

PLYMOUTH VET WRITES ABOUT BONUS ARMY

Delbert Cummings Invites Soldiers Not At Work To Join

"If you haven't got a job, boys, come on down. You ain't as well as you think," writes Delbert Cummings, Plymouth veteran of the World War who has joined the ranks and file of the Bonus Army in Washington.

"We want work or we want the bonus, one or the other," he declares.

According to Cummings the great camp is organized along military lines, with the Salvation Army maintaining refreshment stands just as it did over seas during the war.

On a letterhead stamped "Bonus Expeditionary Force, Unit No. Detroit Co's A and B, Camp Marks, Anacostia, District of Columbia," Mr. Cummings writes to all of his Plymouth friends through the Plymouth Mail as follows:

"Dear Friends: I am down here in Washington, D. C., with the Bonus Army. You can believe me when I say it is getting to be an army. Soldiers, marines, soldiers of the World War, I wish you folks could see us and how we live in this camp.

"The camp is located in the southeastern part of the city. The Anacostia camp is the largest one. There are fifteen other camps, large and small. There is no drunkenness and we have had no fighting or disturbances of any kind.

"The camp is kept sanitary just as we did across seas. We bury the garbage and other refuse that cannot be hauled away. An effort is made to keep the camps just as clean as they were during the war.

"There is only one policeman from Washington out here to keep us straight. A number of women and children are in camp and more families are coming in every day from all over the United States. Two loads of ex-soldiers with tents, food and beds arrived about an hour ago from Brooklyn, New York. We expect some more in from Illinois in the morning and reports from California state that many more are on the way from there.

"Reports that have gone out that we are disarmed are not true. No one is leaving camp to go back home. We are staying with the intention of getting the government to give us work or the bonus for ourselves and our friends at home.

"There are men being sent out to recruit more soldiers and bring them down here and to tell the folks back home about conditions in our camp.

"We eat two times each day. The food is given us by the people of Washington and elsewhere. The government has donated no food. The police here are the men and so are the people.

"I will send you a copy of our paper we are getting out here printed by our friends so you can send it home and tell the people the real facts.

"Tell the boys that are not working to come on down here. I liked being in five days from Jackson, Michigan. Give my regards to all my friends in Plymouth.

Respectfully,

"Delbert Cummings."

Mr. Cummings states that he plans to write a number of additional letters to the Mail so that his Plymouth friends can be kept posted on what is really going on down in the fast-growing big bonus army camps around Washington.

TAXPAYERS SETTLE FAST

Notices Go Out July 1st. Many Thousands Are Already Paid City

On the afternoon of June 30th the City Treasurer placed in the mail 3200 statements covering the 1932 city tax. The amount of work involved in preparing the tax statements is not generally known by the public. The procedure consists of preparing the Assessment roll which gives the name and address of the taxpayer and the legal description of the property also the preparation of a duplicate roll containing the same information. Each roll contains approximately 3400 names and descriptions. After these rolls have been prepared the valuations as established by the Board of Review are entered opposite each property description, and after the tax rate has been established by the Commission it is necessary to apply this tax rate against all valuations in order that the amount of tax due by the taxpayer is also necessary to go over all of the special assessment rolls and take off the unpaid installments of the previous year and add the same to the general tax roll in the proper columns opposite the names of taxpayers whose special assessment taxes are determined. In transferring the special assessment taxes to the general tax roll it is necessary to compute the penalty on each item before placing the same on the tax roll. After the roll has been prepared as above outlined it is necessary to total the same and see that both the general tax and the delinquent special assessment taxes are equal to the roll balances with the amount appropriated and the total amount of delinquent taxes carried over the previous year.

After the rolls have been completed and balanced it is necessary that each form of taxation, that is the general tax and delinquent special assessment tax, be added on the tax bills, a copy of which is mailed to the taxpayer. The names and descriptions on the roll and the name, address and property description on the tax statement are printed on by means of the addressograph equipment. During the past year a motor driven addressograph machine was purchased which made it possible to copy the names and addresses on the tax roll and assessment roll in less than three days time, whereas this work required several weeks time by the old hand method of preparing the roll.

A notice to taxpayers was included with each tax bill calling attention to the fact that the 1932 statement was the first under the City form of government and that both the tax rate and the assessed valuation were lower than in recent years. The City taxes have been reduced 34%. In the last two years there has been a decrease in the percentage of the total reduction in local governmental costs will amount to 44%.

During the first three days of tax collections a total of $3,220,291 was paid to the City Treasury. From present indications it appears that the tax collections will be equal to the percentage received in 1931 which was among the highest in the state of Michigan. Plymouth could consider itself very fortunate if the 1932 collections should exceed the percentage collected in 1931. The Commission has reduced the local taxes in order that the record in 1931 can be surpassed in 1932.

The death of Mrs. Eyla Grabow, formerly Eyla Chadwick of Ypsilanti, called Mrs. C. H. Baker, Mrs. Roderick Cassidy, Mrs. J. W. Adams, Miss Venita Adams and Miss Anna Baker to Lansing Sunday to attend the funeral services.

Frank Learnea Is Back From Chicago

Frank Learnea, one of the delegates from this congressional district to the Democratic national convention held in Chicago last week, has returned home and has been debating almost his entire time to answering questions about the Roosevelt victory that featured the convention.

Mr. Learnea declares that almost from the minute the convention started everything pointed to a Roosevelt nomination. The Michigan delegation was united for Roosevelt and supported him from the beginning.

"Every one wanted to elect our own man," he said, "and we did it. Outside of the nomination of Roosevelt, one of the highlights of the convention was the speech that Will Rogers made. He told us to go home and not act like Democrats—just get together and work for the good of the cause," stated Mr. Learnea.

It is the opinion of the local Democratic delegate that William C. Stuckey will be the selection of the party for the governorship. He stated that the candidacy of Claude Carney of Kalamazoo had created an interest among the Democrats and that he anticipated the nomination of Stuckey with little difficulty.

