THE U. OF M.

If our great University of Michigan tolerates a system of instruction which will breed a half hundred anti-American students among those enrolled, the time has arrived when some mighty serious thought ought to be given as to the real value of that institution to society. Education is a necessity, but that education must be along the right lines. The University is costing enough money without having it turn loose on the public a half hundred or more students whose destructive ideas are bound to be expensive to the tax payers of the future. Few gave serious thought to the statement made by Hon. George M. Clark former supreme court judge of Michigan in an address a few weeks ago in Detroit when he declared that nearly 90 per cent of instructors in our educational institutions of the "higher" type are teaching the students to hate America. These instructors are not only un-American, but they are destructive by both desire and intent. If we taxpayers are spending our money to educate a lot of rattle-brained, long-haired young Anarchists, it is about time we know something about the kind of instructors we have in our universities and colleges and what their aims are. Yes, we should not only know about what they are doing, but we should STOP some of the things now being done even though it should be necessary to go to the extent of abolishing a good portion of the work of the University.

Many of these instructors never made a cent of money in their lives except that paid to them through checks underwritten by the taxpayers of the state. They know nothing of business and if they were to be eliminated from the tax-supported payroll upon which they exist, a good share of them would have to be supported by relatives or the state.

Maybe it would be a good idea to require a University or college professor to first MAKE GOOD in private life, either in business or one of the professions, before he is given a job teaching others how and what to do. If this was a requirement of the teaching staff, you can rest assured the products of that institution would not disgrace the University and the state that supports it by singing the praises of national disloyalty.

FISHING

Now that warm spring days are here and the fish are beginning to bite and soon the bass season will be open, the thoughts of nearly every man turn to his rod and reel. Fishing is, without question, the most delightful of all outdoor sports. But the one great difficulty is that the average fisherman doesn't have the time to get the full benefit of it.

Readers of The Plymouth Mail, even though they might not be fishermen, will be interested in some of the things that Charles Heddon of Dorwagias has to say about fishermen and some of the nation's leaders and their hobbies. From Mr. Heddon's last catalogue the following is taken: "There are a few anglers in penitentiaries,—the fishing bug" and the "crime bug" seldom reside in the same person.

From George Washington to Franklin Roosevelt, many of our Presidents have been ardent fishermen.

According to Ex-President Herbert C. Hoover:—"The moral and spiritual forces of our country do not lose ground in the hours we are busy on our jobs—their battle is the leisure time. The joyous rush of the brook, the contemplation of the eternal flow of the stream, the stretch of forest and mountain, all reduce our egotism, soothe our troubles and shame our wickedness."
For youth and adult, there is no more beneficial auxiliary to education, than to commune with Nature in her woods and on her waters. The refined angling spirit cannot sin against fellow mortals, nor against society.

As Ex-President Coolidge said:—"There is an indescribable spiritual charm in the gentle art of fishing. It affords a refreshing leisure, a stimulation to the body and a benediction to the soul. There is something natural, homely, wholesome and unspiced about the fisherman which we shall all do well to cultivate."

Modern angling methods fire the imagination, and challenge the skill. They also appeal to the sense of good sportsmanship and the finer human sensibilities. Fishing is now intensely pleasurable and engaging, since it has eliminated the prosaic—the old-fashioned "sit-in-the-sun-and-wait" methods.

Liberty Magazine says editorially:—"Grover Cleveland and Hereroet Hoover are examples to follow in a wise choice of recreations. Cleveland was a fisherman and Hoover is a fisherman. There is nothing better than fishing to improve a man's philosophy. You might say that one eye sees the fish and the other the future of mankind."
Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's father is quoted as having said:—"The first time I really became acquainted with my son was when I took him on a fishing trip."
And Irving Cobb says:—"I, for one, am proud to call myself a fisher and with the fishermen stand out as a venerable and a noble and a healthful sport. To practice it is good for our minds and our bodies. To lie about our fishing afterwards, makes the imagination more flexible."
Wouldn't it be a great thing if everybody was a fisherman?

DOES HISTORY REPEAT?

We were browsing through a textbook the other day, writes Vern J. Brown, Ingham County publisher, and happened to turn to an account of the downfall of the Roman Empire. The story of the causes of the downfall, as listed by the historian, have a familiar ring. They set us to wondering about the truth of the saying that history always repeats. Here are two paragraphs taken from the text:

"Many of the country people, unwilling to become coloni, forsook their fields and turned to the city for relief. Great stretches of unworked and weed-grown fields were no uncommon sight. As there was less land cultivated, the amount of food decreased. The scarcity of food was felt most severely in the cities, where prices rapidly went up. The destruction of the small farms was perhaps the chief cause that brought about the decline of this great empire. At the same time business in the cities fell off, and manufacturers had to discharge their workmen who swelled the numbers of the unemployed. The cities became filled with poor people scrambling for a place in the waiting lines to which the government distributed free grain and meat."

"The crushing weight of taxation, the money needed to keep up the luxurious court of the Empire to satisfy the demands of the army and to supply the city idlers with food and amusements required a constant increase in taxes. It was customary to require a group of wealthy men to become responsible for the taxes of their district. When it was felt that this discouraged men from developing their business, the state enacted laws forbidding men to give up their business and required sons to follow the trades and professions of their fathers and even fixed wages and the price of goods. So the once free Roman citizen, rich or poor, in country or city, had almost no independent life of his own. He was watched by government officials and spies who saw to it that the grain dealers, butchers and bakers supplied the needs of the city and never deserted their posts. In a word, the Roman government attempted to regulate almost every interest of life and wherever the citizen turned he felt the irksome interference and oppression of the state."

