BUSINESS TO BE MUCH BETTER IN 1931 STATES TELEPHONE OFFICIAL

MANAGER ROY CROWE RECEIVES AN INTERESTING VIEW OF CONDITIONS.

Roy Crowe, manager of the Plymouth, Wayne and Northville branches of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, has just received from the general offices of the company a copy of a recent article prepared by Walter S. Gifford, president of the American Bell Telephone Company, in which the prediction is made that 1931 will be a year of better business conditions.

Because of the excellence of the article and the encouraging aspect it presents of conditions, the Mail believes it will be of special interest to all the readers of this paper.

It follows:

"That 1931 will be a year of improving business conditions would seem to be inevitable. At the same time we cannot achieve the full measure of a democratic prosperity unless we can achieve a greater control of depression; for it is the unfortunate characteristic of depressions that they be hardest upon those least able to stand them.

This civilization of ours with its promise of constantly better standards is like a high-powered machine. It needs more attention than the simpler economic structures common before we attained our present industrial development. But a belief in the possibility of prevention and control of major depressions is, I think, a product of the modern industrial age—an age of organization in business which has given rise to statistical measurement. Only recently has the use of statistics developed sufficiently to provide a picture of enough of the economic activity to stir men's imaginations to the possibility of leveling the periodic cycles of boom and depression.

The 1924 depression not only gave us a lesson in the dangers of large inventories which we have not forgotten; it crystallized the idea of the possibility of controlling the business cycle.

The older scientists in economics confined themselves to the records of the past; for these were used and could be analyzed on what they considered a scientific basis. The newer analysis and study uses the past but also tackles the much more difficult problem of the moving present and the problematical future. This newer economics takes more courage, for a turn of events may at any time prove the author wrong. Yet it is a courage well worth while, for as the student of living economics perceives their reality, it can be used for the prevention of the sufferings of depression and for the upbuilding of the nation.

The analysis of the moving present in such a complex civilization as ours, not to mention the future, is obviously an exceedingly difficult matter. No one could expect to evolve a precise technic in such a length of time as it has been in practice. The fact that error is common tends to make people hesitate to base their actions on the data, and now that the data and the interpretations of them were not still subject to error, people would be somewhat slow to utilize them, because it is human for new practices to take hold slowly.

What did all the study do to prevent this depression? Certainly not enough to stop it but I think it did do a considerable amount to soften it.

The point I want to make is that we met the problems of this depression better than we should have with our planned progress based on economic studies.

As we practice the technic of making and using studies we ought to get better and better in the future, a little brighter than he thinks it is. In order that he may influence it to be so. Moreover, he knows that to make a gloomy prophecy in public will earn for him the dislike of the business world.

For example, when the stock market was in the midst of its boom, the Federal Reserve Bank issued a statement which was taken as a warning that the market might collapse. The warning was true enough, but it was not received with appreciation. On the other hand, the optimistic statements from other sources were taken with avidity.

If we are going to use the truth for our guide, we shall have to acquire the habit of telling it in public without rose-tinting it. Technical excellence in statistics and forecasting trends will not be effective if it is habitually colored when presented to the public.

There seems to be little or nothing in the partisan claim to prosperity. And there seems about as much in the old theory that election year is a bad year in business. From 1884 until now there have been five election years below normal, and five above normal, and two in which business came from below to above normal.

We can hardly accept as a satisfactory civilization one which periodically jeopardizes the livelihood of millions of people and leaves in the wake of each era of jeopardy ill-cared-for children, wretched families and broken individuals. As we believe in the effectiveness of business leadership and the activities of voluntary associations more than in government control, there

Plymouth Committee Now Organized For Christmas Seal Sale

LOCAL COMMITTEE PLANS FOR LARGER DEMAND THAN EVER BEFORE.

The 1930 Christmas Seal sale will officially open in Wayne County next Wednesday morning, at 11:30 A. M., announced Mrs. Charles O. Ball, Chairman of the committee for Plymouth.

It is the plan of the entire Plymouth committee consisting of Mrs. Ball, Mrs. E. C. Walbridge, Mrs. Arlo Emery, Mrs. Paul Butz, Miss Athalie Hough and Mrs. Bert Moore to make the annual sale a greater success than ever before, and in so doing ask the co-operation of every one in Plymouth.

Wholehearted support of the 1930 sale of tuberculosis Christmas seals is expected by Dr. Alexander G. Ruthven, president of the University of Michigan and chairman of the State Christmas Seal Honorary Committee.

"Thanksgiving Day," Dr. Ruthven's statement reads, "marks the beginning of the sale of Christmas seals, by which the campaign against tuberculosis is financed. Tuberculosis becomes increasingly a problem when many are forced to do without proper food and are subjected to other privations. Present conditions of unemployment and restricted activity, uncontrolled increase in the number of tuberculosis deaths such as occurred in European countries, for example, at the time of the World War.

The Christmas seal sale furnishes the opportunity to guard against this threat of added tuberculosis, with all that it implies in costly sickness, premature death, and bereaved families. All who can do so should purchase the seals. Not only will such purchases help save lives, but, equally important, they will afford instruction of measures to prevent future deaths having their origin in present circumstances."

FIRE DAMAGES BIG ALLEN BARN

Efficient work on the part of the Plymouth fire department averted what might have been a disastrous fire early Tuesday evening.

Flames starting after a spark from a chimney or from defective wiring caused about $20,000 worth of damage to the large barn on the Allen property on Penniman avenue.

Harrassed by ice and freezing weather, the firemen were at first unable to get to the flames which were under the roof. Ice made it impossible to get on the roof and make holes for water to go through, and they were helpless until the fire itself had made a good-sized opening.

Some furniture was stored in the barn, but it was all taken out before the flames were piled on the second floor caused a good deal of the blaze and made it harder to check the blaze because firemen were unable to get to it. The property was well insured.

Funeral Services Held For Mrs. R. R. Dunlap

The funeral services of Mrs. R. R. Dunlap, were held from the Schrader Bros. Funeral Home, Sunday, November 23, Reverend F. Leonard officiated, interment at Riverside cemetery.

The deceased will be remembered as Mrs. Wm. Weeks, who was a resident of Plymouth for more than 40 years.

Miss Frances Weber, was born in Wayne, Michigan, November 7, 1861 and died November 21, 1930. She was united in marriage to Wm. Weeks in 1881. To this union four children were born: Mrs. Eunice Burckshaw, Detroit, Mr. Glenn Weeks, Northville, Mrs. Luree Smith, Plymouth, and Elmer, deceased. Her husband, Wm. Weeks, died February 9, 1920, the son, Elmer, the following day.

Three sisters Mrs. Anna MacDonald, Detroit, Mrs. Sarah Davenport, Beverly Hills, California, Mrs. J. M. Kennedy, Portland, Oregon, and one brother, Wm. Weber, Detroit, survive.

Since her second marriage she had resided at Argentine, Michigan, where during her late and fatal illness she had the comforting care of her two daughters.

It is every reason why business should accept the major responsibility for stabilization.

In this effort the government's fact-finding agencies, its scientific forces and its statistical forces can be and are of the greatest assistance, because the one hopeful method toward the control of business depressions is the current study of the elements of current business and the use of the results of such study in the making of business decisions.

"As I have tried to point out, that method has made very considerable progress in recent years. Its practice is improving and its use is spreading. It is in essence the widespread acquisition of a kind of higher education in business—the establishment of a professional knowledge and attitude. Progress made upon so wide a foundation as this has solidity and strength. But the building up of a standard of this kind is relatively slow.

"The test of civilization is the well-being and advancement of a population. It will take time to make business management a science that can begin the control of the cycles of business and make it a profession that recognizes its full obligation to make industry serve society.

"What we must have is faith, hope and charity, and perhaps some day we shall not need charity. In the meantime, let us keep in mind that progress is not something to be achieved affected for an appreciable period of time by any of the maladjustments that temporarily beset the path of our orderly progress."

SUPT. GEORGE SMITH ADVANCES MODERN CRIMINAL THEORY

HE DOES NOT BELIEVE IN CAPITAL PUNISHMENT; WOULD CURB PAROLE POWER.

The supreme court of every state, instead of the governor, would be the final and last court of appeal in all pardoning and parole cases if the idea of Supt. George A. Smith of the Plymouth public schools became law.

Supt. Smith firmly believes, according to an interview given the Mail, that if the rights of juries and parolees were taken from the governor and placed within the jurisdiction of the supreme courts of each state, there would be fewer mistakes in the pardoning and paroling of prisoners.

Not only that, but he makes it clear that hanging and execution would not be his way to punish murderers.

Supt. Smith says:

"The question of crime prevention as it applies to murder especially always causes several divisions in public opinion:

"1. There are those who are driven by fear to approve measures which they and the great majority of people would be ashamed to admit that they believe.

"2. There is the lazy-minded group who are always willing to follow the path of least resistance and hence, say, 'Kill them.'

