

PLYMOUTH NRA BOARD GIVEN INSTRUCTIONS

Advised By Government How To Handle All Complaints

Secretary Berg Moore of the Plymouth NRA Compliance board, has received instructions from national headquarters as to just how complaints are to be made and how they are to be handled.

From the instructions provided him, it is apparent that those selected to administer the code intend to use judgment and not to place stumbling blocks in the way of employers of labor who are doing what they can to comply with the requirements of the various codes and agreements.

The regulations require that all complaints be in writing, states Mr. Moore, and signed by the person making the complaint. No attention will be given any complaint that does not have name and address of the person making the complaint.

After a complaint has been received, the government requests the secretary of the board to get in touch with the employer and explain the regulations pointed out that in nearly every case complaints are due to misunderstandings and lack of information about the various codes and agreements.

Only the employer who is complained against can receive the public anything about a complaint, Secretary Moore or no member of the board, including its chairman, Rev. Walter Nichol, are entitled to reveal to the public any information about any complaint that has been filed with the board.

As an indication of how careful the National Recovery Administration is in the handling of complaints of alleged violations, it specifies that an employer cannot be required to answer before the board. The regulations say "the board should keep in mind at all times that he is there voluntarily and should govern his attitude toward him accordingly. The proceedings must not take on the character of litigation or of inquisition."

Again the regulations say "no questions should be asked except those strictly necessary to determine whether or not the employer is complying. This hearing should not be taken advantage of to pry into a man's business. The board has no power to compel the attendance or examination of witnesses or to compel the submission of books or other papers to the board."

The regulations even go so far as to state that if an employer takes the position of standing on his constitutional rights or refuses to answer questions because it might incriminate him, the legal member of the board, Attorney John Dayton, should make it clear that the President's Re-employment Agreement is not a statute to be enforced by law, "but a voluntary individual covenant."

Mr. Moore points out that from these regulations and other provisions he has received, that the entire attitude and spirit of the administrators of the NRA act is one of cooperation and assistance. It is made clear that if the board does find a willful case of violation that its records are to be submitted to the proper federal authorities for such action as they may see fit to take.

Club Celebrates Its Fifth Anniversary

The members of the Business and Professional Women's Club most efficiently started their activities for the year by celebrating the fifth birthday of the club, at a dinner meeting held in the Crystal dining room of the Mayflower hotel. A most popular program had been worked out by the hostesses.

Mrs. Norma Cassidy sang two vocal solos in her usual pleasing manner.

Miss Alice Safford and Mrs. Mrs. George A. Smith of the title of "Headlines of Yesterday," gave an interesting resume of the Club's activities since its organization.

Miss Irene Humphries favored the club with a toojance. Miss Carolina Penney accompanying her on the piano.

Miss Florence Pollock, of Ann Arbor, who is chairman of the research committee of the Michigan Federation of Business and Professional Women, addressed the club choosing for her topic "The Aims of the Business and Professional Women's Clubs for 1933 and 1934."

LARGE CROWD ATTENDS RALLY

Nearly 1,200 Republicans gathered in Wicks Grove south of Wayne last Saturday afternoon to hear inspiring addresses by leaders in the party. The rally sponsored by members of the West-End Wayne County Republican club was one of the largest of its kind ever held in this section. After addresses by visiting Republicans the crowd was treated with sandwiches, iced doughnuts and coffee.

Ernest Gulla of Wayne introduced the speaker, George A. Smith of Plymouth who acted as toastmaster for the affair. The first speaker on the program was former Congressman John Sosnowski of the first Michigan congressional district. Following him were Joseph Armstrong, former Wayne legislator, member Judge Homer Ferguson, Chas. H. Culver, former Circuit Judge, LaJoy and Judge Harry Hulbert of the Probate Court.

The last speaker on the program was former Governor Wilbur Frank who did much to again inspire the party to regain the position it so recently lost. Former Governor Brucker stated that even though Democrats were in power and were attempting to bring about a New Deal to better business conditions it was the duty of every loyal Republican to do his part in the present program for better business and better living conditions.

Republican leaders from Plymouth, Northville, Wayne and surrounding towns took an active part in arranging the program and details for the occasion.

After the fall rains come, the winter snows melt and the spring water that will flow down the Rouge river during the next few fall and winter months will be sufficient to entirely cover the nearly mile of lake bed that has been created.

It is not proposed to stop entirely the flow of Rouge river at present so that the lake can be filled. Engineers believe that the surplus water that will flow down the Rouge river during the next few fall and winter months will be sufficient to entirely cover the nearly mile of lake bed that has been created.

A trip down through the new section of park highway recently opened is necessary to gain some idea of the size of the proposed artificial lake as well as the ideal location selected for it. The new parkway road will skirt the north shore of the lake from the present east end of the Plymouth-Riverside park to the Newburg road.

About half way down the shore line, a hill formation some 500 feet high. There will be no stumps or other refuse left in the bottom of the lake. Engineers in charge of the project have seen to it that the proposed bottom of the lake will be entirely clear of all obstructions.

The embankments to the north and south of the dam are practically completed. When the fill is complete, there will be constructed over the top of the dam a highway that will connect Plymouth road with Golden road, practically the same right of way as the old Newburg road being followed.

Just as one turns from the Plymouth road onto the new parkway paving north of the dam there has been created an attractive arrangement for future floral and shrub plantings.

While it is not the intention of county officials to do additional concrete work this fall, much filling and grading will be done right up to the end of the season. The fill for the continuation of the parkway road along the north side of Plymouth between the Plymouth-Northville road and the Ford Wilcox plant is nearly finished. By spring the entire section from the Northville road, past the Wilcox factory and under the Pere Marquette tracks will have been filled and graded and as soon as weather conditions permit in the spring, paving will be laid over this stretch. The link will connect the Plymouth-Riverside park with that park section now being created to the north of Plymouth. By the end of another year Plymouth will be surrounded on the east and north by one of the most beautiful park systems in the north central states.

Howard Eckles is in the Northville hospital for observation and treatment.

League Holds Next Meeting October 9

The League of Women Voters will hold their next regular meeting Monday, October 9th at the home of Mrs. F. W. Carley, 679 N. 1st. The topic of the business meeting which begins at 8 p. m. the speaker of the day will be introduced.

Mr. Whitesell of Ann Arbor and a member of the staff of the Michigan Municipal League of that place will talk on "Public Utilities." The Michigan Municipal League has been working intensively for the past ten years on this subject and "Public Utilities" is one of the questions on the League of Women Voters study program for this year.

The League extends an invitation to all women interested in hearing Mr. Whitesell discuss Public Utilities.

WINTER RAINS AND SNOW WILL FILL NEW LAKE

Dam In Plymouth-Riverside Park Finished In Last Few Days

Workers have practically completed the dam that will form the new lake to be located just west of the Newburg road and south of the Plymouth road.

After the fall rains come, the winter snows melt and the spring water that will flow down the Rouge river during the next few fall and winter months will be sufficient to entirely cover the nearly mile of lake bed that has been created.

Game Laws For You

The Plymouth Mail has received a number of copies of the new hunting laws and regulations. If you desire one, just call at the office and request a copy. There is no charge of any kind. If the supply runs out, additional copies will be secured. Because of the fact that there are a number of rather important changes, it is urged that you secure a copy for your own protection.

LOCAL TEAM BREAKS EVEN WITH VISITORS

NEWBURG DAIRY PLAYS WEST POINT PARK THIS SUNDAY

The Plymouth Schuder-Hagert divided a double-header with West Point Park last Sunday dropping the first, 5 to 3, and winning the second, 13 to 4. The contests were played at Plymouth-Riverside Park before the largest crowd of the season.

In the first game, Harold Panoski, Plymouth southie, was opposed on the mound by Herman Harner, West Point's star left-hander. Orson Atchinson did the receiving for Plymouth, and John Jayska for West Point.

The nightcap saw Hammond Jaska and Destefano taking their turn in the box for West Point, while Eddie Wittenberg went the route for Plymouth, allowing six scattered hits. Ronald Lyke worked behind the plate for Plymouth, and Jayska for West Point.

Ann Arbor Kadettes, members of the Michigan-Ontario League, will make their first appearance in Plymouth, Sunday, October 8th, when they will play a double-header with Plymouth, at Plymouth-Riverside Park. The first game will start at 1:30 o'clock.

West Point Park will be the attraction at Newburg next Sunday at 3 p. m. The Newburg Dairy has won seventeen of their last eighteen games played so a good game is expected.

Organize Theatre Guild In Plymouth

A meeting was held Wednesday of this week at the high school for the purpose of organizing a Plymouth Civic Theatre Guild. An enthusiastic and deeply interested group of approximately twenty-five attended.

Miss Neva Lovewell, members of the Plymouth high school faculty presided and explained the purpose and organization methods to be followed. Her comments regarding the highly successful Lansing Civic Theatre Guild made those present feel that it would be well worth their time to organize a Civic Guild in Plymouth.

