

HOW PLYMOUTH AND NEIGHBORS VOTED MONDAY

Local Residents in Favor of Death Bill—Keep Old Officers.

If the rest of the voters of the state of Michigan had voted as did the residents of Plymouth township, there would be capital punishment in this state. Plymouth voted strongly in favor of the proposal, the voters in precinct 1 giving the measure 311 yes votes, and 101 no. In precinct 2, the vote was 127 for the bill, and 62 against it, making a total of 438 for capital punishment, and 170 against it. Livonia township voters also favored capital punishment, but not so strongly as did Plymouth voters. The total vote in Livonia for the bill, was 123, and against it 116. Northville township voted as did Plymouth on the measure. The vote in the neighboring townships to the north, was 258 for capital punishment, and 143 against it. Canton township voters favored capital punishment by a vote of 141 for and 53 against the death penalty. But Michigan voters decided they did not care to electrocute their murderers and the proposal was beaten by less than 100,000 votes. Voters also let it be known that they do not look with favor upon bonding questions just at present. Both state bond proposals were defeated. The landing field proposal was defeated in Plymouth by a vote of 377 to 244, and the refunding bond issue was defeated by a vote of 353 no, and 251 yes. Other nearby townships also registered their disapproval of these two questions. The Republican state ticket received its usual vote in Western Wayne County. Outside of the capital punishment question, there was not much interest in the election. There was no contest for any of the township offices and the present officials were elected without opposition. MANY PLYMOUTHITES ATTEND FIRST ARMY DAY-LEGION BANQUET

NORTHVILLE POST HEARS CONGRESSMAN PERSONS IN TALK OF THE FUTURE.

Many members of Plymouth's Legion post and their friends Monday night attended the first annual army day banquet of the Northville American Legion post held in the new Presbyterian church house of that place. They heard Congressman Seymour Persons of Lansing, the newly elected representative of the sixth district in congress, predict that all of the great problems that are today confronting the American public will be solved, just as have all the problems that have in the past caused anxiety in the world. Congressman Persons, one of the real thinkers of the new congress, declared that possibly the present generation might not produce the men and women who would solve these problems, but the new generation, the generation that is represented by the boys who went overseas to help save civilization will probably come forth with the men or men with the ideal—the masterpiece—that is always developed, according to Congressman Persons. "The problems of law and order are a great deal deeper than the problems of punishment and are of the present generation are passing on to the veterans who served their country so fearlessly these problems for the development of the ideal that is sure to come." Congressman Persons, who was strongly supported in his contest by the Legion members, again declared that he would see to it that his problem the Legion was interested in would have his immediate attention in congress. The new representative from the sixth district was for a number of years one of the outstanding members of the Michigan state senate, having been elected from the Ingham-Livingston district. It was his excellent record in the state legislature that proved it aid to him in his candidacy for congress. Charles F. Murphy, long an active member of the American Legion of Northville, acted as chairman of the evening. In fact it was due considerably to his efforts that the banquet was such an outstanding success. In behalf of the Northville post, Monsignor Patrick D. Donigan, who was chairman of the 32nd division overseas, accepted a portrait of Lloyd H. Green, the Northville lad killed overseas, and in whose honor the Northville post has been named. Other speakers were J. C. Hughes, Hallett of Detroit, the British Consul in that city; Capt. J. R. C. Stanley, secretary of the Canadian Legion in Detroit; Mrs. Ethel Smith, president of the Legion Auxiliary of Michigan; and Alton T. Roberts of Detroit, who told something of the plans for the Legion convention in Detroit this fall. Active as one of the committee members in direct charge of the banquet was Lyle Alexander of Plymouth, who has long been an officer of the Northville post. Woman's Club Will Give Musical Tea The music group of the Plymouth Woman's Club, promises a delightful entertainment for Friday afternoon, April 10th. Helen B. Wallbridge will play a group of piano numbers by request. "The Lark," Chloë Halskron. "Two Preludes," Chopin. Mrs. C. T. Sullivan, among other numbers will sing "Morning" by Oley Speake, accompanied by Mrs. Wallbridge. Besides these popular artists, Howard Wallbridge, the nine year old son of Mrs. Wallbridge, who shows marked genius in one so young will play three numbers. "Wild Flower," Schumann. "Jingle," Kern. "The Spanish Dance," Robe. Mrs. Arlo A. Emory has secured Col. H. A. Pickett, Inspector of Customs, Detroit as the speaker for this program. His subject will be "The Growth of a City." There will be a reception to new members following the tea at which time Mrs. John Henderson and Mrs. E. C. Hough will preside at a daintily appointed table. Other members on this committee are: Mrs. Charles Ball, Chairman; Mrs. Russell Roe, Mrs. Harold Brisbois, Mrs. Irving Blunk, Mrs. William Baker, Mrs. J. B. Umbert, Mrs. F. B. Park and Mrs. Arlo A. Thirty Years Work As Officer Comes To End In Plymouth

After serving thirty years as a peace officer, George Springer has removed his badge and is giving thoughts to a new career for the future. Mr. Springer has made in that time over 1,000 arrests of men wanted for some crime. Some have been for murder. Some for bank robberies, and in fact states Mr. Springer, he has made at least for practically every crime mentioned in the law books. His duties as a peace officer ended Tuesday. He has not yet decided what he will do in the future. Mr. Springer's many friends wish him well in whatever duties he may assume.

Local Resident Is New Chief Construction Engineer Of Highway Dept.

William W. Lavers, who for a number of years has been divisional engineer of the Michigan highway department and in complete charge of the state's highway work in this part of Michigan, has just been promoted to the position of chief construction engineer of the highway department and will leave in the next few days for Lansing to assume his new duties. The announcement of his advancement in the highway department has been served so long and so well, came Tuesday afternoon, and while Mr. Lavers' host of Plymouth friends regretted to see him leave, they are nevertheless pleased over his selection to such an important position in the department. Mr. Lavers does not expect to move his family to Lansing until after the close of the school year in Plymouth. During the time they have resided in this city, both Mr. and Mrs. Lavers have won for themselves a wide circle of friends. The advancement of Mr. Lavers came as the result of the recent death of Victor M. Burton, Deputy State Highway Commissioner. Grover C. Dillman, State Highway Commissioner, Tuesday in selecting a successor to Mr. Burton, named two men of his department to do the work that Mr. Burton had been attempting to perform. As the result the promotion of Charles M. Ziegler to the deputy chief construction engineer, the place to which Mr. Lavers has been appointed. Michigan has over a long period of years had one of the best organized highway departments of any state in the Union, and Commissioner Dillman in the last year or so, has made it more efficient than it has ever been before he assumed his present position. Tony G. Oakes on the highway department in Lansing, will come to Plymouth as Mr. Lavers' successor. Mr. Oakes is highly regarded in the department, and there is not much question but what he will fit into his new position in Plymouth most acceptably.

