

BUY NOW PLAN URGED BY NRA TO GET SUPPORT

Plymouth Business Men Unite To Make The Plan Success

Two festival days of bargains, bargains that Plymouth merchants will probably not be able to offer again, have been set aside as the occasion for the "Buy Now" campaign the government is urging all over the country.

Plymouth, which has always been one hundred per cent American, one hundred per cent for the government in anything it plans for the benefit of the people of the nation, has not been slow to offer its cooperation in the present buy now campaign.

At a meeting of the business men's committee to plan for the BUY NOW campaign held Tuesday in Paul Hayward's store, it was decided to officially start the campaign in Plymouth with a special sale offer as well as a festival celebration to bring the crowds to town. Secretary Berg Moore of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce who has been actively supporting all the various functions of the NRA campaign, believes that the festival idea will do much to create enthusiastic support of the movement.

The dates were set for Friday and Saturday, October 27 and 28. While it is planned to have the two big days of the fall festival buying campaign, the local merchants plan to continue the BUY NOW campaign right up to the first of the year. This is the government's recommendation and it is the plan of Plymouth to do as the government requests in the matter.

Swinging into line with the rest of America in the great "NOW IS THE TIME TO BUY" movement, Plymouth has already developed a militant organization and is ready to go ahead with the drive just as rapidly as preliminary details can be worked out. In a statement today Paul Hayward, chairman of the local committee, made it clear that everything possible will be done by this group to speed up business in accordance with the plans outlined by the NRA in Washington.

"This program is an attack on the depression from an entirely different angle, something that has been done before," said Chairman Hayward. "We are attacking the depression with the weapons of salesmanship. We all know that during the last three years or more there has been great lack of buying in the family, group and business organizations. The present nation-wide campaign is simply a drive to get people to buy the things they would have been buying during the last three years or so if it had not been for their fear complex."

"Of course, we are well aware of the fact that there are some people who can not afford to do any special buying at this time. Most families in Plymouth can make at least some extra purchases.

"The object of our efforts will be to convince such persons that it will be to their interest to buy now the things that under ordinary circumstances they would have bought in recent years. Bear in mind that just a little more spending by each family in Plymouth and vicinity will make all the difference in the world to the business interests of this city.

"It should be borne in mind that this is a nation-wide movement to stimulate buying between the end of the year. This means that our local merchants are not only going to profit by our campaign but our local industries also will derive benefits from the stimulated national demand for products."

Annual Meeting of W.C.T.U. October 24

The annual meeting of the Phoebe Patterson Woman's Christian Temperance Union will be held Tuesday, October 24, at 2 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Clara T. Todd, 207 W. Ann Arbor street. A report of the State Convention which is being held in Traverse City, October 17-20 will be given by Mrs. Ernest Burden, a guest, from Friday until Monday at the home of George B. Newitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Newitt of Grosse Point Park. On Sunday evening he accepted an invitation to speak at the young people's service at the First Missionary Church of that place.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Rathburn returned Saturday evening from their wedding trip and are now at home with their friends at their residence on Thayer boulevard, Orchard Heights, Northville.

Another NRA Johns(t)on

Like his brother, Gen. Hugh Johnson, NRA administrator, Alexander Johnson, above, is helping out in the government's recovery campaign. He is assistant to the Department of Commerce solicitor, in charge of Shipping Board cases. The dissimilarity in the spelling of the family name, Johnston explains, comes from the fact that the general was dropped the "t" from his last name many years ago.

MRS. L. E. SCHULTZ WOMAN'S CLUB GUEST

A guest of the first meeting of the Women's club of Plymouth, held at the Hotel Mayflower, October 18, was Mrs. L. E. Schultz, Wayne county chairman of the Christmas seal campaign. Mrs. Schultz told the club something of the work done with money raised each year from the sale of seals and thanked the club for the support given so freely in the past. Plymouth has always stood in third or fourth place in Wayne county in the amount of money raised. It is a large district containing 38 schools.

Mrs. Schultz spoke of the cooperation and helpfulness of Charles O. Hall, Plymouth chairman for the past six years. Mrs. Ball resigned, recently upon moving to Lansing and Mrs. Berg D. Moore has been appointed to fill the vacancy. Mrs. Moore was on the committee two years ago, attending the organization meeting in Detroit that year and is familiar with the work. She will be a conscientious and efficient chairman and Mrs. Schultz is fortunate in having Mrs. Moore's assistance in this worth while work.

SIX ARE HURT WHEN TWO AUTOS COLLIDE

Six men were injured, three of them critically, Saturday night at 10 o'clock on the Plymouth road near Dixboro, when the driver of an automobile lost control while going around a curve. The car broke off 11 guard posts, hit a culvert and turned over several times.

The driver, the son of Sheriff Jacob B. Andres in Ann Arbor, states that the vehicle was speeding at 80 miles per hour.

The driver and owner of the car, Roland B. Fisher, 2015 West Sprague street, Detroit, who was slightly injured is being held in the county jail for questioning pending the outcome of the injuries of three of the men who are in a precarious condition at St. Joseph Mercy hospital.

The critically injured are: Henry Johnson, 170 East Grand boulevard, Detroit, skull fractured at the base and internal injuries. Not expected to recover.

Joseph Allen, 1531 Lemay street, Detroit, concussion of the brain and internal injuries.

William Miller, 752 East Fort street, Detroit, internal injuries and severe cuts and bruises.

The slightly injured are: N. B. Williams, 692 West Fort street, Detroit, cuts on face, hands and back.

Raymond Hynes, 725 Kingsley street, Dearborn, cut on face and neck.

ROTARIANS SEE DAISY PLANT IN OPERATION

Witness Production Of Toys and Hear Talk On NRA

As guests of the Daisy Manufacturing company, members of the Plymouth Rotary club last Friday had the pleasure of visiting the plant of one of the busiest industries in the state of Michigan. They saw nearly 250 employes assembling into finished products hundreds of thousands of air guns, water guns, tops and other toys of similar nature.

The activity of the Daisy plant that the Rotarians witnessed is due to the fact that constantly since the beginning of the depression the officials of the Daisy have been putting forth energetic efforts to get new business. As the depression grew worse, this drive for new orders was doubled, even the high officials of the company stepping out into the toy markets of the world in an effort to round up business in order to keep old and faithful employes busy. Not only did they seek new business by personal efforts but during the past year or so, the greatest advertising campaign ever conducted by the company did its part to bring orders to Plymouth that helped keep the machinery in the Daisy plant going.

