Miss Dora Gallimore Given High Praise Recital Appearance

The following write-up of the recent recital given in Pease Auditorium at Ypsilanti in which Miss Dora Mary Gallimore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Gallimore of Plymouth was a participant, taken from the Ypsilanti Press will be of interest to her many Plymouth friends:

The recital in Pease Auditorium Friday evening, was most enjoyable and of high content. It was given by Kathleen Grant, who is graduating in piano at the Conservatory this year, has had a rather unique experience for her graduation recital for she played a part of it a week ago.

More honor, more lovely flowers, more applause and congratulations were her due last evening, as she played the concluding number of her program: "Allegro" movement from Beethoven's "Concerto in E Flat." Mr. Fossenkemper conducting the Normal College Little Symphony played the orchestral accompaniment. It is a splendid thing, brilliant, pensive, dreaming, by turns, and Miss Grant's touch was warmly understanding.

Dora Mary Gallimore, another music graduate this year, has a sweet contralto voice of considerable richness. The stories of her songs were plainly spoken so often that it was almost as if she were in the audience.

She merited the lovely roses which were brought to her after her first group of songs—"The Song of Momus to Mars," "Dr. Boyce," "Come raggi di sol," "Caldara," Schubert's "Who is Sylvia," and "Printemps qui commence." Mrs. Ann Smith, "Samsa et Della." Another group of songs by Miss Gallimore included the Old Scotch "Turn ye to me," the Old English "Hills was a fair maid," "Test's "Bondage," "Clouds" by Charles; and "Yesterday and Today," Spross.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Alshouse of Adrian called on Mrs. Sheldon Gale Sunday.

Announcement Party For Miss Ruth Allison Is Delightful Event

One of the most interesting events of the week was the wedding announcement party Thursday evening given by Mrs. Ernest J. Allison in the crystal room of the Hotel Mayflower complimenting her daughter, Ruth. The room was beautiful with the many baskets of spices and deep blue iris placed about it and in the center was a table covered with a lovely lace cloth centered with a large bowl of snapdragons and lilies of the valley flanked with green candles.

On opening the playing cards for bridge the guests at each table found another card announcing the marriage of Miss Allison to John Guild Staude of Aurora, Illinois on September 23, 1933. A lunch daintily served completed a most happy evening.

The following guests were present: Mrs. Staude, the honoree, Mrs. Ruth Wells Staude of Aurora, Illinois, Miss Dorothy Traphagen, Mrs. John Low, Mrs. Marie Miller Waters of Detroit, Mrs. Katherine Wilcox Thompson of Ann Arbor, Miss Julia Wilcox of Toledo, Ohio, Miss Julia Schrader of Northville, Miss Reva Derby of Clare, Miss Marguerite Bower of Hillsdale, Mrs. Basil Carney of Yale, Miss Barbara Horton, Miss Barbara Bake, Miss Margaret Dunning, Miss Virginia Giles, Miss Elizabeth Burrows, Miss Janet Blickenstaff, Miss Edna Allen, Miss Elsie Melow, Mrs. Rhea Peck Michener, Mrs. George H. Wilcox, Mrs. Allan Ray, Mrs. P. Schrader, Mrs. C. H. Rauch, Mrs. Arthur White, Mrs. Raymond Bachelder, Mrs. Bessie Dunning, Mrs. Roy Crowe, Mrs. Harold Brisibols, Mrs. M. G. Blunk, Mrs. Lew Price and Mrs. J. M. O'Connor.

Mr. and Mrs. Staude will make their home in Tulsa, Oklahoma where Mr. Staude has been transferred.

Transportation Unit Organized

Rail Men Seek Equality In Rail-Highway Shipments

At a recent meeting held in Bever's hall on the north side, employees of the Pere Marquette and Michigan Central railroads met to discuss the transportation unit.

The object of the organization is for the purpose of sponsoring proper legislation for the equalization and control of all forms of transportation.

Members of the organization, who are chiefly railroad workers, point out that hundreds of jobs have been lost by railroad men and others are imperiled by the unfair competition now being given by Michigan and some other states to motor transportation.

They point out that railroads build and maintain their own rights of way and do not seek a penny from the public for the maintenance of these great transportation lines that traverse the state in every direction.

In addition to providing their own rights of way these same Michigan railroads last year paid into the state treasury for the primary school fund a total of $7,829,198.00.

Wayne county received the largest share of this money, the railroads paid a total of $2,829,634.

H. M. Ready and E. F. Cary, members of the executive committee conducted the meeting which was largely attended.

They pointed out that the league program does not in any way affect the public built and public supported roads they pointed out, have a most unfair advantage over the railroads and it is their hope that legislation can be enacted which will bring about a more equal condition.

The new organization now has over 300,000 members in Michigan. Seventy units have already been organized and they hope to have over a thousand members in the local unit.

