

New Park Lake Is Already Filled To The Spillway

River Flowage Aided By Rains And Early Snow Fall

Newburg Road Over Dam To Be Open Soon

Officials Plan To Keep Park Work Going During Winter

Where six months ago existed swamp lands and low, uncultivated grounds, unattractive and of practically no use, today there is today a beautiful lake, forming a part of the Wayne county park system that is expected to rival in beauty the Westchester park system, and yearly surrounds the city of New York.

While engineers last fall expected that it would take a good portion of the winter to fill the lake after the completion of the dam, the excess water that has come into the Rouge valley as the result of heavy rains and early winter snows, has already filled the lake to a point where it is now up to the spillway of the dam.

The great embankment that was built from the dam southward to a point almost to the Golden road, has been graded and sodded to the water's edge.

Workmen since the grading was completed, have constructed a roadway across the top of the dam and along the top of the embankment, connecting again the Plymouth road and the Golden road over the old Newburg highway. The road is not yet open to traffic as there is considerable work to do at this point, but the roadway has been gravelled and is now in use by construction crews.

The east end of the lake is from 15 to 20 feet deep. The west end near the White oak road, is from only two to four or five feet deep, providing a safe place for children to skate. The only deep place along the west end will be over the old creek bed, which lies to the south side of the lake. There will be comparatively no danger if children skate on the north side of the lake near the dam, but not near the bridge where the Rouge river flows into the new lake.

Practically all of the ground for the creation of the new lake was donated by Henry Ford to the county.

Winter weather has curtailed to a very great extent much of the work that has been under way in the park system, but park officials expect to keep as many as possible busy during the winter months. There are fills to be made and considerable grading that can be done. This is the type of work that will be carried on mostly during the winter months.

Paving of sections of the roadway will be resumed early in May.

Stores To Be Open Wednesday Night

Do your Thanksgiving shopping Tuesday, Wednesday and Wednesday night in Plymouth. The stores and meat markets will be open Wednesday evening to take care of patrons that find it difficult to get down town during the day.

The stores will not be open Thursday morning. This is a practice that will be done away with under the new order of things.

So get your chicken, turkey or whatever it might be—with all the trimmings before you go to the shelves of the local stores. Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday. The stores will be open until 10 o'clock Wednesday night.

Dr. Patterson Is First To Purchase New Auto Plates

Dr. A. E. Patterson has the distinction of being the first Plymouth war veteran to secure one of the "V" license plates that the Plymouth branch of the secretary of state's office has set aside for all war veterans.

Rosewell Tanager, Plymouth city mail carrier, secured the first 1934 license plates issued by Secretary Berg Moore of the "V" series.

Elton Ashton, employe of the Plymouth United States bank, was the first to get a new set of 1934 plates of the "Z" series. The Plymouth Elevator company secured the first commercial plates issued for the ensuing year and Ray Miller, who resides near Northville, was awarded the first trailer license for next year.

D. A. R. Discusses Today's Problems

State Director of C.A.R. Is Guest of Chapter At Last Meeting

An interesting meeting of the Sarah Ann Cochran D. A. R. was held at the home of Mrs. John Root at East Arbor on Monday afternoon, November 20, when the chapter had as their guest Mrs. Catlin, state director of the Children of the American Revolution, an organization closely affiliated with the Daughters of the American Revolution. Mrs. Catlin told of the activities of her organization, how the children had completely refurbished the room in which Washington was born, how they care for the kindergartens in Ellis Island and some southern mountain schools sending them toys, clothing, tooth brushes, wash cloths and towels of which they are badly in need. Mrs. Catlin also said the rest of the program was in charge of Mrs. John Root, who consisted of current events, which Mrs. Root and different members of the D.A.R. gave. The very careful merchantable and selected here everyone's closest attention.

Mrs. Sidney Strong first gave an address on the program. "What do you like?" she asked John D. Rockefeller, Jr. engaged this company to make the report as he had always been interested in the automobile. The two main points that were stressed were the abolition of lawlessness and the focusing of organization attention on the development of self control in regard to drinking.

The next topic was the much talked of "Recognition of Russia" given by Mrs. Nell McKinley. Mrs. Walter Root then talked on "The Situation at Home" and "The Progress of the NRA."

A course of reading was recommended by Mrs. Carl Bryan of Webster, Mass., and gave this day. Many books and magazines were given which were considered very good and which thoughtfully were given to the group. Mrs. Much of the time, the day's discussion seems to be taking a higher level dealing with the soil and the humbler realities of life. Members and gave this article "Can America Live Alone," written by a dean of Princeton University in which he speaks both for and against America's dealings with other nations.

The last talk was given by Mrs. Royal Larkins of Northville on "The Present European Situation," which was intensely interesting and presented the affairs over seas.

Needlework Guild Honors Mrs. Cooper At Annual Meeting

At the home of Mrs. R. E. Cooper and officers and directors of the Needlework Guild held their annual business meeting on Wednesday night, November 23, at 7 o'clock. The work of the local Guild since its organization in June of 1932 was reviewed, reports received, and new officers elected.

The ingathering last Wednesday was less of clothing, which is to be done here and there, and cash to help supply the greatest need—shoes. The response was splendid and gifts are still coming in. If anyone has clothing or shoes to contribute, please bring them to any of the above named officers will be appreciated and answered promptly.

Protest Made On Ordinance Fees For Transients

Real Estate Owners Say It Stops Rental Of Stores

Ordinance Aimed At The Fly-By-Nights

A Substantial Merchant Would Pay Fee Say Dealers

Because of a protest made Monday night at the meeting of the city commission relative to the recently enacted transient merchant ordinance, Secretary Berg Moore of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce, called a meeting of the business men to discuss the question Wednesday night.

At Monday night's commission meeting, one real estate dealer and several property owners stated that the ordinance was keeping some new stores from coming to Plymouth, the prospective dealers refusing to pay a license until their stock was placed on the personal tax roll.

It was explained that the ordinance was drafted for the purpose of keeping transient merchants out of Plymouth. It seeks to check the dealer who comes into town with a stock of goods, puts two or three sales, uses the "big" opening sale, and then some seasonal sale and in two or three months a "close-out" or "bankrupt" sale. Meanwhile he has done a big business, paid no local tax or license and then moves on to some other town. As a result of this practice in the past the local merchants who are here the year around paying taxes and in other ways supporting local institutions, have lost a portion of their business to these outsiders.

Mayor Freeman Hoyer stated after the meeting that possibly a compromise might be reached as a result of the discussion, the retention in the ordinance of the provision requiring a stock of $30 per thousand on all stock carried, but the elimination of the monthly inspection fee. The ordinance provides that the fee prevails only until the stock of goods has been placed on the assessment roll.

An official declares that if any prospective merchant is unable to meet this small license fee until his goods can be placed upon the tax roll, it is not the kind of merchant desired by the city.

Some real estate owners on the other hand point out that they are unable to pay their taxes because of the fact that their stores remain vacant and they say that even though some of these merchants do come here for a brief period it does leave some money in town, even though their goods do not get on the tax roll.

Paul Hayward Closes Saturday

Well Known Local Men's Clothing Returns To Ypsilanti

Announcement of the retirement of Paul Hayward from business in Plymouth has been received with regret by many of the community but his host of friends as well it was a little over six years ago when Mr. Hayward came to Plymouth from Ypsilanti and opened up a men's clothing store. Since that time he has carried a line of merchandise which has equalled that of any place in the city.

His decision to sell out his Plymouth store came as a great surprise to his many friends. Active in the Rotary club, he was recently awarded the special honorary pin for five years of perfect attendance. He has served as president of the Plymouth-Northville Credit Bureau and has been active in Chamber of Commerce work.

It is his plan to dispose of all of his goods in the Plymouth store. Later he contemplates the opening of a men's clothing store on North Washington in Ypsilanti. The location is but a short distance from the Huron hotel.

At the present, this leaves Plymouth without an exclusively men's clothing shop, but it is hoped that within the next few weeks a worthy successor to Mr. Hayward will decide to open a store similar to the high type one that Mr. Hayward has conducted.

Warns Against Use Of Streets For Coasting

While the ice and snow have disappeared from the streets, Chief of Police Vaughn Smith strongly urges parents of children not to permit them to slide in the streets as they have been doing in the past week or so. Numerous narrow escapes were reported in the police department. Several auto drivers made complaints, telling of the difficulty they had in avoiding running into children sliding in the streets. The chief urges that when snow has melted that parents have their children use their sleds and sleds elsewhere than in the streets.

Three Churches To Unite Services For Thanksgiving Day

In harmony with the practice of past years, the Baptist, Presbyterian and Methodist churches will worship together at ten o'clock Thanksgiving day. This year the service will be at the Methodist church, Rev. Lois Sutherland, pastor of the Baptist church will speak. The Methodist adult choir, young people's choir and children's choir will sing the anthem "A Song of Thanksgiving." The adult and young people's choir will sing the "One Hundred Fifty-fifth Psalm." Mrs. M. J. O'Connor will sing "The Land of the Pilgrims." The W. D. U. under the direction will be taken for the relief of distress. All are invited to attend this service.

To Give Toys To Boys And Girls

W. C. T. U. To See That Every Tot Receives Gift On Xmas

Knowing that Christmas to children is not Christmas without a doll for the little girl or a toy for the small boy, the Phoebe Patterson W. C. T. U. under the department of Flower Mission and Relief will hold a Silver Tea at the Mulford Hostess House, corner State and Main, Monday afternoon, November 27 from 3 to 5 p. m., the proceeds of this tea to be used to buy the dolls and toys. The public is urged to attend and have a share in putting into the Christmas of 1933 some of the joy and sunshine that this season means to children and that because of the prevailing conditions philanthropy must be confined to practical and material needs.

A regular meeting of the Phoebe Patterson union was held at the home of Mrs. W. S. Holdsworth on Tuesday, November 21. The cause of the arrival of winter with its wind and snow, the attendance was not up to the mark and the meeting was very much enjoyed.

The departments to be duplicated this year are the Sunday school work, Loyal Temperance League, Allied Youth, Scientific Temperance Instruction, Citizenship and Legislation, Press and Publicity, Medal Contests, and Flower Mission and Relief.

