

POSTOFFICE TO BE ERECTED IN NEXT FEW YEARS

Postoffice Dept. Sees A Necessity for Expansion Writes Michener.

Plymouth is to have a new postoffice building within five years.

That is the definite word received by H. R. Parrott in a letter from Congressman Earl Michener a few days ago.

Publication a few weeks ago of the fact that the government had set aside $85,000 for a new postoffice building and site in Plymouth led to considerable speculation as to just when the government intended to erect the new structure in this community.

It has been known by some that Congressman Michener had been quietly working for a new federal building for this community for several years, and the publication of the fact that he had been successful in having the postoffice department set aside $85,000 for this purpose was the first public information as to just what Congressman Michener was doing for this community.

His letter in full to Mr. Parrott contains considerable information on the subject, and is the first news that this community has had as to just when the new building would be erected.

Some had anticipated that it was the purpose of the government to proceed at once with the new building, but according to the Congressman's letter this is not the case and it will probably be three or four years, possibly five, before the structure is erected.

The letter, in part, follows: "The government is proceeding systematically with the construction of postoffice buildings throughout the country. Congress has authorized the appropriation of money covering a ten-year period beginning with 1924. This money to be used for the construction of these buildings. The locations where the buildings are to be constructed are determined in the first instance by an inter-departmental board composed of representatives from the treasury and postoffice departments. Of course certain limitations are placed upon the activities of this board by legislation, and the board had worked out a general plan, laying down certain rules and regulations which are applied in determining locations.

In the first report to congress of the board, after its creation, we had Plymouth included as one of the towns where the receipts warranted government construction. I was very much interested in getting this recognition for Plymouth.

However, when the question of actual construction is reached, local conditions, as far as postal facilities are concerned, are compared in the several cities where allocation has been secured, and the fact that the postoffice at Plymouth is now located in convenient and ample quarters makes it difficult to have a building erected in Plymouth until other offices with like receipts and business, but with inferior quarters, are taken care of.

Then again the question of the term lease under which the post office is occupied is taken into consideration. I feel that I was fortunate in having Plymouth placed on the preferential list and am doing what I can to have the building in Plymouth constructed at the earliest possible time. The location has been made, and $85,000 of the amount authorized for public construction has been allocated to this project, however, no definite action has been taken as to the purchase of site and time of construction.

The article which was recently published in the newspapers calling attention to this $85,000 allocation simply means that Plymouth has a post office building in the next few years. I shall do all within my power to secure the designation and appropriation in the next Congress, however, I can not promise this for the reasons above stated.

Plymouth is bound to grow in population and business, and should have a proper government building, placed on a proper site, and we hope the time is not far distant when this building will be a reality. However, there is nothing definite enough as to time to warrant opening of property by real estate dealers.

When the money is finally appropriated for this project, the Supervising Architect's Office in Washington will, after a proper survey, determine upon the portion of the $85,000 that should be used for a site, because this amount covers both site and building, and will not be increased.

Waterford Miss Contest Winner

The Plymouth and Northville district contest of the Detroit News Metropolitan and National Spelling Bee was held at the Plymouth High School last week Friday, April 17th.

Under the direction of district chairman, Supt. Geo. A. Smith, in the presence of the representatives and friends from the ten competing schools.

Miss Eleanor Gendron, age 13, in the eighth grade of the Waterford School, won the district contest, the final word spelled being "greenness."

This is an outstanding achievement for Miss Gendron, for it is the first time that the district contest has been won by a pupil from a rural school.

Many Plymouth baseball fans attended the opening game at Detroit, St. Louis, A. Natin Field, Detroit, Thursday afternoon.

ANNUAL MOTHER AND DAUGHTER BANQUET ON FRIDAY EVE. MAY 8

INDIAN THEME HAS BEEN PLANNED FOR EVENT TO BE HELD IN HIGH SCHOOL.

The seventh annual mother and daughter banquet, sponsored by the Girl Reserves and Camp Fire Girls, will be held May 8th in the High School auditorium at six-thirty o'clock.

The girls have chosen the Indian theme for the program and decorations, and are working very hard to make this banquet as successful as it has been during the preceding years.

The program is as follows: Introduction, Mrs. Charles Rathburn; Toast to Mothers, Marion Gust; Toast to Daughters, Mrs. Charles Humphries; Dance, Intermediate G. R. C.; Speaker, Miss Mary Farnsworth; Double Quartette, High School Girls.

All ladies who would like to attend the banquet and have no daughter to bring, please call either Miss Alton or Miss Crumley at the school and they will select a girl who otherwise would be unable to go.

The cost has been reduced to sixty five cents per plate and a good attendance is anticipated. Each year a number of people have been disappointed in not being able to secure tickets. Buy your tickets early and help the girls make this banquet the best ever. None will be sold at the door because the church serving the dinner must know before hand how many to care for.

JOINT MEETING OF PATRIOTIC GROUPS

A joint meeting of the American Legion and the Ladies' Auxiliary will be held at 7:30, this Friday evening, April 24th at the Jewell and Blitch hall. Business items of interest will be discussed.

Bridge Luncheon For Miss Schrader

Mrs. Charles H. Bennett and Miss Pauline Peck entertained at a luncheon last Saturday at Meadowbrook Country Club in honor of Miss Gladys Schrader whose marriage to Lylo Prescott, Dixon, Illinois, will be an event of June 20th.

The table at which the guests were seated was beautiful in the appointments. Tall crystal vases filled with pink snapdragons and veranicas with each end of the long table, while spring flowers, attractively arranged in a yellow basket, centered it. Tall, lighted tapers, of green and yellow, in crystal holders and candelabras interspersed with asparagus ferns, centered the entire length of the table.

The luncheon was followed by bridge. The guests present besides Miss Gladys Schrader were Mrs. Fred Schrader, Miss Evelyn Schrader, Mrs. A. E. Patterson, Mrs. C. H. Rauch, Mrs. John Henderson, Mrs. Luella Hoyt, Mrs. B. B. Bennett, Mrs. B. E. Champ, Mrs. Cass Hough, Mrs. William Wood, Mrs. J. J. McLaren, Mrs. S. Michener, Mrs. J. Stronach, Mrs. S. Michener, Mrs. Charles Garlett, Miss Elizabeth Burrows, Miss Barbara Buke, Miss Regina Polley, Miss Julia Wilcox, The out of town guests being Mrs. Bert Norton and Mrs. Nellie Norton, Rochester, Michigan; Mrs. Nelson Schrader, Miss Rena Schrader, Northville, Mich.; Mrs. Harmon Fritch, Oxford, Mich.; Mrs. Roderick Campbell, Mrs. Asa Wilson, Mrs. Harold Smith, Mrs. L. E. Lyons, Detroit, Michigan.

Another delightful promulgated affair honoring Miss Gladys Schrader was given Wednesday evening at the Garden Tea Rooms, when Mrs. George A. Smith and Mrs. Claude Dakhouse entertained for her at a dessert-bridge and shower. Forty-three guests were seated at small tables, graciously decorated with jonquils in bud vases and cut cups in yellow and green. Miss Schrader was presented with a beautiful coffee service by those present. Mrs. Fred D. Schrader, mother of the honoree, was also an honored guest.

Plymouth's Trout Brigade Ready to Go "Over the Top"

The zero hour! At 12:00 o'clock on the night of April 30—next Thursday night that will be Plymouth's trout brigade will go over the top!

For two weeks the veterans of many a conflict with speckled beauties and a few rainbows—have been preparing for the event and when the clock ticks the midnight hour April 30, Plymouth will be well represented on nearly every good trout stream in Michigan.

For many days past these trout fishermen have been dusting off the rods and reels—patching up the wading boots and digging up the back yard for ammunition.

Most of them have their equipment all ready for the eventful day, for on May first you can take fifteen beauties out of the streams of Michigan in one day—that is—providing you can catch them. The same remains the same, all trout retained must be at least seven inches long. The trout fishing season closes September first.

Who's going? There was ever an opening trout fishing day that Frank Rambo, Harry Lush, William Pettingill, Dr. Champe, Bert Giles, William Rambo, Dr. Paul Butz, Mark Chaffee, Ezra Ratsour, Walter Smith, John Sugden, Harry Lee, Roy Crowe, Myron Mawhorter,

Getting Started

NEW OFFICIALS OF EASTERN STAR LODGE INSTALLED TUESDAY

Members of Plymouth Chapter 115 Order of the Eastern Star and their guests enjoyed an unusually impressive installation ceremony on Tuesday evening, April 21. The Chapter room, which was beautifully decorated under the supervision of Mrs. Nella Raueh, held a capacity audience.

IMPRESSIVE CEREMONIES MARK THIS IMPORTANT EVENT IN LODGE WORK

Mrs. Maude Schrader, with appropriate remarks, invited Junior Past Matron, Nellie Shattuck and Grand Installing Officer, Minnie Pierce of Detroit, to the East. The following officers-elect were then invited to enter the chapter room:

Worthy Matron—Clella Moles Worthy Patron—Chauncey Rauch Associate Patron—Alta Woodworth Associate Patron—Oscar Kuhn Conductress—Wilma Taylor Asso. Conductress—Florence Brestel Secretary—Clara Todd Treasurer—Florence Furman Organist—Nancy Richards Chaplain—Geneva Hallor Marshall—Josie Innis Ada—Mildred Litzenberger Ruth—Marion Barnes Estler—Cora Ball Martha—Mildred Eckles Electa—Gage Kuhn Warden—Evelyn Brocklehurst Sentinel—Matrice Wilcox

The Grand Installing Officer then selected Sister Ellen Duench as Grand Chaplain, Sister Susie Patterson as Grand Marshall, and Sister Gladys Schrader as Grand Organist to assist her in the ceremony.

