Believe The Regulations To Be Imposed Will Be Of Aid To Business

Praise Mayflower And Its Splendid Service

Visitors Declare Ply- mouth Fortunate In Hav- ing Up-To-Date Hotel

Plymouth was host Saturday to nineteen newspaper publishers from the metropolitan district of Detroit who had accepted an invitation to meet at the Mayflower hotel and discuss matters pertaining to the code that is nearing completion for non-metropolitan weekly, small daily newspapers and print shops, including a list of visitors: John J. Pope, vice president of the Michigan Press Association, from Grand Rapids; Mr. Pope is the publisher and editor of the Grandville Star and one of two other Grand Rapids suburban papers. He has for many years been one of the outstanding editors of western Michigan. Previous to that time, he was in newspaper work in Saginaw.

Mr. Pope came to the meeting because of the inability of Vernon J. Brown, president of the Ingham County News, and president of the Michigan Press Association, to be present. Mr. Brown is representative in the state legislature from Ingham county, has for a number of years been the Republican leader in the lower house. He is taking the most active part in legislative fight being waged at present against many of the obnoxious features that some are attempting to inject into the state legislature to that time, the visiting editors regretted Mr. Brown's inability to be at the Plymouth meeting, they realized that this legislative work just now present was of paramount interest.

The two districts that met here were the 16th and 17th, the Michigan Press Association being divided into the 16th and 17th congressional alignments. R. T. Baldwin vice president of the 17th district presided at the meeting. George Averill, editor of the Farmington Enterprise, and a former president of the Michigan Press Association, declared that he believed that out of the changing order of the world, the publisher and printer, but his fear was that many of the smaller institutions would eventually be taken entirely out of the picture.

"There is one thing we must fight and that is a monopoly of any big business," he declared. "One of the factors we wish in their praise of the Mayflower hotel and of the service given. They declared that the hotel was a credit to the city. Among the well known newspaper publishers present was Floyd Miller, former special writer of the Detroit News who is now publisher of the Detroit Free Press. Mr. Averill of Birmingham, Joseph Haas of the Holly Herald, Charles S. Seed of the Rochester Clarion, Jim Wilson of the Bedford Record, H. Lewiston of the Grand Rapids Herald, and Earl Seed of Rochester, Frank A. Ames of the Belleville Enterprise, M. W. McClure of the Chelsea Standard, Floyd McGraw of the Bedford Record, H. Lewiston of the Farmington Enterprise, Grant S. Rowe of the Milford Times, E. H. Congdon of the Oxford Leader, and H. W. Brown of the Grand Rapids Herald. Mr. Seed of the Amherst Tribune, Clifford Ward of the River Rouge Herald, Richard T. Baldwin of the Northville Record and Starling H. Eaton of the Plymouth Mail.

THE "WHITE ELEPHANT" THAT PAID

It seems to be a popular pastime on the part of some Michigan politicians and propagandists to refer constantly to the state owned cement plant as a "white elephant." But as a matter of fact was the Chelsea cement plant a white elephant to the state and didn't it serve the purpose for which it was bought most admirably? Did it not save to the taxpayers of Michigan millions of dollars during the few brief years it was operated?

The Plymouth Mail has never been an advocate of "government in business" and those that deem it essential at the time for the state to go into the cement making business were not enthusiastic "state ownership idealists."

Let us briefly review the history of the state's venture into the cement business and the causes that led up to the purchase of the plant and the pussy-foot politicians and others refer to as the state's "white elephant."

It was back in 1921 or 1922 when Michigan began to give some consideration to the question of traveling on hard surfaced highways rather than attempting to drive automobiles over the muddy and frequently impassable dirt roads of the state. There was a general demand on the part of the public that the state be "taken out of the mud."

It was about this time when Alex Groesbeck became governor. He thoroughly realized the necessity of good roads and he set about the task to take the state "out of the mud." He outlined a most extensive hard-surfaced road building program. He not only outlined it, but he started to construct trunk line roads that would permit automobile travel across the state as well as north and south, connecting all the important centers of Michigan.

The state highway department entered into contracts for the purchase of vast amounts of cement at stated prices. During the season when the demand for this cement was the greatest, it could not be secured, unless the state was willing to pay a "bonus" price far and above the contracted price. Inquiry by state officials fully convinced them that there was a price fixing agreement among cement manufacturers. They saw the road program of the state delayed beyond any reason, due entirely to the fact that even though cement companies had agreed to deliver cement to the state at certain prices and in certain amounts, the cement could not be secured. It was not an infrequent thing for roads that were torn up and ready to be paved to remain in that condition for months and in some cases nearly an entire year.

