AN IDEAL APPOINTMENT

When Judge Adolph Marschner placed former Governor Alex J. Groesbeck in charge of the affairs of the Guardian Detroit Union group of banks, he selected the one man in Michigan who is best fitted to see to it that the depositors get a square deal. Judge Marschner rendered a service to the people of the state far greater importance than he probably realized at the time he made the appointment. No depositor, no stockholder, no bank official will be able to put anything over on the former governor—and when the affairs of this banking group are finally wound up it is safe to predict even at this early date that they will have been handled more judicially and with greater dispatch and fairness than that of any other receivership in the country.

HARD TO BELIEVE

When readers of the Detroit Free Press picked up that paper a few mornings ago and saw a picture of former Governor Groesbeck on the first page, they blinked, wiped their glasses and looked again. It was hard to believe that after all of these years, years of service to the state as attorney general and as governor, that the Free Press at last found something in the life of the former governor of sufficient news importance to place his picture on the first page. Wonder, after all, if that was the real reason that inspired the Free Press to give the former governor this first page prominence?

THE U. OF M. CUT

A slash of $1,000,000 in the University of Michigan appropriation is impending. The slash sounds like a lot of money but after all it represents just about the sum which has been paid to the University by Ingham county in the past 10 years. Last year Ingham county, forced to drastic economy to balance its own budget, was assessed $105,575.69 for the University of Michigan.

Ingham county by means of a thorough investigation and strict supervision has been able to reduce its mothers pensions to about $85,000 a year. Mothers and their dependent children are denied luxuries and many of the things deemed necessities so that the budget can be kept below the $95,000 mark. And while we have been pinching pennies for mothers and children we have been free-handed with the University. While we have cut every corner to keep 270 mothers and their 700 dependent children clothed and fed on a budget of $95,000 we have not even looked askance at the amount of $105,575.69 flung carelessly to the University.

A tax cut of $1,000,000.00 seems like a lot of money but it probably is less than 10 per cent of the University revenues. Such a small shrinkage in these days is not worth mentioning.

What would have happened if Ingham county had been in Indiana or Ohio for the past 10 years? The revenues of the University would have been cut. We believe the University would have survived in some manner had Ingham county not paid $1,000,000 in the last 10 years. We believe the University can and should get along with less money, perhaps $1,000,000 less, perhaps $2,000,000 less.

Millions of dollars have been tied up in ornate and expensive buildings at the University. Perhaps students would have learned as much or even more had the buildings been kept to the plane of economy forced onto the taxpayers. The University has had too much money. That money is now spent.

A cut of $1,000,000 from an income estimated at between $10,000,000 and $12,000,000 is in the same ratio as a cut from $20 to $18 a week. Thousands of Michigan residents have had to make much more drastic budget adjustments in the past few years. The University will have to do only what thousands of taxpayers have done—Vernon J. Brown in the Ingham County News.

voted as they did. Elections are hard things to figure out—but there is one thing sure—no one should ever take seriously the unfavorable results of an election. So many things of no connection with the issues of the election, so many different ideas about candidates and qualifications for consideration, get into a campaign that sometimes the real fitness of a man or woman for public service is entirely lost sight of. Holding public office is becoming a greater and far more important responsibility than ever before and to escape the cares and trials of a public office has its advantages. To those we have entrusted our affairs for another year we offer our congratulations and good will. Any public service these days is a serious business and the people should give untiring cooperation to those we have delegated to run our affairs. They are entitled to it and if they have it better service will result.

THAT FIRE CRACKER

A lot of folks were disappointed last Sunday afternoon. They thought sure the Royal Oak radio preacher would reveal just who it was that put that fire cracker in his basement. The police have said they didn't know anything about who did it, they couldn't find out why anybody would want to do it and they haven't been able to find anyone who admitted to a mysterious nature around the house the night that the fire cracker was found in the pastor's basement. Folks would really like to know all there is to be known about such a mystery. Please give us the "loope."

LETTING THE PUBLIC KNOW

One of the greatest goods that is going to come out of the present mess the country finds itself in is the fact that from now on both private and public business has got to be conducted in the open—private business where it in anyway involves the interests of the people at large. No longer can the assertion be made that "for the sake of business" it is better not to let the public know anything about the rottenness that exists. There is nothing that can hurt business today—nothing except the same sort of patrician secrecy that has had much to do with covering up the crimes of those we have trusted. The national administration, the new state administration, in the hands of the new leaders of today favor an open and frank statement of all that is public business. If everything is just as it should be, surely there is nothing to fear from the public. Let the public know it is always a safe rule.

NO PRESS HOLIDAYS

One wonders what would have happened had the newspapers of the country been forced to take a holiday along with the banks. Chaotic conditions such as we never dreamed would have been the result. Without newspaper information to still the fears of the public, instead of orderly reorganization of our financial structure we would have been confronted with complete demoralization and despair.

Through the entire period of bank suspension the public was kept constantly informed as to just what was taking place, and because the news of relief measures was so quickly disseminated, the nation was able to pass through a period of tragic wrecks strewn the highways of the nation.