CURBINGS FOR DIRTY STREETS

City Commission Planning Improvement For Employment

Upon instructions from the city commission the manager has prepared an estimate of the cost of building concrete curb and gutter on dirt streets in the city. The proposed curb will be of the type built on Sherman Avenue, also the type used in connection with concrete pavement. The curb will be six inches above the gutter and will have an 18 inch curb slab.

The cost of this work has been estimated at 40 cents per linear foot and can be built for this price provided that a reasonable amount is allotted for. This same type of curb built in 1928 cost the city 45 cents per linear foot.

There are several streets in the city which would be greatly improved in appearance by the installation of curb and gutter and would be placed in ideal condition for a semi-permanent surface treatment of asphalt or tar. This treatment would provide very satisfactory residential streets and would be much cheaper than a concrete or slush asphalt pavement.

Freak Accident Due To Collision

Paul Olds and Frank Everett had narrow escapes from serious injury last Friday evening when two automobiles collided at the intersection of Main and Golden roads, throwing one car over the curb and into the car which stood at the gas station where it had been driven to be filled with gas.

Fortunately the accident resulted in only slight injury to one person. The collision was due to the failure of one of the lights in the car that was to work properly, permitting drivers of both cars to believe that they had a right of way at the intersection. When the machines collided, one was hit in such a way that it was hurled for a considerable distance in the direction of the gas station where it struck the rear end of the other car, badly wrecking it. One of the gas pumps was also broken off.

Chief of Police Virginia Smith as well as the state police investigated and declared that the accident was one of the most unusual they had ever been called to witness.

Plymouth Enjoys A Quiet Fourth

Narry a fireman—automobile accident—runaway horse or any other incident of any kind except the return of Plymouth's delegate to the Democratic national convention, marked the 1932 Fourth of July celebration in this happy little community.

Automobiles by the hundreds drove in and around Plymouth, through Plymouth and out to the parks. But that was all. Glenn Smith said more hot dogs, pop, candy and coffee out at his job in the park than during all the rest of the time he has had his place open. In fact he took in more money than have some of the Detroit banks on busy days, providing one counts the pennies and nickels.

Plymouth fishermen found that fishing on the Fourth wasn't so good. So far no catches have been reported. However, any one cared to have photographs of their catches it was a perfectly quiet day with everybody satisfied, even the gas men.

Postal Workers Are Warned Of Politics

The following announcement was made by the United States Civil Service Commission today, according to Postmaster Bert Gilles:

In order that Federal classified employees might be fully advised of the provisions of the civil-service rules relating to political activity, the Commission has published for years its ruling that what an employee may not lawfully do independently he may not lawfully do in open or secret with others; neither may he employ for any unlawful purpose an agent, officer, or other person whose action or inaction is clearly responsible for a continuation or repetition of the abuse of power vested by such employee in an association, or its officers or in other persons. Such responsibility may be terminated only by establishing and maintaining effective control over such agencies, or by the withdrawal of the power so vested in them.

To make a public official or a candidate for public office, it is to take active part in a political campaign, such action by an employee is a violation of Civil Rule 1 and may subject the offending employee to separation from the public service. If the attack is made by the action of several employees, the rule is still personal and attaches to each employee separately and severally for the purpose of the administration of the civil service law. If it is permissible for Federal employees to take active part in a political campaign to elect one candidate and defeat another, by which the successful candidate must be accorded the right to dismiss from the public service whom he will and fill the vacancy by the appointment of whom he will. That means the return of the spoils system, with infinite disaster to Federal employees and the public service. It is childish to assume that the protective provisions of civil-service law can outline the full and impartial enforcement of its restrictive provisions. The latter alone makes the former possible, and the nullification of the latter will destroy the whole law.

The foregoing principles are fundamental to any maintenance of the merit system and the Commission accordingly holds that it is contrary to the civil-service rules prohibiting political activity for any organization of classified Federal employees to issue letters or statements making direct or implied suggestion that the Federal employees vote or work for the return to office of those legislators whose records are regarded as favorable in matters primarily or solely concerning Federal employees.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Schoof, and children, Jacquelin, Jean and Billy, visited Mrs. Schoof's sister and family, Mrs. C. J. Tenfel, at Toledo over the Fourth.

HE PAYS STATE THREE MILLION

Attorney Frank Hill Acts For Phone Co. In Tax Payment

Frank L. Hill, well known resident of Plymouth and attorney for the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, a few days ago had the pleasure of delivering to the state of Michigan for the Telephone Company a check amounting to $3,300,000. The amount represented the tax on the state this year from the phone company. It is the largest tax paid by any public utility operating in Michigan this year.

The payment by the Michigan Bell Company represents approximately one-quarter of the total state tax to be paid by Michigan public utilities this year. In addition to the payments to the state, the company this year pays about $250,000 in federal taxes, about $200,000 in miscellaneous local taxes, and a grand total of approximately $3,200,000, or $5.85 for every telephone operated by the company. This represents the net earnings on two of every five telephones in service.

Under the Michigan law, telephone and telegraph companies, railroads, railway car-leasing companies and express companies pay taxes to the state in lieu of local taxes upon property generally used for conducting their businesses. Local taxes are paid by these companies upon real estate not in present use for the purpose of public utility service.

Tax money received by the state from public utilities is placed in the primary school fund and distributed among school districts in proportion to the number of children of school age residing therein, to be applied against the expense of operating the public schools. It is estimated that the primary school fund will receive approximately $12,200,000 from utility taxation.

Ten Year Old Boy Is New Champion

Would you believe it? A ten year old youngster is the new horse shoe pitching champion of Plymouth—and he defeated one of the old veterans twirlers of the street to win this honor.

The new champion is Robert Hill, ten years old, who resides on South Harvey street. He won the title by defeating the former champion, Fred Lute, who has pitched horse shoes so many years he can't remember when he started. In five straight games, the fifth contest was a complete shut-out. The lad had fifty points and Lute none. The contest was played in Riverside Park with a large number witnessing the contest.

State is Seeking Late Blueberry

The number of Michigan people who cooperated with the State Horticultural Society in its search last year for an excellent type of high bush blueberry has caused the Society to offer another prize for the best late maturing high bush blueberry found by a resident of the State this year.

