Annual Meeting Held And Plans Discussed For Ensuing Year

Directors To Meet Soon And Elect Officers—Club Has Weathered Worst Of Depression

At the annual meeting of the members of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce held Monday night in the Mayflower hotel, Secretary Berg made a condensed statement declared that as far as he could see there was not the slightest question but what the new fiscal year of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce should be a most successful one.

He briefly reviewed the experiences of the past year, pointed out how under most distressing circumstances at the beginning of last year the club had been able to weather the most unfavorable conditions it ever confronted.

Now that we have lived through it all we hope to have the forthcoming year a better one. We have numerous inquiries pertaining to industrial locations, and some of these may develop in the near future, said Mr. Berg.

President Paul Nutting stated that he thoroughly appreciated the fine cooperation that had been given him during the time he has spent in connection with the operation with Andrew Dunn, vice president and former president of the Chamber of Commerce, these two have kept things going during the time when other similar organizations were falling by the roadside.

The following directors were elected for the ensuing year: Herbert S. Hoyer, president; Roy Crowe, Roy Fisher and E. R. Eaton.

The directors plan to meet soon to elect the officers for the new year.

The Wayne County Emergency Relief Commission which consists of James Fitzgerald, Fredric Siebenburg and Mrs. Ruth Huston-Whipple is at last able to announce that CWD (Civil Works Division), the sequel to CWA, is under way. Federal and state funds allow Wayne County 16,800 jobs under CWD.

Over 15,020 workers is a long way from the 66,000 who were at work on CWA, but this number should be sufficient to care for the county needs in view of the pick up in industry and spring employment. Plymouth has 60 CWD workers completing its City Hall and school projects.

Big Bond Issue Defeated By Ten To One Vote Here

Plymouth And Vicinity Overwhelmingly Opposed To Big Debt

Question Lost In State By Over Five To One Vote Final Returns On Election Reveal.

By a vote of a fraction under ten to one, Plymouth let the rest of the state of Michigan know Monday night that that was its sentiment against the $38,000-000 bond issue proposed by Gov. William C. Clegg to be expended for public improvements during the coming year.

While the rest of the state did not vote against the bond issue as strongly as Plymouth did, still out-state taxpayers did register a better than five to one vote against it.

There were 314 votes in Plymouth against the bond issue and only 34 for it. The ration would have been greater if some seven or eight persons who wanted to vote against it had not spoiled their ballots so they could not be counted.

Plymouth township voters did vote better than ten to one against it. Even the Democrats were not for it, strong Democrats in Canton township casting 102 against it and only 4 for it.

There were only nine on the north side that voted for the bond issue and 78 in precinct 2 that voted against it. In Precinct No. 1, 234 voted against it and only 25 for it.

An interesting program has been planned for the evening of Tuesday, May 8 in the high school gymnasium at 6:00 for all of the daughters and their mothers who wish to attend.

Northville Fair Building Burns

Directors Decide To Put Up New Building At Once

Fire starting from some mysterious source Wednesday night about 6 o'clock destroyed within the brief space of an hour the main exhibition hall of the Northville-Wayne County Association. In spite of the fact that the Northville fire department arrived almost immediately, the flames spread so rapidly in the frame structure that all the firemen could do was to prevent the flames from spreading to adjoining buildings.

While the smoke was still coming from the ruins, President Nelson Schrader called a meeting of the directors and considered plans for putting up a new structure in time for the fair in August.

The loss amounts to about $15,000 covered by a small amount of insurance. But the directors decided that just as soon as plans could be prepared for a new building, and one more attractive than the old one, will be erected.

While there is no evidence of it, it is generally believed that some boy or boys who were playing about the building might have dropped a cigarette and started the fire in this way.

Rural Carriers Pay Tribute To Albert Gates

Retires From Service Under Age Limit Fixed By Government

All Four Retired Carriers Of Plymouth Office Still Live Here And Attend Banquet

Honoring rural mail carrier, Albert Gates, who May first was retired under the age rule of the government, nearly 100 members of the Rural Mail Carriers Association of Wayne county met Wednesday night at the Jewell and Blaisdell hall in Plymouth.

The affair was in respect that all four of Plymouth's now retired mail carriers were able to be present and their ages totaled 200 years. Of that number of years 120 of them have been given to the carrying of mail over Plymouth rural routes since the year of 1900.

Robert Walker started carrying mail on August first in the year of 1900. He was retired on October 1st of 1930. Mr. Walker delivered west of Plymouth and had that section the 30 years he was with the government. Mr. Walker is 67 years old and lives on Easton avenue in Plymouth.

Frazer Smith, now 72 years old, started carrying mail on February 1, 1902. He retired February 1st, 1925. He delivered mail east of Plymouth covering the territory of the 1st and 2nd districts and had a schoolcraft route to his route when he finished.

Mr. Gates who lives on York street in Plymouth and is 63 years of age started carrying mail on February 1st of 1904. His retirement at this time now places together these four who started years ago carrying mail with their feet on the outlying districts of the city.

