BANKS PROFITING BY FEDERAL AID SYSTEM

Approximately $2,500,000 in loans to 25 small banks scattered over the Lower Peninsula of Michigan have been authorized by the Michigan association of the National Credit Corporation...

No application for loans made by any bank in the Lower Peninsula, which is our territory, have been rejected, said this officer, who preferred to remain anonymous...

The Chamber of Commerce officials were told that tentative steps had already been taken to assure continued suburban operations of the bus lines, no matter what Detroit did.

The Lower Michigan association has been active in the country. Numerically it is the strongest more than half of the banks in our district have subscribed the 2 per cent interest charge demanded by National Credit Corporation loans.

The proof of these statements is that approximately 20 per cent of the total loans made by the National Credit Corporation have been placed in the Lower Michigan district.

STINSON PREPARES FOR BIGGEST YEAR

Material commitments totaling more than $2,500,000 have been let within the last five days by the Stinson Aircraft Corp. It was announced recently. The Stinson Corp. is a division of the Ford Corp.

In making the announcement, company officials said that Stinson was preparing for an even bigger year in 1932 than in 1931 when the company sold more than 70 per cent of all the cabin planes in the United States and more trimotored Stinsons than all other manufacturers combined.

Further expansion is contemplated in erection of a new research and experimental laboratories and an improved paint shop.

Officials of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce following news of the action last week of the Detroit city council in ousting the bus company from the streets of Detroit...

The Chamber of Commerce officials were told that tentative steps had already been taken to assure continued suburban operations of the bus lines, no matter what Detroit did.

It is believed that when the time does come for exclusive suburban service on the part of the bus company, Plymouth bus service will be greatly improved as the company has in mind a main line service operating along and from the Plymouth road between the Detroit city limits and all of the various institutions located in this part of Wayne county.

The Wayne county road commission is doing more than any other agency in Detroit or Wayne county to provide men with real work as has been evident during the past two or three months in this part of Wayne county.

START FILLING FOR HIGHWAY

Half Hundred Shovelers Begin Work Tuesday Morning Near Plymouth

Half a hundred men went to work Tuesday morning grading for the new highway that will be constructed early this spring through the River Rouge park system.

All of these workers are men from the welfare list of the county and the work that ordinarily would be done by a steam shovel is being done by hand.

The small hill just west of the bridge is being cut down so that the paving can be built as soon as weather conditions permit in the spring.

Most of the hollow between the bridge and the high ground on the west side will have been filled in by the end of the present week if weather conditions remain at all favorable.

The Wayne county road commission is doing more than any other agency in Detroit or Wayne county to provide men with real work as has been evident during the past two or three months in this part of Wayne county.

Georgia Pecans Used As Currency To Pay For Daisy Air Guns

There was much ado the other day in metropolitan newspapers when a southern resident who owns property in Detroit, paid his taxes with a shipment of pecans.

But Detroit city officials are not the only ones who can claim any such distinction.

A few days ago officials of the Daisy manufacturing company were requested by one of their jobbers in Georgia to cooperate a bit in accepting some of his southern goods in payment for a Plymouth product.

Always a firm believer in co-operation, the Daisy company immediately advised the Georgian jobber to send up 200 or 300 pounds of pecans—and it didn't take long to find a ready market for them among the workers who have helped bring a bit of delight into the lives of southern boys with that ace of all toys—the air gun.

OFFICIALS ANTICIPATE BETTER BUSINESS DURING NEW YEAR

Pay Out $10,000.00 In Bonuses and Life Insurance Premiums During Past Year—Annual Daisy Party A Happy Event

Announcement of the Daisy Manufacturing company this week that its big plant will be placed in full operation Monday morning, January 4, is Plymouth's happiest New Year greeting.

The company plans to put back to work its entire force of employees just as fast as production makes this possible, and that is expected to be within an exceedingly brief time.

The company has been the world's largest manufacturer of air rifles in an effort to provide work for all of its employees has been required in recent months to add other products to his business and through the efforts of its officials several contracts have been secured recently for the making of pressed steel toys.

Just how much of this class of work will be done during the new year, officials of the company are at present unable to say, but every effort is being put forth to secure just as many contracts as possible.