The newspapers of America, from the great metropolitan journal down to the humblest home town paper are in this country a service that could have been obtained in no other manner. Having the confidence of the public they were able to bring order out of chaos—hope out of terrorizing and paralyzing fear. They have the satisfaction of doing a patriotic job unusually well.—Harry Izor in The Durand Express.

REPORTERS ARE MUZZLED

Schuyler L. Marshall, St. Johns publisher, told Pontiac Lions Club last week that Lansing correspondents of the large city newspapers are unable to get accurate dispatches into the columns of their respective newspapers simply because "those papers are publisher controlled," meaning we take it, that some of the publishers are more profit minded than they are journalistic-service minded. Well, we agree with Mr. Marshall. In fact, we were present at a meeting when the subject was under discussion recently, and offered our own observations in the matter. (Astute politicians know that what Mr. Marshall says is perfectly true in many cases, and so these same politicians are able to continue "fooling the paying public.")—George Averill in The Birmingham Eclectic.

25 YEARS AGO

Interesting bits of news Taken from Plymouth Mail

Tommy Leith of the University of Michigan spent a day recently with Robert Joffe.

C. H. Bennett returned Saturday from a six months trip spent in Europe.

John Patterson has bought a couple of lots on South Main street from Sam Ableson and will build a couple of houses on them.

Joe Gates cut his right foot quite badly while splitting wood the other day. It required the attention of Dr. Patterson to dress the wound.

Carl Sage had a birthday party Wednesday afternoon. About 25 of his little friends gathered at his home for the occasion. He received many presents. Refreshments were served and all had a good time.

A car load of friends came from Wayne Wednesday evening and gave Mrs. Hemenway a surprise party. The evening was spent in games and dancing.

Mrs. L. C. Hough and Margaret are expected this week from California where they have been spending the winter.

Mrs. Albert Eckles while visiting at Mrs. Fannie Mott's last Friday fell down stairs and broke her collar bone.

Charles Armstrong having sold his farm near Newburg has purchased the house just vacated by Sam Ableson on Sutton street.

Bert Paddock and Daniel McKinner are again pitted against each other for supervisor of Livonia township. A very lively campaign is on.

THE PEOPLE ARE TALKING

Once again the people of Michigan have made it evident that they no longer care for political parties or political lies. They have made it evident that they are through with expensively conducted governments, that they want not only reduced taxation but more efficiency and better service for the money they do spend. The Republican party occupies the unfortunate position of having been in power during times of prosperity, times when people did not care just how much money its government did spend. Republican officials who had been in power during the heyday of good times couldn't see or understand the plight of the taxpayer whose income had been reduced to naught. They were getting their pay checks, the money was coming from somewhere—so they reasoned there must be more of it and there would be no difficulty in getting it. They had none of the troubles of the average citizen and none of his worries. True they made gestures of cutting expenses. Talk of ten percent and twenty per cent cuts didn't mean much to the average man, whose income had been reduced to naught. He figured that the state government could easily cut its expenses one hundred per cent and still provide a satisfactory governmental service. It was over a year ago when the Plymouth Mail suggested that the Republican administration in Lansing could and SHOULD cut the expenses of the state in half. The Lansing politicians who boomed the statement have to their sorrow now discovered that that is just what the people of the state wanted and were determined to get, no matter if it required a complete overthrow of the administration in power. This very thing has happened. It has carried some good men into office and it has brought into power some not so good. The attorney general's office seems to be one place that suffered severely as a result of last fall's revolt. Possibly this will change this feeling, but up to the present time this important branch of the state government has not functioned up to the high standards of the past. Its expenses are going up instead of down—and the attitude seems to be to make the people like it. It can safely be said that the very thing that has happened to all the Republican candidates will happen to this branch of the state government if there is not a right about face attitude, and that pretty quickly. Newly elected officials know just exactly how the people feel about the operating costs of the state government. If they do not act as the people desire, they are going OUT at the first opportunity. The voters are making emphatic their desires these days.

OTHER PEOPLE'S MONEY

From the Christian Science Monitor

"The way some things were financed was perfectly outrageous." So says one of the two disgruntled and indignant receivers who have just resigned their appointments as receivers for the S. W. Straus and Company properties. There is no hyperbole in the exclamation! The financing was outrageous. But far more outrageous is the fact that a fleeced public still has to wait around for something to be done that will prevent a repetition of this kind of financing.

To all intents and purposes the sale of really bonds to the public is entirely free from statutory restraints. Notwithstanding this, there are good underwriting companies. Partly because of this, there are also bad ones, and these were the ones that flourished like the cotton tree in the boom era. They could say almost anything in their advertisements with impunity and with little opportunity even for banks to check them up. Tom, Dick or Harry could make an appraisal of the property back of the bonds, and it could be stamped with the hallmark of disinterestedness without inviting legal restraint. This was merely one of scores of instances of what the French call tendentious statements that helped to relieve the American people from Maine to California of more than $12,000,000,000 in return for city mortgage bonds and certificates of which a great number were entirely worthless.

