Vote At The City Hall On Monday

Repairs Will Make No Difference With Voting Booths

Because of the fact that the City Hall is undergoing extensive alterations and repairs, many people have inquired as to whether or not the election will be held in the City Hall building.

COMMUNICATION

The Plymouth Mail. Referring to communication in your issue of March 16th, '34, relative to CWA projects in Plymouth in which it was stated, 'I now quote—only three of the six members of our City Commission—'

There are always two sides to each and every controversy. It is not surprising that in the case of the CWA projects, there are many times tending to besmirch the characters of citizens heretofore held in high esteem in their own as well as in the eyes of their neighbors.

Furthermore, I positively refuse to engage in any political game which might seek to dampen the ardor of or to change the minds of the voters of Plymouth in electing their chosen candidates.

Election Day Is Near, Interest Grows Slightly

Two Members Of City Commission To Be Elected, One Judge

Monday is election day in Plymouth. There are to be elected two members to the city commission and a municipal justice.

Oliver Goldsmith is a candidate to succeed himself. The other three candidates are Walter Smith, a member of the board of review and a well known resident of the city, Mrs. Ruth Huston Whipple, who is one of the active workers in various women's organizations and Harry Mumby, a world war veteran.

There is considerable interest in the election of the next municipal justice. Fred Hamill resigned sometime ago because of his CWA work and the commission appointed Attorney Perry Richwine to serve out the unexpired term of Mr. Hamill. Judge Richwine will serve until the new justice is qualified.

There are two candidates for this place, former Justice Fred Brooks and Attorney John Dayton. There is much more interest in this contest than is usually evident as both have a large number of friends who are putting forth a special effort in their behalf.

The township elections are not expected to bring out a very large vote, except possibly in Canton where a decided effort is being made in behalf of both tickets.

Sheriff Wilcox Is Honored Here

Road Patrol Men Give A Banquet At The Mayflower

Road patrol men of Wayne county at a banquet held at the Mayflower hotel Tuesday night honored Sheriff Thomas C. Wilcox for his cooperation in their work during the past year.

Chief Deputy Crendon acted as toastmaster and among those he called upon for a few remarks were Mayor Freeman B. Hoyer, Fred D. Schrader and Sterling Easton of Plymouth.

There were a number of judges present at the affair. Many of the police chiefs were asked for a few remarks.

The affair brought to Plymouth over half a hundred of the law enforcing officers of Wayne county, many of them who have won distinction in their work.

Mr. Moss who is regarded as one of the best architects in this part of the state, who has planned some of the most attractive private as well as public buildings in the Detroit area, had little time to give to the planning for alterations at the city hall, but he did a job that has won favorable comment from everyone that had to pass upon it.

Not only will there be an entirely re-arranged set of offices down stairs, but the second floor is being rebuilt so that the commission meeting room will too have a considerable appearance.

The work will be finished sometime in May possibly before that date, states City Manager Perry Cookingham.

Young Farmer Hangs Himself

Clarence Ebersole age 35 years, well known farmer residing just south of Waterford, killed himself shortly after noon Wednesday by hanging. The cause of the deed is a mystery as he had been in the best of health and the family was getting along nicely.

Shortly before the dinner hour he went to the barn when Mrs. Ebersole called he did not respond. Thinking possibly he had some work he desired to finish before coming to the house, she had an hour or so before she went to the barn to call him again.

Then it was that the body was discovered swinging from a rafter in the hay loft. Neighbors were immediately called, but death had taken place instantly and there was nothing that could be done to save him.

Mr. Ebersole and four small children survive. The mother, a resident of Plymouth also survives.

The young father was one of the best known residents in the locality between Plymouth and Northville and he had a large number of friends who are unable to explain his deed. Possibly once or twice before he had intimated to his family what was on his mind, but at no time did they think he was speaking seriously of attempting suicide.

The body was brought to the Wilkie funeral home in Plymouth where the funeral will be held Saturday at 2 o'clock.

"Thy Kingdom Come" Will Be Presented Sunday Eve, April 8th

Because of so many requests having been made for its presentation again Miss Florence Stader has decided to again give "Thy Kingdom Come" at the high school auditorium on Sunday evening April 8. The churches will cooperate with Miss Stader in its presentation.

City Hall Will Be New One When Job Is Finished

Entire Interior Of The Structure Is Being Built Over

Plans Drawn By Thomas Moss Win High Praise From Officials Who Had To Pass On Them

Within another month Plymouth will have a modern city hall as there is to be found anywhere in the country in a city of this size—that is the office arrangements and interior planning will be unexcelled. Because of the inability of city officials to secure the necessary allotment of funds for external work, there will be little change made in the front of the building, however the entrance is being changed to the center of the building where it will lead directly into a large lobby.

