MOTHERS ARE HONORED AT BIG BANQUET

Over 300 Present At Event Given by Campfire Girls and Reserves.

(From Mierlin Printers)

Another record crowd, 317 strong, turned out for the second annual Mother-Daughter banquet, sponsored by the Campfire Girls and Campfire Girls, held in the high school auditorium Friday evening, May 8. As the Indian tribe was the plan of the program, clever little Indian scenes with tiny loaves, tapes and canoes were the centerpieces of the tables, while tall orange-red and brown candles glowed dimly in the background during the ceremony. Before and during the "Tribal Feast," all present sang songs, led by Doris Holloway. The "Dance" began after an excellent meal prepared by the ladies of the Episcopal church and served by the Hi-Ys.

Any Blackmore, president of the Senior Girl Reserves, greeted the mothers and then handed the "Tribal Pipe" to Mrs. Charles Hartman, who began her "Tribal Song" by calling on the two families represented by four generations to stand up. The great-grandmother of one was Mrs. Smith; the grandmother, Mrs. Nellie Bird; the mother, Mrs. Ione Faber; and the daughter, Doris Faber. Of the other, Mrs. Phoebe McBurney was the great-grandmother; Mrs. Alicia Estep, the grandmother; and Maxine Minthorne, the mother, and Maxine Minthorne, the daughter. She then called on the three families represented by three generations and the family with the largest representation to rise. Mrs. Rathbun's first introduction was Marian Gust, who in "Meditations" gave the toast to the mothers, especially stressing the present day mothers' commission—she is a second-motherhood. Mrs. Humphries responded with "Pretty Papers," the toast to the daughters.

Any Blackmore then presented a five-dollar check to Jane Whipple, representative of the Campfire Girls, for winning the ticket selling contest sponsored by the Senior Girl Reserves between the Junior and Intermediate Girl Reserve groups and the Campfire Girls.

The "Showered Fire Dance" with its slow, even movements and high pitched chanting accompanied by the melodious thrum of a tom-tom, was the next feature, presented by the Intermediate Girl Reserve group.

Miss Mary Farnsworth, head of the English department at Cass Technical High School, and a leader in Detroit of Y. W. C. A. and Girl Reserve activities, gave the "Heap Big Talk" to the evening. On her own representation a characteristic "Heap Big Talk" would be about five deep grunts. She then went on with her speech about mothers and daughters, likening the progress of modern women to a canoe. She mentioned different experiences of hers in China and Egypt to show the differences between the treatment of women here and in foreign countries. Miss Farnsworth quickly finished her interesting talk by telling a well-loved Arabian story of a woman whose son grew up and away from her, was granted a loving daughter as a loan by the Prophet.

At the conclusion of her speech, Any Blackmore presented Miss Farnsworth with a bouquet of red roses in part appreciation of her interesting talk.

"Indian Meditations," the girls' double quartet, sang in Indian dress, singing by request the "songs they had sung at the initiation." By the Winters of Minnetonka and "Red Wing" and responded to an encore with "Ho-Hum." The evening was then concluded by all singing "Follow the Glean."

City Managers In Meeting Here

Village Manager L. P. Cookingham was host to ten members of the South-eastern Michigan Association of City Managers at the Hotel Mayflower, last Friday noon.

Mr. Cookingham is a past president of the Michigan Association of City Managers, and has for a number of years taken an active interest in the workings of the group.

The Southeastern Association meets once every month to hold a round table of affairs that might be of interest to the communities in which the managers serve. Harold Smith, secretary of the Michigan Municipal League, was the guest speaker. He dealt at length with bills being considered by the legislature that might affect the cities in which the various managers were located.

Noble Larkins Is Golf Club Head

At a meeting of the Plymouth Hills Public Golf Club held on May 8th, the following officers were elected:

President—Noble G. Larkins
Vice-president—Frank Rambo
Sec. Treas.—John M. Larkins
Gen. Mgr.—George H. Robinson

It was decided to push the work of installing the water mains and planting the bent grass upon the greens as rapidly as possible, so that the course would be open to the public on or about July first. It is the intention of the officers to make this golf course a real sports course. The location is one and one-half miles west of the village of Plymouth on the Plymouth road. Watch the Plymouth Mail for opening announcement.

To Plymouth Merchants

This community, like all others, during recent weeks, has been flooded with agents and solicitors for all kinds and forms of advertising schemes. Possibly some of them have merit, but all of them provide a neat little sum of money for the one who comes here trying to sell them, providing, of course, he is successful in "putting it over." At the suggestion of officials of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce, the Plymouth Mail is pleased to issue this general warning to merchants. The Mail is likewise requested nearly every day to become a party to some form of an advertising promotional scheme whereby the merchant is expected to pay triple his regular advertising rate, with about two thirds of the revenue going to out-of-town promoters.

There are large numbers of special advertising promoters looking for something to do these days, and they are coming to the merchants of the smaller communities and asking you to provide them with an income out of your business. The Mail has always been willing and anxious to cooperate in any effort which will benefit local trade, and if in our judgment any plan is believed to have outstanding merit, we will be glad to advise the merchants to this effect. We wish also to state at this time, that it is unnecessary for advertisers to purchase special advertising cut services, as this paper is in a position to provide you with cuts free of charge. Meanwhile any advertising promoters come to you with any advertising plan, ask them to show you a letter of endorsement from the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce and the Plymouth Mail. Such letters of endorsement will only be given after the most careful consideration, and unless the promoter is able to produce such an endorsement, our recommendation is that all such proposals be rejected.

ANNUAL POPPY SALE TO START SATURDAY CONTINUES FOR WEEK

PLYMOUTH ALWAYS MORE GENEROUS THAN OTHER CITIES IN THE STATE.

The annual poppy day sale of the Ex-Servicemen's Club of Plymouth and the Club Ladies Auxiliary will start Saturday, May 16, and continue through to Saturday, May 23.

Although no definite figures are available from other communities, it is believed the people of Plymouth and vicinity have in past years been more generous in the purchase and wearing of the poppy than any other community in the state within the time it is sold.

The fact that all the funds derived from the sale are used for the benefit of the children of veterans in Billet and state homes or the local welfare and relief work and the purchase of a point, a flag and a marker if necessary for every veteran's grave in five cemeteries in the Plymouth district, explains the success of the annual sale here.

No overhead or administrative expense is deducted from the proceeds of the sale and the total proceeds go directly into the Club's welfare work.

The following quotation from the National Tribune and The Stars and Stripes may be interesting to those who wonder how the Poppy originated as the memorial flower.

The Service Star Legion (War Mothers) was the first to adopt the red poppy as its official flower, the first sale having been conducted by Mrs. Mary Henry, of Milwaukee, in May, 1918.

In October of the same year the Baltimore chapter conducted a similar sale for the benefit of the "Fraternal League of the Children of France."

Some months later Marshall Foch was a guest of honor in Baltimore, and while there presented to the chapter of Service Star Legion, a French flag in honor of their services referring to the sale of poppies as being the first offer of the kind.

On Sept. 17, 1920, at the national convention of Service Star Legion in Los Angeles, the red poppy was officially adopted.

The Service Star Legion feels a just pride in originating this custom but is making no effort to monopolize it, preferring to cooperate with other similar sentiment shared by all ex-service men and their relatives for this significant flower.

This year the Club dedicates the lines below to our fellow citizens and urges each and every one to wear a poppy tomorrow for remembrance.