Thoroughly aroused by the situation, Governor Groesbeck made an effort to break the price fixing arrangement, but without avail. It was then decided that the state's highway construction program would no longer be subject to the will of the cement price fixers.

There was but one thing to do, the state make its own cement. The Chelsea plant was at that time idle. The state, because of its nearness to Jackson prison, decided to purchase it and operate it with prisoners.

A POOR ALIBI

To my way of thinking the statement attributed to Governor Comstock last week that he refused to make a statement of campaign expenses as the law calls for because he wanted to bring the subject more effectively before the people and cause stringent legislation to be adopted by the legislature is a lame attempt to crawl from under an official blunder. I am sorry to find our governor advancing such a sorry excuse for his action. There are many things about Mr. Comstock to admire and when he so fondles the facts as to make himself look ridiculous, he is regrettable to say the least. Governor Comstock's remarks, made at the time the matter was brought to his attention and given publicity, belie his statements of last week. But, even if they had been consistent, they would not constitute sufficient excuse to allow him to set himself up as a nullifier. The law makes all that Governor Comstock says it is but the proper way to cure it is through legislative action not through evading it.—Theodore Cook, The Crystal Falls Diamond Drill.

BOOZE AND EDUCATION

Although it is true that taxes are taxes no matter from what source they come, still we believe that many people in Michigan including moderate wets rather resent the tax on liquor. The liquor tax is to be appropriated for purposes of education. The slogan "drink more beer, wine and liquor to save the schools" may make a good deal of sense, but it does not have all revenues go into a general fund and from this fund provide school moneys? Of course the practical result will be the same as the direct connection between education and liquor will be destroyed.—Dick Cook in The Hastings Banner.

GANG EXECUTIONS

The public generally will not waste many tears over the killing of Axler and Fletcher, Detroit gangsters. They see the thing as good riddance. The law failed to protect society against Axler and Fletcher. The law's delays and technicalities have disgraced the public. If Public En-

On account of the fact that the entire portion of Parts one and two, given, the program has been advanced from the usual hour in order that it may close on time.

There will be a special concert. Many from Plymouth attend this event each year.

Distinguished soloists will participate, including Mrs. Thelma Von Elmendorf, a well known soprano from Detroit, a former student in the School of Music; Helen McClaffin, Director of Music, Kent College, Kent, Ohio, also former student in the School of Music, will sing the contralto role; while Arthur Hackett, Head of the Voice Department of the school of Music, will sing the tenor part; and Carl Lindgren, Head of the Voice Department of the Michigan Normal College, Ypsilanti, a former student in the School of Music, will sing the solo. Palmer Christian will officiate as organist.

emus No. 1 and No. 2 were killed by No. 3 and 4 most people are willing that No. 5 and No. 6 now step forward and cut down No. 3 and No. 4. In a year or so if the killing continued No. 3 and No. 4 might knock off No. 5 and No. 6. The No. 93 and No. 94, with no more Public Enemies to kill might die of ennu and justice will be done. Harry L. Brown in The Ingham County News.

ON THE WAY

We saw a funny one by the Springfield editor. He put a notice in last week's paper that read: "If anyone has anything to be thankful for, the Springfield editor would like to have them report to him, so he can make mention of it in next week's paper." Sounds like down to the last dress.—Harry L. Brown in The Durand Express.

HOW TO FEED THE HUNGRY

As a practical means of disposing of surplus farm products, it is suggested that the farmers loan their trucks, drive them into the big bad cities, and start throwing vegetables at the "financiers and politicians." This would enable the hungry city folk to get something to eat, and would make it unnecessary for the farmers to plow their crops back into the ground.—George Averil in The Birmingham Eclectic.

THE REAL DANGER

The only real danger of revolt in this country is in the attitude of the twelve million idle citizens when they read of the Sinclair oil disclosures. When Albert H. Wiggin, Arthur W. Cutten, Harry F. Sinclair and one or two others derived $12,000,000 profit in six months without investing a penny, Mr. Sinclair issued to himself and friends 1,130,000 new shares of Sinclair Oil stock at $30, which they sold at a profit of $10 and $11 shares ahead of the crash in 1928. Muriel DeFoe in The Charlotte Republican-Tribune.

ON THE WAY

The drift of sentiment in some cycles seems to be about this: Let the shysters, gamblers, crooks, gun dealers, racketeers, dope peddlers and booze vendors all have their own way, and when things get so bad we can't stand it any longer, organize a mob and lynch a few of the rascals. When Albert the woman shriek and the boys and girls go to hell. Then we'll have a free country. Anarchy is the logical ideal of all who would profit at others' moral loss.—Emerson Gildart in The Utica Sentinel.