Members of the city commission and City Manager Perry Cookingham who assisted Thomas Moss, the architect who planned the work, declare that Mr. Moss has worked out an ideal plan for alterations at the city hall, but he did a job that has won favorable comment from everyone that had to pass upon it.

Mr. Moss who is regarded as one of the best architects in this part of the state, who has planned some of the most attractive private as well as public buildings in the Detroit area, had little time to give to the planning for alterations at the city hall, but he did a job that has won favorable comment from everyone that had to pass upon it.

Not only will there be an entirely re-arranged set of offices down stairs, but the second floor is being rebuilt so that the commission meeting room will too have a considerable appearance.

The work will be finished sometime in May possibly before that date, states City Manager Perry Cookingham.

City Officials Found It Necessary To Take Out 300 Feet

After removing two sections of water main on Ann Arbor street west of Harvey street which were split during the recent freeze up of a section of this main, it was found that a considerable greater amount of damage was done than appeared at first. It has been necessary to install a gate valve in the water line at Jener west of Ann Arbor street. By the installation of these two valves service has been resumed to all of the houses which were previously cut off.

It appears that from 250 to 300 feet of water main will have to be removed and replaced. This will require the cutting of approximately twenty holes in the pavement on Ann Arbor street in order that the pipe can be removed and a new water line installed. The new water line will be placed a depth of five feet below the surface of the pavement. The present water main is now only thirty inches below the top of the pavement, and if left at this location is apt to freeze up again and cause a considerable amount of inconvenience to water users and expense to the City.

Payment Of Taxes In Canton Increases

Colburn Dennis, treasurer of Canton township, has just closed the books for the collection of taxes in that township and he reports a percentage of collection amounting to 94.3 per cent. Mr. Dennis states that he believes the CWA work given a number of people in Canton township and as well general improvement and that it is possible a more general payment of taxes. The assessed valuation of the township has been lowered during the past year, he states.

Resigns As Organist At Methodist Church

Mrs. M. J. O'Connor who for more than two years, has so faithfully and capably filled the position of organist and their director at the Plymouth Methodist church has resigned this position effective after the Easter services. Mrs. O'Connor by her charming and jolly personality has won a host of friends in the church who will surely miss her smile as well as her talented direction of the church musical activities. Both talents have made a blessing to the church and it is sincerely hoped by members that her absence will not be permanent.

CHRIST IS RISEN

Christ is risen! Christ is risen!
He hath burst his bonds in twain!
Christ is risen! Christ is risen!
Alleluia! swell the strain!

For our gain he suffered loss
By divine decree;
He hath died upon the cross,
But our God is He.

See the chains of death are broken!
Earth below and heav'n above,
Joy in each amazing token
Of his rising, Lord of love.

He forevermore shall reign
By the Father's side,
Till he comes to earth again,
Comes to claim his bride.

Glorious angels, downward thronging,
Hail the Lord of all the skies;
Heav'n with joy and holy longing
For the Word incarnate cries.

Christ is risen! Earth, rejoice!
Gleam, ye starry train!
All creation, find a voice!
He'er all shall reign!

THE STATE'S PLIGHT

Probably one of the most informative talks made before the members of Plymouth's Rotary club in many a moon was that by Representative Vernon J. Brown of Mason last Friday. Mr. Brown pointed out clearly and concisely the frightful financial plight of Michigan—and in the face of the fact that there are 30,000 school teachers in Michigan out of jobs at the present time, the state administration wants to bond the state for $4,000,000 for additions to the normal schools," he said. If any Michigan taxpayer has an idea that there is a rosy path ahead, he had another guess coming, stated Mr. Brown. One can easily gain from a careful analysis of his talk that Michigan's greatest need for the next few years are men of the type of Vernon J. Brown in command of its affairs — men who know what it is all about and know what to do to remedy the situation.

A DIRECT HIT!

When Commissioner C. A. Picard of the Michigan liquor commission finally consented to say something about the constant sniping attacks that have been made upon him by Michigan's notorious nincompoop of an auditor general, Mr. Picard said plenty. He told Mr. Stack in just so many words that he was a meddling, snooping, unit and grandstand playing public official and that his services were of no value to the state of Michigan. Mr. Picard should have gone a bit further and said that probably no man's family had profited more through the state government contacts than has Mr. Stack's own family. Mr. Stack has no conception of what public service means, except insofar as it pertains to the Stack family. Mr. Picard is to be commended for telling one of our party "mistakes" just what the public has for a long time known.

Rambling Around With Michigan Editors

THOSE GOOD NEIGHBORS

Isn't it nice when your neighbors think enough of you to give you a farewell party? What a splendid custom in our community. And what's more, in many neighborhoods our good Livingstonians welcome newcomers with equal cordiality. When a family has lived as your neighbor for 10, 15, and 20 years, you know each other pretty well. Comes a little one, the women all help. Dines, and the chores and farm work is taken care of. Need groceries, coal, or feed, the neighbors always do their part. And when Death's Angel hovers near, or descends to blend the sunset of earth with the sunrise of eternity, who is the first to uphold your fainting heart and carry you through the valley? Those good neighbors. Yes, kind friends, some one has defined love and friendship as neighbors. And isn't it true the firmest friendships are formed in adversity—as iron is most strongly united in the fiercest flame?—William Canfield in The Livingston County Republican-Press.

