

TO COMPLETE ELEVEN MILES OF FORD ROAD

Hines Says Work Will Be Finished By June 15, Next Year

According to an announcement just made by Edward N. Hines, Wayne county road commissioner, the Ford road which is now paved as far west as Canton center road, will be paved to the Washenaw county line next spring by Wayne county and Washenaw county will complete the road from this point to Dixboro.

Contracts for the work have been let, and according to Mr. Hines, the road will be built under regulations covering the expenditure of funds provided for the purpose of carrying out the emergency relief and construction act of congress. Mr. Hines states that the completion of this road at this time is directly an unemployment relief project. Three miles of this new paving is in Wayne county and eight miles in Washenaw county. It will be 20 feet wide.

The completion of this project has been fixed in the contracts for June 15, 1933. In Washenaw county a considerable portion of the grading for this road has already been completed and necessary bridges and culverts finished. A considerable portion of it is an entirely new right of way, the state having found that it is much cheaper to build some roads on new locations rather than following old highways.

The fiscal year of the Wayne county Road Commission began September first, and during the month of September 131,734 square yards of new concrete road was added to our mileage, stated Road Commissioner Edward N. Hines, recently.

In terms of an 18 foot concrete road this year would represent approximately 13 miles of new road, however due to the width of the roads built only 5 1/2 miles of either new road or widening was added to our total. This was built on Grand Avenue widening in Detroit on Lake Shore boulevard and various sections of Outer Drive, Ford Road, Grand River Superhighway, Michigan Superhighway, and Woodward Superhighway.

Due to the lateness of the season and danger from freezing, no concrete will be laid under the terms of the contract the entire project must be completed not later than June 15th, 1933. The entire cost is paid through the State Highway Department by the Federal Government.

Business Women Planning Benefits

For many weeks the members of the Business and Professional Women's Club have been busily engaged in filling a Treasury Chest with household linens of all kinds, dainty hand made pieces, practical household supplies and decorative articles that will delight the heart of some prospective bride, or homeloving housewife, when this beautiful, coral-lined chest is given away at a benefit entertainment near being arranged by the club and which will be given in the Crystal Dining Room of the Hotel Mayflower on Thursday evening, Nov. 17.

The proceeds of the entertainment will be used for welfare and educational purposes.

The ticket sale will begin on November 1st, and the chest and contents will be on exhibition in the window of the Blank department store for ten days previous to the date of the entertainment.

Many From Plymouth Hear President Hoover In Detroit Address Lash His Opponent For Alleged Misstatements Pertaining To Issues of Campaign

Plymouth sent a good sized delegation to Detroit last Saturday evening to hear the address of President Herbert Hoover. Tickets for the affair were in great demand during the day and hours before the time for the meeting to begin local residents went to Detroit manifesting their interest in hearing the only purpose in helping a bank is to protect the depositor and his borrower.

President Hoover made one of the most emphatic speeches of his career, time and again the crowd manifesting its approval by tremendous applause.

The President in brief said: "I ask you whether frivolous promises and dreams should be held out to suffering unemployed people. Is this the new deal?" "Following will-o-the-wisps is not progressive. That is not being liberal."

APPROVE PLAN FOR NEW BANK

Northville Successful In First Step—Now Up To Court

Following many weeks of diligent effort the depositors committee of the two closed Northville banks have been successful in securing the approval of the state banking department of a plan for the opening of a new bank in Northville.

Oliver Goldsmith well known Plymouth resident and who was interested in both the Northville banks, with Ralph Horton of Northville and John Boyce of Redford, were members of the committee that worked out the plan for the formation of the new bank. They have been assisted in their work by Edward Lapham and Clinton Wilbur, cashiers of the two closed banks.

The next step necessary will be to secure the discharge of the two receivers by Circuit Judge Joseph A. Moynahan. Publication of a notice for three weeks will precede the hearing of the petition, it is stated.

If Judge Moynahan approves the proceeding that has been proposed, the old stockholders, and any new ones that might care to purchase stock in the new bank, will proceed to the court to be sworn in as directors. The old stockholders of the two banks retain their stock in the new bank. The depositors who are not stockholders and who signed the memorandum plan and whose money will be used in starting the new bank, are not stockholders under the plan that has been approved by the department and will have nothing to do with the election of the new directors.

If Judge Moynahan approves the plan, the services of Hoyt Woodman, receiver of the Lapham State Savings bank and of Stephen T. Edell, receiver of the Northville State Savings bank, will be terminated and the new bank will liquidate the affairs of the old bank.

The stockholders will elect the directors of the new bank and these in turn will name the officers who will conduct the affairs of the institution.

Business men of Northville are highly pleased over the success of the committee in getting the approval of the department and they are in hopes that the new bank will be in operation within the next few weeks.

NOTICE PLEASE

The Senior Drama Club is working hard on new scenery for the Junior play. It is a garden scene and we are confronted with the problem of lattice work. If there is anyone who has lattice to lend, the junior class will come and get it. We will take good care of it, will repair it, and will return it. Please call Phone 584.

"The Governor (Roosevelt) impudently says as the result of failure to read the crystal of the future we have jeopardized the credit of the Federal Government. The answer is that only 10 days ago the Treasury sold $300,000,000 of notes at 3 per cent interest. The answer is that there is no government in the world financing upon such a confidence of its stability."

"Practically the only evidence of the attitude of the Democratic candidate upon this program is the sneer that it has been designed to help banks and corporations, that it has not helped the common man. He knows full well that the only purpose in helping a bank is to protect the depositor and his borrower. "Recovery would have been faster but for four months of paralysis during the spring months, while we were defeating proposals of the Democratic House of Representatives to increase governmental expenditures."

Lauds Rotary Club Of Plymouth As One Of Michigan's Best

President Charles Bennett of the Plymouth Rotary club who has been giving this community credit organization his active attention during the few months he has been its chief executive, heard District Governor Emmet Richards last Friday proclaim the Plymouth Rotary organization as "the perfect club."

Governor Richards had spent the entire forenoon going over the records of the club and consulting with various committee chairmen. He inquired carefully into all the functions of the organization and found out just what it is doing in Rotary work. It was following his official inspection of its affairs that he termed the club as nearly a perfect Rotary organization as existed.

The official visit of the highest district official of Rotary resulted in the first hundred per cent meeting the club has held in a number of months.

His address at the regular noon luncheon was most inspiring, commending a plea for Rotarians in these changing times to maintain at all times the high ideals and objects of Rotary.

Woman's Foreign Mission Society Holds Convention

On Friday of last week the Woman's Foreign Mission Society of the Methodist churches of the Ann Arbor district held their 12th annual meeting at the Plymouth M. E. church.

The program for the forenoon opened with music after which the president of the local auxiliary, Mrs. L. N. Dickinson welcomed the many delegates to our city. Following the devotions and an address by Mrs. W. E. Dixon of Detroit, the business session opened. This consisted of introductions, roll call of the auxiliaries, reports, the election of officers for the coming year and the introduction of these new officers.

The "Forward Movement Message" with Mrs. P. R. Stafford of Detroit in charge, was then given in a most interesting manner and the morning session brought to a close by the non-fide prayer of the officers.

About 150 ladies sat down to a splendid luncheon which was served in the church dining rooms by two divisions of the M. E. Ladies Aid. During the luncheon the different departments were arranged in groups at the tables so that the departmental conferences could be held at that time.

The afternoon session was one long to be remembered for its interesting features, chief among them being a splendid talk by Mrs. Victor D. Longfield, wife of a missionary to Africa, telling some of the intimate experiences of their work in the heart of that continent and displaying a large exhibit of interesting articles gathered while there; "News from our Missionary Daughters," given in an informal way by three mothers of four young women from this district now working in the foreign fields; and by a most interesting program given by the children of the junior missionary society under the direction of Mrs. Heller.

Two other divisions of the Ladies Aid served a delicious supper to another group of about 150 people of the different towns and cities in the heart of that continent and displaying a large exhibit of interesting articles gathered while there; "News from our Missionary Daughters," given in an informal way by three mothers of four young women from this district now working in the foreign fields; and by a most interesting program given by the children of the junior missionary society under the direction of Mrs. Heller.

Three Good And Sufficient Reasons Why Plymouth Should Give The Republican Party Its United Support

GOV. HERBERT HOOVER

PRES. HERBERT HOOVER ATT-GEN. PAUL VOORHIES

One of the most important elections in the history of the nation is now at hand. On its outcome depends the future of the nation and its people. Voters are going to approve or reject the policies that have been in force during the greatest period of expansion in the history of the nation. They are going to reject or approve of the tremendous and far-reaching measures taken by President Herbert Hoover to restore this country to the progressive road it traveled until caught in the swirl of world-wide depression. To reject President Herbert Hoover is a step into the unknown and the Plymouth Mail anxious as any one else for a return of better conditions, is not ready to recommend such a procedure.

In our own state affairs, next in importance to the governing of the office of attorney-general, is that of the office of the governor. In fact in many ways the attorney-general of Michigan wields a far more reaching influence than does the governor, because he is the legal counselor of the state government. That position is now held by Hon. Paul W. Voorhies, and it is almost everyone in Plymouth and vicinity, the people of western Wayne county have known him during practically his entire lifetime. They have seen him step from the office of village attorney of Plymouth to the position of attorney-general of Michigan, and in the highest legal position within the gift of the people of Michigan. In every public trust delegated to him he has been found worthy and ready to serve the best interests of the many. It is his high ideal of citizenship that has made him such a successful administrator of public affairs.

Governor Wilbur M. Brucker is the chief executive of Michigan. The position is a most important one. Because of its many and varied functions it is a difficult place for one to give satisfaction to all. In fact not since the beginning of our statehood has there been such a successful administrator of public affairs.

While teachers of the Plymouth public schools are in Detroit today attending the meetings of the Michigan Education Association, the five hundred students are enjoying a brief vacation from school work. Attendance at these meetings is compulsory on the part of the teachers. All the instructors of Wayne county are in attendance, the session having started yesterday. There are 1647 members in this county, states Supt. George Smith, long an active member of the organization.

Leaders of the teaching profession and of national and world affairs will be heard, including such outstanding speakers as Rodney H. Brandon, state director of welfare in Illinois; Dr. David Friday, nationally known economist and statistical adviser to the United States treasury; and Dr. B. H. Bode, chairman of the department of principles of education at Ohio State University.

Speakers for the division meetings will be Charles Meares, professor of education at New York University; Dr. H. A. Overstreet, head of the department of philosophy and psychology at the College of the City of New York; Dr. Howard Y. McClosky, assistant professor of educational psychology at the University of Michigan; Helen Hay Heyl, state supervisor of rural education for the state of New York; John Mantle Clapp, book-editor for the Ronald Press Publishing Company; Dr. Lois Coffey Mossman, assistant professor of education, Teachers College, Columbia University; and Maude McBroom, principal of the Iowa University Experimental School.

Webster H. Pearce, state superintendent of public instruction, and Otto W. Haisley, president of the Michigan Education Association and superintendent of Ann Arbor public schools, will appear on the general programs.

Purity Markets Celebrate Five Years Of Business Progress. Newspaper Advertising Praised by Mr. Galin as Best Success Aid

Five years of public service, five years of remarkable business growth, five years of pleasant collaboration over his success in Plymouth, marks the fifth anniversary of the opening of Dave Galin's Purity meat market.

So fast did his business grow that soon after he was compelled to open another market on the north side. A year or so ago, realizing that additional buying power would enable him to sell good meats at cheaper prices, he opened up another market in Ypsilanti that has proven a great success. Mr. Galin has found out what he thought would be true, buying in big quantities for these three markets has enabled him to cut his prices to the bone.