Miss Irene Humphries was chosen as president, John Harmon, vice president, and Miss Neva Lovewell, secretary. A follow up meeting was scheduled for eight o'clock next Wednesday evening, October 11 at the Plymouth high school. Everyone present at the organization meeting pledged their enthusiastic support. A cordial invitation is extended to everyone interested.

Dale Elliston left Plymouth Sunday for Fort Worth, Texas where he will be employed by Harold Sage in the hotel the latter manager.

LOCAL PLANTS RUNNING TO THEIR CAPACITY

Demand For Plymouth Products Increases Local Payrolls

If increased payrolls and addition of night shifts mean an increase in business Plymouth merchants have much to look forward to in the next few months. Orders pouring into the Daisy Manufacturing plant necessitated the addition of a night shift and Daisy officials are busy figuring how to accommodate the many workers that are now employed. The present employment record again brings the number of employees to the peak of Daisy production during the last 50 years.

Orders of thousands and thousands of flying tops are being speeded into the big plant and with the unusually large demand for popular Daisy air rifles and pop guns the executives of the concern are spending many hours figuring ways to cope with the demand. Carpenters are busily engaged in building new lockers to accommodate the employees and warehouse employees are swamped with guns and tops in an attempt to send them throughout the world to eagerly waiting children.

Many, many thousands of flying tops being made for the General Mills Corporation where they are given as a premium to the followers of Jack Armstrong, hero of "The Lone Ranger."

W.C.T.U. Meets At Home of Mrs. Todd

The Phoebe Patterson Women's Christian Temperance Union met on Tuesday of last week at the home of Mrs. Clara P. Todd. After a vacation of two months, the first meeting of the fall assumed the nature of a reunion with a cooperative luncheon at one o'clock.

A business meeting followed and plans for the fall and winter program gave evidence of a new zeal and interest in the work.

The president of Seventeenth District, Mrs. Elizabeth Irwin, of Rosedale Park was present and stressed the advantages of attendance at the State Convention which will be held at Traverse City, October 17-20 and the District Convention which meets in Pontiac on October 25th.

Mrs. Louie Mulford, Mrs. John Paul Morrow and Mrs. Clara Patterson Todd expect to attend the state convention. Mrs. Ruth Huston Whipple and Mrs. Morrow were elected delegates to the district convention. All members are urged to make an active effort to go to Pontiac and are asked to call Mrs. Todd so that transportation can be provided for those without cars.

The next meeting will be the annual meeting at which time there will be an election of officers for the coming year. Reports of the general officers and department directors will be a part of the afternoon's program.

This meeting will be called at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. John Paul Morrow, 388 Starkweather avenue. Members and friends are urged to keep the date in mind be cause a good attendance is desired.

PENSIONS FOR AGED WILL BE AID TO MANY

Study Of Plan Proves It Of More Benefit Than Expected

By V. J. Brown

A great deal of confusion exists in the public mind concerning the manner in which the old age pension act passed by the 1933 legislature will work. The governor has been quoted in language which, if the quotation is correct, indicates that even the executive mind is somewhat confused. In fact in his message accompanying his executive approval of the act, the governor pointed out what he stated were fundamental errors.

The idea of old age pensions is by no means a new theory. In European countries, pensions for the aged have been the accepted policy for many generations. It is now, however, in the United States, the first of the acts having been adopted by a few of the states as late as 1925. For the past 10 years, the chief objective of the Fraternal Order of Eagles has been to secure the passage of old age pension acts in the several states, the Michigan organization having been among the most active of any of the states.

As stated above, the Michigan statute adopted last winter at Lansing is greatly misunderstood. The state director of welfare who is charged with its administration perhaps are as responsible as anything else for the gross misunderstanding now so prevalent. These statements, together with statements accepted to the governor have been enlarged upon by Lansing press correspondents until the public mind is in a state of confusion.

Estimates Vary

In the first place the estimates of the cost of providing old age pensions under the act have ranged from $3 million to sixty million dollars annually. According to the latest estimates based upon the latest United States census figures and the experience of other states with similar laws, the actual cost in Michigan should not exceed $4,000,000.

Nine states are now operating under laws very similar to that passed by the Michigan legislature. The average number of persons actually granted old age pensions in these nine states is found to be 3.43 to each 1000 inhabitants. In 1932, the last available date for which data is obtainable, the average pension in these nine states amounted to $19.38 per month.

If Michigan experienced like results under its act there should be a total of 16,408 persons eligible to all age pensions, which at a rate of $20 per month would amount to $3,281,600. Cost of collecting the pension tax is placed below $500,000 the first year with considerable less expense in the years to follow once the system is established. The forms and equipment purchased.

These figures are not wild guesses. They are based on census figures as to population and upon the experience of other states, similar in character of population as to the number actually to receive pensions.

Many believe that every one who has reached the age of 70 and who is not possessed of property to the value of $2500 or more is eligible to receive a full pension of one dollar per day. This is far from correct. The act provides many other tests, chief among which is whether or not the aged person has children or other near relatives able to support him or her. Then, too, the amount of the pension is not $30 per month. That sum is the maximum and in actual experience is seldom reached. In many cases it is found that five or 10 dollars is quite sufficient to permit the aged person to live comfortably in his own home with garden and poultry and sometimes fuel supplied from his own lands.

Under the Michigan statute, the aged person applying for a pension must not only satisfy the county board of his worthiness and his need, he must also pass scrutiny by a state agency which is set up with full authority to deny the application entirely or to tone it down to actual and necessary requirements, each case standing entirely upon its own merits. Further than this the state board is empowered at all times to scale the pensions granted down to the revenues received from the special tax imposed. There is no disbursement, under the act as it now stands, in excess of the amounts received from the head tax imposed for this specific purpose and for no other.

Head Tax Possibilities

Now what about the possibilities of a head tax for the support of the old age pension plan?

According to the last United States census there were 15 in Michigan in 1930, exactly 3,184,975 persons above the age of 21. Figuring a loss of population since that time by reason of economic and industrial depression, and estimating this loss at 400,000 and figuring that those now on the welfare lists

Methodists Are Pleased Over The Return of Pastor

REV. PHILIP RAY NORTON

Assigned to the First Methodist church of Plymouth for another year's work, Rev. Philip Ray Norton has lost no time in continuing the excellent work he has started in this city. Members of the church are highly pleased to know that the conference has returned him here for another year and even though dismissed from his charge at the church as well as everything else, it is anticipated that continued progress will be made during the ensuing twelve months.

The church is fortunate at one time to have the leadership of one of the outstanding ministers of the denomination. (Continued on page seven)

KIWANIS CLUB OPENS BOWLING ALLEYS HERE

Plymouth Kiwanians announced Tuesday that the Pentamann Allen Bowling alley will be opened under their direction next Wednesday night. The club has taken over the management and direction of the alley and its affairs and tournaments. A committee consisting of Glenn Smith, Roy Sising, Perry Helwing, Roy Cowie and Sterling Gaton are in charge of the preliminary work. The alley will be a well kept place for children and women bowlers.

A special day to be announced next week will be set aside for women. Much interest in this day is already aroused and several local women have announced their intention of availing themselves of this opportunity.

A Kiwanis committee consisting of Victor Sising, Dr. Luther Peck, Robert Joffitt and Edwin A. Schrader is handling the organizing and booking teams for both men and ladies to compete in the several matches that will be run off during the bowling season.

Ray Gilder, formerly of the State Highway department and an experienced bowler will be in active charge of the alley and will give free instructions to people interested in learning how to bowl. Organizations, stores and factories wishing to enter teams in competition may get in touch with Mr. Gilder at the alley or see any members on the team committee.

The alley will be opened Tuesday evening for an all Kiwanis night. Local members and members of other clubs throughout southern Michigan will take part in the event. The alley will be opened for public play Wednesday at 11:30 a. m. October 11. Everyone is invited to play.

Blank's Hold Stores Greatest Sale Event

Beginning today Blank Brothers are opening the greatest store wide sale ever known in their history. Every piece of merchandise in the store is being offered for sale at prices far below actual cost and it is the intention of the management to clean out the entire stock.

Blank stated yesterday that when the sale ends he hopes to restock his store with brand new merchandise and he intends to unload his present stock regardless of cost. The large basement store is to be wiped out to make way for new lines of merchandise. This entire department will be done away with. In order to do this prices have been slashed and merchandise is cheaper than ever before. Plymouth residents can make exceptionally wonderful buys during this event as every article in the store will be sacrificed for immediate sale.

Medames Dickerson, Norton, Covert, Seldomick and Ross are attending the Any Arbor District meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the M. E. church at Hudson, Thursday and Friday.