WE'VE BEEN WAITING FOR THIS

In last week's Cheboygan Observer we find the following from the pen of Al. H. Weber. We note by the Atlanta Tribune that George Stevens and James Weaver are cutting twenty-four inch wood for the Clear Lake CCC camp. Mr. Stevens has a contract to get out three hundred cords and Mr. Weaver one hundred cords for the camp. It is said it requires eleven cords of such wood a day to keep the camp stoves hot. A short while ago we mentioned that those CCC boys dropped down in the woody places of the north, supposed to be engaged in cutting fire lines and clearing road ways and such things were not even providing the fuel for their own warmth. We were a little skeptical about that report but it persisted and now we learn of this wood contract that we have mentioned. That is the kind of example Uncle Sam's soldier boys are trying to instill into the CCC camp men. That is the kind of hook that is promised to save the world for the democrats. That is the kind of farcial fiction that fills the highways and the towns and villages with thumb-ers with nothing to do but go places and be back in time to draw the thirty per.

Well, from the information we have, the Atlanta camp isn't the only one in which the boys are not cutting wood enough to keep themselves warm. The bal-lyho that has been going up the country over about the splendid results that these CCC expenditures are bringing has painted a situation in the minds of the people that is going to bring an awful fall to the movement when the facts come out. The CCC camps are doing a lot of good, we'll admit. They're doing good for the reason that they take young men off the streets, they're doing what the writers has been saying the CWA is not doing; supplying the young men with a few dollars to spend for clothes and other living expenses. They could do many times more

MOTHER SHIPTON'S PROPHECY

These lines were first published in England in 1885 before the discovery of America, and before any of the discoveries and inventions mentioned therein. All the events predicted have come to pass except that in the last two lines: "Carriages without horses shall go, And accidents fill the world with woe. Around the world thoughts shall fly In the twinkling of an eye. Waters shall yet more wonders do. Now strange, yet shall be true. And this world upside down shall be. And gold be found at root of tree. Through hills man shall ride. And no horse nor ass be at his side. Under water man shall walk. Shall ride, shall sleep, shall talk. In the air men shall be seen. In white, in black, in green. Iron in the water shall float As easy as a wooden boat. As easy shall be found 'mid stone. In a land that's now unknown. Fire and water shall wonders do, England shall at last admit a Jew. And the pastor is expected to announce them in eighteen hundred and eighty-one. This last paragraph we must deny. But do not think she meant to lie."

THE CAUSE

Lawlessness in the United States, Dr. Butler of Columbia University says, is due to the fact that our legislatures, state and Federal, are overcrowded with members of the bar, and our statute books are filled with all sorts and kinds of prescriptions and prohibitions to which few, if any, of the people pay the slightest attention.

A COUNTRY EDITOR

Editing a weekly newspaper in a small town during the depression is not unlike pastoring a flea-bitten church. The editor, like the preacher, is expected to have something helpful to say every week, pay or no pay. He must not only pound out a batch of editorials, which are his sermons, but also hop about the community, doing all kinds of social service. He must print news (that is, boosts) of all sorts of movements, just as the pastor is expected to announce them from his pulpit and pray for their success. He is lacking in public spirit if he does not attend good-will banquets where male Pollyannas hold forth on how we have got the depression on the run. He is supposed to fit up a fulsome obituary when the depression liquidates and death claims a leading skinfint. And although the preacher seems exempt here, the editor acts as a pall-bearer when a subscriber fifteen years in arrears departs this mortal coil. He is supposed to be faithful in spirit in spite of hard times.

In a period of depression, however, the Lord does not wholly forget the faithful editor—if he hasn't too many mortgages. It seems that so far the weekly editor-publisher like the doctor, profits by the extremities of others. A merchant about to go to the wall risks a few more dollars in advertising. If the editor or some member of his office or mechanical staff can run around to the store and trade the advertising account out before the merchant makes an assignment, so much toward another weekly payroll. Then, when a new optimist opens up with stock of goods another ad or a series of ads can be expected, and an order for stationery.

