

DOES IT ALWAYS PAY TO TRADE WITH TRANSIENTS?

C. OF C. BOARD ASKS PUBLIC TO STUDY PROBLEM; MAKES MODIFIED BUY AT HOME APPEAL

The board of directors of our chamber of commerce at their last regular meeting held Monday, October 27th, gave considerable thought to our local peddler, solicitor, and agent problem. Thousands of dollars are undoubtedly taken out of our community every year by peddlers, solicitors and agents, many of them transients—here today and gone tomorrow.

Some of them sell merchandise of merit and represent reputable houses, but many others handle questionable merchandise, and doing business on a shoe-string, are not in a position to make a satisfactory adjustment in case of misunderstanding, misrepresentation, or dissatisfaction with the article sold. In fact, some of these transients probably could not be located, if wanted, and in most cases, if an adjustment is wanted, correspondence instead of personal contact has to be relied upon.

On the other hand, we have our local merchants and business houses handling practically every line sold by these transients, and paying heavy taxes and a big price for doing business. Furthermore, as a group, they are heavy supporters to every progressive worthy civic enterprise.

When is a Peddler Not a Peddler?

Our village has an ordinance, No. 53, providing for the Licensing of Hawkers, Peddlers, etc., and the Regulation of Hawking, Peddling and Street Vending. Sizable license fees are provided, to-wit: Daily, $5.00; three months $35.00; six months $50.00, and twelve months $75.00. Certain classes are exempt from the provisions of the ordinance the more important being mechanics and artisans selling articles of their own manufacture, farmers selling their own products, book and periodical salesmen and those engaged in interstate commerce. It might seem from this that the majority are exempt but our village officials estimate that over the period of a year a large number of the more undesirable class of peddlers are escaping duty free as well as being a nuisance to busy housewives.

In view of the foregoing our chamber of commerce board has made the following recommendations:

1. Give careful study to this question of buying from transients. We realize that you have a right to buy where and from whom you please but give a second thought before sending your dollars out of town if the merchandise brought to your door can be bought in Plymouth especially in view of existing conditions. Remember that your local business house in most cases is in a far better position to give you personal interest and service both at the time of the sale and in case anything crops up after the sale is brought home.

2. Remember Ordinance No. 85. If you want more complete information, you can secure a copy of this ordinance by stopping by or calling up the Village Hall. If you are bothered by peddlers, call the Village Hall, 93, with the information that a peddler has just left your door. Some one will be immediately detailed to check up on him.

During the past fifteen years the paper has been published and edited by L. B. Samsen, while the senior Mr. Samsen has conducted the job printing end of the business. At this time we also wish to express our thanks to our rural correspondents and to those who have contributed news items from week to week.

LOCAL EX-SERVICE MEN'S CLUB RELIEF COMMITTEE GRATEFUL

The response of the citizens of Plymouth to the appeal of the Ex-Service Men's and the Ladies' Auxiliary relief committee has been very gratifying. The headquarters of the relief committee in the Tuck building on Main street, has been open and the committee has been preparing and sorting the clothing donated.

All the cases requiring the committee's attention that have so far been placed before them, have been taken care of with a few exceptions requiring specialized care. With the cold spell looming, more cases requiring warm clothing will become evident, but just at present the situation is well in hand.

Although clothing has been coming in right along, the committee is in need of bed covering, blankets and quilts to take care of one or two of the more needy cases and any one having any of these they may wish to donate. The committee will place them at once. Call Chairman Algive, 613 W. Mrs. H. Mumby, 329 and your donation will be called for.

The Ex-Service Men's Club, working through their relief committee, are planning a Quick Relief Ball to be held soon after Armistice Day, at which it is confidently expected every citizen who is able will be in attendance.

Preliminary plans include for this affair the assistance of a Citizens' Auxiliary for the Ex-Service Men's Club. All the funds secured from this affair will go to the Ex-Service Men's relief squad for relief of the needy.

Congressman Earl C. Michener Has Made Good In Congress

Earl C. Michener, Republican candidate for re-election as representative in congress from the Second Congressional District of which Plymouth forms a part, has made a most enviable record during the several terms that he has served as congressman from this district. Mr. Michener has been honored by being appointed to some of the most important committees of the House during the years of his service. At the present time he is a member of the committee on judiciary. He is one of the recognized Republican leaders in the House of Representatives.

Mr. Michener has always been a most tireless worker in behalf of his constituents and he is ever ready to lend his assistance in any movement that is for the best interests of the district which he has so capably served.

MARGARET BENNETT WINS RADIO CONTEST; WILL SING IN CHICAGO

The following item taken from the Ypsilanti Daily Press of October 27, about a former Plymouth girl, will be of much interest to her many friends here:

Margaret B. Bennett, soprano, Ypsilanti, and Stanley Deltro Huss, Zeland, are winners of the Michigan state contest in the Fourth National Radio Audition, according to an announcement made today by Mrs. Samuel C. Mumford, Detroit, chairman of choral music, of the National Federation of Music Clubs, and chairman of the group which arranged the Michigan competition.

These young Michigan state champions are also the first state winners in the midwest district, consisting in addition to Michigan, of Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota, Northern Ohio, Southern Ohio and Wisconsin.

In competition with the champions from these states they will sing in Chicago in November for the honor of representing the midwest district in national finals to be sung in New York, December 14.

There are five of these districts in the entire country, providing 10 participants for the final audition. These five young men and five young women will share in cash awards of $25,000 and 10 music scholarships, offered by the Atwater Kent Foundation.

Announcement to the radio audience merely as No. 28, Miss Bennett gave "Winds of the South." His identity concealed when he was presented before the microphone as No. 22, young Deltro sang "Myself When Young," from Liza Lehmann's "Persian Garden."

Miss Gwendolyn B. Pike, Ann Arbor, singing "Oh Sleep Why Dost Thou Leave Me" as No. 22 and Julius W. Wilson of Jackson, who gave "Pretty Maids," as No. 18, finished second in the state contest.

Miss Bennett won the Michigan State Audition last year. Young Deltro had not sung in the audition before this year. He is a student at Michigan State College and sings in the Glee Club. Each will receive a silver medal as a token of Michigan championship.

We hope a large number of the Tribe will take advantage of the invitation and make plans to attend.

WHOOOPS!

You can bet the town will talk. Why? Because the senior class of Plymouth High School will present the farce comedy, "The Whole Town's Talking," on November 13 and 14. The play will be given in the high school auditorium. Watch for further announcements. They will be of interest to all.

HOUSING SURVEY NEEDS REVISION

It was brought to the attention of the board of directors of our chamber of commerce at a meeting last Monday, October 27th, that no less than eleven houses listed at the chamber of commerce office for rent have been taken since the housing survey was started about a month ago, and that less than half of this number has been listed as being vacated during this period. Reports from officials of the Detroit House of Correction indicate no lessening of interest on the part of a large number of their employees to locate in Plymouth.

The majority of this number probably will not be transferred until early spring, but a few additional families expect to locate in Plymouth right after the first of the year. The danger of allowing this housing survey and other committee activity to lag was stressed at this meeting. The viewpoint was taken we ought to be thankful that we have some time to make ready for these people, and that the breathing spell provided should be utilized to the utmost.

Continue to List Homes and Apartments For Rent

The board of our chamber again make the appeal to realtors and property owners to continue to list rental property at our chamber of commerce office as fast as it becomes available. The information if kept accurate and up to date is extremely valuable. It enables anyone to tell at a glance almost just where we stand as a community with reference to our supply in relation to the demand.

KIWANIS INTER-CLUB MEETING SUCCESSFUL

Last Tuesday evening over 350 Kiwanians and their guests sat down to a bounteous chicken dinner in the dining room of the Masonic Temple. The dinner was put on by the ladies of the Eastern Star and they deserve the highest commendation both for the quality of the meal and the excellence of the service rendered. Many of the out of town people spoke highly of this part of the program.

Delegations from all the nine clubs of the sixth district were present, namely: Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Chelsea, Wayne, Ecorse, Wyandotte, Dearborn, East Dearborn and Plymouth. Honored guests were Rev. Wm. Chapman of Traverse City, governor of Michigan Kiwanis; Claude A. Dock of Detroit, governor-elect; Forney W. Clement of Ann Arbor, secretary-treasurer of Michigan Kiwanis; Harry H. Brownless of Dearborn, Lt. Governor-elect of the sixth district; Edward Gayde, president of the Plymouth Rotary Club. There was also a very good representation of the officers of the various clubs and, as this was a ladies' night, about as many ladies as gentlemen were present.

Brucker Outlines G. O. P. Platform

The next administration of state government will have to do with at least five distinct and complex issues in which state action will be involved in the economic problems of our people," says Wilbur M. Brucker, Republican nominee for governor. "First, unemployment; second, the workmen's compensation law; third, the matter of pension law; fourth, old age pensions; fifth, state work."

"I favor the formation of a permanent non-salaried unemployment commission to be state-wide in scope and recruited from the best minds of our people who should be called to help solve this most serious problem. Industrially we must call a conference without delay of representatives of the municipalities of the state, the public utilities, private industry and labor. Municipalities all over Michigan must be urged to do public work, some of which has been postponed for years. Public utilities must be urged to expand. Then, too, private industry will undoubtedly expand the moment prosperity begins. State work, in which the state is the proprietor in the building of highways and state institutions must go on."

Please Remember Armistice Day!

Members present at a meeting of the Myron H. Beals Post of the American Legion last Wednesday evening, were inspired by Harry Barnes and Floyd Eckles' stirring accounts of incidents which occurred during the Boston convention. They were also impressed with the amount of work ahead of every post in Wayne County in preparation for the 1931 National Convention. The opening activity of the local post will be their Armistice Day dance, Tuesday evening, November 11th, at the Masonic Temple. Complete details will be carried in next week's issue.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Staebler of Frain's Lake celebrated their twenty-first wedding anniversary Saturday, Tuesday evening, November 11th, at Tecumseh, Dearborn, Wyandotte, Detroit and Chicago.