REPORT TELLS OF TRAINING SCHOOL WORK

Hundreds Of Children Are Benefitted By Aid They Receive

Most comprehensive and interesting is the annual report of Dr. Robert Haskell of the Wayne County Training school just filed with the Wayne county board of supervisors. Never before has such a complete and detailed report of the work and affairs of the school been prepared. The report of that not shere the establishment of the school has there been such a demand for the admission of children as during the past year and this demand has come at a time when the work of the school has been somewhat curtailed due to prevailing conditions. The admissions were the highest during the past year of any except the second year of the school's existence, a total of 201 children having been taken into the school since the last annual report.

The average amount of time a child is retained at the school for training in some useful occupation has been two and seven-tenths years. This record, the report points out, is by far the lowest in point of time of any similar institution in the United States and indicates clearly the efficiency of the local school.

Dr. Haskell quotes from the report of the research department of the state of Massachusetts a paragraph in which that state points out that it appears advisable at this time to give consideration to the program for the cure of the mentally defective. An increase in facilities would enable us to select and train a larger proportion of those on our waiting list. Training of those who are retarded should be centered in institutions in the means of earning a livelihood and on the development of good social characteristics.

Emphasis is laid on the point that it is the purpose of the Wayne County Training school to provide the best foundation for the child, their way into that school with a knowledge of some way of making a living as well as raising their standards of living.

Woman's Club To Meet at Luncheon

A luncheon will inaugurate the activities of the Woman's Club of Plymouth for the coming club year. The luncheon will be held Friday (today) in the Coffee Shop at the Hotel Mayflower where decorations of bright autumn leaves and flowers will form a colorful setting for the club members, their guests and the past presidents of the club.

Following the luncheon all will adjourn to the Crystal Room where each past president will give a short talk on the endeavors and accomplishments of the club during her term.

Following these talks when with determination are expected to add greatly to the afternoon's enjoyment and when many half forgotten memories of past club years will be revived, another pleasing feature will be the two piano numbers by Mrs. Helen B. Wallbridge, who is present.

The executive board according to a custom of several years standing has made the arrangements for this first meeting.

The board consists of the following officers of the club: Mrs. Charles A. Ball, president; Mrs. Roy Johns, secretary; Mrs. George A. Smith, 2nd vice president; Mrs. Robert D. Shaw, secretary; Mrs. Walter Nichol, recording secretary; Mrs. Ruth Huston-Whipple, treasurer; and the three directors, Mrs. Frank Burrows, Mrs. Ray Hills and Mrs. Maurie Woodworth.

The past presidents who have been invited to speak or to send greetings, are with one or two exceptions all have expressed a desire to respond by sending a letter or by being present. Mrs. F. B. Adams, Mrs. Elmer W. Chaffee, Mrs. Fred A. Dibble, Mrs. Samuel O. Hinds, Miss Lucia Durfee, John I. Travis, Mrs. H. E. Cooper, Mrs. Ada Murray, Mrs. George E. Hudson, Mrs. Charles W. Humphries, Mrs. Robert O. Chappell, Mrs. D. W. McKinna, Mrs. B. R. Gilbert, Mrs. Charles Rathburn, Jr. and Mrs. C. H. Bennett.

COMMENDABLE ACTION

The public cannot help but applaud the action of President Roosevelt for calling a halt on the fight that Gen. Hugh Johnson was trying to stir up on Henry Ford. The President, a far-sighted and fair thinking executive, saw the rocks ahead for the NRA program if General Johnson insisted on persecuting one who had pioneered in all the things that President Roosevelt hopes to accomplish through the new economic condition he is forcing upon the country. Right along this line it might be stated that a few days ago executives of the Ford Motor company had ordered a four day week for the employees of that company. Appearing in last week's issue of The Dearborn Press was the following news item pertaining to this order:

"The main plant and all branches of the Ford Motor company will resume a 40-hour week immediately on Henry Ford's personal order. It was learned by the Press, at noon today. The reduced number of hours required under the NRA auto code will be met by future adjustments of time schedules.

"The reasons assigned for the change is that the rapid increase in the cost of living under a 35 hour week is insufficient to support a family. In spite of the recent wage increase which placed the Ford rates considerably above code requirements.

"Revision of wages upward affecting skilled labor, still continue in all departments of the Ford plant."

It will be seen from this that Mr. Ford has the same interest in the welfare of his workers as he did when he started the country a few years ago by cutting working hours and giving his men $5 per day. President Roosevelt and Mr. Ford think alike. The military trained administrator of the new deal should keep this in mind.

A CHALLENGE

Present unrest and disturbed conditions have brought us face to face with the problems of our own progress.

We have advanced far in science and invention, most of all in the manufacture of machines. We find that we have advanced beyond the mentality and ability of the average person to properly use to best advantage that which we have made.

We are met by a challenge.

Are we going to be controlled and dominated by the inventions of genius and swept off our balance by material advancement, or are we going to use these things for the betterment of man's condition?

I have no doubt of our ability to control our inventions and harness our material advancement to the best advantage—but we must go back to the foundation of successful living so that our social life may develop along with our scientific advancement.

Whatever may be the progress of the world there are certain fundamental principles of life that must always be observed to keep civilization from its own ruin.

We must cease to some extent, the worship of the god of pleasure, and curb our money-mad dispositions. Love must rule in the home for that fundamental institution to maintain its proper position. Honest dealings between all peoples must be the basis of trade and fellowship to restore confidence now lacking. Collapse follows greed and selfishness. All the virtues of clean living must be honored to prevent degeneration.

We are learning anew these things, I believe, but we had lapsed in our regard for them because of too much material prosperity. Our inventions and scientific progress for a time almost overwhelmed us, but with the exercise of common sense we can keep in balance our social, spiritual and economic factors.—Reville, Port Gibson, Miss.

MR. COMSTOCK AGAIN

The writer was chided a bit the other day about some editorial comment that had been made pertaining to Governor Bill Comstock. It was suggested there might be a bit of politics in it. Dead wrong. Mr. Comstock is a Democrat and Mr. Brucker, his predecessor, is a Republican. We think that no two men were ever greater misfits for the job to which they were elected than Republican Brucker and Democrat Comstock. Of course there is this difference—those that knew intimately the political history of Republican Brucker did not expect him to make good when he was elected. However that is not so of Democrat Comstock. Mr. Comstock had the support and good will of nearly everybody in Michigan when he took office. They thought he would make good and were anxious to see him make good. The writer was one of this number. During his campaign for the governorship he had indicated some considerable knowledge of state affairs and problems. However he had been in office less than a month when it was plainly evident that another Brucker had been elected to the office. It might be added the longer it gets the worse it gets. So if criticism of a Republican governor and a Democratic governor is politics, well and good. We simply repeat it—both are political accidents and misfits.

SMALLER LEGISLATURES

Why not smaller legislatures to reduce the cost of government? These are days when our thoughts run to retrenchment and economy, and it would seem that this might well extend itself to include a reduction in representation in the legislature itself. That such an effort would meet with immediate realization is hardly likely, for representatives willing to legislate themselves out of office, or constituencies willing to cut down their representation would be something new in the annals of officialdom.

Representation is the only argument against such a movement, as we see it, and it would seem that such an argument might readily be overcome, if a fair and honest redistricting, cutting down the number of legislative districts, was presented to the people for their consideration and action.

Each reapportionment has shown population changes which have made redistribution of representation seem logical, and has resulted in an increase rather than a decrease in representation. We are firmly convinced that every such increase in the legislative body has tended to make it more unwieldy and less able to function smoothly and in a minimum of time, to say nothing of the increased cost to the people of such increased representation. Now, when the watchword is economy and a reduction of public expenditures, and consequent lowering of taxes, it should be a good time for agitation for action to decrease the number of state senators and representatives. Such a movement might well be extended to the national house of representatives.—Press, Norfolk, Nebraska.

THE SPIRIT OF A TOWN

The quality and character of communities varies with the type of citizenry who make them up. Some towns are without much semblance of ordinary decency, the buildings and homes within them for the most part being shoddy and run-down, while the men and women who are seen sitting or walking about, (mostly just sitting), are about as agile and speedy in their perambulations as a glacier moving over a mountain range.

There are many such towns in the world—nearly all of them with rapidly decreasing populations. They have "gone to seed," and decades will pass before many of them reap a better crop.

Then there are other communities who reveal to the world varying degrees of progress and improvement, whose populace are correspondingly more animated, whose buildings and homes tell the cock-eyed world that "Here folks, is a place where life may be lived to its fullest. Come and live with us, enjoy yourselves, rear your families, and otherwise be of good cheer and enduring peace."

After all, it is the SPIRIT and the COOPERATION of a group of human beings who constitute what we call communities that determines the quality and character of them. What people THINK, what they HOPE and YEARN for, what they are willing to SACRIFICE for are generally reflected in the physical property within their corporate limits. And these qualities are also reflected in the speedier and more progressive perambulations of people who can out-walk any glacial that ever thawed its way over the landscape.—Eccentric, Birmingham, Mich.