WHY A COMMUNITY NEWSPAPER?

Contest Sponsored by Adrian Van Koeveering of Zeeland, Michigan

By HOWARD PECKHAM, Lowell, Michigan (Fifth Place)

A newspaper is not a thing of beauty. It exists because it is useful, because it performs certain services indispensable to the community. Since all those functions are not obvious and their effects often subtle, we propose to examine them.

The first purpose of a newspaper is, of course, to inform the community of past and coming events. This information is what people refer to when they ask, "Have you heard the news?" News of a general nature provides the readers with a common fund of knowledge, drawing them into a unified group. News of a personal nature makes them aware of one another's name, occupation, location, movements, sickness, honors, bereavements, and good fortune, and binds them together in a family-like relationship.

Here we might ask what effect does this distribution of news have on the people of the community? On the surface, it satisfies their desire for knowledge. But a newspaper sets other forces in motion at the same time. As successfully as any church or lodge, it encourages mutual acquaintance. It inspires the feeling—and more than that, the practice—of neighborliness. That trait peculiar to small towns. This warm feeling of oneness, this sense of "belonging" and of sharing the same environment as the rest of one's group is at the root of all civic enterprise and progress.

Which brings us to the newspaper's second service. It makes news—that is, it initiates and organizes public action. What better method or agency is there for exerting pressure on the village council or county supervisors, the school board, chamber of commerce, power company, Legion post, or private individuals to consider the desires of the majority or of a progressive minority? Anyone can start a ball rolling, but its momentum and direction are usually dependent on the ability of the newspaper.

A paper with a reputation for clarifying confusing situations, fathoming motives, pushing worthy activities, exposing dishonesty, and generally aiding its readers to think rightly on the terms of community life—such a newspaper does more than accomplish the immediate ends just mentioned. It determines where the local citizens, and those in surrounding townships, shall look for intelligent leadership. It resolves the town in which it is published into the focal point, the hub around which thousands of people will integrate themselves. Briefly it makes the town.

The community paper publishes the advertising appeals of local merchants, and by these reminders week after week keeps its readers aware of their own Main Street stores. The appeal of goods in a nearby city is often due simply to ignorance on the part of the citizen, the variety and quality of goods handled by their own stores. Yet, this mutual service amounts to more than an effort to persuade people to trade at home and stimulate their own prosperity. The

PUTTING THE INDIAN ON HIS OWN

Now that the great white race has a heap big welfare problem for its own kind, it has proposed putting the Indian on his own. Cutting him off from the dole he has been given for generations, as a sop to the Christian conscience of the white folk who robbed the Indian of his lands.

This great change in treatment of the American Indian belatedly recognizes that the white folks do not know as much as an ordinary Indian about what is good for an Indian. Hence, the Indian is to be permitted to take care of himself, thus freeing the white overlords to pay more attention to the white rapaces lacking subsistence under the over-towering civilization created by the master minds of said white race.—Floyd McGriff in The Redford Record.

WRONG ASSUMPTIONS

Considerable of the objection to the proposed amendment to the constitution that will be voted upon next fall and for which signatures are now being sought seems to be based upon what the amendment does not intend to do rather than upon what it does intend to do.

The amendment, if adopted, will permit county to adopt or change its government according to its needs, a right that is enjoyed by cities. It does not force any particular form of government upon the county, and no one else.

It does not affect townships nor school districts. Their organization remains as they are. While there has been talk of combining these into larger units, this amendment neither encourages nor permits such a change. There is nothing in fear on this score.

There is a growing feeling that the county government that fitted conditions in the oxcart days is strangely out of place with the changes that have come in transportation and with the growth of cities, that it is too cumbersome and expensive. Detroit is pretty much of Wayne county, and the better educated members while the Wayne county board of supervisors number 146.—C. H. Hemingway in the Ann Arbor Tribune.

WANT THE EARTH

Luren D. Dickinson, former lieutenant governor, has formally announced his candidacy for that office in the republican primary. He has taken the step despite the pleadings of fellow citizens, neighbors and friends that he leave the field open in Eaton county, the home of both himself and Frank Fitzgerald, to the latter. The idea of candidates for the office of governor, who are county is utterly absurd, but certain it is that Mr. Fitzgerald cannot be included in the criticism that will follow. It would seem that Mr. Dickinson is extremely ungrateful of past favors. The free prediction is made that he will fall considerably short of his usual vote in Eaton county.—Harry Izor in The Durand Express.

MESSING THINGS UP

Former Governor Woodbridge N. Ferris very often used the expression, "Common sense is one of the most uncommon things in the world," and he would have expressed the idea that it is much easier to imagine you think than it is to really think. The past two or three years ought to have provoked some thinking on the part of a great many people, and no one has greater need for hard, straight thinking and the application of common sense than the farm business man and the farmer. They have been the football for hairbrained experimenters who have had no experience in either farming or small business. Most of them came into their present high salaried jobs, drawing $500 to $1,000 a month out of the pockets of the people, armed with dense ignorance and exaggerated ego. They are as full of untried theories as a dog is of fleas, and they are trying these theories on the people at public expense. They get their salaries whether the schemes work or not and most of them have not worked.—Henry T. Babcock in The Alma Record.

