NEW SALES TAX TO TAKE VAST SUM FROM CITY

Consumers Kick, But Law Forces Merchants To Collect Tax

The people of Plymouth are going to pay into the state treasury some where between $60,000 and $100,000 during the next year as the result of the sales tax that has been imposed upon the people of Michigan. This is a conservative estimate.

Buyers should not condemn the merchant for collecting this tax. The law compels him to do it and the law says the consumer must pay it.

State officials estimated that the tax would bring into the state treasury something like $32,000,000.

Some say the prospects are that it will bring more than $50,000,000 into the state treasury for the office holders to play with.

Public Libraries Become Necessity

"More people in Michigan are using public libraries, more books are being borrowed, and more books are being used in reading rooms than ever before, according to a survey of libraries in Michigan recently completed by a committee headed by Mrs. Nancy B. Thomas, President of the Michigan Library Association.

The report gives a summary of library activities in thirty-one of the largest cities outside of Detroit, comprising 24% of the people of the state. It includes such communities as Flint, Lansing, Jackson, Muskegon, Escanaba, Port Huron and Sault Ste. Marie.

During the boom year of 1929, twenty-five out of every one hundred citizens were registered library patrons. On February 1, 1933, there were 406,185 borrowers registered, or over 34% of the population. The number of books circulated for home use in 1929 was less than 5,500,000. Since then, although the stock of books has decreased, there has been a steady growth in the number of times the books were used.

In the use of public libraries, the expenditures have been decreasing since 1931, until now the cost approximates seven cents per book circulated, as compared with four cents in 1929.

NEW PRESIDENT SOME FEATURES FOR ROTARIANS OF SALES TAX

Doctors and Lawyers Are Only Ones to Escape The New Tax

When Mr. and Mrs. Michigan started buying at retail last Saturday morning, July 1, they paid 3 per cent tax under the provisions of the new Sales Tax law at a rate that is expected to provide the state government with at least $32,000,000 during the first year.

Restaurants purchasing meats or groceries for consumption at their tables will not be required to pay a tax when they purchase the commodities from the butcher or the grocer.

The all-inclusive sales tax does not pass up the farmer who has a "haystack market" in front of his home. If he continually and regularly sells farm products from such a stand or if he continually and regularly brings such articles to town to sell from house to house or from a huckster's cart he will be required to pay a $1.00 license fee and will be subject to tax. If however, a farmer sells occasionally a bushel of apples or similar articles, this is held to be an isolated transaction and is not taxable.

Each retailer will be required to make a monthly return on blanks supplied by the state. This monthly return will be made under oath and must be sent to the state with the tax remittance before the 15th of the following month.

It is estimated by the tax commission that there will be found to be at least 75,000 retailers in the state subject to the tax. The National Cash Register count of retailers is placed at around 62,000 and with the inclusion of wayside markets and small businesses not employing cash register systems the figure will be increased by a possible 15,000.

Cookingham Also Suggests Open City Sewer Be Covered Up

Mayor Freeman Hover and members of the city commission, alert to the possibilities of any benefits Plymouth might receive from the federal government, the greater effort to provide employment for the millions of idle men of the country, recently instructed City Manager Cookingham to prepare a schedule of proposed Plymouth improvements for consideration.

City Manager Cookingham listed the covering of the Tompash creek open sewer as one of the important projects for consideration.

In his letter to the commission he says: "In accordance with your instructions of June 23rd, I have studied the provisions of the National Recovery Act as it applies to public work construction and submit herewith the following report.

The Act appropriates $3,300,000,000 for the purpose of National recovery, the greater portion of which is to be used for loans and direct grants to local and state governments for public works construction.

The State of Michigan will be allotted approximately $218,000,000. Two hundred million of this amount will be available for loans and direct grants to the state, county and local governments for construction projects and approximately $18,000,000 will be granted outright to the State Highway Commission for use on Federal Aid roads and on grade separation projects.