POPULATION WILL DOUBLE IN TEN YEARS

Former Plymouth Realtor Makes Prediction Of Fast Growth.

Los Angeles, Calif. Although he has lived for the past two years amid all the influences that energetic California uses to convert one to the belief that there is no other place on earth just like it, Chester Livengood, well known former Plymouth real estate man, is just as enthusiastic over the future prospects of Plymouth as it was when he left for the west. When he returned to the land of sunshine, two lemons and over-inflated real estate, for a time he was engaged in newspaper work in Pasadena. But once a real estate dealer, always one so the old saying goes, and today Mr. Livengood is again engaged in the real estate business in Los Angeles. Naturally, out here everything calls for a specialty of some kind and Mr. Livengood is confining most of his activities to the sale of apartment houses. EXPOSITION IS BEST EVER SAY VISITORS

"Better than last year" was the comment heard on all sides as the opening of Plymouth's 1931 Home Complete Exposition became history last Wednesday evening at the Plymouth High School building. Those who attended the opening night last year and again this year were of the opinion that Wednesday night's crowd far surpassed the number who attended last year's opening, and would compare favorably with the "peak" attendance of last year. A consecutive estimate would indicate a nearly evenly crowd for last night, the second evening of the Exposition. Tonight concludes the 1931 Exposition which is an educational treat according to those who have already attended. The reporter's comments concerning the Exposition are more or less tentative after a hurried round of the many attractive displays. He recalls a scene of frenzied activity. Wednesday afternoon as the exhibitors with their helpers strove mightily to have everything in shape for the opening. That their efforts were appreciated by the visiting crowd was indicated by the interest shown. We remember coming home with an arm load of samples. We remember having talked to hosts of friends and of having seen displays after displays which would have made a creditable showing in the Detroit Builders Show. Really you must see for yourself to be convinced that our friends and neighbors who have exhibits in Plymouth's Second Home Complete Exposition have put on a display worth anyone's time to visit. As you enter the main entrance of the high school and turn to your right, your eye and attention is caught, you are released until you leave the building, by display after display. More or less in order, they are Jewett & Clark, Blank Bros., Parrott Insurance Agency, T. E. Davey (landscape gardener), Michigan Federated Utilities Co., Zerkles Coal & Supply Co., Detroit Edison Co., Paul Hayward Plymouth Bank Sales Co., E. Q. Jackson & Co., Wood & Garlett Agency, the wood work Co., Plymouth Lumber & Coal Co., Schrader Bros., National Window Shade Co., Gayde Bros., Walk-Over Boat Shop, Roy C. Strong, Wm. C. Reutter, Plymouth Auto Supply Co., J. K. Shontz, Dewey Holloway, Woodwork Co., Conner Hdw. Co., Andy's Radio Shop and finally, when you feel in need of a cooling drink after talking so much, it refreshment stand under the direction of the Girl Reserves. An interesting comment was overheard from a guest of the Mayflower Hotel, Wednesday night. This gentleman, a traveling representative of the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, stated that in all of his wide experience he has never seen so fine a display in a town anywhere near Plymouth's population range. There are so many unusual attractions, so many interesting features that space will not permit a complete enumeration and it would not be fair to mention a few without listing all. You should not miss this educational event. Remember, tonight—the last night.

The intermediate pupils were Margaret Horvath, Jean Dunham, Mary Gail Schaffer, Betty Barnes and Mary Katherine Moon. Lawrence Smith and Jack Stevens played lovely pieces, "The Storm" and an "Indian War Dance." Dorothy Barnes, Ceila Lewis and Marie Angove illustrated the attractiveness of the pieces that the first and second grade pupils are doing. Little Marie Angove, who is only eight years old, and who has studied less than a year, showed extraordinary talent. The playing of all the pupils was characterized by unusual feeling and expression.

HERE WE GO!

With a new captain, pilot and crew in command, the city of Plymouth is off on another voyage into municipal activities. When a great ocean liner carrying some 5,000 or more passengers sets out from port, it is the occasion not only of expressions of good wishes, but always there is more or less concern as to the safety of the voyage.

So it is when a new administration assumes control of the affairs of a great state or an important community like Plymouth. We just naturally wish our commanding officers good luck and success. And it is natural, too, that some should feel a bit concerned as to the future. But have you ever noticed that when we all pull together and when we try to aid, the voyage is much more pleasant and the results are all the more beneficial?

Plymouth is starting a new year in its history with new officers in command. Every resident of the community has a reason to be concerned, because the success of the new administration will in one way or another, even though it may be remote, have some bearing on all of us.

Everything is to be gained by giving to our village heads our whole-hearted support. Such a spirit on our part will help make the administration a success. And anything which benefits the government of the community must necessarily help the whole town.

We're off to a new year in municipal affairs. Let us all work hand in hand with the new officials and help to make their administration a success. It will help each one of us individually, and what is more important than all that it will help Plymouth.

PASS IT

Many good measures have been presented to the Michigan state legislature during the present session for consideration, but one of the best is that just offered by Representative Vern Brown of Ingham county which has for its object the taxation of billboards. The measure provides a tax of $5 to $10 for all billboards erected in the state and it also gives to the highway department control over these billboards.

If the bill should be passed it will help rid the state of one of its worst nuisances, not entirely of course, but it will force down many of the present obnoxious billboards that obstruct the landscape of Michigan. Much of the rural and suburban beauty of the state has been destroyed by billboards. They have also added to the traffic hazards as many of them are erected at dangerous highway intersections.

If the bill should win the approval of the house and senate and be signed by Governor Brucker, there is not the slightest doubt but what the excellent highway department of the state will do its part in forcing this nuisance from along the highways.

It is a good bill, and Representative Brown is to be congratulated for his part in initiating this important piece of legislation.

