

PROMINENT PLYMOUTH CITIZEN PASSES AWAY

Allan A. Horton, Engineer and Inventor, Dies From Heart Attack Early Sunday Morning.

Funeral Services Held From the Home Tuesday Afternoon Were Largely Attended.

The citizens of this community were greatly shocked last Sunday morning when it became known that Allan A. Horton, one of its most prominent and best liked citizens had passed away at an early hour that morning from a heart attack, which it is believed was caused from exhaustion brought on while Mr. Horton was assisting his men harvest grain during the heat of the day.

Mr. Horton and family came to Plymouth from Detroit several years ago, to make their home on a farm which he purchased about two miles west of the village on the North Territorial road, and later he built the beautiful home in which he took a just pride. During the years Mr. Horton resided here, he had made a large place for himself in the community. He had a pleasing personality and always had a kind word for everyone with whom he came in contact.

Mr. Horton had been prominent for a number of years in the Detroit industrial field as an engineer and inventor. He had been connected with the Burroughs Milling Machine Co. for 16 years and was the designer of the variable tabling machine. He first joined the Burroughs Co. as a member of the engineering staff in 1906, remaining in the employ of the company until 1917, when he resigned to do special engineering work for the Ford Motor Co., but returned to the Burroughs Co. in 1924.

At various times he was connected with the Cadillac Motor Car Co., the American Blower Co., the Packard Motor Car Co., and the Michigan Central Railroad. The deceased was born in Sharon, Pa., in 1885, and came to Detroit with his parents when two years of age. He received his education in the Detroit schools.

He is survived by his wife and four children, Henry, Barbara, Hugh and Hal; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Horton of Detroit; and one brother, Max B. Horton of Birmingham.

Mr. Horton was a member of the Ponchartraine Club of Detroit, King Cyrus Chapter, A. M., and the Mason Temple Shrine, in Detroit; Plymouth Lodge No. 47, F. & A. M., of Plymouth, Northville Commandery, Knights Templar; the Washtenaw Country Club, and the Plymouth Rotary Club of which he was president last year. He was also a member of the Society of Automotive Engineers.

In 1928 Mr. Horton served as president of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce, and for the past year has been National Counselor of the local organization to the National Chamber of Commerce.

The funeral services, which were very largely attended, were held from his late home Tuesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, at the First Presbyterian church, assisted by Rev. Oscar J. Feltz, rector of St. John's Episcopal church of this place, officiating. There was a profusion of floral tributes. The interment took place in Riverside cemetery.

Big Outing At Edgewater Park

A scant two weeks before school opens, the 3,000 boys who during the next school year will help Detroit's traffic policemen protect school children at street crossings, are providing for their big all-day outing at Edgewater Park, August 15. In addition to the school normal boys, the 2,500 boys who will take over in the Detroit Recreation Department's charge, also will attend the outing at the park located among the trees on the banks of the River Rouge at Seven Mile road near Grand River. Many of the boys will bring their friends and members of their families.

Edgewater Park was selected, this year, for the recreation department outing because of its beautiful location and picnic grounds and its variety of rides and amusements. At the Park, Paul Helzso, general manager, is preparing to entertain more than 15,000 boys that day.

During August some of the largest outings of the year will be held at Edgewater, on August 13 that of the Arctic Ice Cream company, for its customers, on August 20 Polish Day and Hamtramck day will be jointly celebrated and the night of August 21, the Schust Biscuit company, invites all its customers to attend and enjoy free rides and other amusements.

Free buses now are operated from Redford at Grand River and Lahser avenue to the Park, while in the park, free parking space has been provided for 5,000 automobiles. There is no admission charge to the Park at any time and use of the picnic grounds and tables is without charge.

Many Hear Band Concert

Plymouth people enjoyed a rare musical treat Tuesday evening when the Faust Post band of Detroit came to Plymouth and gave a concert in Kellogg Park. This band was brought to Plymouth through the courtesy of the Executive Men's Club of Plymouth. The band, which is under the direction of Sergeant Lindermeyer, gave a program of popular and classical music that was greatly appreciated by the large crowd which had gathered to hear them play. It is hoped that this splendid musical organization will visit Plymouth again.

43 Children Receive Free Dental Service

Forty-three Plymouth school children have received free dental attention during the past five weeks from the children's fund of the Michigan Dental Clinic located at Garden City, Ford and Middle Belt roads.

The Rural Wayne County Clinic of the children's fund is one of the projects made possible by Senator James C. Bennett's gift of ten million dollars to promote the welfare of the children of Michigan. Similar dental clinics are maintained in twenty-four other counties of the state.

According to Doctor H. Irving Miller in charge of the Rural Wayne Dental Clinic, each of the forty-three children was given a thorough mouth examination and cleaning on his first visit to the clinic followed by illness and extractions at later appointments.

Eighty-three diseased teeth were taken out, only seven of the forty-three children did not need at least one tooth removed while many had five or six teeth so badly decayed or abscessed as to be endangering the child's health.

A total of one hundred and fifty-five silver fillings were put in along with eleven porcelain fillings. Every child in the group required some dental attention aside from cleaning and examination.

With the completion of the work for the five week period, Dr. Miller reports that twenty-five of the children have been put in perfect condition generally, while the remaining children of the group have had the really serious conditions in their mouths corrected but still have one or two small repairs to be made. Doctor Miller explained that conditions in a growing child's mouth change so rapidly that a thorough examination is necessary at least every six months.

Through the cooperation of the Plymouth Board of Education, Mrs. George Strasen in charge of Public School nursing in Plymouth, was able to take these children to the Garden City clinic and return them each day, and it is expected that some similar arrangement will be made for one day a week following the re-opening of school this September.

Cobb-Huston Reunion Held

The Cobb-Huston reunion was held Saturday, August 2, in Cass Benton Park. At an early hour the guests began to gather, and separated in the early twilight as best to part. A beautiful pot-luck dinner was served at one o'clock, after which a business meeting and visiting took place. The guests were from Detroit, Plymouth, Northville, Cherry Hill, Denton, Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, New Hudson, Howell, Williamston, Kalamazoo, and Cleveland, Ohio.

Mrs. Joe Gill of Kalamazoo, was elected president. Mrs. Gill read an account of the golden wedding of John and Laura Huston, held at the old home place, September 29, 1880. In September it will be one hundred years since their marriage. In 1880 there were six children living and two gone to the homeland. Today there are six gone to the homeland and two living, Mrs. Laura Olson of Ypsilanti, and Mrs. George Harmon of Mankin, Mrs. Harmon, though past eighty, still gathers berries in the woods and is as spry as can be.

Those present who attended the golden wedding were: Mrs. C. Bentley, Mrs. Nettie Cobb, Dwight Baker, Ida Huston-Smith, Mary Huston Gill, Charles Huston, Leon Huston, Frank Harmon, Mrs. Thomas Lamerzon, Mrs. Alice Cobb-Peterson, Clara Cobb-Wilkens, Cora Cobb-Rosen, Fern J. Cobb and Mrs. Anna Cobb-Cole.

Fire Destroys Lumber Yard

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the lumber yard of the Cadillac Housewrecking Co. at 12900 Evergreen road, Tuesday evening at 8:30. Flames which at one time shot 300 feet in the air, were visible for two miles and attracted a crowd of ten thousand people.

Most of the lumber occupying approximately two acres, was destroyed. A small house on the company's property, occupied by Benjamin Sillit, and a shed used by the Detroit Concrete Receptacle company, adjoining the lumber yard, were partially burned.

It was thought that possibly a spark from an engine passing on a nearby railroad tracks, ignited the tinder-dry wood.

Honor Bride-To-Be

Several interesting events honoring Miss Marion Schroder, whose wedding date has been announced as August 20, have taken place this week. On Friday, Mrs. Charles Knowledge, sister of the prospective groom, entertained a number of young ladies at bridge at her home in Ferndale. On Saturday, Miss Blanche Bell entertained sixteen girls at a luncheon and towel shower for the bride-elect at her home in Birmingham.

LANDMARK DESTROYED

LIVONIA TOWNSHIP HALL BURNED TO GROUND LAST SUNDAY NIGHT.

The Livonia township hall, an old landmark located on Five Mile road at Farmington road, was totally destroyed by fire of undetermined origin, Sunday night near midnight.

The building was in flames when nearby residents discovered the fire. The Farmington fire department was called, and upon arriving at the scene they found that the hose would not fit the fire hydrants near the building. The Redford fire apparatus was then called, but they arrived too late to save the old building. Furniture and office fixtures were carried from the building by residents before the fire department arrived.

The loss is completely covered by insurance, according to township officials.

LOUIS CHARIPAR DIES SUDDENLY

FUNERAL SERVICES WERE HELD WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON.

Louis C. Charipar, steward and secretary of the board of directors of the Wayne County Training School near this village, died suddenly last Monday. Mr. Charipar had gone to a spring for a pail of water after working on his new home which he was building on the Northville road, and when he was found by his wife after a police dog had attracted her attention. Death was attributed to a heart attack aggravated by heat exhaustion.

Besides his wife, he is survived by three daughters, Iris, Joe and Gladys, and a brother, Charles, of Detroit, formerly a member of a Detroit chorus, began a dancing engagement in a Hollywood, Calif., theatre, Monday.

Mr. Charipar was a member of Ashlar Lodge, No. 91, F. & A. M., of Detroit.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock from the Schrader Bros. Funeral Home, Rev. Walter Nichol officiating. Interment was in Riverside cemetery.

