use of Plymouth River-side Park as a tourist camp will not henceforth be permitted. It is the plan of the board to develop the park in such manner as best to serve the interests of the general public, as is the case at Cass Benton and the other county parks, but not to arrange for the accommodation of tourists who may wish to set up tents and remain at the park indefinitely.

NEWBURG

Rev. Johnson will be with us for the last time, next Sunday. He has made many friends in the short time he has been here. Mrs. Johnson has shown her interest in the work by playing for church service. All join in wishing them God speed in their new field of labor.

Both divisions were very active during the six months' contest. Numerous plays, concerts, etc., were given. Mrs. Thomas' division turned in $134.65, and Mrs. Joy's division, $121.13, a total of $255.78. Personally, Mrs. Thomas earned $33.00, the most of any one.

A very fine musical was given last Friday evening at the church, under the direction of Prof. Robert T. Dawson of Detroit. Mrs. Joy's division of the L. A. S. had charge of it.

Results of Lightning

Lightning is an abrupt electric discharge of great magnitude through the air. It is not a sound of any kind. It produces thunder by suddenly heating the air along its path to a very high temperature and thereby causing it to expand in an explosive manner.

Local Kiwanians Will Attend Convention

KIWANIS CALLS KIWANIANS TO INTERNATIONAL CONVENTION. MILWAUKEE THE CHOSEN CITY.

A great industrial metropolis, and yet its location on Lake Michigan makes it the mecca of thousands of summer tourists. A great commercial center, and yet the gateway to the "playground of the Middle West."

That spirit of loyalty which pervades every service club was much in evidence last Tuesday noon, at the Kiwanis luncheon hour, when twenty-one members of the club signified their intentions to attend the Kiwanis International Convention to be held in Milwaukee, Wis., during the week of June 23rd to 27th, inclusive. Kenneth K. Chalmers, general chairman, Milwaukee Convention committee, writes that Milwaukee awaits Kiwanians with a sincere, wholehearted welcome.

The same progressive spirit that animated the Kiwanis Club of Milwaukee in aggressively seeking the 1929 convention, has resulted in a program that a reporter for the Mail reads will be a most pleasant surprise to every convention visitor.

The members of the general committee of this convention—a great many of whom have attended many previous international conventions—have enabled them to draw on their experiences so that every Kiwanian and members of his family can be assured of a memorable time, an occasion long to be remembered.

Entertainment features never previously attempted, and most especially a program for the ladies, so diversified that there will not be a dull moment during their entire stay in Milwaukee, have been assured by the committees in charge.

In Milwaukee the delegates and members of over 1500 Kiwanis clubs will meet. The convention offers a dual enjoyment, that of receiving and giving. At no other time in the year can the Kiwanian expect as an individual to contribute so effective a voice in the administration of Kiwanis International and in determining the future of this beloved organization.

Old friends are to be greeted, new friendships are to be formed. This international convention will provide the inspiring setting for the establishment and development of the richest friendships of life—Kiwanis friendships.

The following members of the Plymouth Kiwanis Club are making plans to attend the convention: Mr. and Mrs. Carl Helde, Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Jolliffe, Miss Charlotte Louise Jolliffe, Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Finlan, Mr. and Mrs. Robert O. Mimmack, Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Crowe, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Larkins, Dr. and Mrs. Luther Peck, Robert J. Jolliffe and Roy E. Crowe are the official delegates selected by the local club to represent their interests at this international convention.

Playthings Old as Humanity
Scientists claim that the custom of playing with dolls is as old as any conceivable family life. In delving among the tombs of ancient Greece and Egypt, archeologists have made the surprising discovery that children played with jointed dolls more than 5,000 years ago. Moreover, other playthings have been unearthed, such as miniature and cooking utensils.

Mental Growth
All my old opinions were only stages on the way to the one I now hold, as itself is only a stage on the way to something else. I am no more ashamed at having been a red-hot socialist with a panacea of my own than at having been a sucking infant. CREDIT BUREAU OUTLOOK INFLUENCES BUSINESS FOR NEXT SIX MONTHS

Basic Soundness Found in Local, National Commercial Fields; Building Slumps.

BY WAYNE W. PUTNAM, Assistant Vice-President, Union Trust Co.

Production and commerce, after making an extraordinary record during the first half of the year, are beginning to show signs of moderating. The crest of the forward movement was reached early this month. General business is still at a high level, but the indications are that the trend during the summer will be rather downward than upward.

Seasonal influences, of course, are at work in this direction but they do not furnish the complete answer. Credit and crops, on which business is always largely dependent, are of unusual importance in forming an opinion of what business will be like in the second half of 1929. Interest rates continue high, with little prospect of being lowered in the near future. The size of the harvests cannot be accurately estimated for some weeks. The agricultural outlook, moreover, is complicated by the decline in the price of wheat, the big cash crop of the American farmer. An easier credit situation with bountiful crops and fair prices would materially improve the outlook for business in the autumn.