For a long time it has been customary for the small-town editor to "trade out" advertising and printing accounts. Lately he has been exchanging printing, advertising and subscriptions for plumbing, medical services and farm produce. The farmer feels the need for news more than anybody else and the editor must eat. Recently we advertised this proposition to the farmers of our section: "You have farm stuff, perhaps more than you can sell. We want more subscriptions. Forget the cash—let's swap!" The results have been gratifying—turkeys, chickens, apples, potatoes, sorghum. One man, who is a farmer because he raises corn, inquired whether we would accept moonshine liquor.—Bruce Crawford in New Republic.

rood if the rules covering them were changed so that these young men could be disciplined right in the camp and not coddled. This wood pile situation furnishes an opener for a lack of abuses that these camps are putting over because sentiment has run away with good judgment and common sense. When the newspaper boys about the state begin to tell the truth about conditions instead of printing propaganda, the CCC camps will become an agency for real good to the young men in them. As it is now there is very much of a question about their efficiency in the minds of those who have close association with them.—Thomas Conlin in Crystal Falls Diamond Drill.

FACTS AND FACTS

Nothing is harder to get hold of in this world than facts. We heard a man say the other day, in a public address, that there are twenty million men out of employment in this country. A few hours later we heard another speaker declare that all farmers in the United States were starving. We knew neither of these statements was true, but we don't know where or how to get at the facts as the number of unemployed or the number of distressed farmers. Our main reaction to such exaggerated statements is that probably everybody is lying about them.

Nothing is more misleading than bare facts, either. A fact is not enough unless one knows all the other facts that surround it. Most of us know too many facts that aren't so. By that we mean that we don't understand the relation of the facts we know to the other facts that we don't know. We have long since stopped trying to draw conclusions from single facts. The conclusions usually turn out wrong, because someone comes along with a fact we didn't know.—R. G. Jefferies in The Lowell Ledger.

THE BURDEN

If you talk to a business man today about problems that are worrying him, nine chances out of ten he will bring up the subject of taxation. He knows that government must be supported and is anxious and willing to do his part. But he is beginning to question whether too many things are being done in the name of government, which are outside the functions of government and in the realms of business. Paul McKee in The Mt. Clemens Monitor.

POLITICS AND BUSINESS

The most popular sport among politicians is trying to make the public believe that all business men are crooks while all politicians are models of virtue. That, at least, seems to be a fair conclusion from the tenor of some of the many "investigations" which have been going on in Washington. Of course, a part of the game, also, is to show up the politicians of the other party as crooks. That is all well understood among politicians as an effective means of getting votes and pow-

Michigan's Crop Of Peaches Will Be A Small One This Year

Prospects for a peach crop in Michigan this year are very bad and the crop from other fruits will be more or less reduced according to investigations made by the department of horticulture at Michigan State College.

All fruit buds on Elberta peaches in this state appear to be killed except a few, perhaps, in Berrien county. South Havens and Rochester are in a little better condition, and Gold Drops, New Prolific, and a few other varieties may produce a very light crop.

All pruning on the varieties which may have some live buds should be delayed until it can be determined what portions of the tree show any promise of fruit bearing. Two weeks of temperatures above the freezing point will give the discolored buds a chance to start in to appear in the woody portions of twigs and branches.

Trees showing serious discolorations should not be pruned heavily. If the buds are dead but the wood is not badly discolored, heavier pruning is probably safe. The pruning should not extend below any live buds. Bark which has been torn loose from the tree should be tied or tacked. Later, if the bark does not resume growth, it can be removed.

Pear buds and wood have been damaged. Pruning should be delayed until discolorations caused by freezing have had time to appear and very little wood should be removed if serious discolorations are found. Wounds made by pruning heal slowly on discolored wood, and wood rot is apt to start in such cuts.

Winter injury to sweet cherries is variable, some orchards show serious bud-killing and some are only slightly damaged. Pruning should be done only when the amount of winter damage can be determined.

Sour cherries which were defoliated last year are apt to be frozen back. Advice given by the horticulturists is to delay pruning but to repair any injuries to the trunks.

Freezing of tree roots can not be determined until the trees start growing. Those seriously frozen will only half unfold their leaves and then will die. Trees whose buds and roots have yellowish foliage and will make er. If they can convince the average voter that their party, whichever it may be, is the only one composed of honest men, then they figure they can keep their crowd in office. And if they can make the voters believe that business men are all dishonest, then they stand a chance of getting popular backing for schemes to have business conducted by the government.

We wonder how much the politician of either party fool the public in the long run. It seems to us that the net effect of this sort of tactics is to create a rather cynical state of mind toward all men in public office. The average man has come to believe that there is no such thing as honesty in politics, and is concerned more with what he can get out of it for himself than with any particular set of principles.

As to the comparative honesty of politicians and business men, we think prevail in business than with those accepted by public office-holders. Fundamentally, no one class is more honest than another; each has its percentage of crooks. But in business it is, as Benjamin Franklin pointed out, the best policy to be honest. There is little in our political history to suggest that honesty pays a premium in politics.—R. Fenwick in The Wayne Dispatch.