The Act permits outright grants to states, municipalities or other public bodies on terms prescribed by the President for not to exceed 3 per cent of the cost of labor and material for the construction, repair and improvement of public highways and parks, public buildings and any publicly owned instrumentalities and facilities.

The balance of the cost will be loaned by the Federal government at a low interest rate (probably 3 1/2 per cent) payable over a long period. The first principal payments start in late 1945. It is our understanding that delinquent tax notes or other similar security will be acceptable to the Federal government for the loans, especially in municipalities having a good credit rating. It will be necessary for Michigan Constitution to be submitted to the electorate in a referendum to issue general obligation bonds for financing public construction.

There will be set up in the State of Michigan a Public Works Administrator, who will have full authority in the State to carry out the provisions of the National Industrial Recovery Act. This officer will be named very shortly and the machinery will be established so that the program can go ahead at once.

The Act provides for advances to be made prior to entering into contract for loans, to pay the cost of necessary engineering services, etc. on any project. This provision was made so that municipalities unable to finance the preliminary work could be aided in this manner.

The Act also provides for a thirty hour week except for executive, administrative and supervisory positions, also for the payment of "just and reasonable wages." The minimum wage rate will probably be set by the state administrator. A provision is also made that preference be given (1) to ex-military men with dependents and (2) to local citizens or aliens who have declared their intention to become citizens and (3) to citizens of the state and aliens as above, provided that such labor is available and qualified. It is also required that the maximum of human labor be used in lieu of machinery wherever practicable and consistent with economic and public advantage.

The law in general is drawn with the maximum of flexibility, leaving a great deal to the judgment of the state administrator. This was done in order that the maximum amount of work could be undertaken in order that large numbers of men could be returned to gainful work in the shortest possible time.

The Act is to be effective for a period of two years unless sooner suspended by the President. The revenues for financing the loan are set up in the law, all of which will be suspended when the revenues of the Federal Government exceed its expenditures, or upon the repeal of the 14th amendment to the Constitution. It is apparent that a large majority of the State and local governments will formulate public works programs in order to relieve unemployment and to aid in National recovery. The portion financed by the Federal Government, naturally will be repaid from federal taxes and all citizens of the county will share in this.

THE YEAR'S BEST EDITORIAL

Malcolm Bingray, editorial director of the Detroit Free Press, has during the past two or three years, won for the Free Press several national honorary prizes for getting out one of the best looking newspapers in the United States. In fact two years ago the Free Press won first honors for having the best made-up first page among all the great dailies of the nation.

We are going to award to Mr. Bingray first 1933 honors for the best editorial appearing in any American newspaper. No, the editorial was not in the regular editorial column of the Free Press. It was in Mr. Bingray's own distinctive column that he writes next to the editorial columns. This prize winning editorial, by far the best that has appeared on any subject in any newspaper, follows:

"Alex J. Groesbeck, former attorney general and three time Republican Governor of the State of Michigan, now receiver for the Union Guardian Bank, has told the grand jury that this institution is solvent and can pay off its depositors. William F. Conolly, former judge and National Committeeman of the Democratic party, now receiver for the Detroit Bankers Co., says his institution is solvent and ready to pay off 100 cents on the dollar to its depositors.

"Michigan knows these two men, both leaders in rival political parties. Both are outstanding members of the American bar, both have won fame and fortunes as brilliant analytical masters of law and finance.

"Their judgments coincide in every detail. They are not speaking as politicians, but as Detroiters: men who were born on this soil and who know their city and its people.

Both have sworn that Detroit has been done a cruel and outrageous wrong; honored names have been foully slandered and a great financial structure has been wrecked—and a governmental bureaucracy talks glibly of precedents and technicalities.

"The principle of bureaucracy," says W. R. Greg, "tends to official interference . . . and to the inefficient and obstructive performance of duty through minute subdivision of functions, inflexible formality and PRIDE OF PLACE.