Cora Belle Beaumont of New York, is visiting her cousin, Mrs. Leroy Naylor.

Mr. Wrench has moved his family to Lowell, Mass., where they will make their home at 107 Clark road. PLYMOUTH D. A. R. SPONSORING ESSAY CONTEST IN HISTORY

The Sarah Ann Cochran Chapter, D. A. R., is sponsoring an essay contest in American History in the eighth and twelfth grades of our Plymouth High school. "MINSTREL SPARKLES" WILL BE PRESENTED BY LOCAL TALENT

Hello folks, we're glad to see you. Here comes that great big Minstrel Band—bigger, better and funnier than ever before. The new Minstrel Sparkles will be staged on Wednesday and Thursday, November 5 and 6, at the high school auditorium, under the auspices of the O. E. S.

The O. E. S. Minstrel Sparkles is in two parts, the first being a revue in nine mammoth scenes. These include a radio studio, a scene in Holland, a scene on shipboard (these scenes subject to change), two one-act plays, together with much singing, dancing and chorus work staged amid a most elaborate display of beautiful scenery and costumes. One chorus in particular is that in which "all the girls are men and each one a lady." Eight of our most prominent business men will sing and dance, dressed as girls of the chorus, and if any of them are recognized, it will be a miracle.

Between the various episodes there is much singing and dancing and many choruses staged before a background of most elaborate and gorgeous costumes and scenery. Forty of Plymouth's prettiest girls will sing and dance in the Revue, and although we are not positive at this writing, it has been rumored that several well known local business men may attempt female impersonations.

Local Lodge Entertains

Last Thursday evening, Plymouth Lodge No. 238, Knights of Pythias, acting as host to Wayne and Olympic Lodges of Detroit, enjoyed what was undoubtedly the outstanding meeting of the year.

After a brief business session, a recess was declared while preparations were being made to prove five stalwart Esquires in the chivalric rank of Knight. At this time, Dr. Philip A. Callahan, Royal Viceroy of El Cairo Temple, Knights of Khorassan (the high state order of the Knights of Pythias) was introduced to the assembly. In an inspired address he touched the high spots of fraternalism, drove home the need of Pythianism and concluded with a brief description of the high state of the order and an invitation to membership in the Knights of Khorassan.

LOCAL CLUB HOLDS HALLOWE'EN PARTY

Hallowe'en spoofs, ghosts and witches hallowe'ed with such well known characters as Jiggs and Maggie, Aunt Dinah and The Gypsy Girl at the Hallowe'en party of the Business and Professional Women's Club on Tuesday evening, October 28th. The hostesses were Lila Tezge, Marie Johnson and Irene Brown. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Everett opened their attractive new home in Robinson subdivision for the pleasure of the club, and from the front door to the farthest corner of the fruit cellar in the basement followed one Hallowe'en thrill after another.

"The King's Henchmen"

"The King's Henchmen," a week's program for children, will be held at St. John's Episcopal church, beginning Sunday, November 9. The services will be held each afternoon after school, at 4:00 o'clock.

Last year these services, called "Adventure with Christ," were attended by an enthusiastic group of young people. The church will be decorated with shields and banners, there will be stories of great Christian heroes, catechism questions illustrated talks and a brief service of worship, led by a junior choir of boys. The services will not be limited to children of the new home in Robinson subdivision, and invitation is extended to other children of the community and their parents to visit this program.

Will Hold Meeting

The Ladies Aid of the Lutheran church will hold their monthly meeting in the church basement, November 5. This will be the annual sunshine party and all members are urged to be present and bring their sunshine boxes. Mrs. G. Gentz, Mrs. T. Siefeloff and Mrs. A. Pankow will be the hostesses for the afternoon. Everybody welcome. The ladies are making plans for their bazaar to be held November 19. Keep this date in mind.

RUMORS BAD FOR BUSINESS

Lawrence Livingston Added To Zeta Chi Sigma Frat Roll

Three new men have been added to the roll of the Zeta Chi Sigma fraternity of the Michigan State Normal College this fall. They are Lawrence Livingston of Plymouth, Rex Barker of Cleveland, Ohio, and Wayne Smith of Ypsilanti.

Zeta Chi Sigma is a recent addition to the fraternal organizations on the Normal campus, having been organized two years ago. However, they have proved their merit and are now among the foremost group. This year their new quarters have been taken up at 413 Forest Avenue.

Local Lodge Entertains

After a brief business session, a recess was declared while preparations were being made to prove five stalwart Esquires in the chivalric rank of Knight. At this time, Dr. Philip A. In an inspired address he touched the high spots of fraternalism, drove home the need of Pythianism and concluded with a brief description of the high state of the order and an invitation to membership in the Knights of Khorassan.

The meeting was then turned over to Wayne Lodge of Detroit, who conducted the reunion of the rank of Knight. The high quality of their work was such as to make a lasting impression upon both spectator and candidate. Following the initiatory ceremonies, several prominent visitors responded to impromptu introductions by the Chancellor, Commander, and immediately thereafter luncheon was served under the able direction of Archie Meddough.

Many interesting activities are being planned for the near future and every Pythian is admonished to keep in close touch with what is being done lest he miss some of the pleasure and profit of the forthcoming calendar.

Vote "Yes" On Reapportionment Next Tuesday, Nov. 4th

A fresh crop of disturbing rumors seem to be making the rounds of late. Immediately following the tumbling stock market crash of last fall, the air was full of them. Then when it seemed that the worst had happened, we had a rest for awhile. Recently, for reasons not easy to define, rumors and predictions of disaster and near disaster are again lifting their ugly heads.

Perhaps it is because this depression, which is many seem to take a morbid satisfaction in enlarging upon, has not lifted its mantle of gloom as soon as we had hoped for, and we are undergoing a second reaction brought about by the knowledge that there is a long hard pull ahead of us instead of speedy recovery. By exercising common sense, it is hard to see how it could have happened otherwise. A vast nation of people cannot be hurled from the pinnacle of prosperity to fall with a small thud, and be expected to be talked right out of it. Even those who have not actually suffered have lost the feeling of prosperity which is quite as bad from the standpoint of retarding recovery.

Frank I. Jenks Obituary

Frank I. Jenks, son of Isaac C. and Mary A. Jenks, was born in Cohocho township, Livingston Co., Michigan, September 14th, 1852, and died in Plymouth, Mich., October 10th, 1930, and was buried in Byron, Michigan.

In the strenuous years following the Civil War, his opportunities for acquiring an education were limited to the country schools of that time, as even the small earnings of his boyhood days were required to help keep the "home fires burning." After he grew to manhood he continued to work on a farm always looking forward to some day owning a farm of his own, which after many years of labor he accomplished.

In 1901 he was married to Miss Nella Brookings of Argentine, Genesee County, Michigan, and settled on the farm where they spent thirteen happy years, then sold the farm and went to Lexington, Ky., where his aged parents were then living. A year later they returned to Michigan and located in Plymouth, where for fourteen years he has been in the employ of the Daisy Manufacturing Company, always faithful to his employer's interests. Handicapped as he was during recent years by failing health, he labored on that he might not be overtaken by a dependent old age.

Mr. Jenks was converted at about the age of 35, and united with the Methodist Episcopal church of Byron, Michigan, afterward transferring his membership to the Plymouth church. He is survived by his wife and one sister, Mrs. Thomas E. Rix of Lexington, Ky., (one brother having preceded him 17 years ago), several nieces and nephews and other relatives.

A Communication

The Plymouth Mail of October 24 carries an article headed "Vote Yes on Re-apportionment" and says "chamber of commerce favors" also an article headed "Apportionment is explained to local Kiwanians."

After reading both of these articles it seems only fair that something on the vote "No" side of the question should appear in the Plymouth Mail. In the article under the heading "What's It All About," one would naturally expect to read the amendment, but not so, the amendment does not appear and one is led to wonder how many people really had read and studied it. It does not appear in the "Mail" and seldom, if ever, in the Detroit dailies. Perhaps the politicians of Wayne County are afraid that the people will understand too much before they go to the polls.

The article states that "the apportionment will insure to each section a fair and equal representation." The Grand Rapids Herald infers just the opposite will be the result, as three counties, Wayne, Genesee and Oakland, will gain in representation while others will lose, thus leaving some of the smaller counties without representation.

The "majority clause" so often referred to, is in the constitution now and was put there to partly protect the weak counties and give them representation. It says that "each county shall have a representative if it have a population equal to a moiety (or half) of the ratio of representation."

The Michigan Patron says "shall we continue to have a Government of Michigan or shall we become a State of Detroit. By this amendment both Houses of Legislature are to be apportioned by population only. As long ago as 1922, the Grand Rapids Herald edited then by A. H. Vandenberg (now senator) conceded the right of Detroit and Wayne County to have the House of Representatives elected on the population basis but said "Let the Senate be apportioned to areas instead of population—exactly as the Federal Senate is apportioned to areas instead of population." This seems to be the only fair way in which this question can be arranged, then all parts of the state would have some representation in the House and all have a better chance of having fair legislation.

Another point about apportioning to "population only," "population" includes everybody and, as we all know, in the large cities, there are many many persons who are not citizens who have no vote, and who are unable to read and write our language. Where is the fairness in deciding that all the senators and legislators should be determined by population only? If that is a fair way of deciding our state government, why would it not be a fair way of deciding our Federal government and have all Congressmen elected according to population only?

