

NANKIN TOWNSHIP MAN MURDERED

MUST REGISTER FOR SCHOOL ELECTION

A community center to meet the needs of adults as well as those of the pupils in the public school will be realized if the electorate vote for the bonding issue for Grade School addition and community center, Monday, December 16.

Registration notice which appears elsewhere in the Mail, states that those who registered for the July school election, need not re-register for the special election. All other qualified voters who wish to vote December 16, will be required to register on or before Saturday, December 7.

In order to vote at the special election each voter must be:

- (a) Citizen of the United States; 21 years of age.
- (b) An owner of property which is assessed for school taxes in said district.
- (c) A resident of the district for three months preceding the election.

Anyone purchasing land on a contract and paying taxes upon the same, is eligible to vote if they actually live upon the land which they are purchasing; otherwise, land contracts do not make them eligible. If a man and his wife hold real estate in joint (Estate in Entirety) deed both are eligible to vote as taxpayers.

In order to insure a fair election, it is desirable that there be a large registration because the taxpayers of the district are the ones who have the right to determine the building proposition.

The need for a community center in Plymouth, is self-evident, and a community cannot well afford to allow its high school pupils and the younger adults in the community to be without a place for wholesome recreation. It is the opinion of many, while others feel that the school can get along with its present recreational facilities for some time.

The fact that the bonds are spread over a period of 30 years, makes the depression at the present time unimportant because we will probably have several fluctuations between now and the time the payments are completed. With our present district valuation, the assessment per thousand required to pay interest and retire bonds will be between $1.40 and $1.50 per thousand. If the valuation increases, this rate per thousand will be lessened in proportion to the increased valuation.

EARLY AMERICAN VILLAGE RISES IN DEARBORN

SILENT MONUMENTS TO LIVES OF AMERICANS SCORES OF YEARS AGO RISE OUT OF PAST.

Henry Ford has revived a typical American village from out of a past and has centered it around an attractive village street, adjacent to the Ford Airport, the Ford Industrial Museum buildings and the Engineering Laboratories in Dearborn. Visions of Civil War days, the '70's and '80's spring up to surprise one, to cause a catch at the throat or a glad exclamation as building after building about the green tell tangibly of the lives of Americans scores of years ago, speaking with authority because each building and every detail of their furnishings and Murray, Secretary of Board of Education, or George A. Smith, Superintendent of Schools, before December 7, 1929 or else during the afternoon of December 7, 1929 if they wish to vote at the special election to be held December 16, 1929.

COUNTY, STATE TAX RATES UP

1929 TOTAL, INCLUDING ROAD ASSESSMENT, TO BE $7.083 A $1,000.

Wayne County property owners this year will pay taxes at the rate of $7.083 a $1,000 as compared to $5.894 a $1,000 in 1928. While increases have been made all along the line, in State, county and road tax rates, the principal jump is an increase in the State tax rate from $2.256 to $3.158.

The county tax rate in 1928 was $2.83 and this year it will be $2.953. The 1928 road tax rate was 71.7 cents while this year it will be 97.1 cents.

Two factors are responsible for Wayne County's greatly increased State tax. The first is the general increase in State expense. In 1928 the State tax was $20,500,000 while this year it will be $30,000,000. In addition, Wayne County will pay a higher percentage of the general property tax for 1929 as the result of a reduction in valuations granted to eight counties by the State Board of Equalization last August.

These reductions, amounting to a total of $5,977,000, brought the valuation of the State down to $5,546,938,000.

The result will be that each of the eight counties will pay somewhat smaller percentage and each of the other 75 counties a somewhat larger share of the total. Wayne County, paying almost half of the entire tax, will suffer most. In 1928, Wayne County paid 49.23 per cent of the total. This year it will pay 49.231 per cent.

The Board of Supervisors, in October voted to increase the county tax rate from $2.83 to $2.95 a $1,000, largely because of the increase in the size of the county's debts and the expansion of the County Infirmary at Elyse. The total county levy for the fiscal year beginning December 1 will be $13,431,312.15, which is $978,183.20 greater than the 1928 levy.

The County Road Commission was granted a tax appropriation of one mill, an increase of a quarter of a mill over 1928, which amounts in part for the road tax increase. It is due to a continuation of the policy of grade separations and street widenings.

Daniel Chevalier, aged 32 years, was found dead in his home near Wayne, last week Thursday. Heart trouble was the cause of death. The deceased is survived by his wife.

Funeral services were held from our Lady of Good Counsel Church, Thursday morning at nine o'clock. Rev. Fr. Lefevre officiating. The interment took place in Park View Memorial at Livonia Center.

WOMEN CAUGHT AFTER ESCAPE

THREE WOMEN PRISONERS ESCAPE FROM WOMEN'S PRISON NEAR HERE LAST FRIDAY.

Three women who escaped from the Detroit House of Correction near here Friday, were recaptured at 5:00 a. m. Saturday in a house at 72 Henry street, Detroit, where they had been hidden 12 hours before.

The three women, confined in prison and taken into Northville, where they engaged a taxicab operated by Edwin H. Perrin, and were taken to Grand River avenue and Myers road, Perrin, who did not know they were escaped prisoners, received his fare and saw them transfer to another taxicab and leave for downtown Detroit, where they were at liberty early Saturday.

The escaped prisoners were: Lorna Bollinger, 37 years old, 432 Leonard street, Grand Rapids. She was sentenced March 31, to serve a term of from 1 1/2 to 5 years for receiving stolen property following conviction in Grand Rapids.

Florence Harris, 20, of Meadow Heights, Jackson, who was sentenced there January 9, to serve a term of from 2 to 4 years for felonious assault.

Grace Schlueter, alias Thomas, alias Benicuse, 33, of 1117 Taylor street, Jackson, who was sentenced on September 27 to serve six months to one year on a charge of uttering and publishing.

The women, it is said, approached Perrin and told him they had been in an automobile accident. Upon their arrival at the Myers road and Grand River, the women hailed a taxicab and were driven to the home of Charles Fraser. He hid them in clothes closets in the house, and when the police arrived denied they were there.

Several patrolmen were stationed about the house while six detectives made a search and found the women. The raid on Fraser's home was the result of information given to the police by the taxicab driver, who reported as soon as he heard of the escape.

Fraser finally admitted hiding the women, and told the police they were sent to him by the girls, who now live in a room at the House of Correction farm.

Fraser was arrested on a charge of aiding and abetting an escaped prisoner.

Plymouth will stage their next effort toward conquest of the elimination debates, at the Dearborn High School auditorium, on the evening of December 6. In this second debate, as in the first, of the elimination series, Plymouth will maintain the affirmative of the state question, "Resolved, That a judge or board of judges should be substituted for the jury in all trials of the state and municipal courts in Michigan."

This week, the local team has been working to build up a stronger defense, and to this end, two teams from Dearborn High School were entertained Tuesday afternoon, in two practice debates.

Probabilities are Plymouth will be represented by the same trio that met the opponent team in the first elimination debate. The first speaker position is held by Marian Gust; the second speaker position by Harold Stevens, and the third speaker position by Lester Daly. The three forensic aspirants, two members of the junior class, one of the sophomore, with improved offensive, and one successful attempt to their credit should be able to speak for Plymouth at Dearborn, in a manner worth a trip of Plymouth supporters to that city on the evening of December 6.

The next meeting of the Plymouth League of Women Voters will be a 12-30 luncheon to be held at the Hotel Mayflower, Monday, December 9th. The executive board is in charge of this meeting and an excellent luncheon and program have been arranged. The speaker following the luncheon will be Supt. George A. Smith, who at the urgent request of a few League members who heard him speak at the Women's Club last Friday, will repeat his address on "The Needs of Plymouth."

An interesting report of the state convention held at Flint, will be given by Mrs. Phoebe Patterson.

Miss Gladys Schrader with her splendid orchestra that is receiving many favorable comments, will furnish the music.

Each member is asked to bring a guest. Keep this date in mind. The executive board hopes this will be a 100% meeting in attendance.

FORD WAGE SCALE HIGHER

ANNOUNCEMENT FOLLOWS MEETING OF INDUSTRIAL LEADERS.

MUST BOLSTER BUYING POWER

Following a conference with President Hoover and industrial leaders of the nation at Washington last Thursday, Henry Ford announced at the White House that an immediate increase in wages among Ford employees had been determined.

The automobile manufacturer made his announcement after he had issued a statement in which he said that one remedy for the present situation was to increase the purchasing power of the people and that the general level of wages should be higher.

Mr. Ford said the increases for his own employees would take effect at once, but he would not say just what the increases would be. It is said that the increases in pay to the men would be upon a pro rata basis.

A White House statement issued after the conference of President Hoover with more than a score of business and industrial leaders said it had been found construction should be expanded in every prudent direction, both public and private, so as to cover any slack of employment.

Henry Ford gave as the reasons for the decline in business, the withdrawal of "drains from business" because of the lure of the promise of quick profits in speculation and the equating and "even surpassing" of the people's power to purchase.

He summed up the solution as the reducing of prices to the level of values, or the putting of additional values into goods and a movement to increase the general wage level.

"The only thing that should be high priced in this country," he declared, "is the man who works. Wages must not come down, they must not even stay on their present levels; they must go up."