The building situation is another factor of outstanding importance in appraising what is in store for business in the months that lie immediately ahead. Building contracts, after showing an improvement in April, again turned downward in May, falling 12 per cent below the same month last year and nine per cent below the preceding month. For the first time in many months the nation's trade balance in May turned unfavorable, imports exceeding exports to the extent of $14,000,000.

Business Basically Sound.

But notwithstanding these cross-currents, business on the whole evidences remarkable vitality and is too basically sound to warrant the expectation that a severe slump is in prospect for the final half of the year. Operations in the steel industry are only slightly below the record level established in May. Production of small automobiles promises to hold up well, while the manufacturers of heavier cars are engaged in making preparations to bring out new models. Corporate earnings are making a good showing. Employment conditions are highly satisfactory. Faith in the Hoover administration is widespread. Our loadings of revenue freight continue to maintain a comfortable margin over those of a year ago. Furthermore, the trade situation is better than it was at this time last year.

Manufacturing activity in Michigan continued at a high level during the past month and was substantially above the rate which prevailed a year ago. Most lines, however, are now entering a period of seasonal decline. Production schedules, accordingly, for the next month or two are being revised moderately downward. Copper and iron mining in the upper peninsula is proceeding in a highly satisfactory manner and general business conditions in that part of the state are reported good to excellent. Some woodworking lines have recently picked up, notably store fixtures and office equipment. Electric power used by Michigan industries in May amounted to 230,940,738 kilowatt hours, as compared with 232,695,468 kilowatt hours in the month of April.

Production of cars and trucks in the United States and Canada in May is estimated at 624,087 units as compared with 662,557 vehicles in the preceding month and 459,725 in May a year ago. Total automobile production for the first five months of this year amounted to 2,832,338 units as compared with 1,901,314 in the corresponding months of last year, which was a gain of 49 per cent. Ford production is only slightly under 8,000 units per day.

The industrial employment situation in Michigan is well balanced. An upward trend in recent weeks is reported by 17 cities, among the larger of which are Battle Creek, Hancock, Houghton, Jackson, Manistiquette, Sault Ste. Marie, Bay City, Ann Arbor, St. Ignace, Hastings and Saginaw. Public improvements, agricultural activities and lake shipping continue to absorb a substantial number of workers. There are now 118,738 workmen on the payrolls of the Ford plants situated in Detroit, Lake Township is high.

Net registered tonnage passing through the Sault canals in May aggregated 10,247,917 tons, which was 40 per cent greater than in the same month a year ago.

Debts to individual accounts in Bay City, Kalamazoo, Lansing, Muskegon, St. Joseph and Detroit in the month of May totaled $2,222,570.78, which was 2 1/2 per cent larger than in April, and 21 per cent greater

THE "lucky breaks" that come to families usually are man-made opportunities—won because somebody looked ahead and planned and saved. The gains we envy others mostly are rewards for hard work and harder sacrifices.

In our role of a community institution we are helping many families and individuals right now to build the funds that will bring them the things they want next year, and beyond. You can use this helpful cooperation too.

FARMINGTON MILLS

After I tired of cigar bands I collected movie and stage celebrities, three notebooks of them. I wrote to my favorite stars and told them how much I enjoyed their pictures and asked if they would please send me an autographed photograph. I wrote the same letter to each one and soon received many pictures. Today because of this hobby I feel that I know many stars very well. I have seen some of their pictures or plays and have read much about them. I have gained a greater respect for the celebrities of the stage and silver screen. I have seen the progress from the simple picture to the elaborate and expensive production of today. I have seen these men and women develop their own art and deepen their roles from the merely surface theme to themes significant for life.

Growing weary of my collection of celebrities I turned to nature for one summer collecting flowers and leaves which were pressed and dried and then put into note books. I found where they grew and which had a medicinal value and which had no value except beauty. Now when I take a walk I always look for familiar flower faces and like to find new ones.

Flowers have been much used in literature and every country has its legends as to how the flowers were named or what they mean. Some of the flowers like the anemone have two meanings: one, sacredness and life, and the other, sadness and death. Another man decorated his altars with these flowers believing they were the tears of Venus. The snowdrops are the tears of Eve which she shed when she left the garden of Eden. The daisy is the flower of fortune. Even today people tell their fortunes by the daisy petals. The beautiful carnation is believed to have sprung from the sacred blood of Christ. The olive is the symbol of security and peace.

There are also flowers of sin. The lovely hyacinth denotes misfortune and unhappiness and the marigold envy. The tiny-forget-me-not has one of the loveliest legends. A young girl and her lover were walking beside the Danube when she saw some blue flowers across the river. The young man jumped into the water, swam across, and picked these; but as he swam back, exhausted by the current, he was pulled under the waves and as he rose, he threw the flowers at her feet, saying "forget-me-not."