Out of the 100 legislators, the number fixed for members of legislature, 30 would be from Wayne County, most from Detroit, thus giving the balance of power to Wayne County, but one is supposed to believe that they would always be fair while, of course, now all the rest of the state is unfair. Let me quote from Dora Stockman in the Michigan Patron: "It is too late to initiate another amendment by referendum. Detroit was clever enough not to file till the last date of filing was possible." Does that look as though they would always be fair?

It seems strange that Detroit should want any more names to vote on, as that is really what it amounts to in Detroit, just voting on names by many, many people. The Primary ballot for the Republican nominations, with a long list of names for representatives is a good sample of unintelligent voting and, with more names, the unintelligence would increase.

There is another point in the second section of the amendment which must not be forgotten. It reads "if for any reason the legislature shall not comply with the provisions of this section, then the Secretary of State shall forthwith so re-arrange said senatorial districts and apportion anew the representatives in the legislature." The Michigan Patron speaks of this as the "one man power" and the Michigan Advocate says "the point is raised, and this by one of the prosecuting attorneys of Wayne County, that the proposed amendment to the State Constitution conflicts with the Federal Constitution. The Federal Constitution requires the legislature itself to make the reapportionment."

According to the Grand Rapids Herald, some politicians are "basing arguments on the incorrect premise that the matter upon which we are to vote is a statute and therefore the legislature may submit an alternate proposal." It is pointed out that the amendment when voted on will be part of the State Constitution and the Legislature cannot alter it but will have to proceed accordingly.

The Plymouth Mail also quotes from Mr. McGill of the Detroit Board of Commerce urging a "No" vote on the "Citizen's Tax." Just at the present time all the newspapers are advocating the governments of town, county, state and nation to give work to unemployed people; but whenever and wherever there is a proposition to raise money in any other way than by a tax on land or property the politicians oppose such a proposition. Why not try to ease the burden of taxation on property? The gasoline tax was unmercifully opposed by Wayne County politicians but how well that has worked out.

In conclusion why not "Vote No" on this amendment until such time as the political leaders can give us a more fair reapportionment proposition. Then why not "Vote Yes" on the "Citizen's amendment" as one easy way to raise money for the state?

THE TRAINING OF JUNIOR EXECUTIVES

A Prominent Business Man Says:

"Our business is expanding so rapidly that we have imperative need for several junior executives, but we simply can't find young men and women with the proper training. We can get plenty of stenographers and bookkeepers—capable ones, too. They are all right for the work for which they have been trained, but they do not understand organization and management, and their limited education makes it impossible for them to assume executive duties.

"Nowadays when an executive engages an assistant he knows that soon he shall have a better position at a larger salary, and he wants the young person he selects to be ready for that better position when it develops. He is looking around and considering his future requirements. Consequently, he exercises the greatest care in choosing young men and women for his organization, knowing that they will develop into the executives of the future.

"A fundamental knowledge of business principles and administrative methods has become the key which unlocks the door to the choicest opportunities and the commercial training institution giving executive courses of university grade in Business Administration is the logical place for such training. There the science of business is stripped of all its frills and furbelows and taught in a practical, business-like way by practical business men and women.

"The young man or woman who takes an executive course at such an institution will enter the business world with a thorough knowledge of business fundamentals and a clear understanding of the administrative duties of a successful organization. He will be a potential executive, and will have responsibilities, opportunities and promotion thrust upon him."

D. B. U. Executive, Secretarial, Business Administration and Higher Accountancy Courses Prepare You to Meet This New Demand

A Good Position for You

Private Secretary to The President

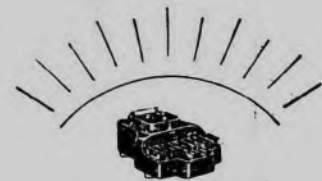

The other girls in the office wonder why "the boss" picked Miss Cross for this position. The fact of the matter is that the boss didn't have so much to do with it at all. You see it was like this:

Four or five years ago while Miss Cross was still going to high school she picked out this position for herself. She made up her mind that she was going to be private secretary to the President; then she made everything else give way to that idea. She worked hard at her studies at high school, then she took a special course of secretarial training at a good business school and finally on the job she did so much more and so much better work than was required of her in each position she held that she just naturally bulged out of the minor positions and right into the attention of the President. So there was not much "picking" for the boss to do.

Why She Chose the D. B. U.'s Secretarial Course

- (1). Limited to high school graduates and college people.
- (2). School approved by State Department of Public Instruction.
- (3). Curriculum of college-grade.
- (4). Actual machine and office practice in secretarial training.
- (5). Credits accepted by Michigan State Normal College on Commercial Teacher Course.
- (6). D. B. U. graduates get better positions.
- (7). D. B. U. received over 3000 calls for office help in one year.
- (8). Over 59,000 persons have completed courses at the D. B. U., the oldest and best known Business Training school in Michigan.

The NEW PROFESSION

FOR BRIGHT, CAPABLE YOUNG MEN AND WOMEN

ALONG with the typewriter, the calculating machine, the billing and book-keeping machine, has come the Stenotype, the machine way in shorthand. Proved by more than twelve years of severe testing, it is now coming into a new and greater demand among business men everywhere, because of far greater speed and accuracy. It opens to young people a much shorter avenue to success.

A well-trained Stenotypist has no fear of the fastest dictators or the most technical dictation.

Because of the machine's accuracy and the readability of the plain type notes you know you will be able to bring back to your employer letters that say what HE said—without the slightest guesswork, nervousness or uneasiness on your part.

Think what that means to your employer and what it means to you.

Christian Science Notes
 "Probation after Death" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches on Sunday, October 26.
 Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "In a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trump; for the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed." (1 Cor. 15:52)

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The sin and error which possess us at the instant of death do not cease at that moment, but endure until the death of these errors. To be wholly spiritual, man must be sinless, and he becomes thus only when he reaches perfection." (p. 230).

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES.
 The Mission Study Class held a fine meeting at the church on Tuesday evening. Supper of the cooperative sort, and a very good one, was served at 6:30 p. m., and then the business meeting of the class was held. Following this, the group set to work tying a quilt, and with work and fun the evening passed.

On Tuesday of next week the Busy Woman's Class will meet at the home of Mrs. George Travis, Canton Center road. There will be cooperative dinner at noon, which will be followed by the business and program meeting.

The pastor's Wednesday night class was well attended at the first session. This class will continue to meet on Wednesday evenings. The subject of study is India. All are welcome to attend.

CATHOLIC NOTES
 A Halloween party will be given in the auditorium tonight, Friday. Banquet, dancing, refreshments are on the bill of fare. All are welcome. Admission 25 cents.
 Next Thursday night the ladies will give a card party in the auditorium. A cordial invitation is extended to all.
 Saturday, tomorrow, is a Holy Day—All Saints' Day. Masses at 6:00 and 7:30 a. m. Monday is All Souls' Day; masses at 6:00, 7:00 and 7:30 a. m.
 Friday, today, is a fast and abstinence day.
 Numerous changes among the clergy were made during the past week.
 Holy Redeemer parish will celebrate their diamond jubilee, November 11—Detroit.

EPISCOPAL NOTES
 The Holy Communion will be celebrated this Sunday at 10:00 a. m. In the observance of All Saints' Day (Saturday) this is the church's "memorial day," when we may commemorate not only the great heroes of the church, but all our departed loved ones. Every communicant will wish to make his communion this day. The members of the confirmation class will make their first communion.

We owe our inheritance of the Christian faith to the great Saints and leaders of the church and to our parents and pastors who led us in our early years; this is a debt of gratitude that can only be repaid by carrying on their work faithfully today. Go to church this Sunday.

Plans are now being completed for the children's fall program, "The King's Henchmen," a part of the program of Adventuring With Christ for the last year. The services will be held daily after school, beginning Monday, November 10. There will be new copies, new catechism questions, illustrated talks, and a brief worship period.

Tonight (Friday) at 7:30 o'clock, the guild will give a Halloween party for members of the church and their friends.

METHODIST NOTES
 "That we might humble ourselves before our God, to seek of Him a straight way" (Ezra 8:21)
 "The government is building eight powerful radio stations, for the purpose of guiding airplane pilots. They will send out radio messages constantly, and will obviously add much to the security of flights."
 "Have we anything analogous to this in the difficult passage through our mortal lives? We certainly have, our guiding stations are far more intimate, far more efficacious. They are our prayers to the heavenly Father."
 "He will tell us where to go and what to do. Yes, and He will send through the powerless ether the very strength we need to do our work, the very wisdom we need to plan and execute. What no radio station will ever be able to do for the airplane pilot, this radio station of prayer will do for us and has been doing through all the ages for God's believing children."
 The young people's hour will begin at 8:00 o'clock next Sunday night, and all the young people interested are cordially invited to meet with us and enjoy this hour of fellowship together.
 The regular monthly meeting of the L. A. S. will be held in the church parlor next Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. All the women of the church are cordially invited to meet with us. The program, with the subject of Thanksgiving, will be in charge of Mrs. Kirkpatrick; the devotions will be led by Mrs. Wm. Smith, and Mrs. Luther Patsch; Mrs. Ed. Wilson and Mrs. Roy Sallow will be our hostesses.
 We are sure no one will want to miss the interesting book review we are having on Wednesday night at our Church Training meeting, 7:15 to 8:00 o'clock. All are cordially invited to spend this 45 minutes with us.
 Dr. Lendrum has been at Wilkes

Barre, Pennsylvania, this week, where he was called on account of the death of his sister. We all extend our sympathy to him in his loss.

W C T U

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union held its annual meeting, Thursday, October 23rd at the home of Mrs. William Smith on Dodge Street. There was a good attendance and the meeting was of unusual interest.