The running time of the Daisy plant during 1932 will depend entirely upon the demands, but Edward C. Hough states that it is the hope of the company that work will be provided for all of the employees during most of the year, if not all of the twelve months.

Daisy company officials, from inquiries and other information received, believe that 1932 is going to be a better business year than was 1931. In anticipation of this condition, operation of the plant will be started immediately after the New Year.

For years the Daisy company has been Plymouth's chief industry and the success of the company has been reflected in the consistent growth of the community and its unusual stability.

It was announced at the annual party of the big Daisy family held at the Masonic Temple, that over $10,000 had been paid out during the past year in bonuses and life insurance premiums to employees of the company.

The annual Christmas party of the Daisy company, when all the employees at the request of the organization, took on a little different form this year than usual.

The first part of the evening was occupied with the names of Keno after which refreshments of fried cakes and cider were served and during the interval Charles Bennett president, gave a short talk.

Mr. Bennett extended a hearty welcome to all present and said he had a very pleasant duty to perform that of presenting a gold watch and chain to the next longest service employee, namely, Myron M. Willett.

The watch, a beautiful white gold, 17 jewel "Howard" was presented on the back as follows: "In recognition of many years of faithful service March 19, 1906 to December 23, 1931. Daisy Manufacturing Co. Myron M. Willett.

Upon the request of the processor, the trial of the case resulting from a dispute between three Plymouth jobbers was Tuesday night adjourned, by Justice Aluray until 2 o'clock, January 12.

WE ARE GRATEFUL

Another year has become history. A year of doubt and fear, a year of tribulations for many—and one of concern for all.

It could have been worse and we are thankful indeed that it was not.

We too are grateful indeed that Plymouth has passed through one of the most hectic years in the history of our country without suffering the material damage of numerous other communities.

This is due to a certain extent to the stability of the community and the good judgement that its residents have used in times of stress.

From all that can be learned, from the statements of business leaders throughout the nation and world, we have reason to believe that 1932 is going to be a better year than the past year.

The world is undergoing a great economic change, there is no doubt about that. There seems to be a tremendous "equalizing" force at work and when it is all over we will all be on a much more stable footing than we have ever before. Things will be of a more equal nature and those who have lived and prospered off the labors and savings of others will have no more opportunity to continue their operations. If they want to live, they will have to labor just like others. In other words the day of the high pressure "security" salesman is over.

Again we say we are indeed thankful that we have escaped much of the calamity that has fallen to others, that we have made progress, possibly not much, but some, in the hectic year of 1931.

As we launch upon another year of effort, there is but one thing to do—WORK harder, longer hours, and more diligently than ever before. Plan carefully and conserve the good name and business standing of our community. Do the hundred and one little things that can be accomplished to ease our own burden as well as that of our neighbor. And finally—most important of all—WORK TOGETHER IN THE INTERESTS OF ONE OF MICHIGAN'S BEST LITTLE CITIES. If we do that we surely shall reap the reward of a well spent year.

Happiness is always found in doing something worthwhile. Let us all unite in one great effort to do something worthwhile for Plymouth during the forthcoming year. We will not only find happiness but we will be building real wealth into our progressive little city.

A DEBT OF HONOR

A news story came out of Long Island the other day that contains considerable encouragement for this cynical world.

Twenty-four years ago there died a man who had been the head of a chain of banks that had failed, the depositors losing about $400,000.

On his death-bed the last wish expressed by the bankrupt official was a request to his son to see that the depositors were paid in full.

It has taken the son 24 years to square this "debt of honor," but the last depositor was paid in full just a few days ago and the debt completely wiped out.

Here is a story that shows business is not always the threat to ethics which it would have us believe. Moral responsibility as shown by this father and son sets an example of which business may be proud.

There still are men old-fashioned enough to believe that an obligation not binding in law still can be morally binding. And when business can set such standards of honesty, there is hope for all of us.

LANSING MAKES A GOOD INVESTMENT

Lansing in common with a number of other cities along the Grand River, of late has become "river bank" concerns. One of the people of Lansing have come to the conclusion that good civic housekeeping demands cleaning the huck yard as well as the front, and that led them to consider their river bank.