Officers elected are Sterling Eaton, Plymouth, president; George Gerbstadt, Wayne, vice president; Elmer E. Ferris, Northville, vice president; Frank J. Hutchinson, Wayne, vice president and John C. Gilles, Plymouth, secretary. Mr. Gerbstadt is president of the village of Wayne.

A very pleasant time was spent at the home of Mrs. Alice Evans 1432 W. Ann Arbor St. when the members of the Smilewhite Club walk in Saturday night, to celebrate her birthday, the club presented her with a beautiful amber flower vase set in wrought-iron frame, the evening was spent in cards and music. Ben Stewart and Mrs. David carrying off first prizes, and Mrs. Ed Parker, secretary, and Mrs. Gottschalk were consoled.

Old Timers To Return For Event On Evening Of June 8 At The High School Auditorium

President Lynn Partridge of the Plymouth high school alumni association this week announced that committee to charge of the annual banquet of the association had completed all details for the affair to be held Friday evening, June 8, at 8:30 o'clock in the high school auditorium.

Not only have all arrangements been completed, but the officials have been fortunate in securing as the chief speaker of the evening Harold E. Emmons, outstanding attorney of Detroit, who has consented to come here and bring with him highly prized motion pictures he secured on his recent trip through the heart of Africa.

It will be recalled that Mr. Emmons was a guest a few months ago of the Plymouth Rotary and Kiwanis clubs. At that time he showed a few picture slides that were entirely different than the usual run of such photographs. Those who have had the opportunity of seeing the motion pictures he made in the heart of Africa declare that few such interesting pictures have ever been shown on the screen.

Attorney Perry Richwine has been selected as toastmaster for the banquet. Evered Jolliffe will extend to the class of 1934 a welcome into the association. The response will be made by Oscar Luttermoser, president of the senior class.

Music will be provided by the Plymouth - Northville quartet composed of Pierre Kenyon, Alfred Smith, Leslie Lee and Alfred Smith. Miss Barbara Bake will be the accompanist.

For the dance which will follow the banquet Strasen's orchestra has been secured. The association president and other officials believe that this year's attendance will be a record breaker, not only because of the excellence of the program but because so many of the former graduates have indicated a desire to return and mingle with their old schoolmates once more. Tickets can be secured at the Community Pharmacy and Dodge Drug Stores.

Postiff started and won his first game of the season by letting the Detroit boys down with nine hits.

T. Levandowski led the boys with the stick by getting two hits in three attempts at the plate.

Next Sunday, June 3rd the Plymouth boys meet the strong East Windsor team at Windsor. The players and fans will leave Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Wood on Main street north.

The Handicap bridge club had a most enjoyable co-operative dinner and evening of bridge Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Wood on Main street north.

Bank Officials Urge Return Of Blanks At Once

Government Asks Quick Action If Pay-Off Is To Be Made Here

First National Bank Moratorium Holders Have Chance To Get 50 Percent Of Cash

Officials of the First National bank announced yesterday that considerably over sixty percent of the moratorium agreement holders had already signed the consent blanks that the government is requiring before it will provide the funds to the bank for the payment of one half of their deposits covered by the moratorium agreements.

A few, it is stated, do not fully realize that if they do not take advantage of this offer that the federal comptroller of currency has sanctioned that it will be necessary for them to wait until the bank can through liquidation of some of its holdings, make these payments. How many years it will take to bring this about no one knows.

It is for that reason that those who favor the government plan now being sponsored by the bank, hope that all of the moratorium agreement holders will immediately return their blanks to the bank.

As the government has fixed a definite time for this to be done in bank officials strongly urge that the blanks be signed and returned as soon as possible. They hope to have them all in by the last of next week.

Those who have investigated the plan feel that the bank officials who have been able to secure the federal consent to the proposed pay-off are entitled to much credit for what they have done. For weeks representatives of the bank and Depositors Committee have been consulting with the government banking officials and have at last devised a plan for government aid to the depositors who signed the moratorium agreements.

While it has been stated in all the matter mailed out by the bank that there was a sure payment of at least 50 percent of the old deposits, it is stated that this amount will be at least 50 percent at once, minus the portion already paid.

If the consent blanks are signed and returned for this proposed money release, the funds to be provided chiefly by the government, it will also provide for the old depositors the same federal plan for government aid to the depositors who signed the moratorium agreements.

Bank officials are urging that the consent blanks be signed and returned immediately by those who have not yet done so.

Two Killed In Auto Accident

Accident On Schoolcraft Road Wednesday Evening

Donald Martin, 28 years old, of Northville, an employe of the Detroit Edison company, well known in Plymouth, was instantly killed Wednesday evening at the corner of Schoolcraft and Farmington roads when the automobile in which he was riding was struck by a machine driven by Harold Ebert of Detroit, who was also killed.

Martin, accompanied by Arthur Ebert of Northville, a near neighbor of Frank Hill, were driving toward Plymouth from Detroit.