The motor car manufacturer said the situation was better than it was a year ago.

"A year ago, he said, 'the country was expecting something to happen. Now that is over and past and the road is clear.'"

He confirmed that President Hoover's call for a conference was the "beneficial effect of focusing our eyes on the main question."

"The President will be able to show the country that there is nothing to fear and that if everyone will attend to his own work the future will be secure," he said.

CHRISTMAS SEAL DRIVE

The gay Christmas seal posters made their appearance in the schools and business places in Plymouth this week.

Plans for the seal sale have been completed. Mrs. Charles O. Ball is again chairman of the Plymouth district. As has been the custom for several years, Supt. George Smith, with his corps of teachers will supervise a three days' sale campaign made by the school children. The room in each school receives a Red Cross emergency seal for this campaign. The children look forward with keen pleasure to this campaign. They are taught the story of the Christmas seals and the work they accomplish in the fight against tuberculosis.

Plymouth is recognized in the county as one of the most generous givers to this cause. Last year it ranked fourth place in the county.

Seals will be on sale at the Hotel Mayflower, Community Pharmacy, Dodge Drug Store, Bayer's Drug Store, Plymouth United Savings Bank, First National Bank and at the Postoffice.

Married Sixty Years

Celebrating their sixtieth wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Foster, long residents of Nankin Township, entertained 110 relatives at dinner Monday, at the Wayne M. E. Church, on the same site where their marriage was solemnized November 27, 1869.

One long table, decorated with yellow and lavender flowers, was used and Dan Hickok, of Detroit, a nephew, was toastmaster. The five children of Mr. and Mrs. Foster, Mrs. Blanche Orr, Clarence Foster, Jr., Mrs. William Schlaff and Mrs. Mien Beard, who assisted their parents in receiving, presented them with a basket of 60 yellow roses.

Other gifts were presented the couple by their 12 grandchildren, by their nieces and nephews, and cousins. Following dinner, the Rev. Elmer Foster, of Detroit, a nephew, officiated at a second nuptial ceremony. Scores of telegrams and letters were received by Mr. and Mrs. Foster all day Monday, all bearing congratulatory messages on their gold and sapphire wedding dates.

In 1841 Mr. Foster's parents settled on the Teneyoke farm near Dearborn, where Henry Ford now lives. It was here he was born and spent his youth. After his marriage he farmed a part of what now is the farm of Hickok. He continued farming until he retired 15 years ago. He is 82 years old and his wife is 80.

Mr. and Mrs. Foster have always lived within four or five miles of their five children, and are among the best known residents of the township. They now reside with Mrs. Orr, at 219 East Brush street, Wayne.

TO PROTECT EMPLOYEES

The Kroger Grocery and Baking Company today notified its employees that it will protect them against further loss of Kroger stock purchased by them as an investment.

Frank Malick, Nankin township florist and farmer, was found murdered near the door of the garage in the back yard of the farm house located on the Hicks road near Newburg, three miles east of here at 7 o'clock last Friday morning.

Deputy Sheriff George Springer was notified of the crime, and he notified the sheriff's office, and together with Deputies Mark Baker and Albert Bacon of the sheriff's office went to the Malick farm and started an investigation.

The officers found that Malick had been shot in the leg and chest with a revolver and in the abdomen with a shot gun. Joseph Malick, aged 19, and another son Anthony, 15, were questioned Friday and Saturday, but at first denied any knowledge of the slaying.

Monday Joseph Malick was arraigned before Common Pleas Judge James M. Jeffries, Zigmund Czarnicki, 20, charged with murder jointly with Joe, appeared before Judge Jeffries at the same time and pleaded not guilty.

The confession came late Saturday night after two and a half hours of questioning by William D. Branstetter, prosecuting attorney, and Deputy Sheriff Joseph Malick and Albert Bacon. Joseph broke down when he was faced with the statements of a brother and sister, Carl 11, and Florence, 8, that they had heard two shots at about 1:15 a. m. Friday, and that shortly afterward Joseph entered the house, hid a shotgun and then went to sleep.

After admitting the slaying the youth dry-eyed and calm, told a straightforward and dispassionate story of how he had laid in wait for his father, had wounded him with the revolver and then had followed him as the father sought to escape and had killed him with the shot gun.

Joseph said that he was persuaded to commit the deed by an enemy of his father, known only to the youth as "Adams." He said the man met him at the Western Market in Detroit a week ago last Friday.

"Adams runs a stand at the Western Market," Joseph told Mr. Branstetter. "I told him that my father and I weren't getting along very well and that I was not living at home. I had been staying in Detroit during the summer. He said my father had done him a lot of harm in business deals. Then he gave me a revolver and told me to kill my father. He said if I didn't that he would kill both of us."

Although the police are seeking Adams for questioning, they place little credence in the youth's story. Joseph said that a friend, Zigmund Czarnicki, was a witness to the conversation. Czarnicki doesn't know the man when he was questioned by deputy sheriffs Sunday.

"I went home Thursday night," Joseph told Mr. Branstetter. "My father and I had a quarrel but he said I could stay all night. I went to bed and slept until about 1 o'clock. Then I woke up. I saw that my father had set up a table to set a furnace in the greenhouse back of the house. I took the revolver and went to the greenhouse. There was a shot gun out there. I stood on a bench just inside the door and waited."

At about 1:20 a. m. the older Malick entered the building. Joseph said he fired the revolver twice. Malick fell and then shouted for help. He crawled from the green house and across the yard toward the garage. The youth said he picked up the shot gun and followed Malick to the house to milk the cows Friday morning. The deputy sheriffs questioned Joseph, Carl and Florence and the other members of the family: Mrs. Mary Malick, the wife, Rose, 17, and Anthony, 15. Anthony was held at the County Jail for a time but was released Saturday.

Following the youth's confession, deputy sheriffs Sunday went to the Malick home and found the revolver and the shot gun where Joseph said he had hidden them.

The date for the examination of the two youths was set for next Monday, and they were taken back to the jail to be held without bond. When questioned by the judge, as to the motive that led him to fire two charges from a shot gun and two bullets from a revolver into his father's body, Thursday night, Joe hung his head and refused to answer.

"Last April you were turned out of your home by your father after a quarrel with him. Is it possible that you have had that grievance against your father?"

DON'T BITE AT IT

Along about this time of year the mails are burdened with goods sent out “on approval” by mail-order houses. They buy a lot of addresses from firms making a business of selling them, and then they proceed to send out an assortment of neckties, socks, Christmas cards or all silk stockings to every name on their mailing list. With the goods is a form-letter suggesting that the recipient inspect the contents of the package, and if they wish to retain them to send a stipulated amount. Otherwise they are instructed to return them.

The practice will be kept up this year and Plymouth residents will receive this stuff “on approval” from time to time. Those who do not return them in the specified time will also receive some caustic and threatening form letters. For their benefit we want to state that there is no reason for accepting these threats seriously. Of course, no honest person wants what does not belong to him. But the concern that sends out goods that are not ordered or requested does so at its own risk.

If postage comes with the goods, shoot them back in a hurry. If it does not, toss them aside and wait until postage is sent for their return—and take your own sweet time about it. Uncle Sam is with you for he hasn't much use anyhow for fellows who do this kind of merchandising. And if they get too obnoxious it is an easy matter to file a complaint with the postal department through your local postmaster.

TEN YEARS FROM NOW

Within ten years autos will travel safely at a speed of 100 miles an hour, weigh less than 1,000 pounds, sell for less than $1,000 and cover 80 miles on a gallon of gasoline.

For fear, however, Plymouth motorists may be led to believe that this statement represents the ravings of an idle brain, or comes from the pen of this editor—who is honest enough to admit he doesn't know much about autos—we hasten to produce our authority. Chas. F. Kettering, inventor of the self-starter and the farm lighting system, now head of General Motors research laboratories, not only makes the statement but he backs it up with convincing argument. He says a new metal now being perfected that is 15 times stronger than steel and only one-third as heavy as aluminum, will be used; that carburetors soon to be perfected will, with this light weight to pull, more than double the present gasoline mileage. The entire system of gear shifting as now in use will be done away with. And he adds that competition will still further reduce prices until there will be few cars selling above $1,000—and then only when built to special order. “As far as I can see,” adds this wizard of the auto world, “the auto and the airplane will never conflict. Instead, they will tie right in with each other, and inside another ten years it will be a wise man indeed who can tell, when blindfolded, whether he's riding in a plane or an auto.” And most of us in this day and age know too much to laugh at such fellows when they make what seems like crazy prediction.

A TIMELY HINT

In this day of fake stocks of every description it probably has not occurred to a lot of people around Plymouth that we have a pretty safe bureau of information in the banks of the community. It is part of a banker's business to keep posted on such things. As a rule, he knows what is safe and what isn't; what is dependable and what is doubtful. And it is to his credit that he tries to protect his neighborhood from such investments as are apt to prove valueless. He asks no compensation for his advice; neither does he feel offended if you fail to take it. But more than one man has been spared the loss of good hard money by steering clear of stocks his banker friend was doubtful about. Even though a good many have lost money in recent weeks on the investment market, buying stock will continue. So if you are “in the market” for something that will net you a profit on your money, take a moment before investing to talk it over with a banker friend. You may be mighty glad a little later on that you did so.