But because he has always featured low prices in his markets does not imply that his meat has not been of the finest qualities. He has always made it a point to supply his trade with high quality goods at low prices.

Because of this practice, his business in Plymouth during the five years he has been here has more than tripled. When he first came to Plymouth there were two people working in his market. Each Saturday now he makes out pay checks for ten different people, including the cashiers in his stores.

Not since he has been in business has he ever missed an issue of the Plymouth Mail without a good sized ad in the paper, calling attention to special bargains offered his customers each week.

In speaking of his advertising Mr. Galin said yesterday: "The one thing I have always done, I have made it a point to advertise my goods honestly and without the slightest misrepresentation. This consistent clean advertising has built up a confidence among my customers that has counted much towards the remarkable success my stores have made in this progressive little city. I deem good, clean consistent advertising as absolutely essential to the success of any business."

So that one may gain an idea of the difference in prices five years ago and today, Mr. Galin is featuring in this week's ad the prices he advertised five years ago and what the prices are this week.

Sausage then sold for 22 and a half cents a pound. This week he is selling it for seven and a half cents a pound. The prevailing price of today, Fresh ham five years ago sold at the Purity market for 25 cents a pound. Today it can be purchased for seven and a half cents a pound. These two prices are but an indication of the tremendous drop in meat prices during the time Mr. Galin has been in business in Plymouth.

He anticipates, like all other believers in the future of Plymouth, that his business during the next five years will make greater strides than during the past five years.

Not since he has been in business has he ever missed an issue of the Plymouth Mail without a good sized ad in the paper, calling attention to special bargains offered his customers each week.

MASS MEETING FOR COMSTOCK IS ARRANGED

Plymouth And Northville Democrats Unite For Big Rally

William A. Comstock, Democratic candidate for governor of Michigan, is going to invade this section of Wayne county Saturday night, November 5. Plymouth and Northville Democrats have arranged for a big mass meeting to be held in the high school at Northville next week Saturday night, beginning at 9:15 o'clock.

"This will give every one in Plymouth and Northville a chance to do their shopping and see the shows before the time for the big Democratic mass meeting is to start. In addition to William Comstock, there will be many other prominent Democratic speakers on the program. It is possible that Judge O'Brien, candidate for attorney general, will be one of the speakers.

There is no question about the appearance of William Comstock, Thomas Wilcox, Democratic candidate for sheriff, who recently spoke before the Plymouth Rotary club, will be one of the speakers. Attorney George Bushnell, Democratic candidate for prosecuting attorney of Wayne county, will be on the mass meeting program.

These three speakers, William Comstock, Thomas Wilcox, and George Bushnell, are assured for the meeting. Plymouth Democrats are planning a big parade about town just previous to the Northville meeting. Additional details of the meeting will appear in next week's issue of the Mail.

WELFARE WORK IS ORGANIZED FOR PLYMOUTH

Various Groups Unite So There Will Be No Duplication

At a recent meeting of the Plymouth Public Welfare Committee, Claude J. Dykhouse was appointed chairman of this year's organization, and Mrs. Wm. T. Pettigill consented to act as treasurer for the coming year. Berg D. Moore will continue to act as secretary.

It was decided to ask the organizations which contributed last year to do so again this year as generously as possible, but that no general appeal to the public for money would be made unless subsequent developments make a public drive for funds necessary. Volunteer subscriptions will be gratefully received, however. Make all checks payable to Plymouth Public Welfare Committee, and mail them to Mrs. Wm. T. Pettigill, treasurer.

Through the cooperation of George A. Smith, Superintendent of Schools, and the School Board, rooms have been made available at the Starkweather School to serve as a sorting and distributing point for all garments and other articles turned over by the Plymouth Branch of the Needlework Guild and the Plymouth Chapter of the Red Cross. It is expected that additional unclaimed goods will be supplied by church workers and individuals as the result of an appeal made in this article in the name of the Plymouth Public Welfare Committee.

WOMAN'S CLUB PLANS AN AFTERNOON TEA

The Woman's Club will have its first afternoon tea on Friday, November 4th. The tea will be held at the Starkweather School. The speaker, Colonel Hedrich Pickett, collector of customs has been secured for this meeting at the request of the many members who so thoroughly enjoyed his talk last year. He is scheduled to speak in the Government Service.

Mrs. Culler, soprano, will be the guest artist, accompanied by Mrs. Gilbert Brown.

The committee consists of Mrs. Arlo A. Emery, chairman, Mrs. John T. Chapman, Mrs. George C. Chute, Mrs. E. H. Daggett, Mrs. Leno Felton, Mrs. George E. Fisher, Mrs. Ray H. Mitchell and Mrs. Carmen Root. Mrs. Root and Mrs. Daggett will preside at the tea tables.

Mrs. Christena Perkins of Ann Arbor spent a delightful day October 21st entertaining friends and relatives, it being the occasion for her 85th birthday. She was the recipient of some lovely flowers and gifts.

DEFEAT THEM ALL

When election day rolls around the voters of Michigan will be asked to pass their judgment upon eight proposed amendments to the constitution of Michigan. These amendments deal with nearly every subject under the sun. They have been placed on the ballot because certain groups were able to get a sufficient amount of influence back of their "hobbies" to place them there. Some deal with taxation, others with election ideas, the so-called "wet" issue, and even the food question as well as the obnoxious proposal that no governor be allowed to pardon a person sent to prison for life.

What a proposal! Time and again it has been found in Michigan that innocent men have been convicted and sent to prison for life. After a few years in some of these cases the guilty have confessed. Under the silly proposal you are now asked to vote upon, you will keep in prison forever any man, guilty or not guilty, who has been sentenced to a life term. Vote against such a monstrous thing. Vote against every amendment, is the safest route to follow. Not one of them will in any way benefit the government of the state or help to improve society.

Yes, and there is another foolish proposal—it would practically prohibit the sale of oleomargarine in Michigan. Oleomargarine is a healthful butter substitute that is purchased almost entirely by the people of limited means, poor people, in other words, or those who are forced to count the pennies closely. Wouldn't it be a fine thing for the people of a great state like Michigan to tax the food of the poor man? Such a proposal is outrageous and it should be overwhelmingly defeated. The legislature was induced to submit this proposed amendment under the guise of a benefit to the farmer, but facts show that Michigan farmers are the greatest users of oleomargarine.

The recommendation of the Plymouth Mail to the voters of this community is to vote AGAINST every one of the proposed amendments. Just put your cross right in front of each NO and you will have served your state well.

SQUANDERING PUBLIC FUNDS

The Dearborn Press in its last issue printed figures which show that two justices of the peace in that city "knock down" $6,500 a year each for salaries and that the combined costs of the two justice courts of Dearborn exceeded over $30,000 during the last fiscal year. If these figures are correct, and so far they stand undisputed the operation costs of these two courts in Dearborn is almost unbelievable. The Press also points out that Kalamazoo, a city five times the size of Dearborn with much greater wealth pays about $10,000 per year for the operation of its municipal court, which handles probably ten times the business of the two Dearborn justice courts combined. Little wonder that Mr. Ford is called upon to support hundreds of hungry people in that community when funds that come from the taxpayers are squandered in such a way. And the comedy of the whole situation is that one of these "justices" was a candidate for congress on an "economy" platform. The taxpayers of Dearborn and the new congressional district in which it lies are to be congratulated upon the defeat of such an "economy" candidate. But the seriousness of the situation is too critical in times like these to permit the matter to go without an attempt to remedy the condition and the taxpayers of Dearborn should take immediate steps to abolish their justice courts and create a municipal court. The hard-pressed taxpayers of that city can save themselves something like $25,000 a year by ending the farcical financial "justice" court system that now prevails in Dearborn and the taxpayers have got to do the job if they want it remedied.

PARITY BETWEEN GROUPS

Out of this depression there has come a new understanding of the true relationship between all groups in this great community of 120 million people, according to J. P. McDonnell of the Minnesota Taxpayers association.

Once we accepted disease and pestilence as unavoidable, but science has found methods of control; once we tried to fight great fires with individual buckets, but there came new and more efficient ways; once we feared that lightning bolts symbolized the wrath of angry gods, but this same element that brought dismay to the human heart, when intelligently applied to electric motors, lifted from our back the burdens of sweat and toil; only recently many of us clung to the old fallacious theory that half the population could enjoy prosperity and luxury while the other half was sunk in the depths of economic distress, but, we know now that there must be a decent parity in commodity prices and in earning power as between buyers and producers in all lines. Every producer is likewise a consumer. We are all buyers and sellers. There cannot be general prosperity among a people one-half producing at a loss; and the other half risking at a profit. There can be no permanent prosperity when the government itself takes out of the earnings of the people one dollar out of every four, especially since part of this tax levy is used to create more bureaus, and to offer an increasing amount of competition to our citizens who are engaged in various legitimate enterprises.—Star, Waverly, Minnesota.

WHEN TO STOP ADVERTISING

When every man has become so thoroughly a creature of habit that he will certainly buy this year where he bought last year.

When younger, and fresher and spunkier concerns in your line cease starting up and using the newspapers in telling the people how much better they can do for them than you can.

When nobody else thinks "it pays to advertise."

When population ceases to multiply and the generations that crowd on after you, and never heard of you, come on.

When you have convinced everybody, whose life will touch yours, that you have better goods and lower prices than they can ever get anywhere outside of your store.

When you perceive it to be the rule that men who never do and never did advertise are outstripping their neighbors in the same line of business.

When men stop making fortunes right in your sight, solely through the discreet use of this mighty agent.

When you can forget the words of the shrewdest and most successful business men concerning the main cause of their prosperity.

When you would rather have your own way and fail than take advice and win.

When you want to get out of business with a stock on hand.

When you want to get rid of the trouble of waiting on customers.—Gazette, Lexington, Virginia.

UNCALLED FOR

A number of prominent politicians of the country as well as a few newspapers have been most vehement during the past few days in denouncing Henry Ford because Mr. Ford has deemed it advisable to tell his employees that he thinks it will be best for the country to vote for the re-election of Herbert Hoover. The statement that has brought so much unjust criticism follows:

"The Ford Motor Company is not interested in partisan politics. We do not seek to control any man's vote. We feel, however, that the coming election is so important to industry and employment that our employees should know our views."

"President Hoover has overcome the forces that almost destroyed industry and employment. His efforts to start the country back to work are beginning to show results. We are convinced that any break in his programme would hurt industry and employment. TO PREVENT TIMES FROM GETTING WORSE AND TO HELP THEM TO GET BETTER, PRESIDENT HOOVER SHOULD BE ELECTED."

"These are our convictions and we submit them to the serious consideration of all Ford Motor employees and their families."

"Ford Motor Company."

It is barely necessary to repeat the fact that Mr. Ford is one of the greatest employers of labor in the world, that he is vitally interested in the recovery of business and when he gave President Hoover his endorsement he did so because he believed it was for the best interests of the thousands that secure their living by accepting his pay checks. Probably few people are in a better position than Mr. Ford to know about world commerce and world business and no one can dispute the fact that whatever recommendation he might make is for the best interests of those that work for him as well as for the country at large.

If the time has come in America when the management of an industry cannot suggest to its employees its ideas of public matters that involve the interests and welfare of every individual, we had better close down our factories and go back to the stone age way of living.

The criticism of Mr. Ford in this matter is extremely unjust and uncalled for—and if there is an employe in Mr. Ford's factories who resents what he has done, he should be given an immediate opportunity to find a job with some industry that is not concerned with the economic recovery of the world.