"Under the new emergency banking laws the President of the United States is absolute dictator of the financial situation.

"He can move without precedent. This Detroit trouble started under the Republican administration of Herbert Hoover. It has continued under the Democratic administration of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

"It has not been political. Neither Mr. Hoover nor Mr. Roosevelt can be blamed nor can their administrations.

"The fault lies in the bureaucracy of the Treasury Department with Wall Street in the office, as Judge Conolly so aptly remarked: 'A street that begins at a graveyard and ends in the river.'

"But today Franklin D. Roosevelt has the power to act, to cut the red tape, to restore Detroit and Michigan to their rightful places and by so doing to restore to a very large degree the prosperity of the United States.

"It is up to him. A million homes await the answer: businessmen.

workmen, the widows and the orphans ask that the wrong that has been done them be righted. The people of Michigan ask for justice. "And an entire Nation watches."

A GREAT AMERICAN

The United States during its brief life as a nation has produced many great Americans. Not only are many of these outstanding citizens regarded as national leaders, but the world has come to look upon them as outstanding among all the great characters of all time. Such men as Washington, Jefferson, Franklin and Lincoln can be included in the list. But strange as it may seem these great leaders were not given their exalted positions among the world's greatest until long after they had passed out of this worldly existence.

America today has a great leader who will some time be recorded as the greatest man of his time. No, that honor will not go to him during the generation in which he lives, but in the future, in the years to come, Henry Ford will be selected by historians as the greatest industrialist, the greatest citizen of the nation. Too many jealousies, too much of just what we are reading in the newspapers each day prevents this exalted distinction going to Mr. Ford in the time of his life.

But it was so with Washington, with Franklin and with Lincoln. All of them were condemned and faced the greatest of hostility during the very time they were doing the most for humanity.

No it is with Ford. Mr. Ford during the past few years has actually done more for the welfare of the state government combined. But can you find many who will give him credit for what he has done?

Unfortunately you cannot. But you can find the greedy, selfish interests of business doing all within their power to wreck Mr. Ford and all that he is doing.

The fact that the financial powers of Wall Street have three times tried to undo Mr. Ford and the fact that each time they have met with subject failure is sufficient proof of Mr. Ford's greatness. He will be the greatest of the future who will write into the pages of world history the outstanding accomplishments of Mr. Ford, pointing to him as the outstanding great man of the present time.

GUBERNATORIAL FAKING

Governor Comstock has fired the three prison warden of Michigan, giving as his excuse for doing so that the three were Republicans and that it was time for Democrats to come into the control of such important branches of the state government. He frankly admits that there are no charges of inefficiency or that there is any other reason for the dismissal of the three except politics. The governor's statement is alright, except in one particular. It's a pure fake.

Warden Charles Shean of Jonia prison was appointed to that position during the administration of former Governor Groesbeck. Warden Shean was a Democrat and is a Democrat. He served four years as sheriff of Kalamazoo county. He was elected on the Democratic ticket. The entire Shean family has for years been active in Democratic political circles in western Michigan.

Mr. Shean, a Democrat, was appointed deputy warden of Jackson prison by a Republican controlled prison commission. He made a good record at Jackson and when there was a vacancy at Jonia, former Governor Groesbeck suggested that Mr. Shean be selected to fill the place. A Republican member of the prison commission at the time suggested that Mr. Shean was a Democrat. Governor Groesbeck asked him what difference that made.

Mr. Shean was appointed warden of Jonia and he has filled the position most efficiently. But because he was appointed by a Republican governor, a Democratic governor has seen fit to fire him.

In explaining his action, Governor Comstock issued a statement to the people of Michigan in which he said he wants Democrats in place of Republicans, thereby implying to the people of Michigan that he has fired the wardens because they were ALL Republicans, which is not an honest statement of facts. No wonder there is plenty of talk of impeachment floating around the state.