It was under the head of Secretary Catherine Hoyer that the Post-Convention was held in the high school last spring. These posters were on exhibition at the State Convention in Detroit and won a great deal of admiration. At the district convention in Pontiac they attracted so much attention that a request was made to Detroit where they are on display in the young people's room of one of the large churches.

Travellers reports of the state convention were given one by Mrs. Louise Mulford, Mrs. Cora Ball, a member of this organization, but now living in Ypsilanti. The report was very much enjoyed. High lights of the Pontiac district convention were given by Mrs. Ruth Whipple.

At the kind invitation of the hostess, the next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Holdsworth on Tuesday, December 11, at 2 p. m.

Cheerbringers Planning Dance

Start Raising Funds For Christmas—No One To Be Forgotten

Each year in December the Cheerbringers, an organization of veterans connected with the Excelsior Club in Plymouth and a cooperating citizens committee, plan a big event for the benefit of fun lovers and to raise funds for Christmas baskets. In previous years the Cheerbringers have engaged three dance halls of Plymouth for their Christmas ball and have filled all three to capacity, providing at each hall a spirit of the holiday jollity and on Christmas morning at each home that Santa might otherwise have forgotten cheer in the form of toys to a little lad or lassie whose faith was great and whose faith was rewarded.

This year the Cheerbringers plan, instead of a Christmas ball held in three halls in one night a Christmas Carnival to be held at the same time and place should provide for everybody who will be provided at this regular old fashioned Yuletide Carnival.

Fifteen events going on at the same time and place should provide each and everyone with the fun and jollity one could wish. This and more is in store for all the citizens of the community. Details will be furnished next week.

Planning Grade Separation For East Ann Arbor

Project On List As Part Of Program For 1934 Work

City Officials Are In Favor Of Proposal

Federal And State Funds Will Be Used To Pay For Work

Construction of a grade separation at the Pere Marquette crossing of East Ann Arbor street during the next year is a possibility as the result of a proposal of the federal government to expend hundreds of millions of dollars on public works throughout the nation.

This is one project placed on the list, sometime ago by officials of Plymouth and Wayne county that has remained on the projects that the state has in mind for the ensuing year.

Not only is it proposed to build a subway under the Pere Marquette where East Ann Arbor crosses the railroad, but it is proposed to continue the paving of the present dirt road of hard surface on East Ann Arbor out to a point where it will connect with the Plymouth Riverside park highways and the Golden road.

If this improvement should be given the official OK and Mayor Freeman Hoyer is strong in the belief that it will have the approval of the county, state and federal administrators, it will provide Plymouth with its only thoroughfare out of the city to the east without crossing a railroad. If approved, the entire work will be done at federal and state expense.

It will again make Ann Arbor street the direct highway from the main part of the city of Ann Arbor to the east. Not only will it create an ideal highway to the east, but it will provide the city with a direct paved highway to the south side of the new parkway system.

City officials point out that one of the big advantages and the thing that leads them to the belief that it will be approved is the fact that there is no necessity of purchasing any additional land for the improvement. It is known that the government frowns upon all projects that require land purchases.

Today Scheduled For Club Meeting

Members Of Woman's Club To Visit Settlements In Detroit

The address on "Standards of Value in Life and Art," given by John L. Brumm, professor of journalism, University of Michigan, before a large gathering of members of the Woman's Club of Plymouth at the Hotel Mayflower on Friday, November 17th was another very interesting one. The club has been enjoying this fall. Mr. Brumm, who is a most pleasing and interesting talker, said that there is a great deal of life to raise above the humdrum existence some seem to regard it. If we but look for it and know how to recognize and appreciate it, the songs given by the high school choir under the leadership of Miss Henry added greatly to the charm and pleasure of the occasion. In the absence of Mrs. Ruth Whipple, the president, Mrs. Ray Johns, conducted the class in Parliamentary Law, which met immediately before the regular meeting of the club. These classes are most informal and it is hoped that a large number of the members will avail themselves of the opportunity which they offer.

The meeting of the club which was scheduled for December 1, is to be held on Friday of this week, November 24, and is to take the form of an "International Tour," in a trip to three of the largest and most important of the settlement houses of Detroit and Hamtramck.

The members will leave Hotel Mayflower at 12:15 sharp in cars provided by the committee for the day and will arrive in Detroit at the Tau Beta Community House in Hamtramck. This is the newest and nicest of the settlement houses in the group. From there the members will visit the International Institute where members of the foreign classes danced in native costumes. Following this, tea will be served to the club members by the hostess.

The committee who have planned this delightful day is Mrs. Claude J. Dykhouse, chairman, and the mesdames Ray Johns, W. Holdsworth, Louise Tighe, Mumford, George Smith, and E. W. Hillier. It is hoped that every member of the club will make the trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph West, Detroit, Detroit, and Mr. Robert and Mrs. James, will be guests of Mrs. Frank West and family in Detroit Thanksgiving Day.

To Protect Peoria Life Policy Holders

Says State Official

The hundreds of policy holders of the Peoria Life insurance company in this vicinity will be interested in knowing that State Insurance Commissioner Charles E. Gauss of Lansing has issued a statement in which he declares the Illinois insurance department is working on plans for the mutualization of the company with a complete re-organization and new management. The policy holders will be re-insured in other companies.

"There is no reason for Michigan policy holders in this company to be gathering together and over the situation and every possible step will be taken to safeguard the interests of the thousands of policy holders in this state," declared Mr. Gauss.

Of the $187,000,000 insurance in force with the Peoria Life, Michigan policy holders held over 200,000,000 and much of it is in this part of the state. Just how many policy holders there are in and around Plymouth is not known, but the total will run into the hundreds.

Electric Signs Light The Night

New Signs At Daisy Can Be Seen Over Five Miles From City

Two great electric signs that are visible for a distance of five and a half miles, with letters so large that they can be read two and a half miles away, have just been erected over the big plant of the Daisy Manufacturing company. Not only can they be seen for this great distance, but the bright lights emanate from the thousand feet above the city. The letters that form the words are over four feet high.

They not only provide a beacon light for night traffic, but they advertise to automobile drivers and that this is the place where "Daisy Air Rifles" are made. The name of Plymouth and the Daisy sign have been in existence for a century, and when one sees the sign "Daisy" they instinctively associate it with the name of Plymouth.

Signs of this nature more or less give the town an industrial background, and Plymouth is rapidly becoming one of the busiest little industrial centers in the state. In addition to the great signs that nightly flash to the world the Daisy name, the Daisy direction sign on North Main street has been changed to a neon sign which can be plainly seen for a considerable distance.

The Daisy plant is operating with a much larger force of employees than was the case a year ago. Prospects are that its winter schedule will be the largest in a number of years.

Saturday Will Be Tag Day In Plymouth For The Salvation Army

The Salvation Army Tag day will be held Saturday, November 25th. Girls scout in full uniform will be on duty all day. The results will be added to the campaign fund.

The campaign is slow and many workers have not reported from much of the territory, the committee in charge is urging all workers to complete their work as soon as possible.

Walter Harms has made the best showing so far in a report of the regular publication. It is one that has been missed or overlooked can send their check or money direct to the Salvation Army or to Chas. Fisher, local treasurer.

Early Copy, Please, For Next Issue!

As Thanksgiving day falls on the next publication date of the Plymouth Mail, it will be necessary for The Mail to go to press on Wednesday, one day ahead of the regular publication date. It is urged that correspondents and advertisers, as well as other contributors to the news columns of the paper, get their copy in early. It is said at this time that owing to the reduced working period each week, we urge every one to get copy to the office as early as possible. When announcement was first made a few weeks ago as to this plan, there was a general compliance for which The Mail was indeed grateful. It is exceedingly anxious to use all the good news that comes to the office, but it is again requested that you keep in mind the necessity for early copy at all times, and especially next week.

MAYOR F. B. HOVER

His energetic action coupled with splendid cooperation on the part of all city officials will bring nearly $25,000 to Plymouth for public works in next two months.

Special Music For Thursday Services

Thanksgiving morning at 10:30 at the M. E. Church there will be a special service for the people of all denominations in an old-fashioned Pilgrim Fathers Thanksgiving Service.

That we may catch the spirit of our forefathers, who in simple dignity celebrated their hard-won harvest and gave thanks for its bounteousness, the church will be decorated in a manner which to them would doubtless have seemed more appropriate than the finest display of our choicest fall cut flowers.

Three choirs will sing old and new hymns, a quartet which inspired our sturdy pioneers in their battle for religious freedom, and so kept their feet on the way that we might today enjoy a million old-time blessings for which they gave such homely honest thanks.

Badly Injured As Auto Hits Engine

William McCullough Is Recovering From Injuries

While driving home about 9 o'clock last Thursday night, William McCullough, a mail carrier in the postoffice, drove his automobile into the side of a Pere Marquette engine at the North Main street crossing and suffered injuries which have been feared to be of a fatal nature.

Picked up unconscious from beside the track, he was hurried to Plymouth hospital where Dr. Patterson was on duty. Although his head was frightfully gashed, it was found that the skull had not been broken. He revived consciousness the following day and since has been making a steady recovery. It will be a number of days however before he will be able to return to work. He has been removed to his home on Mill street.

Just how the accident happened no one can tell. Witnesses say the flagman at the crossing was standing almost directly in the middle of the street, and as the light Mr. McCullough declares that he does not remember a thing from the time he passed the Union street corner, nearly a block from where the accident happened.

His car crashed into the side of the engine and as it was turned over, McCullough was hurled through the air, landing with a frightful gash being cut in his head. His neck was also injured. The automobile was completely demolished.

Milford Richow, a clerk in the Beyer Pharmacy who was in his car driving home and who was approaching the crossing at the time of the accident, and Pierce Chase, an employe of the Gas service station, ran to the aid of McCullough. He was lying just at the edge of the ties on the south side of the track. They carried him into the gas station and called for an ambulance. As the automobile hit the engine, it broke off a steam pipe and it was this pipe that struck McCullough, steam that attracted the attention of Owens.

Harry Robinson was another near the scene at the time of the crash. He had no doubt been slowing down his car to bring it to a stop when the crash took place.