Village Gives Ford Antique Fire Apparatus

During the past week the Village of Plymouth offered to Henry Ford, for his museum at Greenfield Village, two old and obsolete pieces of fire apparatus which have long since outlived their usefulness for fire fighting purposes, a chemical truck of some forty gallons capacity, a hand drawn affair, and a ladder truck, formerly used to draw ladders to fires. Word has been received by the Village Manager that Mr. Ford is very glad to accept the antiquated pieces of fire fighting equipment, that they will be called for at once.

Both the chemical and the ladder truck were purchased something over thirty years ago, and in their day were considered quite the thing in the way of up-to-date equipment. Since the acquiring of motorized equipment during recent years, however, this old apparatus has been set aside as of no further use to the village. The space occupied by these items is now badly needed for other purposes, however; hence the offer to donate them to Mr. Ford for his museum.

The future will probably find these old pieces of fire equipment, properly restored to their former condition, occupying a place of honor in the Ford museum; and future generations will be able to see how Plymouth was equipped to fight its fires in the far past.

Patchin School Will Hold Reunion

The twenty-third annual reunion of the Patchin School, District No. 3 of Nankin, will be held Saturday, August 16th, at the Patchin School, two miles south of Newburg. This is expected to be of more than usual interest as a memorial is being prepared to honor the soldiers of the Civil War, of the Spanish War, and of the World War, who were pupils of this school district. Invitations are being sent out, and it is hoped that a number of veterans will be present as well as many interested friends.

The reunion will begin with a pot-luck dinner at noon, followed by visiting and an appropriate program.

The officers of the association are: Fred Gener, president; Mrs. Ralph Rayno, secretary; and Mr. Smith, treasurer.

WILL HONOR LOCAL RURAL MAIL CARRIER

ROBERT T. WALKER WILL COMPLETE 30 YEARS OF SERVICE AS RURAL MAIL CARRIER.

The Detroit Publicity, a publication published by the Greater Detroit Communities, Inc., of the Detroit Convention and Tourists' Bureau, has the following to say regarding the coming convention of the National Rural Mail Carriers Association which is to be held in Detroit this month and which will also pay tribute to Robert T. Walker, first rural mail carrier out of the local postoffice:

"Detroit pays host to the nation's rural letter carriers this month. The mutual hospitality that was engendered between this city and the association will find its fullest expression here. The rural letter carriers have a traditional gift of gratitude to pay this city because this city in its contribution to the problems of transportation has been a very direct benefactor of the rural letter carrier. The advances made in Detroit to the science of modern engineering has put the whole world on rubber and the rural letter carrier was one of the first to use the gifts of our mechanical genius. He had the vision to see that many of his greatest problems could be dissipated by accepting the newer fashions in travel.

And then, too, Detroit enjoys the opportunity of expressing to the rural letter carrier a hospitality that is as warm as it is sincere, inspired out of the association of common interests, invoked by an appreciation of their mutual relationships. This is the first time that the National Rural Letter Carriers' Association has met here in fifteen years, and this year's convention comes here partly as a tribute to R. T. Walker, Plymouth Michigan, who completes 30 years of service as a rural letter carrier and who has announced his intention to retire. Walker is preparing to handle one of the largest conventions in the history of the organization, and with Charles C. Kellogg, of Detroit, postmaster, has arranged a complete program for the business and entertainment sessions.

The local committee has arranged special entertainment features for the ladies' auxiliary which meets with the association."

Woman Wins First At State College

Judging contests draw hundreds of entrants from farmers day crowd.

Judging contests in one of which a woman proved to be a better man than the men, drew hundreds of contestants from the group of 6,000 farmers who attended the thirtieth annual Farmers Day, August 1, at Michigan State College.

The winners of the county choir contest were Farmington, first, Arthur Applin, leader; Walled Lake, second, Charles E. Hinton, leader; Martin, third, Mrs. Harold F. Weston, leader; Milford, fourth, Mrs. Frank R. Ladd, leader; Howell, fifth, Mrs. H. Margaret Campbell, leader.

Mrs. J. W. Hulet, Mason, took first place among 160 contestants who judged the weights, collar measurement, and girth of a group of draft horses, and she was awarded a purebred colt as first prize. Hiram Corbin, Armada.

Kiwanians Picnic At Base Lake

Once more, through the kindness of Kiwanian Carl Heide and wife, the Kiwanian Club had a very enjoyable picnic at the Heide cottage at Base Lake, Wednesday afternoon. Bridge-soft ball, handball, golf, tennis and other sports were the order of the day till 6:00 p. m. when a bounteous picnic dinner was served on the lawn by ladies of the Baptist church.

Dr. Luther Peck, after the dinner, arose and with a few fitting remarks presented Julius E. Kaiser with a beautiful birthday cake, the gift of the hostess, Mrs. Heide. Not to be outdone by his wife, Carl then made his own presentation speech, and handed Julius a mounted duck to cheer his lonely life. Much laughter resulted, and although everyone ate heartily this climax seemed to be an aid to digestion as after enjoying the sunset the group began breaking up, and everyone left with a smile on his face, after thanking their host and hostess for an excellent time.

Marshall Field III and Mrs. Coates

It is reported in London that Marshall Field III, grandson of the Chicago merchant prince, is to marry Mrs. Dudley Coates, daughter of a popular London hostess. Mr. Field's present wife is said to be in residence in Reno, Nev. for the purpose of obtaining a divorce.

Husband - Hog-Calling Contests At State Fair

If on Michigan farms men may be seen out by the barn emitting strange calls and farm wives may be heard calling the men folk to dinner or supper at unseasonable hours, there's a reason. They are practicing up to enter the husband and hog calling contests at the Michigan State Fair this Fall, Tuesday, September 4, is the day and the contests are scheduled in the Grove at 2:30 and 3:00 p. m. Though the hog calling battle precedes the husband calling mole, Fair officials voice the assurance that there is no significance in placing these two contests together. In fact there are 22 pages apart in the official premium list.

Thirty dollars in prizes awaits the best callers in each class, with $10 the first prize, $10 for the second, and $5 for the third.

A ring of sincerity has been noted in the voice of the practicing hog callers, for the Fair officials have announced specifically that this is an important factor. "Truth will out," says the official announcement. "The hog caller's voice must have the ring of sincerity and honesty. It must carry conviction to the porkers or the calling is not a success."

This is the rule, too, for the husband calling set-to. "The voice must carry assurance," say the Fair officials. "It should carry the assurance that supper is ready and the wood box filled. Also it should be sufficiently seductive to woo one away from a game of rummy or checkers."

All husband calling entrants are assured that nothing will be held against them if their facial expression is not just what a smart photographer would advocate for a prize picture. Calling is the main effort. On the other hand, facial expression or effort will count for the hog callers. The more determined, alluring, captivating or vice versa the expression may be the greater influence it will have on the judges.

The State Fair will open Sunday, August 31, with a sacred concert by Crozier's famous Concert Band in the afternoon and a patriotic and fraternal program in the evening. The big feature of the Fair this year will be the Stampede, with cowboy and cowgirl champions of the famous round-ups of Cheyenne, Fort Worth, Calgary and Pendleton, competing for prizes amounting well up into the thousands. This spectacle of the Wild West will be presented each afternoon and evening in front of the grandstand.

FORD MEN RETURN TO WORK

One hundred thousand workmen returned to their jobs at the Rouge plant of the Ford Motor Co. in Dearborn, Monday after a three-weeks vacation, during which time the company took inventory and made alterations. They will work four days a week, and eight thousand cars will be produced daily.

Subsidiaries of the Ford Motor Company, engaged in making parts and accessories for Ford cars, increased production and added to their payrolls.

MANY NEW ROADS OPEN FOR TRAFFIC

As rapidly as proper curing of concrete takes place, roads are opened for public travel. Tests of the strength of concrete made at frequent intervals are the determining factor, stated Road Commissioner Edward N. Hines.

The widening of Telegraph Road from Grand River road to the Monroe County line has been completed in its entirety, making a 40-foot stretch of concrete, 23 miles in length. North of Seven-Mile road work is in progress in Oakland as well as in Wayne County. The construction in Wayne County was handled by our forces under arrangement with the State Highway Department. The entire cost was borne by the State of Michigan.

Narrow Bridge Widened

The reinforced concrete T-beam bridge on Telegraph road just south of the Five-Mile road is being widened from its original width of 28 feet to a 40-foot clear roadway, with two 8-foot sidewalks, said Mr. Hines. Traffic is being maintained during construction.

Many years ago it was a policy, the building of reinforced concrete T-beam bridges was a condition which was not feasible at this type of structure can be widened at any future time without any great expense of the original investment by merely removing the lateral rails, foundation and widening wing walls and foundations. The value of such a policy is clearly demonstrated in this instance. Negotiations are under way to widen the narrow-gauge separation of the Pennsylvania Railroad and the bridge near Warren Road.

Center Drive Under Construction

Pouring of the new 34-foot concrete roadways on the 14-foot wide Center Drive has been started on two additional sections, stated Mr. Hines. One section extends from Lahser road east to Five Mile road, and the other section connects Dickerson road with A-center road, a distance of approximately one mile. Rapid progress is being made on both of these jobs and when the pavement is completed, the center parkway will be flanked with trees, and landscaped. Boulevard lights will also be installed.

