Service Men And The Legion Push Poppy Day Sale on May 28

A poem worth fifty million dollars! It sounds like a tall tale, yet that is a conservative estimate of what one short poem written on a World War battle field has been worth to the war disabled, their families and the families of the dead.

Everyone knows this poem. It begins:

"In Flanders Field the poppies blow—
Between the crosses row on row—"

The picture of the poppies blooming above the battle graves, so perfectly painted in the poem, won its way around the world and in its wake sprang up the custom of wearing a poppy in honor of the war dead. The work of making the artificial replicas of the Flanders Field poppies was given very fittingly to the disabled veterans and the proceeds from their sale to veteran relief work. In the thirteen years since the close of the war millions of persons in all parts of the world have worn the poppy annually in tribute to those who made the supreme sacrifice and through the purchase of poppies have contributed to the welfare of the war's living victims.

"Poppy Day" will be observed in Plymouth and throughout the United States this year on May 28, the Saturday before Memorial Day.

The poppies have just been received from the American Legion Hospital No. 100 at Battle Creek where they were made by disabled veterans working under the direction of the Auxiliary. They are exact replicas in paper of the poppies which grew wild along the battle front and over the soldiers' graves in France and Belgium during the war.

Making the poppies provided employment for many disabled veterans during the winter and spring who could not possibly have found other work. The flowers have been manufactured in 58 different hospitals and convalescent workrooms in 34 states. The poppies are made possible the earning of more than $100,000 by newly disabled men who otherwise would have been unable to earn anything for the support of themselves or families.

It is easy to tell the difference between the veteran-made poppies and machine made flowers. Each poppy is different in some minor detail due to the fact that it is shaped by hand. Some of the men making the poppies are so badly disabled that it is difficult for them to fashion a perfect flower at first but after a few days work most of the men develop surprising skill despite their physical handicaps.

The men are paid one cent each for making the flowers, the rest of the money realized from the sale going to the relief and rehabilitation work of the Veterans.

Officials Of Daisy Co. Aid Concerns To Start In King Plant

Two new industries for Plymouth are starting up in properly equipped buildings at the King Manufacturing Company. The first to begin operation is the Perfection Sprinkler Company occupying the recently and quite extensively remodeled garage property of the former King plant. Although the company has only been operating a short time, orders are beginning to come in from all parts of the United States for their line of sprinklers designed especially for golf courses and large estates. With the exception of a few small parts, no Plymouth plant is at present equipped to manufacture these sprinklers, but all of the assembling and shipping is handled from their Plymouth plant.

The second new industry for Plymouth has been named the Plymouth Stamping Corporation and will occupy the first floor and the second floor offices of the former King plant. Officials of the new corporation already named are Albert Curry, president and treasurer, and John E. Hoover, factory manager. The secretary will be named later. According to Mr. Curry, they will go into the general manufacture of all types of metal stamping. Mr. Curry also stated that only skilled pressmen residing in this immediate area will be given consideration, and that there will be few jobs available at the outset. They expect to be ready to begin operations by June 15.

Prior to becoming interested in this new enterprise, Mr. Curry was for seven years associated with Harry Bros., one of the largest concerns in the Detroit Area engaged in the manufacture of pressed steel parts for automobiles and refrigerators. At the time of severing his connection, he was factory manager and vice-president. He has also been a past president of the Purchasing Agents Association of Detroit.

Mr. Hoover was also connected with Harry Bros. for many years, and prior to that was assistant superintendent of the Die Division of the Briggs Mfg. Co. King and Daisy officials who have been negotiating with these men for some time express themselves as highly pleased at the successful outcome.

C. H. Bennett, who helped to organize the Perfection Sprinkler Co., has an interesting story to tell regarding the origin of the company. A. S. Lyndon, a member of an old Plymouth family, who is associated with Mr. Bennett in this new enterprise, for many years was one of Ann Arbor's leading photographers. Severe injuries suffered in connection with a premature explosion of a flashlight picture coupled with an attractive offer for his business induced Mr. Lyndon to sell out. After a period of time he assumed a site and developed the Cherry Hill Golf Course. During the building up of this course, Mr. Lyndon investigated many makes and types of sprinklers without finding one to give complete satisfaction. Accordingly, Mr. Bennett, the chief difficulty encountered was the inability of the various sprinklers tried to spread uniform moisture.

Mr. Lyndon having creative ability experimented until he perfected the present Perfection Sprinkler. He brought his device to his old friend, Mr. Bennett, who was favorably impressed, secured a basic patent, and helped to organize the company. Both men are optimistic regarding the sales possibilities of their several models.

Glancy, William T. Barbour, Luther D. Allen, T. W. Taliferro, George E. Roehm, Lawrence P. Smith, E. S. Siebel and Joseph H. Hunter. None of the charter commissioners had opposition.

KIWANIANS HEAR DR. R. H. HASKELL

TELLS OF WORK BEING DONE TO HELP WARDS THEY HAVE

Members of the Plymouth Kiwanis Club were fortunate in having as their speaker for the first night meeting which was held at the Hotel Mayflower last Tuesday Dr. Robert Haskell of the Wayne County Training School.

In a most interesting way Dr. Haskell outlined to the club the object and purpose of the institution of which he is director. He stated that the school was primarily interested in those cases where the mentally defective individuals have enough ability to live in society but have things which hamper their progress.

In the last 4 or 5 years we had 11,000 or 12,000 children in the school of that number there are now 400 or 500 back in the community supporting themselves by some benefit received at the school," stated the speaker. He traced general activities of the student from the time he entered school to the time he is able to leave telling that approximately 85% of their number came from the special education classes in the Detroit city school and that the next largest single agency that furnish them children was the juvenile court. These cases, he said, were the outstanding problems of the community and it was the object of the school to aid and correct them if possible so that the student could again be an acceptable person in society.

Alumni Association Present 'Twin Beds'

"Twin Beds," Salisbury Field and Miamia, May's Festival of Laughter, returned from any one of the country to the other as one of the emphatic standouts comedy hits, will be presented at the high school auditorium under the direction of Harry Green, for the Alumni association.

"Twin Beds" is a jovial, rollicking farce, born of a high wind, swiftly moving in its attack, bristling slant and vivid in its dialogue and adroit and sure in its characterizations.

The story is built around the difficulties of three couples living in a fashionable apartment house, with most of the neighbors, desirable and undesirable, always unimpaired. They first achieve nobility and then have it thrust upon them; finally they move to escape it, but without remarkable success.

It is in "Twin Beds" that you will find the enchanting little Blanche Hawkins who couldn't see why her domestic husband did not want her to bring in the neighbors for parties. The colossal Signora Monti, who, having found and married a fat Italian singing in a Brooklyn cabaret, carrying eighteen dollars per week, having cleared him to the ranks of the two thousand dollars per month.

TO FORM CLUB FOR JUVENILES

Harry Lush Plans a Buck Jones Rangers Club Here

He has the distinction of having served as the last president of the village of Plymouth. Voters Monday re-elected him a member of the new city commission. The commission will elect the new mayor at its next meeting.