Plans for the testimonial dinner were laid by carrier Robert Walker and Bert Giles, local postmaster, acted as toastmaster on the occasion. Other employees of the Plymouth postoffice presented Mr. Gates with a beautiful gold watch and the Rural Carriers Association gave him a knife and pen.

Officials of the Association presented Robert Walker with a bill fold in appreciation of the services he has rendered to mail carriers of Wayne county during the last few years. Mr. Walker in responding presented each of the other three retired carriers with a photograph taken when the commission in Wayne county was in the year of 1904. Mrs. Walker and Mrs. Gates were presented with lockets by the carriers association.

Clean-Up Week May 14 to May 20

City Officials Will Help You Get Rid Of Rubbish

May 14 to May 20 are the dates that have been selected by Mayor George Robinson and members of the city commission for Plymouth's annual clean-up week.

That is the time when all the rubbish, tin cans and other refuse that has accumulated during the winter is carried off to the dump and the city men will look as spick and span as a city can that permits handbills, papers and circulars to be blown up and down the streets, can be made to look.

But there is hope that before many weeks this situation will be taken care of as the new city commission is very much in favor of doing all the things that are necessary to make Plymouth one of the cleanest and most attractive places in Michigan.

Check up on the calendar, and once the week—Monday, May 14 to Saturday night at 12 o'clock that week. Collect all the refuse that can be seen from the streets, clear away all the rubbish piles and clean up the vacant lots that is the appeal of the city officials who are willing to go more than half way to make your property as presentable as possible.

WASHINGTON IN REVIEW

There is much speculation today not only in Plymouth but every other part of the country pertaining to the developments in Washington and the new deal program. Without doubt one of the best reviews of affairs in Washington appeared in a recent issue of the Christian Science Monitor. It follows in full:

One more big Roosevelt new-deal experiment has been modified.

The Administration has backed water in its attempt to force the southern farmers to pay comparably high wages with northern fields. The southern fields are permitted to restore their wage differential by an order of Brig. Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, NRA administrator, issued April 23, and backed up by President Roosevelt. The same thing is likely to be asked shortly for wages of southern textile mills in competition with New England textile mills.

The modification of the soft coal order is only one of a number of vital changes in the deal policies which have been made recently, and which tend to uphold the Administration's formula, advanced by Mr. Rexford G. Tugwell, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture, in a speech Saturday, that the New Deal is really a combination of "democracy and experiment." In half a dozen specific instances recently the Roosevelt trial-and-error method has forced experimental changes to yield to drastic modification.

In a number of instances mistakes have been frankly admitted.

Here are some of the recent "modifications" in the new deal program.

1. Soft coal—The effort to raise southern soft coal wages to the level of northern wages has been relaxed.

2. Gold—at a press conference Friday Mr. Roosevelt for the first time acknowledged that the famous gold-purchase plan had not raised the price level as high as had been expected.

3. Air mail—the mistake in letting the Army fly the mail is admitted and private companies will have the contracts again as rapidly as possible.

4. Stock exchange control—after triple revision, the original brain-trust measure is pretty generally admitted to have been too drastic.

5. Wagner bill—the proposed measure against company unions held to be too rigid, is now being modified into an industrial disputes adjudication act.

6. Silver—the original White House hint that "the President would do something for silver" produced so many radical proposals that Mr. Roosevelt had to kill them off.

7. Labor—Section 7A, the labor clause of the blanket code has been so interpreted in the automobile industry as to leave trade unionism in a state of aggravated perplexity.

Most of the foregoing points are highly debatable. Few of them are so clear cut as the announcement today of the modification of the soft coal policy, with all its manifold ramifications. But through them all there is a clear indication that the Roosevelt desire for social reform is being modified where necessary to fit insurmountable difficulties, whether of hard facts or harder prejudices, even while the general campaign for social amelioration goes vigorously forward in new experiments elsewhere.

The NRA soft coal order touches the heart of the age-old conflict between northern and southern wages. The codes as originally drawn reduced the existing differentials between the South and the rest of the country. In the textile industry in the North this was hailed particularly as equalizing competition.

But southern labor—chiefly unorganized—has not been able to hold its gains, so far as coal is concerned. Threatened with a court test of NRA authority scheduled to start today with an industrial conflict already involving 18,000 men, and with threats even of "secession" from southern industrialists, General Johnson has thought best to compromise.

The President renounced any purpose "by sudden or explosive change to impair southern industry."

Soft-coal wages in the South will be left higher than they were before the codes, but not so high as they were when the codes were first drawn. It is hoped that this will send the men back to work and meet the immediate problem. President Roosevelt makes it very clear, in an accompanying statement, that eventually he wants southern wages to be equalized with others through improved living standards, and that meanwhile he will not permit any area "by depressing its labor, wages and hours to invade with its cheaper product an area of higher wages and hours."

Compromise in the soft coal dispute still leaves the situation serious in the rail controversy, where Mr. Joseph B. Eastman, federal railway coordinator, withdrew as mediator over the week-end. The Labor group refuses to accept the President's proposal to defer for six months its demand for restoration of a 10 per cent wage cut.

WHY A COMMUNITY NEWSPAPER?