CHECKING IN

Grant Hudson, former congressman from the sixth district, who was defeated in the primary two years ago and again this year, has finally decided to "check in" his career in politics. He has announced that he will oppose his successful primary opponent in the final election, becoming a "sticker" candidate. Mr. Hudson's decision in this matter is regretted by his many former friends. Politics is a sort of a great national game and a good loser always has a chance for a comeback, a spiteful loser never. Mr. Hudson has taken a decidedly unpopular way to write "finis" at the end of a long public career. Those who know him well regret the action he has taken. Grant Hudson as a congressman had a record no man need be ashamed of. It was his allegiance to an ism that led to his downfall. It is allegiance to the same ism that is leading to his complete political obliteration.

Rambling Around With Michigan Editors

A NEW ITEM

The budget of the community fund has been completed. A new item appears in it—that of $2,000 for the aid of needy students. We assume this means food to a very large extent. From time to time stories come of students who are trying to secure an education and at the same time live on an allowance of food, usually partaken of in their rooms, that is pitiable. Investigation has proved the correctness of these stories.

People who are willing to make such sacrifices to obtain an education can be relied upon to render a full return to society, unless their privation results in the undermining of their health to such a degree that it precludes their rendering such a service.

At first glance it may appear that we are under no obligation to these young people, these thirsters after knowledge, these seekers of the power that will enable them to leave the world better for their having lived, that this responsibility belongs to the communities, from which they come. But let us reason a moment. The University is our greatest "factory." Its payroll and the expenditures of its students are our greatest business asset and stabilizer. The student body is the raw material of this "factory." Without its raw material it can not function any more than can any other factory. If its raw material falls short, a partial shutdown must follow with its attendant material loss to the community.

The heart of America has decreased that he who is willing to work shall not starve. Most of these students are working at any job they can find. The rest of them would gladly work to earn the food they need. If we can not provide them with work, our obligation is to them with food. Our material property and our appreciation of the students' contributions to every tax day and every worthy cause both demand it. Students are not pinpennies. The need of these worthy students rightfully finds a place in our community fund budget.—C. H. Henningway in The Ann Arbor Tribune.

Mc HURLS STENCH BOMB

Since Philat has such a devil of a time in herding her city officials and keeping them in office, over six weeks at a time it might help some if the big town would ask the federal authorities for the release of Al Capone and have him act as a sort of Mussolini or his first lieutenant to keep the animals from jumping out of their cages.—J. E. McMillen in The London Leader.

FORD THROWS HIS SUPPORT TO PRESIDENT

Henry Ford, who needs no introduction in any part of the world, threw the full strength of his prestige to President Hoover Wednesday night when he made a 15-minute radio talk from his private office in Dearborn, over a national hook-up.

The motor magnate, who a few years ago was widely discussed as a possible presidential candidate as the head of a "world peace" movement, gave a short terse resume of the heroic battle which President Hoover has fought to keep the United States from feeling the depths of the world depression as have European countries.

The private Ford wireless system which allows company officials to keep in touch with Ford properties all over the world, was silent as the head of the industrial empire gave the United States his reasons for the re-election of President Hoover.

In recent years, Ford has not taken a prominent part in political activities of any kind. He has become exceedingly reticent about public statements and the radio talk last week marks one of the few times he has spoken so devotedly and capable in the worst economic storm ever known. It is hard to conceive, in a panorama of climaxes, any one of which might have meant national disaster, the President has saved the situation. When the story of Mr. Hoover's first term is finally written in the cold analysis of historical record and retrospect, the people who stood by the President in this present test shall experience a personal joy and pride comparable to the satisfaction of individual military performance given to save the nation in time of great national peril.—Muri DeFoe in the Charlotte Republican-Tribune.

A DEVOTED LEADER

The best argument yet made for the re-election of President Hoover was made by the candidate himself. The President's Des Moines speech was more in the nature of a report to stockholders in a corporation than a partisan plea for support. Why anyone should want to dispense with the services of a leader who has proven so devoted and capable in the worst economic storm ever known, is hard to conceive. In a panorama of climaxes, any one of which might have meant national disaster, the President has saved the situation. When the story of Mr. Hoover's first term is finally written in the cold analysis of historical record and retrospect, the people who stood by the President in this present test shall experience a personal joy and pride comparable to the satisfaction of individual military performance given to save the nation in time of great national peril.—Muri DeFoe in the Charlotte Republican-Tribune.

KNOW NOW WHY REED IS AN EX-SENATOR

Now ex-senator James Reed of Missouri comes out and lets the whole world know just why the people back home did not care to have him represent them at Washington, in a speech a few evenings ago, when he called the president of the United States a liar and insinuated that in addition to that he was a traitor to his country. He says some of the president's statements are absolutely untrue. In some foreign countries he would be shot at sunrise for this.

Then he goes on to insinuate Mr. Hoover is a traitor to his country, when he says, "What we need

HEALTH TIPS

Colds may be as frequent in summer as in winter. Cocoon itself, in beverage form, has very little food value.

Summer temperatures present wider extremes than those of winter.

Many habits resulting from carelessness are the most difficult to correct.

Exposure in summer results more quickly in colds because of the open pores and heated body.

Erysipelas is an infection of the skin, which begins with a red swollen area. There is high fever.

THE COMING MAN

A pair of very chubby legs Eased in scarlet hose; A pair of little sturdy boots With rather doubtful toes; A little kilt; a little coat— Out as a mother can— And lo! before us stands in state the future's "coming man."

His eyes, perchance, will read the stars, And search their unknown ways; Perchance the human heart and soul

Will open to their gaze; Perchance their keen and flashing glance

Will be a nation's light; Those eyes that now are wistful hunt

On some "big fellow's" kite. Those hands—those little, busy hands—

So sticky, small and brown— Those hands whose only mission seems

To pull all order down Who knows what hidden strength may be contained within their clasp. Though now 'tis but a raffish stick In sturdy hold they grasp?

Ah! blessings on those little bands, Whose work is yet undone! And blessings on those little feet,

Whose race is yet unborn! And blessing on the little brain That has not learned to plan! What'er the future holds in store, God bless the "coming man!"

A PRAYER

O Thou God of compassion, lay Thy hand upon us and bless us. We thank Thee for all the benign influences which has shaped our lives. As years roll by we shall think and talk of them with gratitude. Today let us feel Thy presence breathing life and calm into all our natures. O Thou divine Giver, give us the best things—joy unspokeable, peace that passeth understanding, and the heavenly voice that shall be to us a token of triumph. Enlarge our vision, broaden our horizon, and fill the heavens full of the evidences of fatherly benevolence in our hearts, in our losses, and in our sorrows may we find victory. O Throne of Mystery, about which are clouds of darkness! O Yearning of Grace, where our yearnings and our longings fall! O Elder Brother, hear us as we break the silence and give us wisdom.

Most of all in America is a man whose every heartbeat is for America, who faces toward his country, who think in American terms. The man we have named has no divided allegiance. He is not a citizen of the United States of America—but one flag, the Stars and Stripes.

For this offense Mr. Reed would be shot and quartered if uttered in some countries against the majesty of the head of the government. Every red-blooded American, republican, democrat, or whatnot, should resent and hold in disgust statements of this kind against the President, even tho they do come from an ex-senator with an inflated idea of his importance and a decided lack of common decency. The sooner the American people speech politicians with this brand of patriotism the sooner we will return to respect for our laws and those in authority, regardless of political affiliations.—Robert Gifford in The Eaton Rapids Journal.

Secretary of State Fitzgerald Wins Strong Public Favor By Always Being on The Job And Having Same Uniform Courtesy For All

Frank D. Fitzgerald, Secretary of State, is a public official who believes that the only sure road to success and the attainment of an ambition is hard work and being constantly on the job.

Many years ago, this public official was employed as a clerk in the department which he now heads. At that time, he made a statement which he often recalls, and which he admits he had no idea would materialize. "Some day," he said, "I would like to be at the head of this department."

Starting as a committee clerk in the Michigan State Senate in 1913, Fitzgerald worked hard and long at the job of giving to the people of Michigan the type of public service they are entitled to expect from state employees.

Working through various positions of responsibility, and devoting all of his time and energy to the particular job he was given, he was finally rewarded for his loyalty and service by being elevated to the office of Secretary of State on January 1st, 1932.

Elevation to this high office did not change Mr. Fitzgerald's conception of what constitutes the duty of a public official.

Very frequently, Mr. Fitzgerald may be found having his lunch in his office, not even taking time from his duties to enjoy the noonday hour away from the affairs of the state. The result has been a record of efficient and economical administration of the Department of State during his first term in office.

During the first fiscal year in office, Mr. Fitzgerald kept administration costs in his department $119,344.00 below the legislative allowances.

In the administration of laws under his supervision, Fitzgerald uses a great deal of fairness and common sense. The Motor Vehicle Laws provide that automobile license plates shall be reduced to the one-half rate schedule on September 1st. Fitzgerald polled the members of the Legislature on the question of setting the time ahead to August 1st. After receiving the approval of a majority of the members of the Legislature, he made the one-half rate schedule effective on August 1st, which placed in the neighborhood of 50,000 automobiles on the road which probably would have remained idle during the month of August had he not taken this step.

Technically, this was a violation of the law, but the Legislature is the body that enacts the laws and the Motor Vehicle Laws are administered by the Secretary of State.

In making the step placing license plates on the one-half rate schedule a full month ahead of the usual time, Fitzgerald said, "These are unusual and difficult times, and unusual and difficult times merit the taking of unusual steps for relief. It is not good business for the state to keep thousands of motor vehicles out of operation during the month of August. I therefore, propose to issue an order placing them on the one-half rate schedule on August 1st, providing a majority of the members of the Legislature will approve such action."

What the taxpayers of Michigan think of this type of public official will be indicated on November 8th. Mr. Fitzgerald should receive an overwhelming vote of confidence and be returned to office for a second term as a reward for his distinguished service for the citizens of Michigan.

Lafayette Theatre Books Big Show

"Little Accident," the sparkling comedy, which the Penman Players will bring to the Lafayette theatre the week beginning Monday October 31, was heralded as a triumph of hilarity and amusement during its unusually successful run on Broadway. It grips the interest of an audience from the very rise of the first curtain and holds it unflinchingly until the finale. It is literally fruitful to describe it as a continuous gale of laughter.

Accidents are bound to happen in the best regulated families, but this one upsets the apparent as the futuro of nearly all the characters in this sophisticated, smart tale of modern love and marriage.

The "little accident" in the role of a bouncing baby, is the outcome of a secret marriage which was annulled. The news of the "accident" reaches the ears of his father, Norman Overbeck, played by William Post, on the eve of his wedding. Hastily forsaking his bride-to-be, Norman learns at the hospital that his offspring is to be let out for adoption by its mother, played by Doris Dalton.

Norman succeeds in stealing his child, sets up his own household and puts a competent nursemaid, Monica, characterized by Donald Currie, in charge. When his former wife, his fiancée, and family discover his whereabouts he declares in desperation to marry Monica.

Torn between conflicting demands of affections, he finds himself with a baby on his hands and three girls in the situation of prospective wives.

"Little Accident" is rich in amusing complications and brilliantly entertaining dialogue. How the tangled situations are smoothed makes a highly unconventional and unusual comedy.

This production is under the personal direction of Charles D. Penman, and the supporting New York cast includes Edith Gresham, Carl Benton Reid, Gwen DeLany and Kenneth Duncan, who are rapidly winning the enthusiasm of Detroit theatre-goers.

Plymouth's Famed Writer of Church Music Taken By Death. Songs He Wrote Are Sung at Funeral Held Wednesday

"I am resolved no longer to linger—resolved to go to the Saviour—to enter the Kingdom, leaving the paths of sin—I am resolved we'll walk the Heavenly way."