"3. There is the sub-sister group who are unable to see clearly because of the fact that the tears in their eyes and probably will forever cloud their vision.

"4. There is also a group which believes that crime prevention is the great thing and, while they themselves would be willing to press the electric button in capital punishment if they believed it would better society, believe that there is a decidedly more sensible and scientific way of treating the convicted murderer than by capital punishment.

"When we survey the crime situation in Michigan and America today and realize that the majority of the worst crimes are committed by boys in their teens or early majority, we all realize that we have a situation which commands the attention of every thinking person in our commonwealth.

"When we read in the paper of a hold-up and brutal murder by boys fifteen, sixteen or twenty years of age, I am personally not concerned with the fact that someone has been shot or that property has been taken without an exchange of value any more than I am vitally concerned with a case of disease or the breaking of an automobile or an airplane or even a political theory. These conditions are all incidents to me and the thing that I am concerned with in each case is what has caused the breakdown. The first group would say, 'Kill the sick, prohibit the automobile and airplane and thereby protect us from further danger. The second group would say the same as the first, but, of course, for a different reason. The third group would say, 'Let it go bad.' The fourth group and the group which I believe is right would say in regard to crime the same as industry has said in regard to its research. 'If a car breaks, study the breaking; if an airplane breaks, study the causes; if a disease has broken, study the disease, if a case of disease or the breaking of an automobile or an airplane or even a political theory. A WORTH WHILE SUGGESTION

In this issue of the Mail will be found on the first page an article of more than usual interest. It is an interview with Supt. George Smith of the local schools in which he sets forth his views on present conditions and in which he also suggests a way to end the criticism that goes with the handling of paroles and pardons. He would take out of the hands of the governor and parole commissioner the work of the parole board, and make the supreme court the final authority on paroles and pardons. To accomplish this would necessitate an extensive change in the machinery of the state government, but on the other hand, there is no question but what it would be a one hundred percent improvement over present conditions.

CHRISTMAS NEXT

Thanksgiving begins the great holiday season of American life. Soon Christmas and New Years, the joyous, happiest days of all. Christmas to all the world is the merriest day of all. It is the day when an effort is made to bring a bit of happiness into every life—and therein was the beginning of the presentation of gifts, because it is through some little gift, no matter how small, that one's regard for another can best be expressed. To provide for this exchange of Christmas cheer, Plymouth merchants have filled their stores with gifts of every kind and for every purpose. Their part in helping to spread the cheer of Christmas should be reciprocated on our part by the patronage we owe them.

ROADSIDE VANDALISM

One of the most noticeable features seen along the highways during the past few months is the fencing in of fields, woods and farms. In past years this precaution was not taken as it did not become apparent that some means of protection must be instituted in the rural sections until very recent years when motorists that may be classed either as "Smart Alecks" or lawless individuals began virtually to rob fields, orchards, gardens or hickory nut groves whenever it struck their fancy.

This class of motorist has deprived honest, decent persons who are fond of motoring of the privileges offered by the rural sections. Followers of the golden rule must suffer for the mean acts of the lawless and it is this latter class which is causing the highways to be strictly fenced off to every person that now rides along the countryside. Roadside vandalism should be dealt with severely in order that respectable citizens may be permitted to obtain some of the pleasures which nature has provided in some of the beautiful spots of this state and country.—Lyons (N. Y.) Republican.

BY DOING, NOT BY DITTOING

We can't learn to play the violin by watching Kreisler. Nor to sell by watching somebody else do it. Nor to advertise by going to a convention and writing speeches down in a book.

Pre-cancelled stamps, good fill-ins, mailing it on the right day, and mailing list, are all important—but they have nothing to do with the ability to present a situation, to persuade, to plant the buying germ in the mind of the reader.

We may trim our whiskers like Andy Carnegie's and still stay poor. We may walk stiff-heeled like Babe Ruth, and still strike out. We may imitate the mannerisms of the big timers, and never have a big time.

Development in advertising comes more from cudgeling one's own brain, than from copying the other fellow's.

QUICK WATSON, THE AMONIA!

A part of your job during the next few months will be assisting in the big job of getting poor Uncle Samuel back on his feet again, industrially and financially.

We don't know who it was who hit Unkie such a wicked smash while he was busy looking at the stock exchange quotations, but in spite of the fact we've held a longer count than they gave Tunney at Chicago we still find the old boy sagging on the ropes and not able to get back in the ring and make a running fight of it until his head clears.

But it is no time to be discouraged. Don't be caught selling your country short. Some of these days Uncle Sam will start swinging from the hips and down will go unemployment, trade paralysis and financial stagnation in a heap. Climb up in the old man's corner and help him come out of this temporary swoon—he's a long ways from being defeated yet.

MAKE THIS YOUR PHILOSOPHY

Only twelve persons in the world are said to be capable of understanding Dr. Albert Einstein's theory of relativity. When he talks about space, and time, and matters, the rest of us stand around in open-mouth wonder. And yet this German mathematician and philosopher can write most delightfully about the more common things of life. For instance:

"From the viewpoint of daily life, there is one thing we know, that man is here for the sake of other men—above all, for those upon whose smile and well-being our own happiness depends, and also for the countless unknown souls with whose fate we are connected by a bond of sympathy."

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

The Taxpayer's Dollar

One noticeable feature of the October sessions of Michigan supervisors was a tendency towards economy. So predominant was this sentiment throughout the entire state that in Washtenaw the Board actually cut the salary of its own members. In other counties the urge to curtail expenditure of the taxpayer's dollar was paramount, the county solons believing that the certain way to reduce taxes was to quit spending.

In taking the long road, the high road, towards economy, the supervisors were expressing a wide spread public opinion that the time has actually arrived when we should quit talking about our excessive tax burdens and begin to get some action looking towards relief.

There is no denying that for years almost every taxing unit in the state has been on a spending spree regardless of whether or not the money spent was absolutely necessary to community well being. If we erred at any time during this period it was more than likely to be in the direction of liberality, even to the point of extravagance.

Expert observers of the present tax situation believe that the present drive does not mean that economy will be practiced to the extent of cutting out all public improvements, which would furnish work for the unemployed, but that all needless activities should be suspended until the public has caught up with its tax-carrying burdens.—Howell Republican.

When Is Indian Summer?

Did we have Indian summer last month or did it begin last Saturday? Once again the old-timers are debating the problem. Some say that Indian summer is that period following the usual fall rains while others claim that snow must first fly before a period of warm weather can be called Indian summer.

At any rate the beautiful weather which began last Saturday and has continued until Monday, when this is being written, has been about the three most glorious days of the year. Warm and balmy breezes drifting in from the south, the sun shining brightly and shedding summer rays, nights with the sky clear and the full moon making night into twilight; truly it must be Indian summer and if it is not that debatable season at least it is a period thoroughly enjoyed by every Michigan resident, no matter what the name of the period may be.—Fred Kolster in Ionia County News.

Woolen Mills Pay More Than Olds or Reo

And now just what are Eaton Rapids mill employees kicking about, if they are kicking?

During the past few days it has been rumored that employees of the local mills have received in pay checks just about twice the amount of money during the past year than has been received in pay checks by local people employed in the Olds, Reo and other Lansing factories. Not so bad, is it?

Regardless of statements to the contrary, so financial men inform the Journal, local employees have received nearly twice the money in pay checks as that received by employees of Lansing factories. This is due, of course, to employment not being steady in Lansing. However, it is steady employment that counts, and a man might much better receive less pay, but steady income, than large pay with uncertain hours of employment.

The lure of the big plant, with the big pay, is alluring to some, but the man with the steady job, even the pay is less, is the fortunate individual today, and most any other day for that matter. At any rate he eats three meals a day usually, where in many instances the man with the big pay, in the big city, with the big idea, is a frequent member of the bread line.—J. D. Gifford in Eaton Rapids Review.

Business

We know a resident of this town who went to Port Huron to purchase a certain article, bought it and came home. He afterwards found that he could have bought the same article right here in Crosswell for the same price that he paid in the city. Now he was not showing the right spirit, you will say, for not buying at home. This is not the case. The article desired was something out of the usual, something that he did not suppose was handled in Crosswell, but he knew he could get it in Port Huron because the dealer down there had advertised it in the newspaper. Now which is to be blamed for the loss of trade to Crosswell? The dealer who did not let the public know that he was in business here, or the man who did not hunt around for what he wanted further than looking in the advertising columns of the newspaper. Of course we are prejudiced, but we have our opinion.—Dave Hubbell in Crosswell Jeffersonian.

A Dirty Thieving Trick

Relief From Curse of Constipation

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon.

The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderlie at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the nearest Rexall Drug Store. Beyer Pharmacy.

CORRECT HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE, DIZZINESS, DIABETES WITHOUT DIET.

Avoid paralysis and stomach troubles in advanced years. Do it with San Yak Pills for the kidneys. They give ease to stomach, antiseptic laxative deodorizing the bowels, cutting down the growth of bacteria in the colon, preventing 95 per cent of all human ills, including swelling of limbs and feet.