Contest Sponsored by Adrain Van Koevering of Zeeland, Michigan

By ELSIE GLASIER JONES, 1619 Forbes Ave., St. Joseph, Michigan

St. Fourth Place

Every community, however small, needs a newspaper of its own because without its own organ of news exchange it is a dead-weight community. It has nothing to say and no way of hearing anything directly connected with its own vital interests. Without responsible reporting openly uttered, it has only such dumb gestures as the party line, the sewing circle and public sales. Such a community by actions more eloquent than words, proclaims to the world that it prefers grape-vine gossip to printer's ink.

The community without its own home-town newspaper is not in a real sense a community at all. It is merely a neighborhood without a community consciousness. Where a genuine community feeling exists, it demands expression as surely as a baby's hunger cries out for milk. If the community spirit is strong, the local newspaper prospers. If the home-town paper languishes it is a pretty sure sign that such spirit has died. The editor is at best only an artisan. Though he do his work beautifully or badly he merely shapes the paper. It is up to the community to say whether he shall carve monuments to living achievement or chisel the epitaph of a departed spirit.

Wherever there is a community with a citizenship to be proud of there will be news to print. Wherever there are merchants whose wares are being bought, there will be advertising. Wherever there are families deserving the name of neighbor, there will be reader interest in the things that happen to them. And wherever these three are gathered together there will come a fourth to abide with them—the home-town editor with that homely, friendly sheet, the home-town paper. As the community spirit lives in them, there will be a living in it for him. His is a service comparable to the highest, his a privilege friendly to the "reast—to cement and foster the friendly co-operation that makes his paper possible.

Every community should have a newspaper then, in token that it is a community. As life grows by self expression, so will each community develop by nourishing its own medium of expression. The newspaper.

But more than a nation is stronger, more patriotic, more intelligent than the sum of its individual communities. If the home-town newspaper serves and saves its immediate neighborhood it serves and saves no less the nation whose health and stability it reports and interprets. We read the great metropolitan papers to see what is going on in the world but we are usually more curious than concerned. When we want to see what our own matter—that we have some importance of our own we pick up the community newspaper, we read our own names listed as among those present, we find out in the editorial columns what our home-town editor thinks about things in general and we feel reassured and at peace. We are not merely spectators at the mercy of far off political bodies—we have become citizens, a part and parcel of all that goes on in the world.

Anarchists do not thrive in a small town nor read a small town paper. Communists and radicals of any stripe are born and nourished on the vague feeling that they do not matter—that they can have no voice in anything that concerns them. Seeing our names in the home-town paper once in a while gives us an importance—a place in the world. We belong and we are content.

Yes, we must have a community newspaper, not only to keep the community itself alive and functioning, but to make us part of the larger world. We are become a nation of readers it is true, but we are small and selfish, and primitive in certain sense still, and we truly believe and accept as part of ourselves only what our neighbors believe and accept—the things that the community newspaper tells us.

MAYBE ITS OLD, BUT ITS GOOD

A disillusioned preacher in bidding farewell to his flock, said: "Brothers and sisters, I come to say goodbye. I don't think God loves this church because none of you ever die. I don't think you love each other because I never marry any of you. I don't think you love me because you have not paid my salary. You are more interested in fruit and wormy apples, for by their fruits ye shall know them. Brethren, I am going away to a better place. I have been called as the chaplain of the state penitentiary. Where I go you cannot come. But to prepare a place for you, and may the good Lord have mercy on your souls.

A GLIMPSE INTO THE FUTURE

The following paragraph from an article in one of the nation's great magazines, points to one of the reasons why the future of Plymouth looks so bright at the present time:

"Shrewd manufacturers and business men of the large cities are beginning to move out into small towns and into open country. There taxes are much lower; racketeers are scarcer and weaker; land is cheaper; labor is not dominated by the big town crooks; workers and their families can be in the pleasure sur-roundings and can be made easier through subsistence gardening."

PROHIBITION COMING BACK?

Don't laugh when the W. C. T. U. says prohibition will be back in five years. There's more than a little common sense in the prediction.

We repeated prohibition because we believed we could control liquor better if it was made and sold legally. Anyway, we were tired of the graft and the brutality of prohibition enforcement officers.

In the state initiative repealing the bone dry law is a specific provision that the alcohol thing not come back, and that liquor will not be sold to minors. Well, what has happened? Neither the police nor the sheriff's men are even slightly interested in enforcing the existing laws. Saloons are open and liquor is sold to anyone who asks for it.

The liquor fellows are killing the goose that lays the golden egg. If they continue as they are now operating, and if no attempt is made to enforce the liberal laws now on the books, it is a mighty good bet that prohibition will come back.

Rambling Around With Michigan Editors

FIVE MONTHS AFTER REPEAL

Some people who saw only the evil that would be done by prohibition are just beginning to realize that repealing the amendment did not in any way solve the liquor problem. The Literary Digest is getting its bearings in a formal survey of conditions through the country and finds:

1. The revenue from taxes and the far shon of what was predicted by the Denver Digest alone reported revenue in excess of expectation.

2. Arrests for drunkenness increasing in many places, as much as 25 per cent in Boston, 35 per cent in Indianapolis. Chicago Tribune admits "noticeable increase in intoxication on streets."