Two promising varieties of berries were found last year. The first prize of $25 was won by Mrs. Fred Taylor, Grass Lake. The prize will be implemented this year for the late maturing berry. The privilege of the contest is to find a variety which ripens after the early berries have been picked.

Members of the horticultural department at Michigan State College believe that a profitable market can be developed for blueberries. The profits from the crop will be higher if the ripening and picking season can be prolonged by obtaining varieties which ripen at varying times.

Berries which ripen later than September 1 are especially desired. Persons who enter this year's contest should send a fair example of the berries, among such are the Superintendent, South Haven Experiment Station, South Haven. The main crop of berries should be left on the bush so they can be examined.

Northville Woman Killed in Wreck

Mrs. Roy Cole, 47 years old, of Northville, was killed Monday afternoon when the automobile driven by her husband collided with another car near Holly, Mrs. A. Schafer, of Detroit, who was in the Cole car, suffered a fractured hip, but Cole and Frank Brodzman, an observer at the primary election in Northville, were not injured.

Cole crashed into a car driven by Meyer Rosenber, 7432 Pine avenue, who was accompanied by Robert Rosenber and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rosenber. None was hurt.

Three Detroiters were injured Monday afternoon in an automobile collision at Nine Mile and Southfield roads when their car overturned. The driver of the other car, Samuel Hall, of Newark, O., was arrested by Oakland County authorities on a tentative charge of reckless driving. The injured, Mrs. Mabel, 2083 Commonwealth avenue; her mother, Martha, and Margaret Peace, 3510 Yonahville avenue, were taken to the Redford branch of Receiving Hospital. All suffered internal injuries. Miss Mook was driving.

Plymouth Team Trims Lexington

The Schrader-Hagerty baseball team journeyed to Lexington over the weekend to turn back the Lexington Independents in two games, 4 to 3, and 16 to 15.

By winning those two games, Plymouth has won four and lost one since their withdrawal from the Detroit Baseball Federation League. In previous games, the locals defeated the Ann Arbor Merchants 4 to 2, and Clark's Lake 6 to 5.

In the Sunday game found Carl Gates, formerly of the West Point Park club, doing the hurling, and Kenneth Gates, star catcher of the Plymouth High School team of this season, on the receiving end, for Plymouth. William Dresser started on the mound for Lexington, but was driven to cover in the fifth, Fred Branton relieving him. Harold Regan was behind the bat for the Independents.

Effective pitching by Goers backed by good fielding was the big factor in Plymouth's victory on Sunday.

The Fourth of July contest found two teams battling for ten rounds in a slugfest. Plymouth emerged the victor after collecting twenty-two hits off four Lexington pitchers. Norman "Dutch" Atchison went the route for Plymouth allowing eleven scattered hits. Gates was again on the receiving end for the locals, while Johnnie Griffin caught for Lexington. This game saw the first appearance of Jack Gilles in a Plymouth uniform. Gilles is a hard hitting outfielder recently signed by Manager Leroy Simmons. He collected two doubles and two singles in six trips to the plate.

MEMBER WIRE TAPPING GANG IN WORK HOUSE

Hagey's Associate Comes Here To Serve Out Three Years

Mrs. Florence Hagey, associate of Leonard Hagey, former Plymouth resident who engineered a series of successful wire-tapping raids, is now a resident of the Detroit House of Correction from a Plymouth for the next three years. Hagey has been returned to Colorado where he will complete a life sentence for murder, having escaped from that prison just before he came to Plymouth.

Mrs. Hagey is the only one of the three involved in the inflicting of the telegraph company to go to prison for the crime. Leonard Hagey, 38, called the brains of the gang, is in the Colorado State Prison to finish a life sentence in solitary confinement. He escaped from the prison five years ago. Clyde Bailey, Mrs. Hagey's brother-in-law, was shot by Hagey and his body thrown into the Mississippi River shortly after the swindle.

"My diary is innocent enough," Mrs. Hagey said yesterday as she sat with her widowed sister, Mrs. Jeanne Bailey, at the county jail. The diary is a little book that she has recorded her daily activities in.

"They tried to twist everything I put in it to mean something terrible, of course I was worried. Clyde was threatening me all the time. When he and Hagey first suggested I get the money I thought they had made some money book-keeping. Then they got the gray wig for me and the glasses. I told them I didn't want to do anything crooked and they explained that it wasn't."

"They said all I had to do was to get the money. That's what I did. In my diary I remember saying once that Clyde had a proposition that was too good to be true and that Joanne and I were going to stay in town and see how things came out even if it comes out all right. I said Clyde had told my sister he'd pay me on some stock he was buying and then buy it from her and let her get a divorce if she wanted to."

"They had so much trouble and I had to support Joanne and her youngster for so long that it all seemed too good to be true.

"I didn't really believe Clyde would do anything like that. Once I had the $10,000 I felt relieved, and then he had threatened to kill me. He did. It is just a personal record of my life these last months when I've hoped for so much security and now I see I have prison."

"They'd tried to threaten I still love Hagey. I'm shocked about him. I never imagined he had been in any trouble. He seemed so quiet and nice. I got home only now I go back to my husband if I see five and it had have me. I don't care so much about this three years for myself. But for my sister. I'm just frantic. I studied to be a train of nurse and I had a lot of experience. My sister is to have an infant child this month. I don't know who is going to look after her."

A Mrs. Hagey talked her sister, sitting beside her holding her hand, wept quietly.

Most of the stolen money has been recovered.

Miss Rowland Bride Of George Matevia

The marriage of Miss Leslie Rowland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Rowland, and George W. Matevia, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Matevia of Canton Center Road, was solemnized on Thursday, June 30, at six o'clock in the First Presbyterian church of this city by Rev. Walter Nichol as officiating clergyman.

The young couple was attended by the bride's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Travis.

Following the ceremony they returned to the home of the bride's parents on the Oak Road where a reception was held and light refreshments served to the immediate families.

The happy couple left on a short honeymoon, motoring to Adrian where they visited relatives until Saturday and then spent three days at Island Lake with Mr. and Mrs. Travis. Miss Irene Kramer and Joe Rowland as their guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Matevia will reside with Mr. and Mrs. Travis on the Canton Center Road.