Daniel Majecke, Mrs. Majecke and their baby son were in the car with Ebert. All of them were injured. Mrs. Majecke's appeals to the children is the one that the parents are sure to read.

Let me tell you, Sterling, that had you been at the store during that hot day in Washington, you as big a kick out of it as I did. Imagine two girls giving out nearly two hundred and fifty "hot dog" sandwiches in one hour. I really had them sample here of a kiddie party with plenty of noise and one yelling at the other. America Has No Reason To Fear The Years Ahead

Memorial Day Speaker Says Rugged Individualism Will Save Us

"Rugged individualism—the kind that Washington and Lincoln possessed—the kind that has brought the country out of every emergency ever faced—is the greatest need of America today. It is the thing too that will bring this country out of the crisis it is now passing through," declared C. J. Smith, former United States district attorney and now Detroit lawyer in the Memorial day address delivered here.

Nearly 600 people crowded the Pennington-Allyn theatre to take part in the exercises that were held in honor of the fallen heroes of the nation. Veterans of the world war were there in uniform—and Plymouth's only survivor of the Rebellion of 1861 was on the platform. Arthur Stevens, with Mrs. Stevens, occupied honor positions.

It was a glowing tribute that Rev. Walter Nichol paid to this study old and young, the pioneer of Plymouth. Rev. Nichol told not only of his services to the nation during one of its great emergencies, but he pointed out the long and distinguished service that Mr. Stevens has rendered the Presbyterian church of Plymouth.

He has held, every position within our organization and he has served with credit to himself and with credit to himself and the church," said Rev. Nichol. "We have now honored him by electing him to life membership in one of the positions he has served so well and long."

Oliver Goldsmith presided as chairman of the meeting. He had proceeded with the program to the introduction of the introduction of the day when, overcome with emotion of the occasion, he sank back in his chair in a faint and had to be carried from the stage.

Rev. Nichol said to it that there was no interruption on the program. He introduced Mr. Smith, telling brief of his energetic services in some of the important public positions he has held.

Mr. Smith declared no one should worry about conditions of today. "The things that are being done, there is no need for alarm, because America has always righted itself and it will do so now."

Following the exercises, the young men who had had much to do with winning that victory set about to create a permanent form of government. They gave to us the best of government, the most enduring form of government the world has ever known. True there has been some things done in the past few years to cause us alarm, but there is no need for it, not in this land where individual liberty and freedom have been born into the lives of every one of us," he said.

Following the exercises in the theatre, the various groups headed by the Plymouth high school band, marched to beautiful Riverside cemetery where additional honors were paid to each fallen hero.

COMMUNICATION

Editor Plymouth Mail: Even though I made up my mind before leaving that I would dismiss everything pertaining to business during my short stay here, I cannot but feel that there is yet to be done job and that is to tell you a thing or two about the children's party I held at my store last Thursday. It was announced in the Plymouth Mail in my ad of the week before. Undoubtedly you know that I have never missed advertising even in one issue of the Plymouth Mail for nearly seven years and there was always the question in my mind as to whether or not I was using the right method of advertising, so I decided on a children's party, not only to have them sample our own manufactured meat products but also to see how many of them read the Plymouth Mail, since it was always my belief that if they read the paper it appeals to the children is the one that the parents are sure to read.

Let me tell you, Sterling, that had you been at the store during that hot day in Washington, you as big a kick out of it as I did. Imagine two girls giving out nearly two hundred and fifty "hot dog" sandwiches in one hour. I really had them sample here of a kiddie party with plenty of noise and one yelling at the other. "You had one already, you don't you get at the end of the line."

NO LONGER PROPHECY

There has been continued evidence that this nation is definitely emerging from the depression that has beset it. Now come heads of two of the country's biggest industrial units and the chief of the government's most powerful financial agency, to declare that recovery is no longer a prophecy but a fact.

Myron C. Taylor, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation and Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., president of General Motors Corporation, agree that industrial recovery is under way with irresistible force, and Jesse Jones, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, says that bankers are now trying to make loans, that money can be borrowed through normal channels more easily, and that there is hope for government support is less than anticipated.

These are not idle gestures from self-appointed apostles of optimism such as have been pointing around the corner ever since 1929, but are expressions from hard-boiled business men and government officials who are accustomed to weigh their words carefully, and who were, in the main, talking to their stock holders in the knowledge that their messages must hold water, else their judgment would be questioned.

What they say that accentuates the myriad evidences of industry about to be restored, observed by all of us. Business is breathing more freely again and the death-rattle in embattled industry is not audible any more. On every side we see that this is so, and there is an air of confidence about men on the street, that was absent a year ago.

There is something more than the completion of a cycle involved. Whatever our partisan leanings, we must admit that this could not have been brought about by any policy of watchful waiting. Action was needed, and a courageous leader blazed a new trail from the wilderness. The way has been rough, very rough in places, and we have suffered severe bumps and jolts to what we thought was a permanently established order.

