

MAY ABOLISH ALL TOWNSHIPS

State Legislature Will Be Asked To Pass Upon Question

If legislation that is now being proposed throughout the state should be enacted during the forthcoming session of the legislature there may no more Plymouth township. If it is not abolished, some other township may be joined to Plymouth township. It has become known in the past few days that a number of tax-paying groups in the state have started agitation to abolish all townships. If they see that this cannot be done, they propose to consolidate many of them.

It will be recalled that a number of years ago a number of residents in the northern part of old Plymouth township had the state legislature pass an act dividing Plymouth township into two townships, making Northville township the north half of what had been Plymouth township. At that time or since, it is pointed out, there has never been a single reason in the world why this division should have taken place, except to create additional township jobs.

If some of the bills that are being prepared should be enacted, not only would townships like Plymouth and Northville be united, but several other adjoining townships might be made into one big township, one group of officials serving all of them. Another bill that is to be presented, according to those in a position to know, provides for the abolishment of all townships.

The Detroit Free Press recently printed the following article about some of the proposed steps that may be taken towards the discontinuance of numerous public offices:

Definite recommendations for the elimination of County governmental units throughout Michigan, the consolidation of school districts and for the abolishment of the township system in Metropolitan areas, will be made to the new State Legislature when it convenes in January.

The purpose of the recommendations is the lowering of the average cost of government, which add millions annually to the taxes of cities, counties, villages and towns.

There are seven City Governments within the limits of Wayne County, Detroit, Hamtramck, Highland Park, Dearborn, Lincoln Park, River Rouge and Wyandotte. There are 18 Township Governments, Brownstown, Canton, Dearborn, Ecorse, Grosse Pointe, Grosse Pointe, Huron, Livonia, Mononguon, Nankin, Northville, Plymouth, Redford, Romulus, Stimpert, Taylor and VanBuren.

Handreds See The Eclipse of Sun

Plymouth residents were fortunate Wednesday in having an excellent opportunity to see the partial eclipse of the sun, not a cloud in the sky breaking the vision during the time of this important event in astronomy. While the passing of the moon between the earth and sun did not produce a total eclipse in this part of the world, it was nearly so for the brief space of a few minutes.

The eclipse came on the hottest day of the year, but weather predictions of the day previous came true, that Thursday would bring relief from the intense heat. A sudden drop of the thermometer early Thursday morning was greatly welcomed.

Mrs. E. J. Cutler, her sons, Russell and Alfred and daughter, Winifred, joined Mr. Cutler and Sarah at Hotel Orion, Post Stanley, Ontario for the week-end. Mr. Cutler and Sarah made several lovely paintings at the lake during their five day stay there.

Mr. and Mrs. Truman Trumbull have moved to Detroit, where Mr. Trumbull will operate a gas station.

SCHOOL BELLS RING TUESDAY

Students Urged To Continue Education In Times of Stress

The teachers will all be back from their respective vacations with their work organized on Monday, September 5, and school ought to be opening almost normally by closing time Tuesday night, stated St. George Smith yesterday.

The question at the beginning of September each year to many boys and girls is whether it will pay them in the future to make use of their opportunity this year. In years of adversity and discouragement through which we have been passing, we are too liable to lose sight of the fact that the best way to achieve success during the coming periods of prosperity is to be prepared when opportunity offers itself. It is, therefore, very desirable and individually necessary that boys and girls take full advantage of the educational opportunity which our community affords.

To postpone attendance at high school during a time when opportunity for securing a position is very doubtful would be to find one's self unprepared to grasp the opportunities which are sure to present themselves in the near future as a result of a decided economic upturn in business.

Everything has been done that is within the power of the Board of Education to maintain the high standards of the Plymouth Public Schools, and the administration is looking forward to a year of real opportunity for both resident and non-resident students.

Monday Labor Day, Everybody To Rest

Monday is Labor Day! And present indications are that no one in Plymouth will labor that day. Merchants say they are going to close their stores. Industries are going to close down their plants, so their employees can fish. Gas station attendants say they are going to get a change by pumping gas instead of waiting for some one to pump gas for.

Gov. Brucker Here September 6

Plymouth residents are going to have the opportunity of hearing Governor Wilbur M. Brucker during the present campaign, announcement having been made of the fact that he will be here on Tuesday.

Rotarians Take A Glimpse Into The Methods of The Past

Members of the Plymouth Rotary club turned back the pages of local history to the business methods and practices of a quarter of a century ago at the meeting held last Friday in the Hotel Mayflower.

It was one of those exceptionally interesting sessions, such as only a glimpse into the ways of other days could create. The idea was that of Edward C. Hough, who had charge of the program.

Ed. Gayde brought before the Rotarians some of the accounts, books and other records that his father used in the grocery business in years past. On the shelves he found a box of old water-proof caps that were used on guns half a century ago. He even had the bill of sale of the caps, showing what his father had to pay for them.

Dr. Robert Haskell pictured the tremendous advancement that had been made in the care of the mentally sick, pointing out that the methods of restraint formerly used are no longer employed.

Otto Boyer had on display a machine that was used by druggists of the past in making their various preparations, displaying also the various types of bottles that used to line the shelves of the drug store.

The church had its opportunity to show what was the practices of twenty-five years ago. Father Frank Lafere, picturing in a most interesting way the progress of religion.

FIVE HELD FOR ESCAPE PLOT

Judge Ford Brooks Hears Case Brought By Detroit Police

Municipal Judge Ford Brooks has had before him twice during the present week four men and a woman charged by Detroit officers with aiding and abetting the woman's husband to escape from the Detroit House of Correction out on the Elm Ave. road. The husband has been serving a sentence following conviction of breaking and entering.

The five were arrested by Detroit detectives seeking to recapture Jack George, the fugitive, who was sentenced Aug. 18 in Recorder's Court to serve six months to two years at the institution. George, who lived at 3710 Congress street east, escaped with another man from the prison bean farm last Thursday.

Those under arrest are Molly George, his wife, described by the police as the ringleader in the escape plot; George, 3157 Congress street east; Joseph Salter, 1536 Congress street east; Arthur Backus, 941 Congress street east, and William Scarpace, 1909 Elm street.

According to Inspector Frank Frady, the woman prevailed upon the four men to park an automobile near the bean farm so that her husband could spirited away by the House of Correction officials, discovered he was missing. The husband has not been caught.

Mrs. George had them drive her and her husband to Park Huron, where the two registered in a hotel under an assumed name. Inspector Frady said his investigation disclosed that they returned to Detroit and accidentally became separated, he said.

Mrs. George was arrested at the home of her parents, 1543 Macomb street, and taken to the women's division at Police Headquarters. The men were picked up later and admitted their share in the plot, blaming her, Inspector Frady said.

REGISTER NOW! TWO DAYS LEFT

See That Your Name Is On Election Roll At City Hall

All unregistered voters of the City of Plymouth will still have an opportunity to register for the Primary Election on Saturday, September 3rd.

There have been approximately 200 new registrations in the City since the election last Spring, which indicates a considerable amount of interest in the forthcoming election. The State law provides that cities with a population of less than 35,000 may, if they desire, receive registrations up to the second Saturday before an election. The City of Plymouth has taken advantage of this provision in order that the greatest possible opportunity will be afforded to unregistered voters.

No registration will be received for the primary election after Saturday, September 3rd. Registration books will be opened again immediately following the primary election and registrations for the fall election will be received up to October 29th, after which the books will again be closed until after the several fall election.

TELLS OF TRIP TO ISLE ROYALE, DECLARES IT IS BEAUTY SPOT

CLAUDE DYKHOUSE MAKES A COMPLETE TRIP AROUND THE ISLAND

Claude J. Dykhouse, principal of the Plymouth high school, has returned from one of the most interesting vacation trips taken by any Plymouth resident during the summer, a trip that took him entirely around and over a good portion of Isle Royale.

The trip was arranged by the Lansing Y. M. C. A., there being twelve in the party. They prepared their own meals and at night slept on the island, a large launch being used for the trip around the island.

Mr. Dykhouse has prepared the following interesting description of the island:

Isle Royale is located in Lake Superior sixty miles from Houghton, Michigan. The island is fifty miles long, ten miles wide and high, and tapers toward both ends which makes it resemble a battle ship.

Hundreds of small islands are found near the coast of the main island which greatly add to the beauty. Large bays indent the rocky coast for several miles and offer a most pleasant trip with a launch. There are two small mountain ranges on the island, they run from one end to the other and show the birch and fir trees to a wonderful advantage. The natural beauty of Isle Royale with its islands, bays, creeks and mountains is equal to that of Yellowstone National Park.