After assuming the obligation, the Worthy Matron, Clella Moles, was escorted to her station through an arch of flowers held by two lines of officers-elect.

Little Dorothy Richards presented each of the Star points with a basket of flowers appropriate in color to each degree, and drew the ribbons representing the rays of blue, yellow, white, green and red from the altar to the Star points.

Music was furnished at intervals by the High School Girls' Glee Club, with duets by Maurine Dunne and Jean Strong, Calvin Whipple, accompanied by Mrs. Ruth Garrett rendered two solos and Mrs. C. T. Sullivan, accompanied by Mrs. Walbridge, sang three numbers.

Junior Past Matron, Nellie Shattuck, was presented with a Past Matron's Pin. Appropriate gifts were presented to the Installing Officers and those who assisted in the ceremony.

Sister Margaret Rauch concluded eleven years of service as chaplain and we know that she will continue to pray for our chapter and its members though she no longer holds the chair.

Our Chapter is greatly indebted to Sister Minnie Pierce, whose charming personality added so much to the pleasure of the evening.

All were invited to retire to the dining room where ice cream and cake were served.

Brant Warner, John H. Patterson, Matt Powell, Russell Powell, Robert Shaw, Max Moon, John Olaver, William Petr, C. E. Block, Dave Hutton and numerous other Plymouth veterans of the rod could be found at home? Not if they had anything to do with it.

The state license for trout fishing is still effective and one to trod the banks or wade the streams with a fish pole must don the attractive little button the department provides at $1.00 per button. One must be 18 years of age to get a trout fishing license, and it must be worn on some outer garment where a conservation officer can plainly see it.

Not next week, but maybe—maybe the week after, the Mail will tell you all about the fishing stories these fishermen bring home with them—and possibly something about the trout they may catch.

REV. NICHOL IS NEW PRESIDENT OF ROTARY CLUB

Officers Elected For Ensuing Year; Members Hear of Tubercular Work.

Rev. Walter Nichol, long an active member of the Plymouth Rotary Club, has been honored for his services to the organization by being elected president. He will assume his duties on July first when Edward Gayde, another active Rotarian, retires from the president's chair.

Other officers elected are: Vice President—C. H. Bennett Treasurer—C. S. Hough Secretary—E. K. Bennett Asst. Treasurer—Donald Sutherland

At the regular Friday meeting, April 10th, of the Plymouth Rotary Club Mr. Werle, Executive Secretary of the Michigan State Tuberculosis Society, presented to the club a very vivid picture of the work done by the Michigan State Tuberculosis Society in Michigan, comparing the death rate in this state from tuberculosis with the recent Managua earthquake. Mr. Werle showed that every year there is really a greater calamity happening in Michigan than as a result of the earthquake.

While not attempting to alarm Mr. Werle's message proved conclusively that there is a real need for closer cooperation by all groups throughout the state in order to stamp out this unseen wolf at the door—tuberculosis. He encouraged those who heard him by telling of the wonderful strides which have been made in the past few years by medical science and intimating that if these gains were continued tuberculosis might in the future fall in line with diseases which man has already conquered.

At their regular Friday meeting April 17th the Plymouth Rotary Club was privileged to hear Fred R. Johnson, Executive Secretary of the Michigan Children's Aid Society. Mr. Johnson's experience in work of this kind dates back many years, he more recently having held the position of Chief Probation Officer for Detroit Juvenile Court.

Mr. Johnson gave the club a very searching picture of just how organizations like the Children's Aid Society carry on their work. His subject was a most timely and interesting one and his talk was heartily enjoyed by all those present.

MUNICIPAL NEWS NOTES OF INTEREST

President R. O. Mimmack was appointed by the Village Commission to serve as a member of the Library Board representing the Village Commission.

Two memberships in the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce were authorized by the Village commission on Monday night. One of these memberships will be used for the members of the commission at large and the other for the Village Manager.

Hereafter our Village payrolls will be paid on the first and third Tuesdays of each month. This action was taken in order that no checks would be paid out until after approved by the Village commission.

In the future all Village justice court cases will be held in the Commission Chamber of the Village Hall, on Wednesday night of each week. This action was taken by the Village Commission in order that a uniform time and location could be had for trying violations of Village ordinances. In case any one passing through Plymouth is arrested for any ordinance violation they may be given immediate trial before a Justice of the Peace if this action is requested.

Authorization was given to the Village Manager to purchase a tank of Calcium Chloride in solution to be applied on a few of the heavily traveled streets in the Village. This method of applying Calcium Chloride is in use by the Wayne County Road Commission and if proven satisfactory in the Village will effect a considerable saving during the season.

The Chamber of Commerce presented a communication to the Village Commission requesting that some action be taken relative to a planning and zoning ordinance for the Village. This matter has been determined by the Chamber of Commerce as of sufficient importance to be placed on the 1931 program of work of that organization. The communication was received and placed on the table for further consideration within the next thirty days.

HEAVIEST RAIN OF NEARLY TWO YEARS IS AID TO FARMERS

MICHIGAN REJOICES AS RAIN BRINGS END TO DROUGHT OF OVER A YEAR.

Rain—rain that soaked into the ground, a rain that continued for nearly two days—brought relief to farmers and gardeners in the vicinity of Plymouth this week, as well as all other sections of Michigan. It was the heaviest rain that Michigan had experienced in nearly two years.

According to a statement issued by the weather bureau officials at Lansing, the last heavy rain was on April 15 of last year, and that was but a trifle over an inch. The rainfall during the present storm has been almost two inches and in some places in the state, the amount of water that fell, exceeded this amount. It was a good, steady downpour, coming in such a way that most all of it soaked into the ground.

Farmers who plained out during the past week or so were elated over the rain. The spring up to the present has been an excellent one for the preparation of soil for crops and now that rain has fallen generally over the state there is a much more optimistic feeling among farmers than there has been for a long time.

The drought, which apparently has been broken by the present rain, started in March, 1929, according to the Lansing weather bureau. Up to the first of the present week the moisture deficiency in Michigan was 13.57 inches.

It is believed that the present downpour will be of sufficient amount to replenish both surface and underground streams.

But even with all this rainfall, the Michigan State College is urging fruit growers to conduct additional pruning of fruit trees and shrubs and to use mulches as liberally as possible.

This method of applying Calcium Chloride is in use by the Wayne County Road Commission and if proven satisfactory in the Village will effect a considerable saving during the season.

QUINCY FANS LIKE WORK OF "BUO" GILES IN EARLY WORK-OUTS

PLYMOUTH LAD MAKES GOOD START ON TEAM IN AMERICAN ASSOCIATION

"Bud" Giles, son of Postmaster and Mrs. Bert Giles, who recently signed for the 1931 season as shortstop for the Quincy, Illinois, Indians in the American Association, is showing up mighty good, according to the sports writers of Quincy newspapers.

One Quincy paper a few days ago said: "The fans who have been watching the Indians drill this week are all talking about the way Bud Giles handles himself around the short field. That boy knows how to gather in the apple and what to do with it after he has gathered it. He was pivot man on a couple of neat double plays made in the short game played Tuesday."

The Quincy Herald-Whig had the following paragraph about the local lad: "Bud Giles, the youngster who has some impressed experience, got a wonderful knee Thursday, but the injury is not serious and he is expected to be O. K. by Saturday. He hurt the knee when he reached out for a double play ball and twisted it again in a field practice and had to give up for the day."

In his report of the game played Saturday, the same paper had the following comment about his excellent work: "The work of Bud Giles at short made the fans (and there were a goodly number out to see the Indians perform) sit up and take notice. In the fifth Giles made sensational plays to throw two men out and then executed a neat forced play at second. He accepted four chances and fans were sorry that there were not more."

"Bud" as he is best known among his host of Plymouth friends, made a record on the State Normal team at Ypsilanti and for two years was one of Capt. Demiston's star actors on the De-Ho team. There isn't much question but what he will make a worthwhile record in the American Association this year.

The entire club, led by Mrs. Wm. Burke, Mrs. Maxwell Moon and Mrs. M. J. O'Connor in closing, joined in singing "Auld Lang Syne." Thus closed a most interesting meeting and a very successful year of the Plymouth Women's Club.

Rev. Palmer Talks To DeMolay Boys

Reverend Palmer of the First Baptist Church of Farmington, gave a very interesting talk to the boys of the local chapter last Sunday, April 19th. He spoke for a few minutes on the aims and purposes of the DeMolay, and then spoke on what he considered the four most important points in a young man's life, which are: first, What shall I do? second, Where shall I go to school? third, Whom shall I marry? and fourth, Which church shall I attend? His talk was very interesting and instructive.

The boys are very glad to hear that Roderick Mahoney, a fellow-member from Farmington, is almost completely recovered from injuries sustained in an automobile accident last month.

The boys were very sorry to hear of Steve Horvath's misfortune in the death of his grandmother.

Remember the DeMolay Ball at the Mayflower Hotel Saturday April 25th. Made by the Blue Screeners. Every one will have a grand time so be sure to be there.

NEW OFFICIALS SELECTED BY WOMAN'S CLUB

Mrs. Chas. Rathburn Honored at Annual Election By Organization

Members of the Woman's Club who attended the annual meeting last Friday afternoon, found a very pleasant surprise awaiting them. They were received at the hotel entrance by Mrs. J. L. Johnson, Mrs. George A. Smith, Mrs. E. J. Burrows, Mrs. Ada Murray and Mrs. Wm. Baker, members of the Antiquary Group, dressed in the styles of several decades ago. Beauty spots, aprons, flowers and shawls completed the costume of the ladies.

The beauty and splendor of the Club's impressive program.