This little blue flower stands for chivalry as it does for love and during the middle ages was a symbol of Knighthood. The iris also denotes chivalry and Ruskin has written "the Fleur-de-lis which is the flower of chivalry has a sword for its leaf, and a lily for its heart."

The jasmine with its beautiful odor was the only flower which did not die on the crucifixion night and because of its pain it lost all color and the lily was the only flower which looked at Christ and because of the blush for its boldness it has a pale pink center. The shamrock and pansy are both flowers of the trinity.

So you see there are many beautiful legends to be learned from flowers. These are only a few of the many hobbies that you can find today and I am sure you can all find some hobby which is among your interests.

VALEDICTORY

By Irene Krauter

Parents, Friends, Members of the School Board, Faculty, and Classmates:

As the world has advanced to its present stage, many changes have taken place, the evolution of business being a very interesting one. Early records show how trade leadership was passed from the Venetians to the Cretes, Jews and Romans. Then came the time when barbarians almost devastated civilization.

But business was a powerful factor which helped to evolve our modern life. From about 1200 there was a revival of industry. Guilds sprang up and goods were exchanged with foreign nations. The Italians had invented a system of bookkeeping which fitted the needs of the time and prepared the people for the two non-Church occupations—commerce and public service for the City-State.

This business interest brought on a scientific method. Men began to question instead of just accept. It was this business-like spirit that led to geographical discoveries—among them our own America. This was carried on in earnest in the middle of the 18th century and brought such great changes that it was called the Industrial Revolution which has helped make business what it is today. I say "helped" because there is another factor to be considered. Contrast the early methods of recording with those of today.

When Julius Caesar called for his stenographer, no chic young woman walked into his editorial sanctum to take down his commentaries. Caesar's stenographer came into the room with papyrus and stylus, decorously sandled, tuniced and togged in the style of his time and laboriously proceeded to take down his dictation.

But even in Caesar's time stenography was a well-developed profession and survived even during the Dark Ages. It is also reported that students who suffered long under a hard taskmaster turned upon their instructors and stabbed them with their stylus.

As a matter of fact Shorthand has been a subject for inventive genius since the days of Plutarch who mentions that debates in the Roman Senate were taken down in Shorthand.

Through history it has come steadily being improved and, coupled with modern invention it has made business a science instead of just a game of chance or luck. No great enterprise, political, industrial, social or otherwise can become a success without the use of stenography in recording and transacting its business.

There is always more than one way, however, to measure the value of anything, and Shorthand has more than a business value. It is a method of figure writing written entirely by sound. This calls for concentrated word study which is very interesting and educational. Correct English must always be used, a training which is very valuable to the average American. The rapidity to which one must react to dictation makes one a quick thinker. Besides cultural training, it has one that is novel. To learn to read and write in Shorthand is like seeing the world through different eyes, and when one opens a book or word to decipher while reading, it gives that impatient feeling we have all had while watching an unusually interesting picture and the screen goes blank.

Shorthand books, too, seem to be full of essays and sayings that make one realize how much the world has in store for us. In our study, we have gone on interesting travels, met old and modern writers and learned their views on almost any subject, and have had new worlds brought before us.

Thus, in the last few moments, I have endeavored to direct your attention to the influence of stenography in the world's business and upon society in general, trusting that in the future, because of your understanding of what stenography really has done, that it will have a changed meaning for most of you.

Four years ago when we entered those double doors out in front which one of us had even a hazy notion of tonight? We took things as a matter of course but each year saw us grow and saw a deeper friendship as we strived for the same object under the guidance and help of the faculty, parents and friends until now we have completed that which our school offers. We have gone through a critical period of our young lives and have been true friends and comrades. It is my sincere hope and wish that we may go on as individuals keeping up the standards we have set as a class and be true citizens of the flag we love so well.

Plymouth Graduates At M. S. C.

Gladys Isabella Clemens, F. Louise Spicer and Martin Henry Strason, all of Plymouth, are among the 412 seniors who will receive their bachelor's degrees at Michigan State College this spring, according to official lists just released by the M. S. C. registrar.

The seventy-first annual commencement exercises will be held on June 24, with Dr. Paul Voelker, president of Battle Creek College, delivering the commencement address.

This year's graduating class is one of the largest in the history of the college.

Numerous class ceremonies have preceded the actual commencement week. Among them are such colorful rites as the annual cap night, lantern night, senior swing-out, and the water festival, held on the Red Cedar River, which plays an important role in campus traditions. William Muller of Birmingham, Mich., is the senior president.

Work on the new Beaumont Memorial Tower will be completed before the graduation exercises, and will be formally dedicated during commencement week. The campanile, which contains a beautiful set of English chimes, marks the site of the first agricultural building in the world and is a conspicuous landmark on the campus.