Through the efforts of Harry Lush the Pennington Allen theater of Plymouth has been designated a member of the Buck Jones Rangers Club, and fortunate for all boys and girls of Plymouth between the ages of 6 and 18 plans for organization are now under way.

Mr. Lush stated that the organization which now has a membership of well over a million kiddies is sponsored and planned by the Columbia Pictures Corporation and has swept through the country with the hearty endorsement of thousands of various committees.

The purpose of the club is to promote the ideals of the early American pioneer, preserve the arts of the open range such as roping, harmonica playing, story telling, and to organize the youth for the purpose of demanding the show-biz of the motion picture industry which have the endorsement of reviewing organizations, parents and educators as family pictures.

The club sponsors and cooperate with the schools to the extent of teaching the boys and girls to apply the knowledge obtained in the classroom to daily life, and learn to use the results of information which is hidden in the background of the feature film.

Local boys and girls will be made club officers and regular meetings will be held in the theater each Saturday previous to the regular Saturday matinee. Complete details of the organization will appear in next week's issue of the Plymouth Mail.

Pythians Host To Detroiters

Plymouth Knights Entertain Large Number From Detroit

Plymouth Lodge No. 238, Knights of Pythias were hosts to members of several Detroit Knights of Pythias Lodges last Thursday night.

The lodges represented were as follows: Wayne Lodge No. 104, Olympic No. 1, Myrtle-Damion No. 3, Peninsula No. 26, Ferndale No. 264, and Lincoln Park No. 274.

Chancellor Commander R. W. Bingley of Plymouth Lodge called the meeting and under the direction of business "Good of the Order" a representative from each Lodge was called upon for a short talk and it was inspiring to note the enthusiasm among the different lodges.

Albert de Montelland of Wayne Lodge, one of the oldest and most loved members of the fraternity, gave a very interesting talk on the true Pythianism and of the importance of living up to the obligations of our ritual.

Bro. Campbell of one of the Detroit lodges gave two addresses and as an entertainer, he is exceptionally fine.

The officers of Plymouth lodge were highly complimented on their work and many of the visitors predicted that the local organization would soon be one of the outstanding lodges in the state.

Family Banquet Pleasant Affair

The "family" banquet sponsored by the A. S. of Newburg Township evening proved a most delightful event. The hall was profusely decorated for the occasion with bunches of apple blossoms, a milk and white candy scheme being carried out. Lighted pink tapers and white ribbons provided the decorations for the tables. The young men served a delicious dinner. The program, with Rev. Purdy acting as toastmaster, was greatly enjoyed.

It was given by Mrs. Margaret Purdy Moyer, a pleasing toast to mothers by Miss Viola Lintemoss and a toast to the daughters by Mrs. M. Eva Smith were first numbers on the program. Mrs. Gladys Kroger sang two solos that were very pleasing. The toast to the sons was given by William Lomas, who is now called Newburg's poet. The toast to fathers was by Marshall Purdy, who displayed much of his father's ability.

The toastmaster presented Rev. E. Ray Norton of the Plymouth M. E. Church who was a former classmate of the Rev. Purdy. He gave an excellent address, telling of the good there is in everyone if one will but search for it.

The program was brought to a pleasing ending by the presentation of flowers that were the gifts from the greenhouses of Hobbis, Barred, Lomas and Schlemme. Mrs. Don Ryder was one of the fortunate ones, being given a beautiful bouquet because she had the largest family present. Mr. and Mrs. Lintemoss for the oldest mother in the family, and the Rev. H. R. Wimberey for the oldest father present. Both Rev. Purdy and Rev. Norton were presented with flowers. The event was one of the most pleasant held in Newburg in some time.

Kiwanis Club Has New Meeting Hour

Something New!

Beginning this week, members of the Plymouth Kiwanis club will inaugurate the practice of meeting Tuesday evenings instead of at the noon hour.

Because of the fact that so many members found it inconvenient to meet at the noon hour, it was voted recently to try out the evening meeting, which have in many places proved a decided success.

It last Tuesday evening's meeting is any indication of the popularity of the change, there is not much question but what the club's attendance is on the way up, declares secretary "Bud" Schneider.

Family Banquet Pleasant Affair

Good Morning! You Are Now Living In A City, Mr. and Mrs. Plymouth

Plymouth today is a full fledged city. Officials this morning started their duties under the new city charter.

No longer is this delightful progressive community a village.

It has long been the metropolis of western Wayne county. Therefore why shouldn't it take on city ways?

When you go up to the "village" hall, call it the "city" hall now.

When you address the chief executive of Plymouth, kindly refer to him as mayor if you please.

You will pay all of your taxes from now on at the city hall. In fact all of your business with public officials will now be at the city hall, which you address as the chief executive of Plymouth.

All the newly elected city officials were sworn in Tuesday evening and today Plymouth is a city and can well be proud of the fact.

A man who has enough work to do so that every day there is some left over, ought to be happy, but he seldom knows it.

One driver told Chief Smith that he drove by, fearing it was a race, then he made sure that the man was first, he drove down the road a ways, turned around and drove by as slowly as he dared to make sure of what he had seen.

Driving immediately to a telephone nearby he called Chief Smith who drove out to the place on the Five mile road, but by the time he reached there, the "dummies" was gone.

Another time a similar report came from the Five mile road, but from a place near the new Parkers golf course but before officers could reach the place, the "dummy" was missing. As far as known, no drivers have brought their cars to a stop to offer aid to any of those "dummies."

OLD OFFICIALS ARE ELECTED TO CONDUCT CITY

Voters Place Final Approval On City—Brooks New Justice

Plymouth is now a full fledged city and is operating under the new form of government.

Three hundred and eleven voters Monday put their final stamp of approval on the new city charter. There were 29 who voted against it, 70 of this number voting in the downtown precinct. Only one dissenting vote was recorded in the north end of the city.

In addition to approving the charter, every member of the old commission was re-elected.

Justice Ford Brooks who has served as justice of the peace under the township form of government, was elected municipal justice under the new city charter.

George Springer, veteran police officer of Plymouth, will also have the added distinction of being the first constable elected by the city of Plymouth.

Mayor Mimmack and Dr. Hoover were elected for the long term as members of the commission.

Mr. Henderson, Mr. Lomas and Mr. Robinson were named for the short term.

Following was the vote: Mayor Mimmack, 373; Dr. Hoover, 382; John Henderson, 281; George Robinson, 243; Frank K. Lomas, 225; William J. Barrows, 196; Sidney D. Strong, 215; Russell Kirkpatrick, 111; Henry Hudson, 118; For Justice Ford Brooks, 180; Roger J. Vanfossen, 155; John S. Dayton, 119. For constable, George W. Springer, 282; George Whitmore, 193.

There will be no further extension.

Members of the Judging Committee urge others to enter this contest inasmuch as it is primarily an effort to add to the beauty of our community. It is also the hope of the sponsors that the general campaign will create jobs. The following rules and conditions have been established to govern the contest:

1. Any property owner residing in Plymouth Township is eligible to enter the contest with the exception of owners of the Plymouth Savings and Loan Association.