SHOOTIN' IT OUT

Detroit officials seem all hot and bothered since the murder of the two bad gangsters (public enemies) because they fear a gangster war and more killings will take place among the crowd. Why not encourage 'em to slay each other? It is the most effective way of getting rid of that element that preys upon honest people. Sick 'em on and applaud their marksmanship instead of getting scared.—A. H. Weber in The Cheboygan Observer.

OUCH!

Three rousing cheers! We Democrats have got likker back, recognized Russia, and we're running the gold standard over the heads of the riff! Who's afraid of the big bad wolf? Whoopie! George Neal in The Orion Review.

REMEMBER WHEN?

A pioneer is the fellow who can remember the good old days when a few Christmas baubles were all that was needed for charity. Adrian Van Koevering in The Zealand Record.

How To Make Chairs Look Like New Ones To Be Demonstrated

Miss Gertrude Reis will give the second lesson in a series of lessons on home furnishing, sponsored by the Extension Department of Michigan State College at Wayne Library on Friday, December 8 to the women of Wayne county.

The new work will have to do with the making of slip-covers. Each two leaders will bring some material and an old chair to be placed some old couch or chair if it can be dressed in a slip-cover to look like a new piece. Slip-covers may be used on any collection of odd shapes and kinds of chairs to make them seem to belong together. Slip-covers often aid in working out a color harmony for a room. A demonstration will be given on cutting a slip-cover properly, fitting it carefully and finishing it neatly to give a smart tailored appearance.

In this way a very little cost, old chairs that need a new finish or new upholstery will be made useful again and they will add comfort and coziness to the various homes from which they will come.

Miss Emma DuBord, County Home Demonstration Agent, also will announce that the 3rd lesson in the Clothing project will be given by Miss Irene Taylor, Specialist from Michigan State College, the leaders of the clothing groups on Tuesday, Dec. 12, at the Wayne Library. The women will finish the fitting of the muslin pattern already started.

Those who hoard wealth are not worse than those who try to do so.

players, all under the direction of Earl V. Moore, will participate. The public is urged to come sufficiently early as to be seated at the beginning of the concert as the doors will be closed during numbers.

Land Bank Plans To Hasten Help To The Farmers Of Michigan

Further steps to hasten assistance to the credit needs of Michigan farmers was pledged by officials in charge of funds loaned to farmers at a meeting held at Michigan State College recently. Leo T. Crowley, general agent, St. Paul Land Bank, said that criticism that loans were being delayed were not merited as more than $7,000,000 worth of farm mortgages have been approved in Michigan this year. This figure compares with the $2,473,000 loaned to Michigan farmers in all the previous years of the life of the Land Bank.

This money is loaned on first and second mortgages as collateral. If the loan applied for does not exceed 50 per cent of the value of a farm plus 20 per cent of the value of the farm buildings a straight first mortgage is used as security. If the loan exceeds that percentage of the land and buildings value, the applicant can ask for a commission loan in addition to the money secured by the first mortgage. The total of the two loans can not exceed 75 per cent of the normal value of the farm.

Another type of credit which will be available soon was explained at the East Lansing meeting by George Susens, president of the Production Credit Corporation also located in St. Paul and serving the same four states as the Land Bank. This credit is designed for short term financing of growing crops or livestock. Money borrowed will be secured by the borrowers' notes.

Mortgage loans, made through the Land Bank, and crop financing on loans from the Credit Corporation are expected to become a permanent part of the agricultural financial system. These credit agencies are not emergency measures.

Local production credit associations comparable to the local farm loan associations will be made in as many districts as necessary in Michigan. The associations are composed of the borrowers and the officers except the secretary, must be holders of loans.

County agricultural agents heard the credit facilities discussed at the College and can give further information about them.

Want To Spear Fish Through The Ice? Get State License

Michigan's winter fish spearing season will open January 1 and for the first time the man with the spear will be required to have a license.

A 1934 general rod license will be necessary for everyone fishing for any species in any inland waters after January 1. It is expected that the licenses will be placed on sale by about 1,800 agents of the Conservation Department, December 15.

The winter spearing season is unchanged from last year. Carp, suckers, mullet, redhorse, sheepshead, lake trout, smelt, pickerel (great northern, grass pike and pickerel), muskellunge, whitefish, ciscoes, pike, dogfish and pickerel, may be taken by spear through the ice without an artificial light during January and February.