3. Large quantities of "moonshine" still being sold and several papers report it is cheaper and a better quality than the legalized liquor. Much complaint of "leakage" and "under the counter" trade in inferior bootleg liquor.

It is a well known fact that conditions in Cadillac are anything but ideal in general and we are and that some of the local so-called beer gardens are a disgrace to any community.

A week ago in Chicago we saw more drunkenness among young people during four days spent in that city than we have seen in any one year since we started in to make three business trips annually to the central west's metropolis.

There is disappointment all along the line. Neither wets nor dries nor bootleggers are satisfied. The bootleggers and moonshiners are saying little—still doing business.

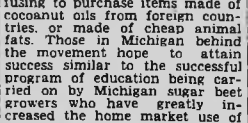

The need for temperate education is becoming more apparent every week. Laws are necessary but laws will not suffice. The schools, the churches, the home have a real job on their hands to teach temperance and respect for law.—T. O. Huckle in the Cadillac Evening News.

HELP MICHIGAN DAIRYMEN

Michigan is entering into a nationwide movement to teach people to eat more of the products of the dairy farmer. That means that if you don't eat more butter, cheese, ice cream etc., the problem of surplus will be diminished, and the farmer will in the end receive more for his labor. It is pointed out that people in Michigan and other states should discriminate by refusing to purchase items made of coconut oils from foreign countries, or made of cheap animal fats. Those in Michigan who the movement hope to attain success similar to the successful program of education being carried on by Michigan sugar beet growers who have greatly increased the home market use of sugar made from products grown "at home"—Chesaning Argus.

PRACTICE TACT

How many a misunderstanding could be avoided if the lovable characteristics of our associates instead of their failings could be considered. The man without tact is very often of a most kindly nature whose only failing is presenting the disagreeable side of a truth instead of placing the agreeable side. Should he have this in mind in his attention, doubtless he would be at a loss to understand why he was misunderstood when his intentions were of the best.—Household Management Journal (Batavia, Ill.).

ENCOURAGING HOME CONSTRUCTION

The man who wants to build a home who has a job and is of good character should be as fair a risk as others to whom Uncle Sam has been so free in loaning money. Encouragement of home building in itself, a noble motive, and if it can be done on a sound basis it will throw hundreds of millions of dollars into the channels of trade.

The building industry, it must not be forgotten, is one of the most important in the United States. In pre-depression times it amounted to approximately $11,000,000,000. In fact, building construction in normal years accounted for about 12 1/2 per cent of the total national income.

In the case of residential construction—normally about one-fourth of all construction—expansion has been delayed by the fact that in depression people can and do put up with subnormal living conditions. One of the means now proposed to encourage residential construction and repairs is a campaign to lower the costs of building materials and labor. At first blush, this seems to run counter to the program of raising commodity prices and wages. However, prices of building materials as a group are nearer the 1926 level than commodities as a whole. Building wages are high in comparison with most other wage scales, so that lowering building costs might be considered as bringing them into line with other costs.—Idaho Statesman (Boise).

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, includes the following (p. 46): "In her final demonstration she called the attention, which closed the earthly record of Jesus, he rose above the physical knowledge of his disciples, and the material senses saw him no more."

ST. JOHNS EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Morning prayer and sermon at 10 a. m. Church school at 11:15 a. m.

THE CHURCH OF THE OPEN DOOR

Independent Baptist. "People count no effort too great to save human life. In a lowland town a little boy was taken seriously ill one night and the doctor said the only chance of his recovery was through an operation. However, the nearest hospital was twelve miles away in another town and a raging blizzard had covered the roads with from four to six feet of snow, so that it was impossible for an automobile to go through. The merchants of the town hearing about this telephoned to all the nearby farmers, who, already in bed, were glad to leave the comfort of their homes to help save the child's life. Together the farmers and merchants worked clearing a road for an automobile to take the boy to the hospital. By three o'clock the next morning the hospital was reached and the operation was performed and the boy was soon on the road to health."

Does the above not point out the need of proclaiming the gospel of Jesus Christ to every creature? If so many are concerned about one human being and its earthly existence, how much more should we be concerned about everyone outside of Jesus Christ. The one is a human life for a few years, the other is eternal life, not only a few years, but forever. Do you wonder why, when God's Word is so plain, that we as a gospel center are emphasizing the salvation of the LOST? The Bible is the way of salvation as presented by God to man, and is the only hope for anyone. Won't you heed the call? Next Sunday morning the pastor, Ray C. Weiskopf, will speak on the subject, "How the Revival Came." Do you know how? Come and find out. We, indeed, welcome you here and desire your presence as we bring the Truths from God's Word. Yes, a real feast awaits you, a feast from the Word, that which is the BREAD OF LIFE.

Prayer Meeting on Wednesday evening, and a time of praise as well is held at the church. The examinations in the two Community Bible classes will take place a week from this Friday evening. This evening we will have a final review of the work, both in Personal Evangelism and the book of Revelation.

Word coming from the sunny southland tells us of Pastor Richard Neale's enjoyment of that part of our country and the increasing strength and health with which the Lord is blessing him during this time of rest.

