

AUTO LICENSE BUREAU UNDER BERG D. MOORE

Secretary of State Selects Chamber of Commerce For Local Office

Announcement has been made by Secretary of State Frank Fitzgerald of the selection of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce, with Secretary Berg D. Moore as the branch automobile license plate office for this section of Michigan.

Up until recently the work has been handled by Edward Pluchis, but it was announced some time ago that it was the intention of the state to do away as far as possible with the license plate business being handled from insurance offices.

Beginning probably next Monday, the branch office of the secretary of state will be opened in the Chamber of Commerce offices in the Hotel Mayflower, an ideal location for the purposes for which it has been selected.

The action of Mr. Fitzgerald came following a conference with President Floyd Eckles of the Chamber of Commerce and Mr. Moore in Lansing, on Tuesday.

Mr. Fitzgerald stated that he was anxious to make the issuance of plates as convenient as possible for automobile owners and he would be glad to sanction any suggestions which would work towards that end in the Plymouth territory. The offer of the Chamber of Commerce for the use of their excellent downtown offices, in which is located also the headquarters of the A. A. A., was immediately agreeable to Mr. Fitzgerald, and he was also pleased to know that the plan had the backing of the directors of the local business organization.

The Plymouth office has in the past served a very large portion of Western Wayne county, the eastern side of Washington county and the southern end of Oakland county. Hundreds have come here to get their plates rather than go into Detroit or over to Ann Arbor or Pontiac.

The business of the Plymouth office runs considerably larger than that in many cities twice the size of this place. That is due largely to the thickly populated rural sections about here, and the fact that Plymouth is a popular trading center of an exceptionally large territory.

Mr. Moore spent Thursday and Friday in Lansing, to become thoroughly acquainted with the routine of the work that he will supervise in the future.

Burglars Enter Another House

Another house robbery in this part of Wayne county has been reported to officers, but up to the present time no trace has been found of the thieves. This time the burglars left the Plymouth territory and went over to Northville, where they broke into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stage.

During the night Mrs. Stage was aroused by a noise and got up and turned the lights on, but she saw no one in the house. When Mr. Stage, who is employed in the Ford factory, returned home in the morning, he found the lock on the front door broken off and the door partly opened.

It is believed the thieves were frightened away when Mrs. Stage turned the lights on. Chief of Police William Safford, who notified Plymouth officers of the robbery, declared that he believes burglars have been attracted to this locality by reports of withdrawals of money from the Lapham bank before it was closed. Officers have issued a special warning to people to be careful and keep their houses carefully locked.

Chief of Police Vaughn Smith reports that up to the present time, no trace has been secured of the burglars who broke into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Streng, where they secured over $800 worth of money and valuables.

Did You Know That

You can buy all kinds of good used furniture at 825 Penniman Ave. 1c John A. Hartzog, aged 69 years, died Friday morning, July 10th, at his home, 946 Holbrook avenue. The remains were brought to the Schrader Brothers Funeral Home, then later taken to Van Wert, Ohio, for burial.

The Esther Shoppe has a nice line of slips at $1.00, and is closing out all dresses in summer silk and shantung, all coats and suits at big reductions.

Mr. and Mrs. William Choffin are moving back to Plymouth from Lansing, and beginning Monday, "Smiling Bill," as he is well known among his many Plymouth friends, will resume his duties at the downtown Plymouth Purty market. "Bill" declares he decided to return to Plymouth after having discovered there were enough politicians in Lansing without him.

We have overstuffed and dining room suites, extra chairs, springs and mattresses at 825 Penniman Ave. 1c Millard Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Nelson of Northville, returned Sunday evening with friends from a trip to Pennsylvania, visiting Oil City, Pittsburg, and several places of interest in that state. Among others they visited the new U. S. S. Akron Dirigible in Akron, Ohio, which will be ready to fly Labor Day. It sure is a sight to one who hasn't seen it, and the building it is being built in, covers eight acres and is 22 stories high.

Men's Clothing Sale Announced

Starting Saturday morning, Paul Hayward has announced a big surplus stock sale of men's and boys' clothing at prices so low it will surprise the most careful buyer. In fact never before have such reductions as announced for this sale ever been made by any men's clothing store.

A full page advertisement in this issue of the Mail lists only a part of the hundreds of bargains that can be secured. The sale will start Saturday morning. Nothing will be laid aside before that time. It will continue until Saturday night, August 1st.

The thousands of shoppers in the Plymouth area will be delighted over the news of the sale, as it means an opportunity to buy many needed articles at prices every one will appreciate.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Miller of 1027 Lewey St., are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, Athalie Louise, at Harper hospital, July 13, 1931.

PLANNING A CITY ACCORDING TO ONE SYSTEM IS RIGHT WAY

CITIZENS' COMMITTEE SECURES VALUABLE INFORMATION ON SUBJECT

As announced in last Friday's issue of the Plymouth Mail, the Citizens Planning and Zoning Committee has approved and presented to the Mail for publication a City Planning Primer distributed by the United States Department of Commerce. This primer was prepared under the direction of President Hoover at the time he was Secretary of Commerce. As stated, it is the Mail's intention to give this information to its readers in installment form. Last week the topics given space were "Is Your City Selling Its Birthright?" "What Is City Planning?" "What Is a City Plan?" In this issue the following topics and explanations are quoted direct from the primer: "How Is the Plan Given Effect?" and "Planning Rests on Legal Basis."

"How Is the Plan Given Effect?"

"The plan is given effect by actions of both city government and its citizens. Usually a city planning commission is set up and given advisory powers, with general responsibility for seeing that the plan is prepared and carried out. With the commission's advice, the city council and the city departments are the agencies which actually authorize and construct streets and other public works, acquire parks and playgrounds, and locate and erect public buildings. The council must enact the zoning ordinance because it becomes effective and the executive branch enforces it. The planning commission itself is usually given some authority over the layout of new streets in subdivisions. It also keeps the plan up to date, and informs public utility companies, business concerns, and private citizens of the principal features of the plan so that they may plan their utilization of land and construction in harmony with it.

"Planning Rests on Legal Basis"

"Every square foot of land within a municipality is impressed with legal qualities, which are often more lasting than payments or buildings or other physical structures. Once a strip of land becomes dedicated to the public as a street or park it is likely to remain a street or park for centuries. Since it becomes effective and the executive branch enforces it. The planning commission itself is usually given some authority over the layout of new streets in subdivisions. It also keeps the plan up to date, and informs public utility companies, business concerns, and private citizens of the principal features of the plan so that they may plan their utilization of land and construction in harmony with it.

"The legal status given to land within a city forms the basis of a plan, whose value to the community depends mainly on the forethought that was used in the past in assigning legal qualities to land. Good and bad decisions become so embodied by force of law and by physical works that follow, that in many cases it is impractical to alter them. Wise decisions now and in years to come depend mainly on proper planning, so that each step taken will be in accord with a consistent general scheme."

Miss Gladys Hake Becomes Bride

A quiet wedding was solemnized Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hake of Whitmore Lake, when their youngest daughter, Miss Gladys I. Hake, became the bride of William Biegert, son of Mrs. G. P. A. Mayer of Washington, D. C. The ceremony was performed in the presence of the immediate relatives and friends by Dr. F. A. Lendrum at 2:30 p. m.

The bride was very attractive in a light blue gown and hat, with accessories, and carried a bouquet of pink roses and babies' breath. Her attendant, Miss Luella Meyers, was dressed in green with white accessories, and carried a bouquet of peach colored roses. Robert B. McCurdy of Detroit, served the bridegroom as best man. Little Virginia May Monister, niece of the bride, carried the ring concealed in the heart of a rose.

Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Biegert left on a wedding trip through the east, and will be at home to their many friends after August 25th, at 134 Plymouth road.

The bride is employed as a bookkeeper at the Wayne County Training School, while the groom has a position in the commissary at the same place.

Miss Ella Bauer returned home with her parents, after spending a week with her cousin, Alice Rakewell.

SCHOOL BUDGET IS APPROVED BY THE BOARD

Big Reduction in School Tax For Next Year Is Announced

The amount to be raised by taxation in Plymouth District No. 1, Fractional, will be fourteen and one-half percent less than the amount raised in 1930, according to the announcement just made by school board officials.

The reduction of the amount necessary to be raised by taxation will be welcome news to all property owners in the district, and it represents the result of the most careful saving on the part of the Board of Education during the past year and a very conservative estimate on the expenses of the coming year.

To reduce the taxes in Plymouth Public Schools is more difficult than would appear to the average person because of the fact that each year finds an increased enrollment over the preceding year. The total enrollment for 1929-30 was 1403 with an average attendance of 1201 pupils, while the total enrollment for 1930-31 was 1469 with an average attendance of 1235. The probabilities are that the increase in enrollment during the coming year will be similar to the increase during the past two years because of the increase in attendance in Plymouth Public Schools over a period of years has been gradually increasing.

The lessening of the school budget does not mean the elimination of school courses or opportunities for the boys and girls. It will mean a decided increase of teaching load for the teachers in the school and a saving due to decrease in costs of supplies and maintenance due to the change in prices of commodities.

100 Years Old, Plan Pow-Wow

On August 6, 7 and 8 of this year the village of Lowell, Mich., will observe the one hundredth anniversary of its founding by staging a celebration that would do credit to a town far more pretentious in size.

Lowell has a wonderful background of romantic history and Indian lore. Here in the beautiful Grand River valley had lived the famous and noble Red Man, following the pursuits of peace and war, happy in the life of the forest and stream with the abundant game afforded; here came the early fur traders and French voyageurs, followed by the white settlers and the gradual conquest of the forest and the making of homes. Later began the historic lumbering days when the streets of this pioneer town of Lowell were thronged with lumberjacks, gaily dressed in their Mackinacs, colored sash and high-topped caulked boots—all came to this town in the valley "where the rivers meet."

This historical past with its romantic background will all be brought before the visitor to Lowell during this centennial celebration in a wonderful program in which more than 100 people will participate and which will be worth coming many, many miles to see. Other attractions will be so numerous and varied that space will not permit mention of all, but there will be one of the most magnificent parades of floats ever presented anywhere—and ball games and horse races and wonderful bands.

Lowell, Mich., invites the world to her doors on Aug. 6, 7, 8, 1931. Come and see one of the most unique and interesting celebrations ever staged. Come to Lowell, "the friendly town, enjoy its beautiful lakes and streams and its real hospitality."

Dies Suddenly In Automobile

John J. Hipp, aged 39 years, who resided at 248 N. Main Street, Plymouth, Michigan, was taken suddenly ill on the Plymouth road last Thursday evening, July 10th, while he and Mrs. Hipp were returning from Detroit. He died instantly. The remains were brought to the Schrader Brothers Funeral Home, then later taken to Warsaw, Indiana, for burial.