Government Will Pour $23,500 Into Plymouth In The Next Sixty Days

Quick Action By City And School Officials Gets Results

Many Men Already Given Employment

Nearly All Of Money Is To Be Paid Out In Wages

Through the energetic and timely action of Mayor Freeman B. Hoyer, City Commissioner John W. Henderson, George H. Robinson, Arthur E. Blunk and Oliver H. Goldsmith with City Manager Perry Cookingham and Mrs. Ruth Huston Whipple, members of the Wayne county relief commission, and Supl. George Smith of the public schools, this city has been awarded $23,500 of federal funds that must be spent for public improvements within Plymouth before February 15th.

Of this amount about $6,500 will be spent for needed repairs of this city. This will relieve the school district property owners of a tax burden that they faced during the next year in order to take care of repair work so badly needed on the buildings.

Placed to work are the end of another week Mayor Hoyer declares that he hopes to have every idle man in Plymouth on the payroll before the allotment of federal funds, coupled with the additional sum of $25,000 which has been awarded this winter. It also means that in addition to the money being poured into the pockets of Plymouth workers from its regular industries, an additional sum of $25,000 will be put in circulation here during the next two months in pay checks for working men.

Practically all of the work to be done in Plymouth must necessarily be on sewer construction and water main extensions, except of course the work on the school buildings and the construction of a covered passageway.

New Year's Party Plans Under Way

Tickets will be on sale within the next few days for a mammoth New Year's Eve party to be staged in Plymouth this year by the Pennington Allen Theater. Arthur E. Blunk, president of the club, Plymouth people will no longer have to go to Detroit to find high class entertainment for New Year's.

Tentative plans for the affair are that tickets will be sold in a couple to a show in the theatre where, along with one of the finest pictures the management will be able to give, a master of ceremonies will preside over several acts brought here from big time circuits. The famous "Hollywood Revue" has already been booked for the occasion and its presentation here will mark the first local appearance of high priced entertainment.

The New Year will be ushered in at the theatre where the master of ceremonies and the orchestra will lead the celebration. Directly after the affair, the guests will go to the hotel Mayflower where a six course dinner will be served in cabaret style. A dance orchestra will play and several entertainers will present acts in the various rooms of the hotel where a simple room for every one will be served in cabaret style. More complete details of the party will be announced next week.

THANKSGIVING

The lines are fallen unto me in pleasant places: yea, I have a goodly heritage.—Psalms 16:6.

We give thanks, O Lord, for the pleasant places, the goodly heritage. We are the heir to all the ages. Other men have labored and we enter into their labors. All the resources of industry, of science, of art, of literature, are at our command.

We give thanks for the opportunities that thus have come to us; the opportunities to have happy homes illumined with friendship and love, suffused with the myriad sides of culture; the opportunities to do useful work, to contribute our part to the complex fabric of civilization, to serve the present age.

We give thanks for the great adventure of living with all its risks of joy and sorrow. If happiness be our portion, may we accept it with joyous hearts; if sorrow, may we find strength to fulfill our obligation with courage, knowing that, in so doing, happiness will break through.

UNCLEAN HANDS

Much is being revealed by the senatorial investigation being conducted in Washington into stock and banking affairs in Wall Street. Much of the news is distressing news, the kind we dislike to read because of the fact it does much to shatter one's faith in some of the men we thought great. Democrats cannot point an accusing finger at Republicans, neither can Republicans point an accusing finger at the Democrats because testimony so far produced shows that leaders in both the great parties have shamefully betrayed a public trust.

Our wonder is, what will come out of the inquiry will those who have twisted the law to benefit themselves and those who have profited because of the public positions they occupy or have occupied be sufficiently punished, or will it all end in just another one of those things that flare forth now and then on the first pages of the newspapers and then as suddenly disappear and be forgotten?

THE BENEFACTORS

There are two classes that are being benefitted by President Roosevelt's recovery program at present—the man who works with his hands and the man who gets contracts from the government. It will not be long before President Roosevelt and the other administrators of government relief funds will find another class—a class too proud to ask for aid and more worthy than all other classes—the middle class that must be given consideration. Consisting of educators, doctors, insurance men, accountants, bank employees, lawyers, engineers, clerks and the like, they have been entirely ignored in the government's recovery program. Hundreds of thousands of this class have been without employment without food and without aid during the greater part of the depression with not a thought being given to their plight, because they are not the type to storm the welfare offices the minute they find their cupboard bare. They exist on and on, suffering in silence and absolutely ignored by the administrators of the government's relief program. The time has come for those in Washington to devise some sort of a plan to care for the class of people who have been the backbone of the nation from its very beginning.

HE PROFITS WELL

Clyde V. Fenner, a year ago a Republican, six months ago a Democrat, now claiming to be some breed of a Fusionist, has started what he styles a new political party in Michigan. What this ex-flat-foot of Detroit hopes to accomplish no one knows except himself. In a few brief years he has made quite a fortune for himself ballyhooing for the down-trodden, public and doubts he has some ideas, in addition to his rapidly increasing yearly income by the organization of a "new party." Even in times of depression, some people can find ways of making money. It is hard to understand the suitability of the human race, unless we want to believe as did old P. Barnum, that the American people like to be fooled and made fools of.

CONTROL OF THE PRESS

There has not been quite so much in the newspapers during the past few days about the freedom of the press as there was two or three weeks ago. Possibly some of those that professed to see a danger in this liberty now do not have the same fear as they seemed to indicate a while back. We have at no time believed there was danger to this freedom, a freedom written into the constitution. Two weeks ago Donald Rieberg, attorney for the N.R.A., declared in a talk at Ann Arbor, that the President of the United States or no one in his authority had had at any time any idea of interfering with that right knowing that it was a constitutional right. Right on top of that declaration a few editors thought it necessary to pass resolutions proclaiming the freedom that no one can in any way interfere with. The action was about as useless as Sally Rand's fan is to Sally.

THE BATTLE OF THE AIR

The greatest battle of the day seems to be "The Battle Of The Air," with the wise-cracking California rube throwing court-jester on one side and the imported Canadian-American patriot on the other side. Let it be said that present indications are that the orating patriot so far has the best of the argument by more than a mile.

HERBERT HOOVER—THE MAN

J. N. Darling, the cartoonist, told this story a few days ago when he returned from a fishing trip with former President Herbert Hoover:

"On the second morning in camp an old-timer from the placer gold-mining territory along the mountain stream came up to our door and knocked. He looked troubled and said he had a girl who was sick.

"Mr. Hoover grabbed his hat and went with the man to his home after having telephoned for a doctor.

"When he arrived at the home we found one girl dead from starvation and seven other children sadly undernourished.

"Mr. Hoover had the seven children taken to a hospital, then he telephoned a friend and told him he wanted $1,000. He finally raised a fund of $3,030 and then found a school teacher whom he instructed to administer the fund and told her if more was needed to let him know.

"Mr. Hoover did not fish that day."—Robert Clifford in The Easton Rapids Journal.

We have joined the society to "Kill More Crooners" each week. Let every member do his duty.—Senator Chester Howell in The Chesaning Argus.

TO FEED REPUBLICANS

Gov. Comstock, is to say the worst charitable in spots as he has declared that even Republicans are entitled to get the welfare benefits.—J. E. McMullen in The Linden Leader.

Experiments have indicated that hemp of good commercial value can be cultivated in Chile. Concel is God's gift to little men.—Bruce Barton.

Friends Tell Now Of His Gifts To Needy

Now that he is dead and gone, friends and neighbors are telling of the many charitable acts of Fred Brand, well known resident of this locality who died suddenly from the brain who few knew of his many gifts to those in need, but the other day a neighbor declared that rarely a day went by that something from the Brand farm did not go to some family in Plymouth or Detroit that was in need. No, it was not a gift of charity, "I've got more of this than we can use," he would explain as he left the produce or whatever it might be on the doorstep of some needy friend's home. Many from Plymouth and Detroit the funeral held in Detroit last week.

Society Affairs

On Sunday, immediately following Sunday school, the christening of Virginia Jean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bower (Theima Williams) of Dearborn took place in the Presbyterian church with Reverend Walter S. Nichol performing the ceremony in the presence of a few relatives. Two weeks ago Donald Rieberg, attorney for the N.R.A., had decorated the church in front of the pulpit, very beautifully using smilax, white flowers and burning tapers for a background which made the ceremony most impressive. The guests included Mrs. E. S. Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Harlow Williams, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Draper and Mr. and Mrs. Green who with Mrs. Bower and daughter, Shirley Mae, enjoyed dinner at the latter's home on Union street later.

A unique club was organized Saturday evening, November 18, at the Jarratt home on Sunset avenue. The club is named P. G. E. C. meaning Plymouth Girls Efficiency Club, with Pollyanna Wright being chosen for president, Virginia Jarratt as social leader, Sarah Robinson as secretary, June King as treasurer and chairman of sports committee. Games were played and refreshments served.

Mrs. F. R. Hoehsel, Mrs. John Paul Morrow and Mrs. Robert Willoughby were in Rosedale Park Tuesday attending a delightful bridge given by the Pan Hellenic society at the home of Mrs. Heaton.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Cash were dinner guests Sunday of his brother and family at South Lyon. Mrs. Hamilton Cash, their mother, who has been visiting there for a time, returned to Plymouth with them that evening.

The Junior Octette bridge club met at the home of Miss Catherine Duntz on the North Territorial Road Saturday evening. Miss Helen Ribar substituted for Miss Margaret Buzzard.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brown were hosts Thursday evening to the members of their "500" club at a co-operative dinner and evening of cards at their home on the Ridge Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sutherland entertained their bridge club very delightfully Thursday evening at their home on Main street south.

Mrs. Olivia Williams of Detroit was hostess to the Tuesday afternoon bridge club this week at the home of her parents on Maple avenue.

The Tuesday afternoon bridge club will meet next week Tuesday, November 28, with Mrs. J. J. McLaren on Ann Arbor street west.

Miss Sarah Gayde entertained the Happy Helpers club of the Lutheran church Wednesday evening at her home on Mill street.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Drews were hosts Monday evening to their "500" club at the home on North Harvey street.

This evening Miss Evelyn Schrader will entertain the contract bridge club at her home on Main street north.

The Stitch and Chatter club is meeting today with Mrs. Allan Horton for luncheon and afternoon of sewing.

The "Friendly" bridge club had a jolly afternoon Thursday with Mrs. E. J. Allison on Williams street.