Dr. L. P. Bailey of Michigan says of San Yak: "It will do all you claim. It is fine medicine for the blood and has cured rheumatism of long standing. When one treats the kidneys with San Yak he is renewing the whole body. One can always depend on San Yak." Other physicians of Michigan say San Yak is the best medication of any disease.

(Too late for last week) Irl May and family have moved from Stark to the corner of Farmington and Schoolcraft roads.

Mrs. Ralph Vantassel and father, John Baker of this place and Mrs. Wm. Wilson and Mrs. H. Grms of Wayne, made a hurried trip to Lockport, N. Y., last week, because of the death of their aunt.

Mrs. F. C. Migill is spending the week in Detroit with friends.

Congratulations are being sent to Mr. and Mrs. Thorp on the birth of a baby girl.

H. E. Vantassel and Wm. Parry of Detroit were up north for the opening of the deer season, and the latter brought back a nice deer on Sunday.

News has been received that Bert McKinney has his deer. Here's luck to the rest of the crew.

Mrs. Charles McKinney is able to be about the store again.

Mrs. Mary Maynard has improved some from an attack of the flu.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Duncan of Detroit, spent Wednesday with Mrs. E. Winkler.

The Funeral Home

Modern conditions and standards of living have called into being an entirely new kind of institution for meeting a universal human need—the funeral home. Planned for the specific purpose which it serves, it offers greater efficiency and greater convenience than was possible in the past. We are proud to be able to offer this community the use of such an establishment.

HIS POOREST TOOTH THE SIX-YEAR MOLAR

Doctor H. Irving Miller Director Rural Wayne County Dental Health Program Children's Fund of Michigan

The "six year molar" so called because they appear around six years of age in the normal child, are the first permanent teeth to erupt in the mouth. There are four of these teeth. One appears just back of the last baby tooth on both sides of the mouth in both upper and lower jaws. Often the lower two come in slightly before the uppers.

Each of these six year molars is a strong tooth, the lower ones having two roots and the uppers three roots, firmly imbedded in the jaw. Each tooth has an almost square top surface that is generally much larger than the baby tooth next to it. The four of them in a normal mouth are so placed that the upper two strike the lower two with a grinding motion for chewing hard and tough foods.

It has been definitely determined by authorities in children's dentistry that fully ninety out of every hundred of these teeth begin to decay very soon after they appear. For this reason it is an every day occurrence to find these six year molars decayed beyond filling in children eight or nine years old. The early loss of any of these teeth is a serious blow to the child's general health and development. As I have already mentioned, these teeth are very important in chewing. Inability to chew food properly often results in faulty nourishment for the child and so a general failing in health. They also have an important bearing on the development of the child's jaw and their early loss is apt to cause crowding or crookedness of the later permanent teeth.

Few parents seem to realize how early this tooth appears and how quickly it may decay beyond repair. Almost every day in the clinic I operate for the Children's Fund of Michigan, I meet parents who, when I tell them that the boy's or girl's permanent molar has to be taken out, immediately insist that I am all wrong and that the tooth in question is a baby tooth and not a permanent one. Generally I can convince the parent that the tooth really is a permanent one, but unfortunately the information comes too late to save the tooth for the child, and so the child suffers the loss of a very important tooth that should have remained in his mouth all thru life.

Any child of six or seven who has not visited a dentist within the past four or six months is running a serious risk. It is only by regular attention that trouble and possibly early loss of the six year molar can be avoided.

Automobile Club Routes Way to Florida

The annual trek to the southland begins this month. Seaside tropical settings, warmer climes and recreation facilities of America's "winter playground" continue their lure for the northern visitor.

Anticipating a large number of Florida-bound Michigan motorists, the Detroit Automobile Club's road scouts have just returned from a southern logging and inspection tour of the principal highways leading southward. These scouts report excellent highway conditions, good hotel accommodations, golf courses and bathing beaches. Florida has a diversity of appeal to the visitor from the north and particularly the midwest section.

The motorist leaving for Florida today is offered two principal routes southward and a number of optional connections, according to Marie Johnson, manager of the Plymouth Division of the Detroit Automobile Club. The first or eastern route covers a distance of approximately 1602 miles, of which all but 80 miles are paved.

The second route is 1115 miles distant, all but 65 miles of which are of excellent pavement.

The first, or eastern tour, leaves Plymouth by way of the Canton Center road which leads south to Michigan avenue, U. S. 112. Here the motorist turns left, and continues to Telegraph road, U. S. 24, where a right turn is made. This latter highway leads south through Flat Rock and Monroe and on to Toledo.

U. S. 25 is joined in Toledo and followed to Findlay. Next come Lima, Dayton and thence Cincinnati. The tour then leads through Lexington, Richmond, Berea, Roundstone, Mt. Vernon and Corbin. Here the motorist turns left with U. S. 25E which leads through Barbourville and into Middlesboro. The section between Middlesboro and Tazewell presents one of the most picturesque spots of the entire trip southward, the road being of excellent gravel and passing over the famous Cumberland Gap.

Next the motorist follows Tennessee highway No. 32 across the Clinch range of mountains, through Morristown and on to U. S. highway 11E. Then come Greenville, Marshall and Asheville, a noted resort section for both northern and southern visitors.

The trip then follows U. S. 25 over the Hendersonville Plateau and on to the city of Hendersonville. The motorist then starts a down-grade trip on to Greenville, S. C., and thence Greenwood, Edgefield and Augusta. From this latter city the trip leads over U. S. 1 through a wooded area, noted for its pine forests, and on to Wrens, Ga., Swainboro, Lyons, Bazley, Alma and thence Waycross. From here the last lap of the trip to Jacksonville is made continuing on U. S. 1 to the Florida gateway.

The second route also leaves Plymouth via Canton Center road which is followed to Michigan avenue where a right turn is made. This latter highway is then followed west through Ypsilanti, Saline, Clinton, Goldwater, Sturgis, and to Mottville where a left turn is made onto U. S. 131 which leads to Elkhart. Here U. S. 20 is joined and followed to South Bend. Leaving this latter city by way of U. S. 31, the tour leads south through Plymouth, Wabash and Kokomo and on to Indianapolis.

The route then leads to Jeffersonville where a new bridge takes the tourist into Louisville. Continuing on U. S. 31, the tour next crosses the Muhidraugh Hills which run from the Big Smoky Mountains in southern Tennessee. The next city en route is Elizabethtown, Ky.

Before entering Cave City, the route turns right and follows through to this latter city where is located Mammoth Cave and many other interesting sights. Next come Bowling Green, Goodlettsville and Nashville, Tenn.

After a stop over in this city the tourist again joins with U. S. 31 and follows through Franklin to Columbia and Pulaski, Athens, Ala., Cullman and thence Birmingham. Next U. S. 31 passes through Clanton, Prattville and Montgomery. Continuing, the motorist follows U. S. 31 south through Fort Deposit, Greenville, McKenzie, Brewton and Flomaton. Here U. S. 331 leads through to Pensacola, Fla., on the Gulf of Mexico.

THE NEW CHEVROLET SIX HAS MANY IMPROVEMENTS

The introduction of the new Chevrolet Six marks the most impressive forward step in Chevrolet's twenty-year record of constant progress and improvement.

For this Bigger and Better Six offers new beauty of line and color, new luxury, new completeness and new quality—yet it sells at lower prices!

In every curve and sweep of Chevrolet's modern lines—in every detail of its smart new Fisher bodies, you will see the fine hand of the master designer and the skillful craftsman. And the more closely you inspect it, the more deeply impressed you will be.

The improvements in the new Chevrolet Six begin at the smart new chrome-plated headlamps and extend throughout the entire car. The radiator is deeper and unusually efficient. Due to the increased wheelbase, the lines are longer and lower, giving an air of exceptional fleetness and grace. And the new Fisher bodies combine with this more attractive exterior appearance, a new degree of interior luxury.

The upholstery is of fine quality mohair or broadcloth, carefully tailored and fitted. The number of individual springs in the rear seat cushions has been increased by 25%. The windshield and windows have been redesigned to provide wider vision. And all interior fittings have been made more pleasing to the eye.

The chassis of the new Chevrolet Six has also been refined and advanced in a number of different ways. The frame is heavier, deeper and stronger than before. There is a smoother operating, long lived clutch; a sturdier front axle; an entirely new steering mechanism of the worm and sector type; an easier shifting transmission. In fact, every vital feature of the new car has been made better and more satisfactory to the owner.

Obviously, these many improvements are responsible for a higher standard of quality than before. And they become doubly significant when you consider that they are offered in a car which provides the smooth, quiet, flexible performance of a 50-horsepower, six-cylinder motor—the comfort of four long semi-elliptic springs and four hydraulic shock absorbers—the safety of a gasoline tank at the rear of the car—and an economy of operation not surpassed by any automobile.