Meridian Road Completed

Last fall a bridge was built over the canal on Grosvenor as part of the Meridian Road and it was deemed advisable to delay pouring the approaches until settlement of the fill had taken place. The approaches have now been completed and opened to traffic, stated Mr. Hines.

The widening of Warren road has also been completed and traffic can now use the entire width of highway. Traffic was maintained during construction.

Master Plan Widths Acquired

Perhaps the most important activity carried on by our department is the acquisition of wider widths of right of way in accordance with the Master Plan standards, stated Mr. Hines. This work goes steadily forward and is a fundamental thing relative to the solving of our traffic and transportation problems.

Judge Sharp Talks To Kiwanis Club

Dr. Freeman R. Hoyer, acting as chairman, introduced Judge Sharp of Detroit, as the speaker at the Kiwanis luncheon at the Mayflower, last Tuesday noon. Judge Sharp is quite well known in Plymouth, as he is the Judge who imposed sentence on our First National Bank landlords several years ago. He gave a short address on our courts and court systems showing what has been done and should be done to improve our present system.

At the present time cases are so delayed that it becomes difficult to produce evidence and witnesses when a case is finally called. The judge has been very active in introducing and working for our state bills through the legislature, proving methods of relief from the present situation. Under conditions as they are now, 1500 cases are tried and disposed of while 3,000 new cases are being entered during the same period.

It is impossible to work all judges during the summer season, as very few of the cases will be ready when called on account of lawyers' plaintiffs, defendants and witnesses on vacations. Although handicapped, they are building an organization to use every facility they have most efficiently at the present time, and through continuous effort produce a court system that will dispense justice in a more prompt manner in the future than has been done in the past.

New Bus Line Will Operate Through Village

Some time ago the Grand and the three other municipal parking lots through Plymouth, and in reply to a letter from the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce, stated that it would be possible to change their now routing.

Now comes the announcement that a new bus line to be known as the United States will operate a Detroit-Chicago line through Plymouth, and also be made via the line at Detroit, for Cleveland and Buffalo. They operate luxurious pullman buses, with full reclining chairs. They leave Detroit from the union bus terminal at Sixth and Walnut streets. They stop in Plymouth at the Hotel Mayflower.

Notice Regarding Sprinkling

Water consumers are hereby requested, until further notice, to refrain from the use of water for lawn sprinkling purposes during the night hours from 8:30 p. m. to 6:00 a. m. This restriction becomes absolutely necessary because of the increasing demands being made for water due to the present prolonged spell of hot, dry weather, and as a means of maintaining a supply of water for fire protection purposes. Water has recently been used faster than our pumps can supply it to our distribution system, with the result that our reservoir is now almost empty. Consumers will also please continue to shut off services when the fire siren sounds, until further notice. For the immediate future a short blast of the siren will be sounded when a fire has been put out so that consumers will know that the water may again be used.

Your courtesy and co-operation relative to the above will greatly relieve the present water situation and will be appreciated.

A REAL NUISANCE

With general business conditions such as they are throughout the country, the beggar and peddler nuisance around Plymouth seems to be more troublesome than usual. Scarcely a day passes that some individual with a tale of woe does not attempt to get a small donation or sell some worthless merchandise that our people do not want to buy.

It is sometimes hard to be gruff and short. People in need call forth sympathy, but there is no question but many kindly souls are being imposed upon by men and women who find a tale of woe more profitable than hard work. Yet there seems to be little reason for giving support to peddlers. We have everything we could possibly need available right here in our local stores, and we know that the man behind the counter is also behind the merchandise that we buy. We also know that he is going to be right here where we can talk to him in the event a purchase should happen to turn out unsatisfactory.

If it is charity we are called upon to offer, then let us give it to the deserving—to those who really need help. Unfortunately the people of this class are usually too proud to beg. A little study will show that most of our kindly intentions lead to nothing when they prompt us to help beggars. For begging is now and always has been a profitable business for those who know how to arouse sympathy. Money is too hard to get to warrant throwing it away, and for that reason you are perfectly justified in turning down the peddler and the beggar who is able-bodied enough to get his living like you get yours—by the sweat of the brow.

FIXING COFFEE PRICES

It isn't going to leave a pleasant taste in the mouth of Plymouth coffee drinkers to learn that Brazil is planning to destroy 4,500,000 bags of coffee in the hope she can create a sufficient shortage to boost the price. Through over-production she glutted the market and prices slumped. Now she is willing to resort to anything to put that price back. But coffee is a food, and the deliberate destruction of food is criminal, especially where there are in the world millions of hungry mouths to feed. Because the world refused to be gouged by coffee barons doesn't mean that they should in turn be allowed to resort to destruction of food to gain their ends. Coffee drinkers are going to insist on a cup of their favorite beverage at a fair price. Brazil will only make bad matters worse if she angers them, as she surely would do, by deliberately destroying even a part of her coffee crop.

WILL IT WORK?

In the matter of mergers, there seems to be nothing new under the sun. Here comes two Tennessee counties with a plan to consolidate and have one instead of two court houses and one instead of two sets of county officials. It is argued that the automobile now makes it possible to get to a county seat from a far greater distance than in horse-and-buggy days, and for that reason counties might as well be two, or three, or even four times as large as when originally laid out. Consolidating two or more would reduce expenses to taxpayers, and yet county business could be transacted as speedily and capably as before. To the average Plymouth taxpayer this plan will doubtless have considerable appeal, as anything is sure to that hints at reducing taxes. But don't get the idea that county-merging is going to become a craze. It would, in the first place, abolish a lot of political jobs, and when you start in doing that you've got a young war on your hands.

A DANGEROUS TIME

A potential menace that grows with the long, hot, dry season is fire. Nature, in fields and forests, has provided conditions favorable to the beginning and spreading of fire. The grass turned sere and yellow, the dried-out fallen branches of trees, piles of cuttings here and there and dead timber still standing, await only a spark to make a raging furnace. Even in cities and towns the fire menace has been increased through prolonged drought and great heat. As a rule fires are easily prevented. All that is required is a bit of forethought. In the woods and along the roadsides the effort called for is no greater than being careful when starting or leaving fires and in discarding burning matches. In the homes and on premises, no waste should be permitted to accumulate. It must be remembered that nearly all fires are preventable and that there must be some act of carelessness or thoughtlessness before they can originate. The greatest danger is in times like the present, after burning suns and cloudless skies have dried many things to a point of inflammability.

ON THE DOTTED LINE

Newspapers and billboards in many of our large cities are now carrying this warning in bold type: "Read Before You Sign!" The cost of putting the warning before the public is paid by the National Better Business Bureau. And if people will only pause to consider the meaning conveyed by it, it will prove to be one of the most valuable investments ever made in behalf of the public at large.

We have had numerous instances in which it would have been worth a good deal to citizens around Plymouth if they had only stopped to read before they signed. A clear understanding is indispensable to the proper execution of any contract. The law merely requires that both parties be mentally responsible, that the contract itself be legal, and that both sides to it are in good faith. As a general thing, contracts are always drawn so they will stand in court once the names have been attached to it.

But before you sign anything, and especially when a stranger is asking you to sign—read every word carefully, even to the fine print. Often there is a "catch" in it, and that is usually concealed in the fine print. Many times it reads just the opposite to what you suppose it does. But once you have signed it, that ends it. It is binding then regardless of how it reads. Your signature is important in a court of law, and you should never use it without first considering what might be the consequences. There is but one safe way to treat any kind of document that needs your signature to make it valid—"Read Before You Sign."

Township Play Centers

New Recreational Idea
That part of the Michigan Thumb tributary to Port Huron has developed a new recreational idea. The people are organizing what they call "Township Playdays." Maybe the rest of Michigan will be interested to see what comes of it.

The township is the oldest, the simplest and most democratic political unit, but it seldom has served the purposes of a social group. The school district with its centrally located schoolhouse was more convenient.

But good roads and transportation are contracting big areas and little ones, and people more widely separated are coming to regard themselves as belonging to one neighborhood. Obviously if the Thumb folks succeed in getting together by townships for their "playdays," the very idea of the gatherings will lead an atmosphere of success to the undertakings.

It is proposed to provide games and sports for all the people, young and old, big and little, men and women. And there are to be professional sport directors to teach the backward how to play and to inspire all with that spirit of co-operation which will enable them to play together.

There may be more to this thing than appears at a glance. It is a capital idea to play with.—Detroit News.

Disadvantage to Have

Trees Too Near House
The proper placement of trees in regard to the house is a problem all by itself. No doubt there is something extremely cozy-looking in a house tucked immediately against a tree, but the overhanging branches tend to cut down the chimney draft, offer more fire hazard, in case of lightning, and in other ways prove a detriment.

Trees placed at least 20 feet from a house offer better background values and throw even better shade. Their picturesque or "homey" effect is the one thing desired above all: to secure this, trees in front of a house ought to be to one side, rather than directly in front, in order to frame the house. Thus two trees, one to either side, offer the maximum effect, in the frontal approach.

Large trees to the rear give background effect to be secured in no other way. Even here the center of lawns are best left clear, and the trees kept to the sides, unless they are at the extreme back limits of the lot, where they preferably may be in the center.