Given Life for Kidnaping

Church Printing Contract Comes To The Plymouth Mail

Through the efforts of Rev. Edgar Hoenecke, pastor of the Evangelical Lutheran church of this place who is chairman of the publicity committee of the Evangelical Lutheran Joint Synod of Wisconsin and other states, the Plymouth Mail's commercial printing department has just landed the contract for printing the church bulletin cards and other printed matter issued by the Synod monthly from Milwaukee to the churches throughout twelve different middle west states.

A small portion of this work has been done in the past in the Mail office but so satisfactory has it proven to the officials of the Synod, whose headquarters are in Milwaukee, that when it came to awarding the contract for the ensuing year, and with the support of Rev. Hoenecke, The Plymouth Mail had little difficulty in securing the work. Plymouth friends of Rev. Hoenecke may not know it, but he is one of the prominent leaders of the Evangelical Synod of the middle west. A portion of his time is being given to the extension work of the Synod.

Plymouth Teams Hold Debate

In preparation for Thursday's debate with River Rouge, Jewell Starkweather, Jack Sessions, and Evelyn Rorabacher, representing the affirmative of the question of federal ownership of radio, met at the home of her parents on Maple avenue.

The Tuesday afternoon bridge club will meet next week Tuesday, November 28, with Mrs. J. J. McLaren on Ann Arbor street west.

County Home Agent To Show Ladies How To Clean Old Hats

On Monday, November 27, there will be a hat clinic conducted by Emma DuBord, County home demonstration agent, at the Rosedale Gardens school off of Plymouth Road south between Farmington and Wayne Roads. The meeting will start at 10:30 o'clock and remain open until 4:00. The hat clinic is an outgrowth of the clothing clinics which have been held in this county for the last three years. At the last series given this past October, Miss DuBord gave a demonstration on remodeling the old felt hat to present up-to-date styles. They were so successful that the hats which were made over spread the news like wildfire and so many requests for more of that type of work came to the attention of the Agent at all meetings. Hence this one day has been selected for a county-wide day and all women from all parts of Wayne County are cordially invited to come and bring old felt hats to be made over. Hats cleaned before the meeting may be completed before going home. Since the meeting lasts practically all day, Homemakers may come at the hour most suitable to their home program.

MAKE TELEPHONE SERVICE YOUR FAMILY GIFT

Telephone service is an ideal gift for the entire family, serving all members in countless ways.

It's a year-round gift of comfort and convenience for Mother, enabling her to call friends, shop, and "run" errands without leaving the house.

Dad will find it a valuable business aid. He can call the store or office readily, and employer, customers or business associates can telephone him at home when necessary.

Son and daughter can be reached easily by telephone and will share oftener in their friends' good times.

And more than that, a telephone gives assurance that in case of sickness, fire or accident, aid can be summoned instantly.

Order a Christmas gift of telephone service today. Installation will be made at any time you specify. Call or visit the Telephone Business Office.

Rambling Around With Michigan Editors

PENALIZING HONESTY

In recent newspaper discussions of state political affairs several allusions have been made to the fact that Vern J. Brown, Ingham county editor and a member of the state legislature, has aspirations for a place on the state G.O.P. ticket next year. One commentator in a local daily declares that a recent meeting in Rapids of editors of Republican weeklies it was pointed out that a series of articles on state affairs, compiled by Mr. Brown last year, in which he pointed out the waste and extravagance in the administration of the state's business, had done much to defeat Brucker, and hence it would be inadvisable to boom Mr. Brown for a place on the ticket in 1934.

It seems very unlikely that any such discussion took place, although we are unable for an excellent reason, to report what occurred. In the first place, many of the editors involved used the Brown articles when they first appeared, and if they aided in the defeat of the Brucker regime certainly the fault is as much with the papers that broadcast them as with the author.

Obviously the Brown articles, pointing out stuffed pay rolls, the constantly increasing number of state employees and a thoroughly deplorable condition of affairs at Lansing, were either true or false. If they were false, why nobody asserted, why did more than 75 weeklies in the state publish them from week to week? If they were true, why try to argue Mr. Brown's use of the facts unfits him for consideration?

Such an attitude would be not only nonsensical but vicious. The Mason editor was a member of the legislature; he had sworn to serve the people of the state—not merely the Republican party—to the best of his ability, and when he saw evils that he felt needed correction he did what he could to expose them. In the hope that they might be corrected, what else could any honest man do?

We are not particularly concerned over the question of whether or not Vern Brown should be considered at a Republican candidate for lieutenant governor, or any other office. He might, if nominated and elected, be a good official, and he might not. We have disagreed violently with Mr. Brown's ideas in the past, and will probably disagree just as violently with more of them in the future. But we have no patience with the theory that he should be penalized for telling the truth about state affairs last year and incidentally (and perhaps unintentionally) helping to bring about the retirement of one of the poorest chief executives the state ever had—Geo. Welsh in The Grand Rapids Chronicle.

DISCRIMINATION

From now on, for quite a spell, in every American community the men who are doing the most harm will be paid the best, while those who are doing the most good will be paid the worst. All this discrimination will be made by the men who at the same time will be clamoring for economic justice. And whom will they be treating so shabbily? Well, the late Sen. Beveridge of Indiana, said: "There are two classes of whom the world is not worthy." Two of these he named as the preachers and the teachers.—Emerson O. Gildart, in The Utica Sentinel.

Let Us Give Thanks

For bounteous crops and the comforts they will bring, for hope, for health, for all good things, let us give thanks.

For sorrows which sober, for trials which strengthen, for tasks and toil which tire, for rest and for peace, let us give thanks.

List Names For State Poll Tax

Three Workers Selected By Democrats To Work Here

Eugene Orndorff, Mrs. Charles Humphries and Orr Passage have started taking the enrollment of the residents of Plymouth county for the poll tax for the state will begin collecting next year.

They were recently appointed to this work by the state welfare department upon the recommendation of the Wayne county Democratic committee. In Northville township, M. J. Murphy, recent democratic candidate for congress, Ruth Gillis and Frank Japes have started taking the enrollment. Albert Tyrell will take the enrollment in Livonia township.

The city is divided into districts and each worker must take a house to house canvass of the district, enrolling everyone over 21 years of age. From each person registered the state will collect $1.00, a similar amount to $2 paid each year. The fund thus raised will be used to pay pensions to people over 70 years of age who are destitute and who have no immediate relatives to care for them.

Enrollment workers are paid one cent for each name they list in cities and villages, and one cent for all names listed in the townships.

When they call at your home you will be asked to give your name, your age, date of birth, where you were born, your father's name, mother's name, husband or wife's name, where you are employed, what your occupation is and if un-employed the name of your welfare aid, whether you are a citizen or not and if you have been naturalized, when and where. A permanent enrollment is to be kept in the county clerk's office and the welfare department at Lansing.

Mrs. Robert R. Lee of W. Ann Arbor street, Mrs. George R. Simons and Mrs. Waldo T. Johnson of Northville returned Friday night from an eight day motor trip, stopping at points of interest in Kentucky, Tennessee, Georgia, North Carolina, Virginia and West Virginia. They met with many interesting and pleasing experiences, and encountered all kinds of weather, from a hot day in Georgia where they picked up a mountain blizzard in West Virginia, where they were snowed for hours until the howl broke the mountain roads impassable.

Our Churches

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES
"Soul and Body" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, November 19.

Among the Bible citations was this passage (Rom. 8:10): "And if Christ be in you, the body is dead because of sin; but the Spirit is life because of righteousness."

Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p. 358): "The evidence of the existence of Spirit, Soul, is palpable only to spiritual sense and is not apparent to the material senses, which cognize only that which is the opposite of Spirit."

She will be accompanied by her brother-in-law, George Matthews, who will sing. The Negro National Anthem will be sung by the choir.

The evening worship will be a union service at the Baptist church. Particulars will be found in the Baptist church notes.

The Epworth League cabinet will meet Monday evening at the church.

Thursday morning at ten o'clock the annual Union Thanksgiving service will be held in the Methodist church. Rev. Loy Sutherland, pastor of the Baptist church will speak. One hundred fiftieth psalm and the "Song of Thanksgiving" will be sung by the Methodist choir, including the adult, young people's and children's choirs. Mrs. M. J. O'Conner will sing "The Landing of the Pilgrims."

CHURCH OF THE OPEN DOOR
In the Sunday morning services we are studying the Book of Nehemiah. The account is of Nehemiah and a company he led to Jerusalem to rebuild the walls, but abounds with great lessons for us today.

Some years before the King of Babylon captured the city and took the people into captivity. After 70 years had passed, God allowed His people to return.

Nehemiah hears of the distress of those who had gone back. He was the king's cup-bearer, a position of great responsibility. When the king learns that Nehemiah wishes to go to Jerusalem, he gives him power to command all necessary material, and Nehemiah sets to work. Soon we will learn the position that Nehemiah met and how, through God's grace, he overcame it.

The 15th chapter of John will be the scripture for the evening message.

The Book of Daniel has been the subject for our lessons in the mid-week services. This Wednesday evening we will discuss the 12th chapter, which is the last in this marvelous book.

The cottage prayer meetings have been resumed. This Friday evening (tonight) the services will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hancock, 163 Union St.

Next Monday afternoon and evening will be devoted to a Bible conference. Many guests from this part of Michigan will attend. At 2:30 p. m. Mr. St. Paul's mission to India will be spoken. In the evening there may be pictures of Mr. Oppen's work before the main address by Pastor W. S. Hattie of Detroit. No friend of the church will want to miss this profitable meeting. The public is invited. The evening service, Monday, is at 7 p. m. Revelation 3:8.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
10 a. m. Worship 11:30 a. m. Sunday school.

The Ready Service class will meet at church on Tuesday, Nov. 28th at noon. Hostesses for this meeting are Mrs. Weaver, Mrs. Marcor, Mrs. Orndorff and Mrs. Thams. There will be the usual cooperative dinner to be followed by the business and program meeting.

The congregation will join in the union service in the First Baptist church on Sunday evening at 7:30 p. m.

A service of public thanksgiving in which all are invited to unite will be held on Thursday, November 30 at 10 a. m. in the Methodist Episcopal church. Rev. Loy Sutherland of First Baptist church will be the speaker. An offering for benevolent work will be received.