» AT NEW LOW PRICES «

Fine as it is, the new Chevrolet Six now sells at lower prices—making the economy and satisfaction of Chevrolet ownership even more outstanding. We urge you to come in and see the Bigger and Better Chevrolet. Its modern design reflects the spirit of the times—and it represents a value which will command the interest of every buyer in the low-price field.

Give Mother an Extension Telephone for Christmas

A most welcome, and inexpensive, Christmas gift which Mother surely will appreciate, is one or more conveniently located extension telephones.

In the kitchen, for example, a telephone will enable Mother to place and answer calls without having to leave her work.

A telephone upstairs will save running down to answer calls. Mother will appreciate that convenience. (So will Dad on cold nights!) And, in emergencies, such as fire, sickness or accident, an upstairs telephone is especially useful.

Extension telephones cost only 2½ cents a day. To place an order, call or visit the Telephone Business Office.

EPISCOPAL NOTES
 Sunday is the first Sunday in Advent, the season looking toward the coming of Christ at Christmas. It is the beginning of the Christian year and new year's resolutions are in order! Resolve to begin this Sunday, by attending church more regularly, praying more earnestly and serving more faithfully than ever before!
 The Holy Communion will be celebrated this Sunday at 10:00 a. m., instead of on the first Sunday in December. Every member is urged to be present to consecrate themselves to God for another year.
 It is especially urged that every man and boy of the parish be present at the service on Sunday morning, to take part in the nation-wide corporate communion sponsored by the Brotherhood of St. Andrews.
 The junior chapter of the Brotherhood is getting tight into step and doing excellent work. Keep it up!
 The service last Sunday and the supper on Monday night were well attended. The messages on those occasions were a real challenge to us all to work for the success of our church.
 The annual bazaar of the Women's Guild has been set for Friday, December 5. Tea will be served in the afternoon, and supper at night. Here is the place to do your Christmas shopping. Every member of the parish should cooperate by their help and support!

Christian Science Notes
 "Soul and Body," was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches on Sunday, November 23.
 Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Therefore we are always confident, knowing that, whilst we are at home in the body, we are absent from the Lord." (II Cor. 5:6).
 The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Become conscious for a single moment that Life and Intelligence are purely spiritual,—neither in nor of matter,—and the body will then utter no complaints. If suffering from a belief in sickness, you will find yourself suddenly well" (p. 14).

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES.

Thursday morning, Thanksgiving Day at 10:00 a. m., the people of Plymouth are invited to join in a Union Thanksgiving service to be held in the Methodist Episcopal church. Rev. R. W. Neale will be the speaker.
 The Buss Women's Class will hold their December meeting on Tuesday, December 2nd, at the home of Mrs. Gns Gates on Morland Road. This will be a Christmas meeting. There will be the usual cooperative dinner at noon and this will be followed by the business meeting of the class and a Christmas program.
 Tuesday evening, December 2nd, the Mission Study Class will meet in the home of Mrs. Clyde Smith, 1256 Penniman Ave. The cooperative supper will be served at 6:30 p. m., and the business and program meeting will follow.
 The Board of Trustees of the church will meet on Monday, December 1st, at 7:30 p. m., in the office of the Daisy Manufacturing Company. The men, eleven of them, "good and true," are asked to note this time and place of meeting.

METHODIST NOTES

"Jehovah is good to all, and His tender mercies are over all His works." Psalm 145:9
 "At this Thanksgiving season it is good to remember the acts of Christian gratitude. All God's works praise Him, and not merely a part of them. God is good to all, and not only to a few favored ones. God's tender mercies are over all His works, and not just a select portion of them."
 If any one would tell you the shortest, surest way to all happiness and all perfection, he must tell you to make it a rule to yourself to think and praise God for everything that happens to you. For it is certain that whatever seeming calamity happens to you, if you think and praise God for it, you turn it into a blessing.
 Keep in mind the regular meetings of the week: Sunday morning service at 10 A. M., followed at 11:30 by the Sunday School, with classes for all ages. The Young Peoples hour at 8:00 P. M., followed by the evening praise and sermon. Then on Wednesday evening at 7:15 the Church Training night. We are reviewing the book, Beginnings of the Christian Church, which is most interesting. You are cordially invited to each and everyone of these services. If you haven't a Church home join our happy family, and you will find a welcome.

ROSEDALE GARDENS CHURCH

(Too late for last week.)
 The teachers and officers of the Sunday-school met at the home of Mr. Metzger, Wednesday evening, and enjoyed a delicious potluck supper, after which many plans for the year were talked over, including plans for a Christmas program.
 Sunday was a banner day at Sunday-school—an attendance of seventy-one.
 We hope more people will get into the habit of church going. Our minister, Mr. Bennett, gives a splendid sermon each Sunday. Enough inspiration in one to last the whole week.
 The Ladies' Auxiliary met last Wednesday evening. Several ladies gave splendid reports on the financial projects they are carrying out. At present Xmas cards, seals and stationery and metal sponges are being sold. The ladies appreciate the splendid way the people are helping them.

MICHIGAN BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATION PAYS ITS BIGGEST DIVIDEND THIS YEAR

Dividends being paid by building and associations of Michigan during the calendar year 1930 will total slightly more than $8,350,000, according to the figures on resources reported to the Michigan Building and Loan league. A large share of this amount will be mailed out to members during December.
 Resources of the state's 67 associations are slightly beyond $107,000,000, and dividends are computed from this amount. Associations are paying out the largest amount this year that they have ever reported, the resources being about $7,000,000 in excess of those of a year ago.

WE TAKE ORDERS
 for floral decorations of all kinds. We are prepared to furnish the decorations for a little dinner party or those for an elaborate church wedding. We will attend to all details of arrangement or will follow instructions of those in charge of the function. We shall be glad to be of service to you.

STORE CLOSED ALL DAY TUESDAY

Real Values Rushed to You

We have decided not to wait too long during the year before we put our entire stock of shoes on at greatly reduced prices. Values just rush right toward you, and you won't be able to resist the big savings that are apparent throughout our entire store. Come, and see for yourself!

NO DOUBTING THE VALUES!

This is going to be a real shoe sale—the like of which we have never attempted before. Five years of shoe success has proven to us that the public can't be fooled on shoe values. Ever since we have been fitting Plymouth people with shoes, we have gained the reputation of never misrepresenting our goods; of fitting people carefully; of advising the exact type of shoe that looks the best; of selling style whenever style is to be considered; and of treating people fairly through fair prices. It's just a matter of pride to us that we can continue to serve the people who have come to depend upon us for correct footwear information. And in this big sale, we again prove that VALUES are best at Willoughby's. Every member of the family will profit by coming to this big sale!

We Fit the Feet Correctly!

Our business has been built on Satisfaction. For 12 years we have been in the business of fitting shoes—not just selling shoes. And during this big Red Arrow Sale we will be just as careful to fit your feet. The majority of people have trouble with their feet, and this is largely due to ill-fitting shoes that they have worn for some time. Every shoe that we sell MUST FIT! We have a reputation to protect, and regardless of how little you pay for the shoes here, every pair must fit perfectly. This service is one that you pay nothing for. We want to see foot troubles discarded, and we will do our best to eliminate the possibility of more occurring.

MOTION PICTURE PROGRAM

"FOLLOW THRU"

Black-haired, black-eyed, handsome Charles Rogers and red-haired, blue-eyed Nancy Carroll, the lovers of "Abos Irish Rose," of "Close Harmony," make a "match of a pair" in Penniman's all-Technicolor moving picture production of the famous "Follow Thru" and "Follow Thru," which will appear at the Penniman Allen Theatre, Sunday and Monday, November 30 and December 1, is a love story with a golf club setting and a world of comedy.

Laurence Schwab, himself, went to Hollywood to direct it in conjunction with Lloyd Corrigan, taking with him everything he needed from the original two-year Broadway hit, including Zedna O'Neal and Jack Haley, its lively, youthful, convincing comic leads. Also he brought with him the catchy song hits, including "Bation Up Your Overcoat" and Paramount song writers supplied him with a few new ones.

"Follow Thru" is a pen and poppy outdoor story. Nancy Carroll, with ambitions to win a championship crown on the links, divers her attention from golf to the handsome and professional, Charles Rogers, and gives her rival, Thelma Todd, a chance to hole on first. Successful on the fairways, Thelma tries her talent at love-making, but Nancy refuses to give an any advantage there. Rogers has an eye for golf championships, so that Nancy, to win a husband, has first to win the golf crown.

"ANYBODY'S WOMAN"

Anybody's favorite among the film comedies has become "Anybody's Woman."

Ruth Chatterton has been "Madame X," "The Lullaby Lady," and the Sarah of "Sarah and Son."

As "Anybody's Woman," which comes to the Penniman Allen Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday, December 3 and 4, she is co-starred with City Frank in a play that is resilient of realism, a play that is argued with during drama.

"Anybody's Woman" is the story of the vagrancies of a miser marriage. Brook plays a wealthy and cultured young lawyer, who, disappointed by the faithfulness of the wife who has just divorced him, goes on a prolonged binge in the metropolis.