CANTON WINS ANOTHER GAME

Canton added another game to their string of victories last Sunday, when they trimmed the Garden City team, 8 to 2. Next Sunday, June 23, the Canton team will stack up against the fast Goldie Patents, on the Canton field at the corner of Canton Center and Golden roads. This will be the third and last game with the Goldie Patents, and a hard fought game is expected from both teams to break the tie.

Northville public schools graduated a class of 25 this week.

Nelson Schrader, Jr. of Northville, is some marksman. At the gun club grounds in that village recently, he broke the records of the experienced shooters there with a 20 out of a possible 25 shots score.

Northville has a new aircraft plant—the Cadillac Aircraft Corporation. Their product is to be a duoplane—a big flying boat. It has a wing spread of 46 feet and an overall length of 31 feet. It is powered with 110 horsepower Kinner engines that will produce a speed of a little over 100 miles per hour.

This week, L. W. Lovewell bought from C. R. Leland of near Ann Arbor, three registered Durham steers, 18 months old, weighing 3770 pounds, at 134 cents a pound, which brought Mr. Leland better than $508. This proved that it pays to feed cattle, if you have quality to start with.

Moreover, the various cooking controls take the guesswork out of cooking. You can be confident that even cheaper cuts of meat will cook tender and savory. An electric range is unsurpassed for consistent and superior cooking.

EDITORIAL

This is the last time that the seniors on this staff will be able to write for the Pilgrim Prints, and it is the last time for all the staff to write this school year.

At this time the staff wishes to thank the teachers and the Plymouth Mail for their hearty cooperation in making the second year of the Pilgrim Prints a huge success.

Next year the editor hopes that a good number will try out for a postponing secretary, to keep track of all the members, and notify them of the reunion.

LAS GITANOS HAS FAREWELL PARTY

These last few weeks of school seem to have been crowded with parties, and so in keeping with the rest of the clubs, the Travel Club had a farewell party both for senior mem-bering secretary, to keep track of all the members, and notify them of the reunion. After supper games were played for a while, but everyone left rather early after having spent a delightful evening, because the week was a strenuous one, and all were tired. At Mary Haskell's the last ceremonial and party was held on Wednesday evening, June 12. The senior girls who were leaving the club, marched down the basement stairs carrying lighted Japanese lanterns and singing, "Sunlight is Gleaming," and marched around the group or circle of junior girls. In the center of the circle was a make-believe fire. As the girls finished singing, each gave her lantern to one of the junior girls, and they formed a circle of light with them.

About twenty members of the club travelled out to Doris Ströbbing's last Friday evening, and there enjoyed a delicious supper of potato salad, sandwiches, beans, pickles, olives, lemonade, ice cream, strawberries and birthday cake, for it was also Doris's birthday.

While everyone was still seated at the table, Miss Asman was presented with a darning, dressed up as a doll. After that, Lorraine Corbett, on behalf of the club, presented her with

It was suggested that next year the club have a reunion, and it was seconded by everyone. Consequently Miss Asman invited us to meet next year at her home for the reunion. Heloise Travis was elected corresponding secretary, to keep track of all the members, and notify them of the reunion. In the living room, the girls noticed advertisements on the wall, and wondered what they were for. They soon found out, for each girl had to guess as many as she could. A great deal of fun was gotten out of the advertisements, as some of the girls' answers were so very funny. The rest of the evening, bunko was enjoyed by all, and such a time as they had playing it!

and with it comes the knowledge that sixty-two students are about to disperse to various walks of life, and never again, perhaps, will they be permitted to gather as a class. Monday night the seniors met by themselves for the last time, but any sadness was quickly dispelled. The occasion was a steak roast at Cass Benton Park. Each member brought his own provisions, and it was most amusing to watch the various methods employed to broil the meat. Some of the boys

After consuming pounds of steak and dozens of rolls, the dignified seniors forgot themselves for awhile and had a gay time on the slides, swings and teeters. DE-HO-CO WINS ONE, LOSES ONE WITH BATTLE CREEK

THE DE-HO-CO TEAM IS PLAYING SOME OF THE FASTEST TEAMS IN THE STATE.

The De-Ho-Co team journeyed to Battle Creek and engaged the first Kelloggs of that city in a two game series Saturday and Sunday. Saturday's game was won by De-Ho-Co, 10 to 7, but they lost Sunday's battle, 7 to 2.

Kellogg made De-Ho-Co a gift of the first game, mostly through the erratic pitching of Katz, who walked four successive men in the third, forcing in one run and setting the stage for four more that followed. Again in the eighth, De-Ho-Co scored four runs off two hits, two walks and an error. De-Ho-Co, not wishing to be outdone in the matter of giving, tried to return the game to Kelloggs when they permitted them to score six runs off three hits, and two walks in the fifth. However, one of these hits was by Hammond, for four bases, and as two men were on at the time, was good for three runs.