The Mission Study class will meet on Tuesday, Nov. 28th at 8:30 p. m. in the church dining room. Cooperative supper will be followed by the business meeting. A good program has also been arranged for this meeting.

Thanksgiving will be the theme of the Sunday morning service. A double quartette of girls from the high school will sing.

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE
Bible school, 10 a. m. Morning Worship, 11:15 a. m. Young People, 6:30 p. m. Evangelistic Hour, 7:30 p. m. Prayer and Bible study, 7:30 p. m. Wednesday Leadership Training, 7:30 p. m., Friday.

The Child Evangelist will preach at both services on Sunday. Don't fail to come and hear this wonderful girl preacher. Converted at the age of 12, she has been a regular flaming evangelist ever since. This is something you cannot afford to miss. Her sister plays and sings.

God is still performing miracles as He ever did. "Jesus Christ the same yesterday, today and forever." For when the heart is changed, the life changes as a result. The age of revivals is not past as the Devil would have us believe. Our great need today is for God's people to pray until the heavens are opened, and mighty waves of conviction sweep over the people until they will spend the night in prayer. God plan for a revival is found in II Chron. 7:14, "If my people which are called by my name shall humble themselves and pray, and seek my face and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from Heaven and will forgive their sin and will heal their land."

The great trouble is that God's people will not pray and humble themselves and seek His face. We invite you to come to our services and help us pray and push the battle for God and the salvation of souls.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
At ten o'clock this church will have the unusual privilege of hearing Mr. Ren Bing Chen of Shanghai, China.

Mr. Chen is a graduate of Shanghai University and is now at the University of Michigan taking his post-graduate work. He is the son of Marcus Chen, recognized as the leading citizen of northern China. His mother is very prominent in religious and educational circles both in their native land and having spoken extensively here in America. This brilliant student will tell of the present situation in China and the relation of the christian world to that situation.

11:15 Church school.
7:00—Union service of the Presbyterian, Methodist and Baptist churches at this church with Mr. Chen as speaker. Mr. Chen will not only bring the address but will conduct an open Forum during the evening and answer questions regarding China. We believe that a large crowd will greet Mr. Chen at this hour. Miss Doris Haman, violin soloist. Don't forget the Yenson supper on Monday night at six-thirty, Nov. 27. Bob Todd is treating the Men's Fellowship and our young people at the Yenson supper on Tuesday night at six-thirty. Tuesday afternoon the Missionary society will hold their meeting at the home of Mrs. Henry Blesse.

Mid-week service Wednesday at seven o'clock.

ST. PETER'S EV. LUTHERAN CHURCH
The regular English service will be held Sunday at 10:30 a. m. Thanksgiving Day Morning? Certainly not in bed, sleeping away your gratefulness? Or at the kitchen stove, preparing a feast for your family? Or the assuredly every Christian will spend at least ONE HOUR of the morning, from TEN to ELEVEN o'clock IN CHURCH, giving thanks to His Lord and Savior in prayer and preservation throughout the dismal hours of the recent past. How can you, with a good conscience and any kind of appetite, sit down to a Thanksgiving Dinner, especially THIS YEAR of all years, not having been to church FIRST to render your thanks to your Lord? St. Paul says correctly: "We are bound to thank God always." Have we already forgotten the lesson as to where our ingratitude must lead us? COME, worship with us on Thanksgiving Day at TEN o'clock in the morning. THEN sit down with a good conscience to keep the Feast of Thanksgiving.

Mite Boxes have been placed into the hands of every contributor of our congregation for Christmas offering. Use the mite box daily by placing some coin into it every morning or evening. Before you realize, the box will be full and in this way you will be able to have at least that much more to be recorded on the annual report.

Rosedale Ladies Have Sewing Class
The first regular meeting of the Clothing Sewing class was held at Rosedale Gardens school October 20, under the leadership of Mrs. Stanley James and Mrs. Roy Buell. The subject covered was checking and cutting patterns. These classes are held under the auspices of the Home Economics Extension Service through the guidance of Miss Taylor of Wayne. Anyone interested in this work communicate with Mrs. William King, secretary.

Christmas Seals To Be Sold Here By School Children
Though hope grows brighter in the anti-tuberculosis camp each season as the death rate from the disease lowers, the burden placed on the tuberculosis Christmas seal grows heavier. With the knowledge that thousands owe their lives annually to the early discovery of tuberculosis, it is the job of the Christmas seal to earn both funds for examination by means of tuberculin test and X-ray and for the education of the public, patients and parents to take advantage of the examination. Parents must realize this fact before they are interested in taking advantage of the examination service offered to school students by the Michigan Tuberculosis Association. They have to be convinced that tuberculin used in making the first test is a harmless liquid. They must feel certain that it is better by far to discover tuberculosis in the childhood and easily curable stage than to wait until it appears as the adult and often fatal type. These facts must be brought home to every child through work done by the Christmas seals.

Since the Michigan Tuberculosis Association launched its early diagnosis campaign based on modern scientific discovery, over 30,000 individuals have been given tuberculin tests and 5,134 have been X-rayed. It is estimated by the Association that the total of tuberculin tests given in the last two years in Michigan is over 100,000. The proportion of childhood tuberculosis is found to be slightly over 20 per cent of the number X-rayed. Each case means one more probable death prevented.

Come To The Junior Play Tonight

I guess everyone at P.H.S. knows by now that the Junior Play is "Peg O' My Heart," by J. Hartley Manners. This is a very different type of play from those presented in previous years. It is not a mystery like "The Ghost Parade," nor is it a farce such as "The Mummy and the Mumps." It is classified as a romance; the demand for this type of play is constantly increasing. Since its revival by the movies about a year ago, "Peg O' My Heart" has become quite popular. It had a long run in New York and in many large cities, and is now being used with outstanding success by many high schools. The story is that of a poor Irish girl who suddenly goes to live with wealthy English relatives. Peg is very unhappy in her new surroundings and is made uncomfortable. She wants to return to her father, but until Jerry comes into her life. Then a considerable change comes over everything.

Imagine Alva Elzerman as a handsome hero, or Ned Reeves as falling in love with every woman he sees. You must be sure to see Jean Jolliffe slap Lawrence Moe when he asks her to marry him. Jack Wilcox, as the mother's darling, Max, and the English butler, and Thelma Lunsford as a perfect model.

You simply must not miss this opportunity. Come tonight! The play begins at 8:00 p. m.

As there is so much dramatic talent in the Junior class, the girls decided to double for all the parts. The cast for tonight is as follows: Peg, Jean Jolliffe; Jerry, Alva Elzerman; Ethel, Thelma Lunsford; Mrs. Chester, Eva Scarpulla; Alaric, Jack Wilcox; Mr. Brent, Norval Bovee; Jarvis, Max Sweetser; Elsie, Ruth Rathburn; Mr. Hawks, Lawrence Moe.

Social News

Ruth McConnell entertained Mary Mettall, Ruth Meurin and Flossie Rowland at dinner Friday night. Afterward the girls attended the school dance.

Miss Waldorf and Miss Tackly were dinner guests of Miss Piesal at her home in Ann Arbor Wednesday. Later they heard Edna St. Vincent Millay at Hill auditorium.

Miss Perkins, Miss Fry, and Miss Waldorf attended the play "Dinner at Eight," in Ann Arbor last week-end.

Catherine Dunn entertained the Senior Octette bridge club at dinner and bridge Saturday night. Helen Ribar substituted for Margaret Buzzard who is ill.

Amalia Zielasko spent Friday night with Beatrice Wendt.

Plymouth Defeated In Debate Here

Losing to River Debate in the second league debate of the season, Plymouth suffered the first defeat this high school has sustained in Twin Valley Association debating. The match, November 15, in supporting the affirmative of the question, "Resolved, that all radio broadcasting in the United States should be through stations owned and controlled by the federal government."

The chairman for the contest was Rev. Norton of the Methodist church, who introduced the judge, Mr. Forsyth of the Normal high school, and the debaters of both teams.

Jewell Starkweather, Plymouth's first speaker, opened the affirmative's case by outlining the history of radio broadcasting. Asserting that a dangerous commercial monopoly of radio existed through the holding of air channels by the large broadcasting companies, she advocated federal ownership as a solution to this evil.

Robert Rosa, first negative, stated that defects exist in the present broadcasting, that can be remedied by extension of the powers of the Federal Radio Commission. Alleging that no monopoly exists, he pointed out that the ether is not owned privately and that the present system gives good service.

Jack Sessions, as second negative speaker, placed emphasis on the admission of the negative that evils in radio necessitate federal control of radio, thereby admitting much of the affirmative's case. He stated that monopoly and radio advertising faults are inherent evils, and can be remedied only by government ownership as well as control.

David Hershberg of River Rouge contended that faults in advertising are not caused by radio, and that they can be remedied by the Pure Food and Drug Act. Attacking the affirmative arguments on monopoly, he argued that the large chains are only program services, and opposed federal ownership on the ground that advertising is not to the radio listener would only be passed on to other means of advertising, while government expenses would only be an added burden.

Evelyn Rorabacher asserted that more radio education is necessary, as it is restricted by commercialism and private ownership. Summarizing the affirmative arguments, she argued that ownership is necessary to efficient radio control.

Selma Goldman admitted that only a small amount of education exists, but that this satisfies the public. Mentioning the fact that the government already controls broadcasting, she held that monopoly could not be abolished by federal ownership as the Radio Corporation of America would still own radio device patents.

The constructive speeches having been concluded, David Hershberg opened the rebuttals by stating that the radio public is satisfied with the present system of broadcasting, and that any defects can be remedied by the extension of the powers of the Federal Radio Commission.

Refuting negative arguments, Jewell Starkweather called the monopoly in radio an inherent defect, and alleged that the cost was low in comparison to the benefits to be derived from federal control and ownership.

Stating that the United States controls radio, she pointed out the detrimental monopoly of any government system.

Jack Sessions devoted his rebuttal speech to proving that freedom of speech superior to that of the present system would exist under a government monopoly, as in Holland.

Summarizing the negative arguments, Robert Rosa, as third speaker for River Rouge, emphasized the feasibility of further governmental control instead of ownership of radio.