To Remove Some Of Restrictions

An amendment to the city ordinance which is the result of a compromise reached Monday night at the city commission meeting, will do away, it is believed with much of the criticism of the anti-transient merchant ordinance. When this ordinance was originally passed it was enacted for the purpose of placing the new merchant on the same tax burden as the old established merchant. That is he had to pay a fee and a monthly inspection fee until his goods had been placed upon the tax roll. The act was passed to prevent transient merchants from coming in here, opening up a store a few weeks, getting what business they could, paying no taxes, and then moving elsewhere.

Under the change made Monday night, there will be a $30 per thousand valuation fee on all stock carried, until the stock has been placed on the assessment roll. The monthly inspection fee has been eliminated. This places the new-comer on the same footing as old established merchants, but he must pay his taxes in the form of fees for the time he is in business and until the first tax is collected. Complain was made by a number of real estate holders who said the could not rent their places as a result of the terms of the original ordinance.

Three Well Known Young People Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Chester L. Tuck of Detroit announce the marriage of their daughter, Katherine Elizabeth, to G. William Meier of Detroit, which took place on Wednesday, November 29.

Mrs. Meier is very well known here, having attended the Plymouth high school and was a member of the graduating class of 1930.

The many friends of the young couple wish them every happiness.

The marriage of Miss Marjorie Hicks, daughter of Mr. Leah Hicks, of Redford and Jack Monteth son of Mr. and Mrs. William Monteth of this city, was solemnized on Monday, November 20, the Reverend Krieman of the Park Presbyterian church performing the ceremony. The bride and groom were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Lee Cook of Plymouth.

Mr. Monteth is an employe of the Kroger company in this city. They are residing at 1338 Fenwick avenue. Their many friends extend hearty congratulations.

Miss Hazel Drake and Gus Eberts were quietly married Wednesday evening November 28, at eight-thirty o'clock at the home of the bride on Liberty street. Rev. P. Ray Norton of the Methodist church performing the ceremony. Only the immediate relatives were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Eberts are well known Plymouth people and their many friends extend best wishes for a long, happy, wedded life.

On Thanksgiving Day Mr. and Mrs. Edward Eberts and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Eberts honored the bride and groom with a dinner with covers for twelve guests at the home of the former on Mill street.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"God the only Cause and Creator" was the subject of the Lesson Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, December 3.

Among the Bible citations was this passage (II Sam. 22:31, 33): "As for God his way is perfect: the word of the Lord is tried: he is a buckler to all them that trust in him. God is my strength and power, and he maketh my way perfect."

Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following: (p. 192): "In Science, you can have no power opposed to God, and the physical senses must give up their false testimony. Your influence for good depends upon the weight you throw into the right scale. The good you do and embody gives you the only power obtainable. Evil is no power."

You who attend no church regularly: COME, and attend our church. We promise no elaborate entertainment, we boast of no pretentious appointments, we do not consider our church as an exclusive club or organization; but we are conservative with the Old Gospel Truth, we do preach Christ Jesus Crucified, we do aim to give the comfort and peace beyond all comprehension into the world-weary soul who enters our portals and we believe that our one business and sole excuse for existing is to follow in the Master's footsteps: "The Son of Man came to seek and to save that which is lost." Come, worship with us.

SALEM FEDERATED CHURCH

December 10 is the day set for world-wide observance of Bible Sunday. Be sure to bring your Bible with you, Sunday morning. Bible school meets at 11:45. Read the twenty-fourth chapter of Acts, as the lesson is about Paul's ministry in Caesarea. Memory text: "Herein do I exercise myself to have always a conscience void of offence toward God and toward man." Acts 24:16.

The annual business meeting of the Salem Federated church will be held in the church parlor, Tuesday, December 12 at two o'clock. There will be election of trustees and officers and other business will be transacted as may legally come before the meeting. Everyone interested in the church is urged to be present.

The Ladies of the Aid will have their annual bazaar in the church dining room on Friday, December 8. Dinner will be served at noon. For the children there will be a "fish pond" with prizes of Mabel Ginnamsmith and Doris Lyke.

Our Sunday school children will please meet at the church, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock to practice for the Christmas program.

Mrs. Walter Rentschler will be hostess to the Ladies Auxiliary Society for the December meeting, Potluck dinner at noon, followed by business session and 4th quarterly missionary program.

METHODIST CHURCH

Newburg and Ferrisville Universal Bible Sunday will be observed at the Newburg and Ferrisville Methodist churches next Sunday, Dec. 10. The pastor, Rev. F. Merle Townsend, will preach at 9:15 at Ferrisville and at 10:30 at Newburg on the theme "Chaotic Night to Eternal Day." The church school session follows the morning service at each church.