Smith, for De-Ho-Co, was the batting star, getting two hits out of three official trips to the plate, while Denniston must be called the hitless wonder. Although Eddie actually carried a bat to the plate five times, he is only charged with one time at bat. He walked once, sacrificed once and twice was hit by pitched balls, thereby being credited with being on base three times without a hit.

Hammond with a single and home run, and Beller with two singles, collected half of the hits for Kelloggs.

Sunday's encounter was a much better ball game, even though De-Ho-Co was on the losing end. Hammond, Kelloggs' backstop, was the "Babe Ruth" of the day, getting two home runs and a single in four times up. Payne, with a triple and single, and Hiene with two singles, also helped Kelloggs materially.

Destefano, with two singles in four times at bat; Denniston with two singles and a base on balls, done their best to make De-Ho-Co's effort a winning one. However, as Hammond's hits scored five runs, it looked like too much Hammond.

The play by play description of this game follows:

FIRST INNING: De-Ho-Co—Destefano singled; Denniston singled; Destefano stole third. Spencer hit to Singleton at first, who threw Denniston out at second; Spencer was safe on the fielder's choice. Martin grounded out third to first, and Jaska struck out to end the inning. One run, two hits, no errors.

Kelloggs—Hiene singled, Claire fled to Smith in left; Payne hit into a double play, Jaska to Martin to Denniston. No runs, one hit, no errors.

SECOND INNING: De-Ho-Co—Smith was hit by a pitched ball; Trombley forced Smith; German forced Trombley; Rowland singled; Destefano singled scoring German; Denniston walked, filling the bases; Spencer grounded out; Fitzgerald to Singleton. One run, two hits, no errors. Kelloggs—Hammond hit a home run; Prough was out, Martin to Denniston; Fitzgerald singled; Singleton fled to Smith; Beller forced Fitzgerald, Destefano to Martin. One run, two hits, no errors.

THIRD INNING: De-Ho-Co—Martin popped to Singleton; Jaska was out, pitcher to first; Smith fouled to Hammond. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Kelloggs—Kaan grounded out, Martin to Denniston; Hiene walked; Claire doubled; Payne singled, scoring Hiene, Claire going to third; Payne stole second; Hammond fled to Martin; Prough fled to Trombley. One run, two hits, no errors.

FOURTH INNING: De-Ho-Co—Trombley singled; German forced Trombley; Rowland struck out; Destefano forced German, Claire to Fitzgerald. No runs, one hit, no errors. Kelloggs—Fitzgerald out, Destefano to Denniston; Singleton but, Rowland to Denniston; Beller walked; Kaan forced Beller, Martin to Destefano. No runs, no hits, no errors.

FIFTH INNING: De-Ho-Co—Denniston singled; Spencer forced Denniston. Spencer was out stealing, Martin fled to Payne. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Kelloggs—Hiene walked; Claire was safe on Jaska's error; Payne sacrificed; Hammond singled, scoring Hiene and Claire; Prough fled to Smith, and Fitzgerald struck out to end the inning. Two runs, one hit, one error.

SIXTH INNING: De-Ho-Co—Jaska fled to Singleton; Smith singled, but was out trying to stretch it; Trombley fled to short. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Kelloggs—Rowland threw out Singleton; Jaska threw out Beller; Kaan fled to Smith. No runs, no hits, no errors.

SEVENTH INNING: De-Ho-Co—Fitzgerald threw out German; Kaan threw out Rowland; Destefano fled to Payne. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Kelloggs—Hiene singled; Claire forced Hiene, Jaska to Martin; Payne tripled, scoring Claire; Hammond hit a home run, scoring Payne ahead of him. Prough fled to Spencer; Fitzgerald was safe on Destefano's error; Singleton struck out, German dropped the ball, but threw him out at first. Three runs, three hits, one error.

EIGHTH INNING: De-Ho-Co—Denniston was out, Singleton to Kaan; Spencer doubled; Hiene threw out Martin; Jaska was safe on Hiene's error; Smith fled to center. No runs, one hit, one error.

Kelloggs—Prough replaced Rowland as De-Ho-Co's hurler; Beller grounded out to Jaska; Kaan struck out; Priest threw out Hiene. No runs, no hits, no errors.

NINTH INNING: De-Ho-Co—Trombley grounded out, Claire to Singleton; German fled to Payne; Priest fled to Beller. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Crocker's Arithmetic, the first complete manual for "numerals," was published September 3, 1877, by Sir Roger L'Estrange. The author, who died before it was published, became proverbial in England as a master of mathematical subjects. His book was a "best seller" for nearly a century.

BIG CELEBRATION IN NORTHVILLE JULY FOURTH

The American Legion Post at Northville is sponsoring a big Fourth of July celebration that promises to eclipse any previous event of this kind in that village.

