

BURKE DENIES ADMISSION OF BANK ROBBERY

Tells Marquette Warden That He Never Was In Plymouth

"A lot of bunk, Frank Dale, alias Fred Burke, had nothing to do with the robbery of the north side branch of the Plymouth United Savings bank," Warden Doell of Marquette told Chief of Police Vaughn Smith of Plymouth and a number of other officers who recently visited that prison.

Some weeks ago the Plymouth Mail was given an article by a western Michigan police officer who claimed that he knew Burke and had visited him in Marquette in which he said that Burke had admitted the robbery of the north side bank of Plymouth at the time Cashier Pelree was kidnapped.

This officer conveyed the information both to the Plymouth Mail and to former Chief of Police George Springer. He stated that he had talked with Burke in Marquette and that Burke had told him all about the local robbery.

A few days ago while in Marquette attending the annual meeting of the Michigan Police Chiefs, Sheriffs and Prosecutors Association, the Plymouth officer visited the prisoner with a number of other police chiefs.

It was while at the prison that Warden Doell advised Chief Smith that Dale, alias Burke, had denied all knowledge of the Plymouth robbery.

Warden Doell stated that the prisoner had never even admitted that his name was Burke. He was sent up from St. Joseph under the name of Frank Dale and declares to this day that that is his right name stated the Warden.

The article in the Plymouth Mail had been shown to the prisoner who declared that it was quite the common thing for officers to try and blame him for all the crimes that ever had been committed. He said that he had never even been in Plymouth and knew nothing of the robbery here.

Grass Fire Burns Near to Buildings

A grass fire that started in some mysterious way Labor Day for a time threatened to do considerable damage along the Northside of the Plymouth road and might have destroyed the Jewell Cleaning plant if it had not been for the timely action of the Plymouth fire department.

The fire swept with remarkable speed over the dry fields. Residents along the highway who happened to be home, noticed the fire approaching the Jewell plant and knowing that there was no one there, called the department.

Not only did the Jewell place threatened by the fire but the flames had approached close to one or two other houses.

Firemen are urging the greatest of care just at this time because of the dry conditions prevailing in this part of the state.

Penny Suppers Come Under Sales Tax Law

Good night—what next!

Now comes forth the information that the kind ladies of Plymouth who put on penny suppers at the churches have got to pay a sales tax on these suppers from now on.

Yes sir, the state of Michigan has ruled that church suppers come under the sales tax law and that the various church societies that put these penny suppers on have got to pay a sales tax on the total amount of their sales.

They must procure regular sales tax blanks and on the 15th of each month make return to the State Board of Tax Administration for the three per cent sales tax just like everyone else who sells meals.

Your Assistance Is Needed

Officials of the Dalsy Manufacturing Company have begun the preparation of a history of this industry. But they are in need of considerable material that only some of the older residents of the community can provide. Have you any photographs of some of the early employes of the company, pictures of some of the original buildings or any other material of interest that is associated with the early days of this company that has meant so much to Plymouth for half a century? If so, kindly call The Dalsy Manufacturing Company, Phone 100. They will greatly appreciate your cooperation.

Judge Healy Coming Here to Talk Before Women Voters League

The League of Women Voters of Plymouth will open their fall and winter program with the monthly meeting to be held Monday, September 11, at the home of Mrs. Paul J. Wiedman, 346 Blunk avenue.

The business meeting will open at 2:00 p. m. sharp followed by a talk by Judge D. J. Healy of Detroit, who will speak on "The Juvenile Court of Wayne County."

Judge Healy's visit to the League here has been a promised feature for some time and the members are looking forward to an interesting afternoon.

Last year the program of this unit was most instructive and the League here enjoyed a very active year. There is a large program outlined for this year and all members are urged to attend this opening meeting and get the work under way.

New Directory For Plymouth Under Way By R. L. Polk & Co.

The canvass for the fourth edition of the Plymouth and Northville City Directory was started on Tuesday afternoon last and will continue for three weeks, during which time every home and place of business in the city will be visited by the directory representatives. It was announced here today.

S. E. Andrews, of R. L. Polk & Co., compilers and publishers of the directory, is in the city from their office at 208-10 Pennington Allen Bldg. The new book is scheduled for publication about Nov. 1st, 1933.

Nothing is taken for granted in the name-taking canvass for a new edition of the directory. It is pointed out, and complete new information is gathered, checked and verified to insure accuracy. Much painstaking effort and close attention to detail is required to produce the city directory, so many places, battered and dog-eared from constant usage, the publishers explain.

In addition to the alphabetical list of names of citizens, business firms and corporations, and professional and women; the buyers' guide, a street guide and directory of householders; a rural route directory, classified business section, and other features, the directory will also include vital data showing the progress of the community in its many interests and activities. This feature will advertise the city and its advantages throughout the United States, as copies of each new edition are sent out to replace the former issue in several branches of the free Directory Library system maintained by members of the Association of North American Directory Publishers, with which R. L. Polk & Co. are affiliated.

A corps of specially-trained enumerators will make the canvass. The publishers say that the new directory will be the most complete ever compiled for this city.

Mrs. Whipple Made Board Secretary

Mrs. Ruth E. Heston-Whipple, recently appointed a member of the Wayne county emergency relief commission by Governor Comstock, was Wednesday elected secretary of the Wayne unit. This group will have the state relief fund, the county welfare funds, the newly formed welfare unit being created under the relief commission act passed by the last session of the legislature.

Mrs. Whipple's appointment to this commission is the second political nomination to the board of directors of the Wayne County Relief Commission.

Edward Scully was awarded the other prize position, having been appointed as field representative of the newly created state board of tax administration.

The new state welfare relief act will take away from supervisors and other county officers the handling of state and federal relief funds.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Wilcox of Adrian and Miss Margaret Giles of Detroit were Tuesday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Giles at their home on Blunk avenue.

Old "Live Wire Club" To Meet Saturday At Riverside Park

A reunion of the old "Live Wire Club" will be held at Riverside Park, Saturday, Sept. 9th at noon. Each member is asked to bring a basket lunch.

This organization of some twenty years ago was composed of about one hundred members residing in Nankin and Canton townships in the vicinity of the old Chubb church. It was purely social in character, and some of the members still residing in the neighborhood conceived the idea of this reunion, hoping that all old members and their families could be present in Plymouth Riverside Park next Saturday. Look for the Live Wire Club banner.

M. E. Conference To Be Held Sept. 13-17; Expect Few Changes

When the seventy-eighth session of the Detroit conference of the Methodist Episcopal church meets in Ypsilanti, September 13-17, it will bring together over 300 ministers and 200 laymen for the five day session.