Mr. Hipp was a well known resident of this place, and his death proved a great surprise to his wide circle of friends.

Try and Beat This One, If You Can!

Here is one for discoverers of freak things in nature to try and beat! C. O. Dickerson, 122 North Harvey street, a few days ago in picking cherries, found two almost perfectly formed cherries, with two pits, growing on one stem! Try and beat that one, if you can. Mr. Dickerson has plenty of proof of it, because he showed the Siamese twin cherries to many of his friends about town who declared they had never seen anything like it before.

State Senator William F. Turner and Mrs. Turner and daughter, Debra, of Morley, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Waters of Big Rapids, were weekend guests of the former's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. A. Ray Gilder of Brush street. On Monday evening, Senator Turner and Mr. Waters attended the Ford luncheon at the Book-Cadillac hotel, Detroit.

Plymouth Youth Is Made Officer In The Reserve Corps Of U.S.

Douglas C. Carruthers, 1041 MUI St., Plymouth, Michigan, has been appointed by the president a second lieutenant in the Coast Artillery branch of the Officers' Reserve Corps. It has just been announced by the War Department. Lieutenant Carruthers' commission is in the Army of the United States, and his peace-time training will be under the direction of Major General Frank Parker, commanding the Sixth Corps Area, which consists of the states of Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin.

The Organized Reserves, together with the Regular Army and the National Guard, comprises the national defense system of the United States. In the event of a great national emergency the reserves will furnish a large majority of all the officers needed.

Active-duty training for Reserve officers is limited by law to periods ordinarily not exceeding two weeks in any year, but Lieutenant Carruthers may also keep in touch with military matters by correspondence courses, group schools, etc.

NEW RIFLE IS ANNOUNCED BY THE HAMILTONS

Bolt-Action Gun To Go On The Market For Extremely Low Price

Announcement has just been made by C. J. Hamilton & Son, Plymouth manufacturers of 22 calibre rifles, of a new Hamilton Bolt-Action rifle that is set on the market for only $35.00. The new gun, a delight for every hunter who enjoys taking a small arm with him on a hunting trip, and a pleasure for the young marksman, is a genuine bolt-action gun with every feature that one might expect to find in a higher priced rifle.

In the announcement of this new product just added to the company's line of rifles, the manufacturer says:

"The new Hamilton Bolt-Action Rifle introduces a safety feature which prevents it from being discharged by an accidental blow on the bolt or cocking device. This is an advantage that is appreciated by everyone interested in safer sport.

"Another thing you'll like about it is that it can be loaded in double-quick time. Nothing to do but drop in a cartridge and push the bolt handle. No fumbling with the cartridge to make it go in straight!

"You'll be surprised, too, to see how quickly this new-type rifle can be reloaded and cocked, ready to fire." To eject an old cartridge, all you have to do is pull back the bolt and the automatic ejector flies out the empty shell. You don't have to pick the cartridge out with your fingers.

"When you put a Hamilton Bolt-Action Rifle to your shoulder you can be sure that it will shoot straight every time—because the barrel is accurately rifled and absolutely true. Its front knife-sight and adjustable Buckhorn rear-sight make it exceptionally easy to aim. Shoots either short or long rifle-cartridges. Blue-black gun barrel with rustproof bronze lining, guaranteed not to pit—easily cleaned with soap and water. Walnut finish pistol-grip stock. Length, 35 inches."

Mr. Hamilton, in speaking of the new Bolt-Action rifle, says he is pleased to be able to put on the market a gun that in every kind of a test has been shown to be every bit as good as any that has been made.

Already the manufacturers have found a very favorable interest in the new product, and the Plymouth factory is being kept busy filling advance orders.

Here's Good News For Boys and Girls—A Show For You On Saturday

Saturday is going to be a great day for the kids of Plymouth and vicinity. A "swell" day, you can bet—for Allen Harry Lush of the Penniman-Alten theatre has arranged to give matinee for all the youngsters in Plymouth and in the country around Plymouth, so they can see that famous picture, "Daddy Long Legs."

Then right on top of letting all the boys and girls of Plymouth and this part of Wayne county in for only two cents to see the picture, he is going to give to every youngster present Saturday afternoon, a ticket to take home to mother or father or aunt or uncle, whoever might be telling little Jim and Mary what's what, so they can see "Daddy Long Legs" on Sunday evening, by presenting the ticket and paying 25c per person.

If the father or mother does not have one of these tickets to be given to the boys and girls who attend Saturday afternoon at the special children's matinee, it will be necessary for them to pay the regular price to see the picture.

So now little folks, take good care of that ticket that will be given you Saturday afternoon at the Penniman-Alten theatre. It will save Daddy or Mother some money when they go to see "Daddy Long Legs" Sunday evening.

One last word—be sure and be at the theatre say about 2:15, as the show will start at 2:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Remember it only costs 25c and Manager Lush wants every lot about here to see this dandy picture. And don't lose the ticket that he will give you for Dad or Mother, so they can see the picture Sunday evening.

NEED HOUSES FOR EMPLOYEES OF THE PRISON

Chamber of Commerce Secretary Urges Owners To List Suitable Places

A committee from the Chamber of Commerce conferred with Detroit House of Correction officials the latter part of last week, relative to the future housing requirements of the employees of this institution. Up-to-date information was secured as to the number who were already located in Plymouth and Northville, the number who will probably remain in Detroit indefinitely, the number who will be quartered on the House of Correction farm, and the substantial number who are still undecided but who in all probability will want to locate as near to their work as possible.

Information brought back by this committee that some of these people are experiencing some difficulty in finding places in Plymouth, adds emphasis to the request of the Chamber of Commerce for a prompt up-to-date listing of every vacant house, apartment, and room to rent in Plymouth and adjacent territory. According to officials of the Chamber of Commerce, as soon as this information is available and is felt to be complete and accurate, it will be compiled in neatly typewritten form giving all pertinent information for display on the bulletin board at the prison farm.

Every possible effort should be made to accommodate their employees because, as stated before, they are steady substantial people and will make fine citizens. According to Secretary Moore, it requires constant checking up to keep this information accurate, and therefore of any value, because of vacant property filling up and other property becoming vacant. This matter is of direct interest to many people, and everyone should cooperate to make this listing 100% accurate.

Boys and Girls Visit College

Twenty-one boys and girls representing the various 4-H Club projects of Clothing, Hot Lunch, Handicraft, and Gardening, spent the past week at the State 4-H Club Camp at The Michigan State College at East Lansing.

Many champions to the number of 600 represent 43 counties in the lower peninsula spent the week in advanced classes, getting acquainted with the College, in banquets and camp fires. On Friday morning the entire group visited the capitol and were greeted on the steps of the capitol by Governor Brueker who later greeted each one personally in his office.

The group was under the supervision of Miss Margaret Eckhardt, attended by Miss Margaret Eckhardt, county agent, and those who accompanied were: Veronice Marris, Rosedale school, first year clothing; Dorothy Hearn, Newburg school, second year clothing; Jean Loftus, Rosedale school, third year clothing; Bernice Witt, Hough school, fourth year clothing; Merna Van Tassel, Stark school, fifth year clothing; Yvonne Hearn, Newburg school, style; Ethel Van Houten, Smithville school, music memory; Rosalpe Rourke, Hayti school, Health; Bernice Onkley, Romulus, Health; Lionel Coffin, Newburg, health; Arthur Barts, Bartlett, first year handicraft; Edmund Zielinski, Newburg school, second year handicraft; David Lush, school, third year handicraft; Robert Meters, Hough school, fourth year handicraft; Dorothy Dietrich, Coray school, hot lunch.

There were also eight representing the Garden Club of Detroit.

Legion Buries Dead Member

Unable to find relatives or friends of Lawrence Chandler, an employee of the William H. Maybury Sanatorium, who was burned to death a few days ago when his car struck a bridge near Sallie, members of the American Legion of Northville have claimed the body and Thursday afternoon conducted a funeral of their dead member at the Schrader funeral home in Northville. Chandler was buried in the American Legion lot in Rural Hill cemetery. It was at first believed Chandler was married, but investigation by officers failed to find any relatives.

Rotarians Hear Talk On Gasoline

Explaining some of the many mysteries surrounding the exact manner in which gasoline works in an automobile engine and why it is no novelty to Richard G. Coffin, manager of the Ann Arbor Division of the White Star Refining Co. In an address before the Plymouth Rotary Club at its regular meeting last Friday, Mr. Coffin explained the fundamental differences between the various types of gasoline on the market today, and, using the humble kitchen match as his only demonstrator, showed why certain types of gasoline make for better performance in the modern motor car.

He handled the subject, a difficult and highly technical one to discuss before a group of laymen, in a really interesting manner, and undoubtedly the information given the club members will enable them all to secure even better engine performance in their cars than heretofore.

De Molays Enjoy Trip to Au Sable

Twenty-two members of the local DeMolay lodge had a very enjoyable time over the Fourth of July, camping up on the Ausable River. Everyone enjoyed himself, even the one that got lost, the one that fainted on the way up, and the one who fell out of a row boat and got stuck in the mud.

They left Plymouth at eight o'clock Friday night and drove all night, completing the 225 mile trip by six o'clock Saturday morning. Camp was made on the lake formed by the Foote Dam, which is the last on the river. The power house, containing three turbines was thoroughly inspected as was the dam and surrounding country. Fishing and swimming were the two main amusements while at camp. Saturday night some of the fellows went to East Tawas and danced and watched the fireworks. Camp was broken at noon Sunday, and the party went up the river a ways to some springs which were very clear and cold.

The trip home was completed without accident, arriving in Plymouth at 11:30 o'clock Sunday night.

FIXES SATURDAY AS TAG DAY IN PLYMOUTH FOR ALBION BOYS

STARR COMMONWEALTH WILL COLLECT FUNDS FROM LOCAL RESIDENTS

Village President R. O. Mimmack has granted permission to workers for the Starr Commonwealth for Boys of Albion, to conduct a tag day in Plymouth, Saturday, and has issued to workers for that organization authority to use the streets for the collection of funds. Headquarters have been established in the Hotel Mayflower, and Sidney Strong, Scoutmaster, will direct the work of a number of Boy Scouts, who will collect funds at each downtown corner.

All of this money, except that portion made necessary for its collection, will go to the school for boys at Albion.

The object of this Commonwealth, according to a printed circular, is to maintain a real home for the homeless, friendless and dependent boy; to give to the wild, wayward child of the street, the so-called "bad boy," a chance to make good; to direct, wisely and lovingly, the misunderstood, neglected and beaten child of ignorant or immoral parents, and to provide for the incorrigible, a normal, healthful environment, where the lad will be taught the meaning of responsibility and the purpose of law.