Let us not be just hearers of the Word but Doers also. The victorious Christian life is one of rendering quick, glad, some yield-ness moment by moment to the revealed will of God. The importance of a complete obedience to the Word of God is set forth clearly from Genesis to Revelation. King Saul had instructions to destroy the Amalekites and he made great slaughter of them, but he failed to obey the minute instructions to "slay utterly" and God knowing his failure lay in disobedience and rebellion, cut him off from Israel and chose another in his place. It is written in Jer. 48:10, "Cursed is he that doeth the work deceitfully," that is, negligently, half-heartedly, haram-ly with slackness, indifference and lack of straight-forwardness. All things are open and naked before Him with whom we have to do. Does your neighbor know by the life you live that you are a Christian. In this past few weeks many things have been done in commemorating the passion and resurrection of the Lord Jesus. But I wonder how many of those that have taken part in this commemorating, really know what the death and resurrection of Christ means to them. Mr. Watchman have you preached the Word without fear or favor that these may know the truth?

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES
"Matter" was the subject of the Lesson Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, March 25.
Among the Bible citations was this passage (Luke 21:27, 28): "And then shall they see the Son of man coming in a cloud with great glory. And when these things begin to come to pass, then look up, and lift up your heads; for your redemption draweth nigh."
Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the fact following (p. 95): "Lulled by stupefying illusions, the world is asleep in the cradle of infancy, dreaming away the hours. Material sense does not unfold. Spiritual sense lifts human consciousness into eternal Truth."

ST. PAUL'S EV. LUTHERAN CHURCH
Rev. O. J. Peters, Pastor
English services on Good Friday at 2:30 p. m. English services Easter Day at 2:30 p. m. Welcome.
ST. PETER'S EV. LUTHERAN CHURCH
GOOD FRIDAY services will be held at St. Peter's Lutheran in celebration of the fact that Jesus' death of vicarious atonement for the sin of the world. Good Friday is not a tragedy, it is a victory! The cross has ever been the symbol for the love of God to man in Christ Jesus His own Son, bringing victory even under the most excruciating woe. The German Communion service will begin at 10:00 a. m. The English service will begin at 2:00 p. m. Easter Sunday: Sunrise service at 6:00 a. m. German Easter Service at 9:00 a. m. Easter Communion at 10:30 a. m. Homecoming Festival on the Sunday after Easter at 10:30 a. m. The attendance at our Lenten services was most gratifying and marks a slight increase over last year. We are reaching out, because our people realize the fact that they belong to a church in the original Greek sense of the word, "those who are called out from the world," are in turn, by their works and their faith calling other souls out and into the Kingdom. "The Church, whose members are Mission minded, will long endure."
LUTHERAN HOMECOMING
Pleasant the annual custom of their church, the members of St. Peter's Ev. Lutheran Congregation have again made arrangements for a fitting celebration of the event. A homecoming and reunion sermon on the words "Lord, abide with Us," a prayer which we should learn ever more to pray. The choir will sing. The decorations are in the capable hands of Wm. Bartel of the Bartel Greenhouses on Plymouth Road. He is donating his services for this day. A special, festive offering will be taken. Dinner will be served in the church dining hall and after dinner a brief program of entertainment will be offered. We ask our friends to feel welcome to come and stay with us as long as they like.
Watch this paper for further announcement next week.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
10 a. m. Worship, 11:30 a. m. Sunday school.
The subject of the sermon for Easter Sunday is "The Resurrection and the Life." The choir will have special music and the sacraments of Baptism and the Lord's supper will be administered.
The annual meeting of the congregation will be held on Wednesday evening, April 4th. Elders, trustees, Sunday school superintendents and the church treasurer are to be elected. Reports of the past year will be presented. Before the business meeting the congregation will sit together at a potluck supper. Each family is asked to bring a dish of food and some sandwiches. A large attendance is looked for.
The Busy Women's class will meet on Tuesday, April 3rd at the home of Mrs. Burrows. There will be the usual cooperative dinner at noon and the business and program meeting will follow.
The mission study class held an interesting meeting in the church dining room on Tuesday of this week. A short missionary play and some Easter songs were presented by a group of children. A general discussion of the work of the class followed. The following officers were elected: president Mrs. Perry D. Campbell; vice president, Mrs. Mildred Barnes; treasurer, Mrs. Fred Rhead; and secretary Mrs. W. E. Downing.

CHURCH OF THE OPEN DOOR
Independent Baptist
When I survey the wondrous cross On which the Prince of glory died My richest gain I count but loss, And poor contempt on all my pride.
Forbid it, Lord, that I should boast. Save in the death of Christ my God. All the vain things that charm me most I sacrifice them to His blood. See from His head, His hands, His feet, Sorrow and love flow mingled down! Did e'er such love and sorrow meet? Or thorns compose so rich a crown?
Were the whole realm of nature mine, That were a present far too small: Love so amazing, so divine, Demands my soul, my life, my all.
Isaac Watts.