At 7:45 p. m. there will be a special Bible Sunday service at Newburg in charge of the members of the Young Married People's class. Mr. Townsend will speak on the question "How Did We Get the Bible?" Mr. Townsend has specialized in the study of the Bible in three universities. An interesting and notable feature of the service will be the exhibit of Bibles; old Bibles and new Bibles. English Bibles and Bibles in other languages. There will be some facsimile reproductions of ancient biblical manuscripts, something that the ordinary student of the Scripture seldom sees. There will also be a few books about the Bible. This exhibit will be open during the service to see. Everybody welcome.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Walter Nichol Pastor

The December meeting of the Women's Auxiliary will be held in the parlors of the church on Wednesday, Dec. 13th at 2:30 p. m. Reports on the bazaar and supper will be given. Mrs. Nichol is in charge of the program which is to have Christmas as its general theme. It is hoped, there will be a large attendance. Refreshments will be served.

The beginner and primary departments of the Sunday school are greatly interested in the coming visit of Santa Claus at the annual Sunday School entertainment on Thursday evening, December 21st.

The Busy Women's Class had a very happy meeting at the manse on Tuesday of this week. There was a good attendance, a good dinner and fine social fellowship.

CHURCH OF THE OPEN DOOR

Independent Baptist Richard Neale, Pastor

How much do you know of the Bible? Do you know what signs the Lord Jesus Christ predicted as signs of the close of this age? He said, "Can ye not discern the signs of the times?" Men did not discern the truth regarding him at His first coming. He predicted that it would be the same way at His second coming. He said,—"In such an hour as ye think not the Son of Man cometh." This does not refer to death, though that is sometimes sudden and unexpected. Christians can benefit much by an honest study of the Word of God. Our church stands as a Bible teaching center. There are special meetings for folks of all ages. We invite all who read these columns to send us your questions regarding the Bible. Be sure to sign your name.

We humbly challenge all readers who do not believe the Bible is the Word of God to put it honestly to the test. God has never failed; and never will. "Heaven and earth shall pass away, but my words shall not pass away." He says in Matt. 24:35. If you don't credit this claim, we invite you to visit us, and share your problem with us.

Tonight is our cottage prayer meeting at the home of Mrs. Ella Kainz, 312 Ann St. You are invited.

Sunday at 10 a. m. the pastor preaches on Nehemiah chapter 4, "Problems of Building—Then and Now." Bible school is at 11:15. We are studying the marvels of Genesis, the first book in the Bible. At 7:30 p. m. Mr. R. C. Weiskopf will again preach. We certainly profited by his searching Bible message last Sunday. You will enjoy him, if you enjoy the Word of God.

Announcement will be made about our baptismal service on Sunday. Our other services are as scheduled.

ST. JOHN'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Morning prayer and sermon 10 a. m. Church school 11:15 a. m. Choir practice on Saturday evening, Dec. 9 at 7 p. m.

New Administrator Of Welfare Has Been Sent To Northville

Frank C. Grien who was sent to Northville to handle the welfare work in Northville and Northville township, has been transferred to the southern part of Wayne county following a storm of protests that developed in the community.

Many of the accusations that Grien had told some people to sell their furniture to buy food, to come back to his office when they were really hungry, declared that rolled oats was sufficient food and had instructed some to break up some of their old furniture for fuel, were hotly denied by those in a position to know. Nevertheless so great was the protest in the neighboring community that H. E. Kramer of Detroit a trained welfare worker and one thoroughly experienced in handling welfare problems, has been sent to Northville to look after the situation in that part of the county.

For years the Kings Daughters have handled the welfare work in that place and difficulties started between this group and Grien almost immediately upon his arrival to take up his work. Welfare officials believe that the problem has now been settled and that there will be no more difficulties in the administration of welfare problems in that village and township.

Closest friendships mature slowly. "Love me little, love me long."

Rapid Increase In P. M. Travel

An exceptional increase in the passenger business of the Pere Marquette between Plymouth and Detroit has been noted in recent months due to the fact that the company is providing better service, and a lower rate. To those who find it necessary to go to Detroit, there is no more convenient way than by using the Pere Marquette.

Since publicity was first given the Pere Marquette service in The Mail some months ago there has been an increase each month. In October there were 23 more Detroit passengers than in September and in November there were 40 more than in October. It is believed that December will show an increase over November. Shop in Plymouth but if you have to go to Detroit on other business, and many find it necessary to do so, the most convenient way now is the Pere Marquette.