DOERS AND LEANERS

"WE'VE GOT TOO MANY LEADERS," states P. H. Joyce, president of the Chicago Great Western Railroad, recently. "Too many people in this country have not learned to sharpen their wits on the grindstone of necessity. WORDY EVER GOT ANYWHERE BY WAITING. Doing something, even if you do it wrong—is better than doing nothing at all."

I am reminded of a college president who says the trouble today is everybody is waiting. From college students to business executives. A lot of seniors are planning post-graduate courses for next year—to wait for better times and better chances for jobs. I'm telling my boys not to come back. I'm telling them to get out and hustle the way their fathers had to do."

That is the very essence of our troubles of today in the economic world. Too many people are waiting to be reborn with a silver spoon in their mouths. Too many young folks are just "rearing up" till a good job shows up. Quite too many older ones, finding a paternal government willing to give them aid, are sitting by, accepting a dole and living off others who are bearing thus a double burden—accepting alms when they should be ashamed to do so, and forming the fixed habit of becoming a "leaner."

The doers of today will rule the world tomorrow.—Republican-Leader, Salem, Ind.

Rambling Around With Michigan Editors

WHAT DO YOU THINK?

Over in Chester, Penn., several hundred of Ford's men walked out. They went on a strike. Why? No one seems to know. Anyway the company didn't know. They just simply walked out. It doesn't take very much brains to know, who is responsible for that walk-out! There were 2400 left who, of course, were useless without the 800 who went out. An NRA representative hustled down to Chester to mediate, but was advised that there was nothing to mediate as the plant was closed.

Double crossing, hi-jacking and boycotting are unsafe political principles, and unless governmental procedure is one of sympathy and help, rather than such high handed, coercive and destructive methods it will surely fail. All power to Ford in fighting a governmental monster instead of a governmental recovery act!—Frank Bryce in The Grand Lodge Independent.

INDIVIDUALISM MUST PASS

Well, what do you know about this? Louis Alber in a speech which he made in the employ of the NRA stated that "The rugged individualism of Americanism must go, because it is contrary to the purpose of the New Deal and of the NRA, which is re-making America." Mike Hartley, Campbell, Secretary and Manager of the Detroit Chamber of Commerce who announced that it is time for all small business men to fold up and go to work for the large manufacturers. Alber appears to speak with authority from the higher ups. No enunciation could possibly be made which will do more harm to the chances of the successful operation of the NRA program than to announce that it proposes to run the small man out of business. Some one is crazy somewhere—who is it? Are we going to sit idly by while theorists turn the clock back for several centuries and put us all back into a state of serfdom?

We just cannot believe that President Roosevelt has any such crazy notions at all, and we feel that those who set their tongues going and neglect caution as to what they say are doing this administration an immense amount of harm and working serious handicaps upon the successful operation of the recovery act.—Frank D. Bryce in Grand Lodge Independent.

BASIC RELIGION

Thoughtfulness coupled with a sincere charity ranging from ordinary acts of kindness to financial assistance is basic religion. A stingy person is never religious. Generosity, predicted on one's ability to give, is the first requisite of genuine Christianity. Decency, character and other essentials are usually found in persons possessing the first mentioned requirements. I read something today which to my notion is bed rock religion and in one particular suggests the program of Rotary Clubs everywhere:

There are always children to be served, to be taught and to be led. Jobs may fall; spiritual values may grow dim; truth and duty may seem clouded; but ever at hand are little children, to whom one may minister in the Master's name.

To make a child happy is to gladden the heart of Christ.

To remove a pitfall from before the feet of children is to prepare a highway for the Lord.

To feed a hungry child, to dry the tears of a weeping child, to put new interests and opportunities into the life of an underprivileged child, is to join the company of the Wise Men who brought precious gifts to an infant King.—Muri E. DeFoe in Charlotte Republican-Tribune.

QUEEN SEASON OVER

With the first heavy frost most of Michigan's fairy queens will go into retirement.—J. E. McMillen in the Linden Leader.

COMSTOCK'S "DIGNITY"

Governor William A. Comstock declares that he is the victim of political foes, and that "it is beneath my personal dignity of the high office I hold to answer them." His Excellency, apparently, is so close to the woods that he cannot see the trees. He is one of the most tragic figures that has come to light in Michigan in many a year. And personally, he is, or has been, or will be, a fine fellow, really well intentioned and desirous of helping others.—George Averill, Birmingham Eccentric.

We have a Pigeon woman who thinks a dog has more sense than the average man. She says that a dog can bury a bone in the back yard and a month later dig it up, and that a man can put his pipe down in the house, and in five minutes it takes the entire family to find it.—Geo. Shaw in Pigeon Progress.

"CRACKING DOWN" ON NEWSPAPERS

Senator Schall, Republican, of Minnesota, is credited with saying that after January 1, "we shall witness the destruction of all newspapers that attempt to criticize the gods controlling our national political administration."

We doubt that this is the sentiment of President Roosevelt or of any one authorized to speak for him. We have just enough confidence in our President to believe that the suppression of free speech is the last thing that he would consent to. President Roosevelt knows that an effort to throttle the press would result in a struggle the result of which is hard to foretell at this time. A free press is necessary to a free America.—Crystal Falls Diamond Drill.

"WE, THE PEOPLE"

During this vague dictatorship which is clothing the European scene with shirts of many colors, citizens of the United States may well have occasion to renew their acquaintance with that great document which assures a government controlled by the people rather than by the rulers.

In this 146th year of American liberties enjoyed under the provisions of the Constitution, it is well—as has been recommended in connection with the observation of "Constitution Week"—that the flag of the United States be displayed wherever the Blue Eagle is shown. This not only as a call to patriotism, but as a reminder that while the Constitution stands no permanent domination by federal government in the minutiae of personal affairs is possible.

The threat of dictatorship looms not large over a nation the citizens of which retain confidence in their widespread abilities to govern themselves. American traditions write a story of independent thinking culminating in mass action for a common purpose.

Thus far in the history of the United States the individuality of its citizens has shown no subservience to any man. Even in the present period of wide powers delegated to the Chief Executive, the attitude generally is one of confidence that these powers will not be abused. Any indication of the dictatorial viewpoint emanating from the White House would almost certainly be met by the people with a communal club bent from the timber of the Constitution.

Today, as in Jefferson's time for popmilt echoes the sage of Monticello: "In questions of power, there is no more to be feared of confidence in man, but blind him down from mischief by the chains of the Constitution."

Celebrations commemorating the 146th anniversary of the adoption of the Constitution appropriately may be observed from both backward- and forward-looking points of view—backward-looking to appraise the benefits gained under the sway of this now oldest among written national constitutions; forward-looking to spy out heights

Duck Hunters Out In Full Force On The Opening of Season

Plymouth's army of duck hunters ventured forth Sunday into the swamps, swalls, ponds, lakes and bays in this part of the state in search of ducks that are reported to be most plentiful this year. It was the opening day of the season and long before the official sunrise hour local hunters were well concealed in their blinds on favored hunting spots. Some had good luck, others did not.

So that the hunters who have not yet ventured forth may know the hours that duck hunting is permitted, the following table is published for their benefit:

Oct. 7, half hour before sunrise, 6:10; Sunset 6:20.
 Oct. 8-15 inclusive, half hour before sunrise, 6:20; Sunset 6:10.
 Oct. 16-23 inclusive, half hour before sunrise, 6:30; Sunset 6:00.
 Oct. 24-31 inclusive, half hour before sunrise, 6:40; Sunset 5:45.
 Nov. 1-8, inclusive, half hour before sunrise, 6:50; Sunset 5:30.
 Nov. 9-16, inclusive, half hour before sunrise, 7:00; Sunset 5:20.
 Nov. 17-24, inclusive, half hour before sunrise, 7:10; Sunset 5:10.
 Nov. 25-30 inclusive, half hour before sunrise, 7:20; Sunset 5:10.

Some of the hunters who went out on the first day were Jake Stremch, William Pettigill, Dr. Paul Butz, David Bolton, Frank Coward, Jack Taylor, William Garrett, Guy E. Taylor, Jack Strall, Lou Chambers and Elmer Harlow. A check on the ducks returned to Plymouth by the group show that there were 11 ducks shot and 3 live decoys killed by the concentrated front presented from Plymouth on Wild Fowl Bay Sunday.

Unusually Reasonable

In every bank the greatest part of the equipment and working hours of the clerical force is devoted to the handling of checks and items deposited by the commercial account depositors and to the handling of the checks drawn by these same depositors upon their accounts.

When you consider the convenience of a checking account and its absolute necessity in conduct of many businesses, the small charge which is made to partially cover these costs is unusually reasonable and is gladly paid by the depositor who understands why it is necessary.

THE PILGRIM PRINTS Dearborn Plays Here Tonight

Plymouth Eleven To Face Dearborn Tonight

The Plymouth gridders will open their football season tonight when they play Dearborn at the Riverside gridiron. This will be the first league game of the year and will undoubtedly be one of the toughest teams that the Rocks will face. Last year Plymouth defeated Dearborn on the Orange and Black's own field. The Rocks have a heavier and a more experienced team and this year we have an advantage over Dearborn by having the game on our own home field. The Plymouth eleven led by Captain Warren Bassett will do their part and all they need is a good crowd to help them win their first game. The game will start at 4:00 o'clock sharp. Come on your football fans start the season properly.