ABOUT ROADS

A trip through the south, southwest, along the Pacific and back through the midwest has given the writer a chance to carefully observe road conditions and highway construction throughout the middle and western half of the country. We now have first hand information about highways—and it can be said without the slightest fear of contradiction—that Michigan is so far in the lead of all other states in highway development that there is no comparison. Michigan pioneered in the wide shoulder for paved highways. Illinois, Louisiana, California and some of the other states are just now adopting this safety measure for the motoring public. Missouri, in the construction of its new highway between St. Louis and Kansas City, has adopted the plan followed in Michigan for many years, of avoiding as far as possible the main streets of communities along the way.

And no county of a great metropolitan section can show any highway development that can, in the slightest, compare to that of Wayne county.

Most everyone is familiar with conditions in Cook county around Chicago. No large city in the west can in any way rank with Detroit's metropolitan highway conditions, thanks to the foresight of such men as Frank Rogers, Grover Dillman, John Haggerty and Ed. Hines. Long before others had given thought to these problems, they had worked out the solution. As a result Michigan motorists have long enjoyed highway advantages that other places are just now starting to adopt.

A GOOD IDEA

Remember back in the days when Hazen Pingree was mayor of Detroit.

Remember we had some "hard times" then? Yes, they called them "hard times" then instead of a "business depression."

Remember, too, that a lot of folks didn't know just where their next meal was coming from?

Doubtless, too, you will recall that Mayor Pingree urged that vacant lots in Detroit be planted to potatoes for the benefit of the unemployed.

They called him "Potato" Pingree as a result. Anyway a lot of good came from his suggestion and old timers will remember that the vacant lots of Detroit produced a large crop of potatoes that helped materially to reduce the "hard times" suffering of the ensuing winter.

Right now the Ex-Service Men's Club of Plymouth is urging the planting of numerous vacant lots in Plymouth to vegetable gardens. They have secured a list of this property that can be had for no costs whatever, providing some worthy person would like to use the lot for raising vegetables that will help to keep the cost of living down next winter.

It is quite amazing what a vast amount of supplies, such as potatoes, beans, tomatoes, corn and other crops can be raised on a small city lot. With a corner of the cellar filled with such produce as can be grown in a small space, with dozens of cans of tomatoes, string beans, a few dozen heads of cabbage buried in the backyard—well, you may know that surely there will be more sun-shine next winter and things will not be so bad after all.

Especially if we try to help ourselves at a time when such help will produce something we can store away for that day when we might need it.

Yes, the plan being sponsored by the Ex-Service men is an excellent one. Let's make every vacant lot in Plymouth this year a vegetable garden and a vegetable garden properly planted and cared for, adds attractiveness to any place.

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

YOU'RE WRONG, DOC.

Victor Rich, super-indulgent Battle Creek youth, would have been electrocuted had his conviction been under the proposed death law. Yet what do we find? Ten years after his trial he is to be released by executive clemency, the governor's action meeting with practically universal approval. —Charlotte Republican Tribune.

THE PIONEERS

An exchange reminds us that three programs of some forty years ago frequently carried a note concerning an innovation in lighting arrangements, as follows: "The use in theaters of electric light is experimental. Its brilliancy is of incalculable advantage if it does not prove too intense. It is our duty to give the new light the fairest and fullest trial to reach the highest and best results attainable thru experiment." While this sounds queer to us now, it did require vision and courage on the part of theatre owners and others to give the then newly discovered light "a fair trial." Their progressiveness was rewarded as it deserved to be, and nowhere has the science and art of lighting reached greater heights of perfection than in the theatre of today. Much credit is due to the pioneers who made these amazing developments possible. —Fred Keister in Ionia County News.

AL'S RIGHT

Will someone who knows a lot about fish, fish laws, and fishermen, commercial and sportmen, tell us what force asserts itself among our legislators that causes them to withhold action that will take the $10 license fee imposed upon anyone wanting to dispose of a few fish that he caught and cannot use himself. This law does not help our commercial big shot fishermen at all, but it does work a big hardship on a great lot of people about our city that might be able to make a few cents on the side when the commercial fishermen are not operating. —Al Weber in Cheboygan Observer.

WHAT PRISONERS NEED

Our prison problems are endless. No sooner do we get one of them solved than some new angle develops to muddle it. So we have continuous, futile discussion about it.

Take the matter of sentences. We tried making them short and we tried making them long. In nearly all of our states we provided prison terms for various crimes with a minimum and maximum limit. Having done that, we have experimented a good deal with the degree of elasticity. In recent years the tendency has been to widen the gap. Thus a prisoner might be confined from one to 20 years, or from one year to "life."

This policy changed a basic principle of the older justice, which put the degree of punishment up to the court. That responsibility is now transferred mostly from the judge to the parole board.

The parole board is a good institution, generally speaking, but too much was expected of it, and naturally it hasn't measured up. It is seldom possible for parole boards to know as much about a case as the judge knew when it was tried. This many curious things are done, that are got off, and good men are overlooked. Such a board is usually more subject to political and personal influence than a court. So we shall probably swing back again to greater judicial discretion in penalties.

Meanwhile, the "idle house" flourishes.

After we have done a lot more swinging back and forth, in this and other matters, we may finally settle down on the good old rock-bottom truth that what prisoners or any other group of human beings, need more than anything else, is steady, constructive, self-respecting employment. —Ypsilanti Press

Aged Attorney Dies At Dearborn Home

Zina P. King, 92 years old, and until his retirement three years ago the oldest practicing attorney in Michigan, well known to many Plymouth residents, died a few days ago at his home in Dearborn. The following from the Dearborn Press will be of interest to his many old acquaintances.

"Zina P. King, 92 years, and one of the oldest practicing attorneys in Michigan at the time of his retirement in 1928, died Monday at the home of James M. Montle, 2349 Dunning avenue, King was a graduate of the University of Michigan Literary school in the class of 1864 and of the Law Class of 1867.

"Although the attorney has been blind for the past 12 years, he had the unique distinction of being the oldest practicing attorney in Michigan when he retired. He had practiced law in Ann Arbor, and had moved to Dearborn in 1928.

"Mr. King was born in Jackson county 92 years ago and when 14 years old entered on a six year term in the seminary at Albion. He entered the Literary school at the University of Michigan in 1860 and in 1872 was married to Miss Delphine Eastman of New York. His wife died in 1914 and there were no children.