An excellent report of the work of the local Union was given by the president, Mrs. Jessie Vealey, who stated that the members might feel justly proud of their Union since it was the only one in the district that had successfully met all its obligations for the past year.

Mrs. Karl Starkweather, the treasurer, gave an encouraging report, and the superintendents of the flower mission and press also gave reports of their work. The report of the state convention in Grand Rapids, given by the delegate, Mrs. L. Clemens, was full of interest, containing much that was bright and humorous.

The same officers were re-elected for the coming year: President, Mrs. E. C. Venley; recording-secretary, Mrs. L. Clemens; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Mary Hillner; treasurer, Mrs. K. Starkweather.

The next meeting will occur November 20, at the home of Mrs. John Rattenbury, Ann Arbor street.

From the National W. C. T. U.—There are about fifty patients at the Keeley Institute for the cure of inebriety today; a fact which the wets say indicates an increase in drunkenness. In the first year of the Keeley Institute, there were 50,000 patients.

"Eight years later, when the founder, Dr. Leslie Keeley, died, he had treated 300,000 patients, of which twenty per cent had been women."

"At the height of his successes there were 84 Keeley Institutes, and the Banner of Gold, official Keeley League weekly magazine, indicated that in all these various institutes there were 25,000 inebriate patients every week."

"As far as we can ascertain, there is but one Keeley Institute doing business today."

FIRST BOY TO JOIN FISHER BODY GUILD

WM. MCKINLEY OF NEW HUDSON, LEADS BOYS ENTERING SCHOLARSHIP CONTEST.

William McKinley of New Hudson was the first boy in Michigan to enter in the Fisher Body "Craftsmen's Guild," which is sponsoring a nationwide educational program to develop better craftsmanship among boys.

More than 900 awards, valued at $50,000 and including four university scholarships, will be given to boys who build the best models of a miniature Napoleonic coach. The awards will be made by renowned educators along technical lines who have endorsed the Guild movement.

Any boy in the United States between the ages of 12 and 19 years inclusive is eligible for membership in the Guild. Enrollment blanks may be secured at any General Motors dealer. As soon as these blanks have been received by the Fisher Body Corporation in Detroit, a membership button and complete working plans for making a coach will be forwarded to the boy.

Owing to the wide age range, two class divisions have been formed. One is a junior group comprised of boys from 12 to 15 inclusive and the other a senior group composed of boys from 16 to 19 inclusive. Awards will be divided equally between the two divisions, two scholarships going to the juniors and two to the seniors.

In addition to the scholarship awards, trips to Detroit will be presented to the boy in each class in each state whose model is adjudged the best in the state. Further awards in cash will be made to the builders of the second best coach model in each division in each state, and for individual leaders on particular parts of the model building, such as woodcraft, metalcraft, trimcraft and paintcraft.

Relief From Curse of Constipation

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called REXALL Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lax, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a REXALL Orderlie at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the nearest Retail Drug Store. Beware Pharmacy.

Fisher School News

Primary Room

Mrs. Nichols, teacher. The boys and girls are bringing their playthings to school to form a Primary Band.

Yesterday we made health charts in art class. We are stressing milk this month. If we drink no milk it means a black mark on our chart. One glass of milk will give us a red mark, for it is still dangerous. Two glasses of milk means we must be cautious, so we get a yellow mark for that. Three or more glasses means we are on the right road, and we have chosen green for this.

The second graders are learning a little play in first aid work.

Third and Fourth Grades

Mrs. Ada Watson, teacher. Our room is weaving Indian rugs of different combinations of colors. We are planning a Halloween party for Friday afternoon.

Fay Pratt is the only pupil in our room who has perfect teeth. We have a story hour after lunch each day, and the children are the entertainers.

There were fifteen pupils in our room who had perfect attendance during October.

We are studying the picture, "Shoelace the Bay Mare" by Sir Edwin Landseer.

Those who had perfect morning inspection for October were: Florence Petroskey, Viola Zink, Aileen Ciesielski and Dorothy Brown.

Boys having a high score are: John Brooks and Fay Pratt.

Intermediate Room

Mrs. Plankel

The Citizenship Club of the intermediate room are having a Halloween party Wednesday.

The fifth and sixth are working hard on penmanship. They are keeping a graph showing the number of lessons completed.

The fifth grade has finished studying Canada.

The safety badges were given out Monday, October 27. Frederick McNulty is lieutenant of the Safety Patrol. Other members are Thelma Hegwood, Alice Nutty, William Luka and Alice McNulty are on the service patrol for this week.

Landscape Gardening

Margaret Tuck, 8th Grade

The George H. Fisher school of District Number 9 of Rollford hopes to make its school and school yard the most beautiful in Wayne County.

We have been doing some landscaping work. Mr. Carr, our County Club Leader, who is a landscape gardener, helped to plan it.

We hope to keep it nice. Libe bushes have been planted on both sides of the school to separate the front yard from the back yard.

East and west of school sidewalk, which is in the center of the front yard, we have planted iris. On the corners of the school yard we have planted red and white spirea. On both sides of the school entrance we have planted trees and bushes, such as many berry bush, tree of heaven, sunnitch, Japanese barberry, porcelain, phlox, wild red rose, mock quince, flowering currant, wild pink rose, hazel bush, ninebark and tulle pink rose.

The school children each planted one tulip bulb in a circular bed ten feet east and west of the walk and fifteen feet north of the school. We are going to plant a nursery in back of the playground. Eventually we will replant them in the front yard. The majority of the trees and bushes are temporary.

The Baseball Game

The George H. Fisher school baseball team played the school Wednesday at four o'clock. The players were: Fred McNulty, Floyd Elchstadt, Ernest Carnett, Lawrence McNulty, Raymond Coon, Leon Wright, Mammal Hegwood, Frank Evans, Dickie Luka, Gilbert Stuart.

At the end of the fourth inning Dickie Luka was put out and Wilbur Carnett took his place. The final score was: George H. Fisher, 20; Elm, 19.

CHAMBER of COMMERCE NOTES

The Manufacturers' Stake In Regular Employment

Regularization of employment is proving more and more its value as an important factor in the manufacturer's program of the more complete stabilization of his business, both as to production and distribution. Manufacturers have found their efforts to provide continuous employment for their workers to be profitable business investments. No employer can guarantee continuous work to his employees unless his business has been so organized as to permit the most efficient and economical operation.

The employment stabilization policies of manufacturing corporations have not been designed primarily to take up the slack in unemployment during a time of depression. They are designed to reduce the uneconomic and demoralizing effects of insecurity of employment. The tangible results of such programs include elimination of waste due to excessive labor turnover, reduction in overhead costs caused by idle equipment, conservation of consumer outlets, and maintenance of an efficient stable force of employees. There is nothing new, untired or impracticable in the basic idea of employment stabilization. At least 15 years ago a number of manufacturers discovered the feasibility of planning their operations and scheduling their production according to a predetermined forecast of future growth. Some of these companies went through the business depression of 1921 with almost normal profits and without any marked reduction in their working force.

Success in stabilizing employment has not been confined to manufacturers. Safety duty also received an arm band. It was called the "Service Squad."

Weight

Lawrence McNulty

The monthly weighing of the seventh and eighth grades in the George H. Fisher school revealed the fact that all but two gained weight. Those who gained weight are as follows: Raymond Coon, Dorothy Evans, Frank Evans, Mammal Hegwood, Delores Holman, Frances Jaynes, Lawrence McNulty, Margaret Sarto, Ernest Carnett, Floyd Elchstadt, Lucille Holman, Mary Kuesera, Elizabeth Roberts, Helen Sarto, Margaret Tuck and Leon Wright. We hope that next month everyone will have made a gain.

P. T. A. Met

The Parent Teacher's Association of the George H. Fisher school, District No. 9, met at the school on Friday, October 17, 1930. Roll call found 36 members present. We are having a contest. The room having the most parents present at each meeting will receive a banner for their room.

Mr. Ray Schofield, chairman of the Program Committee, gave an outline of the year's program, and we are looking forward to profitable meetings every month.

We have the pleasure of having Mr. David Roberts of Detroit, recently returned from Africa where he filmed many pictures. The pictures were educational as well as entertaining.

Mrs. Du Bord, Wayne County Home Demonstration Agent spoke on Home Economics, Home Management, and Child Hygiene. She will be at our school on Monday, November 3 to organize a class.

The Finance Committee are giving a benefit party Wednesday, October 29. Five Hundred and Bridge will be played. Refreshments will be served after the party.

Our next meeting will be held on Friday, November 21, 1930 promptly at eight o'clock. A community supper, with speaker and program will be furnished. Mrs. H. D. Tuck, member of program committee, will be in charge.

producing standardized products with a fairly constant demand from year to year. A company manufacturing valves and fittings which produces more than 23,000 separate items has so budgeted its production that its total number of employees has not fluctuated more than 7 per cent annually in the past four years. Through a systematic program of market analysis and sales forecasts this company is able to estimate its total sales a year in advance with at least 95 per cent accuracy. Although its inventories fluctuate greatly during the course of the year, the volume of production for each quarter is approximately constant. Prior to the adoption of this company's stabilization plans variations from the peak to the low point of employment approximately each year 67 per cent.

Cooperation with dealers in apportioning deliveries in accordance with their sales demand has been partially responsible for the ability of a large soap manufacturer to guarantee at least 48 weeks of continuous employment each year to his regular working force. It is not generally understood, however, that this particular company manufacturers also more than 200 separate articles including a number of perishable food products of seasonal demand.

A beginning toward employment stabilization has been made by companies representing many of the important lines of industry. Companies which have made outstanding accomplishments include manufacturers of the following: Automobiles, men's clothing, silk, paper, electrical apparatus, paint, agricultural implements, food products, shoes, hats, leather, office devices, heating equipment, rubber tires, pottery, furniture, steel, material handling equipment, textile machinery, pumps, chemicals, tobacco products and soap.