As the Rotarians, business and professional men representing every vocation of the community, walked from department to department they saw how the world's greatest manufacturer, the Daisy plant, produces this popular toy for boys and girls of most of the nations of the world—for there are few other competitors to the popular Daisy.

True, some of this business that has provided Plymouth with one of the steepest payrolls of nearly any other city in Michigan elsewhere has been taken at a price that provided practically nothing to return for the material and labor, but as the Rotarians saw the whirling machinery, the burr of wood saws and the steady stepping of metal presses, they realized how essential to the welfare of Plymouth is the Daisy Manufacturing company and that a God-send it had been to the community during the dark days of the depression.

The visitors saw, many of them for the first time, the tremendous amount of machinery, some pieces that weighed dozens of tons, the multitude of operations that go to produce the toys that sell anywhere from ten cents to fifty cents. They saw girls try every article before it was packed and they witnessed how marksmen test every rifle before it goes into the attractive carton that carries the finished product to all parts of the world.

Millions of little pieces of metal and wood pass through the plant as they are finally transformed into air guns and toys that bring so much joy to youngsters.

Complying with the request of the program committee, Edward C. Hough, previous to the visit through the plant talked briefly on the relationship of "Employee and Employer" as affected by the NRA.

Mr. Hough stated that he believed there would be much good come out of the NRA, that while some of it was experimental, there were other phases of it that if carried through to ultimate success, would be of benefit to both labor and industry.

In this respect he reflected almost identical the views as expressed recently by General Hugh Johnson, federal administrator of the NRA program. Gen. Johnson stated that whatever turns out in the NRA program worth keeping will be kept. "The rest," he said, "will die by experience."

Queen Esther Play Outstanding Success

The dramatic cantata "Queen Esther," presented in the high school auditorium Monday and Wednesday evening of this week under the auspices of the local churches, was truly a wonderful production, enthralling the audience and marking each character portrayed his or her part so successfully that the audience enjoyed the evening to the fullest extent.

HELPFUL AM OF NRA

One of the valuable lessons the National Recovery Administration is teaching thoughtful citizens is that recovery must concern itself with supplying the people with what they can eat and wear and use. Not with what it suits the convenience of commerce to supply but actually to cater to the convenience of the consumer. And with a due regard for the depleted state of his finances and his patience.

In suggesting to national advertisers and manufacturers that they cooperate with the recovery program by stimulating buying power, General Johnson advised them to offer the public good goods, fairly priced. He invited their attention to the fact that the restoration of millions of workers to pay rolls has created a huge new purchasing power which must be shown careful consideration. Men and women long deprived of the privilege of supplying their needs cannot be approached in the reckless spirit of 1929. Nor will it be worth while to try to tempt them with the make-believe merchandise that has flooded the market in the last few years.

Men who sincerely scanned the fabric when nonchalantly ordering their clothes a scant four years back are now concerned with genuine values in selecting a suit. Until the country gets square on its feet, and perhaps for long thereafter, staple articles will make the strongest appeal.

The Consumers' Board of NRA has announced that it is utilizing the services of the Federal Government's famed Bureau of Standards and other official agencies to definitely establish the values of commodities and merchandise. General Johnson is being consistent and rendering the public, as well as the advertisers, a valued service in advising industry to offer good goods, fairly priced. With these safeguards, the people are being genuinely encouraged to do their part in the buying campaign.

Plymouth Rotarians To Take Active Part In International Convention in Detroit

Plymouth Rotarians are going to take an active part in the formation of plans for the International convention of Rotary to be held in Detroit next year. Wednesday President Cass Hough of the Plymouth club and several members attended a meeting in Detroit to consider preliminary details for the world-wide convention.

Rotarians from more than sixty different countries are expected to attend the 25th annual convention which will be held in Detroit, June 25-29. Delegates will be present from every part of the world, representing nearly 150,000 business and professional men in over 3,000 cities.

The Rotary International convention committee held its first meeting in Detroit October 16-18, at Clinton P. Anderson, Albion, Michigan, the chairman, president, and John Nelson, president of the board of Rotarians of the Mother Church of the First Church of Christ, Scientists of Boston and gave one of the finest lectures ever heard in Plymouth. The lecture focused on:

Christian Science taught me the supreme principle, I got my God right. As I learned more of God as Principle, I took my first step out of the old into the new. I had never thought of using the truth about God and man as a help in healing, accepted the scholastic teaching about God in school. There I read in the original Greek that God is Spirit, but I still clung to physical force as power and gave no heed to all-powerful impartial Love.

WILL VOTE NOV. 7 ON QUESTION OF COUNTY PORT

Location Outside of City Necessitates County Election

Plymouth voters with the rest of the electors of Wayne county, will go to the polls at a special election on Tuesday, November 6, to decide whether all of Wayne county shall be made "The Port of Detroit" in view of the possible ultimate success of the St. Lawrence waterways plan. While it will doubtless be a number of years before ocean going ships will be able to sail the Great Lakes, Detroit officials feel that now is the time to prepare for their coming and it is for that reason that the election has been called.

A county-wide election is necessary because of the fact that the proposed port, if the voters should approve it, will be located almost entirely outside the city of Detroit. The major portion of it will be south of Detroit towards Monroe.

The resolution providing for the election passed by the county board of supervisors presented by Supervisor Bradley who has been right up in the front line trenches fighting for the port plan reads as follows: "Whereas, the Legislature of the State of Michigan did enact certain and various amendments to the Port District Law of this State as contained in House Enrolled Act 61, 234 of the Public Acts of 1933, whereby the desire of this Board relative to changes and amendments to said law were effected by the Legislature; and

"Whereas, the Port District Law now provides that in districts co-terminous with a county the submission of the adoption of a port district to the voters of the county, in pursuance to a resolution of this Board, will not authorize the expenditure of monies for the establishment or improvement of a port district, nor the levying of taxes, or the issuance of bonds for such purpose, until the approval of the Board of Supervisors; and

"Whereas, it is deemed to be an expedient and opportune time to determine the boundaries of a port district in the county of Wayne, and submit the question of the approval thereof to the voters of the County of Wayne, for the particular reason that financial aid may be obtained from the federal government for such improvements as this Board would later determine to be proper and advantageous to the public interests of the people of this county; and

"Whereas, it is the judgment of this Board that the advantages to be obtained by the establishment of a port district in the County of Wayne;

"Therefore, Now Be it Resolved: (1) That it is hereby determined by this body that the boundaries of a port district bearing the title of the principle city in the proposed area of said district, in accordance with the statute to be the Port of Detroit, be comprised of the area within the boundaries of the County of Wayne and co-terminous therewith.