HOW THE FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM Benefits Business Industry
The Farmers and The Public as a Whole

The FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM of the United States is the result of the greatest and most beneficial piece of financial legislation ever enacted by any nation. For over 18 years—or since 1913—The Federal Reserve Act has been a law. Today wherever banking is known, the term "FEDERAL RESERVE BANK" stands as a synonym for strength, stability, efficiency and helpfulness.

Linked into this great Federal Reserve System are banks all over the country, whose resources amount to about two-thirds of the total resources of all banks, thus there is gathered into one organization a tremendous strength of capital and reserve—which has a great bearing upon the financial strength and progress of every community.

Through the Federal Reserve System, Member Banks are enabled to meet the varying requirements of commercial and agricultural enterprises without delay.

Members of the Federal Reserve System share in the rediscounting privilege, by which the resources of this Nation-wide system embracing the strongest banks in the country, can be drawn upon whenever increasing business or emergencies demand more money than is available locally. This does not mean that reckless lending will be countenanced—but it does mean that CREDIT can be obtained for business or emergencies when it is based on firmly grounded lines.

On July 1, 1926, We became a member of the Federal Reserve System of the UNITED STATES, which permits us to present to our customers and friends the benefits and strength of the strong, est banking system in the world.

We invite you to carry an account with us and benefit by our service and security.

 Special meeting, April 16, 1931. Brother Harre (Dad Harre) and his crowd from the Detroit Temple Corps, also Little Peter, the Happy Cornishman, will be with them.  Just five weeks ago a Home League was organized through the efficient leadership of Mrs. Capt. Wright, with the assistance of Mrs. Col. Norris of Detroit, eleven ladies joining. Last week Thursday evening the league put on a short but very interesting program. They also had a nice display of fancy work and baked goods, which goes to show though few in number much can be accomplished. "If we all pull together." The league meets every Thursday afternoon from two to four o'clock, at the Army hall. We cordially invite any lady to meet with us and enjoy a profitable afternoon, especially those not attending any other church.

Christian Science Notes
 "Unreality" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches on Sunday, April 5.
 Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "All things were made by him; and without him was not anything made that was made" (John 1:3).
 The Lesson-Sermon also included the following from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Everything good or worthy, God made. Whatever is valueless or harmful, He did not make;—hence its unreality. In the Science of Genesis we read that He saw everything which He had made, and behold, it was very good" (p. 225).

ROSEDALE GARDENS PRESBYTERIAN NOTES
 Sunday services—10:00 a. m., Bible school; 11:00 a. m., morning worship, subject, "The Summation to Life."
 Items of Interest
 At the close of the Sunday morning service there will be a brief meeting of the congregation to elect an elder. Wednesday evening April 15th, there will be a meeting of the cooperation to elect a trustee.

 The Easter service last Sunday was an inspiration to all. The church was beautifully decorated, and the music was splendid. Thirteen persons were received into membership.

EPISCOPAL NOTES

"After eight days again... Jesus cometh..."—John xx: 26.
 Every Sunday is a little Easter, the Lord's day, a commemoration of that first day of the week when Jesus rose from the dead. If you were not in church last Sunday, why not come this Sunday? If you were, keep up the good habit; come again! Easter was not, and is not, the end but rather the beginning of a new life for those who recognize the Lord's presence.

A word of appreciation to all those who helped with music and flowers, and to those who helped in the work of cleaning the church. Many, too, were generous in their special offering, which enabled the church to meet certain pressing obligations. The attendance at both services was a marked improvement over last year. We rejoice that so many showed their devotion to our Lord by making their communion on this day.

METHODIST NOTES
 The Junior Choir, so greatly enjoyed on Palm Sunday, will sing for us again next Sunday morning.
 Mrs. Koenig's circle of the Ladies' Aid Society will meet with Mrs. Standard Hosse, 595 Ann St., on Wednesday afternoon.
 Mr. Lendrum's circle will meet on Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Walter Palmer on Burroughs St.
 Mrs. Hillman's circle will meet Wednesday in the church parlors. Mrs. McLeod is program chairman.

The Rooster class will hold its regular meeting and cooperative supper on Friday evening, April 17.

CATHOLIC NOTES
 Next Sunday is Holy Name Sunday. Communion Sunday for all the men of the parish.
 John Murphy, father of Mrs. J. B. Kinahan of Rosedale Gardens, died and was buried from Traverse City last week. Our sympathy is extended to Mrs. Kinahan.

Father Lefevre is slowly recovering from his serious and prolonged illness, although it will be a few weeks yet before he will be able to be about again. He wishes to take this opportunity to thank all for their kind Easter gifts to thank all for all kindness and remembrance, also for all kindness rendered him during his recent illness.

Next Sunday the Nethem baseball team will play ball on their diamond at Newburg. They will play the Liberty A. C. of Detroit. All are welcome.

BAPTIST NOTES
 Saturday, April 11, at 2:30 p. m., is the pastor's class for children. Any children from 8 to 13 years of age are welcome to come. We meet in the church parlors. You will find the rear door open. Parents are welcome to visit with their children. Bring a Bible if possible.

 Sunday, at 10:00 a. m., we shall study Matthew, Chapter 15. The evening service at 7:30 will be in charge of the pastor. The subject of this message will be "Where Heaven is, and How to get There?" Come and bring your Bible.

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES.

Presbyterians shared in the general Easter rejoicing. The special services coupled with the beautiful day brought out unusually large congregations. The dramatic presentation at the evening service under the auspices of the Sunday school, with Mrs. W. Kaiser as committee chairman, was carried out in a very impressive manner, and was well attended.

The Women's Auxiliary met on Wednesday afternoon, when plans for the year's work were discussed and approved.

The Women's Presbyterian Society met Wednesday, in Howell Presbyterian church. Mrs. Melburn Partridge and Mrs. R. H. Reck were delegates from the Plymouth church. Other women of the congregation attended.

The Busy Women's class will hold the April meeting at the home of Mrs. E. C. Leach on Tuesday, April 14th. There will be cooperative dinner at noon, and the business and program meeting will follow.

NEWBURG

Newburg P. T. A. entertainment at Newburg school house, Friday, April 10 (tonight), at 8:00 p. m. sharp. The program, which consists of moving picture, lecture and music, is under the management of James A. G. A. A. B. McNabb. Come out and have a good time. Children 10c, adults 20c.

The church was well filled for the Easter service. A profusion of potted plants and flowers surrounded the altar, making a beautiful setting for the resurrection message of the pastor. There was special music by the choir, and a solo by Miss Anna Youngs which contributed toward a joyful Easter service. During the Sunday-school hour, Mrs. Cutler sang two solos. Miss Joy McNabb acted as leader for the Epworth League. Alice Gilbert led a week ago. Always glad to have the young people home from College.