THE UNOFFICIAL PUNISHMENT

In the eyes of the law, Albert B. Fall has paid his debt to society, but he is destined to learn that the account is far from settled.

Once a trusted and respected member of the Harding Cabinet, rich and influential, he is trundled in an ambulance from the New Mexico State Penitentiary, where he served nine months and nineteen days for taking a bribe from an oil magnate.

He is broken in health and shorn of power. He is no different physically, and perhaps mentally, from most of the great gray horde which pours from our prisons every year, eager to begin life anew, only to be eventually crushed under the ever-revolving wheels of public opinion.

It's a lamentable condition, one which should not prevail, but unfortunately does. Because a man makes a slip is no reason why his fellow beings should shun him, refuse him aid and reduce him to an outcast. Yet in our sorry scheme of things such becomes the cruel lot of probably nine out of every ten ex-criminals, not a few of whom were driven into dark ways by the grim specter of bodily want.

The case of Albert B. Fall presents a striking contrast to those poor misguided souls.

He wanted more power and more wealth. He deliberately sacrificed his liberty for ambition, but he rode from the prison gates on the same level as his less fortunate brethren.

Old friends probably will rally to cheer him in body and spirit. There this kind assistance must cease. The mind, haunted by the horrible nightmare of public opinion, cannot be assuaged so easily, if at all.

Fall, unless a superman, must continue to think about his deed and if he continues to think he must continue to pay in mental torture, for such is the unofficial punishment for all crimes.

WHAT'S BACK OF THE CAMOUFLAGE?

From the last issue of the Cheboygan Observer we take the following:

Gladwin county paid off its Covert road bonds last week, and didn't stop to ask the rest of the state to bear the load they had placed on their shoulders and Gladwin is one of those little up state counties so insignificant and unworthy in the eyes of southern Michigan big shots.

Take your map of Michigan and look up Gladwin county. It's on the southern rim of the vast pine barren tract of the northern part of the lower peninsula. Along its western line lies the vast Roscommon state forest preserve. Gladwin county is generally looked upon as one of the "poor" counties of the state yet it goes along and pays its way like a gentleman.

Contrast that with the ballyhoo that is being put up by the counties in the southeastern part of the state, counties that have been reveling in wealth and prosperity for many years while Gladwin has been looked upon as a hopeless waste. It's a study in contrasts; it's also a study in straight shooting. Gladwin county went ahead and fashioned its road program to its resources; Wayne, Oakland and others that are now squealing wailed their heritage in a riotous orgy of real estate speculation. Now Gladwin goes along in its regular course, taking its medicine with a smile while the counties that have instigated the present special session rush to Lansing in sack sloth and ashes (or better in a sheep's pelt covering over a wolf's hide) asking piteously for someone to come to their rescue. That's the contrast.

And, by-the-way, we learned while in the lower peninsula last week that this cry for assistance to help out with Covert Road burdens is just a camouflage. It isn't Covert Road bonds that they want to take up with this money they are trying to get from the highway fund; it's money to spend in a continuation of the "dew and sunshine" extravagance typified in the Murphy administration in Detroit, O. no, those boys are not worried about what they owe; what they want is more money to play politics with—Thomas Coulin in the Crystal Falls Diamond Drill.

THE STATE'S MOST SHAMEFUL INDICTMENT

Unfortunately one of the most serious consequences of the business depression that has swept the world has been the series of bank failures that followed in its wake. Thank fortune these failures are now practically over and the banks that have weathered the storm will be able to continue, through the excellent business management and curtailment that bank executives have brought about.

But out of these failures the state of Michigan has permitted the development of a spoils system that would bring shame to the greediest and most heartless carpet-bagger of carpet-bagging days. Wherever a bank has closed the state has been required to appoint a receiver and an attorney to handle the affairs of each one of these closed banks. In many cases almost as many employees are retained within the banks as were employed previous to the closing.

Many of these receivers, are receiving greater salaries than are the successful presidents of going banks. These receivers and attorneys are being PAID out of the funds that belong to the depositors. Every penny, every dollar they get reduces by that much the amount that will eventually be paid the depositors.

By what right has any bank receiver to receive a salary that will anywhere near match the salary of a bank president? How can the state of Michigan explain these high salaries and the exorbitant fees that are being paid attorney-politicians? The record being written into Michigan's bank receiverships is a record that is not only shameful but amazing for its brazenness.

IS CHET HOWELL CHANGING

Can it be possible that "Chet" M. Howell, publisher of the Chesaning Argus, and a State Senator from the Saginaw Valley, is "not so hot" about the re-election of Governor Wilber M. Brucker? Senator Howell, two years ago, was one of the then aspiring Brucker's most ardent supporters. He did much to help the former Saginaw prosecutor with the gubernatorial victory. It is no secret today that Howell has found his "political idol" capable of a certain ingratitude—for, we are told, Governor Brucker has since failed to make even a simple gesture on behalf of the Chesaning booster. All of which reveals the seamy side of politics. It will be interesting, after September 13, to learn how Brucker ran in Chesaning.—Geo. Averill in The Birmingham Eccentric.

A Prayer

Almighty God, Thy love inspires our prayer to Thee as our Father. Thou wilt never abandon Thy children. Every cloud will have its rainbow, and every rock will yield sparkling fountains of refreshment. Oh, let us possess that which is far better than earthly gems—the fruit of the matured grapes—and then all duties will be put under contribution to the greatest good and our highest possibilities. In these days—days in which our faith is burdened and we just wonder—may our wisdom and our sympathy work helpful transformations. The good Lord direct the soul of Columbia. May we not lose heart nor allow our great institutions to be made ugly by passion or pessimism. Oh, may our love melt selfishness and our brotherly spirit soften the hardened heart. A Woman

She's an angel in truth, A demon in fiction; A woman's the greatest Of all contradiotion. She's afraid of a cockroach, She'll scream at a mouse, But she'll tackle a husband As big as a house.

Decoration Day

Wreath it with laurels, Each grass covered mound; Scatter the lilies, And roses around; Plant in its beauty Our flag at its head. To wave in the breezes, Over our dead.

Give them all honor, Those heroes who fell; Give them all justice, Their praises who tell. Who for our nation, Our honor, our pride, Who for our freedom, In sacrifice died.

Pause just a moment, Nor hold back a tear; Mourn a prayer For those lying here; Lying so peaceful, Now free from life's fret; Lost we grow careless, Let us forget.

Keep On Keeping On

One step won't take you very far, You've got to keep on walking.

One word don't tell folks who you are.

You've got to keep on talking; One inch won't make you very tall. You've got to keep on growing; One little ad don't do it all. You've got to keep them going.

If any love of mine May make a life the sweeter; If any little care of mine May make a friend's flower; If any lift of mine may ease The burden of another, God give me love, and care, and strength To help a toiling brother.