If these giants of industry will only ponder the strength that helped them to their feet again, and with them the man on the street, if they will join hands with their government in profiting from the errors and in building upon the safe principles of the various recovery units, the nation may be saved a repetition of the disaster that has caused a great deal of suffering and tragedy.

There is the prediction that when Congress adjourns, industry and business will hitch the belt notch tighter, and heave us all to still higher grounds.—Record, Statesville, N. C.

RESTORING CONFIDENCE

The "handwriting on the wall" seems to indicate that unless the banks of the country loosen up their credit policies the government is going to provide ways and means of extending credit to small industries. Such a step may be taken but it would be unnecessary if the bankers would resume their normal place in the business world.

According to authentic sources, the banks of the United States are bursting with deposits and idle funds are so plentiful that the bankers themselves can turn no profit, while trade and industry are working practically on a day-to-day basis without the credit facilities that are vital to business growth and normal progress.

The problem seems to resolve itself into the failure of the bankers to lend on character rather than on collaterals. The character of the borrower is none too plentiful. The development of this great western empire would have been slow indeed if credit had been extended to the pioneer settlers only on gilt-edged security. Character as a basis for financial credit played a major part in the early days and its restoration would do much to speed recovery from the depression.

This is primarily a local problem, not one to be solved in Washington or New York. If character is to play its logical part in business relationships, then these transactions must be local in nature. They must have the spirit of neighborliness in them. They must be a manifestation of confidence as between friends in a common purpose, the development and progress of the community.

Neighbors must accept each other's promises at their face value. When that is done, fear will be banished and the depression will be over.—Irrigat' or, Selma, Cal.

SMALL TOWN INDUSTRY

Many students of the trend of industry believe that as a result of ever-increasing congestion in the great centers of population, the next few years will witness an increasing movement of factories to less crowded sections. This movement is, in fact, already going on, and many large manufacturing plants are now located in comparatively small towns. As a complement to this, it is also believed that farmers will gradually come to live more and more in organized communities, when good roads shall make it possible to go to and from their farms with greater facility. Under such a combination of conditions, agriculture and industry would be brought into closer contact, to the benefit of both. In fact, as Henry Ford suggests, with the growing use of machine and electricity on the farm, less labor will be required, and a part of the farmer's time may be employed in industrial pursuits. Something of this sort may be the ultimate solution of the farmer's problems, through increasing his earning capacity and consequently his standard of living.—Republican, Red Wing, Minn.

WAGES FIRST TO LABOR

It is urged by the "brain trust" that any industry that cannot produce and sell goods in this country as cheaply as similar goods can be produced abroad, should be sold here. An inefficient industry, says Representative Daniel A. Reed of New York. "Furthermore, it is urged by the advocates of the measure granting the president the tariff making power that to permit 120,000,000 to buy in the cheapest market will be to their advantage. This theory overlooks the fundamental economic fact that the true gain of every country is ample wages to the laborer. The laboring classes are the nation; they are the producers, and they are the great consumers. It is their expenditures that have made our own market the greatest and best cash market in the world. To buy in the cheapest foreign market under a rule of unrestricted competition would reduce the purchasing power of the United States to the level of that nation which pays the lowest wage."—Gazette, Stillwater, Minn.

THE PROPER WAY

"If the destitute rural family needs a house, a cow, work implements, or what-not—just so and do it," Harry L. Hopkins, Federal Emergency Relief Administrator, told State relief directors from the Mid-west in conference at Indianapolis recently.

"We get all balled up because we get too formal about it," said Mr. Hopkins. "In fact, it is fairly simple. These destitute families must have some land, or some new land. You rent land, you buy land, you digger for land, and I can see that going on now, especially down South. All over the South.

Another thing that we will get too formal about and get to scaring people to death," said the Administrator, "is building a new house for a man, just a simple house. It is amazing how many of these people will build their own houses if they have half a chance. They can repair houses, they can put new roofs on."

"As for tools and equipment and livestock, the North Carolina Relief Administration bought a thousand mules last winter. They buy chickens, cows, and farm equipment that the family may need and they give it or lend it to the family, depending on what seems best."

Six hundred thousand farm families are on the relief rolls, and Mr. Hopkins said it is not likely they will acquire an "independent economy" merely by work on the land.

"I believe that along with that there has got to be an opportunity and earn cash income," he declared, "and that means planned public works."

"A lot of people don't like the word planned, they are afraid of it, timid. Well, we are coming to it, sure as you are born. In my opinion, we are coming to a point where every job on the State highways in America from coast to coast is going to be deliberately planned for and given to people on the basis of their own particular needs. We are going to stop the stop and go politicalization of highway departments of America. We are not going to get home with this relief unless we can tie up a proper share of whatever public works are going to be done in America with farm families' own program and help them to carry them out, ridiculing the thought that "we can simply project our ideas on six hundred thousand farm families."

Mr. Hopkins' experience in relief work, he said, has been that some of the best things have been done when the relief administration took the families' own program and helped them to carry them out, ridiculing the thought that "we can simply project our ideas on six hundred thousand farm families."