Good government is the product of a well informed citizenship. An economist has been defined as a man who knows everything and can't do anything.

Dearborn Starts Its Hundreds Of Thrift Gardens For The Year

Dearborn's 1934 thrift garden project got definitely under way Thursday morning when the city accepted delivery on five new Fordson tractors which were immediately put to work on vacant lots in the east section of the city under the supervision of Edward Foster.

As the sod began turning, scores of residents who have failed, because of inclement weather, to fully realize that a new gardening season was at hand, made haste to get their applications in for plots and to plowing. These are being accepted in the garage directly back of the City Hall.

The new tractors, purchased through the William Ford agency are equipped with huge pneumatic tires which greatly facilitate their movement from one plot to another. Danger of damaging sidewalks while plowing is also greatly lessened.

Weather permitting, the plows are to be followed almost immediately by discs, thus leveling the ground in the best possible shape for planting. The program is being started weeks earlier than in 1933. This should make possible a much larger yield per lot.

Persons desiring to cultivate vacant lots lying near their homes can secure the names of the owners at the office of City Treasurer William A. Kaiser, who is co-operating with the mayor's office in order to make it possible for every interested family to have a thrift garden. Written permission must be secured from the owner before a plowing order will be accepted.—Dearborn Independent.

An important message to every man and woman who is thinking about buying an automatic refrigerator

Take the time to find the RIGHT one

There's a lot of real pleasure in owning a good automatic refrigerator... enough pleasure to make it well worth your while to find the best. We believe that the finest of all automatic refrigerators is the New Air-Cooled Electrolux. And we believe we can prove that statement to your satisfaction. Simplest freezing method. Electrolux employs a different principle of operation than any other refrigerator. A tiny gas flame circulates a simple refrigerant. Ordinary air cools it. Simple, isn't it? And this very simplicity is the thing that gives Electrolux its definite superiority. It costs less to run... a saving that goes on day after day—year after year! No moving parts. Electrolux has no moving parts to wear and need costly repairing. And because it has no moving parts, it is permanently silent. Please come in and see it. We will be glad to demonstrate Electrolux at any time, with no obligation at all on your part. We want you to see for yourself what a fine refrigerator the new Air-Cooled Electrolux is... how far in advance of the others.

QUICK FACTS. PLENTY OF ICE CUBES PERMANENTLY SILENT. HAS NO MOVING PARTS. FREES YOU FROM COSTLY REPAIRS. COSTS LESS TO OPERATE. TEMPERATURE REGULATING. NON-STOP DEFROSTING. AMPLE FOOD SPACE. NEW Air-Cooled ELECTROLUX. THE SERVEL Gas REFRIGERATOR.

Performance RECORDS. FIRESTONE HIGH SPEED TIRES. Drive in today and replace your thin, smooth, worn tires with a new set of the Safest—Longest Wearing—and Most Dependable Tires Firestone has ever made. Listen to Lawrence Tibbett or Richard Crooks and Harvey Firestone, Jr., every Monday night—N.B.C. Network.

THE new Firestone High Speed Tire for 1934 is the greatest tire Firestone has ever built. With its wider, flatter tread, greater thickness, deeper non-skid, more and tougher rubber, and greater non-skid contact with the road, you get more than 50% longer non-skid mileage. This new development is made possible by the Firestone patented process of Gum-Dipping, whereby the cotton fibers inside the high-stretch cords are soaked and coated with pure liquid rubber. This provides greater strength, safety and blowout protection. Firestone engineers pioneered and developed the first successful balloon tire in 1923, and it is only natural that Firestone would lead in the further development of tire construction to meet the demands of the high-powered high-speed cars of today. The new Firestone High Speed tires for 1934, have already proved their worth by constant testing on the Firestone fleet of test cars over all kinds of roads and highways throughout the United States. Firestone High Speed tires are further subjected to the most severe tests known on the greatest proving ground in the world—the Indianapolis Speedway. In fact, Firestone Tires have been on the winning cars in the annual 500-Mile Indianapolis Race for fourteen consecutive years—conclusive evidence of Firestone's outstanding leadership in tire development and construction.

Rural Schools Preparing For Musical Festival

Schools Near Plymouth To Take Part In The Event

Rehearsals of the children connected with the county wide musical program for rural schools in Wayne county were held at Plymouth high school Dearborn high school and Flat Rock during the week before Easter. The project is the first of its kind ever to be held in Wayne county.

A three-fold program is being used in the interest of cultivating music appreciation among the children of rural Wayne county schools. Miss Mary Ann Collinge, music instructor, Michigan State College, East Lansing is in charge of the work. Miss Collinge spends three days of each month in Wayne county schools giving instructions to the teachers in charge of the work and observing what results have been accomplished.

Three thousand children in grades ranging from the fourth to the tenth, are studying eight songs. The list is made up mostly of folk songs including German, Irish, Scotch, American and Negro Spirituals, giving the children a wide range of musical experience.

Twenty-five hundred children from all grades of the rural schools have been studying folk dancing in the form of the "Highland Fling."