RAT KILLING CONTESTS

Maybe if our friends around Plymouth knew that there are as many rats as there are people in the United States and that each rat consumes $2 worth of foodstuff a year, they'd spend a little more time and energy in ridding their premises of them. The United States government is responsible for the estimate, and also adds that with more than 100,000,000 rats in the country a loss of $200,000,000 a year is conservative. “Rat drives” are already popular in some sections, neighbors gathering at each other homes to join in a grand, free-for-all rat killing, with a big dinner for the winning side by the side that kills the fewest rats in a given time. It combines fun with worth-while slaughter, and since it is proving of value to residents of other communities it ought to be profitable around here.

THE LATEST WRINKLE

Since the season of good radio reception has again rolled around most anything new about radio is interesting reading. Within the past few weeks one of the best-known makes of automobiles has been exhibited with a complete radio set attached. Together now are two of the world's greatest blessings. Today we can get our baseball scores, market quotations, stock reports, weather forecasts or jazz program as we skim along the highway. All that is needed is to operate a switch on the instrument board—and the radio set is in operation. It tends to show what a fast age we are living in, as well as to make us wonder more than we have ever wondered if there really is anything impossible outside of finding some way to dispense with death and taxes.

THEY TOOK A CHANCE

It is a sad commentary, but “Taking a chance,” appeals to many persons. It appeals to too many automobile drivers.

Getting by without accident in traffic seems to develop pure recklessness in some drivers. There seems to be no limit to the chances they are willing to take. Then luck deserts them for the moment and there comes the inevitable crash with its resulting property losses and oftentimes with injuries or death.

Taking a chance at grade crossings; taking a chance by not keeping an auto under control; taking a chance by twisting into and out of traffic; taking a chance by driving too fast near where children are playing; taking a chance by demanding too much of the right-of-way; taking a chance by turning or stopping suddenly without properly signaling those behind; taking a chance by failing to observe traffic laws or by failing to learn the written and unwritten rules of the road, and on and on until all the common mistakes of motorists are related, taking a chance forms the cause of nearly all automobile accidents.

On a single Sunday 23 people lost their lives in Michigan because somebody was careless, somebody took a chance. Carelessness brings dividends of sorrow—taking a chance is criminal—don't let it happen to you.

MOTION PICTURE PROGRAMS

THE RETURN OF SHERLOCK HOLMES

Sherlock Holmes is perhaps the foremost exponent of disguises that fiction has ever known as the uncanny sleuth who could always guess at least one step ahead of the other fellow. His ability to wear a wig in such a fashion that even the trusty Watson was unable to identify him stood him in good stead whenever danger threatened.

Clive Brook, who plays the title role in Paramount's all-talking screen play "The Return of Sherlock Holmes," which will be shown at the Penman Allen Theatre, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, December 1, 2 and 3, made a study of wigs and in the picture designed the two disguises that he affects.

In one of the sequences, Holmes disguises himself as a "boots" or steward on board a trans-Atlantic liner. With his full make-up on, his identity is completely hidden and in its place there is a typical English Whitehall character. Plastered over his own hair is a dark brown wig with slight traces of gray, parted on the left side. On the right side his hair is curled up, not unlike y old time bartender. His eyebrows are bushy and also dark brown. To complete his facial disguise, he wears a light brown flowing mustache, a downward white jacket puts the finishing touch to the character.

According to Clive Brook, the make-up he affects is the exact counterpart of that worn by a "boots" on board the liner, Cedric.

Holmes' other disguise is that of an American violinist, a member of the ship's orchestra. It is there that his ability as a musician is often cited by the efficient Watson, comes in handy. Not satisfied with the popular accepted belief that all musicians must have long, flowing hair, Brook designed a wig after his own conception and transferred the idea to Tom Cameron and Fred Pratt, Paramount's make-up artists.

The hair of the wig is light brown and combed straight back. Light brown, bushy eye-brows and a change of dress complete the disguise which completely fools the master-mind, Moriarty. Octagonal glasses add to the effectiveness of the disguise.

WOMAN TRAP

If you like the real, true-to-life melodrama such as might be taking place right around you at the present time you'll more than enjoy "Woman Trap," the fastest moving all talking picture, to be shown at the Penman Allen Theatre, Wednesday and Thursday, December 4 and 5.

"Woman Trap" is from the famous stage play "Brothers" With the widened scope of the motion picture it takes on more life and vividness. You will like it because it is human. In the Civil War, brother fought against brother. In life today you and brother fighting against brother. One in the ranks of the guardians of the law and the other in some "racket."

But crooks and crookdom do not occupy the entire stage, there is the dear old mother whose very life is entwined in the actions of her two sons. When one leaves home as a hunted man the other becomes embittered with life and wrecks havoc on the fates of the law.

A girl enters in battling for the life of her brother, yet loving her foe in a primitive manner. The climax is one of intense emotional appeal that thrills you to the very core.

Evelyn Brent and Hal Skelly vie with each other for emotional honors. The rest of the cast is in perfect balance and the dialogue is vivid and intelligent.

SIDE STREET

For the first time in nearly a quarter century of screen work, three brothers, each of whom has achieved success as an individual, are brought together in one picture—Radio Pictures' all-talking hit, "Side Street."

The trio is made up of the brothers Moore—Tom, Owen and Matt—and they are playing "brother" roles on the screen at the Penman Allen Theatre, Friday and Saturday, December 6 and 7.

Although the Moore brothers won individual renown on the screen, it remained for William Le Baron, vice-president in charge of RKO production, to bring them together in one picture. Though author George O'Hara refused to admit it, he wrote a talking picture that seemed made to order for the Moore family.

Critics wherever "Side Street" has been heard and seen are unanimous in the opinion that no better choice could have been made to fill the three featured roles—Tom as a conscientious Manhattan traffic cop, Matt as the police surgeon, and Owen as the king of racketeers, with Owen keeping his means of livelihood secret from his family.

Tom goes out to "get" the racketeer chief. When Owen realizes he has ordered his own brother "taken for a ride," he beats Tom to the rendezvous and pays with his own life.

Other members of the strong cast include Kathryn Perry, Emma Dunn, Dan Wolheim and Helene Conklin. Some scenes reveal scores of persons in which are many of the best known character players of the film world. Mal St. Clair directed.

WILL CLASSIFY HOLSTEIN HERD

PUREBREDS MUST SHOW GOOD CONFORMATION IN ORDER TO RETAIN REGISTRATION PAPERS.

"Herd Classification," recently adopted by the Holstein-Friesian association of America, has been started in Michigan. Four Michigan herds have been inspected and six more are scheduled for December, according to J. G. Hays, of the Michigan State College dairy department.

Through the use of herd classification, it is expected that the breed will be further improved by culling out animals of the lower classifications and that the value of the top grade animals will be increased. An official inspector, who is recognized in the good Holstein type, classifies each female of milking age and each bull over two years of age in the herd.

Classifications which have been set up by the national association are excellent, very good, good plus, good, fair, and poor. Any female rated "poor" is reduced to the status of a grade and her registration papers destroyed. From females rated "fair" no bull calves can be registered to perpetuate the inferior dairy type of the dam.

Herd classifications have been scheduled for December as follows: Dec. 3, A. M.—William Schoof, Washington; Dec. 3, P. M.—Gabel-Ridson Creamery Company, Washington; Dec. 4, A. M.—Eldon Bruce, Deford; Dec. 4, P. M.—H. A. Knapp, Orono; Dec. 5, P. M.—Burr Hoover, Ithaca; Dec. 6, P. M.—Rex Johnson, Grand Rapids; Dec. 7, A. M.—Whitney Brothers, Onondaga; Dec. 7, P. M.—A. H. Perrine, River Junction.

In connection with the herd classifications, county agricultural agents are arranging for general meetings to which all Holstein dairymen are invited at the following farms: Gabel-Ridson Creamery Co., Eldon Bruce, Burr Hoover, Rex Johnson and A. H. Perrine.

Today's Reflections

Those sighs you hear probably come from the old-timers who can't find a cupid in a barber shop any more.

Maybe Plymouth boys seem more sinful now because they don't take the precaution to sneak out behind the barn.

Nothing so far invented has discouraged kitchen work as much as the modern "beauty contests."

The husband may think he is boss, but if he gives money to relatives or needy strangers he is careful not to let his wife know about it.

An Atlanta woman says she has lived to be 103 by "minding her own business." Now we know why a lot of fellows around Plymouth are apt to die in middle age.

The most enjoyable climate is the one where the long-green is in evidence all the year around.

Opportunity knocks but once, but that's more than a man can say for some of his so-called friends.

There are still a few Plymouth people living who can remember when the shingle was the board of education.

There is only one thing for a man to do who is married to a woman who enjoys spending money. And that is to enjoy earning it.

If the present styles keep up a lot of Plymouth girls are going to have goose pimples frozen on them this winter.

We have also reached the age where raising a thick beard is about the only thing a woman can't do.

Our idea of an "old-timer" is the Plymouth citizen who can remember when the butcher used to throw in a piece of liver for the dog.

Early American Village

equipment actually is drawn out of the past.