Those who attended the L. A. S. at Mrs. Ida Thomas's last week Wednesday, were loud in their praises of the fine dinner served. This is the last dinner until next fall.

The Epworth League had a lovely time at the parsonage last week Thursday evening. Light refreshments were served by the hostess, who knows how to make the young people happy.

Newton Youngs has a bad case of poison ivy on his arm.
 Eldon Geney is home from the hospital, but not much improved.
 Glad to note the Gilbert family are out of quarantine. No new cases reported.

After a two weeks' visit with friends in Owosso, Miss Lydia Joy returned home last week, her friend, Miss Stewart returning with her.
 Charles Ryder, Jr., is on the sick list.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Curney spent Easter in Flint.
 Mr. and Mrs. Alva Avery of Wayne, spent Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Smith.

Mrs. E. Ryder entertained Bert Padlock and sons, Charles and Dwight for Easter dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Ross and children called on Mrs. Emma Ryder last Saturday, on their way to Washington, D. C. where Emily and David were to take part in the egg rolling contest on the White House lawn.

Newburg school has occasion to be proud of Yvonne Hearsh who won the championship among 4-11 clubs in Wayne County rural schools, from among one hundred other girls who contested for first honors at the Dearborn High School, Saturday. The dress of green wool with linen cuffs and collar cost her $4.48. Yvonne is 13 years old.

The L. A. S. will give a silver tea next Thursday afternoon, April 16, at the home of Mrs. Clyde Smith. Mesdames Joy, Gutrie, Melbeck and Smith will furnish the refreshments. Everyone cordially invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Ora Bissett have moved to Plymouth.

Rosedale Gardens

By J. W. WALKER

are finding refuge and building their nests in the many new homes the Manual Training class have placed about. Notable among the larger and prettily decorated ones are at the Peters' and Coopers', neighbors on Middle Berwick Ave.

A number of robins have returned to their old nests and have had many early worms with the rains.

Some few honey bees are out early too, but must rely on artificial feeding, so they soon go "back home."

will have their organization meeting tonight, Friday the tenth instant. The and-players—Joe Hayden, Hobber Shoppe, Rosedale Gardens, at eight in the evening. All interested must come to this event. Next week is official opening, so don't fail your home team.

Spring Holidays
were all over with the coming of the Easter Bunny, and some real live ones, too. With kiddies and their mothers all done out in their new bonnets for the most beautiful of days wherewith to show the wearall, kind thoughts in and after church services, and sweet thoughts for the candy eggs and chocolate lunnies. Then after, many were the Sunday visitors from the big village, Detroit, after pussy willows and with peace offerings for having remained away since the first frost. Truth comes from months of the little folks when they tell their city cousins "they'll be glad and anxious to come out when the flowers bloom again." Which same that is just that, for the Robins are building their nests, and create quite a chirping contest at sun up and down every day.

Wood Fires
were the main attraction, outside of pussy willows, Sunday, for the Sub-burb Day vacationists, and there were many of both. Traffic on 'S-12' reaching almost football day proportions.

Sympathy
of all is extended Perry Gray and Albert A. Brockway, the son and the brother of Dr. Anna M. B. Gray, who died last Sunday a week. For now comes the end that Mrs. Sarah L. Scott, Dr. Gray's sister, died at the home of her son in Hartford, Conn., on Tuesday, the thirty-first.

The remains of the two sisters rest temporarily in the vault at Riverside Cemetery, pending burial in Lakeside Cemetery at Calumet, Michigan.

Mrs. Scott was the first white child born west of Saint Louis (July 17, 1844).

FISHER SCHOOL NOTES
(Too Late for Last Week)
The 4-11 clubs of the Elm, Brainard and George H. Fisher schools held their local achievement at the Fisher school, Thursday, March 26. The projects were placed on exhibit early in the evening. Many parents, patrons and friends were present.

The president of the Fisher Girls' Sewing club, Margaret Tuck, was chairman of the program. The program was opened by community singing, "America the Beautiful," after which Dolores Holman gave a poem of "Welcome." William Wolfman, fourth year handicraft boy of the Elm school read his very interesting and complete handicraft story. The sewing club girls of the Brainard school sang two 4-11 Club songs, "Dreaming" and "Flowering Song." Helen Starvo and Elizabeth Roberts gave a humorous and interesting dialogue, "Arranging Dresser Drawers." Ernest Curriett and Fred McNulty gave an instructive demonstration on "How to Finish Lumber." Lawrence McNulty also gave a demonstration on the correct method to bore a hole. Dorothy Evans, Irene Ciesielski and Margaret Starvo gave a delightful play stressing the value of 4-11 Club work.

The sewing clubs of the Brainard and the Fisher schools presented a style show. The girls wore the dresses they had made during the past club year. Such the workmanship as was displayed, was certainly a credit to their leaders.

Miss Maxine Carr, sewing club leader of the Brainard school, presented certificates of completion to all the girls of her club who completed their work 100%.

Mrs. Arlene Plankel, second year sewing club leader, presented the following girls with certificates of completion: Margaret Tuck, Dolores Holman, Phyllis Seusing, Margaret Starvo, Helen Starvo, Mary Kusnera, Lucille Holman, Frances Jaynes and Elizabeth Roberts. Ex-Service Men's Club Notes

The Ex-Service Men's Club and Woman's Auxiliary regular meeting will be held at the Jewell-Blanch hall, Monday evening, March 13. As usual supper will be served to the club and auxiliary at 6:30 sharp. Following the supper at 8:00 p. m. sharp and before the business meetings of the two organizations, Mrs. K. H. Campbell, assistant superintendent of the Detroit House of Correction, in charge of all women inmates, will speak on the subject of women delinquents.

Mrs. Campbell has had twenty-four years experience in prison and social-legal problems and as a member of the Twentieth Century Club, with two fellow club members, was appointed twelve years ago on the legislative committee and by the then Governor Sleeper to investigate conditions at the State Industrial School for Girls at Adrian. Under her committee's direction the rules and regulations governing the care of the state's girl wards was recognized and the same rules are still in effect at Adrian, with the result that Michigan now is looked upon as the forefront in the care of girl and juvenile delinquents.