(2) That it is hereby determined that the adoption and establishment of the PORT OF DETROIT as a port district be submitted to the special election of the voters of the County of Wayne, for their approval or rejection thereof, to be held on the 7th day of November, 1933, in accordance with a notice of election to be published and the election held in accordance with the General Election of the State of Michigan governing county elections."

Home Economics Group Will Visit Greenfield Village

The Home Economics Section of District 1, of the Michigan Education Association, will meet on Friday, October 27, at Dearborn Inn, Oakwood boulevard, for a luncheon which will be served promptly at 12:15 o'clock.

William A. Simonds, author, will speak on "Life in an Early American Village." Mrs. Belle Farley Murray, Assistant in Parent Education, Merrill Palmer School, Detroit, has the subject, "The American Home of Today—Its Challenge to Home Economists." Mrs. Murray has taught home economics in various schools in the state and has been on the staff at Merrill Palmer School since 1930. In addition to her educational work, Mrs. Murray is a charming wife and mother. Thus she has the view point both of the teacher and the homemaker.

At the close of the program at the Inn, there will be a conducted tour through Greenfield Village and the Edison Museum. Life as it was lived in a Colonial community can be glimpsed, and the handicraft arts as they were practiced at that time can be seen.

Reservations may be sent to Mrs. Olive Goodrich, College of the City of Detroit.

ANN ARBOR KILLER ONCE LIVED HERE

Many Plymouth residents will remember George Wiener, 40 years of age, convicted a few days ago of killing John Reinhart, an Ann Arbor resident, for his money. Wiener and his wife resided in Plymouth for two years. They moved here in 1929 and later in 1930 moved to Ann Arbor. His wife, who secured a divorce from him during the past year, conducted a beauty shop in one of the buildings on Main street.

Police here at the time suspected Wiener of being a bootlegger, although he was never arrested for the offense while a resident of this place. He never worked.

Those that came into contact with the couple always feared for the life of his wife. They state that he was constantly making threats against her and when they heard that he had confessed to the Ann Arbor crime they were not surprised. The companion of Wiener in the Ann Arbor killing, Brent Dunn, is held for trial. Dunn claims that he had no knowledge of the plan to kill Reinhart.

Woman's Club Visits Cranbrook

Dr. W. H. Aulenbach of Christ Church, Cranbrook will be the speaker today when the Woman's club of Plymouth visits Christ Church. Dr. Aulenbach has a well-known reputation for being an able and forceful speaker. The club is very fortunate to secure Dr. Aulenbach as he is in much demand for conferences and conventions as well as a member of the Christ Church. This is a special privilege for the members and their guests.

The verger of Christ Church will conduct the group through the church and explain the meanings of the carvings and works of art. A tour of the grounds will afford the women a chance to see some fine landscaping and architecture.

Kingswood School for girls will be visited and also Cranbrook school for boys. This is an opportunity not to be missed as these schools are not always open to the public.

The Woman's club of Plymouth and their friends are requested to assemble promptly at 12:30 p. m. at the Hotel Mayflower. A short business meeting precedes the trip.

Mrs. Mark Chaffee and her committee have planned to have cars waiting at the hotel to drive the group to Bloomfield Hills. Those who drive are asked to drive their cars to the hotel.

Miss Eleanor Curtis of Detroit and a tour of Washington, D. C., spent the week-end at the home of Mrs. Nettie Dibble on Pennington avenue.

RED CROSS DRIVE OPENS MON. OCT. 23

Need Great and Leaders
Call For Largest Enrollment

Because of the Fall Festival edition of the Plymouth Mail to be issued next week on Wednesday instead of the regular Friday edition it will be necessary for officers and news contributors to have copy into this office no later than Monday, October 23rd. Eight thousand copies of the Mail will be distributed throughout this part of the county to broadcast the news of Plymouth's Buy Now Fall Festival. To insure publication in this issue the above date must be considered a limit for all news and advertising.

The Plymouth branch of the American Red Cross Association will open its annual drive for membership and Red Cross donations on Monday, October 23. This year the drive will be conducted from house to house.

The membership fee is one dollar, one half or fifty cents of each dollar received for membership is forwarded to Washington, D. C. There to be used in the National Red Cross fund. This fund is used in nationwide relief, as in the California earthquake of last year, the flood famine or any other great need or disaster that may befall any section of our country. The other half of each membership dollar remains in Plymouth with our own treasurer, Miss Alice Safford.

The membership fee will be used to add the suffering in our own city and township. Contributions in excess of the dollar are accepted. The drive this year will be under the direction of the following ladies: Mrs. C. H. Bennett, Miss Alice Safford, Mrs. H. Minnick, Mrs. H. Doerr, Mrs. C. H. Bennett, Mrs. Warren Lombard, Mrs. J. W. Bickelmann, Mrs. C. J. Dykhouse, Mrs. Bert Champagne, Mrs. Russell Roe, Mrs. A. Kahri, Mrs. Floyd Kekkos, Miss Elizabeth Sutherland and Miss Mable Spier.

The need for the winter of 1933-34 is great and the Red Cross committee is urging the people of Plymouth will respond generously as in former years. Our local chapter extends help to the less fortunate in our city and township. This help is given in the form of clothing for both sexes, such as: coats, hats, sweaters, socks and underclothing for men, dresses, dresses, hose, sweaters, underclothing for girls and women and nightclothing for both sexes. The material for the above clothing is sent to our local chapter from the Federal Government. It is then made into garments under the supervision of Mrs. Arthur Griffith and voluntary workers at the workroom at Starkweather school. Since January of this year, 3400 have been distributed. This number includes clothing, shoes, coats, hats, dresses, dresses, hose, sweaters, underclothing for girls and women and nightclothing for both sexes.

This year funds are needed to maintain the workroom. The Red Cross workers feel sure that Plymouth citizens will carry this splendid work forward.

TAXATION

Everyone in Michigan is vitally interested in the taxation question. We are interested because of the constantly increasing amount of money taken from us in taxation and the insistent demand being made for more tax money. We are interested because it seems that about the only thing we labor for these days is to provide funds to pay taxes which are assessed against us.