The rural relief activities will provide projects to furnish part-time employment, and the administrator urged that this work be to the interest of the rural communities. "Don't let these fellows," he said, "get away with murder any more, such as town supervisors dragging people from rural areas to the towns, fixing up the little roads in the towns; that is something that the town and city people ought to do. Farm-to-market roads, rural school buildings, consolidated school buildings—I can't think of anything that would be better to do as a work program than really to build decent consolidated schools where they are needed. But work should be given to these families only if it is leading them home to self support."

WHY A COMMUNITY NEWSPAPER?

By L. O. KLAYF, R. 2, Carsonville, Mich. (Favorable Mention)

Why have a community newspaper? Why have an automobile or a telephone? Primarily because they are business assets and in this age almost necessities. One could live and get along without them but you can live more fully and get along better if you have them. So it is with a community newspaper.

It is a good thing to be world-minded and to see things in the large, as it were. But it is also a good thing to see things close to you—the little things of everyday life that help make up the life of your community, what they are and that in turn help make your country and the world at large what they are. A community newspaper helps you to see life as it is close around you. A daily paper may give you the news of the world, but they are further removed and do not affect you as often or as closely as the events nearer home. A daily paper may quote you in the market prices of various commodities but they are the prices of the large trade centers and you are usually not as interested in them as you are in the prices of eggs, butter, cream or potatoes in the markets of the nearby towns. A daily paper may bring advertisements of sales and bargains in places where you seldom buy, whereas your community paper keeps you informed of sales and bargains in places near you that you can take advantage of.

The long lists of people seeking jobs that you find in the daily papers means very little to the person living in suburban or country communities who has no need of help, but an add in your county weekly may bring quick and pleasing results. In these days of unstable economic conditions especially are people coming to depend more and more on a system of barter and exchange. What medium is more handy or brings quicker results than the community newspaper for letting your immediate neighbors know of your labor or articles that you have for sale or exchange.

These are matters of business and prove that a community paper is an almost indispensable business asset either for farmers or small town dwellers.

How about the civic and social side of life which even in times of hard pressing economic depressions we can not afford to neglect. The community paper binds together the lives of people in any given locality in a way which no other medium can do. It tends to arouse and keep up a neighborly interest in those around us, and in the affairs of the community in which we live. Projects of civic improvements are advocated and discussed. The paper should serve as an open forum where the fundamentals of democracy can be preserved. Through it we should have a more intelligent citizenry especially affecting the choice of lawmakers and other governing bodies in our own local institutions. This should in turn influence the political machinery of the state and country.

Through the community paper we are kept awake also to the events of social importance concerning the lives of those around us. This not only tends to understanding and sympathy but kindly interest but gives the opportunity to express the same. If we wish, in ways that make life more worthwhile, or tend to "promote the general welfare." The world needs neighborliness and the community newspaper helps to create and foster that much needed quality.

People hold on to their cars and to their telephones as long as they are financially able to do so because they realize their value as an aid to more and better business. Loyal support of the little community paper by subscription, by using it as a medium for your own advertising, and by making use of the advertisements and other articles found in it will do much to build up your own community. Doing this would do much to restore economic stability and keep the foundations of our civic and social life intact.

Ford Lights Up The Exposition

His Display Provides A Torch Of Light A Mile High

What is described as the greatest electrical installation ever made in a single building—a lighting, power and amplifying system which will require 100 miles of electric wiring—is now completed at the Ford Exposition building in Chicago, the largest individual exhibit at the 1934 World's Fair.

One of the most sensational lighting effects ever achieved is a torch of light, 200 feet broad at its base, which will spring from the main floor under the roof on the building rising under a per atmospheric conditions to a height of one mile. The powerful beam is developed through the use of this electrical projector searchlights, resulting in a 30,000,000 candlepower display.

Lighting plays an important part in the scheme of the new Michigan exhibit, which is being designed to demonstrate the scope of the Ford World Empire. The building itself is 900 feet long by 213 feet wide, terminating at the end in a circular court, 204 feet in diameter. A mammoth lighting scheme has been constructed in the outer edge of the court, designed to develop into a circular display, vividly produced with electric lights. One lighting effect will show you how pure white light can be produced with blue, green and red lights are all turned on at full intensity. Dimming equipment for the entire mobile lighting installation weighs twelve and one-half tons and requires 20 miles of wiring.

The entire Ford project, extending over eleven acres of the Fair Grounds along the Lake Michigan shore, will require a load of 6,000 kilowatts, or more than a third of the total electric capacity of the entire World's Fair in 1933. Engineers estimate that 4,000 kilowatts will be required for lighting and 2,000 kilowatts for the power load. More than 225 electric motors will be required to handle the many exhibits, as well as musical entertainment from various sections of the building and from the symphony shell which will be placed in a large landscaped court, will require 250 master loudspeakers, and probably 500 more auxiliary speakers. A new system of amplification will be used, so that listeners at one amplifier will not hear a different program being carried from an amplifier a few feet from them. The amplification will be so designed that no one will be conscious that music he hears is being amplified by loudspeakers.