When the condition of women prisoners at the old House of Correction on Alfred St., Detroit, was brought to the attention of the public, Mrs. Campbell was delegated by the Twentieth Century Club to investigate and report. Later Mayor Smith appointed her on the Board of Commissioners, and under John Smith's administration Detroit both the most up-to-date and humanitarian prison for women offenders in the world. All members of the various women's clubs in Plymouth have been officially invited to visit the Ex-Service Men's Club meeting and meet Mrs. Campbell at 8:00 p. m.

All ex-service men are invited and urged to attend this meeting as important business will be brought up for consideration by the various committees and by the commander. Answer the roll call Monday night!

SARGON'S FAME SPREADS OVER ENTIRE WORLD

People of America Sending It to Relatives and Friends in England, Scotland, Ireland, France, Canal Zone, Philippine Islands, Hawaii, Sweden, Cuba and Latin America.

SOMETHING over five years ago one of the world's great chemical laboratories began the creation of a new and wonderful medicine that was to prove a great boon to humanity. Untriggery a great scientist toiled to create a formula that would aid in overcoming many of the common, every day ailments of mankind. Not for two and one-half years did the research work and laboratory experiments yield that phenomenal formula called Ferro-Iodized Sargon.

Science Rewarded
Countless tests were given it. Biological chemists, physicians and medical men hailed it, for at last it was seen that the efforts of science had been rewarded—that a combination of elements had been found that would aid in quickly restoring that chemical balance of the body which cell good health.

Nothing like it had ever before been accomplished and in thousands upon thousands of cases a few days' use of this new and modern compound witnessed a remarkable improvement in the health and happiness of countless men and women, many of whom had suffered for years.

Since those first tests, a few years ago, the fame of this celebrated medicine has spread rapidly over the entire American continent and many foreign countries are clamoring for it.

Results Astonishing
So remarkable have been the results accomplished by it in overcoming many stubborn cases—after all other medicines and treatments had apparently failed—that people everywhere are buying it and sending it to relatives and friends in distant lands.

Just think of finding a medicine that had proved of such great benefit to you that you would go to the trouble of buying it and sending it to some relative or friend thousands of miles away! But that is just what people everywhere are doing with Sargon.

Only recently a letter was received at the Sargon offices advising that in one week, one drug firm alone had shipped Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills to Cavite, Philippine Islands; Coza Solo, Canal Zone; Bolebrook, Ireland, and Paris, France. And it is a worthy fact that orders for more than 75,000 bottles have been received from the Hawaiian Islands alone within the past seven months.

Men of Prominence Express Gratitude
In addition to the endorsement of scores of well known physicians, chemists and health authorities, many grateful letters and endorsements have been received from men of prominence, including former governors, U. S. Senators, business and professional men, mayors and state and county officials. Even ministers of the Gospel have deemed it their duty to come forward and tell what Sargon has done for them.

Only a short time ago the President of one of the South's largest corporations, walked into a Memphis drug store and purchased his sixth bottle of Sargon. He had taken three bottles himself and stated he had received such wonderful benefits from it that he was sending the others for relatives and friends.

You, too, can enjoy the rich benefits that Sargon can bring. Increase your bodily vigor—get sound refreshing sleep without harmful drugs—Eat with a keen, hearty appetite—Feed your starving nerves and impoverished blood—Have that rugged glow of health and get a new lease on life at once with the aid of this new and modern compound.

are in order, the baths and kitchen sinks in vogue for the several couples, and then, too, Uncle Robert Wilson is going to build a half a dozen garages when weather is safe to lay concrete flooring, as he insists that be done first to anchor the thing down.

The construction division is in deep thinking over some big pile of sketches and blue prints which may mean the reawakening of building activity hereabouts before the next full moon.

week was started in Detroit a week later than ours, in fact it had not been for snow and rain. Supt. Koncke would have had it all done before Mayor Murphy got started.

Moving
The Phipps family has moved from Berwick over to the Master's home on Arden. The LaVallee's just down the street to the former Stevenson (Model 5) on Arden. We welcome those who have purchased Mrs. Marshall's home at 1127 1/2 Arden, and Miss Nina Van Tiplin, who has purchased Jack Maitland's home at 11400 Berwick Ave. Also our cousin Geberti Day and Mrs. Day, who waited "til Spring" to move from Lander over to 11405 Ingram.

Advice
on planting annuals is being daily and widely dispensed on both sides of R. Emporium. From the looks of empty spaces, many will be the bouquets that will be taken back to the city Sunday just in time, and many will be the gardens as well as empty seats at kirke.

"Now IT'S THE BEST LOOKING HOUSE ON THE STREET"

MODERNIZING an old house is in itself a simple process. Under our Budget Payment Plan, no ready cash is necessary—the cost of modernizing is paid out of income—by the month. These monthly payments are surprisingly low—ten, twenty or at the most thirty dollars a month is usually sufficient to do the average job. You have three, four or five years to pay.

It is remarkable what new shutters and windows, a coat of paint and an attractive though simple entrance will do to give an old, run down house, style and livability.

Repair or replace that leaky roof—repaint—do whatever is necessary to modernize your home and reap the profit of a really sound investment in health, comfort and increased resale value.

CERTIFIED MATERIAL
When you modernize, get the additional security that the use of only CERTIFIED MATERIAL affords. Each item is delivered "in bond." Upon the completion of your work you are given a Certificate of Quality—your proof of good material, workmanship and increased resale value. Only the use of CERTIFIED MATERIAL gives you this added protection—yet it costs no more.

Phone us for suggestions. You'll be surprised at the low monthly payment that will do the work you have in mind.

What About California?

"What about California?" If the question has been asked once, it has been asked a hundred times or more since the return of the writer from a brief visit on the western coast.

It is a difficult question to answer because there are so many different phases that one must consider in answering such a question.

But first let it be said that California, especially the southern part of the state, has probably the best climate that can be found in any place in the world. But one should not expect to find this ideal climatic condition existing everywhere in California. One can find the hottest climate in America by simply crossing the mountain range that separates Los Angeles and other cities on and near the Pacific coast from the interior. If one can't enjoy a bit of winter weather, it can be had by taking a two or three hour automobile trip up into the mountains.

But for an equitable, all-year round climate, with exceedingly few chilly days in the winter and fewer hot days in the summer time, no place can honestly make the claim that southern California can.