The Flag Goes By

By HENRY HOLCOMB BENNETT
HATS OFF!
Along the street there comes A blaze of bugles, a ruffle of drums. A flash of colour beneath the sky. Hats off! The flag is passing by!
Blue and crimson and white it shines, Over the steel-tipped ordered lines.
Hats off! The colours before us fly, But more than the flag is passing by.

Sea-fights and land-fights, grim and great, Fought to make and to save the state; Weary marches and slinking ships; Cheers of victory on dying lips.

Days of plenty and years of peace; March of a strong land's swift increase; Equal justice, right and law, Sately honour and reverend awe.

Sign of a nation great and strong To ward her people from foreign wrong; Pride and glory and honour—all Live in the colours to stand or fall.

Hats off! Along the street there comes A blaze of bugles, a ruffle of drums; And loyal hearts are beating high; Hats off! The flag is passing by!

NEW MACHINE IS A GREAT SAVER

The new power addressograph machine with automatic feed, which was purchased by the Village some time ago, has made possible the speeding up of the work to such an extent that it is proving a valuable piece of equipment for use in the office.

The annual assessment and tax rolls were run off on this machine in less than two days time. This involves the printing of approximately 8500 names and addresses, and heretofore has been done by writing the names by hand which has required many days time to complete.

The water bills can be addressed in approximately one-third the time formerly required by the old hand operated addressograph machine.

Rambling Around with Michigan Editors

HE IS OPTIMISTIC

One state has issued a ruling that even if a man owns an auto he may still receive public aid as a pauper. Three rousing cheers: We may have to go to the poorhouse, but by heck, we'll drive out to the darned place in the old bus and make Oakland county pay for the gasoline.—Geo. Neal in The Orion Review.

BUSINESS IS A LOTTERY

The Government is again lotteries, but it won't interfere if we build a factory, or buy United Flap Common, or set ourselves up in a two-car, two-mortgage home. We ourselves are like the Government. Once we gamble on building the factory, we say, "No sir, I won't buy any coal to get up steam; buying coal is a lottery." After we buy Flap Common at 280 and follow it down to 28, we say, "No, sir, I won't let that stuff go after hanging on this long; no such lottery for me."

We hire clerks who get flip with good customers, we take on lines that don't sell, we choose a location just before traffic regulations send the crowd up the other way,—everything we get into seems to have a lottery look. There is something of lottery in salesmanship, in sales building. But try we must. One blotter doesn't make a sales boom, one booklet doesn't shatter competition. If we are in business a hundred years, our selling job is a hundred-year job, year by year. The real lottery in business life is risking capital on silence.—George Averill in The Birmingham Eccentric.

MUST HELP THEMSELVES

To put it in print that people on the dole list must help themselves or realize that they will not be afforded relief in the future surely is an unfortunate duty. And yet it is with the best intentions imaginable. There is every sympathy for those who are out of work, and in many instances there has been no way in which they could help their condition. The question is, to be frank, what the future has to offer for those who do not do their part to help provide for themselves and families. It would seem that every communally resident should realize the seriousness of existing conditions. There is every sincerity in the project to furnish garden land and seed to the unemployed. It is hoped that the project will be accepted in the spirit in which it is intended.—Harry Izor in The Inland Express.

IT MAKES EDITOR SICK

The story of Ann Harding's airplane trip to Reno to secure a high speed divorce decree, which court action was celebrated at a nearby road house, is typical of the "life" that Hollywood is giving the country. We don't wish this Harding person any bad luck but we are getting sick and tired of the flimsy regard shown by many of these movie queens toward this most sacred of our social institutions. Hollywood divorcees are getting so common that these stories are becoming mine run news. Some day the public will wake up to the fact that many of today's movies are as much to blame for the moral breakdown of the country, including the wholesale disrespect for law and order as any other crime agency. It can't be any different when one considers the divorce and scandal copy that comes out of Hollywood almost every day.—Muri DeFoe in The Charlotte Republican.

HOW TO USE CHEESE

IF YOU want to have no stone unturned in the path of thrift, you must be sure to consider the possibility of cheese in the diet, because the plain yellow cheese, store cheese so called, is one of the most economical of all food products. Many people believe that raw cheese is less digestible than cooked cheese, but many European peasants habitually eat coarse bread and cheese with fruit or salad greens for their midday meal and thrive on the fare.

The fact of the matter is that modern cooking renders cheese more digestible. If it is subjected to very high heat it becomes tough and leathery. Many "au gratin" dishes are made by adding great quantities of cheese to dishes that are then baked at a high temperature. The cheese spreads over the top forming a saucy though leathery crust which should not be given to young children or delicate persons generally. Americans often prepare macaroni in this way. But a more wholesome dish is made by cooking the macaroni first and serving with melted cheese or a cheese sauce in which the cheese has been cooked only long enough to melt it.

A cheese grater is a help, but if you have a meat grinder you do not need it. Moreover, it is much easier to clean a grinder than a cheese grater. A little stale bread can be run through the grinder after the cheese to force out all the cheese, and this leaves it free from particles of the cheese and very easily washed.

W.C.T.U. Will Meet Thursday Afternoon

The Women's Christian Temperance Union will meet Thursday May 26, with Mesdames Stark, weather and Hillmer, 711 Stark-weather Avenue. After the meeting there will be a potluck luncheon and it is hoped that members will make a special effort to be present as a good time is anticipated.

W.C.T.U. following from The Detroit News:

Shower, Mich., May 14.—The beer parades announced for Detroit and other cities are but the whippers of cheap sports who are giving voice to perverted appetites and spending money to amuse a defiance of the Constitution at a time when multitudes are crying for food. Dr. R. N. Holsapple, superintendent of the Michigan Anti-Saloon League, declared here Friday night, at a dinner of the Evangelical Church Conference, "What have these people who organize and will participate in these parades ever done to help enforce their country's laws with regard to the liquor traffic?"

"They talk about the failure of prohibition. I challenge the wets of the country quit drinking liquor and go on the water wagon for five years. If they will do this and, at the end of five years, prohibition is not universally recognized as a success, I will join with the wets in an attempt to find some solution of the liquor problem."

Will Demonstrate Ways To Irrigate

The Michigan State College Farm Mechanics Department will set up and operate the "Canvas Hose System of Irrigation" on Schouffel Brothers' farm on Huron-Romulus Turnpike, about one-half mile east of Huron River Drive, New Boston, next week Friday, May 27. The College has developed this efficient and cheap system of irrigation which can be operated at a very low cost when one has sufficient water. Instead of inferior equipment where one needs only occasional watering, this large canvas hose is laid out on the ground and the water allowed to seep through for a few hours. The objects of the demonstration are:

- 1. To prove the value and practicality of this new porous hose type of irrigation.
2. To show the value of supplementary water on field crops, and show the water requirements for different crops.
3. To show the method of using the porous hose system of irrigation.
4. To show methods of determining size of equipment and power required so that an average person can approximate the cost of a unit which would satisfy his particular conditions.

The meeting will be at 1:30 and whether or not you are thinking of irrigation it will prove valuable to all Wayne County growers whether of vegetables or fruits.