The manuscript had been carefully prepared. As he blotted the ink on the paper, he laid his pen aside.

Rev. Palmer Hartsough had written his final church hymn.

Wednesday afternoon as his body laid in front of the altar the First Baptist church choir sang the song of surrender to all things worldly, the song that intimate friends of the aged song writer say told of his realization that his death was near.

"I am resolved to go to the Saviour—leaving my sin and strife—taught by the Bible—led by the Spirit—we'll walk the Heavenly Way."

So ran the lines of the song—and it was not most fitting that his beloved sister and cousin who have devoted a good portion of their lives to him—should request that "I Am Resolved" be one of the songs sung at the final rites of one who had written hundreds of cheerful songs and hymns for devoted Christians? "When I Survey The Wondrous Cross" and "Oh That Will Be Glory For Me," hymns by other authors he loved so well, constituted the musical numbers of the final rites of one who had devoted his life to church hymn composition.

No one knows how many songs Rev. Hartsough composed during his lifetime, but there are hundreds of them still in use in Baptist church hymnals. Some church song books are made up almost entirely of songs he wrote.

It was considerably over a year ago when failing health forced him to give up the work he had followed so many years.

Friends say that his feebleness delayed somewhat the completion of his last song, "I Am Resolved" to go to the Saviour—"I will hasten to Him, Hasten so glad and free, Jesus, greatest, highest, I will come to Thee."

Not long thereafter the Rev. Hartsough was forced by his illness to go to bed never again to leave his home at 233 North Union street. Nearly 90 years of age, physicians marveled at his remarkable endurance. But for many months he had been practically helpless, his means early Monday morning terminating his suffering.

He had made his home for many years with his sister, Miss Ursula Hartsough and a cousin, Miss Lucy Palmer. A year ago Rev. Richard Neale, pastor of the First Baptist church, conducted a special song service in honor of Rev. Hartsough, the choir singing only those songs that Rev. Hartsough had written.

It was Rev. Neale who officiated at the funeral, paying a glowing tribute to one who had devoted a lifetime to church song.

Soon after his birth in Redford in 1843, his parents moved to Plymouth, making their home at the corner of South Main and Golden roads. Early in life he displayed an interest in music and some of the older residents of Plymouth recall him as the youthful singing teacher who went around to the different school houses where he conducted classes.

It was at this early age when he displayed rare ability as a writer of church hymnals. Soon church music publishing houses were accepting all the material he could prepare.

As the years went on his interest in church work increased and he became an ordained Baptist minister in 1912 and for a number of years served in the pulpit in many midwest churches.

But he never gave up Plymouth as his home and here it was that he wrote the greatest number of his songs. Burial took place in the family lot in Riverside.

Besides the sister and Miss Palmer, two other cousins survive, Mrs. Minnie Wilber of Farmington and Lemoin Warner of Alpena.

The words of some of his songs follow:

In The Steps of Jesus Following the steps of Jesus. Walking in the blessed way. Cheerily we go. Happily we go. In the shining steps of Jesus: All the dreary way is brightness. All the heavy load is lightness. Cheerily we go. Happily we go. In the steps of Jesus.

He has trod the vale of sorrow. All the weary way he knoweth: We will never fear. He is ever near. And a joy His presence giveth: Mountains may rise before us. Tempests may be raging o'er us. Nothing can afflict. Everything is right. In the steps of Jesus. Who could ever bear to wonder. In the way of sin and sorrow? Who could ever stray from the path away. From the road to God and Heaven?

We will ever gladly follow. Closer still, and closer follow. Till the journey past. We are safe at last. In the home of Jesus.

I am Resolved I am resolved no longer to linger. Charmed by the world's delight: Things that are higher, things that are nobler. These have allured my sight.

I am resolved to go to the Saviour, Leaving my sin and strife; He is the true one. He is the just one. He hath the words of life.

I am resolved to follow the Saviour. Faithful and true each day.

Heed what He saith, do what He willeth. He is the living way?

I am resolved to enter the Kingdom. Leaving the paths of sin; Friends may oppose me, foes may beset me. Still will I enter in.

I am resolved, and who will go with me? Come, friends, without delay. Taught by the Bible, led by the Spirit. We'll walk the heavenly way.

I will hasten to Him. Hasten so glad and free. Jesus, greatest, highest. I will come to Thee.

Oh Wonderful Word of Salvation To you is the word of this salvation sent.—Acts 13:26.

Oh wonderful word of salvation. Oh wonderful message of love. To us who have fallen and wandered.

So far from the City above. Oh tenderest whispers of pardon. Oh love that we ever shall sing. Oh beautiful tidings of mercy. From Heaven's all glorious King.

The tempest may gather without us. And dangers from Satan and sin. His word is a fortress about me. And faith is unshaken within. Though thorny the way, He is guiding.

I follow with footstep so free. Far hence in my heart is abiding. And Heaven is waiting for me.

Oh help me to tell the sweet story. The wonderful message proclaim: For all there's a mansion in glory. For all there is hope in His name. There's joy for the journey that's dreary.

There's sight for the eyes that are dim. There's strength for the feet that are weary. There's glory eternal with Him.

Oh Happy World Sing every clime and tongue. Oh happy world. Over thee a golden day is breaking: Peace hath her colors o'er the sky unfurled.

War, nations now are fast forsaking. Night shall for sin and wrong no more assail. No more the poor and weak oppressing: Justice for truth and right shall now prevail.

Crowning the joyful world with blessing. Rise, nations in your might, as strikes the lightning's fire. Join ye, this highest best endeavor: Cast out the demon war, break now his power.

On earth be peace henceforth forever. Hail! dawn of joy and peace. Hail! reign of righteousness. Blessing the world: Hail! earth in friendly mood. Hail! man in brotherhood. Hail! Him, the Father, good. Oh happy world.

On Thee My Soul Is Stayed On thee, my Lord, my soul is stayed. With thee my heart is undismayed: Thy presence makes my pathway bright. Thy smile illumines the darkest night.

His gracious hand my need supplies. His cheering voice makes joy to rise. And all the way I'll trust in Him. The strength should fail and sight grow dim.

Let tempests rage. Let hills befall. Let death appear. On thee, my Lord, My soul is stayed. On thee my Lord.

THROUGH a WOMAN'S EYES • By JEAN NEWTON

A LIFE "FULL OF EXCITEMENT"

"I ENVY you for the wonderful life you lead—so full of excitement," said a leisured woman to another so busy that it was said there wasn't an hour in the day that she could call her own.

She envied her for the "excitement of her life."

And how the other woman would have valued her leisure.

For the woman whose life was so "full of excitement," who was in a constant whirl of engagements, duties, demands made upon her, while she was interested in what she was doing, was rarely able to choose what she wanted to do. Her life was too "full of excitement!"

She was like many successful men who nominally own their business, while in fact their business owns them. This woman would have liked to be mistress of her own life, whereas her life, so exceptionally "full" that other women envied her, mastered her.

This woman realized that it is not "excitement" and constantly having provided for us "something to do" that makes life "full," but rather the quiet and peace and freedom to contemplate the vast panorama, to reflect upon what it is that we really want to do, and then to follow that inclination. That is life to be envied by any of us. There lies graceful living—the real enjoyment of life.

1843 Rev. Palmer Hartsough 1932

Death has ended the career of Rev. Hartsough who has probably written more church songs than any other person. When it was evident a number of years ago that his mother was about to pass into the unknown, he penned a song, "If I Am To Die" that was sung at her funeral. At his own funeral Wednesday, a number of his hymns were sung by the choir. Rev. Palmer of Farmington who a number of years ago assisted Rev. Hartsough during some of his religious work in Wisconsin, assisted Rev. Neale in the funeral services.

Plymouth Graduate Weds Kalkaska Girl

The following article taken from the Kalkaska Kalkaskan will be of interest to many Plymouth residents:

A beautiful home wedding was solemnized Saturday afternoon, Oct. 28 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee O. Bloomer, when their daughter, Alice Dale, became the bride of Herbert A. Miller, of Williamston, Michigan.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Marie Miller, personal friend of the bride rendered two vocal solos, "Because" and "I Love You Truly"; she was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Walter Bloomer, aunt of the bride. While she played the wedding march from Mendelssohn the bride came into the front living room on her father's arm. They met the groom at an improvised altar centered before the living room windows, which were banked with Jane Gowl and large purple dahlias and fern. The ceremony, a short ring service, was performed by Rev. Albert Dawe of Clare, former pastor of the Congregational Church here, of which the bride is a member.

The bride was beautiful in a gown of dark red transparent velvet, fashioned on long princess lines. Her accessories matched. She carried a shower bouquet of Johanna Hill roses, swansonias and fern, tied with pale green tulle.

Mrs. Russell Miller sister of the bride and her only attendant, wore a new fall shade of blue silk crepe, she carried tulle roses, and gladioli. Her husband, Russell Miller, a brother of the groom was best man.

Mrs. Bloomer chose for her daughter's wedding a gown of brown chiffon with full sleeves and soft neck line. She wore a small shoulder corsage as did the mother of the groom, Mrs. H. A. Miller, who wore a gown of rust color chiffon and lace.

A reception and wedding dinner was served at the C. M. Phelps home where long tables were arranged about the spacious living rooms. Yellow tapers and small yellow and white dahlias formed the color scheme in decorating, while the bridal table was especially pretty with streamers of white tulle hung from candelabra. A large handsome wedding cake centered her table. Violin selections by Miss Mildred Havel, accompanied by Mrs. Robert Jones were enjoyed during the dinner.

Soon after the dinner the happy couple left for a short wedding trip through the east. The bride's traveling outfit was of dark red wool, two-piece suit with rayon fur collar. The accessories matched in every detail. After their honeymoon they will make their home in Ionia where they will be at home to their friends after November 1st.

The groom is a graduate of Plymouth High School class of '28 and formerly lived on Beck road. He is also a graduate of M. S. C. class of '30 while the bride graduated from the same institution with the class of '32.

Investing Safely

The best friend in the world is money in your pocket. A hard old saying but true as it is old, and doubly so in times of depression.

Most people today need very little advice about this line. Then why procrastinate, start a savings account, do it today. This forty year old institution offers you its assistance and the advice of men, who have safely guided it through storms of panics and depressions, always with a margin of safety that has allowed the payment of a 5% dividend, and kept its stock at 100 cents on the dollar. Never a loss and never a miss.

HOW TO COOK RABBIT

THERE are few people who do not like the gamesy flavor of wild things. However, the following recipes may be used for the tame rabbit as well. For those fortunate enough to have several rabbits on hand and who wish to keep them for later use, the following is a good recipe:

Pickled Rabbit.

Prepare the rabbit as for roasting. Place in a stone crock or jar and cover with one pint each of vinegar and water, one onion (into which stick three cloves), two bay-leaves, half dozen allspice, one dozen peppercorns, one dozen chill peppers cut into halves. Let the rabbit remain in this liquid for three days, turning it occasionally. Drain and stew it, or braise it. To braise it cut one-eighth pound of salt pork into slices to cover the bottom of the baking pan. Place sliced onion, carrot and turnip and celery over the pork. Lay the meat in this and dredge with seasoned flour. Cover and bake one-half hour in a moderate oven. Pour one pint of stock over the meat, dredge again with flour, salt and pepper. Cook very slowly closely covered for two hours or longer. During the last half hour cook uncovered to brown the meat. Serve on a hot platter. Strain a portion of the gravy over the rabbit and the rest; serve in a gravy boat. Keep the pan from the bottom of the oven with a grate or ring all during the cooking.

Belgian Hare.