There is the Lincoln Court House, not a replica but the actual building which served Logan County, Illinois. Eight years after its erection in 1840, Abraham Lincoln practiced law there continuously up to the time of his presidential campaign. The town, Lincoln, Illinois, was the only town named for Abraham Lincoln before he became president. This two-story frame building has been moved from Illinois to grace the village center at Greenfield.

On the other side of the common, directly opposite the Court House, nestles stately Clinton Inn that served James Fenimore Cooper, Daniel Webster and other illustrious travelers back in its original setting at Clinton, Mich. from 1832, the date of its erection, until the latter part of the last century. It was at the end of one day's journey west from Detroit by stage coach. It was built from timbers hewn from black walnut. Among its attractive features was a "smoking floor" hall-room, one of the few if not the only one of its kind in the country.

The Village Church occupies a knoll overlooking the green with the winding Rouge River at its rear. The spire of this edifice is copied from that of an early church in Bradford, Mass., and the bricks came from the girlhood home of Mrs. Henry Ford. To the left of the church is the little red school-house, dating back to 1861, standing originally in the Scotch Settlement near Dearborn where, as a boy, Henry Ford went to school.

A typical Town Hall, distinguished by four impressive Ionic columns which, with the tier of steps, form a portico, stands at the foot of the green, facing the village church.

One of the oldest structures in the community is the village postoffice. It was erected 126 years ago, in 1803, in Phoenixville, Conn., two years after Thomas Jefferson became president. Half post-office, half drug store, this old building has one of the strongest tings of the past with its echoes of political debates and personal championships of favorite candidates and issues. Doors and window shutters are of age-worn plants studded with hand-forged nails. Even the laths for holding plaster were hand hewn and much of the hardware, hinges, window accessories and other details are of hand construction.

The Whittier toll house and cobbler shop is nearby, mentioned in Whittier's poem, "The Countess." "The Toll-man in his cobbler's stall sits smoking with closed eyes." Once it stood on the banks of the Merrimac River beside the bridge that linked Rockville with the West Newbury, Massachusetts. Cobbling was really a side line of the toll man as the collection of tolls and attending the draw did not keep him occupied all the time.

There also is a country store, one that served the town of Waterford, a few miles north of Pontiac, from 1854 on. As in the case of the drug store down at the postoffice, this general store is equipped with an inventory of goods of every description just as was carried 50 to 75 years ago.

The railroad station is at the end of a winding road running at right angles from the village green. Especially in connection with the event of October 21st this depot is historic. For it is the actual station where the boy Edison was forcibly ejected from the baggage car of a Grand Trunk train when chemicals that he was using in an improvised laboratory on the car spilled and set the car afire. Later Edison learned telegraphy at Smith's Creek station. His special interest in telegraphy was similar to those that he used in place in the station now here at the outskirts of Greenfield and the actual table where he learned telegraphy and acquired the impetus that directed his interest toward electrical research and discovery is in the station's telegraph room.

Outside the station on the track, steam up and ready to go, is a wood-burning locomotive. Its bell-shaped smoke stack, clinging behind it three cars of antique design. This engine came of a famous family. It is a sister locomotive of the famous "General" which was captured from Union troops by Southern forces during the War of the States. Mr. Ford when he was a boy knew an engineer named Sam Hill who drove on the Michigan Central through Dearborn. His special predilections gave rise to the expression "He goes like Sam Hill." Records of Engineer Hill's employment and death are in the Ford files. So, the old locomotive has become "The Sam Hill." Three cars behind the old engine are reconstructed specimens of cars from the "Chicago, Detroit and Canada; Grand Trunk Junction Railroad"; the "Bangor & Aroostock" and the "Michigan Central."

Another building of historic interest is a small frame building which will stand beside a small model garden. This is the original office building that was used by Luther, Burbank, noted plant wizard, at his farm near Santa Rosa, California. Students will carry on plant experiments in the garden with Burbank's office as headquarters. In other parts of the village will be found an actual village blacksmith shop; a carding mill; a grist mill of the date of 1802 and a saw mill of the same date; a village machine shop; a livery stable filled with carriages of all types and ages; a typical log house of chignac stone, clay and several actual dwelling houses, all removed from their original settings to take their places as living quarters for those who will study and find employment in this most unique of communities. Along the old bed of the River Rouge a waterway has been dredged in which rests a natty white boat, a replica of the Mississippi river steamer "Snanee" which was built in 1878. Mr. Edison frequently was a passenger on the original boat after it had been moved from inland waters to the Caloosahatchee River near Fort Myers, Florida.

CAMELS—

The phrase "I've Graduated to Camels" originated with a Camel smoker. It expresses the experience of millions who through Camels have learned to know real smoking pleasure.

As taste in smoking develops, it naturally leads toward better quality. New smokers may not be critical but when they once experience the true mildness and surpassing fragrance of the Camel blend, they realize that here is a real superiority. It is for smokers of such discernment that Camels are made . . . for them the choicest tobaccos are selected . . . and this quality is maintained for the millions who know genuine smoking pleasure.

when they learn the difference they flock to the interior of the building and told us about the book Henry Ford studied from. She also told some of our fortunes by using our chart of the reading test.

The sixth graders have made charts to score when teeth have been cleaned.

The seventh and eighth graders have been making cut-out posters for Thanksgiving.

We appreciate the new flag which has been placed in our room. We now can salute it at every citizenship meeting.

The text books tell us that Gaston Plante made the first electric storage battery," said Russell G. Dettling, the local Exide Battery dealer. "As a matter of fact, he didn't do it until 1859. The first storage battery of which the ones we use are only a fairly accurate imitation, was made by a Benedictine Creator back in the dawn of history, and his progeny inhabit the river of South America today.

"Naturalists," continued Mr. Dettling, "call this prototype of all storage batteries 'gymnosium electricum,' or more familiarly, the electric eel. Those who have bathed in the river waters, which are life habitant, assert that he is some stinging battery. Two of these eels were recently brought to the Zoological Gardens in Philadelphia.

"Years ago, Michael Faraday, the scientist, as a kind of vacation diversion, made a careful study of gymnosium electricum. He got him through repeated cycles of discharge and charge, accurately determined his capacity and voltage characteristics and found out how his electric current generating organism was constructed, how it operated, and what was needed to keep it in good shape to carry on his electrobiological activities.

"Now these interesting researches of Faraday are well worth the attention of the modern motorist, because there is a lot more fact than fancy in saying that the storage battery of today is only a domesticated first cousin of the electric eel, and that the same rules of hygiene apply to both.

"Faraday, no doubt, spoiled a lot of perfectly good eels before he convinced himself that, after delivering a certain definite amount of electric energy, the eel must have that energy returned to it in the form of proper food, and not too long delayed, either, or become a subject for a post-mortem.

"Now it is a solemn fact that many of the post-mortems that we regretfully hold on batteries prematurely deceased prove conclusively that they are the unfortunate victims of failure on the part of their users to recognize their real kinship to the electric eel, and to profit by Faraday's researches.

"That the food of the automobile battery happens to be electric current makes not a particle of difference.

"Electric current is just as necessary to the battery as eel-food is to the eel, and unless the battery gets its food in proper quantity and with reasonable regularity, it will suffer the same fate as a starved eel and for exactly the same reasons.

"The eel food assimilated by the eel restores its tissues and blood to a condition of electric energy developing ability. The electric current, which is battery food, assimilated by the battery, restores its active material and vital fluid to a condition of energy developing ability.

"This being the case, it is advisable for every motorist to have the charging rate of his generator checked up before the winter sets in when more power is needed for starting and lighting.

Lynchburg, Va.—Nurses in the tuberculosis department of the municipal department of public welfare have a candidate for the honor of being the meanest man living, though they have not disclosed his name as yet. The man saved up milk tickets furnished him for two children suffering from tuberculosis until he had the equivalent of $9.29, and took the tickets to the creamery and requested the cash. THREE SPOUSES BEAM ON ROMEO IN POLICE COURT

Nothing Against Him, Say All of Them, Except Back Payments.

Chicago.—"Are these all your wives?" asked Judge Joseph Burke. There was consternation in the Desplains street court. The mystic name of Angelo Antony Angiolispoli, called by the court clerk, had brought sighs from three corners of the room. Three comely women hastened to the judge's barrier and cast smiles of approval on a little, weary man—Angelo A. Angiolispoli. The prisoner stood patiently. A charm radiated from him, enfolding the group in common harmony. Yes, these were—or had been—his wives. One had given him $15,000. He ran away soon afterward. Another he owed back payments of $15 a week. The other had boarded him free. Yet what peace there was between them! The women smiled cordially at each other—and at Angelo. What was a matter of mixed children, court orders, back payments, divorce? Little Angelo, with sleek black hair and soft smile, seemed to dissipate rancor. Called Male Peggy Joyce. "You are a Romeo, a Peggy Joyce among men," said Judge Burke, "but public opinion and the law seem to disapprove of your ability." Well, there would have to be a lot of questions. Finally the judge got it straight. Here stood Mrs. Ranghild

Pascual Ortiz Rubio, who was chosen president of Mexico in the national elections.

him since then and that it led you to murder him?" the judge asked. Joe muttered, "Yes," without looking up. A few minutes later he smiled while photographers took his picture. Zigmund held his cap over his face during the photographing. Joe confessed to the murder while being questioned by Deputy Sheriff Mark H. Baker, Sunday, after the testimony of his younger brothers and sisters who had been cautioned to say that they had heard no shots during the night and the story told by Zigmund had broken his alibi. He entered his father's green house, he said in his statement, and waited until his father came to tend the furnace. Then he fired the shots and hid the guns. No words passed between him and his father.