During the forenoon that will be potato races, a greased pig race, peanut races, three legged races—in fact most every kind of race you can think of.

Early in the afternoon a baseball team under the direction of Michigan's most famous veteran ball pitcher, Harry German, a team of Northville players will contest with the team of some other community for baseball honors. This game will be played at the fair grounds where nearly all of the events of the afternoon and evening will take place.

Following the ball game will be seven running races. For these events the committee in charge has secured entries from all over southern Michigan. Some of the most famous runners in the state will be in Northville to take part in the races and from the interest manifested it would not be surprising if the big grandstand at the race track was crowded to capacity for these events.

For the evening's entertainment there will be a big display of fireworks and a boxing contest. Several well known boxers are being booked for this part of the entertainment.

Today's Reflections

Who remembers the old days when kicking and biting were barred on the dance floor?

Yes, the new generation is smarter. Plymouth children now know how to handle their parents without a book on the subject.

There are said to be fewer whales than there used to be. Maybe some of those fishermen's stories were true after all.

The Chinese are said to like cruelty in their moving pictures. Then some of these new talking ones ought to go big over there.

About the only excuse the average Plymouth man has for being happy today is that he doesn't know what's going to happen tomorrow.

We often say someone is "as mean as a dog," and yet you never saw a dog shake hands with someone and then go around and bite them in the hack.

Good intentions are somewhat like fainting women—they both need carrying out.

Twenty-five years ago when one saw a Plymouth man handling a package with all the care in the world it would have been eggs.

We never see a woman around Plymouth any more with the old-fashioned "wasp waist" but we sometimes bump into one with that kind of a disposition.

Doctors say no one knows all the ills to which the human flesh is heir, but the old-time almanac came pretty close to it.

Trouble never hangs out a shingle or puts a number on his door, but you never have any difficulty in finding where he lives.

Any Plymouth kid can tell when his father is on the wrong side of the argument by the way he bangs the door when he goes out.

A Turk claims to have reached the age of 160 by living on garlic, cigars and cheese. Father Time couldn't choke off a breath that strong.

Had you heard about the Plymouth girl who knew so little about cars that she asked her boy friend if they kept cool by stripping their gears?

A Boston editor says that courting in an automobile is dangerous. But why specify an automobile?

Maybe if you'll go to the sheriff and threaten to make wine out of the dandelions in your yard he'll send someone around to pull them up.

There's always a trick in it. They sell a car or phonograph on credit and then demand cash for the gas or the records.

Only the girl of sixteen who marries a rich old widower knows what is meant by trying to get blood out of a turnip.

For as little as $10.00 per year we can protect everything you take with you against practically every sort of loss.

Furthermore, this Personal Effects Policy insures things you send to laundries, cleaners, or tailors; your hats or wraps at restaurants or theatres; all your effects at a hotel or while traveling. It's a year-round policy insuring everything outside your home against practically all risks.

Just call us up and we'll send you a policy.

Pasteurized Milk has more "kick" in it than any other drink!

Does that sound strange? It may but it is nevertheless true. There is more substantial nourishment in pasteurized milk than in any other food drink. Healthy people drink pasteurized milk because, in addition to its fine taste and its thirst-quenching power, it helps them to keep healthy. Sick persons are advised by physicians to drink pasteurized milk in order to regain their strength.

Yes, pasteurized milk has a "kick" to it; and unlike other drinks with a "kick," builds up the bodily tissues rather than tending to break them down.

In The Theatre

"VOICE OF THE STORM"

Carrying the story of a great love that survives the efforts of man and the elements alike to crush it, the FRO production, "Voice of the Storm," comes to the Penniman Allen theatre Sunday and Monday, June 23 and 24.

Directed by Lynn Shores, a sterling cast, including Karl Dane, Martha Sleeper, Hugh Allan, Theodore von Eltz, Lydia Yeaman Titus, Warner Richmond and Brandon Hurst, interprets the breath-taking action of the feature.

What is said to be an example of realism without parallel in motion pictures is incorporated in "Voice of the Storm" in a mad race over muddy roads and tottering bridges as Theodore von Eltz, Martha Sleeper and Karl Dane attempt to reach the state prison in time to deliver the reprieve which will save the life of Hugh Allan.

The many red-blooded incidents in the plot of "Voice of the Storm" is said to give an appeal to children as well as adults. A large measure of intriguing suspense is created through the search for a lost formula, on the finding of which partially depends the life of the hero.

Walter Woods wrote the scenario of this FRO production.

"CHINATOWN NIGHTS"

One of the greatest character actors of the screen, Wallace Beery, has his greatest role in the swift-moving action, mystery drama, "Chinatown Nights" which comes to the Penniman Allen theatre, Thursday, June 27. It is a role demanding an infinite amount of power and resource, and Beery brings to it all the force and skill which has led him step by step up the ladder to screen success.