Peterson Gets 200 Lb. Buck On Second Trip

Edward D. Peterson, of 454 North Main street made two trips north during the deer season. The first trip was to the Upper Peninsula with a party of four but owing to the great amount of snow it was impossible to get closer than 18 miles of the regular hunting grounds. No one had any luck on this trip. He went a second time to Hubbard Lake near Alpena and on the second day out succeeded in killing an 8 point buck which weighed better than 200 pounds. Mr. Peterson also got his deer last year.

The Red Cross work room in the Starkweather school is a busy place again starting the sewing for another year of very much needed clothing. Mrs. Charles H. Bennett is Plymouth's representative with Mrs. Arthur Griffith as general chairman in the sewing room and assistants for various days of the week are: Mrs. Otto Beyer, Tuesday; Mrs. Robert Mimmack, Thursday and Mrs. Harry Robinson, Friday.

Graphic Outlines of History By Schrader Bros.

Mud Fort, Lawrence, Kansas. Lawrence, named for Amos A. Lawrence of Massachusetts, was founded in August, 1854, by a band of colonists sent by the New England Company. No Graft In City Rule Of Germany Rotary Speaker Lauds The Work Of Municipal Governments

George V. Branch, director of the municipal markets of Detroit who was one of a number of Americans selected a short time ago to visit Germany and make a study of municipal government in that nation, was the speaker at last Friday's meeting of the Rotary Club. He was a guest of John Bickenstaff, chairman of the program committee.

is with every line of municipal service," he said. "I assume that you are interested in the welfare situation in Germany. Well, they have it, there is no question about that. It is pretty thoroughly organized. But there is the same unemployment situation there as here, only it has been of longer duration. It started after the war and has continued ever since. They believe there, as we do here, that with a little better situation prevailing throughout the world, some of the welfare load will be relieved."

Seniors To Present Christmas Prom

Work! work! work! is all the seniors have been thinking about for the past few weeks. Why all the busy-bodies? Don't you know? Why, the Christmas Prom is to be given by the '34 graduating class next Friday evening, December 15.

Boys in smocks, girls in aprons have been seen rushing through the halls every afternoon from 3:45 until hunger overtakes them, and everything from paint to light sockets has filled Miss Piegels' shopping list every Thursday afternoon (her shopping day).

The night of the fifteenth the high school gymnasium will be decorated as a living room on Christmas eve. A large, lighted tree will be one of the main attractions along with many others signifying the one holiday which is looked forward to by everyone. Happy Hatties and his orchestra will be the featured attraction played at the Book Cadillac hotel in Detroit will be seated on the stage and will furnish the music for the evening.

The seniors are working very hard to get ready for this big event which will mean a lot to them in getting out of financial difficulties so they hope that all of the boys and girls who are their girl friends to make this one and only Senior Prom of the 1934 graduates a great success. Jane Whipple is acting as general chairman with Coroline Rathburn as decoration chairman; Marvin Partridge, publicity; Mary Mettetal, invitations program and chaperones; Delia Taylor, music; Mildred Mault, refreshments; Wilbur Kincaid, floor; and Donald Moore, wiring, lighting and construction.

Come on, everybody! Help the Senior Prom get out of a tight spot. Remember the date is December 15, just a week from today, and also remember that the gym has been provided with a new floor—let's that good news? Happy Hatties and his orchestra will begin playing at 9:30 o'clock. Be there with all your friends ready to start the evening off with a great big Bang!

Central Grade School Notes

This week the kindergartners are starting to make Christmas gifts for their mothers and fathers. Robert Chute had a birthday last Wednesday; his mother sent cake and ice cream to school and the afternoon class had a party.

Miss DeWitt's class is beginning work on its Christmas booklets.

Miss Sly's class had two visitors recently. Last week Mrs. Freeland called and the week before Mrs. Viro.

The pupils in Mrs. Bird's class are making Christmas booklets and posters. In arithmetic they are taking up addition with large numbers.

Miss Weatherhead's pupils are making some very attractive Christmas decorations for the room. Madelyn Burden was absent last week because of a death in the family. Margaret Kisabeth was kept at home by illness last week. Miss Weatherhead's mother, Mrs. Weatherhead, visited school last Tuesday afternoon.

In Miss Fenner's class Lynon Ball's spelling team had one hundred per cent, giving that team a lead of twelve points. The reading class played "broadcast" last week. An announcer was appointed, who called on the various pupils to recite poems. William Dempsey announced for the 6A and Ruth Kirkpatrick for the 6B.