Making House a Home

The house is the center of the little portion of the earth's surface we call home. To it lead the drives and paths; around it lie the lawns and gardens that mean so much to the hours of our recreation and delight. To make the surroundings a picture of harmony is to make the house truly a home. Does your front entrance, a most prominent picture, have that air of both welcome and dignity so much desired? Are those paths and drives bordered with evergreen hedges as well as your rose and perennial gardens? If so, you are fortunate indeed, but remember, no place should be considered complete until the patriarch of the evergreen tribe, the specimen box, is planted.—Exchange.

Little Town's Advantage

Contrasted with the clamor and commotion of the big cities, life along any "Main street" is better for anyone than living in the city. The changes in social life make amusement available to the "small town" resident. No one wants a steady diet of one thing, and the small community offers a variety that the "big city" cannot give.

Homes and Credit

There are two kinds of credit. One is constructive, the purchase that outlives the debt; the other is destructive, the purchase that is used before the debt is paid. Credit is becoming more and more a question of character rather than collateral. Permanency of the family, the fact that they own their own home, is one of the principal standards by which credit is measured.

"In these days when a fellow shows up in bandages," says Dad Plymouth, "you don't know whether it was his still that blew up or his wife."

Attractive Homes an Asset
Two ideas about the American home have had a remarkable growth in recent years. One is that the dwelling of today, if it is to hold a fair position in competition with the motor car and other comparatively recent allurements from the outside, must display the attractiveness and good taste that characterize many of these other things. But it has become increasingly evident, too, that the task of bringing the home up to the desired artistic level is even more a matter of education, good taste and skillful guidance than it is a matter of money. The element of cost must be considered, of course, in any circumstances. But attractiveness of the best sort may be a feature of the moderately priced home as of the motor car of a similar nature.

Getting on Airman's Map
Communities that want the world to know they are air-minded—and most of them apparently have this desire—can make air-marking one of their first important objectives. Labeling the town, village, city or hamlet with its name painted in large and legible letters on the roof of the tallest building may seem rather a humble start in the direction of aviation. Far from it.

"It is the easiest way to get on the airman's map," says a pilot with hundreds of hours of cross-country flying to his credit.

The Fireless City
The fire prevention idea has developed into a major community enterprise in the city of Albany, Ga., and it now enjoys the distinction of being regarded as the "Fireless City." With a population of 20,000, it has the lowest annual loss by fire of any city in the country. There were but 91 alarms of fire during 1928 and the total loss was but $4,520. This has been accomplished by wiping out many fire hazards and by maintaining an energetic fire patrol nightly.

Venerable Flemish City
The city of Ghent in Flanders has existed from the very earliest time, and an exact date can be given for its settlement, nor is the derivation of the name accurately known. The site was occupied by prehistoric tribes and later by the Celts and Belgii and Nerthi. It is mentioned as early as the Seventh century. According to one author, Ghent was originally Gand, which derives from a Celtic word meaning "confluent," in reference to the location of the city at the confluence of the rivers Scheldt and Lys.

Making His Last Stand
The ivory-billed woodpecker, king of its tribe, inhabiting the great cypress swamps, probably is making its last stand in Florida, says Nature Magazine. The last breeding record of this giant woodpecker was made by Dr. A. A. Allen, who found a pair nesting in central Florida in 1924. It is now against the law to kill this fine bird. The last stand of the Carolina parakeet was made in Florida. This beautiful little parrot was once abundant but was shot and trapped in such quantities and so persistently that not one has been seen for many years. The bird is now undoubtedly extinct.

Marble for Outdoor Use
The desirability of marble for the garden does not end with its distinctive beauty . . . for its unusual weathering qualities, its ability to withstand extreme changes of temperature and its imperviousness to moisture make marble the most practical of materials for outdoor ornamentation.

Money Well Invested
Money spent in home modernization has a definite social value. This aspect must never be overlooked when considering this most important subject.

The farmer's principal trouble seems to rest in the fact that the more his crops come up the more they go down.

Relief From Curse of Constipation

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the large, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderly at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the nearest Rexall Drug Store, Beyer Pharmacy.

Nethem Defeats Printers Hudson Loses To Haggerty

W. Horvath let the Stair Jordan team down with six hits to gain another victory last Sunday. He was in rare form with men on bases, and in no inning did he allow more than one hit, but he was deprived of a shut-out when his mates failed to bring up the ball in the pinches.

Joe Schomberger and Gressert took the hitting honors for the day when each got three out of four, and in fact were the only men to get more than one hit.

Bissell pitched a great game getting six men on strikes and letting the team down with eight hits. But the odds were against him, because he was a left handed hurler, which gave Nethem the necessary confidence to win. To date they have gained five victories out of five against left handed hurlers.

After Stair Jordan team scored one run in the first inning, and Nethem tied the score when A. Rebitzke scored on John Schomberger's only hit of the game, it turned out to be a pitcher's battle and the break came in the sixth inning when Nethem scored three runs. Schultz led off with his daily hit and stole second as John Schomberger struck out, but was held on second as H. Rebitzke was being thrown out at first and he advanced to third on a wild pitch. H. Horvath walked, and went to third when Schultz scored on R. Levandowski's two-base hit to right. Horvath and R. Levandowski scored on Joe Schomberger's single. Then T. Levandowski walked, and they were left when W. Horvath grounded out.

T. Zielsko's term as captain of the team was extended for another two weeks.

Next Sunday Nethem will play at Rousseau Park, Newburg. H. Horvath, the spark of the team, is another Benny Myer, for his voice can be heard all over the ball field shouting words of encouragement to the players.

The batting averages of the three leading hitters of the Nethem team follow the line-up. H. Rebitzke continues to lead his team mates for the third straight month in batting; he also leads the team with most hits.

R. Levandowski came into the selected circle for the first time by holding down second place, which was held by John Schomberger the two previous months. John Schomberger dropped to third place which was held by H. Horvath the previous month, while Horvath is holding fourth place with a batting average of .327. Schultz and A. Rebitzke are the leading run scorers, each having twelve.

The team increased its batting average from .251 in June to .273 in July, and now it is .285.

YOU CAN'T TRAIN AN ATHLETE ON NOTHING BUT CLIMATE!

EDITOR'S NOTE The University of Southern California's victory at Cambridge this spring, (its third in ten years in this historic annual meeting of college athletes), was not only a decisive triumph for the men competing but also a practical demonstration of the soundness of their training methods. We have asked Mr. Cromwell to tell us something about what he feeds his men, how he kept them fit during the long trek across the country, and what he considers the most important factors in keeping in trim, not only for competitive sports, but also for every day life.

By Dean B. Cromwell (Track coach of the University of Southern California—winners of the 54th annual I. C. A. A. A. meet at Cambridge, Mass.)

IT is quite understandable that track enthusiasts, in reviewing the fact that nine of the last ten I.C.A.A.A.A. meets have been won by teams from the Pacific Coast, draw the conclusion that climate must be the complete answer to the question. "How do they do it?" There is no question that athletes in Southern California do have greater opportunity to train in the open, but in my opinion, at least as far as my own men are concerned, it's more what they eat that gives them the drive and stamina to win meets.

It has been my experience that the greatest handicap an athlete has to overcome in building up his body is to take care of the "ashes," as I call the residue. And with this in view, I always have emphasized the need for roughage to provide bulk in the diet. This is gained through eating fibrous or leafy vegetables and plenty of those cereals which give the necessary cellulose designed to give a "vegetable" effect. One of the things of which I am proudest is the fact that I have developed in my men a wholesome attitude toward this need for proper elimination of the "ashes" through including quantities of bulky foods in their diet. They wade into a meal of vegetables, salads and cereals with a zest that shows their appetites are in complete accord with these sound views on diet. They eat these foods; they like them; and all the rest of their lives, long after they have left college, they will continue to employ this natural means of keeping fit.

For breakfast, I feed my men fruits and cereals that have the bulky qualities necessary to achieve the desired "vegetable effect." Among such cereals, one which I find particularly palatable and effective is whole rice. This delicious breakfast dish offers its cellulose bulk in an unusually smooth form. For lunch, I see that the men eat salad—and by salad, I mean SALAD—not one of those dainty little affairs one finds at the Ritz, but big heaping plates of leafy and fibrous vegetables. Here again, you see, I keep in mind the need for ample cellulose to help get rid of the "ashes."

Dinner includes meat—and meat is important. You will notice that roughage, in the form of cellulose derived from one type of food or another, thus has been included in every meal. My experience in bringing twenty men East for Spring training illustrates what such careful dietary habits will do. Here were twenty men, keyed up for the big track meet of the year, yet forced to remain idle for a whole week during their monotonous trip across the country. Not one man, however, with the single exception of Frank Wyckoff, varied a pound from his normal weight. And Wyckoff I was deliberately allowing to put on a bit of weight as he burns up three to four pounds in a single afternoon's competition in the 100-yard dash.

Such eating habits are as worth cultivating by the average office worker as they are by an athlete in active training. We all feel better, have more pep, and are capable of better work when we are not burdened with poisonous "ashes" which diets deficient in cellulose are unable to remove. Try including more fibrous and leafy vegetable foods in your daily diet. Eat more food which can supply this vitally necessary "vegetable effect," and you will not wonder at the consistency of Southern California's athletes. Climate is great stuff—but it needs a little sensible help.

Barring only Frank Wyckoff, the world's record holder for 100 yards, all of the leading American sprinters will be seen in action at the State Fair Grounds next Saturday, Aug. 9.

The M. T. K. soccer team of Budapest, Hungary, one of the outstanding teams of the world, will play an all-star group of the Michigan State Soccer Association in a night game at Detroit, Aug. 21. The contest will be held either at the University of Detroit stadium or at the Hamtramck stadium.