With all the modern enterprise in electrical effects at the Ford Exposition Building, a contrasting display will be some of the earliest experimental models from which were developed the electrical devices of today. These models will be brought from Henry Ford's museum at Dearborn, where they were placed by Thomas Edison, life-long friend of Mr. Ford.

Ordinarily an eight month's job, the electrical work on the huge Ford project in Chicago is providing new problems for the electrical engineer in the matter of speed. The work was rushed to completion for the opening date of the 1934 Fair. Engineers working on the project said that about 600 new electrical employment over the course of the installation.

NEWBURG

Rev. Townsend chose for his topic Memorial Sunday, "A Man in Truth." He also gave the address at the services held in the cemetery in the afternoon. Next Sunday is communion service.

Plans are being made for Children's day. The Queen Esther Circle will meet at the parsonage Tuesday evening June 5th. Mite boxes will be opened and officers for the new year will be elected. Jane Townsend attended the circus at Ann Arbor Monday, also visited friends in Dexter.

It looked like a serious injury for a time but we are glad to report that Elizabeth was soon out of danger and is again ready with her cheerful smile.

Mrs. Phoebe Jewell a former resident of Newburg and mother of Mrs. Elms Barby was buried at Livonia Center Cemetery, Sunday afternoon.

Randolph Brown of Kalkaska, a former resident of this vicinity was buried in Newburg cemetery Monday afternoon.

Doris Williams has a perfect record in spelling, has 100 per cent in Stanford Spelling Book for this term.

Ad. Lib.

Did you ever get fooled? We did. After saying "good by" etc. last week again we came to clutter up the page.

At aforementioned banquet we thought Butch was chizzling on our old "Friend" Bob (Heckler) Champe but we found that was "tumble bug" himself with a snizzle swollen up with sinus trouble.

Miss Wells had a time keeping people in the lobby hotel at aforementioned banquet. Our advice was "Keep the girls in the lobby and the boys will take care of themselves."

Remember our slogan throughout the summer, and it will help you as it has in school. In case it has slipped your mind it is: What's a column between friends. Junius II.

The sad time of the year has come to the high school's seniors. Some of them were glad we're rid of. Not mentioning any names. The seniors are not the only sad ones. Among the lower classmen are Myrilla Savery, B. J. Housley, Norval Bovee, Dorothy Hobbins, and others.

Competition Column

This being the last issue of the Competition Column for the year, it is fitting that we do a bit of reminiscing over the occurrences of the past year and the year before and before that.

Probably Mr. Bentley is still wondering what Don Thrall meant by the "conversation of birds" which he mentioned on one of those internal biology units. Don will say that he meant conservation, but don't believe it. If Junius can be of any aid to poor Bentley, he will try to solve the problem. It is probably what Miss Lovewell means when she tells smoozing students to "wake up and hear the birds," on the other hand, it may be the influence of Pat McKinnon.

Junius' experience as a columnist has been most agreeable. He wishes to thank his many contributors whose aid has made the columns a possibility and he wants particularly to thank the chap who told Junius that he read the column now and then. Net gains from column one ice cream cone, one note book, one golf ball, several nickels and dimes, and ten threatened black eyes.

In departing Junius has but one regret, he shall miss Wilcox's jokes. They were just like meeting old friends. Remember our slogan throughout the summer, and it will help you as it has in school. In case it has slipped your mind it is: What's a column between friends. Junius II.

Anti-Heckling

Greetings! Everyone? We were given a break and what a break it was. Another edition of the last, so listen carefully with widely open ears. The Drama Club party was a great success. Everyone ran all over town for just little slips of paper which only told them to go to the president's house, meaning of course Wilcox. The evening was enjoyed by playing games and dancing to the music of Sammy Watkins (WWJ).

If anyone would have entered room 12 last week they would have thought it a picture gallery of the seniors. In fact it was and the most interesting of all was Sam Knapp. Rosie West looked just too cute for words and Schoonboy Partridge came next for having the best profile. What pictures, exact facsimiles. (There how do you like that four syllable word? It's education!)

Myrilla and Lee Card should have won a prize for being the last ones to find Wilcox's house at the Drama Club party. When reading notes of importance, Wilcox should read more carefully. Just to distinguish between the names Mother and Murton. Be careful in Bentley's room, he is looking for mice and setting them with mouse traps. Until next year we say, "Thanks and to prove it I sign it." Anti-Heckler.

Our Churches

ST. PETER'S EV. LUTHERAN CHURCH

Edgar Hoenecke, Pastor
 Sunday, June 3rd, 10:30 a. m.
MEMORIAL SERVICE for our Christian Dead. If you have experienced the loss of one dear to your heart, and if your heart goes back in memory to scenes of happier days, when you were still together in this life, and you desire to pay tribute to their memories, then you should attend this service. It is especially designed for you. We read: "And I heard a voice from Heaven saying unto me: Write—Heaven says the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth: Yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labors; and their works do follow them."