At a cheap theatrical hotel he meets Ruth Chatterton, a broken-down show girl. During the progress of a wild party in which Brook is insensibly drunk, practical-joker companions manage to have Brook and Ruth married.

Confronted with the reality of the situation the next day, Brook manfully decides to go through with this unbalanced alliance. Before long Ruth finds that she really loves him, since he is the only man who had ever been gentlemanly with her. He, however, is indifferent to her.

But the social elier of Brook's circle forsake him, and Ruth, deciding that her lack of culture is the cause of it, all leaves his home. Brook craves, not caring whether he ever sees her again or not, when his former wife visits him and proposes that he and

"THE PAY-OFF"

All the power, all the thrills of the dramatic stage at its best, are incorporated in Radio Pictures' drama, "The Pay-off," which will be shown at the Penniman Allen Theatre, Friday and Saturday, December 5 and 6.

Lowell Sherman, who directed the production, and also plays a leading role, is said to have scored an even greater triumph than in his first director-actor effort, "Lawful Larceny."

As the leader of a band of thieves, who operate under the guise of dress suits and gentlemanly bearing, he handles a delicate plot in such masterful manner that the production is in its sense an "underworld story."

It is of the old school when entertainment and interest were the keynotes of productions, for it teaches no moral, it idealizes nothing, it has no irony, except that which authors assume in their own minds.

It is pure story!

Samuel Shihann, famous stage dramatist, wrote it.

Sherman appears with an excellent cast, including Marion Nixon, Hugh Trevor, William James, Helene Millard, George Marion, Walter McGrail, Robert McWade, Alan Roscoe, Lita Clever and Bert Moorhouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Clare Chilson and E. A. Padlock, called on Mr. and Mrs. Warren Brown at Milford, last Thursday.

A police dog got into the back of Henry Grimm's chickens last Friday, killing ten pullets.

Mrs. Hubert Jones, of Acworth New Hampshire, was the guest of her aunt Mrs. Emma Ryder, the fore part of the week.

The Newburg Home Economic Extension Group will meet on Thursday, December 4th at the home of Mrs. Edna Thompson.

Farmer Shoots A Wayne Constable

A Wayne constable was shot Monday at 7 p. m. as the proprietors of an alleged moonshine still and a whiskey cutting plant on a farm near Wayne attempted to keep officers off the property when they arrived to repossess a piano and an automobile.

Ben Shoney, 25 years old, son of Irvin Shoney, owner of the farm, was captured in the woods half an hour later and was charged with assault with intent to kill. The farm is on Canton Center road, one and a half miles north of Michigan avenue.

The wounded constable, William F. Galloway, was shot in the nose, back, side and neck. He was treated at Receiving hospital at Redford and sent home, none of the wounds being serious.

According to Wayne state police Galloway, accompanied by Constables James Green and Sherman Robins, went to the farm at 3 p. m. to serve a replevin writ on Irvin Shoney. Shoney refused to allow them to take the merchandise, they said, or to set foot on the farm.

They went back to Wayne and returned two hours later with State Police Troopers Gerald Pellegrino, Stanley Mundt and Kenneth White. At this time Galloway walked through the gate of the farm and met the elder Shoney, who agreed to give up the piano and car.

As the pair walked around the side of the house they met Ben Shoney, armed with a shotgun, the officers said. Shoney fired the weapon point-blank at Galloway, it is alleged, and fled into the woods, 200 yards from the farmhouse.

Leaving Galloway in the farm yard, the officers surrounded the woods and captured Ben.

Following the arrest a search of the house revealed a fully equipped liquor cutting plant and a still in operation, police said. In the basement 200 gallons of wine were found, they declared.

WCTU

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union held an interesting meeting, with a large attendance, Thursday, November 2, at the home of Mrs. John Hattenbury. This was a Thanksgiving meeting and members were asked to what they were most thankful for. The replies were varied and showed great faith and all present found great cause for thankfulness. This part of the program concluded with the reading of an original poem, "For What Shall We Be Thankful," by Miss Nettie Pelham.

Current Events, by members, and an article from the Union Signal, read by Mrs. E. C. Lauffer, proved of interest.

Reports of the State Convention, in Grand Rapids, and the District Convention, in Detroit, given by Mrs. Mary Hillmer and Mrs. E. C. Vealey, were much enjoyed and heartily applauded. Mrs. Vealey told about the fine drill given at the Detroit Convention of the W. C. T. U. by girls of Plymouth's Loyal Temperance Legion and how proud she felt of their performance.

The next meeting will be held, Dec. 18, at the home of Mrs. Lewis Holloway, Harvey Street. There will be a Christmas program and members are asked to make, or buy, a little gift, valued at not more than ten cents, so that all members attending may have presents.

CHERRY HILL

The Canton Community Club, with meeting and members were asked to tell their Christmas plans for December 30, Mr. Ralph Carr will have charge of the program.

Charles Gill attended the Future Farmers Club Convention, which was held at Kansas last week.

Mrs. Jennie Hank, visited in Detroit, the latter part of the week.

George Gill, who has been under the doctors care during the past week, is slowly recovering.

Farmers Are Big Electric Users

The building of 1,200 miles of rural electrical lines and the addition of 5,500 new rural users of electricity in Michigan is pointed out as a trend of modern farm methods by members of the agricultural engineering department at Michigan State College.

The department estimates that 27,000 Michigan farmers now use central service electrical power for operating farm or household equipment. The number of farmers using electric power four years ago was 6,800.

The change has been not only in the number of users but also in the use to which electricity is put. The average monthly consumption of current four years ago was 30 kilowatts per month which is the average load for lighting a home. The average amount used by rural residents is now nearly 90 kilowatts, which shows that the electricity is used not only for lights but for power requirements.

The agricultural engineering and the home economics departments of the College, this year, sent specialists to six meetings attended by 13,019 people where the use of electricity for running farm and household equipment was discussed. Specially built trucks, taken to the meetings, carried models showing economical ways of adapting electrical power to farm uses.

Sixteen per cent of Michigan's farms now use electricity.

LUMBER-JACK

Published by Plymouth Lumber & Coal Co.

VOL. 1 November 28, 1930 Number 9

Edited by BOB AND ELMER

One can get along without groceries, but gasoline—well, that's different.

You may have the nicest landlord in the world but you'd enjoy life more if you lived in your own home. Build one and own it yourself—it can be done. We'll tell you how.

Already we've heard two people say they were doing their Christmas shopping. It won't be long now.

Just a tip—we've a wonderful grade of oak flooring selling now at 4¢ per ft. That's a real price—worth looking into.

Every lumber yard has to choose: cheap material at cheap prices; or quality material at regular prices. We chose quality material—we believe that's what you want.

Mrs. Jones—"Where's that terrible draft coming from?"

Maid—"It's the man with the laundry bill and he won't take his foot out of the door."

Perhaps it's not necessary to live thru another winter without having the house remodelled and made cozy and modern.

We'll be glad to give you an estimate.

Rosedale Gardens

By J. W. WALKER

NOTICE

Through the efforts of Mr. Fred C. Weinert, York Ave., Rosedale Gardens, in calling on the officials of the Detroit Motor Bus Company at their offices in Detroit, all pupils of the High School, Plymouth, will be permitted to ride on the Detroit Motor Bus for half fare. Tickets will be on sale at the school. Previous announcements of this were more or less ambiguous, as Mr. Weinert was acting entirely on his own initiative for the sake and benefit of all living east of Plymouth, and the idea was carried thru by his lone efforts.

Our Youth at Golf

This miniature golf craze business has hit Rosedale kiddies, or youth, as it were. And last Saturday post-meridian was the time, and the school-house the place. Scoutmaster Wm. Hodson, Jr. (retired) and Mister Leroy Snell, the hosts for the two score and three assembled for the tournament of indoor golfing.

The young folks were separated into two classes, to wit: Ages ten to thirteen, and fourteen to seventeen.

While some played at golf, others played with candy and bright remarks. The final winners, scores and prizes (all books): Class 1, Billie Hodson, 47; "Tobert, the Round Head," Betty Snell, 73; "Camp Fire Girl Series," Clyde Gardner, 47; "Gumpy, Son of Spunk," Crystal Nichol, 73; "Camp Fire Girl Series." Then the candy on a stick was passed round again and all thanked the sponsors and went home happy.

But possibly the happiest boys of all were the bigger boys—Misters Hodson and Snell. Not that it is our desire to take away some of the parson's advice and preaching, but don't you all think our children are the ones to please and to be provided with healthy, clean playing—for a while, the environment of our youth will reflect in just a few years in the citizens of the nation.

Now that these folks have shown the way to many of us backsliders, why not promote other games and parties, say every Saturday afternoon.

And the Camp Fire Girls held forth at cooking and eating their own the last Thursday, no invited guests and the doctor was not called and all went to school Friday, so the girls are emulating their mothers.