We have again come to the Easter season when the passion week of our Lord is widely considered. Our message to you at this time is a living message, for "HE IS RISEN," we would point you to Calvary's Cross where the blood was shed for the salvation of all who believe. The scripture is clear and distinct when it says to YOU—BELIEVE ON THE LORD JESUS CHRIST AND THOU SHALT BE SAVED"—Acts 16:31.
Our Easter services this Sunday morning and evening are as follows:
Easter Morning, 10:00 a. m. "The Resurrection and What It Means to the Christian."
Sunday school, 11:15 a. m.
Easter night, 7:30 p. m. "The Day of Reckoning."
Prayer sessions will precede both morning and evening services and there will be a prayer meeting for revival following the evening services.
The mid-week Prayer meeting will be held on Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock. "KEEP LOOKING UP"

Organize Fight On Elimination

Out-County Portion Of Wayne Opposed To Consolidation

Called originally to take some sort of action on the movement, now well under way, to amalgamate many of our useless governmental units, especially those in county hamlet and township, a representative gathering of voters and taxpayers from almost every outlying section of suburban Wayne County held at the Jack Oil Company building at Belleville last Saturday night, upon the apple cart by going on record as against any such elimination move, as far as it obtained to Wayne County, and organized the "Out County Protective League" to guard and enhance the interests of that portion of the county lying entirely outside of the city limits of Detroit.

While admitting that governmental units overlapped, and were possibly duplicated in hundreds of instances throughout the State of Michigan, the gathering further stated that there were many absolutely needless offices in Wayne County the gathering was unanimous in its opinion that to amalgamate and unite the township and village offices of the smaller communities throughout Wayne County would be paramount to relinquishing all rights to local government to the City of Detroit and its officials which now dominated the county government.

The sentiment of the gathering was that something should be done toward consolidating the entire out-county section's opinion and strength in a movement aimed at protecting the interests of those sections and the result was the formation of the "Out County Protective League."

The student in Miss Erleben's room saw lantern slides of Asia last week. The 5A class dramatized the story of 'Loby Lob'.

Ruth Kirkpatrick is absent from Miss Fenner's room because of illness. The students are studying diligently about the school spelling bee next week.

Miss Allen, Editor Cline and the Heckler himself are the only ones who know who this dread journalist is.

We just bet the Heckler signs his name with a flourish. Just another reason why his too bad he started on this perilous career.

How do you like our incorporation? The 'Ad. Lib. and the C. C.' signed a peace treaty last week to stop the war until the Heckler is put out of the way.

The Heckler must call us a 'mild person' if he can call us 'Jackie' (the 'Jackie' that calls us 'Jackie') is a senior. His writings are 'New Berghish and we think (yes, we really do at times) that he hails from that metropolis.'

Don't get the idea, Heckle, that we are 'scared' for if you would come out in the open we could, as usual, overcome it.

We have started detecting and find that the 'Heckler' (who calls us 'Jackie') is a senior. His writings are 'New Berghish and we think (yes, we really do at times) that he hails from that metropolis.'

Since that new collyume 'Heckling Around' stated that no one except juniors were getting into print, we offer an explanation. We are secretly told that the juniors are the only class worth writing about at present.

There seems to be quite a mystery about that collyume. The editor must be ashamed of himself as he is too cowardly to sign his name. Why don't he (she or it) come out in the open like a man?

Someone's always butting in. Just when we thought we had the 'racker' to ourselves along comes a young whipper-snapper who can't even spell incorrectly. We don't know about the penmanship as we couldn't locate it.

Having exhausted the Heckler question we proceed to the regular business of the week namely the school, what it's doing and the persons doing the doing.

Walter Winchell tells the story of a man who was run over by a steam roller. His friends took him home but found no one there and so slid him under the door.

One of the amusing events of the week was the seventh grade volleyball game, which had all the spectators laughing. The seventh graders (the rest of the team didn't show up) played six seventh graders and beat them two straight sets.

While we're on the business of sports, the Juniors, champions of the senior high basketball tournament, played the Faculty about two weeks ago. The result was in favor of the Juniors. Didn't we say the Juniors were good.

Anti-Heckling What ho! tally ho and stooges to you! Like hecklers, I'm 'anti' to prevent dandruff falling arches and blown out tires.

Desserts Studied

By Foods Class

The 8A Foods class have been studying desserts for luncheon during the past week and have learned many interesting facts. The dessert depends largely on the food which precedes this course. In case the meal consists largely of salads and vegetables, a hearty dessert, such as ice cream, pudding, or cake, may be in order.

Grade Teachers

Hosts To Group

St. Patrick's day served as the theme of one of the annual teachers' parties which was given last Thursday evening by the faculty members of the Starkweather and Central schools of the high school. The party, held in the gymnasium of the Starkweather school, proved very enjoyable to the guests as well as to the hostesses.