Then it occurred to Lansing welfare authorities that the cleanup program might be made to fit nicely with relief of the unemployed, so the city bought a lot of picks and shovels and rakes and gave a selected number of jobless men the job of city beautification along the riverside. And the men went at it with a will. The men were paid 40 cents an hour in scrip redeemable in supplies, and were proud of their part in tidying up their town.

Lansing is making a good investment in more ways than one.

When the year 1932 will have passed, when adjustments in our methods of doing business and in our ways of living will have been completed, as they surely will be, we will find that a greater reward for honest service and honest labor will prevail. We will find too that there will be no rewards for those who have but one object in view—to get by as easily as possible and give little if anything in return for the compensation received. The day of the slacker in labor as well as in business is over. The day of the producer is just starting.

HAPPY NEW YEAR

The Plymouth Mail is pleased to extend to its great family of readers a Happy New Year's greeting. Our wish for you and all of your friends is that 1932 will not only be a beneficial one to you, but that your efforts for advancement and success will bring the rewards conscientious service is entitled to.

MICHIGAN'S DEBT

Michigan's total public debt, including all public obligations of every nature, amounted to $550,648,604.24, at the close of the State's fiscal year, June 30, 1931, according to a detailed report just compiled by Howard U. Lawrence, State Treasurer.

Created for the purpose of collecting funds for the retirement of these obligations were State and Municipal Sinking Funds of $53,028,093.57, or, an increase of $9,433,133.54 in this "Savings Account" during the year.

All municipal units are required by statute to make report annually to the State Treasurer of their indebtedness, as well as the condition of their Sinking Funds.

The bonds of Michigan municipalities outstanding on June 30, 1931, were as follows: Sinking Fund Bonds or Long Term Securities for which retirement is provided through Sinking Funds, $238,121,766.57; Serial Bonds, a portion of which matures annually, $353,736,876.50; Special Assessment Bonds which are obligations upon real estate included in Special Assessment Districts, $57,417,363.59; Notes, Contracts, etc., principally short time or interim paper issued to finance municipalities prior to receipt of taxes, $60,154,333.93.

Obligations of the State of Michigan were: State Highway Improvement Bonds, $50,000,000.00; State Soldier Bonus Bonds, $30,000,000.00; State War Loan Bonds (Refunding) $2,250,000.00; State Fair Bonds (issued by the Commissioner of Agriculture and the Board of Managers of the Michigan State Fair) $1,000,000.00.

For the first time the total amount of outstanding

Covert Road Bonds and Drain Bonds has been compiled. The report shows there were $44,603,136.92 in Covert Road Bonds, and $18,365,016.73 in Drain Bonds.

To retire its obligations when they become due, the State has created a sinking fund. For retirement of State Highway Bonds, the State Treasurer is holding securities, the par value of which is $11,115,709.00, and the cash available on June 30, 1931 for the purpose was $1,092,207.92. Securities with a par value of $12,139,200.00 have been purchased as investments for the Soldier Bonus Sinking Fund, and the cash available for the purchase of other securities was $1,148,333.52. Investments in the War Loan Bond Sinking Fund amount to $822,000.00 and the cash available for this purpose was $288,133.17. The State has invested $100,000.00 in securities for the State Fair Bond Sinking Fund, and the cash available for purchase of securities at the close of the year was $192,672.28.

The various municipal units making provision for their Sinking Funds for the retirement of their obligations had cash and securities on hand totaling $36,114,748.68.

All municipal units must obtain a certificate from the State Treasurer before any bonds are issued. This certificate is to the effect that the governing body of the municipality affected has complied with the provisions of the law. Such a certificate is required also for notes which are run for a period of more than six months. Certificates covering such notes, amounting to $2,053,500.00 were issued by the State Treasurer during the year.

The Legislature in 1931, in effect, prohibited the issuance of Sinking Fund Bonds by any municipality in this State, with the exception of the cities of Detroit and Dearborn. This legislation became effective on May 21, 1931 and was operative for only a little more than one month of the year for which the State Treasurer's report has been compiled.

The State Treasurer favored this amendment because by requiring municipalities to retire a fair portion of their debt annually the failure to provide for the payment of debt cannot long go unnoticed, and no municipal administration is able to escape its duty of placing in the budget an amount for debt retirement. Then too, the risk of future administrations dissipating the sinking funds and the possibility of depreciation in sinking fund holdings are obviated.