What is wanted is legislation, and plenty of it. Insurance financing had its era of scandals. It was curbed. Public utility financing went through a period of abuses. It was regulated. Now it should be the turn of really financing to take correction. Blue sky commissions should be revived, or where they are not in operation, should be set up. They should be armed with the best available public men so that in body of rules could be laid down for the future protection of the public. It was in this way that Mr. Chief Justice Hughes, as Governor of New York, set the public service commissions on their useful career. Not only should these commissions pass upon all really financing calling for the sale of bonds to the public. They should see and pass upon all circulars that are issued. How much of the $380,000,000 of defaulted bonds that the S. W. Straus company sold will ever come back to the public is not known. The concern itself, say the receivers, is "simply a shell," with liquid assets amounting to only $28,000. Pending legislation, steps should be taken at once to put such situations on a proper footing. Bondholders should be helped by officers of the public to obtain from their properties a return not tapped freely by exorbitant commissions and fees. What is happening in too many cases at the present time is that certain really rack-rate charges are gouging the public good and coming.

The business works in this way. Say a default takes place. Bondholders are asked to surrender their bonds to the underwriting company. This sets up a bondholders' protective committee. It is very well to be that on the basis of these reconstituted bonds, the underwriting company continues to finance itself on loans from the bank. At any rate, commissions, fees, and all manner of charges continue to pile up in connection with the job of "protection." They are a first lien on the final outcome of the reorganization. It can be readily appreciated that the bondholders' equities melt even more rapidly under such treatment than they did under the default which in the first place impelled those bondholders to trust their bonds to the committee. As the Straus receivers say, "those bondholders, many of them people of small means, should have their interests protected by public officials whose fees would be limited or who would be employed on a salary basis."

This city mortgage situation has hardly been one of those unimpeachable situations. The line has come not only to notice it, but to correct it. The need for legislation is so obvious that the scandal is that it has passed so long unattended to. Here is the opportunity for another Charles E. Hughes to come forward and see that the law lays down regulations that will forever bar a recurrence of what was by far the most unsavory chapter in the frozen finance of the boom era. The use of other people's money must be properly safeguarded ing by 384 votes. His opponent, Richard Gust received 155. Charles Blackmore was elected highway commissioner by 220 votes. Clyde Truesdell receiving 228. For highway commissioner George Smith received 310 votes and Roy Wilkie 232 votes. Other Democrats elected were Bert Mott, justice of the peace; John Cady, member of the board of review; and Bert Walling, Philip Dingley, Percy Gotts, and Byron Wilkins, constables. There were 236 straight Democratic votes cast as against only 80 straight Republican votes. Canton was one of the first townships in Wayne county to swing to the Democratic column, this happening before last fall's election.

NEWBURG

It was gratifying to the pastor to see so many out to the morning service. Scripture lesson was from St. John, 1-25.

The blues are only 5 points ahead in the contest. Next Sabbath will be the last Sunday of the contest.

"The Adventures of Grandpa," the comedy presented by the Newburg Dramatic Club last Thursday and Friday night, March 30 and 31, for the benefit of the Ladies' Aid of the Newburg M. E. Church.

A large number of Newburg folks attended the murder trial at the M. E. church in Plymouth, Sunday evening. Under the auspices of the Anti-Saloon League.

Hat racks fashioned from very heavy wire, help to conserve space in the closet as well as to preserve the hats.

Coming Attractions At Penniman Allen

"PARACHUTE JUMPER" Douglas Fairbanks, Jr.'s latest picture for Warner Bros. "Parachute Jumper" a comedy romance punctuated with thrilling air scenes will open at the Penniman Allen Theatre Wednesday, April 2. In addition to a capable cast of players seven air pilots of national reputation under the command of Capt. Robert "Robbie" Robinson, U. S. N. G., do some plain and fancy air stunts. There are sensational pursuits in fast flying craft, machine gun battles above the clouds and parachute leaps. Fairbanks is supported by an unusually strong cast: Betty Davis, Leo Carrillo, Frank McHugh, Claire Dodd, Sheila Terry, Harold Huber, Thomas E. Jackson, George Pat Collins, Harold Healy and Fredrick Mueller.

"ROME EXPRESS" "Rome Express" the picture which has been the sensation of London for the past two months, has been brought to America by Universal and will be seen at the Penniman Allen Theatre Sunday and Monday, April 9 and 10. Excitement, strong suspense, revealing about the theft of a priceless Van Dyck painting, and a ruthless, suave super-criminal who controls the situation—all these about "Rome Express." Human emotions and motives, a love affair, a tangled web of intrigue and suspense, leading way during the action of this film, all of which takes place in a twelve hour period on the express train bound from Paris to Rome.

"HARD TO HANDLE" An exceptionally strong cast was engaged to support James Cagney for his return to the screen, after an absence of several months, in the Warner Bros. picture "Hard to Handle," showing at the Penniman Allen Theatre, Saturday, April 8.