It is at this time when the assignment of pastors for the Methodist churches for the ensuing year is made. As far as known there are no changes in prospect for Plymouth or vicinity but Methodist procedure is such that no one knows what the conference action might be until assignments are made.

The climax to the conference session will come on Sunday night, September 17th, when Dr. E. Stanley Jones, world traveler and evangelist, will address a mass meeting in Pease Auditorium. Although this will be the closing session of the conference, the service will be inter-denominational in character, with Bishop Edgar Blake of Detroit, the visiting officer of the conference, in charge. Carl Lindgren of the voice department of the college, will sing two numbers.

Two other internationally known speakers will appear on the program when Dr. Paul Hutchinson, managing editor of the Christian Century, who has just returned from Europe, will speak on Thursday night on "The Portent of Hitler," and when Dr. Harry E. Ward of New York will speak at four o'clock for four nights.

Plymouth Visitors Leave Cash in City

Sour lemon extract, or maybe it was something else, caused a two-day detour of Ann Arbor to drive his automobile in a zigzag fashion across the highway near the Detroit House of Correction Labor Day. Guards at the prison in fear that he might crash within his walls, took to him a custody and turned him over to Plymouth police. Judge Gerald Hamill did the rest and collected $15 in fine and costs for the city's cash box. Edward Carl of Northville left another $10 with the city treasurer's office. Chief of Police Vaughn Smith.

Would Improve East Side of City

Interested in the development and beautification of Plymouth, Harry Matthews who for over 25 years has resided on the Plymouth road near Holbrook, believes that the city can do much to improve things by bringing the Holbrook sidewalk down to grade and by re-paving the street on the east side that have in past years been erected along the highway.

Although not the owner of the property where he has lived so many years, he has recently planted a number of iris roots and is preparing to have along the sidewalk a floral display that will add greatly to the attractiveness of that locality.

The county is doing much to improve the general appearance of the city both on the east and north sides. By the end of next week, the three years Plymouth will be partly surrounded by one of the finest parkway systems in the country.

Belle Covert Pupils To Meet Saturday

The Belle Covert Pupils Association will hold its annual basket picnic at Cassin Benton Park, Northville, on Saturday, September 9th. Members and their families are urged to be present and enjoy the afternoon of good fellowship and "feed." Be present by two o'clock if possible. Supper served by five-thirty.

Spends Idle Time Collecting Caps

Maybe automobile drivers do not like the hum of the motor and the roar of the engine when they drive over the railroad crossing on North Main street near the Sage gas station, but the crossing is providing a worthwhile pastime for Henry Sage.

He has during the past few weeks collected one of the finest exhibits of gas tank caps, radiator caps, tail light glasses and portions of automobile springs that is to be found anywhere.

When a car goes speeding by Mr. Sage has come to know that it means another gas tank cap, possibly a part of an automobile spring or some other automobile accessory for his collection. He believes that by winter he will have a display equal to the best ever shown at an automobile exhibit, and containing every kind of cap and tail light glass made.

Mr. and Mrs. Ragnar Blomberg of this city and Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Lyon of Detroit and Mrs. R. E. Abel, Miss Pauline Zinger and Harry Miller of Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Scott of Clarkston spent from Friday until Monday evening at Oakley Park near Walked Lake.

The Weekly Community Newspaper

(From the Christian Science Monitor)

"Turning from the city newspapers to the small town press exchanges that come to the editor's desk is like stepping from the slums, full of vice, into an old-fashioned garden sweet with lavender and thyme and the sweet of perennials flowers. The pages of the big dailies are full of murder, thievery, immorality and selfishness that the better news is obscured by these glaring, shattering of the Deceatone. One puts the papers aside with a feeling of depression and heartache that the world is so full of terrible and unhappy things.

"Then picking up the papers that record the happenings of the little towns around us, one gains renewed faith in life. Here are set forth only that which uplifts a community—the activities of the business men, the church items, the happy social gatherings of the people, the births and deaths, farmers' items, and all the thousand and one daily occurrences that make up the simple annals of the great common people, who are really the foundation of this broad country of ours.

"Scandals are seldom published in the country newspapers, but if it so happens that decency demands it, the uglier details are omitted, or given a kindly touch that is widely different from the unfeeling publicity of the city press. The offenders may be our neighbors, or people we have rubbed elbows with all our lives. They are real human beings to their town paper, while to the great city dailies they are merely grains of a sort that are ground out hourly in their news mills.

"Sometimes people speak lightly of the country newspaper, but it is in fact the most potent and uplifting factors in our national existence."

Forrest B. Hubert Weds Katherine Wilcox, Northville

The marriage of Miss Katherine Elizabeth Wilcox, daughter of Mrs. Mary Wilcox of Northville, and Forrest B. Hubert, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hubert of Plymouth, took place on Friday, September 7th, at the home of Allison College, Albion, Michigan. The ceremony was performed by a boyhood friend of the groom, Dr. W. W. Whitehouse, dean of Albion College. After a short trip, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert will make their home in Detroit, where Mr. Hubert has an advertising business.

The groom is a well known resident of Plymouth and his host of friends wish the newly married couple the best of good fortune. The bride has been a resident of Northville for some time and she too has many friends in Plymouth.

Kiwianians To Hear About Sales Tax Law Tuesday Eve., Sept. 12

Edward Scully, field representative of the state board of tax administration which has charge of the collection of the new sales tax in Michigan, will be the speaker at next Tuesday evening's meeting of the Plymouth Kiwanians club.

Mr. Scully, was recently appointed to this position and following his appointment spent two weeks in Lansing where everyone connected with the department was given a thorough schooling in the different phases pertaining to the new law.

His talk Tuesday evening will be of direct benefit to the business men of Plymouth as he has a vast amount of information pertaining to the sales tax that everyone who collects the tax should know.

Some time past Mr. Scully has been working out of the Detroit office of the state tax administration board. The meeting will be held at the Mayflower hotel at 6:15 Tuesday evening. Kiwanians are urged to attend. Secretary of the club, secretary of the club.

Find Body of Slain Man Near Dixboro

The possibility of a Sicilian feud was seen by officers Wednesday in the shooting of a man near Dixboro, Paro, petty Detroit police character, whose body was found early in the day on the Geddes-Dixboro Road in Washtenaw County about three miles southwest of Plymouth.

Paro's three stepsons, William 21 years old and Edward 26 and 29, were arrested Tuesday night at their home in Detroit and held for investigation. They denied any knowledge of the shooting. Edward recently completed a sentence for robbery armed and was said to have been a member of the Paul Javorski gang at one time.