Another Act of the 1931 Legislature permits the refunding of bonds which municipalities are unable to pay, because of the failure of tax collections or because of the closing of a bank in which municipal funds are deposited. This provides that refunding may be permitted after a Board, composed of the State Treasurer, Attorney General, and the Auditor General has passed on the necessity of the refunding bonds. Many municipalities have taken advantage of its provisions.

Plymouth's greatest gain was without question made last summer and early fall when it passed through Michigan's disastrous business crisis without its faith being shaken in its business institutions. When wild rumors were causing havoc in many other communities Plymouth kept its own counsel and we have all profited by it. Our one aim should be to keep up the good work and see to it that 1932 is the best year in Plymouth's steady climb to progress.

WHAT OTHER EDITORS ARE THINKING ABOUT

What's The Use

There isn't much use worrying about the taxpayer. Here is a perfect illustration. Up in Huron county the required petition was filed to consolidate two townships on the ground of economy. What happened? A land company in one of the townships "sold" property to create additional legal freeholders and these new taxpayers, assuming they will oppose the consolidation, when the action on the original petition will come up before the board of supervisors next month. —Muri DePoe In The Charlotte Republican-Tribune.

Another Reason

We have a very apt illustration of just what makes high taxes, in the effort of the state police to use $100,000 of the receipts from the operators' license law for the construction of a new headquarters building. There was and is no excuse for placing this extra tax for a new license every three years on the people, and then passing this large sum over to the state police. The state police have a place in state affairs and it should be maintained, but it should be done on the same basis as other departments. The legislature should appropriate what is needed for this work and this money from the taxes. This is only one of a number of new taxes that the last legislature created and thus places additional taxes upon the people without providing for any just returns and making it possible for these extravagant expenditures of public money. —Hiram Johnson in The Saranac Advertiser.

Come To Michigan This Winter

A man from Massachusetts, here Friday, announced to find 50-degree temperature in Michigan on Dec. 28. He brought along his four-buckle arctic but had no use for them. —James Haskins in The Howard City Record.

How It Was Done

Chicago went to Washington, D. C. and the meeting of the national committeemen of the Republican party with a check for $150,000 and got the convention which will be held the second week in June. The Michigan delegation went to the meeting with a promise to pay the expenses of the convention. It seems the kitchen economy program of Gov. Bruckner didn't work out so well and Chicago, ruler check or not got the convention in spite of paying school teachers and other employes in scrip in lieu of real coin. —Senator Howell in The Cheesingun Argus.

The New Taxes

That Congress will levy new taxes upon the people of the United States is no longer doubtful. Whether the program of President Hoover and Secretary of the Treasury Mellon is followed, or some other plan adopted, there is apt to be some popular dislike of the methods by which the Government will attempt to balance its budget.

Intelligent citizens who rush to the support of their country in times of war, pleading their fortunes and offering their lives, should not become traitors in spirit when the exigencies of peace require a degree of sacrifice for the benefit of the nation.

We, therefore, urge all readers of The Ledger to accept the inevitable as cheerfully as possible and to assist the Government in its crisis.

There can be but one ending to any Government that continues to spend more money than it receives. Surely sensible Americans would not countenance any Government which would attempt to shirk the fundamental obligation of its office and ignore the threatening dangers that lurk behind accumulated deficits. —R. G. Jefferies in The Lowell Ledger.

LIFE'S ALLUREMENT

Oh, let me live in expectation
 Of better days that are to be—
 And work in sweet anticipation
 That fate some day will smile on me!
 And let me hold a fighting sector,
 Where I must drive to reach my goal—
 Where I, at times, may sip Life's nectar,
 But not too often drain the bowl!

And when the day has left me weary,
 And I have failed to touch the prize—
 May I maintain an outlook cheery,
 And never fail to realize
 The finest part of Life's attraction,
 Lies not in climbing every slope,
 Nor in that thing called "Satisfaction" —
 It lies in dreams, in faith, and hope!