Mrs. Wm. Baker and Mrs. Maxwell Moon, accompanied by Mrs. M. J. O'Connor at the piano, sang "Flow Gently, Sweet Afton" and "Long Long Ago." Mrs. J. L. Johnson, chairman of the group, introduced Mrs. T. J. Knapp, wife of Supt. T. J. Knapp of the Northville school. Mrs. Knapp, lover of antiques, has had a hobby for some time of collecting of pitchforks. Her collection now numbers some two hundred and sixty. She displayed about forty of these to the club, together with antiques many of which had been handed down from mother to child for several generations.

Mrs. Ada Murray gave a talk on glassware and illustrated this talk with pieces of ancient glassware. Many present could remember seeing among mother's most prized dishes glass plates that bore such inscriptions as "I'm Pleasant to Labor for Thee, Wm. Love" and "Give 'n' This Day Our Daily Bread." Both of these types were on display.

The entire club, led by Mrs. Wm. Baker, Mrs. Maxwell Moon and Mrs. M. J. O'Connor in closing, joined in singing "Auld Lang Syne." Thus closed a most interesting meeting and a very successful year of the Plymouth Women's Club.

The officers for the coming year are: President—Mrs. Chas. Rathburn 1st Vice-Pres.—Mrs. C. O. Ball 2nd Vice-Pres.—Mrs. Walter Nichol Cor. Sec.—Mrs. R. L. Hills Rec. Sec.—Mrs. Don Packard Treasurer—Mrs. O. J. Seltz Directors—Mrs. F. J. Burrows, Mrs. J. M. Larkins, Mrs. G. A. Smith.

POLICE PHONES FOR USE OF THE PUBLIC

At the Village commission meeting held on April 20th Manager L. P. Cookingham presented a plan for a police telephone signal system consisting of three telephones; one to be located at Penniman Ave. and Main street, one at Main street and Pere Marquette Railroad and the third at Starkweather Ave. and Liberty street.

These phones will be used for the purpose of calling police officers after the Village Hall has been closed. Each phone will be equipped with a loud ringing bell and blue light. The bells will ring intermittently and the lights will flash from the telephone ringing circuit and will remain lighted until the phone is answered.

It has not been possible in the past to get in touch with the police officers without considerable confusion during the evening or night hours but it is believed that this new arrangement will provide better efficiency in the police department and furnish a higher type of police service than has been possible in the past.

The telephones will be available for any citizen to use in making police or fire calls and will be operated the same as any other telephones. Private calls will not be possible over these phones but the Telephone Company will handle any police or fire call coming in over these lines.

Announcement in last week's Mail of the plans of the Wayne County Road Commission and park officials for the immediate development of the parkway system which practically surrounds the eastern and northern sides of the city of Plymouth, is probably the most important news that has been revealed here in many a year. A visit to Plymouth park—the old tourist camping grounds—will provide in a general way an idea of just what Wayne county is going to do in this locality. Fortunate, indeed, for Plymouth is the fact that the Rouge river valley circles such a large portion of this community, because it is the plan of Wayne county to beautify the entire river valley, constructing a scenic paved driveway from the present beautiful Rouge park, way to the U. S. fish hatchery west of Northville. Plymouth will profit the most by this development because of the fact that a much larger area of land is to be beautified here than at any other place along the entire park system. This is due entirely to the fact that Plymouth possesses natural advantages that fit so well into the parkway project of Wayne county. Visitors to New York City who have taken the time to tour the parkway system of Westchester county, know just what Wayne county's park plan means to this community and surrounding country. Less than a dozen years ago Westchester county was the dumping ground of the city of New York, the place where the tin cans, garbage and refuse of a great city went. The city and county combined, just as Detroit and Wayne county have now united, to make beautiful the foul smelling refuse heaps. One of the most attractive spots of all in the Westchester park system is built right on top of an old garbage pile. But Wayne has no unfavorable conditions of this kind to overcome. Its only task is to make more attractive that which nature has provided—and to make it accessible to the public. That the county is now doing, and by the end of five years, Wayne county's park system will be one of the most attractive in all the world—and Plymouth is right in the heart of all of this amazing development. Indeed the community is fortunate.

HE IS RIGHT

Prof. Arthur Bromage of the University of Michigan, in an address the other day before members of the Plymouth Woman Voters League, declared that there no longer existed any reason why northern Michigan should support so many units of county government. He believes that many of the counties could be united and thereby end much of the tax burden that part of the state carries. Everyone except the sheriffs of Crawford, Oscoda, Montmorency, Otsego and some of the other county and township officers up there will agree that Prof. Bromage is right. Maybe some of the mighty fine editors up in Grayling, Mio, Rogers City and elsewhere will also think he is wrong. But as a matter of fact there has been no need of over half a dozen counties in the upper part of the lower peninsula for years. Why should the taxpayers of a sparsely settled county like Oscoda, for instance, support a sheriff, county clerk, county treasurer, register of deeds and all the other officials that the state law requires a county to maintain? But try and convert these same officials to the idea that consolidation of counties is a good thing and see what happens.

DIG AGAIN

It's just a dollar, but if you drive an automobile, you will have to pay it every three years from now on. Yes, it's a new tax law passed by the state legislature now in session, and the measure will become effective in the immediate future. The new measure requires that you renew your drivers license every three years, and when you renew it you are going to pay the state $1.00. Formerly you paid 50 cents when the license was issued and that was all there was to it. This new tax law will take out of the automobile owners of Michigan considerably over a million in taxes every three years. But why worry? What are we here for if it isn't to pay taxes, licenses, fees and more taxes? Really this tax paying business has become one of the greatest of our recreational delights. When the next legislature meets it wouldn't be surprising if a bill should be introduced providing a tax on people for sleeping, eating, walking and another for the number of hours you stay awake during the day time. Maybe if they keep on we may have another Boston tea party.

WE ARE SORRY

The legislature has seen fit to reappropriate the congressional districts of Michigan—that is, it has reapportioned the districts in this part of Michigan only. In doing this, it has removed Plymouth from the Second congressional district and has made us a part of the new 17th congressional district. We have no objection to our new neighbors in the congressional district that we are now in, but we are indeed sorry to lose Congressman Earl Michener. Over a long period of years he has represented this district and he has represented it well. There isn't much question but what he will remain in congress for many years to come and we are sorry that we will be unable to go to him in the future with our problems and our needs that require Washington attention. He has been an excellent congressman and his old friends in the Second district who have been severed from him by legislative enactment, wish for Mr. Michener all the success and happiness a faithful and diligent public service entitled him to.

TAXES

It is quite apparent that the present members of the Michigan state legislature have in some way gained the wrong impression about tax matters. When the voters of Michigan elected them last fall, it was with the general feeling that they would go to Lansing and find ways of cutting taxes, and not spend their time in devising new schemes of taxation. From reading the house and senate journals, mailed out from Lansing, it seems as though almost every member has some new pet tax scheme he would impose upon the people of the state. It is not new taxation that is desired, but less taxation. However, it is pretty late in the session to try and impress this fact upon the legislators.

NOT YET SOLVED

James Powers, well known Detroit Free Press political writer who probably knows more about some of the problems of the various state departments than the officials directly in charge, writes in the Sunday Free Press that the legislature is soon to adjourn, and as yet nothing has been done towards the solution of the states' financial difficulties. He says that present prospects are that the general property tax for each year of the next biennium will approximate $40,000,000. If his predictions should come to pass Michigan taxpayers will be called upon to pay the greatest tax in the history of the state and at a time when the tax should be back where it was before the dawn of daylight government.

Rambling Around with Michigan Editors

There is a Santa Claus. The legislature has passed the Harding bill reapportioning congressional representation. That action has produced some braying which has revealed that there is still plenty of sagittary lying around loose. In other words some gentlemen in congress and elsewhere have by no means cornered the political or governmental brains. Conversely, they have revealed no signs of having cornered any. The net result of the Harding bill was to give Wayne county the entire increase in the state's congressional delegation. It is true that Oakland county now is attached to a Wayne county district, but this only balances out-state territory that formerly was included in Wayne districts and now has been lopped off. Thus Wayne, in the next congress will have six members in congress in place of the present two—for the district including Oakland probably will be dominated by the Wayne vote.—Edward Nowack in The Michigan State Digest.

Find More Taxes

The legislature is searching diligently for avenues by which more taxes may be raised. More taxes must be raised and about fifty per cent of the people or regular taxpayers must pay them. One would suppose that the legislature would be in accord with the governor's economy program and instead of trying to tax the people more would use some real effort to lighten the burden which the people of Michigan are struggling with today. But, limited spending is contrary to present day legislative ambition! So, we say with some one who recently exploded "let them keep on adding taxes. The best cure for this excessive taxation is for it to go so far that the people will rise up and kick out the whole expensive tax-making legislative machinery!" There is some real philosophy in that suggestion.—Frank Bryce in The Grand Lodge Independent.

Time To Die

It is not much consolation to be sure but how fortunate were both Rockne and speaker "Nick" Longworth that they died at the peak of their respective successes. Had both lived another ten years would they have received the same acclaim? Most likely not. All of us know men who would have been happier could they have died during the years when their works were appreciated. The unusual sorrow occasioned by the Rockne and Longworth deaths must be accepted in the eternal sense. God knows best. It is more than likely that Rockne and Longworth have been favored, if we could look behind the curtain.—Murd DeFoe in The Charlotte Republican.

Let There Be Rain

We came very near not writing any column this week. At a time when we should have been walking up and down on a set of typewriter keys we were up to what we call another one of our crazy stunts. At an early hour this morning it was raining in the valley, so we took a couple of hours off and tried to teach a frog how to swim. We found the little fellow wandering around in the backyard at the old homestead and there were heavy callouses on his feet and when we took him up and dropped him in a puddle of water the little fellow nearly drowned.