All the children in every rural school have been given the opportunity of better music appreciation. This branch of the project is conducted by the use of recordings of famous selections of classical music by the greatest composers of the world. These selections include world renowned overtures, etc. It teaches the child to understand the finest things in music thereby opening the way to a higher culture.

Intensive drilling and a considerable amount of work on the part of the teachers of the rural schools in Wayne county together with the excellent cooperation from the Wayne county school commissioner's staff have brought unusually good results that will readily be discerned when the music festival program is given. During the period of time the project has been in operation Miss Collinge has shown an untiring spirit. It can readily be realized that the Wayne county program is one that requires a lot of work inasmuch as it is the largest rural music project of the Michigan State College.

The climax of the project will be a Wayne County Rural Schools Music Festival to be held Saturday May 19, in the Coliseum at the State Fair Grounds, Detroit. This festival will be the event in which 2,000 children will sing the various songs they have learned during the year. On the same day 1,000 children, dressed in Scotch plaid uniforms, will dance the "Highland Fling," the music being furnished by Scotch bagpipers. There will be interesting addresses and one of the county high school bands will furnish music.

This festival which is free, will be one of the most interesting and spectacular programs ever produced by the schools of Wayne county and will be attended by several thousand patrons, teachers and children of the county schools.

A very lovely party was the "bathroom" shower and card party given Monday afternoon by Mrs. Perry Richwine at her home on Ann street complimenting Miss Arbutus Williams, whose marriage takes place on Saturday, May 5. The afternoon was most pleasantly passed in playing bridge and "500" with honors for bridge being won by Mrs. Estell Rowland and for "500" by Mrs. Frank Dicks. A party lunch was served after which Miss Williams was requested to open innumerable packages, beautifully wrapped which had been provided by the guests, most of them containing lovely and useful gifts in pink or black, the colors used by the hostess in the decorations. The guests were the Emerson Guards of the Macabee Lodge and included Miss Williams, her mother, Mrs. John Williams, Mrs. R. S. Wood, Mrs. Jay Sackett, Mrs. Dicks, Mrs. Robert Archer, Mrs. Charles Hewer, Mrs. William Micol, Mrs. George Gorton, Mrs. Rowland, Mrs. Albert Drews, Mrs. Arthur White, Mrs. Arthur Minthorne, Mrs. Charles Heller, Mrs. Arthur Blank, Mrs. Melvin Aguirre, Mrs. Matt Everett, Mrs. Harry Mumby, Mrs. Joseph Hance, Mrs. Frank Magraw and Mrs. Roy Sallow. On Saturday evening twelve friends of Miss Arbutus Williams of high school days gathered at the home of Miss Jewell Rengert in the Robinson subdivision and showered her with "miscellaneous" gifts. This was not only a "shower" but a get-together of old schoolmates and a happy evening ensued in visiting while playing "500". A most delicious pressed dinner was served by Miss Rengert and Mrs. Irene Livingston Lyke, after which Miss Williams had the pleasure of receiving many lovely remembrances which she will use in her future home. The guests included Miss Williams, her mother, Mrs. John Williams, Miss Marion Dreyour, Miss Norma Savery and Mrs. Doris Dietrich Gerrard of Detroit, Miss Helen Biery of Ann Arbor, Miss Camilla Ashton, Mrs. Maurine Dunn Baughn, Miss Marion Tefft and Miss June Jewell.

When your furnace fire goes out for the summer

HOW WILL YOU GET Hot Water?

Hot water is indispensable for a dozen daily tasks — and with summer almost here, the furnace no longer supplies this needed convenience. Are you obliged to heat water on the stove or run up and down stairs to light a manually-operated tank? End this annoyance and waste of time — install automatic electric hot water service in your home!

A new low rate is being offered for water heating. This is a flat annual rate for year 'round service. You can enjoy automatic electric hot water service for as little as $2.34 a month. You may buy or rent an electric water heater, whichever you choose. Rental rates are low, and if you prefer to buy the heater, convenient monthly terms may be arranged.

With an automatic electric heater, you are assured an abundant and constant supply of water, steaming hot, at a turn of the faucet. Day and night, summer and winter, you have hot water instantly when you need it—for bath and for shower, for shaving, for washing dishes, for the laundry, for housecleaning. There is no waiting, no inconvenience. And you do not need to depend on a furnace coil for hot water, which — contrary to general belief — is an expensive method of heating water, due to the coal burned in the process.

Up to 6900 more firing charges in every gallon of improved Super-Shell

More Mileage and More Power now possible for motorists through new "Super-charging" process developed by SHELL

THINK what it means to you to have up to 6900 extra firing charges packed into every gallon of gasoline you buy!

Firing charges make your car move! Added firing charges are like a bonus — a free gift of power. Shell laboratories developed a new process which "super-charges" gasoline by actually changing the chemical structure.

See what this super-charged gasoline does in your car. You can feel the difference — you can measure the difference — in extra miles per gallon.

NIMBLEHEELS JUMPS BLINDLY

A FUNNY thing about this world is the unexpectedness of things. Have you ever noticed that good things come to you unexpectedly and bad things happen in just the same way. Some folks are always expecting bad things to happen, and it sometimes seems as if they were just the people to whom bad things do happen.