Debaters Meet For Tournament

In preparation for class debate tournaments to be held in the near future, two teams in the tournament which has never been held in this school before, met in Room 35 last Monday, under the direction of Mr. Latture. A brief outline of debate and argumentation was given by Mr. Latture, and the question which will be debated is "Michigan high schools. Resolved, that the federal government own and control all broadcasting stations in the United States." discussed. This is, of course, the question to be debated in the class tournaments.

The teams will consist of two debaters each, both members of each team being in the same class. Every team will debate every other team until the two teams which win the most debates are selected. These two teams will debate for the school championship. The winning team will receive a wall plaque similar to those awarded in football and basketball. A team will debate only the affirmative or negative case.

Mr. Latture will use these debates as a basis for the selection of debaters for league debating, which will soon commence. The first class tournament will be held October 9.

Entrants for school debating include, in the ninth grade, Thomas Brock and Jewell Starkweather; in the tenth Harry Fischer, Russell Kirk and Jack Sessions; and in the eleventh Katherine Schmitz, Beulah Starkweather and Jack Wilcox. Senior entrants are Evalyn Rorabacher, Ruth Michell, Amalia Zielasko and Ruth Hadley. The more, sophomore and another junior are needed to complete the seven teams.

Kinsey Elected Sophomore President

Jack Kinsey was elected president of the sophomore class at a session held Wednesday, September 27. He won by a narrow margin over Jeannette Bauman, his nearest contender. David Gates was elected vice president over Myrilla Savary. Harry Fisher won the office of secretary by the widest margin of the election over Donald Thrall and Russell Kirk who tied for second place.

The office of treasurer was awarded to Jack Gordon after much recounting of ballots. Three candidates were nominated for the Student Council by the four new officers. Jack Blackmore won this election by the fact that one hundred and thirty votes were cast by one hundred and nine people will make a second vote necessary for Student Council representative. There are no plans as yet for the second election.

Hi-Y Enjoys Discussion

The Hi-Y members enjoyed a very interesting talk about Camp Hay-O-Went-Ha from Mathew McClellan at their meeting Friday. President Oscar Lutermoser and vice president Mathew McClellan spent ten days at this camp in Northern Michigan during the summer. Oscar and Mathew, being the club's two highest officers, were the official representatives at camp.

Mathew opened his talk by telling about the location of the camp, its four hundred acres, main hall, and mess hall, cabins and campfires. The boys spent in a cabin which housed eight and it was described as being very airy. They had athletic contests of all descriptions: baseball, football, tennis, ping pong, swimming, rowing and canoeing. They attended meetings where boys problems were discussed, talks by older boys and men interested in Hi-Y work. They took a trip of two miles to climb an old fire tower and were able to see miles of country. One evening they had a marshmallow roast in the mess hall and each cabin had discussions of all kinds. When it was time to leave for home, both boys felt as if the camp had broadened their views of club work.

Mr. Dykhouse then said that the next meeting would be spent in hearing Oscar's account of the trip and the accounts of those who attended the "Century of Progress."

Torch Club Has New Leader

Last Friday the Torch Club held its first meeting under the leadership of Mr. Latture who is leading the club this year as a result of Mr. Cobb's resignation from the faculty.

At the meeting it was decided to vote in the following members: Irvin Prough, Claude Bauman, George Kenyon, Tommy Brock, Robert Edge, Jack Birchall, Daniel Burton, Murray Howland, Louis Jennings, Niels Pederson, Orville Beaman, Paul Schmidt, Lloyd Trinka.

The thirteen new members and twelve old members will compose the club at present although more may be added later. After the voting committee was chosen for the various duties during the year. Jack Kinsey made a suggestion that a pot luck supper and initiation of new members be held in the lunch room of the high school Wednesday, October 4. After plans for it were discussed, the meeting adjourned with the freshmen members wondering what was in store for them at the initiation.

Starkweather School Notes

There are thirty-one children in the kindergarten. The little children who have just begun school for the first time are getting acquainted with each other and with various materials used by the class. They have learned to follow directions, recognize clapping, skating, and jump rope. After having been told the story of the "Three Bears," the little tots drew free hand illustrations.

The advanced group had been reviewing work they had last term. They made a sunflower border for the room, made colored apple and leaf patterns, and have learned a new song entitled "Golden Sunshine."

Helen Schoof, who has been absent for several days, is back at school again.

Miss Cavanaugh brought a small turtle from Chicago, which the children are guarding carefully.

Thirty-seven children have enrolled for the first grade. They have been discussing their mother's preparations for winter. Having finished making apple jelly, they will now write a story about it.

The pupils who bring their lunch to school are forming the habit of washing their hands before each meal. Then each child sits quietly at his table, on which is placed a paper cloth.

Miss Stadler is happy to be back with her group of jolly second graders, who all greet her with a smile every morning. The children have a "citizenship" and perfect paper device. Its motto being, "Let's Make the Sun Shine." When the pupils forget their citizenship obligations the sun goes behind a cloud. But when their behavior is good, the sun remains out. They have also a poster on which is placed the name of each child in the room. A child is represented by a close race for presidency, was made vice president. The secretary for this year will be Peggy Truck. Geraldine Wesley was elected treasurer and Jack Wilcox was elected Student Council representative for his third year.

Already orphaned by the death of her parents, Agnes Bowers, 15, was unable to face life without the companionship of her sister, Edna, 14, who drowned several days ago in Green Bay, Wis. Agnes drowned herself in the Wolf River at the point where her sister met death.

Plymouth Ties Eastern High in Scrimmage

Last Friday night the Plymouth gridders had a scrimmage game with Detroit Eastern high school, a pre-season practice game between these two schools to help them get in shape. This was the first time that these two teams have met. Although Eastern is a Class A school and had a much larger team, Plymouth made a very good showing. The Rocks made a touchdown in the first part of the scrimmage when a lateral pass was tossed to Levandowski who scored from the twenty-five yard line. Champe made a try for the extra point but the ball hit the cross bar. Near the end of the scrimmage Corona, the Eastern captain, made a touchdown on an end run. The Rock gridders made a number of yards on passes and Champe made a few gains at the center of Eastern's line. Most of Eastern's gains were made on line plunges. Kinsey had a number of very good punts. Elliott also played a very good game at left end. This is his first year on the Plymouth team. The other fellows also made a very good showing.

Kosciusko To Be Honored On Stamp

Tadeusz Kosciusko will be pictured on a commemorative stamp to be issued on the eighteenth of this month at Detroit, Chicago, and Boston. The stamp will commemorate the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of his admission as an honorary citizen of the United States. The stamp will be a five cent one. This, it was explained, will be so Polish people in America may send the stamps on letters to Poland.

Kosciusko was born on February 12, 1746 in what is now Lithuania. Benjamin Franklin saw his military ability and brought him to America when the Pole was thirty years of age. He was chief engineer on the staff of General Green and was present at the Surrender of Yorktown. He constructed a fortification where West Point Military Academy now stands. The cadets erected a monument to his honor in 1828 near the spot of his works, part of which still standing. In 1873 Congress voted him an American citizen and it is this anniversary that is honored by the stamp.

In 1794 Kosciusko returned to Poland and led a revolt against the Russians. Although he met with success in his early struggle, the next year he was wounded in battle and captured by the Russians. When he was freed he visited the United States again. Later he went to Switzerland where he died in 1817.

Certainly such a hero deserves to be honored on a stamp, but the anniversary chosen seems rather trivial.

Junior Class Elects Officers
The nominees for the Junior Class offices having been chosen, a class meeting was necessary, so the election was held at a regular group meeting, on Wednesday, the totals of each group being added.

David Cline, four times president, was re-elected to office of president for his fifth year. Yvonne Hearn, who gave Duroid a close race for presidency, was made vice president. The secretary for this year will be Peggy Truck. Geraldine Wesley was elected treasurer and Jack Wilcox was elected Student Council representative for his third year.

EDITORIAL Sportsmanship

School, football, basketball, baseball, track—Sportsmanship! An editorial has been written on this subject in our paper but still it is not clear in some peoples minds just what is meant by sportsmanship. Large crowds are gathered around high school football games, largely students. A fumble, a high tackle, a good hard tackle, or a bad kick—such things give the spectators something to boo at, or holler about. Cheering and yelling is all right, it is one of the things that you are there for, but don't forget Sportsmanship. Keep in mind the opportunity that is offered in the field. Do not let them get the wrong impression of you and of your school. Put yourself in the player's shoes. Think how he must feel when he makes a mistake and a whole crowd yells, "He's no good! Take him out!"