Coming Attractions At Penniman Allen

"THE STRANGE CASE OF CLARA DEANE"

Wynne Gibson, the talented young actress who stepped from the musical comedy stage to stardom in the talkies by way of "Nothing But the Truth," "Ladies of the Big House" and "Two Kinds of Women," has her first big starring role in "The Strange Case of Clara Deane," coming to the Penniman Allen Theatre, Sunday and Monday, May 22 and 23. The story takes the audience over a span of about twenty years, and the gradual metamorphosis of the hapless Clara Deane through the years of trying circumstances is shown with all the production artistry in the use of make-up for which Paramount is famous. Supporting Miss Gibson are: Pat O'Brien of "The Front Page" fame; Frances Dee, brunette charmer of "An American Tragedy"; Dudley Digges, George Barbier, Russell Gibson, Clara Blumfeld and others.

"A WOMAN COMMANDS"

As exciting as has always been the lady herself, is the announcement that Pola Negri is returning to the screen in a new drama "A Woman Commands" coming to the Penniman Allen Theatre, Wednesday and Thursday, May 25 and 26. In a story which was written especially for her, Pola gives a superb performance. Inspired by the most dramatic episode in the history of latter day European events, the spectacular rise and tragic end of the beautiful Queen Draga of Serbia, the story gives Pola a characterization in which she rises to real heights of dramatic ability.

Appearing with Miss Negri is a cast of talented and popular players. Basil Rathbone, handsome and royalist, the spectacular rise and tragic end of the beautiful Queen Draga of Serbia, the story gives Pola a characterization in which she rises to real heights of dramatic ability.

"SKY BRIDE"

"Sky Bride" a romantic adventure story, now becomes a thrilling motion picture aviation melodrama. Paramount has taken John Birch's original aviation story and transformed it into a gripping portrayal of how a "bird" man regains his lost courage and wins the love of the girl he adores. This picture depicts the hair-raising stunts of barnstorming aviators flitting swiftly down, as they put over their stuff in an air circus, a popular Fourth of July and County Fair feature of a few years ago.

According to Captain E. H. Robinson, aviation technical expert, stunt flying, like that shown in "Sky Bride," requires the highest degree of courage and flying ability.

Richard Arlen, Virginia Bruce, Jack Oakie, Charles Starrett and Robert Coogan, are featured in "Sky Bride" which will appear at the Penniman Allen Theatre, Friday and Saturday, May 27 and 28.

She Reduced 38 lbs. The Safe Way

"I have been taking Kruschen Salts for 4 months and I think they are wonderful. I am 32 years old and 5 ft. 2 in. tall. I was very fat, I weighed 165 lbs. and now I weigh 127 lbs. and feel fine. If I let up taking the Salts one morning I feel lazy and heavy". Mrs. Florence Loftis, Boston.

This is just of hundreds of letters we get every month—Kruschen not only causes you to lose fat but while you are losing it you gain in health—in vivaciousness, you lose fat where fat is most prominent and at the same time keep stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels functioning naturally.

Plant Gardens For The Needy-Two Big Concerns Give Land

(From The Dearborn Press)

There will be municipal gardens for all who want them and who have no plots of their own to cultivate," said Clarence S. Justice, Community Chest director, and chairman of the garden committee, this week after receiving the use of 42 acres of land from Henry Ford and a 20-acre plot from the Clippert Brick company or ground sufficient for more than 500 gardens 10 by 100 feet.

Other members of the committee named by Mayor Clyde M. Ford are Mrs. E. Roy Bryant and Miss Clara Snow, members of last year's garden group. Harvey H. Lowrey, superintendent of schools in Fordson, Carl Millard, superintendent of the Henry Ford school, Ray Adams, superintendent of the District No. 7 schools, Councilman Joseph Schindler and Clark M. Green, director of the Dearborn welfare department.

The Clippert Brick company plot is located just off Wyoming avenue near Mulky and will be ready for use this week. The Ford acreage is located on the southeast corner of Michigan avenue and Greenfield road and at Snow avenue and Pepper road in west Dearborn. Both of these plots have been plowed and will be prepared for use by the Ford Motor company. It was stated.

All who wish gardens must register at the community chest immediately. Mr. Justice stated, Welfare department and Community Chest charges and other needy families of the city will be given preference, he added.

Both the city and the Community Chest are cooperating to the full extent to make this project, the largest ever to be sponsored here, a success. Ray Henstock, superintendent of parks and boulevards will be in direct charge of supervising the work at the gardens and will lay out the plans for plots. He will be assisted by three assistant superintendents, one to be assigned to each section of land. The Community Chest will furnish the seed to all who cannot afford to purchase their own, although tools must be provided by the worker of the garden. Mr. Justice stated.

"The committee when requesting the use of plots took into consideration the best location and feels that the present sites serve the greatest number of people who will really appreciate a garden," Mr. Justice said.

"The most practical intensive gardening methods will be taught plot workers," Mr. Henstock said, "and every available space will be utilized. The vegetables which will be raised are corn, cucumbers, tomatoes, beans, cabbage, lettuce, peas and kohlrabi. The worker will also be permitted to use a 10-foot space for the planting of other vegetables of his own choice. Mr. Henstock stated.

The rules as compiled by the committee state that only one plot will be allowed to a family; that the worker must plant the garden according to directions; that the plot cannot be rented nor the vegetables raised marketed, and every one must make a report on the products harvested. Failure to comply with these rules will mean the forfeiture of the plot.

Planting is expected to begin the first of next week or as soon as the plots can be prepared. Mr. Justice stated. "The most important step at present is that all who want gardens to register immediately at the Community Chest offices in the Municipal Court building," he said.

FIND OFFICIALS DID NO WRONG IN BANK AFFAIRS

The investigation into the conduct of the Wallod Lake bank by Judge F. L. Doty, sitting as a one-man grand jury, was completed Tuesday.

The disclosures brought no evidence of fraudulent intent, but did reveal considerable carelessness on the part of the bank's officials and a large amount of poor loans and overdrafts.

The Wallod Lake bank was a private institution, organized in 1921 by parties also interested in the Peoples Bank of Farmington and Redford. It was reorganized in 1923 with Ira Carnes, president, Fred Ward as vice president, Clarence Chazy as secretary and cashier and Glen Buffanger and Wm. R. Hoyt as trustees. The closing of the bank in September, 1930 followed closely the suicide of the cashier, Clarence Chazy. Judge Doty pointed out that the reason for its closing was not the shrinkage of deposits, but because of the practice of making poor loans and allowing overdrafts in large amounts. Specific instances of overdrafts mentioned were G. H. Clafey, $5,113.52; Raymond C. Champy, $1,711.12; Ray Lane, $2,319.24; M. G. Post, $12,718.09 and 150 others in smaller amounts. The inability to collect overdrafts led to failure to meet demands of the Federal Reserve, and no doubt led to the tragic death of the cashier. No indication of dishonesty on Mr. Chazy's part was disclosed, nor any penalties by which he could personally have profited. The trustees and officers were censured for failure to know the condition of the bank or to appreciate their responsibility to its depositors.