A BROKEN PLEDGE

Last fall Governor Comstock pledged to the people of Michigan that he was in favor of cutting the interest that the law now allows on small loans. This interest is something like 45 per cent per year, a legal robbery charge that outfits dealing in small loans are permitted to take from people who are forced to borrow money now and then in small amounts. Not only did Comstock pledge himself to support legislation that would cut this interest tax down, but his party was also pledged to support such legislation.

The people are well versed in all the schemes and trickery used to defeat the bill in the legislature. Then in the face of a public demand the bill was finally passed. Now a disgraced public learns that Governor Comstock has broken his pledge to the people of Michigan AND VOTED THE BILL.

Rambling Around With Michigan Editors

THE TAX LIMIT MESS

One hears very little nowadays from the proponents of the 15 mill tax limitation who last fall were so vocal in its praise. The developments of recent months have probably gone far to convince these sincere and well meaning men and women that it is impossible to legislate yourself out of paying taxes. Certainly the sponsors of the measure would have hesitated if they could have envisioned the hopeless confusion into which the passage of this legislation was to throw the taxing units of the state.

It is an ironic thing that the cities, most of whom must make majorities against the amendment, proved finally to be exempt from its provisions, while the full brunt of it falls upon the rural districts in which large majorities were rolled up to put it over by a narrow margin.

The cities are not attracted, but as the Press accurately points out, townships and school districts find themselves facing the prospect of a shortage of funds so acute that schools must close wholesale and welfare needs slighted unless some form of outside aid can be devised.

The whole muddle illustrates the danger of this type of constitutional amendment. Probably there never was so undisciplined a piece of legislation submitted in any state. It is very doubtful if whoever drew it had any clear and definite conception of what it actually provided and of how it would operate. Since its enactment there has been a desperate struggle to clarify it and to show it to some degree of workability, but the success attained has been very moderate, to say the least.

Next year, with serious fiscal, necessary functions of government eliminated and townships and school districts absolutely destitute of funds, the result of this amendment will be visible. There will be a great deal of hardship and suffering. There will probably be efforts to raise the limit, but it will be a long process. No one, so far, has been able to state with any degree of authority just who can or cannot vote on such a change, and the whole process of amending the amendment is contradictory and obscure. All in all, the result of the amendment will be a condition little short of chaos in some units of the state.

Let us hope that the next amendment to the state constitution will be subjected to a little more preliminary study and will be far more carefully drafted than was this one.—George Welch in the Grand Rapids Chronicle.

WHAT IZOR SAYS

Alex J. Groesbeck, former governor, in his contention that the National banks in Detroit should not have been closed, point to National banking structure during the year ended in December. That might prove to be nothing but embarrassing to the said National bank examiners. On the other hand, there is the matter of liquidating banks paying 40 per cent in such a record breaking short space of time—Harry IZOR in The Durand Express.

FROM MR. DE FOE

Former Governor Groesbeck is taking on size since his appointment as temporary receiver of one of the closed Detroit National banks. Many out-state papers have commented favorably on his statement that the federal government, more than any other agency, is to blame for the almost total collapse of the Detroit banking structure. The former governor declares that the most recent survey of the bank by governmental agents showed the bank, for which he is receiver, to have been sound at the time. It is his point that it was impossible for the bank to reach an unbound position between the time the government put its okay on the banks, and its subsequent action closing its doors. Regardless of Governor Groesbeck's claim the damage has been done and how is the threat of endless litigation going to help the position of the 800,000 depositors? That finally is the crux of the situation. It is fortunate psychology, however, to have a man of the ability and force of Governor Groesbeck in charge of the future policy of one of the closed banks. Regardless of how the people feel toward Groesbeck as a politician they all admit that he is not given to blab blab in his public work. In other words, when he says the federal government was unfair it represents personal caution as well as legal clarity.—Murl DeFoe in The Charlotte Republican-Tribune.