FEATURELAND

A Short Month

September had only 19 days in the year 1752, as you will see if you visit the British Museum reading room and ask for a copy of Rider's "British Merlin" for that year. The British Merlin was Whitaker's Almanack of that time. All this happened for a rather curious reason. Until 1752 Great Britain used the Julian Calendar. The compilers of this calendar many centuries before had not been able to measure quite accurately the length of a year. The result was that as time went on the error grew and grew, and if some change had not been made we should eventually have been skating when it was midsummer, according to the almanack, and snatching at official Christmas time.

Something had to be done, and it was decided to cut 11 days out of September in 1752, and then to adopt a new calendar which would render errors impossible in the future.

This step produced tremendous agitation. Many people thought they had been robbed of 11 days of their lives, and there were hostile demonstrations in many parts of the country. —Tit-Bits, London.

"G" "NE!" Billy Belding and Jane Haley were in Stalnard's jewelry store and had just made the selection of Jane's engagement ring. It was New Year's Eve and they were to start the New Year an affianced pair. Billy looked very downcast. Jane turned from the showcase to her companion: "Why, what is the matter, Billy?" "I've lost it!" "Lost what?" "I had five hundred dollars Christmas club savings in my inside overcoat pocket. It isn't there. It's gone, and that's that. Mr. Stalnard," said Billy dejectedly, "we'll have to let it go for the present." Jane turned to the jeweler. "You'll let us have it anyway, won't you? Billy can soon pay for it."

Mr. Stalnard was very nice. "Why, certainly, Mr. Belding. Pay as convenient."

"Thank you, Mr. Stalnard, and I'm sorry, Jane," he said, "but my rule is not to go into debt for what I call current expenses."

"But, Billy, please!"

"We, dear, I just can't do it! Please wait a little."

"They got into Billy's little car and drove away."

Earlier in the evening, Walker Haley had had Billy, as the prospective husband of his niece and ward, Jane, to his home as a dinner guest. Upon reaching the house, Billy had been assigned a room for his convenience.

Dinner ended, Jane reminded Billy of the passing time, and he hurried upstairs for his things.

When they returned, Uncle Walker, Aunt Anne, and Jack and Hazel, their son and daughter, arose to view the new purchase and offer felicitations. An observing one might have caught Uncle Walker giving Jane a sly wink, which she as slyly returned.

Billy was downcast, and Jane at least seemed so.

Aunt Anne exclaimed: "Why, Billy, what is wrong? Did Jane back out?"

"Not as bad as that, but almost. I have lost the money I intended to buy the ring with." He hesitated. Jane took a seat and assumed a disappointed but resigned air.

Uncle Walker seated himself by Billy. "Do you and Jane think you can make a go of it on your salary—how much is it?"

"Sixty dollars a week, and we have it all figured out—haven't we, Jane?"

"Oh, yes!"

"Could you get along and buy a little home, too, if you had seventy-five?"

Billy and Jane exchanged wondering glances.

"Yes, I think so. Don't you, Jane?"

"Oh, yes!" Jane was positive.

"Tomorrow, then," said Uncle Walker, "you come to Haley Brothers—if your firm will release you then—if not tomorrow, then as soon as you can get away."

"But—" Billy began.

"Wait a minute. Your cash salary will be seventy-five dollars a week, and a credit of twenty-five a week on five thousand dollars' worth of the common stock of Haley Brothers, which I shall set aside for you. That will make a hundred a week. Now go back to Stalnard's and get your ring." He handed Billy an envelope. "This was under the bed up in your room." He slipped another wink to Jane.

Billy recovered surprisingly promptly, but remarked that the store would be closed.

"Don't worry," Uncle Walker assured him. "Stalnard phoned me, as I had asked him to, and I arranged for him to stay till you returned. It was a put-up job on you, Billy," he explained. "I wanted to see what decision you would make in an emergency—and if you would stick by it. Jane tried to shake you, but you thought you were right and remained firm. Haley Brothers want your fellow-laborer. Now you two get sh-sh-hurry—and ring in the new!"

Direct Telephone Service to Brazil Is Now Available

South America's largest nation, Brazil, was brought within speaking distance of Michigan people recently when the Bell System's telephone radio service was extended to Rio de Janeiro. This new extension of overseas telephony brings the number of telephones interconnected through the Bell System to 32,750,000, or 31.8 per cent of the total in service in the world.

Brazil is the fourth South American nation to be brought within reach of United States telephones, service to Argentina, Chile and Uruguay having been in operation since April, 1930.