In no sense is the Commonwealth a prison. It is not a detention home nor a reform school. There are no bolts, nor bars.

When boys are sent to reformatories it is often too late to hope for any lasting benefit. Not the iron hand of repression, but the sympathetic hand of unselfish love is needed, if the boys are to become good men and true. What the boy starting wrong needs is the magnetism of sympathy, an honest belief in his power and desire to do better, and some normal outlet for his activity. Convinced that somebody cares, that somebody expects much of him and that there is an opportunity for him to do well, in nine out of ten cases a little fellow will fight about face, leave the down grade and climb up hill, finally to take his place among those who do good service to the country and the age. No boy wants to be bad. No boy would be bad if only he could have a chance. Because this is true, the chief necessity and supreme aim of all the workers of the Commonwealth is to make friends of the boys, to bring them into the right relation to the social order; to foster self-respect, self-reliance, self-expression, and to prepare them, through vocational training for better positions than they would obtain if left to drift about the world unaided.

The Commonwealth is supported by proceeds from its 125-acre farm and by popular contributions. Persons are encouraged to contribute to the support of their sons, when able. Very little, however, is received from this source. The work receives no state appropriations, and is, to a great degree dependent upon the voluntary gifts of the friends of the boys.

Miss Thelma Peck Honored at Shower

Mrs. Harry S. Shattuck and her daughter, Mrs. Charles Garlett, were hostesses Wednesday afternoon at a bridge-luncheon and linen shower honoring Miss Thelma V. Peck, a brides-elect of September. A delightful luncheon was served at the Garden Tea Rooms after which the following guests gathered at the home of Mrs. Shattuck, on Penniman avenue, for bridge: Mrs. Luther Peck, Mrs. John S. Michener, Mrs. Goodwin Crombie, Mrs. William Wood, Miss Katherine Wilcox, Mrs. Sterling Eaton, Miss Elizabeth Burrows, Mrs. Frank Burrows, Mrs. William Bake, Miss Barbara Bake, Mrs. A. C. Dunn, Mrs. Robert Cooper, Miss Athalie Hough, Mrs. Fred Dibble, Mrs. Aute Cranston, Mrs. William Pettinill, Mrs. Bessie Dunning, Miss Margaret Dunning, Mrs. Berg D. Moore, Mrs. Harold M. F. George, Mrs. C. H. Bennett, Miss Pauline Peck, Mrs. Robert Mimmack and Mrs. Roderick Campbell and Mrs. Ass Willson of Detroit.

On July 13, Miss Kathryn Waterman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Waterman, entertained nine girls at a picnic party in Cass Benton Park, it being her birthday. Those present were: Misses Harriet and Catherine Gibson, Katherine Heike, Emily Engell, Dorothy Cook, Eldora Ballen, Helen and Dorothy George, and Flossie Rowland. It was also Miss Rowland's birthday, and Miss Waterman generously shared honors.

ARREST THREE FOR STEALING FROM BATHERS

Officers Believe Thefts At Phoenix Will Now Be Ended

By the arrest of three young fellows on Tuesday, it is believed that the thieving which has been taking place at Phoenix Park among the bathers has been stopped. Capture of the three took place when Frederick Williams, 8608 Dunbar road, Detroit, reported to William Safford, chief of police at Northville, that he had been robbed of $25 while in bathing at Phoenix Park during the afternoon.

Williams was on his way to Lansing from Detroit, when he stopped at the Lake to take a swim. He immediately discovered the theft of his money, but left the lake with no intention of reporting the theft. As he drove through Northville, he happened to see Chief Safford and he told him of the theft.

The officer began an immediate search and finally found one of the boys on the Seven Mile road. Convinced that the other two must be somewhere near, he continued his search and found them hiding in a box that protects one of the big trees along the Seven-Mile road.

The boys immediately confessed to the theft and the money was recovered. Two of them being under 18 years of age, were turned over to juvenile authorities. One named John Jeffries, 18 years old, of Farmington, pleaded guilty to larceny before Justice Roberts in Northville, and was immediately sentenced to 30 days in the Detroit House of Correction.

The fortunate arrest of these three who have spent much of their time around both Phoenix and Waterford bathing beaches, will probably bring to an end for the present, the theft of money and clothing from swimmers.

Will Beautify The Cemetery

The new schedule of prices of lots as adopted by the Cemetery Board and Village Commission will be the means of providing one of the most beautiful cemeteries in Michigan, and an orderly plan for improvements will be worked out and carried forward each year.

The new lot prices were effective July first, but to allow local residents to secure lots at the original price, arrangements were made for cash sales during the month of July at the old price of one dollar per square foot, including perpetual care.

At the time of sale of the first lots in the cemetery, a price of $15.00 each was placed on the lots. The revenue from such sales was not sufficient to make any extensive improvements or to perpetuate the ground on any large scale. As the burials increased and the area of the cemetery was extended, it became evident that an increase in lot prices was necessary to take care of the operating expenses and debt requirements. Later the perpetual care plan was worked out and old lot owners were requested to subscribe to perpetual care at a price of $80.00 per lot.

Several lot owners have subscribed to the perpetual care plan and at present this fund, which is invested and earns 5% per year amounts to approximately $28,000.00. This fund is increasing each year as all lots now sold are sold with perpetual care, and a stipulated amount in each lot sale is placed in the perpetual care fund. The original idea of the old lot owners purchasing perpetual care was a forward step in the development and beautification of the cemetery and had all or most of the cemetery lots come into this plan, a much larger sum of money would be available each year and a great deal more work could be accomplished. A recent check of the lots in one of the older sections shows that only approximately 25% of the lots are under perpetual care.

Several criticisms have been received relative to the condition of the perpetual care lots, but when one looks over the ground and sees the results of the plan, it is under perpetual care, he will agree that the condition of the lots maintained by the cemetery employees is, in most cases, much better than lots with private care. The extremely hot and dry weather during the past two years has been very destructive to the turf in the cemetery, and a considerable amount of work will be necessary this fall and next spring to replace the burned out areas.

With the additional revenue from the higher lot prices and the ever increasing amount in the perpetual care fund, the cemetery, each year, will be on a more satisfactory basis. It is the desire of the officials to provide a beauty spot of which everyone will be justly proud, and eventually to provide more adequate sprinkling facilities with water for all perpetual care lots. This can only be done by increasing the earning capacity of the cemetery, all the revenues from which will be put into improvements and upkeep.

It is predicted that within a very short time the cemetery will be on a much better financial basis which will allow for greater care and many more improvements. If a majority of the lots now under perpetual care would subscribe to this service, the improvement would be much more rapid.

During the last three weeks Miss Nellie Beatrice Hunger has been in charge of the music of the State Young People's Congregational conference at Olivet College, and on the faculty of the School of Fine Arts in Religion at Waldenwoods.

VALUE OF THE LOCAL PAPER

Of what value is a newspaper to its community? A newspaper can't build a town; it can't make a good one out of a bad one; it can't make a town grow. It can't bring factories; it can't improve the schools; it can't rebuild churches and enlarge the congregations. It can't defeat bad candidates for office and it can't elect good ones, at least not very often.

But a newspaper can encourage people. A newspaper can be the eyes and the voice of the community. It can watch the trend of affairs; it can note the important things other communities are doing; it can keep the people posted, and then it can lead the way. A newspaper published by a successful man or woman can point the way, it can show how things can be accomplished, it can create a wholesome atmosphere in which people can realize the beauties and joy of life, and then progress is made.

Can any other institution render greater service to humanity? Shaw said, "The profession of journalism—God help it." I say to the rural and small city publishers who have an honest determination to get ahead, whose ambition is to render service, and whose hearts are filled with joy, "The profession of journalism—God be praised!"—Fred Naeter in the Cape Girardeau (Mo.) South-east Missourian.

FLOP HOUSE VOTES

To the outsider looking in, it begins to appear that Mayor Murphy of Detroit, is not going to be successful in keeping a few thousand votes corralled in the flop houses of Detroit at the expense of that city's charity fund. From all that can be learned, the mayor has been making a strenuous effort to keep the "lodges" which are nothing more than "flop" houses, open at the expense of the charity fund at least until after election. He has protested that it would be a shame to turn these unemployed single men out into the streets without a place to sleep, but when the housing accommodation of Eloise was offered, barely a handful of the mayor's flop house voters went out there. They said they didn't want to lose their vote in the fall election, and the mayor said it wasn't right to disfranchise them. There has been another serious objection on the part of the mayor's flop house guests going out to Eloise. It is necessary for the able bodied gents to do a bit of light work around the farm—and Mayor Murphy's unemployed don't like to mow lawns or do other similar labor unbecoming to a gentleman. Really it is a shame to ask these fellows to do anything like that. Maybe the mayor is right in protesting against this "unjust" condition. We believe too that it is a down-right outrage to think that a month's vacation trip around the Great Lakes and down to Niagara Falls hasn't been provided for the Mayor's unemployed flop house tenants. Maybe after a while Detroit will treat these gentlemen as they should be.

DOING THINGS

If you say a thing cannot be done, you make it so. Our greatest fear exists only within ourselves. If you admit there is nothing you cannot do, then there certainly can be none. You have said it cannot be, and in the saying you have made it so. If you establish a certain line beyond which you say you cannot travel then you most certainly establish a line beyond which you can never go. You have established your own limitations, you have admitted your own weakness, or rather you have set up the weakness within you as superior to strength and courage. Nothing is impossible. Nothing is beyond the reach of the individual. You have only to look about you in order to find the evidence of this truth; it is demonstrated on every hand by the telephone, the motor car, wireless telegraphy, the flying machine, the submarine, the cable and in a thousand things possible today that were impossible yesterday. Here and there and everywhere, we find the work of men who realize that life is a matter of expression, and that there is no boundary line to individual development. You can explore depths below which no man has yet descended, and you can fly to heights beyond which the mind of man has ever flown. You can do a thing differently than it has ever been done. You can express an idea as it has never before been expressed. You can evolve a conception of life that is entirely your own. You can conduct a business as no business has ever been conducted; and you can write a book, the like of which has not yet been written. If you climb to the top of a high mountain peak, you look away into the distance, across the spires of other mountains, over hills, and you look down into the valleys below—and your condition of mind is changed; the horizon of your vision is extended. Your mental horizon can be made much the same as that of your view from the mountain top. Life is largely a matter of resistance. Our problem consists principally in keeping the dust away from our desk and of preventing ourselves from being eaten up by decay. Corrosion is the greedy destroyer. The mind goes into bankruptcy because the brain is not used. We are beset a thousand times with tendencies that seek to destroy us. The water we drink and the air we breathe are filled with millions of destructive germs. The power to resist these microbes marks the line between health and disease. We are weighted down by our own inconsistencies and weaknesses. If we are to reach the high places to which we should aspire, then each day we must extend the sky-line of our vision beyond where it was yesterday. If we are willing to pay the price there is nothing which we may not do.