It has the ideal climate, that must be admitted, even by the most ardent Florida lovers. True, that Florida for three or four months out of the year in certain sections, can probably claim a very delightful winter climate, but when it comes to an all-year condition, with the minimum amount of rain and chilly days in the winter and pleasant spring, summer and fall days, of course there can be no comparison between California and Florida.

Then too, California can rightly claim to be the most scenic winter vacation land in America, with possibly the exception of old Mexico, which is rapidly being opened up to tourist travel from America. The California mountains, with their wonderfully paved and protected drives, the sea shore, the beautiful orchards, the landscaping of the homes, the clean, attractive business centers, public schools that look more like great universities than ordinary grade schools, flowers in blossom, winter and summer—well there isn't much more that one could ask this side of Heaven—California has all of these. But even with all of that, you will find some who will proclaim that California isn't so much after all.

California has its problems, one must not overlook that important fact. If California had the Great Lakes, that surround Michigan there wouldn't be enough standing room to take care of all the people who would go there to live.

Water, water to drink and water to irrigate the fertile fields, a pure and sufficient supply of water at all times, is the big problem of California.

Not until California has solved its water problem and not until that enthusiastic state is assured that the mighty Colorado will provide it with a sufficient supply for all of its needs, will California residents know what the future holds for that state.

But a state that can turn barren desert lands into beautiful orchards and gardens, a state that can dig a hole into the ocean coast line and create one of the largest ports in the world, a state that can make mountain sides into residential districts, will without much doubt solve its important water problem.

It begins to look now as though the solution of this tremendously important question had been found in the building of Boulder dam.

If the building of this greatest dam ever erected in the world solves the water problem of Los Angeles and the rest of southern California, that state can give entire credit for its success to a little group of Imperial valley "pioneers," for it was these early settlers of the valley that started the agitation and kept up the battle which has finally ended in the decision of the federal government to dam the Colorado. The Imperial valley is a young country, not much more than 25 years old, and it was the foresight, the determination and the everlasting hammering away on the part of its residents which aroused the interest of all of California and the rest of the nation in the erection of Boulder dam.

Los Angeles finally discovered that it needed more than Owens river to supply its water needs and now it is contemplating a plan to tap the Boulder dam supply, using water from the Interior Rocky Mountain country to take care not only of its domestic needs but for irrigation purposes as well. Some Los Angeles Boulder dam boosters say that "we did it" but far from the truth is that claim.

It was the Imperial valley that "did it." The mighty Colorado always held a threat against the valley. The great river ran away once and destroyed much of the irrigated land. The Boulder dam plan was first advanced by the Imperial valley as a protection from floods. Then it was realized that a greater portion of its water could be used instead of permitting it to run away into the Gulf of California. And that is where Los Angeles enters into the scheme of things. It needs water to drink and if it comes from the Colorado, Los Angelttes can thank the Imperial valley pioneers for it. But it was that enthusiastic California spirit, after all, which has resulted in the building of this great dam, no matter who started the propaganda for it.

A job in California?

If you have one here, you had better keep it. If you haven't one here, you had better look for one here. There are no jobs in California.

The state is flooded at all times with young men and women, middle aged men and women, and older ones who are anxious and willing to take a job at just a sufficient wage on which to live. Possibly illness has taken them to this milder climate and they have found warm winters and mild summers a benefit to them. They will work for almost any wage. California is over-run with job hunters from all parts of the world, so it is a poor place to go to look for work, unless you happen to have some special line in which there is practically no competition.

In business it is the same way. Practically everything is "over-done" in California. There are more restaurants to the square inch in California than any other place in America. More little retail shops, more of this and that than a half dozen states could properly support and pay the owner a proper return on his investment.

Getting a job in California is not an easy matter and going in business in California is not an easy thing, although one should not gain the idea that they are impossibilities. If one is prepared to wait and battle it through there are still tremendous opportunities in California.

California is a great vacation land where its people live to enjoy life. The vast majority of them are from the east and middle west. A native son is so scarce an article that he is almost an attraction to look at.

The great driving forces that have made California what it is, its bankers and its other business leaders—are practically all men from the east, men who have seen the possibilities of California and men who have known how to make realities out of their dreams.

Garage Thieves Active in Wayne

Plymouth garage owners have not yet suffered losses from a gang of garage thieves that is apparently operating in the Detroit area. The latest theft reported is from Wayne where a large loss is reported. The Wayne Dispatch has the following report of the robbery:

Harold Dietrich Bulck sales and service station, on the corner of Main and Washington avenues, was entered by thieves on Tuesday evening and more than $1,000 worth of tools and machinery stolen. The theft was not discovered until 8 o'clock Wednesday morning when the mechanics and workmen came to work.

According to a report made by Chief of Police Larry Knox, who is investigating the case, the thieves climbed onto the roof by use of a ladder obtained from a nearby business place and entered through the skylight which was open.

Once in the garage, it is believed that they opened the doors and drove a car or truck and proceeded to load up with all the most valuable tools and machinery. Harold Dietrich, owner stated that the loss was not covered by insurance.

Coming Attractions At Penman-Allen

"LIGHTNING" Lake Tahoe frequently referred to as Nature's chosen beauty spot lies serene and placid more than 6,000 feet above the level of the sea like a jewel in a setting of rare beauty.

This California locality was chosen by Fox Movietone executives for "Lightning" Will Rogers third all talking picture which comes to the Penman Allen Theatre, Sunday and Monday, April 12 and 13.

"Lightning" was adapted from John Golden's highly successful stage play and Rogers portrays the role of "Bill Jones" the kindly, lovable old chap who dislikes work and loves his liquor and who, when his tongue is loosened, tells the most outrageous lies imaginable, his favorite topic being the Spanish American war in which he fought and advised Teddy Roosevelt.

This role is said to afford the internationally famous wit and humorist greater opportunities for whimsicalities than did either "They Had To See Paris" or "So This Is London," both tremendous Fox Movietone successes.

Louise Dresser, well remembered for her mother role in "Mother Knows Best" and other screen roles, enacts the role of Rogers' wife in this picture, directed by Henry King.

A large and competent cast supports the principals. Some of the favorites are Joel McCrea, Helen Coburn, Sharon Lynn, J. M. Kerrigan, Luke Edwards, Ruth Warren, Joyce Compton, Walter Perival, Frank Campana, Rex Bell, Goddee Montgomery and Suzanne Curtis.