FALSE STATEMENTS

I wrote in this column last week about the viciousness which is exhibited by defenders of the present administration when any criticism is made of any of its actions. I mentioned in passing that Representative Bulwinkle that Dr. Wirt had been sent to prison during the war. Representative Bulwinkle acknowledged that his statement was untrue and apologized to Dr. Wirt during the week in a speech from the floor of the House. It's now up to Secretary Ickes to do as paper is also promoting a healthy home-town loyalty which will bear the fruit of increased resourcefulness and self-sufficiency. After all, this fact alone, and not the separate political identity, is what distinguishes the small town from the city suburb. In the latter, no community city suburb. In the latter, no community city suburb. In the latter, no community city suburb.

No district can progress when its citizens have only their bodies in that place, and their minds get by in another. But brought together by the force of having similar desires and interests, as well as the means to satisfy them, Most important of all, it makes them aware of what may be accomplished through united effort for mutual improvement.

The recent storms made lots of work for the highway commissioner fixing roads so as to have them even in passable condition until they can be permanently repaired.
At the meeting of the Council on Monday night, President Markham again brought up the matter of hitching posts in front of the business places on Main street, all but one of the dealers being in favor of the proposition. There is considerable feeling among the farmers who are now compelled to hitch on the opposite side of the street and it would seem to be the right thing to do to "plant" the posts.

Miss Lucille Calkins of Northville spent Sunday with Mrs. Riggs.

Mrs. Claude Burgess and little daughter of Detroit is visiting Mrs. A. O. Allen.
Mrs. W. B. VanAlken of Detroit and Henry VanAlken of Northville were Plymouth visitors this week.
The village council has borrowed $2,500 to pay off current expenses until tax money is collected.
F. C. Howlett and son Charles of Ypsilanti is visiting the former's sister, Mrs. Chas. Shattuck.
Harry Robinson bought the stable of a wealthy Cleveland resident and has several fine carriages in the outfit—a Brougham has been added to Mr. Robinson's Plymouth livery equipment and the others will be disposed of in Detroit.
The hall Wednesday evening broke nearly 100 lights of glass in C. Heide's greenhouses.
Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Tighe, son and daughter of Detroit, spent Sunday with her mother and sister, Mrs. George Starkweather and Mrs. Louis Hillmer.
Street Commissioner Passage has been leveling up the park in front of the stores and re-seeded it to grass, and he requests people who have been in the habit of "cutting across" the park "to cut it out" for a few weeks and give the grass a chance to grow. The council may later build some kind of gravel walk through the park which would be much nicer and a great improvement over the "red walks."
The cast of characters in the Cinderella play that will be given by the children of the Plymouth grade school, is as follows: Cinderella, Daisy, Nellie Huger; Proud sisters, Gladys, Felt, Irma Armstrong; Godmother, Bethel Sprague; Bonnie Bee, Page, Cass Hough, Prince Sunshine, Albert Lake; Buttercup, Athalie Hough. The play is directed by Miss Jolliffe.

Recent strikes in the automotive parts industries, called by labor leaders since the Washington conference, give rise to the suspicion that the national administration in its efforts to please the American Federation of Labor or has wished on the most harmonious labor center in America a legacy of continual agitation, unrest and trouble in the future.
Appointments in labor conflict will injure rather than help the situation. One strike ordered by the labor leaders in a factory supplying parts for the Hudson Motor Car Company, ended abruptly when the motor company posted notices that the factory would be shut down immediately, and that it would remain closed until the strike was settled. The automotive industry has long been a model of high wages and employer-employee relations for other industries in the country. What they should have done when faced with a general strike, in the first good year they have had in several years, was to have walked out with the workers before the American people and defied the labor leaders to call a strike. There would have been no walking out by Vander Werp in The Fremont Times-Indicator.

Excuse for Drunks
Drunken driving increased forty-five per cent during January, 1934, as compared with the same month one year ago, according to a report from the secretary of state.
But with the liquor tax going to support of our public schools, we suppose this can be excused, because the more liquor that is consumed the better the educations our children will have.
In the meantime, we hope too many of our boys and girls are not killed or maimed under the wheels of the cars in the hands of drunken drivers, as they go to and from school.—Wm. Canfield in The Howell Republican-Press.

Spears 22 Pound Carp In The Huron

Russell Powell Brings Young "Whale" Back From Trip

When Russell Powell goes fishing, he goes fishing, no matter whether it is with hook and line or with a big, sharp spear, and he generally gets about as big a fish as can be found in the lake or river where he fishes.

Not only does he get them, but he brings back proof of the fact that he gets them.

The other night Mr. Powell, accompanied by Clyde Smith, Russell Smith and Matt Powell, took a boat over to the Huron river just south of Kent lake, where they expected to spend the early part of the night spearing suckers and red hore.

They had been on the river but a short time when a good sized tub was filled with red hore and carp.

They were just about ready to start up stream again when Russell Powell hurled his spear at a big fish he saw near the shore of the river. He hit it squarely back of the head, Powell hung to his spear and the fish gave a mighty lunge up stream, with Powell going over the side of the boat still holding his spear handle.