Each year a poppy's scarlet head shall yet remind heroic dead that memories have not yet died—Nor living hearts forgotten. Each year a poppy worn in pride, Recall the years of crimson tide, Rolled back by youth who gladly died.

And shall not be forgotten.

Then proudly wear to honor right, Our youths who from the sunlight bright.

Were not afraid to test the night: They shall not be forgotten.

Wear, then, this symbol deeply red To show the world, our hero dead Are first in hearts for whom they died.

And shall not be forgotten.

Clean-up Work Not To Be Ended

The annual spring clean-up campaign got under way during the early part of the week, and the village crews, under the direction of Wm. Boddeman, began the task of removing and disposing of the debris Thursday morning.

In order that the expense of the work can be kept down to the minimum, the streets will be zone over only once. In case that any rubbish is not collected, a call to the village hall before the end of the campaign will bring a truck for this purpose. No streets will be zone over the second time unless the reason for the return trip is sufficient to warrant a return. It is the plan of the public works department to expedite the work as much as possible, therefore prompt action is necessary from everyone desiring to have rubbish removed.

Baptismal Font is Dedicated Sunday

A most impressive part of the beautiful Mother's Day service at the Methodist church last Sunday, was the acceptance and dedication by the pastor, Dr. E. A. Lendrum, of a handsome baptismal font given in memory of the late Mrs. H. A. Spitzer by her family.

As a fitting climax to the dedicatory ceremony, the font was used in the baptism of Mrs. Spitzer's only grandchild, Robert Hays Powless. The infant is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hays Powless of Highland Park, Mich., and a grandson of William D. and Rhoda Spitzer Wakely of the same place.

New Police Phone System In Use

The new police telephone system will be in operation by the end of this week. The system consists of three phones, one located at Main and Penniman, one at Main and the P. M. Ky., and the third at Starkweather and Liberty. The ringing of these phones causes a lamp to light and remain lighted until the call is answered. In the event that the phone is not answered promptly, the message can be given to the telephone operator who will convey it to the officer as soon as he returns to the phone.

The general public is urged to use this system for police and fire purposes, as necessary, and it is believed that the service which the police department is rendering will be greatly improved by this new installation. Failure to receive prompt service should be reported to the chief of police or manager.

The village commission has informally reviewed the 1931-2 budget and made the necessary adjustments. The budget will be submitted to the commission on Monday night, at which time a date for the public hearing will be set. From present indications, the total appropriations will be 20% less than was appropriated in 1930. Public interest in the budget is being urged by the village commission.

The Board of Review will be in session Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, May 18th, 19th and 20th, in the commission chamber at the village hall.

This will be the only opportunity during the year to review the assessed valuation on which the 1931 tax levy is based. The assessor has endeavored to equalize the valuation on the most equitable basis possible.

A new Ford Tudor has been purchased to replace the old Model T Ford acquired by the village in 1926. The new car will be used by the superintendent of public works and the police department. Decision to purchase the new car was made after the rear axle was broken on the old car.

LARGE CROWDS HEAR DR. ALBERT HUGHES AT BAPTIST CHURCH

SERIES OF MEETINGS WILL COME TO CLOSE TONIGHT AT SPECIAL SERVICE.

A crowded house featured the first meeting addressed by Dr. Albert Hughes, of Toronto, who is speaking twice daily at the Baptist church this week. He is showing the pictures he took on a thrilling African tour. These he exhibits each afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. The church parlors were packed to capacity Tuesday afternoon for the dark enough for pictures.

On Wednesday the crowd was forced to meet in the main auditorium. A group of local men formed a crew and covered the inside of the many auditorium windows, so the room would be dark enough for pictures.

These meetings have been great favorites with the children. Crowds of them have come straight from school to the afternoon meetings.

Today will be Dr. Hughes' last day at the Baptist church. He will close his picture series at the 4:00 o'clock service. In the evening at 7:30, he will bring the meetings to a climax in his closing address.

Visitors have come many miles to hear Dr. Hughes. It is expected that many out of town guests will be on hand for the closing services.

Dr. Hughes' message is primarily for Christian people. One of his characteristic statements is: "A church which is keeping back the second coming of Christ. When the church goes thoroughly aroused, God will soon reach the waiting millions with the gospel."

Ernest Roe Has Copy Of Free Press that is Now 94 Years Old

Ernest S. Roe, well known Plymouth resident, has in his possession a copy of the Detroit Free Press that is 94 years old. The old copy is of special interest just at this time because of the fact that last week the Free Press celebrated its 100th birthday.

The paper, known at that time as the Democratic Free Press, was a weekly newspaper. It was given to Mr. Roe by Mr. Markham, who owned it for many years.

It is interesting to note that practically all the advertising carried in the Free Press of this early date was in the form of readers.

H. B. Webster & Co., at 41 Woodward avenue, were heavy advertisers of "guns and ammery." "Precession guns with double barrels, guns with precession and flint locks, pistols and improved fowling gun barrels, brass rifle and brass gun mountings" were among some of the specialties they advertised.

D. C. McKinstry wanted to buy 20 stone hogs, and John McCreynolds, at the corner of Woodward and Jefferson, advertised that he had just received 50 boxes of tallow candles.

That the Free Press during the days of its fourth had in its possession a bottle of acid ink is evident by the following editorial:

"The common power of personal slander called the Journal and Daily Advertiser, has undertaken to ask for certain distinguished citizens or services certain democratic republicans have been promoted to office. In return, we ask, who among the self-created wig leaders of Detroit, has either rendered services or shown talents in the cause of the country?"

The Free Press then names a number of political leaders in Detroit of that day, and then says:

"These are the men embarked on the doubt-inspiring vocation of reforming Michigan from patriotic democracy to federal whiggism. Those are the scum aristocracy put forth to blight the fair hopes of Michigan. They are fit federal wig priests to minister at the altar of the 'common sewer of the Journal!'"

A brief article is reprinted from a local paper which told of the launching of a gun boat, "the largest on the Great Lakes." A 600-ton boat is about half the size of one of the ordinary ferries now plying across the river at Detroit.

MRS. ALGER ASSAILS PROHIBITION LAWS

At the Monday night meeting of the Ex-Servicemen's Club, Mrs. Frederick M. Alger gave an address to the service men and their guests invited for the occasion.

The high points in her talk which was under the auspices of the Women's Organization for Prohibition Reform, was the havoc being wrought in the ranks of the young men and women, high school pupils and other, through the tendency to keep up with the crowd.

She pointed out that the ease with which liquor can be secured makes it easy for some to get a supply, and the natural desire to keep in step with the rest prompts the desire.

Another point brought to the attention of the assembly was the fact that the amendment was put through when close to five million men were in the service of their country, of whom two million were either in a foreign country or on the high seas without a chance to express their approval or disapproval.

She also touched upon the fact that in eleven years of its existence, prohibition has steadily failed to prohibit and that women who sincerely worked for its passage then are among those who now see that the law is unworkable and unenforceable, and are as sincerely working to correct a grave mistake.

Wm. Lewis, state executive secretary of the crusaders, the men's organization for repeal, followed Mrs. Alger, and was very interesting. The high light of his talk was the connection of the liquor traffic with racketeers. Al Capone and his ilk were vividly presented as the vicious by-product of the prohibition law's main feature.