Chas. (Bud) Schaffer and son, Fielder (Fee), returned Satdee from Ononaganda with their trophies, namely Bud with a twelve-point and Fee with a spike horn. Which all goes to prove the reason of Mrs. Schaffer's kitchen giving forth the luscious odors of venison steak on Satdee. The hunters report lots of deer and the weather passably hot.

Mrs. Fred Millard on Berwick, and several others, have great clumps of baby mums in bloom. Lots of violets and daisies and dandelions also round about.

All that is left (for another year) of Thanksgiving turkey now is enough for soup or hash and a few bones for Fido.

Was very glad to read the little article in the Rosedale Gardens News events. Though we are a long way from the home town we are very glad to get the latest edition. You probably would be interested to know the conditions in and about Eben. Mr. Hoffman of the R. is very much disappointed, as he has equipment for Alaska, and he had to buy a second hand straw hat for sun burn, and expects to make an early kill. Mr. A. Rohde, better known as Janitor, is liable not to see the old school again if he experiences another thrill as he had. The wolves had him circled for almost an hour until help arrived; he is going to take out more life insurance before he makes another hunting trip.

ROSEDALE SCHOOL NOTES

Fourth and Fifth Grades
Miss Peck's Room
We are making a book of original poems. We are making sketches to illustrate the poem. We have about thirty poems in our book now. Some of our newest ones are:

MY DREAM

Last night I had a dream:
It was about the sky.
I dreamed that I had wings
And that I flew so high.
I floated round the clouds,
I picked the pretty stars,
I swam about the Milky Way,
I visited on Mars.
—Victor N.

THE SNOW

I love to see the snow
Upon the house tops high;
I love to see the snow
Falling from the sky.

—Margaret Leslie.
TURKEY FOR THANKSGIVING
Let the turkey be happy and gay,
For it won't be long
That he's happy and strong,
For soon it's Thanksgiving Day.
—Veronica Marti.

WHAT I LOVE

I love to see the fishes swimming in the light,
I love to see the fireflies firing in the night,
I love to see the flowers so pretty and so gay;
I learn to love it more every joyful day.
—Jeanne Ames.

Mary Raw has been ill for several days. We are sending her a basket of fruit and jelly. We hope she will be able to come to school again soon.

We have many pictures, poems and stories in our Thanksgiving Booklets. We are studying about "Mary of Plymouth." We are very much interested in the Pilgrims' hardships. We have learned how they built their homes, raised food, and protected themselves from danger. We are going to read about their First Thanksgiving next week.

Our book club held a meeting this week. Many interesting books were reported on. Many of us have read a book a week, but others don't average so many.

Sore Throats and Coughs

Here's a doctor's prescription called Thoxine that is really throat insurance. Its success is due to its quick double action. With the very first swallow it soothes the sore throat and stops the coughing. It goes direct to the internal cause.

The remarkable thing about Thoxine is that while it relieves almost instantaneously it contains nothing harmful, and is pleasant tasting and safe for the whole family. Singers and speakers find Thoxine very valuable. Put up ready for use in 35c, 60c and $1.00 bottles. Your money back if not satisfied. Sold by Dodge Drug Co. and all other good drug stores.

THE WHY of SUPERSTITIONS

By H. IRVING KING

THE WEDDING CAKE

ORIGINALLY the wedding cake was a wheaten loaf. White bread to our savage ancestors was luxury, representing the highest plane of living. Migrations of peoples and wars between races have taken place with the object of possessing wheat-growing regions. The planting and the harvesting of wheat was surrounded with many ceremonies. It was a gift from the gods over which the gods watched, and it symbolized the vital forces of nature, fructification, increase, abundance. A certain sanctity attached to the ears of wheat and among some peoples the bride wore them as adornments, even as brides now-a-days wear orange blossoms.

We appear to have inherited our customs of the wedding breakfast and the wedding cake from the early Romans. In the earlier and purer days of Rome at the celebration of a religious marriage an ox was slaughtered and the priest broke a wheaten loaf, giving one part to the bridegroom to eat and the other part to the bride in token of their union and as symbolizing by the properties of the wheat the hope for their fruitfulness. In some remote parts of England and Scotland today it is the custom to break a wheaten cake over the heads of the bride and groom as they enter their new home. This is a survival of a marriage custom still more ancient than the Roman one mentioned and of which the Roman custom was probably an outgrowth—the custom of primitive races of sprinkling wheat upon the heads of a newly married pair to bestow upon them prolificness. That there still lingers with us something of the superstitions regard of our ancestors for the wedding cake is shown by the fact that maidens still place slices of it under their pillows in hope of dreaming of a lover.

Talking About Flying
"Riches" read the teacher, "take unto themselves wings and fly away." Now, what kind of riches does the writer mean?"

He stared around at the class, but nothing but blank looks met his gaze. "Surely some one can answer a question like that? You, Smith," said the teacher, "what kind of riches did the writer mean?"
Smith hesitated a moment, then: "Ostriches, sir," he replied.

PLYMOUTH DEBATERS LOSE TO ANN ARBOR HIGH SCHOOL

Before a group of approximately sixty people the debating team from the University of Michigan High School of Ann Arbor, won a 3-0 decision from the local team last Friday evening, November 21, in the auditorium of the Methodist Church. The debate was interesting, both presenting good arguments and both putting up a good fight. The decision was in doubt right up till the announcement.

The speakers from Plymouth were: Harold Stevens, Zephania Blunk and Lester Daly, while those from Ann Arbor were: Nina Pollack, Mr. Kith and Mr. Billman. The debate was judged by Professor Pfam of University of Michigan; Mr. Page, Superintendent of Howell High School, and Charles Lewis of Northern High School, Detroit. Mr. Evans, local science teacher acted as chairman.

This was the second of the debates sponsored by the State Debating League upon the question: Resolved that the National Chain Grocery Store, now operating in the State of Michigan are detrimental to the people of the state. Plymouth upheld the affirmative side of the question and Ann Arbor the negative.

The unanimous defeat will eliminate Plymouth from the race to enter the Elimination Series. In the first league debate Plymouth collected three points for winning a split decision, which is all we have earned so far and with only two negative debates left, with a possible four points from each one, there would be only 11 points for our total, which never will be enough to qualify for the Elimination Series.

Last year, with twelve points, Plymouth had participated in an extra debate to enter the series.

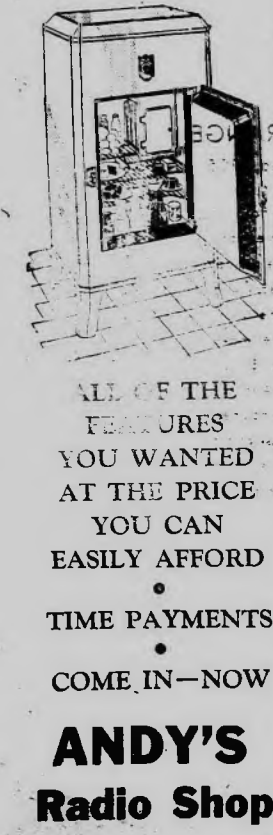

JUNIOR HIGH SOCCER LEAGUE

The Junior High Soccer League played off their final games to decide the champion. Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of last week. The first two games came out ties, but the third game was won by team number three, the score 2-1 making teams 4 and 3 tied for the championship.

CENTRAL SCHOOL NOTES

There are seventeen in Mrs. Carpenter's kindergarten class that have perfect teeth. Margaret Jean Nichol now has a star for perfect teeth. The children are learning to count to fifty now, and those who can do so are Billy Doucram, Ruth Drows, Dale Koenig, Leora Strang, June Stewart, Richard Virgo and Anna Haverkorn.

The children in Mrs. Root's first-B class are cutting numbers out of old calendars and pasting them in booklets which helps them to make the right numbers. In picture study the children have been talking about the picture "Feeding the Birds" by Millet, and have pasted this picture in their art books. The children have acted out three plays namely, "Thanksgiving Pies," "Pitting in Coal," and "Pilgrims." Eugene Sloner has joined the class, having come from the Starkweather school.

The 1-A and 2-B children have made their November calendar for their booklets. The 2-B children have studied "The Knitting Lesson" by Jean Millet. The attendance of the class has dropped to 65%. The children have two more pages in their Thanksgiving booklets to finish. The class has studied all of the safety rules given by the State Trooper. There are nine children who have perfect teeth in this room. Each row has chosen a leader for health inspection.

In Miss Mitchell's first grade class the children are making drums from round coffee cans, with clothes pins as drum sticks. Robert Kirkpatrick, Philip Hall and Donna Joyce Smith can read every word on their list of foundation words.

The children in Miss Weatherhead's room have a Pilgrim scene on their table. In art they are making cuttings of Indian pictures. Several children in the group two reading class have been transferred to the group one class.

Mrs. John Stramb visited Miss Dixon's room last Wednesday afternoon. Richard Strong had the highest reading score of any one in the recent test.

In Miss Fenner's room Elizabeth Heege's name was added to the perfect teeth list. Betty Johnson's team is ahead. This has been good work week, and many interesting reports have been given. The children have been studying banking and have made out several checks.