"Chinatown Nights" deals with the love of a scintillating woman of society for a coarse, brutal, cynical white man who rules a million Chinese through the national tong organization. This love drags the woman down to the gutter of Chinatown's underworld until, finally, her pitiable condition arouses a responsive chord in the white boss of Chinatown. Together they seek regeneration.

In this setting of intrigue, mystery and absorbing suspense, Florence Vidor performs one of her most dramatic parts. She is superb in the difficult role which turns her from a bright society butterfly into an abject creature, too depraved for pity or scorn. Opposite Beery, she has the opportunity for a great triumph and those who see "Chinatown Nights" at the Penniman Allen theatre will long remember her surprising portrayal.

An excellent group of screen artists including Warner Oland and Jack Oakie, are in the cast and William A. Wellman, the man who made "Wings," directed the picture.

"THE ROYAL RIDER"

"The Royal Rider," Ken Maynard's latest First National picture coming to the Penniman Allen theatre Saturday, June 29, strikes an absolutely different vein in western adventure romance for the entire action takes place in Albania, a small mythical kingdom somewhere in Europe. There are beautiful interior sets portraying the throne room of the king, the palace grounds and other unusual settings.

"MIRACULOUS-IS WHAT I SAY OF MODERN KONJOLA"

Stubborn Case of Rheumatism and Stomach Trouble Ended by New Medicine—All Else Had Failed

MRS. JULIA RICE

"I know of but one word that describes Konjola, and that word is 'Miraculous,'" said Mrs. Julia Rice, 214 West End street, Alma, Mich. "As a result of stomach trouble and rheumatism I was in a terrible condition. I lost weight and strength. Gas and bloating followed my meals, and the pains were almost unbearable. I couldn't sleep on account of the rheumatic pains.

"I didn't think it possible for one medicine to do what Konjola did for me. Within a week I was immeasurably better, and in four weeks I felt like a different person. My stomach has been corrected, and my food nourishes me. All the rheumatic pains have been driven from my body. O, that all the world could know of this master medicine!"

Konjola is sold in Plymouth at the Community Drug store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

ace grounds and other unusual settings.

The story brings a troupe of American cowboys into Europe with a Wild West show. In the course of their travels they happen upon a small kingdom in which politics and intrigue are rife. A boy king and an American governess are involved which is enough excuse to start a gang of riders in one of the wildest and most thrilling fights ever shown on the screen.

Against this background of royalty and costumes Ken, with his chaps, Stetson hat and spurs makes a striking figure. One of the high-lights of "The Royal Rider" is a rodeo in which broncho riding, steer bulldozing, roping and other feats of the arena are shown.

Olive Hasbrouck, Phillip de Lacy, Harry Semels, Joseph Burke, Billy Franey and Theodore Lorch are in support of Ken and Tarzan. Harry J. Brown directed.

Michigan State Fair

The eighteenth annual exposition of the Michigan State Fair, to be held September 1 to 7, will be featured by the beginning of a 20-year program that is expected to make the fair the most famous of its kind in the world long before the centennial is observed in 1949, according to state fair officials.

The first phase of the program will be the most extensive list of prizes ever offered by the fair, $126,100. This compares with $120,000 last year, and $107,000 in 1927, the first time it had ever exceeded the $100,000 mark.

A second is the inauguration of a new display program. Wandering exhibitors of livestock and poultry who travel from fair to fair with exhibits, which they display only when certain of winning, will be barred. The purpose is to confine exhibits and prizes exclusively to established livestock and poultry breeders who heretofore have been discouraged by such "gyp" competition, and encourage them to display their stock and to breed better strains. As a consequence a 10% increase in the number of exhibitors and exhibits is looked for. However, some of this increase is expected to result from the greater co-operation between fair officials and exhibitors which has characterized the management during the last two years.

The largest individual group of awards will be for the livestock, pet stock and poultry groups and total $55,038, emphasizing the management's determination to encourage displays by individual agriculturists of these important branches of husbandry. The biggest prizes in this group are $12,745 for dairy cattle and $10,813 for beef breeds. Poultry and pet stock are given $9,621, swine $9,785 and sheep $8,417, the largest totals ever offered in each division. The prizes in these groups total 25% more than they did in 1928. Some of this total was taken from that for horse racing, though awards here still amount to $13,400. Horse show, horse racing and draft and standard bred horse prizes total $26,950. Prizes for draft and standard bred horses have been increased to $6,415.

Prizes in the cattle department total $33,000, as against only $26,000 last year, and form the largest amount ever given in the fair's history. Thirteen separate classes will receive awards in this department. More than $3,700 has been set aside for prizes for fruits and vegetables of which 200 classes, half of them market varieties of fruits, are expected to be shown. The dairy and apulary department has been given $1,285, the largest total ever to be awarded in this section.