Discovered by a road crew in the vicinity, who called Washtenaw County authorities, the body was taken to the University of Michigan Hospital, while Albert J. Rapp and Jacob B. Andrews, Washtenaw County prosecutor and sheriff, respectively, brought fingerprints and the man's clothing to Detroit Police Headquarters for identification.

Through fingerprints the dead man was identified as Paro, a Detroit and Mr. Clemens police character with a record of petty arrests dating from 1918. The man had no known address, according to police, and had not been involved in known criminal activity since his arrest here for Mr. Clemens police in January, 1930.

After the body was found, a farmer reported that he had found an automobile in the vicinity about 2 a. m.

According to Dr. E. C. Ganzhorn, Washtenaw County coroner, Paro apparently was slain about midnight and the body was in a car to the spot where it was deposited. The man was only partly clothed, his trousers were missing and his bloodstained coat was found more than a half mile from the scene of the shooting. A name Tony Strawn was found on a piece of clothing nearby a mile from the scene.

Prosecutor Rapp said that he believed the man had been killed in Detroit, automobile tracks showing that the death car had driven to the Dixboro road, turned around and apparently returned to the city.

Death was caused by a bullet through the brain, entering the head behind the right ear.

Old Copy of The Mail An Interesting Issue

Miss Hattie Holsington brought to the Plymouth Mail office the other day a copy of the Plymouth Mail dated August 18, 1916. Probably the most interesting item in the paper told of the "bee" to be held Saturday, August 14, 1916, for the purpose of cleaning up the park back of the Presbyterian church.

This piece of property was formerly the old Presbyterian cemetery.

The paper said, "All the bodies have now been removed from the old cemetery of Detroit park village and it is now intended to make a 'bee' tomorrow afternoon for the purpose of cleaning up the rubbish. Lights will be placed and it is the intention of the village council to hold the 'bee' on Saturday afternoon. All turn out Saturday afternoon for the 'clean up' day."

Two or three other items of interest are found on the first page.

Tom Leith, a former Plymouth boy, said the Mail, who is coaching the University of Detroit track team, has been engaged to coach the Detroit Tigers for speed.

The paper also recorded the fact that Blake Fisher of Brown City had purchased the shoe repairing business of James Adams and had already taken possession. "Mr. Adams has conducted the business here for a number of years during which time he has made many friends. He expects to leave here in the near future," said the Mail.

Hospital Notes

Seymour Orr of Route one, Plymouth, had his tonsils removed last week Thursday.

Miss Helen Bridge was dismissed from the hospital August 27.

Mrs. Beesse Coffin of 354 South Huron street underwent a tonsil operation Saturday.

Mrs. John Furman of Maple avenue entered Saturday for observation.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Ball of Detroit, a daughter, Saturday.

Richard Carola is slowly improving.

WILL COMPLETE NRA CAMPAIGN BY END OF WEEK

Miss Alice Safford, Chairman, Reports Excellent Progress

Miss Alice Safford, elected director of the campaign in Plymouth to secure signatures for NRA, proudly pledged today reported that excellent progress is being made but at the same time issued an appeal for additional workers for Friday and Saturday. There are two sections of the city that have not yet been covered and ladies desiring to assist in this very worthy campaign are asked to call Miss Safford at phone 208 immediately.

She will provide you with blanks and such other data as requested.

The consumers' pledge campaign in Plymouth was somewhat delayed for two reasons, first the failure of the blanks to arrive until late last week and then because of the fact that the Labor Day holiday followed almost immediately by the receipt of the blanks. A large number of workers who had expected to assist Miss Safford in this work were out of town over Labor Day.

The Washington officials had hoped to have the campaign completed by Labor Day but in view of these two conditions, it was impossible. This also explains the desire of Miss Safford for additional volunteer workers so that the campaign can be completed at least by Saturday night of this week.

Miss Safford was chosen as the director of this campaign at a mass meeting of women of Plymouth held last week at the Mayflower hotel in response to a call issued by Mayor Freeman Hovet.

The Mayor was present and gave the women a brief address upon the importance of the work and the part they were supposed to take in it. It was upon his recommendation that Miss Safford was chosen as director, Miss Safford being the unanimous choice.

The Blue Eagle campaign is making excellent progress in Plymouth but much doubt and hesitation as to the future of it if the NRA issue was settled.

The first phase of the President's Reemployment Agreement campaign was a membership drive. Labor Day was set as the goal in this drive. At this time it is estimated that between 80 per cent and 90 per cent of all employers in the country are under the NRA. This effort will be continued until we have 100 per cent membership and the work in Plymouth will doubtless be ended Saturday night.

The balance of the work of the local campaign, which instructions are being carried out with tremendous enthusiasm.

From the standpoint of the mobilization of employers under the Blue Eagle, the present goal, in the second phase of the campaign, is 100 per cent compliance with the President's Reemployment Agreement.

"We must not do this through fear or force, but we must do it through education and explanation," says the national executive director, Thomas S. Hammond.

"There are very few deliberate 'chiselers.' We are sure that most of the complaints which have come to us will be ironed out if the employer is talked to and shown how he can comply, without ruining himself.

"Many employers do not understand what they are doing under Paragraph 14. This must be explained to them. They must also be shown that this agreement is a temporary arrangement pending the adoption of a permanent code and that their cooperation is absolutely necessary in bringing about the adoption of a code. It is not the plan of the president to put anybody out of business, if complying with the agreement will have that result. There will be adequate relief for everyone.

"Deliberate wilful 'chiseling' will not be tolerated. We must proceed carefully and slowly and give the employer, the employee and the consumer every chance to comply with the President's Reemployment Agreement. We have held up actions on petitions for exceptions and complaints of non-compliance until such time as a more definite picture, or understanding, has been developed in the field. We feel that this local Mediation Board is now planning to set up in each community in which there is a local committee, if such a local Mediation Board has not already been set up.

"In communities where such machinery is now functioning, complaints are fewer, and compliance is higher. Experience shows that 70 to 80 per cent of the complaints are due to misunderstandings. Many may be settled by giving a thorough explanation of the President's Reemployment Agreement.

"In the case of violations, it is contemplated that all complaints against consumers or employers will be registered with the local Mediation Board. It shall be the duty of

Captain Denniston Tells of Escapes Made by Prisoners

Captain Edward Denniston of the Detroit House of Correction told members of the Rotary club at their meeting last Friday of some of the experiences that he has had during his long career of prison management with escapes.

For thirty minutes he related details of some prison getaways that were not only spectacular but had plenty of "thrill" in them. Especially was this so when it came to the capture of some of the escapes.

Fortunately, Captain Denniston has never received personal injury in any of the prison break-ups he had to contend with but it "has been just luck, that's all," he stated.