There are many animals on the island, the one which is the most interesting is the moose. It is possible to see several at one time by walking inland for a mile or two early in the morning. It is a rare and unusual sight to watch them play in their "waddle" which is a mixture of mud and water located on a track. The moose also play around in the smaller lakes and a member of our party approached within twenty feet by rowing the boat towards the animal each time the animal lowered its head under the water to feed.

The Royale offers an exceptional opportunity for people who enjoy fishing and hunting. There are trout streams where it is easy to secure your allotted limit in one hour. The inland lakes are noted for their pike. Three members of our party caught three pike each in Lake Richlie in less than half an hour. There are no boats on the inland lakes making it necessary to wade into the lake before casting. Many of the smaller lakes are fished only once or twice a year. Several of the lakes do not have names at the present time, which gives some evidence of the wildness of the island in certain sections.

There are no roads on the island and reasonable means of conveyance to travel mouse trails which usually follow a trout stream and finally lead to some small lake. These mouse trails lead through swamps and over hills and are very picturesque. The old copper mines are particularly interesting. The mines which were worked by the Indians at an early date are only ten or twelve feet deep. They were made by building a fire over the rock, then pouring cold water onto the rock to crack it by expansion. The mines worked by white people, seventy or eighty years ago are deeper and resemble our modern mines, hammers and chisels of stone were their only tools and these are still found there.

DIVER HITS HEAD ON STONE, DIES AS RESULT

John Kolls, 25 years of age, a resident of Vermont street, Detroit, died in the new Plymouth hospital early Wednesday morning as the result of concussion of the brain. While diving the night previous from the bank at Phoenix lake, his head struck a stone in the water. Associates saw him struggling in the water and rushed to his aid. He was brought to the Plymouth hospital where Dr. Patterson was called to attend him. The seriousness of his condition was at once evident and he died without regaining consciousness. The body was removed by the Schrader funeral home and later taken to Detroit. There was only about three feet of water where he made the dive.

Cummings Is Back, Not In Washington

Army Bonus Riots

Delbert Cummings, Plymouth veteran who was a member of the Bonus Army in Washington, has just returned home and set at rest the fears of a number of his friends. Cummings planned to return to Washington just before the bonus army was closed out of the city by federal troops. Nothing had been heard from him until his return home this week.

He escaped the assault of the troops through the fact that he was delayed in day or so in returning from Plymouth to Washington. It was near Johnstown where in company with two other Detroit veterans on the way to Washington, that he met the routed bonus army on the way to Johnstown, Penn.

Cummings declared "I did not get in the trouble due to the delay we had in getting started. We were down in Pennsylvania and had stopped in a little town to eat breakfast when some one showed us a paper telling of what had happened. We decided that it might be partly propaganda so we kept on going. That day we met the bonus army coming out from Washington. Some were in cars, some were walking doing anything they could to get away from that place. They carried along streams of any place they could find to sleep. We told them that we intended to go on into Washington, but were told that it would be of no use, that we couldn't get in the city.

"Then we camped at Johnstown and all were glad when the order came to disband. There was no sanitation there. Some of us went to Chicago on the soldiers. All along the way newspapers were taking pictures of us. When we got to Chicago we were sent to the places from where we had enlisted. That took us to Beatrice, Nebraska, where I thought possibly I might get a job. But there was no work there and so I started back to Michigan. I am going to Dearborn, Michigan, where my father lives. Maybe some of the boys would like to know that the Michigan Bonus camp is six miles south of Gaines on Meyer's lake."

STATE FAIR TO BE BEST OF ALL

Event Which Starts On Sept. 4 Promises Visitors Much

With entries pouring in at record rate in all departments and contracts for space in the industrial district, the food exposition and for concessions equaling expectations, the management of the Michigan State Fair and Exposition, Sept. 4 to 10, is turning attention to the entertainment features.

An entertainment "bill" of proportions never before seen at the state fair is promised this year's visitors. Two days of automobile racing, featuring A. A. A. drivers; five afternoon of harness racing, the most complete Wild West rodeo so far seen in Detroit; 10 of the country's most noted outdoor carnival acts; an internationally known band, and the biggest "Mid-way" group yet exhibited at the fair are some of the professional attractions.

Other additional entertainment features of the 1932 fair include the "Mutt" show on "Young Michigan's Day" when 2000 mixed-breed dogs will compete for prizes. The $10000 contest for drum and bugle corps of Michigan war veterans organizations on Wednesday, and the election of the same evening of the first "Michigan's Own King". More than 2500 girls throughout the state already are entered in this contest. Concerts by massed bands and exhibition of the champion Woodmen of America drill team on others are extra features.

With the inclusion of the first food exposition ever staged at the fair; the seventh beauty contest, the "Mutt" show and the world's champion automobile race on Sunday in this year's added attractions, the 1932 state fair is offering the greatest inducement for visitors ever extended. The management is confident of a bumper crop, that this year's fair is to be bigger and better than ever in face of reduced admission of 25 cents. Fair officials declare all phases and features of previous state fairs will be repeated this year and wherever it has been possible to improve, this has been done. This is particularly true in the decline of the entertainment features, both the daily, afternoon and evening program in front of the grandstand and those scattered about the grounds or applying to certain days.

"Then we camped at Johnstown and all were glad when the order came to disband. There was no sanitation there. Some of us went to Chicago on the soldiers. All along the way newspapers were taking pictures of us. When we got to Chicago we were sent to the places from where we had enlisted. That took us to Beatrice, Nebraska, where I thought possibly I might get a job. But there was no work there and so I started back to Michigan. I am going to Dearborn, Michigan, where my father lives. Maybe some of the boys would like to know that the Michigan Bonus camp is six miles south of Gaines on Meyer's lake."

CITY LOSES AN ACTIVE CITIZEN

Had Honor Of Being First Mayor Under New Charter

Plymouth paid tribute to a loyal adopted son Tuesday afternoon when every business house and industrial institution was closed for the funeral hour of Robert O. Mimmack, last president of Plymouth as a village and first mayor of Plymouth as a city. It was a tribute to a citizen whose life during recent years had been devoted almost exclusively to the welfare and progress of the community he loved to call his home.

Taken ill a number of months ago, it was not until recent weeks that community felt it to seek skilled surgical aid. Going to the Ford hospital about a month ago, he underwent an operation that was regarded as extremely critical. For a brief time he showed improvement. In fact the day before his death physicians said he might be able to return to Plymouth within a couple of weeks.

It was early Saturday morning when he called his nurse and told her he did not feel as well. Within a brief time he passed on, conscious to the end.

News of his death soon reached Plymouth, where it proved a distinct shock to his hundreds of friends who had been hoping that he would be on the road to recovery.

Born November 7, 1889 in Thimmesville, Ontario, he lived in that community for a number of years after completing his school work in that place. Active in numerous athletics, he was for a number of years one of the best known cricket players in western Ontario. He was the champion of many Canadian skating events and when he came to Plymouth in 1888 it was not long before his talents in the old Plymouth baseball team that won for itself many championships about here.

He came direct to this community from Thimmesville and started work in the William Conner hardware store where he remained for many years.

He was 35 years old when he emigrated to Elyria, Ontario and married Miss Anna Southern there, having his bride to Plymouth where they have made their home continuously.

For a brief time later he was employed by the Farmington Hardware company and then accepted a position with the Michigan State company as one of its Michigan representatives. During all of these years he maintained his residence in this city. Not only did he continue to make his home here, but he was active in all community affairs.

In more recent years he was in the real estate business to a considerable extent and is reported to have accumulated a fair sized fortune. But it is a fortune he devoted into frequently to aid some worthy charity endeavor. Charitable friends no one will ever know how many Mayor Mimmack has aided, outside of his interest in municipal affairs, his activities in charity work. It now becomes known, was most extensive. A charter member of the Plymouth Kiwanis Club, his death is the first in that organization. For a number of years he had always been chairman of the Christmas Klubs Fund of the Kiwanis club and for weeks each year before Christmas, he gave almost all of his time to this work.

He was a member of the Masonic lodge and chairman of the building committee that made possible for Plymouth the erection of one of the most complete Masonic temples in this part of the state. He belonged to the Shrine in Detroit and greatly enjoyed attending its meetings.

His interest in municipal affairs started when he was a member of the old fire department. He served the department for several years as its chief.

In 1928 he was elected village president of Plymouth. To this position he devoted practically all of his time, frequently traveling to other cities at his own expense to secure information which might be of benefit to the citizens of Plymouth. While serving as village president, he became convinced that it would be of benefit and a saving to the taxpayers of this place if the city form of government was adopted. Fully convinced that his position was right in this matter, he worked night and day with other members of the old village commission for its adoption.