Also consider getting on the playing field or knocking down the ropes and getting out in front and pushing. If the spectators would keep one simple word in mind there would be less booing, and razzing. Sportsmanship is involved in more than just athletics, but just as present with football, the talk of the school. It is very important that something should be said about it. Don't forget you will never lose anything if you keep good Sportsmanship well in mind.

Orchestra Makes First Appearance

The first appearance of the high school orchestra this year was made last Tuesday evening in the gymnasium. Organized for the benefit of the annual meeting of the Junior Citizens' club. This is the only musical club that has made a public appearance so far as the others, except for the glee clubs and junior girls' sextette, in the school have been organized.

This year the sextette consists of Patricia Cassidy, Jewell Starkweather, Madeline Weller, Norma Jean Roe, Jeannette Brown and Florence Norton. Junior Oakes is the accompanist.

Senior Girl Reserves Select Symbol

The Senior Girl Reserves have selected the ideal girl as their symbol for the coming year. This year the girls have organized programs and will prove to be very interesting. The officers and committee chairmen were elected as follows: president, Evalyn Rorabacher; vice president, Cora Line; treasurer, Rosemary Cassidy; treasurer, Rosemary West; interclub counselor, Margaret Buzzard; student council representative, Ruth Meunier; program chairman, Jean Jolliffe; ways and means, Jane Whipple; service, Margaret Metcal; secretary, Margaret Buzzard; publicity, Yvonne Hearn; music, Catherine Dunn; and devotion, Alice Prough.

Freshman Class Meeting

The freshman class meeting was held, Wednesday, September 20. The officers elected were as follows: president, Robert Egge; vice president, Don Blessing; secretary, Hal Horton; treasurer, Robert Wilkie; student council representative, John Nash.

The freshman boys made a united stand and with the support of a few girls elected all boy officers. Former Pres. Rudick called the meeting to order and election began. After his election, the new president made a speech but was drowned out with applause. The latter part of the meeting was spent in arguing over the class dues. But the meeting adjourned without any set figure being made.

Science Club Starts Activities

Mr. Bentley's science club started on Tuesday fifth hour with different experiments pertaining to the elements that go to make up the Protoplasm of which everything organic is made up of. They studied qualities of sulphur, phosphorus, potassium, silicon, iodine, and iron and how they reacted under different tests. At the next meeting they hope to continue these interesting studies in the laboratories.

Eight Try For Place On Cross Country Team

Getting off to a good start in one of the first runs over the two mile course last Friday, the cross country team is proving that it will be among the fastest in the League. Cross country competition, started in our League last year, is held in conjunction with League football games. Running over the hilly two mile course is a test of endurance in which Emerson Robinson, Jack McAllister, Oscar Lutermoser, Wesley Kaiser, Harold Holmes, Marvin Schmidt, James Scholmerger and Charles Steinhel are trying for a place on the six-man team.

Lutermoser Elected Senior President

At the first senior class meeting held Wednesday September 27 in study 3 the following people were elected to offices: Oscar Lutermoser, president; Fred Hietaler, vice president; Harold Stevens, secretary; Amalia Zielasko, treasurer; Robert Champe and Cora Line Rathbourn, executive board; and Evalyn Rorabacher, student council representative.

Dramatics

PAUL GOES TO ANTIOCH

Text: Acts 11:19-30; 12:25
The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Oct. 15.

THE evil that men do lives after them as well as the good they have done. Even when a man has been converted, the sins of his ignorance and blindness though they may be forgiven are not altogether wiped out in the seriousness of their consequences and results. So though Paul had been saved from the error of his persecuting zeal and had been brought into the light of the truth of the religion of love and grace, the effects of the persecution that he and others had exercised against the Christians went on.

One of these effects—a valuable thing in the light of Christian history—was the scattering of the Christians from Jerusalem. Some of these early Christians came to Antioch and it was here, we are told, that the followers of Jesus were first called "Christians."

THIS Antioch was the capital of Syria. It was situated on the river Orontes, 20 miles from the sea and about 300 miles north of Jerusalem. This city is to be distinguished from another Antioch—Antioch in Phidia—which also appears in the life of Paul.

These two Antiochs were the most prominent of 61 cities of the same name throughout the then known world. They had been founded by Greek monarchs and thus named in their honor. The emergence of Christianity in the Syrian Antioch is symbolic of the nature and place of Christianity in the world. Situated on the great lines of trade between east and west, Antioch was a capital of great prosperity and splendor.

Its colonnaded streets stretched for miles, and its public monuments and buildings were conspicuous as the survivors of an age of outward glory.

BUT the life of the city was full of corruption and the licentiousness of its inhabitants was so

Leaders' Club Organized

The Leaders' Club was organized last week with a membership of forty-six. These members affiliate at all of the intramural sports during the season. By doing this they earn extra points for their letters. The captains of the four teams, one from each grade, were chosen last week. The freshman captain is Virginia Cline; sophomore, Mildred Postiff; junior, Eileen Archer; and senior, Evalyn Rorabacher. They have begun practicing for the soccer tournament which will start soon.

Social News

Rhea Rathbourn, Dorothy Hobbins, Beatrice Truesdale, Alvah Elzerman, Harry Boree, and Marvin Partridge drove to Jackson Sunday to see the Cascades. The Senior Octette Bridge club met at the home of Jane Whipple Saturday night for a pot luck dinner. Bridge and dancing provided the evening's entertainment. Miriam Jolliffe spent Saturday night with Jane Whipple. Miss Wurster, Miss Fiegel, Miss Cavanaugh and Mrs. Burnett of An Arbor had dinner and attended the theatre in Detroit last Thursday.

Patsy McKinnon attended a lecture given by Dr. Roy Chapman Andrews at the Detroit Art Institute Sunday.

Eighty new members were admitted. They are: Jean Jolliffe, Miriam Jolliffe, Jane Whipple, Elizabeth Whipple, Pearl Smith, Phyllis Ratnour, Carol Hammond, Thelma Lunford, Beulah Starkweather, Marian Crumm.

Each applicant, assisted by an old member of the club, presented a short play. Miss Ford judged the plays and the members of the club gave written criticisms. Eighty students are trying to gain admission to the Junior Drama Club. The following members of the Senior Drama Club acted as judges: Jack Wilcox, Alva Elzerman, Norval Bovee, William Thams, Jack Seile, Margaret Buzzard, Ruth Michell.

Tryout will be held in Senior Drama club next week for parts in a play called "Grandmother Polls the Strings," and also a Parlanian romance.

much a byword in the ancient world that when men would point to the moral degradation of Rome, they were accustomed to say that "the Orontes had overflowed the Tiber."

It seems necessary to grasp so much in the setting if we would understand the place that Antioch occupied in Paul's religious life and missionary journey. This capital of licentious living became, also, the new capital of a world movement of vitalizing power.

Here in Antioch distinctive conquests of the Christian faith were begun as certain Greeks or Gentiles responded to Christian teaching. The report of this came to the Church at Jerusalem, and Barnabas was sent as a messenger and counselor to encourage those who had accepted the new faith.

WE do not know a great deal concerning Barnabas, but what we do know marks him as a man of distinctive and very noble character. The record here is that "he was a good man, full of the Holy Spirit and of faith." He had proven that by a devotion in which he had consecrated all his wealth and property to the common good of the Christian Church.

Barnabas was among the first courageously to accept Paul when the erstwhile persecutor had professed conversion to the Christian way. The Christians at Jerusalem naturally feared and distrusted this man whom they had known as chief among their foes. But Barnabas had vouched for the reality of his change of heart, and now Barnabas goes in quest of Paul and, finding him at Tarsus, brings him to Antioch.

The Christians in Antioch, hearing of the distress of their fellow Christians in Jerusalem, contributed liberally to their relief, sending their gifts through Barnabas and Paul, who went to Jerusalem. The men returned shortly to Antioch ready to begin their first notable missionary journey, in which we shall find them well launched in the next lesson.

LOCAL PLANTS ARE RUNNING FULL TIME

The "Wheatie" program heard nightly over the radio on the Columbia broadcasting chain. The production of these tops with the increased demand for guns will pour many additional thousands of dollars into the hands of Plymouth families during the next few months and is giving many people employment who have been out of work for some time.

In expressing his gratification over the rapidly expanding production and payroll at the Daisy plant, Berg D. Moore, Secretary of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce, stated: "There are other bright spots beginning to show up on the local industrial horizon. In talking to Mr. Curry, president of the Plymouth Stamping company, a few days ago, and he informed me that large new orders would probably compel them to take over considerable additional space in the former King plant."

"Last Friday I was making an industrial checkup for a Detroit concern engaged in compiling economic information on Michigan communities, and among other concerns, I called the Plymouth Tube Co. I was agreeably surprised to learn from Mr. Baker, factory superintendent, that they are employing 17 men on a full shift."

Mr. P. W. Hamill, station agent for the Port Marquette R. R. Company, informed me that a slight but encouraging pick up in business and employment is being felt locally by the P. M., and in completing the rounds by calling Plymouth's newest industry, The Rubber Products Company, I was told that they expect to be operating under at least a modest production schedule by the middle of this month."