ONE IN A MILLION

Once in a great while you will find connected with the national or state governments of this Union a few exceptional officials who have lived through various administrations solely because of their unusual efficiency and devotion to proper public service. Michigan has an outstanding official of this type. His name is Augustus C. Carton, and he has been an official in different departments at Lansing longer than any other man in the services of the commonwealth. Under Democratic governors, efficient governors and hot-headed executives as well as the palavering brand he has been left undisturbed due entirely to his ability and courtesy in public service. If Michigan had a few more of his kind it would indeed be a most fortunate thing, especially at a time like the present when the best of judgment is required in the conduct of public business.

DON'T THROW OUT "CLUTCH"

Free wheeling may be all right for automobiles and pleasure, but no business may be maintained at a successful pace with the advertising clutch disengaged.

For more than thirty years in this community I have never known a firm to fail that had used newspaper advertising consistently and intelligently. I have noted many failures directly traceable to a business policy that excluded newspaper advertising.

People read the home town newspaper both for the news and the advertising. Both must be interesting. The well balanced home town newspaper has been, and will continue to be, the most important development factor to the home town merchant.

Fish are frequently caught by occasionally dragging a line through the water, but the best strings invariably come to the lures of the consistent and persistent angler. By the same token, business success comes more quickly and in larger volume to the merchant who adopts a liberal newspaper advertising policy, stocks the goods the public will buy and follows the golden rule of truth in advertising. B. E. Warren in the Nashua (N. H.) Telegraph.

RADIO BLA-BLA

If radio manufacturers and operators of broadcasting stations do not soon bring an end to the tireless and endless bla-bla-bla on the radio, the home owners of America will be charging radio companies for the privilege of putting a radio in the home instead of buying one. There is much "on the air" these days that is anything but entertainment, it really is becoming difficult to find even a half hour of worthwhile radio enjoyment. If the manufacturers of radios do not look out they will let the "exploiters" of the air kill the goose that has been laying the golden eggs.

A GOOD ORDINANCE

There was published in the Mail last week a copy of the new ordinance that has just been adopted by the village for the regulation and control of all spaces between the sidewalks and curbing. The measure is aimed directly at hot dog stands, lunch counters and other similar temporary structures which do anything but add to the beauty of an attractive community like Plymouth. It is a good ordinance and when it becomes effective, Plymouth officials should see to it that it is properly enforced.

SAY BROTHER

Say you, brother, why the worried look and hang-dog expression?

Sure, we know the depression is hitting pretty hard; the bank is closed; Graham Pulze laid off again; and business is the toughest it has been in years. But what of it? Are you going to lay down on the job and let "hard times" pack you a knockout wallop on the chin? Are you soft? Are you beaten even before you start? But wait, before you answer let me tell you a little story.

A little over a hundred years ago, out of the east came a caravan of two covered wagons, covered with mud and with sunburned canvass flapping in the wind. The stock in the caravan would include four horses, very poor and very tired horses, one mule, more disheartened than the horses, and one sad-eyed dog, that had probably been compelled to rustle his own precarious living for many a long and weary day. A few farm implements of the simpler sort were loaded in the wagon, but nothing that had wheels moved except the two wagons. All the rest of the impedimenta had been left upon the battlefield, and those poor stragglers would invade four horses, very poor and very tired horses, one mule, more disheartened than the horses, and one sad-eyed dog, that had probably been compelled to rustle his own precarious living for many a long and weary day. A few farm implements of the simpler sort were loaded in the wagon, but nothing that had wheels moved except the two wagons. All the rest of the impedimenta had been left upon the battlefield, and those poor stragglers would invade four horses, very poor and very tired horses, one mule, more disheartened than the horses, and one sad-eyed dog, that had probably been compelled to rustle his own precarious living for many a long and weary day.

Those movers had come through the wilderness, through the most desolate God-forsaken spots on this sad old earth. They had come through that wilderness only after years of a hard vicious fight, a fight which had left its scars on their faces, had bent their bodies, had taken the elasticity from their steps, and left them crippled to enter the light anew.

For years they had been fighting the elements. They had seen it stop raining for months at a time. They had heard the fury of winter winds as it came whining across the short burned grass and cut the flesh from their children huddling in the corner. Those movers had strained their eyes watching through the long summer days for the rain that never came. They had seen that big cloud roll up from the southwest about one o'clock in the afternoon, hover over the land, and stumble away with a few thumps of thunder as the sun went down.

They had tossed through hot nights wild with worry, and had risen only to have their worst nightmares grazing in reality on the brown stubble in front of their sun-warped doors. And still they went on with the fight. They were our fore-fathers, the first settlers in this part of a God-forsaken country. They fought with eye, tooth and nail—and they won. They built up this village of ours from a sun scorched prairie and with it they left behind a history resplendent in struggles against superhuman odds.

Haven't you some of that fighting blood of those old pioneers trekking through your veins? Sure you have. Roll up your sleeves and fight for all you are worth. Fight that comparatively insignificant little foe "hard times" clear out of the picture. Old man prosperity is just waiting to be taken by the hand and brought back into his own.

Take that worried look off your face, brother. Snap out of that hang-dog expression and fight. Fight, brother, fight, to bring the better days coming back again, tripping down the lane to you and me.—Mrs. Lois Ilsey in The Wayne Dispatch.

GET IN YOUR BID

Those who want to get a piece of highway for the constituents better get their orders in.

The state administrative board has been letting highway contracts at a great rate. The fact that a larger drain on highway funds than ever before will have to be met for construction by the state has not seemed to deter the board. The state now must set aside $2,000,000 a year to absorb township roads, must participate in city street widenings and grade separations, in addition to all the fixed obligations it had before.

While no accurate check of the amount of contracts actually pledged is available, everything points to encumbrances which will tie up all this year's money and that of next year as well. There may be some strategy in this. Namely, the laws may fear that if a special session of the legislature is called, efforts will be made to divert part of the highway funds to general state purposes. Perhaps they hope to balk any such a move by stating that the highway money is all pledged and can't be diverted.

Anyway, those who want roads will do well to get their case in the proper hands before it is too late.—Ed. A. Nowack in The Michigan State Digest.

EFFICIENCY DOESN'T COUNT

The exigencies of politics are oftentimes cruel and beyond explanation. The action of Governor Brucker in retiring Frank A. Kenyon, for many years superintendent of Mackinac Island, shows how tragically hard pressed he has been to find places for his political friends. To our mind the dismissal of Kenyon is perhaps the most unfortunate for Michigan of any of the changes he has felt compelled to make. Mr. Kenyon has been a most useful public official. The following paragraph from the Mackinac Island correspondence of the St. Ignace Republican-News, has the okay of everyone who has in any way followed his management of this historical state property:

Throughout his time he has been an unobtrusive and modest, constructive administrator of his charge, but a continual worker for the guardianship of the important property under his charge, and a promoter of the welfare of Mackinac Island, for material improvements to which, in multifarious ways, the city is deeply indebted to him in an obligation of gratitude.—Muri H. DeFoe in the Charlotte Republican-Tribune.

IZOR TELLS 'EM

A peddler approached us yesterday, laying out on the counter a display of neckties before he gained our attention. The conversation in a nutshell consisted of his saying: "I want to show you a fine line of 'sport' ties, that will compare with any you could find even in Detroit." Wouldn't we be the poorest kind of a 'sport' if we didn't buy our ties at home? was our reply. "The price might make a difference," he said. We countered with "And that would make us even a poorer 'sport' than our first remark." The peddler was courteous and agreed that we were right.—Harry Izor in The Durand Express.

World's Biggest Show Is Coming

All the civilized world knows The Big Show—Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey—and now comes the announcement that this colossal of the amusement world will exhibit in Detroit, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, July 24-26.

The No. 1 advertising car, the first of three ahead of The Greatest Show on Earth, is now in the vicinity. Billposters, handmen, lithographers, radio men and press agents are heralding the great event, and soon everyone will be planning for a gala visit to the world's largest "big top," the center of the largest canvas city ever assembled to thrill, entertain and amuse a great and discriminating population.

It will come on 100 double-length steel railroad cars, with its giant super-circuses. Four trains, bearing 1000 people, 43 elephants, 1000 menagerie animals, including a herd of giraffes, and 700 horses, will unload at intervals show-day morning. Colossus, awesome six-ton sea elephant, comes in his private tank car. Pre-eminent features are many. The Orland-Mara Sensation (in which Orland, carrying Miss Mara on his back, hurled himself in a terrific dive from the dome of the great tent) to land upon his chest on a sheet as in the arena far below) staggers the imagination. Con Colonna, world's most acclaimed somersaulting wire artist; Zacchini, fired from the mouth of a siege gun in a high, sweeping, breath-taking flight across the mammoth tent; The Flying Codonas, featuring Alfredo, the world's only triple mid-air somersaulter to a hand-to-hand catch; Luicita Lewis, Europe's supreme aerial gymnast; The Wallendas, defying death in astounding feats on a steel wire in the peak of the big top; Al Powell, flying aerial contortionist; Winnifred, lovely somersaulting artiste of the high swinging trapeze; the Rieffenaechs and the Ernestos, heading the new five-continent congress of bareback stars; Maximo, beloved comedian of the slack wire—these are but a few of the stellar attractions. There are 800 performers and 100 internationally celebrated and beloved clowns. The Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey horse fair has become a feature amazing in its appeal throughout the North American continent.

Mr. and Mrs. Corrie L. Reck, who have been the guests of the former's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Reck, the past ten days, left Wednesday, for Minneapolis, Minnesota, where they will visit another brother before going on to their home in Superior, Wisconsin.

Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Reck, accompanied by their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Reck of Superior, Wis., and Mr. and Mrs. Melburn Partridge, motored to Canada by way of the tunnel, having dinner there and returned by the Ambassador bridge. Other points of interest which they enjoyed were Grosse Pointe and Belle Isle.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Patterson, accompanied by Mrs. A. E. Patterson and her house guests, Mrs. Eva Sutherland and daughter, Miss Betty Sutherland of Chicago, Ill., left Wednesday morning, by motor for Traverse City, where they will visit the former's brother at his summer home on Traverse Bay for a few days, and attend the Cherry Festival in that city.

W. C. T. U. Will Meet at Newburg

The July meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union will be held Thursday, the 23rd, at 2:30 p. m., at the home of Mrs. Emma Ryder of Newburg. Those who have no conveyances can reach the place by bus. It is hoped that the Newburg members will furnish the program. A large attendance is anticipated as the Newburg meetings are always enjoyable.

Mrs. Karel Starkweather, W. C. T. U. treasury, who has been quite ill, is able to be about again. Mrs. Clara Todd is getting along finely. Mrs. John R. Hartung is slowly recovering from the effects of her fall. It is hoped that all three may soon be able to be present at the meetings of the W. C. T. U.