The bride and groom are well known in this vicinity and their many friends extend heartiest congratulations to them for their future happiness.

People travel just to discover how comfortable home is.

Preparing for failure is one way to insure success.

THE COUNTRY IS SAFE

The United States is the oldest republic in the world. In fact it is the oldest government. It has faced many critical problems during its long history but they have always been solved and the nation has gone on to a greater prosperity than it enjoyed previous to the various emergencies that developed. We are right now confronted with another great problem, the greatest economic problem that we as a nation ever faced. Through the nature of our political organization we solve most of these issues by elections, selecting as our leaders, representatives of the conflicting political thoughts that prevail. We as a country have now placed before the voters of the United States the two representatives of these different political thoughts. One or the other will be elected president of the United States in November.

Herbert Hoover who has been president of the United States for four years is regarded as the more conservative type of leadership than is represented in the more progressive and aggressive Franklin Roosevelt. While Governor Roosevelt may be regarded as an entirely different type candidate than President Hoover, his life-time environment has been of such a character and his official acts have been of a kind to give one little reason to fear a calamity if he should be elected. After all it is the type of men that a president surrounds himself with that counts most for a successful administration.

The campaign is now on. During the next four months we will have plenty of opportunity to study the situation and to come to a decision of whether it would be best for the country to turn to the magic name of Roosevelt in our crisis or to permit Herbert Hoover with a congress more representative of the American people than the present one has been, to work out the tremendous government changes that have got to be made in order to set the economic world aright.

NORMAL BUSINESS

When business becomes slow, many theorists become agitated, and clamor for startling new innovations, which are contrary to habits of our people, and to which the country would adjust itself with difficulty.

That is much like a doctor who gives his patient some violent remedy that exaggerates his distress. What he usually needs is rest and quiet, and mild treatment that removes obstacles to recovery.

So in regard to business. The needs of this time are not for radical and far-reaching changes, but for the removal of the more accessible obstacles to full prosperity, the cultivation of prudent and wholesome habits, and the avoidance of excesses, assisting our industrial system to work smoothly and naturally.

The unfortunate tendency of our people to rush to extremes precipitates business disasters. When business is good, they step high, see no possibility of disaster, and go in for extravagant plans of expansion. Then when business turns slow for a bit, they lose all faith and confidence, they say business will never be good, they refuse to buy goods, they lay off help, and business becomes worse because of panicky fears.

What this country needs is a spirit of calm moderation, that refuses to go joy-riding in times of expansion, and consequently is not loaded up with heavy burdens when business slows up. The same calm spirit refuses to go into depths of gloom when business slows up, and its cheerful confidence helps to maintain courage and faith.—Valley Stream Record, Valley Stream, N. Y.

WE ARE (NOT) GOING TO BE DISAPPOINTED!

Governor Wilber M. Brucker who spoke Saturday afternoon to members of the Michigan Press Association at Alpena said: "The taxpayers of Michigan are going to be disappointed. They are NOT going to get the tax reduction they expected."

WHY?
 The Governor who for four months has led the people of Michigan to believe that he had solved their tax problem for them, who has declared that through the extra session of the state legislature that he called, he had brought about economies that would ease the situation to such an extent that taxpayers might be able to save their property from confiscation, now says that the taxpayers are GOING TO BE DISAPPOINTED!

THE GOVERNOR IS WRONG.
 The taxpayers are NOT going to be disappointed. The people of Michigan are going to get a substantial tax reduction, even though the Governor says they are NOT. They are going to get it by the election of some other Republican or a Democrat for governor. If Mr. Brucker thinks his great army of salary grabbers can keep him from meeting the demands of the property owners of the state, he has another guess coming. In fact the Michigan campaign issue is squarely drawn—it is a battle between office-holding politicians as represented by Wilber Brucker and the taxpayers of Michigan—and the TAXPAYERS are going to WIN.

TAXATION

If there is a more vital issue at this time than taxation, the average citizen and business man will have a hard time finding it.

In 1890 the total cost of government, Federal, State and local, was $875,000,000—$13.88 per capita. In 1919 it was $7,465,000,000—$71.10 per capita. In 1929 it was $9,792,000,000—$80.58 per capita. It is considerably higher now. What it will be in 1933, if the present trend goes on, challenges the imagination. The new revenue bill gives no cause for optimism.

Is the United States going the way of England, of Germany, of Australia? Are we going to be swamped by bureaucracy, waste, duplication, enlargement of governmental activities, paternalism and an eventual dictatorship of office-holders?

The future of industry, of employment, of home building and of individual progress is tied up with the problem of taxation. High taxes frighten the investor, take money out of circulation, paralyze business. The assurance of economical efficient and restricted governmental activity would do more than anything else at this time to bring depression to an end.

THE COUZENS EXAMPLE

The discovery that Senator James Couzens of Michigan has most of his big fortune invested in tax-exempt securities seems to have aroused public interest chiefly because his recent proposals for higher income taxes would not have affected his own income so very much.

But there is, after all, something more significant about it. Senator Couzens sold his bank, railroad and corporation stocks when he entered the senate—in order that he could pass upon legislation affecting corporations without being influenced in his personal investments.

That, when you stop to think about it, is exactly what every public servant ought to do. No lawmaker should have a monetary interest in any business which can be affected by laws that he makes. But few lawmakers besides Senator Couzens seem to have recognized the fact.—Houghton Gazette.

THE DEPRESSION IS ENDED

Now that both the Republicans and Democrats have held their conventions and nominated their candidates the public for the next four months will give its entire thought to the question of politics and there will be much less heard about the depression, which will be a good thing for everyone. In fact since the adjournment of the Democratic convention in Chicago there has been but one thought in the minds of people and that has not been of the much discussed business slump. Maybe if everyone begins to think a bit differently, if everyone will begin to believe that conditions are not half so bad as they have been pictured—in other words get a different viewpoint of it all, we will again be headed in the right direction. At least we are sure that for the next four months there will be little if any depression talk except by candidates.