THE GOVERNMENT IN BUSINESS

Farmers, doctors, manufacturers and railroad interests were four groups who laid before the Shannon congressional committee at South Bend a few days ago their experiences with the government as a competitor in business. The burden of their arguments was that bureaucracy and the growing armies of pay rollers seem bent on steering the country towards socialization of industries and of some of the professions.

Indiana grain dealers put in testimony that the Federal Farm board, aiming at a food dictatorship, is spending tax money like a soused sailor in rural counties in an effort that is driving private tax paying grain interests into bankruptcy.

Bureaucracy it seems is killing the gold tax paying goose that lays the golden eggs for the tax eaters.

Manufacturers presented a brief giving specific lines in which competition by the government is reducing their business, cutting into the normal revenues, reducing their pay rolls and number of employees, meanwhile piling up the tax burden. One item of complaint is the growth of prison industries.

Penitentiaries and prisons, being filled to overflowing since the advent of Volsteadism, government, it was argued, is now seeking to put the bootleggers, shiners and hi-jackers and others in the prison population to work turning out goods in rivalry with private employment. It was charged government is seeking to invade with prison labor a market of 700 million dollars annually in the purchase of supplies by public institutions of political subdivisions, declares a writer in The Chicago Tribune.

Doctors from the Indiana State Medical association put in arguments against "most flagrant inroads" against the medical profession and hospitals by the federal government in the laws admitting to government hospitals the nonservice connected disabilities of the veteran.

"The government has got into the practice of medicine," remarked Dr. George T. Geisler of South Bend, "if it keeps on going it will take over the whole damn business. I see socialized medicine coming so fast it would make you dizzy."

Onslaughts upon the operations of the federal barge lines were renewed by the railroad interests. They elaborated the arguments of Bruce Dinwiddie of Chicago in behalf of the association of railway executives that the government should get rid of its barge lines on the Warrior, Mississippi, and Illinois rivers as an unfair competitor of rails.

Such were the high lights of the arguments unbound before the three members of the congressional committee, Joseph B. Shannon, Kansas City, chairman Samuel B. Pettigill, South Bend, and Robert F. Kich, Woolrich, Pa.

Intrusions of government into manufacturing in Illinois and Indiana were laid before the committee by James L. Donnelly of the Illinois Manufacturers association. They covered a wide range.

Tent makers reported injury by the competition of the federal tent factory, which sells pup tents at less than cost, and by the competition of army stores which sells tents to Boy Scouts, having bought surplus government stocks at reduced prices. It was also charged that government has been making skimpy tents and selling them as army goods.

Envelope manufacturers, 35 in Illinois, complained of competition in the envelopes sold by the government all over the United States. A Dayton, O., contractor is said to turn out 13 million envelopes a day, and postal employees retail them all over the country, with no taxes, carrying or freight to pay. As an instance of government waste, public reports were pointed to showing that in the last 10 years the government printing office at Washington has printed 24 million copies of useless or obsolete pamphlets at a cost of a million dollars, good only for the junkman.

The Chicago Malleable Castings company stated that 250 of its workers were thrown out of work in their plant through government competition in foundries.

More than 150 Illinois concerns reported the government is competing with them in its manufacture of paints and varnishes at Norfolk, Mare Island, and other naval yards. Radio coal, brushes, uniforms and leather goods, furniture, card indexes, shirts, and furniture were among the 106 lines cited in the governmental invasion of private business.

On prison labor competition the Donnelly brief suggested the Hawes-Cooper act be modified. To come under the act, intended to protect states against importation of prison made goods from other states, it is necessary for a state first to adopt the "model state use prison labor act." The brief pointed out that this system provides that all commodities required for use of public institutions, tax supported, in all political subdivisions shall be prison made articles as far as they are available.

"It is entirely obvious," said Mr. Donnelly, "that it, as a result of the compulsion of the Hawes-Cooper act, the several states are eventually obliged as a matter of self-defense to adopt the so-called 'model state use law,' that all industries which are now engaged in supplying books, desks, pencils, and other educational supplies and equipment to public schools, as well as printers, bookbinders, index manufacturers, and countless other industries which are engaged in supplying materials to public institutions, will be paralyzed and virtually destroyed."

The brief said the purchases of supplies by public institutions in America, in principal political subdivisions amounts to 700 million dollars a year.

In Illinois manufacturers who now are affected by prison competition have an invested capital of $6,000,000, a business of $12,000,000 a total of 1,619 employes with 5,361 dependents, and the percentage of the business affected is 23 per cent.

The protest against the federal farm board's operations came from Oscar L. Barr of Bicknell, Ind., president of the Indiana Grain Dealer's association.

Illustrative of methods followed by the federal farm board in rural counties, Mr. Barr spoke of Knox county. Here the government established a portable grain loader in competition with tax paying grain handlers on properties which cost $500,000 with a capacity of 500,000 bushels, enough to store the entire wheat crop of Knox county.

The farm board, through its subsidiaries, Barr said, bought up the wheat, by paying a higher price than was given on the leading markets, enabled to do so by use of government funds, then they shipped the grain out. This caused a shortage in the largest mill in the county, and a lot of grain had then to be shipped back into the county.

As representative of the Kentucky-Indiana-Ohio milk producers' association of Southern Ohio, Robert S. Marx, told how the government subsidized with $1,900,000 loan the co-operative pure milk association in Cincinnati. With the federal funds, Marx said the co-op enlarged its field of activities, bought up four ice cream plants in Ohio and Kentucky, and went into the wholesale and retail field with milk, butter and commission eggs. It wound up with a big hog farm at Hamilton, O.

"This," said Mr. Marx, "is an outstanding example of expanding a business with federal funds at 3.5 per cent which would cost 6 per cent at the bank, and it is not a real co-operative, but it is financed to compete with real cooperatives."

In its hospitalization expansion the government is giving 75 per cent of its hospital beds to veterans with non-service connected disabilities, so Dr. Joseph Weinstein of Terre Haute, president elect of the Indiana State Medical association, a veteran himself, declared.

"At least 50 per cent of those cases," he said, "are able to pay in full or part of their care. This means the physician and civilian hospital are deprived of this income."

"CHICKEN FEED FARMING"

Following its bitter experience of last winter, Northern Nebraska has gone back to the soil with a vengeance. For a good many years the farmers of that section had been thinking in "big crop" terms, wheat and corn and live stock. The drought of last summer opened their eyes. Of course, they had had drought before, but never, within the memory of the active generation, one that came in such a time of economic stress.

Always before, when Nature had dealt harshly with them, the Nebraska farmers had had money or its equivalent credit with which to buy the food to carry their families through the winter. But last year, with their so-called "big crops" wiped out, as well as their ready cash and credit, perilously close to starvation, they achieved, for them, a new perspective and realized that the big crops were not so big after all.

So, during the past spring, neglected gardens again came into existence. The hoe received as much attention as the tractor. Nature relented and now the cellar bins and kitchen shelves are crowded with the necessities of life, potatoes, turnips, apples, canned beans, peas and other vegetables, assuring that Northern Nebraska will not have to go through another winter of short rations.

Cash, it is true, is still elusive, but surplus garden truck is being traded for staples that cannot be raised on the farm, for clothing and, in some instances, for entertainment. The "back to the farm" movement works out rather well, when it is the farmer's back bending over a hoe.

LINCOLN'S WISDOM

The wisdom of Abraham Lincoln expressed 70 years ago can well be repeated with benefit today:

"As what point then is the approach of danger? I answer, if it ever reach us it must spring up amongst us; it can not come from abroad. If destruction be our lot we ourselves must be its author and finisher. As a nation of freemen we must live through all time, or die by suicide."

"The only way to keep men from agitating grievances is to relieve the grievances. The seed of revolution is repression."

"This country, with its institutions, belongs to the people who inhabit it. Whenever they shall grow weary of the existing Government they can exercise their constitutional right of amending it or their revolutionary rights to dismember or overthrow it."

"Labor is prior to and independent of capital. Capital is only the fruit of labor, and should never have existed if labor had not first existed. Labor is the superior of capital and deserves much higher consideration."

"Our republican robe is soiled and trailed in the dust. Let us purify it."

"Let us have faith that right makes might, and in that faith let us to the end dare to do our duty as we understand it."

"With malice toward none; with charity for all; with firmness in the right as God gives us to see the right, let us strive to finish the work we are in."

"* * * That this Nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom; and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth."

FEATURELAND

The Difference

The difference between strong men and weak men is this . . . strong men have the courage of their convictions . . . weak men the discouragement of their opinions.