PLYMOUTH SHARES CHAMPIONSHIP WITH LINCOLN PARK

It has been definitely decided that Plymouth and Lincoln Park will share honors for the league trophy. Both schools have decided to let the tie stand as one game has already been played between the two teams. It would be too great of a strain on the boys to stay in condition for a championship game, and this also would place too much emphasis on the championship rather than on the sport.

Lincoln Park completed its season by defeating Dearborn, 3-0. Neither team has been defeated this season, a 0-0 tie being played by the two schools.

HISTORY CLASS HOLDS CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION

In order to understand more fully and appreciate the Federal Constitution of our country, the pupils of Miss Diegel's United States History classes have brought the anxious days of 1787 to life by holding a Constitutional Convention. In the first hour class, Harold Stevens, acting as George Washington, brought the meeting to order. After William Jackson, impersonated by Kathryn Hill, called roll and after Benjamin Franklin, acted by Lawrence Rudick, gave a short opening talk James Madison, in reality Charles Ball, offered the Famous Virginia Plan providing for the entire remodeling of the government. Then William Patterson of New Jersey, proposed the New Jersey Plan opposing the national form of government.

After a struggle between these two plans, and after discussion by Alexander Hamilton, James Wilson, Rufus King and others, the great compromise, by which the states were to be equally represented in the Senate, while representation in the House was to be proportioned according to population, was proposed by Roger Sherman. After having adopted this compromise and other compromises concerning tariff and slave trade and other important questions, the Constitution was finally drawn up.

The students were brought to a fuller realization of the important and alarming crisis in American History and of the wonderful achievements of our Federal Constitution.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT HAS BUSY WEEK

Last week was a busy one for the music department. On Monday, November 17, Maurine Dunn sang two numbers at the Starkweather P. T. A. meeting. The sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth grade people went to Detroit on Tuesday to hear the Detroit Symphony Orchestra at Orchestra Hall, for music memory. Those eleven people who had perfect papers entitled them to go were: Norma Jean Roe, Laura Belle Willden, Barbara Hubbell, Harold Wagenschultz, Roland Rhead, Edward Angove, Jack Wilcox, Helen Ribbar, June Nash, Miriam Brown and Alice Bakewell.

Bob Champe sang at the home of Mrs. Nolan during the Ladies' Aid meeting there on Wednesday afternoon, and in the evening the High School Orchestra played at the Kiwanis Minstrel show, "Minstrel Echoes," given at the High School auditorium. Between the acts, Joe Ribbar and Russell Egloff played duets on the mouth organ. At the Kiwanis Minstrel show on Thursday evening, the High School Band played.

The personnel of the high school male quartette has been decided upon and is as follows: First tenor, Lynford Fritz; second tenor, Charles Ball; first bass, Milton Moe; second bass, Hugh Horton. The quartette is practicing and may be expected to sing in public before Christmas.

INTERMEDIATE GIRL RESERVES DISCUSS PROGRAMS

With Miss Stille, who has charge of all intermediate club groups, leading the meeting, the Intermediate Club discussed programs at their meeting of last Friday. Miss Stille asked different girls what type of programs they enjoyed, which question led to a discussion of hobbies. A few of the favorite hobbies as expressed by the members are collecting stones, flowers, leaves and stamps. Another program that gained the approval of the club is Foreign Girl Reserves activities, and the different types of Girl Reserves all over the world. Miss Stille stated that she would return in a short time and find out what progress they had in forming a program.

At the beginning of the hour, a short business meeting was held over which June Fredericks, vice-president, presided in the absence of the president who is ill. At this meeting, the club members discussed the Thanksgiving basket they are going to give to some needy family. They decided that instead of dividing up a little in several baskets they are going to give a plentiful basket to one family.

SEASON SUCCESSFUL FOR ROCKS

For the first time since 1925, Plymouth has emerged from the football season victorious in every game. However, the one game with Lincoln Park gave them to share the title with Lincoln Park.

After winning a non-league affair from Walled Lake, 12 to 7, Plymouth met Dearborn on their home grounds. This game finally ended 13 to 6 in the Rocks' favor. On October 10, Detroit Country Day School journeyed to Plymouth and were set back, 19 to 0. Plymouth next met Lincoln Park, which had not yet been defeated. Both teams had opportunities to score but were unable to do so, and the contest ended in a scoreless tie.

A powerful Farmington eleven nearly blasted the Rocks' penant hopes, but were finally turned back 6 to 0. Some fine defense was shown by the Blue and White line in this league tilt. To make the season more successful, Plymouth met and defeated the Orange and Black of Northville, on their home grounds, 10 to 0. A touchdown by Lancker in the first minutes of the game and two safeties accounted for all the scores.

PLYMOUTH SENDS 10 BOYS TO CONFERENCE

Plymouth is to send ten representatives to the Older Boys' Conference at Bay City, November 28, 29, 30. The representation of this part of the state was divided. The quota for Plymouth was five members not including the leaders, but because of the activity of the local group, the quota has been raised from five to ten boys.

The boys going from Plymouth, are: John Randall, Charles Ball, Harvey Signitz, Lester Daly, Milton Partridge, Mason Volter, Wm. Henry and Steve Norvorth from the H-Y. The Torch Club is to be represented by Melvin Blunk, Lester Bassett and Mr. Cobb. John Randall, president of the H-Y was elected secretary of the Detroit area of the H-Y. It is a big assignment and quite a "feather in the cap" for Plymouth.

The future programs for the meetings have been picked and quite a promising list of discussions has been decided upon. Steve Dudek gave a talk on the Catholic Church. Many interesting questions were brought out by the boys. This talk will be completed at the next meeting.

In the next contest, which was very close, Plymouth turned back Wayne which had scored first, 7 to 6. Bannerman's hot booted the ball between the uprights for the deciding point of the game. Belleville was the next opponent, being smothered by the Rocks, 46 to 0.

JUNIORS GIVE SUCCESSFUL PARTY

"Did you hear about the success of the Junior dance, last Friday evening? If you did not the class will tell you all about it."

At 7:45 the Blue Serenaders arrived and the dancing began. At 9:30, when an unusually large crowd had assembled, Harlow Wagenschultz informed the dancers that they were to form their partners for a square dance. During the square dancing, Joe Ribbar accompanied the orchestra with his accordion. Near the close of the evening a second square dance was enjoyed by many more who did not dance in the first one.

A count was taken, and it was found that the juniors had the largest representation, the seniors came next and the sophomores, third. The chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. James Galluore, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Chambers, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Blunk and Mrs. John Miller.

PLANS COMPLETED FOR THANKSGIVING CEREMONIAL

After head lists had been checked and the money given to the treasurer, Jane Whipple told the girls of the last parts in the Thanksgiving centennial to be held at the home of Zephania Blunk, November 25. The program will be longer and more varied than ordinarily. There will be several songs, an Indian legend, the law of the Camp Fire, the desires of the three ranks, and a roll call in which each girl will answer with a description of her hobby.

PROBATE NOTICE

STATE OF MICHIGAN, county of Wayne, ss.

At a session of the Probate Court for said County of Wayne, held at the Probate Court Room in the City of Detroit, on the fourteenth day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty.

Present, Ervin R. Palmer, Judge of Probate, in the Matter of the Estate of GEORGE WHITE, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition of Alired White, praying that administration of said estate be granted to himself or some other suitable person.

It is ordered, that the nineteenth day of December, next at ten o'clock in the forenoon at said Court Room be appointed for hearing said petition.

And it is further Ordered, that a copy of this order be published three successive weeks previous to said time of hearing, in the Plymouth Mail, a newspaper printed and circulated in said County of Wayne.

ERVIN R. PALMER, Judge of Probate
Theodore J. Brown, Deputy Probate Register.

STARKWEATHER SCHOOL NOTES

Miss Hunt's 5-B children are making maps of Europe. The 4-A class is making maps of United States. In 4-A arithmetic their class rating is seven. Twenty-seven children earned stars in spelling. The children are dramatizing Thanksgiving plays now.

John Durant has joined Mrs. Lee's 5-A group. Norma Jean Roe told the class about her trip to Detroit with Miss Schrader. For book week the children gave reports on good books they had read. The children have started music memory for December. For picture study the 6-B class is studying "Oxen Plowing" by Rosa Bonheur.

The children in Miss Stueky's room have been studying about the First Thanksgiving. They have decided to make a large poster of free-hand cuttings illustrating the story.

In Miss Stueky's room children received stars for having perfect reading lessons. The children enjoyed the lecture on safety given by the State Trooper, and have studied about stop signs, etc.

Mrs. Mohr's children wrote letters to Big Brother Bob Emery of the Toluca Co. "Big Brother Club," for membership cards to remind them to clean their teeth. The health project lesson for this week was about milk. The children learned the uses of milk and of the animals in different parts of the world that furnish milk for people. They colored a nice picture of a little girl and her doll drinking milk.