NOW ADMITS HE WAS WRONG

When Alex Groesbeck was governor of this state we thought but little of him as an executive. We know now why our feelings existed toward him in that light. It was because we, like thousands of other "soft brain" fools had been nursing from the wrong political bottle. We had been told that he was a four flusher, narrow in his deliberations, a big "it" and many other things too numerous to classify. * * * The state is in the RED and God only knows when we will get out of it. Trouble has been quietly coming on for some time but it has been hushed so the tax burdened people could not hear. Taxes of all description have soared higher and higher so today there are more homes on the tax delinquent list than there ever known before and still more coming. Then came the bank holiday which was to last only 7 or 8 days and here it is going on five months and the bank business not cleared yet. Now comes our honor to Alex Groesbeck. He is facing the greatest job of his life and that is to straighten out the tangle in the two bank institutions in Detroit. That is where the trouble started that put the gloom over Michigan in the bank affairs and their conditions have crippled business in general.

It looks very much as the wheels are now rolling. He is going to make a good clearing up and not only that he is going to bring to the surface things that will stagger the natives. Should he be successful, which a million people hope, he will be landed to the highest pinnacle.—Lester M. Rogers in The Camden Advance.

CITY COMMISSION

cost regardless of whether or not they get any of the direct benefits. The program set up by this Act is apparently the last ditch against the depression and if it fails, the only result will be that the ultimate crash will be a little greater. There is every reason to believe that the plan will be successful, especially if complete co-operation is obtained.

"A local program which would put one hundred men to work for a year would be of great assistance to the City as practically all of the money paid in wages would be spent in the City, which in turn would aid all classes of business.

"We could arrange to employ tax payers, who would in turn contribute a portion of their wages in taxes, which would relieve to some extent the financial difficulties which will face the City during the coming year. Payments could be made on mortgages and contracts, which would aid the banks and other holders of these instruments. In other words, it is the plan of the sponsors of the program that complete adjustment to business will be achieved by eliminating unemployment.

Covering of Tonquish Creek
 This project is one which has been under consideration for the past several years. The greatest objection to this open ditch comes from the portion from S. Harvey St. southerly to S. Main street, a distance of approximately 1300 feet.

This project could be undertaken by the City as a special assessment job or by the County Drain Commission. The only advantage in having the work done by the Drain Commission would be that the debt would be carried by the County. There should be no difference in the cost of the project under City or County jurisdiction.

If a monolithic section were installed a considerable amount of labor would be required to do the job.

Improvements to the Water System

A considerable amount of water main construction could be undertaken at this time to very good advantage. Some of this work will have to be done in the very near future especially on those streets now served by small temporary mains. Temporary 2 inch and 2 1/2 inch mains are now installed on S. Main street south of Brush avenue and on all streets south of Brush street and west of Main street except on Palmer avenue. All of the existing mains south of Brush avenue both east and west of south Main street are now supplied through a 4 inch main which does not have sufficient capacity to furnish adequate supply of water to the district.

The downtown district is served only by a six inch main and the fire hydrants in most cases have only 4 inch valve openings. The improvement of the distribution system in this area would greatly improve the fire protection and would probably make possible a better fire insurance rating, thus lowering the cost of insurance.

There are several low pressure areas in the City due mostly to an inadequate distribution system. These districts could be relieved by building larger mains to serve as feeders and headers for the existing mains.

years. The problem is one of getting the supply into the city. The present 10 inch supply main from the spring to the reservoir and thence to the booster station is not large enough to take care of the peak demands. The maximum capacity of this main will not exceed 700 gallons per minute without pumping against a head due to pipe friction which makes the pumping of greater amounts uneconomical. A larger main over a different route has been considered for the past several years. The cost of this main would be quite high and we are of the opinion that some prospecting should be done to locate a supply within or near the city. If a well yielding 500 to 1000 gallons per minute could be located in or near the city, a considerable saving could be made over the cost of a new and larger line from the spring.

Before a complete program for improvement of the entire distribution system could be formulated, further study would have to be made of the existing system. However, it appears that these improvements will have to be undertaken some time in the near future.