Uncertainty or fear concerning the security of their jobs after previous industrial workers from attaining normal efficiency. Manufacturers who have received this source of worry report not only increased productivity as a result, but other intangible benefits, such as improved morale, the value of which cannot even be estimated.

More than 50 business, economic and social research organizations are giving concentrated attention to the problem of employment stabilization. Through literature, conferences and individual contracts they are endeavoring to relay to employers generally, information concerning the experience of other employers who have found the adoption of employment stabilization policies not only possible but highly profitable.

Employment stabilization is in no sense suggested as a quick acting panacea for our present problem of unemployment. Rather it involves the study of a plant's labor relations in all its phases, economic and otherwise, until sound judgment dictates its inclusion in the definite plans of management.

Since the development of our pamphlet BALANCING PRODUCTION AND EMPLOYMENT THROUGH MANAGEMENT CONTROL, we have gathered other valuable data which we are glad to make available on request.

ATTENTION! Milk Producers

I notice in the Adrian Telegram of the 18th inst., that Congressman Michener is complaining because of my attack upon the policies of government he has voted for to the detriment of agriculture. Did he expect me to extol him for aiding in pauperizing the farmer? Does he think the leader of the Senate correct when Senator Moses said the protesting farmers were "son of wild Jackasses?" Mr. Michener may change his mind when he hears from the polls in the rural districts.

Mr. Michener is bringing into this campaign to help him out, the arch enemy of every dairyman, Senator Vandenberg, who exercises his splendid oratory on several occasions on the floor of the Senate to defeat that section of the tariff bill intended to benefit the milk producer, sponsored by the National Dairyman's Association and backed by every cow owner in the United States.

Why don't you ask Mr. Michener whether he favored or disapproved of Senator Vandenberg's fight against the biggest industry in rural Michigan; viz., Milk.

Congressman Michener flatly admits the special session of Congress, called to legislate to relieve the terrible condition of the farmer did not and cannot accomplish anything and the Five Hundred Million Dollars appropriated and spent went into everybody's pockets, except the farmers.

Now, Mr. Congressman, I intend to criticize your participation in legislation that has brought disaster upon us. If you want to avoid my disagreement with your policies, why don't you respond favorably to my challenge for joint debates? If you concede you are unequal to the task of defending your record, I will agree to meet any substitute you will name in your stead, Congressman or Senator preferred.

Plymouth-Northville Game There Today

PLYMOUTH WINS CLOSE GAME FROM FARMINGTON

A confident Blue and White squad barely managed to nose out a fighting Farmington team. One lone touchdown formed the margin of victory. The score came as the result of a forced punt which rolled backwards over the goal line and was recovered by Ferguson for a touchdown. The Farmington griders had two chances to score but were unable to do so. Once they had the ball the 23-yard line, but a frantic Plymouth team pushed back three line plunges and a pass being incomplete were given the ball. Many a spectator's heart went down to his boots when Lapham caught a fumbled ball in the air and ran 60 yards before Bannerman hit him from behind. This game ought to prepare the team for the next game as it is a lesson to not take any opponent lightly.

A Visitor in English Class

As we went into our eighth hour English class, we saw a stranger. Mr. Winkelman came in and we started our work; still the stranger was unknown. We were told to open our text books and write a description of a witch as we saw it with our eyes closed. After we had done so, Mr. Winkelman announced that an old friend of his was visiting him today. Mr. Horn from Ashley High School, of which he is the principal. He was asked if he would like to tell us about the 10-B English class of Ashley and what they were doing first of all, he gave a description of a witch that made the class laugh. Mr. Horn told us that when students crowd and push through the doors into their English classes in Ashley they were only in a hurry to get into their English class because they liked it so well. Also, that he did not mind his students chewing gum as long as they passed it around to everyone.

Starkweather School News

Fourth Quarter

In two attempts Lanker made a first down. Lanker took off-tackle for 3 yards. Lancaster took Fendt's place in the Farmington line-up. Bannerman made 10 yards in two tries. Lapham caught a fumble and ran 60 yards before he was tackled by Bannerman. Wagenschuit went in for Hix; Ball took Bassett's place. Cox, no gain at tackle. Wagenschuit intercepted a pass on his own ten yard line. Lanker kicked outside on the 50 yard mark. A pass to Mezell gained 15 yards. DePorter stopped Cox for no gain. Another pass, to Lancaster, gained 8 yards. Lapham made 3 yards at center. Plymouth took time out. Lapham made about a yard in two tries at the line. A pass was incomplete over the goal line and Plymouth received the ball on the 20 yard line. Lanker kicked and the ball rolled to the 15 yard line where DePorter fell on it.

"Macbeth" To Be Presented December 2

At the last meeting of the Student Council the members voted to sponsor Shakespeare's "Macbeth" in connection with the "Shakespearean Players," a group of professional trouper. According to an agreement the Council is to receive a definite percentage of the profits: ten percent on the first one hundred dollars and five percent on each additional fifty dollars. The presentation of this production, it is thought, will be not only beneficial from the financial standpoint but will also be of great educational value to the students and to the people. The cast of this play, which is to be presented Tuesday, December 2nd, will be composed of members of the "Shakespearean Players," while many of the minor parts will be taken by students in the school. A more detailed announcement will be made later on.

The Drama Club Starts New Play

In the Senior Drama Club, the first act of the senior play, "The Whole Town's Talking," was presented for criticism and practice. The Junior Drama Club started work on a play, "Bimbo the Pirate," by Booth Tarkington, which is especially suited for younger students of the drama because of the immense possibilities it makes out of a simple plot. The play is an interesting plot, taking place in the time of the pirates Drake and Hawkins leads up to a surprise ending. There is also an exceedingly worth while moral illustrated in the play.

Commercial Geography Students Give Talks

Because Commercial Geography is a study dealing with the people, wealth, economic conditions, and important products of nearly all countries of the world, the pupils of Miss Adcock's classes have given talks on various interesting subjects. Some of the topics taken for last week were "Fur Products" by Richard Quimet, "Sugar Beet Production" by Henry Wagner, and "The Story of Hemp" by Marvin Bannerman.

The seventh grade United States history class has made imaginary trips to America before the time of the Revolutionary War; and many of the pupils have written themes describing their voyage to the new world. Of course they imagined themselves experiencing many hardships with the Indians, many problems of making homes in the colonies, while some thrilling adventures of hazardous ship wrecks and bloody Indian battles.

What The Commercial Club Is Doing

After a short business meeting, the Commercial Club members listened to talks by the following new members: Elizabeth Currie, who talked about the gold industry; Ethel Davis who spoke about her trip to South Sea; Marie and Sara Davis, who told about her trip to Alaska. The remainder of the hour the meeting was turned over to Doris Cole, chairman of the program committee for the week.

Central Grade School Notes

The boys and girls in Mrs. Root's room have earned the "Children's Salute to the Flag," and every morning they stand and have a little patriotic program. They give the salute, sing "America" and "The Red, White and Blue" and are learning other things that will help them to be better citizens.

Commercial Home Ec Class Discuss The Home

Not only business requirements but also home life is discussed by the Commercial Home Economics class for last week. The pupils studied "Family Relationships and Home Management." In their first discussion, "The Home and the Family," they studied a survey of one hundred and seven homes to determine the general family patterns. In all, they then divided the families into four general groups: Complete, thirty-eight; broken, twenty-six; mud-died, fourteen; and incomplete, twenty-two. There were several causes for each, of course, ranging in the complete home from love and affection to some interests and children; in the broken from drinking and divorce to in-laws and jealousy; in the mud-died from poor planning to a carefree mother; and in the incomplete, from death to finances and temper.

Mythology The Theme For Plympthean Pictures

The members of the Plympthean Staff who work gathering material which will make up the new high school annual, have decided to have the pictures derived from and pertaining to various myths of ancient times. A calendar has been worked out and all of the members have been asked to turn in jokes. Most of the group pictures have been taken and the pictures of the seniors and new members of the faculty were taken last Thursday. Those on the staff are: M. Van Amburg, V. Card, L. Grandstaff, M. Gust, M. Drew, D. Williams, E. Ash, V. Hertz, B. Miller, S. Dudek, M. Gallagher, J. Strong, Cora Rowland, Cassie Rowland, N. Savery, I. Livingston, C. Stevens and Billy Kirkpatrick.

DEBATE OPENER HERE

The first league debate of the season will be held here in the P. H. S. auditorium, Friday, November 7th, at 7:30 o'clock. Dearborn will be Plymouth's opponent. The Plymouth team has not been chosen as yet, but prospects are good. This is the third successive year in which we have met Dearborn. In 1928 we went there and collected a 2-1 victory. In 1929, also at Dearborn, we dropped another split decision. This year at home, with the score all even, we are going to do our best to tip the scales in our favor by winning, and not by a split decision, but unanimously. Come out and we promise you a top-notch debate as both teams will be out for blood. So all we need is a little pep and enthusiasm and we will start the year off right by defeating Dearborn next Friday night at the high school auditorium.

Music Department Has Varied Activities

Some of the entertainers at the Salem Church Night last Thursday evening were Milton Moe, the Girls' Double Quartette, Bob Champe and Russell Egloff.

The final test in Music Memory has been given and these people were selected to go to the concert last Tuesday. From the sixth grade, Jeannette Brown, Betty Jane Hensley, Elizabeth Hogg, the seventh grade, Audrey Moore, Ruth Wilson, eighth grade, Beulah Starkweather, Edward Angove, Margaret Goehel, ninth grade, Lenore Rathburn, Mildred Maret and Evelyn Rothbacher.