The fish was securely fastened on the spear and Powell as he hit the water didn't let go of his spear. The result of it was that when he got back into the boat, he had a 22 pound carp, as far as known the largest fish ever taken out of the Huron river. The ducking was well worthwhile declaring the youthful Isaac Walton as he displayed his big fish the next day.

Government To Help Poor Families In The Country To Own Cow

Hundreds of thousands of rural families in the Nation who are on relief rolls are without a cow, and that is one of the reasons authorities say, that they are "on relief." Although the Federal Emergency Relief Administration is moving to make cows available to these families, probably half of them are not now in position to receive a cow, because they have no pasture or tillable land on which to raise feed.

Yet cotton, wheat and tobacco growers have much more land lying idle than is necessary to supply land to these landless relief families. Many of these growers would allow relief families to use the acres they have taken out of cash crops under Government contract. But acres rented to the Government may be used only by the landlord or tenant and none other.

In decisions announced this week by the FERA, a way out has been pointed, which will give these rented acres great usefulness in solving the problem of the landless relief family. The landlord or tenant has been growing food or feed crops on some other portion of his land, and not on the land rented to the government, which has been in cash crops. If he now shifts his food and feed crops to the acres rented to the Government, he will have room for a relief family or families on the non-rented acres.

The relief family that uses these non-rented acres from which the landlord or tenant has shifted crops will be allowed to grow only food or feed and may not sell that. The landlord may not charge them rent. These regulations are made to save the purpose of the acreage-control legislation, which is aimed to prevent sale of crops from the rented acres.

Makes 80,000 Exposures a Second

DEVELOPED by a German electrical company, the camera shown above is capable of 80,000 exposures a second. Operations of the shortest duration, such as the oscillation of springs, valve motion of combustion engines, light processes of fuses and switches, and other movements which the human eye is incapable of seeing, can be clearly photographed. The reel runs with such rapidity that it is impossible to wind the exposed film which, therefore, is caught in a black bag attached to the camera.

Early Days Recalled By Old Photograph Now In Bank Window

A photograph of the old C. H. Bennett fanning mill factory that stood for many years at the southwest corner of Main and Union streets now on display in one of the windows of the Plymouth United Savings bank is attracting more than ordinary interest. The photograph, loaned by Miss Edna E. Snyder of the Wayne County Training school, is in excellent condition and old timers have no difficulty in making out most of the faces of those who were employed at the mill.

Ernest Roe stood gazing at it intently early this week when a number of friends came along, stopping to look at the picture.

"See that little kid up on the roof, near the windmill? Well, that's me. The man standing at the windmill is my father. He had gone up on the roof to repair the windmill and I was with him when the photographer came along and took the picture," said Mr. Roe.

"That little kid in dresses standing there beside the big dog is Ed. Bennett, who for many years was cashier of this bank. Louis Bennett is holding the horse. He was the owner of the mill. Others in the picture are Ed. Colby, Lee Hamilton, an uncle of Colby Hamilton, Joe Cabie, Henry Bennett and William Roe. The name of the dog was "Ceaser" and everybody in town knew him."

Ad. Lib.

We conducted a little test last week after school to see how long it took certain people to "catch on" after we told a certain joke. This is it. There was once a man who went to a boarding house to get a room. After he had made himself at home he asked the landlady what her name was. "Lummuck," she replied. "I'll never remember that." "Well," replied the landlady, "just remember, that Lummuck rhymes with stomach. Stomach, Lummuck, Lummuck Stomach." That evening the gentleman greeted her thus: "Good Evening, Mrs. Kelley." Test yourself. Following are scores made by prominent P.H.S. personalities. Miss Ford, three seconds; Miss Wells, ten seconds; Bill Rightfield, fifteen seconds; Norval Bovee, forty-five seconds; Miss Henry,

Fifty seconds; B. J. Housely, two minutes. Miss Ford thought it was such a good joke that she told Mr. Matheson. She says he hasn't seen the point yet.

We notice that folks are still willing to give us choice scandal for distribution. It has been said that the "good old Collyum" just talks about the juniors. Here's a note about a Soph.

We are informed that Mr. Holdsworth (better known to his little play-mates as Pluto) is rather fond of horseback riding (we rode one once and we can't see why anything so full of hay can be so hard) and that his theme song is "Like Thy Neighbor," we know the song is "Love" but that's too strong for Pluto) He has recently been seen "Mooning Around." (Do you get it?)

Katherine Schultz while at the oratorical contest met "Clarence" who worth (better known to his little play-mates as Pluto) is rather fond of horseback riding (we rode one once and we can't see why anything so full of hay can be so hard) and that his theme song is "Like Thy Neighbor," we know the song is "Love" but that's too strong for Pluto) He has recently been seen "Mooning Around." (Do you get it?)

Well-known old sayings. Number Four—When caught in hot water—be nonchalant—take a bath. James Durante.

At the musical rehearsal the school cat (the idea started by "ad. lib." two years ago by Bill Kirkpatrick) walked on the stage and it became our duty to hold it. Before the rehearsal was over we named the cat Harry (Hairy).

We're all set for Jimmie Livinstone's all news (we think he's bluffing) And by the way, don't call us "Fishface." That's Bob Champe's new title.

We just heard the boner made in biology class. (We checked with Mr. Bentley and we found it to be purely fictional.) We certainly must give whoever thought of it due credit though.