The very day that he came down to the Detroit House of Correction, he made their getaway from the local prison farm and he had found them hiding in the weeds near the prison. Because of the finger print system so extensively used now, escape is little chance of an escaped prisoner ever making a clean escape, he said.

FORD POSITION ON NRA CHIEF QUESTION HERE

All Interested In Knowing What Pioneer Advocate Of High Pay Will Do

Probably no question ever caused so much heated comment and conjecture as the issue raised by General Hugh Johnson of the NRA headquarters in Washington because of Henry Ford's refusal to make any comment about the position of his company relative to the NRA plan, so far as any one knows. Mr. Ford's only comment about the NRA program was a statement he made some time ago that if he signed it "we will have to live down to it rather than up to it."

He meant by that that he would have to pay a lower wage scale and reduce the hours of his employes in order to comply with provisions of the code.

There has been all kinds of local comment about the matter, some declaring that the NRA code was regarded by the Ford interests as a trap for the ending of Ford's dominance in the low priced car field.

Local sentiment seems to be almost equally divided. Ford, although up to the present time, though Ford has really been no dispute as Mr. Ford has taken no position in the matter except the one statement made some time ago. The fact that Ford has long been the leader of high pay and short hours puts him in a most commanding position.

It is believed that possibly before the end of the present week or early next week there will be some development in the matter.

Moscowville Park employes are hoping that they will be able to retain their present high wages, that he will maintain his present working conditions and that his plants will be kept as busy as they have been for the past two or three months.

Gen. Johnson's stand in Washington it is stated is based upon the fact that the Recovery Act provides that when a majority of an industry has agreed upon a code it shall become binding upon the entire industry. It is said that the code Ford desires to submit would render ineffectual certain terms in the automobile code. In view of which Johnson was believed to have been forced to the stand he took with respect to Ford.

Details of the profit-sharing plan in the supposed "Ford code" had not been made available in Washington either officially or unofficially. It was announced in the capital by Robert W. Lee, deputy director of the Recovery Act, that Ford would offer his own code.

Students of Ford methods were inclined to believe that the profit-sharing provision would be in the 1914 when he set basic daily wages of $5, $6 and $7 for workers in his plants under the rank of foreman.

At that time prevailing wages in industrial plants were $3.00 to $4.00. Ford put into effect a wage of $5 a day for men and women formerly earning between 28 and 38 cents an hour, $6 for workers formerly earning between 38 and 48 cents an hour and $7 for workers formerly between 48 and 65 cents an hour. At the same time he reduced the workday from nine to eight hours.

This minimum wage earners averaging $2.34 for nine hours' work a day were given $5 for eight hours, $6 for nine hours, $7 for eight hours and $8.42 a day were given $6 for the shorter day, while for a wage skill of $4.32 a day the wage was $7.

Foremen and bosses were not raised.

"I don't care a snap about the matter making $150 an $200 a month here," Ford said. "But it is the falling betwixt $2 and $3 a day that we're thinking of."

The Ford profit-sharing plan of 1914 remained in effect from that point on and became, instead, the low wage scale.

Ford admitted the Ford plan and made adjustment in wages to conform to the six day scale. Thousands of wage raises were given to employees. In December, 1929, he proposed the base pay of all employees $1 a day in part of the National Administration's effort to maintain purchasing power, following the 1929 crash and on the nationwide appeal of President Hoover.

Downward revision in the scale has since been made, the last of which in September, 1932, carried the basic rate slightly below $5 per day. A hiring-in minimum of 50 cents an hour was established for common labor, a new minimum of 62 1/2 cents an hour for semi-skilled labor and 75 cents an hour for skilled labor. This brought the minimum base to $4 a day, at which 100 stands.

It is understood from Dearborn that auditors are now working on a new wage scale to be put into immediate effect at this character. In fact we encourage such action which can ultimately be harmonized with the standard national set up."

Home Economics Summer Program Has Been Completed

Home Economics includes many aspects of home and life and so allows only limited time for development of skills. Girls are encouraged to practice in a natural setting at home, in order to obtain additional skills. With the cooperation of mother and finally the girl may adapt class room activities to home conditions in a planned activity.

Home Economics does not really function until it works into the home.

One of important features of South Hughes Home Economics program is the emphasizing of Home Projects during the summer as well as during the year.

We are closing a season of some interesting project work. Approximately 55 projects have been completed. Some of the different types of projects are: Preparation of Meats, Canning, Care and Repair of Sewing Machines, Needlework, Sewing, Preparing Surprise Dinners for Family, Home Management, Child Study, Care of My Own Room, The Kitchen is My Laboratory, Marketing.

Each girl receives 1-4 credit for Summer Project Work if projects are successfully worked out. Approximately 100 hours are included in Summer Project work for each student.

Western Union Goes Under the NRA Code

W. H. Hester, manager of the Plymouth office of the Western Union Telegraph, has been advised that his company has signed the NRA code and that beginning immediately all business of this corporation will be conducted under the new government of trade industry by their own associations, under permanent codes approved by the President. The organization of trade associations for this purpose is an integral part of our present organization.

"Pending such time as all industry is under codes, it is the purpose of the President to effectuate the policies of the National Industrial Recovery Act by securing 100 per cent compliance with the President's Reemployment Agreement.

"Detailed instructions covering the functions and procedure of the proposed local Mediation Boards with regard to the handling of complaints, exceptions and Labor Disputes will be forwarded to you within a few days.

"Many communities have already set up local machinery which is now dealing with these problems effectively. It is not the intention of the Recovery Administration to discourage the use of this character. In fact we encourage such action which can ultimately be harmonized with the standard national set up."

BANKERS

During the last year or so it has been the popular thing to stand on the street corner or crowd over in some dark nook in the store or office and lambast the bankers and bank directors, blaming them for all that has happened and may yet happen in business.

"Yes, sir, Mr. Banker and his board are to blame for all the ills of the world. If they hadn't done this and if they hadn't done that would be O. K. to-day." That has generally been the drift of most talk right up to the present.

But are the bankers to blame? We spent the night a few days ago with a newspaper publisher friend in the Upper Peninsula who the director in three banks in that part of the state. These banks were all located in small but prosperous towns.

One of them was in a community of some 500 or 600 souls. Four or five years ago it had on hand some $30,000 in cash. Along came one of the state bank examiners—one of these officials that we paid, we thought, to protect the interests of the depositors—to make an examination of the affairs of that bank.

He found the bank to be in excellent condition. Its loans were good and its business was being run as it should be.

"But you have got too much cash on hand. You have not to buy some Detroit real estate bonds," the examiner told the bank officials.