Clean and split a hare, season with salt and pepper and hard with strips of fat salt pork across the back and the legs. Place in a baking pan with a small amount of brown stock and carrot, onion and celery cooked in a little fat. Baste the hare often with the stock in the pan and bake forty-five minutes. Add one cupful of cream, the juice a lemon and one tablespoonful of cornstarch made smooth with cold water. Baste and cook twenty minutes longer, then serve the sauce, strained.

A Bouquet Direct From California

The political wind is blowing in many directions these days. Here comes a breeze direct to the Plymouth Mail office from one of its readers in California, telling how the wind is blowing out in that state of sunshine, oranges and beautiful flowers with a bouquet for The Mail:

Editor Mail—"Thanks for the good article in the last issue of the Mail entitled 'Throwing Brickbats At The Editor.' It shows a real man and a good scent who can take and tell a joke. That's the kind of stuff subscribers to the Mail like. As to Mr. Hoover, the great engineer being headed for the roundhouse—it's a mistake. He isn't that kind of an engineer. He's only a stationery engineer, that's all. He will not carry his home state. Come out and see."

"California is 840 miles long from the northwest to the southeast corners, by air line, or as far as Chicago is from Philadelphia or Texas from Chicago. We pass our copy of the Plymouth Mail each week along to other ex-Plymouth residents who enjoy reading it as much as we do. All of the Mail readers out here wish you and their old friends good luck."

MAKING PLANS FOR ARMISTICE DAY BALL

The Washington Bicentennial Committee is making plans for Armistice day. In the evening a Colonial ball will be given by the bicentennial committee with the cooperation of the American Legion and Ex-service Men's Club of Plymouth.

It is the plan of the Bicentennial committee and Service clubs to make the Colonial ball an outstanding affair in beauty and enjoyment.

The object of the Colonial Ball is not to make money, and the clubs have placed the cost for admission at 25c per person, expecting therefrom to meet expenses. If there, however, is any surplus it will be divided between the two clubs for the welfare work among the needy members.

If you are looking for an opportunity to have a maximum pleasure and satisfaction and at a very nominal cost be sure to set aside the evening of November 11, in order to enjoy the Colonial Ball under the auspices of the Bicentennial committee.

PARAGRAPHS FROM ENGLISH CLASSES

If one can write a short article with correct spelling, punctuation, and sentence structure, he can easily learn the management of larger units. Below are printed some paragraphs written by English leisure pupils who have never before contributed anything to the sample materials on the school page prints from various classes.

Our Non-residents
Out of six hundred and fifty-four students attending the Plymouth High School twenty-eight per cent are tuition students who come from eight different districts and either have to take the bus or drive to school.
It is really surprising to see how many of our high school students do not live in Plymouth. There are one hundred and eighty-three students coming from the following places: 198 from Detroit, 73 from Newburgh, Salem, Waterford, Canton Center, Stark, and the Wayne County Training School. The largest number comes from Roseville Gardens. Most of the students coming from Roseville Gardens, Grandville, Garden, Newburg, and Stark come on the bus since the company does not have tickets at half fare. There are about one hundred and ninety residents and non-residents driving to school. Most of these drive Fords because a Ford is cheaply operated and most of the families have two cars. Besides the students taking the bus and driving there are many who walk.
Kathleen Wassund.

Our Fords
During the school hours it is very interesting to notice the large number and variety of automobiles driven to school by the students of Plymouth High School who live out of town.
There are usually between thirty-five and forty automobiles. The majority of these are the Fords, with nineteen automobiles, second in highest are the Chevrolets, with five. Third place is held by the Plymouth and Essex with three each. The fourth place is taken by the Pontiac with two while the last place is occupied by the larger automobiles such as the Hudson, Oldsmobile, Graham Page, Hodge, and Buick with one each.
Alfred Gates.

Junior Orchestra
The Junior Orchestra under the baton of Miss Henry has some very fine material to work with this year. It is composed of fifteen members with six different instruments represented. There are eight violins, two clarinets, one trumpet, one banjo, one piano with two alternating pianists, and one set of drums. Robert Metcalf has the first chair in the violin section. Some of the pieces they are working on are: Beethoven (Tri, B-flat); Falling Leaves, Sereley; Flug of Time, Lawrence; and Fortuna overture, Zamecnick.

The School Band
One of the most important clubs of the Plymouth High School is the school band, consisting of forty students under the direction of Mr. Evans. The band orchestra, and Senior Drama Club have furnished much entertainment outside of school.
The band is divided into three divisions: woodwind, percussion, and brass. In order to have it evenly balanced and music well harmonized, no instruments can be omitted. At the present time the band needs new flutes and piccolos. About eight or more of our best players graduated last year. The new members have been filled by people who, we believe, are equally as good although they do not have as much experience. The music played is mainly classical and semi-classical and is quite different.
Helen Stisko.

Transportation Vehicles of Plymouth High School
Strapping abruptly at the curb, the dilapidated old car wheezed and coughed generously. The proud owner climbed anxiously out and succeeded it with the greatest satisfaction. It was an old model which had long since ceased to shine but it was not his, and what more could a high school student ask for?

heated father who will foot the bill. But then, even though they are a luxury and something which is not fully ready to have, if the things which are all craves and long for were ours, would life be worth living?
Max Todd.

The Plymouth Pilgrim Prints

The children in Miss Wurster's class have started making doll furniture out of orange crates. Thirty-four children out of a possible forty-nine joined the Dainty Club last week.
The 1-B's in Miss Mitchell's room have finished their pre-primers and have begun their primers. They have been making book covers for picture books correlating with stories read in reading class. They have been studying the picture of Bala Schurr in art appreciation.
William Scelfo of Miss Crandell's room has moved to the country and is now going to a country school. The children have been dramatizing stories read in reading class.

P. H. S. HAS HIGH SCOUTS RATING

Last spring a new league was organized in the surrounding territories including Dearborn, Ecorse, River Rouge, Wayne, Ypsilanti and Plymouth. All six of these schools are in class B, which means that they have between 300 and 600 students in the upper four grades. This is only a quantitative rating and has no connection with scholastic standards. Plymouth High School has the highest possible rating. We are in the North Central Association for a three year period which is the longest period extended to any high school.
In the upper four grades Dearborn has 651 students; River Rouge, 627; Ypsilanti, 480; Plymouth, 467; Ecorse, 417; and Wayne 341. It can be seen that only Dearborn has more than 400 students. Wayne and Ecorse are smaller than Plymouth. Ypsilanti is practically the same size as Dearborn and River Rouge are somewhat larger. In the two largest schools, practically only the tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grades are used in the new league. This puts all schools on an equal level as far as athletics are concerned.

WENTON PICTURES WERE TAKEN

If you noticed last Wednesday the senior girls with their best dresses on and their hair finger wavy and if you noticed the boys with their best suits, clean shirts, and their plain, flowered, dotted, or striped ties and wondered where the effects were you would have found that it took place on the stage of the auditorium of the Plymouth High School. It was at this time, one of the big moments of the senior year, that the seniors' pictures were taken. Each senior will have a remembrance of that intelligent look as all seniors have in years to come. Pictures don't bring back memories, especially school-day memories. Orders were given at this time for the folders. A dollar deposit was given to pay the expenses of developing a picture in the morning and for the group picture which each senior receives. An enlarged framed picture is given free to students who order a dozen or more folders. The price of the folders ranged from three dollars to ten dollars.

HAVE YOU YOUR STUDENT TICKET?

Buy your Student Council tickets! Stay home from a show once or twice, eat less candy bars for a couple of weeks. In this way you will help yourself and also the student council. The tickets are not selling as well as they might. The seniors have 77 to sell: Juniors, 48; sophomores, 71; freshmen, 115; eighth grade, 52; and seventh grade 67. These tickets will admit you to all the home football games, debates, and a few basketball games. For senior high students the price is fifty cents a ticket and for junior high students the price is twenty-five cents. Let's see which grade can purchase all its tickets first!

INSTRUMENTS NEEDED FOR ORCHESTRA

The new high school orchestra which has just been organized this year has four more members than last year, making a total of twenty-five in all. Those who have recently joined are: Gus Kowalski, Gerald Hartling and Arthur Johnston. Although the orchestra is doing very well, instrumentation is lacking and the instruments that are needed are: the cello, viola, double bass, flute and oboe. Anyone able to get any of these pieces will willingly be given free instruction at school.

"Little Stories for Bedtime" by Thornton W. Burgess

PETER SEES THE QUACKS OFF
THE days were growing shorter and the nights cooler. The leaves of the Green Forest, except those on the pine and the spruce and the hemlock trees, were turning red and yellow and brown and dropping to carpet the ground and rustle beneath unwary feet. As often as possible Peter Rabbit slipped over to the pond of Paddy the Beaver to see if Mr. and Mrs. Quack and the ten young Quacks were still there, and each time he found them growing more and more fat. He knew that it would take very little to start them on their long journey to spend the coming winter in the far away South.

of sight and he disappeared in the direction of the Big River. Right away Peter thought of the Quack family. Just supposing that hunter should be hiding near where the Quacks usually ate their evening meal! Peter shivered a little at the thought of what might happen. Mr. and Mrs. Quack ought to be warned and there was no one to do it but himself. Peter started early enough, but as his way he had to stop over so many times to look at things which aroused his curiosity. When he had satisfied it he would scamper lipperty-lipperty as fast as he could until something else stopped him. So it was almost the Quack dinner time when at last, quite out of breath, he reached the edge of the pond of Paddy the Beaver. He was greatly relieved to see all the Quack family still there. "Oh," he panted, "I'm just in time!"

SCIENCE CLUB SHOWS BLOWING OF GLASS

Bubbles of glass were blown at the last meeting of the Junior High School Science Club. Mr. Bentley demonstrated how to blow glass tubes, how to seal them, how to blow large glass bubbles, and spin threads of glass. These threads, which reached across the room, were miniature glass tubes, complete even to the pole running up the center. The glass bubbles could not be saved as they burst making a very loud report. Christmas tree ornaments are made by the same method used in the demonstration. The broken glass bubbles are so thin that they may be crumpled in the hand without making any noise.

CLUB DEBATE WON BY AFFIRMATIVE

An interesting debate upon the question "Resolved, that an income tax should be adopted in state of Michigan" was held in Speech Club last Tuesday. The affirmative, represented by Irene Humphries, Evelyn Korabacher, and Freda Kilgore, defeated the negative, Harry Fischer, and Russell Kirk, who represented the negative. Odene Hill acted as judge. The first three will represent Plymouth in the first league debate, supporting the affirmative. At present the club is continuing its study of the state income tax problem.
HERMAN PASSES ON
Solemn and grave faces witnessed the passing of a noble character in Plymouth High school last Friday afternoon in Room 33. Coroner Jack Wilcox stated that the reason for the death of Herman, Miss Wells's pet goldfish, was overeating. You will recall that Miss Wells started feeding Herman twice a day. It was too great a shock. Herman never lived to enjoy it. His passing is mourned by Haddie, the snail, Miss Wells, and the geometry and advanced algebra classes.

SENIOR DANCE A SUCCESS

The senior class wishes to thank all those who helped to make the senior dance a success, mainly the chaperones, Mr. and Mrs. Kincaid, Mr. and Mrs. Buzzard, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rathburn, Mr. and Mrs. Daly, Mr. and Mrs. Gallimore, the members of Woody's Orchestra, the host, Ernest Archer, and the hostess, Kathryn Mandl. Through the splendid cooperation of Miss Freige, Miss Smith, Miss Lickely, and the entire senior class this dance was an overwhelming success. If everyone will continue to cooperate in the future as they have begun, the school year will be one filled with success.
For the benefit of those who are not seniors but who are anxious and interested to know the outcome of the financial side of the dance, the treasurer reports that $12.50 was cleared. The senior class will try to cooperate and help other classes in their school activities as they have been helped by them.