Music Department

At House of Correction

Members of the music department journeyed to the Women's Division of the House of Correction last Thursday evening to present the following program: 1. Assembly March, orchestra. 2. In a Chinese Temple Garden, orchestra. 3. Good Night Little Girl of My Dreams, orchestra and Bob Champe. 4. Bonnie Doon, Girls Double Quartette. 5. By the Bend of the River, Girls Double Quartette. 6. Tres Jolie, orchestra. 7. There's an old Spinning Wheel, orchestra and girl double quartette. 8. Selections from Gilbert Sullivan Operetta, orchestra. 9. March, Just for Fun, orchestra.

At the end of the entertainment the inmates sang a song after which those who took part in the presentation were invited to attend a luncheon at the house of correction to be given April 20 and 21 at the farm.

EDITORIAL

Causes Of Failure In School

If one should look into the causes of failure in school life, he would find that they would be classed under four general headings: the food, which precedes the food, application in school, and environment. Now considering first cause amusements, one finds that young folks no longer deprive themselves of their good times, and possibly two or more nights a week they will attend a party, a dance, or the theater.

In the matter of food, caffeine, in coffee together with alcoholic beverages has a stupefying effect upon the powers of thought. A heavy noonday meal also makes one sluggish. For this reason in the business world, people eat a light lunch at noon to keep their ambitions unimpaired for the afternoon's work.

Many students do not seem to possess the ability to concentrate upon the work at hand. This condition may be due to reasons mentioned before. These again, others do not seem to realize the most important facts stated in a paragraph, and regardless of the amount of time spent for preparation, they are unable to retain what they have learned.

The scholar's associates have a great deal to do with his success or failure in school. If he becomes acquainted with those who have dropped out of school, they will ridicule any attempts at his studying. The attitude of parents toward education in general seriously affects the student's standing. If their parents have had little education themselves, they do not understand the advantages of what whatever schooling they received is sufficient for their children.

Class Notes

Miss Waldorf's 10A English section has developed as final theme an exposition composition. The source material was information gathered from the manufacturing concerns, libraries, personal interviews as well as personal knowledge in order to make the explanation clear and complete.

The best ones are as follows: sugar, Lola Mae Barlow; Matchless, Myrilla Savery; Publishing a Modern Newspaper, Jeanette Baumann; A Romantic Story of Silk, Ernestine Wilcox; Coffee, Mary Jane Gamble; Story of Life by Mr. Coffee Bean, Ethel Rehtzke; Romance of Rubber, Ruth Norman; Baseball, Delmore Reeves; Soap, Mrs. A. Made, Audrey Moore; The Story of Salt, Loraine Renaud; History and Operation of the Ford Motor Plant, Donald Schille; Mint to Money, Joseph Carl Bauer; Story of Silk, Eunice Smith; Coffee by Master Coffee Bean, Mildred Postiff; Hats, Kenneth Thumme; and Coffee, Virginia Heinz.

Miss Campbell's 7A history class is making projects dealing with colonial life. Some of the projects are: dolls dressed in Colonial costume, Colonial homes and villages, Indian settlements, Pilgrims going to church, and maps dealing with the early founding of the states.

The senior art classes have been making charcoal sketches in black, grey, and white of city life. The various students have recorded a great variety of impressions of the appearance of cities. Skyscrapers, smoke stacks, trains and other characteristic symbols dominate most of the sketches.

The advanced foods class has been using different methods of baking pudders in making cakes and seeing the effect each produces. The commercial home economics class has been studying the unit 'Furnishing the Home'.

The eighth grade foods class has been making posters.

Spring Vacation March 30—April 9

The spring vacation this year will be one week longer than previous years. It begins tonight and school will again resume on April 9. Students hope that the weather will be somewhat better than it was at the beginning of this week.

SCHOOL CALENDAR

April 20—Three one-act plays. April 27—Senior Party. May 4—Musical. May 18—Freshman Party. May 25—Junior-Senior Banquet.

Senior Biographies

EMILY PETOSKEY. This tall, attractive, musically inclined member of the Senior class first opened her pretty brown eyes in the neighborly city of Redford on November 12, 1916. Emily comes to school every day from Grand-ale where she has lived for six years. (She would move to Plymouth only she likes her next door neighbor too well. Am I right?) No great ambition has this little miss, but she likes to spend her leisure time reading and playing her violin which, by the way, she plays very well as she is a member of the orchestra and instrumental quartette. After graduation she expects to become a nurse, perhaps one of those house-wife type.

CHARLES PADDACK. 'Chuck to his friends' is a home town product, being born in Plymouth, Michigan, on July 27, 1914. He too is from Newburg, having lived there for ten years. Charles started high school by taking a commercial course but is now taking a general course. He says he wants to be a missionary. We know he will be successful as he already has a good start, having been a Sunday school teacher for the past five years. During his pastime he says that he skips over to see Evelyn. He doesn't seem to be interested in any of the other members of the fair sex but her.