His statement that the payroll to corrupt officialdom in one city alone for control of the beer business, was two million dollars a week, was stated, not overdrawn but rather understated.

May Festival on Wednesday Eve.

Next Wednesday evening, May 20, at 6:30 o'clock, the May festival of the Starkweather school will take place on the school lawn. The Plymouth school band will play from 6:00 o'clock until 6:30, when the program of songs, dances and special numbers provided by all the children of the school, will start. The festival is sponsored by the P. T. A., and a general invitation is extended to the public to be present and witness the interesting program that has been prepared.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Champagne of 908 Kellogg street, died at the Children's Hospital, Detroit on Tuesday, May 12th. Funeral services were held Thursday morning, May 14th at 9:30 from the above residence. Interment in Livonia Cemetery.

MILLIONS OF PLANTS PRODUCED HERE EACH YEAR

Vast Indoor Gardens Help to Provide Plymouth With Steady Income During Entire Year

One hundred thousand plants, vegetables and flowers, a most conservative estimate, each morning long before the break of day, are just now leaving Plymouth for the markets of southeastern Michigan. By June first there will have been taken from the greenhouses in and around Plymouth, considerably over a million plants that will later in the season produce a huge part of the vegetable crop of this part of the state and flowers that will make beautiful gardens of Detroit, Pontiac and Ann Arbor, as well as the small communities in this locality.

Everyone knows that Plymouth is the home of the world's largest air rifle factory, but few know that Plymouth is the largest vegetable and flower plant growing center of Michigan. From out of the greenhouses of this locality flowers and vegetable plants of all kinds, some of the finest, are raised by the best known stock producers.

Neither is it generally known that Plymouth has one of the largest in side-growers of vegetables in Michigan, and that while snow is blowing and the mercury is hovering near zero, under the neatly three-fourths of an acre greenhouse, are ripening tomatoes and radishes.

George Fisher, the owner of this immense indoor winter garden, makes no claim of having an indoor garden that is as large, if not larger than any other in Michigan, but some of his associate vegetable flower growing friends say that no other man in Michigan produces as many tomatoes in the winter time as does Mr. Fisher from his greenhouses on Plymouth road.

Wonderfully nice, ripe tomatoes and radishes are grown spring, summer, fall and winter.

Twenty-two immense greenhouses are located within the Plymouth area, and just now considerably more than one hundred people are working long hours in growing and making ready for the market flower and vegetable plants.

When Detroiters go down to the big department stores, the market places, the corner grocers, yes, even the big mail order houses, they buy for their households, flowers, shrubs, bulbs or vegetable plants that have been grown in Plymouth.

Business Good

One of the pleasing things about the business is the fact that these Plymouth plant growers are finding business better this spring than a year ago. There is more demand for their goods, even though the price might not be quite so good as in past years.

"Then, too, I find that they are buying more cheerfully than they did a year ago. They seem to be more willing to exchange their money for flowers and such things this spring than last," said one big grower.

Nearly any direction you go from Plymouth you will find one or more big greenhouses. The grower declared that if you look back of any one of the big greenhouses, you will find some sort of a greenhouse.

Within recent months, one new greenhouse has been erected by Leon and Will out on the Lily road. Mr. Will formerly was a Plymouth road grower, but last fall he purchased a place to the south of where he was growing, and in January completed a 30,000 square foot glass and iron structure as big as any in Michigan. In addition to the big greenhouse, there is a workshop, 20x12 feet, and over 5,000 square feet of new cold frames.

He will produce for the market this spring, over 9,000 flats of flower and vegetable plants. The average number of plants to a flat is 100. Natural by its production for the present year will not be as great as it will be in the future. He is just now employing five men.

Carl Heide, who has two big greenhouses within Plymouth, is this year producing for the market, considerably over 40,000 potted plants. His place will produce over 10,000 flats of vegetables and over 10,000 flats of flower plants. In addition to these hundreds of thousands of plants, Mr. Heide will grow during the year, his greenhouses, produce any number of special shrubs and plants that appeal to flower lovers. Mr. Heide does a large local business but most of his surplus goes to the Detroit market. He has twelve people in his employ at present, and during the entire year there are seven people on the payroll of his plant. That does not include his home help.

Mr. Heide finds a little time now and then to work and make money. He loves so well. He devotes most of his time to the management of his big business.

Winter Gardens

Plymouth not only has one of the largest indoor gardens in America, but it also is the home of one of the best known dahlia growers in the country. A grower who produces for the market each year over 300 different varieties of this popular flower. The William Hartel & Sons greenhouse out on Plymouth road, established in its present location 14 years ago, would give no outward indication of being the home of numerous special prizes and awards won in various dahlia contests throughout the state and country. But Mr. Bartel is proud of the fact that his garden have yearly produced prize winning dahlias. He raises considerably over 100 different varieties of the Iris and on some of these flowers he has also won special honors.

Each morning long before there are signs of life about the streets of Plymouth, a big truck leaves the Bartel place for Detroit, loaded down with bulbs for the market. But, naturally, the grower of prize winning flowers has a pretty wide market, and in many of the most beautiful dahlia gardens of the country can be found growing flowers that were produced in Plymouth.

William Sutherland and his son Donald, employ the greatest number of people in the operation of their big greenhouses and gardens on the south edge of the village. During the spring and summer there are regularly employed some 15 or 16 people in the production of some 75,000 small plants and many hundreds of thousands of vegetable and flower plants. Besides the father and son, it takes some five or six people to care for the growing flowers produced by the Sutherlands during the winter time.

Just how their greenhouses are a class of beautiful blossoms. During recent years their business, like most of the other greenhouses located in this locality, has grown most rapidly and Mr. Sutherland finds it necessary to constantly increasing the production of his big plant.

Out on the Ann Arbor road to the west are "The Ross Greenhouses," conducted by Miller L. Ross. Mr. Ross has over 10,000 square feet of glass. Besides producing a large amount of vegetable and flower plant stock, Mr. Ross somewhat specializes in adding stock and the beautiful foliage plants that just now partly fill one of his greenhouses, is a slight well worth seeing.

Probably the largest greenhouse in this locality is that of Richard Merritt on the Lily road, just off Joy road. He has over 7,000 square feet of glass and nine men, besides himself, are constantly employed producing potted flowers, vegetable plants and bulbs.

Out at the Metroland gardens this spring was tried an experiment that may work a considerable change in the methods of flower growers in forcing plants to blossom early. For several weeks a special light provided by the Detroit Edison company was turned on in one of the greenhouses where Easter lilies were growing. It was noted that every plant blossomed, but because of the fact that the room was not divided to remove a part of the plants from the light, it was not known just what effect the light really did have on the blossoming plants. At some other time it is planned to place a number of plants in the same room and remove a portion of them to some other section of the greenhouse so that an actual test of the effect of the artificial light can be made. He produced over 2,500 Easter lily plants for the market this spring.

The Rossford greenhouse, owned and operated by R. Baughn, located on South Main Street, is one of the busiest one-man plants in this entire locality. Mr. Baughn does all the work himself, in addition to conducting a potted plant flower store. Each season he manages to produce three big crops of potted plants besides large numbers of flower and vegetable plants. His surplus stock goes to the Detroit market.

What Is Grown

George Fisher on the Plymouth road has already this year placed on the market, over 200,000 tomato plants, 50,000 peas.