To Mt. Vernon With Miss Fiegel

The Travel Club elected four captains last Wednesday fifth hour, whose duties are to plan, with the help of their teams, programs for the various social events that are to be held this year. The captains, Edward Arscott, William Tuck, Beulah Wagenschuit and Elizabeth Currie are to meet some time in the future to draw lots for the different programs.

Personal Essays Attempted In English Classes

The following themes represent the efforts of an eleventh grade composition class to write a personal or familiar essay although one of them is perhaps more narrative than the typical essay should be.

Curiously Once Killed A Cat

Are you one of those creatures commonly called a rubberer? In the case that you are unfamiliar with the term, let me enlighten you by stating that a rubberer is merely an individual endowed by nature with a superabundant amount of curiosity. If you do not fall in that category, you have at least observed some such specimen of humanity. No matter where you are, the rubberers are present. They swarm around anything or anyone that is in the least way alien to the common run of things. They would gather as quickly around a boy with a chub-foot as they would around a street-cleaner with a very prominent Adam's apple. No great event such as a fire or an automobile wreck is required to attract their attention.

The removing of a man-hole cover or the insignificant act of a laborer washing windows, will bring them swarming like bees to a family reunion luncheon. They feast upon their fellow-being's misfortune. They stand and stare with bulging eyes at a person who has fallen ten stories to the street below, and the unfortunate's groans are as music to their ears. However, the true rubberer will not leave the scene of the accident with the ambulance. He remains to gaze at the spot where the victim lay, to glance at the nearby houses, and to talk the event over with a fellow rubberer. And then his eye catches sight of an extremely big-legged policeman with one ear walking on the opposite side of the street, and he is off to do some more rubbering.

Looking Wise to Keep The Teacher From Calling On You

Did you ever do it? It is great fun. Try it tomorrow morning when you go to class unprepared. When you do not know the answer to a question, look at the teacher and smile as sweetly as you can. Your eyes should be shining with wisdom. She will call on everyone in the class but you because she thinks you know it. When you do know the answer to a question, gaze out of the window or at your book. Try this tomorrow and see if you are successful.

Do Not Faint!

Yes, it had worked over so many times, and there seemed no doubt that I was getting to be an expert. I remember distinctly my friend telling me that tricks grew old, but in my estimation this was still quite effective.

Mother was doing the weekly ironing, and she had asked my brother and me to wash the breakfast dishes. The kind loving smile I returned to my mother and the horrid face I made at my brother were only the beginning of another revolution. The latter jumped from his high stool, and grabbed me time in time to the neck. My hand sought my forehead, my eyes rolled a hit, and I fell gracefully to the floor. My mother, thinking I was injured, bathed me head nervously with water, and as I opened my eyes, my brother made a dash for the outside door. He did not move quickly enough, for my mother had had her eye before he reached the first step. How well I remember that large strap belt taken from the hook, and the pleading and sobs that followed. As I was too young to know of the thing called sympathy, I looked on silently gloating and giggling.

That event marked my third victory for the week. I had always won, simply by overwitting him or by throwing a faint, and then mother spanked him. My number of victories increased with the passing of each week, but things have to change sooner or later. It was the week following Christmas, and my new doll's head was mysteriously missing. Revenge! Grabbing up my brother's most beloved cap-gun, I ran out doors and through the deep snowbanks to the little creek just back of our house. Chopping a hole through the thin ice, I allowed the gun to drop into the water. I had no more than finished my delightful task than I heard a terrifying scream.

Turning around I beheld my brother, coming for me on the dead run. I started for the house, although I had little hope of ever reaching it.

I never could understand why the largest snowbank had to be between the creek and the house. Just as I was parallel with it, I felt an icy hand gripping my arm. I started to faint, but he was used to my tricks by now, so he gave me an extra shove and I landed face down in that huge snowbank. He then proceeded to pile more snow on top of me, and when he was satisfied, he ran into the house to tell mother about his gun. When I reached the door, weary and half-frozen, what should greet my eyes but that familiar razor strap? It had not been in use, but the look in mother's eyes told me it soon would be.

The Youngest In The Family

There are a great many disadvantages in being the youngest member of the family. If you want to go to a show or like form of amusement, you must beg till you have received permission. Your older brother goes and not a word is said. If you want to buy something you must beg and tease, giving all the good and practical uses of the said article, before your staunch father will hand you the needed cash. Your older brother gets it without any argument at all. If your older brother wants the family car for reasons of his own, he gets it. You, however, would have to present an argument that would convince your father that you would do as he directs. You

Colonial Life In Early America

The pupils in the eighth-B history class have been studying the pioneer life of the early Americans. To help gain a better picture of them, the children have been writing letters to friends as if they were telling of their personal experiences. Some of these letters were illustrated with original drawings. The letter given below, written by Eva Scarpulla, was cleverly illustrated with pictures of her family, their home, a school, and also illustrations of how they did things during the day.

Pioneer Days West Of Allegheny

Dear children, I have a great story to tell you, a story which is interesting and true of my girlhood.

We lived in a log cabin as some of you probably know; we had a fine place and odd pieces of furniture. We did not have libraries or drawing rooms, children, we didn't even know about them. We did not have trains or buses or street cars to take us where we pleased; there were only stage coaches that came when they could. There were no banks or movies.

When some of you children have to go to school you cry and pout and don't want to go, but children, you are very lucky to have such an opportunity. The children of pioneer days had to work instead of go to school, and a child who got three months of school was very fortunate.

The school was not like yours, it was a one-room schoolhouse, made out of logs. When it wasn't blocked with smoke, a fireplace heated the room. They did not have desks like you, just benches, and the teacher had a stump for her desk.

When the young boys and girls were to marry, they would do so before they were through the teens. The father would give the groom a horse and cow, and the mother would provide the bride with a few kitchen needs, and the neighbors would pitch in and build a cabin for them.

Boys did not live as near your homes as they do nowadays, and there were no hospitals or sanitariums to take care of the sick. The doctor lived six to ten miles from your home, and sometimes before the doctor arrived at the sick person's house or the sick person could get to the doctor, the patient would be dead.

There were no electric lights or gas stoves. The candle that gave us light was not like the ones you buy at the store; they were made at home, but we were thankful to have even those. We would cook our food over the fireplace in pots or pans.

There were no stores near your home as they are now-a-days. If you wanted to shop you would have to go east to some town where they had a few things to sell; that meant twelve to fourteen miles—perhaps more. We did not buy our soap at stores like we do now, but made it at home in a large pan.

Now-a-days your mail comes every day, and sometimes twice a day; but in pioneer days it would come once every month and sometimes once every two months, when the coach came around—if it had not been robbed or stuck in the mud for a couple of days.

The pioneers were very jealous of their eastern neighbors. They thought that officers who worked at Washington made too much money. When they saw the farmer who was quite wealthy they would talk about him immediately.

When the people wanted to move they did not have moving vans like we have. Instead they used covered wagons to move their few belongings from place to place. Their clothing was not of silks or satins, but of odd homespun cloth that was made at home.

Children, there is much more to tell you of the pioneer days, but it would make this story very long. And now, my children, I am leaving you to enjoy the pleasant, big business world of today.

Aircraft News

If one were to visit the Aircraft Club Tuesday the fifth hour, one would see airplanes flying gracefully around the room. Most of the boys have completed their simple models and have started on more difficult planes. The high school auditorium seems to be a good place to try out the airplanes. The boys are doing successful work for beginners.

The Ohio State Journal is talking about the super-abundance of natural gas, yet congress won't get down to work for considerably more than a month.

Officers Training Conference

Eight o'clock Saturday morning, October 18, found Marion Gust, Evelyn Starkweather, Marion Teft, Alnee Blackmore and Doris Holloway of the Senior Girl Reserves, and Roberta Chappel and Dorothy Stauffer of the Junior Girl Reserves, on their way to officers training conference at the Detroit Y. W. C. A.

On their arrival at the Y. W. C. A., they were told to check their clothing on the sixth floor. They walked up, as the elevators were not working. Then they were told to go to the registering table and there they would receive a booklet of the day's program.

At ten o'clock, everyone gathered in the auditorium where devotions were led by Miss Anderson, general head of the Y. W. C. A., after which the city-wide presidents of the high school, intermediate and elementary clubs were introduced. Then they adjourned to the Girl Reserve room on the sixth floor where they were assigned the rooms to go to according to the office they represented. After a half-hour discussion, the groups again assembled in the Girl Reserve room and the secretary of each group gave reports of their discussions.

Then they adjourned for luncheon, after which all met in the auditorium where they sang songs, heard a very interesting talk on the "Future" by Miss Cleo Murland and were entertained by singers and speakers from the school clubs.

The conference dispersed at four o'clock, and the recreation hour began. The girls could go skating or swimming.

They returned home from the conference with a feeling that they knew more about the duties of their offices than before.

Who's Afraid

The fact that it will soon be time for goblins and ghosts, witches and broomsticks to make their annual visit was not forgotten by the members of the Historical Characters Club who had a Halloween party at the home of Kenneth Timpane last Saturday evening. Russell Kirk, dressed as a pirate, won first prize for his costume. Katherine Schultz told a ghost story that was fearful enough to scare even the bravest of Halloween heroes; for during the telling of the story in the dark, the Historical Characters Club who had to handle such hideous things as dead man's eyes, veins, bones and even hands. When the lights were again turned on they were much surprised to find that a wet glove filled with sand had been the hand of the dead man, while cooked macaroni and a skinned grape had served as his eyes and ears. Of course many games were played, including the eating of apples on strings; and fortunes were drawn by everyone.

They were served refreshments consisting of pop corn, apples, candy and peanuts. At nine o'clock, the party came to an end, and in spite of the stories of witches and ghosts no one seemed afraid to go home.