A Prayer

It is a good thing to give thanks unto the Lord, O most high. Out of our grateful hearts let us fulfill our tasks. O King eternal, whose right is to reign and whose throne from everlasting to everlasting, make our hearts Thy empire, a kingdom cleansed and purified. Do Thou enlarge the bounds of the invisible world to us. Grant that everywhere and at all times we may believe that all things work together for good to them that love the Lord. So order our lives that we may rejoice in infirmity, in temptation, and in trial, and help us toward that final joy in which the memory of all trouble, all tears, and all heartaches have vanished forever. Almighty God, help us to lift up a standard for the people; enable us to rally the elements of society that have been badly discouraged in their battle with adversity and tell them that the conflict is not lost. May the note of victory be sounded forth in the name and in the strength of our Jehovah Father.

Highland Mary

Ye Banks and braes and streams around the Castle of Montgomery, Green be your woods and fair your flowers, your waters never drizzle; There summer first unfolds her robes, and there the linnets harry; For there I took the last farewell of my sweet Highland Mary. How sweetly bloomed the gay green hirk, how rich the hawthorn's blossom! As underneath their fragrant shade I clasped her to my bosom! The golden hours on angel wings flew o'er me and my dearie; For dear to me as light and life, was my sweet Highland Mary. WF many a vow and locked embrace our parting was fu' tender And pledging aft to meet again, we tore ourselves asunder; But, O, fell death's untimely frost that nipt my flower sae early! Now green's the sod and cauld's the clay that wraps my Highland Mary. O! pale, pale now those rosy lips I aft ha'e kissed sae fondly!

And closed for aye the sparkling glance that dwelt on me so kindly! And mould'ring now in silent dust that heart that loved me dearly. But still, with my bosom's core, shall live my Highland Mary.

Little Mother of Mine

Sometimes in the hush of the evening hour, When the shadows creep from the west, I think of the twilight songs you sang, And the boy you lulled to rest; That wee little boy with tumbled hair, That long, long ago was thine; I wonder if sometimes you long for that boy. O little mother of mine!

A Home On The Range

Oh, give me a home where the buffalo roam, Where the deer and the antelope play, Where never is heard a discouraging word, And the skies are not cloudy all day. Home, home on the range, Where the deer and the antelope play; Where never is heard a discouraging word, And the skies are not cloudy all day. Where the air is so pure, and the zephyrs so free, And the breezes so balmy and light, That I would not exchange my home on the range, For all the cities so bright. How often at night, when the heavens are bright, With the light from the glittering stars, Have I stood there amazed, and asked as I gazed, If their glory exceeds that of ours.

Rambling Around with Michigan Editors

KEEPING BUSY

Our spare time can be used to no better purpose than obtaining knowledge and so absorbing it and relating it to ourselves and our affairs that it is not just facts but becomes a part of our living consciousness. You shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free" is not just rhetoric but is a profound truth capable of universal application, for without the truth we are slaves to ignorance and consequently evil results. And again, "With all thy getting, get wisdom"—that impendable something that comes not only through the acquirement of cold facts but the meditation upon their deeper meaning and their relation to each other and what they dictate as a way of life. We too often go to our work as a form or custom to handle a day's details. Machines when set in motion do the same. Our success will depend on "the why" just to the degree that we divest ourselves of ignorance and our seemingly routine becomes a conscious purpose from which will flow real service.—O. E. McLaughlin in the Vermontville Echo.

POLITICAL PARADING

A prominent Lansing politician stood on Washington avenue watching a band of musicians—military outfit—parade down the street. This man was a Groesbeck admirer, and until Mr. Groesbeck announced that he would not be a candidate in the primaries had worked in his behalf. He knows many state employees intimately. Earlier in the day he had watched the demonstration which accompanied the filing of the Brucker petitions with the secretary of state. "Two state employees who were carrying banners in the Brucker parade," he told us, "demonstrated Groesbeck petitions for me. Then when Groesbeck pulled out, they chanted 'Welsh petitions.' He explained that these men need their jobs and were trying to keep strong with any candidate who might be successful.—Schuyler L. Marshall in Clinton County Republican News.

WHY PLATFORMS

The next republican platform will be prepared in advance of the convention by a committee appointed by the chairman of the state central committee. Some are complaining of this, crying machine politics and gag rule. So far as this writer is concerned, he is not worried. He would just as soon have his platform written by a handpicked group of machine politicians as in the smoke and gin-soaked atmosphere of a hotel room on convention eve. In any event or in either, the platform means little.

Platforms are made to run on. They are never intended to stand an after election. The wonder is that after decades of platform building and platform dodging, they receive any attention at all.—Vern Brown in the Ingham County News.

FIVE MILES—ENROUTE

When you pass through Bloomfield village going south or north on the Dixie you are confronted by signs which read "worms for sale," "caterpillars for sale," "grubs for sale" some 100 for two bits, some higher some lower and the next minute you run alongside an undertaker's horse and on it is a sign which says that a certain guy is a candidate for coroner and mope that's constructive advertising. Squatters have moved in on the roads near Detroit, eggs, butter, sweetcorn, flowers, huckleberries, worms and fish bait of all varieties are listed. Our great Michigan highways has become a vast mart of trade. The folks hev moved in.—Senator Chester Howell in The Chesaning Argus.

NEW PAVEMENTS ARE BETTER

In driving over important highways in Michigan and other states, one is frequently impressed with the great improvement in highway construction that has been made during the last three or four years. Pavements made a few years ago, even on important roads, were usually just about wide enough for two cars to pass, and had narrow shoulders sloping abruptly into menacing ditches on each side. The modern pavement is wider and has wide and gently sloping shoulders so that there is plenty of room for a car to get off the pavement if parking is necessary for any purpose.—Grant Rowe in The Midland Times.

'AINT IT SO?

Joe Haas, Holly editor, comments in his paper that he doesn't like the "inhale" stuff in cigarette advertising. We know of some daily papers that if it wasn't for their cigarette advertising they wouldn't inhale much. It is a mint of money they are spending on cigarette advertising, with the weekly papers taboo.—Harry Izor in The Durand Express.

Michigan Has But Little Land That is Worth Homesteading Say Conservation Officials

The chance to obtain "homestead" lands good enough to be developed into profitable farms was a pioneer opportunity, which has largely passed with the stage of the State's growth. The modern homestead lands are small tax-delinquent areas usually located on the edge of the agricultural districts.

Very little of the hundreds of thousands of acres of land now reverting to the state for back taxes is agricultural land, according to the Lands Division of the Department of Conservation. Practically all of this tax delinquent property is composed of sand plains with the timber removed or burned. As a result the area that might be profitably homesteaded is limited.

The economic situation within the past year has caused a flood of applications for homestead lands. Many of the applicants are men born on farms but who moved to the city. Others are urban residents who believe that 40 acres of land given them by the state will solve their financial troubles.

According to the Lands office, which has studied the results of hundreds of present day attempts at homesteading, the average homesteader has a poor chance of succeeding. Less than half of those who are given certificates to use pieces of state land remain through the five year period necessary to acquire title; and less than a quarter of the total ever remain permanently on the homestead. Many "prove up" at the end of five years when the land goes on the tax rolls. Then they remain another five years without paying taxes and the land again reverts to the state.

Homesteads are not granted promiscuously. It is indicated from the regulations furnished each applicant as to the applicant to determine whether he is serious in his intent to farm. The land which he would acquire is examined and if it is not agricultural in character, the application is rejected. To issue a certificate for such land would be to issue a "starvation ticket."

The homestead laws require that not more than 160 acres be granted to one person and he must not be the owner of as much as 40 acres of land. At the time of application for the homestead he must pay into the general fund of the state at the rate of 10c an acre for each acre granted. For five years he must actually live on the land and be able to prove that he is farming the property. During that time he does not pay property taxes. At the end of five years, if all conditions have been met, the state grants him a deed to the property, and the homestead has become a "farm."

There are now about 200 homesteaders in Michigan engaged in "proving up" plots of from 40 to 160 acres of state land.

Tourist Crop Will Be Low This Year

While the season's records will probably show a figure equal to or in excess of that for the last year for the southern part of Michigan, the number of campers using state parks in the northern part of the state will fall well below the 1931 season, according to recent records obtained through the Parks Division of the Department of Conservation.

With the exception of four or five instances the number of campers using state parks north of a line from Muskegon to Bay City has dropped this season as compared with last year. Parks south of that line have reported that the number of campers are holding to or above the 1931 level.