Cemetery Watering System
 The need for an adequate watering system at the cemetery does not have to be stressed. The installation of a water system would prevent the complete burning of the grass every summer and would encourage many people to subscribe to the permanent care plan. This system could be built and owned by the Water Department and the water sold at a price which would pay the pumping costs and amortize the debt, or it could be owned and operated entirely by the cemetery.

Addition to City Hall
 During the past year the matter of building an addition to the City Hall for the purpose of housing the library has been discussed. This project would come under the provisions of the National Recovery Act and would give some work to the building trades.

Improvements to Sewage System
 There are short runs of sanitary sewers necessary in some parts of the city which could be built at this time. The storm sewers in many locations are inadequate to properly take care of ordinary rainfalls and should be provided with relief. A study of the sewer needs would indicate that a fair sized sewer program could be formulated from the projects necessary at this time.

Paving and Street Improvement
 The only paving which seems to be at all necessary is that portion of Church street from Harley street to Main street. Because of the fact that such a large amount of the property along this street is publicly owned, the 50 per cent grant by the Federal Government would be quite advantageous.

The surface treatment of gravelled streets in built up districts would provide a considerable amount of labor and would eliminate the necessity of annual treatment with dust palliatives.

Miscellaneous
 A considerable portion of the work outlined above could be financed by special assessment without the necessity of submitting the propositions to the electorate. It would be necessary, however, to follow the regular special assessment procedure and conduct hearings on the projects.

The installation of larger water mains on streets already served with permanent mains should not be reassessed, but the new mains to serve the streets not now provided with permanent mains could be assessed. It would be advisable to amend the water ordinance to lower the front foot charge as the cost under existing conditions and with the direct grant would not be as great as the front foot charge as set up in the ordinance.

Tentative Estimates
 The following tentative estimates on the several jobs listed below are given as a basis for further consideration of a proposed program. These estimates are not to be considered as accurate to any degree, as no plans or engineering data are available for close computation of costs:

Enclosing 1300 feet of Tonquish Creek, total estimated cost, $26,000.00; federal grant, $7,000.00; amount to be financed by city, $19,000.00.

New water mains, total estimated cost, $7,600.00; federal grant, $2,240.00; amount to be financed by city, $5,360.00.

Improvements to existing distribution system, total estimated cost, $30,000.00; federal grant, $9,000.00; amount to be financed by city, $21,000.00.

JUST 12 MINUTES to broil this steak in the ELECTROCHEF!

BROILING electrically im- parts a flavor which epicures claim is as near perfection as possible. And in the Electrochef semi-sealed under a medium steak takes just 12 minutes to cook! The oven is pre-heated for 12 minutes to a temperature of 600 degrees, and the steak placed on the grill. The intense heat of the element quickly sears the surface of the meat. The finished steak is succulently tender within, crisply brown without, with melted butter poured over the whole to mingle with the juices of the meat!

Once your family has enjoyed electric broiling, you will never again be satisfied with anything else. See the Electrochef today at your nearest Detroit Edison office.

She did so and as she alighted from the vehicle in front of the store, she made a mis-step and fell to the ground, breaking her left arm and dislocating it at the elbow. Dr. Cooper was called to reduce the fracture.

A. R. Stevenson of Ferrisville had the misfortune to run a pitchfork into his leg the other day. The accident is an unfortunate one as he was just recovering from an injury to one eye caused by a falling branch.

Will Hooley of West Town Line spent two days in Detroit this week visiting his old friend, Mr. Millman.

Girl in Asylum is Found Not Insane

A girl school teacher confined at Eloise since January, 1932, as insane on the petition of her brother, was released recently by Judge Harry B. Keidan on a writ of habeas corpus.

The girl, Marjorie M. Rice, 28, was committed last January by Judge Henry S. Hulbert on petition of her brother, John Rice, an attorney. Two doctors examined her at that time and upheld the brother's contention.