The Plymouth Mail has been provided with a copy of the report of the sub-committee on taxation of the Michigan Legislative Council that is studying the taxation problems of the state. This committee has for months been delving into the subject. Its chairman, Representative Vernon J. Brown of Ingham county, fortunately for the taxpayers of Michigan, is one of the best posted public officials on taxation in Michigan. Not only is he well versed on the subject, but we can consider ourselves lucky because he has the taxpayers' viewpoint of the situation. So many deal with the tax problem only from the one viewpoint—and that is GET THE MONEY.

We must have taxation if we are to maintain and continue the prisons, hospitals, schools and other public institutions we have built. Therefore a study of the proposed plan for general revision of the law relating to the property tax of the state is of especial interest at this time.

Chairman Brown of the sub-taxation committee says in his report:

1. Abolish present plan of electing local assessing officers for township, city and village and provide instead for a board of county assessors to be appointed in each county by the board of supervisors, such board to consist of three assessors holding office for a term of six years, one to be appointed each alternate year, first board to be appointed, one for two years, one for four years, and one for six years. Board of county assessors to be authorized to employ such assistants as may be required. Members of board to receive salaries based on number of land descriptions within the respective counties, salary in no case to be less than $2000 nor in any case to be more than $5000. It is suggested in connection with this revision that option might be given counties to adopt a one-man assessor in place of board of assessors, single assessor being given authority to employ such assistants as may be required.

(This provision will eliminate more than fifteen hundred public officials and will provide a more accurate and scientific appraisal of property for taxation purposes.)

2. Abolish present system of township, city and village boards of review. Provide for sitting of county board of assessors as board of review with rights of appeal in certain cases by the property owner to the courts.

(This provision also eliminates numberless petty public officials and provides a more equitable and adequate method of reviewing assessors.)

3. Rewrite Section 210 of the General Tax Law (Compilers Section 212), so as to put teeth into this provision and compel each owner of real or personal property to disclose and declare value, especially as regards personal property and credits, also as regards actual annual return from lands for rentals or otherwise. Compel assessing officers to make these disclosures the basis of all assessments.

(This provision will eliminate more than fifteen hundred public officials and will provide a more accurate and scientific appraisal of property for taxation purposes.)

4. Abolish present system of township, city and village boards of review. Provide for sitting of county board of assessors as board of review with rights of appeal in certain cases by the property owner to the courts.

(This provision also eliminates numberless petty public officials and provides a more equitable and adequate method of reviewing assessors.)

5. Rewrite Section 210 of the General Tax Law (Compilers Section 212), so as to put teeth into this provision and compel each owner of real or personal property to disclose and declare value, especially as regards personal property and credits, also as regards actual annual return from lands for rentals or otherwise. Compel assessing officers to make these disclosures the basis of all assessments.

(This provision will eliminate more than fifteen hundred public officials and will provide a more accurate and scientific appraisal of property for taxation purposes.)

6. Define by statute what shall constitute an illegal assessment and a legal fraud in the matter of assessments.

7. Provide that the annual meeting of the county board of supervisors held in June shall receive the report of the county board of assessors with the right to review such assessments only on complaint of property owners, board of supervisors and board of assessors sitting as tribunal to hear complaints of property owners thus acting as clearing house to avoid an annual burden which otherwise might be placed upon the courts.

8. Abolish State Tax Commission. Inasmuch as this plan contemplates the elimination of the property tax for state purposes, the state should grant to the counties full autonomy in the matter of regulating and controlling matters of taxation. This will strike from the state payroll a considerable number of employees and a considerable amount of money from the state budget. Duty of levying assessments against railroads, mines, utilities, banks and other corporations to be placed upon the state Utilities Commission or some other proper agency.

9. Abolish tax division of the Department of the Auditor General. Providing the state property tax is eliminated, the state has no interest in delinquent property taxes. Therefore, this large item of expense of handling delinquent tax matters can be eliminated and great expense saved.

10. Repeal all statutes authorizing the levy of state tax against property, and abolish all such agencies under the state government not heretofore mentioned.

11. Provide that all real and personal property tax shall be collected by the county treasurer.

(Inasmuch as the tax levy is to be made by counties, the next natural step is to eliminate the great expense entailed in the present system of collecting tax by township, cities and villages.)

12. Rewrite provisions providing for seizure and sale of property, real and personal, for unpaid taxes while original rolls are in the hands of the county treasurer, providing that full authority and responsibility for collection shall be placed upon the county treasurer, thus preventing deliberate delay and avoidance of payment on the part of the property owner.

(This provision should be broad enough to prevent the so-called "milking" of the property by the owner during delinquency.)

(The foregoing paragraphs, numbers 10 and 11, would result in the elimination of more than fifteen hundred local public officials now collecting tax at great expense.)

13. Provide for only one annual tax assessment and levy, thus providing each city and township and township and county as well as village taxes being levied on a single roll. Later provisions providing for payment by installments will serve to accommodate the property owner and will make unnecessary the present practice of levying summer and winter taxes.

14. Provide that city, village, township and school district taxes when collected by the county treasurer shall immediately or at stated intervals be paid over to the treasurer of the respective local units, also providing for mandatory provisions to prevent the use of the money collected for local units for any county purpose.

15. Rewrite all statutes dealing with the return of delinquent taxes. Inasmuch as the county treasurer has in his possession from the beginning of the tax collection period to the date of final disposition all tax rolls, the complicated and expensive procedure now provided for the return of delinquent taxes can in a large measure be eliminated. Suggestion is made that delinquent tax lists might be published in each county within 90 days from the date when such taxes become delinquent, granting privileges to any taxpayer to pay the tax when due and delinquent against any description of property taking the lien for such payment. The tax lien to draw interest at the rate of three-quarters of one per cent per month until taxes are paid, right of foreclosure on such tax lien and on any subsequent tax lien to be possible one year after second annual tax has become delinquent or two and one-half years after first delinquent tax became due and payable.

(The provisions in the foregoing section would, if adopted, provide for a much more simple plan of handling tax delinquencies, shortening the period of time during which the tax lien is enforced but at the same time protecting the rights of the property owner to pay such tax as may be delinquent and redeem his property from such tax lien. The purchase of tax lien under this plan would immediately become a legitimate form of investment, but the present land tax shark would be forced out of the picture because the extreme penalties provided under the present law would be modified.)

16. Provide for the payment of any land tax by installment, either monthly or quarterly at the election of the property owner. Provide for discount if full tax is paid within one month from the date when taxes become due and notice from the county treasurer is transmitted; net if paid in full within ninety days of such notice; net if paid in quarterly installments without discount; and fee if property owner elects to pay monthly; and penalty to be added in case of any default under any plan.