THE FREE PRESS

Detroit's great morning newspaper is off to another hundred years of life and usefulness, the "take-off" Sunday morning being in the form of a special historical edition that excels anything of the kind ever attempted by a modern newspaper. The edition commemorated the first one hundred years of life lived so well by the Free Press and it too inaugurated the dawn of another century for one of America's leading news publications. The Plymouth Mail offers to Mr. Stair and all of his associates in the production of such a splendid newspaper its sincerest congratulations. They have not only served their profession well, but Detroit, the State of Michigan and the entire nation have been benefited by the tremendous influence of the Detroit Free Press towards the up-building of a greater city, a better state and a mightier nation.

PREPARE NOW

Times are better than they were a year ago, there is no question about that. There are fewer idle men about the streets and merchants are reporting an upturn in business. Farmers are rejoicing over the most beneficial rains that have fallen in the state in considerably over a year. The showers have come at a time when the greatest good has resulted, just after the planting of crops.

But with all of these favorable conditions existing, now is the time to prepare for the long fall and winter. There isn't much question but what the general trend of conditions will be upward, but it is in the preparation in times of plenty that prevents a famine in times of distress. A well filled cellar of canned vegetables, fruits and hardy products such as potatoes, turnips and other similar vegetables, will do much to relieve any food shortage that might exist in the winter that is sure to come. Why not turn some of the idle hours of this beautiful spring and the coming summer into the production of a garden that will go far to relieve the strain on the pocketbook next winter?

STATE FINANCES

Every taxpayer in Michigan is just now busy watching with keenest interest the disposal of numerous new tax bills before the Michigan state legislature. The law makers are about to adjourn and go home and in the final hours of their deliberation they are considering many measures, the enactment of which will take additional funds from the pockets of the taxpayers of Michigan. Already there have been passed some bills which exact their toll of hard-earned cash from residents of the state.

And while all eyes are turned towards Lansing to see what, if any relief, is in store for the tax burdened state, there comes from the department of commerce in Washington a statement of the financial condition of Michigan, showing the tremendous amount of money paid by taxpayers for the operation of its state government and the increase that has taken place since 1918.

The per capita figures are for the year 1929 and are based on an estimated population in Michigan of 4,699,200.

The payments for operation and maintenance of the general departments of Michigan amounted to $63,377,427, or $13.49 per capita. This includes $21,578,737, apportionments for education to the minor civil divisions of the State. In 1928 the comparative per capita for operation and maintenance of general departments was $11.59, and in 1918, $7.25. The increased per capita for 1929 was principally due to increases in apportionments for education and in upkeep of highways. The payments for operation and maintenance of public service enterprises in 1929 amounted to $164,393, interest on debt, $4,000,678; and outlays for permanent improvements, $29,812,832. The total payments, therefore, for operation and maintenance of general departments and public service enterprises, for interest and outlays were $98,015,330. The totals include all payments for the year, whether made from current revenues or from the proceeds of bond issues.

Of the governmental costs reported above, $33,626,734 was for highways, $7,905,953 being for maintenance and $25,720,781 for construction.

The total revenue receipts were $94,533,103, or $20.12 per capita. This was $26,330,605 more than the total payments of the year, exclusive of the payments for permanent improvements, but $3,482,227 less than the total payments including those for permanent improvements. Property and special taxes represented 46.8 per cent of the total revenue for 1929, 52.2 per cent for 1928, and 60.2 per cent for 1918. The increase in the amount of property and special taxes collected was 203.5 per cent from 1918 to 1929, but there was a decrease of 7.9 per cent from 1928 to 1929. The per capita property and special taxes were $9.42 in 1929, $10.50 in 1928, and $4.18 in 1918.

Earnings of general departments, or compensation for services rendered by state officials, represented 7.5 per cent of the total revenue for 1929, 7.8 per cent for 1928, and 18.1 per cent for 1918.

Receipts from business licenses consist chiefly of taxes exacted from insurance and other incorporated companies and of sales tax on gasoline, while those from non-business licenses comprise chiefly taxes on motor vehicles and amounts paid for hunting and fishing privileges. The sales tax on gasoline amounted to $14,461,396 in 1929 and $13,547,007 in 1928, an increase of 6.7 per cent.

The total funded or fixed debt outstanding June 30, 1929 was $99,431,414. Of this amount $50,000,000 was for highways.

The net indebtedness (funded or fixed debt less sinking fund assets) was $67,642,800, or $14.39 per capita. In 1928 the per capita net debt was $15.81, and in 1918, $4.77.

The assessed valuation of property in Michigan subject to ad valorem taxation was $8,634,280,070; the amount of State taxes levied was $33,609,610; and the per capita levy, $7.16. In 1928 the per capita levy was $8.08, and in 1918, $4.77.

RELIEF FOR THE HOME OWNER

Never was a legislative body more justified than the senate in turning thumbs down on the Thomas income tax bill.

The measure was the most ridiculous of any of the strange proposals born in legislative halls. It proposed a graduated scale on individual incomes ranging from one per cent to 81% per cent, and so sharply did the scale run upward that on an income of $5,000 a year or over, the full six per cent would have to be paid. Three hundred dollars a year, for a $5,000 a year man, on top of his federal income tax and his property taxes. The Thomas income plan would not wipe out property taxes; merely the state property tax, which is one-tenth of the total property tax paid by each individual owner.

The bill must have been conceived with the idea, and that idea only, of making a grandiose gesture to the railed farmers, for it would accomplish nothing else. The small farmer, who is unable to make a living on his forty acres of sand, would not have to pay any income tax. It is true, but the only reduction in taxes he would gain would be the elimination, or partial elimination, of his state property tax. If his total annual property tax on his poor little farm was $50 a year, he might save $5 if the income tax passed.

On the other hand, the average home-owner would suffer severely. The claim was made by those behind the damboyan plan, that it was designed primarily for the benefit of the home-owner. The home owner with an income of say $1,000 a year, would pay $200 a year in income taxes. To offset this he would save ten per cent of the tax he was paying on his home. If his home was valued at $5,000 on $4,000 and his total property tax was $75 a year, he would save $17.50, but would spend $200.

Thus, under the beneficent Thomas income tax plan the average home owners state and local tax would be $37.50, instead of the present $175.—Michigan State Digest.

LOCK YOUR CAR!

For a while automobile clubs were reporting fewer thefts. It was thought that lack of cash for gasoline was reducing the number of stolen joy rides. With the arrival of spring, however, some communities have experienced a sudden jump in the number of stolen automobiles, and warnings are issued to drivers to lock their cars whenever they leave them standing in streets or in driveways.

In one city, which may be typical, more than 90 per cent of the stolen cars reported are recovered within two or three days. That supports the theory that many of them are taken to alleviate spring fever, and that the thieves are not professionals but joyriders.

While the professional car thief does not care whether a car is locked, the joy-rider always looks for an automobile easy to get away with, says a motor club official. "If the keys are in the ignition or gear shift lock, and all that is necessary is to press the starter, the temptation is great and the answer is simple."

Usually when the car is recovered a few days later, it is in very bad shape, with empty gas tank, missing accessories, damaged fenders, and perhaps a ruined motor. A little more strictness about locking up is a simple remedy for the evil.—Ypsilanti Press.

A WHIPPING POST FOR MICHIGAN

A great boom to the forestry industry of Michigan is proposed in the establishment of whipping posts at convenient locations, where felons and others convicted of major crimes can be lashed frequently. Police Commissioner Watkins of Detroit approves of the revived idea, which goes back to Colonial days in this country and still is used in Maryland and a few other states.