The first British Empire Games ever held will be staged at Hamilton, Ont., Aug. 16 to 23. The opening ceremonies are scheduled for Saturday afternoon, Aug. 16, and will be followed with swimming races at night. Resuming Monday, Aug. 18, the festival will continue until Saturday, Aug. 23.

Motor boat operators must watch their step in Oakland County from now on. The Governor recently approved of a rather drastic motor boat ordinance that applies to the 310 inland lakes in Oakland. The speed of the boats and the hours of operation are limited and each boat must have a license to skim over any lake found within the boundaries of that county.

Detroit will be represented in the Michigan state open tournament starting Aug. 25 at the Little Harbor Club, Harbor Beach.

Cadillac Athletic Club, one of the principal boosters of amateur sports in Michigan, will stage an open track and field meet on Belle Isle, Saturday, Aug. 16.

The first annual Michigan championship for southpaw golfers will be played over two courses at Hawthorne Valley, Friday, club officials announced. The event will be a 36-hole medal handicap tournament, played in four classes.

Edison Yacht club dock to Belle Isle bathhouse pier was the course announced for the V. M. C. A. Inter-branch championship two-mile river swim scheduled for Saturday afternoon.

When President Hoover signed a new appropriation bill giving to the Federal Bureau of Fisheries $3,000,000 to be spent in fish propagation it meant that Michigan, of all the lake states, would benefit the most. A large share of this money will go into fish culture work in producing planting stock for the Great Lakes as well as sports species for our inland waters. Heavy commercial fishing in the past has had a telling effect upon the supply. Catches by commercial fishermen have decreased in tonnage and increased in price and the planting of whitefish, wall-eyes, lake trout and other food fishes has never been great enough to ward off a threatened scarcity.

The thirty-first Grand American handicap tournament, the world's series of trapshooting, will be held at Dayton, Ohio, August 18 to 23, with purses totaling $26,565.

Haggerty A. C. won a close contest last Sunday at Canton Park, when they turned back the Hudson Motor Car Company 4 to 3. The victory last Sunday made eighteen out of twenty for the home boys.

The Haggerty team had a perfect day in the field, while Furchak, playing third for the Detroiters, made the only error, fumbling Smith's hot liner over third base in the third inning. Two very fast and unusual double plays were engineered by Haggerty that cut off two runs at the plate.

Both Waits and Patrick pitched well. Waits yielded six hits, four of them coming in the fifth inning, that accounted for two runs. Patrick gave Haggerty eight scattered hits.

In the ninth, the Detroiters started a rally but were soon smothered when Patrick struck out with two on and Bladock tried to deep left center, and when L. Simmons returned the throw to second it cut off Fliggs who had taken a big lead.

At Canton Park next Sunday, August 10th, Woodward A. C. of Detroit, will put in their appearance at 2:30 o'clock for their second time, to oppose the Haggerty A. C. Haggerty defeated them 8 to 7 in the first contest.

Why Living in Small Town Has Advantages

Prof. Walter B. Pitkin bases a prophecy as to the rosy future of the small town, which he makes in the Household Magazine on four things: The healthier living conditions in small towns, the realization that the majority of city dwellers are as poor as their country brethren, the new shift of industry away from big cities, and the better opportunities for occupying one's leisure in the country. Small towns, he says, have sunshine, quiet and freedom from smoke. Out of every thousand inhabitants of the big towns, you cannot find more than three or four who are better off in their jobs than the people you meet in Main street or around by the post office. And now comes the new American revolution! Industry begins shifting to the small towns. No man in his senses thinks of starting a factory in a metropolis nowadays unless he is making something which cannot be made elsewhere. And, finally, concludes Doctor Pitkin, "if you live far from the clamor of Broadway, you can pick and choose your leisure pursuits effectively. And, having picked them, you can hold to your course with fewer distractions. And that, I maintain, is half of happiness. To do what you like, in the way of exercise, play, rest, reading, music, inventing, dreaming, or what not, without having a mob of peddlers yelling at you to do something else."

Stubborn Case Quickly Yields To New Konjola

NEW COMPOUND BRINGS LONG SOUGHT RELIEF FROM RHEUMATISM AND OTHER AILMENTS.

MRS. ROSE GIZZO

"I am happy to have learned about this new medicine, Konjola, because in less than a month it has brought my health back to normal," said Mrs. Rose Gizzo, 444 Eagle street, Buffalo. "I suffered severely from rheumatism and often had headaches, backaches and heartburn. My appetite was poor and I lost a lot of weight. I was nervous and subject to frequent dizzy spells. This condition existed for about ten years until I gave Konjola a trial. The first bottle helped me and as I continued the treatment my health troubles vanished. Today I am not troubled with rheumatism, headaches, or backaches. I have a wonderful appetite and have put on considerable weight. My nerves are much improved. I am still taking Konjola."

The files of Konjola are filled with just such happy expressions. Konjola when taken systematically over a six to eight week period, has done for thousands what it did for Mrs. Gizzo.

Konjola is sold in Plymouth at the Community Pharmacy and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Few Plymouth men are cautious. How many of them think to screw down the top of a salt shaker before they start to use it.

WHITBECK'S CORNERS

Mr. and Mrs. Otto G. Roe returned home Sunday, after spending the past three weeks with friends at Sault Ste. Marie and other places in the northern part of the state.

Mrs. Agnes Parrish spent Sunday at the home of her son, Frank and family, who was hurt in an automobile accident. She found him better and up, but he is quite badly bruised. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dethloff and two sons, Linwood and Elwood, were Sunday guests of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Klatt, in Perrinville.

Mrs. Otto Kalsor is again in poor health, and under the care of the doctor. She is some better at this writing.

Mrs. Alfred Mott and daughter, Leona, called on their aunt, Mrs. Parrish, recently. Jewel Rongert spent a few days last week with her friend, Arbutus Williams, in Plymouth.

The Helping Hand Society met for the August meeting, at the home of Mrs. Preston Nuss in Wayne, with a good number of members present, also some visitors. The meeting was called to order by the president, and after all business was done, they adjourned to meet with Mrs. John Shultz in Northville, in September.

Another difficult thing for some Plymouth men to understand who owe big grocery bills is why the grocer always happens to stop to the front door just as they stop at the filling station to pay cash for gas.

The Wrong Lady

By RICHARD ROE

THE smooth road stretched out like black ribbon. There was scarcely any traffic—little by little the pointer crept around on the speedometer—Margaret felt as if she were flying. Suddenly two blinding lights came toward her and she turned out a little—a crash that sounded like the end of the world—the instinctive jumping on of brakes—a reeling ride in the field—and then the smart coupe turned over with a crash of glass.

"Are you hurt?" asked a white-faced young man.

"I don't think so," she said shakily; "what hit me?"

"You hit me," he replied grimly, "or at least my roadster, and if I hadn't jumped you would have killed me. As it is I bet you've done five hundred dollars worth of damages on the car."

"Oh, really? Well, look at mine!" she retorted hotly. "You didn't have any lights or I wouldn't have run into you."

"I did have a light and you were going entirely too fast. A car of that make never should be driven as you were driving—it isn't built for it."

That was too much. To smash her car and then defame it—her lovely new pale gray coupe that had been driven but once, Margaret's voice rose. "You had no lights and I am going to have you arrested. Where's a policeman?"

An obliging boy who loved a rumpus went off to find one and Margaret put in the interval investigating the wounds of the coupe. Finally a wrecker came up and hoisted the battered car out of the mud and departed with it forlornly trailing behind.

The bored justice of the peace holding traffic court bristled up when he saw Margaret, pretty, well-dressed and impressive. "What's the charge?" he asked solicitously.

"Parked without lights," said the policeman wearily.

The justice looked shocked. "What have you to say?" he demanded sternly of the young man.

"I had lights," he replied indignantly, "until she banged into me and put 'em out."

The justice, a young and personable man, looked at Margaret, prettier than ever in a rage. "It is not true," she said. She said more—considerably more—but presently she became aware that the justice seemed to be looking rather than listening. He roused himself from pleasant thought and turned to the young man. "Fined ten dollars for being parked without lights," he said.

The young man paid under bitter protest but the victory was all Margaret's. John Anderson left court with vengeance in his heart. Tomorrow he would start suit against that hateful girl and punish her insurance company if he could not punish her.

From the address she had given in court he knew that he passed her house on his way to business and his wrath blazed up afresh as he went by next morning. After he had passed he recalled that there had been a car outside the house, and with a little jar it came to him that it was the familiar car of a doctor.

At night when he went home the same car was there, and somehow his anger seemed to be evaporating. When he got home he telephoned his lawyer to do nothing about the suit until he heard from him.

The next morning the doctor was coming out of the house and John Anderson hurried up to catch him. The doctor was in a hurry and when he saw the young man's inquiring expression he replied to it. "Pretty bad today. A shock is a serious matter with a heart like Miss Willis'. And he plunged into his car, leaving a young man whose own heart suddenly felt as if it had something wrong with it.

"A shock," he reflected, "a bad heart—my gosh, the girl may die, and I'll feel like a murderer!" He sent flowers on his way home and the next day got his secretary to telephone an inquiry. The report was dubious and he rushed off to order flowers again. That was surely a bad week for John Anderson.