The Mission Rally has met with success. With a $20 donation from the Sunday School children, who have saved their pennies so that the Gospel might be preached also to the children of other lands, where strange gods are still being worshipped in terrible, strange ways, and with the help of the Ladies' Mission Society, which has been faithful and untiring in its efforts under the able direction and leadership of Mrs. Adolph Kehrl, we will have but upwards of forty dollars to raise during June to finish out our quota of $600 for the year, beginning July 1st, 1934 and ending June 30th, 1934. Some of us have done nobly in helping to do our duty, and others among us will remember that also the art of Christian giving is a matter between the conscience of the Christian and his Lord, knowing that one day He shall call all men to account on the basis of His own Word: "Inasmuch as ye have, or have not done it unto the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto Me." Read Matthew 25:31-46. And to all those faithful servants who have learned what is the will of the Lord and have performed it, we extend our heart-felt gratitude and the Lord's boundless blessing. "Well art thou good and faithful servant; thou hast been faithful over few things, I will make thee ruler over many things; enter thou into the joy of thy Lord." Read Matthew 25:14-30.

But to you who did not know and who still desire to do your share in bringing a sacrifice of love and thanksgiving, the MONTH OF JUNE lies before you. June 17th terminates all possibility of bringing the offering for this year's quota.

The Ladies' Aid Society will meet on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30.
 The Church Council of the Congregation will meet Wednesday evening at 8:00.
 Having returned from Milwaukee, where we attended a meeting for the Advancement of our Work through Institutions and Missions, we are happy to report favorable results achieved through the general introduction of our Michigan Plan for collecting and controlling remittances for our Synodical Budget. In one month a running expense deficit of $27,000 was cut down to $12,000. It is wonderful to think that 150,000 communicant members of our church are co-operating more intelligently and faithfully than ever before UNDER ONE COMMON PLAN with one common cause at heart, and that the Lord is granting us His blessing.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES
 "Soul and Body" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, May 27.
 Bible citations was this passage (Rom. 12:1): "I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, which is your reasonable service."
 Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p. 311): "So long as we believe that soul can sin or that immortal Soul is in mortal body, we can never understand the Science of being. When humanity does understand this Science, it will become the law of Life to man, — even the higher law of Soul, which prevails over material sense through harmony and immortality."

There are two ways of travel according to the scripture. One the way sin and death, the other the way of eternal life through Jesus Christ. We must choose one of these two ways. One brings sadness, sorrow, sickness and death, and that eternal death. The other brings joy, peace, happiness and the gift of eternal life. Which way have you chosen. For the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord. Rom. 6:23.

CHURCH OF THE OPEN DOOR
 (Independent Baptist)
 A young man who was struggling to let the Lord have His way in his life knelt to pray. He had been advised to "Let God do the work for him." But as he was kneeling, he cried, "I want to let God have His way, but I can't."

The day before he had cut out of paste-board the letters "LET GOD" and tacked them on the wall. He rose from his knees and with a feeling of defeat and despair, he left the room and slammed the door with a bang, saying, "I can't let God."

On his return to his room, he was startled to note that the slam of the door had loosened the letter "O" on the wall and causing it to fall to the floor, and changing the motto to "LET GO."

"I will, I will, Lord Jesus," he cried and threw himself on his knees at the side of his bed. "I will let go and let God," and he did. (Sel.)

Dear friend have you Let Go and Let God? Have you given Him full sway in your life? God has said in His Word, "For he hath made him to be sin for us, who knew no sin; that we might be made the righteousness of God in him." II Corinthians 5:21. Do you know the Lord Jesus Christ as your own personal Savior? If not, there is no better time than this. "Behold now is the accepted time; behold, now is the day of salvation." II Corinthians 6:2.

CHOOSE THE TIRE CHAMPIONS BUY

Firestone

Tires have been on the winning cars in the gruelling Indianapolis 500-Mile Race FOR 15 CONSECUTIVE YEARS

EVERY winner in the 500-Mile Race — the most gruelling tire test in the world — drove to victory on Firestone High Speed Tires. What a tribute to the Extra Strength, Extra Safety, and Blowout Protection of Firestone Tires!

Race drivers know tire construction. They know that heat generated by friction inside the cotton cords that make up the body of the tire, is the greatest enemy of tire life. These men will not risk their lives and chance of victory on any but Firestone Tires, because they know the high stretch cords in every Firestone Tire are protected from friction and heat by the Firestone patented process of Gum-Dipping.

Gum-Dipping is the exclusive Firestone Process which soaks the high stretch cords in liquid rubber and saturates and coats the millions of fibers inside the cords, counteracting destructive friction and heat. Gum-Dipping provides greater adhesion not only between the plies that compose the body of the tire, but between the Gum-Dipped cord body and the tread.

