

NEW CLUB HOUSE FOR PLYMOUTH GOLF PLAYERS

Unique Structure Is Being Erected by Club—Plan Opening by June 15.

Construction has been started on the new club house of the Plymouth Country Club, and President E. E. Champagne states that it is the hope of the officials of the organization to have the new structure ready for formal opening by the middle of June.

The first unit will be 36,000 with a basement under the entire structure. It is the plan of the organization to keep adding to the building as the requirements of the future growth of the club may demand.

The structure will be built entirely of logs taken from the woods at the back of the course. The club was fortunate in having a large growth of hemlock trees that are proving just the ideal material for the new building.

So that it might be built just as all well constructed log buildings are erected, the officials of the club entered into a contract with Edward Bilbau of Potosky, an experienced log structural builder of the north, who is here supervising the work.

The foundation walls have been completed and the timbers cut. The building will have every modern convenience, with showers and other requirements of an up-to-the-minute club house.

The Plymouth Country Club is a public golf course and the organization owns 193 acres. Not all of the land is used for the 18-hole golf course, which is regarded as good a golf course as any about here.

Other officers of the Plymouth Golf club are Julius Kaiser, vice-president; Irwin Fisher, secretary, and Roy Fisher, treasurer.

Name Delegates To D. A. R. Congress

The Sarah Ann Cochrane Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will have two members attending the Continental Congress which will be held in Washington, April 20th to 25th—Mrs. Dwight T. Randall will attend as regent and Miss Arthale Hough as page. They will leave this week and will go from Washington to Philadelphia, where they will attend, with the entire Michigan delegation, the dedication of the Michigan bell in the National corridor of the Washington Memorial Chapel at Valley Forge. This pilgrimage will take place the morning of April 19th after which the delegation will return to Washington and will attend a buffet supper at the Michigan State Regent, Mrs. Charles F. Bathrick, who is Michigan's candidate for vice-president general.

The regular meeting of the chapter here will be held at the residence of Mrs. Sidney Strong, Monday, April 27. This will be preceded by a meeting of the executive board at 2:00. All members of the board are urged to be present at this board meeting.

Members who have clothing for the box being packed for the southern mountain schools are especially requested to bring them to this meeting.

The program will consist of reports from the Continental Congress.

ANNUAL MEETING OF WOMAN'S CLUB TODAY

Johnson, chairman, Mrs. George Smith, Mrs. E. B. Peck, Mrs. Ada Murray, Mrs. R. O. Chappell, Mrs. P. S. Bennett and Mrs. H. S. Dorr, will be given.

BOB'S BRAIN TEASER IS NEARLY SOLVED

Sixteen and six-tenths plus—that's the right answer to the puzzle that Bob Willoughby conducted at the Home Exposition demonstration last week—and five people were within one-tenth of being correct in their efforts to ascertain the correct number of miles Bob's Walk-Over man walked.

There is no question but what it takes a real expert with figures to figure all the things out that Bob arranged in this little brain-teaser, but Plymouth has a lot of good mathematicians, and it is not at all surprising that five of them should work out the problem almost correctly.

Mrs. Hillman conducted a similar mathematical test with equally startling results, with the exception that her test was in the cubic contents of the Esther Shoppie. There were three people who tied in this problem, their answers being considerably less than one cubic foot from the correct answer.

Demonstration By Gym Classes

Remember the high school gym demonstration at 7:30 o'clock, Friday April 24th. This will be an exhibition of work by all gymnasium classes.

Honoring Martin Strinzer on his birthday, Mrs. Strinzer entertained the following guests at luncheon at the Hotel Mayflower, Wednesday, April 15: Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lacey of Plymouth; Mrs. Mollie Dowe of Dearborn, and Mr. and Mrs. John Parr of Detroit.

RECREATION CLUB IS ORGANIZED WITH E. M. MOLES AS PRESIDENT

NEW ORGANIZATION HAS TAKEN OVER QUARTERS IN SIMON'S BUILDING.

The Plymouth Recreation Club is the name of a new organization that has just been perfected in Plymouth for the purpose of promoting a wider interest among the men of Plymouth towards athletic life.

Through the cooperation of the Plymouth Athletic Club, the new organization has secured the club formerly occupied by the Athletic Club in the Simon's building. The club already has a membership of 75, and is growing rapidly.

At the second meeting of the club the following officers were elected: President, E. M. Moles; vice-president, J. J. Scudder; secretary and treasurer, E. Evans. Meetings are held every Tuesday evening at 7:30.

Chief interest of the members now is the playing of hand ball on the court, which is included with the billiard. Committees in charge of athletics have recently started a hand ball tournament among the members to decide the champion of the club and to make all familiar with the game, a soft ball tournament entered the Twilight game and various other sports are being planned.

Second Robber Of Bank Here Jailed

Ned McSherry, alias Fred McSherry, alleged partner in the hold-up, September 3, 1930 of the United Savings bank of Plymouth, was bound over to circuit court for trial when he was arraigned Saturday in common pleas court in Detroit. Judge Arthur E. Gordon set bond at $10,000, two sureties, and McSherry was remanded to the county jail.

McSherry was arrested Friday in his home at 507 West Cannon, a soft ball court for trial when he was arraigned Saturday in common pleas court in Detroit. Judge Arthur E. Gordon set bond at $10,000, two sureties, and McSherry was remanded to the county jail.

He admitted, the officers said, that he was the partner of Harry Taubensee, now serving 10 to 20-year term in Jackson prison for the same robbery. The bandits escaped with $3,100 which they took from Charles O. Ball, cash officer in the weekly parades, information given to Detroit officers months ago by former Chief Springer, who did much to solve this crime.

Local Boy Wins Commission Right

Douglas C. Carruthers, Plymouth, major in the coast artillery division of the Michigan State College, R. O. T. C., will be eligible to take his commission in the Officers Reserve Corps of the U. S. Army on June 19, 1931. It was announced at East Lansing, The Plymouth senior has had two years of advanced military training and this spring is active in the drilling of R. O. T. C. cadets.

He is also an officer in the weekly parades, which are being held in preparation for the annual inspection by the commanding officer of the 6th corps area during the last week in May.

The O. R. C. commission offered Carruthers is one of the rank of second lieutenant to hold for five years.

DEMOLAY BOYS HEAR "DAD" WILCOX SPEAK

"Dad" Wilcox, the outstanding pioneer of DeMolay work in Michigan, addressed the local chapter last Thursday on the history and purpose of the order of DeMolay. "Dad" Wilcox has more than forty years of DeMolay work in Michigan behind him, and was well qualified to present the very interesting talk which he gave. "Dad" Sherman of the Loyalty Chapter of Detroit, was also present. Their talks were very interesting and instructive, and the boys are very thankful to "Dad" Wilcox and Sherman.

The advisory board of the local chapter were also present, getting acquainted with our members and getting in closer touch with our chapter work generally.

Plans for the DeMolay Ball have been completed and everything is in readiness for a gala affair. The Blue Suspenders have been engaged to play, and there will be other attractions to insure an enjoyable evening.

The Mother and Son banquet will be held in the Masque Theatre, Tuesday, May 12, at 6:30. There will be an attractive program, including a well-known speaker and musical specialties.

The Fellowship Chapter will attend the First Baptist church at Farmington, Sunday, April 1, at 10:30 a. m. The next home meeting will be held at Steve Horvath's home on Brush St. at 7:30 o'clock.

Father Schuler Is New Rotary Chief

Plymouth friends of Father Joseph Schuler of Northville, will be interested in knowing that he was elected president of the Rotary club of that city, Monday. The new Rotary year starts on July first, and at that time he will take up his duties as the club's chief executive. Percy Angove, assistant educational superintendent of the Wayne County Training school, was honored by being elected vice-president of the club. It is the practice of the neighboring Rotarians to advance the vice-president to the presidency, and if the regular club program goes through, Mr. Angove will be the club president following Father Schuler's term.

Come early and get a good seat at the musicale tonight.