Seniors Honored By Drama Club

Ruth Michelin, Marvin Partidge and Ruth Meurin have been selected by the Senior Drama Club as the Seniors who have done the most outstanding work during the six years they have been members. These three students will represent the Drama Club at the Honor Banquet. At the meeting on May 3 four groups of members presented short plays exhibiting fast and slow tempo. The sketch given by Thelma Lunsford and Alvah Elzerman was voted the best by the club. The club also practiced suiting various gestures to words. At the meeting next week several members of the Junior Drama Club will try out for admission to the Senior Club for next year. The Club has been invited to present one of its one-act plays at the Presbyterian church Wednesday evening.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES
"Everlasting Punishment" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, May 6.
Among the Bible citations was this passage (Rev. 12:10): "And I heard a loud voice saying in heaven, Now is come salvation, and strength, and the kingdom of our God, and the power of his Christ; for the accuser of our brethren is cast down, which accused them before our God day and night."
Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p. 568): "What shall we say of the mighty conquest over all sin? A louder song, sweeter than has ever before reached high heaven, now rises clearer and nearer to the great heart of Christ; for the accuser is not there, and Love sends forth her primal and everlasting strain."

HE LIVES FOR ME
You may believe the Bible through.
Believe it God inspired and true; You may believe that Christ was born.
That angels sang on that glad morn;
You may believe Christ lived on earth
And taught man's need of second birth;
You may believe that Jesus died. That He for all was crucified; That by His death the debt was paid.
The whole world's sin on Him was laid;
You may believe He rose again That He for all was crucified; That by His death the debt was paid.
You may believe. He now does stand To intercede at God's right hand; But have you seen Him slain for you Take the death which was your due.
To make a guilty sinner, free By His own death on Calvary? And have you seen Him ris'n again
To plead for you at God's right hand?
It is not knowing Jesus died But knowing that He died for me. And that His blood cleanseth me. Set me, a guilty sinner, free. It is not knowing that He lives But knowing that He lives for me. Not knowing that He intercedes But that it is for me He pleads.
I'm satisfied believing this. And, knowing Jesus, that is bliss. My knowledge is not fancy wild. I am, God says, His ransomed child.
Dorothy M. Harris
Examinations! yes this evening (Friday) our two Bible classes will be examined in the work that has been under their hands these last three months. It makes one think of those people outside of Christ who someday will face the judgment seat of Christ and listen to His words "Depart from me, I know ye not." Our examinations do not spell doom for any of the enrolled class members, but there is everlasting punishment for all who reject the Lord Jesus Christ as their personal Saviour.
Sunday morning's service will be appropriate to the celebration of Mother's Day. Do you attend somewhere regularly? If not, you are welcome to join us here this coming Lord's Day. Also, we welcome you to the Sunday evening service.

MICHIGAN SHORT TERM LOANS EXCEED THOSE IN OTHER 3 STATES
Short term production loans approved by the Intermediate Credit Bank of St. Paul for farmers members of Michigan Production Credit Associations exceeded those of any one of the other 3 states of the 7th district. Wisconsin, Minnesota, or North Dakota, according to figures tabulated for the 4-week period ending April 28 and released this week at Farm Credit Administration offices here.
PCA Loans for 4 weeks: Michigan loans approved 1,091, loans closed 138; North Dakota, loans approved 425, loans closed 90; Minnesota, loans approved 842, loans closed, 482; Wisconsin loans approved, 820; loans closed 342.
For the entire district there were 3,178 loans approved, and 1,052 loans closed. The difference between the loans approved and the loans closed represents the volume still in the hands of local PCA's awaiting their completion of the papers necessary to closing. These operations include obtaining chattel abstracts, getting the notes and mortgages signed, and forwarding of all papers to the Intermediate Credit Bank.
Immediately upon receipt of the application from the PCA, the Intermediate Credit Bank signifies whether it will accept or decline the loan. If the loan is accepted the bank notifies the local association of its approval, and as soon as details are completed by the secretary treasurer, the latter draws a draft on the bank for the amount desired.
Credit from this source for farm operations for the 4 weeks period totaled $432,000 compared with $73,000 for the entire previous period, indicating the speeding up and the increase in efficiency as the association officials and inspectors become familiar with their work. My Favorite Room

A theme in English Class. It is a prized possession for any house to have, my favorite room. It has treasures galore and whenever I have the chance I long to delve into its contents of past memories. Its dimly lit interior, because the room is the sole possessor of two small curtained windows, flush with the floor adds to its enchantment. Near the front window is a huge trunk which, upon the opening of its rickety old lid, discloses to me a hoard of old-fashioned gowns. Ranged along the wall to the left of the large trunk is a plentiful supply of boxes. I find a number of old-fashioned hats, some quite nice, my mother's schoolbooks and some raffia and need for basket-making in these boxes. Standing near them is an old time piece, my grandfather's shelf clock. Farther down is the treasure chest of my great-grandmother, filled with keep-sakes including her mother's wedding night cap of fine made lace and her wedding dress. Standing in the corner is an old box-kite, covered with bright red cambric which my grandfather made for Uncle when he was a little boy. Across the room covered with newspapers and placed in boxes are ice-skates and some of the playthings my sister and I used to play with out doors, doll-bug, doll-bed, Easter bunnies and baskets. On the other side of the window stands my great-grandmother's sewing machine. It is one of the first sewing machines made and is always a source of interest to me. Now, I must go back to the farther end of the room and down the stairs as I presume you will be guessing my favorite room. Yes! It is the attic. Joan Cassidy in 11A class.