Mary Brian, the famous "Wendy" of "Peter Pan" who has recently been seen in "Blessed Event" and "It's Tough To Be Famous," has the leading role as Jimmy's sweetheart who throws him over when he gets tangled up with a vamp. Later to become reconciled when she thinks her Jimmy is headed for jail. She appears as a blonde for the first time in her career.

"YOU SAID A MOUTHFUL" More hilarious original gags and comedy stunts are said to be involved in Joe E. Brown's latest First National picture, "You Said a Mouthful," than any production which has been shown on the screen in many years. The entire story, which will be unfolded at the Penniman Allen Theatre, Saturday, April 8, is based on a series of grotesque errors which lead to the most surprising and laughable incidents.

Joe, in the character role of an artless boob, is both afraid of the water and unable to swim. Mistaken for a champion swimmer, he is forced into a marathon race and comes out a victor through the most unusual lucky breaks imaginable. The scenes, which were taken in the key waters at Catalina Island, near Los Angeles, lend themselves to many new and astonishingly funny stunts.

IN MEMORIAM In loving memory of our dear wife and mother who passed away 14 years ago on April 11th. Fourteen long years ago on this day, since our dear wife and mother passed away.

We saw her suffer, we heard her cry; with aching hearts, and weeping eyes, we saw her sinking day by day. Our prayers were long and many, tho all this did not stop death from taking her away.

As we think of her in her silent and lone grave, as the sun, the moon, and the stars are shining on one we so dearly loved, it is more than hard to believe she was one that we couldn't save.

We know she is with God and her Savior, where there is no sin, sorrow or pain, waiting there to meet us some day again. Husband and Daughter.

Display of Rugs Is Most Interesting

The fourth meeting of the Household Furnishings Club of Plymouth was held at the home of Mrs. Milton Laible, March 27th. Everyone came latey either with rugs they were making or had completed since the last meeting. One member reported she had made four rugs since the last meeting and if the one she was then working on was an example of what she had been doing, her home must indeed be greatly enhanced.

The business meeting was exceptionally long and interesting for Mrs. Hobbesel, the chairman had recently attended a meeting of the chairmen from all the county extension courses at Dearborn. Plans for the next year's course had been laid. It seems very likely that Plymouth ladies will have the opportunity to continue their course of study in home making. Next year some of the topics they will pursue are, refashioning furniture, making slip covers for furniture, re-upholstering, etc. Also for the first time several short courses on the subjects of quilt making, table cover making and rug making may be offered to those in town who can spend only two or three days or rather afternoons in getting such information and cannot join the longer courses.

Another bit of information that excited much comment was the contemplated trip to the World's Fair which all members of this extension club are eligible to. The trip will be personally conducted and perfect in every detail for only $14.00. This amount covers everything.

The subject for study was the arrangement of furniture in order to obtain beauty in the home. Once more we were urged to make our homes both beautiful and homelike. Their livableness was emphasized. As William Morris so aptly put it, "Have nothing in your houses, that you do not know to be useful or believe to be beautiful."

The characteristics of good design were explained. These were good proportion, unity, simplicity and structural decoration. We were instructed in methods of obtaining these elements and discovered that we really could alter such discouraging facts as ceilings that were too high or too low, rooms that were too narrow or too wide. Perhaps one rule of furniture arrangement caused more huzzing than any other, namely the placing of window shades two thirds of the way up the window instead of the usual half way.

Mrs. Bruce Woodbury demonstrated her inventive genius again when she presented in a most interesting manner how to arrange furniture in living room, dining room, and bed room. In better obtain the goal of beauty.

The leaders then reviewed the lesson on rug making and criticized and praised the rugs begun and completed by the class since their last lesson.

The last lesson will be given at the home of Mrs. Miller Hoss on the Ann Arbor Road, May first at 2 o'clock. Visitors are most welcome and if they desire a measure of transportation, please get in touch with Mrs. Bruce Woodbury of Sheridan street.

The Ideal Girl Is Discussed

A discussion of the Ideal Girl from the girl's standpoint, the boys' and the public's was led by Evelyn Korabacher, Friday 5th hour in the Senior Girl Reserves. The girls were asked to list on their list of requirements for this girl; these were all analyzed and it was decided that most people's requirements were the same. The committee for the mother and daughter banquet reported that the banquet would be a potluck. This time and would be held only for mothers of Girl Reserves and the girls who belonged to the three groups. This week's program is to be a play "The Kleptomaniac." The cast is as follows: Mrs. John Hurton, Margaret Buzzard; Mrs. Valerie Shase Astor, a young widow, Florence Rowland; Mrs. Charles Dorer, a bride, Geraldine Schmidt; Mrs. Preston Ashley, Ruth Mourin; Miss Freda Dixon, Evelyn Korabacher; Miss Evelyn Evans, a journalist, Corinne Rathburn; and Katie, Mrs. Burton's maid, Christine Nichol. The first semester girls and the second semester girls had their meetings this week. Next week April 3, the third semester girls are to have their own code written and are to be ready to discuss it. These girls will meet having their page 82, 119, 161 and 240 for discussion. They are to have papers with them on "Why I Deserve a King." On April 13 they will have a meeting in preparation for Detroit Hug Meeting.