FIRST PRACTICE DEBATE

A practice debate held in Apolonia High School last Thursday afternoon, Plymouth High School was represented on the affirmative side of the State Income question by Irene Humphries, first speaker; Freda Kilgore, second speaker; and Evelyn Korabacher, third speaker. Defending the negative side were the following Apolonia High School students: Helen Triggs, first speaker; Donald Elie, second speaker; and Ruth Hoffman, third speaker. Elaine Holden acted as chairman.
Constructive speeches were eight minutes long and rebuttal speeches four minutes long. Had the debate been judged it is probable that Plymouth High School would have won. However, both teams were to be congratulated on their splendid debating. Mr. Hyman, coach of the Ypsi team, congratulated Evelyn Korabacher on her wonderful rebuttal speech.
Mr. Lature, Odene Hill, Ernest Archer, Kenneth Greer, Robert Shaw, Chairo Shontz, Ruth Hadley and James Livingston accompanied the team to Ypsi.

HI-Y BOYS DISCUSS COMING ELECTION

A lively political discussion led by Robert Shaw was the order of the day in the Hi-Y meeting last Friday afternoon. Qualifications for Hoover, Roosevelt and Thomas were discussed. After much debate a vote was taken, resulting as follows: out of twenty-nine votes fourteen were for Roosevelt; ten votes for Hoover; and five votes for Thomas.

SCHOOL WILL HOLD MOCK ELECTION

A mock election will be held in the school on election day on the suggestion of the American History classes. An election board will be in charge, voting booths will be provided and the whole election will be carried out as nearly as possible like a real election.

MINE AND THINE
Did you ever see people cut the corners of your lawn? Did you ever see them taking fruit from someone's trees? People accidentally do things like that without even thinking what they are really doing. These things not only happen in the open, but they also happen right here in school. Students, as well as some parents, do not know the difference between MINE and THINE. They borrow paper, pens, and pencils and then, through no misunderstanding on their part, they keep them. Sometimes they even go as far as to take these things without permission from the owner. Do you sometimes wonder why they are like that? I believe their early home training has much to do with their actions in school or elsewhere. There are cases where borrowing is necessary, but the thing borrowed should be returned in good order just as it was received. When a thing is yours you may use it in any way you see fit, as long as it does not interfere with the rights of others. If we remember how we want people to treat our possessions, we shall probably treat others in the same way.

Senator Stevens lauds John W. Reid. A signed statement by retiring State Senator Claude H. Stevens, of the 18th District, lauds a further endorsement to the vigorous campaign of JOHN W. REID whose record in the primaries carried him far in the lead of his Republican field. The statement follows: John W. Reid, candidate for the State Senate should receive the active support of every elector of the 18th District, who is desirous of his district being represented by a man of character and ability." signed, Claude H. Stevens, Retiring State Senator, 18th District.

At a meeting Wednesday of the Safety and Traffic Committee of the Automobile Club of Michigan, at the Statler Hotel, a resolution was passed by that body endorsing the service record of John W. Reid who, for more than 12 years, has served with unremitting devotion to the safety interests of that organization, and Michigan. A copy of the resolution follows: "Resolved that this Committee express its appreciation at this time to John W. Reid, who as a member of the Committee for 12 years has given its counsel of value in our deliberations from his knowledge as City Engineer and former chief engineer of the Commissioner of Public Works."

FORD-YPXI DAM IS NOW BEING FILLED

Ford dam on the Huron River four miles east of Ypsilanti was closed last week Thursday afternoon, and today it is rapidly filling. At the present rate of flow, the water is expected to take from six weeks to three months to rise the 33 feet above its present level to the head of the dam. If heavy fall rains occur, greatly increasing the flow of the river, the time necessary to rise to this head will be lessened.

Most of the equipment has been installed at the power house. The foundation rings for the generators must be lined up, and the concrete for bases is being poured. The generators are scheduled to be installed soon, after which their shafts will be put in place. The task progresses slowly because of the amount of work attendant upon the installations, but the hydro-electric plant is expected to be completed by the first of the year, say attendants at the dam.

The task of dismantling the Tuttle Hill bridge will probably be under way within a week, according to information received at the dam. The task of cleaning the river flats of refuse is progressing rapidly. The potatoes that were grown on the Ford project are being harvested and the ground cleaned of the vines. Several tractors are plowing the ground on other Ford projects near the dam, preparing it for crops in the spring.

Don't forget the 25c supper at the Grange Hall Friday night from 7:30 on. MENU: Meat Loaf, Brown Gravy, Mash'd Potatoes, Cabbage Salad, Creamed Onions, Beet Pickles, Brown and White Bread, Apple Pie and Cheese, Coffee.

High Officials of Star Lodge Guests of The Plymouth Chapter

The honored guests of the evening were Mrs. Mable Davies, Grand Warden of the Grand Chapter of Ontario; Mrs. Ann Weinbeck, president of Wayne County Association with her Organist and Chaplain. Mrs. Davies gave a very interesting talk telling us of the difference in our subordinate Chapter work and that given in Ontario Chapters. The work of the evening was exemplified by the Matrons of Wayne County Chapters in a very beautiful manner.

SENATOR STEWENS LAUDS JOHN W. REID

A signed statement by retiring State Senator Claude H. Stevens, of the 18th District, lauds a further endorsement to the vigorous campaign of JOHN W. REID whose record in the primaries carried him far in the lead of his Republican field. The statement follows: John W. Reid, candidate for the State Senate should receive the active support of every elector of the 18th District, who is desirous of his district being represented by a man of character and ability." signed, Claude H. Stevens, Retiring State Senator, 18th District.

At a meeting Wednesday of the Safety and Traffic Committee of the Automobile Club of Michigan, at the Statler Hotel, a resolution was passed by that body endorsing the service record of John W. Reid who, for more than 12 years, has served with unremitting devotion to the safety interests of that organization, and Michigan. A copy of the resolution follows: "Resolved that this Committee express its appreciation at this time to John W. Reid, who as a member of the Committee for 12 years has given its counsel of value in our deliberations from his knowledge as City Engineer and former chief engineer of the Commissioner of Public Works."

FORD-YPXI DAM IS NOW BEING FILLED

Ford dam on the Huron River four miles east of Ypsilanti was closed last week Thursday afternoon, and today it is rapidly filling. At the present rate of flow, the water is expected to take from six weeks to three months to rise the 33 feet above its present level to the head of the dam. If heavy fall rains occur, greatly increasing the flow of the river, the time necessary to rise to this head will be lessened.

Most of the equipment has been installed at the power house. The foundation rings for the generators must be lined up, and the concrete for bases is being poured. The generators are scheduled to be installed soon, after which their shafts will be put in place. The task progresses slowly because of the amount of work attendant upon the installations, but the hydro-electric plant is expected to be completed by the first of the year, say attendants at the dam.

The task of dismantling the Tuttle Hill bridge will probably be under way within a week, according to information received at the dam. The task of cleaning the river flats of refuse is progressing rapidly. The potatoes that were grown on the Ford project are being harvested and the ground cleaned of the vines. Several tractors are plowing the ground on other Ford projects near the dam, preparing it for crops in the spring.

St. Michael's Church To Celebrate Its First Anniversary Sunday. Plan Special Program For This Important Occasion

Early in 1931 the Right Reverend Michael J. Gallagher, D. D., Bishop of Detroit, called to his office one of his promising young priests, who had just recently served with wonderful success as Assistant to Rev. Fr. John R. Comand, St. Thomas church, Ann Arbor, as Assistant Pastor, St. Theresa's Church, Detroit, and at St. Clement's Church, Dearborn, Michigan, following his ordination on February 7, 1926, after completion of his studies at St. Mary's of the West Seminary, Clevelannd, Ohio.

FATHER CONTWAY

The youthful priest, Reverend Father John E. Contway, was given the mission of investigating conditions in the Plymouth Road sector of the Detroit Diocese, where it was said that there were many Catholic families without nearby Church or Parochial School in an ever growing community.

After a thorough survey of the Marquette Park section, Father Contway singled out the Rosedale Gardens development as the most promising, as this place seemed to be the center of activity, with the largest number of homes built, built and occupied, and with grounds and buildings clean and prosperous looking despite the hard times. During one of his visits to the Rosedale Gardens Sales Office for information, he found it a very busy place, as it was Spring Primary Day, all the country folk coming and going the entire day and evening, thus giving Father Contway first hand information of the activity in the civic duties performed by residents of the community, and an opportunity of seeing the people face to face. Then, after a brief survey of the neighborhood he became very enthusiastic over the prospects of the future of the vicinity should the Bishop see fit to establish a Church there.

In June, the Bishop gave Father Contway a tentative appointment to this new Parish, which later was to be named St. Michael's Catholic Parish. By the end of the month plans for a permanent school building, the first of a series of five buildings, were completed, and estimates made as to its cost. In another two weeks Father Contway received his formal official appointment as Pastor of the newly created Parish, which embraces some twenty odd square miles with approximately seventy-five families, and the Burnett-Heuser Construction Company of Dearborn had been awarded the contract for the construction of the first unit, the present building, to cost approximately $50,000.

So quietly had all these proceedings taken place, that no one, except those directly involved had any intimation of the project, until August 1, 1931, when ground was formally broken to start building and with Al N. Henige in charge of construction. The weather was ideal for building, and work on same progressed swiftly, which was to be 37 feet by 121 1/2 feet, with a large auditorium with all community life features, a chapel and two class rooms, with provision made for future extension of another story and eventual turning the structure into a twelve room school building, modern in every respect, and equipped with every modern convenience.

Sunday, August 30, 1931, a most perfect day, saw the largest assemblage of people that this part of Wayne County had ever seen, all come to hear the Bishop Michael J. Gallagher give his message of good-will and witness the laying of the corner stone. The Procession was led by Rosedale Gardens Troop, Boy Scouts of the American Legion Band, which proceeded north on gayly decorated Pembroke Road from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Winkler, two who had loaned their home to the Bishop and his Staff for the day, to the platform which had been erected for the corner stone laying ceremonies and which had been decorated with the National and the Papal colors, as was the gates and roadway leading to the building on the west side of Pembroke Road.

In his sermon the Bishop gave encouragement to the people gathered to witness the ceremony, in these stages of depression, lauded the ability of the young man whom he had selected to lead the Parish, and paid tribute to the Sheldon Sons for their most gracious gift of the land, making the start possible, and especially as they were of a different Christian denomination, and in closing stated that "in this Church there never will be taught any hatred of any other denomination whatsoever. Nothing that Christ has not taught will ever be taught here. We will teach good will, love for all. If you love your neighbor you can not denounce him nor vilify him, and when you refuse another in need you are refusing Him." At the services Bishop Gallagher was assisted by the following clergymen and prelates: Rt. Rev. Monsignor J. J. Hunt, Rev. R. Fleming, Rev. V. Kienberger, O. P., Rev. Chas. V. Lohberg, Rev. D. Whollhan, Rev. J. C. R. Rev. R. Clancy, Rev. J. Parker, Rev. J. Messing, Rev. M. Cassidy, Rev. J. McNamara, Rev. P. O'Brien, Rev. P. O'Sullivan, Rev. D. Foley, Rev. P. Hay and Rev. F. O'Reilly.

While the building was being rushed to completion, the people of the countryside, friends of other parishes of Father Contway, members of Plymouth and Detroit hastened to his support, coming with gifts for the new Church, contributions, and the many who had criticized him in advance became the Pastor's most enthusiastic supporters, and they had become to realize Father Contway's answer to their objections was all too true, which was to the effect "that this was the time when every one should put his shoulder to the wheel and create jobs for the unemployed."