There is a bill before the state legislature at Lansing to legalize whipping posts.

Possibly the antidote would be a standoff for the present glorifying of crime, which occurs in the metropolitan press, the court rooms and in many motion pictures. Crime today, with the slightest veneer of sugarized sentimentalizing, is a leading motif in movies, and is the backbone, without sentimentalizing, of circulation drives by metropolitan papers. Nothing builds circulation faster in a cosmopolitan area than flashy crime news.

As to the criminals themselves, they have so many friends these days among lawyers, court officials, law-makers, policemen and the rest charged with law enforcement, to say nothing of the coddling they get from sociologists, reformers, prison officials and the like, that we doubt whether the whipping post bill will ever become operative, no matter how much it may be needed.—Reiford Record.

HOW TAXES GROW.

A glance at the books at Lansing reveals graphically how far the State Legislature can be trusted with money when money counts in. In 1920 the plan was adopted to have all the State expenditures pass through the hands of the State Treasurer. So, during the next 10 fiscal years we have at hand a ready picture of what the Legislature does when it can get the money. We have only to look at the total State disbursements, as shown on the records of the State Treasurer, as follows:

1920	$ 39,881,589.50
1921	35,129,924.55
1922	94,392,714.20
1923	85,462,782.07
1924	88,450,070.13
1925	96,267,806.85
1926	92,197,346.98
1927	97,532,795.04
1928	106,237,265.19
1929	121,528,147.84
1930	124,726,064.84

If this is not enough to cause the people to denounce additional forms of taxation, what would be?

The present bills are vicious measures, and should be defeated. And we suspect the promoters know they are vicious. That is why they do not want them submitted to the people by referendum. The Detroit News.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE AND ITS MESSAGE

Following is a brief extract of a lecture entitled, "Christian Science, Its Healing Message," by Judge Samuel W. Greene, of Chicago, Illinois, that will be of interest to readers of the Plymouth Mail:

"There is a message in Christian Science for every individual. There is not a human need in the consciousness of man, woman, or child, in this company, but it can be met and satisfied through a correct understanding of God as revealed in Christian Science. There is no mystery nor mysticism in Christian Science. It is the clear, plain, practical, age-inviting, healing message of the Christ. It is crying in the words of the Master-Christ, 'Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest.' Its appeal is to the sick, the sorrowing, the unhappy, the dissatisfied. It comes to a world steeped in materialism and in materialistic philosophies, to a people uncertain, confused, unhappy, offering light, hope, consolation, salvation—here, now, and forever. It is marshaling a vast new army of thinkers. The outward creeds and sacred and platitudes of unsatisfying religions are being replaced by vigorous, vital truths concerning God and man; and great hosts of men and women everywhere are being blessed and benefited through their acceptance of Christian Science.

"Christian Science teaches that God is above, and far removed from, imperfection, ignorance, ignorance, disease, pain, and death. It teaches that such material concepts of God and of God's creation must necessarily be false, misleading and unbelievable, from the very nature of God. The Bible says that God said, 'It is considered, all that He had made and that it was 'very good.' Is it not fair, then, to ask of every seeming condition of creation or existence, 'Is this very good?' and if it does not measure up to that high standard, may one not be privileged to say, 'It is not of God's creation and is untrue?' Such is the position taken by Christian Science. If it is not good, then it is not of God and is not true.

"The Bible says that God made all things that 'without him was not anything made that was made.' It is not difficult to interpret or understand that statement if it is a simple as 'AIE' and yet until Christian Science brought out the practical import, but the modern world ever heard of such a teaching? And even now when the Christian Scientist tells his friend that such a teaching is practical for everyday consideration, he may still be thought of as ridiculous.

"Mrs. Eddy says (Science and Health, p. 48): 'Human hypotheses first assume the reality of sickness, sin, and death, and then assume the necessity of their cure because of their admitted actuality.' She then adds, 'These human verdicts are the progenitors of all discord.'

"Manifestly, for one to assume the reality of sin, sickness, or death, he must assume that God, the infinite good, is not in control of His universe, but permits some devil or evil to enter with discord and imperfection.

"Christian Science declares the God-omnipotent, omniscient, omnipresent; that He is infinite Mind, Spirit, Soul, Principle, Life, Truth, Love. What a glorious vision of God is this—all that is tender, all that is good, all that is intelligent, all that is correct is of God, and there is no condition nor creation which does not proceed from God.

"Christian Science is calling for the highest and best that is in man—his calling for progress and unfoldment. As the individual is roused to better thinking, better living, better health, better morals, he gradually sees more of God's presence and power and expects a more practical manifestation of this power, until he can indeed realize something of Mrs. Eddy's vision when she says (Science and Health, p. 55): 'By the Science that back the clouds of error with the light of Truth, and lifts the curtain on man as never born and as never dying, but as co-existent with his creator.'

PRESBYTERIAN NOTES.

The Ready Service Class will meet at the home on Tuesday, May 18th. There will be a cooperative dinner at noon, and it will no doubt be as successful as these class dinners regularly.

There will also be the good fellowship which marks the meeting of friends, and the business and social and interesting program will give body and direction to the meeting.

The men of the congregation are to have a jolly good evening Thursday, May 21st. In the annual budget canvass two groups captained by John W. Henderson and Geo. A. Smith worked in a friendly contest. The Henderson side was declared the winner, and the Smith side is now providing a supper to celebrate the victory. A program is to be arranged for by Mr. Henderson and his committee. But the men are anxious that all men of the congregation who wish to share in this night's feasting and fun have an opportunity to do so. Accordingly all who are not canvassers are invited to come, paying a proportionate share of the expense. The supper and the fellowship will be good, and the fellowship best of all. But be sure to let Mr. Nichol know that you intend to be there so that the committee may provide accordingly. Phone 138 not later than Tuesday, May 19th.

Children's Day will be celebrated in the church and Sunday-school, June 14. Preparations are already well under way for an interesting service.

Christian Science Notes

"Adam and Fallen Man" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches on Sunday, May 10.

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Wherefore thou art no more a servant, but a son; and if a son, then an heir of God through Christ" (Gal. 4:7).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The great truth in the Science of being, that the real man was, is, and ever shall be perfect is incontrovertible; for if man is the image, reflection, of God, he is neither invented nor subverted, but upright and Godlike" (P. 200).

"Little Stories for Bedtime" by Thornton W. Burgess

FARMER BROWN'S BOY

You cannot always surely tell if things be ill or things be well.

WHEN the poor suffering wounded little Bob White crawled under the fence he didn't know it but he had crawled onto the land of Farmer Brown and a sign warned all hunters to keep off—that no shooting would be allowed there. And when that poor little Bob White looked up and saw right in front of him one of those two-legged creatures like the one with the terrible fire-stick, and at once had given up all hope, he had been too sick at heart and suffering too much to recognize Farmer Brown's boy.

But that is just who it was. You see Farmer Brown's boy had been so anxious for fear that some hunter would come over on his father's land in spite of the signs that he had gone down on the Green Meadows just as soon as he had eaten his breakfast. He had seen the hunter on the land of Farmer Jones and had heard him shoot. With all his heart Farmer Brown's boy had hoped that the hunter had missed. Now as he looked down and saw the poor little suffering bird he knew that the hunter had not missed and fierce anger swelled his heart. He quite forgot that he himself used to hunt with a terrible gun before he had learned to know and to love the little people of the Green Meadows and the Green Forest.