Heckling Around

What ho, my frans, here I am back again after a week's absence. Oh, well, my darlings, you're very fortunate to be able to read such a noted colyme as this has turned out to be. Well, here goes with "Quibblerts for the Quibblers" which I guarantee is "News". That's something old "Wrinklepus" can't seem to get a hold of. (What can you expect from a groveler.) "Mucker" Wilcox had a sad evening a while ago. The play cast was dining out precedent to a play and they left without Jackie. They came after him when they had finished eating. "Was he boined up?" I received a shock last Sunday when I saw Brother Herrick posing in the park, arm in arm with B. S. (My, he looked contented). Won't you show us the snapshots sometime. Deanie. Boy, oh boy! but it's tough staying in school these days. Seems to me there's a bit of "chick" going on in school, along with this elegant weather. Norvall, you'd better investigate M. J.'s golf games. I wonder why they call W. Dunn "Wash Tubbs"? Ask Brother Herrick; he's up on the latest news. The cat got loose at musical rehearsal Wednesday night and created a lot of excitement for a while, until "Old Popeye" came to the rescue. The cat and he are the best of friends now. (At last he's got a pal.) Well, I guess I'll draw our little "confab" to a close. But before I leave, Norvall had better go back to kindergarten where they let little children tap their pencils on the desks. Grow up. And so my dears, and "Babykins," I'll be seeing you soon. The Heckler.

P. H. Netmen Beaten By Ferndale

The Plymouth high school tennis team suffered a defeat on their own courts on Wednesday, May 2 when Ferndale took them down 5 to 2. The match was played on the 6-1, 6-2 in the number one singles. Levandowski, who was the only Plymouth man to win, beat Bathy 7-5, 6-2 in the number two singles. Burden lost to Monroe 6-4, 6-3. In the doubles both teams were close but Ferndale won both, number two doubles being Cooper finished as it was late and Plymouth could not win regardless. Luttermoser and McLeellan lost to Kramer and Albright 8-6 7-5 and Elliott and Knapp lost to Lobb and Gripman 11-9.

DELITE TAYLOR

One day in the spring of 1928 the door of the fourth grade room in the Central Grade school opened and in walked a scared little girl in a blue and red dress. However she quickly became acquainted and announced that her name was Delite Taylor and that she had been born nine years ago in Harrow, Ontario. Since that very day this small brunette has become popular among her friends, and while in high school she has been a member of Leaders' Club, likewise taking a very active part in class sports. She has been the accompanist of the Boys' Glee Club and quartet and the Girls Double Bass for about three years and is herself a member of the Girls' Glee Club. Delite has led the boys a merry chase. While in school and has never quite been able to decide she liked the best. At present however her attentions are for "Packy" alone. Delite's greatest ambition is to become an interior decorator and she plans to go to Ypsilanti to school next year. "Delly" spends most of her leisure time playing tennis, in dancing, and in sewing.

WILLIAM THAMS

William Thams was born on December 29, 1916. He hails from the woolly west, coming from Fargo, North Dakota. He has black hair and brown eyes. Bill devotes his spare time to stamp collecting and golf and plans to take up some form of science for his life work. He has been quite an ardent admirer of many high school girls but "Buz" seems to have him in her grasp at the present time. Bill has been in the Drama Club and Glee Club. And was also one of the cast in the Junior Play in 1932.

KATHRYN WATERMAN

This young lady was born in the town of almost the same name on July 13, 1915. Her favorite pastime is sewing and reading. She is a commercial student and therefore after she graduates she wants to but this into the hands of a librarian. Kathryn has always lived in Waterford and has attended school here for the past four years being a member of the Glee Club during that time. She tells us she has no particular boy-friend but we wonder!

BEATRICE WENDT

Beatrice Wendt, who is a dark haired girl with blue eyes and long dark eyebrows, was born on May 3, 1916 in Detroit, Michigan. She was about five years old when she moved to farm on the Wayne Road but after living there a few years returned to Detroit. About seven years ago she decided she liked sewing and consequently moved back and has lived here ever since. She is quite an artist we must admit. Remember how hard she tried to make the J-H-S Senior Prom a success? At the present time she is working hard on the Plythean. Dancing and painting are her favorite pastimes. She is going to go to college in the fall. This fall to learn to be a cosmetologist if either Lynnie or Russ does not change her mind.

KATHLEEN WASMUND

Kathleen Wasmund, "Rusty" to her friends, was born in Detroit, Michigan, June 30, 1916. About four years ago she moved to Rosedale and attended Plymouth high school in the 9A. She was a member of the Commercial club in '31, '32 of the Vocational club in '31, '32 and of the Travel club in '33. Dancing and reading are her favorite pastimes, but she also gives a great deal of her time to Earl. Is he the young man who brings her flowers nearly every Sunday? Last year at camp this young lady was standing in a boat near the shore when suddenly someone jerked the boat into the water. She yelled for help and imagine her embarrassment when told the water was only two feet deep!