Margaret Willis had a trying week, too, and at the end of it when the doctor said everything was safe and the patient well on the road to recovery, she decided to take a walk.

"Auntie, dear, I won't be gone long, but promise me that you won't fall down stairs again while I'm out," with a gentle kiss she ran downstairs and out into the street which seemed beautiful after her confinement in her aunt's bedroom.

The trees had leafed out, tulips were in bloom, it was a gay, fresh May morning. A young man came toward Margaret with his eyes bulging out of his head. His face was one great great smile as he grasped her reluctant hand.

"Why, you're well again," he said, "and you look as strong as ever—I never was so happy in my life—if you had died I would have smashed the d-d car with an ax—the lights were really very dim because the battery was low."

Comprehension dawned on Margaret and she pulled away her hand. "There weren't any lights at all or I shouldn't have bumped into you," she said.

Well, they were both persons who made up their minds quickly, so six months later they were fighting over where they would go to spend their honeymoon.

Profit in Long-Leaf Pine

Long-leaf pine is one of these accommodating trees which return a high revenue to the grower and yet are not particular about growing conditions.

The trees pay a double profit to the grower, both the turpentine and timber yields being on a paying basis. An ideal crop is offered for the sandy lands of the South, for the trees will thrive either in wet or dry areas. They are resistant to the fire menace, and in return for a little protection during the first four or five years of growth develop by themselves without attention thereafter.

More Tossin Than Toxin

A sign in the yard next door said: "Very bad dog. Beware, boys!"

It kept the boys away. So when Mrs. S. saw a big snake in her yard one June day she said to her husband: "Maybe we can keep those kids off our garden now. You fix the sign."

It was hung on a big tree in the backyard and it read:

"Very bad snake. Watch out!"

Soon the neighborhood—yes, several neighbors—heard about it. Mrs. S. had a backyard full of boys with air rifles, clubs and stones for two days.—Indianapolis News.

NEWBURG

People are loyal to the church, considering the very hot dry weather. The Salvation army gave a band concert and meeting in the church Sunday evening.

Rev. Frank Purdy is attending the home camp meeting, this week.

The Newburg district school will hold their annual home coming the last Saturday in August. Further particulars later.

Mrs. Claude Frost of Muskegon, was the guest of Mrs. E. Ryder and Mrs. Henry Grimm, Jr., Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Guthrie and little Rosemary left Monday morning for a week's outing at Elk Lake, in the northern part of the state.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Holmes attended the funeral of their little six-year-old niece, Bettie Gyle, at Gregory.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Carney attended a family reunion at Port Huron, Sunday, fifty being present.

Grass fires are quite prevalent these days. The last one around here swept the old Stonehouse place Monday night.

Mrs. George Clemens and daughter, Carol, of Vicksburg, Mississippi, spent from Thursday to Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. Clemens.

Miss Joy McNabb and Miss Alice Gilbert attended a sorority house party at Union Lake, the week-end.

Future Is Brighter For Poultry Grower

IMPROVEMENT IN INDUSTRY IS EXPECTED BY ECONOMICS BUREAU OF U. S. D. A.

Outlook reports issued by the United States Department of Agriculture state that the future of the poultry industry is more promising than the market declines and the reports of increased hatching of chicks indicated last spring, but little improvement in present prices are expected during the remainder of this year.

Receipts of dressed poultry in terminal markets are reported to be heavy. This is accepted by the Department of Agriculture as an indication of a reduction in the number of poultry in the flocks owned by people who use poultry as a minor source of income.

Reductions in prices have encouraged the consumption of poultry and, even with the decreased buying power caused by economic conditions, holdings of poultry in cold storage are being reduced more rapidly than during the same period last year. The government report points out that the unfavorable outcome of last year's cold storage operations and the quantity of poultry now in store will discourage the payment of higher prices for poultry which is to be held in storage.

Poultry owners are advised by the outlook report that a moderate reduction in the number of layers is justifiable, but that extreme reductions in flock numbers do not appear necessary. Owners are advised that a drastic cut in the number of layers now may be as unwise as the marked increase which was made last year.

Old Staff

Tom had been hearing Kipling's "Just So Stories" for the first time, and his imagination had been stirred and his vocabulary considerably enriched.

A cake of mother's baking had not come up to the usual standard, and had been removed from the table almost untouched after two meals. The next day when ice cream was served for dessert, Tom looked about the table inquiringly. "And what," he asked, "has become of that Neolithic cake?"

Something Wrong

A new system of memory training was being taught in a village school, and the teacher was becoming enthusiastic.

"For instance," he said, "supposing you want to remember the name of a poet—Bobby Burns. Fix in your mind's eye a picture of a policeman in dunes. See—Bobby Burns?"

"Yes, I see," said a bright pupil.

"But how is anyone to know it does not represent Robert Browning?"

In Person

Observers are surprised to know how quickly children adopt modern words and phrases into childish vocabularies. A worker at a children's museum was startled the other day by a little girl who, admiring a case of mounted animals, asked: "Lady, are these animals really in person?"

Standing nearby was a boy, evidently as well versed in movie parlance as the little girl. He quickly replied: "Sure they have been alive; did you think they were faked?"

YOU WOULDN'T BUY A CAR WITHOUT A Top

Somebody has said that the automobile buyer of twenty-five years ago was lucky if the price he paid included the steering wheel. Tops and many other features that are standard equipment now were accessories then. Even engine performance is taken for granted today. That's partly because Shell Motor Oil has helped make the automobile amazingly dependable. Shell Motor Oil has constantly anticipated lubrication requirements. It is ready now for the cars that will be announced next year.

Because of Shell's low-temperature refining of Nature's best balanced crude, Shell Motor Oil is never scorched, never weakened before it reaches you. Naturally, regular users experience long, trouble-free motor life. Have you tried it?—It's as modern as tomorrow.

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES.

The Busy Women's Class and the Ready Service Class united in a picnic meeting at Riverside Park, Plymouth, on Tuesday. There was a large attendance and all enjoyed the good things provided for the table and the shady coolness of this delightful spot. At an appropriate time, Mrs. Nichol rose, and in a few well chosen words expressed to Mrs. Brooks the appreciation of these classes in knowing her as member and as teacher, and the regret which all feel that Mrs. Brooks is so soon to leave Plymouth. As a token of esteem a beautiful string of beads was presented to Mrs. Brooks who replied briefly in a word of sincere thanks.

On Tuesday evening at 6:30 p. m., Miss Eula Slocum was hostess to the Mission Study Class at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Williams. Tables were spread on the spacious lawn and about thirty sat down to an excellent cooperative supper. As darkness came on the pretty Chinese lanterns which decorated the lawn were lighted and under their soft glow the company passed the delightful evening in a series of games and happy social intercourse.

CATHOLIC NOTES

Sunday the men of the parish are urged to receive Holy Communion as this is their Sunday. Do not forget that confessions are heard each Saturday night.

Next Friday, August 15, is a Holy day—the feast of the assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary into Heaven. Masses are at 8:00 and 7:03. Aug. 14 is a fast day—the vigil of the feast.

Nethem won its ball game last Sunday, 5-2. Come out Sunday and cheer for the boys.

Now is the time to go to church! Now, when the tendency is to neglect God and think of self, now when so many are away, your presence is needed! If you are in town, now is the time to go to church!

Time For Church
"Now" is always the time for church! Don't wait until you are sick or in trouble or sorrow, or until it is too late! "Do it NOW!" Services will be continued during the month of August, closing the Sunday before Labor Day only.

The attendance during the hot weather has been very good. Let us continue it so. When you are in town on Sunday, your place is in church.

METHODIST NOTES

"We give Thee but Thine own, what'er the gift may be: all that we have is Thine alone, a Trustee, Lord from Thee."

At the Fourth Quarterly Conference held at the church on Monday evening, reports from the various departments of the church were given to the superintendent of Ang Arbor District, Dr. John Martin, and an invitation was extended to Rev. Dr. Lendrum to remain with us for another year.

Those who have been regular attendants at our church for the past four years have enjoyed hearing Miss Hannah Strassen play the organ, and regret that she is not to be with us longer. Miss Strassen is having a few weeks' vacation, and the first of September is leaving to teach music in the St. John's High School. But we are very fortunate to have Mrs. M. J. O'Connor, who has, with Mr. O'Connor, recently come here from Tecumseh, Michigan, where she was church organist for several years and who has taken Miss Strassen's place. She comes highly recommended, and we are sure to enjoy her playing.

The annual picnic and outing of the church membership will be held some time this month. Watch for the date.

According to Dad Plymouth, the political law usually buzzes loudest around the candidate for office but it is always the public that gets stung.

SEALED BIDS WANTED

The Village Commission of Garden City will receive separate sealed bids on Monday, August 11th, 1930, at 8:00 P. M. in the Community Hall, Folker Bldg., Garden City, Michigan, on the following: 2,000 yds. of stripped gravel; 2,000 yds. of washed pit gravel suitable in size for highway use. The above to be delivered and spread on the Village streets of the Village of Garden City during the month of August as directed by the Superintendent of Public Works. Said gravel shall at all times be subject to said superintendent's inspection and approval. The Village Commission hereby reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

VILLAGE OF GARDEN CITY, Carl Heavlin, Clerk.

THEY COULDN'T KNOW--

Back in 1818 the greatest newspaper of the day declared that the world had reached the limit of human expansion. It even went further, saying that there weren't enough supplies in the world to support further growth of population.