He stooped and very tenderly lifted the little Bob White, who closed his eyes and was sure that now all would soon be over.

"You poor little thing, you poor, poor little thing," said Farmer Brown's boy as he looked at the torn and broken wing. Then he looked across at the hunter and scowled savagely. Just then the hunter saw him and at once started toward him. You see the hunter thought that perhaps if he offered Farmer Brown's boy money he would allow him to hunt on Farmer Brown's land. He knew that that was where Bob White and all his family had flown to. When he reached the fence he saw the little Bob White in the hands of Farmer Brown's boy.

"Hello!" exclaimed the hunter, in surprise. "I guess that's my bird!" "I guess it's nothing of the sort," retorted Farmer Brown's boy.

"Oh, yes it is," replied the hunter. "I shot it a little while ago, but it got away from me. I'll thank you to hand it over to me, young man."

"I'll do nothing of the sort," replied Farmer Brown's boy. "It may be the bird you shot, more shape to you, but it isn't yours; it's mine. I found it on our land and it belongs to me if it belongs to any one."

Now the hunter was tempted to reply sharply but remembering that he wanted to get this boy's permission to hunt on Farmer Brown's land he bit the angry reply off short and said instead, "Why don't you wrap its neck? If you'll get your father to let me shoot on your land I'll kill another for you and then you will have a fine dinner."

Farmer Brown's boy grew red in the face. "Don't you dare put your foot on this side of the fence," he cried. "I'd have you to know that these Bob Whites are my very best friends. They've worked for me all summer long, and do you suppose I'm going to let any harm come to them now if I can help it? Not much! Look how this poor little thing is suffering. The law lets you hunt them, but it's a bad law. If they did any harm it would be different. But instead of doing harm they work for me all summer long and when the crops which they have helped us save are harvested we turn around and allow them to be shot! But they can't be shot on this land and the sooner you get away the better I'll like it."

Instead of getting angry the hunter laughed good naturedly. "All right, I'll keep off your land, sunny," said he. "But you needn't get so excited. They're only birds and were made to be shot."

"No more than you were!" retorted Farmer Brown's boy. "And they've got feelings just as you have. This poor little thing is trembling like a leaf in my hand. I'm not going to wrap its neck. I'm going to try to cure it." With this Farmer Brown's boy turned his back on the hunter and started for home. And the poor little Bob White, not understanding, had no more hope than before.

NOURISHING DISHES

EGGS are one of the best of foods and when reasonable in price, most economical.

Omelet With Cheese.
 Mix one tablespoonful of flour with one cupful of milk, one teaspoonful of salt, a few dashes of pepper, then add four eggs beaten very light. Melt one tablespoonful of butter in a frying pan and when hot turn in the mixture. Bake in a moderate oven until well puffed and a golden brown. Sprinkle with six tablespoonfuls of thinly sliced cheese and return to the oven until the cheese is melted. Fold the omelet and turn on a hot platter. Serve at once.

Cottage Cheese Pie.
 Line a deep pie plate with pastry and fill with the following: Three well beaten eggs beaten with a half cupful of sugar, add one cupful each of cottage cheese and fresh grated coconut, one teaspoonful of nutmeg and two cupfuls of milk. Bake as you would a custard pie—very hot at first to bake the crust, then lower the heat.

Orange Sponge Cake.
 Beat two egg yolks with four tablespoonfuls of orange and one-half tablespoonful of lemon juice, add three-fourths of a cupful of sugar, one-fourth teaspoonful of grated orange rind, and then fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites and cut and fold in a cupful of flour that has been well sifted to mix with a fourth of a teaspoonful of soda. Pour into a cake pan and bake in a moderate oven forty minutes.

Coconut Apples.
 Prepare red apples by stewing after cooking, unpeeled, in very little water. When nearly done carefully remove the skin and scrape any red stain left on the skin and paint it back on the apple cheeks. Stuff with any chopped fruit such as raisins, prunes, figs and sprinkle the tops with freshly grated and sugared coconut. Bake until the coconut is brown and the apples well done.

IN ILL HEALTH, MAN ENDS HIS OWN LIFE

While his wife had gone to a neighbor's home Saturday morning, Archie L. McVean shot himself with fatal effect at his home a mile north of the White Lake church. Mrs. McVean found the body on her return. He had been in ill health, and despondent over his condition.

Mr. McVean was 55 years of age, and formerly lived at Pontiac, where he had been a fireman and also in business in a small way. He leaves a widow, son and daughter, and his sister, Miss Gertrude McVean, is principal of the Webster School at Pontiac—Milford Times.

MILFORD'S "LITTLE JOE" DIES AT AGE OF 81

Around the street as usual most of the week, found unconscious late on Thursday afternoon on the floor of his room, rushed to the hospital at the county infirmary, when he died early Tuesday morning.

Such, in brief, was the passing of a unique Milford character, Joseph Ribbehan, familiarly known to everyone as "Little Joe." Dr. I. S. Brooke of Detroit, conducted the religious services at the Richardson chapel, Thursday afternoon, and he was buried at Oak Grove cemetery.

F. S. Hubbell for several years had allowed "Little Joe" to occupy a room at the electric plant at the Pettibone mill site, and when Ed. Nicholson had occasion to go there late Thursday afternoon found him unconscious on the floor. A physician pronounced his condition serious and he was taken to the county hospital, where he expired early Tuesday morning without regaining consciousness. The death certificate gave his ailment as arteriosclerosis and acute intestinal obstruction.

Joe was a native of Germany and would have reached his 81st birthday on July 16. He was a lad of twelve when he came to America with his mother, his father having preceded them, and Milford has been his only home. His nearest kin in this country are Mrs. Ida Brown and the members of the Brimley family, all second cousins.—Milford Times.

per plants and considerably more than 10,000 egg plants. Besides his vegetable business, he produces a large number of flowering plants. Mr. Pallet has in the past raised winter vegetables but it is not his plan to make this a permanent part of his hot house business.

Alex Wnuk, at the corner of Joy and Lily road, has one of the newest and neatest greenhouses in this entire area. In connection with his greenhouse business, Mr. Wnuk conducts a large truck gardening business and his entire farm is as neat and attractive as are his greenhouses. His greenhouse covers 10,000 square feet. In addition to producing all of his own plants, he raises a vast amount of material for the Detroit market.

Mr. Wnuk finds it necessary to keep three men constantly employed about his greenhouses and his big gardens. He has a plant that the most particular could well be proud of.

Frank Kohler, whose greenhouses are also located on the Joy road, will this year, with the help of two men, produce over 200,000 vegetable plants and considerable more flower plants. Mr. Kohler finds plenty to do in the production of flowers and vegetables grown for the Detroit market.

Lester Shore, located on East Plymouth road has a business that at this time of the year requires the labor of four men to keep things going. He grows large amounts of potted flowers, vegetables and flowering plants. His winter force is generally two men besides himself. Mr. Shore has about 5,000 square feet of glass-growers measure the size of their business by the amount of glass that it takes to cover their greenhouses, seemingly.

Out-Door Gardens
Horton and Lomas own the big greenhouse in Newburg that provides employment for eight people at this time of the year. J. H. Horton and William Lomas, the owners, give their entire time to their business, and recently they have completed the construction of 70 new 3x8 cold frames. They keep their plant in operation the entire year.