Each girl was to bring at least two questions to the Question Box in Junior Girl Reserves last Friday. Mable Hitchcock conducted this and many puzzling matters were straightened up. Among these were: "What are we doing towards international friendship?" "Does the code help you every day?" "Should we have more or less social meetings?" These girls have had a series of posters illustrating the code which are posted on their bulletin board.

In the Seeker's group, Patricia McKinnon led a meeting on Courtesy. Courtesy in school was stressed, and a committee was picked to give some short plays on this for Friday. These girls are anticipating a grand time at their own party which is to be on April 8.

Torch Club Plans For The Future

After the business meeting the Torch Club had an auction. Harry Fisher, acting as auctioneer, auctioned off three sacks of candy, which brought seventeen cents. There would have been buyers for many more sacks had the club supplied the auctioneer with the candy. But it seems that some of the candy (home-made) turned out rather unsuccessfull. However, a new list of candy makers has been made and the total sum towards sending our delegate to camp is expected to raise considerable next week. Last week, Friday March 24, the fellows agreed to start saving their old papers. Already a number have been saved in members' basements. These will be collected sometime before summer vacation and sold to junk dealers. Kenneth Jewell led the discussion on the topic, "What are high school graduates going to do if there is no work and no chance for college?" The first heading was "What will happen if we do not plan to take care of this?" There were several ideas on this, as getting into poor company, bad environment, the losing of our mental and physical ability, etc. The next topic was "What will we do about it?" Some of the interesting ideas on this were to join or organize a coed club, read helpful books, associate with people who vary a great deal and people with whom we can discuss current problems, to join an athletic association, choose some interesting hobbies, etc. These suggestions were compared with those copied at a conference and prove to be nearly the same. The meeting was then adjourned.

CENTRAL GRADE SCHOOL NOTES

All the children in Miss Frantz's room have sent in their penmanship drills. The language class is learning the poem "Golden Keys of Politeness." They have shown a great deal of interest in the puzzles. The following children had perfect papers in spelling: Delphine Bogenschütz, Velma Evans, Elizabeth Horvath, Barbara Martin and Velda Rorsbacher. Olive Soller of Miss Dixon's room has moved to Pennsylvania. All the boys and girls have sent their penmanship drills in. Mrs. Roddenberg called. Arthur Fulton of Miss Sly's room has gone to the Starkweather school. Janice Covell has moved to Salem. All the children have sent their penmanship drills in. They are making bird booklets. The 3 A's in Miss Erleben's room are making an African zoo. Richard Strong and Margaret Erdelyi had perfect scores on the self-testing drill in arithmetic. Feris Patrick has returned to Miss Fenner's room. All the children have sent their penmanship drills in.

A PLAY, A PARTY AND A CONTEST

The Kleptomaniac, an amusing one act play was given by seven members of the Girl Reserves and was very enthusiastically received. After school tickets were sold and this money was added to the growing funds of the school. A word building contest, similar to those announced over the radio, was held in Junior Girl Reserves' last Friday. To see who could make longest list of words from the words "Happy Easter Greetings," was the plan of the program. Betty Snell won the prize, an Easter egg.

In the Seeker's group, the courtesy meeting was continued and the handsome blond boy, whose ambition is to start a date office for bashful boys, was born in Plymouth, Michigan. Russell is a member of the Varsity Club. Donald has been a member of the football team, and a reserve on the basketball team for the past two years. He is taking a general course of school studies, and plans to be a guide in the north woods. Donald seems to be very efficient in guiding Shirley's footsteps, and perhaps it is just practice, but we are confident that Donald will be successful as a guide in the north woods.

Rev. Nichol To Speak To Students In A Good Friday Service

Instead of dismissing school early on Good Friday as is the practice of many schools, this let the students roam the streets, Plymouth High School will observe the day by having Rev. Walter Nichol of the Presbyterian Church speak to the entire student body in a service beginning at twelve forty-five o'clock and lasting until one-thirty o'clock. Special music for the service will be sung by members of the Girl Reserves.

Health Champions Attend Plymouth High

In a contest recently sponsored by the 4-H club of Newburg, Lionel Coffin, a Plymouth high school student, was awarded the honor of being the healthiest boy in the senior contest to represent Newburg in the Wayne County contest to be held in Dearborn on the 29th of this month. Another Plymouth high school student, Yvonne Hearn, was voted the healthiest girl in the senior contest. The health champions in the junior contest were Norma Coffin and Bob Jennings. Lionel Coffin, who won the Wayne county health championship in 1931, will also have some handicraft work in this year's contest while Yvonne Hearn's needlework will be entered.