In concluding the debate, Evelyn Rorabacher compared both affirmative and negative cases, besides stating that a better type of education could be had under ownership and control of radio broadcasting by the federal government.

Immediately after the last speech, the judge's decision in favor of River Rouge was announced by the chairman, and all interested invited to adjourn to River Rouge, where a banquet gave his criticism. Sincerely asserting that the contest was very close, he stated that the affirmative had had the better speakers and a well-cooked team, that they had not defended their arguments upon education from the negative, although equal on other points, and had so awarded his decision to River Rouge.

Unless River Rouge is defeated in a future league debate, Plymouth will lose the Twin Valley Association championship, which is being contested on Monday in the next debate to be held with Dearborn. Plymouth will uphold the negative.

Octette Makes First Appearance

The girls' double quartette appeared for the first time this year before the Plymouth Wednesday Club in the Crystal Room of the Hotel Mayflower last Friday afternoon. As it was a Thanksgiving program the girls sang two songs appropriate for that holiday. They were "Russian Harvest Hymn," a Russian folk song; and "A Prayer of Thanksgiving," an ancient Netherlands folk tune. For their third number they sang "To A Wild Rose" by McDowell. The Presbyterian church has asked the girls to repeat the Thanksgiving songs next Sunday at the morning service.

Class Notes

Miss Lovewell's section of the 10B English class has just finished "Sidas Marney," written by George Eliot. The group has now begun "The Merchant of Venice," written by Shakespeare.

Miss Waldorf's eighth hour public speaking class has started special occasion talks, such as introducing a speaker and acceptance speeches.

Two oil paintings of still life have been finished in the outside art class announced earlier in Pilgrim Prints. The grade school art classes have completed the art appreciation booklets which contain miniatures of famous master paintings.

The 7B Hygiene students are studying Vitamins A, B, C, D, from special charts.

The 7A Hygiene class have completed the study of the third Health Hero. The first was Edward Jenner, the second was Louis Pasteur, and the third, Edward L. Trudeau who brought about the cure of tuberculosis by sanitarium treatment. The class has been concerned with insect enemies, mainly the two mosquitoes, culex and anopheles.

The 8B First Aid class conducted practical experiments in class concerned with the treatment of torn, lacerated, and punctured wounds. The students also demonstrated the symptoms and treatments of shock.

The Girls' Gym classes have been playing two court basketball which is quite similar to three court except that three court has only three forwards and three guards and no centers. In three court basketball one forward from each team jumps at center. Each player plays half the floor instead of just one third as in two court basketball. Three court requires more endurance and gives a girl the opportunity to show more individual activity.

EDITORIAL Report Cards

Report cards!!

What do those purple rectangular reports mean to us and our parents? They should mean our happiness or our grief. These are the records, given to us every six weeks, which tell of one's efforts and accomplishments.

But—two weeks ago when the very cards appeared, how were they received?

On Wednesday, John nudges Mary and says, "I'm scared! I just know I'll get a 'D' in geometry."

He is the student who is scared and shaky, but does he do anything about it? Not very often. The same thing happens the next time.

"Then there is the 'don't care' fellow who laughs it off and doesn't even pretend to want good marks.

But there are students who never fear the day cards come out. These are the ones who are proud of them and ever ready to improve even an "honor roll" record.

Most of us have the ability and intelligence to attain at least a "B" average, but we think "C" is just as good. We don't underestimate ourselves or take less than we deserve in anything else. Why should we have lower marks than we are capable of? It might mean staying home a few more nights during the week, or using our time in study hall to better advantage, but isn't it worth it?

Let's begin!

Workers Interviewed By English Students

Who uses the English language the most? An extensive research project has been undertaken by the ninth grade English classes to find the answer to this question. The students have interviewed people in various professions in their attempt to find the number of hours we speak, hear, read and write the English language. A total of two-hundred, fifty-four people were interviewed and these people were classified into sixty-eight occupations. Among them were librarians, nurses, civil engineers, ministers, doctors, road employees, school teachers, housewives, and clerks.

A large chart has been made which shows the total number of hours each of the occupations reported. This chart shows that members of the medical professions used the English language for the greatest length of time. Drugists, clerks, librarians, and road employees also used a great deal of English. Housewives, according to the survey, used very little English.

Starkweather School Notes

The children in Miss Hunt's room are giving a play called "Scenes from Pilgrim Life," for the P.T.A. They have also written stories and learned poems about the Pilgrims.

The 4A class has had a score of four in their arithmetic class progress chart.

A dramatization, "Glad Thanksgiving will be given on Monday for the P.T.A. by the 1A class.

IA has finished their "Elson Reader" and are now reading the "Child Library Reader." They are also making bowls of chrysanthemums for seat work.

The children of Miss Stader's room were delighted with the first snow storm and have made booklets with snowstorm picture covers and containing a story of the first snowstorm.

An interesting reading demonstration was given here last Tuesday evening. Many mothers attended. Thomas Houghton was the announcer for the broadcasting.

Patsy Hickey has returned to school after a few days illness.

Central Notes

The kindergartners have made a very interesting doll house and clay furniture. They have also used clay to make food for their Thanksgiving table. There has been rather keen competition in a rest contest, the girls against the boys. Two new songs have been learned by the group, "Turkey Gobbler," and "The Frightened Pumpkin." These songs are quite appropriate for the party border the children have just completed—a boy holding a turkey in a pumpkin in a cart. They have drawn snow men in chalk on blue paper; on their easel they are painting snow scenes.

Northville Beats Plymouth 6 to 0

P.H.S. gridirers suffered defeat at the hands of their ancient rivals, Northville, last Friday playing on a frost hardened ground Plymouth, often within scoring distance, failed to make any points because of fumbles. Bender Northville's star halfback thence a sensational run after intercepting a pass on the forty yard line and ran to the seven-yard line before he was tackled by Levandowski.

1st Quarter

Plymouth being off sides on the kick off was penalized five yards and kicked again. Basset kicked outside. Basset kicked off for the third time to Marberger on the fifteen yard line. Marberger returned it to the thirty-yard line. On the next play Northville was off side and was penalized five yards. Deal trying left end lost two yards. Baldwin kicked to Kinsey on the fourteen yard line. Kinsey returned the ball four yards. Levandowski fumbled, Northville recovered. Bender trying center gained a yard. Baldwin also trying center gained seven yards. Bender again trying center gained three yards. Marberger gained a yard around right end. Baldwin gained four yards through center. Deal lost a yard trying left end. Deal passed into the end zone incomplete. The ball became the possession of Plymouth on their own twenty yard line. Kinsey gained five yards around right end. McLeilan lateraled to Levandowski who gained eleven yards around right end. Levandowski's pass to Stevens placed the ball on the forty five yard line. Levandowski passed again this time to Kinsey for a gain of eight yards. Levandowski pass twice incomplete. Plymouth being set back five yards Kinsey kicked to Deal who returned the ball six yards from the twenty yard line. Bender lost six yards trying right end. Deal gained two yards trying left end. Plymouth 0, Northville 0.

2nd Quarter

Marberger kicked to Kinsey on the thirty yard line. Ray for Kinsey. Levandowski was forced out after gaining eleven yards around left end. Champe gained six yards through center. Ray, fumbling, lost eight yards. Levandowski passed incomplete. Ray kicked to Marberger who returned the ball three yards from the seven yard line. Deal trying right end gained two yards. Baldwin gained two yards through center. Baldwin kicked out on the fifty yard line. Levandowski, receiving McLeilan's lateral gained twelve yards around left end. Levandowski passed incomplete. Champe gained five yards through center. A pass, Ray to Elliott gained seven yards. Plymouth fumbled. Northville recovered on the fifteen yard line. Baldwin gained six yards around left end. Bender trying center gained six yards. Deal lost five yards trying left end. Baldwin kicked to Champe who returned the ball five yards from the forty-five yard line. Levandowski passed incomplete. McLeilan gained three yards through center and three yards around left end. Ray kicked over the goal line. Northville's ball on the twenty yard line. Bender gained a foot around left end. GET 1 MILE MORE PER GALLON THIS WINTER

IMPROVED SUPER SHELL

Stops Winter Waste — Starts Quicker — Yet Gives Full Mileage

For the first time, you can now get a gasoline which combines instant starting in winter with full summer mileage.

Some ordinary gasolines are overloaded, for quick starting in cold weather, with light, gassy parts, which you lose after your engine warms up, thereby reducing your mileage. Other ordinary gasolines are hard to start, and waste your fuel by excessive "choking" and, therefore, they, too, reduce your mileage.

The Improved Super Shell, by Shell's new and exclusive reforming process, gives you quicker starting on the coldest day in winter and saves, for extra mileage, the gasoline you formerly wasted in starting.

YOU SAVE MONEY... by using the improved Super Shell, because you get quicker starting with less gasoline, and that leaves you more gasoline, in every gallon, for extra mileage. Some gasolines are overloaded, for quick starting in winter, with light, gassy parts; others are hard to start. Both types waste miles. Improved Super Shell starts quicker yet gives you more mileage in winter. Use Super Shell and save money.

Change to SUPER-SHELL

STARTS QUICKER PLUS MORE MILEAGE

"I'm getting 2 Miles Extra With Super Shell... It was a great surprise to me," writes Carl Reinking of Chicago, Ill., "to find a gasoline that gives in cold weather the same extra mileage I got last summer."

Plymouth Gets Cash For Workers

was between the school buildings. When it became known two weeks ago that President Roosevelt had ordered the federal government to set up a public works program in all the cities and communities of the nation in order to provide work-relief during the coming winter, Mayor Hoover and the members of the city commission immediately directed that a public works program be set up for Plymouth. Working almost night and day so as to be among the first on the list, City Manager Cookingham, Engineers Herald Hamill and Sidney Strong whipped into shape a list of public improvements that could be carried on during the winter and a list that they thought the government would approve.

When it was discovered that funds could also be secured for the school district, Supt. George Smith and members of the school board, in cooperation with the officials, worked up a joint program that met with immediate approval of the Wayne County Civic Works upon submission.