At the time of closing the bank's overdrafts were stated to total $31,380.55.—Alford Times.

FUNERALS AID THIEF

An accused "funeral thief," Philip Shipman, 29, was found guilty in New Orleans, La., of theft of jewelry from the home of a woman while she was attending her husband's funeral. Police said he admitted reading obituaries in newspapers to find out when families would be away from home and scheduled his robbing accordingly. He employed the method in robbing ten homes, police said.

Mother's Cook Book A FEW TASTY DISHES

SOME one has discovered that adding a bit of vinegar, about one teaspoonful, to a pea or bean soup that seems too thin, thickens it at once and leaves no taste of vinegar.

Croquettes are so much better if they are soft and creamy when served. By adding a teaspoonful of softened gelatin to the mixture before cooking it stiffens them enough to handle, and when cooked are creamy.

Dutch Sauce for Fish. Take one cupful of liquid in which boiled fish has been cooked, add one cupful of milk. Melt two tablespoonfuls of butter, add two tablespoonfuls of flour, the liquid after the flour and butter has been mixed, a teaspoonful of lemon juice, one-half teaspoonful of salt and the lightly beaten yolks of the eggs are fully added. Cook in the softly beaten whites of the eggs after taking from the heat. Add a little minced parsley, if desired.

Luncheon Dish. Remove the sardines from the box neatly and entirely (if possible). Place on a platter and surround with water cross or parsley. Cut radishes into tulips with a sharp knife, rolling back the petals to make them look like the flowers. Arrange these in the cross or parsley and serve with the sardines.

The southern custom of serving a domi taste of strong coffee, accompanied by sugar to guests in the house before they come down for breakfast, is one that is being taken up by hotels and dining out service.

Orange Fruit Cake. Cream one-fourth cupful of butter, add one-half of a third cupful of sugar, one egg beaten light, the remaining sugar and two-thirds of a cupful of orange marmalade, six two cupfuls of flour with one tea spoonful of baking powder, one-eighth teaspoonful of soda and cinnamon, the same of cloves, add one-third cupful each of chopped orange peel and nutmeg. Bake in one loaf about one hour.

Mother-Daughter Banquet

Last Thursday Eve was a huge success, the Church Banquet Hall was "just jammed" with tables and mothers and daughters at each of the couple hundred odd seats to partake of the repast of Vol. mouse and all the good things with it (including the delight of females sex—tearoom).

The officers of the Women's Auxiliary of the Rosedale Presbyterian church sponsored this grand event, which included a lively up-to-the-minute program of a little, in fact a generous sample of something for everyone.

Clara Brownlee's "Luncheon Dance Orchestra," comprising boys of the grammar school age played a number of lively tunes. The boys, Billy Nichols, Robbie Hirsch, Zig-zig Hart, Billie Inwifite, Jack Moulter, John Rohrer, and Billie Fosdick enjoyed the idea of being the musicians for this affair even more than all the sisters and mothers present, or at least they were competitive in showing enthusiasm over their music.

Our own talent followed through the program with one or two or three numbers, namely the Plymouth High School Quartet (I. J. Rowdell and the renowned Charlie Wiggle and Anze (Jack) Lorenzo, the milk fed good-will boys from the Lawrence and Milk Farm of Mr. Baughen, Inc.

Miss Evelyn Portman led the mothers and Mr. E. Shawsmith led the children in "Community" song fest, then Mrs. Stedden sang, as did the church choir, the community song leaders sang duets, Miss Iron-Parre with her musical readings, and our little folks danced and sang, to wit: L. C. Loma (Bob) Reids, Wesley Hoffman, Robbie Reids, Josephine Hirsch. The "ad-dress to the mothers" was given by Miss Jeanne Ames, a little girl, but ohmy how much her message meant. Then the Field Worker in the Girls' Protective League, Mrs. Estie Corwin gave a nice talk.

We almost forgot to mention the well working program—Miss Beulah McDonald, Mrs. J. Parro and Mr. Sadye—who played at the pianoforte with others sang.

Mrs. Samuel McKinley easily led the list of "mothers and daughters," with four daughters and nine granddaughters, and Mrs. Albert Hirsch with four daughters.

Hard Time Party

Reported by so many requests, is scheduled for to-morrow night, Saturday the twenty-one instant.

It is said that there will be ten sets for more pieces for to play by request, starting at eight past midnight and ending somewhere between mid-nite and one o'clock.

The Observer has been informed by numerous informants of those "in the know" who personally appeared and deposed to state that there surely are to be some hard looking characters as made up for the grand and depression, for certainly those who enjoyed themselves two weeks previous are coming looking more depressive than ever.

The only thing not hard time about it appears to be the easy way the colored deuces are sold by the committee in working, i. e., to wit: Colored color for malice and white for females, in order to distinguish some of the ones for the trophies to be given.

Parking Space

is being put in order for at least two hundred cars to the north of the Yacht Hall, so to eliminate the mud sticking epidemic whilst rains are in season.

Rosedale Ball Team has been thoroughly organized and great things are to be expected from them all.

One few business men are clipping in for suits and arrangements are being formulated for a benefit dance. So when some of the boys come along for help we will not be strange to the idea, and boys made up our minds and memory to help everything along.

Shrubbery

is now taking down and leaf in both old and new beds. The Duncan Avenue corners quite a difference is seen with the pleasant break on all houses' corners but

Welcome

Raise that big, impressive Chevrolet hood! The fine, modern, six-cylinder engine underneath is one of the chief reasons why Chevrolet continues to be America's largest-selling automobile! For that engine is a six—and only a six, as Chevrolet builds it, combines both built-in smoothness and maximum economy. That engine is mechanically sound! Three and a half years of continuous improving, refining, and testing have made it as nearly perfect as it can be! That

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Mortals and Immortals" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, May 15.

Among the Bible citations was this passage (Rom. 8:10): "And if Christ be in you, the body is dead because of sin; but the Spirit is life because of righteousness." Correlative passage read from the "Christian Science" textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy. Included the following (p. 261): "The senses represent birth as untimely and death as irresistible, as if man were a weed growing in a garden or a flower withered by the sun and nipped by untimely frosts; but this is true only of a mortal, not of a man in God's image and likeness."

OBITUARY

MRS. JOHANNA BEYER

Mrs. Johanna Beyer was born in Germany on the 17th of January of the year 1851. Baptized into the Lutheran faith in infancy, she renewed her baptismal covenant of faith and allegiance to her Lord in confirmation during the days of her girlhood. In the year 1872 she came to this country, and settling in Buffalo, New York she was married in the same year to Fred Beyer of that city at that time. Three years later they removed to Michigan, making their home in Livonia Township until the year 1910, when they retired from the farm and came to live in Plymouth. Mr. Beyer died in 1924, and ever since that time his widow has been living with her daughter, Hulda, now Mrs. Walter Ebert of this city. Mrs. Ebert faithfully cared for her mother especially during the days of her last painful illness.