They protested, strongly so. They said they didn't want to use the depositors' money to buy Detroit real estate bonds with. They declared that during the half century the bank had operated it had never made it a practice to buy securities of that kind.

But the bank examiner persisted in his demand and declared that if his order was not complied with he would report the refusal of the directors to the state banking department.

So the bank directors with the greatest of hesitation and doubt in their minds obeyed the order of the official of the state banking department.

They took this cash they had on hand in the bank and that was used from season to season by the farmers and other business men of the community who always paid it back plus the interest, and they bought Detroit real estate bonds as ordered by the bank examiner.

We all know the story. The order of the state banking department that these little northern Michigan banks buy these bonds closed these banks. It not only closed the northern Michigan banks, but it forced hundreds of others to close, reorganize or operate under moratorium agreements with the depositors.

This does not happen to be the story of just these two or three little banks in the Upper Peninsula. It is the story of most of the bank closings of Michigan.

The Detroit real estate bonds that the state banking department ordered Michigan banks to buy are absolutely worthless. They were worthless at the time the state banking department was forcing the banks to buy them.

You saw after all our troubles were not in every case the fault of the home town banker and the directors of his board. Michigan's banking tragedy can be laid squarely at the door of its banking department. True some bankers did make mistakes, but chiefly the fault lies with the kind of public administration we have had of business affairs and not with the bankers and their directors.

NRA KNAVERY

The other day in a nearby state the local chairman of the NRA committee walked into the shop of a business man of that community and told him that if he couldn't pay the wages that were provided in the code governing his business that he should "shut up shop."

Such an order could only come from a knave or one teeming over with the spirit of destructiveness and viciousness. Administrators of the government's NRA program have time and again made it clear that it is NOT the purpose of the government to put the thousands of small business men of the nation out of business. They have repeatedly and as emphatically as possible declared that it is the purpose of the government through the operations of the NRA to help the small business men of the nation—the

PAVEMENTS AND POVERTY

Aren't about all the troubles of our country and the troubles of the world due to violation of fundamental laws? In recent years the population of the United States has shifted from the land to the city; from the farm homes to the city apartments; from the plowed fields to the concrete pavements and sidewalks. Providence provided a world for us to live in. Even the savage Indians managed to subsist and in some instances waxed fat on a land without man-made improvements.

Gradually things changed for about 25 years without damaging man's health or peace of mind. During the last quarter century, however, man has flocked to artificial surroundings, lured by a new man-made standard of civilization. Instead of walking on two legs and giving him the concrete pavements and sidewalks, he has flocked to artificial surroundings, lured by a new man-made standard of civilization.

Providence bequeathed him, man gets his wheat in fancy colored boxes, wrapped in wax paper and pays from 10 to 100 times the current price of a bushel for it. In short, there are still thousands of acres of idle soil and millions of bushels of food products, and man walks the man-made pavements crying out for food.

We wonder if man is not a land animal: given a brain with which to think and a body which should be kept strong by his own efforts to produce his daily food. Not that he should return to the primitive, but a greater percentage of men should be doing their own thinking, their own work and enjoying the resources which were provided for them by Providence. A young girl expressed it this week upon her return from a first visit to the famous Loop in Chicago. She said, "I cannot understand where all the people come from or where they go to, nor how they live. I don't see why they should hurry back and forth in that smoky, dirty place all their lives when there are so many cleaner and happier places to live."

She couldn't understand and neither can we. We doubt if many of the thousands of jobless, homeless, discouraged souls know themselves. They are caught in the maelstrom of this thing we call civilization and progress, helpless as a flock of bewildered animals in a storm.

MICHIGAN, DOWN ON THE FARM

No matter how poor they may feel, Michigan farmers are in much better position right now than the farmers of other states, for the reason that their crops are averaging much better than elsewhere—probably due to the climatic influence of the Great Lakes. The crop reports for August 16 show Michigan crops (harvested or in prospect) to be far above the average for the whole country, the crops which are in excess of the average production of the country for the past five years being wheat, corn, barley, rye, buckwheat, hay, potatoes, sugar beets, apples and grapes. While cold, heat, droughts, floods, hail, frosts and high winds are factors which affected crop production, the large bodies of water which nearly surround our state are a powerful influence over those factors and temper their destructiveness to a remarkable degree. Again we realize that it is a great blessing to be permitted to live in Michigan.—W. H. Berkeley in The Cassopolis Vigilant.

OBSTRUCTIONISTS

There are some people in this country—and they are mostly "big shots"—who are playing with the fire of disorganized and disturbing rebellion. They are, for instance, putting up hurdles against the Recovery Act, the measures under which have no more political significance than Grants final campaign nearly seventy years ago.—Harry M. Royal in The Oceanian Herald.

AGREED

About the only political comments on (up at the present time are contained in their recent papers that former Governor Fred W. Green wants to run for United States Senator against Senator Vandenberg. All such comments end with advice to Gov. Green to forget it. Nevertheless, here's a prediction. Gov. Green is going to be a candidate. He also will be one defeated candidate.—Harry Izor in The Durand Express.

FUN TO USE AUTHORITY!

Ford has not signed up on the NRA. He is, however, giving better wages and better hours than are called for by the NRA code. Yet the authorities at Washington instead of negotiating and showing Mr. Ford what his signature might mean to the enforcement of their program, they tell what they can do to him: They can put him in jail and soak him $500 per day for each day he operates without signing up. In other words they could put a heap of injustice on him for not doing what they want him to do, irrespective of the fact that he has more than complied with their code.—Frank Bryce in The Grand Tackler Independent.

THE SUCCESS OF NRA

The success of NRA will not be in hunting down small violators of the industrial code and punishing them before the bar of public opinion, but in shutting reprimand of the great international interests capable of shipping vast amounts of European merchandise into this country to be sold on an inflated market thereby destroying American industry and injuring American workers.—Fred Keister in The Ionia County News.

Writes Poem About Good Old Plymouth

Mrs. Maud Snyder of Detroit, a great lover of Plymouth, has written the following poem about this place and has requested The Plymouth Mail to publish it. The verses follow:

Dear old Plymouth,
 'Tis summer time
 And I've come back
 With hook and line.

To catch a glimpse
 Of all your charms,
 To store away,
 But not in barns.

Your stately trees
 In their garb of green,
 Sway in the breeze,
 And keep time unseen.

To me they sing a lullaby,
 I dream and pause,
 And wonder why,
 I know, 'tis God's sweet song.

With the cherry peck completed except in the northern counties, W. R. Roach & Co. reported handling upwards of 3,000,000 pounds at Hart, the Ocean Canning Co. at Shelby ran over the 2,500,000 pound mark, and the New Era Canning Co. at New Era went close to 1,000,000 pounds.