After committing suicide by drowning himself in Onondaga Lake, at Syracuse, N. Y., several days ago, Charles Long, 77, native of Switzerland, was buried according to plans made between himself and an undertaker three years ago. At that time he selected the coffin and minister and wrote the obituary for the papers.

Bassett Pitches Dairy Team to Victory

Warren Bassett won his twelfth victory of the season against an opponent when Newburg Dairy defeated Lefthand Garage of Highland Park, 8 to 7 last Sunday at Newburg.

Long who pitched for Highland Park will join the Texas League next spring. The defeat was his second of the season by Newburg Dairy.

Ray Uhanak was missing last Sunday, because he was given a tryout at Navin Field by the Cleveland Indians, but will be back this Sunday.

Lesley Bassett and John Schomberger furnished the fielding features of the game with beautiful catches.

John Schomberger and Pisarek were the leading hitters each getting two out of four attempts.

The victory was Newburg's seventeenth in their last eighteen games.

Next Sunday the strong West Point Park of the Michigan-Ontario League will try and stop Newburg Dairy on the Newburg diamond at 3 p. m. Come out and see two good teams.

Progress is Being Made in Play

The story of "Queen Esther" of ancient times as portrayed in the famous dramatic cantata of that name is rapidly assuming form under the direction of George L. Howes of Detroit. This work known as the most beautiful and dramatic of all cantatas requires a large chorus and experienced soloists for proper rendition. These requirements are now met and Mr. Howes has the appreciative help of both soloists and chorus to give an outstanding performance to the music lovers of Plymouth, who can see and hear what is practically an artistic performance of beauty and power.

The work will be given Monday October 16 and Wednesday, October 18 and much interest is already manifested in the coming musical event. The following singers constitute the cast of characters: Queen Esther, Norma Cassidy; King Ahasuerus, Ben D. Stewart; Zeresh, Mrs. Victor Slauing; Haman, A. J. Smith; Mordecai's Sister, Mrs. W. S. McAllister; Prophets, Mrs. John Birchall; High Priest, J. Rudling; Esther's Servant, Raphael Meitball; Harbonak, E. Fletcher Campbell; Persian Princess, Mary Meitball; Blanche Curtis, Jean Strong; Guards: Attendants, etc.

Placing money on a nightgown is a bad habit for women to cultivate, according to Mrs. Meta Schaeffer of Cape May Court House, N. J. Mrs. Schaeffer arose one day and forgot the money, sending the servant to the cleaners. The laundry opened its machine when the loss was discovered and found the nightgown, but not the money. ### REPORT TELLS OF TRAINING SCHOOL

The reports says, "although the prime purpose of this organization is to salvage human material, and for children, we have not hesitated to install from the beginning a business organization that would function to the best interests of the taxpayers and permit always an accounting to be drawn up in time to be of value." The $22,233 budget under which we are now operating was drastically cut. A 25 percent reduction in the per capita operating cost below the same figures of a year ago resulted.

The report shows that thirteen and seven-tenths of children admitted to the school come from Wayne county outside the city of Detroit. This percentage is much higher than generally believed. Last year the percentage of admissions from outside the city of Detroit increased to over 21 percent.

Dr. Haskell points out that the work of the school does not stop with the training given boys and girls at the institution. During the past year outside supervision was given 332 boys and girls who have secured positions but still under the jurisdiction of the school. The report makes it clear that an effort is made to see to it that the boys and girls continue along the right lines after their release and until they are permanently established.

Mention is also made in the report of the assistance given by the school last year in Red Cross work. Flour provided by the Red Cross was made into bread by the children at the school and provided to needy families in Plymouth, Northville, Detroit and Dearborn. Boys working in the bake shop did all the work. Besides the bread baked for the regular use at the school, these boys baked and turned over to welfare purposes 165,513 loaves of bread.

The report is a small volume and covers in greatest detail not only the activities of the school but its expense and all other such information as one might desire.

Officials said handled the garment was jailed when he denied charge of stealing the money.

Allison Recalls Chevrolet Tests of Nine Years Ago

Nine years ago this month the first Chevrolet ever operated on the great General Motors proving ground at Milford was grinding out its first 1000 miles. Since that time Chevrolet cars have covered upwards of 10,000,000 test miles on this scientific outdoor laboratory in the interest of improved car performance, declares Ernest Allison, Plymouth Chevrolet dealer.

Since the opening of the proving ground in late September, 1924, not a single day has passed but what at least one or more Chevrolets were out on the hilly terrain grinding out mileage for the guidance of Chevrolet engineers in the development of tomorrow's new features and processes.

Tonday, fleets of a dozen or more cars may be witnessed at any time of the day or night whizzing around the concrete speed bowl, climbing the 24-degree incline, taking the hair pin test, or undergoing the bumpy tortures of the Belgian block road.

Since the establishment of the proving ground, Chevrolet test cars have averaged better than one million miles a year there. This mileage is piled up under all types of climatic and road conditions with heavy-footed professional drivers working in relays.

When the proving ground is to be used for the testing of any new mechanical device or process, the essential parts are built by production methods in the Chevrolet experimental laboratory under the direction of J. M. Crawford, chief engineer. These parts are then installed in a test car—a half dozen test cars if the developments is important—and the cars are then sent to the proving ground, with the drivers minutely instructed as to the speed they they shall drive, the type of roads they shall drive on, etc.

"We then drive the cars," says Mr. Crawford, "until any inherent defect or strain is apparent."

"We run the cars at least 2000 miles to determine customer regular durability breakdown schedules. It is here on the proving ground, under the most severe driving conditions, that the 'bugs' that used to harass the new car purchaser are ferreted out and killed before the car gets on the market. "It is here, too, that the phrase 'two years ahead' got its inception. For we are constantly working that far ahead on new mechanical developments. At the present time we have innovations under test that will not appear before 1935, and perhaps not even then. But we need to work far in advance so that we are ready with the new things when the public taste is ripe.

"To burn up 10,000,000 unproductive miles solely for testing and proving our product may sound like an extravagance, until it is remembered that since we first started using the proving ground we have built and sold more than 7,000,000 new Chevrolet cars and trucks. In that light, the test miles piled up prove a decidedly attractive investment because they have enabled us to build a finely balanced product correctly engineered and rightly priced."

Children of Mary—Every child of the parish must belong and must go to communion every fourth Sunday of the month. Instructions in religion conducted each Saturday morning at 8:30 by the Dominican Sisters. All children that have not completed their 8th grade, are obliged to attend these religious instructions.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Walter Nichol, M. A. Pastor.

Sunday last, saw a fine rally of the forces of the Sunday school. Every class was well represented and the total attendance indicated another fine year in the history of the school. The credits from the International Council of Religious Education were presented and promotions were made in the school so that the classes are ready to undertake the courses of study set for the coming year.

The women of the church are much interested in the October meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary. And indeed they may well be. The meeting will be held in the church parlors on Wednesday, October 11th at 2:30 p. m. The Northville Woman's Union will meet with the local organization and there will be the usual happy fellowship. Then Mrs. Lichtwardt the wife of a medical missionary from Mesned, Persia is to speak. Mrs. Lichtwardt gives an excellent and delightful talk on life in Persia. Every woman of the church is invited to hear her. Refreshments will be served.

The Busy Woman's class met on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Burrows, Penniman avenue. The day and the dinner were perfect and all present had a fine time.

The group of officers and members of the Woman's Auxiliary attended the Synodical meeting in Jefferson Ave. Presbyterian church, Detroit on Wednesday.

Next Sunday the congregation will observe the sacrament of the Lord's Supper.

Mr. Bowen of Chicago sang most effectively at the church service last Sunday.

ST. PETER'S EV. LUTHERAN

Edgar Hoenecke, Pastor

Sunday is "Luther Appreciation Day" beginning with a service at our church at 10:30 a. m. and continuing at the Olympia, Grand River avenue, Detroit, at 3 p. m. This day should be long remembered. We are celebrating the 450th anniversary of the Day of Luther's birth at Eisenach on November 10, 1483. The celebration at the Olympia will be featured by a children's chorus of 3000 voices, and a chorus of 850 voices singing the majestic "Te Deum Laudamus," and an audience of 20,000 singing the hymns of Luther. The "Voice of Luther" and the "Voice of History" will relate the dramatic events in the course of his work as reformer. Prof. Walter Maler, radio preacher, is the chief speaker. The services will take about one hour and a half, five minutes. Medals struck in commemoration of the event, may be had at the parsonage.

Sunday school at 9:30.
Confirmation class for children Saturday from 10:00-11:30 a. m. and Wednesday from 4:45-5:15 p. m.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"Falsity" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, October 1.

Among the Bible citations was this passage (Gen. 2:16, 17): "And the Lord God commanded the man, saying, of every tree of the garden thou mayest freely eat: But of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat of it: for in the day that thou eatest thereof thou shalt surely die."

Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p. 526): "The first mention of evil is in the legendary Scriptural text in the second chapter of Genesis. The 'tree of knowledge' stands for the erroneous doctrine that the knowledge of evil is as real, hence as God-bestowed, as the knowledge of good.

Boy Walks In Front Of Car, Is Killed

A very sad accident occurred on Grand River, just east of Brighton, Thursday of last week at about 12:30 p. m., when Charles Feole, a boy of 18 son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Feole, was struck by a car as he was crossing the pavement and apparently instantly killed.

The accident occurred just across the road from the boy's home near the Kensington church. The boy's mother, an aunt and Mrs. Feole, and a neighbor, Mrs. M. Bondie, had just left the Feole residence on a trip to Novi, and had only crossed to the opposite side of Grand River when they discovered that they were out of gas and called to Charles to bring them some which he did. He looked for a wrench in the car to open the pressure tank and not finding one readily, started to the house for one. His mother warned him to be careful about the traffic. He walked north from the west had passed and, thinking his way clear, started to cross the pavement when he was struck by a car going east.

The driver of the car is reported as a Mr. Steven Spauler of Brighton who was taking his wife to the Mellus Hospital for treatment. The driver stopped his car and the boy was hurried to the hospital, but life was found to be extinct.

Charles was born October 13, 1916 at Southfield, and he would have been seventeen had he lived a few weeks more. Besides his parents, he is survived by a married sister, Mrs. Ray Dye, at home; two brothers Walter and Robert, who live at Novi, and Robert, who lives at home.

Funeral services were held at the home Monday at 2:00 o'clock conducted by the Rev. Elmer Klingensmith of the Brighton Lutheran church, with burial in the Royal Oak cemetery—Brighton Argus.

West Plymouth

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Grandsen of Sanford with their three children, visited the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Spauler on Ridge road, over the week-end.

Frank Truesdell and Henry C. Root attended a Well Diggers Convention at Lansing Sunday. The convention was mainly concerned with establishing a code for well diggers.

Several landmarks have been removed recently along or in the vicinity of the Ann Arbor Trail. The home of Ira Klynon on the farm now owned by the House of Correction has been raised. Lewis Root has sold the large barn on the old Beahomestead, and it has been taken down and will be rebuilt on the Dr. Pino property.

Mr. and Mrs. George Richwine on Golden road visited their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Richwine at Monroe over Sunday.

Cells Lewis of Plymouth was Betty Wisson's supper guest at the Miller Ross home Monday evening.

The backward spring is well compensated for by the lovely fall weather. No killing frosts have marred the beauty of flowers nor destroyed tender vegetables, all through September.

Faced with a strange request, the Springfield (Mo.) charity food distributing center denied food to a man for his two former wives and his present spouse. The man explained that he had been married three times and divorced twice. The husbands of his former wives could not support them, and he took them in to help his present wife with work. They made two more months to feed, but the relief center refused additional aid.

Why A Sales Tax? What Does It Do?

By EDWARD SCULLY

Field representative Michigan State Tax Commission

The general sales tax act was passed by the last legislature for the purpose of relieving the overburdened real estate owner whose burden had become so great that it could no longer be endured by the home owner and the farmer.

The "New Deal" of President Roosevelt pledged that no man, woman or child should go hungry, cold or without shelter. To make good this pledge, the Federal Government allocated to the State of Michigan the sum of $12,000,000.00 for welfare relief, with the provision that it be matched dollar for dollar by the state. Our state legislature appropriated this money, which is an item over and above any appropriation included in the regular state budget.

It might be well to point out at this time that the budget for the present fiscal year was reduced by more than $4,000,000.00 from the previous year's cost of operating the state. This in accordance with the present administrations pledge of economy.

Deducting this saving from the relief appropriation we find that we have $8,000,000.00 more than we had in the last year's budget to which must be added more than $10,000,000.00 deficit (as of Jan. 1st, 1933) left to the taxpayers by the previous administrations.

It was manifestly impossible and unjust to inflict this huge sum on the property owners of Michigan who number but thirty per cent of the whole population; yet, pay ninety per cent of the taxes. If this were done, then no one could afford to own property.

The Michigan Sales Tax was the answer. This Act as written and administered is the most democratic tax ever imposed by a government on its people. This tax reaches every individual and every business.

In 1932 the State of Michigan levied $23,500,000.00 against real estate. Contrast that with the State levy of $3,500,000.00 for the current year. This latter figure is equivalent to six-tenths of one mill and covers only the amount necessary to operate the University of Michigan and Michigan State College.

Leave this Act on the statute books of Michigan, without alteration for one year and our sovereignty state will for the first time in many years be out of the red.

We will have a balanced budget, every individual and every business welfare relief for the needy and unfortunate and in addition we will have money left to apply on school taxes. Once again it will be possible to own your own home or farm without the fear of it being taken for taxes. Michigan will be the paradise to live in that our forefathers worked and fought to make.

Payment by 2,250,000 persons of a head tax of two dollars each annually will return $4,500,000 to the old age pension fund, according to careful estimates. Of course, this will not be able to pay and estimating that one out of 10 will escape the head tax because there are always slinkers and dodgers, there remains a total number of 2,250,000 above the age of 21 who may reasonably be expected to pay the head tax.

Auto Owners Pay $12,000,000 Per Year in Tax Overcharge

Prof. John Worley of the University of Michigan who made the recent inquiry in Plymouth in which resulted in the reduction of the gas rates in this city, in a recent statement declared that over $12,000,000 a year is being taken from the automobile drivers of this state for road purposes than are necessary.

The study of motor taxes as compared with the proper road charges made by Mr. Worley, Professor of Transportation Engineering at the University, and reveals also that in the fourteen year period 1918 to 1931 weight taxes and gasoline taxes levied on motor vehicles were $72,074,613 in excess of what should have been properly charged to them.

The overcharge is still continuing at the rate of close to $12,000,000 a year, exclusive of such levies as the new State sales tax and the Federal gas tax.

Commenting on Prof. Worley's findings, Wm. G. Bryant, President of the Automobile Club of Michigan stated: "Because of Prof. Worley's thorough piece of research in road costs, road use and motor vehicle taxation, Michigan is extremely fortunate in having for the first time in the history of any State a measuring rod of what the motorist should be called upon to pay. Application of his findings to our road and tax problem will make it possible to develop an equitable motor tax schedule without sacrifice of reasonable road requirements."

"He demonstrates conclusively that the motor tax levies in the State of Michigan are excessive. He has found that in the period 1918 to 1931 the State collected $292,107,790 in weight and gasoline taxes, as compared with $220,033,117 that should have been properly charged to motor vehicles on account of State trunk line highways (including through routes in urban areas) and for use of county and township roads.

"He has found that in 1931 the excess of motor taxes over proper road charges amount to $11,286,303. And there is little doubt that 1932 and 1933 will show an equally glaring disparity as between what the motorists of Michigan should properly pay and what they are actually charged."

Instrument forfeited by recent buyer after party paying for same may be had by any reliable party willing to pay balance in small monthly payments. Such cases are not numerous. A fine bungalow piano with only a small balance to pay may be had if you write Credit Manager, P. O. Box 352, Detroit, Mich. 2c

W. C. T. U. Holds First Fall Meeting

The September meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, held Thursday, the 26th, at the home of Mrs. C. G. Vealey, was well attended. The president was unable to secure a speaker as she had hoped. However considerable time was taken up in making arrangements for the State and District conventions to be held this month in Traverse City and Pontiac. Mrs. McNabb was chosen as delegate to the state convention and Mrs. Lanffer as alternate. For the district convention the delegates are Mrs. Mack, Mrs. Lanffer, and Mrs. McNabb.

Miss Ardath Baker entertained the members with three beautiful piano solos, and Mrs. Vealey recited a very pretty poem which she had learned in her childhood. The annual meeting of Plymouth Union occurs on Thursday, October 26 and will follow a pot luck dinner to be held at 1:00 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Clara Patterson Todd.

MAX TODD MAKES A HOLE IN ONE FRIDAY
Max Todd joined the ranks of hole-in-one golfers last Friday afternoon when a long drive on the fourth hole at Plymouth Hills rolled on the green and in the cup. Laying around the course with Mr. Todd was Bennett Clark of Wayne.

The ace shooter stated that he thought he had dubbed his drive because it hit the ground a few yards in front of the tee but apparently it hit a stone and rebounded beautifully for the hole.

MARY HASKELL ELECTED TO SENIOR CLASS PRESIDENCY
Word was received in Plymouth Tuesday of the election of Mrs. Haskell as president of the senior class at Lake Erie College in Painesville, Ohio, last Monday afternoon.

Miss Haskell the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Haskell of Plymouth is a graduate of Plymouth high school and her many friends and school mates in this vicinity will be pleased to learn of the high honor which her class mates have bestowed upon her.