We take it he was a last year's child and had never seen any water until we held the baptismal service with mother yelling to us out the back window. That woman never did have any sympathy with our idea of Christianity and whenever we start in on some pagan demonstration she proceeds to tell me and the whole world what she thinks about it. But that reminds us that the skies are overcast as we write—there is a promise of more moisture before the day ends—and with our farmer friends we gaze heavenward with great longing in our soul—we hope it starts in and rains like?—like all getout.—Fred Keister in The Ionia County News.

Pays To Smile

Did you ever stop to consider that—The waiter who made a mistake in your order probably will lose his job if you complain to the manager. The traffic cop whom you inwardly or outwardly curse, depending upon your degree of boldness, is only protecting your life and those of others when he hands you a ticket for speeding.

The squalling baby next door doesn't really dislike you, but probably is taking the only available means of getting relief from the tummy ache. And his mother wants to stop the howling just as much as you do.

The telephone girl who gives you a wrong number and who barely escaped denunciation because you are too angry to talk, is a member of that vast army of unsung heroines who will risk their lives to save yours in time of disaster.

The too plump lady or man who takes 99.44 per cent of the trolley car seat can't help it and would gladly do most anything from standing on their heads to jumping off the Empire State building to chase away that excess adiposus.

The street car motorman who closed the door and started away just as you reached the car stop has a schedule he must keep and he probably didn't see you in the first place.

The messenger boy who arrived 10 minutes later than he should have, couldn't help it because traffic jammed.

If you haven't thought about these things, do it now, and remember that a smile takes far less energy than a frown and, likewise, gets you far more service.—William Klanser in The Dearborn Press.

Al's Facts Twisted

We note that Congressman Cramton who lost out in last fall's election has been given a good paying job looking after irrigation in the west. The item we take that information from also says that Mr. Cramton has always been intensely interested in the reclamation of the agricultural lands of the west. He is a Michigan man and it would seem that he might better be employed trying to reclaim some of the agriculturists of his own state and bring them back to occupy our thousands of abandoned good agricultural acres all over the state.—Al Webster in The Chgoegan Observer.

Exiling Convicts

Governor "Alfalfa Bill" Murray of Oklahoma seems to be attracting considerable criticism with his practice of releasing convicts on the condition that they leave the state. It is interesting to note, however, that a grand jury in Chicago has recently recommended this same policy, contending that it would do much to improve the administration of pardon and parole laws.

No state, of course, wants to feel "that it is being used as a "dumping ground" for the outlaws of neighboring commonwealths. Michigan would have every reason to wax resentful if Chicago were to indulge in the wholesale exiling of criminals and the latter were to flock here as a result. On the other hand, it is pointed out by some students of the crime problem that the paroled convict is far more likely to become a law-abiding citizen if he is forcibly kept away from the bad companions of his own neighborhood. Exiled to another state, where he can get a fresh start, he will have a better opportunity to mend his ways.

The whole question seems to be one that can be answered only on an individual basis. Some paroled lawbreakers would have a better chance to "go straight" if they were sent away from the environment that led to their downfall.—Jack Walsh in The Kalamazoo

SEASON OPENER LOST BY ROCKS

The Plymouth Rocks lost to Dearborn in the opening baseball game of the season played last Friday at Dearborn.

For four innings of swift and exciting baseball, the Rocks held a 2-0 lead. In the last of the fourth inning, through a consecutive series of errors on the part of the Plymouth infield, the Dearborn team tallied four runs, and again in the last of the sixth, for the same reason, the Orange and Black nine again scored four runs, and throughout the beginning of the seventh, the Rocks failed to score ending the game.

Coming Attractions At Penniman-Allen

"DISHONORED"

Mariene Dietrich's gift for portly, marvelous to watch, almost unnamable to realize, is given free reign in her latest motion picture appearance, in "Dishonored," the Penniman-Allen theatre attraction for Sunday and Monday, April 26 and 27, in which she is co-starred with Victor McLaglen, whose own talents, displayed in "What Price Glory?" and "The Cock-Eyed World," have given him a great American moving picture following.

"Dishonored," the real dramatic romance of one of the world's most intriguing women, an international secret service agent of wartime fame, requires of Dietrich almost constant change of character, of personality, throughout its action. Presented first as the bitter and discouraged woman of the Vienna slums, she blossoms forth as the magnet of Vienna's drawing rooms and cafes. Her character changes again, and she is seen as a Russian peasant woman, gliding and sojourn before the advances of the gay officers of the general staff. Indifference, scorn, uncertainty, alertness succeed each other quickly in her attitudes.

"Dishonored" traces the remarkable career of a woman, having little interest in life itself, who dedicates her life to her country, and, as a spy, pursues her country's enemies in high places. Her ruthlessness in pursuit brings her up against a rival, McLaglen, a tricky, handsome young officer, who scorns her woman's intelligence, but succumbs to her feminine charm in spite of herself, in the game of hide and seek they play over half of Europe, Dietrich is drawn into the influence of this strange lover—until, in the dramatic climax of the picture, she admits defeat and accepts a new victory.

Josef von Sternberg, whom critics and public alike hailed, after the showing of "Morocco" and "The Blue Angel," as one of the geniuses of the American moving picture, directed "Dishonored" from a story conceived and written by himself.

"RANGO"

Ernest Schedsack, producer of the greatest motion picture thrill of 1931, the Sumatra jungle film "Rango" which will appear at the Penniman-Allen Theatre, Wednesday and Thursday, April 29 and 30, spent eight months in the Arbin fever belt, almost on the equator, photographing his story.

Hundreds of friendly apes were constantly in and out of camp, and tigers made frequent prowling calls. "Rango" is a story of the struggle for existence in the matted, steaming depths of the tropical Malayan jungle. It shows the parallel that exists in the lives of a tiger hunter and his son, and a red-haired ape (the orang-utan) and his two-year-old nephew, "Rango." The work of Schedsack and his companions was fraught with dangers not only from the ferocious wild beasts that lived in the vicinity, but from the ever-present menace of jungle fevers, and exhaustion from the terrific heat.

"THE CAT CREEPS"

A number of the most hair-raising situations ever shown on the talking screen, are included in "The Cat Creeps," the Universal mystery drama which comes to the Penniman-Allen Theatre, Friday and Saturday, May 1 and 2. The justice of this contention may be realized when it is revealed that the picture is the screen adaptation of the famous stage thriller, "The Cat and the Canary."

The entire action takes place during a veritable night of terror in a great mansion which has not been occupied for 20 years, and where a party of men and women have gathered for the reading of a will. A chain of terrifying events culminates in the mysterious murder of one of the party, and the entire household is reduced to a state of fearful dread. Secret panels in the walls play an important part in bringing about a number of strange events.

"The Cat Creeps" was directed by Rupert Julian, and its exceptional cast includes Helen Twelvetrees, Raymond Hackett, Neil Hamilton, Jean Hersholt, Montagu Love, Theodore von Eltz, Lawrence Grant, Blanche Frederici and Elizabeth Patterson. The original stage play, "The Cat and the Canary," was written by John Willard, and was adapted for the screen by Gladys Lehman.

Don't fail to see "The Cat Creeps."

His home built on the county line Edison Mull, of Casar, N. C., can stand in one room and be in Cleveland County, then walk into another and be in Burke County.

And there's still another freak about the Mill home. It is built on a hill. The water that runs off the east side when it rains trickles down the slope and finds its way to the Catawba River, while that which strikes the west side of the roof goes to sea through the Broad River. Both rivers eventually reach the Atlantic Ocean.

Christian Science Notes
"Doctrine of Atonement" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches on Sunday, April 19.
Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Let us draw near with a true heart in full assurance of faith, having our hearts sprinkled from an evil conscience, and our bodies washed with pure water" (Hebr. 10: 22).
The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "When the smoke of battle clears away, you will discern the good you have done, and receive according to your deserving. Love is not hasty to deliver us from temptation for Love means that we shall be tried and purified" (p. 22).
Subject, "Probation After Death."

Friday, April 24th at 2:30 P. M. the Ladies' Aid will give a tea. A program of entertainment will be given.
Saturday, April 25th the girls' Bible Class will hold a bake sale at Proffers' Meat Market all day.
Sunday—10:00 A. M. the pastor will preach on the seventeenth chapter of Matthew.
Sunday evening—"A Wise Woman's Choice."
Wednesday, April 29—Will start a series of studies on the Book of Romans. Anyone interested is cordially invited.

bles' Auxiliary, the Daughters of the American Revolution, the Business and Professional Women's Club and the Women Voters Club were invited guests, and the presidents of the first three spoke briefly, thanking the Ex-Service Men for the invitation.
Following the speakers, the business meetings of the two organizations were held at which the various committees reported on their activities. Friday evening, April 17th, the poppy committee with Comrade Harry Mumby, chairman, met at the village hall and set the dates on which the Ex-Service Men's Club will sell poppies to the Memorial Day services and the various phases of relief and welfare work in which the club is engaged.
Last year the public responded so well to the appeal of the Ex-Service Men's Club that a substantial amount was contributed to the American Legion Bldg. at Otter Lake, and to the Veterans of Foreign Wars Children's Home at Eaton Rapids, besides having enough to provide a plant and a flag for each soldier's grave at the five cemeteries in the Plymouth district.
For ten years the despoiling of the graves of our dead comrades has been the duty of the Ex-Service Men's Club, a duty they have carried on dutifully when the expenses of the rite has created deficits in the club treasury that has taken months to wipe out.
Of late years this has not been so, as the citizens have come to realize and appreciate the club's efforts not only along these patriotic lines but along the line of public welfare and general relief. Hungry children have been fed, cold and destitute men and women have been clothed. The Red Cross received our mite in their hour of appeal for death sufferers. Dead and maimed soldiers' little ones were helped to a comfortable roof and sustenance.
The club is not backward in telling the public these facts. They are not looking for praise or back-slapping. These are facts the public should know, because we are and have been through all these things the public has done these things and the public has had well-founded faith in their club.
The Ex-Service Men's Club owns no property, and has no big sum in their treasury. Their own and the citizens' money trusted to them through donations, tickets, poppy purchases and other means has been used to alleviate the sufferings and the heartaches of the less fortunate, to perpetuate the memory of our soldier dead and to inculcate patriotism and respect for the flag and freedom by unselfish duty to the community.
This year the Plymouth Poppy Sales by the Ex-Service Men's Club will start on Saturday, May 16th, and continue through and including Saturday, May 23rd. Put a little by now so you can be generous that week—Ex-Service Men's Club Correspondent.