The folk of Rosedale Gardens got together and an informal reception was given the new Pastor on September 13, 1931, at which time the Ladies Altar Society was organized with the following of officers elected, President Mrs. Anna Eggleston, Vice President, Mrs. Julia F. Walker, Secretary and Treasurer Mrs. Mary B. Kinahan. This day was the first that the ladies of the community had the opportunity of meeting their new Pastor, and so enthusiastic were they that plans were made immediately to complete the first of the proposed buildings. The school structure was completed in record time, and today stands a beautiful monument to the Christian faith and to the Catholic Church. Then on October 25, 1931, the building was formally dedicated, the event being attended by several thousand people, who came from many miles around, friends of the Pastor from other Parishes, and many from reading of the celebration, as all the Detroit papers, Dearborn, Ann Arbor and the Plymouth Mail had heralded the commencement of the project as one of the outstanding events of the depression. In the morning the Church was crowded for the first Mass in the new chapel, which was celebrated by the Pastor. The afternoon saw a thousand diners served by the Ladies of the Altar Society during the Feast of the Most Holy Trinity, Brogan, Detroit, (who was introduced by Toastmaster Hon. Leo H. Schaefer of Dearborn) made the principal address.

Father John E. Contway, in his address of welcome, paid a glowing tribute to the Rt. Rev. Michael J. Gallagher, declaring "that it was entirely fitting that his indomitable courage, his intense zeal and persistence in promoting numerous religious building projects in this Diocese that had won for him the title of 'Bishop Builder' had made possible the building of this kind in one of the finest of its kind in the State of Michigan, and further that the crowded church indicated well for the future, and the looks of happiness, and the cooperation shown in the completion of the work in so short a time was wonderful indeed."

Monsignor John J. Hunt lauded the efforts and work of all in accomplishing so much in so short a space of time, and stated that it took many parishes many years to accomplish as much. Judge Brennan, in his address, gave an outline of the country's history, praised the efforts of Father Contway, the services of the builders, Burnett-Heuser Co., and the assistance of the Sheldon Sons organizations, and praised the development that welcomed children to its fold—whose slogan is "where rosy-cheeked children bloom," and further praised the efforts and work of the Ladies Altar Society which had worked so wonderfully to make this one long to be remembered by everyone present.

During the course of the dinner Miss Antonette Cassio, soprano, Messrs. Carl Sobie, tenor, and Mark McLaughlin, baritone, all well known entertainers about Detroit, were accompanied in their selections by Miss Agnelina Rousseau on the piano. After the dinner tables cleared, it was brought into view the beautifully decorated booths the Ladies had prepared for the Bazaar. The Schaefer Orchestra, all of local talent, furnished the music for the balance of the evening.

The ensuing winter, except during Lent, saw many happy social events, card parties, and dances were held weekly, people coming for the affairs from miles around to dance and play on the huge maple floor of the Parish Hall. November 7, 1931, Edward Patrick Long and Miss Gertrude Lyon were united in marriage at St. Michael's, this being the first wedding of the new Parish.

Infant Barbara May, daughter of Edward H. and Frances Grodner, was the first baby born in the new Parish, and was the first to receive the Sacrament of Baptism, on November 22, 1931, in the new Church. The first General Church Committee of the Parish was officially appointed January 1, 1932. Mr. Joseph P. Rousseau, Newburg, Mr. Harry Eggleston, Mr. James B. Kinahan, Mr. Walter E. Cully, Rosedale Gardens and Mr. Harry Potosky of Grandale Gardens were named by the Bishop to serve for the calendar year 1932.

Another outstanding event of the year was the St. Patrick's Day dinner and banquet on March 13, 1932, when the Parish Hall was filled to capacity. Mart Ryan of the R. K. Co. acted as Master of Ceremonies, a number of young folks of local talent contributed toward making the evening's entertainment an enjoyable one, mingled with several former celebrities, with Miss Lillian Poli, the famous prima donna of "Chocolate Soldier," music by the boys of the Junior Sycophants Orchestra, and other talent from the young folks, Edwin Krupinski, accordion, the three Wilson boys of Ann Arbor, Marziale Piccone, tenor, Miss Evelyn Porteous, soprano, Jimmie Long, songs and card tricks, Miss Helen Fitzgerald, contralto, Miss Mary French, interpretations, Charlie Wiggle the comedian, and two tennis—Miss Margaret Merzham and Charles Little, Miss Lona Belle Rohde and Wesley Hoffman, dancers and singers.

Probably their largest total attendance was when the Parish Hall was given to the entire Plymouth High School Troop. The Rosedale Gardens Troop entertained the district boys and kept the Parent Banner for largest sponsor attendance at this Court of Honor. The Plymouth High School Band furnished the music for the evening.

Increasing attendance to the Church and its social affairs made it necessary to provide parking space for autos. The need of the Parish got busy and made a large parking lot just north of the building so that the extensive landscaping of the Sheldon's would be protected from the cars of visitors who had previously parked and got stuck in the soft ground of the parkways.

Catechetical class was early organized by the Pastor, and following intensive instruction under his personal care, the first class received their first communion on June 12, 1932, the fifteen children were Harry Eggleston, Lawrence Rometo, Leonie Renaud, Marvin Miller, Lester Kalmbach, Robert Gillman, Mildred Shader, Corrine Polman, Alice Criger, Virginia Criger, Irene Coopersmith, Evelyn Coopersmith, Lorraine Renaud, Volours Rotarians and Marie Ryan. What could have been more fitting than the selecting of the rose as their flower and June the month of the Feast of the Sacred Heart of Jesus. The class now meets every Sunday morning after the first Mass, the Pastor in personal charge of sixty children at the end of the first year.

Before the winter was fully over, a base-ball club was organized, the young men clearing the land, just north of the parking grounds and erected their own backstop. Games were played every week-end with nearby teams. A season of ten semi-professional games of the Rosedale Gardens team acquitted themselves well their first season by winning a great majority of games. They also gave several parties and held a dance in the Parish Hall for their uniform funds.

All during the first year every Feast Day was fittingly observed by members of the Parish. Christmas Eve, 1931, the first midnight Mass was celebrated by the Pastor, the church being beautifully decorated, and the attendance of many visitors and those of other denominations completely crowded the Church. On September 29, 1932, the Feast of Saint Michael was observed. Many visitors—passersby on Plymouth Road have stopped for worship and prayer, and to admire the ever beautifully decorated Altars, which the Ladies of the Altar Society and their friends have kept filled with the many wonderful flowers that have helped make Rosedale Gardens what it is in fact as well as in name.

At the present time it appears that Father Contway has a large attendance from among the Protestant families outside the district, all coming to worship, and to hear Father John's (as the Pastor has become known) very instructive sermons.

Actual membership in the Church has steadily increased all during the year. It appears assured that within a few years that the present building will be used exclusively as a Parochial School and that the proposed Church will have been completed, as well as the other units of the building program, namely the Rectory, Convent, and Gymnasium.

Sunday October 30, 1932 has been set aside by the Pastor to celebrate the completion of a very successful year, the first of Saint Michael's Parish, and the anniversary of the completion of the first building of the group. There will be the usual Masses in the morning and Catechetical Class. The afternoon the ladies of the Parish are to prepare the huge chicken dinner to be served from four until eight o'clock, and in the evening a bazaar and entertainment will take up the theme.

Edward Williams, member of the board of Education, City of Detroit and well known broadcaster is to act as Master of Ceremonies. A great array of talent promises to be on hand to entertain and help celebrate the Dixie-Serenaders, the Bedford Exchange Quartet, a number of other prominent city and country organizations and several individuals are to be there.

Monsignor John J. Hunt, Monsignor Hugh McCarthy and other prominent clergymen; Mayor Frank Murphy of Detroit and several others in the political limelight will be guests of the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Stratton will make their future home in Detroit.

Crime In Wayne County Reduced By Activity Of Prosecuting Attorney Toy—Speed in Trial Of Cases Has Been Of Greatest Benefit In Work

There have been no bank robberies, no kidnapings, no payroll holdups since Henry S. Toy began his first term of office as prosecuting attorney of Wayne County.

That, in part, sums up the record on which an efficient public official asks re-election on the Republican ticket at the November election. It is a record for law enforcement that has won the attention not only of the whole state, but it is reflected in statistics kept and jealously regarded in every metropolitan center in the country.

For instance, Detroit has risen to the top in the rate of murders per 100,000 population in the cities of the country of more than 1,000,000 inhabitants.

Kidnaping zones were rampant. From preying on racketeers, gamblers and race runners, they were all set to reach out to legitimate business-men.

Gangsters were entrenched. They enforced the law of the jungle and the finding of the bodies of victims "taken for a ride" were of such frequent occurrence that the general public was beginning to treat the matter with a calm indifference.

The term underworld was a misnomer. It was out in the open, a swaggering, almost absolute monarch, whose satellites defiantly—and with more than a shadow of truth—boasted they could "beat the rap" in the courts.

Plainly the need was for a fearless prosecutor, with brains, capacity to work and ability to per-

Now, assistant prosecutors and investigators are among the first of Wayne County's law-enforcing agencies to arrive at the scene of a crime.

"County Fair" Is On! Take Time to Look Over Bank Display

The big annual Plymouth "county fair" is on.
Bigger potatoes, radishes, pumpkins—than were ever exhibited before at any "fair," can be seen in the "exhibition" windows of the Plymouth United Savings bank.

Just now there is on display in the big north windows, pumpkins grown by T. B. Davis and Arthur Barz, whose pumpkins are as large as those grown in the southland. William Link has on display one of the biggest radishes of his variety ever grown about here. It weighs over 25 ounces.

Just for a bit of variety P. L. Becker brought in a display of unusual rocks he had picked up at Point Pelee.
Sometime when you have a minute to spare, just walk by the big display window on the north side of the bank and look over these exhibits.

The Ladies Aid of the Lutheran church will meet on Wednesday afternoon, November 2, in the church basement. This will also be the annual "sunshine" party and all ladies are asked to bring their sunshine boxes. Hostesses for the afternoon are Mrs. Edgar Hoenecke and Mrs. O. F. Beyer. Everyone welcome. The many Plymouth friends of Floyd Freeman of Ann Arbor were shocked to learn of his death at St. Joseph hospital, Ann Arbor, Sunday evening following a two week's illness. The funeral was held in Tecumseh Wednesday morning where he and Mrs. Freeman lived before moving to Ann Arbor a few years ago. He leaves besides his widow, a mother, Mrs. Eva Freeman, and a sister, Mrs. Frank Dicks, both of this city. Sympathy is extended to them in their sad bereavement.

Making Effort To See Every Voter

J. FRANKLIN DONNER

If the voters of this legislative district do not know J. Franklin Donner of Garden City, Democratic candidate for the state legislature, it will not be his fault. Never before has a candidate made such an energetic campaign for election to office as has Mr. Donner. He is calling upon every voter as far as possible. He has been a resident of Garden City for a number of years and is an independent merchant at Garden City. He is president of the Garden City Business Men's Club as well as president of the Garden City Prosestrian Men's Club. A graduate of the public schools, he attended the University of Illinois before locating in Garden City. His platform includes: Banking laws to protect the depositor, sales tax to lower tax on homes and farms, cutting of taxes by the reduction of high salaries of public officials and elimination of useless positions, curtailing of reckless government spending by supervised state purchases, and reorganization of the Michigan Security Commission.