Michigan Farmers Asked to Cut Wheat Crop By 15 Percent

Late announcements from Washington on the emergency program for wheat acreage reduction set the percent of acreage to be reduced, give rules on the use of this ground, and state that the four principal wheat producing countries have entered into an agreement to act together in avoiding future destructive overproduction of wheat.

Farmers in the United States will be asked to reduce their average planting of wheat by 15 percent. This means that Michigan will be asked to devote approximately 100,000 acres of crop land to other purposes than its ordinary one of growing wheat. That 100,000 acres is almost entirely in 24 counties.

Land taken from wheat production can not be used to grow any crop that moves directly to market or which is used to directly increase the amount of meat or dairy products going to market. It can be left unplanted, summer fallow, placed in permanent pasture, used for forest tree plantings, or sown to green manure crops to be plowed down. Meadow crops can be sown if that would have been done under a regular plan of crop rotation. Any cultural practices to control weeds can be used on the land.

Canada, United States, Australia, and Argentina are the four countries endeavoring by cooperative action to prevent future surpluses of tremendous oversupplies of wheat and to obtain an orderly reduction of the present huge carry-over. The agreements were entered into at the London Conference.

Officers Given Aid By Phone Company

Continuing its cooperation with law enforcement agencies, the Michigan Bell Telephone Company states Manager Roy Crowe has just issued the third annual Police Telephone Directory, containing the residence and office telephone numbers of law enforcement officials throughout the state. The directory is designed primarily as a telephone reference list for use of the authorities in getting into touch with each other quickly at any hour of the day or night, either at nearby or distant points. It is being distributed free through the local offices of the company, to state, county and municipal police organizations.

The first section of the directory lists the location, commander in charge and telephone number of all state police detachments. The second contains an alphabetical list of Michigan's 83 counties, the names of the sheriffs, and their home and office telephone numbers. The third section lists cities and villages, alphabetically, giving the names of the police chiefs and their residence and office telephone numbers. By telephone it is possible to reach any police official listed in the directory within a few moments.

There also are pages of long distance telephone rates between 38 representative points, reference to police use of the telegrapher and the long distance telephone conference plan, and sheets for listing frequently used telephone numbers.

Rapid telephone communication is one of the greatest factors in the apprehension of criminal suspects.

25 YEARS AGO

Interesting bits of news Taken from Plymouth Mail

C. H. Bennett has recently purchased the property on Main street formerly owned by Mrs. B. Jane Beck. It is Mr. Bennett's intention to have the house thoroughly remodeled and make it his permanent residence as soon as the work is completed.

Mary Conner returned from Harper hospital Tuesday, accompanied by a nurse, Miss Wheeler. Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McLaren, Mrs. Jay McLaren and Mrs. William Van Vleet and daughter, Leola left Wednesday for an automobile trip to Flint, Saginaw and Ionia.

Mrs. Durfee and daughters from Grand Rapids have moved into Mrs. Root's house on Harvey street until the new house is built.

Miss Alma Hooke left the Bell Telephone office Monday and her place has been filled by Mrs. Jessie Smith.

Dr. Bradley, candidate for Republican nomination for governor, received 113 votes in Plymouth and Governor Warner 80. Northville went 291 for Warner and 54 for Bradley.

The bill west of Charles Smith's house on West Town Line will soon be not only unsafe but impassable unless some work is done on it soon. There are some jobs that keep one busy just drawing their salaries. What is the Northville road man doing?

Farmers do not just like the idea of having all hitching posts put off Main street. They do not like the plan to make them carry their packages to some side street during rainy and sloppy weather.

Butter Prices Are Cut To Aid Farmers

Secretary Wallace, concerned over the difficult situation of the dairy farmers upon whom the enormous surplus of butter is especially burdensome, has suggested that retail stores cooperate with the Agricultural Adjustment Administration by moving butter into consumption as quickly as possible, reducing the price of butter to make it attractive to the consumer on the basis of two cents per pound above local wholesale market.

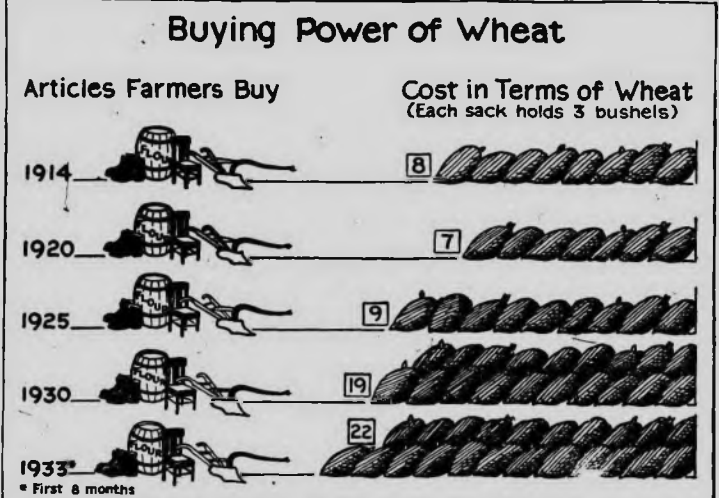

The Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company announces that its cooperation is immediately effective, and that beginning today, butter will be sold in all its stores through the country without profit. For example, if butter is selling at twenty three cents per pound in the wholesale market, A & P has set the retail price of twenty five cents per pound. This two cents only partially covers the retail store's expense. The twenty three cents goes to the dairy farmer.

Feels Real Peppy After She Lost 29 Pounds Of Fat

"At the end of the 2nd bottle of Kruschen I'm happy to say I'm minus my superfluous 29 lbs. I never had a hungry moment and I felt better all the time I was taking them—much more peppy and I lost that lousy, sluggish feeling in the morning." Freida Parks, New Haven, Vt.

A trim, slender figure, new energy, glorious health, youthful activity, clear skin, bright eyes—all these splendid results a half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts first thing each morning in a glass of hot water bring you SAFELY and without discomfort.

One jar lasts 4 weeks and costs but a trifle at any drugstore the world over. Money back if not satisfied. But protect your health—make sure you get Kruschen.

Giving wheat the same buying power that it had in the period before the World War is the goal of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration. This chart shows how big the problem is. In 1914 8 sacks of wheat would buy a pair of shoes, a barrel of flour, and a pig. In 1925 it took 9 sacks of wheat to buy the same set articles. In 1930 it took 19 sacks of wheat and in 1933 it took 22 sacks of wheat. The cause of the low buying power is too great a supply. To remedy the situation, the Agricultural Adjustment Administration has begun a campaign asking farmers to reduce their acreage for 1934 and 1935 crops so that the return from a bushel of wheat will be once more what it was in the pre-war period. In its power to buy the goods which farmers need. The goal of the wheat administration is the 1914 basis, on which 8 sacks of wheat would buy the bill of goods pictured above here.