CLASS NOTES

The first aid class has been learning to make some practical bandages, hand bandage, spiral reverse, triangular and roller bandage on the knee and finger bandage. There are six more bandages to be learned. The 7A hygiene class has heard special reports on Louis Pasteur, Edward Jenner and Trudeau. The 7B hygiene class has finished studying the digestive system and is now studying the respiratory system.

STARKWEATHER SCHOOL NOTES

The kindergarten in Miss Caynough's room have planted carrots, radishes, beans, and flowers in window boxes. The radishes and beans are about two inches high. The pupils made pin wheels and took them out doors to make them spin. Joe Fulton enrolled in the afternoon group. Each child in first A and second B in Miss Staders' room has submitted two papers in penmanship for gold and silver star buttons. They are practicing on a little spring play which will be given at the P. T. A. April 10. The class have made book covers for flower study in art. Miss DeWaele's six B language class is putting out a school paper called "The Weekly Journal." In geography the fourth grade have been having map study of Europe. In arithmetic the third grade have learned to divide by decimals, and use the liquid measurements. The fourth A arithmetic class in Miss Hunt's room have a score of six on their class progress chart. The pupils have made product maps. The fourth A language class are working on a play they will present to the class on Thursday. The fifth A class in Miss Farland's room are very interested in history and gave reports. They are going to make a poster to represent the gold rush in California in 1849. In geography the six A are studying Australia. They are to make rain-fall and product maps of Australia.

SENIOR BIOGRAPHS

Donald Melow a neat looking handsome young chap, was born in Plymouth, Michigan. He is a member of the Varsity Club. Donald has been a member of the football team, and a reserve on the basketball team for the past two years. He is taking a general course of school studies, and plans to be a guide in the north woods. Donald seems to be very efficient in guiding Shirley's footsteps, and perhaps it is just practice, but we are confident that Donald will be successful as a guide in the north woods.

Russell Nicol

The handsome blond boy, whose ambition is to start a date office for bashful boys, was born in Plymouth, Michigan. Russell is a member of the Varsity Club and loves to gamble. His ambition is to be a gambler. He will have a day's cruise beginning at 11:00 a. m. and lasting until 8:00 in the afternoon. Each girl is to bring a box lunch and five cents. The days activities will include all the ship's activities, deck tennis, shuffle board, dancing games, dramatics and other enterprising. All Seekers are invited to weigh anchor tomorrow and have a good time on the cruise.

Claire Estelle Miller

A tall slender lass, was born on a farm near Plymouth and has resided there since, although she has spent a few of her past winters in the sunny south. Estella is a member of the Leaders Club, Girl Reserves, and Girls' Glee Club. She takes an active part in volleyball, baseball, and soccer. Estella has joined the ranks of life-saving with many of her fellow students—her ambition is to nurse. If at any time you tire of Estella's company and wish to have her leave, just mention the masculine sex. At the conclusion of my interview with Estella I hit upon this subject, and I can frankly say that within five seconds she had deserted me—I saw her again, two days later. We wonder what has occurred in Estella's past life to cause such a disturbance at the mere mention of the opposite sex.

Charles Grant Miller (Dusty)

A tall blond haired chap and a very efficient football and basketball player, was first known to this world at a very tender age in the large city of Detroit. Dusty is a member of the H-Y and Varsity clubs. He was a member of the football squad in '31 and '32; basketball in '31, '32, and '33. His ambition is to take a trip around the world, but up to the present time his trips have all been to Ann Arbor, and you can rest assured that it was not love for travel alone that has sent him in that direction so many times.

Geraldine Elaine McKinney

(Jerry) a tall attractive young lady and a resident of Rosedale Gardens was born in Livonia Township. She is a member of the Girls' Glee Club, and is a very efficient and graceful dancer. One might almost call it professional. Jerry has an unusual interest in business position and having the reputation of getting what she goes after, the position is hers.

Margaret Sophia Mault

A smiling brown-eyed, brown haired member of the fairer and weaker sex, who goes to Prville every summer to be near Ray, was born in Plymouth, Michigan. She is a member of the Girls' Glee Club and makes collecting historical items her hobby. We have often wondered what she means when she says "Oh, my cow." Her ambitions are threefold: to be a history teacher, a nurse, or to have a joint ownership with Laura in a home for silly old maids so that they are going to be silly old maids, quite the contrary.

High School Entertains at House of Correction

The orchestra and the Girl's Double Quartette journeyed to the Women's Division of the House of Correction, Saturday afternoon to entertain the inmates in the main auditorium of the administration building. The orchestra played several selections, the girls' double quartette sang "The Sleigh," and "Around the Gypsy Fires." Inez Curdiss played a piano solo and David Mather and Herbert Saylly presented two saxophone duets. After the program most of the participants came home, but a few remained at the prison and were shown through the cottages, laundry, administration building, sewing building, etc., all of which proved to be very interesting to those who were able to stay the remainder of the afternoon. Raw sauerkraut is delicious when used in a salad with salmon or with grated, raw carrots and peanuts.