R Masq-Ball What the society reporters call a 'colorful event'—was—and how! This is in reference to last Friday night. All the children, for miles beabout, both old and young, older and younger, came, marvelled, played and danced. Some of those who came in their nature faces tried to play at bridge. There was the largest crowd there ever, if one could pack another sardine in a can by taking out the oil, then we could have packed another dancer by taking out the harmony musicians. There were clowns and black crazy katz, black, blue, green or in fact multi-colored and colored faces, fancy and comely, the best yet and ever. And the cats komitee had decorations, homemade pie, sandwiches, coffee and milk and a hog-head of cider, enjoyed by all—something for everyone, and everyone for something. Then came the Grande Marche.

Led by the local nit-wit as a scarecrow, came Amos (Don Johnston) and Andy (Joe Schroeder, Jr.) and wind-ling up with Crazy Kitten (Lona Belle Rohde), and Bumerono Kid (Frank Davis). Several invited guests from Northville and Detroit, led by our bolshy, Jos. Hayden, acted as judges, who announced the following, with appropriate prizes, to wit:

Comes—Mrs. Emma Brown, 'Mildly Bewery,' prize 10-cent aluminum preserving kettle; Roland Jones, 'fruit' 'gentleman' 'Hobo,' prize new Gillette safety razor; Fanny, Paul Harslag, 'Kid Bureaucrat,' prize genuine French broken pipe; Miss Edith Bruner (Detroit), 'Spanish Dancer,' prize, Djer-Kiss Combination set; Children: Miss Veronica Marti, 'Old Fashioned Lady,' and Miss Lona Belle Rohde, 'Black Kitten,' prize both received four (4) bits each.

William a double for 'Belle of the Ball' was Mrs. Emma Brown. The 'dude' was Master Billie Winkler as the Count de Noacourt. The prize 'comely' was Mister Roland Jones, in looks and actions; and certainly Miss Edith Bruner was the prettiest dressed as a Spanish dancer in her gown of crimson and gold.

We had some square and other old fashioned dances, in between times they ate and dranked doughnuts in coffee and cider, and the kiddies having been sent home at eleven, the dancers and bridges, at cards, danced and played till two ante meridian in the morning. Those that came enjoyed themselves, and those who did not count 'em on their fingers wish they had. Surtlee, instead of weather being the topic, it was 'say, I didn't know ya las' nite'—same old, no what!

Brother Joe Schroeder is wiring away, and Cousin Frank J. Krug and his plumblicians are piping away for dear life on the Stover job. As the building is now all enclosed and Bill Davis is covering up Uncle Robert Wilson's shape in with brick and stone, one now has to enter to see the nice layout of the place. And another thing, stuffin' new in manner of windows, all steel, plate glass, screened, and set in a special moulding carked with mosaic, which makes them wind, weather and mosquito proof.

Too bad, they had to cut down three of the trees, but one was rescued and set out in the Bonds' Kitchen yard. Hope it'll grow.

Signs of the times—'For Sale, owner phone 00-00' Oh!

There was an accident at R emporium (Bill) the big pumpkin that was all lit up like Hallowe'en himself just cooked with the electric lite inside, so Hoff had to have Mrs. Hoffman cut out another, so they hope this will last the present season with a smaller lite lamp.

'Tis Indian summer and nice afternoons mothers are taking the babies down by the woods, between the trees, watching the squirrels and the house builders at the same time at our farthest south.

Not so many blowouts along US12 these cooler days, but the no running shy of gas will soon be taken care of, as our newest emporium of white and red will take care of that as well as a hot sandwich or so as Mister Schmidt plans fuel for the human as well as the family bus or truck.

Now that frost has nipt all the flowers but a few hums, extra, we don't have so many Surtlee visitors. One Buttermilkker reports the following conversation downtown dept. store toher aftn. 'Oh, lo, Mabel, how r ya, was our 1st-12 last Surtlee. 'Why didn't you stop at my store?' 'Well, daddy, I set we would, only nobody was hungry.' Which all goes to prove—what?

Book Union, Stuart Wank, Clarence Hoffman, Joseph Schroeder, Sam McKinney, Arthur J. Boyd (and others) went huntin' and brought back—well—st them.

Mrs. Fred Winkler entertained some young folks at dinner as did Mrs. R. Porteous last Friday, after which they went over to the school and incidently won a couple prizes at the masq. ball.

Some folks wants to know how is it? Well, in the observer's opinion it is just this way—give the folks what they want in way of amusement, and all will turn out with bells and catinnes, and dance and play cards, and will contribute more than a share for the purpose. Now leave all prejudices aside and get together with the majority rule, and everything will come out just rite. Attest: October 24, post meridian, and also last year. Again? Sure! Soon!

It is reported on very reliable authority (Mister C. H.) that the Sunday-school and P. T. A. each will receive over thirty bucks dollars each on account of the McK. and H. emporium's party. Which same was badly needed and is very thankfully received.

A number of the older homes are having aprons run side walk to street on the driveways. Thus saving a lot of mush swabbing the coming wet weather. The Land 'Co. is having all the olde homes for sale done this way, thus adding to the attractiveness of everything renovated.

Pumpkin—squash pie is in season. Oh, you ginger flavor!

Mrs. Fred C. Weibert is home from Ford hospital with infant Richard C., who probably will be known as just Dick Weibert.

Herbert Kalmbach had a scare; they rushed him to Providence Hosp. Tuesdee, but he came home next day—nothin' serious, we are glad.

Next Surtlee, as an additional feature for our morning worship at 10:45, we are going to have a violin treat, as Miss Virginia Treven of Pontiac is coming along visiting the Harsbans and bringing her fiddle-violin. Those who are fortunate enough to have the acquaintance of Miss Virginia and her violin will certainly be over to hear her again, and those who do not know either better come along to church anyhow and hear her play. The Rosedale school girls club is also practicing up their values for the same service. So don't forget. The Rev. Bennett is to deliver the sermon.

Mrs. Arthur J. Boyd has some nice kittens, more or less Persian, for adoption. Those who have some of this famous strain of mouse catchers surely are satisfied with results obtained. All the qualification necessary, if you wish one, is to promise it a good home.

Penniman Allen Theatre Plymouth, Michigan MOTION PICTURE PROGRAM

'HALF SHOT AT SUNRISE'

RADIO PICTURES' wartime comedy with music, 'Half Shot at Sunrise,' to be seen at the Penniman Allen Theatre, Sunday and Monday, November 2 and 3, fully lives up to its name, and is a picture in fun-making for the talkies and for Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey, featured comedians.

They have an even greater chance to be funny than they had in 'The Cuckoos,' itself a great success.

Cast as two American doughboys, they go A. W. O. L. in Paris. The only reason the Eiffel Tower remains standing is that they do not get within range of it. They steal their Colonel's automobile, his daughter and his best French sweetheart.

The story, an irresponsible and funny one, holds its tempo without interruption while the laughs come from hilarious situations and clever dialogue, rather than from the time-worn 'gag' system. The climax, wherein the boys emerge as heroes, is a riot of laughter.

The cast, an excellent one, includes Hugh Trevor and Dorothy Lee, of 'The Cuckoos,' Roberta Robinson, the movie 'Cinderella Girl,' Edna May Oliver, who was the comedienne in the stage presentation of 'Show Boat,' Leni Stengel, continental beauty, Geo. MacFarland and John Rutherford.

'A MAN FROM WYOMING'

WAR-TIME exploits of the Engineer Corps are effectively reproduced in Gary Cooper's latest starring film, 'A Man from Wyoming,' appearing at the Penniman Allen Theatre, Wednesday and Thursday, November 3 and 4, in which the gallant Gary portrays a captain in that famous branch of the A. E. F.

A pontoon bridge 150 feet long and 16 feet wide was smashed by shell-fire explosions for one of the scenes. The bridge was built over a stream, the outlet of Mallin Lake in California. Dynamite blasts, producing the effect of exploding shells, sent the structure flying into splinters, the force of the explosions throwing huge chunks of timber 20 feet and more into the air. Safety lines were drawn fifty yards around the bridge for the protection of workers while Cooper and his men dared death and possible injury working in the scene.

An ambulance was sunk to a watery grave in another scene. The ambulance was sent speeding over the bridge until it reached a point at which a bomb had been planted. The explosion turned the car on its side and tore a gap in the bridge. Cooper and his squad of engineers then rushed on to the bridge and with a mighty heave ho sent the wrecked automobile into ten feet of water. Such were the methods engineers were compelled to resort to during the war to keep bridges and roads clear for the troops and supplies.

'EXTRAVAGANCE'

THE Penniman Allen Theatre is presenting Friday and Saturday, November 1 and 2, the Tiffany production, 'Extravagance,' in which June Callender and Lloyd Hughes head an all-star cast that includes Dorothy Christie, Owen Moore, Jameson Thomas, Gwen Lee, Bobby Agnew, Joan Standing, Addie McPhail and Nella Walker.

'Extravagance' is an original story by A. P. Younger, with scenario and dialogue by Adele Buffington. It is a story of modern youth and marriage. Alice Kendall was the pet of her set—sons and daughters of millionaires and having every temptation. Her daring mother had impoverished herself to provide Alice with the luxuries she accepted as her right because her friends had them. Her last gesture is a lovely wedding and the best trousseau the money from the sale of her last jewels will buy.

After that the burden of Alice's extravagance falls on her young husband, Fred Gardin, who is only comfortably fixed financially. While Alice is coaxing for a sable coat, Fred is trying to borrow enough money to keep his business going. And then Alice meets Morrell, a broker who stays a bachelor by flirting only with married women who get a thrill out of cheating their husbands. The events that follow carry 'Extravagance' to a startling climax.