17. Provide that on receipt of rolls the county treasurer shall mail to last known address statement of taxes against each description of property, real or personal. With modern equipment the mailing of such property owner with slight cost above the actual postage required. Notice sent property owner will be duplicate of tax receipt and will indicate to the property owner the terms under which he may elect to pay and the penalties provided for failure to pay within required limits of time.

18. Provide in the matter of assessment that all exemptions except constitutional exemptions on every class of property, including credits, shall be abolished. (Without exemption and with all classes of property on the assessment rolls and with proper restrictions upon local taxing units as to the tax levied or imposed, the tendency to evade will largely disappear and the sworn statement of the property owner as to the value of such property may in most cases be accepted by the assessing officer. It is doubtful if, under such a plan, the proposed exemption for homesteads will be required. In case such homestead exemptions are deemed advisable, suggestion is made that such homestead exemptions be placed not above $2000. Such an exemption would grant to the working man, the aged, the small gardener and all modest home-owners virtual exemption from the property tax.)

19. Provide on proper showing and under proper restriction for the refunding of municipal debt. In cases of extreme burden of debt against municipalities or school districts, provision might be made for adjustment of interest between the property of the district and the holders of outstanding delinquent bonds. This provision, if adopted, should also apply to special assessment districts. This is not repudiation, but in case of default this plan would offer orderly adjudication of interests.

20. Provide by statute for extreme restrictions against any future bonding by local taxing units. Provide, also, extreme restriction if not the absolute prohibition against the issuance of special assessment bonds for special benefit improvement.

(In very few cases have the benefits assessed against property under special improvement projects been reflected in actual benefits and increase of value to the property involved.)

21. Provide for a later session of the county tax commission provided under the fifteen mill tax limitation amendment. This date should follow the last date at which budgets are required by local taxation units. Allocation of the fifteen mill tax on property should not be attempted until after the completion of the assessment roll and the actual adoption of the respective budgets by the various municipal units including the school districts.

In addition to the foregoing proposed amendments to the general property tax laws, there should be further revisions of other specific tax and revenue laws as follows:

A. Revision of highway revenue system from motor vehicle taxes to provide definite allocation of all such revenues to the end that an equitable portion of such revenues shall be allocated to cities and villages from which street maintenance and improvements shall be made, thus giving the property of the city the same exemption from street improvement taxes as has already been provided for lands and property in the rural sections from the road tax.

B. Amend sales tax act to include manufacturing, extractive industries, public utilities, amusements and gross income from business, reducing retail sales tax so that combined revenue from these sources will not exceed $60,000,000. Repeal of corporation privilege tax should be included in this program.

C. A rate of taxation should be applied to certain types of credits, securities and investments to avoid confiscation and destructive taxation to the end that all property of every kind and character shall bear its just and true proportion of the expense of government.

D. Abolish the head tax for support of old age pension and substitute occupational or employment tax to be imposed against every person engaged in any occupation. Rate of tax imposed should be graduated from a minimum imposed against the ordinary laborer to a maximum against those enjoying salaries in the higher brackets. Revenues from this source should be applied solely to the support of the old age pension system, the residue, if any, to be applied to the establishment of a cooperative unemployment insurance plan for the state of Michigan.

E. In addition to the foregoing, at such time as the constitution of the state may be amended to permit the levy of graduated income tax and the elimination of the present mandate for a uniform rate of taxation, there should be enacted:

A. A graduated income tax to replace the gross income tax contemplated above, such income tax to include both personal and corporate income.

B. A rate of taxation should be applied to certain types of credits, securities and investments to avoid confiscation and destructive taxation to the end that all property of every kind and character shall bear its just and true proportion of the expense of government.

The above outline contemplates the establishment of a substantial revenue to be applied to the equalization of the school tax burden now resting so heavily upon property. Amendment of the school code should be undertaken for the purpose of creating a proper control by the state of public school expense.

The foregoing is submitted as a tentative plan not yet approved or adopted by the sub-committee on taxation of the legislative council created by the Michigan legislature. Criticism is solicited.

THE SUFFERERS

The Detroit, which is the official publication of the Detroit Chamber of Commerce, has in a recent issue that there were 23,240 families on the welfare list of that city a year ago and at the beginning of October of this year it was estimated that the number had increased to 33,533. This is an increase of about two-thirds. It pointed to these figures as a source of worry, pointing out that the only people hurt by the strikes were the working men and their families. This statement is true. There are a number of men living in Plymouth who have been forced out of employment during the past two or three weeks by these Detroit strikes. They are not strikers, but they are suffering because the strikes have forced the department in which they were employed to suffer as well as the families of the strikers. Unless the NIRA can bring to an end this labor turmoil immediately we are afraid that the whole adventure is nearing the brink of failure.

WHAT DO YOU EXPECT FROM YOUR PAPER?

What do you expect from your newspaper? Well you expect more from your newspaper than you do from any other person or institution to which you pay the sum of $1.50 a year.

You expect your newspaper to give you all the news for 52 weeks. That's why you pay $1.50 for it. You expect your newspaper to give you the lead in advocating changes for the betterment of the community.

You expect your newspaper to expose graft in public affairs, to forestall it by publishing itemized accounts of all public moneys spent.

You expect your newspaper to maintain a high standard of morality, supporting things that are right and condemning things that are wrong.

You expect your newspaper to maintain a high standard of enterprise, devoting column after column to propaganda, supporting the band, the baseball team, community celebrations, Boy Scouts, high school athletics, school programs, home talent plays and dozens of such causes and events.

You expect your paper to boost for good roads and protect your community's claim to its share of road improvements.

You expect your newspaper to build up confidence in your home financial institutions and protect home investors from making unwise investments of surplus funds, warning against fake salesmen and other financial pirates.

You expect your newspaper to combat the peddler nuisance.

You expect your newspaper to establish friendly contact with the rural readers so as to induce them to make your town their town.

You expect your newspaper to give notice of all public meetings, public observances, conventions, etc.

You expect your newspaper to urge support of poor relief benefits, library drives, Red Cross drives, Christmas seal drives, Legion and Auxiliary drives, poppy sales, forget-me-not sales, have-a-heart drives, etc.

You expect your newspaper to publish church notices, church programs, club news, farm bureau information, demonstration unit news, market news, weather news, bring you the market reports and cover all doings of the many semi-public organizations.

You expect your newspaper to support every meritorious organization effort for the city's good.