The Baseball Season Opens Today

KIWANIANIS ARE TOLD ADVANTAGES IN USE OF NEW SAFETY GLASS

The Kiwanis Club of Plymouth witnessed a highly convincing demonstration of the advantages of safety glass in automobiles. Tuesday, noon when Earl Lenz, factory superintendent, accompanied by J. A. Merchant, personal director, both of the Graben-Patze Corporation, were presented to the club by Roy Crowe.

An apparent inconsistency in untempered glass was shown by the fact that while a heavy nail could be driven through several thicknesses of board using a glass pop bottle as a hammer, the same bottle instantly burst when a small piece of glass was dropped into it, a "trick" which anyone can reproduce.

The remarkable effectiveness of safety glass was demonstrated by the use of two windshields, one of ordinary plate glass, the other of safety glass. A small plank was easily thrust thru the plate glass, scattering its shattered particles, but it was only after repeated efforts or more than ordinary force that it was at all possible to penetrate the safety glass and even then there were no flying bits of glass to endanger the person who might have been seated behind it.

A brief description of the manufacture of glass, illustrated with the chemicals used in production completed this very instructive talk.

Friends Honor Miss Gladys Schrader

First among the social functions to be given for Miss Gladys Schrader, in honor of her approaching marriage, was the miscellaneous shower and bridge-dinner in the crystal dining room of the Hotel Mayflower, Wednesday evening, April 10. Mrs. Bert E. Norton of Rochester, Mrs. A. E. Patterson and Mrs. Chamee H. Rauch of this place. There were fifteen tables placed about the room having in the center of each a beautiful doll dressed in pastel shades of crepe paper with little parasols and fans to match, also our baskets in the same colors while in the center of the room was a beautifully covered table with dolls representing the bride and bridesmaids, the bride having a lovely gown of white satin with train and veil which was held in place with real orange blossoms, while the bridesmaids were dressed in pink. As this same table the shower gifts in dainty wrappings were placed on the top and around. It made a lovely scene with the many colored gowns of the guests. The guest of honor received numerous beautiful gifts which she will always prize.

On Saturday, Mrs. Charles H. Bennett and Miss Pauline Cook are honoring Miss Schrader with a huge luncheon at the Meadowbrook Golf club near Northville.

PLYMOUTH IN NEW CONGRESS DISTRICT

Through the action of Governor Wilbur Brucker in signing the Harding re-apportionment bill, Plymouth will no longer be a part of the congressional district so long and so well represented by Congressman Michener. This township, with Northville, Redford and the 23rd ward of Detroit, becomes a part of the new 17th congressional district, which in addition to the places mentioned, will include all of Oakland county.

Co., and remained with the company until 1923, when he resigned and went to California for a six months' rest and vacation. He had served the village as clerk for several terms. In 1890 he married Kate E. Shaffer, she passing on in 1908. To them one son was born, Earl A. Lauffer of Detroit. His wife married Miss Edna Haysinger who survives him, with one sister, Mrs. Cass R. STUDENTS COMING ON INSPECTION TRIP

Next Thursday a group of students from the Battle Creek College of Battle Creek will visit Plymouth for the purpose of studying and inspecting the local sewage disposal plant, according to information that has been received by Berg Moore, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. S. E. Hartwell, assistant professor of biology, will be with the class on its tour. Plymouth some years ago built a modern sewage disposal plant and this is not the first time that it has been visited by delegations from other cities that were making a study of the sewage disposal problem. They will arrive at the Chamber of Commerce office about 9 o'clock in the morning and will be immediately turned over to L. P. Cookingham, village manager, who will conduct them on their inspection trip.

CONSOLIDATION OF COUNTIES IN UPPER PART OF STATE URGED

An exceptionally interesting meeting of the Plymouth League of Women Voters was held at the home of Mrs. Robert Keck at 171 Blunk Ave., Monday afternoon, April 10. Through the courtesy of Mrs. Thomas Reed, president of the Ann Arbor League of Women Voters, wife of Prof. Reed of the University, the Plymouth League was able to secure as speaker, Arthur Bromage, professor of political science at the University of Michigan.

Professor Bromage is a graduate of Harvard University, and is considered an authority on county government—one of the subjects the League is studying this year.

A sum of money was set aside at the University to be used by Prof. Bromage for the study of county government and he traveled through Michigan making an intensive study of this subject.

Prof. Bromage believes in the consolidation of counties in the upper part of Michigan above a line drawn from Saginaw to Muskegon, below which line he 85 per cent of Michigan's population. He believes in County Home Rule and that the time has passed when the same form of county government fits the needs of both urban and rural communities.

Prof. Bromage told of counties in Virginia and North Carolina where a county manager has been appointed and the government has been planned on the same order as city manager form of government.

The greatest step forward in the study of county government is a bill presented by Senator Stevens already passed by the senate, providing for a commission of five to be appointed by Governor Brucker to study county government in Michigan and report to the legislature in 1932. The League members expressed a hope that Prof. Bromage would be one of the five appointed.

Reports were given by Mrs. Frank Millard and Miss Linn Durfee of the Wayne County League of Women Voters' convention held in Detroit, Mar. 25.

Following the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Keck assisted by Mrs. Evelyn Leck, with Mrs. Myron Hinchey and Mrs. Bert Moore presiding at the tea table.

WOMEN VOTERS LEAGUE TOLD OF BENEFITS TO TAXPAYERS BY THE PLAN.

The Plymouth Playground League will go into action again this year, May 5, when the Tompkins (the Masonic team of last year) will cross bars with Dunn Street. The League is setting off at an earlier start this year, which will make it better for the play-offs at the close of the season. Most of the old teams will be back with the exception of the Methodist and Ford Taps. The Baptist, a new team, will take its place, and the Recreation will be in place of Ford Taps. Many of their players were seen last year.

The various managers of the teams are getting their line-ups and all are confident of finishing on top. The Coffee Cup team are players from the Robinson Sub team. They are being sponsored by the Coffee Cup Restaurant located on Starkweather Ave.

The games will be played on the school ground as last year. Each team will play each other team twice, and the four teams having the highest percentage will go in the play-offs to determine the championship the same as last year. Todd's all stars won the play-offs last year, and the other teams are out this year to beat them out of it.

Watch next week's Plymouth Mail for schedule.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Strong and Mr. and Mrs. John Bloxam were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fletcher Sunday evening, at their home on North Harvey street.

COUNTY STARTS PLYMOUTH PARK PAVING APRIL 20 TO BUILD GRADE SEPARATION UNDER P. M. TRACKS

NATIONAL HANDBALL CHAMPIONS STAGE GAMES IN PLYMOUTH

EXTENSIVE PROGRAM ANNOUNCE BY BOARD

Parkway System Will Rival That of Westchester County, New York.

Announcement has been made by the Wayne County Road Commission that construction of the new paved highway through the Plymouth park will be started on April 20. In a statement made to the Plymouth Mail, officials of the commission stated that it was their plan to have the new paving of the park from the Plymouth road at the point where the gravel highway crosses the park.

Something like one mile of paving will be built to the south immediately. Probably the most important part of the announcement is the statement that during the summer the Wayne county road commission will build a grade separation under the Pere Marquette tracks on a newly laid out roadway running directly north from the present entrance to the park.

This brings the intersection of the new road to be built on the east side of Plymouth and running to the north with the Pere Marquette track at the point where the railroad company was required to make a big fill when its track was constructed.

The county recently purchased 30 acres lying between the Plymouth road and the Pere Marquette tracks from William Barr of Detroit. This property was formerly owned by Gilman Beals of Plymouth and was sold by him to a representative of Mr. Barr. In the original transaction, Mr. Beals sold 40 acres to Mr. Barr, but the county has only taken over 30 acres of the property. Only this piece of land between the tracks and the river Rouge lying between the Plymouth road and the railroad tracks, with the beautiful banks, which will be landscaped during the present year by the county park department.

The new scenic highway will emerge directly onto the Henry Ford property on the north side of the tracks and will run across his property.

It is stated that Mr. Ford has made a long time lease to the county without charge for the use of his property.

An additional 30 acres has been purchased from I. N. Moore of Lansing, and announcement has also been made of the purchase by the county of the property of Mrs. Rea, on the Plymouth-Northville road just this side of the 5-Mile road. Mrs. Rea's property lies on the west side of the present paved road to Northville, and it contains a large number of beautiful trees.