Zarniecki's part in the crime was brought out in a statement he made Monday to Assistant Prosecuting Attorney John D. Watts. He said that he had met Joe last spring in a pool room and had listened to tales about the treatment he received from his father.

On Thursday night he said, he drove Joe to the Malick greenhouse and promised to wait outside for him, having given him the revolver and his watch so that he could tell what time it was and how soon to expect his father. He waited some time after hearing the shots that killed Malick and drove away since Joe failed to appear, his statement read.

The two boys will probably be sent to Receiving hospital for a diagnosis of their mental conditions after their examination next Monday. Funeral services for Mr. Malick were held from the Lady of Good Counsel church Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock. Rev. Fr. Lefevre officiating. Interment was in Riverside Cemetery.

Vincent Astor said at a dinner party in Palm Beach: "Even youth is mercenary nowadays. Yes, even the prettiest girls are mercenary." Mr. Astor chuckled and went on: "The proverb says that faint heart never won fair lady, but a dozen pretty girls are throwing themselves at old Bill Billions, the plutocrat, though everybody knows that Bill is dying fast of heart disease."

PATCHEN SCHOOL NOTES

The Thanksgiving supper given by the P. T. A. of Patchen school, Tuesday evening, was a complete success, there being 132 people seated, 102 of whom were adults. We appreciate all donations and help given to make this such a success.

Several primary children have been absent for a week on account of bad colds.

Violette Gibeau and Wanda Kuchar, former pupils of the primary room, Friday.

The fourth grade pupils are studying about good citizenship. They are learning what goes to make good government in homes, schools and communities.

The beginning pupils are making a little booklet about the story of "The Little Red Hen." Some very nice work is being done by them this year. Already Christmas is in the air—children asking the famous question, "When are we going to get our pieces for Christmas?" Parents and teachers should help children to know the meaning of Christmas and teach them that making Christmas gifts is a pleasure, and help them to get that Christmas feeling we, as children, used to have.

BRIGGS SCHOOL NOTES

By Sec. Treas., Nellie Vorbeck. Miss Reid came to our school Monday, Nov. 25, to weigh us. School closes Wednesday night for the Thanksgiving vacation. Miss Givins called on us last week. An epidemic of chicken pox caused our percentage of attendance to drop to 79 percent.

Ethel and Edward Ash and Jean Lane are absent because of illness.

Thus far this year the following pupils have been neither absent nor tardy: Elmer Bannerman, Lucille Bannerman, Mary Banner, Amy Diem, Lois Diem, Charles Rutenbar, Everett Salow, Rose Steingasser, Katharine Steingasser, Erwin Keehl, Doris Diem, Nellie Vorbeck.

Miss Reid weighed us Friday.

STARKWEATHER P. T. A. MEETING

A meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association, which was held in the Starkweather school November 18th, was largely attended, the auditorium being filled to its full capacity. A pleasing program was rendered in which Mrs. Lee's room gave two very interesting numbers. A play entitled "Professor Know-It-All," demonstrated very clever inventions in the radio.

A large number of girls in Thanksgiving costumes, gave a very pretty drill. Another interesting feature, was several selections by Joe Ribar, who played the accordion and mouth organ, accompanied by Miss Gladys Schrader at the piano. Evelyn Starkweather played two piano solos, and Helen Ribar and Annabel Withee played a piano duet.

The speaker of the evening was C. J. Stitt of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, who gave a very interesting and helpful talk on life insurance.

Mrs. Lee's room again carried off the banner.

If you are looking for a good place to stay, do not fail to visit Mrs. Warren, where "Tourists Accommodated," a three-act comedy will be presented at the M. E. church, Thursday and Friday evenings, Dec. 5 and 6. 1c

REV. SEITZ GIVES KIWANIANS PRE-THANKSGIVING MESSAGE

Dewey Holloway, acting chairman of last Tuesday's program of the Plymouth Kiwanis Club, introduced to the members at their regular luncheon hour at the Hotel Mayflower, their own Kiwanian Rev. Oscar Seitz, who gave a very interesting pre-Thanksgiving message, taking for his theme, "Why Give Thanks?"

"What's the psychology that brings Thanksgiving to us? We usually measure Thanksgiving by the amount of material blessings that come our way. We place a material gauge on our blessings, but our gauge is very apt to differ from our points of individual views. People have along with their material blessings, other blessings, which cannot be measured in dollars and cents, which cannot be weighed and sold for personal material gains, and I refer to the spiritual blessings. When times are good, the churches are more or less empty, but when times are bad, the churches are full. There is a visible connection between the spiritual and material when things are going bad, but when things are going fine, we take the credit from the material gains. It seems to be a fine thing to boast of being a good loser, but it's a hard thing to be a good winner. We should recognize our dependence is upon something higher than ourselves, for we are all dependent upon one another. We are not able to support ourselves by our own hands—we are a dependent people—and we recognize this dependence.

"The true note of Thanksgiving is the note of sharing. Thanksgiving is set aside each year and we celebrate it in several ways. The real joy of life is to see things successfully through. The Pilgrims appreciated the spiritual blessings more than the material. They arrived at a time when the spiritual things of life meant far more to them than the material. And so it is with Kiwanis—we are taught to give primary to the human and spiritual rather than the material; and so as we approach this time of the year when the people of the world bow down in thanks, let us be reminded to seek first the spiritual blessings, and the material blessings will take care of themselves."

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shontz were week-end visitors of friends in Toledo.

EPISCOPAL NOTES

All men and boys of the parish are urged to attend the service of Holy Communion at St. John's church next Sunday, and if communicants of the church, to make their communion. On the first Sunday in Advent, men and boys throughout the country are thus renewing their dedication to the work of Christ.

The instructions on the New Prayer Book will continue a short time longer. Take advantage of the opportunity to get better acquainted with our prayer book. None of us know it as well as we ought.

The annual parish bazaar will be held on Wednesday, December 4. Dinner will be served by the women of the Guild beginning at 6:00 p. m. Come early and shop. The sale of fancy work and Christmas gift suggestions of many varieties will begin in the afternoon. There will be a counter of home baking, aprons, towels, novelties, and it is rumored that the men's club will have a booth as last year. Be sure to tell your friends about this opportunity. They will be sorry if they miss it. And, by the way, better get your dinner tickets now, from any member of the Guild.
Go to Church on Sunday; every Sunday!

METHODIST NOTES

"Oh, taste and see that the Lord is good; blessed is the man that taketh refuge in Him." (Psalm 34:8).

Next Sunday we will receive the Holy Communion. Every member should endeavor to be present.

Next Sunday night, the speaker will be Miss Mary Mitchell, who is the head of the Public Speaking Department of the Northville High School. Mrs. Mitchell is also a local preacher, and we are anticipating a splendid service. The public is cordially invited to hear this speaker.

Wednesday evening at 7:15 to 8:30 o'clock, mid-week prayer and praise service.

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES.

The women of the church carried through the luncheon and dinner with the efficiency and enthusiasm. Everyone is congratulating them on the hearty cooperation manifested and on the decided success of the undertaking.

The subject of the morning service next Sunday is "Love and Service for God and Country." It is National Loyalty Sunday in our denomination throughout the United States of America. Plans will be made for a speaker, Prof. George W. Smith will speak on "The Present Situation in Our National Life." Mrs. Phoebe Patterson will speak on "Home Life, the Nation's Law, and Womanhood," and the pastor will have as his subject, "Reverence for Laws—Human and Divine." This will be a very unusual service, and all should attend.

On Monday and Tuesday evenings of next week, Edward A. Marshall will give two of his lecture demonstrations explaining "Bible Manners and Customs in the Time of Christ." These lectures should prove very helpful. A silver collection will be taken each evening.

The Busy Women's Class will hold their annual Christmas party on Tuesday of next week at the home of Mrs. George Cramer, 443 Huron St. North. There will be the usual cooperative dinner at noon, and this will be followed by a program and the "cutting of the Christmas pie."

BAPTIST NOTES

The contest between the young people of Wayne and Plymouth is well under way. Last Sunday evening there were sixty-five young people present at Plymouth, while Wayne had only forty. This gives Plymouth a splendid margin to start with. However, there are still five Sunday evenings in which Wayne has to even the score.

Next Sunday the theme for discussion will be "Why is Christianity a Missionary Religion?" The subject for open discussion will be "Do Young People Have a Better Opportunity Today Than the Past Generation?" This should prove of interest to every young person. Next Sunday evening is "Bring a Friend" evening. We should have at least seventy present. Can we count on you?

Tuesday evening about thirty-five young people met in the church basement for a social. Numerous games were played, and light refreshments were served. Before departing for home they all gathered about the piano and sang a number of hymns. The Ladies' Aid Society will hold their regular monthly meeting the first Wednesday of the month, Dec. 4, instead of the second, as customary. The meeting will be held in the church basement for the purpose of arranging the bazaar booths.