ROBERT PINKERTON, better known as Pinky or Bob, was born in Warren, Indiana, on January 17, 1915. This brown haired brown-eyed boy later moved to Huntington Indiana, where he lived several years before coming to Plymouth. While at school here Robert has been a member of the football team and he now belongs to the Boys Glee Club. After finishing high school he expects to take up electrical radio engineering. At present, however, he seems to be occupied in making trips to Ann Arbor. He hasn't mentioned for what purpose, but that is readily suspected. Aside from this he finds time to take part in sports of all kinds.

MARVIN PARTRIDGE was born in Detroit, Michigan, on July 25, 1916. His hair is brown but his eyes are sometimes blue and sometimes green. Take your choice.

Marv's hobbies are ice skating, tennis and swimming. He plans to work a year after leaving high school and go out of this state to college to become a mechanical engineer. Marv has lived in Detroit and Northville but now is a resident of Plymouth. Marv says taboo on the gals but we know Dorothy and Yvonne are his favorites. Marv has been a member of the drama club and has participated in numerous plays including the Senior Play. He is a member of the H-Y played interclass sports, and is the school's outstanding cheerleader.

Relics of Barbarism In School

Do you remember reading in your history books about the savage cannibal tribes that once existed all over Africa? Of course you do. And do you recall how they used to paint their faces to make them look as they thought, beautiful? Their wild, discordant music; their hideous dances; their nose rings; their odd headdresses; do you remember all these? Certainly. Did it ever occur to you how similar these vicious savages and their habits are to some of our high school students and their customs today? Many of the girls paint their faces nowadays.

Welfare Labor Will Complete Projects of CWA

direct relief including 22,000 in Detroit, and 5,000 to 7,000 out county. Hence with 20,000 families to be carried on work relief, with 27,000 families to be carried by direct relief and with the federal and state allotment just half the amount permitted in March, there will be almost no money left for material. Local contributions are expected to take care of that.

However, this will not be much of a handicap during April, because materials have all been purchased for those projects which are listed as class 1 projects that is projects which must be finished. Wayne county had a final allotment of $470,000.00 for materials to be bought between March 1 and April 1. The following allocations of that material money were approved by the Wayne county CWA commission at its meeting March 21. Out county $72,568.98. General county, $65,141.04. Detroit, $332,290.00. Total, $470,000.00.

Among the out-county municipalities Hamtramck got $14,000.00 for material. Dearborn $14,837.00 and Highland Park $11,556.00. Plymouth received $2,168.32.

In general county projects the final material allotment went as follows: Administration $10,000.00; County Assessment Records $18,000.00; County Board of Auditors $13,000.00; County Drains $200.00; County Library $239.00; County Roads $16,604.00; Naval Armory $845.00; Port of Detroit $866.00; Rural Schools $4,940.00; Grosse Ile Naval Base $875.00. Total, $65,141.04.

Detroit divided its final material allotment of $332,290.00 among the following projects: Art Institute, $184.00; Board of Health, $6,000.00; Board of Education, $7,000.00; City Planning, $83.00; D. S. R., $20,000.00; D. P. W., $145,542.00; Fire, $14,000.00; Parks and Blvds., $35,500.00; Police, $4,500.00; Public Library, $4,000.00; Public Lighting Commission, $10,000.00; Recreation, $12,000.00; Water Board, $7,000.00; Welfare Department, $12,500.00; Zoo, $12,000.00. Total, $332,290.00.

The employment of people after April 1 is to be based on need only. Present quotas of CWA are being reduced by laying off first those employees whose families more than one person is gainfully employed; second, by laying off all persons who have other resources. Any additional persons to be selected after March 31 will be chosen on the basis of need only, by the County Emergency Relief Administration. Any Plymouth men who have been laid off under CWA unfairly or any who have not gained employment under CWA but who can prove genuine need, should apply for work relief at once at the city hall.

The hours of employment are not to be more than 24 per week. Wages will be at the prevailing rate for the occupation and the locality in which the work is done, although the minimum wage set is 30 cents per hour instead of the 50 cents under CWA.

Furthermore no man is to work longer than the number of hours necessary to meet his adequate requirements. This program is planned primarily for communities over 5,000, but Plymouth need not worry, because its projects are approved, its materials purchased, and its men assured of work to finish our school and city work relief program.

Buildings wrecked while you wait... by Windstorm

Since 1892 windstorms have struck Michigan every year doing great damage... often several storms in ONE year!

During the past 30 years this big company has paid losses amounting to $4,022,884.15. This is an average of over $134,000 per year. If the year 1934 keeps up this average, there will be much property destroyed in the state.

The time to get insurance is before the loss. The cost in this company has been but 7c on each $100 insurance for 48 years.