The Women's Work department this year is given $1,000. The prizes in the art department, totaling $574, are expected to bring out an exhibition of paintings, etc., equal to that of 1928 when more than $250,000 worth was exhibited.

That the work of the Boys' and Girls' Clubs and of the Boys' State Fair School shall not lag, prizes totaling $8,000 have been allotted to the former and $2,000 to the latter, with the possibility that both sums will be increased before fair time.

Prizes in the Better Baby contest have been raised this year to a total of $280. In an effort to make it the most comprehensive ever held the whole state will be combed for the most perfect baby between 1 and 3 years old. The contest will again be under the direction of Dr. Guy L. Klefer, state health commissioner.

Five afternoons of horse racing and the horse show, with their fine prizes, are expected to bring together the fastest horseflesh and drivers in the section and the finest society horses in the state. Additional features for which prizes have been set aside will be the hog and husband contests.

The fair management is now negotiating for what it expects to be the finest midway show ever seen at the fair and for two unusual grandstand features never before seen at the fair. Prospective exhibitors are advised to write to the state fair management for programs of the show.

We should like to emphasize once more the vital necessity and importance of suffering your children to come unto Jesus! We have organized a Sunday-school, fully equipped, for your convenience and your children's salvation. They like to come—would you stand in their way as a hindrance?
Giving offense to children is a serious matter in the eyes of the Lord Jesus! Read Mary 9:41—"Whoever shall offend one of these little ones that believe in me, it is better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and he were cast into the sea!" On the other hand, read Mark 9:36-37, "And Jesus took a child, and set him in the midst of them; and when He had taken him in His arms, He said unto them: 'Whoever shall receive one of such children in My name, receiveth me; and whoever shall receive Me, receiveth not Me, but Him that sent Me!'"

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES.
"God the Preserver of Man" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches on Sunday, June 16.
Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life." (John 3:16).
The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Is it not a specie of infidelity to believe that so great a work as the Messiah's was done for himself or for God, who needed no help from Jesus' example to preserve the eternal harmony? But mortals did need this help, and Jesus pointed the way for them. Divine Love always has met and always will meet every human need."
—(p. 494).

HUDSON ROOMY TOWN SEDAN

One of the most important additions to the Greater Hudson line is this distinguished Town Sedan. Outstanding among the features of this model are unusual roominess, luxurious upholstery and fittings and the ultra-modish lines. Choice of color, at no extra cost, is another feature, as in all Hudson and Essex models.

In order to attain the extra amount of room which this model affords, Hudson engineers have tilted the seats slightly, built the body as long as practicable on the 139 inch chassis on which the car is mounted, and made the upholstery on the seats much deeper and more comfortable than is the common practice.

Fittings on the new car are of Wild Rose design with a Tiffany finish, which accentuates the trim beauty and smart individuality which has been carried down to the last detail in this stylish new model.

Use Mail liners, the cost is little—the results are big.

CATHOLIC NOTES

Congratulations to the graduates of this year, and particularly to H. Rureh, R. Heffe, S. and C. McLellan, L. Corbett and A. VanBonu.
A very timely and interesting sermon was preached last Sunday on the value of education balanced with a knowledge of God. The graduates of the parish are urged to receive Holy Communion next Sunday at the 8:00 o'clock mass. Kindly be there.

June 30th is the Sunday set aside for our first communion class. This will be general communion Sunday for all the children of the parish.

The pastor spent the past week on retreat at Sacred Heart Seminary in Detroit.

The flower season is here, and they are always accepted for the altar and church. The altars were beautiful last Sunday, adorned with large peonies.

Nethem baseball team lost a well played game last Sunday, to the Liberty A. C. of Detroit, 3 to 5. Next Sunday a real treat is in store for all baseball fans. Nethem will cross bats with a traveling team from Florida, a fast snappy aggregation. Come out to Newburg and witness this game.

The cornerstone of the new church at Dearborn, will be laid next Sunday afternoon.

Do not forget your M. C. envelopes.

EPISCOPAL NOTES

The annual picnic of the church-school and parish will be held on Saturday afternoon, June 29. This event is not only for all members of the church-school, but for the adult members of the parish, as well. It is, therefore, thought wise to hold the picnic as nearby as possible, in order that all may come.

The place will be announced definitely a little later, but will undoubtedly be either Cass Benton Park or possibly the tourist camp. Everyone should help to make this a really happy occasion.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will have a flower mission day meeting at the home of Mrs. E. C. Venley, Thursday, June 27th, at 2:30 p. m. The program will be in charge of Miss Pelham, superintendent of the flower mission department. Members are asked to bring flowers to be sent to the sick and shut-ins.

A cooperative tea will be served, and it is hoped that members will not forget to bring plate, cup, fork and spoon. Guests will be made welcome. A silver collection will be taken.