You expect all this for $1.50 a year.

No, it can't be done for that. The money you, as a subscriber pay for this paper covers less than one-fourth the cost of publishing the paper. The other three-fourths must be paid by advertisers.

Since the advertisers pay a large share of the expense of publishing your newspaper, don't you think you owe them the duty to patronize them whenever they offer you equal or better values than non-advertisers?

And you, Mr. Advertiser, don't you think that in view of the many services which the newspaper performs, for which the newspaper derives no compensation, but which mean more business and more profits to you, the newspaper deserves your advertising and printing business?

Send your advertising dollar away from home and you do just what you wouldn't want others to do to whom you look for your business. It is just as important that the advertising dollar remains in the community as it is for the grocery dollar and the clothing dollar and the rest of the commodity dollars that make your town prosperous to remain at home.—Advance Press, Springfield, Minn.

TIMES HAVE CHANGED

It used to be considered somewhat disgraceful to depend on the county for support while today it is considered a beautiful good deed.

OUCH!

Samuel T. Metzger, Michigan Democratic commissioner of agriculture, has just authorized the State College to market a new kind of grape, to be known as "vine."

Now, if only commissioner Metzger would let the public in on a few of the "lemons" of his own Party—but that would be an act of horticulture foreign to "political plums."—Geo. Averill in The Birmingham Eccentric.

MORE TAXES

Old age pensions are a mighty fine thing, but this is a poor time to undertake the task of financing them. Citizens of every age, old and young, have been asked to support the welfare rolls. It is not a question of physical inability to earn a living, it is simply that they have been denied the opportunity which they seek. They deserve at least as much consideration as do those who have passed any certain age limit, 70 or any other.

Just now Michigan is preparing to enforce its new head tax law: the money (what's left of it) to be used to pay old age pensions. How will those out of work pay a $2 head tax? They are already unable to support themselves, or they may be just "getting by" through denying themselves all but the bare necessities of life.

Another point against the old age law as now proposed is that the collection of the head tax is a very costly method of increasing and reducing expense, the state must set up another tax collection agency.—Joe Sturgeon in The Delta County Reporter.

A POLITICAL DEAL!

Two former Republican governors of Michigan, Alex J. Groesbeck and Fred W. Green, who for several years were bitter political enemies, are said to have discussed the Republican party situation at a luncheon in Detroit Friday.

The fact that these two former political foes have become friendly enough to eat at the same table is news of state-wide interest. But the fact that they discussed Republican politics makes their meeting doubly interesting and significant.

As the former is prominently mentioned for the gubernatorial nomination and the latter had his eyes on the United States senatorship, it is rumored that a deal whereby the factions headed by these gentlemen will mutually agree to support an acceptable "slate" is in the offing. The slate, of course, would include Groesbeck for governor and Green for United States senator.

Groesbeck's stock has been rising for the past three years. It was considered too dictatorial in his conduct of state affairs. But the very quality for which he was then condemned is now advanced

In every bank the greatest part of the equipment and working hours of the clerical force is devoted to the handling of checks and items deposited by the commercial account depositors and to the handling of the checks drawn by these same depositors upon their accounts.

When you consider the convenience of a checking account and its absolute necessity in conduct of many businesses, the small charge which is made to partially cover these costs is unusually reasonable and is gladly paid by the depositor who understands why it is necessary.

Plymouth, is full of men and women that once knew the Lord in old-fashioned grace, but have fallen by the wayside and lost the grace of God out of their hearts. The only way back is by repentance toward God and faith in the Lord Jesus Christ. Their conscience has been lulled to sleep by modernism, skepticism, and infidelity. CHURCH OF THE OPEN DOOR

(Independent Baptist)
 164 N. Main St.
 Richard Neale, Pastor

Sunday morning at ten o'clock the pastor will preach the last sermon in a series on "What God Says How to Finance His Church." We shall study the ninth chapter of 2 Corinthians. All are invited to bring their Bibles and fellowship with us in a reverent study of the Word of God.

Our memory verse during this series of messages is 1 Corinthians 16:2. "Upon the first day of the week let everyone of you lay by him in store, as God hath prospered him, that there be no gatherings when I come." Another great verse is 2 Corinthians 9:7. "Every man according as he purposeth in his heart, so let him give; not grudgingly, nor of necessity; for God loveth a cheerful giver."

The word "cheerful" in the last verse is the Greek word "hilarious." According to God's Word, and the experience of His church, cheerful givers make their offering because they love the Lord Jesus Christ. They will not rob God of His gifts and offerings which are His due. They give regularly, sacrificially, and prayerfully too. They need not be coaxed, solicited, or "sold." What they do need is Bible teaching, a "willing mind," and an opportunity to practice what they have learned.

At 7:30 p. m. is our evening service. Our Bible Book reading campaign is well under way. Reports will be made at the evening service. Choose a Book in the Bible. Read it carefully, and get its message. Tell us what blessing it has meant to you. Hand in any questions about the Bible for the Christian life. Some free literature on the above topic will be distributed at both services. Be sure to ask for your copy. The pastor's subject is: "How to Combat Temptation." Monday evening at 7:30 is the young people's fellowship meeting. Mrs. Ella Kainz will speak on: "The Life of Absalom."

Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. is our Prayer and Bible study service. The 10th chapter of Daniel in the lesson.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"Doctrine of Atonement" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in this Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, October 15.

Among the Bible citations was this passage (Mark 10:21): "Then Jesus beholding him loved him, and said unto him, One thing thou lackest: go thy way, sell whatsoever thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasures in heaven and come, take up the cross, and follow me."

Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p.25): "Wisdom and Love may require many sacrifices of self to save us from sin. One sacrifice, however great, is insufficient to pay the debt of sin. The atonement require constant self-immolation on the sinner's part."

A CALL TO SINGERS

This is in the nature of an invitation to choir members of all churches and all others who sing to join in a worthy civic project viz: the presentation of Handel's great oratorio "The Messiah" at the high school auditorium, Wednesday evening of Dec. 20th.

The first meeting for registering and placing singers will be held next Monday evening, October 23 at the M. E. church. All subsequent meetings, which will be rehearsals will be held on Thursday evenings at the high school. Miss Marguerite Henry supervisor of music of the Plymouth schools, who will direct expects to be able to have well over one hundred in the chorus and is now forming an alumni orchestra to play the accompaniment.

Miss Henry has had special training on the Messiah and under her capable direction this event will be one of the finest presentations ever given in Plymouth. There is further good news to those who make up the audience in that there will be no admission charged.