The Very Best Way

If all of us would go hand in hand,
 Helping each other when we can,
 Love and honor unto the end,
 All would be happy, all be friends.
 Not one prison, we would need,
 Judges to sentence or law to read;
 Nor a lawyer, your money to pay,
 Guards or police, in any way.
 There'd be no more depression;
 Each enjoy God's best blessing;
 And every man, the rich or poor,
 Have plenty laid away in store.
 It would be a Heaven on earth,
 To live this way from our birth;
 Think this over from day to day—
 Wouldn't it be the very best way?
 —J. T. Howard.

All Must Share

All the world is so closely akin
 That not one individual may realize
 His high desire except all the world
 Share it with him. Every good Thought sent out is a silent prayer,
 Working for Peace, Health, Love, Joy, Success to all humanity—including one's self.

Keep On Fishin'

Suppose the fish don't bite at first,
 What be yer goin' 'er dew?
 Chuck down yer pole, throw
 'way yer bait,
 An' say, 'Yer fishin' throw?
 I've course yew ain't never goin' 'er
 'er fish.
 An' fish an' wait
 Until yew's ketchel yew basket full.
 An' use'd up all yer bait,
 Suppose success don't come at first,
 What be yew goin' 'er dew?
 Throw up the sponge an' kick
 'yoursell.
 An' go 'er feelin' dew?
 I've course yew ain't never goin' 'er
 'er fish.
 An' bait an' wait agin;
 Bimeby success will hito yew hook.
 And yew will pull him in. Amen.

A Prayer

Amen, O Lord, Thou hast promised us in our estate, Surely Thy mercies are showered upon us in crowded succession. May a sense of Thy eternal goodness compel us to silence and to confession.
 In wonder and in gratitude do we thank Thee. We would cherish, Heavenly Father, the greatest of gifts, which is an honest and a car-itive heart. Impart a force to our wills and a warmth to our hearts that shall more than compensate for our defects and excesses. Do Thou, O Lord, greatly enrich our country; bless it abundantly with the spirit of good will, with zealous philanthropic labor, with high ideals, with an earnest, sensitive conscience, with a deep reverence for Thee, and with a charity for all men. Through Christ our Savior.

Fate

Two shall be born the whole wide world apart;
 And speak in different tongues, and have no thought
 Each of the other's being, and no
 heed;
 And these o'er unknown seas to unknown lands,
 Shall cross, escaping wreck, defying death.

And all unconsciously shape every act
 And bend each wandering step to this one end—
 That, one day, out of darkness,
 they shall meet
 And read life's meaning in each other's eyes.
 And two shall walk some narrow
 way of life
 So nearly side by side, that should one turn
 Ever so little space to left or right,
 They needs must stand acknowledged face to face.
 And yet, with wistful eyes that never meet,
 With groping hands that never clasp, and lips
 Calling in vain to ears that never hear
 They seek each other all their weary days
 And die unsatisfied—and this is Fate!
 —Susan Marr Spaulding.

BRUCKER'S SCEPTRE

It is perhaps only fitting and proper that eight brunets and five blondes are pitted together for the title of Torchy Queen in Traverse City this summer. Which also reminds us that, from now on, Governor Brucker will be given his annual opportunity of seeing Michigan via the Madame Queen this and Madame Queen that route—
 George Averill in the Birmingham Eccentric.

SENTIMENT FAVORS ELEC- TION ON CITY PLAN

Apparently sentiment is practically unanimous in favor of changing the government of Wayne from the village type to the more appropriate city form, a step that residents here give careful consideration during the past year. There appears to be little doubt in the minds of Wayne taxpayers that this contemplated change in government would be instrumental in saving a great many thousands of dollars in taxes each year, such savings being effected through the discontinuance of the township tax, a tax that is not required to be paid by residents of incorporated cities.

It Takes So Little

It takes so little to make us glad,
 Just a cheering clasp of a friendly
 hand,
 Just a word from one who can understand;
 And we finish the task we long had planned
 And we lose the doubt and the fear we had—
 So little it takes to make us glad,
 —Ida G. Morris.

Life

To the preacher life's a sermon,
 To the joker life's a jest;
 To the miser life is money,
 To the loafer life is rest.
 To the lawyer life is a trial,
 To the poet life's a song;
 To the doctor life's a patient
 Who needs treatment right along.
 To the soldier life's a battle,
 To the teacher life's a school;
 Life's a great thing to the thinker
 But a failure to the fool.
 Life is just a long vacation
 To the man who loves his work,
 But it's constant dodging duty
 To the fellow who's a shirk.
 To the faithful, earnest worker
 Life's a story, ever new,
 Life is what we try to make it,
 Brother, what is life to you?
 "American musical taste has outgrown bell ringers," says a critic.
 But, oh, boy, how we love the sound of that little bell on the cash register.

A SIGN OF THE TIMES

Whistles, that is their operation, have always been locally regarded at least, as a notice of prosperity.
 We miss their welcome alarm these days and it was something akin to sorrow when we heard for the last time, on Saturday noon, the whistle of the west bound Grand Trunk passenger, making its last trip over the line. For fifty years this community has always had a local Grand Trunk passenger in both directions. Since Saturday all this service is a memory. We wonder if as citizens we correctly evaluate what this reduction in train service tells the world at large. The county can never get along without the railroads. Insurance companies, for example, we read somewhere, hold two billion dollars in railroad bonds. Try and visualize how this investment concerns the people of America. Talk about the importance of prohibition and the bonus, the item of transportation is going to be a tremendous issue in this country before another decade. It affects every person. With the rail-in a state of collapse and the other carriers losing money every day the country will wake up some morning to the importance of this problem.
 It will result in more taxes to keep up the railroads. In other words the car owner will soon have to this item of new taxes to add to his present state and federal gas-tax.—Muri DeFoe in the Charlotte Republican-Tribune.

STILL THE BEST WAY

Regardless of the small tax which the Federal Government has placed upon checks everyone who has enjoyed the conveniences of a checking account will wish to continue this safe and convenient method of paying obligations. True many people will undoubtedly refrain from writing numerous small checks but for settling accounts of any size they will have in mind that a check bearing the endorsement of the payee and the cancellation of the bank upon which it is drawn is still the one certain and indisputable receipt for the payment made.