While the information pertaining to the other grade separation project at Phoenix is at this time indefinite, it is stated that the county will probably put the new scenic drive under the Pere Marquette tracks, which will be present, including a golf course which will directly across the highway from the Ford Phoenix lake park.

A condemnation jury in circuit court recently condemned 13 pieces of land between Nowburg and Northville for park and highway purposes, making total awards of $204,000, for all of the land in question.

The grading for the paving that is to be started on April 20th, through the Plymouth park has been partly completed, and the new concrete bridge over the Rouge river is ready for the laying of the concrete over it.

When this work will have been completed by the county road commission, practically the entire east side of the park will be bounded by, and approach to the country outside of Westchester county in New York.

In fact, the Westchester parkway system will be far surpassed by that of Wayne county when the project is finished.

Plymouth park, a gift of this community to the county park system, will, before the end of the present year, be one of the most beautiful spots in Michigan.

Many thousands of dollars have been spent on improvements in the park during recent months and in addition to the paved way that will be constructed this spring, the county is planning considerable additional landscaping in the next few weeks.

Over Hundred At Scout Pow-Wow

The Scouts and Scouters of the Plymouth district held a Pow-Wow at the Wayne County Training School gymnasium April 10, 1931. About 90 Scouts and 35 Dads and Scouters attended.

The "Pow-Wow" was opened in the usual Scout form, with Scout Gregory of Troop No. 2, leading in the Scout Oath and Scout Law. This was followed by about twenty minutes of group singing which was enjoyed by Scouts and Dads and welled the entire group into one.

L. Sawyer of the Detroit Police Department was the speaker of the evening, and gave a most interesting and instructive talk on finger prints and uses to which they are put.

Troops N-2 and N-3 each entertained the gathering with a troop stunt.

Preliminary plans for a Headquarters Troop were made. S. D. Strong, Scoutmaster of Troop P-1, was placed in charge of this troop.

R. Loomis, Scoutmaster of Troop N-3 was appointed deputy district commissioner to take charge of a Scoutmaster's organization.

The meeting was closed at 9:50 with Eagle Scout Band of Troop P-1 leading in the Scout Benediction.

SMITH MOTOR SALES TO HANDLE NEW CAR

Announcement was made today by the new DeVaux-Hall Motors Corporation, Grand Rapids, Michigan, of the appointment of the Smith Motor Sales as DeVaux dealer in Plymouth. Being an enviable reputation as a motor car dealer, Mr. Smith is well known here, his car line being chosen by those whose line of cars he has chosen to handle. Mr. Smith points out that a master manufacturer and an internationally famous engineer have joined forces.

"Norman DeVaux, 1930-31, is acknowledged to be one of the outstanding motor car manufacturers in the United States," said one of the Pacific coast's sterling record of achievement has placed him in a position that few others have ever reached. Moreover, during the 10 year period when he was president and general manager of a large automobile manufacturing company there he sold more than 25% of all the cars manufactured nationally by that organization.

"Ed. Elbert J. Hall, vice-president, in charge of engineering for the DeVaux-Hall Motors Corporation, is one of America's greatest automotive engineers. He is co-designer of the famous Liberty motor and was honored by Congress with the Distinguished Service Medal for his valuable services during the war. As head of the Hall-Smith Motor Co., he has designed and built some of the finest automobile, aviation, marine and railway engines in the world.

"Ed. Hall designed and perfected the engine in the new DeVaux car over a year ago. Experience gained from designing and building internal combustion engines for many different uses was brought to bear in the development of the Hall motor used in the new car."

"Count Alexis de Sakhnoffsky European artist and master of coachcraft, winner of last year's Monte Carlo competition, designed the distinctive radiator and low swinging, roomy bodies for the new DeVaux."

"Wherever the new DeVaux has been shown it has attracted great interest," Mr. Smith declared, "and I know that it will do likewise when displayed here in Plymouth. Naturally we are expecting record crowds."

W. C. T. U.

The April meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union will be held on the afternoon of Thursday, the 23rd, at 2:30 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Mary E. Church, 1914, at 12:00 o'clock in that church. The program for the day will be arranged by Mesdames Clara Todd and Margaret Dickerson. Everyone will be welcome.

By invitation of Rev. Purdy of the Newburg M. E. Church, the Plymouth W. C. T. U. will have charge of the service next Sabbath, April 19th, at 12:00 o'clock in that church. The union appreciates the kindness of Rev. Purdy in giving over this service to them, and it is hoped that there will be a good attendance. Members who are desirous of attending and have no conveyance will please phone to the president, Mrs. E. C. Vealey, who will make the necessary arrangement.

L. L. Ball was in Grand Rapids, Monday and Tuesday, attending the semi-annual meeting of the Michigan Photographers Society, of which he is a member. He was accompanied by E. J. Penney of Detroit, an Eastman demonstrator; Frank Graham, manager of the Eastman Kodak Stores of Detroit; and John Henk of Mt. Clemens. The Culver bill providing for the whipping post in Michigan, has been advanced a step further in its legislative career. There is a possibility that the measure may receive serious consideration from a legislature that has functioned along some lines fairly well. The sponsor of the bill, as well as many others, believes that if it should be made a part of the punishment of criminals in Michigan, it would do much to check crime in this state. It is true that a prison sentence, with meals of pork chops and other good and rich foods that thousands of law abiding citizens are not permitted to enjoy, is no longer feared. With prisons furnishing three excellent meals per day, with bands and orchestras, motion pictures, athletic fields and recreational facilities that would appeal to anyone, with practically everything to bring contentment and joy to a prisoner, why should a criminal fear imprisonment? You can bet that a prison sentence that really means punishment, a sentence that carries with it a few good lashes now and then and a menu card devoid of everything except the actual necessities, with plenty of hard labor to perform, there would be less crime in Michigan.

There are plenty of ways to provide hard labor. Michigan's prisons are filled with "labor-saving machines" in addition to all the luxuries that one could wish for. Let a prison sentence to "hard labor" really mean what it says—and it would not be long before some of the hard boiled boys would be seeking other fields in which to operate.

A DEAD ISSUE

Washington newspaper dispatches say that The Muscle Shoals power scheme is a dead issue and that as long as Herbert Hoover is president it will not be revived. Prospects are that the plan will never be advanced in congress again. President Hoover's statement that he did not believe the government should in any way trespass upon private business endeavor, has been lauded from coast to coast.

President Hoover is absolutely right in this matter, but there are thousands and thousands of newspaper publishers and printers throughout the country who are wondering why he does not force this same government he would keep out of the power business to keep out of the printing business.

The government is the worst competitor the printer has. It takes job printing at a loss and each year the postoffice calls upon congress to appropriate millions of dollars to cover the deficit as the result of this government venture into private business.

For years and years the various newspaper associations of the country have waged an unsuccessful fight against the powerful envelope business sponsored by the government.

No, the government does not print the envelopes one might order through a local postmaster. While the order goes to Washington, one of the great printing "interests" which receives each year a subsidy from the government for running a printing plant, prints these envelopes at a price so low the government, in order to carry on this business, is required each year to ask congress for money to support the postoffice department in addition to the funds it receives from patrons of its postal service.

The average printing plant owner wishes that this splendid printing business of the government was as dead an issue as the power project President Hoover so emphatically brought to an end.

WHAT NEXT?

Now that the voters of Michigan have settled the capital punishment question, we are wondering just what question will get the editors of Michigan all "het" up again. Certainly some of them have been sitting up late nights to write and write about capital punishment. Some of them were for it, a whole lot of them against it. Outside of the "daylight and nighttime government issue, there has been nothing to arouse the editors quite so much as the question of whether Michigan should hang 'em or feed 'em.

LOGIC IN THIS

Editor Bryce of the Grand Ledge Independent in commenting on a talk made before the Rotary Club of Hastings by an attorney who pleaded for more public confidence in our courts, declares that the speaker has gotten the proposition turned right around. The Grand Ledge scribe declares the time has come for the courts to try and win back public confidence, rather than the public putting more confidence in the courts. Unfortunately it seems true that the action of many judges in recent years has served to shake the faith of a vast number of people in the strict honesty and purposes of the judiciary department of our government.