Same Play Given Before Assembly

The Girls' Double Quartette opened the assembly by singing two numbers—"The Sleigh," by Koutz and "Round the Gypsy Fires," by Brullas. "The Eldest," by Edna Fisher, which was presented before the senior high assembly a few weeks ago, was again presented before the junior high assembly last week. The cast was the same as before except that Robert Shaw took the place of Kenneth Greer, who was ill. Robert Shaw did not know that he was to take the part until that day, but he did some good acting even though he did not have any practice.

PINS AWARDED TO SCOUTS

Awards for several classes of Scout work were given Thursday, March 23 at the meeting held at the Methodist church. In troop one Gerald Cooper, James McClain and Mike Spitz were given second class pins, and Jack Birchall, a Star pin. In troop four William Wolfe, Robert Saper, Junior Okes, were given second class pins; and Chuck Snell, Irvin Prangh, first class pins; and Durward Jewell and Donald Thrall, Stars; Durward Jewell also received a Life pin.

Former Graduates Visit School

Among the graduates who visited school last week were the following: Bill Kirkpatrick, Zephania Blunk, John Randall, Clyde Ferguson, Alice Chambers, Casler Stevens, Frank Allison, Julla Learned, Francis Learned, James Sutherland, Jim Stimpson, Doris Hollaway, June Jewell, Clifton Schow, Dorothy Stoffer, Mary Urban, Janet Blickenstaff, Maynard Larkins, Harold Stevens, and Catherine Nichol.

Tennis Season Begins

Tennis season has begun! One may see a number of boys earnestly hitting the ball back and forth across the net, or during school hours a group of eight blue clad girls earnestly concentrating on the small white ball. Miss Kne's gym classes have begun tennis practice. Those who already know how to play the game are impatiently waiting their turn and those who do not know how are eager to learn. Tennis is the popular game of the season. Watch for announcement of the tournament schedule.

QUESTION BOX

Q. Who is the editor of the Question Box?—Curious.
A. With Ernie's suggestions and my work we get along splendidly don't we? C. D.
Q. Why does our Ad. Lib. editor object strongly to the name of "Buttercup"?—Interested.
A. Perhaps the shoe pinches in regards to the color of the flower, or it may be his personal dislike for it.
Q. Why did Ernie Archer sign his name to his front page article last week?—Curious.
A. Because of an editor's love for his work and pride in the belief that some people recognize talent when they see it and might not know to whom the praise is to be given.
Q. Why has Miss Wells' name stopped appearing in the Question Box?
A. Special request from "Her Majesty." She thinks it would be advisable to pick on someone else for awhile, for example, Miss Hearn.
Q. All the girls are boycotting me because I do not return their glances. Please advise.—Nell C.
A. Don't worry, Nell, Vivian doesn't mind. She'll stand behind your actions.
Q. Why does Christine Nichol get to school so early in the morning now?—Miss Hearn.
A. It must be Oscar.
Q. Why is Beulah Sorenson called "Give 'em a break Sorenson"?—A. Ask Don.
Whitting is a cheap and excellent cleanser for bath tubs, wash bowls, and sinks. It may be bought by the pound at a hardware store.

A VIEW OF THE LOCKERS

Let us stroll down the halls and view the conditions of the lockers. On the third floor the lockers are as interesting as a circus. "J. D.—June," "Bill—Jean," "V. Petz—Forshe," "Archer," "Les," "Bob—Delle," "Look out for HIT," "E. B.—Jae," "V. D.—Nell C." Lib.—Ans. "Look out for Kinsey," and all sorts of other figures, including mathematical problems, and works of art decorate the surface of the locker doors.

First Baseball Game With Holy Name Here Tues.

A baseball game was scheduled for Tuesday April 11 the first baseball game of the season. Holy Name of Detroit does not know for sure whether they are going to have a team this year or not but if they do, the game will be held Tuesday as scheduled. The Plymouth fellows have put in some hard workouts and they seem to have some very good material. A number of the boys from last year are back out and, as everyone knows, Plymouth did not lose one game last year. If this game is to be held, there will be side-walk notices paluted around town. It will start the team right by having you come out.

Ping-Pong Tournament

Some time ago a few girls decided they would like to have a ping-pong tournament. About 44 girls started the first round. A charge of one cent collected from each to pay for the balls used in the contest. The second round was to be finished Friday, March 31 or forfeited. The games were played in Mr. Bentley's room at 12:00 noon to 12:30 and at 2:45. The third round will be finished by Wednesday night, April 5, and the winner will be determined by Friday night April 7. W. Rucker '33.

First Track Meet With Dearborn To Be There

The Plymouth track team will have their first track meet tonight at Dearborn. All the dual meets will be held on Friday this year instead of Saturday. Mel Blunk was elected captain last Monday noon at a meeting in Coach Matheson's room. There were about thirty-five fellows who reported for track at the first call and of those thirty-five, only ten of them were out last year. It seems that there were more out for the mile and high jump this year than ever before. And there is promising material in all events. Time trials were to be held this week for the Dearborn meet. Among those out last year who reported again this year were Blunk, Champe, Smith, Ash, Fisher, Carmichael, Stimpson, Mack and also a few others.