Debate Team Holds Practice

In preparation for Thursday's debate with Dearborn, a practice debate was held Wednesday, November 29, in Study 3. An impromptu team consisting of Jewell Starkweather, Evelyn Rora-bacher, and Mr. Latture, represented the affirmative, while Harry Fisher, Jack Sessions, and Russell Kirk upheld the negative.

Thomas Brock, acting as judge, awarded the decision to the affirmative on the grounds that the negative had not met their case. This contest was the only practice debate held before Plymouth, represented by Harry Fischer, Jack Sessions, and Evelyn Rora-bacher, and supporting the negative, met Dearborn in the latter city.

Class Notes

The members of the 7B hygiene class have been carrying on practical experiments. They burned hard boiled egg, lean meat, and fat meat and observed the differences. They put iodine on cold potato; the starch in the potato turned the iodine a bluish black. The girls brought the material and conducted the experiments.

The 7A hygiene students have completed their papers and projects on insect pests. They are studying the sources of city water supplies and wells.

The 8B first aid class is finishing its work in practical bandaging. The pupils have passed the test on bandages and are now working on hand and chest bandages.

Miss Waldor's 12B English classes have concluded George Eliot's novel "Silas Marner," and have begun a masterpiece of Shakespeare's "The Merchant of Venice."

One fallen preacher gets more advertising than fifty other fallen men.

It's not the big dog in the fight, but the big fight in the dog.

You can't be a stranger to hard work and be a stranger to hard times.

Starkweather School Notes

The kindergarten has four new goldfish for their room. The names chosen for their pets are Tiddley-winks, Tiddley-wee, Tommy Tucker and Goldie.

Each child has painted a picture on an easel and some day soon they are going to give a painting exhibit and invite the other rooms in to see their art.

In Room-3 the children have made a red poinsettia border across the blackboard. They are also making booklets about the story of Christ's birth.

Although the feeding place for the birds is ready for all comers the birds have not discovered the spot as yet, but the children have high hopes that by the time these find a feeding table they will have a large family to feed.

The Latin class participated in a Thanksgiving program last Wednesday evening giving some very nice songs, plays, and recitations.

Can You Imagine?

A fog horn for a class bell?
 Praying for not slammimg her locker door?
 Thelma Lunsford not speaking baby talk?
 Jack Kinsey not waiting after several hours to walk with Elizabeth Whipple?
 Doris Fishlock, Jean Roediger, and Gwendolyn Dunlop not doing their Latin together?
 Jack Wilcox not getting an inspiration?
 Sam Knapp and Jack Smith getting their geometry?
 Robert Soth not losing his books in algebra class?
 Bill Petz not being timid?

Plymouth Debaters To Meet Lincoln Park

In the last league debate of the season in which Plymouth will participate, this school will hold the negative of the question, "Resolved, that all broadcasting in the United States should be through stations owned and controlled by the federal government," against Lincoln Park's affirmative team.

Plymouth's first debate, with Ypsilanti, resulted in victory, but in the River Rouge contest Plymouth was defeated. As a result, it will be necessary for this school to win the forthcoming contest in order to participate in the state eliminations. If River Rouge is defeated by another school belonging to the Twin Valley Association, Plymouth will have another opportunity to retain the league championship.

The Lincoln Park debate will be held there at 7:30, Thursday, December 14, and will be the concluding one unless Plymouth is victorious.

New Gym Floor In High School

As a result of the CWA a new floor is being laid in the Plymouth high school auditorium. The old floor, having been in use seventeen years, was removed because the stringers in the cement were not waterproof and decayed and left the floor loose from its foundation. Enough flooring was salvaged from the old to make a subfloor beneath the new maple one. As twelve men are being employed to lay the floor, it is expected that the work will be finished by Monday, December 11th. Then it will be refinished and the necessary lines needed for playing basketball and other games will be painted.

Milford Here Tonight

Milford's basketball team clashes with PHS this Friday night on our new gym floor in the season opener. As many on last year's team were only juniors, the team is expected to be strong this season and the game should be very close. Season tickets sold by the Student Council, admit the bearer to all interscholastic activities until school ends.

P. H. S. Posters Go To Washington

W.C.T.U. posters made by Plymouth high school art students in Miss Fry's class won four local prizes. The posters were sent to Lansing where they were judged by a committee man from Washington, D. C. He was quite pleased with them and he said the originality and artistic ability displayed was equal to that of college students. The posters were sent to Washington where they are now on exhibition with others from all parts of the country.