Rambling Around with Michigan Editors

NO HANGINGS, THIS EDITOR SORRY

It is a time of rejoicing for all the lazier elements in human society. Murders may continue to be committed, with the result that the offenders merely may be kept in a comfortable retreat at no expense to himself. History shows that life imprisonment means nothing in one case out of four, because of the use of the pardoning power.

Sensible persons will arm. Business houses will keep a gun handy and use it upon provocation.

Guns can continue to ply their activities without much fear. Society, having embraced a leopard, will have a long and expensive time trying to change its spots. But apparently that is what the voting majority of Michigan wishes at this time.

There should be justification in the cohorts of the criminals, who now amount to one person, on prison fare, for each two hundred of the population.

High taxes come largely from entering to criminals and getting up with graft in public offices. Apparently the citizen deserves what he gets, in high taxes, particularly when he votes for it, as he has, in furthering the propagation of un-reformable driveltown of humanity.—F. W. McGriff in The Redford Record.

TOUGH ENDING

A child who was seven years in arrears for his home paper, who had never had a good word to say for the editor, and who was always opposed to public improvement was dying, so the latest story runs. "How do you feel?" asked the editor, who was on hand to write the obituary. "All looks right before me," gasped the dying man. "I thought so," returned the editor, "you'll see the blaze in about ten minutes.—The Kalamazoo.

An editor and a preacher were called in as witnesses while a year's supply of embalmers liquor was being destroyed by state and county officials at the county jail at Stanton a few days ago. The minister took delight in helping to destroy the hundreds of bottles of home brew confiscated by the sheriff, going so far as to hurl some of the bottles himself with telling effect against the stone wall of the power house. After watching the proceedings for a few minutes the editor swooned on the greenward.—Fred Koester in Ionia County News.

WHERE THE VOTERS VOTE

Salem township can remove its hat and bow to itself as the ideal township on election day. We refer specifically to a verdict rendered by an almost 100 per cent electorate that did its duty as it saw it. In this respect it furnishes an outstanding example to the rest of the county.

Salem registered 544 voters. It is possible that there were a few who did not register but these may be disregarded. The outstanding fact is that of the 544 registered voters 543 voted. If that isn't a splendid record of a civic duty performed, we would like to know it.

Congratulations are due the political leaders of both factions upon their success in getting the voters to register and in the greater feat of getting them to vote. We confess to a curiosity as to how that one out of 544 managed to escape the net that brought in the other 543 to the polling place. If all political verdicts were rendered by such a near 100% of the electorate, they would mean more than they often do.—C. H. Hemingway in Washtenaw County Tribune.

SLIM PICKINGS

Now there is a garbage shortage in Ypsilanti and the city fathers are considering what can be done about garbage stealing. They might advertise their garbage for sale instead of taking bids for collection, in the interest of next year's budget economy.—George C. Handy in Ypsilanti Press.

A WONDERFUL THING

It is sure a wonderful thing to reach such a point in importance and value that a nation as a whole should mourn the passing of that individual. What greater monument to one's usefulness could be erected? The Kocine international tribute is what causes these observations. It is, of course, only a comparative few which blaze the way into the hearts of the masses as he did. It is equally true that there offers today no other such short cut to the hero's pedestal as do athletics. In fact, it sometimes appears as if the public had gone to some excesses in their laudatory excitement over athletes.

Incidentally one might call attention to another matter which has a bearing: To become an outstanding athlete requires right living. Indulgences of excess of any kind are fatal. Maybe there has something to do with the respect people have for the successful athlete. Whether that is true or not, however, it is worth our attention. For this correct living is what builds strength in body and mind.—Frank Bryce in The Grand Ledge Independent.

Through a Woman's Eyes

by Jean Newton

WHERE WOMEN ARE LIKE PEARLS—RARE!

ALL aboard for the Balkans! For that's where the millennium has arrived.

Believe it or not, in the Balkans there are more men than women—far more. That means more eligible young men and more husbands than girls who are looking for them!

Not only is there no competition for husbands, but the young men actually pay to get wives. Yes, we have it from absolutely authentic sources in Belgrade that an old Balkan custom still in force under the present conditions of supply and demand is the paying of a "bride-price" by the suitor to the father of the girl whom he wishes to marry.

If news from England about the preponderance of women since the war, and hence the dearth of eligible young men, has been discouraging, let us concentrate on the good news from the Balkans!

And let those young men beware who have the feeling of a rarity and are inclined to be "high hat!" For a girl can always board ship for the Balkans, where she will be properly appreciated!

How interesting it would be to observe the effect of this situation on married life in the Balkans, to see if the value of a wife, as a precious stone, rises in the eyes of her husband in proportion to her rarity. In a situation where for every wife there are three or four wifeless men who are proud to admit, "If you don't want her I want her," it is quite conceivable that every husband would be a good husband!

The situation is interesting, to say the least. All aboard for the Balkans! (© 1931, Bell Syndicate, Inc.—WNU Service.)

NUTTY NATURAL HISTORY

BY HUGH HUTTON

THE RIDGE-POLE YAMMERKAT

THIS pestiferous creature is found in some of the smaller Holland villages, where it perches in large numbers on the house tops and yammers all night long. In the olden days when storks were plentiful, they would not stand for the racket, and the roofs were cleared of the pests every night by raiding storks. The beast is very hard to exterminate, as it has around nineteen lives, although a direct hit from a Dutchman's shoe will knock out seven or eight of them. The yammerkat never eats, so it cannot be starved out.

The creature, as the picture shows, is as thin as a rail, having a matchstick for a body and a spaghetti tail. The head is a single peanut, with split navy bean ears and popcorn nose. Toothpicks answer for the legs and split lima beans for the feet. The different parts are fastened together with chewing gum.

THE GIRLS ENTER ESSAY CONTEST

Is the American girl losing out with the modern man? That is the topic about which the members of the commercial home economics class have written essays for a contest sponsored by the Detroit Free Press. In order that many opinions might be expressed, the girls were allowed to write on either side of the question. These essays are sent in to the Detroit Free Press and are judged along with many others sent in from various schools throughout the state. Awards are being given for the three best essays. Of course, the girls are looking for some of the prize checks to come to Plymouth High School.

"LADY OF THE LAKE" SCENES PRESENTED

Entering Miss Perkins' class room, one would think that the popular vogue of Japanese gardens had been carried over into the school work. On inquiring, though, it was found that her P. A. English classes have been studying Scott's "Lady of the Lake." After finishing it, they were asked to represent scenes from the poem. Most of these have in them small lakes shown either by actual water in containers, mirrors, or like cloth. One shows a little hut on a mountain side and another has a leaping deer in it. While some have artificial grass, others have real grass and other growing plants.

TRAVEL NOTES

After a short business meeting, the Travel Club listened to Margaret Buzzard who gave a very interesting talk about a trip she took to Alaska four years ago during summer vacation. She and some friends traveled across the northern part of the United States, through the Rocky Mountains, and boarded a boat at Seattle. The first place she described was Ketchikan which is inhabited mostly by fishermen. Salmon are the most common fish caught. The water there is yellow in color. Juneau, the capital of Alaska, is the next place she told about. Most of the houses are white frame and are furnished with every imaginable modern device used in our richest homes, for the water power is so near hand and is so plentiful that electricity is very cheap to use. At Mendenhall Glacier, Margaret climbed up on an iceberg. She also visited Skagway, Lake Bennett, the White Horse Falls, Sika, a Russian church, and saw some totem poles. The return trip was made through southern Canada. The Travel Club enjoyed Margaret's talk very much.