JANE WHIPPLE

This charming, little lady, who can often be seen hurrying through the halls of the third floor, first made her entrance into the world in Detroit, on September 27, 1916. Swimming, hiking and sewing are her sports, although she hopes to be able to play tennis sometime in the future. Next year Jane expects to go to college and major in store work which will probably lead to her ambition of being a buyer in a large department store. Her main interest is a well known Plymouth high alumnus, but we have noticed lately that special affinity has been given her by a certain blond sophomore. She has attended school here for five years and at various times has been a member of Camp Fire Girls, Girl Reserves, Pilgrim Prints staff, and Drama club. She has also taken part in Stunt nights, in class sports receiving her school letter, and had the leading role in both the Junior and Senior plays.

Golf Team Defeats Northville

Because of steady improvement the golf team was able to defeat Northville last week Thursday, May 3 at the Plymouth Country Club. Although McLaughlin made a fine score of seventy-seven, Plymouth was able, by each member keeping their scores low to win from her neighbor rival, Burley, 82; McAllister, 94; Kinsey, 90; Williams, 94. Schrader, 99; Dickerson, 100; McLaughlin, 77; Davis, 103.

Rocks Swamp Howell Nine 26-3

The Rock's baseball team trounced Howell in one score game last Friday night by the score 26 to 3. The local team took advantage of the fine weather and smacked out twenty-two hits and scored twenty-six runs. Howell had only three hits with as many runs. After being out of two games with a sore arm Bassett started for Plymouth and gave them only three scattered hits. He struck out seven men and Levandowski, who pitched the last two innings, struck out three men and allowed no hits. Levandowski had a perfect day at bat being up six times with four hits and two walks. McNulty had two out of two also. The Rocks knocked two Howell pitchers out of the box while scoring their twenty-six runs. Summary:

Anti-Heckling

Well we have something on Brother Dean Herrick and little William Swadling again. Dean and Bill are the two head teachers in their school for teaching girls to drive. (Better take the sign out of your car Dean. The one that says, "Get your ashes hauled by us," or something.) Betty Wilkie has a new red headed boy friend and is he wearing down the sidewalk between his house and hers? Pussyfoot Killawatts, Speed, Flash, Wilcox (and all other names you might know him by) went roller skating with one of the good looking freshman girls. Wilcox said that he thought all the girls were going on a strike

Central Grade School Notes

Twelve students in this class were on the honor roll for the last marking period.

Competition Column

Election time is soon to be upon us, as Calvin Coolidge or someone like that would have said. You are going to hear a lot about how the present governor has a huge bank account which he has gained from the bribes, but don't you believe it. After orating recently in this city, Governor Comstock told Junius II in an exclusive interview that there was nothing to it. Furthermore, he offered to sign a blank check to prove that his name meant nothing to the bankers. Now Wilcox, if you want to beat that, inter-view the president or Dillinger. Here's the announcement that we mentioned last week: today the Competition Column, under new management is three weeks old—think of it, three weeks of active service. The editors of the Plymouth Mail have promised to put out a special issue when we celebrate our first one hundred years.

Mr. Bently asked his students on a recent test what the biggest insect they had ever seen was. At least four persons are reported to have answered, "Jack Wilcox." While strolling through the halls, Junius observed Elaine Shingleton about to smash Thomas Brock's head open for mentioning her name in the late issue. For poor Thomas' sake, we will say once and for all that he doesn't write this column. At least three people have charged him with that evil. As for Wilcox, better known as Old Man of the Sea, your guess of Jimmie was even farther off. Today we start a new service. The information bureau which will answer any questions submitted by readers. Question: Can you tell me when Skipper's birthday is? E. M. Answer: No chance of spanking Lloyd. His birthday falls on July 3.

Freshman Party

The last class dance this year will be given by the Freshmen on Friday night. The music will be furnished by the Four Barons. This orchestra played last semester at the first freshman dance and the last senior dance. It was a huge success. The class is well on its way to the one hundred dollar goal it set and needs your support at the dance. Come and have a good time.

Through the courtesy of the Hershey Chocolate company the students of Plymouth high school were shown a very interesting talking picture at a general assembly, May 3. The picture was entitled, "The Gift of Montezuma" and it was composed of scenes taken in the Hershey factory at Hershey, Pennsylvania. The various processes in the making of cocoa and candy were shown in detail. This picture was both interesting and educational to the students.

The sinking of the "Guerriere" by "Old Ironsides" was a severe jolt to British naval self-esteem. Previously the British had been used to defeating the French and Spanish after giving them great odds. Now they found themselves confronted by an upstart enemy who challenged British superiority on even terms.

"I cut Mileage Costs 12% -with Your New SUPER-SHELL" says MR. DOOLITTLE, CHICAGO. THOUSANDS have changed to this "Super-charged" gasoline to get the extra power, pick-up and mileage in every gallon of Super Shell. WHEN YOU have a gasoline with as many as 6900 extra power charges in every gallon, you have a motor fuel that motorists are going to talk about. And everywhere drivers are saying: "These extra power charges in your improved new Super Shell give me quicker pick-up, more power, and extra mileage!" We knew you motorists would like Super Shell. Because, first, we questioned 200,000 of you motorists and found out what you wanted in a gasoline. Then, we made the exact gasoline you asked for, by developing a new refining process which actually "re-makes" the chemical structure of gasoline. Here is a gasoline that is different. So different you can feel it in the surge of power when you pass cars on the road. So much better that many motorists tell us they are getting as high as 1, 2, or 3 extra miles per gallon. If you haven't tried Super Shell we invite you to today. No price increase. "WE'RE SAVING MONEY," says Mrs. A. S. Terry, Detroit. "I watch our gasoline bills like a hawk, and since changing to Super Shell we use fewer gallons every week." Super-SHELL JAMES AUSTIN OIL CO. Wayne, Michigan

THE GREAT INHERITANCE

By ANNE CAMPBELL

THOU hast promised me an inheritance
More treasured than silver and gold,
More beautiful than the precious jewels
My dazzled eyes behold,
Thou hast promised me, Thou hast promised me,
A luxury untold.