Social Conditions Have Made Hebbles a Necessity
Eileen Archer

Social changes in the last fifty years have changed the order of the people by giving them more leisure time. The changes have been made in industry by the introduction of machinery which has shortened the working day. About fifty years ago the people worked around twelve hours a day, but now they work on the average of eight hours a day. In some places they are talking about a still shorter working day. In business life many implements such as the typewriter and adding machine have been introduced in some saving devices. In the home electricity and the development of prepared food and ready made clothing have shortened the working day for the housewife.

The correct use of leisure time is very important. If people spend it carelessly, they will probably become criminals and end their lives in some prison. If they live a straight clean life that will aid society, a person must take up some avocation that will hold his interest and help develop desirable characteristics. There are many things he can do such as reading, collecting stamps, butterflies, and money, sea shells, pictures, and autographs. It is a benefit to society to have its people take up some hobby that will aid everyone. It may not be one that is noticeable, but it may keep you out of noxious mischief.

The school is an agent in teaching hobbies. The teachers begin to instruct the pupils to do certain things that are different from their regular work. When they are in the lower grades, often a student is taught to do some simple thing that interests him, and as he grows older he develops this into a hobby that he will follow throughout his life. Often children are not taught to do things at home that they might be interested in. It should really be one of the duties of a school to teach a student avocational work as well as vocational work. Many people do not have as much time to develop a hobby as they would have if they were taught about hobbies in school they will have more ideas about them and will know how to develop them.

Other community agencies that help to teach hobbies are churches, clubs, and some homes. For instance the Kiwanis Club has started bowling teams. This furnishes people with amusement, recreation, and a hobby. Some of the people may take up bowling and become experts at that game. Everyone should have a hobby for both indoors and outdoors. When weather prevents and a person cannot spend his leisure time out of doors to continue work on his hobby, he should have one that he can spend his time on inside.

A person's hobby should be one that he can work on if he becomes ill or crippled. If a person does not want to do this, he should develop a different one if he is an invalid.

THE GIFT OF GIFTS

One that will serve her for Years

And you can let her try it out before Christmas! Of course you want to give HER a worth while gift—one that will please her Christmas morning and one that will be the joy of her heart for years to come. Surely an ELECTRIC range fills both these requirements. It is a gift of wisdom—one that will become more modern, year by year, with the trend to electric cooking. And fifteen years from now, her electric range will look practically as new as it does today.

You need not buy the range. We will install an electric range without initial charge, and let you use it for six months, removing it without charge if you do not like it. During the trial period, you pay for the service as registered by your meter, plus a monthly charge of $1 for the range. If you decide to keep the range, your monthly payments will be applied toward the purchase price. If you decide that you do not want it, the range will be removed at our expense. Send in your application for a trial range today.

When you give her a modern electric range, you give her eight things rolled into one: (1) Watertight Cooking with Sealed-in Flavor, (2) Healthful Cooking, (3) Clean Cooking, (4) Modern Cooking, (5) Fast and Safe Cooking, (6) Cool Cooking, (7) Dependable Cooking Results, (8) Less Shrinkage in Roasts—all at a cooking cost of less than one cent a meal per person!

Goes On "Turkey" Hunt In Plymouth, Gets A Real Prize

While Plymouth deer hunters were tramping the woods of northern Michigan in search of sport such as all true outdoor men love, it remained for W. J. Bartlett to get in a bit of the greatest hunting in all the world right here in Plymouth. He did some turkey hunting on Church street, and he brought home the "turkey" that he had found perched some 50 or 60 feet up in a tree. The turkey happened to be a big bronze bird that for the time on "native" ground. Two turkeys had been delivered to the Bartlett home in a crate and in getting them out, both got away, although one was immediately re-captured. The other took lodging up in a tree as high as it could go. Mr. Bartlett concluded there was only one way to get the turkey and that was to shoot it. Art Johnson provided the rifle, and if any crack shots of Plymouth want to go up against a real shot, they ask for a contest with Mr. Bartlett. One shot clipped the gobble of the old gobbler.

Scully Talks Before Flat Rock Rotarians

Edward Scully, field representative of the Michigan State Tax commission, spoke before members of the Flat Rock Rotary club Wednesday noon. He went into detail as to the operations of the Michigan state sales tax law, explaining re-capture of the provisions that have been more or less confusing. He also pointed out to the Rotarians of Flat Rock statistics showing how much each line of business is paying into the state treasury.

The Golden Rule is very old, 'tis true; but with so little use it's just as good as new. The old Jew was right; there is always sin back of sickness, a violation of law. Men are more anxious to play safe than to play fair. Depressions follow booms; booms follow depressions. Love makes men fools; marriage makes them wise.