The bulk of campers using the state parks are from the southern third of the state or from Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. Because of the economic situation campers are not making such far excursions into Michigan this summer as in previous years and are content with using the parks in the southern part of the state, the Parks Division believes. This would account for the drop in the number of campers in northern Michigan.

Park superintendents have reported to the Lansing office that large numbers of resident campers who formerly spent their vacations in other states or in Canada are now remaining in Michigan.

You can say this much for ignorance. It is the one thing that people are satisfied with.

Famous Sink Holes Of Michigan Due To Natural Formation

Airplane photographs recently completed of parts of Oscego and Presque Isle Counties are revealing for the first time the real resemblance of some of the famous "sink holes" to meteoric craters.

The pictures taken from the air show the landscape in the southwestern part of Presque Isle and northeastern Oscego Counties dotted with miniature circular holes, most of them filled with water and looking as though "pot shots had been taken at the earth from Mars."

True "sink holes" however, are not craters formed by falling meteors but were formed when limestone roofs of underground caverns were eaten away by water action, permitting the rock and earth above to plunge down into the cavern below, according to the Geological Survey Division of the Department of Conservation. Frequently these holes are about as large as a city block and have almost perpendicular banks. In some instances drainage was cut off by the slumped in rocks and soil and the holes have since partly filled with water.

Some of the most spectacular of the so-called "sink-holes" are located in Oscego County; one of them known as "The Devil's Soup Bowl." These are not true limestone "sinks" but are deep, pot like depressions in the surface deposits of sand, gravel and clay. Practically all of the Oscego "sink-holes" are filled with water and soundings have been made showing some of the holes to be almost 100 feet deep.

A few miles east of the State Forest headquarters in Presque Isle County are several dry "sink holes" in limestone rock. In the bottom of these well-like holes trees fifty feet high are growing, and often the tops of the trees are 30 or 40 feet below the surrounding surface level. Here and there are found extinct "sink-holes" which existed long before the great leuge as these holes are now filled with glacial drift.

One of the most famous limestone "sinks" is known as Sunken Lake where the north branch of the Thimble Bay River disappeared in limestone cavern. This sink is included in the Fletcher State Park in Presque Isle County.

A large sink has been discovered beneath the water of Lake Huron. The hole is in El Cajon Bay about seven miles east of the city of Alpena. The hole contains 76 feet of water while the depth of the water immediately surrounding it is only a foot or two. The opening in of a part of another sink, mostly concealed, can be seen in the limestone bluffs on the west side of the bay where there is a large crack several feet wide and several hundred feet in length along the bluffs. Generally, water filled sinks are

Gives Henry Ford Old Photograph of Early Local Event

Harry Robinson Saturday presented to Henry Ford for his collection of early historical photographs, the picture taken of a group of prominent Plymouth pioneers at the time the trees were removed so that the depot for the Holly, Wayne and Monroe railroad could be erected. The picture was taken in the winter time in 1870 and shows some twenty-five or more residents of the community standing about in a heavy woods with one tree down.

The site of that depot was on the ground now occupied by the big plant of the Dalsy Manufacturing company. A rail fence running through the woods provided a back ground for the group of citizens standing about.

Mr. Robinson was given the picture by Mrs. Cass Newman, widow of one of the men in the group. Sometime ago he told Mr. Ford he could have the picture and on Saturday it was given him.

Many friends of Miss Neva Lovewell will be pleased to learn she has just been granted her Master of Arts degree at University of Michigan. Her thesis, written at the Detroit House of Correction, was on "The Younger Delinquent Girl."

Miss Lovewell has accepted a position as teacher in the High School at Plymouth and will assume her duties there Sept. 5th.—South Lyon Herald.

without visible inlet or outlet and the level of the lake rises and falls with that of the ground water in the immediate vicinity. These sink-holes lakes are rapidly becoming focal points for interested tourists. Some of the water filled holes contain fish plantings having been made by the state from time to time.

Certain parts of Alpena, Oscego, Presque Isle and other counties in the northeast section of the lower peninsula are underlain by limestone formations and it is in these areas for that reason that the sink holes are found, according to the Geological Survey Division. Surface water works through this limestone, dissolving channels along cracks and joints until it forms a cavern.

Wm. Butler Tells Of Extensive Highway Work In The County

In addition to the widening of Gratiot Avenue in the City of Detroit; the paving of Lake Shore Boulevard in Grosse Pointe; the building of six miles of Outer Drive in Detroit and the concreting of the River Rouge Parkway, all of which activities are under way at the present time, we have completed a number of small jobs in various parts of the county which materially aid traffic conditions stated Road Commissioner Wm. F. Butler recently.

Industrial Avenue has been paved and opened to traffic in conjunction with the Dix Road grade separation near the Ford plant. A new 20-foot concrete roadway has been built and opened to traffic on Eureka Road, connecting the City of Wauwatosa with Fort Road. Eureka Road is scheduled for a wider width of right of way and a concrete highway court to determine the rights of the abutting property owners, some of whom claim title by possession stated Mr. Butler.

A direct connection with River Road and West Road, two blocks long on Fifth Street in Trenton has been built and opened for traffic some little time ago. This new route eliminates three right angle turns and corrects a bad traffic situation. Gibraltar Road has also been extended a short distance in Flat Rock to make a connection with Huron River Drive.

A new 20-foot concrete road, 30 feet over all on a 120-foot width of right of way has been completed on Airport Drive. This new route is approximately one and one-half miles long and connects Schaefer Road with Greenfield Road where Airport Drive continues through Ford Village and passes Greenfield Village and the Edison Institute of Technology stated Mr. Butler.

A commission of determination has been appointed in Judge Ervin R. Palmer's court to determine necessity and to award damages on several parcels of land on Davison Avenue in the City of Highland Park. Davison Avenue is being widened to 120 feet between Thomson and Hamilton Avenues. When this widening is completed, it will eliminate a bad bottle neck and add greatly to the usefulness and safety of wider Davison Avenue in the City of Detroit stated Mr. Butler.

A court case has also been started to condemn a few parcels of land on Southfield Superhighway located between Ford and Warren Roads. When this case is settled, a mile of 20-foot concrete road will be built on the west side of Southfield Superhighway. We expect to complete this section this fall, added Mr. Butler.

While all of these projects are comparatively small jobs, they will add greatly to the safety, comfort and convenience of the public who use them.

CLOTHES WERE STOLEN
Word from Mr. and Mrs. "Jim" Dickie who started for Texas last Friday on a two weeks vacation, states that they suffered a misfortune at Little Rock, Arkansas, Saturday night. It seems they parked their car, in which they had left all their clothing except that which they wore and their night attire. Other things, too, beside clothing were in the machine. They locked the car and went to a hotel for the night. Upon returning to it in the morning they found that the lock had been broken and everything stolen that had been left in the car.—South Lyon Herald.

Snake Food Kills Bird
Mother Robin took advantage of what she thought was a large worm at Glen Comfort, Cal. The worm turned out to be a garter snake, but two young robins fought over it anyway. O. D. Shields, mayor of the community, tried to get the snake away from the birds, and cut it in half. The robin, holding the head of the snake, swallowed it. A few hours later Mr. Shields found that the bird had died from its course meal.

HEART TROUBLE? YOU HAVEN'T GOT IT, SAY EXPERTS

If your heart skips a beat, if your pulse rate is faster or slower than the average, if you have cold and blue, don't imagine immediately that you have a bad case of heart disease, your heart may not be involved at all, but even if it is, it is a tough organ which will probably do its work throughout your normal life span if given proper consideration. This is the advice of Dr. Frank N. Wilson, head of the University of Michigan Hospital heart clinic.

Strong Support For William F. Butler

William F. Butler bases his appeal for re-nomination and election squarely on his record of accomplishments during his tenure of office.

Over 600 miles of concrete road has been built; 150 miles of secondary roads; 92 bridges; 50 grade separations; 6 county parks; planting of 65,000 trees along the roadsides; establishment of 13 public comfort stations; a magnificent county drive has been practically completed (the section already completed is two and one-half times the length of the present Grand Boulevard); the elimination of deep ditches along the roadsides; the development of one of the two airports in the county that have an A-T-A rating, which is the highest rating given by the Federal Government.

Mr. Butler has been a party to the development of the wider width of right-of-way, the wider highways, and the widening of congested highways to a minimum of 40 feet of concrete.

All this work has been done on a basis of pay-as-you-go plan. No money has ever been expended until the money was collected and in the hands of the County Treasurer. The work has been presented economically, intelligently and vigorously, and no attempt has been made of using the prestige of the Road Commission to obtain some other office.

The whole thing is a consistent development of the finest road system in the world, and people from every State in the Union, every Province in Canada, and every major county throughout the world have come here to benefit by the experience and development here in Wayne County.