Christian Science Notes

"Soul and Body" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches on Sunday, November 24th.

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "I will greatly rejoice in the Lord, my soul shall be joyful in my God; for he hath clothed me with the garments of salvation, he hath covered me with the robe of righteousness." (Isa. 61:10).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Sooner or later we shall learn that the fetters of man's finite capacity are forced by the illusion that he lives in body instead of in soul, in matter instead of in Spirit." (p. 225).

Sunday, December 1—"Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced."

St. Peter's Lutheran

Thanksgiving service was held at 10:00 Thursday morning.

The Young People's Bible Society will meet at 7:00 o'clock Friday evening, at the church, to leave for the party at Wayne.

Greenup services next Sunday at 7:30 p. m.

CATHOLIC NOTES

The hostesses for the next card party which will be held on Thursday, December 12, will be the following ladies: Mrs. T. Levandoski, chairman, assisted by the Mesdames A. Zalesko, J. Zalesko, Jr., and A. Bronski. There will also be a Christmas sale of articles; also fish pond.

GRANGE NOTES

The next regular meeting of the Plymouth Grange No. 383, will be held at the hall next Thursday evening, December 5.

ADVERTISING VALUE IS GIVEN EMPHASIS

MOST IMPORTANT FACTOR IN LIFE OF BUILDING-LOAN GROUPS, ASSETS OFFICIAL

Using a monkey wrench as a simile to describe the factors which are potent in making building and loan associations successful, Carl J. Weber, of Port Wayne, Ind., points out that the wrench representing advertising is one of the most important in the entire kit. "It is the wrench that keeps spinning the wheel which keeps building and loan associations alive," he states. Mr. Weber, representative on the United States League board of directors of the district including Michigan, asserts that advertising is the wrench that keeps building and loan associations on the road of progress. "If there were no advertising wrench, the stream of gold that runs from savings into loans would very soon be stopped," he says. "Only using that wrench, stop the flowing gold, and our gigantic machine would soon rust with idleness and the spokes of the wheel, 12,000 building and loan associations would fall away in decay.

"The advertising wrench is the one that makes the big machine," Mr. Weber goes on. "It is used on the drive shaft and brings in the raw material. It has chisel-steeled jaws and a man-sized handle, to give men the proper grip on their jobs. "With the advertising wrench, building and loan men can knock the activities of the promoter, swindler and tricky stock salesman who is ready to let people 'in on the ground floor.' They can stop the terrible leakage of savings dollars, dripping into the laps of sharks, who, glib of tongue, will exchange worthless paper for hard-earned cash. "After all," Mr. Weber says, "advertising is a necessary adjunct to any business, and vital to the progress of building and loan."—Free Press.

SENIOR PLAY A SUCCESS

The senior class had great success in staging the play, "Tommy." All members of the class wish to thank Mr. Schrader, Mr. Huston, Mr. Blunk and Mr. Jolliffe for cooperation with pupils in helping them to procure furniture and other necessities. Due thanks are also offered to Miss Gladys Schrader and the orchestra for participation in the two evenings' programs. The class has received $223, but after all expenses are paid, about $150 will be net profit. It has been through the cooperation of all the high school pupils and the townspeople that the seniors enjoyed this success.

Snip, Snip—Girls Make Scrap Books

The Senior Girl Reserves made scrap books. Friday, November 22, to send to children in Ann Arbor hospital. Each girl drew the name of another girl in the club and is going to assemble a scrap book to represent the life of the girl whose name she drew. This will produce much more interesting books both to the children and the girls themselves, because Mrs. Crumrine said that when these are completed, the girls may see them. This will give each girl some idea what other people think of her. Each girl was asked to contribute some one grocery article to the Thanksgiving baskets the club is giving the poor. Service to others is part of the Girl Reserve and to be a true member each girl must follow it.

General Assembly

The first announcement made by Mr. Emens was concerning the loss of books in the school. He advised every pupil to write his name in ink in several parts of the book. He then spoke of the new school building which will be voted on December 16 by the people. This building is to be built at the cost of $100,000, besides containing a new gym, has nine classrooms, a very essential part. It will also have a community room which will benefit both the students and the parents. The first basketball game of the season is December 13 when the varsity play the alumni. An announcement of the Senior Play was given by Richard Smith. The "surprise" consisted of a part of "Tommy," the Senior Class Play.

Plymouth Aircraft Club

The Plymouth Aircraft Club, consisting of about twenty-five boys, has been making models of different types of planes. Having finished the easier ships, the boys are starting on what is called a tractor plane which is a one-winged machine. Each young aviator is now attempting larger planes, such as bi-planes and ships of two motors. All models are made of balsa wood, which is grown in the Amazon regions of South America, and is one-sixth the weight of cork. The wings are covered with Japanese tissue paper, and the motors are made of rubber. Each boy makes his own propeller. If they are careful in making these, they are rewarded for their pains by seeing them fly. Next semester in assembly the club is to put on a program showing the types of planes and how they fly.

Music Department

Our music department has been rather busy during the last few days. Joseph Risher entertained at the Starkweather P. T. A. with a novelty number on his accordion and harmonica. The high school orchestra played at the senior play, "Tommy"; also, Teddy Baughman sang a tenor solo. Two new members are now playing in the orchestra, Evelyn Starkweather, on the piano, and Milton Moe, on the violin. We consider ourselves important in securing these two young musicians. At the Wayne County Training school, Monday night, the following program was given: 1. March—M. B. 2. March—We Americans 3. Girls' Quartet—(a) Mighty Lak A Rose; (b) Singing in the Rain 4. Overture—Night in June 5. Bob Champagne—(a) Tip Toe Through Tulip Trees; (b) Carolina Moon 6. March—On the Square 7. Joe Ribbar—Victors 8. Overture—Gypsy Festival 9. Girls' Quartet—(a) Little Maid of West; (b) Sleepy Valley 10. March—Washington Post The Kiwanis Club sponsored this program.

The School Health Work

The dental examination of all the children from kindergarten through the ninth grade, by our local dentists, Doctors Olsaver, Champe, Horer and Thams, has just been completed. The grade children show a four per cent gain over last year in numbers whose teeth were in perfect condition. The seventh, eighth and ninth grades show also a marked improvement. Four hundred seventy-three boys and girls were examined; 88 were found whose teeth were in perfect condition; 108 needed their teeth cleaned; 29 needed fillings. It is quite evident that the parents realize the value of keeping a child's mouth clean; that this habit learned in early childhood will carry on through life.

Biology Class Hunting For Specimens

The students in the biology class have been exploring at the different creeks looking for minnows, crabs, frogs, etc. for their aquarium which is situated in the classroom where they may study the habits of these animals more closely.

The Sophomore Dance

The following committees have been selected for the dance, December 6: Orchestra—Maynard Larkins, Dorothy Hubert, Alice Chambers. Chaperone, furniture, floor—Zerapha Blunk, Alaine Hamilton, Harlow Wagenschutz. Refreshment—Eunah Wagenschutz, Edwin Ash, Vincent Herter. Advertisement tickets—Bruce Miller, Billy Kirkpatrick, Cassie Rowland and Cora Rowland. Clean-up—Billy Henry, Casler Stevens and Steve Dudek. The sophomores are out to make this a real party and they would like to see all the students in school there.

The Real Thing This Time In Travel

The College of Commerce, not the Commercial College, no, no, no; The Detroit Business College. How only imaginary travels do confuse, is one of the objects of the Travel Club's proposed trip to Detroit, December 13th. All of their trips on the magic carpet of the mind have been for members for a real journey even if it be only a short one. Therefore, on that date if one stily keeps a watch around the corner, the Travel Club will be seen to be gaily starting off for Detroit to The Detroit Business College, as I mentioned before and to—now just what do you suppose—the Ambassador bridge of course. Anyone bent on seeing something worth seeing would naturally turn his footsteps to this new bond of unity.

BASKETBALL

In an effort to develop players for the varsity, games are played among the different classes during the noon hour. The girls also have games, though they have no varsity. The junior and senior boys' game ended in a 7 to 7 tie. The real result was uncertain until the end. The lead seasawed back and forth though both teams remained in the lead for a short time. The sophomore and the freshmen girls furnished the spectators plenty of excitement in their game. The sophomores finally emerged on the long end of the score. A determined bid for the game was made by the freshmen in the fourth period. The final score remained however, 6 to 4 in favor of the sophs. Another benefit derived from these noon games is that it gives those who have never played a chance to participate in them. Many of the pupils are from the country, and as they bring or buy their dinner it gives them some form of amusement and resting time for the afternoon studies. Then, too, playing any game gives one a certain knowledge of it that makes for appreciation when one is in an audience instead of on the floor. The more people can critically appreciate all of our games, the better sportsman we shall be as a nation.