A mile or so east of Newburg is located the greenhouses of G. H. Mahrley & Son, who keep employed regularly during the summer, nine or ten people. They have in connection with their greenhouses large gardens that provide vast amounts of vegetables for the Detroit market.

Nearly everything that grows in the garden are started in the greenhouses about here first, even melon plants and similar vine growing garden products. There are many growers who maintain greenhouses for the production of their own plants, selling their surplus plants to the Detroit market.

In fact, there are scores of gardeners in this locality who absorb a large amount of the greenhouse product. Michael Klinsky has a fairly good-sized greenhouse that he uses to produce his own plants for the big truck garden that he grows each summer. Mr. Klinsky often finds that he has plants left over to sell. There are many others who follow this practice, among them being Fred Smith, east of Plymouth, another big vegetable grower.

William Alexander, owner of the Schoederaff road, produces not only plants for his Evergreen Farm Gardens, but he also has plants for the trade. James Lisell, also on the Schoederaff road, grows chiefly peppers, radishes and cabbage but one will also find on his place most every kind of a vegetable that grows.

Frank Nowotarski, just off the Mill road near the Ford factory, has a fairly good-sized greenhouse that he uses for the production of his own plants. But every year he finds, too, that he has a surplus of plants that can be offered to the general trade.

William Elzmann produces his own

ISSUE WARNING TO MORTGAGE HOLDERS

Good mortgage bonds are today suffering market depression through the faults of the bad. Unscrupulous promoters and swindlers are taking advantage of the situation. They are circulating false rumors and are rushing investors into unsound transactions. Their booty already runs into millions of dollars.

Legitimate investment houses are seriously hampered in their efforts to protect investors. Bondholders are perplexed by the many offers of trades, and questionable importunities to deposit their bonds. Proposals of single bondholders' committees, and honest offers to replace with stronger issues, are therefore falling on deaf ears.

1. Before giving up bonds you hold, get impartial information as to their present status and market. The price may be down, but the value good.

2. Before trading, check the merit of the issue offered. Don't jump from the frying pan, real or imaginary, into the fire.

3. Check up the standing of the house offering the exchange, and the authority of the man who calls on you.

4. If asked to deposit bonds with a tentative committee, check up on members of the committee. Sometimes there are several committees. A good one may help you. A poor one may cost you money, and liquidate those who have your interests at heart.

5. Beware the man who carries his wires with him. Few good houses run the risk of hold-ups. They prefer to clear your securities, and their through banks. The crook is more afraid of the bank than of the hold-up man.

6. Beware the man who first says your bonds are worthless, and then offers you 100% for them in exchange for something as good as gold. Santa Claus is dead.

7. Beware deals in which your defaulted bonds are acceptable as "down payments." The balance you promise to pay is usually more than a fair price; and you may be sued for it.

8. There's more danger in closing a deal without investigation than in a brief delay.

9. Good houses welcome investigation. It's not always wise to follow the salesman's advice as to where you check on his statements.

10. Consult your banker; or write for free information (not advice—don't supply that) to the Better Business Bureau of Detroit.

plants, and in addition to the operation of his greenhouses, it requires five men most of the time to keep his big gardens going. Raymond Grimm during the past few years has put up his own greenhouse, and his gardens each year are planted from his greenhouse products. Eli Ballen is another grower who produces his own plants.

When one realizes that the average cost of putting up a greenhouse, including the heating plant, runs something like $1.25 per square foot of glass, it can readily be seen what a vast sum of money is invested in the greenhouse business in and around Plymouth.

Any number of the greenhouse plants about here represent an investment of considerably over $25,000 each and some of them will exceed that amount.

This industry not only provides labor during the summer months for something like one hundred men and women, but nearly all of them operate during the entire year, and the winter force runs considerably in excess of fifty.

Not only do these growers provide a vast amount of work, but there is a constant flow of money from Detroit, Pontiac, Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti and elsewhere into this community money that is sent here for the product of these vast indoor gardens.

It is an industry that has in the past attracted but little attention, but nevertheless it is one of the biggest revenue-producing businesses for Plymouth that the community has, and that no other community in Michigan can in any way equal or excel.

KIWANIS MEMBERS ARE GUESTS OF CLUB AT CHATHAM ONTARIO

VISITORS PROVIDE PROGRAM FOR INTER-CLUB MEETING LAST TUESDAY.

Tuesday, May 12th, was a big day for the local Kiwanis Club. The regular luncheon was held at the Mayflower at 12:15 p. m., with John M. Barkigs in charge of the program. Joe Ribar and Maynard Larkins favored with a trumpet duet, and Dr. Frederick A. Lentrum gave his first report on the Miami convention which was very interesting and indicated that the doctor had not only thoroughly enjoyed the convention but was in a position to give a detailed report of the proceedings and able to transmit to the club some of the enthusiasm shown at Miami. The convention keynote as reported, was "Remember Kiwanis is a Vitalizing Force." Particular stress was laid on the spiritual as expressed in the first objective of Kiwanis.

At 3:00 p. m. Tuesday, about twenty-five members and friends left for Chatham, Ont., arriving in time to show with the Chatham Club at 6:15 p. m. dinner at the Wm. Pitt Hotel. Most of the drive from Windsor was in a pouring rain, but it did not in the least dampen the enthusiasm of the Kiwanians. Robt. J. Joffile, the chairman of the Inter-Club Relations committee, had made all arrangements and everything went through without a hitch. The Plymouth Club had charge of the program, and after the Chatham Club had taken care of the opening and a few other details, the meeting was turned over to President Ernest J. Allison of the Plymouth Club, who, after a short snappy talk, introduced Chairman Robt. J. Joffile.

Claude A. Dock of Detroit, governor of the Michigan District of Kiwanis International, was the first speaker, and he gave a very interesting talk on the organization and government of Kiwanis. Rev. Walter Nichol, president of the Rotary Club of Plymouth, gave a fine address on "International Relations," showing how the luncheon clubs were bringing not only men but countries together on a more tolerant friendly footing, and emphasizing how much more could be done in being about harmonious international relationships. He gave a very inspiring address which we feel sure was very much appreciated and enjoyed by all present.

Joe Ribar furnished some concertina and harmonica music which brought forth much applause, and a number of encores. The Plymouth Club was very fortunate in having Jerry Nicholas of Chelsea, as a song leader, and Jerry certainly did his part to add to the success of the evening.

The next regular meeting of the Sarah Ann Cochran Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will be held at the home of Mrs. John E. Rior, Monday, May 18th. This is the annual meeting at which the annual reports of the officers and chairman of committees will be given, and the chapter officers for the ensuing year will be elected.

ROCKS TRIM KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS BALL TEAM

The Rocks, the team sponsored by Harold Joffile's men's store, defeated the K. of P. last Thursday night by the score of 15 to 5.

Due to lack of regular players the K. of P. were weak both at bat and on the field. The Rocks made a few misplays but otherwise looked like the same strong team of last year. The game was called after six and one-half innings were played, on account of darkness.

Four new faces appear in the Rocks lineup this year; they are: Rattenbury, Collins, Ferguson and Hoffman. These men are all good players and should make the Rocks a still harder team to beat.