Buy Now Plan Urged By NRA to Get Support

ducts manufactured in Plymouth. And the agricultural section will be helped too, because increased business in the cities and towns is bound to create a heavier demand for the things the farmer has to sell.

Mr. Hayward said that reports from Washington indicated that the present movement was spreading like wild-fire over the country and was bound to be a great success. "NRA headquarters in Washington are getting reports of tremendous enthusiasm for the drive," he said.

"In numerous places, mass meetings of the business men have been held, definite plans have been mapped out, committees appointed and the work is getting under way in real American go-getter fashion. The increased business momentum which started with the Blue Eagle drive is now being accelerated. We know that Plymouth is not going to lag behind. I do not say this as a matter of patriotism, though I realize that this campaign has a patriotic side to it. What is outstanding at this time is that it really is a matter of local self interest to get into this prospering parade."

"As I see it, any city or town that does not fall into line with this movement is simply going to lose a lot of business and keep a lot of people on the bread line who ought to be on the pay rolls. The government in Washington is willing and eager to give all possible cooperation to local organizations. The great value emanating from this source lies in a coordinated national effort. With the campaign assuming national proportions, each community will receive the benefit of everybody working together.

"We know that business can be greatly stimulated by the plan now being put into effect. Nobody is being asked to make any particular sacrifices. To buy now is manifestly self-interest because prices are bound to go higher. Therefore, I feel that we are simply doing the logical and obvious thing in accepting the Government's invitation to join in the present campaign."

Mr. Hayward stated that every possible medium would be employed to mobilize public opinion. These include display ads and special articles in newspapers, radio talks, motion pictures, public speakers, posters, street cards and stickers. It is the expectation of the NRA that every line of business will be tremendously stimulated during the weeks before the end of the year, and, with this momentum added to the various other phases of the recovery program, the upward economic trend will continue until conditions are approximately normal have been reached.

SCIENTISTS HEAR FINEST LECTURE

of Deity, that power which rules all nations with a rod of iron, that is, an immutable Principle. This Principle is incorruptible Being; a continuing Principle which presents an aspect of eternal Life, its permanence and continuity, as well as the invariability of Truth and the immutability of Love. What a blessing to mankind it is to have a God we can intelligently know and lovingly call on in every emergency, try, weigh, measure what Principle is, as distinguished from material desire, human will, mesmerism, and personality.

Again, Principle is the one and only Mind, God. When this Mind is made manifest it exterminates error, God, infinite Mind, operating through spiritual law, heals the sick. The right knowing of God is the apprehension that God is Life, Truth, Love. Life is divine Love in action. Real Life is one infinite, eternal, omnipresent, indestructible, self-existent Truth. When we know Truth we become conscious of Life, real being. This knowing is reflection—then we are in Life. Jesus said: "This is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent."

We have as much of God's allness as we understand and demonstrate, but this we cannot demonstrate unless we grasp the great truth in Christian Science that there is but one Mind. Suppose a case of domestic discord. Can we not see that knowing there is but one Mind would be a help? With as many minds in the home as there are mortals these many minds might express ignorance, fear, doubt. These many minds might not have completely overcome the flesh. Human error might suggest to them, jealousy, resentment, irritation; but knowing that there is only one Mind and that Mind God, can and does put an end to the belief of many minds operating. Then the peace of this one Mind would be made manifest in the very qualities of divine Mind's own nature. We learn now to settle any subject until we refer it to Mind, God, and consider it from a correct basis.

In his thinking and living the Christian Scientist finds that the scientific understanding of Christ Jesus is fundamental in his healing work. What was it that made Jesus victor? He explained saying, "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." "I and my Father are one," were his words. Not that he taught that he was God, for he said, "My Father is greater than I," but that his nature was the very nature of his Father. The Christ is the very nature and essence of God expressed. It is this nature, this Christ, Truth, that is always with us, that does the work through us, as it did through Jesus; hence Jesus could say, "The works that I do shall be done also."

The invisible Christ-idea through the human Jesus reached humanity, made the Word flesh, made the Christ practical in human affairs. This application of Truth to human experience was divinity reaching humanity with salvation, with understanding, for it imparted a new basis of being. A proper understanding, a correct estimate of Christ Jesus, is essential; the revelation cannot be separated from the revealer. The Christ-idea gives to men the ability to govern corporate phenomena by spiritual law; as our Leader says, "The Principle of these marvelous works is divine; but the actor was human." (Miscellaneous Writing, p. 198).

running three eight hour shifts in one department." He pointed out several of the provisions of the code as it pertains to the toy business and of the flexibility of its provisions due to the seasonal requirements of the industry.

"It will take some time to work out in all its details the NRA program as applied to industry, so it will be necessary in order that we may understand the operation of the plan and to the end that no misunderstanding may arise between employee and employer," he said.

"It is most unfortunate that many strikes have occurred in different parts of the country, but in my mind these are a perfectly logical sequence of such a radical change in the conduct of business.

"Without taking sides on the question, I believe that these differences of opinion will be gradually ironed out and eventually everyone will get squarely behind the President in his effort to lift the country out of the dumps and to give employment to those people who have borne the brunt of the depression."

Each Rotarian today is requested to have a farmer guest at the meeting to be held at the Mayflower hotel. The program will be given over to a discussion of rural extension work.

Miss Anglin is intimately known to a large radio audience through her weekly programs from New York over the National Broadcasting company. Among her notable successes were "The Great Divide," with Henry Miller, "The Woman of Bronze," "Lady Windermere's Fan," and the Greek tragedies, including "Antigone," at the Metropolitan Opera House in New York, and at the Berkeley bowl in California.

With two stars whose brilliance shines in two quite distant orbits, Ivor Novello's sly, gay comedy, "A Party," will be presented at the Cass Theater the week opening Monday, October 23, starring Margaret Anglin and Irene Bordoin.

Of all the sophisticated, delightful enterprises of our time, probably the one that most intrigues the imagination of the common citizen is the after-the-play party of the royal inner circle of theatrical stars. No wonder then, that when Ivor Novello was clever enough to transfer the whole fabulous business (wit, elegance, champagne, current celebrities, the appalling sincerities of sophisticated conversation) to the London stage, and invite everyone, for the price of a ticket to come, he could not accommodate the crowds.