Any depositor may withdraw from his account without paying the tax by coming to the bank in person and using a special non-negotiable withdrawal slip which we provide.

The pastor preached on the "Signs of Christ's Coming" last Sunday evening and a very fine interest and attendance was manifested in spite of the wet weather. He will continue on this theme next Sunday evening.

There has been a good spiritual tone in the services lately and a week ago in the Sunday evening meeting one young man publicly accepted Christ as his savior. This is a splendid indication that revival fires are beginning to burn. We pray that more of our young people will accept the challenge that the cross of Jesus holds out to them, and offer their services to Christ and His church.

A hearty invitation is extended to both young and old to attend any and all of our services. Classes for all ages in our Bible school. You will find a Christian welcome and enjoy the fine spiritual atmosphere.

Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p. 275): "The starting-point of divine Science is that God, Spirit, is All-in-all, and that there is no other might nor Mind—that God is Love, and therefore He is divine Principle."

WEDDING DAY OMENS

It is supposed to be a good omen to have the sun shine on a wedding day. Apparently the omen is especially good if the day is cloudy and the sun comes out for an interval at the time of the wedding ceremony, or as the bride and groom return from church or start out on their wedding journey.

It was once considered a good omen if the bride wept on her wedding day.
If the wedding takes place in church it is bad luck, according to an old English superstition, for the bride and groom to go out by way of the chapel or vestry door. To insure good luck they should go out the main door of the church.

There is a superstition to the effect that the girl who reads the wedding ceremony from beginning to end will never be a bride herself.
Old-time brides used to put a little piece of broken brittle in their gloves when they were going to be married. This was supposed to insure them against the possibility of having a scolding husband.

A crumb of bread and a few crumbs of salt held in the hand or tucked in the glove at the time of the wedding ceremony used to be regarded as a guard against possible poverty after marriage.
At most weddings even now some reference is made to the fact that the one who catches the bride's bouquet when she tosses it from the stairs will be the next one to wed. There was an old superstition to the effect that the maid who wore the plus with which the bride had planned her veil would be the next married.

Girls in their wedding days still jestingly carry out the suggestion in the old lines bidding them to wear:
"Something old and something new,
Something borrowed and something blue."

Coming Attractions At Penniman Allen

"MERRILY WE GO TO HELL!"
"The Lucas" popular novel, "I, Jerry, Take Thee, Joan," has been dramatized and now becomes the co-starring vehicle for Sylvia Sidney and Fredric March, two of Hollywood's younger favorites.
Mayer, an accomplished scenarist and playwright, realizing the popularity of social dramas depicting fashionable life and the escapades of modern irresponsible youth, adheres closely to the trend of the original story. His professional touch is revealed however in the dramatic setting and forceful action he has given to the play, "Merrily We Go To Hell," which will be shown at the Penniman Allen Theatre Sunday and Monday, July 10 and 11.
In the picture, March becomes Jerry, a brilliant but irresponsible newspaper reporter, who battles daily with the beverage now prohibited but "spokelessly" obtainable on almost any block in most large cities.
Miss Sidney, as Joan, a daughter of wealthy parents, falls for March, who is affable and charming even when in his cups. Later she marries him in spite of family objections. She then finds that she has to check her own headstrong course to keep Jerry from utter dissolution.

"STRANGERS OF THE EVENING"
A cast of compelling screen personalities, coupled with an unusual murder mystery from the pen of the increasingly popular Tiffany Thayer, makes "Strangers of the Evening," which appears at the Penniman Allen Theatre, Wednesday, July 13 one of the outstanding murder mysteries of the year.
Zasu Pitts in her never failing, mournful comedy, "Linen Little-Field as the happy gentleman who has lost his memory and with it his name; Harold Waldbride as the frightened undertaker's assistant; and Eugene Pallette and Francis Sayles, the two bewildered detectives, furnish a riot of comedy that lifts this murder story from any chance of becoming morbid.
The remainder of the cast about whom the story revolves includes Melvyn Seegar and Theodor von Eltz in the romantic leads, with Tully Marshall, Warner Richmond, Mignon Hamilton, Alan Roscoe, William Scott, Charles Williams, and James Burtis. The direction of H. Bruce Humphreys was sincere and sympathetic.

"FAST COMPANIONS"
Heart beats complete with hoof beats in "Fast Companions," which will bring bring a big thrill to the screen of the Penniman Allen Theatre, Saturday, July 16. The thrill is double-barrelled and so cleverly concocted that we will guarantee you won't know what hit you, but you'll like it.
You will also like a new personality in this picture. His name is Tom Brown, and he is Irish as they come. In fact, the whole cast of this picture is Irish—Maureen O'Sullivan, James Gleason, Mickey Rooney, Andy Devine. "Fast Companions" is all about a little crook reforming a big crook because the big crook thought the little crook would grow up to be like him. Sounds complicated but try and keep back the tears and the laughs.

The blincy of depending on gold money seems to be quite clear to everybody who has any of it.
Don't worry. Justice will triumph. Some day the Lindbergh kidnapers will be jailed for dodging taxes.
Keeping up with the Joneses these days is like walking backward.

Mr. and Mrs. John Mott of Canton Center accompanied their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George Sloss of Wayne on a trip through northern Michigan over the week end. They were the guests of Mr. Sloss' parents on Sunday and visited the Soo and the Straits of Mackinac on the Fourth, returning home Tuesday.

Recent word from Dr. and Mrs. Francis M. Archibald of Elizabeth, New Jersey says that they are planning to sail from Boston on the 17th of this month on their deferred wedding journey to Wolfville, Nova Scotia, where they will spend three weeks with his parents Mr. and Mrs. William L. Archibald.

Fourteen Plymouth ladies motored to Detroit on Friday afternoon, June 24, and pleasantly surprised Mrs. Henry Fisher, a former resident of this city. The afternoon was most delightfully passed in playing games and visiting after which a delicious lunch was served.