Mrs. Beyer was the mother of a large family of ten children, of whom the following remain to mourn their departed mother: Otto and Charles of Plymouth, John and William of Nankin Township, Albert and Henry of Detroit, and Mrs. Walter Ebert of Plymouth. In addition there are 16 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren and a great throng of near relatives and friends.

Mrs. Beyer was for the past 21 years an esteemed member of the Ladies Aid Society of St. Peter's Lutheran Church and a most faithful communicant member of the congregation.

She was taken ill at church on Sunday, the 24th of January of this year. And despite a desperate and brave fight to conquer the disease that was eating at her vitals, she finally succumbed under excruciating pain Wednesday evening, May 11th at 9:30.

The grandest tribute which we could possibly pay her at her passing is to recall her faithfulness to her Lord in whom she placed all her faith and hope for this life and the life to come. During the days of her good health she was a shining example to all of us in the fidelity she displayed in attending divine worship, no weather being too inclement and no reason too trifling enough to deter her from coming, if it was at all possible for her to do so. Thus, in the prolonged days of her sickness she deplored this fact most frequently, that she could not come to church. And when sickness, pain and weakness laid her on a low bed of illness, and even to her it became ever more apparent that she would soon be called home, she remained patient and long-suffering under the fire of temptation and trial, consoling herself with the fact that "the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared to the glory that shall be revealed in us."

We bared her to her last earthly resting place last Saturday afternoon amid a multitude of those whom she had befriended in her life. May she rest in peace, until the Lord shall also raise her body to glory with His glory and to place it also at His right hand according to His promise. The funeral text which she selected for herself was more strangely appropriate to her case than ever she had dreamed, and it will remain evergreen in our memories: Revelations XIV, 13: "And I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, Write, Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth: Yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labours, and their works do follow them."

A piece of land an inch wide but more than 100 feet long was purchased for $5 by C. P. Dresser from the city of Fresno, Cal., to facilitate an exchange of property in connection with land needed for construction of a subway approach.

STATE POLICE UNDER FIRE WHEREVER TAXES DISCUSSED

WARTIME RANGERS CARRIED OVER INTO PEACETIME YEARS COSTS HUGE SUMS, REAL VALUE IN QUESTION.

Conservation Department Also Comes In For Criticism—Both Suffer Because Officials Operate In Full Public View—Hidden Bureaus Unnoticed.

By V. J. BROWN
Whenever an irate citizen anywhere begins airing his opinion concerning the extravagance of state government he is almost certain to be told that the state police are the cause of the high cost of government. There are reasons for this, of course. In the first place the average citizen thinks in terms of what he observes. There are a lot of hidden leaks concerning which he is entirely ignorant. But the state police is a mobile organization. Officers travel about in state cars, most of the personnel are in uniforms and frequently they make arrests. Quite as frequently their demeanor has brought down upon the department the odium of unwarranted arrogance in the performance of duty. Almost everyone has come in contact with the state police. Almost without exception the average citizen has little patience or charity for the force and little sympathy with the money it costs to cover its expenses.

When this department was first proposed it was urged that one well organized department would take over the job of inspecting—a colossal one it seems. It has not. Troopers and detectives have multiplied in the department of public safety almost as rapidly as guinea-pigs at the state biological laboratory, but they have never taken over the job of inspecting. We know this because we find the utilities commission, the department of labor, the welfare department, the department of agriculture, the department of state and even the lamented securities commission each with its own private army of state inspectors. There are scores of other bureaus with their respective forces of inspectors too. But the state police multiply just the same. This standing army of Michigan, except it does not stand, riding in motor cars instead, now costs Mr. Taxpayer more than $600,000 annually. A commissioner and a few highly trained detectives to aid county sheriffs in cases of major crimes might be justified. The broadcasting station has probably had a salutary effect against crime also. A well conducted bureau of identification probably should be continued. But beyond this the state police has not yet convinced the general public of its importance and value.

Officers Well Paid
Suppose we take the roster of the state police, or the department of public safety as it is officially known. We find a commissioner enjoying a salary of $5000; a deputy at $3500; a superintendent at $3,000; and a deputy at $2800. There are three captains at $2500, $2300 and $2100 respectively; eight lieutenants at $2400 to $2250. There are scores of sergeants whose pay checks run from $1800 to $2300. There are detectives galore with salaries ranging between $1500 and $2,500. The roster shows there are about 100 troopers who are paid from $1180 to $1450; and a lot of constables. Maintenance is also furnished most of the men. Two are known as "liquor-destroyers" and are paid $1300 and $1300 respectively. A cook draws $1620. The reader can count on his own fingers the hotel chefs of Michigan who exceed this army cook in income. A tailor draws $1500 and a fireman $1700.

But when one is looking for a real snip on the state police force one should apply for the job of director of the officers' training school. This writer has not learned whether a university degree is required but the payroll discloses the fact that this gentleman draws $2250 annually out of the state treasury. He has an assistant at $2500 and a man to do the instructing at $2000.

Emoluments
It must be kept in mind too that these members of the department of public safety are granted a lot of emoluments. Many are clothed and fed. Others receive an allowance for residences and living expense. All the high officials enjoy the use of fine motor cars and at least one is frequently seen about the state being very efficiently chauffeured. In comparing the wages and salaries paid members of the force these allowances and emoluments must be considered.

Michigan is certainly generous with its taxpayers' money. Conservation Affairs
Perhaps the next most discussed department, and for much the same reasons as were cited in the case of the state police, is the department of conservation. Here again we hear much of criticism and much of complaint concerning cost.

Unfortunately for the department and for the commonwealth this department lives for the most part off the funds received from sales of hunting and fishing licenses. We say unfortunately because the hunter complains that the money taken from him for game privileges should be devoted to building up flocks of birds and herds of deer for him to kill. Likewise the fisherman curses the department for failing to provide him in return for his fishing fee, his credit limit every day he chooses to cast his lines in the waters of lake or stream.

But the commission is forced to take the fisherman's money and the hunter's money to do a lot of other things. Among them is forest fire prevention and control; geological and economic land surveys; conservation; maintenance of state parks for tourists and vacationists; and general administration.

So let us scan the department payrolls for light. Prior to the beginning of 1932, the director enjoyed a salary of $7500. A 10% cut put him down to $6750. The secretary draws $5050; the geologist, $4500; petroleum engineer, $4080; director of fire warden, $3825; office director, $3900; superintendent of parks, $4050; state forester, $3825; technical advisor in the game division, $4500. The ornithologist at $2750 has been eliminated as has the chief conservation officer at $4000. In fact the department has recently been forced to unprecedented economies all because the number of those who bought hunting and fishing licenses during the year has materially dwindled.

But there still remains an ambitious department of education-conservation. The director receives $3750; a cameraman, $2340; two assistants and film editors, $2100; and some clerks. In all, this one minor division costs, even since reductions have been made, just to make Michigan folk conservation-minded, the rather disconcerting sum of $12,185 annually.