W. C. T. U.
The Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Plymouth conducted a noon-day service at the M. E. church of Newburg, Sunday, April 19, in response to an invitation given by the pastor, Rev. Purdy. The service opened with scripture-reading by the president, Mrs. E. C. Vealey, and prayer by Rev. Purdy. The president then gave a most interesting talk about a debate between the wet and dry recently held in Lansing, which she and Mrs. Clara Patterson Todd attended. Mrs. Vealey also gave an excellent idea of the work being done by the W. C. T. U. and made an eloquent plea for more of the Newburg women to unite with the organization. Mrs. Clara Todd then followed with more concerning the Lansing debate, giving many of the arguments used by the wet and showing how powerful is the foe which the temperance forces are fighting.
Miss Anna Youngs then favored the audience with a vocal solo and an original poem was given by Miss Nettie Polham.
The meeting concluded with a luminous reading, "The Good Old Days" by Mrs. John Tartentoury. The attendance was excellent and it is hoped the meeting may be productive of good.

Mrs. G. S. Hardenbrook, who spent her honeymoon at the original Palmer House, in Chicago, where Potter Palmer Sr. created all the guests as they entered the lobby, celebrated her sixtieth anniversary in the third edition of the same hostelry. And she recalled that the bridal suite cost $4 a day with breakfast, with a six-course dinner and an eight-course supper for both of them thrown in.
On charges that she was incompetent and that she used her office for political purposes, Mrs. Mary B. Hopkins, mayor of Redondo Beach, Cal., has been ousted from office by a vote of 1,924 to 1,321 in a special election.

"WHERE SERVICE IS A HABIT"

OLDEST FORD DRIVER

J. M. Crow, 89, of Ethel, Miss., the oldest Ford driver in Mississippi, traversed the historic old Natchez Trace in a covered wagon eighty-seven years ago.

As rugged today at 89 as the age in American history he so picturesquely typifies, J. M. Crow of Ethel, Miss., is the oldest Ford driver in Mississippi and one of the oldest in the United States.

When as a babe of two years he rode with his parents in one of a train of 30 covered wagons out of Cobb county, Georgia, into Mississippi, the old Natchez Trace followed by the brave little band was still infested by the swabuckling ruffians whose bloody outrages gave that era its place in this country's history as "the outlaw years."

One of his vivid memories is hearing, as a boy of six, the news of General Scott's victorious assault on the heights of Chapultepec which ended the Mexican War in 1847, and his proudest memory is of honorable service as a Confederate soldier during the Civil War. When the southern cause collapsed, Crow was compelled to trudge 400 miles on foot to the old homestead at Ethel where he settled down to rear a family.

In the intervening years he has seen the lumbering stagecoach give way to the fleet automobile and the comfortable motorbus, the soggy gumbo and rough corduroy roads of his childhood to the wide, paved roads of today, and although he was long past middle age before the modern automobile became commonplace he is as enthusiastic a driver as youngsters who can boast less than one-quarter of his years.

Five generations of Crow's family are frequently seen together in his Model A Ford, the second of its type Crow has owned and driven.

POINTS FOR GARDEN LOVERS OF PLYMOUTH

In applying commercial fertilizer to the lawn and flower bed it should be washed in with a fine spray from the hose to prevent burning.

Perennial plants should be divided at least every three years.

Canterbury bells, aquilegias, fox gloves, pansies and daisies may be moved from the cold frames to the garden during the latter part of this month.

Continue the planting of trees and shrubs as rapidly as possible. Suitable spring weather for this work is usually limited.

Remove dandelions from the lawn as soon as they appear. It is much easier to dig them out at this season than later in the summer.

Immediately after a heavy rainfall is the best time to roll the lawn. (The complete rolling of the lawn at such a time should be sufficient for the season.

Newly planted grass areas should be protected from the sun by use of a very light mulch of peat moss or humus.

The grass of new lawns should not be cut for the first time until it reaches a height of from four to six inches.

All bird houses should be erected at the first possible date.

Providing the weather is favorable, seeds of various vegetables including lettuce, beets, carrots and radishes, may be sown during the last of the month.

Protect the perennial beds from trampling until the plants are well up.

Do not permit dogs or cats to run promiscuously about the yard.

Conserve the mulch from the perennial and shrub beds and start a pile for the formation of compost.

Forced To Quit 18 Year Position

"Two years ago my health broke down and I had to quit work after being with the same concern for 18 years," said W. F. Yeager, 4249 16th St., Detroit. "My stomach got out of order; I was bilious and constipated, and the least exertion brought on dizziness and shortness of breath. I had not been taking Sargon two weeks before all these troubles disappeared and I felt like a new man. I've gained eight pounds. Sargon Pills keep me completely free of constipation and never cause the least upset. Sold by Community Pharmacy."

NEW MARMONS ARE POWERFUL MACHINES

Production of the Marmion Sixteen is well under way and first shipments of this new 200-horsepower car to principal Marmion distributing points have started. It is announced by P. H. Noland, general manager of the Marmion Motor Car Company.

Since the introduction of the Marmion Sixteen at the leading winter automobile shows, a large number of orders for this car have been received and many of the first production cars will be delivered to retail purchasers. In addition, practically all Marmion distributors and important dealers are planning to hold special displays as soon as they are supplied with a sufficient number of cars from the factory.

The 200-horsepower aluminum engine of the Marmion Sixteen is being manufactured in a new and specially equipped unit of the Marmion factory. Machinery of the most modern type, some of it designed particularly to produce the engine, has been installed and is now in operation.

Marmion Sixteen bodies are being manufactured in another unit of the Marmion factory. A new system of body production whereby it is possible to make the most rigid inspection during every stage of construction has been placed into effect.

Production of the Marmion Sixteen will go forward in increasingly large numbers with a maximum reached within a short time.

Father and Son Reunited After 40-Year Separation

Ties broken nearly 40 years ago were renewed in Moore Park, Mich., recently, when Harry Blood of Lombard, Colo., met his father, Harvey Blood. It was the first time they had seen each other since the death of the boy's mother in Kansas when Harry was nine years old.

The father went to Oklahoma, and the son was taken to the home of his grandparents in Michigan. Some time later the latter moved. The father finally learned of his son's whereabouts, however, and then the 48-year-old son visited the 78-year-old father.

FORD RELIABILITY

Long, hard use shows the value of good materials and simplicity of design

EVERYWHERE you go you hear reports of the good performance and reliability of the Ford.

One owner writes—"The Ford Tudor Sedan I am driving has covered 59,300 miles through all kinds of weather. It is still giving perfect satisfaction."

Another owner describes a trip of 3217 miles in 95 hours over bad roads and through heavy rain and sleet in the mountains. "Throughout the entire trip," he writes, "the Ford performed excellently and no mechanical trouble of any kind was experienced. The shatter-proof glass undoubtedly saved us from serious injury when a prairie chicken struck the windshield while we were traveling at 65 miles an hour."

See the nearest dealer and have him give you a demonstration ride in the Ford. Then, from your own personal experience, you will know that it brings you everything you want or need in a motor car at an unusually low price.

CHEVROLET SALES SHOWING INCREASE

Announcement that sales of Chevrolet sixes in the United States were 48 per cent better in March than February, according to figures made public Saturday by H. J. Klingler, vice-president and general sales manager of Chevrolet, provides one of the bright spots to appear on the local industrial horizon in the past eighteen months, according to Ernest Allison, local Chevrolet distributor. Domestic sales totaled 73,628 passenger and commercial cars as against 50,380 in the previous month. Mr. Klingler said, Dealers' new car stocks were reduced by 6,500 units as a result of the satisfactory showing, and used car stocks also dropped more than 5,000 units during March, according to Mr. Klingler. Each ten-day period of the month revealed extensive gains over the previous period. For the first ten days of March, sales were 17,224 units, for the second like period, 24,910 cars and trucks and for the last ten days, 31,494 units. While final figures for the first ten days of April have not yet been tabulated, Mr. Klingler stated that dealers' sales reports already made, indicate that the progressive gains of March are being continued into the current month. Chevrolet's world production in March, as previously announced, was 79,003 cars and trucks. During the four full months when in 1931 line of Chevrolet sixes was in dealers' hands, sales in the United States exceeded 215,000 units, Mr. Klingler stated. As a result of this showing, a six cylinder car for the first time has forged into the lead in domestic passenger car registrations. Chevrolet having led the field in December, January and February; while returns from the 21 states in the union already reporting for March, again reveal Chevrolet passenger car sales in the van of all other makes. A survey of the hearing of 1,800 school children showed that boys suffer from defects in hearing more frequently than girls.

Noiseless "Shot" Without having heard a shot, Fred Woods, of Middletown, N. Y., saw a deer fall dead in a field. He went over to investigate. Taking hold of the dead animal, Woods also fell dead. The deer had been killed by a broken wire from a high-tension line, and the same current killed Woods.

Rosedale Gardens

By J. W. WALKER

Additions

Fences at the door yards of the Webster house, the Chapman's on York, trellis work by the Hausen's, new garages for the Stevenson (No. 10) on Melrose and Phipps on Berwick. The old brick veneer on the Smith home by Cousin Watson, et al. will brighten the Arden avenue entrance. Cousins Gus Rinna and Walter are busy at bees decorating and staining and varnishing. Cousin Silvio Bernandotto is having his cement mixer busy doing odd jobs in driveways and garage floors. Taking all in all the gangs are pretty busy these days.