K. of P. Show Is A Success

Plymouth Pythian Knights have demonstrated that they are as good actors as they are Knights—for the home talent show they staged Tuesday and Wednesday evenings has been declared by everyone who saw it, a big success. The show not only provided excellent amusement, but it reaped a fair profit for the lodge. The attendance was fairly good, but possibly the delightful evenings served to cut down somewhat the anticipated attendance. Officials and members of the lodge, however, are appreciative of the interest shown by the general public in their production.

Annual Meeting D. A. R. on May 18

The next regular meeting of the Sarah Ann Cochran Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will be held at the home of Mrs. John E. Rior, Monday, May 18th. This is the annual meeting at which the annual reports of the officers and chairman of committees will be given, and the chapter officers for the ensuing year will be elected.

Rocks Trample Recreation Team

The Rocks scored their second straight victory Wednesday night when they defeated the Recreation team by the score of 13 to 10.

Despite the fact that the Rocks were out-hit they deserved to win. When the Recreation got men on the bases and ready to score the Rocks settled down to business and set the next batters down in rotation. The Recreation went into the lead in the eighth inning when they scored two runs. But the Rocks scored five runs in their half to regain the lead. The Recreation filled the bases in the ninth but failed to score. Matheson struck Curtis out, and then forced Partridge to pop out to Ferguson.

Rosedale Gardens

By J. W. WALKER

"P. T. A." Committee picked a rainy night for the shower to Mrs. Becker and the card party. It showered silver spoons for Mrs. Becker (nee Miss Peck) and in the bridegroom, Mrs. Kalmbach, Mrs. Vashold and Mrs. Emmons were showered with pretty pieces of black glassware: in the Rummy tables, Miss Ethel M. Belden also won glassware and refused to trade Johnnie Walker for the pair of silk socks he won; last but not least, Mrs. Al Rohde drew the consolation prize—a wonderfully gorgeous fancy pillow.

Officers for next school year were installed with all due ceremony, pomp and glory, namely those: President, Miss Helen Portous; vice-president, Mrs. Eric Burton; secretary, Miss Margaret Howe; treasurer, Mrs. Luella Kinne.

Music
An orchestra was furnished, contributed and played by the young folks from our neighbor Gardens (Granddaddy the string orchestra, composed of Marie, Margaret and Mildred Shadler, Dorothy Brown, Anna and Margaret Slargo, Emmett Cunniff, Raymond Cook, Tim Mac and Betty Roberts, all led by Miss Shadler, their instructor. The Rosedale Orchestra children were all on hand to take in with open eyes and ears (some mouths, too), that they might profit by this interesting group of young folk, and went home resolved that they would try all the harder to catch up with their lessons so that they might play for the Fisher school and maybe Santa Claus this year.

School Picnic
also including ice cream and in company with Elm School, will be held next Friday, the 22nd, instant. Time—post meridian. Place—Plymouth Riverside Park. Of course no need of announcing same or whyfors or wherefors as it is the main topic of the kiddiehood conversation the past few weeks.

Child Health May Day
picnic, meet and everything last Wednesday for Zone B was held at Rouge Park. Our visiting nurse, Miss Georgina J. Reid, was our main spring and for everything. We hope to find more space later for the awards for this event.

More Shrubs
have been ordered for the new beds which will go south a hundred and thirty feet from Plymouth Rd. (U.S. 12) sidewalk, and on each side of each street, to include the gateways. That is why Supt. Al Honke and Co., Inc., are busy spading in and hauling black dirt thereto.

Weather
of all kinds has been recorded lately. Thanksgiving being given by all country folk and gardenites for the wonderful rains of last week. Everything is most all set for to set on the old beef steak tomato plants in another ten days or two weeks.

Alterations to the Woodlands house, 11034 Berwick give it a vestibule by our old college chum, Leo Baldek and Uncle Robert Wilson, ditto, for a garage, and Cousin Watson and Cousin Boush are moving their brick-smithy shoppe over from completing the Leighton house on Ingram. And the last named job is also nice and clean and good looking enough for anyone to be proud of.

Dunking
of home made cakes and dainty sandwiches were, or was, or rather imposed as per usual after the P. T. A. card party, also stories by A. R. B. P., and J. W.

Mother's Day
was observed by ALL Gardenites, older and younger. Church with the living and appropriate gifts for the living, and kind remembrances to cemetery, etc., for those who have gone the long road to their new home eternal in the heavens. It is not our idea to preach any sermon on the subject, but from the observer's standpoint we think it would be a good idea to make every day just as much a Mother's Day as last Sunday. This don't mean kiddies only, but some grown up kiddies going to High School and also higher should ditto every day the events of 5-10-31.

Apple Blossoms
are in season, by the Sales Office and elsewhere. Which was the sign for a number of youngster Gardenites, also some grown cityites, to stop and break down a number of branches. Which all means that something must be done about it. Neighbor farmers are also complaining of the destruction of blossoms of many fruit trees on their farms.

It may be a joy for some folk to have the blooms for a day or so, but how much nicer it would be to have a bushel of fruit next Fall. Let the fruit ripen, Boys!

Clean-Up Week
or weeks have been inaugurated by several communities hereabouts lately, all following the example set before the last snow in Rosedale. However, our gardens are coming along in the shape now, several homes are being freshly painted on outside—namely the Peters' and Kaerchers' on Berwick Ave., the brick veneer jobs on Arden and Ingram also having remaining wood work and garages feel the brushy hands dainty touches. And have you noticed the Mesquites, Millard-Hansen miniature farms greening forth for the old fashioned "early June pause."

direction of Mrs. Florence Paddock Kouke, with a chorus of 65 voices. Mr. and Mrs. Mark Joy and daughter, Lydia, and Betty Jane spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Osterander of Wayne.

Mrs. Vina Joy had Sunday dinner with her daughter, Mrs. James McNabb. Miss Gladys Baylor of Detroit, was a Sunday guest at the Culler home.

A number from here attended Achievement Day at Wayne M. E. church last Friday. All reported a grand time. Little Robert Clement had the misfortune to fall from his bed last Thursday night, bruising his eye and cutting his cheek, having three stitches taken. He is much better at this writing.

WHERE FISHERMEN CAN USE HOOK AND LINE NOW

Plymouth fishermen who are just now digging out their old hooks, lines and sinkers have been busy looking over the road maps to see where to go and try their luck. On May 15, when the trout season opened, the season also opened on many lakes and streams for hook and line fishing.

The fisherman is limited to a single line, under his direct control. Non-residents over 18 years of age of the state must pay $3 for a license. Residents over 18, must pay $1 for a license to fish for rainbow, brown or brook trout.

The Answer Is VALUES

The days of boasting how MUCH you paid are gone....now it's smarter to tell how little you spent for fashion.

The only crime in searching for value is to look as tho' you'd found it.

The shrewdest buyers are insisting on THRIFT in apparel that looks EXTRAVAGANT.

Has Best Health In Twenty Years

"For twenty years before taking Sarzon I was in miserable health. My whole system was full of toxic poisons from constipation. I'd get up every morning feeling worse than I did before going to bed and I couldn't walk any distance without giving completely out. I had awful headaches and pains between my shoulders, but since taking this marvelous Sarzon every trouble I had disappeared. I don't know when I've felt so well and so strong. The Sarzon Pills overcame constipation and cleared my system of poisons. I will always praise this wonderful treatment.—Mrs. Tillie Haddock, 2419 Poplar St., Detroit. Sold by Community Pharmacy.