PERRINSVILLE :

Mr. and Mrs. John Kuble and son, Frank, of Wayne, called on Otto Roddeberg and family recently.

Mr. and Mrs. George Richards and Clarence Richards of Island Lake, spent Friday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Klatt.

The Perrinsville Sunday-school met at Riverside Park, Plymouth, Saturday, for their annual picnic. The afternoon was spent in games, races and singing. At seven o'clock all enjoyed a beautiful picnic supper. Several from Garden City attended.

Miss Leona Boyer of Detroit, and Arthur Gunus of Alcona, spent Wednesday evening with the former's father, W. J. Beyer, the occasion being his birthday.

Mildred Card of Northville, is spending her vacation at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Beyer, of Merriman road.

Peter Kuble and family called on relatives at Ypsilanti, Sunday.

Fix Dates For Hunting Season

The 1931 open prairie chicken hunting season will coincide with the Ruffed Grouse season. The Conservation Commission, acting on authority given it by the 1931 legislature has ordered an open season for prairie chicken to extend from October 15 to 26th inclusive. These are the same dates set by the legislature for hunting Ruffed Grouse in the lower peninsula.

During the coming fall prairie chicken hunting will be permitted only in the lower peninsula north of Wayne, Washtenaw, Jackson and Van Buren counties.

The commission ordered a closed season on Ruffed Grouse for the upper peninsula.

The bag limit for partridge and prairie chicken remain the same for each species; five in one day, ten in possession at one time, and ten for the season.

All of the seasonal dates and regulation for muskrats remain the same as last year, the commission deciding to retain the zone system.

While the raccoon hunting and trapping regulations remain the same as in 1930, the season in which dogs may be trained on raccoon has been shortened, so that the training of dogs on raccoons is unlawful before October 2.

To Open Season On The Beaver

Eight lower and eleven upper peninsula counties will be open to beaver trapping December 5, for a 15 days season.

Trappers will be limited to five beaver pelts or live animals. Beaver trapping will be lawful only through a special license to be sold by the Department of Conservation in counties open to trapping. Licenses will be issued only to residents of the state. The fee for a license will be $2, and a charge of $1.50 will be made for each beaver pelt taken when they are returned to the county seat for registration and sealing as required.

The beaver licenses to be issued this year will expire December 20, the last day of the season. On or before December 25, 1931, all beaver or beaver hides taken during the open season shall be presented to a conservation officer at the county seat where the license was issued. The officer will make a record of each animal and hide and will stamp the hide and mark every live beaver and will collect a fee of $1.50 for registering and stamping each hide and marking each beaver.

Under the license, live beaver may be taken during the season as well as pelts.

The Conservation Commission, in issuing an order opening a beaver season this fall, declared 19 counties open as follows:

Upper Peninsula: Chippewa, Mackinac, Luce, Schoolcraft, Alger, Delta, Menominee, Dickinson, Marquette, Iron and Gogebic.

Lower Peninsula: Alpena, Montcalm, Antrim, Charlevoix, Cheboygan, Presque Isle and Emmet. Within the counties to be open for beaver trapping, several areas will be considered beaver refuges and signs will be posted forbidding beaver trapping. These areas are the state parks,

Rheumatism

Recent reports from Massachusetts give rheumatism as the greatest single cause of chronic illness and nearly 85 per cent occurs in individuals over 45 years of age. To illustrate its frequency, there are 145,000 individuals suffering with rheumatism, 80,000 with heart disease, and 10,000 with cancer. Rheumatism is common throughout the temperate climate. In Massachusetts, about 50 per cent of the rheumatics were either treating themselves or receiving no treatment, and this applied equally to the well-to-do and to the poor. At one hospital for the cure of rheumatic patients in that state, 95 per cent of the patients were helped, 65 per cent with good results and 30 per cent with partially favorable results.

However, the fact remains that many of these patients cannot be cured although some can be greatly benefited if the condition is treated early. In contrast with many other diseases it is better to have rheumatism develop later in life as it is much less disabling.

When the joint structures are destroyed there is not much that can be done to improve the function and our efforts should be directed toward prevention. Most cases of rheumatism occur on the basis of infection, the germs of which are distributed to joints already injured or under strain, and the destructive process begins. Elaborate studies have been conducted by experienced physicians to prove this mechanism, and in the majority of cases the organisms found are similar to those usually present in tonsils, sinuses and teeth.

To the best of our knowledge the essential points in preventing rheumatism are as follows: Avoid as much as possible upper respiratory infections, such as colds, sore throats, and chronic catarrh. Do not permit disease to invade the teeth or gums. Secure adequate elimination of waste products daily. Avoid overweight after the age of 35. When you are tired, depressed, or underweight, find the reason.

Each of these admonitions is important but in spite of the best of care people will continue to have rheumatism. It might be said, however, that the effort to avoid the condition is worth while, for should you become afflicted your physician would insist upon the preventive measures listed above being carried out as a part of the effort to arrest the disease.

Our most successful curative measures are not diets or medicines, but general building-up methods, and especially the judicious application of some form of heat and massage. About 10 per cent of all cases are completely disabled but until this stage is reached there always is hope for improvement.

game refuges, including the Cusino and Escanaba River tracts, and other areas closed to all trapping by commission orders; all administered state forest lands known as the Superior, Mackinac, Alpena, Hardwood, Black Lake, Pigeon River and Presque Isle State Forests; and all National Forest Lands known as the Ottawa, Hiawatha and Marquette National Forests. Rangers in the national forests included, probably will be given authority to enforce the beaver regulations in their particular areas.

Motor Boats To Be Regulated

Under an act given immediate effect by the 1931 legislature, conservation officers and all other officers authorized to make arrests are given liberal powers in regulating motor boats.

The new law, which applies to motor boats operating on all inland waters and connecting waters of the Great Lakes and within a quarter mile of shore on the Great Lakes, makes reckless driving with a motor boat a misdemeanor, for which a severe penalty is attached.

The law provides that no motor boat shall be operated "in a reckless manner or at an excessive rate of speed so as to endanger the life or property of any person in or on said waters, having due regard to the presence of other boats, bathers, persons engaged in fishing, or objects in or on such waters, and of any other conditions then existing and no person shall operate such motor boat on said waters at a rate of speed greater than will permit him to bring it to a stop within the assured clear distance ahead."

All motor boats operated on these waters during the period from one hour after sunset to one hour before sunrise shall be equipped with a light on the bow which can be plainly distinguished at a distance of five hundred feet.

A satisfactory muffler or underwater exhaust must be part of the equipment of all motor boats and the muffler or underwater exhaust must remain closed and in proper working order at all times when the motor is operating. The only exception to this provision is when the boat is engaged in a supervised motor boat race, regatta or speed trial.

A fine of $10 or ten days in jail is provided for the first offense; a fine of $20 or 20 days in jail for the second offense; a fine not exceeding $100 and costs or 90 days in jail or both for the third offense.

The Conservation Department has asked the attorney general's opinion as to whether this motor boat law would restrict boating over fish spawning beds.

NOTICE

of Increase In Price of Cemetery Lots at RIVERSIDE CEMETERY

Notice is hereby given that the price of cemetery lots at Plymouth Riverside Cemetery will be increased, effective July 1, 1931.

During the month of July, lots may be purchased for cash at the original price of $1.00 per square foot. Lots sold on the partial payment plan after July 1st will be charged for at the new prices.

This increase in lot price was made necessary because of a large deficit which has been created during the past 10 years.

All persons desiring lots in the cemetery should purchase during the month of July at the present low price. Purchase of lots for speculative purposes is prohibited.

A study of one thousand families using ELECTROCHEF electric range showed a cooking cost of

LESS THAN 1¢ A MEAL A PERSON

LEMON meringue pie is difficult to bake successfully. The pastry shell requires a comparatively high heat, and the delicately browned meringue a much lower heat. To get both temperatures equally well with the same oven demands extremely accurate heat control. That is where my Electrochef electric oven proves its superiority.

"My Electrochef electric range makes possible exact temperature control—either high or low. Mirror-like inner walls distribute a gentle heat evenly throughout the oven. There is no intense dry heat to scorch pastry and make baking difficult. The accurate Electrochef oven control maintains uniform heat from start to finish. I'm simply in love with this modern range!"

Chicken Thieves Sent To Prison

Two chicken thieves were given jail sentences of 2 to 15 years each in Jackson prison by Glenn G. Gillespie, of Pontiac, in Circuit Court Wednesday morning after their capture early last week in a chicken coop on the Grimmer farm, Halsted and 13-Mile road, by Edward and Herman Grimmer.

The two men, Clark Cummings, 25, and Carl Cummings, 31, brothers, of Roseville, and former residents of this section, were arraigned before Henry W. Harpster and pleaded guilty. They waived examination and were bound over to Circuit Court for sentence.

Carelessness on the part of the two men in leaving a gate open on the Grimmer farm, permitting release of several cows, resulted in their capture. Noise made by the cows as they left the barn awakened the Grimmer brothers. Armed with a shotgun and revolver they went to the coop and captured the pair. Carl Cummings was handcuffed immediately, but Edward Grimmer was forced to go into the coop and capture Clark Cummings. Near him, it was said, was a four-foot club. Deputies William Tamm and Joseph DeVriendt of Farmington, were summoned and placed the pair under arrest.

The burglars had perked their car in a hay field. Deputies say they found loot, consisting of turkeys, chickens and rabbits at the brothers' home in Roseville. The two men admitted stealing the fowl in eight burglaries in the northern part of Oakland County, police said.

The Cummings brothers until three weeks ago lived on Greening Boulevard, between 12 and 13 Mile roads in Farmington Township. One of the men was employed in a garage in Farmington two years ago.

A former police commissioner of Philadelphia believes that the 18th Amendment can be enforced, if honest and sympathetic officials are put on the job. He says that the chief stumbling block to success in prohibition is the great number of aliens in this country—people who were used to liquor and license in their own native land. Our own feeling in the matter partially agrees with the police official, but we'd add this: "the best way to make prohibition succeed is to create a desire for its success in the hearts and minds of the public—for, after all, public officials very largely reflect the attitude of the voters who elect them."—George Averill in The Birmingham Eccentric.

As the glory of the autumn with the ripening of the leaves, Marks the ending of the harvest and the binding of the sheaves: So there seemed a fitting beauty in the glory of the day That marked the peaceful ending of this life that passed away. And the waning of the season with its fruit all bravely won, Blended with the finished life, as though two were one. Again the silent messenger has come into this home, and many friends extend to the bereaved ones thoughts of love and sympathy.