By the use of $2,500,000, the issue of fiat money and other destructive legislation. "It can be demonstrated that the tide has turned and the gigantic forces of depression have been averted. If there is a deficit this year, it will be due to the Democratic members of Congress. We had a vast amount of oratory from the Democratic side on the subject of economy during the whole session. This oratory, instead of facts, seems to have lodged in the mind of the Democratic candidate. "So few of the statements made by the Democratic candidate are in accordance with records of fact that I leave me nonplussed where to begin. "The future of individuals is of no great importance in the life stream of the Nation. No one of us has the right to stand in the light of the Nation's progress. Change in my personal position from command to the ranks is of trifling importance in the life of this Nation. What is of vast importance is the measures and policies you adopt by your vote, and the men and the forces who in front and behind the scenes will dominate our National life. "I know full well that the only purpose of helping a farm mortgage company is to enable the farmer to hold his farm. He knows full well that the only purpose of helping the building and loan associations is to protect savings and homes. He knows full well that sustaining the business man is maintaining the worker in his job. He knows full well that in loans to the states it protects the families in distress. Millions of men and women are employed today because there has been restored to his employer the ability to borrow the money to buy raw materials and pay labor and thus keep his job. If he be a farmer it has restored his ability to secure credit upon which to produce his crops and livestock. If he be a home owner or a farm owner in jeopardy of foreclosure of his mortgage, it now gives him a chance. If he had borrowed for any purpose he has not been forced to the wall by bankruptcy through inability to instantly meet his debt. If he has savings in the bank it has restored his credit and removed his anxieties. If he has an insurance policy it has preserved the validity of that policy. If he be a merchant it has stopped the calling of his loans, and today enables him again to borrow to purchase his stock and to secure employment. If he be unemployed it is making hundreds of thousands of jobs. If he be in distress it enables his state or city to secure the money which assures him that he will not suffer hunger and cold. Those who are in distress in this City are today relieved of their anxiety and freed from the result of these measures. But beyond this it is today creating new jobs and giving to the whole system a new breath of life. Nothing has ever been devised in our history which has done more for those whom Mr. Coolidge has aptly called the common run of men and women."

WELFARE WORK IS ORGANIZED HERE

These garments and other articles will be distributed twice a week from the Starkweather School, chosen because suitable space was already available at no expense, between the hours of 1 to 4:30 Monday and Thursday afternoons, effective Monday, October 31st. The distribution will be under the supervision of volunteer workers. A record will be kept of everything turned in and distributed. Mrs. R. E. Cooper was asked to serve as Chairman of a Distribution Sub-Committee and has arranged for an adequate number of volunteer workers to operate on a fixed schedule basis at the Starkweather school on these days. The investigation problem was next considered, and it was felt by the members of the committee that due to the comprehensive all-community character of the committee, plus the fact that the committee will at all times have access to the experienced advice and records of the School Nurse and City Welfare authorities, that the chances of desiring cases escaping attention are remote. In spite of the fact that over 1000 useful and attractive articles of wearing apparel were turned in at the Needlework Guild last Wednesday of this week, which supply will not be materially increased through the activity of Red City workers under paid supervision, it is felt by the members of the Plymouth Public Welfare Committee that articles in the following classifications will be needed to enable the committee to make a thorough job of it: This includes, in addition to the usual necessities, bed linen and blankets, and shoes in condition to be repaired for men, women, and children. The committee asks that all garments and articles of bed clothing be CLEAN when turned in. The material at the Starkweather School distributing point will be carefully classified ready for use. To avoid confusion, therefore, it is requested that all articles in the classifications just listed be delivered at the office of the School Nurse, telephone the Chamber of Commerce office, 497, and volunteer workers will call at your home. The following representatives were present at this important reorganization meeting of the Plymouth Public Welfare Committee: Claude Dykhouse, Kiwanis Club; Mrs. Robert E. Cross, Red Cross; Walter Nichol, Rotary Club; Mrs. Wm. T. Portingill, Woman's Club; Miss Alice Safford, Business and Professional Woman's Club; Miss Mable Spicer, D. A. R.; Bert Coe, Red Cross; Mrs. H. J. Beal, Post-American Legion; Harry Mumby, Ex-Service Men's Club; Mrs. R. E. Cooper, Needlework Guild; Mrs. O. Boyer, Lutheran Church; Mrs. Sidney Strong, Episcopal Church; Mrs. L. N. Dickerson, Methodist Church; Mrs. Wm. Hattenbury, Presbyterian Church; L. P. Cookingham, City Manager; and Berg D. In Wayne county, Ford's eight month total was 960, or 53 per cent against 402, or 22.2 per cent for its nearest competitor, the total registration of all makes being 1,813. Ford took the lead in national motor car sales in June, increased his lead in July, as production of new Fords mounted and maintained the lead throughout August, according to reports for that month already received from 34 states. In addition to this, the latest reports also reveal that Ford led in sales in the largest cities during the first 10 days of September. In June, the first month when volume deliveries of the new Ford cars were available, Ford's share of total passenger car sales in the United States reached 35.9 per cent, as compared with 24.9 per cent for its nearest competitor. Ford commercial cars were 50.5 per cent of all such vehicles sold, as compared with 34.2 per cent for its nearest competitor, while Ford trucks represented 35.7 per cent of all truck sales, as compared with 27.6 per cent for the nearest competitor. Ford sales in July, as revealed by official registrations, mounted over June figures, and Ford's share of the business was increased. Ford passenger car sales reached 38.4 per cent of the total business as compared with 24.2 for its nearest competitor. Ford commercial cars were 54.4 per cent of all cars sold, giving Ford a greater percentage of the total business than all other manufacturers combined. The Ford share of national truck sales was 34.4 per cent as compared with 27.1 per cent for its nearest competitor. The reporting of registrations in August in the various states is not complete, but on the basis of reports thus far received from 34 states, Ford sales again led the field.

Farmers Can Hunt On Their Own Land Without State License

Farmers or their employees may hunt or trap without a license on that enclosed area on which they live, but must be provided with a license to hunt on any other land, even though it be "worked" as part of the farm according to the Department of Conservation in answering numerous inquiries as to the regulations permitting certain persons to hunt without a license. Chapter Four of the General Laws of 1931 provides that "resident citizens of this state and their children and employees when hunting or trapping upon their own enclosed farm land upon which they are regularly domiciled" are not compelled to obtain a license. This has been interpreted to mean, according to the Department, that farmers or their children or employees may hunt without a license only on the area in which their home is enclosed. If part of the farm is directly across the road no license is necessary to hunt there since the farmer owns to the center of the highway on either side, making the areas contiguous. However, should a farmer own or "work" a plot of ground separated from the farm on which he lives by other property, he would be compelled to have a hunting or trapping license to take game or fur-bearing animals there. In Tuscola, Genesee, Shiawassee and Washtenaw counties, where Sunday hunting is permitted to property owners hunting on their own lands, the property owners are not required to live on the land on which they hunt on Sunday. They are, however, required to have a license if they are not regularly domiciled on the property.

If yours were the ONLY LIGHTED STORE on the street...
Suppose you had a monopoly on light, and your competitors were forced to sell their goods in gloom and semi-darkness. It is safe to predict that before very long you would have most of the business in town.
To a certain degree, this opportunity really exists. It is there - waiting for the smart merchandiser to take advantage of it. A survey reveals that over 70 per cent of retail stores of all classes are poorly lighted, and perhaps losing business in consequence. It is this condition which makes it possible for a merchant who installs brilliant lighting to gain a very real advantage over his competitors. Measured in dollars and cents, this advantage often amounts to as much as 10 per cent increase in sales. Good lighting is also a very great help to your customers.
Detroit Edison illuminating engineers will study your lighting without charge, and give you recommendations. Their suggestions involve no obligations.

How Judge Read Made A Big Tax Savings

But for a timely investigation by Probate Judge George M. Read, Wayne County taxpayers would have been put to the expense of constructing and maintaining an additional detention home for minor children. This was disclosed for the first time today by friends of Judge Read.

Shortly after he assumed the duties of Probate Judge in charge of Juvenile Court Judge Read, it is said, became alarmed by the lack of accommodations to handle the rapidly increasing population of the detention home. He admitted the possibility and suggested the taking of a survey to analyze facts and figures.

The analysis revealed that the main trouble was due to lack of coordination between the agencies responsible for starting new cases. Hundreds of boys and girls were being sent in and detained when they could have been sent home for parental lectures and safekeeping. These non-court cases took up 50.1% of the total detention load.

Judge Read obtained the cooperation of the police department, their juvenile division and his own departments were so thoroughly reorganized and placed on efficient basis that today the population of the juvenile detention home is only 170. This compares to an average of 233 the highest of any county of comparable size in the United States before the survey was made.

The expense administration decreased accordingly. One item, for example, is that of feeding the children. The county allowed $30,000 in 1932 for food. At the present rate of expenditure it appears that only $16,000 of this will be used during the entire year.

The court jacket and entire juvenile procedure now moves with much greater justice and efficiency—and the county did not have to build another detention home after all.

Before he became Judge of Probate, Judge Read acted as clerk and chief of staff under the late Judge Edgar O. Durfee from 1909 to 1927. Judge Durfee was recognized as one of the greatest juvenile jurists of the country. And now Judge Read has also gained that distinction.

FOREMAN-PANKOW
At a lovely home ceremony Saturday, October 22, Miss Clara Pankow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pankow, of 238 Ann street, became the bride of Edward Foreman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Foreman of Northville.

At 3:30 in the afternoon, the bridal party descended the stairs and took their places before an improvised altar as Mrs. William Foreman played the wedding march. First, Oscar J. Peters, of the Lutheran church of Wayne, performed the ceremony in the presence of the immediate families and friends.

The bride was very attractive in a white satin gown with long ruffled veil held in place by a wreath of orange blossoms. Her bouquet consisted of pink roses and white helix. The bridesmaid, Miss Betty White, wore a gown of pink lace and carried a bouquet of pink and white helix chrysanthemums.

Leo Pankow, brother of the groom served as best man. Following the ceremony a wedding supper was served at the home of the bride's parents to the bridal party and the immediate relatives, after which the bride and groom were greeted at the 1111 G. P. Temple by a number of friends where an evening of music and dancing was enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Foreman have the best wishes of their many friends for a long and happy wedded life. They will make their home at 255 Ann street where they will welcome their friends.

Medicine Men

I WILL
By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

FEW things are done because we can. Or not because we can't. To win is something greater than To wish, to only want. We do not lose because the day Was dark, or high the bill; We do not win because we may. We win because we will.

Men lose who might have won success. Who "couldn't" yet they could. Men win who nothing more possess Than hope and hardihood. Because they can't men do not lose. Because they can, achieve. The winners win because they choose. And nothing else believe.

Who thinks that he can fail has failed. Before he makes a start. But "can't" has never yet prevailed Against a dauntless heart. The man who "can" may be too sure. Who "can't" is weaker still. But no misfortune can endure Before the man who "will." © 1932, Douglas Malloch. -WNU Service.

PAPA KNOWS—
What is "watered stock?" If a farmer wants to sell his cattle, he gives them great quantities of water. This makes them weigh more, and he gets more money.

A yodel is the way people talk to each other in the Alps. A turquoise is like a turtle and moves very slow. When water is boiled all the sentiment goes to the bottom. The edict of Nantes was a law passed by Louis XIV forbidding all births, marriages, and deaths in France for a period of one year. The heart is covered with a thick membrane as smooth as satin.

Manhattan Island was bought from the Indians for about $24 and now I don't suppose you could buy it for $200.

Paris Sees Its First Ostrich Rodeo

FOR the first time in history Parisians were treated to an ostrich rodeo when the animals owned by Colonel Compton staged their own show. Here we have three of the birds in action during the running of one of the trotting races.