This has all been done during his term of office and should be continued so that this economical administration can be continued.

Now that they have learned to split an atom, watch the ham in a drugstore sandwich.

The first was Sunday when the Becker children were returning from Sunday school, Miss Nina and little Mabel were thrown out and escaped with only slight bruises.

There are two good seasons in which to sow grass seed, authorities say. One is late August and early September. The other is early spring as soon as the frost is out of the ground and the soil is dry enough to be worked.

Full seeding, however, has several advantages over spring seeding particularly in the northern half of the United States. Weather is more favorable to planting in the fall. Grass seed germinates more quickly and, with proper plant food, the grass will develop strong roots before winter comes and grow during the spring into a thick, beautiful turf, declares Floyd Eckles.

Here is the method recommended by expert gardeners as the easiest most economical method of making your new lawn now. Prepare the seed bed by spading or plowing, then cultivate the ground into a pulverized surface, free of lumps. Before planting the seed, rake lightly but thoroughly into the soil four pounds of complete plant food to every hundred square feet. Then sow good grass seed of a variety suitable for your community. Your local seed dealer's recommendation will be reliable as to the best mixture for you to use. Sow the seed evenly, then roll the surface lightly to bring the soil in contact with the seed. Water the soil frequently, using a fine spray until the grass is big enough to mow.

The amount of plant food you have applied will be sufficient to assure the grass in your lawn a square meal during the fall season. It will enable the grass to develop a strong root system before winter comes, the best insurance you can have against winter killing.

Allison Declares Chevrolet Sales Showing Increase

(On the basis of dealer reports of Chevrolet sales for the first twenty days of August, this month, normally the driest of the summer season, shows promise of exceeding July by a comfortable margin, declares Ernest Allison, Plymouth Chevrolet dealer.)

Up to August 20, sales for the month were reported as 17,038 units compared with 14,698 in the same days of July, a gain of nearly sixteen per cent. For the past several years, July sales have consistently run ahead of the August total. Mr. Knudsen said.

He pointed out that the new federal tax on automobiles was felt hardest in July, so that that month was sub-normal in relation to other months of this year; but he stated that he did not believe the tax accounted for the full amount of the gain made to August 20 over July.

He attributed a share of the increase to a substantially improved sentiment country-wide, and a gradual rebuilding of confidence, with the result that people able and intending to buy a new car, but who have been postponing the purchase through fear of the future, are now entering the active buying lists.

Some sections reported an increase to August 20 over the same period of the month last year, and August is the first month since early spring in which a reporting period in any month exceeded the corresponding period of the previous month, the Chevrolet president stated.

NETHEM SWAMPS TIGERAN A. C. BY SCORE OF 10 TO 1

The Nethem's took a fast game Sunday from the Tigerans, of Detroit. Gates started at short as the fast going Nethem team won their sixth game out of the last seven games played.

Andy Gale let the Detroit team down with eight hits and struck out ten while he gathered a single and a double out of four trips to the plate.

Tomkovich was the leading hitter of the day getting two out of two and three walks for a perfect day.

The crowd witnessed the first triple play ever to be pulled off in Newburg in the last six years. It happened to Nethem in the second inning.

Schultz opened the inning with a walk, and John Schomberger got a single to right putting Schultz on second. Gale struck out and John Schomberger was trapped between first and second and when Schultz tried to score they got him at the plate, then whipped the ball to second in time to get Schomberger, which completed the triple play.

Don't forget to come out next Sunday and Monday to see a couple of good ball games.

NETHEM WINS CLOSE GAME 3 TO 2

(Omitted from last week)

Andy Gale shut out the Jersey Creamery for eight and two-thirds innings, then they scored two runs to spoil a shut out victory.

Schultz's perfect throw in the third in the ninth inning saved the game for Nethem, as Kovack was running in with the tying run.

Not a player on either team got more than one hit, and the crowd saw a perfect pitcher's battle from the first to the ninth inning.

Farm Crest Wins After Close Battle

Plymouth lost a hard game last Saturday to Farm Crest, 1 to 0, in the finals of the Northville Wayne County Fair Tournament.

The Schrader-Haggerty club obtained the right to meet Farm Crest when they came from behind to win Thursday's contest from South Lyon, 8 to 7, in eleven innings.

Harry German, Jr. and Herman Hartner did the hitting for Plymouth, while Reaver and Kunkle pitched for South Lyons. Hartner received credit for the victory.

On Saturday, Samuel Beauchamp was Plymouth's choice for mound duty. He allowed the hard hitting Detroiters five scattered hits. William Andrews, drew the assignment for Farm Crest.

The Bakers scored the only run of the game in the eighth inning, when Schartz drove a hard triple to center and came home on Jensen's double to left center.

The outstanding features of the tournament were the fine pitching by Samuel Beauchamp, excellent fielding by Leonard Millross and the heavy hitting by G. Simmons.

Cherry Hill won its sixth straight game Sunday when they took Salem into camp 11 to 3.

M. Nasse pitched good ball, but errors by his teammates got him into a hole in the early inning. He also took batting honors having a perfect day at bat.

Rosedale Gardens

now is the Rosedale Presbyterian Church, and to celebrate the event the Men's Club of Gardentia fame have completed the new floor in the Banquet Hall.

Thereby making it all the more pleasant for events the coming winter.

Salem Michigan, sent their second team over to their defeat on last Sunday P. M.

Green Caps by the pitcher Bowers, and catcher Bures, (also red shirt by the C.) were features of a good old fashioned game, for Salem, and on and on, i. e., Bud and Ned Schaffner for R Boys.

Green hat Bures and R Harry did an excellent job in the pitcher's box.

Good, quiet, nice, gentle folks (like R own) are these Salem Folks. For noise the good old hand claps was the applause in stead of horn honking and such.

was as much as could be expected on a nice gentle atm of warmth under overcast skies, and if the score keeper was correct it reads: Rosedale: Runs 7, Hits 10, Errors 0; Salem: Runs 4, Hits 7, Errors 1. Which wasn't so bad, is it?

is Mister Tom Hoopen's business, and the way the fence has progressed, (as R friend from Corktown would say) "like nobody's business" is just wonderful.

Mister MacLean has worked hard on this here Red Rag Trees and shrubbing business too. The red rag trees are going to the Tree Infirmary, unless you want one, and they are sending an alternate, or delegate, or something, to take their places, guaranteed.

The new shrubbing looks nice on paper, and will look nicer on display to the south of here, here-forementioned fence.

Labor Day games are in the making, at this writing, and Shaffer is trying to get together a bigger and better team for that day as well as Sunday post meridian, for the h. ball season is near over.

Contrary to all rumors, gossip, or other tales tending to the destruction of the stability of the School District Bank Balance or of the ability of our School Board to cope with the situation, or the non-opening of R School—friends, citizens and Gardentians rest assured that the Rosedale School will open at the usual day hour and place as heretofore, i. e., Tuesday, Sept. 6, 1932, nine (9:00) a.m. meridian, at the School House, Duncan Ave., (all the way between Cranston Ave and Pembroke Road.)

The teachers will be Mrs. Margerie Becker, Miss Doris Smith, Miss Margaret Rowe, and Mister Al Rohde "filling in" with the boys who are taking up Manual Training.

No doubt talking about the heat makes it worse. That is true of a neighbor's indiscretion. Another good way to teach children not to lie is not to lie to the children.

Don't let the grave self-control of big men fool you. Little men don't kick the cat if a crowd is watching. It would be more reassuring if these "liberal" candidates would tell us what they intend to be liberal with.

ROCKS WIN THE CHAMPIONSHIP OF PLAYGROUNDS

Monday night the Rocks won the championship of the Playground League for the second straight year when they defeated the Templars in the final game of the play-offs 8 to 0.

After losing their first game of the play-offs to the Templars the Rocks showed their fighting spirit when they defeated Temple and Rose and K. of P. to put them in line for this final game with the Templars.

In the first inning the Rocks scored four of their runs when Gullinder walked five men and allowed one hit. After this bad first inning Gullinder became more settled and only allowed six more hits for four more runs. Rattenbury pitched a fine game for the Rocks. He allowed only five hits and no runs. Rattenbury's support was much better than Gullinder's however. Ferguson at third and Gates at short played errorless ball, while the Templars third baseman had a very bad night.

The Rocks team batting average for the play-offs stand at .210.

Trout Season Will Close September 5

Monday, September 5 will see the close of what many anglers consider the most successful trout fishing season in Michigan in years.

Ideal weather and stream conditions through the summer months and continuation of the state's trout fingerling program are being generally credited for the fact that according to reports the Department of Conservation has received creels have been well filled.