Mrs. Marion Tillotson was born March 17, 1838. In 1857 she married John Burton Tillotson. A daughter, Fannie, was born to them, but lived only fifteen months. Mr. Tillotson passed away August 3, 1907.

Mrs. Tillotson passed away July 7, 1931, at the age of ninety-two years, three months and twenty days. Her manner was easy and most affable, and the influence of her life, so well lived, will always remain and be helpful to those with whom she came in contact.

Miss Sarah Cutler of Newburg, is spending a week at Camp Gray, Saugatuck on Lake Michigan, as a delegate from the Chicago Y. W. C. A. Miss Cutler attended the Y. W. C. A. art school in Chicago last winter and it is her intention to return there for another term.

Herman Dignau of Owosso, recently appointed boxing commissioner by Gov. Brucker, attended a meeting of the boxing commissioners in Jackson, Thursday evening, after which he was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Carley on North Harvey street.

Miss Helen Goebel of Phoenix Subdivision, has just returned from a trip to Kansas City, Kansas. She was accompanied by her brother, Paul, and her sister, Mrs. Florence Thompson. They stopped at St. Louis, to visit Miss Rachel Fallot, formerly of this place. On their return they stopped at Springfield, Illinois, to visit Lincoln's Tomb and home. They also spent a day in Chicago.

MRS. MARION TILLOTSON
As the glory of the autumn with the ripening of the leaves, Marks the ending of the harvest and the binding of the sheaves: So there seemed a fitting beauty in the glory of the day That marked the peaceful ending of this life that passed away. And the waning of the season with its fruit all bravely won, Blended with the finished life, as though two were one. Again the silent messenger has come into this home, and many friends extend to the bereaved ones thoughts of love and sympathy.

Mrs. Marion Tillotson was born March 17, 1838. In 1857 she married John Burton Tillotson. A daughter, Fannie, was born to them, but lived only fifteen months. Mr. Tillotson passed away August 3, 1907.

Mrs. Tillotson passed away July 7, 1931, at the age of ninety-two years, three months and twenty days. Her manner was easy and most affable, and the influence of her life, so well lived, will always remain and be helpful to those with whom she came in contact.

"Little Stories for Bedtime" by Thornton W. Burgess

A Wolverine is very smart. A fact which no one can deny. "Perfectly safe, for tonight anyway," growled Buster. "Now what was it you saw Glutton do?" "Well," began Honker once more "a little while before I left my summer home in the Far North one of those trapper-men came to live on the shore of the lake where I lived and built a queer little house there. He made it out of logs and put a roof of bark on it. When he had finished that he took a lot of traps in his canoe all around the shore of that lake and back in the woods and along the brooks that flowed into the lake. He had ever and ever so many traps, and it took him days and days to set all of them. I could see him when he was at work close to the shore of the lake, but I never could find any of the traps after he had set them, though I went straight over to the places where he had been at work just as soon as he had left. Sometimes I found the food he had left there to tempt the little people for whom he had set the traps, but I never could see the traps themselves. He was very smart, was that trapper.

"Of course, I told everybody whom I met, but you see, I sleep at night, so I didn't see many. Every once in a while that trapper would go all around to look at his traps and kill the poor little people who were caught, if they were not already dead. Then he would set the traps again and put more food there. It was dreadful."

"Traps always are dreadful," growled Buster.

"One morning I happened to look over to the shore, and there was Glutton the Wolverine. I swam over to tell him about those traps, but he just laughed at me.

"You can't tell me anything about them," said he in that ugly way of his. "I know more about them than you'll ever learn." Guess he did, too, for what do you think he was doing?"

"What?" cried Peter Rabbit, who was listening with all his might.

"He was following that trapper all around, eating up the food at each trap and then, pulling up the trap, leaving it where everybody could see it. There wasn't one of those traps hidden so that he couldn't find it and pull it out without getting caught in it."

Buster chuckled. "Didn't I tell you that Glutton is smart?" said he. "I'd like to have seen that trapper when he came around the next time."

"I did," replied Honker. (© by J. G. Lloyd.—WNU Service.)

California Cities to Get Cheap Water From Colorado River

MAN'S eternal conflict with the desert is soon to have another episode, one which will be enacted in Southern California by Los Angeles and 13 other cities which make up the metropolitan water district. These towns—Anaheim, Beverly Hills, Burbank, Colton, Fullerton, Glendale, Long Beach, Pasadena, San Bernardino, San Marino, Santa Ana, Santa Monica, Los Angeles and Torrance—have joined forces in the metropolitan water district of Southern California, a special governmental unit created by the state legislature for the purpose of solving the region's acute water problem by building a huge aqueduct from the Colorado river.

Tremendous momentum has been given the project by the United States Supreme court action in dismissing Arizona's suit against Boulder dam, a structure of vital importance to the realization of the aqueduct plan. Already the government has obligated itself to the extent of $49,000,000 on the giant structure. Already steam shovels and pneumatic drills and blasting operations are disturbing the primitive quiet of Boulder canyon, along the rushing Colorado. It has been estimated that it will cost the average taxpayer less than one cent a day to buy the world's largest aqueduct. It will be 266 miles long and will cost $200,000,000. It will take six to eight years to build.

The aqueduct will carry water from Parker's intake on the Colorado river some 266 miles across deserts and mountains to the 14 cities in the Southern California coastal plain. Our illustration shows an artist's conception of what the completed Boulder—or rather Hoover—dam will look like. The work of man being sketched to scale on a photograph of the thousand-foot canyon walls between which the Colorado river rushes. In the foreground and on the face of the cliff are hydro-electric plants which will generate millions of horse power. Behind the dam will be impounded 30,500,000 acre-feet of water in a lake 110 miles long. A portion of this great inland sea will reach the 14 cities of Southern California through the metropolitan aqueduct.

UNIQUE TRAVELING BAG
Driving down United States Highway No. 40 into Kansas, a motorist overtook and gave a lift to a young man walking and carrying a gasoline container painted the usual red. Down the highway the two drove for mile upon mile. Finally the motorist asked: "Where is that car of yours, anyway?" "I have no car," the pedestrian answered. "Well, what are you carrying that gasoline can for?" The passenger unstrapped several small fasteners on the container and off came the whole top. Inside was a neatly-arranged wardrobe of men's clothing.

THE SCHLESWIG SKEEKS

LITTLE was known of this creature until after the war, when a special expedition was sent out by the American Museum of Nutty Natural History to capture a few specimens and complete its biological classification. The scientists found that it was a very difficult animal to capture entire, as the skeek has anywhere from one to ten distinct sections that at the slightest warning of danger will break apart and skurry in all directions for shelter. After the danger is over the skeek with the head will whistle gently and the rest of him will run to join up again.

The one shown above assembled at the museum from parts of several creatures captured on this trip has a peanut head with sectional bodies of small filberts. The ears and feet are split navy beans, and the legs, neck and tails are cloves.

EATS FOR THE PICNIC

LET'S have a picnic. Who will make the sandwiches?" That is the question usually asked until by the time the picnic season is well advanced the girl who has the reputation for being willing to make picnic sandwiches wishes that picnics had never been invented. Sandwiches seem so easy—if you don't have to make them. But why bother with sandwiches anyway? To be sure they provide bread and butter and something else in a convenient form but there are just as many disadvantages about sandwiches as there are advantages. More and more experienced picnickers and campers are getting out of the sandwich habit. For one thing, butter soft enough to be spread without breaking the bread is far less appetizing than butter that starts off to the picnic as hard as the refrigerator will make it, packed in a tightly closed jar containing broken ice. Most people like a little lettuce in their sandwiches, but it becomes hopelessly wilted if the sandwiches are made an hour or more before they are to be eaten. So instead of sandwiches let me suggest, for your next picnic, an adequate supply of rolls, a jar of butter in ice, and the necessary spread of fillings carried separately. These may include a jar of mayonnaise, slices of ham, chicken or other meat wrapped in oil paper, well chilled whole tomatoes, small cans of potted meats and well washed lettuce leaves wrapped in a damp cloth, then wrapped in waxed paper and carried in an airtight tin with a little ice.

SOME GOOD HINTS
THERE is no more tasty breakfast or luncheon bread than Graham Gems. To one cupful of sifted graham flour add one cupful of sour milk, one beaten egg, half a teaspoonful of salt, one teaspoonful of soda, two tablespoonfuls of sugar and three tablespoonfuls of shortening. Bake in gem pans.

Rocks.
Cream one cupful of butter or sweet shortening, add one and one-half cupfuls of sugar, two beaten eggs, two and one-half cupfuls of flour sifted with two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, add spices, dates, walnuts, all together making a cupful. Drop by spoonfuls on a baking sheet.

Coffee Cake.
Warm three-fourths of a cupful of shortening, beat three eggs, stir in half a cupful of sugar and a cupful of raisins, mix all with the shortening and add to five cupfuls of light bread sponge. Mix well, add flour and stir until as thick as the spoon will mix. Set into a pan to rise and when light spread in shallow pans. Cover with soft butter, sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon well mixed and set to rise. Bake when light.

Simple Dessert.
Place a layer of shredded pineapple or any good flavored fruit in a glass dish, cover with cake or cookie crumbs, add more fruit and finish to top with crumbs. Over all heap whipped cream sweetened and flavored. Serve cold.

Banana Dessert.
Slice perfect bananas lengthwise into halves, spread with raspberry jam and put together sandwich fashion. Lay on a glass plate and serve with whipped cream sweetened and flavored; garnish with a cherry.

Cooling and Refreshing.
Take plenty of oranges and lemons for lemonade, they not only cool and refresh the body but are rich in vitamins. When the children tease for a cake or cookie, give them a ripe banana or an orange, this will satisfy the hunger without spoiling the meal soon to follow.

The Old Gardener
Says:
MADONNA lilies should be planted in August if the bulbs can be obtained, but if not, as soon as they reach the stores. Amateurs often make the mistake of waiting until late in the fall before planting the bulbs of this lily, supposing that they require the same treatment as most other lilies. The fact is, however, that the madonna lily, which is also known as the ascension lily, St. Joseph lily, the annunciation lily, and lent lily, has a distinct habit of growth, coming up in the autumn, although not blooming until spring. That is why it should be planted early, and why it should go into the ground only three or four inches deep instead of six or eight inches, like other lily bulbs. It will thrive in any good garden soil, either in full sun or in partial shade. Its pure white flowers are exceedingly attractive, especially when grouped in front of evergreens.