The mind of 1818 couldn't conceive of the miracles that human ingenuity would perform during the twentieth century. It couldn't imagine the wonders that would be wrought by new agricultural methods and modern manufacturing genius. It was ignorant of transportation as we know it, or the progressive sales methods of today. It could not see the vital part that would be played by advertising.

Even today there are some who fail to realize what an important factor advertising has become. Advertising is as much a part of today's life as electricity, antiseptic surgery or automobiles. It keeps us up to date on the many things we need in order to live profitable, happy and useful lives. It presents for our approval articles of all kinds and for all purposes. The requirements of each member of the family are met by advertised offers of good merchandise of proved value.

The advertisements save time, money and effort for those who read them and follow their guidance. They are practical guarantees of satisfaction.

DON'T LAY ASIDE THIS NEWSPAPER WITHOUT READING THE ADVERTISEMENTS.

QUEEN OF STAMPS

Mrs. Catherine Hippen has been made queen of the Postage Stamp club for the festival and exhibition which the organization will hold in Chicago in November. She is shown wearing a dress made of 50,000 stamps.

Christian Science Notes

"Love" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches on Sunday, August 3.

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Wherefore I say unto thee, Her sins, which are many, are forgiven; for she loved much; but to whom little is forgiven, the same loveth little" (Luke 7:47).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The poor suffering heart needs its rightful nutriment, such as peace, patience in tribulation, and a priceless sense of the dear Father's loving-kindness" (p. 365).

Death Ended Argument

An awesome debate between two Basuto witch doctors recently ended sensationally at Teyateyaneng, North Basutoland. The witch doctors were arguing about their powers before a great crowd of natives, and the elder of the two stated with considerable emphasis that the other was "only a boy" and could not possibly have the powers which he himself claimed to have. He added that if he (the elder) willed that the other should die, he would die. The younger man took up the challenge and the elder one pointed at him with a stick and said solemnly, "You will die." The young man then rose to his feet, staggered and fell against some barbed wire and immediately expired. The other witch doctor was placed under arrest, but was released after the post mortem examination which showed death to be due to a stricture.

PREPARATIONS are being made for the laying of new concrete on the north side of Grand River avenue west of Eight Mile Road.

The new reservoir at Wayne, which has a capacity of 1,500,000 gallons, is expected to be completed shortly, and will add greatly in the water shortage question.

The new Junior High School building on Cross St., Ypsilanti, will be ready for opening of school in September. Only a few odd jobs now remain to be done.

Dearborn ranks third among Michigan cities in the volume of building permits issued during the first six months of 1930. Detroit ranks first and Battle Creek second.

To celebrate her eightieth birthday last Wednesday, Mrs. Emily Snyder of Twelve-Mile road, in Southfield Burg, walked across the Ambassador bridge to visit relatives in Canada.

Fire last Sunday afternoon at Tecumseh destroyed the plant of the Hicks Lightning Rod Company and four buildings on the Bidwell stock farm, with an estimated loss of $20,000.

Work was begun last Wednesday morning on the paving of Nine-Mile road. Only two miles will be paved this year and five miles will be graded this year and paved in the summer of 1931.

While working in the holly at the Baptist church at Milford, recently, it was noticed that the date on the bell shows that it was cast in 1851 and has been calling worshippers together for nearly eighty years.

Street car service from Detroit to Telegraph road on Michigan avenue will be in operation on or before August 21 according to information given by the general manager of the D. S. R. Co.

A dog dance given by a woman of 83 will be one of the features of the Three-Quarter Century club picnic to be held at Camp Newkirk, Dexter, this Friday. Members of the club range in age from 75 to 100 years.

With a record of approximately 122,000 passengers carried a distance of one and a quarter million miles without injury to a passenger, Stent Air Lines, pioneers in passenger air transportation, Friday reached their fourth birthday of scheduled passenger flying.

Four acres of land have been secured on the Cedar Crest subdivision at Cedar Island Lake, for the building of the undenominational Bible College. The project, when completed, will consist of seven units. The first will cost $60,000 and will be a building 90x40 feet.

Livingson county road commission will this season try out a new type of road, such as has recently been built for trial in Ingham and Gratiot counties. It will built a mile of asphaltic-oil highway, said to prove dustless and mudless, at a much less cost than by applying chloride or building with concrete.

One hundred years without a divorce or arrest is to be celebrated by several score members of the Robbe family Saturday, August 9, at the old Robbe farm on the Huron River drive, near Belleville. The homestead, erected by Samuel Robbe, although considerably enlarged and altered by succeeding generations, still stands and is occupied by Samuel H. Robbe.

A new plan of lighting Grand River avenue in Farmington after the street is widened, providing a much better-lighted thoroughfare at only slight additional cost, was approved by the Farmington City Commission last Thursday evening. The present boulevard lights will be retained and their candlepower will be increased, but the overhead lights will be removed.

Three couples have already made applications to the Linn County Fair management to be the couple that will be married at the fair on Saturday evening, August 10, with an audience of thousands, and without any expense involved. In fact the wedding ring, flowers, printing of announcements, various pieces of furniture and $100 in cash will be presented to the bride and groom.

Construction work on Outer Drive has been halted awaiting the ruling of Corporation Counsel Clarence E. Wilcox to ascertain whether or not the common council may revise a street program once it has been turned over to the road commission for realization. Residents of Rosedale Park have petitioned that Outer Drive be rerouted through the Park west of Evergreen road.

Tons of food are required for the U. of M. hospital to feed the daily attendance of over 2,000 patients, doctors, nurses and visitors. Six hundred gallons of milk are used daily; 25 to 30 cases of eggs, with thirty dozen to a case, are used each week; 1500 pounds of butter are used weekly; 50 to 80 cases of oranges and ten of lemons; 75 to 100 bunches of celery. Eight carloads of potatoes are stored away in the fall, and the yearly consumption of staple groceries equals that of a small town.

A move to dissolve the corporate village of Inkster, was blocked a couple of weeks ago when a check of the 458 names on petitions revealed that 207 were not registered voters. According to Thomas A. Mead, who has taken an active part in the dissolution move, a large majority of the citizens of Inkster are in favor of the going away with the corporate entity because 50 per cent of the taxes have been delinquent for three years and all village improvements have been made by Dearborn and Nankin townships in which Inkster lies.

A man having sixteen wives has been arrested in Mexico City. They shouldn't have arrested him—they should have decorated him for bravery.

Dad Plymouth says that the hobo who when picked up in Illinois was found to have on seven suits of underwear ought to be able to qualify as the champion heavyweight.

The smoothest running thing about a car is the salesman's tongue.

Development of City Depends on Planning

It was only ten or fifteen years ago that planning, and along with it zoning, came to be regarded as absolutely necessary in the larger cities of this country. It was soon evident that only by such means could hazardous growth be replaced by orderly development in the interest of rapidly increasing numbers of urban residents. The desirability of the same protection for suburban areas and smaller centers is a product of more recent years. The spread of this enterprise is an indication of the improved conditions which are a part of the modern city.

In giving the result of a recent survey of the situation, the Department of Commerce, through its division of building and housing, notes this fact: "Cities having planning commissions are believed to be more apt than others to exercise foresight and true economy in the laying out and improvement of streets, the location of parks, playgrounds and public works, the development of transit and transportation, provision for street traffic and in the equitable regulation of private use of land through zoning ordinances."

Good Citizenship Defined
Good citizenship is loyalty toward community, state and country. It begins right at home. A citizen who delights in keeping his own premises cleaned up and developed, who cooperates with each worthy cause or development that promises improvement, advancement, or uplifting of his community; who supports his home institutions and enterprises so far as economics permit; who obeys the law, who loves order and peace; who takes pride in helping to develop and maintain these conditions, with a similar spirit and attitude prevailing for state and country, is an example of what constitutes good citizenship.—Ruth Adele Barr, in Grit.

Most Speed Up Planting
During recent years tree planting has received great stimulus in the states largely because of the help that the federal government has been able to give. In 1925 only 13 states were distributing planting stock to its citizens. Thirty-two states are now engaged in this activity. Nevertheless, it is going to be necessary to speed up America's planting program at least ten times in order to reforest our denuded lands with reasonable promptness.

Had Close Call on Mount Edith Cavell

Miss Katharin Trevelyan, daughter of Sir Charles Trevelyan, Britain's minister of education, with her Swiss guide, Hans Fuhrer, who saved her life when she slipped while making the season's first ascent of Mount Edith Cavell, 11,083 feet high, in Alberta.

Forniman Allen Theatre Plymouth, Michigan

MOTION PICTURE PROGRAM

"OFFICER O'BRIEN"

WILLIAM BOYD is rapidly gaining the reputation of being the screen's most formidable champion of the uniform. In "Officer O'Brien," a Pathe talking picture directed by Tay Garnett, to be shown at the Forniman Allen Theatre, Sunday, August 10, and in which he is starred, Boyd plays a lieutenant of police and chucks up his seventh part in brass buttons or olive drab.

Boyd started his military screen record with "Dress Parade," as a cadet of the United States Military Academy. In "Two Arabian Knights" he was a doughboy. In "The Leather-neck," he played a marine. In "Lady of the Pavements" he was an officer of some mythical kingdom. In "The Cop" he was a policeman. "His First Command" found him a cavalryman and now, in "Officer O'Brien" he is one of "the finest."