Just how successful a season has been, and whether fishing is actually improving or whether conditions remain unchanged is difficult to ascertain, according to the Fish Division of the Department and assumptions must be based on creel census cards distributed every summer to thousands of anglers. The more such cards returned to the Department, the more accurate will be the conclusions as to the results of the state's work in fish propagation and stream improvements.

So far this season less than 4,000 such cards have been sent by anglers to the Department, less than half of the number returned last year.

Considerable importance is placed on the tabulations obtained through the creel census cards. They generally represent most of the better known fishing waters and the average results obtained by a number of fishermen on a particular stream are taken to represent pretty well the actual fishing conditions in that stream. As a result of such information, the Fish Division, to some degree, may determine how many and what species of fish to plant in specific waters each season.

Through the creel census cards, distributed by all conservation officers, anglers are not only asked to report the number, kind and size of fish taken and the time required to take them, but are also invited to express their opinion of fishing regulations as well as fishing conditions.

Anyway, history can't prove that America entered the war to save the money loaned to the Allies.

The ideal wife is one who grows dearer all the time instead of merely more expensive.

In addition to these governments there are 101 school boards, each elected by the people and each maintaining its own administrative staff. Michigan is supporting at the present time 6,300 distinct school boards, a reduction of nearly 700 during the past few years.

While the consolidation of school districts is proposed, the members of the Commission have learned that in cases where these units were merged, the cost of education increased. They seek to work out a plan whereby the consolidations could be effected without adding to the burden of the taxpayer.

Clarence L. Ayres, of Detroit, is chairman of the Commission, serving with Melvin B. McPherson, of Howell; Clarence Bement, of Lansing; Jesse A. E. Peterman, of Calumet.

POLITICAL DIRECTORY

WADE VAN VALKENBURG CANDIDATE FOR CIRCUIT JUDGE

Waide Van Valkenburg, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Circuit Judge, to fill vacancy, in Wayne County, decided to enter the race after being urged to do so by his many friends and after petitions were circulated by his students and former students of the Detroit Institute of Technology where he is engaged to teach Economics, Introduction to Law, and Political Science in the evening department.

At an early age, Mr. Van Valkenburg, while being raised on a farm in Southern Michigan made up his mind that he was to follow a legal career, but was forced to earn a living for himself and his family through the fact that he was unfortunate, or perhaps fortunate, enough to be born of poor parents. However, his financial situation made him all the more determined and he completed nine years of college education and three degrees, largely by living from the income of odd jobs and clerking in stores during that time.

Mr. Van Valkenburg is qualified in an excellent manner both by training and nature to hold a judicial position. Endowed with patience, consideration for others, a pleasing personality, and a kindly disposition along with his years of experience in the practice of law and self-training makes an ideal combination.

One of the big arguments used by his supporters in urging him to enter the race for Circuit Judge was that most of the present members of the Wayne Circuit Bench were elderly men, having completed their practice of law, and naturally ultra conservative from long years of practice and opposed to most reforms. Mr. Van Valkenburg may be classed as a liberal, anxious to keep the courts abreast of the times both in procedure and organization in order to be useful for business men and individuals, but at the same time conservative enough for the law to be reasonably known for the law on any definite set of facts. Of course any other methods might create more harm than good as attorneys must always know to a degree of certainty the nature of the law so as to properly advise their clients of the same.

Little does Mr. Van Valkenburg care about old cases decided back in England in the 16th century except for the logic given or their reasoning, but in no sense does he believe that these old decisions should be used as authorities for law in our present 20th century activity and speed.

What attitude should a judge take in regard to ineffective and faulty laws? Should he continue to apply them day after day even though he knows that they are causing a hardship on many people? Should a judge assist the public in protection against dishonest and unscrupulous lawyers? These questions and others will be answered in the September 9th edition of this paper.

WILLIAM E. KIRBY CANDIDATE FOR STATE SENATOR

WILLIAM E. KIRBY

It seems hardly necessary to tell our people "not to trade horses in the middle of the stream." However there is so much said about a change being necessary and that it can be no worse than I am constrained to remind my readers not to change.

Remember that the Republican party has been busy balancing the budget for a war debt of thirty-six billion dollars, placed upon the shoulders of the people by a Democratic President, and that just forty-four days after he had been inaugurated, while all during his campaign he kept promising to keep us out of war.

Let us keep Michigan safe. Let us be true to the Republican party. Vote for WILLIAM E. KIRBY for STATE SENATOR: a BIG man for a BIG job. Big in body, big in intellect and big in moral character.

Mr. Kirby was born and reared in the country. Is the son of a village blacksmith, and taught school in the public schools of Michigan and knows the needs of the country people. He now lives in the city and is a practicing lawyer and knows what the job demands from the standpoint of a lawyer.

He is advocating ECONOMY everywhere, and that all bonds shall be approved by taxpayers only. Your vote will be appreciated.

HERMAN R. LAU CANDIDATE FOR County Treasurer

HERMAN R. LAU

Herman R. Lau, Wayne County Treasurer and a candidate in the Republican primaries of Sept. 13 to succeed himself, embraces all of the qualities demanded by a wise selection for the administration of the affairs of that office.

To conduct the county treasury successfully and acceptably calls upon a man, before all things, of business ability. Herman R. Lau has ability. He was successful in private business and experience has secured results for the people of Wayne County since he has been treasurer. Policies of economy that he installed have worked a saving of many thousands of dollars in the cost of operating this department of our government.

To conduct the county treasury successfully and acceptably calls upon a man of high personal character and a high degree of integrity.

Herman R. Lau by a life time of living and dealing with his fellow-men has demonstrated his complete trustworthiness.

To conduct the county treasury successfully and acceptably calls upon a man with a facility for organization.

Herman R. Lau has effected numerous improvements in the service of the office since he has been county treasurer, has brought about a marked orderliness, a strict discipline, a high degree of efficiency and a courtesy to all that is widely remarked upon.

County Treasurer Lau's administration of his office has reflected the sincerity, the earnestness and the conscientiousness of his personality, and he has proved most deserving of the trust which he has been steadfast and faithful.

His entire lifetime since the age

DR. ALBERT L. FRENCH CANDIDATE FOR CORONER

DR. ALBERT L. FRENCH

Qualifications and character backed by actual experience should be the prime factors in determining the capability of a candidate for public office.

The office of County Coroner has been an important one since its inception by King Richard in the Eleventh Century. It is primarily concerned in protecting the interests of the people as well as the state at a time when emotional stress and tragedy exist. It entails a thorough knowledge of medicine and surgery, pathology, law, executive ability and judicial temperament. It takes an added importance in these days of organized crime and calls for complete cooperation between the prosecuting attorney, sheriff's office and other law enforcement agencies to insure the successful prosecution of criminals.

Dr. Albert L. French, present coroner, was born in Detroit and after graduating from Detroit College of Medicine and Harper Hospital engaged in private practice as a physician and surgeon for 23 years. He was appointed County Physician in 1914 and served for six years in that capacity when he was promoted to supervise the County Health Department as Chief Medical Examiner and instructor in pathology on the teachers' staff of the Detroit College of Medicine and Surgery from 1916 to 1920.

During these ten years with the county medical department, Dr. French conducted, personally, thousands of autopsies and testified in hundreds of civil and criminal cases in the various courts and in one single instance has his testimony been successfully contradicted or set aside by the State Supreme Court.

This diversified experience competently fitted him for the office of County Coroner and the people elected him by a large majority six years ago. He has held this office since that time and his fifth year expires in October, 1932, and he is confident that he will receive the support of the electorate in the coming primary and election.

of three, has been spent in Detroit. Ambitious as a boy, he never was afraid of work, no matter how humble its calling. He prepared himself for the shoe business by heading the trade of a cobbler in the factory of Hazen S. Plummer, which he first served in the capacity of office boy. This thoroughness of preparation was signal of success to come to Herman R. Lau later as a business man and as a public servant.

The duties of the county treasury are numerous and varied and they have been discharged by Mr. Lau most satisfactorily, and he is privileged to point with much pride to a record of accomplishment that promises to be generally endorsed by the voters of his party in the coming primaries and by the general vote in the election in November.

GEO. T. CARTWRIGHT CANDIDATE FOR Congress

GEO. T. CARTWRIGHT

To the electorate of Northville and Plymouth and the surrounding territory of these cities I make this brief statement. There is no doubt but what you have honest and capable candidates for Congress residing in your community. In justice to yourself and the territory that this district includes, you should feel the responsibility of acquainting yourself with other candidates and their convictions and attitudes toward the major problems and issues that are involved in this Congressional campaign.