Traffic

Sundee on US-12 was unusually heavy, even for Sundee last Sunday. Not only that but commercial traffic has also been heavy. The Wayne County trucks hauling all sorts of things, mostly trees, and mostly east some place. Wish we could get some more hereabouts. No such luck except to buy some somewhere. However, speaking on the subject, Sundee drivers are getting into practice, as only a few minor accidents hereabouts were noted, no one hurt, and everyone happy. Many stopt by R Emporium for cream cones and sodas and watched traffic as a restful diversion.

Landscaping

Our doctors of shrubbery had to call in extra help with the sudden advent of April summer. All our trees and shrubs are leafing forth in the warm and hot (Sundee 96 at 2:00 p. m.) sun. A number of lilacs will bloom this year providing Jack Frost stays far enough away. Sweet Peas are up several inches, and most all perennials have wintered thru okay. Now the dandelions are in season once more, spreading a golden carpet here and there a dismal outlook for an-mal seed gardeners and lovers of clover lawns. Many extensive gardens are in the making in addition to those of previous years.

Teachers

from all over, came in their flannels last Sunday, the 18th instant, holding their meeting at R school, and their get fests at R church banquet hall. All voted this the best place for meeting and eating and teaching. Miss Roe was supposed to have divulged the secrets of this session, and hope she did.

Pupils

are looking forward to the end of school days, but a few weeks more. Dale and Rose Gardenites have been laying out the summer schedule for play. Daddy Gardenite, being too busy at the garden to do anything but look forward to a little white ball and barnyard golf.

Boosted Rail Travel

Impetus was given to railway travel in Poland from the small town of Szubin when astounded ticket purchasers discovered the ticket office issuing free tickets to any distance. The news spread, and people besieged the office. Police found John Neisgodziki, who had escaped from an asylum, had forced an entrance into the ticket office and began distribution. The majority of the passengers had already departed, and the authorities were busy during the day trying to collect fares.

Dr. Robert Haskell Produces Dairy Cow That Makes National Record Of Big Milk Production

A new champion cow comes to reign among the bovine royalty of the State of Michigan. James G. Hays of East Lansing, secretary of the Michigan Holstein Breeders' Association, reports today. Ionia Aggie Pauline, a junior four-year-old Holstein cow, owned by the Wayne County Training School at Northville, Michigan, by producing in the past twelve months 29,425.3 pounds of milk rises to this new point of distinction.

This new record is 481 pounds greater than the previous record in this class of 28,944 pounds of milk made by the cow, Fanny Aggie Hougerveld Pontiac 456936, in February 1922.

This record has been made under the official rules of the National Holstein Friesian Association and supervised throughout the year by official testers from the Department of Advanced Registry Testing at the Michigan State College, East Lansing.

"Such a record," says Mr. Hays, "is an accident. It is the combination of good breeding plus good care." In the year preceding this record this same cow as a junior three-year-old produced 22,149 pounds of milk; so with less than two months' dry period between these two lactation periods this new champion has produced in the last two years the stupendous amount of 51,574 pounds of milk—practically 20 tons of milk in two years.

Figures like these are strange to the ordinary man in the street and require other standards for comparison. The ordinary farmer's cow, far and wide in the United States, is estimated to produce 4,000 pounds of milk in the year and in that year's production of the average farmer's cow is 200 pounds of butter. This one cow, Ionia Aggie Pauline, produced in this past year, actually 1045.3 pounds of butter or five times and more the average cow, and over seven times the amount of milk given by the average cow. Every day during this year this cow produced 10 state in common terms, a ten-gallon can of milk with a big glass over for good measure.

At the beginning of this year's work, Aggie Pauline weighed about 1750 pounds. Today she has dropped only to 1610 pounds. Following her freshening on April 5, 1930, she was given a full official test for seven days during which short time she made a record of 701.3 pounds of 3.5% milk containing 24.12 pounds butter, the biggest seven-day official record made by any four-year-old cow in Michigan in 1930. She maintained an average of 100 pounds milk daily for the first 108 days of this lactation period. The day following the termination of her year she produced, again under strictly official supervision, 62.1 pounds of milk, testing 2.95% fat and containing 2.29 pounds butter. "Such remarkable persistency over a long period of time is what makes a cow really valuable," says her mentor, Joe Cook, the herdsman.

To make this fifteen tons of milk this cow has eaten during the past twelve months three and a half tons of silage, a ton and a half of beets, a half ton of dried beet pulp, two and a half tons of hay and a little more than three and a half tons of grain ration.

To Dr. Robert Haskell, superintendent of the Wayne County Training School, can go the credit for the development of this prize winning cow. Dr. Haskell for over a long period of years has been one of the best known Holstein men in the country. In addition to ranking among the authorities of the world on the treatment and development of mentally deficient children, he probably knows as much or more about Holstein cattle and how to make them big milk producers than most of those who produce Holstein cattle strictly as a business. With Dr. Haskell it has been a hobby. When he was in Ionia as superintendent of the Ionia Hospital for Criminal Insane, he started a Holstein herd at that place that since has become of almost nationwide fame.

The dairy herd of the Wayne County Training School at Northville, although less than four years old, has more throughout the country a herd of outstanding excellence. On the 1930 Honor Roll of Michigan Holsteins the names of fifty-six cows appear, of which number five were taken from the Wayots Herd. Ionia Aggie Pauline produced 4,739.6 pounds milk more than the high cow in the same age class among these 1930 Roll of Honor cows and 99.05 pounds more butter. The National Dairy Association has twice listed this Wayots herd on its National Honor Roll. Last year, with over half its milking animals merely heifers with their first calf, this herd averaged 332.5 pounds of butter from 13,205 pounds of milk and was given thirty-seventh place on the National Honor Roll to which only one hundred and seventy-two breeders of pure bred Holstein Friesian cattle in thirty-seven states were admitted upon recommendation of the National Holstein Friesian Association. To be admitted to this National Honor Roll the entire herd must average over 300 pounds of butter per cow. Four Michigan herds only that competed in the same class exceeded this herd's record.

Ordinarily cows being milked for such records are given the quiet and privacy of a separate stall at least, if not indeed kept apart from the regular herd in a remote testing barn. "The best part of this cow's record," according to Dr. Robert H. Haskell, medical superintendent of the Training School, "is that she was milked in the regular milking barn at her regular stanchion in the mildest end of the barn and carried and cared for in every other way by the boys assigned to the dairy barn as a regular part of their training. Full credit for Ionia Aggie Pauline's record," says Dr. Haskell, "goes to Joe Cook, our herdsman, who was responsible for her breeding at the Ionia State Hospital in the first place. Later purchased her for us at the modest sum of $125.00 and now has developed her into this wonderful cow, only yet at the beginning of her ultimate records."

Past Is Vividly Recalled

Mrs. C. E. Cook, of Southwest Harbor, Me., recently had an old barn taken down at the rear of her house. The work was done by Jasper Hutchins. In the World War, Hutchins was on the first navy ship that was torpedoed and with a few companions drifted in a small boat for some time before being rescued. During the work of demolishing the barn he came upon a newspaper of 1917, in which was printed the story of the disaster with Hutchins' name in the list of rescued.

Boasts No Longer

William Tyrell, of Glendale, Cal., is a roofing contractor, and until the other day he took pride in admitting that he was the man who put the roof on the Woolworth Building in New York City, the highest building in the world at that time. But now Tyrell has quit boasting because he is feeling overwhelmed with chagrin. He was roofing a chicken house and fell off a distance of 10 to 12 feet and broke a leg.

HE ISSUES WARNING TO AUTOMOBILE OWNERS

"The generosity shown by Courts nowadays is really amazing. They have a willingness which amounts almost to a passion for granting damages with other people's money. This is strikingly illustrated by damage suit decisions in which contributory negligence plays a part. Of course this may be entirely logical and the right thing to do, but the rulings are evidently hard on the parties compelled to pay the damages.

"The average careful driver figures he will not be involved in an accident unless the other party is to blame, and he realizes that where there is contributory negligence there can be no right of recovery. He often decides, therefore, that he has no need of insurance."

Wm. Wood of the Wood & Garrett Agency, explained that this argument appears on the surface to be plausible, but upon careful consideration, and when Court judgments are taken into consideration, it has one definite weak point—the matter of reckless drivers. A driver of an automobile may be, his passengers are not chargeable with his negligence. If even slight negligence can be shown on the part of the other driver, the passengers of the reckless driver are given verdicts, and often high ones, against the one who is comparatively innocent.

"The multiplicity of traffic regulations makes it impossible for any one driver to observe them all. Many of the regulations are so inconsequential that they have practically been forgotten. Not until a claim is involved and the Courts are driven to technicalities in an effort to fix the blame, do the long forgotten laws come to life.

Even common, every-day regulations, according to Mr. Wood, are often disregarded.

"Almost every driver either disregards or fails to observe a stop sign now and then. Many forget entirely the ordinances requiring them to slow down to 10 or 15 miles an hour at intersections. Many of them take an occasional chance on a through street sign, or cross a state road without coming to a full stop. Then, too, their brakes may be quite up to par, or their lights may be somewhat dim. To list all of these trivial violations is utterly impossible, but every driver is occasionally or frequently guilty of one of them. And every violation may be the greatest importance in the difficult task of apportioning damages in case of an accident.