Government Orders Northville Fish Hatchery to Close

Orders were received a few days ago at Northville to close the U.S. fish hatchery at that place. While no definite date was fixed for the closing, the officials in Washington it is understood, stated the plans should be made immediately for the eventual closing of the place.

The Northville Hatchery is the first one opened by the United States government. It has been in continuous service for over half a century and because of its ideal location and the excellence of its spring water supply, almost any kind of game fish can be produced at this place. In fact the hatchery has been one of the largest producers of small fish in the United States and the closing order because of this fact came as a great surprise.

operation since the change of administration. It is understood that Congressman George Doudero is taking steps to have the order rescinded. The government already closed its other hatcheries in Michigan, the Northville hatchery being the only one owned by the federal government in Michigan that has been kept in operation since the change of administration.

Banks Not Yet Open, Business in Wayne Suffers As Result

Continued success, by the committee appointed to solicit subscriptions for the stock of the new Wayne State Bank is reported this week, despite the absence on vacation of many men from whom the committee solicitors expect to receive subscriptions.

The committee on solicitation which is composed of Alex E. Moore, William Mulholland, Harley E. Smith, Mantous Uht, Muri Lents, George H. Gerbstadt and William B. Detweiler, met last Monday. Regular meetings will be held immediately upon the return of all the members of the committee from their vacations. The absence of business men has delayed, to some extent, according to Mr. Moore, the work of solicitation.

"The business situation in Wayne," said Mr. Moore, "has not improved as it should and business men are agreed that the cause is largely that Wayne has no bank, consequently no proper means of transacting ordinary commercial business."

The new bank calls for a capital structure of $50,000, a surplus of $10,000 and $5,000 undivided profits. The par value of each share of stock is $100.

Coming Attractions At Penniman Allen

"SUNSET PASS"
Rip-roaring, knock-em-down-and-drag-em-out action characterizes the latest Zane Grey saga of the old West that appears at the Penniman Allen Theatre Saturday, September 9, "Sunset Pass." It's Paramount's twenty-eighth production by America's most prolific author of the great outdoors, featuring an all-star cast including Randolph Scott, Tom Keene, Kathleen Burke, Noah Beery, Harry Carey and Kent Taylor.

"THE SILK EXPRESS"
"The Silk Express," which is an attraction at the Penniman Allen Theatre Saturday, September 9, is one of the very few pictures in which the drama is centered in a single location.

The picture is filled with suspense, mystery and thrills, based upon a melodramatic plot to wreck a train carrying millions of dollars worth of raw silk from Seattle to New York. The plot is engineered by a group of men trying to corner the silk market.

Practically all the action, including arson and murder, takes place aboard a heavily guarded Silk Express while speeding across the continent. The principal players are all on the train, including the murderers, the custodian of the silk, guards and special detectives, as well as three mysterious passengers and a tramp.

"TUGBOAT ANNIE"

Thrills, laughs and heart throbs all mingle in the reunion of Marie Dressler and Wallace Beery, beloved team of "Min and Bill," who are again costarred at the Penniman Allen Theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, September 10, 11 and 12 in "Tugboat Annie," filmization of the famous Saturday Evening Post stories of a battling female tugboat captain and her saucy adventures.

Miss Dressler plays Annie, with Beery cast as her shiftless but good-natured mate, Captain Terry. They battle and make up again for countless laughs; there is a dramatic note of mother love and a gigantic thrill in the climax when Beery enters a blazing firebox to repair a boiler at sea and thus save a storm-tossed liner.

Most of the picture was filmed in the Norman Kelly Raine stories, which gives the picture an extraordinary sense of authenticity.

"MIDNIGHT CLUB"

Clive Brook, George Raft, Allan Skipworth and Helen Vinson are co-featured in "Midnight Club," which will be shown at the Penniman Allen Theatre.

Farmers Plan A Chicago Conference

Otto Wittrick, well known farmer residing on R.F.D. No. 2 out of Plymouth and an official of the Michigan Farmers League, states that there will be a national conference of farmers held in Chicago about November 1 for the purpose of discussing farm problems. Plans are being made for the attendance of some 2,000 delegates from all of the states in the Union, says Mr. Wittrick. Farm groups desiring to elect delegates should get in touch with Mr. Wittrick or write to Charles Hacht chairman of Sumpter Township local No. 1, whose address is Belleville.

The story is a breathless, rapid-fire tale of London society, upper-world and underworld, and centers about the efforts of an American detective to break up a great jewel-theft ring which has been preying with impunity on lords and commoners alike.

Why Wait Until Prices Advance Again?

You know you're going to build some day soon—or you know there are improvements you must make before long. We advise you—don't delay! At present building and repair costs are low. Be smart and take advantage of the tremendous savings possible. You'll never get your work done any cheaper than right now!

ST. PETER'S EV. LUTHERAN Spring Street Edgar Hoenecke, Pastor. "What shall it profit a man, if he gain the whole world, and lose his soul?—This divine query is one to make every man pause and reflect. "Lose everything"—as so many of us did between '30 and '33—that is bad—"Lose your life"—that is worse; but "lose his soul"—that is irremediable, irreparable—FINAL. Do we not realize that? "The words which I speak," says Jesus Christ, "they are life and they are Truth." Come hear them, and save your soul unto life eternal! English preaching every Sunday morning at 10:30. Sunday school sessions were resumed with a staff of nine teachers enrolled and fifty children attending. Was your child in Sunday school last Sunday? Are you concerned about your child's spiritual growth and well-being. You may save yourself some tears, when your baby is a youth and some bitter regrets for his eternal weal, if you send your child in Sunday school begins at 9:30. All children from 4 to 8 are eligible. The annual mission festival will be held on the fourth Sunday in September in two services. Morning service at 10:30 and afternoon service at 3:00 o'clock. The Rev. Carl Krauss of Lansing will deliver the afternoon sermon. The allotment for the mission is $200.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH "Man" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, September 3. Among the Bible citations was this passage (Luke 1:14, 15): "And he came and touched the hier and they that bare him stood still. And he said, Young man, I say unto thee, Arise. And he that was dead sat up, and began to speak. And he delivered him to his mother." Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p. 259): "In divine Science, man is the true image of God. The divine nature was best expressed in Christ Jesus, who threw upon mortals the truer reflection of God and lifted their lives higher than their poor thought models would allow,—thoughts which presented man as fallen, sick, sinning, and dying."