Starkweather Notes

Isabelle McIntosh, Doris Starkweather, John Hartzog, Maurice Plomax are qualified to join the Reading Club. A visit was paid the club by Mr. Smith and Mrs. Bird, to Miss Studer's room. The second grade had the following visitors during Educational Week: Mrs. Jolliffe, Mrs. Springer, Mrs. West, Mrs. McLaren, Mrs. Sulow, Mrs. Willett, Mrs. Downing, Mrs. Schoof, Mrs. Fallott, Mrs. Fischer, Mrs. Darnell, Mrs. Bulmon, Mrs. McCullough, Mrs. Dalmer, Mrs. Woodworth, Mrs. Avery, Mrs. Roe, Mrs. Brennan and Mrs. Johnston. Isabel Fallott entered from Macomb County. The third grade had twenty-three visitors during Educational Week. Iona Fleeger has returned after a long absence. The boys and girls have been learning the flag salute. The boys and girls are working on stories of the first Thanksgiving, which will be put into booklets to be exhibited in May. The visitors for last week were: Mrs. West, Mrs. Matta, Mrs. Innals, Mrs. Springer, Mrs. Beyer, Mrs. Eckles, Mrs. Hartzog, Miss Drake, Miss Hardgrove, Mrs. Cripe and Mrs. Howard. The 5-B geography class took a "trip" to Asia, and then made booklets after they had returned. The Red Sox won the last spello-down, and the arithmetic teams are tied. The fifth grade had twenty-eight visitors during Educational Week. The 6-A is writing a play, "The King of the Golden River." The 6-B is reading "Ulysses." They had nineteen visitors during visiting week. In the last two weeks, the room has had one hundred percent attendance five times. Everyone is writing book reports. In art, the second, third, fourth, fifth and sixth grades, both at the Central and Starkweather Schools, are making Thanksgiving pictures and art booklets. The fourth grade at Starkweather is doing free-hand brush design with water colors, and the sixth grade is making pottery posters. The sixth grade at the Central school has been working on animal drawings.

The eighth hour chemistry class experienced some thrills in laboratory the other day when some phosphorus was accidentally dropped on the floor causing flames and smoke which were put out by the fire extinguisher.

Central School Notes

Even Miss Wilmore's little ones have decorated the room with an Indian Village for Thanksgiving. There are many different versions of the Mayflower around Miss Richard's room, made by the boys and girls. They have also made coat booklets, turkeys and an Indian village. A new tooth chart has been placed at the back of the room, on the order of the two masks used in drama. The healthful tooth has a smiling face, and the decayed tooth is crying. So far seven-ton children in the room have laughing teeth. The children in Miss Weinman's room are working hard to finish their Pilgrim booklets before Thanksgiving. Shirley Durham and Margaret Erdelye are still confined at home. Claire Corbett entered this grade from California. Ruth Perkins and Eloise Zimmerman are still absent from Miss Weatherhead's room because of illness. There were sixteen pupils in the room who were neither absent nor tardy during the second five-week period. For book week all the boys and girls mended and cleaned the books in the room. They also learned a poem on the care of books. The second A's are making a Pilgrim booklet of stories and cut-paper illustrations. Frances Meighan spelled the entire room down last Friday. The following people in Miss Field's room were on the Honor Roll for their living during the past week: Eunah King, Earl Lyke, Wesley Rathburn, Ruth Fulton, Jean Hadley, Donald McLeod, Gerald Cooper, Byron Hamer, Maybelle Wolff, Astrid Hegge, Lois Schaufele, Elizabeth Hegge, and Ruth Randall. Jane Corbett entered Miss Ferrand's room from California. Two letters have been received from Janet Trommsdorff in Florida and the children are answering them for language class. They are studying the "Two Indian Tasting Corn in the A-A section. Mrs. Broagman visited the class last Thursday. Mrs. Trimmer, Mrs. Statezel, Mrs. Sulow and Mrs. Rainour visited Miss Hallahan's room last week. Jack Kinsey's team received one hundred per cent in spelling last Friday and Jane Dodds' team, ninety-five per cent. The six B section has been studying banking; they made paper money, checks and had a make-believe bank. Thirty-one names now appear on the Perfect Teeth Chart. The Geography scores are tied at eleven pupils in Miss Fommer's room. The spelling scores are as follows: Polly Ann Wright's team had one hundred per cent on Friday and Russell McGraw's team, seventy-six. The room is giving a Christmas play for the P. T. A. meeting on December 11. The geography scores in the six B section are: Bernard Louis's side, sixty-two and Jean Steinhurst's, thirty-five. The children in Mrs. Root's room are learning to count and write the numbers up to fifty. In silent seat-work reading they are drawing lines under words or phrases that best answer questions. In picture study the children have been told the story of the Baby Stewart and have pasted the picture in their little art books. The authors are studied in connection with the pictures also. Ruth Simpson very thoughtfully remembered all the boys the girls in the room on her seventh birthday by giving a birthday party at recess, and serving delicious cookies and peanut brittle.

$3,500,000 IS SAVED YEARLY TO MICHIGAN IRON, STEEL SHIPPERS

LONG-AWAITED RELIEF FROM BURDENSOME FREIGHT RATES COMES AFTER SERIES OF HARD-FOUGHT BATTLES.

By C. C. McGill
Secretary, Public Affairs Bureau,
Detroit Board of Commerce.

Manufacturers of Michigan will save $3,500,000 annually in freight rates on iron and steel as the result of a decision a few days ago by the interstate commerce commission. Detroit alone will be saved $2,057,000 each year on iron and steel rates. This relief has been long due and comes about as the result of a series of hard-fought conflicts before the interstate commerce commission in a dozen or so hearings held in various parts of the country.

L. G. Macomber, director of transportation of the Detroit Board of Commerce, represented the manufacturers of Michigan throughout the controversy. The beneficial rates for Michigan shippers and receivers of iron and steel have really been obtained twice.

An original ruling of the interstate commerce commission granted the reductions in iron and steel rates and made them effective October 20, 1929. The carriers then filed a petition for a postponement of the effective date of December 20, to obtain additional time in which to compile a new petition asking for a reopening of the entire case. The commission granted the delay until December 20, in making the new rates effective.

At the recent hearing the carriers case was opposed by Mr. Macomber, who filed an answer to the railroads' petition. He based his opposition upon the argument that the carriers' petition had no application in Michigan. Following this argument the commission ruled against the carriers and made the lower rates effective on December 20.

The benefits of the lower rates will be spread among the widely diversified industries of the state. Chief among the manufacturers, to whom iron and steel rates are a major factor, are the makers of automobiles, parts and accessories, building supplies,

ALCOHOL AND GLYCERINE CONTENT TABLE FOR AUTOS

As winter weather is already here and still more to come the Plymouth motorist will have to watch the daily weather reports more closely than he has the rest of the year.

For on the temperature of each locality will depend the amount of anti-freeze solution to use in his cooling system. This is especially true if denatured alcohol is being used.

In order to keep the motorist well informed regarding this important phase of motoring, the United States Bureau of Standards has experimented with various forms of anti-freeze in varying proportions and under different temperatures. As a result, the engineers have formulated a table of figures telling what proportion of anti-freeze to use with water for the degree of temperature expected at any locality or at any time of winter.

Here is the table:

Degrees Fahrenheit	Per cent Alcohol	Per cent Glycerine
20	19	22
10	30	32
0	38	40
-10	45	47
-20	52	54

The alcohol here considered is the denatured variety, 188-proof. The glycerine is the pure, distilled chemical that is now being prepared in several commercial forms for radiator use, especially.

Forms of ethylene glycol may be considered for the purposes of this table as "glycerine."

If Prestone is used, the motorist should consult the dealers' chart before using. For most cars from 1 1/2 to 2 gallons of this mixture will keep the radiator open in zero weather.

The temperature given is the lowest to which the percentage of anti-freeze structural steel, steel sash, bolts, nuts, screws, stoves, furnaces, radiators, machinery and parts, tanks, barrels, ballers, forgings, stampings, tools, tubing and tubes, ventilators, sheet metal products, wire and cloth products, iron and steel supplies, fences and fence parts, milk and ice-cream cans, adding machines, vacuum cleaners, boats and boat engines, steam rollers, steam rolling mills, electrical safety devices, bed springs, ironing machines, hardware stampings, enamelled sheet metal goods, refrigerators and washing machines.—Detroit Free Press.

and water may be used with safety. Below that temperature, the proportion should be increased in order to keep the solution from freezing.

Water ordinarily freezes at 32 degrees Fahrenheit. In order to keep it from freezing when the outside temperature is lower than 32 degrees Fahrenheit, a proportion of anti-freeze must be added to the water.

Since the freezing point of the anti-freeze is lower than that of water, the mixture of this liquid with the water of the cooling system tends to keep the resultant solution from freezing.

This is the explanation for the use of anti-freeze. As the temperature of the air outside drops it is obvious that the amount of anti-freeze in proportion with water would have to be raised. Thus, according to the table given, if the outside temperature is expected to go down to 20 degrees above zero, which is 12 degrees below water's freezing point, alcohol to the amount of 19 per cent, or one-fifth of the total cooling system content, should be used, with the remainder water.

If glycerine is to be used, this proportion would have to be 22 per cent of the entire amount. In order to tell exactly how much alcohol would make one-fifth of the cooling system content at 20 degrees Fahrenheit, the capacity of the cooling system must be known. This is given in the instruction book that goes with each automobile. If this book is not handy, any dealer or service station attendant will furnish the information. If you are using a hot water heater in your car add a quart more capacity to the content of your radiator and figure on that basis.