Crop Conditions Are Most Encouraging. Says State Report

Although total precipitation during June was below normal in most sections of the state, timely rains and above normal temperatures favored plant growth, and the condition of all field crops except beans and tame hay was average or above on July 1. While the acreage of fall-sown grains is below that of last year, planting conditions were generally favorable this spring, and the total acreage of the 12 principal crops is estimated to be 2 per cent larger than the area harvested last fall, but only 1 per cent larger than the planted acreage of last July. The increases compared with last year's harvested acreages for the various crops are: corn, 9 per cent; field beans, 8 per cent; oats, 4 per cent; barley, 30 per cent; potatoes, 6 per cent; alfalfa, 5 per cent; and field peas, 14 per cent. The acreage of winter wheat remaining for harvest is set at 4 per cent less than last year, and rye 5 per cent less. The tame hay acreage is estimated to be 5 per cent smaller than the 1930 harvested acreage, and the state's sugar beet acreage 15 per cent smaller.

The Michigan bean acreage is estimated at 842,000 acres, which is 7.0 per cent more than was harvested last fall, but only 1.3 per cent more than was planted last spring, owing to the heavy abandonment last year. The condition of the crop on July 1 was only 77 per cent of normal, or five points below average for that date. This low figure reflects to poor condition of a good many fields where stands are spotted due to poor germination, cutworm and bean maggot damage. However, replantings were sufficiently early in most sections so that with favorable weather they will mature a crop. The increase in acreage this year was largely in the Saginaw Valley and Thumb sections, the outlying counties of the Bean Belt showing a general tendency to reduce their acreages after the low yields secured last year. Since yields in the former areas have been, on the average, about 10 per cent above those for the state as a whole, the shift in acreage this year favors a higher state average yield than when the increases are in the marginal bean sections such as was the case last year. The indicated production on July 1 is reported at 8,420,000 bushels, whereas last year's crop was cut by the drought to 4,602,000 bushels.

The state's potato acreage is estimated at 250,000 acres as compared with 230,000 harvested last year. Stands are reported generally good and the crop made excellent progress during the past month, according to Irvin Holmes, Assistant Agricultural Statistician, and Herbert E. Powell, Commissioner of Agriculture. The condition of 86 per cent, which is the same as the ten-year average for July 1, indicates a possible production of 27,250,000 bushels. Last year the drought coupled with October freezes reduced the crop to 13,888,000 bushels. Although the acreage of winter wheat for harvest is smaller than a year ago, present condition and probable yield reports indicate a yield of 22.5 bushels per acre. The ten-year average for the state is only 17.8 bushels. While there was some damage from lodging due to heavy rain-wind and hail, in local areas, the outlook at harvest time for the state as a whole was 14 points above average. The production is estimated at 15,345,000 bushels. Since several of the state's sugar beet factories will not operate this year, the acreage of this crop amounts to only 63,000 acres. Last year 85,000 acres were planted, of which 74,000 were harvested. The condition of the crop on the first of the month was reported as 22 points above average, which indicates a probable production of 412,000 tons. Last year 513,000 tons were harvested.

Wayne Has 643 Miles Of Township Roads To Be Made County Roads

(By Edward N. Blues—County Road Commissioner) The McNitt Bill which provides for the incorporation of all township roads into the County Road system at the rate of 20% of the mileage per year over a five year period is one of the outstanding measures enacted into law at the recent legislative session, stated Road Commissioner Edward N. Blues recently. For many years upwards of $9,000,000 has annually been levied by the townships of Michigan for Road improvement and road repair. Much of this vast sum has been frittered away and wasted. By placing the control of roads either with the County or the State Highway Department, this situation will be largely corrected in addition to relieving real estate of the tax burden. The McNitt Bill becomes operative next April and to carry out its provisions, $2,000,000.00 has been appropriated for the first year to be divided among the townships on the basis of township road mileage. This appropriation is increased annually, until the fifth year when all township roads will have become county roads, at which time and thereafter $4,000,000.00 will be appropriated annually from the proceeds of the gasoline tax, stated Mr. Blues. In the sixth year the counties are required to take over as county roads all the subdivision streets and alleys in recorded plats and outside of incorporated cities and villages. A study of the township roads of Wayne County has been made and there are 643 miles in the system which will eventually become county roads. There are 95 bridges with a span of 20 feet or upwards and 334 bridges and culverts from twenty-foot down to pipe culverts which are not included in the above figures. Practically all of these bridges are in need of replacement at the earliest possible date. During the past year the townships have levied Highway Improvement and road repair taxes amounting to $301,734.27 which averages about a mill tax on the assessed valuation of the combined townships. Wayne County's allotment of cash for the first year will approximate about $23,000.00, stated Mr. Blues. Gratiot County has the smallest mileage of township roads with only 4 1/2 of a mile followed by Redford Township with 12.3 miles. Sumpter Township with 80.1 miles has the greatest mileage. Van Buren Township this past year raised $5,000.00 the smallest amount levied for road purposes. Brownstown Township is the leader among the townships in the amounts raised for road purpose with a total of $48,848.07.

Golden Wedding At South Lyon

Fifty years ago last Monday, July 6, 1881, H. Frank Bay of South Lyon and Miss Rose Walls of Orchard Lake decided to face the journey of life together and forthwith were married at the latter place. Today, after two score years and ten—happy years—Mr. and Mrs. Bay look back over the road they have traveled and have no regrets. The road may not have been so smooth—none are—but they're not complaining. The years have been kind to them, and they rejoice that they still have each other and can continue their lives of usefulness and contentment. They celebrated their golden anniversary Sunday at their pleasant home on South Lafayette avenue. Dinner was served on the lawn to a company of fifty relatives and friends coming from Pontiac, Goodrich, Grand Rapids, Highland Park, Royal Oak, Salem, Detroit and Birmingham. It was a wonderful occasion—honoring the fiftieth anniversary of this prominent couple. They were the recipients of many presents including gifts of gold. Mr. Bay is strictly a home product. He was born in South Lyon and with the exception of just a few years has always lived here. His life's work has been that of station agent, and he was joint agent of the Pere Marquette and Grand Trunk railroads at South Lyon for thirty-two years. Last year he completed ten years' service as Grand Trunk agent at New Hudson (during which time he drove to and from his work) and it was after that that he was retired with a pension. He had served as agent for about 50 years. The Bays were the parents of two children: Mrs. F. J. Williams of Grand Rapids, and H. H. Bay of Highland Park. Mr. and Mrs. Bay have a host of friends who join with us in extending every wish for many more happy anniversaries.—South Lyon Herald.

Farmers Day Is Fixed For July 31

Farmers Day at Michigan State College, Friday, July 31, will provide a homelike atmosphere for visitors as the economy which has been the farmer's household companion for several years will be apparent on the day's program which will use home talent for the afternoon talks and an inspection of the College herds and fields for the morning's entertainment. Doubtless this year's program will be remembered long after some of the more pretentious ones preceding it have been forgotten because the College now has so many things of interest that anyone interested in agriculture can profitably employ more than one day in examining the work which is being done with crops and livestock. Routes will be laid out and marked over the campus and the College farm so the visitors can select the particular work or stock which they wish to see. Full directions and an explanation of the numbered routes will be handed to each visitor as they enter the College grounds. Each of the College departments will have members of their staffs stationed at the College buildings or at the experimental plots to explain how each experiment is being performed and the results which have been obtained. Some of the experiments have been carried on for a series of years and some have been recently started as new problems in farming have arisen.

Let's cut through this welter of words. WHEN you set out to buy tires, don't you really want the most miles and the utmost in safety at the lowest possible price. That being your objective, which tire should you buy? If the experience of 20,000,000 motorists means anything, you should certainly buy Goodyears. But if you try to puzzle through the welter of statistics on thicknesses, weights and diameters you lose the main issue and are as much at sea as ever. The one and only reliable guide for you to follow is the seasoned preference of the public. And that preference is overwhelmingly for Goodyear. This fact expressed year after year by Goodyear's great leadership is concretely told again in the findings of an impartial investigation made by an unbiased dependable institution that asked 205,000 car owners this simple question: QUESTION: "Regardless of price, convenience, etc., what make of tire do you consider the BEST tire made?" HOW CAR OWNERS VOTED ON THE QUESTION "WHAT TIRE IS BEST?" Based on a National Tire Survey in 1930 by a large unbiased organization. Coming Attractions
At Penniman-Allen

"DADDY LONG LEGS"
Surpassing even her memorable triumph in "Tib Heaven," Janet Gaynor gives a tender, touching portrayal blended with rare humor in "Daddy Long Legs." Fox romantic comedy which will be the attraction at the Penniman-Allen Theatre, Sunday, July 19.

Warner Baxter, also, does the most brilliant work of his career in the leading masculine role of this delightful talkie version of Jean Webster's play, and a distinguished cast gives flawless support.

From all appearance, "Daddy Long Legs" is going to prove one of the biggest hits, if not THE biggest, of the entire screen year. Such a combination of superbly cast players and an ideal story is all too seldom seen on the silver sheet.

"TRANSGRESSION"

Featuring three stars of exceptional ability and boasting a story of unusual merit, "Transgression," Radio Pictures' widely heralded dramatic hit reaches the screen of the Penniman-Allen Theatre, on Saturday, July 25.

The meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the Lutheran church and cooperative supper which was held last Wednesday at the home of Mrs. William Ash on the Ridge Road, was a most enjoyable one. The usual business meeting and social hour was had, and at six o'clock the members and their families to the number of ninety, sat down to a bountiful cooperative supper, which was served on the lawn.

Oldest Town Is

"Barksville, Ill." will not be included in the postoffice index of 1931. The oldest English speaking settlement in the state, boasting the oldest First Baptist Church in Illinois, voted its dissolution, lock, stock and barrel.

About 50 people attended the auction, some of them bargain seekers, others there for the fun of it.

"What am I bid, ladies and gentlemen, for this fine city hall famed throughout our land, a page from our history books?" the auctioneer's voice boomed. "The lot on which it stands goes with it."

There were few bids, and the man who owns the property adjoining the former municipal building offered the highest sum, a total of $211.

"Sold!" And the auctioneer's hammer banged its final approval.

"Now then, who wants a nice new jail? Has seldom been used, is seven feet high, eight feet long and six feet wide. Just a nice iron coop as you can see. What am I bid?"

"Seven dollars and 50 cents."

"Anybody else?" The hammer hesitated, descended. "Sold for $7.50."

The auctioneer cleared his throat, grinning.

"And now, the late city fathers' most indispensable bit of furniture," he shouted. "Here you, best old cuspidor a municipal office ever harbored. Good for a 30-foot shot."

A dime closed the deal. The remaining equipment brought various prices, and when the auction was over it was found that $233.70 had been collected. The money was turned over to the district school fund.

Road trouble, according to former Mayor William Meyer, can be blamed for the disincorporation of this village of 63 inhabitants and approximately 30 homes. The upkeep of the county road, which became the main street of the village because it led to the railroad station, proved too much for the pocketbook when prohibition decreased the funds of the village. Unable to meet financial obligations, the voters decided at an election recently that dissolution was the only way out.