WORK

The higher men climb, the longer their working day. And any young man with a streak of idleness in him may better make up his mind at the beginning that mediocrity will be his lot. Without immense, sustained effort he will not climb high. And even the fortune or chance were to lift him high, he would not stay there. For to keep at the top is harder almost than to get there. There are no off-five hours for leaders.—Cardinal Gibbons.

FAMOUS DETROIT SALVATION ARMY CITADEL BAND WILL PLAY PROGRAM OF SACRED MUSIC IN PLYMOUTH SATURDAY EVENING

The Plymouth Salvation Army has arranged for Plymouth to have another Saturday evening open-air band concert. The folks of Plymouth well remember the very fine concert given by the Port Huron band in Kellogg Park some weeks ago. Capt. Everitt has now arranged for the noted Detroit Citadel band numbering 50 pieces to play for the citizens of Plymouth on Saturday, September 9th at 7:30 p. m.

This band which is known all over the state has been in Plymouth before. Some two years ago they gave a concert in the local high school and all that heard them at that time were highly pleased with the fine type of concert given. This combination boasts of some of the finest players in Detroit and all who like high class band music should plan to attend this great open-air concert. Everybody is welcome.

The state of Michigan's bonded indebtedness is $81,250,000 to meet which State Treasurer Theodore I. Fry was holding in the sinking funds on June 30, 1933, the close of the fiscal year, securities together with cash for the purchase of securities, in the amount of $39,218,967.52. The state has an actual program by means of which the sinking funds will be increased to meet bond maturities as they occur.

This information is contained in the first annual report made by Mr. Fry since becoming treasurer and which is now being distributed. The report further shows that the State's sinking funds, on that date, were holding the State's own bonds to the amount of $3,450,000. Principal and interest requirements on the State's bonded indebtedness during the current year are $6,874,103.33. The next bond maturities occur on July 1, 1934, when $1,000,000 Soldiers Bond Refunding bonds fall due, and on November 1, 1934, when Highway Improvement bonds amounting to $1,581,000 must be paid.

The treasurer's annual report also shows that the department was responsible during the fiscal year for $135,941,585.84. Cash on hand at the close of the year was $19,988,968.48.

In addition to listing the state's depositaries and showing the balances in the various accounts, the report sets up the source of the various taxes providing for the September distribution of primary school funds, the deposits by the various insurance and trust companies, a comparison of taxes paid by the counties with the amount of primary school funds received by each and much other information of interest to a student of State affairs.

Angry over a transaction Dec. 10, 1924, Mrs. Emma Zeller, of Milwaukee, Wis., refused to cash a check for $7,036.90 by which she was paid. The amount was paid by the Badger Paint Stores to the circuit court to discharge a mortgage held by Olga, daughter of Mrs. Zeller. Olga didn't appear in court in 1924, so the court sent her a check for the amount. She gave the check to her mother, she said, and her mother refuses to cash it. Olga told the story to Judge Walter Schurz in circuit court recently, and the judge ordered an investigation of the strange case.

H. A. Spicer, Miss Mabel Spicer, Mrs. S. W. Spicer and daughters, Louise and Betty, attended the marriage of Miss Geraldine Spicer Wakely and Harry R. Ford at Highland Park last Friday evening. The ceremony and reception which followed were held in the Highland Park Presbyterian church and were attended by over one hundred guests. Miss Wakely, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wakely, is a granddaughter of Mr. Spicer.

Labor Day Mr. and Mrs. William Arcsott, Mr. and Mrs. Basil Carney, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Dobbs, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Campbell, Miss Winnifred Draper, Elmore Carney of Plymouth, Mr. and Mrs. Olivus Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Waters of Detroit and families had an enjoyable potluck dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Harmon on Golden Road. In the evening several couples attended a dance near Walled Lake.

Mrs. A. J. Koenig and son, Dale, of Port Atkinson, Wisconsin, and Mrs. Fred Thomas and son, Billy, of New Lanvin bar pln. The swagger coat of all silk corduroy velvet is also white.

More millions probably have been led to death by "Tom," a 225-pound goat, than by any other executioner in history. "Tom" is chief of the sheep-leading squad at a packing plant in Fort Worth, Tex. When a new batch of mutton is needed he is turned into the sheep pens. The sheep follow him into the slaughter room. There "Tom" suddenly turns and descends the long exit chute alone. For three years "Tom" has been the Judas of hundreds of flocks.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Wilson and children, Thomas and Helen, of Royal Oak were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bieby and family at their home on Pennington avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. John Harmon will attend the wedding of Miss Eleanor Selbert and George Osterback at the home of Miss Selbert on West Grand Boulevard, Detroit, Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John Smith were hosts Labor Day to a party of Detroit friends and relatives and enjoyed a picnic dinner on their lawn on Pennington avenue.

Miss Elizabeth Burrows was hostess Thursday to the sewing group of girls at their cooperative luncheon at her home on Pennington avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Finlan and son, Charles, were dinner guests Sunday of her sister, Mrs. George Weltzmann, and family in Detroit. The Ambassador and Friendly potluck clubs held an enjoyable potluck dinner Thursday at Riverside Park.

The Junior bridge club held its monthly cooperative dinner at Riverside Park Wednesday evening.

The American Legion and their families enjoyed a potluck dinner Monday in Riverside Park.

Mrs. B. B. Giles is visiting her sister-in-law, Mrs. R. O. Wilmouth, in Adrian for a few days.

Miss Zella Boyd was in Traverse City from Saturday until Monday. Miss Ethel Anderson of Grand Rapids and Carl Roth of Ann Arbor were Tuesday visitors at the B. E. Giles home on Blunk avenue.

The teachings of the Boy Scouts of America, of which he was a member, made a strong impression on Clarence Hickens, of Salt Lake City, Utah. His ability to live up to the scout code brought him due recompense. Clarence, the son of a poor widow, was given a pair of used trousers by the Neighborhood House, a relief organization. In the pockets he found a silver dollar, which he returned promptly to the organization. Tracing down the source of the trousers, officials learned the donor was E. B. Helaler, scoutmaster. Mr. Helaler, however, requested that the money be returned to the boy. This was done, and Clarence was able to buy a new pair of shoes.

Col. Turner won the American airplane speed championship at Los Angeles capturing the $7,500 Thompson trophy. He averaged 241.051 miles an hour, some ten miles short of the mark set by Jimmy Doolittle last year.

This large hat of white with a scarlet velvet crown matches the simple velvet scarf held in place with the new Lanvin bar pin. The swagger coat of all silk corduroy velvet is also white.