Streams Cannot Be Closed to Public, Rules Department

The owner of property on either side of a stream that is not navigable and which has been planted with fish by the state, and who forbids the public to fish in the waters included in his property does not himself have the right to fish there, according to the Department of Conservation.

On a stream that is not navigable the owner of the property on both banks may fence across the water and forbid anyone from trespassing. However, if he excludes the public when fish have been planted at public expense in the waters, he does not have a right to take fish there, the Department says.

etting an act adopted by the Legislature in 1925.

If the property owner permits the public to fish there, he may also fish and if he resides on the property, he does not have to have a license to take trout from the waters.

The term "navigability" has never been definitely determined by law, but supreme court decisions have ruled that it includes those waters which in their original state were able to support any kind of water craft. This was taken to include the floating of logs.

There are but a few streams in Michigan which might not be termed "navigable" under this definition, the Department said.

Along "navigable" streams the public has a right to use a boat or to wade and fish without trespassing on the property along the shore, so long as they do not go on land above the water line.

Superiors Win One; Lose Fourth Game

Regardless of a continual down-pour Sunday afternoon Superior and Cherry Hill ball teams played a very interesting game. Superior practically had the game won in the first inning, getting six hits and 10 of their runs. Only seven innings were played, the field becoming too wet to play more.

NETHEM TEAM IS TRIMMED AGAIN

The Nethem ball team Sunday was defeated by the Michigan Hardware outfit 4 to 2. Nethem lead the hardware team going into the seventh inning one to nothing, but wilted away in the seventh when three unearned runs crossed the plate which wiped out their lead and they were defeated four to two.

Nethem scored in the first inning when T. Levandowski walked and stole second and went to third on Schultz's sacrifice, and scored on the squeeze play, when Joe Schomburger hunted down the third base line.

They scored the other run in the eighth inning, when Tonkovich singled to right after Pace was out, and he came home on Gale's double to center.

Tonkovich led both teams as a hitter for the day, when he got three out of four.

New Farms in Shadow of the Pyramids

THIS Egyptian peasant with his primitive form of irrigation is one of thousands who will be benefited by the building of 20 1/2 feet to the height of the great Assuan dam, 531 miles south of Cairo. The vast irrigation project, which is being carried out by the Egyptian government, will permit the cultivation of 7,000,000 acres of land now lying barren for a part or all of the year in the vicinity of the Pyramids of Giza, shown above. It will supply 5,000,000,000 cubic meters of water from the River Nile.

PADDY THE BEAVER SEES STRANGE THINGS

PADDY THE BEAVER sees other people a great deal oftener than they see him. Paddy is one of those who believe in seeing but remaining himself unseen. There isn't much that goes on around that little pond which he himself made deep in the Green Forest of which Paddy doesn't know. It is one of the advantages of living in the water most of the time that you can disappear any time anywhere, and no one on shore knows where you have gone. At least you can if you can swim like Paddy the Beaver or his cousin, Jerry Muskrat, or Billy Mink, or Little Joe Otter. All you have to do is to dive and then swim under water to some place where you can watch all that goes on. Simple, isn't it?

On this particular day, the very day when Buster Bear found the storehouse of Busy Bee and Farmer

"What Can He Want of That?" Thought Paddy.

Brown's Boy discovered both, Paddy the Beaver had spent most of his time sleeping in his house out in the pond. You see inside that house it was dark and cool and comfortable, while outside the sun was very, very bright and hurt Paddy's eyes, which are not very strong. The air was hot and even the water was warm, warmer than Paddy liked. He much prefers to be abroad at night, anyway. So inside his house Paddy dozed and was very comfortable and was sorry for his neighbors who had no such cool place to go on a hot day. Once in a while he would go out just to see that all was well or to pass the time of day with Mr. or Mrs. Quack.

It was on one of these occasions that Paddy's keen ears heard just the faintest sound in the Green Forest. He was among the rushes which grew on one side of his pond, a favorite retreat of the Quack family. Mr. Quack heard it, too. "Some one is coming," he whispered, and with a low quack wakened all the young Quacks, for they were taking nap. Instantly their heads popped out from under their wings, and with their necks stretched up they sat perfectly still listening. Paddy swam to the edge of the rushes where with only his head out of water he could see and not be seen.

The noise grew louder. Whoever was coming was not trying to steal up to the pond silently, and this was a good sign. No one who wanted to harm them ever would approach so noisily. Nearer came the noise, and it was quite clear to Paddy and to all the Quack family that whoever it was was in a hurry. Presently Paddy saw something moving just over on the other side of the pond, and in a minute out stepped Farmer Brown's Boy. At the edge of the pond he stooped down and scooped up a handful of soft, wet mud.

"What can he want of that?" thought Paddy. Then his eyes grew round with wonder. Farmer Brown's boy was plastering that black, wet mud on his nose and his forehead and the back of his neck and on one of his hands! Then he sighed, and so still was it there around Paddy's pond that sigh could be heard over where Paddy was.

Paddy wasn't sure, but it sounded very much to him like a sigh of relief. Then Farmer Brown's Boy sat down in the shade of a tree half hidden by an old stump and once more it was as still as if there were no living beings around Paddy's pond.

But it wasn't still very long. A twig snapped over in the Green Forest near the foot of Paddy's pond where he had built his dam. Some one else was coming and wasn't trying to walk softly. Paddy looked at Mr. Quack and Mr. Quack looked at Paddy, and then both fixed their gaze on the place from which the noise was drawing near. Out on the shore of the pond walked Buster Bear. And such a sight as he was! Bits of bark and twigs and dead leaves and plain dirt stuck all over him. He was a sight! He was grumbling and whining. For just a minute he sat up and looked all over Paddy's pond. He wrinkled his nose as if trying to test the air for any strong smells, and then blew sharply in disgust. He couldn't smell anything but honey. Then he dropped to all fours again and walked across Paddy's dam and along the shore until he came to a certain place where there was a great deal of mud. Then what do you think he did? He lay down and rolled in it until he was covered with mud from head to feet. He rubbed his nose and the top of his head in it. When he got through he certainly was the worst looking bear ever was. Paddy blinked and looked at Mr. Quack. Mr. Quack blinked and looked at Paddy. They were seeing strange things that afternoon.