Nimbleheels, the Jumping Mouse, for his size the most wonderful of all jumpers, is one of the most timid members of a most timid family. Not even his cousin, Nibbler the House Mouse, is more timid. So, like all timid people, Nimbleheels is all the time expecting something to happen. Anyhow, that is the way it appears to his neighbors. To be sure, Nimbleheels has enough to make him timid. Like the rest of his family, he is forever being hunted. In the daytime he never knows when the keen eyes of a member of the Hawk family are upon him. At any time of day Black Pussy the Cat may come stealing through the grass looking for him. At night Hooty the Owl, Reddy Fox and Old Man Coyote hunt for him as they do for his

He Jumped Blindly and Then Wished He Hadn't.

GARDEN HINTS

(Jessie F. Malmberg) Kolkwitzia Amabilis (Beauty-bush) Although of recent introduction has become a favorite with true garden lovers, for its hardiness, charm and adaptability. It is allied to the Neigela and Honeysuckle and resembles them somewhat. It is an arching shrub growing to the height of six feet with the center branches always upright. The flowers are somewhat tipped and bell shade, pale pink with orange veins in the throat, the buds are deeper colored. The flowers bloom in June and are produced in pairs forming a cluster (cyme) of about twenty-five flowers. This graceful and pleasing shrub is worthy of its name Beautybush. It was found in Central China high up in the mountains and was named after R. Kolkowitz, Professor of Botany, Berlin. The Beautybush must have a well drained soil and should be planted where the air will circulate freely around it in the winter.

Famous Landmark in Act of Falling

CONVERTED as if in the throes of some fatal paroxysm, this dynamic tower, 100 feet high, wavers and falls at Delaware, Ohio. An alert emergency has caught it after the blast, on its way to the ground. In years gone by the natives had been mighty proud of the building. It was built of granite and brick and was surmounted by the clock tower that loomed the landscape. Then a fire swept the city hall and the tower had been all that remained standing. The dynamite charge reduced it to ruins like the other vestiges of grandeur. Windows in nearby stores were broken by the terrific impact. It had been built 50 years ago.

Plymouth Residents Spend $500 Each In Shops Here Each Year

Residents of Plymouth and vicinity spent approximately $500 per person in the retail stores and shops here each year according to an estimate made by the Chicago Wholesale Market Council.

The state of Michigan's total retail trade of more than two billion dollars is equal to about two-thirds of the volume of wholesale trade of Chicago, whose Wholesale Market District, lying just west of the famous "Loop," is considered one of the greatest in the world.

The study which revealed the figures was made by the newly formed Wholesale Council to determine how best to meet the needs of retail merchants who depend largely upon Chicago wholesalers for goods to stock their shelves for Michigan purchasers. An expansion and improvement program, including numerous additional buyers' services, has been launched to accommodate the throng of merchants who are expected to combine a visit to the Century of Progress with their annual or semi-annual buying trip.

The $500 per person, or about $20.00 per family, spent with Michigan retailers includes all purchases, except for personal services, such as laundry and barbering. The fellow who gets ahead is generally the fellow who helps others get ahead.

Some Do..... Some Don't?
Chinese, for example, spend their lives planning a fine funeral. But we Americans prefer to concentrate on living our lives to the full. There's only one drawback. When we die, our families want to bury us in keeping with our means and position. And they know practically nothing about it. We realize that, and therefore make it a policy to conduct funerals as though we were one of the family.

Plymouth Team To Play Sunday

Schrader-Haggerty Club Opens Season With Grand Trunk

The Plymouth Schrader-Haggerty baseball club will open their 1934 season Sunday May 6th at Plymouth-Riverside Park, Grand Trunk of Detroit will be the visiting team. Two games will be played, first game starting at 1:30 o'clock.

LeRoy Simmons, starting his fifth year as manager of the local ball club, predicts that Plymouth will win a large percentage of their games. The strongest clubs in the state are being scheduled for the season.

During spring practice the team looked better than ever, and with the new players that have been signed, the local baseball fans should see a fast brand of ball. The club will carry sixteen players this season which will make it possible to play doubleheaders every Sunday.

Saginaw Singers To See Interesting Places Here Today

Today all of the interesting places in and around Plymouth are being visited by the members of the Saginaw Seminary Chorus who came to this place to give a concert at the Lutheran church. Rev. Hoenecke has provided a tour that will take the visitors through the new parkway, the Daisy plant and possibly one or two of the big institutions near here if time will permit.

Wm. Conner And Edsel Ford In A Photograph Used In Newspaper

It is not often that one has an opportunity to have a picture taken with Edsel Ford, associated with his father in the manufacture of Ford cars, who is also president of the Ford Motor company of Canada, but that opportunity came to William Conner the other day when he attended the annual stockholders meeting of the Ford Motor company of Canada held at Windsor. Appearing on the first page of the Border Cities Star was an excellent picture of five of the original stockholders of the company, among them being Conner of Plymouth and Edsel Ford. Mr. Conner is one of the few still living who invested in the company when it was first organized. "Impossible is a word to be found only in dictionaries of fools."