Just as automobile manufacturers have used the Indianapolis Speedway — the greatest testing laboratory in the world — for the development of greater power and speed in automobiles, so have Firestone chemists and engineers kept pace with these improvements by building stronger, safer tires to meet these exacting demands. If your tires are thin and smooth — drive in today and equip your car with new Firestone High Speed Tires for 1934, with deeper, thicker, flatter, and wider non-skid tread, more and tougher rubber, more traction, giving you more than 50% longer non-skid mileage.

Remember, the racing speeds of yesterday are becoming the road speeds of today, and in Firestone High Speed Tires there is Greater Strength — Greater Safety — and Greater Blowout Protection than in any tire made.

THE ADHESION TEST

Note how the rubber in a Firestone Tire clings to the high stretch Gum-Dipped cords. This greater adhesion and strength is made possible by the Firestone patented process of Gum-Dipping.

Note how the rubber in an ordinary tire pulls away from the cords that have not been soaked and insulated with rubber. This causes friction and heat within the cords, resulting in process of Gum-Dipping.

Firestone

AIR BALLOON FOR 1934

The new Firestone Air Balloon for 1934 embodies all the improvements in the new Firestone High Speed Tire. The lower a pressure provides maximum traction and riding comfort. Gum-Dipping safety-locks the cords, providing 30 to 40% greater deflection and blowout protection.

Get 1935 low-riding style by equipping your car today with these new tires, and wheels in colors to match your car.

Why You Should Buy Your Coal NOW--

There have been vast changes in the Coal and Coke Industry since last March. In the mines, at the wholesalers and at the retailers, costs have steadily mounted so that prices next fall will have to be at much higher levels.

1. At the mines, there have been three separate and substantial wage increases and hours have been cut to 35 a week. It will therefore not be possible for you to be certain of coal delivery any time you may run out.

2. In the wholesale field, prices on Smokeless Coke and Anthracite were advanced in May but these increases have not yet been passed on to the consumer.

3. In the retail field, dealers operate under a rigid and inflexible Code which makes every dealer conform in the matter of price, wheeling charges, etc. Each violation carries a fine of $500.

For these reasons, one can readily see that prices must advance. Our advice is to buy and have fuel delivered now before these advances take place.

A Message Of Encouragement TO OUR Depositors

Your co-operation in the proposed new plan for the release of 50% of your ORIGINAL deposit in the bank, is very gratifying as a large percentage of depositors have already given their approval.

We feel sure all depositors will be pleased to give their approval of the plan after they give it their careful consideration.

The only possible way for the bank to make the release at this time is through the assistance of the U. S. Government, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation will not invest any money in the bank until the old agreement has been cancelled and a new agreement signed.

This plan has been worked out for you, if you have any questions to ask regarding the plan, you owe it to yourself and your neighbor to call at the bank and have it carefully explained to you.

We have a limited time in which to make this change and we wish to impress upon you the importance of getting your signed approval back to the bank at the first possible moment.

Farmers Fight State Tax Board

Going To Take Case To Court In Effort To Seek Justice

Plymouth farmers and gardeners who have so bitterly opposed some of the rulings relative to the state sales tax will be interested in knowing that the Michigan State Farm Bureau announced recently before several hundred representatives of farmers' co-operatives and County Farm Bureaus throughout Michigan, that it intends to contest in court interpretations of the State Board of Tax Administration which impose sales taxes on farmers' purchases of seeds, feeds, fertilizers, nursery stock, implements, etc. Such goods are purchased to produce products to be sold. Sales tax is being collected contrary to the intent of the Legislature, as expressed by its resolution of July, 1933 and results in double taxation," the Farm Bureau said.

A census of farmer business organizations at the meeting revealed that Michigan farmers are annually paying $1,200,000 annually in sales taxes on farm supplies, said Secretary C. L. Brody of the Farm Bureau. A Farm Bureau petition for exemption on the basis of purchase for resale was denied in August, 1933 without a hearing. Mr. Brody said, Farmer delegates to the Farm Bureau annual meeting in November, 1933 authorized the Farm Bureau to go to court if necessary. The Bureau has retained Raymond H. Berry of the firm of Berry & Stevens of Detroit.

Following is the text of the Resolution of intent adopted by the Legislature July 1933, and cited April 11, 1934 by Judge Miller of the Wayne Circuit in a court interpretation exempting certain manufacturers from payment of sales tax on certain manufacturing supplies. (Concurrent Resolution No. 99) "Resolved, That the legislative intent, in passing Act 167, Public Acts of 1933, was to exclude from the provisions of the act any sale of anything used exclusively in the manufacturing, assembling, producing, preparing, or wrapping, crating, and/or otherwise preparing for delivery of any tangible personal property to be sold; and be it further "Resolved, That the word 'producing' as used herein shall include agricultural production.