"KEPT HUSBANDS"

Packed with dramatic thrills and those not always companionable cinematic elements, pulchritude and plot power, humanness and hilarity, "Kept Husbands" will keep both husbands and wives enthralled at the Penman Allen Theatre, Wednesday and Thursday, April 15 and 16.

This is the Radio Pictures' talkie with Dorothy Mackall and Joel McCrea featured, and a cast of stars of the silent films, staging brilliant "come-backs" in supporting roles.

Imagine, for instance, Clara Kimball Young, Bryant Washburn, Mary Carr and Ned Sparks all in one supporting cast!

"Kept Husbands" deals with the inevitable conflict that occurs when an ambitious young man marries a wealthy young girl for love, and finds that against his will he has married her for her money!

War is on from the moment the wedding bells toll. Round after round our hero takes an awful licking, for he loves the girl and has the modern idea, too, about the usefulness of money. But when he looks around him and sees the male tenders of lapdogs, the pitiable hangers-on in "Kept Husbands" row, he gets his dander up—and then the satire begins to fly!

"Kept Husbands" is high-powered entertainment concentrated, and it moves so fast from beginning to end that its playing time seems only half what it is! The film is lavishly staged. It was directed by Lloyd Bacon. The story is an original by Louis Sarcey, who was associate producer—a great spot for a story author. Alfred Jackson and Forrest Halsey adapted it to the screen.

"JUNE MOON"

The big comedy smash of the season is coming to the Penman Allen Theatre Friday and Saturday, April 17 and 18.

"June Moon," a faithful film version of the play by the same name, has every quality necessary for never-lagging amusement. It has comedy in abundance, heart-interest aplenty, and a gorgeous array of highly amusing character portrayals.

Jack Oakie plays the stellar role—that of the young song-writer from Schenectady who goes to New York to make a fortune in "tin pan alley." It is the role established by Norman Foster on Broadway before Foster became a full-fledged talking screen performer with Paramount.

Keeve Thompson, veteran scenarist who wrote the adaptation, adhered closely to the original material as far as is possible in converting a three-act play into the great number of scenes required for film technique.

The story is based on a famous short story, "Some Like 'Em Cold" by Ring Lardner, one of America's leading hu-

WATER PROBLEM OVER IN WAYNE IS STILL MOST IMPORTANT ONE

PLYMOUTH FORTUNATE IN NOT HAVING SIMILAR PROBLEMS TO CONSIDER

Because of the fact that a number of years ago Plymouth devoted much time and study to its water problem, finally developing a good water system as there can be found in any small sized city in the country, there is however considerable interest here in the water problem of the nearby village of Wayne.

For over a year the village to the south has been giving much time to its water problem, the supply at present being entirely inadequate for village needs.

In a recent issue the Wayne Dispatch had the following to say of the last proposal for a solution of its problem: A guarantee of 500,000 gallons of well water per day at an approximate cost to the consumer of one and three-quarter cents per thousand gallons, and at an investment of $9,750 to the village if the water can be found, was in a few words, the proposition made to the village commission at the recent meeting by W. H. Caple, representative of the Harmon-Ness company of South Bend, Indiana. Action on the proposition is pending the results of Engineer Harrison's inquiry as to what plans are to be carried out by the Detroit water board and how much Wayne is to pay for water and the amount of water this village will be able to receive.

The question which now faces the commission, is whether or not they should look to the city of Detroit for water or whether they should assume the task of building up a water system exclusive of that which is planned by Detroit for this western area. Although Engineer Harrison could not give any definite plans that would assure Wayne an adequate supply of water from Detroit at a reasonable rate, he did state that tentative plans indicate that a loop system that would include mains from Garden City to Eloise, Dearborn to Eloise, and from Garden City mains via Ford road and Wayne road north to Wayne was being constructed. If such a system was put through Wayne would have Detroit water available through two sources, Garden City and Eloise mains.

Because the village commission is seeking economy in every step that it takes, it is faced with the task of solving whether or not a well or possibly two wells of sufficient capacity will, in the long run, be much cheaper for water consumers.

Reports, obtained by Miss Isabelle Cumer, village clerk, from cities in Michigan and Indiana, that have adopted the well system as provided by the Harmon-Ness company, were very favorable and in no case was there any dissatisfaction expressed in the letters. Among the cities in Michigan which are being served well water with satisfaction are: Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Birmingham, Alma, Mt. Pleasant and many others.

Mr. Caple, in pointing out the advantages of the wells as placed by his company, stated that among the hundreds of wells which they had put into operation in this section of the country, the flow of water had increased instead of decreasing with use, and that the only trouble which they had encountered was in motor and pump equipment and that there were only a morists and fiction-writers. Oakie is seen as the small town boy with $1,200 and a tremendous sense of his own importance as a lyricist who goes to Manhattan 'isle' to bowl over the natives and to clean up a fortune in music. Instead, he is very nearly cleaned up himself when the gold-digging folks he meets get to work on him.

But Muzie Schwartz, veteran song-writer, becomes sympathetic, and finally shows Oakie that the flattery of his "friends" is entirely false, and that as a song-writer Oakie is a complete washout.

His money almost gone by the night-club route, Oakie learns that he has secured $2,500 royalties on his "June Moon" number. Schwartz persuades him to take the money and his best girl back to Schenectady. It is good advice, and Jack acts upon it.

Frances Dee is the loyal girl friend. Harry Akst is the kindly Schwartz.

few such instances, the conditions being quickly remedied.

If water was obtained in wells, the produce would be hard, and that was one of the objections raised. But Mr. Caple stated that if industrial plants experienced any difficulty the savings which they would incur through a lower rate would more than justify the installation of a softener. It was also learned that if the water was of such hardness to require filtration and softening the additional cost would bring the cost up to approximately five or six cents per thousand gallons.

Wayne at the present time is paying 18 cents per thousand gallons for Detroit water and this cost, together with the expenditure of filtration of Rouge river water brings the average years cost of 1,000 gallons up to approximately 16 or 17 cents. It was estimated that if wells were used a charge of around 10 cents per thousand gallons could be made and that in a period of years this fee would take care of the initial upkeep and at the same time provide a reserve that would soon pay off the investment made by the village.

To place a well of the nature of those constructed by the Harmon-Ness company a period of approximately six months is required, Mr. Caple stated. However, the village commission will have to wait some 60 days before it is able to learn the definite details of the Detroit board's plans and thus if the placing of a well was decided after this period, it would not be ready for the dry season, it was stated.