New Biographies At The Plymouth Library

The following new biography books have recently been received at the Plymouth library: "Pull Devil, Pull Baker" Edited by Stella Benson. Miss Stella Benson is intensely amusing, so amusing that it is impossible for us to read her without screams of delight and rushing off to read aloud choice passages to each other. In the present case she would have found it difficult to write without being amused about the County. I do not know whether it would have been possible for her, or anyone living north of here, to be serious in dealing with him. New Statesman and Nation.

"Conno Jake" by Augustus C. Colodan. At the age of ten, Mr. Colodan's father had sold him for the modest sum of one pound to the skipper of a windjammer who looked like the popular representation of the Devil. But the chapters devoted to this early period are a magnificent tribute to the character of that same man, Jonathan Scratch, for which alone the book would be worth reading. Spectator.

"Wild Bill And His Era" By William E. Connelley. A full-blooded and colorful biography of James Butler Hickok of the most interesting figures who ever rode and fought in the prairie wastes of the Great Plains. Springfield Republican.

"Joseph Pulitzer" by D. C. Seitz. The life and letters of the former owner of the New York World, constituting one of the most amazing careers in recent American life.

"Struggle" by Charles Murphy. A biography of Commander Byrd. He brings out with considerable skill the many sidedness of Byrd's endowment and he gives to his narrative life and color and vitality with a thousand little anecdotes.

"Life of Francois Rabelais" by Jean Platard. This is the best life of Rabelais, written with French clarity and French scholarship. It is direct, discreet, and admirably supported by references.

"La Fayette" by Henry Dwight Sedgwick. The book has many excellent qualities: it is capable, sympathetic, thorough, it gives evidence of more than the usual preparation; it is written in an agreeable and unobtrusive style. New Republic.

Edison Company Buys Water Power On The Huron Near Milford

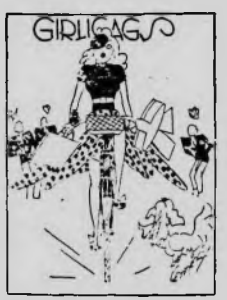

The Detroit Edison Company has purchased from Frank S. Hubbell the water power plant located on the Huron River west of Milford. The sale does not include the small DeCarino and Pettibone plants. Mr. Hubbell retaining ownership of these as before.

The Edison Company has been taking the output of these plants for several years paying for the current on a metered basis. The purchase of the plant will, therefore, make no difference in the operating routine.

The plant will now become part of the Edison Company's system, falling into the same classification as the other water power plants farther down on the Huron River, now owned and operated by the Edison Company.

Milford Plans To Stop Bill Peddling In That Community

At an early meeting the village Council will take up consideration of an ordinance to regulate hawking, peddling, street vending, and door to door sales of goods, wares, merchandise, drugs, vegetables, produce, meats, dairy products, baked goods, confectionery, soft drinks and ice cream within the corporate limits of the village of Milford without a license.

Provision is made for license fees, for such vending by the day, the month or the year, the fees to vary as to whether the vending is done on foot or by means of a temporary stand or vehicle. Such fees would not apply to persons selling products grown or manufactured by their own labor (except baked goods), to persons representing local retail stores nor to persons selling newspapers, books and magazines nor to persons selling by virtue of a veteran's license.

MICHIGAN BELL TELEPHONE CO.

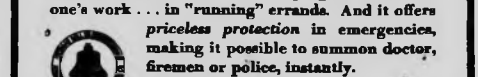

JUST SITTING AROUND, ... NIGHT AFTER NIGHT

Margaret and John have lots of friends—and are well-liked by all. But they have no telephone to enable friends to reach them easily.

So Margaret and John just sit around, night after night, missing many good times. Yet, for only a few cents a day, they could have the countless advantages of telephone service.

Besides being a social asset, a telephone helps in finding employment... in keeping in touch with one's work... in "running" errands. And it offers priceless protection in emergencies, making it possible to summon doctor, firemen or police, instantly.

IN MEMORIAM—In memory of our dear beloved mother, Mrs. Ernest Frank who passed away May 3rd, 1931. Like the petals of a rose, That drop off and pass away, So with our dear Mother's life, Just faded day by day, And when the sun and moon came, While we stood in fear, To think of all the loneliness, Throughout the coming year's, But some day we hope to meet her. When our day is o'er, In the beautiful Isle of somewhere.

When sorrows we know no more, Friends and relatives who were so kind to us at the death of our dear mother. Special thanks to Mr. Schrader and Rev. Peters for their consoling words.

IN MEMORIAM—In sad but loving memory we mourn the death of our dearly beloved mother, Bertha Schmidt Reinholz, who died May 8, 1925. Nine long years ago today, Since our dear mother passed away, We saw her suffer, heard her sigh, With aching heart and weeping eyes, We saw her sinking hour by hour, Yet we could not stay death's awful power, But now she calmly sleeps at last. All pains, all aches, all suffering past. The moon and stars are shining on a lone and silent grave; Beneath there lies one whom we loved, But whom we could not save. Sadly missed by her children.