Last week her attorney pointed out that she could hardly be insane since she was employed as an assistant in the dental laboratory and Dr. Thomas K. Gruber, superintendent of Eloise, stated that she was not mentally unbalanced.

"They treated me very nicely at Eloise," Miss Rice said on her release. "After I was made an assistant in the dental laboratory six months ago I was free to come and go more or less as I pleased.

"I'd like to go back to work as a teacher," she said, "but I don't know if I can because of this. I have a life certificate."

It is necessary to have the engine running when lubricating the clutch release bearing on certain cars.

Blank Bros. Given Maytag Franchise

Announcement has just been made by E. L. Reiner, Maytag Regional Manager for Detroit and vicinity, of the appointment of Blank Bros., Inc., as a Maytag key dealer-distributor for Plymouth and Northwestern Wayne County.

The Maytag Company have long been world leaders in the washer industry, and the granting of this franchise is evidence of the high regard which the company places in Blank Bros., Inc.

Mr. Reiner, President of Blank Bros., Inc., states that since the execution of the new Maytag franchise, his sales of washers have doubled and redoubled.

Mr. Reiner, in announcing this appointment, calls attention to the fact that the Maytag Company is a firm believer in advertising, as is evidenced by the fact that his company has expended over Eleven Million Dollars in advertising Maytag washers during the past ten years. Through advertising, we have won, and are holding, public confidence which reflects a sound investment as well as a permanent asset to our national dealer organization.

With the decidedly improved conditions generally, increased production in almost all industries, increased employment, and rapidly increasing wage scales, certainly the unusual prosperity incident to the depression now past is ended, and the outlook is bright. Washing machine sales for every month this year have been higher than last year, which clearly indicates the value placed on the clothes washer by the American housewife.

It is remarkable how Maytag sales in Detroit and outside of Detroit reflect business conditions; in Detroit, we have experienced a regular buyers' panic during the past two months. This same condition has been experienced in a lesser degree in the immediate vicinity of Detroit, such as River Rouge, Ecorse, Lincoln Park, Redford, Ferndale, and Centerline; towns and cities beyond these points have realized a decided increase in buying activity only since June 1st. It appears that the improved industrial conditions in Detroit will shortly be reflected by greatly increased buying throughout the entire metropolitan area.

George T. Johnston Maytag District Manager, working with Mr. Reiner out of the Detroit Maytag Regional office, devotes his time solely to cooperative work with Maytag dealers in trading areas suburban to Detroit. In this capacity, Mr. Johnston contacts Blank Bros., Inc., regularly to the end that no worthy family in the territory assigned to this dealer shall be without a clothes washer.

According to a survey of the American Automobile Association, one-third of all the motor cars registered in the United States (more than 8,000,000 out of a total of about 24,000,000 registered) are obsolete. A large percentage of the others are mechanically unfit for absolute safety.

A few small members of the hon and python family are found in North America—the rosy boa; the three-lined boa and the rubber boa—all of them native to the west coast and one living as far eastward as Central Nevada.

Successful Living Told in Sermons

"Man is a two-fold being, the dust of the earth and the breath of God," declared Dr. Frederick B. Fisher in a sermon on "Yourself and Your World," Sunday morning, June 25 at the First Methodist Episcopal church, Ann Arbor, Michigan.

"His greatest task is to produce a satisfying theory of the universe, a standing ground or home for the soul where he can rest serene and secure." This goal may be achieved, Dr. Fisher held, in a religious experience through Christ. "The life that has found itself," he concluded, has three elements: Integrity—the wholeness, completeness and unity of experienced attitudes and relationships; generosity of spirit, service and cooperation; and trust—an expectation of perfection, trusting even when it is impossible to understand or prove.