GOOD FRIDAY SERMON GIVEN BY REV. NEALE

Speaking on the theme, "For the preaching of the Cross is to them that are lost, foolishness, but to us that are saved, it is the power of God," Rev. Neale of the Baptist church of Plymouth, gave the annual Good Friday address to the general assembly. The assembly was opened with the remainder that, as it was the end of a marking period, all make-up work should be in. An announcement was made that the musical would be April 17. Mr. Evans announced that there would be hand practices during vacation week. Following a song by Mrs. Neale accompanied by Miss Lane, the quartet sang "Jesus Is Calling" and "Saved." Jean Strong and Marjorie Dunn sang "Christ the Lord is Risen Today" and "The Church in the Wild." After another solo by Mrs. Neale, Rev. Neale gave his sermon which was followed by a duet by the quartet. The assembly was closed with the singing of "Onward Christian Soldiers."

MAKE THIS 10 gallon test

Here are lower driving costs, far better car performance, for millions of motorists

MOTORISTS everywhere are making this amazing test. It may bring you far more satisfactory driving, far lower car upkeep costs. Here are the facts.

Shell has pioneered a great change in gasoline. It has perfected a new, remarkably high anti-knock fuel. The New Improved Shell 400!

In anti-knock value, the quality all cars now need, this gasoline is far above the ordinary type of motor fuel. Yet it is offered you at the same price as the ordinary kind.

New Improved Shell 400 is Shell's contribution to the cause of low cost motoring. Shell believes motorists are entitled to the real economy, the great improvement in car operation which this new fuel makes possible.

Notice on the chart how much of the ordinary gasoline is below the needs of the modern engine. This fuel was good enough for the engines of years ago—but not up to the needs of the motors of today!

Shell does not ask you to accept its claim of this new, high anti-knock value. It does urge you to try for yourself this fuel developed by Shell research. Prove the facts, in your own car!

Get 10 gallons of New Improved Shell 400. Drive in traffic, on hills, under heavy loads. Let your own motor decide.

Ask your Shell station man about the nationwide mileage test. Enter it, today.

NEW IMPROVED SHELL 400

Definitely better than many premium priced fuels, yet sold at regular gasoline prices. High in the quality all cars need—anti-knock value

Wednesday before vacation someone in the first-A and second-B classes were present. Friday afternoon the children kept in mind Holy week by telling appropriate Bible stories.

The children in Mrs. Moles' room, have finished their writing papers to be sent to the Palmer Co. in Chicago. The four-B class has studied the meadowlark and the red-winged blackbird for bird study. The three-A class has studied the blue-jay and the crow.

All of the five-A children in Miss Hunt's room received 100% in spelling Friday. The picture study subject for the week before vacation was "The Cardinal." Ralph Fisher brought a plant for the children to enjoy. Miss Hunt's sister visited Miss Hunt's room last week.

The six-A geography class has given reports on Africa. The six-A language class has been studying adverbs.

CHAMPIONSHIP PROGRAM GIVEN

The program voted best by the members of the Senior Drama Club was presented before them last Thursday under the direction of Odene Hitt, Don Bronson and Jim Holloway. It consisted of a comic fortune teller, a detective on the subject: "Resolved, that a pig with a funnel over its head is better looking than a school teacher with braided hair," and three or four short dialogues. A dollar was given to the boys who presented the program, with which they could purchase tickets to the Detroit Civic Theatre.

CENTRAL GRADE SCHOOL NOTES

In the kindergarten, Richard Behler and Jean Crandell now have their names on the perfect teeth chart. There are fifteen children in the A group who can count to fifty. Out of the number two can count to one hundred. The following children can count to fifty: Patricia Conery, Kirk and George, Floyd Harwood, Irene Hitt, Noel Hoover, Jack Konyak, Barbara Martin, Margaret Jean Neill, Kenneth Nowry, Lillian Reed, Ronald Tobey, Kathryn Vateck, Estelle Wellman, Dolores Wilson and Estelle Maynard.

The children in Mrs. Root's room, had an Easter party. They all received candy from the Easter rabbit.

Miss Mitchell has been telling her boys and girls Easter stories. The children's gardens are all coming up nicely.

The children in room 7 have been practicing for P. T. A. They have been busy doing drills for their P. T. A. Method pins. Nineteen people ranked last week.

The 5-A in room 11 have studied pictures of people and animals in Africa. Stereoscopes and some have given special reports on Africa. They have also painted maps of Africa showing the countries.

Mrs. Mulvey visited Mrs. Atkinson's room last Thursday. These boys and girls have been looking at the stereoscope pictures in geography also. The P. A.'s are diagramming in English class.

"Oh did you break it?" or "Hurry up with that yellow!" were only two of many such remarks echoing from the lunch room during the Senior Girl Reserves Easter service meeting held the last Wednesday, April 1, before vacation.

The club was divided into six groups each of which was responsible for fixing up at least two Easter baskets for poor children. After the baskets were

WOUNDED BOB WHITE

Oh, cruel is the thoughtless deed That wounds another without need.

SQUATTING under the brown dead leaves which had blown into the doorway of the old house made long ago in the wheat field of Farmer Jones by Johnny Chuck was one of the children of Bob White. Tears filled his eyes, tears of fright and pain. He tried to wink them back and to think what he should do next, but he was too bewildered to think. To be bewildered is to be so upset that you cannot understand what has happened or is happening. It was just so with this little Bob White.

With his brothers and sisters he had been happily picking up his breakfast that beautiful morning. Without the least warning a great dog had threatened to catch him and he had taken to his swift, strong, little wings. As he did so he had not feared. All summer long he had seen two-legged creatures like this one and they had not harmed him. Indeed he had come to look on them as his friends, for had not Farmer Brown's boy watched him and his brothers and sisters day after day, and not once offered to even frighten them? So he had no fear of this one.

Then from the end of that stick pointed at him had leaped fire and smoke. Something had struck him, something had stung, and one of his swift, strong, little wings had become useless so that he fell heavily to the ground. Then he had run swiftly until he found this hiding-place, and, with his little heart going pit-a-pat, pit-a-pat with terror, had squatted close under the friendly brown leaves while the great dog and the two-legged creature had looked for him. Now they had given him up and gone away. At least he could not hear them.

What did it all mean? Why had this dreadful thing happened to him? What had he done that the two-legged creature should try to kill him with that terrible fire-stick? Was it any wonder that he was bewildered? Outside the day was as beautiful as ever, but all the joy of it was gone. Instead it was filled with terror. What should he do now? What could he do? Where were his father and mother and brothers and sisters? Were such dreadful things happening to them as had happened to him? Would he ever see them again?

Presently he heard a far away whistle of his father, Bob White. He was calling his family together. Then he heard answering whistles and he knew that the others were safe and would soon join Bob White. But he did not dare answer himself. He crawled to the doorway and peeped out. He could see the great dog and the cruel two-legged creature with the terrible fire-stick far away on the other side of the field. He tried to leap into the air and fly as he had been used to doing, but only flapped helplessly. One wing was useless and dragged on the ground. It hurt so that the pain made him feel dreadfully faint.

He closed his eyes and lay still for a few minutes panting. Then a new thought filled him with another terrible fear. If Reddy Fox or Old Man Coyote or Redtail the Hawk should happen along how could he escape without the use of his wings? If only he were not alone! If only he could reach his father and mother! Perhaps they could help him. He struggled to his feet and began to walk toward that distant whistle. It was slow work. He was weak and faint and the drooping wing, dragging through the stiff stubble hurt so that it seemed as if he could not stand it. Often he squatted down and panted with weariness and pain and fright. Then he would go on again. He was terribly thirsty, but there was no water to drink. So at last he crawled under a fence, and then suddenly right in front of him was one of those two-legged creatures! Right then and there the little Bob White gave up all hope.

PRISON FOR WOMEN IS FEATURED IN RECENT ISSUE OF MONITOR

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE PAPER TELLS OF NEW PRISON "ESTATE" NEAR PLYMOUTH.

Detroit's new model prison for women located two miles west of Plymouth is featured in a recent issue of the Christian Science Monitor, a Boston newspaper with one of the largest circulations of any daily paper in the country. The article follows: It is not so necessary to punish as to reconstruct, according to the assistant superintendent of the new Detroit House of Correction for Women. She led the way to a pleasing...