"Officer O'Brien" is an original story by Tom Buckingham. It is tense drama and is packed with thrills from start to finish. Others in the cast are Dorothy Sebastian featured as leading woman, Ernest Torrence, Clyde Cook, Paul Hurst, Russell Gleason, Arthur Houtsman, Ralf Harold and Tom Mahoney.

"SAFETY IN NUMBERS"

"BUDDY" ROGERS, that charming young fellow who is the idol of mothers, fathers, brothers, sisters, wives, aunts and sweethearts, will work his talking-screen alchemy at the Forniman Allen Theatre, Saturday, August 10, in "Safety in Numbers," and thereby put pulsating joy in the hearts of those who see him.

"Safety in Numbers" is as close to amusement perfection as a talkie-single could ever be. It has everything—plus Mr. Rogers, who seems to have more than that.

The plot, and a cleverly-conceived one it proved to be, deals with the fortunes of a young heir to wealth who is sent to New York by his guardian uncle to be schooled in the ways of the wily world. The teachers whom the uncle wisely chose for this job are three gorgeous "Follies" girls.

The girls are pledged to refrain from vamping "Buddy," but they can't help falling for him. Neither can two other cuties whom he meets in his spirited gallivanting around Gotham. One day a group from the "Follies" comes to the girls' penthouse apartment to rehearse a new song and dance number. "Buddy" interrupts the proceedings by proposing one he wrote himself. The producer likes it and buys it from "Buddy." Meanwhile "Buddy" has fallen hard for one of his teachers. After a series of amusing adventures in which music and song play a big part, "Buddy" wins the girl.

Richard Tucker, a veteran of the films, plays the role of the uncle. The five girls who "romanticize" with the effervescent "Buddy" are Carol Lombard, Kathryn Crawford, Josephine Dunn, Virginia Bruce and Geneva Mitchell.

Roscoe Karns as the "hardboiled" taxi driver provides much of the comedy-support, aided by Louise Beavers, Negro comedienne, and Raoul Paoli, the husky chauffeur. Francis McDonald provides the not-too-menacing menace.

TOM THUMB GOLFS

PLAN NATIONAL OPEN

The "golf bug's" little brother, "Tom Thumb," has smitten the country, and now we are about to have a national open Tom Thumb golf championship trophy tournament.

The recently chartered National Tom Thumb Golf association, backed by a group of wealthy businessmen and sportsmen is sponsoring the tournament.

The New York city tournament will get under way Saturday, in Chicago, Detroit, Philadelphia, Boston, Pittsburgh, Indianapolis and Chattanooga contests are also scheduled between August 10 and 15. Successful aspirants to the trophy will then play for the championship to be held on Look-out Mountain, near Chattanooga, in October.

Advance returns indicate that many fans of the new midlet golf game in virtually every city of over 25,000 are preparing to officially card their strokes and undertake the long climb to Look-out Mountain.

WEST POINT PARK WINS

ninth when D. T. & I. began hitting and successfully getting on base. The first man up walked, the second doubled, the next singled scoring the two runs for D. T. & I. The next batter doubled and the fans began to look doubtful. The next three men were taken in order by Knock in left, Halvey at second and Clement in right field, ending the game with a final score of 5 to 2.

Goers, the unfailing West Point pitcher went the nine innings for his team, allowing 9 hits and striking out 8. Goers has not lost a game this season and the other boys play excellent ball back of him.

Steffas started the game for D. T. & I. and allowed the West Pointers 12 hits in the 8 innings he pitched. He was replaced by Crowe, recently acquired from Hamtramck, against whom West Point have batted before. In the one inning he pitched, he walked two and struck out two, and allowed no hits.

Sunday, August 10 West Point will go to Ecorse for their second game of this season. To reach the Ecorse diamond take the Southfield Road to the Ecorse Road, down to the first viaduct.

Dartmouth will start pre-season football work Sept. 8. It will allow two weeks' practice before the opening game with Norwich University.

This is the season when city folks like to get out on the open turnpikes where they can breathe lots of fresh gasoline fumes. They say silence is golden, but we know of a lot of Plymouth men who have let other fellows talk them out of their silver. Maybe the reason why the tooth-paste announcers on the radio sound so funny is that they've lost all their teeth.

Cards and Memorials

IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of our dear husband and father, who departed this life two years ago, August 8th, 1927. "He is gone but not forgotten."
His loving wife and children,
Mrs. Parrish and Family.

Dad Plymouth says, wood alcohol and putlocks have made it awfully hard to get a really good drink in this country unless you are a policeman or a revenue officer.

According to Dad Plymouth you can fool all of the people some of the time and some of the people all of the time but the rest of the time you have to pay cash.

Let us not forget that a good deal of our prosperous appearance is due to driving a mortgaged car over a bonded road.

Cupid Has Wings

By GENEVRA COOK

(Copyright.)

MONA GREY was curled comfortably in the birch seat overlooking the lake, reading a story from the folded newspaper in her lap. Clifton Spruce leaned over her shoulder. "Really, Mona," he began. "You ought to be beyond such—what's the name of it? 'Cupid's Dart'—such sentimental silliness! You know very well there's no cupid—with his arrows and big soft eyes, and wings—above all things, those absurd wings!"

"But, Clifton," Mona lifted lovely gray eyes to his, "it's the things he stands for—like love, love at first sight, and romance—"

"Well, there aren't any of those things, either. That's sentimental nonsense, too. Look at us—we're practically engaged; that is, we will be engaged when I feel I can offer you a sufficient income to live on properly; and if things come off all right when I get back to New York tomorrow, I'll be able to do it soon. And there won't be any cupid about it—oh, there's the boat. Well, goodbye, Mona. Hope you have a good summer."

For three days Mona gazed dreamily and lonely out over the sparkling lake; her aunts had opened the cottage early this year, and few people had yet joined the summer colony. On the morning of the fourth day, as she swam lazily out past the rocks, she was startled to hear the whir of motors in the air, and there hovering over the lake was a big silver plane. It circled above her head, then swooped very low, skirting the water, and at last came to rest on the surface like a silver-gray dove.

Mona, her eyes round with astonishment, retreated to the rocks until the backwash from the landing had subsided, and the seaplane swayed quietly in the middle of the lake. She glanced quickly around her. No one was in sight. Perhaps the pilot would need assistance. She dived gracefully and swam with long, clean strokes out toward the plane.

Tall, dark, with a bronzed face and eager eyes, the man in the cockpit leaned toward her. "I suppose you're a nymph?" he called softly. Mona smiled up at him. "And I suppose you're—" she could only think of one person with wings! She wouldn't dare call him cupid!—"I suppose you're one of the angels!" she finished breathlessly. The young man laughed. "You guessed wrong that time," he said. "I'm only Dirk Brandon, destination Quebec, with a fuky gas tank—but I'm a marvelous picker of places to land!"

By and by Mona swam back for the canoe and paddled out across the sparkling lake to the plane for Dirk Brandon. Together they paddled across to the cove.

"When I come back from Mooseville," he told her—he would have to walk the mile and a half to the little Maine village at the foot of the lake—"I'm coming over to the cottage to see you. May I?" Mona lifted her gray eyes happily to his. "I hope you will," she answered softly.

When he came back from the village just at sunset he was in a bright red boat with an outboard motor. He flashed up to the dock past the rocks, and called to Mona, who had run down to the shore. "I'm here for the season," he called gaily. "How do you like the new charlot? I rented it. Would you like to go out to the ship? The Silver Star. I call her."

On the way out he told her: "They'll have to get some stuff from Portland to fix the Silver Star up with. That'll take about a week. Then it'll take about another week for me to repair it, check? He grinned at her happily. "See that little cottage over there by that point? Well, I've rented it! I'm testing the plane for the Zoomwell Aircraft company, and I can test it here just as well as on some lake near Quebec—can't I?"

He could, and he did. And for five weeks Mona lived in the aura of romance. Then one night Dirk told her that in three days the last test flight could be made, he would be assured of the safety of the Silver Star, and on Sunday afternoon he would take her up for her first flight.

Mona tossed about restlessly all night. She didn't know what to do about Clifton. Of course, she wasn't engaged to him, really—and yet—! In the morning she telegraphed him: "If you love me, come at once—this week-end."

All day she sat in terror. The minute she had sent that telegram she knew that it was Dirk Brandon that she loved.

Friday night they paddled together up to the island. There in the hush of the darkness Dirk told her that he loved her. Mona told him all about Clifton. "And if he comes, Dirk," she said, "he'll—he'll tell me I'm crazy."

When they reached the cottage, there was a telegram.

"Mona," it read. "Don't be silly. Do you think I'm cupid? Big deal on here. Will write Monday, Clifton."

Monday afternoon a happy man and girl in the Silver Star circled over the office of Clifton Spruce in New York. "That's his skylight," cried Mona. Dirk swooped down and with accurate aim sent a tiny weighted package through the open skylight. To it was attached a small white note. "Dear Clifton," it read. "You see I've found there really is a cupid after all. And he has wings."

Municipal Notes

BY THE MANAGER

The demand for water in the village continues to tax the ability of our pumps to keep up adequate pressure at all times. With three quarters of a million gallons being used daily, we are consuming not only all that our pumps can furnish, but drawing it from the reservoir as well. The necessity therefore arises to prohibit night spunking for the present so that our pumps may be enabled during the night hours to store an adequate supply of water for the next day's use. May we not count upon the cooperation of every water consumer in our effort to keep our water supply up to a satisfactory standard?