The new Brazilian service is available to all Bell and Bell-operating telephones in the United States, Canada, Cuba and Mexico. At the southern end it will embrace all telephones in the states of Sao Paulo and Rio de Janeiro, and in the southeastern part of Minas Geraes. The Brazilian network included in this new extension has some 104,000 telephones, serving a population estimated at 9,500,000.

The connection to Brazil is established over a short wave radio telephone channel, 4,800 miles long, between the transoceanic stations of the American Telephone & Telegraph company at Lawrenceville and Newburg, New Jersey, and stations operated by the International Telephone & Telegraph Corporation near Rio de Janeiro. These stations connect with the lines of the Brazilian Telephone company.

The cost of a call between Michigan points and Rio de Janeiro will be $3.00 for the first three minutes and $1.00 for each additional minute.

Save...On The Things You Need

During the past year, merchandise of all kinds has dropped in price from 25% to as much as 40%. It has been hard to keep our stock priced in line with the declining prices. Several times during the past few months we have had to take a loss on merchandise bought at higher prices, when another drop would come along. Prices have been getting in line with the workingman's wages.

During the next twelve months we pledge ourselves to the task of obtaining for you, the very best in quality, the very latest in style, and the very lowest in price. Our stocks MUST at all times be up to the minute. Our prices MUST always be the lowest possible. We are going to live up to our new slogan, "WE WILL NOT BE UNDER-SOLD."

A doctor's famous prescription called Thoxine is guaranteed to relieve coughs within a few minutes. It works on a new principle—relieves throat irritation and goes direct to the internal cause. Taken before retiring, Thoxine absolutely prevents night coughing. It gives the same speedy relief for sore throat, too. Safe for the whole family—guaranteed no dope. Money back if not satisfied. See Dodge Drug Company.

The man who is afraid of doing more than his share is the last to be promoted.

A married woman never thinks of allowing her husband to order her dinner for her in a restaurant. -Chicago Daily News.

It is found that salmon meat is rich in Vitamin D, an important food substance commonly obtained from eggs and dairy products. Proof of the political pudding lies in the plum pudding. A grass widow is seldom as verdant as her title would indicate. No true woman ever begins to grow old until after her marriage. Two is company and three is a crowd at a goonline picnic. Greatness may doubt its own importance, but egotism never does. Free and anything but easy are the seats in some of our churches. Why should it be difficult to approach any man? He either likes you or he doesn't; and in either case, you should be at ease.

Ring out, bells! Ring out our New Year's greetings to the finest folks on earth, our patrons.

CATHOLIC CHURCH

Fr. LeFevre, 216 Union St.
Phone 116
Sundays—Mass at 8:00 and 10:00. Confessions before mass. Week-days—Mass at 7:30. This hour makes it convenient for the children to attend on their way to school. All should begin the day with God.
Societies—The Holy Name Society for all men and young men. Communion the second Sunday of the month.
Children of Mary—Every child of the parish must belong and must go to communion every fourth Sunday of the month.

"The year nineteen thirty-one is past. Now another comes on us so fast at its dawn this greeting I extend. All happiness to you, my friend."
Fr. LeFevre.

Friday January 1st New Year's Day is a holiday of obligation. The Masses on this day will be as on Sundays, 8 and 10 o'clock. Catholics are allowed to eat meat this Friday on account of the holiday—this day likewise is the first Friday of the month.

The midnight services held Christmas eve were very well attended and it was an inspiring sight to see so many of the community present. Fr. LeFevre wishes to thank each and all for their generous cooperation and for their liberal offering Christmas day. May this spirit of loyalty and brotherly love ever prevail in our community. If each and every one, will always give the very best that is in them, at all times, and occasions—great things can be accomplished, and life will be worth living. "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you."

This past year has been troublesome to many, but not to all, so those that are able to settle their church accounts should do so now, before the report is made out.

The records for 1931 show that our marriages were contracted, twelve infant baptisms and eight deaths and about eighty families. A Happy New Year to all.

Christian Science Churches

"Christian Science" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches on Sunday, December 27.

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Let not your heart be troubled: ye believe in God, believe also in me" (John 14:1).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Science is an emanation of divine Mind, and is alone able to interpret God aright. It has a spiritual, and not a material origin. It is a divine utterance,—the Comforter which leadeth into all truth." (p. 127).