This sermon introduced a series of "Studies in Successful Living," which Dr. Fisher will conduct Sunday mornings throughout the Summer Session of the University of Michigan, the remainder being scheduled as follows: July 2—"The Deep Drives of One's Nature," July 9—"Getting into Harmony with Oneself," July 16—"Learning to Manage Trifles," July 23—"Living Above Friction," July 30—"Overcoming a Sense of Failure," August 6—"Tasting Deeply of Life," and August 13—"The Wonder of Religious Experience."

The public is invited to attend the service which begins at 10:45. The church is located at State and Washington streets, Ann Arbor.

No Tax on Savings

The state and federal governments are finding it necessary to raise money and in order to get the necessary funds to run the government, many new taxes are necessary.

Right now the state of Michigan is putting into effect a new sales tax law. Under the terms of this measure, nearly everything you buy will be taxed.

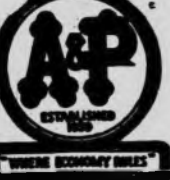

Fortunately for the people of thrift, those that like to save, there is

No Tax on Savings Accounts

It's a pretty safe rule to follow to have some cash laid aside, money that can be used for payment of taxes or other obligations when due.

The trend of the times is most encouraging and it is with renewed confidence that we face the future. But there is much to indicate that taxes are going to be high for years to come, therefore it is essential that we practice the greatest of thrift by saving.

Newburg-Dairy Wins In Eleven Inning Game From S. Lyon

In one of the fastest ball games played so far this season, the Newburg Dairy team Sunday defeated the South Lyon team by a score of 5 to 4, and it took eleven innings to decide the contest.

Ferguson and W. Basset's good pitching combined with very good fielding and Tonkovich's home run and two doubles helped defeat South Lyon 5 to 4 in eleven innings.

Moore a former minor leaguer got fifteen strikes out on the dairy boys, but they bunched their hits to win.

The local fans of South Lyon stated they never saw such spectacular catches on their field as were made by John Schomberger, T. Levandowski, Schultz, C. Levandowski, Tonkovich and Joe Schomberger.

Next Sunday Newburg Dairy plays at Garden City at 3:00 p. m. The local fans still remember the two to one defeat handed Newburg-Dairy earlier in the season, and will be out to see another good game.

AUGUST RAHR

August Rahr was born in Germany October 22, 1859 and passed away June 30, 1933 at the age of 72 years, at the home of his son, 948 Blunk avenue. He is survived by his son Floyd; two brothers, Emil of Ann Arbor and Henry of Detroit and four sisters, Mary and Tillie of Ann Arbor, Viola of North Dakota and Marjette of Hancock.

Services were held from the Wilkie Funeral Home Monday, July 3. Interment was made in Forest Hill cemetery, Ann Arbor.

NANCY C. YOUNGS
Nancy Cathrane Youngs was born in Plimpton township, Ontario, October 6, 1856, the daughter of the late Samuel and Mary Ann Storey Youngs.

She passed away Monday, June 10, 1933 at 11:30 a. m. at the home of her nieces, Misses Anna and Ada Youngs of Plymouth.

She was one of Tuscola County pioneers, coming when she was five years old to what is now the village of Kingston. Her father took up land from the government where for more than 70 years she resided. She saw many changes in that part of Michigan.

She termed herself the first rural mail carrier, as it was her chore to go to the state road a half mile away to get the mail once a week left there by the postman coming from Saginaw through to Port Sanilac. He put it in a box and hid it in a hollow tree. Her father's house was the distributing post for the settlers to the north of their home.

She was a true pioneer, often saying she never knew fear. It was not unusual to see bear and deer near her home. Later she taught school but on account of deafness was obliged to resign.

She had been a member of the Methodist church for many years. A year ago, the first of last April, because of failing health she was obliged to leave the homestead and adapt herself to a new home which she did most gracefully.

She was confined to her room and most of the time her bed, for thirteen weeks, before her illness reached the last stages she spent many happy moments singing hymns.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon from the Kingston Methodist church, Rev. Jones officiated. Interment was made in Kingston cemetery under direction of undertaker, N. Karr.