Don't forget to vote next Tuesday, the fourth.

Fourth and Fifth Grades Miss Peck's Room

We are very happy because we have nine people on our Dental Honor Roll. The fourth and fifth grades are having a contest in drilling the multiplication tables. The grade that wins is entertained by the losing grade.

We were weighed this week. Nearly all of us have gained weight by following the health rules.

The pupils on the honor roll for October are: Jennie Ames, Margaret Leslie, Veronica Marti, Lona Belle Rohde, Frances Wagner, Howard Walbridge, Robert Webster, Douglas Kalmbach, Mary Rau.

We have begun the study of lettering. We are learning how to cut letters. We are interested in different kinds of lettering. —Reporter, Wesley Hoffman.

Well, anyway, in the horse and buggy days, you didn't have to drive several blocks to find a hitching place.

Here's just a little suggestion: we think you folks will find it convenient to announce bake sales, parties, etc. in this space. No charge, of course.

A Michigan bridegroom collapsed twice during the wedding ceremony. They made him go through with it, though.

There probably isn't a thing in our business that you can't send away for, if you prefer to do it that way. But personal service and personal interest don't come in mail order packages.

Kiwanis Inter-Club Meeting Successful

put his stuff over right from the start, and if old Dull Care or General Depression were hanging around the hall they must have left suddenly as it was no place for them, with everyone laughing right out loud and making no apologies for it. Jules tried to withdraw gracefully several times, but the audience was so insistent that he gave a straight hour and half's entertainment. He is a very versatile entertainer, using a piano, his singing, his humor, with very few properties and the Plymouth club was very fortunate in being able to get his services.

This was undoubtedly the best inter-club Kiwanis meeting ever held in Plymouth, and much credit is due to Lt. Gov. Robert Joffile and Trustee Luther Peck, chairman of the inter-club relations, together with all of the other members who worked to make this meeting a success.

The Rotary Club presented a beautiful basket of flowers for the speakers' table and Kiwanian Carl Heide and wife furnished rose-buds for each lady present.

Canning Apples For Pies

Pare, quarter and core tart apples. Have water in preserving kettle boiling hot. Drop quarters enough for one can into the hot water and cook until done, but not over. Remove with large spoon into sterilized jars and fill jars with water in which apples were cooked and seal. They will keep perfectly and make a much better pie than when made into applesauce. When needed for pie, place quarters around in crust and proceed as for fresh apple pie except use the juice in jar instead water in the pie. If wanted for sauce reheat and, sweeten to taste.

Flowers Aid Swiss Paving

Flowers are being used by the Elvaz, Switzerland, to raise funds for paving the main highway which runs through the little village. Tourists passing through on pleasant Sunday mornings are greeted at the outskirts by signs, decorated with flowers, and invited to notice the well-paved street, which is new and kept constantly clean. At the village square, girls in national costumes sell small bouquets of mountain flowers to the visitors, the proceeds going to the road building fund of the village.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear Mother Amy A. Millard who passed away October 29th, 1916. Today we are thinking of someone, who was so loving, so kind and true. Whose smile was as dear as sunshine. Dear Mother that someone is you.

She was so loving and kind in her ways. Upright and just to the end of her days.

Sincere and true in heart and mind. A beautiful memory she left behind.

The law gives any man in Plymouth the right to open his wife's letters—but it doesn't give him the nerve to do it.

The trouble with the younger generation is that it is demanding more horsepower when what it needs is more will power.

Carving a chicken is a good deal like conducting a dry raid—the main thing is to locate the joints.

Buying a lot of kitchen utensils for the modern Plymouth bride is a good deal like buying a fly net for the automobile.

A Vermont hen laid an egg weighing one pound and we'll bet some vain rooster crowed in taking credit for it.

After listening to some people's chatter you begin to wonder if ears are not more of a liability than an asset.

Not that it matters, but how many Plymouth citizens can remember when a criminal was afraid of an officer of the law?

If the old saying that a burned child hates the fire" was correct Wall Street would have been out of business long ago.

Nowadays you can get an electrical device to do almost everything about the home except keep the family there.

An old-timer is anyone in Plymouth who can remember when pie was sliced in four pieces—and each piece was sold for a pickle.

From the number of accidents being reported over the country, it would seem proper nowadays to open the hunting season with prayer.

A bachelor is a fellow who can't see any sense in exchanging a precious stone for a grindstone.

A Plymouth girl's idea of sensible shoes is a pair so tight that they hurt her feet.

A good athlete is one who tries to save his wind. It's a pity that we haven't more athletes in Congress.

Wonder what they talked about in this country before prohibition came along?

What has become of the old-fashioned Plymouth woman who used to dip her face in a pot of coffee to make it look old?

Old Father Adam had this advantage—he could prove that he never kissed any other woman besides his wife.

Dad Plymouth says few girls of today can make better bread than their mothers did, but a lot of boys are making better rolls than their fathers did.

"If monkeys could talk," asserts Dad Plymouth "they would probably beg the scientists to quit trying to prove that men descended from them."

Among the misnamed things in life are "easy payments," "painless dentists" and "safety zones."

According to Dad Plymouth the upkeep of the car isn't always as expensive as the turn over.

More charity began at home in the good old days," asserts Dad Plymouth "because in the good old days there was always someone at home to begin it."

Reading that the crime bill of the United States is estimated at ten billion dollars a year Dad Plymouth says it's a pity that farming isn't a criminal enterprise.

Ford Digs Two Mile Tunnel for A Billion Gallons of Water a Day

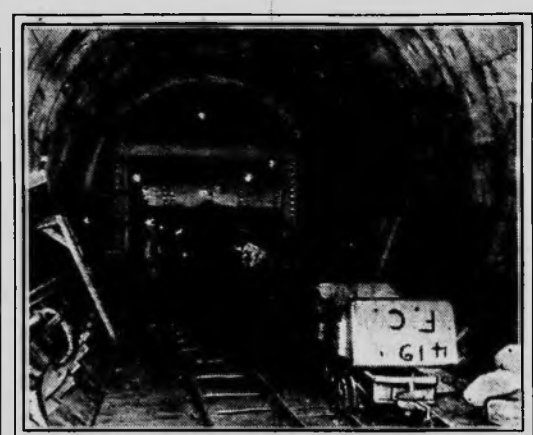

NEARLY a billion gallons of water a day—more than is used by the cities of Detroit, Philadelphia, Cincinnati and Washington combined—will be the capacity of a huge tunnel now nearing completion at the Rouge Plant of the Ford Motor Company, Dearborn, Michigan.

The tunnel will replace the present water intake system which supplies the Ford plants with 500,000,000 gallons a day. At the same time the company is remodeling its power house to greatly increase the power output. Both improvements, costing several million dollars, are being made to enlarge the production facilities of the Ford plant.

Sixty Feet Under Ground
In constructing the roadway, the largest of its kind ever undertaken by a single business concern, the engineers are burrowing sixty feet under ground for a distance of two and a fifth miles. They have gone under main highways, railroads, street car tracks, bridges, a cemetery and a creek.

One of the most difficult tasks was that of tunneling under Baby Creek at a point which is crossed by a railroad bridge and where also a large sewer sewer construction by the city of Detroit. The piles that provide the foundation for the bridge and those driven by the company constructing the sewer formed a network on each side of the creek. It was the task of the Ford engineers to burrow under the creek, sewer and bridge, going between the piles without striking or weakening them.

Boring of the tunnel is accomplished by means of a shield—a large steel cylinder fourteen feet long and twenty one foot in outside diameter with a solid steel shell or skin two and a fourth inches thick. This shield has a bulkhead which is made fast near the front end. There are four openings through which the mud streams, like toothpaste from a tube, as the shield is shoved forward by twenty powerful hydraulic jacks.

When the shield has been pushed forward sufficiently concrete blocks two and a half feet wide and five feet long, each weighing 3,420 pounds, are placed to form a ring around the circumference of the tunnel. One of them acts as a keystone so that the lining of concrete, which is eighteen inches thick, withstands the pressure of the earth. After this steel forms are set up and filled with concrete in form a solid inner lining which is also eighteen inches thick.

The present intake system of the Ford plant has a capacity of 500,000,000 gallons a day. The new tunnel will be able to carry 913,600,000 gallons.

CONTRACTS LET REVEAL CONSTRUCTION GAINS IN DETROIT AND STATE

SEPTEMBER SURPASSES AUGUST BUT 1929 HIGHS STAND OUT; HOMES IMPORTANT.

PERRINSVILLE

September contracts awarded for new construction in southern Michigan totaled $17,691,100 as against $15,216,800 in August and $46,158,800 in September, 1929, according to The F. W. The past month's contract total included $2,929,700 for non-residential buildings and $676,000 for public works and utilities. New building and engineering work started in Detroit since the first of this year has reached a total of $49,215,400, while the total for the first nine months of 1929 was $115,533,900.

County Will Buy Road Land Now

We believe that wide rights of way are fundamental, and since they could never be acquired any cheaper than at present, it is sound economic policy to pursue the acquisition faithfully and vigorously, stated Road Commissioner Edward N. Hines recently.

The plan tends to stabilize real estate values, but its chief value is the prevention of errors in physical development and the consequent waste of public money. Postponement of acquisition of land for public use always makes the cost greater and to delay too long is sometimes to postpone forever.

During the past two weeks our right of way department has acquired 13,494 feet of wider width of right of way. Frontage was acquired on Base Line, Michigan, Schowcraft, Seven Mile and Ford 204-foot superhighways; on the 150-foot wide Outer Drive and on Dix, Ford, Goddard, Inkster, Pelham, River and Coolidge roads with their Master Plan width of 120 feet.

This frontage was acquired by dedication, by exchange of rear property for frontage, by purchase or by condemnation.