In my Father's house, Thou hast promised me,
There are mansions for my soul,
Where the curtains of worldly doubt and fear
Thy healing, scarred hands roll,
Thou hast promised me, Thou hast promised me,
A bright and stary goal!

Thou hast promised me an inheritance
When done with earthly strife,
A boon to make a journey fair
That with threatening clouds is rife,
Thou hast promised me, Thou hast promised me,
The gift of eternal life!

THE CHILDREN'S LUNCH BOX

WHERE the child must carry a lunch at school, every effort should be made to make the food appetizing. Fresh fruit when it is possible, should always be included. Jams, jellies, dried fruits such as raisins, prunes and raisins or dates will help out when apples, oranges and fresh fruits are not available.

Fruit Paste.

Thoroughly wash chopped dates, raisins, dry figs and hickory nuts with orange juice and a little cream. Spread generously on thin, buttered bread.

Quick Orange Jam.

Take two cups of orange pulp and juice, one lemon, pulp and juice, and one and one-half quarts of sugar. Boil ten minutes. Put into jelly glasses and seal. Serve in sandwiches or with toast. A small glass of this jam makes a dainty addition to the lunch basket.

For a wholesome sandwich spread one slice of the buttered bread with orange marmalade and the other with cottage cheese. Put together and wrap in waxed paper.

Annual Clean-Up And Paint-Up To Start Monday

would be most effective in stopping the paper scattering. Sixth, we can really beautify Plymouth by tearing out some of the unsightly trees which are a menace to our sewer system; a typical example is the ugly row on the east side of Harvey street between Penniman avenue and Ann Arbor. Seventh, we can beautify Plymouth by planting more trees along our streets and in our yards. Eighth, we can make inexpensive corner plantings of shrubs to eliminate the ugliness of cut corners and bare ground. Ninth, we need to use more flowers and shrubs in front of our homes, if Plymouth is to be really a city beautiful. Tenth, every citizen and every merchant can wash windows and keep sidewalks swept as a permanent part of the beautification plan.

Some of these clean-up suggestions must be carried out by the city government, some by the school. Eight, we depend entirely upon the pride and initiative of individual citizens. If we all work together, we can truly clean-up, paint-up and beautify Plymouth.

A miscellaneous shower was given Miss Helen Walter at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wilson Sr., on Starweather avenue recently. A number of friends and relatives presented the bride to be with many lovely gifts. A lovely lunch served and all departed wishing the bride and groom a happy and prosperous wedded life.

Tell Turkey Growers How To Make More Money Off Gobblers

Michigan turkey growers can improve the returns from their business if they will investigate the possibilities of marketing the birds at other times than the turkey sales before Thanksgiving and Christmas, according to the poultry department at Michigan State College.

Summer visitors are one class of people who are ready to buy turkey at times other than the two holidays and Michigan has a marked advantage in selling to these people. Growers in other states can not afford to make shipments of small lots of birds but Michigan flock owners can make a nice profit from supplying the demand at local hotels and restaurants, if they will grow choice, early birds.

The College poultry department advises feeding a good growing mash. One which can be mixed at home is made up of turkey dried milk, 10 pounds soy meal, 2 pounds calcium carbonate, 1 pound salt, and 1 pound smit. The Commission for the year 1933-34 adjourned sine die.

MORE THAN 50% MORE NON-SKID MILEAGE The NEW Firestone AIR BALLOON for 1934 The new Firestone Air Balloon for 1934 embodies all the improvements in the new Firestone High Speed Tire. The lower air pressure provides maximum traction and riding comfort. Gum-Dipping safety-locks the cords, providing 30 to 40% greater deflection and blowout protection. Get 1935 low swung style by equipping your car today with these new tires and wheels in colors to match your car. FREE TRIAL ON YOUR CAR.

THE ADHESION TEST Note how the rubber in a Firestone tire clings to the high stretch cords. This greater adhesion is made possible by Gum-Dipping which soaks the cords in liquid rubber, and saturates and coats the millions of fibers inside the cords. THE ACID TEST To be positive that rubber penetrates every cord and coats every fiber, a solution of sulphuric acid which quickly destroys cotton but not rubber, is shown in test tubes with Firestone Gum-Dipped fibers and fibers from any other tire made. Firestone gum-dipped fibers withstand the acid because they are the only fibers that are insulated with rubber, minimizing friction and heat, the deadly enemy of their life. ROAD AND TRACK TEST The extra strength—longer wear—greater traction—more non-skid safety—and greater blowout protection of Firestone High Speed Tires are the results of the most severe road and track tests. These have made possible the outstanding world records on road and track.