20. There is a "free lance man," whatever that is, at $1620; an inspector of locomotives at $2100; a draftsman at $1782. The chief clerk enjoys a salary of $3150, marked down from $3500, and there are stenographers and clerks and accounting machine operators innumerable. Here again we find a department which has been forced to install its own accounting division in the face of a state accounting division in the same building. Members of the commission insist they were unable to secure the information desired from administrative board records. They cite many instances to prove the point, all of which leads the observer to a confirmation of the conclusion that the administrative board outfit is largely excess baggage on a train already much overloaded.

By the way, in passing it might be mentioned that while the fee for trout fishing license was boosted and the merchant who handles the license suffered the loss of the dime he used to receive for his services, it is authentically reported that four special inspectors were put in the field to place the licenses in hands friendly to the administrator. Check Weak Spots In Your Dwelling
How are your porch steps today? If home owners follow the simple set for them by the physician and the automobile owners, that question will soon be almost as common as "How do you do?"

Doctors, through educating the public to safeguard his health, have managed to add from five to ten years to the average life span. Automobile manufacturers, by stressing the well-to-do regular checks on oil, battery, brakes, and motor, have prolonged the period of efficiency in every car that is subjected to regular checks. Physical examinations are given periodically to man and to automobile, and the efficiency is thereby heightened just as is the efficiency of machines in a large factory where the superintendent of maintenance is ever on guard to preserve the investment of his employees.

The home owner's greatest investment is his home; and yet until now he has made little or no effort to provide "life extension" and heightened efficiency for that home. If he is to protect his investment, he will do well to take care from the doctors and motor car manufacturers, and give periodic tests to his home, judiciously spending a few dollars once or twice a year to prevent wastes and loss of the original outlay of his money.

Why not check the roofing, the drains, floors, steps, porch, sills, plumbing, heating plant, and windows of your home just as you do the parts of your body or of your car? By making minor repairs when they are needed, you are not only avoiding the heavy expense of cumulative major repairs, but you are also keeping your investment primed to its fullest working capacity. When needed for security or for an immediate turn-over that investment is ready to serve you at once, whereas a down-at-the-heels house is a constant drag on the red side of the ledger.

Make a brief mental examination of your home. For a starter, take just one of the items that is seldom given a thought, the roof. Is it time-scathed, no longer weather-proof? Is it the cause of your high fuel bills? Does the heat escape through it in winter to warm all out-of-doors? In the summer times does it allow the scorching rays of the sun to penetrate into the house, turning the upstairs rooms into insufferable pockets of heat?

Your local contractor will tell you that you can prolong the life of your home and increase its livability by properly servicing the roof. If you insulate the roof you will be cutting down your fuel bill and will be making your house more comfortable all year round. When coal is used to heat a house, the annual saving on fuel costs in

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Will Minhart Wednesday a girl. M. R. Weeks has sold his house on Bowery street to D. M. Adams. Clarke Millard has moved into the Strang house on Mill street. Carl Wronschutz who has been seriously ill for a number of days is improving. Baby Draper celebrated his first anniversary Tuesday and a dozen mothers with their babies joined in the festivities.

The proposition to bond the village for $12,000 for paving Main street was defeated at the election last Tuesday, there being 144 votes against it and 135 for it. There was too much opposition to a brick paving. We believe that if the council would get up a proposition for a macadam street with cement gutters it will meet with the approval of most of the citizens. One of S. W. Spicer's horses dropped dead in harness Tuesday morning when he first hitched it up at his farm near Murray Corners.

Long ago, when one's horses ran away, he had longer to think about it before he was smashed up than in today's automobile accidents. An insulated house is one-third. During the summer an insulated roof turns the heat back from the house, insuring comfort in all of the rooms.

"I never dreamed that cooking could be such PLEASURE!"

"My ELECTROCHEF is simply a revelation!"

"I never knew that cooking could be such fun until I bought my new Electrochef. This modern range is so clean, so convenient, so different from ordinary stoves! Cooking with electric heat makes one think of pure SUNLIGHT . . . There is no smoke or soot to blacken utensils, to darken kitchen walls and curtains. A glowing wire in the center of a polished reflector furnishes only pure heat.

"Another nice thing about my Electrochef is the fact that it's easy to KEEP clean. The smooth surfaces of glistening porcelain are as easy to clean as a china dish. Simply wiping with a damp cloth restores the original luster. All corners are rounded, inside and out. There are no cracks or crevices anywhere to collect dirt. Even the front-cornered oven interior, finished in chrome-plate, can be easily and quickly polished to its original brightness. My Electrochef will look new and sparkling for years!"

School Herd Wins in National Contest

Joe Cook, herdsman at the Wayne County Training school, is wearing a broad smile these days. His intimate friends know the reason and have taken the Mail into their confidence. The reason follows:

The national honor list of Holstein cows for the official testing year ended December 31, 1931, has just been announced by H. W. Norton, Jr., superintendent of advanced registry of the Holstein-Friesian Association of America with headquarters in Madison, Wisconsin. The Wayco herd at the Wayne County Training school is included four times in this list, including a second, a ninth, a tenth and a thirty-eighth place. There were 43 Michigan cows from 16 different Michigan herds included this year in this national honor list.

The Wayco herd took a second place in the senior three-year old seven day class with Wayco's model Annie, aged three years, six months and nine days producing 589.1 pounds of milk containing 4.2 per cent of fat or 30.073 pounds of butter in seven days.

Mercedes Veeman Price Segel took fifth place in the junior three-year old yearly butterfat class by producing on three times a day milking 18292.9 pounds of milk averaging 3.4 per cent of fat with a total butter production for the year of 774.1 pounds. In the junior four year old class Louisa Angie Pauline, which last year established a new yearly milk record for junior four year old cows in Michigan, a figure which placed her fifth in the world for her age class, stands in rate of production between the ninth and tenth cows on the list as published but for technical reasons only was not given tenth place, although producing 10538 pounds of butter in this year she actually produced more butter than the cow given tenth place.

Cholevoix Ormsby Zephyr, five years and three days old at the time of milking, won thirty-eighth place among full aged cows in yearly butter fat production. She produced 1138.8 pounds of butter from 26544.8 pounds of 3.4 per cent milk. Fifty places were given in this class with only two other Michigan cows placing. Maude Veeman Koraykys, seven years old, owned by J. G. Hays of East Lansing, stood fifteenth and Omal Princess Colantha Ormsby, also seven years old, owned by the Detroit Creamery company, stood thirty-third in the list. No Michigan cow stood first in any class. There were three Michigan cows that took second places of which the Training school had one. There were eighteen Michigan cows that in their various classes stood among the first ten names on their list. Of these eighteen first ten places were won by Michigan three places, a second, a ninth and a tenth were occupied by Training school cows.

The significance of these honors won by the Training school herd cannot be appreciated in their full value unless one considers that the Training school herd is only four years old while most of the herds that have entered into this honor roll are herds that have been in existence for many years and consequently have that great advantage back of them; further that the work of milking and caring for these cows is done by children as a part of their vocational training.