In these two years, parole breaking has been reduced to a small percentage, and the appeal to reason rather than force in maintaining discipline has had a beneficial effect on the morale of the inmates, many of whom began their sentences under the old conditions. Laid out like an English country estate, the prison structures include a manor house administration building, a hospital immediately behind, then the eight cottages in two rows, and at the far end, closing the quadrangle, the workshops. There are no prison walls, no barred windows, nor armed guards. A high fence of open-mesh chicken wire is all that surrounds the place. One tear-gas bomb constitutes the entire armament. There are six cells with barred doors, however, in the basement of the administration building. They are the "reception cells," for use in case of insubordination.

Entering the first cottage, the remark of the assistant superintendent, who is Mrs. Katherine H. Campbell, "not to punish but to reconstruct," came to mind. Spotlessness, homelikeness, cheerfulness prevailed. Rag rugs, made by inmates, were on the floors. Plants from prison-grown seed adorned the windows. Dollies of old rice bags, dyed and embroidered, relieved the surfaces of the two large dining tables. A radio, used at midday and evening, stood in one room. In the other a "fireplace," constructed of cardboard and red-brick crepe paper, gave a touch of additional warmth, especially as the "grate" glowed with a dim red "fire." The chairs were painted in gay tea-room tints. They had been originally the rather coarse product of the men's prison factory, a mile down the road. "It does not cost any more to beautify them," Mrs. Campbell remarked. "Besides, it has a cultural effect—they don't put their feet on them."

Four prisoners, the housekeeping squad, rose respectfully as we passed to the kitchen. Each cottage does its own cooking. "We rotate the housework and give all a chance to learn something of domestic science," Mrs. Campbell explained. "That blackboard is for working out food values. The majority look training, or else it has been merely the means to an end, and not to return to the world, and if they do not go back with something tangible, we have done nothing for them—merely held them for a while."

A cottage accommodates 35 prisoners and two matrons. Each prisoner has a little room—they are not cells—to herself. There is a metal bed, a dresser, a chair, two small hooked rugs, a mirror, a set of wardrobe hooks and a washbowl with hot and cold water. Windows are of shatter-proof glass; doors of fireproof metal, locked at night. Prisoners suit their own fancy in room decorations, certainly an unusual prison privilege. Photographs, mirrors, postcards, pin cushions, and sofa pillows made of odds and ends, stuffed with rags and turn-up newspapers; embroidered bedspreads, rag dolls—in one room a grotesque cat made of an old stocking, in another a pretty doll modeled of salt and flour mixed in water and hardened. In the basement are lockers and shower baths, where work clothes are changed for house garb. "Keeping them busy and especially arousing their creative instincts does much for them," Mrs. Campbell said. "We encourage them to use every spare minute, and discourage idleness."

As we went through other cottages, several unkempt and a violin were noted, revealing another cultural note in the life of the inmates. Attached to each cottage are vegetable and flower gardens. Moral illustrations are drawn from this husbandry—every activity in this remarkable jail is made to teach a lesson. "We explain the chemical properties of soil and how things grow," it was stated. "Victims' characteristics are lessened by learning something about nature and gaining the proper attitude toward work."

We entered the workshops. In the first room, sewing, mending, rug weaving, doll and flower making and similar activities were going on. Everything was quiet, orderly, industrious. Watchful matrons were in charge of each group. Some of the rugs, in pattern and coloring, were exquisite. They, with dolls, table covers, and so forth, are sold.

We make things out of all sorts of scraps and cast-off articles," Mrs. Campbell said. "Such as worn-out stockings and clothing, old neckties brought in by visitors, not to mention old jute fertilizer bags, washed and dyed. This handsome rug is made of old stockings. That five-gallon tomato tin and gas burner constitute my dyeing plant. Knitted ties and bags are unraveled for thread. Accuracy is demanded in making every article—so many threads on this side, so many on that, for instance. We supply no set patterns. They must work out designs themselves. That is part of the training."

Last year the shops made 63,630 yards of new material into clothing and bed linen. More than 3,000,000 cans, packages and kegs of fruits and vegetables were produced in the canning factory. The print shop did thousands of dollars' worth of city printing. The laundry was operated to its full 3,000-pounds-per-day capacity.

The amusement side is not neglected. There are baseball and handball teams, amateur theatricals, movies and periodic concerts by the Detroit Chamber Music Society. Church services, which are well attended, are held by various denominations, including Christian Science and the Salvation Army. Recently another phase of uplift was started when educational courses were instituted by the Detroit public schools.

Plymouth High To Play Hurons

Couch Kenneth "Beef" Matheson and his Plymouth High School base ball team will be guests of Michigan Normal at the Hurons' opening game on Alumni Field, Ypsilanti, a week from this Saturday. Plymouth High is one of seven neighboring schools which have been invited by the Normal athletic association to witness the Huron's initial home appearance of the season, against Assumption College of Sandwich, Ont. The other schools are Northville, Belleville, Wayne, Milan, Clinton and Saline.

It was due largely to the efforts of Detroit clubwomen, that the city undertook, with the approval of former Mayor John W. Smith, the building of a new prison. It is about 30 miles from town, at Plymouth, on a 1200-acre farm. The prison population is unusually complex, as there are state and federal as well as city prisoners, Michigan having no state prison for women. Hence it is unique as to type of offenses represented, terms extending from a few days to life, and ages from 17 to 74 years. It is entirely separate from the men's prison, although Capt. Edward Denniston is superintendent of both.

"Our prisoners are not grouped according to crimes, as formerly, but by mental types, as determined by tests and observation. Then the cottages are run more or less on the honor system. "Proof that we are following the right idea, which idea represents the best thought on prison management today, is the obedience we obtain. Few rules are ever broken here. And, further, having attained a higher order of obedience in the prison, less law-breaking, and its consequent expense to the community, can be expected when they are freed. The parole record last year proved this out also. Out of 139 prisoners granted paroles, only six broke their parole. This is an encouraging and a worthwhile record."

SCULPTORS By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

They will not matter such a lot. A year from now, the things to day. Alas, we think that they will not. I know that every word we say, Kind or unkind, no matter what, Makes one heart sad or some heart gay. Leaves on some life a bloom or blot. Yes, day by day we shape our own. And others' lives in all we do. We cannot live our lives alone. For you mark me and I mark you. As does the sculptor shape the stone, Our words, our deeds, are shaping, too. The days to come and years unknown. We get our wrinkles one by one. Some made by smiles and more by tears. The good or evil we have done Upon the countenance appears— Alas, not only ours, my son. For all the furrows of the years.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Taylor entertained four tables of bridge last Thursday evening, at the Roy C. Streng residence on Park Place.

Mrs. Donald Sutherland entertained Miss Anna Louise Jones of Xenia, Ohio; Miss Mary Elizabeth Smutz of Johnston, Pa.; and Miss Josephine Vance of Chicago, Ill., during spring vacation.

Last week Tuesday evening nine young men friends of Allan Giles came to his home, by the invitation of his mother and sister, Mrs. B. E. Giles and Miss Virginia Giles, as a surprise. Keno was the amusement of the evening, after which dainty refreshments were served. Those in attendance were Fraser Carmichael, Harlow Williams, Ralph Lorenz, Lynn Partridge, Barney Pese, Lawrence Rattenbury, Robert Hubert, Wilbur Pez and Elton Knapp.

Little Velda Rorabacher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Rorabacher, who has been confined to her home on South Main street for several weeks with heart trouble, was taken to St. Joseph hospital, Ann Arbor, Saturday, for observation.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Garlett entertained at a delightful dinner party at their home last Saturday evening. Guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Eaton, Miss Clara Phloehoff and H. T. Hasford of Detroit.

Miss Mary E. McLellan will be the guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower to be given this Friday evening by Miss Katherine McIntyre at her apartment on Pallaster avenue, Detroit. Twenty-four nurses were invited to this delightful affair. Miss McLellan is a nurse of Providence hospital, and has been president of the Nurses' Alumnae until her resignation previous to her marriage which will take place Thursday, April 23.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Ball and son, Charles, Jr., had the pleasure recently of visiting Mr. and Mrs. John R. Emens at their home in Jackson. Through the courtesy of Mr. Emens, they were shown through the $1,500,000 Senior High School, where he is assistant principal. Among the interesting features is a theatre with a seating capacity of eighteen hundred with extraordinary acoustic properties; a library containing over seven thousand volumes; a swimming pool; a boys' gymnasium with stadium bleachers, having a capacity for two thousand, and a machine shop for the study of automobile mechanics. The school site contains fourteen and one-half acres on which are a foot ball grid-iron, baseball diamond, tennis courts and a quarter-mile cinder track. On each side are cement stands that will accommodate ten thousand people.