One of the provisions of the government is that Plymouth must make all of the tiling that will be used for the storm sewers. The Daisy Manufacturing company has turned over to the city a large section of the Markham plant which will immediately be turned into a tile factory. Engineer Hamill has been able to borrow the forms from Jackson. The Markham factory provides an ideal place for this class of work and will enable the city to use a fairly large force of men in making the concrete tiling. In fact it has been suggested that this would be an excellent time for the city to manufacture a big supply of concrete tiling for future use. Mayor Hoover states that between 60 and 100 men will be given regular employment during the next two months. This will remove from the welfare list all of the able-bodied men of the community who have been unable to get employment. It is suggested that those seeking employment leave their names with the city clerk at the city hall.

The detailed works program that has been approved, provides for many needed improvements. There will be immediately constructed on Sunset avenue a storm sewer that will do away with the frequent flooding at sections in that part of the city during heavy rains and in the spring. This sewer in fact will serve much of the entire north-west section of the city and is bound to grow upon the return of better times. Much of the water nuisance in this locality comes as the result of the long slope just outside the city limits that carries water into the city, at times washing out gutters and sidewalks. There was allowed for this work $7,500. It is suggested that the city officials hope later to secure an additional grant for the extension of this storm sewer.

There will be immediately constructed on Elizabeth and Rose streets two blocks of sanitary sewers. This locality which has been fairly well built up during the past few years has been served only by the construction of septic tanks and cess pools. The new sewer will do away with these temporary sewage disposal arrangements.

On Blanche and Theodore streets will be built another sanitary sewer to serve the north side of Main street west of the Pere Marquette tracks. In addition to serving a section that has long been built up, this sewer will also provide for the future development of portions of Blanche street and Theodore street.

On Fralick avenue will be constructed a storm sewer to replace the open portion of a creek that now serves as a storm sewer between Main and Harvey streets along the south side of Fralick avenue. The sewer will reverse the flow of the water and permit it to empty into Harvey street storm sewer. It will permit also the abandonment of the course of the old creek.

Provision is also made for the enclosure of a portion of Tonquish creek. This is a small creek that flows into Tonquish creek. In recent years there has been no water in the creek-bed except during heavy rains and in early spring.

No More Unnecessary Double Parking Says Chief Vaughn Smith

Double parking on Penningman avenue and Main street has become such a problem that Chief of Police Vaughn Smith declares it must be curtailed. Frequently it has been noticed that people will double park their cars when there is plenty of parking space along the curbs. He states that this type of parking will no longer be tolerated, especially when there is sufficient parking space along the street. Most of the complaints have come from people who are compelled to wait in the streets while people go in to the postoffice to get their mail.

New Official Begins Work For Rubber Co.

Earl Wagner of Pontiac has during the past few days been made secretary and treasurer of the Plymouth Rubber Products company. He has already assumed his duties at the factory and will be active in the conduct of the business. He has been employed in the rubber products business for many years. He expects to move his family to Plymouth in the near future.

Girl Evangelist Will Preach Here

Erma Pierce, 16 year old girl evangelist of Lansing, will be at the Nazarene Church on November 26. She will preach at both morning and evening services. This young girl was converted at the age of 12. Since that time she has been in evangelistic work, telling the story of redeeming love and mercy. An older sister will also be with her to sing and play. This meeting is open to every one.

The total amount to be spent for all of this work runs to nearly $18,000.

Among the improvements at the schools will be a new floor in the gymnasium badly needed for a number of years. This project will cost something like $1600. The wooden sash in the skylights over the school auditorium will also be replaced and a number of drains from the doors of the schools to the catch-basins will be constructed.

There has been set aside $1300 for the construction of a passageway between the school building for the protection of children during inclement weather. Three of the school buildings will have the roofs re-surfaced and there will be constructed a brick storage house for the storage of playground and other equipment when not in use. Steam plant and electric alterations, shelving and new cupboards and the grading of certain portions of the school ground as well as the fencing of some of the school property constitute the remainder of the school work to be done at once.

A Super Salesman Is At Your Service

No matter what your line of business is, the best salesman you can obtain in the Plymouth community is the Plymouth Mail.

And this salesman is constantly at your service!

The Plymouth Mail does not have to knock at the door; it has been a familiar figure for 50 years, and enters the home as a welcome guest.

Neither does it have to proceed slowly from door to door; it enters many hundreds of homes in the Plymouth trading area, at practically the same time, and conveys its message to every member of the family, including the hired man.

It doesn't antagonize your prospects, or talk a sale to death.

Its salary is known to you in advance; it doesn't charge you a commission, or turn in an expense account.

It isn't loafing when it should be attending to business.

You can count on its getting there every Friday morning.

Best of all, you can hire it when you want it, and just as long as you want it, without any arguments or apologies.

Decide now to avail yourself of this super salesman of the community! Follow the lead of other local and national advertisers who recognize its value and employ its services, most of them regularly each week.

Let us help you plan your holiday campaign and place its resources at your service!

Yours for Better Business,

Karl Starkweather Presents Cane One Time Owned By General Lewis Cass To The Detroit Historical Museum—Cane Originally Came From Canton Twp.

The Detroit Historical Museum became richer by at least one noteworthy object last week Thursday when Karl Starkweather, of this city, presented to the museum, in the Barium Tower, the walking stick once owned and used by General Lewis Cass of Michigan. Lewis Cass is generally recognized as the greatest political character which this state ever produced, and the curator of the museum, A. S. Hampton, regards the new acquisition as a distinct find. From 1813 to 1830 Cass served as military and civil governor of the then Michigan Territory. It was during this period that he negotiated the Indian treaties which opened Michigan to settlement, and he was superintendent of Indian affairs for the Great Lakes and the Mississippi Valley regions.

found its final resting place in the museum of the Detroit Historical Society, had reposed in the city for many years. The person who could have told most about its history, Miss Celeste Young, died more than fifteen years ago. She was a niece of Mrs. Mary Davis, pioneer Plymouth woman, and the woman who had adopted the late Mrs. George A. Starkweather when Mrs. Starkweather was left an orphan at the age of seven. Silas A. Young and his family were early pioneers in Canton township. His own daughter, Celeste Young and Amelia Heywood (Mrs. Starkweather), had been friends and played together as girls.

General Cass was one of the great national figures of his time. No attempt is here made to describe his life, but he served as Secretary of War under Andrew Jackson and later became Secretary of State under James Buchanan. For six years he represented the United States as minister to France. He was twice elected as United States senator from Michigan, serving, in all, about eleven years. In 1848 he was defeated for the Presidency of the United States by Zachary Taylor; and in 1852 he was defeated for the same office by Franklin Pierce. The year 1858 was a Democratic year, and it was then that the successful candidate, James Buchanan, placed him in the Cabinet as Secretary of State.

Some time previous to the general's death, according to the word of Miss Young, Cass gave this cane to one Charles Gibson. Just who Charles Gibson was has not been ascertained. The theory is that he might have been some friend or loyal supporter who had admired the walking piece. Any way, possession went to the son, Corridan Gibson, and in turn he passed it to a Mary Watkins. Mary Watkins was a cousin to Celeste Young, Miss Watkins, and it is believed while the general was still living, on one occasion left the cane at the Young homestead in Canton township, and thereafter never chose to reclaim the object.

from a branch of hard maple, and is curiously grooved and twisted. While the branch was growing it is believed that a spring of bitterweed or wild vine had entwined itself around the shoot. The vine gradually impressed itself into the wood, and when ripped off by the cane maker, the engraving groove was the result. The twist becomes more pronounced and bulging near the top and the head is formed by a two pronged buckhorn. The stick still strong and substantial, is unvarnished, but it bears a natural polish due to the ordinary handling of many years.

To add a word about the general himself, it may be said that had Lewis Cass had his way in the Buchanan cabinet, the great Civil War might easily have been averted. When the crisis of civil war confronted the government, Gen. Cass advocated, as a preventive measure, the increase of the national defense and strong occupation of the military in the territory of the rebellious states. Because of the vacillation and timidity of the administration, which gave encouragement to the secession movement, General Cass resigned from the Cabinet and returned to Detroit.

It is recorded that after the general's return to Detroit, in an interview with Silas Farmer, and seeming to be oppressed with the dangers which threatened the Government, and with tears in his eyes he said: "Sixty years ago I crossed the Ohio river with all that I had tied in a handkerchief. Since then I have witnessed the unparalleled growth of this great nation, and have been honored by the people, but now it almost seems as though they let it crumble to ruin. I would like to see this country destroyed or let it be destroyed by civil war. I would like to see the close of that war and he lived to know that the Union would be preserved. After a long and eventful life he died on June 17, 1865. In Detroit his name is perpetuated by Cass Technical high school, Cass Building, Cass avenue, and Cass Park. His namesake in Plymouth was Lewis Cass Hough, father of the present Ed. C. Hough, and in Northville it was Cass Benton.

Harry F. Sinclair, oil magnate, is shown above as he was sworn in by Senator Duncan U. Fletcher, chairman of the Senate Banking and Currency Committee, prior to testifying before that group in connection with the 1929 Consolidated Oil stock pool. Sinclair headed the pool, in which nearly $12,000,000 profit is said to have been made without investment of any money by participants. Below, Albert W. Wiggin, left, former head of the Chase National Bank, and Arthur W. Cullen, famed Chicago grain and stocks trader, both of whom figured in the probe, are shown in conversation.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION

I, Franklin D. Roosevelt, President of the United States of America, do set aside and appoint Thursday the 30th day of November, 1933, to be a day of thanksgiving for all our people. May we on this day in our churches and in our homes give humble thanks for the blessings bestowed upon us during the year past by Almighty God.

That we seek no conquests and ask only honorable engagements by all peoples to respect the lands and rights of their neighbors; for the brighter day to which we can win through by seeking the help of God in a more unselfish striving for the common bettering of mankind. In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed. FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT.

Over one hundred Kiwanians gathered Monday night in the Hotel Mayflower to enjoy the Chatham Kiwanis Minstrel show, the event being an international, inter-club meeting with Plymouth acting as host to Chatham and Chelsea. The meeting, one of the largest ever held by Kiwanis in Plymouth, brought high Kiwanis officials from Michigan.

Military training camps is the shrewdest war propaganda. The chronic hand-shaker usually has something up his sleeve. Better destroy the house you live in than the body you live in. Feeble-mindedness, epilepsy and some other traits are hereditary; acquired traits are not. A right example is the best legacy. GUARANTEED TREATMENT FOR TENDER STOMACH. Dr. Emil's Adla Tablets bring relief from stomach pains between meals due to acidity, indigestion and heartburn. If not your money is refunded. Beyer Pharmacy.