The importance of selecting a man who will be representative, not only of the people, but of the problems of the district he represents and the issues before all the people of the nation as of most vital significance in nominating a candidate who has the ability to fulfill his convictions or at least make a determined effort to have them fulfilled.

Any man who offers himself for a public office as important as that of Representative in Congress should have as a background a thorough knowledge of the needs of all the people, such knowledge can only be acquired after a study of years, not months or weeks. Mere casual observations or conclusions formed from such observations cannot reflect the true status of affairs.

It is because he has devoted many years in the acquiring of facts and information about the people in his district and their needs and demands that Mr. Cartwright submits his name to the electorate in this Congressional primary.

There must be an entire readjustment of hours of labor for at least sixty per cent of the people in this country before we can be assured of a return to conditions as favorable as the five year period prior to the year 1929. Men and women must have employment which they must be reasonably sure of for years, not months; and the only possible way of accomplishing this is by reduction of the hours of labor and in increasing wages to a slightly higher scale than that prevailing in 1925 and 1926; This method will offer employment to at least twenty per cent more people.

Unemployment insurance will be as ordinary as compensation insurance within the next ten years. Properly controlled, and intelligently administered this reform can prove a real benefit to both employer and employee. It is going to receive considerable recognition by this government within the next four years.

Re-establishment of the confidence of the people in our banking system will only be effected through a uniform banking law with strict government supervision and either guarantee of deposits by the government or a government owned finance corporation which will assure banks of immediate assistance during panic periods.

It will be necessary within the next four years for this government to submit a plan to our foreign debtors by which they will be able to pay their indebtedness to us.

The ratification of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway Treaty is of great importance to this district.

Fundamental changes in the Prohibition laws and constitutional provisions will be adopted within the next four years and sensible sane regulatory laws for the control of the liquor industry and the revenue to be received therefrom are problems that must be faced.

The payment of the soldiers' bonus will receive attention from this Congress, and it will be necessary to formulate legislation for this purpose which will not be injurious to the country's general financial condition.

These and other important problems demand that you as a voter use that same care and caution in casting your ballot for your Congressman as you use in your personal affairs.

HARRY G. JACKSON CANDIDATE FOR STATE SENATOR

HARRY G. JACKSON

Harry G. Jackson, a lawyer with offices in Highland Park, is a republican candidate for State Senator from this district, which comprises the townships of Northville, Plymouth, Redford and Livonia, City of Highland Park the 16th and 22nd Wards in Detroit, and the north end of the 8th and 12th Wards of Detroit; enlisted in the United States Army in 1918, and received an honorable discharge from the Army after the Armistice was signed; he is a graduate of the Business Institute, Detroit College of Law, enrolled in the University of Michigan 1923-1924; conducted a private business, and now is practicing law. His qualifications are such as to merit the nomination in the primaries.

Through Mr. Jackson's contact with individuals from various walks of life, he has become familiar with the economic and social questions of this day which should be solved in the coming sessions of our State Legislature.

The principles which he advocates in his platform can be summarized as follows: Creation of employment for our people instead of charity; further economy in State government, thereby resulting in a reduction of taxation so that the cost of operating our government will be within the ability of our people to pay for such; a more rigid regulation by the State over all banks and investment institutions, so as to guarantee to our people the safe deposit of their money; Elimination of a State tax on real estate if possible so as to foster and encourage private ownership of property; reformation of the workmen's compensation law so as to effectuate a more liberal interpretation of such law in protection of our people in industrial employment; an old age pension act which will aid our citizens who can no longer find employment and have no one to support them, such is humanitarian legislation which is needed and will not add any additional taxation to the public; a State movement to encourage agriculture and cultivation of land owned by the State; thereby returning land to the tax roll which at the present time is of no profitable gain to our people. State control over the sale of alcoholic beverages when the 18th amendment is repealed as advocated in the republican platform.

Mr. Jackson is particularly interested in reducing taxation and believes by so doing, a new spirit will be injected in our people, more prosperous conditions will be enjoyed, and additional employment will be created. He believes burdensome taxation to be depressing and demoralizing to our people.

We need a man of Mr. Jackson's caliber in our State Senate, one who understands the problems of the various individuals who make up our State government. He is 32 years of age and is sufficiently aggressive and represents the intelligent progressive movement of the state.

Mr. Jackson when elected assures the public that every person will have just representation as far as he can carry such out.

A roll of lined paper tape kept in the kitchen will prove handy. Use it for labeling jars and cans or plastic dishes or for holding paper things smooth in drawers or on shelves.

It is much easier to find a small stand like an eggbeater when it is hanging on the wall than when it is lying on a shelf or in a drawer among other utensils. Hang up the frequently used kitchen utensils whenever possible.

DAVID GORDON CANDIDATE FOR County Treasurer

DAVID GORDON

David Gordon, candidate for the Republican nomination for County Treasurer, is making his campaign on 1932 lines, stressing the need of better and less costly administration of this vitally important office in the county's business affairs.

While any candidate for public support can make promises, force is given to Mr. Gordon's campaign by the fact that he has had seven years' experience as chief deputy to the County Treasurer and is more intimately acquainted with the duties and business details of the office than any other man in Wayne County.

Gordon was the first outstanding public official to attack the evil of nepotism in the employment of office assistance, starting his attack four years ago. Recently much publicity has been given to the widespread employment in county offices of family members and "in-laws" of officeholders. That the County Treasurer's office will not be a "family affair" under the administration is the definite promise made by Gordon.

Courtesy as well as efficiency in the conduct of the treasurer's office is the aim of Mr. Gordon. He declares that the office being a chief cog in Wayne's business administration, should be conducted on strict business lines, including every possible economy in operation and as close a control of all overhead expense as a well-managed private business handling millions of dollars annually would insist upon.

Gordon's years of experience in public life not only has made him thoroughly acquainted with the county's business affairs, but also has made him widely known among the citizenry of the city of Detroit and of all parts of Wayne County. From literally thousands of these, he has received personal assurances of their support in his campaign.

FRANK BRINKWORTH CANDIDATE FOR Congress

FRANK BRINKWORTH

As a candidate for Congress I make economy the keynote of my platform and pledge myself to do everything humanly possible to help balance the budget by reducing expenses and not by an increase of taxes.

Repeal of 18th Amendment: The repeal of this amendment will save the taxpayers of this country hundreds of millions of dollars, now spent in ineffectual enforcement.

Repeal of Volstead and Jones Laws: The repeal of these laws will restore beer and wines and change what is now a source of expense into needed revenue.

Repeal of Sales Tax on Automobiles and Accessories: This industry has always been singled out for unfair taxation. The removal of this tax will help in a way to reduce prices on these products which will be reflected by some increase of business in this territory.

Anti-Trust Laws: A strict application of same to prevent monopoly in all lines of business.

Stabilization of Prices: To prevent "cut throat" competition would urge the passage of Capper Kelly Bill.

Banking: In view of the numerous bank failures, would urge revision of the banking laws to provide for stricter supervision. Also the passage of a Bank Deposit Guarantee Law.

Reduction of Expense: Would urge abolition of needless commissions and the consolidation of departments to prevent duplication of work.

Payment of Veterans Bonus: I feel that we owe this to the men who gave up everything to go to our defense and pledge myself to work for same.

Tariff Revision: Downward revision of the Hawley-Smoot Tariff Act will do much toward restoring OUR foreign trade.

RICHWINE
Expresses Constructive Republican Program
Perry W. Richwine, Plymouth attorney, one of the leading candidates for the Republican nomination for Congress in the newly organized 17th Congressional District, announces his platform as follows:
1. The immediate reduction of governmental expense.
2. The payment of the soldiers' bonus as soon as possible without jeopardizing the financial stability of the government. It is my opinion that it would be advisable to issue currency at this time to be retired by annual appropriations on or before 1945.
3. Immediate action on constructive banking legislation.
4. To encourage legislation which will provide the working man with such continuous wages as will assure himself and his family of the comforts of life.
5. The immediate development of the St. Lawrence Waterway.
6. The immediate deportation of foreigners with criminal records who have not taken necessary steps to become naturalized.
7. To proceed toward a mutual disarmament of all nations to relieve the taxpayers of the enormous tax burden of preparing for war, and until the nations can mutually agree and carry out a disarmament program, the United States should establish and maintain such sea, land and air forces as are necessary to maintain peace and tranquility of the American People.
8. Prompt and effective farm legislation.
9. To establish and maintain a system of home loans which will make it possible for every thrifty citizen to purchase and pay for a home.
10. Law enforcement.