Protect your family against the obdurate spring rheumatism by including some raw fruit or vegetable in the diet every day, and canned tomatoes two or three times each week. If a housekeeper is cleaning several rooms at once she can save time and energy by finishing one process in all the rooms before beginning another, that is complete all dusting, all vacuum cleaning at one time.

Starkweather "Our Book Club"

Last week Wednesday, March 22, they decided to have their work about our Book Club, put on the bulletin board. Steve Fude gave a report on "Captain Club," and Harry Dahmer reported on "Heroes of Today." Wednesday, March 29, Paul Keller gave a report on "Tom Swift," and Gladys Salow reported on "Polly's Shop." Jean Schoof gave a report on "Ann of Green Gables," and June Springer gave a report on "What Katy Did at School."

Some of the Best New Books at Library

Following are some of the worthwhile new books in the Plymouth Library: "Book With Seven Seals," with a preface by Hugh Walpole. "As Mr. Walpole says, it is hardly a novel and it is not 'everybody's' book, but is for those who are a little patient, a little inquisitive, a little reminiscent. Readers of the necessary quality will find much to delight them in this record of a Victorian parson's household." Spectator. "Napoleon," by Jacques Bainville. "Without a touch of sentiment, romance, pietism, or egotism, it is more entrancing in its cool lucidity than the pathetic eloquence of all Napoleon worshippers." Books. "What Happened in The Mooney Case," by Ernest J. Hopkins. "The author has learned to write with excitement and flavor. His previous valuable document, 'Our Lawless Police,' existing as it was to students of the Third Degree, reads like a lawyer's writ as compared to this engaging detective story." M. I. Ernst Books. "Largo," by Peter N. Kraesshoff. "After reading this book one is better able to understand the mysterious stories and strange inner history of the old Russian court. The phenomenon that was Rasputin becomes explicable. Medieval superstitions are here taken with utmost seriousness. The novel is full of mystic credences, distorted religious notions, suicides and apparitions, and incredible rationalizations. General Kraesshoff is truly a Russian general of the old school." Books.

Reaper would not be denied and to the 1933. The sympathy of the entire community goes out to Miss Nettie Pelham. These two lived in peculiarly happy and congenial sisterhood. There are other relatives also, a niece Mrs. Patrick Lannan of Chicago and a number of others. And about them stands the company of mourning friends bowed with a common sense of bereavement.

The funeral largely attended took place from the Schrader Bros. Funeral home on Wednesday, March 29th. Rev. Walter Nichol officiated. Interment was at Riverside Cemetery.

These Three electric appliances MAKE COOKING A PLEASURE...

New and modern methods of electric cooking are represented in the three appliances shown here. The electric roaster, first on the list, is a large electric casserole. It steams, roasts, fries, and bakes. It has a six-quart capacity and will easily roast a large fowl or ham, using little more current than an electric lamp. Its colorful design makes it an attractive dish for the table.

The ever popular electric cooker will roast, bake, broil, steam and stew—from any convenience outlet. A complete meal for a family of six can be cooked in the cooker at one time: a roast, a custard, vegetables, potatoes and gravy can be prepared. It uses little current, and—like the electric roaster above—permits you to go out for the afternoon while your evening meal is cooking.

The electric "Chef-ette" is a new and handy appliance that may be used to broil steaks or chops, roast meats, toast sandwiches, heat coffee, or warm the baby's bottle. Come in and see these appliances today!

OBITUARIES

CORA PELHAM
Miss Cora Pelham, who died at the Plymouth hospital on Sunday, March 26th, was born in Plymouth, August 24th, 1856. She was the daughter of Dr. Abram and Mrs. Margaret Pelham. With the exception of a few years during which the family lived in Galesburg, Michigan, Miss Pelham had been a resident of her native town. And she took a very active interest in the life of her home city. Years ago, when local communities were thrown upon their own resources more than a now the case, Miss Pelham was a member of a dramatic company which added much pleasure and color to life here. When the comic, the humorous or the funny was to be portrayed, she was chosen for the part. With her sister who survives her, Miss Nettie Pelham, she assisted often in the training of children for the presentation of plays and in preparation for entertainments.

She was greatly interested in the work of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union. Through much of her life she was an active member of the local society, served as its efficient president for five years and continued in charge of its Flower-Mission work until shortly before her death when ill health compelled her to resign. She was a devoted member of First Presbyterian Church, following its activities with interest to the last.

Miss Pelham had other interests as well. She was very fond of flowers and for a time operated a greenhouse in Plymouth. Her flower garden was a riot of beauty each summer, being particularly noted for its profusion and variety of peonies.

For several years Miss Pelham has not enjoyed good health. She was able to be about however, and continue some of her activities until very recently. But the Great