Mr. W. McClure, president of the Chelsea club, acted as master of ceremonies after being presented with the gavel by Harold Bristol, president of the Plymouth club. The first introduction on the program was that of Joe France, the first Kiwanian and now Governor-elect of the Michigan district. Governor Arthur Pierpont of Owosso favored the assembly by a few brief remarks complimenting Plymouth on its fine undertaking and said that both Michigan and Chatham were fortunate in being so close together so that each could enjoy the fellowship of the other.

Others presented to the group were: International Trustee Claude Doe of Detroit; Harry Blake, president of the Chatham club; Howard Allen, governor of the sixth district, of which Plymouth is a member; and Frank Moore, lieutenant governor-elect. Plymouth and Chelsea were guests of Chatham last year and the year before. This is the first time they have visited Plymouth.

Mrs. Albert Stever will entertain the Ambassador bridge club on Tuesday, November 28, at her home on Mill Road. Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Patterson will have as their guests Thanksgiving Day Mrs. E. Sutherland, Miss Betty Sutherland, of Chicago, Illinois. Mr. and Mrs. Bert Norton, Mr. and Mrs. Clare Jarocki and Mrs. John T. Norton of Rochester. Mrs. Sutherland and Betty will remain over the weekend. Mr. and Mrs. Peter Munster will entertain at a family dinner Thanksgiving Day having as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hake, Mr. and Mrs. William Biegert, Mr. and Mrs. George Hake, Jr. of Plymouth and Mr. and Mrs. George Hake of Farmington.

The dances held at the Masonic temple and sponsored by the Masons are becoming more popular than ever this year. At the dance this evening members of the entertainment committee expect the largest crowd that has ever attended. The public is invited.

A group of relatives and friends, numbering twenty-three, will be dinner guests of William Connor at the Hotel Mayflower on Thanksgiving Day. The list includes Dr. and Mrs. C. G. Burgess, Dr. J. M. Burgess, Miss Mabel Burgess of Detroit, Mrs. Kate Allen, Mrs. Etta Stiff, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Robinson, Miss Rose Hawthorne, Mr. and Mrs. George Wilcox, Miss Julia Wilcox, Jack Wilcox, Mrs. Nellie Moon, Miss Mary Connor, Miss Almeda Wheeler, John Wilcox, Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Moon, daughter, Mary Katherine, son Billy, of Plymouth and Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Thompson of Ann Arbor.

BOY UNINJURED BY CAR, BUT SHOES LEFT BEHIND

The automobile struck Robert Cavanaugh, eight of Syracuse, N. Y., failed to injure him seriously. It did succeed, though, in knocking him out of his shoes. The fact seemed to bother him more than any possible injuries when he was taken to police headquarters. There he berated the driver of the car and told him he had better return to the scene of the accident and get the shoes. Robert K. Wingwood, driver of the car, did return to the scene and there he found both shoes. He took them to the boy.

'COPS' FIND WOLF AT DOOR

"There's a wolf at the door," a telephone caller told Sgt. Michael Gerben, of Chicago. "That's nothing new," replied the policeman. "We haven't been paid for weeks." A couple of officers went out and found a raccoon instead of a wolf.

ACCEPTS SEATLESS PANTS

Attorney General J. Berry King of Oklahoma, recently received a letter saying: "It has been reported to me that you would talk to an old farmer even if the seat of his pants was out. I am writing you, for I am thus equipped." "You can be sure we wouldn't have many to talk to these days if we didn't overlook such equipment," was the reply the government sent to him.

MONKEY "BREAKS IN" COW

After some one released a cage of monkeys at a beach resort near Kansas City, Kan., there was plenty of excitement. One of the creatures rode a bucking cow for ten minutes while 45 of his cage mates "whooped it up" in the pastures and trees. Frank Winn, their owner, and volunteers collected 26 of the animals while others took to the trees.

Rotary Speaker Hits Truck Tax

Declares Railroads Seek Advantage Over Auto Trucks

W. S. Reynolds, representative of the General Motors Trucking division of Detroit, declared in an address to members of the Plymouth Rotary club last Friday that in 1931 the total motor tax bill for the United States amounted to one billion, twenty-five million dollars as compared to three hundred and three million paid by the railroads.

"In spite of this there is a constant warfare being urged against motor transportation with favoritism for rail shipping. The motors are bearing by far the greatest part of the burden," he declared.

"While commercial vehicles constitute only thirteen per cent of the total vehicles registered, they paid nearly thirty per cent of the tax bill last year. During 1932 the federal government imposed the following additional taxes on motor vehicles: excise tax on new passenger cars, three per cent; excise tax on new trucks, two per cent; repair parts and accessories tax, two per cent; gasoline tax per gallon, one cent; oil tax per gallon, four cents; tire casing tax per pound, two and one-fourth cents; a total additional tax of $250,000,000, paid by those who own and drive automobiles.

"This entire drive for higher taxation and drastic regulation of trucks is being made in order to increase the cost of truck transportation equal to the excessive freight rates now charged by the railroads.

"The cry of the times is more employment. One locomotive often pulls a train of 80 cars, each of about 40 tons capacity. It requires six men for each train. If freight were hauled in three ton trucks, it would give work to 1,000 drivers and helpers. Certainly the unemployment situation cannot be relieved by driving more automotive transport workers out of their jobs or legislating trucks off the highways."

He urged the Rotarians to be careful in supporting any legislation which had for its effect curtailment of the trucking business or additional taxes on motor transportation. He was the guest of Carl G. Shear, who was chairman of last week's meeting.

Thanksgiving

The frail boats of these Pilgrims had been delivered from the vast and tumultuous masses of the dark sea. Under the frowning battlements of the black forest they lifted their roof trees and muscled their walk with oak, laid open the new soil and cast the shining grain, forgetful in labor and hope of their great loneliness.

And now their strong, small cabins stood, seamed with snow, in the utter whiteness of the clearing. The blue smoke of their sturdy chimneys drifted warmly against the black wall of the wilderness; and their hearts were ruddy with deep embers.

The harvest was bountiful. The daisies were dusty with maize and bulging pumpkins glowed in the light of the candle. The walls of the cabins were festooned with dry herbs and at each door hung the frozen carcass of a wild beast.

The dark ocean thundered with winter storms. The vast wilderness frowned. Death lurked in the forest and the clearing. Men had died from ax wounds and arrows. Children have perished of starvation and disease and young wives had died in motherhood. Over each door hung the weapon of hunt and warfare. Life was grim and heroic with Odyssean uncertainty.

But there were the roof-tree and the stripped carcass by the door. This was their home; only death could dispossess them. Their minds and their hearts were their own and not even death could dispossess them. Here a man might speak as he pleased and pray as he pleased. He could not ask for more, having known the wrongs of oppression and the terrors of the wide sea and a strange land.

And so a day was set aside for Thanksgiving to God for His great goodness, for the boon of life for roof-tree and fire and food and the privilege of the thankful heart. On that day, between the stormy sea and the awful wilderness, these people sang and feasted on the small bounty of the first harvest.

The experiences of today are the calamities of tomorrow.—Edgar B. Davis.

Frank Anderson Dies In Western Canada; Born Here In 1881

A message received by Plymouth relatives Wednesday told of the death at Peace River, Alberta of Frank Anderson, oldest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Anderson.

Mr. Anderson was born October 9, 1881 in Canton Township and spent his early years on his father's farm. He was best known by Plymouth people as a member of Plymouth's baseball club known as Plymouth Juniors, back in 1902 and 1903, playing the position as catcher.

He was employed by the Bell Telephone Co. for several years and in 1909 he went to Seattle, Wash., where after two years he went with a party to the Peace River country and took up a homestead where the village of Peace River is now located, and has since been in the service of the Canadian government as electrician in charge of their far north telegraph lines.

A throat ailment took him to Edmonton early this summer for treatment when he improved in health for some time, but after returning to Peace River in October, he slowly grew worse until Nov. 21st, when he passed away.

In January 1922 he was united in marriage to Miss Ada McLeod, daughter of the late Magistrate Wm. McLeod formerly of Ottawa, then of Peace River. To them was born one daughter, Madge, who with his wife survives him, together with his relatives here. Mrs. William Horn of Ypsilanti, O. C. Anderson of Chicago, George H. Robinson, Mrs. Grace Barber, Mrs. Perry Hix and Howard C. Anderson of Plymouth.

SALEM FEDERATED CHURCH

"Where Are The Nine?" This will be the theme of the Thanksgiving message on Sunday morning, November 26 at 10:30 o'clock. Bible school meets at 11:45 and the lesson will be about Paul in Corinth. Read the first seventeen verses of the eighteenth chapter of Acts and the first two chapters of First Corinthians. Golden text: "I determined not to know anything among you, save Jesus Christ and Him crucified." I will meet you at the hymn book at 7:30 o'clock. The service will be made glad with songs of praise and thanksgiving and the Scripture verses will be on the same themes. "Praise ye the Lord. Praise God in His sanctuary; praise Him in the firmament of His power." Psalm 150:1.

You don't have to BUY an ELECTRIC RANGE to try its many features..

IF YOU want to find out whether or not you like electric cooking, we are willing to make a demonstration without cost to you. We will install an electric range in your kitchen without initial charge, and let you use it for six months, removing it without charge if you do not like it. We want you to TRY electric cooking in your own home before making an investment.

During the trial period, you pay for the service as registered by your meter, plus a monthly charge of $1 for the Waldorf electric range (shown below) or $1.25 for the Electrochef. If you decide to keep the range, your monthly payments will be applied toward the purchase price. If you decide that you do not want it, the range will be removed at our expense.

With an electric range, you can bake perfect mince-meat pies like the one above. Famous chefs for centuries have vied in baking the flaky, light crust and spicy, juicy goodness of the filling. And you, with an automatic electric oven and its gentle electric heat, can bake the SAME KIND OF PIE in your kitchen. An electric range, with its accurate oven control, ends guesswork in baking. You can produce uniformly fine results time after time. You simply set the dial for the correct temperature, and the electric oven does the rest.

Send in your application for a trial range today.

A study of one thousand families using an electric range showed a cooking cost of