In the case of alcohol, only so much should be used as is necessary to satisfy present conditions, or at least for a time until a rise in temperature is expected. This can be gauged by the time of year and the average temperature conditions of each locality.

If glycerine or Prestone is used, however, the problem is simplified. The lowest possible temperature over the entire winter may be considered at the very start and the proportion of glycerine or Prestone suggested by the table for that temperature mixed with the water. Thereafter there should be no more worry about the proper amount of glycerine or Prestone in the cooling system, provided, however, there is no leak.

THE RIGHT SIZED BULB FOR THE BATHROOM

For bathroom lighting, the use of a 60-watt bulb in a lighting bracket on both sides of the mirror provides the best arrangement for convenience and for adequate illumination. In many bathrooms, however, there is only a single lighting fixture—and in this case a 100-watt bulb is very satisfactory.

If you are using a bulb smaller than 100-watts, try the 100-watt size and notice how it brightens the room and facilitates the use of the mirror.

Buying a USED CAR is largely a matter of confidence. Building up our patrons' confidence in us has built up our business.

Mining and The Telephone

A bell clangs, gates crash shut, and the "skip" sinks rapidly into the earth! Tightly packed with stalwart miners, the car drops down the shaft, the hat lamps fade and the bantering voices recede into the darkness. Down, down, down, a mile or more they go, to blast and pick for copper-bearing rock.

Linking these subterranean workers and their companions on the surface is a telephone system, keeping the miners in constant communication with "the top". On each underground "level", a telephone enables the "shift bosses" to receive directions from the superintendent above, or to report particular developments.

As a safety device, the telephone is indispensable.

The far-reaching telephone wireways are partners of mining, not only underground but in the surface plant, in the offices, and between all points in the nation. The copper, iron, salt, oil, and other mining industries of our state utilize the telephone to sell their products, to buy materials and to direct shipping.

Michigan is proud of her mining industry, proud of her position in the production of these minerals. The Michigan Bell Telephone Company is proud to be a partner of this industry and to do its part in aiding its development.

Our policy—"To continue to furnish the best possible telephone service at the lowest cost consistent with financial safety".

MRS. ALBERT COFFINGER

"For a long time I suffered from the disordered condition of my stomach," said Mrs. Albert Coffinger, 619 North Second street, Niles, Michigan. "My food refused to digest, but I lay like a rock in my stomach. I was always constipated, and strong laxatives gave me only temporary relief. My kidneys and bladder caused lots of trouble. My back constantly pained me, and I had to get up four or five times every night due to bladder actions.

"Konjola proved to be just the medicine I needed. In a remarkably short time, my stomach was restored to a normal, healthy condition, and my food digests, and all the distress that used to follow my meals is gone. My bowels are regular and my kidneys and bladder are in first-class condition, and the back pains are gone. I never have to get up nights, sleep well, and benefit from the rest I get."

Konjola is sold in Plymouth at the Community Pharmacy drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Dont let the Moths eat your Clothes up!

Clothes that are soiled and full of dirty spots are what the moths feast on. As a rule they do not touch clothes that are dry cleaned. Think of the damage and loss that the moth causes. Compare this with the small cost of having your clothes dry cleaned. It is real economy then to have all your clothes dry cleaned before hanging them away in your closet. It will save you many a dollar!
We are experts. Our rates are exceptionally reasonable.

Municipal Notes

BY THE MANAGER

An ordinance was passed by the Commission at its regular meeting last week, providing for the care and maintenance of public alleys within the village, prohibiting the obstruction thereof, prohibiting the deposit of ashes, rubbish, garbage or other refuse therein, regulating the burning of rubbish therein and providing penalties for the violation of the provisions hereof.

Briefly, the ordinance aims to provide for the maintenance and upkeep of public alleys on the same basis as our streets are now maintained. Except for permitting the deposit of ashes along the edge of alleys during the winter months, which ashes must be removed by May first the following spring, no rubbish or refuse of any kind is permitted in any public alley. The ordinance likewise carefully regulates the burning of paper, etc., in alleys to the end that fire hazards may be eliminated.

CHAMBER of COMMERCE NOTES

WHICH COMES FIRST, THE HEN OR THE EGG?

We do not like to start an argument we cannot finish, so let's change the question to read, "WHICH COMES FIRST, MAN OR MONEY?" The answer, we believe is, MAN. Is it far-fetched to say that the man power of our country is our most valuable natural resource? Supposing that all of the physical wealth of the U. S. were wiped out in one sweep, how long would it take the men and women of our country to replace it? Man comes first. Man creates wealth. What he can create once, he can create again, provided he retains his hope and courage, and that brings us to our next point.

WHAT KEEPS A CHAP GOING, ANYWAY?

A man may be driven by necessity, but his task is made easier or harder depending on his mental condition. And a man's success or failure is in no small measure dependent upon his mental condition.

WHO WANTS TO BE A HERMIT?

We cannot live unto ourselves unless we adopt the life of a hermit, and who wants to be a hermit? As much as we should like to shut our eyes and ears sometimes, we find it impossible and in spite of what we want to think and believe, we are influenced by what our neighbors and fellow-citizens say and think, and OUR CONFIDENCE AND COURAGE IS GRADUALLY UNDERMINED, OR BUILT UP AND RESTORED ACCORDINGLY.

WE ARE NOT ALLOWED THE FREEDOM OF A DOG.

A dog, tail wagging and eyes gleaming with friendliness, dashes up to a man, and receives a kick. The animal either slinks away with his tail between his legs or bites back. A man starts out for a day's work. He feels good. He is determined to make the day count. He greets a friend, "How are tricks?" "Rotten." He tries it again, "How's your business, Bill?" "Terrible." "Not so good," he feels. He is stopped by another acquaintance who greets him by asking, "Have you heard about Jones' pay checks being refused by the banks? No? Yeah, they must be on the rocks." Another one gives his oozing confidence another kick by saying, "Have you heard that Smith & Company have lost everything in the stock crash?" (UNVERIFIED RUMORS, MIND YOU, BUT REPEATED AS FACTS.)

By this time our friend probably feels like biting back. He wonders what it is all about. A cloud has crept over the sun. His early morning good cheer has been poisoned. Unless he is made of stern stuff, he is beginning to be convinced that, by George, we ARE in for a tough winter. He's weakening, and who can blame him when later in the day he replies to a friend's cheerful greeting by saying, "Oh, my business is rotten." His morale has been shot, he has made less money that day as a result, and "Old Man Hard Times" has gained another disciple.

OUR MENTAL CONDITION IS IMPORTANT

Granting that business conditions could be better, if we continue to influence ourselves and everyone we come in contact with with such "panicky" talk, we might succeed in bringing about genuine hard times, whereas if we try to sound a more hopeful note, we could do much to improve present conditions.

As Arthur Brisbane said in his column last Tuesday, "All the really important millionaires are planning to continue prosperity. The nation probably will build roads, railroads will order steel, all big businesses will do what they can. But prosperity depends on the people themselves, and largely, on their mental condition."

If they spend their money and buy they will provide work for others. If they are cheerful, the nation will be cheerful. All the millionaires, all the great industrialists, all the Congressmen and legislators cannot do for the people that which they must do for themselves—WORK AND KEEP THEIR COURAGE."

This may not make a bit with the men and women out of work, but the point is that the sooner the men and women in business, possessing jobs and incomes, adopt a more cheerful frame of mind, the sooner general business will pick up, and the sooner the people out of employment will be back in gainful occupations.

Kiwanians Sponsor Entertainment At Co. Training School

John M. Larkins, Kiwanian Chairman, assisted by his committee of Kiwanians—J. H. Hubert, Ernest S. Roe and Charles L. Finlan, sponsored an entertainment and concert last Monday evening at the Wayne County Training School. This has been an annual affair from the Kiwanis Club of Plymouth. The concert given by the High School band under the leadership of Claude E. Dykehouse, the girls quartet under the direction of Miss Gladys Schrader, vocal solos by "Junior Rotarian" Robert Champe, mouth organ and accordion solos by Joseph Rihar, and Miss Gladys Schrader piano accompanist, were the evening's attractions.

All the numbers were enthusiastically received and encores were cheerfully given.

The entertainers were met and greeted upon their arrival by Dr. Haskell, Medical Superintendent of the Training School. Just prior to the commencement of the evening's program, Dr. Haskell, appeared before the curtain to acknowledge his indebtedness to all who had come to spend the evening at the school and to the Kiwanis club and its committee who sponsored the program.

The visitors were shown through the new gymnasium and swimming pool and others buildings of interest before returning to Plymouth.

Dad Plymouth says the road to heaven may be straight, as has been claimed for it, but that he notices a lot of people wobble on the way.

Thanksgiving

"Thanksgiving Day is only our annual time for saying grace at the eternal table of goodness." —James M. Ludlow.

Our Pilgrim fathers were wise in setting aside this day of thanks, a day for calm reflection and appreciative thoughts—thoughts of the spectacular gifts of life and especially of the casually accepted blessings which reveal their beauty and kindness only on close inspection. And so on this Thanksgiving Day we want to express our appreciation for the pleasure we have had in serving a constantly growing number of depositors and friends. May they have much for which to be thankful, including financial success, and may the future give us frequent opportunity to speed their progress.