Starkweather P. T. A. Meets

The Starkweather P. T. A. was called to order by the President, Mrs. Ebert, Monday evening, November 17. The program was given by Mrs. Lee's room, the sixth grade. Their play was portraying scenes from good literature.

Maurine Dunn, rendered two solos and Mr. Haverock rendered the uses of milk and of the animals in different parts of the world that furnish milk for people. They colored a nice picture of a little girl and her doll drinking milk.

SENIOR GIRL RESERVES ATTEMPT TOY MANUFACTORY

The singham dog and the coffee cat, but in this case they were mostly print with ovals, lions, eskimos and dolls included, were slowly evolved to a happy state of life in the Senior Girl Reserve meeting of Friday. Since Christmas is only two meetings away, the Service Committee saw last Friday for the aforementioned job of producing cloth toys to gladden some small children's hearts.

To tell the honest truth, these scissors were scarce and time was short, not very many dolls broke through their covering to radiate life. However, the girls will take them home and finish them sometime before Christmas. During the meeting Virginia Woodworth took down names of girls and the articles they can bring for the annual Thanksgiving baskets. Miss Allen then read two interesting letters from former Girl Reserves, one from Catherine Nichol who is now at Wooster College in Ohio, and the other from Sarah Childer who is attending the Art Institute at Chicago.

ART CLASSES WORKING ON LETTERED MOTTOES

Such careful precision that seems to the uninitiated to be absolutely unbelievable, marks some of the latest work of the art classes in lettered mottoes. Quotations from many sources have been used in making these.

Previously the students had been working on abstract border designs taking their models from a series of photos of Mrs. Brower's. Lately they have been printing in black and white, beginning first with the regular drawing pen but now making free brush designs. If one watches an art student working at this drawing seems so ridiculously easy, but if one attempts to make these fine designs or intricate Gothic letters, it brings a sudden realization of how very stupid and clumsy the unskilled hands are.

SNATCHERS WIN FIRST GAME

The tournament has started! Because the Leaders' Club is made up of girls especially interested in athletics, four basket ball teams have been formed, the names being Pistons, Snatchers, Wings and B-ketters. In last Monday's games, the Snatchers beat the Pistons with a score of 12 to 2. The game between the Wings and the B-ketters ended in a tie. As each team is to play each other twice, the tournament will not end until February; at that time the two losing teams will give the two winning teams a party. The race is on!

NEW PLAYS STARTED IN DRAMA CLUBS

The entertainment for one of our future assemblies in the shape of the short play, "Sardines," had its first rehearsal last Tuesday in the Junior Drama Club. The members of the club chose out of their number a person who was to direct the play and whose directions were to be criticized by the actors and audience. This plan was carried out in the Friday Drama Club also.

On Thursday the members of the Senior Drama Club were reviewed in the principles of dramatics, and the essential of attention to the speaker among the actors was explained. The play "The Pot-Boiler" was then read and partially acted out. The plot of this play is very novel and should prove interesting and valuable to the members of the club.

Mrs. Luella A. Hoyt entertained Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Clay Hoyt and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Horing of Lansing.

Mrs. A. Allen and Mrs. Paul Healy of Detroit, were guests last week of their sister, Mrs. C. G. Draper, in Plymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. William Gayde and daughters, Sarah and Helen, and Miss Clara Wolf of Detroit, visited friends in Toledo, Sunday.

Doris Buzzard is ill with scarlet fever at her home on Adams street. Her many friends will be glad to know she is recovering.

Claude Simmons and sons, Leroy and Gerald, Harley Wolfson, Mr. Kines and M. J. Schmidt left last week for northern Michigan, to hunt deer.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Collins were very pleasantly surprised Saturday evening, when forty relatives and friends arrived to help them celebrate their thirtieth wedding anniversary. Cards and luncheon furnished entertainment for the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Collins received a lovely silk bedspread. A delicious pot-luck lunch was served, and at a late hour the folks departed wishing them many more years of happy married life.

Those here to attend the funeral of George Lane, were: Mr. and Mrs. Richard Broadham, Mr. and Mrs. John Lane and family, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Lyon and family, Mrs. Ed. Lyon and family, Mrs. Wm. Taylor, Mrs. Frank Phair, Miss Elenor Gabler, Mr. and Mrs. W. Fisher, Dr. Hooper, Mrs. Geo. Lane and family and thirty members of Dunfield Camp Spanish War Vets from Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Linper, Ann Arbor; Ernest Lane, Columbus, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lane, Belleville; Mrs. Thomas Jordan, West Lorne, Ont.; Mrs. Floyd Lewis and Don Felton, Lansing; Mr. and Mrs. George Warner, Carleton; and Miss Ferguson of Lincoln Park.

Mrs. Ed. Bolton is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Olivia Williams, in Cleveland, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Chue left Thursday by motor for Chicago, where they will spend several days.

Miss Helen Fish entertained at two tables of bridge for friends from Detroit last Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Westfall were guests last week of Mr. and Mrs. George Maynard, at Williamston.

Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Nelson of Salem, and Mr. and Mrs. Joel Biesterfeld of South Lyon, were in Detroit, Wednesday evening, attending the fifth annual dinner given by the Detroit Dairy and Food Council, held at the Hotel Statler. There were over 300 present.

The following item taken from the National Letter Carrier of Saturday, November 22, will interest Plymouth residents: "Uncle Bob Walker, of Plymouth, Michigan, was accorded a great party in the home town of Mr. and Mrs. Jack L. Hoyt, of Bellevue, in recognition of Brother Walker's retirement after 30 years, 2 months and 17 days of service. Coming as far as 207 miles, 81 carriers and their wives sat down to the beautiful dinner served in the Masonic Temple, Bellevue, inasmuch as the occasion expanded out of the bounds of the Hoyt residence. 'Uncle Bob' who won the love and admiration of all carriers who attended the Detroit national convention, was presented with a giant cigar by Brother Hoyt, much to the hilarity of the assemblage and in making the presentation of a handsome chair to the Walkers. National President Armstrong cleverly remarked that he knew the cigar would last for a long time, and he hoped as he smoked it that the visits of his host of carrier friends would ever be before him in the evening smoke. Mr. and Mrs. Walker will leave around the first of December for the south. Their address will be 1312 Arapahoe St., Los Angeles, California.

Miss Marion Berger, who has been in the Ford hospital the past eight weeks, where she underwent an operation, is getting along nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Goyer of Detroit, entertained the following guests at a bridge dinner at the Hotel Mayflower, Friday evening: Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bartlett, Mr. and Mrs. A. Stever and Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Draper.

The Ladies' Aid of the Lutheran church held their annual meeting Wednesday, November 12. After the secretary's and treasurer's reports, the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. O. F. Beyer; vice-president, Mrs. William Petz; secretary, Mrs. Oscar Prehelt; treasurer, Mrs. Wm. Gayde.

One of the first groups of Plymouth hunters to return was the one in which Robert Todd of the Plymouth Lumber & Coal Co. was a member. The party, consisting of Mr. Todd, Chet Burley, Earl Trinks of Northville, Roy Rogers of Detroit, James Dixon and 15-year-old son, Dana, of Berkeley, were at Atlanta, Michigan. Only one buck was brought back by this party, and that was shot by Dana Dixon. Mr. Todd shot a Northern silver tip fox, which was estimated to be worth about $150. This is the second season in which he has brought home a fox. Last year he shot a red fox.

The Ladies' Aid of the Lutheran church will hold their monthly meeting Wednesday afternoon, December 3, in the church basement. This meeting is to be a party to which each member is asked to bring a guest. There will be a program and lunch will be served.

The Friday evening bridge club held their first meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Partridge, last Friday evening. Four tables of bridge were played, with first honors awarded to Mrs. W. G. Jennings and Robert Mimmack, which Mrs. R. H. Reek and Melvin Partridge received consolation.

"Helping Your Child to Be His Best," will be the subject of the next discussion of the Child Care and Training group, which will meet at the high school on Tuesday, December 2, at 10:00 a. m., and 4:00 p. m. These meetings are held under the Extension Division of the Michigan State College, and the speaker for the December meeting will be Mrs. Lydia Ann Lynde.

At the last regular meeting of the P. T. A. at Porterville school, on Friday, Nov. 21, Mrs. Russell, the teacher, put on a splendid Indian program, in which the pupils took part with great enthusiasm and success. Mrs. Cutler assisted at the piano. Visitors are welcome at these meetings. The Porterville slogan is "A bigger and better P. T. A."

WATCH THE CHILDREN GROW ON THIS EMULSION

CHILDREN NEED:
1. Vitamin A—promotes growth, keeps the body in good condition and thus tends to prevent disease in general.
2. Vitamin D—builds bones and prevents the disease known as rickets.
3. Hypophosphites of Sodium and Calcium—combine bone, flesh and tissue-building power.
Renall Emulsion Cod Liver Oil contains all these healthful ingredients. Give it to the children. Start now. Build them up for winter and against frequent colds. It will repay you many times over. Equally as valuable for adults.