Among the historic spots of defunct Barksville is the graveyard where rest the bones of James Lemen, who served under George Washington in the Revolutionary War. William Jennings Bryan was the principal speaker at the unveiling of a monument there to Lemen in 1905.

"Sacrament" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches on Sunday, July 12. Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "For I have given you an example, that ye should do as I have done to you" (John 13:15). The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Our heavenly Father, divine Love, demands that all men should follow the example of our Master and his apostles and not merely worship his personality. It is said that the phrase 'divine service' has come so generally to mean public worship instead of daily deeds" (p. 40).

The boys' Nethem Club baseball team will play ball next Sunday at Newburg, at 3:00 o'clock, as usual.

METHODIST NOTES
The Booster Sunday-school class will hold their monthly business and social meeting this Friday evening at Riverside Park. Pot-luck supper at 6:30. Coffee Luncheon—Mr. and Mrs. Wm. D. McCullough and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thumme. Come out and enjoy one of our many good times.

Aged and Helpless Hymn Writer Is Honored By Special Church Service

Plymouth Baptists Pay Tribute To One Who Has Written Hundreds of Songs of Praise

While a crowd that filled the auditorium of the First Baptist church of Plymouth sang hymns of praise he had written and speakers paid tribute to his life of untiring efforts in behalf of the church he loved, Rev. Palmer Hartsough, a resident of Plymouth and vicinity for 57 years except for the time away in service of his church, laid helpless and speechless at his home, 233 North Union street, Sunday, Stricken 2 years ago with paralysis, he has been unable to talk or move since, although he perfectly understands what is said to him.

Whether Rev. Hartsough was thinking of the approach of the end for his life or whether the idea was developed by some other reason, the beautiful hymn he wrote, "I Am Resolved," was one of the last from his pen. It tells of the other life and of his willingness to meet it. The words of the song follow:

HIS HYMNS SUNG AT PRAISE SERVICE

At the Baptist Church Sunday evening, scores of old time friends and new ones of Rev. Palmer Hartsough united in a song tribute to this aged writer of church hymns, who ties speechless and helpless at the home of his sister, 233 Union street. Rev. Hartsough has written hundreds of songs that are now used in the churches of the country.

I Am Resolved

I am resolved no longer to linger, Charmed by the world's delight; Things that are higher, things that are nobler, These have allured my sight.

I am resolved to go to the Saviour, Leaving my sin and strife; He is the true one, He is the just one, He hath the words of life.

I am resolved to follow the Saviour, Faithful and true each day, Heed what he saith, do what He willeth, He is the living way.

I am resolved to enter the Kingdom, Leaving the paths of sin; Friends may oppose me, foes may beset me, Still will I enter in.

I am resolved, and who will go with me? Come, friends, without delay, Taught by the Bible, led by the Spirit, We'll walk the heavenly way.

I will hasten to Him, Hasten so glad and free, Jesus, greatest, highest, I will come to Thee.

For years Rev. Hartsough has been one of the best known church hymn writers in the country. The song books of the Baptist church throughout America and the rest of the world are filled with songs this aged Plymouth pastor wrote. For over a century he devoted his time to hymn writing, and one of the big church publishing houses in Cincinnati, constantly appealed to him for more of his work.

The remembrance service so thoughtfully arranged Sunday night by Rev. Richard Neale, was exceptionally well attended, and it proved one of the most inspiring meetings held in Plymouth in many a month. Rev. Neale preached a brief but inspiring sermon, using the beautiful life led by Rev. Hartsough as the inspiration for his talk.

The meeting opened with a violin duet by Miss Doris Hamill and Mr. Neale. The choir sang several of the songs composed by Rev. Hartsough, among which was one entitled, "Trust Thou in God" and "I Am Resolved."

Another of his compositions, a very beautiful duet, "Trust in the High and Holy" was sung in which the choir joined in the chorus.

As Rev. Neale had not known the aged Brother Hartsough in his former days when he was able to be around, a young man was called upon to give a few personal glimpses on him. His thought was to some extent summarized in the scripture verse of the old Hebrew law found in Leviticus 19:32, "Thou shalt rise up before the hoary head, and honor the face of the old man, and fear thy God: I am the Lord."

As Rev. Hartsough in his former days enjoyed youth and its companionship, the speaker told of the many times when he and his 'young' old friend, nearly double his age, joined the Baptist young people's rallies with hearty vigor, one playing the organ or piano, the other leading in the chorus singing, and all getting such a wonderful uplift from the companionship together.

Rev. Neale used as his theme for the evening the story of Mordecai as found in the Book of Esther. "He, whom the King delighteth to honor." And although the Christ is not specifically outlined in the story, the analogy was clearly brought home that as Haman the cruel and villainous one sought to destroy Mordecai, (He, whom the king delighteth to honor,) even so Satan in his foulest of deeds sought to destroy the Christ of God even to crucifying "the Holy One of Israel." But the plea went out as recorded in the Philippians:

"Wherefore God also hath highly exalted him, and given him a name which is above every name: That at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, of things in heaven, and things in earth, and things under the earth, And that every tongue should con-

Oh Wonderful Word of Salvation

"To you is the word of this salvation sent."—Acts 13:26.
Oh wonderful word of salvation, Oh wonderful message of love, To us who have fallen and wondered So far from the City above. Oh tenderest whispers of pardon, Oh love that we ever shall sing, Oh beautiful tidings of mercy, From Heaven's all glorious King. The tempest may gather without me, And dangers from Satan and sin, His word is a fortress about me, And faith is unshaken within. Though thorny the way, He is guiding; I follow with footstep so free, For peace in my heart is abiding, And Heaven is waiting for me.

Oh help me to tell the sweet story, The wonderful message proclaim; For all there is a mansion in glory, For all there is hope in His name. There's joy for the journey that's dreary, There's sight for the eyes that are dim, There's strength for the feet that are weary, There's glory eternal with Him.

Oh Happy World
Sing every clime and tongue, Oh happy world, Over thee a golden day is breaking; Peace hath her colors o'er the sky unfurled, War, nations now are fast forsaking. Night shall for sin and wrong no more assail, No more the poor and weak oppressing; Justice for truth and right shall now prevail, Crowning the joyful world with blessing.

Rise, nations in your might, as strikes the hour, Join ye, this highest best endeavor; Cast out the demon war, break now his power— On earth be peace henceforth forever. Hail; dawn of joy and peace, brightly unfurled, Hail! reign of righteousness, Blessing the world;

Hail! earth in friendly mood, Hail! man in brotherhood, Hail! Him, the Father, good, Oh happy world.

On Thee My Soul Is Stayed
On thee, my Lord, my soul is stayed, with thee my heart is undivided; Thy presence makes my pathway bright, Thy smile illumines the darkest night, His gracious hand my needs supplies, His cheering voice makes joys to rise, And all the way I'll trust in Him. The strength should fall and sight grow dim. Let tempests rage, let ill befall, Let death appal, On thee, my Lord, My Soul is stayed, On thee my Lord.

In The Steps of Jesus
Following the steps of Jesus, Walking in the blessed way, Cheerily we go, Happily we go, In the shining steps of Jesus; All the dreary way is brightness, All the heavy load is lightness, Cheerily we go, Happily we go, In the steps of Jesus.

He has trod the vale of sorrow, All the weary way he knoweth; We will never fear, He is ever near, And a joy His presence giveth; Mountains may rise before us, Tempests may be raging o'er us, Nothing can afright, Everything is right, In the steps of Jesus.

Who could ever bear to wonder, In the ways of sin and sorrow? Who could ever stray from the path away, From the road to God and Heaven? We will ever gladly follow, Closer still, and closer follow, Till the journey past, We are safe at last, In the home of Jesus.

Chicken Thieves Sent To Prison

With the arrest this week of Willie Manning, 26, Inkster, and Howard Torain, 24, Detroit, self admitted chicken thieves, Sergeant Bruce McGone, commander of the Wayne detachment of state police, believes the mob of chicken robbers who have been terrorizing poultry farmers in this part of Wayne County for the past three months, is at last broken up.

Both Manning and Torain were sentenced Tuesday to an indefinite term in the Detroit house of correction. Joe Coralezyk of New Boston, was sentenced on the same charge three weeks ago to serve 7 1/2 to 15 years in the Jackson state prison.

Due to the reluctance of the prisoners to talk it has not been ascertained if Coralezyk was a member of the same gang as Manning and Torain. All are previous offenders and have served time in various penal institutions throughout the state.

When apprehended in Dearborn by McGone and Corporal Walker, assisted by Dearborn city police, Manning and Torain had 82 chickens in the rear end of an old roadster they were driving. Twelve of the chickens had snuffed. The men admitted stealing the 82 chickens from Robert SoCALL, Romulus, Route 2.

The other chicken thefts the men admitted were 220 chickens from Curtis Woechter, Romulus, Route 1; 100 from Fred Winkelman, Romulus, Route 1; 35 from Charles Myers, Wayne county 3; 30 from Mrs. William Kennedy, Belleville Route 3; 32 from William Motenia, Belleville Route 1; and 5 from William Averr, Belleville Route 1.

This, together with the number of chickens the two boys had in their possession at the time of their arrest accounts for a total of 554 chickens reported stolen since May 1. Sergeant McGone and Corp. Walker had been working on the chicken theft cases for the past two months. Manning and Torain and several other members suspected of being implicated in the thefts had been under surveillance for some time, although Manning and Torain, who are said to be the leaders of the mob, were the only two the police were able to apprehend with the evidence.

A TRAIL OF ROSES

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

HE WAS only a common worker, and he moved from town to town.

There is one of them down in Asheville.

There is one of them up in Ithaca. There's a rose of red in a garden bed.

Of his old Grand Rapids home. It is only a trail of roses.

But it speaks of a sort of man Who will come today and will go his way.

And many a time I wonder, If we, as we walk the years, Leave a smile behind, or a whisper kind.

That the heart that needs it hears. We are only the common workers, And we can't do much, God knows, But I hope we leave for the hearts that grieve.

Earl Mastick Shows New Car

The new Plymouth is now being displayed in the salesrooms of Earl Mastick, Plymouth dealer.

This new Plymouth is radically different from all cars in one very fundamental aspect.

In floating power the Plymouth engineers developed a two-point front and rear only suspension.

The elasticity of the rubber serves both to give freedom to motion of the engine as a mass and to limit that motion.

The suspension points—the front one at almost the highest position to which the mounting could be applied.

In every car torque reaction tends to swing the engine to the right side so a further check on motion in this direction is created by the placing of a cantilever spring.

Combined with floating power in the new Plymouth is the industry's recent innovation—free wheeling—as standard equipment.

Shifting, also, is refined in the new Plymouth by the design of the new transmission.

In addition to these momentous changes which the new Plymouth inaugurates in low-priced car specifications.