SALVATION ARMY
A very enjoyable time was had last Wednesday eve, Dec. 23rd, when the Salvation Army had their Xmas Tree for the children. When Santa Came

He brought a stocking for every Kiddie, with a portrait thereon in colors, and "just full" of candy, nuts and an orange.

For an hour there was so much noise that mothers and daddies could not think Santa himself, was tired after the affair, and got around the next night rather late, but rather late than not at all.

In the children's Xmas program was seen the hard work and marvelous training the Kiddies have had during the past two or three months. The Misses Ethel M. Belden, Doris Smith, Margaret Rowe and Mrs. Becker and last, but not least, Albert Bode, whose work with the boys insured our some really craftsmanlike gifts for parents.

It hardly is necessary to say, but the other observer concurs, that we must say as a matter of record that the dancing, elocution and "play acting" of the Kiddies at this entertainment was the best ever.

Happy New Year
is started right with this issue of Epheuerals Colymas in this Plymouth Mail right at the start, if you wish the news that's good and wish some one else far, far away to get what's what hereabouts, why just send in your subscription today. Eventually, why not now, and don't say you didn't know, or didn't hear, but get the local paper and keep up with the development and also community affairs hereabouts, and also read as well as heed the wonderful things to be purchased right here at home. Patronize home industry first. Happy New Year!

If this weather continues, and perhaps it will for a short time anyhow, we will have our long looked for skating pond.

Also if it does not continue we will have baby buggy parades by sloop and bicycle races by Jr. and bowling by big brothers and daddies.

Team
is being organized in Plymouth by Bill Dowling in order to beat the team here of Clarence Hoffman, Stanley James and Frank Leslie, but they can't beat them, betcha.

Exam
crusaders have been ordered by R School Teachers, R Emporium, etc., for to erase '31 the many times it is so writ in the near future. However let us all make '32 the best year ever, and keep up the spirit of Xmas all year from now on, and erase the old '31 right at the beginning.

Vacation Days
will be over Monday and even Kiddydom gets down to brass tacks, books and progress.

No more vacation 'till Easter, March 27, and no more long ones 'till five months from now. Home From School at Kalamazoo is William Hodson of York Ave. Billie reports hard work as well as a good time in sportdom during his first semester away from home.

ROSEDALE GARDENS SCHOOL.
The school Christmas entertainment brought out a large crowd, all happy and filled with the Christmas spirit. All reported afterward that the following program was an enjoyable one:

1. The March of the Candy Canes. Little children dressed like candy canes marched up and down and across the stage, formed the word "Xmas," then did three pretty little dances.

2. Play—Santa & Son: Santa's son, Junior, together with the brownies, Ting and Aling, get tired of the old fashioned Santa and make plans for a modern one. You never saw a jollier Santa than Frank Davis, a jollier Mrs. Santa than Lois Loftus, nor a more modern youngster than Dick Porteous who played the part of Junior, Santa's son.

3. Kingergarten Orchestra — Everyone agrees that Lois Hoffman makes the finest little orchestra leader ever.

4. The Doll Dance—Little girls dressed as dolls danced very prettily.

5. The Garland Dance—This dance was very gracefully and well done.

6. Pageant—Christmas in Old England. Boys and girls dressed in costume very effectively showed how Christmas was carried on in old England. Carol singers played an important part and a play in pantomime was given at the end. Ewendolyn Dunlap was the reader.

At the end of the program, Charles Snell, who was the announcer, led us in singing "Jingle Bells." Santa heard the fun and to the delight of all the children came down and gave out bags of candy.

A jury decided the ownership of a dog a. Canton, Ohio, by its stunts.

If the egg supply is limited serve the children first. The egg yolk is most important as a source of iron.

To keep children warm on chilly days choose a light weight coat. If it is loose enough to permit the wearing of a sweater under it on colder days, it will be most satisfactory because two light weight garments are warmer than one heavy one.

To clean fur, first sponge it well with gasoline to loosen the dirt. If it is very soiled, rub in cornmeal while the fur is still damp, then beat out the meal, and brush the fur thoroughly. Finish by hanging the fur in the sunshine for several hours.