Travel Afar
and report busy business from about the state comes word from Paul Harsh, Arden Ave., from Buffalo, N. Y.; reports Carson W. Johnston on his return therefrom with Mrs. Johnston, where they have been visiting for a couple of weeks; and then comes word from Dan Twiddy, Berwick Ave., who has been away for three months at Washington, D. C., where plans and preparations are being rushed for the greatest building and construction program the world has ever known.

Home Again
from hospital is Floyd W. Coulter, York Ave., and feeling better after a serious infection in the knee. This, we hope, will be the last serious for any illness we have to report.

Bricks
from Eckles supply on hand, and blocks from Mister Joy's block farm, have been arriving for a new departure in the construction division. Const. Supt. Chan G. Wilson is having the first job of its kind on our first home, our first street and the job started on the one first (11th) l. e., they are brick veneering the Perry Smith home. This may prove an epidemic along these lines and continue all summer, for the manly office says if it works out okay we will have some more of it.

Parades
of the baby buggies are in vogue these days, and R. Emporium manager is thinking of sending to Mercy Hospital, or someplace, to get a nurse to care for all of them whilst mothers may shoppe or select at the Library Dept.

Miniature Farms
are in season, or will be when all the pineapples, grapefruit and spudatoes etc. are in and growing. Also some Farmerettes are noticed among Gardenite ladies, possibly we should mention Mrs. Fred Millard and Mrs. Harry Hansen and not to forget Frank Brown on Pennington Rd., who also has the electric fountain in order and will soon turn the gold fish out to pasture. Iris, tulips, sweet William, and other early blooms look very promising as well as lilacs and spirea. Won't be long now before "first blooms" will be the main topic at shoppe hours and bridegrooms will be forgotten as "buddy gardenite" as well as Mother Gardenite will be "too tired" from gardening, so early abed and early arise.

Gold
was discovered just 1 1/2 miles south of the sales office at the new Hawthorne Valley golf grounds. According to all reports from Chas. Drew, the superintendent (who had his picture in the papers of Detroit last Satdee showing the ditch, the workmen and the gold) the ore is probably a deposit of seven-tent million or more years ago when glaciers covered hereabouts. However it assayed some $400 a ton, which is not bad if it is in quantity, as the club grounds cover 1,000 acres, and Rosedale 640 acres more. Our homes may be old mines after all this here business depression. Then we are reminded by the official information dis-ponser that some of Rosedale wells gave off instead of water. Oh Boy! Gold and oil!

on this mile of US-12 numbered seven on the grand and glorious spring day last Sunday. Business was good for wreckers and possibly for new cars for the unfortunate, as business for the insurance companies is not so good, for all cars involved were wrecked badly. No one was away seriously injured, but one lady painfully out on the face and a man with a sprained arm. Traffic was unusually heavy all afternoon and evening.

Birthday
party was given to Jackie Rindell last Monday by all the little folks. Games and costumes were in order. Jackie received numerous presents that only a boy could delight in. Refreshments were served and after all went home happy.

Welcome
to the community will be Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Rommel, who will lease and occupy the S. O. Merrill's home, 11301 McRose avenue, on or about the 23rd inst.

Shrub
Doctors of Shrubbery are the Land Co. boys this couple weeks. About immediately after breakfast pruning and cultivating, handling black dirt and what not. The snow plow being put in camphor balls for the summer, and rakes and hoes are all oiled and sharpened for much use.

Camphor Girls
The Unalgi group of Rosedale has elected new officers at their last business meeting. The following girls are the new officers—Anna Bagnous, president; Eleanor Strachle, vice-president; Dorothy Metzger, secretary; Sara Davis, treasurer; Betty Smith, song leader; Margaret McDowell, scribe. After the meeting a game of miniature golf was enjoyed by the girls.

Scribe, Margaret McDowell.

Her 20 years of trouble yielded

"I'd been fighting stomach trouble for twenty years. My kidneys became disordered; I had pains in my back, a swelling in my ankles, was badly constipated, had severe headaches, and would get so dizzy I could hardly see."

My kidneys righted themselves when I started Sargol; the pains in my back, the dizziness, and swelling in my ankles disappeared. The stomach trouble is a thing of the past, and Sargol Pills regulated my bowels perfectly without any discomfort whatsoever. Mrs. Mary Lindestruth, R. F. D. No. 3, Manchester, Mich.

Christian Science Notes

"Are Sin, Disease and Death Real?" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches on Sunday April 12.

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "The fear of the Lord leadeth to life, and he that hath it shall abide satisfied; he shall not be visited with evil" (Prov. 19:23).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Science renders unto Caesar the things which are Caesar's; and unto God the things that are God's." It saith to the human sense of sin, sickness and death, "God never made you and you are a false sense which hath no knowledge of God" (p. 540).

Subject "Doctrine of Atonement."

EPISCOPAL NOTES

It is encouraging to note that a good number of our people put forth an effort to continue the good habits of Lent and Easter by attending the service last Sunday. It is just such regular and concerted effort which is needed to strengthen not only the work of the church but our own individual lives.

The children's mitre-box is nearly all collected, a sum favorably comparing with other years. If any mitre-boxes have not yet been returned they should be brought to the church school next Sunday. Later they will be presented at a great service in St. Paul's Cathedral.

Most of the members of the Junior Brotherhood are planning to attend the diocesan elder boys' conference to be held at All Saints' Church, Pontiac, April 24 and 25. This will be a splendid opportunity for all who go.

Strange and Little Known Facts Concerning Plymouth Details or Proof Can be Furnished by the Compiler.

Compiled by K. H. Starkweather

Henry Ford once operated a cider mill in Plymouth.

The Greek language was once taught in Plymouth schools.

The Plymouth township board once passed a resolution permitting logs to run in the highways.

The first anthracite coal used in Plymouth was shipped from Detroit to the consumer in 100-pound sacks.

At one time the only way to obtain a daily newspaper in Plymouth was to meet the train and buy it off the news butcher.

Plymouth once boasted a brewery which served local and adjacent communities with the favorite beverage.

Plymouth has a citizen, still well and happy, who has regularly attended (during the period of Civil War service) divine services within the same church walls for eighty-two years.

President William H. Taft once stopped in Plymouth and informed local school children that Plymouth, Massachusetts, was the place where the Puritans landed.

Included within the foundation walls of a house on Main street, erected forty years ago by a devout Baptist, can be found a bottle of whiskey.

Plymouth has a public school teacher, still happily on duty, who has taught children of the same family for three generations.

The first home built within the confines of the village was partly constructed of lumber carried by hand and on foot from Detroit, then a village only half as large as Plymouth is today.

Plymouth's first regularly organized bank paid no interest on savings deposits during the first eight years of its existence.

The Plymouth Christian Science church was the first and is now the oldest church building erected by a Christian Science organization in the state of Michigan.

Plymouth once published a newspaper which opposed Abraham Lincoln for president. In fact, during his first campaign, the paper editorially stated that Lincoln would "soon be floating down the saline stream."

The Plymouth township treasurer once had on hand more spurious money than good money. There being no way to dispose of the bad funds, the board finally elected to sell it at public auction. It sold all the way from one cent to fifty-six cents on the dollar.

Plymouth residents formerly had their teeth attended to by itinerant dentists. With a kit of what was regarded as the proper tools, these travelers would call from house to house for "teeth to fix."

NOTE: It is believed that this list might be extended by still other rare and unusual facts about Plymouth. Any reader who may be familiar with one, and can furnish details or proof, is invited to communicate with the Plymouth Mail or K. H. Starkweather.