WOULD YOU BELIEVE IT?

(A bit of fiction.) Steps are under way for the organization of a strong Hoover-for-President club hereabouts.

A tentative list of officers has been suggested with the following prominent public leaders of Plymouth as officials of the new Republican organization:

- For President, William O'Connor.
  - For Vice President, Frank Learned.
  - For Secretary, Robert O. Mims.
- Suggestions have been made that the night these officials assume control of their new offices in the Hoover-for-President club that a torch light procession precede the formal installation, with Fred Schrader, John Haggerty and other Roosevelt-for-President adherents

SOME HAM SANDWICHES

THE first ancestor of the sandwich family was a meat sandwich. They are substantial things, often meant to take the place of a full meal or the main part of a meal.

Ham Sandwich. Mix one cupful of chopped ham, one sweet red pepper chopped, one tablespoonful of olive oil and one-half teaspoonful of made mustard. Spread on buttered bread. Tastes different as to the amount of fat used—many prefer to remove the fat. The ham when used in slices should not be too thin; spread with salad dressing and thin slices of sour pickle, or lettuce may be used between the bread. Also some prefer the pickles served separately.

Ham With Chowchow Sandwich. Mince sufficient boiled ham to make a solid cupful and enough chowchow and mustard pickle to make one-fourth of a cupful. Mix enough of the liquid mustard from the bottle to soften to the spreading consistency. Use on buttered rye or whole wheat bread.

CAN'T FOOL THIS WALL-EYED PIKE

Like a cat that always finds its way home, a wall-eyed pike wasn't fooled when the Department of Conservation took him out of the Chelchogyan River and moved him to Crooked Lake. In less than two months the pike was back after a journey through a maze of lakes and streams scattered through the northern tip of the lower peninsula.

April 11, a wall-eyed pike was taken in a tray net set in the Chelchogyan River below the dam at Chelchogyan. A metal tag bearing the number "3401" was placed on the fish and it was released in Crooked Lake at Ponsheaving, June 4, the same fish, identified by the number on the tag reappeared in the net at Chelchogyan. The fish must have swum down Crooked Lake, down Crooked River, across Burr Lake, down Indian River, the traversed the whole length of Mullet Lake and made its way down Chelchogyan River, over the dam and into the trap net again. The fish was taken back for a second time to Crooked Lake.

The Institute for Fisheries Research is conducting tagging experiments with wall-eyed pike as well as with trout. Persons catching pike or trout with a metal tag attached to the gill cover, are requested to send the tag with exact information about the capture to the Institute at the University Museum, Ann Arbor. The species

"Every afternoon's a HOLIDAY" with my ELECTROCHEF electric range! "SINCE I bought my new Electrochef, I never have to worry about getting home early to begin dinner. The automatic Time-Clock Oven Control attends to that. I simply put the whole meal in the oven before I leave, and set the clock for the correct cooking time. Then I forget all about it. The oven turns itself on and off automatically. When I come home dinner is waiting, perfectly cooked and ready for the table. "Now that I've discovered my new kitchen freedom, I wonder how I ever got along without it. I enjoy many added hours of leisure and find time for many things I could never do before. Thanks to my new electric range, I can spend the whole afternoon out-of-doors. It gives me the best part of the day to myself. And one of the things I like best about my new Electrochef is that it never overheats the kitchen." Learn the features of electric cooking at any Detroit Edison office. There is no obligation.

ONE FLAG AND ONE LAND

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

ONE man for one woman, one woman for one man. For so it is writ since creation began. One roof for a shelter, one shelter alone. One home that is dearest, and that one your own. One true heart forever that truly you love.

With all of our dogmas, one Father above. Yes, so it was written and so it was planned. If rich man or poor man, one flag and one land.

Whatever our devotion, or what we adore, A man or a woman has room for no more. A love undivided that might can estrange. That no one can alter and nothing can change. A faith that is fickle, a vow that is vain. Brings nothing but sorrow, leaves nothing but pain. It may be an island, it may be a craze. Yet cherish forever one land and one flag.

Recun in a garden, the world widens far. But one is your own land, the land where you are; And many the banner that floats in the air. Yet only one banner is fairest of fair. And these shall be happy and these shall be free: The loyal forever, wherever it be. For this is the oneness that heaven has planned— One love and one cottage, one flag and one land. WOMEN ORGANIZE FOR WET BATTLE

Mrs. Frederick M. Alger, Michigan Chairman Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform, announces that Mrs. Charles H. Sablin, National Chairman has called a meeting of the National Executive Committee of the Organization to determine which political party and candidate is to receive the organization's endorsement and support.

The meeting was held at National Headquarters, 485 Madison Avenue, New York City, Thursday, July 7th, and representatives of the organization's 42 state divisions and the District of Columbia are expected to attend.

The meeting has been called in accordance with the action of the National conference of the organization last April. Mrs. Sablin started in discussing the purpose of the sessions, that the time for organization was unable to make any decision as to the party to which it would take in the Presidential campaign, as neither party had as yet adopted a platform or selected its nominee.

WHEREAS, national prohibition has proven a disastrous constitutional experiment economically, socially, and subversive of our form of government, resulting in moral deterioration of the body politic, in widespread crime, corruption and contempt for law.

WHEREAS, in order to adhere to our Declaration of Principles, it is the function of this organization to support that party and its candidate for President of the United States as well as all other candidates for public office, which shall stand unequivocally for the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment to be submitted through conventions in the various states for ratification or rejection.

WHEREAS, the members of the Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform, non-partisan and non-tribal, will both major political parties shall have held their National Conventions, announce their platforms and nominated their respective candidates. And until after the National Executive Committee meet, early in July, when after full discussion a majority vote shall determine which party and which presidential candidate this organization shall endorse and support.

Michigan members of the National Executive Committee who will attend this meeting are Mrs. Frederick M. Alger, State chairman, Mrs. Henry H. Joy, Detroit, and Miss Elsie C. Merriam of Saginaw.

Catherine Lezotte, Wayne and Plymouth chairmen.