Particularly was his "Party" better when it began to be bruted about the town that the leading character, the infamous Mrs. Macdonald, was really Mrs. Patrick Campbell; Miranda Clayfoot, Tallulah Bankhead, and Bar-Calendar, Novello himself; and all the lesser folk of the crowd, well known critics designers and members of

With two stars whose brilliance shines in two quite distant orbits, Ivor Novello's sly, gay comedy, "A Party," will be presented at the Cass Theater the week opening Monday, October 23, starring Margaret Anglin and Irene Bordoin.

Of all the sophisticated, delightful enterprises of our time, probably the one that most intrigues the imagination of the common citizen is the after-the-play party of the royal inner circle of theatrical stars. No wonder then, that when Ivor Novello was clever enough to transfer the whole fabulous business (wit, elegance, champagne, current celebrities, the appalling sincerities of sophisticated conversation) to the London stage, and invite everyone, for the price of a ticket to come, he could not accommodate the crowds.

Particularly was his "Party" better when it began to be bruted about the town that the leading character, the infamous Mrs. Macdonald, was really Mrs. Patrick Campbell; Miranda Clayfoot, Tallulah Bankhead, and Bar-Calendar, Novello himself; and all the lesser folk of the crowd, well known critics designers and members of

MY TRIP TO CROSS VILLAGE
By Barbara Husbell
Picture yourselves on a narrow, winding trail leading to Cross Village, a place which lures many with its interesting inhabitants, the Algonquin Indians.
I followed this trail early this summer. It was a beautiful day, and by looking through the trees which lined the trail you could see Lake Michigan sparkling in the sunshine.
Finally we came out on a green knoll and from there we could see Cross Village nestled down in a little valley.

Senior High Students Hold First Assembly

The first senior high school assembly of the year was held last Wednesday. The program was similar to that of the junior assembly of the previous week. After a few announcements by Mr. Dykhouse, Mr. Matheson gave a talk on sportsmanship in athletics. He praised the students for their admirable conduct at the Deshaize game and urged them to continue to improve their sportsmanship. Mr. Latture addressed the assembly concerning the interclass debates; he announced that the winning negative team will debate the winning affirmative in assembly next week. Following these talks the students gave several yells and sang the Fight Song. Forbes Smith and Romaine Lee played a cornet-accordion duet consisting of several numbers.

English Class Writes Ballads

The class in English literature had been studying ballad making in medieval times and were given Biblical references to see what they could do. These were given a few to be published this week and next.
THE STORY OF JOSEPH
Genesis Chapter XXXVII
Verses 15-35
There lived a youth so wise and good
Unloved by most his kin.
Who dwelt in far off Canaanland,
And never once did sin.
We're told the youth was seventeen
The name he had was Joe.
Tho' many brothers did he have
His dad to him would go.
New Joe would say, "Look here, old man."
(He'd mean his dad, you see.)
'I'd like to call you Jacob, sir,
You're such a pal to me."

New Street Signs Are Being Erected

The city has recently purchased a limited number of carved wood street signs similar to those used in the city of Detroit to be erected on the unimproved intersections. These signs are being placed on 4x4 wood posts. It is felt that these signs will be an improvement over the old painted wood signs because they will be much more easily maintained. The sign can be repainted at regular intervals by any painter and it is not necessary that they be able to do lettering. The wood posts are being set in concrete so that they will stand erect and will be maintained in good condition. The finances of the city at the present time would not permit the replacement of all of the wooden street signs but will be done as the old signs are worn out and re-signing is necessary.

Remember?

That Junior always seems to be underfoot as soon as winter sets in? Why not build him a play room in the basement or attic where he can run and shriek like an Indian with his pals and your wife's nerves will remain calm and untroubled. The cost of converting unused portions in the house into livable rooms is slight compared with the pleasure they give.

Was Your Stove Modern

Advertisement for a modern electric range. Text: 'Perhaps you don't realize that stoves have changed as much as women's styles—that a modern range today will do things old-fashioned stoves would never do. For example, a modern electric range makes the scouring of pots and pans unnecessary; there is no soot or soot to blacken utensils or soil kitchen walls and curtains. An electric range supplies only PURE HEAT from a glowing wire—heat as clean as sunlight. A modern range, too, cooks practically without water. Half-a-cup is ample for vegetables, and the precious minerals and food values that you pay for are retained, instead of being lost in steam or poured down the sink when the cooking is finished. And finally, electric cooking SEALS-IN flavor: meats and vegetables cook to melting tenderness in their own juices. There is practically no shrinkage in roasts, and foods cooked electrically have a flavor surpassingly delicious—a natural flavor achieved by no other cooking method. Foods not only taste better but are more healthful. You can own a new Waldorf-Electrochef electric range for $89.50, installed and ready to cook. Modernize your entire kitchen by installing a new electric range.' Includes image of a stove and '89' price tag.

Famous Cowboy Troupe Is Coming To Penniman Allen October 22 - 23

Entertainment lovers of Plymouth will on Sunday and Monday evening, October 22 and 23, have something out of the ordinary to enjoy. Harry Lush of the Penniman Allen Theatre has booked for those two nights the "Oklahoma Cowboys." All the members of the troupe are stage and radio singers and entertainers. This stage entertainment will be in addition to the regular excellent motion picture program that will be shown as usual.

The stage show will feature Slim White, well known cowboy comedian. He is one of the top-notchers in singing, dancing and whip cracking stunts.

The group comprises a small sized cowboy band that will add variety to the program for the two evenings. It is the first stage show that has been booked for Plymouth in many a moon and because of the excellence of the entertainment offered, it will without question attract some of the biggest crowds the Penniman-Allyn has enjoyed during the present year.

MICHIGAN BELL TELEPHONE CO.

IT COSTS ALMOST AS MUCH NOT TO HAVE A TELEPHONE

Add up the monthly cost to you of messages that must be sent . . . of calls you make at public telephones . . . of time, carfare, driving and parking that a telephone at home would save.

Then consider the advantage of being able to receive messages from friends, relatives and business associates, and invitations to social affairs you would regret missing.

Remember, too, that in case of fire, sickness, accident or other emergency, just one telephone call for aid may be worth the cost of the service for a lifetime.

You can order a telephone from any Telephone Business Office. Installation will be made promptly.

First reports of ice being formed during the night came last Saturday morning when a number of early risers discovered that pans and pails of water that had been left out doors during the night, had thin coats of ice over the tops of them.

Fortunately however the weather warmed up considerably during the day and by Saturday noon it was much warmer than it has been for several days. The weather Sunday was about as ideal as one could ask. Weather reports indicate that the present fall weather is about the average.