Coming Attractions At Peniman-Allen

"SKIPPY" A magic name is that of "Jack" in the production, "Skippy," Paramount's new talking featurization of Percy Crosby's beloved cartoon kid which will be shown at the Peniman Allen Theatre, Sunday and Monday April 19 and 20.

The part of Skippy is played by Jackie Cooper six-year-old tow-head. Sooky is played by Robert Coogan, whose older brother, Jackie Coogan, became the screen's leading child actor through "The Kid," made when he was the same age that Robert now is.

Jackie Seale, of "Tom Sawyer" and "Finn and Hattie" fame, is seen as the boy next door to Skippy's house. Jack Clifford, adult screen actor, is the dog catcher, the "deep-dyed" villain in the lives of the juvenile characters.

"THE RIGHT TO LOVE"

America's own "duse of drama," at least insofar as the "talkies" are concerned, unfolds the screen at the Peniman Allen Theatre, Wednesday and Thursday, April 22 and 23, with a new emotional triumph that will elicit all the nice things any photoplay audience can say. If there is more to be said after those outstanding productions, "Madame X," "Sarah and Son," "Anybody's Woman."

The duse, of course, is Ruth Chatterton; the drama, "The Right to Love," which Richard Wallace has emmerized in dialogue for Paramount from the Susan Glaspell book, "Brook Evans." And the whole is an event which should not be missed by any in Plymouth who take their entertainment seriously.

Miss Chatterton enacts two distinct roles in "The Right to Love," and in one of them veers from girlhood to mother type, without a single error in mood, culture, speech, costume and pose. This, is, at least, a triple achievement.

The story, set in the farm lands of the Middle West, tells of a girl whose secret love trysts engender a tragic state of affairs she determines will not be the heritage of her daughter. The manner in which love finds a way, through two generations of straight-jacketed repression, is convincingly narrated, and leads to a most surprising climax.

Paul Lukas, David Manners, George Baxter, Irving Pichel, Veda Buckland and Oscar Apfel, players of experience and understanding, handle their assignments in fine harmony with the Chatterton roles. Zoe Akus adapted the screen play.

"Jonah lived a long time before automobiles were invented," says Flivvering Flo, "but he knew what it was to do a parking place and have to give it up."

The Old Gardener Says:

ORIENTAL poppies can be moved safely only in August, at which time they are dormant. Efforts to shift these gorgeous flowering plants in the spring are almost sure to fail but when midsummer comes the tops have died down, and the roots have become almost like leather. Not only can these roots be dug up and moved about at will when in this condition but they can be cut into pieces about two inches long and planted an inch deep in good soil for the purpose of producing new plants. Almost every piece will grow, and the plants while very young and before they have made taproots, can be transferred to the position they are to occupy in the border.

Business Women Visit Ann Arbor

Ralph Moyer of Ann Arbor, was a Sunday caller at the Wisley home. Mrs. E. J. Brown visited relatives in Detroit, Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Venable visited Mr. and Mrs. Ora Chilson in Redford, Sunday.

Allen Richard Wisley visited his cousin, Russell Palmer over the weekend.

Etha G. Wisley returned Sunday to take up her school work after her Easter vacation.

The Kinyon school held their last P. T. A. at the home of C. H. Forshoe, with a cooperative supper and card party.

Mrs. Vivian Swegles attended the tea given by the Economics Group at Alma Speer's, Tuesday afternoon, and Linda Swegles spent Tuesday in Detroit.

Mrs. Erman Scott and Mrs. Warner of Ann Arbor, spent Thursday at the home of Mrs. Sidney D. Strong on Auburn avenue.

Sixteen members represented Plymouth Business and Professional Women's Club Tuesday evening April 14th, at the First District meeting held in the Women's League Building in Ann Arbor, at which over 200 women met at dinner and enjoyed a splendid program arranged by the Ann Arbor Club. Guests were present from the Detroit, Mr. Clemons, Royal Oak, Wyandotte, Wayne, Rochester and Plymouth organizations.

National President, Marina McClellan's address brought out the many advantages accruing to business women through membership in the State, National and International Associations.

Margaret Lambie, a Washington attorney and aviation enthusiast, who flew to Detroit for the Aircraft Show and to attend this meeting, talked on aviation and the progress women have made in all lines of endeavor during the past decade.

Mary Brunfield, State President, urged attendance at the State Convention to be held at Marquette in May. She also called attention to the growth of the membership during the past year in the state, reporting eleven new clubs federated in 1931.

Interpreting the program were several delightful musical numbers and as a most surprising and amusing climax to the "feast of reason and flow of soul," an exceedingly clever and entertaining illustrated show, complete in black-face and costume, was put on by 21 women of the Ann Arbor club, their songs, dances and jokes reflecting the "up-to-the-minute" standard of the Club.

With a State Convention at Marquette in May and a National Convention to be held in Richmond Va. in July, club members are busily planning their excursions to include one or both of these events.

Pythian Knights In Social Session

The first social evening, as recently adopted by the Knights of Pythias, was a very enjoyable occasion.

It was started off with a wonderful 7 o'clock dinner that was filled with "hot luck" but which could hardly have been better planned by a caterer. While the tables were being cleared several knights armored themselves in kitchen aprons and the way they charged the dirty dishes was a caution. Two young men who made the assertion that they earned their living in college by washing dishes drew the remark that "it must have been a damn poor living." Anyway the dishes were eventually cleaned up by Charlie Martin who was washing the same spoon all the while and the entertainment in the main hall started.

Chairman Edm. Drews had arranged the program so nicely that nearly every number was a hit. The snappiest piece of work was turned in by Archie Modlough when he started playing tunes on his fingers. Miss Wood's musical routine, the double quartet, the kitchen band and the excellent orchestra which featured Wm. Foreman as vocalist, were all great and much enjoyed by an appreciative audience.

The last Thursday of this month we will have a real card party and box social with added musical attractions. Each Knight Pythian Sister and their families are invited to come and bring a friend.

MISS HUGER WILL REPRESENT MUSICIANS

Dr. Francis L. York of the Institute of Musical Art, and Miss Nellie Reatrice Huger have been chosen to represent the Church Musicians of the State of Michigan at the Michigan Federation of Music Clubs convention meeting in Detroit this week.

Dr. York will speak on church music from the organist's standpoint. He has been identified with prominent churches for many years, and until recent years, was the president of Detroit Conservatory. He is also a well known composer.

Miss Huger will present the entire program of the new "Ministry of Music" to the convention. She has been one of the leaders in church music in the east and in Detroit during recent years, and is qualified by experience and training to present a program that is now being placed in many larger churches all over the country.

Ford Produces His 20,000,000th Car

Plymouth workers on the assembly line at the Rouge plant of the Ford Motor Co., saw a mechanic step out of the starter of the 20,000,000th Ford car.

Henry Ford stepped into the sedan and, alone drove it down a few remaining yards of the assembly line, while photographers recorded the event.

"This sort of an event used to be exciting to me," Mr. Ford said. "But when I travel through city streets anywhere these days, the fact that there are millions of automobiles no longer seems startlingly new."

"We will keep this 20,000,000th car along beside the first Ford car and the numerical markers that have accumulated in the last 25 years."

Eisel H. Ford, Charles E. Sorenson and P. E. Martin sat in the car with Mr. Ford for the driveway to Mr. Ford's home. A large group of Ford officials attended the ceremony of the driveway. In the company were also A. Vinnoff and George Donnoff, representing the group of Russians who are studying Ford's methods of manufacture in behalf of the Soviet government.

Wednesday the car started on a country-wide tour. In the course of which it will spend about one week

SHE HAS HEARD THAT—

When there has been a marriage in a family and there are still some hoping Hannahs left—for cupid's sake, girls, keep a piece of the wedding cake in the house as long as any unmarried daughters remain, or fate will doom them always to be single.

The regular meeting of the Ready Service Class will be held at the home of Mrs. Ballor, 861 Williams street, Tuesday with each of the company's branch representatives.

At the conclusion of the tour the car will be placed in Greenfield Village for permanent preservation.

The total production of the Ford company reached 1,000,000 in December, 1918; 5,000,000 in May, 1921; 10,000,000 in June, 1924, and 15,000,000 in May, 1927.