"Suppose a careful driver approaches a state road, slows down until the motion of his car is almost imperceptible, changes gears and gets away again. In without coming to a complete stop. As he crops on to the highway, a reckless driver, with a number of passengers, comes along and crashes into him. The reckless driver cannot recover damages, but the passengers who are with him, and who were perhaps injured, are not charged with the negligence of the reckless driver, and so the trifling violation of failing to come to a complete stop throws the blame on the careful driver. "This," explained Mr. Wood, "illustrates but one of the many cases which will disastrous results to the careful driver. Courts do pick on him and there is not much he can do about it except to insure."

The Georgia court of appeals ruled inferentially that it is not only the right but the duty of a woman to assist her husband by back seat driving. Mrs. R. H. Pickard of Atlanta, had sought damages for injuries received when an automobile driven by her husband was struck by a street car. The court found that Mrs. Pickard had seen the car approaching and did not warn her husband. "By the exercise of ordinary care she could have avoided the accident," the opinion, granting a nonsuit, read.

THE FAVORABLE-NESS OF UNFAVORABLE WEATHER

How welcome is a steady, all-day down-pour of rain! Truly it means a day of rest. When we look at the complexity and busyness of human life, we appreciate a pause in the planning and laboring of the round of daily work. To me a rainy day is not a time for grumbling but rather an opportunity to relax, to be quiet, to think. The things that one cannot find time to do on sunny days are done on rainy days. The books to be read, the letters to be rearranged, and the little unfinished jobs waiting to be completed. In thinking of the recently passed activities, one can find time to go down in his memory the interesting happenings, new opinions, and seemingly insignificant doings and sayings that in reality are small gold nuggets which, when pondered over, make up a gold mine rich in things worth while.

Sometimes the full meaning of things does not come to one until he separates himself from the busy turmoil. Rainy days then do not seem unimprovably depressing, but after all they are days in which we stop, look about us, take a deep, full breath of the past, and enter, rested into what new activities offer us.

"SEEKERS" ATTEND CITY LUNCHEON

The annual luncheon for the Intermediate Girl Reserves given at the Y. W. C. A. in Detroit last Saturday, April 18, was attended by eight of the girls in Miss Berg's Intermediate group, the "seekers."

The theme of the luncheon was "Know Your Detroit" for which the table decorations represented the various departments and sections of the city such as the police and fire departments, the zoos, libraries and parks. The Plymouth delegation's table represented the Daisy Air Rifle Co., and was decorated by tripods of pop guns and placards from the factory. The very original programs were in the form of a Girl Reserve tour bus.

BOYS ARE BUSY WITH BIRD HOUSES

Tap and hammer, hammer and tap, so goes the tune as the boys in Mr. Carr's manual training classes work carefully on the particular bird house that each one is so sure is going to carry off the prize. The boys have quite a while to finish them, but still time does pass so fast that many will have to hurry to be through before May 14 and 15, the days that mark not only the school exhibition but also the end of the bird house contest.

CLASS TAKES UP PERIOD TYPES

If King James I of England had not been quite so Scotch, perhaps we still would cut out our furniture from an entire block of wood. But as he thought this took up entirely too much time and wasted too much wood to cut the piece out whole, he suggested that furniture be made by joining smaller pieces together, thus originating the piece, ornately carved, Jacobean type. This story of the beginning is just one of the interesting things that Mrs. Brower's art appreciation class is learning about different kinds of furniture.

The class has also been told of the William and Mary style in honor of the Prince of Orange and Queen Mary of England, and of the Queen Ann period furniture with its graceful, airy lines that cannot be reproduced today. At this time also began the polishing of the wood instead of ornate carvings. Following Queen Ann came the Thomas Chippendale style with elaborate legs and the ball and claw foot. The backs of the chairs are always intricately carved with interlaced ribbons and lattice work and finished usually with a cupid's bow-shaped top. This style shows the marked influence of the Dutch, French and Chinese.

PLANS ARE MADE FOR THE BANQUET

An Indian tribal meeting featuring the "Pow-Wow" is to be the decoration theme of the annual Mother-Daughter banquet to be given May 8, last Friday, April 17. The different committees were selected; two representatives from the other clubs were sent to join each of the central committees of the Senior Girl Reserves.

The Camp Five Girls are to be the hostesses of the evening, which will begin by Amy Blackmore, senior group president, presenting the toastmistress, Mrs. Rathbun, who in turn will present the speakers of the evening. Marian Gust is to give the toast to the mothers, to which Mrs. Humphries will respond with a toast to the daughters. Miss Berg's group will entertain with a dance, and the girls' double quartette will sing. Miss Mary Farnsworth, head of the English department at Cass Tech High School and city director of the Detroit Y. W. C. A., will be the principal speaker of the evening. Plymouth was indeed fortunate to obtain such a valued speaker and surely with such a delightful program the Mother-Daughter banquet will again be a great success.

ANNUAL FRITTER FRY GIVEN BY SUPERINTENDENT

For at least ten years when the sap begins to run, Mr. Smith sets aside a date for his annual fritter party for the faculty and the school board. Mr. Smith mixes and fries the fritters by himself, asking aid from no one. The maple syrup is always served in mammoth pitchers, and is as abundant as water. The last party was held Tuesday, the thirteenth.

SENIOR BIOGRAPHIES

MAURINE DUNN was born in Plymouth and in the same town is completing her studies. Her activities have been Senior Girl Reserves, Glee Club, Double Quartette, tennis, class basketball, and the junior and senior plays. Maurine's ambition is to become an art teacher, but why be an art teacher when one could drive a green roadster?

CLAUDE FERGUSON, the dark-haired youth who has a particular liking for Titian hair, was born near Saginaw. His activities have been Glee Club, Torch Club and Hi-Y. He has earned letters in football, basketball and baseball. His only ambition seems to be to gain the title of professional hobo, but who could picture Delphine counting railroad ties.

ELIDA FORESTER is blessed with much admired dimples. She was born in Munson, Pennsylvania. Elida, like the majority of the class, has always gone to school here. She is a member of the Glee Club.

LYNFORD FRITZ, the "hoochie" lad from Jaspalpa, was born in Detroit. His clubs have been Hi-Y and Glee Club. "Lynnie" got a letter in tennis. His tenderest points are Beatrice and frost bites. He just can't seem to decide upon a profession.

ALMOND GATES was born in Plymouth. He is a jolly lad and one who delights in pestering Miss Fieche. His activities have been orchestra, band, Hi-Y, Varsity Club and basketball, in which he received a letter. His desire is to manage the A. & P. store instead of being managed by it.

FLORA GEIST was born near Plymouth. She is a member of the Glee Club. Flora's desire is to work in an office without taking dictation.

ARTHUR GORDON, the new dark-haired senior, yes, the one who played the piano for the Boys' Glee Club in the Musicals, was born in Detroit, Ohio. Before he came here he attended Central High in Detroit. Here he is a member of the band, orchestra, and the Glee Club. He is trying out for golf and track. Arthur's desire is to become a musician.

STUDENTS HEAR STORY OF RUBBER

As the members of Miss Hauf's commercial geography class have been giving reports on various products, Florence Schwelmer, who told the story of rubber, sent to the Firestone Tire Company for an exhibit of the different types of rubber and the stages by which the crude rubber is transformed into the finished product. Through this exhibit the students were able to see and to examine the fabrics and cords used in the making of automobile tires.

In the study of the manufacturing plants in the New England states, the pupils of the 7-B geography class have made attractive booklets in which interesting facts concerning various cities are written.

TWELVE WILL QUALIFY IN GOLF

Leading the field with a snappy 82, Charles Ball, captain of the golf team, was nine strokes ahead of his nearest competitor, Steve Horvath. About twenty-five other fellows came in with cards ranging from 94 to about 112, but as this is the first start of the season, it is no indication of their true form. Three of the most likely candidates have yet to qualify. They are Edward DeBorja, James Williams and Milton Mos. When these fellows qualify the twelve best cards will play another round of 30 holes, and the highest four will be dropped while the remaining eight will represent the Blue and White on the golf links.

Prospects for golf look very promising this year, and the fellows hope to win the first golf championship in this school. Mr. Evans, band director, is golf coach.

TRAVEL NOTES

Another trip to Florida was taken by the Travel Club members last Thursday when Laura Kincaid gave a very interesting account of a stay in Florida, which she spent with her folks a few years ago.

Leaving Plymouth, Laura and her folks drove through Pittsburgh and stopped for a short time in Washington, D. C. where they visited the White House, the National Art Museum and Arlington National Cemetery.

At Richmond, Virginia, they crossed their first toll bridge. There were more of these which they saw later. In Georgia, after they had passed Augusta, cotton fields became plentiful. They went through Jacksonville and south to Daytona Beach where they spent the winter.

The sidewalks of Daytona and Daytona Beach are made of broken sea shells cemented together, which are very pretty as well as serviceable. Among the many things she showed us, Laura passed a jar of broken shells around the room for us to examine. The sand along the beach is very fine, closely resembling salt or sugar. It is almost white, too, as we saw from the sample our speaker showed us. A very interesting brush made from the palm tree root by Laura and her family was shown to us.

We saw two or three different kinds of sea shells, two star fish, a dollar bill, and several types of plant and animal life which were all very interesting to us.

We all think, when oranges and grapefruit are high priced up here in Michigan, how nice it would be to live in Florida and eat but their for almost nothing, but we would be surprised, for when fruit is high up here, it is almost as high down there if you buy at the stores. But if you want to go and pick some from someone's else orchard, you can have all you want for a penny each.

The schools in Florida are much like ours, excepting that they are very large, rarely exceeding two stories in height.

The tide rises quite quickly, and one must watch himself or he is likely to get caught and would be forced to swim unless he preferred a watery grave.

Florida down there do not have greenhouses as they do up here, but the flowers grow out in the open. When one desires some flowers, he goes to the florist and buys them right out of the garden.

Alligators are very ugly creatures. At one place they visited, there were two alligators, Mutt and Jeff, so-called because Mutt, during a quarrel with Jeff, cut off both ears, and so Mutt is longer than Jeff even today.

At St. Petersburg, the white and colored people are kept separated as much as possible. The colored live in one part of the town, go to separate schools, and use separate benches in the parks from those used by the white people.

Laura and her parents arrived home after having enjoyed a very pleasant winter in the sunny south.

The Travel Club sincerely thanks Laura for the interesting talk she gave.

MR. PITTMAN GIVES VOCATIONAL HELP

An announcement of the Musicals, Friday night, was followed by announcements of the first baseball game to be played with Dearborn at Dearborn, Friday afternoon; a tennis tournament Tuesday, and a track meet Saturday at Ypsilanti with the Roosevelt High School. Maurine Dunn and Jean Strong sang "April Song" and "Lassie O Mine," followed by two trombone solos by Lester Daly.

The speaker was D. M. Pittman, director of rural education in Ypsilanti Normal, who spoke on "Cross Questions and Crooked Answers," which concerned vocations to be taken up. He gave three questions to be answered which would help in the selection of life work. "What shall I do?" "What shall I do? How shall I do it?" To answer these questions, one must analyze possible vocations and self-analysis.

BLUE AND WHITE BEAT ROOSEVELT ON M. S. N. C. FIELD

With Wagenschütz leading the field in scoring, the Blue and White tracksters were able to win their initial meet of the year at Ypsilanti from Roosevelt. The scoring was close throughout the whole meet, neither team being able to hold a very substantial lead. Although this was not a very important meet, it showed up several weak spots in the Plymouth team, giving an opportunity for many of the boys in school to do their best. As follows that had any ability should be out practicing every night. It is a splendid opportunity to win a major school letter and perhaps get a chance to go to the state contest at Lansing, if he will only remember that practice makes perfect.

CENTRAL GRADE SCHOOL NOTES

In Mrs. Root's room the following children received perfect marks on their vocabulary test papers: Max Spitz, Ruth Drews, Richard Virgo, Billy Forshee and Anna Hamerking. The following received over ninety percent: Vernon Rombacher, Daniel Donagan, Marion Goodman, Ernie Bramming and Hazel Wosseling. In a nature study class each child has planted some flowers in his own pot on the window sill. Fifteen of the children in this room had their writing papers accepted for pins at the Palmer Company.

The flower gardens in Miss Mitchell's room are growing nicely. The children have learned the poem, "The Elf and The Doornoose." In handwork they have made pictures of elves and toothpicks. They studied the crow in nature class. Miss Mitchell told the children the story of "The Town and the City Mouse."

In Miss Holt's room the fourth grade children have studied the woodpecker in nature. They have been telling stories of signs of spring. Five children received one hundred percent on the arithmetic test last week. They have been studying Yellowstone National Park in geography class, and several children who have been there have interesting reports on it.

The boys and girls in Mrs. Atkinson's room have been making maps of Australia in geography class. They are reviewing measurements in arithmetic class. Arthur Stroll, Ellen Muller and Patsy McKinnon won final certificates in penmanship. Americano and Romano DeBoggio entered the kindergarten last week.

NEWS FROM STARKWEATHER

The children in Miss Staley's room colored tubicolous Easter pictures last week. They also colored covers for bird and flower books. They made illustrations of the story "Dinner in the Garden." All of the children in Miss Staley's second grade received writing pins from the Palmer Co.; all of all of those from the first grade who sent in papers. The children have a weather chart which contains the names of the days of the week, and each day if the sun shines a paper sun is put after the name of the day. However, if it rains that day a purple umbrella is put after the name.

All of the second-A grade received silver and gold writing pins. All of the first-A children received silver pins and several second grade papers received the gold pins, too. North Brown from Garden City, has joined Miss Staley's second grade class. He is working especially hard so he may receive a gold pin as the others have done. Everyone in Miss Staley's room was at school on time last Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons. The children have made some very nice health posters. They have a new honor roll and over half of the children in the room have their names on it.

Hoger Vanderveen won the prize in the second-A and third-B garden contest in Miss Parmelee's room.

The children in Mrs. Moles' room have finished the study of birds, and are starting the study of flowers. They have been learning about good posture in hygiene class. The four-B class has been having map study about North America and the oceans bordering it.

The five-A's and five B's are studying the flicker in bird study. The four-A geography class has been taking little trips to different parts of the United States. They are illustrating these trips with pictures. The four-A spelling class had 100% in spelling last Wednesday. On the arithmetic progress chart the five-A score is two, the five-B is four, and a four-A is eight. In geography the five-B's gave little reports on the different countries of Europe. In silent reading Florence Blessing, Theodore Smith, Oscar Matts, Douglas Miller, Gordon Roe, Leroy Cripe and Wallace Barton received Miss Kimmel's room last Thursday. The sixth-A grade is studying conjunctions in language. The six-A children also had a test on Africa and are now studying

HERBIE TELEVOX OBEYS ORDERS IN ASSEMBLY

Mystifying and wonderful were the performances of Herbie Televox, the mechanical man, last Monday in general assembly. It was the third and last assembly for which the students paid. Professor Wheeler operated the televox man, explaining the mechanism to our friends when we got out west.

We started next morning at five o'clock, and by noon we were eating dinner eight miles down stream from where we started. We had traveled about two days when late one afternoon I was about to throw out the window and look over a sharp twang of a bow, and an arrow came striking my head. I called to my oldest boy, who was eighteen, to help me pull the clumsy craft a little faster than the sluggish current of the stream was carrying it. I told my twelve year old son to steer it straight for the middle of the stream. It was quite dark, and as I did not hear or see anything I figured we were safe.

We stopped for the night. Although I heard the brush being moved about, and I stayed up all night with my rifle across my knees, I didn't get a chance to use it that night. The next day about noon we found a suitable point to build our cabin and shoot. We unloaded our belongings, and in four days we had our cabin built and our food started.

On the fifth day of our arrival I left my wife and children in care of my oldest son, and I set out to explore around our new home. I rode Barney my favorite horse, and I had ridden about five miles when I came to another cabin with a man, his wife, and four children. The man and his wife were in front of it. Later on we helped one mother, and finally my oldest son married Mr. Bink's oldest daughter. We both pitched in and gave them a cow, a horse, and as I had some hogs, I gave them the fattest pair.

They were well fixed with two cows, a team of horses, a pair of pigs, a cat and a dog, and also a cabin between that of Mr. Bink's and mine. They also had a fine tract of land. We got along very well. We raised cows, wheat, rye, tobacco and vegetables. Later on there became a large and populated area in the West. In the year 1860, this forgotten country was now settled, and soon flourishing states sprang up.

We headed our prairie down the Ohio and Mississippi Rivers to New Orleans, the Crescent City, on my large flat-boat. Later on we all went "to the business together and made plenty of 'jack' as Mrs. Bink called it.

Televox—the Mechanical Man

A whistle is the best way to operate the mechanical unit although human voice may be used. This does not always guarantee a response. In order to demonstrate that anyone could operate the Robot, Mr. Wheeler asked Edward DePorter and Charles Hill to operate it. Edward turned on the beacon light the vacuum sweeper and Charles turned them off. The televox is used in many fields of work, in the offices, in checking water heights on dams, and in turning on beacon lights for airplanes on stormy nights. The televox is becoming more useful everyday, and there may be a time when all manual labor will be done in this manner!

TORCH CLUB HAS NEW MEMBERS

At a meeting held Wednesday, the Torch Club inducted the following five new members into their club: Raymond Armitage, Oscar Luttermoser, Marvin Schmidt, Fred Kaiser and Dewey Taylor. After these boys were taken into the club, Ray Johns, State Y. M. C. A. secretary, showed films on camp life and trips boys have taken every year through northern Canada. The film was interesting because it showed Canada in its natural state. During the latter part of the film, the boys were held spellbound and were very excited when a fight between a cougar and monkey was shown. The Torch Club extends their appreciation to Mr. Johns for showing the pictures which were very interesting and gave a vivid picture of camp life and the wild animals of Canada.

Down the River Looking for a Home. To begin, my name is Tom Browne, but most folks call me old Tom. I am a boy from East. I don't care much for this farm as the taxes are over two dollars a year, and you can't live in peace. I have a wife and four children.

Now that the East is getting so densely populated, I say to my family one day, "How would you like to move west?" I told them my reasons for wanting to go. In the morning they all came to me and said they agreed. On my farm I had four cows, two teams of horses, three sheep and a small flock of chickens. My wife and two dogs and two cats which made quite a family.

After deciding, it didn't take me long to sell the farm at ten dollars an acre, which left me two thousand dollars. I could not have sold for this had it not been for a government man who bought it. After I sold my farm I took one of the cows down to the neighbor, who helped me butcher. I did this so we would have enough meat on our trip. I then went down to Andy Bulwath, the boatman, to see if he had a large enough flat-boat for me to use. After I bought the boat, I found I had sixteen hundred dollars left. I bought a barrel of salt, a barrel of flour and a barrel of sugar from Tony at the commission house.

We lived about a mile from the Ohio River, so I loaded all our belongings down to the wharf where my large boat was waiting. My children were overjoyed to see such a boat and to think that it belonged to us. We loaded the boat in about four hours, and everything was ready for the trip.

It was evening when everything was loaded and ready. We couldn't start out in the night with no view of the river, so I had my family and my dog and went out to a hardware, dry-goods and grocery store all in one. I bought myself a rifle, shotgun and a pistol. I bought my oldest boy a rifle. I then bought a pistol for my wife to protect herself from hostile Indians. I then bought two kegs of shot, two kegs of powder, and four dozen goods of cartridges. In the line of dry goods I bought enough clothes and cloth to last us all the year around. Then I bought four pads of writing paper, three bottles of ink, and three pens to
