Tough for the dogs—but fortunate for the five thousand or more people who live in the City of Plymouth—is the new dog ordinance that has just been passed by the city commission.

New Dog Law Is Effective Soon

Maybe dogs have got sharp teeth, but the new dog ordinance has sharp teeth too and dog owners of the city had better get their rights with the local government...

But from now on it is going to be tough going for Plymouth dogs unless they have met all the terms of the new city law—and dog owners shouldn't get the idea that the new dog law is no good—

City officials have been studying the dog laws of other places and the new Plymouth ordinance which has been passed and published in accordance with all charter and state law provisions...

So on September 25 when the new dog ordinance becomes effective, Fido better have one of those new neck ornaments that Chief Vaughn Smith has on hand...

Some of the provisions of the ordinance are: A 50 per cent penalty is imposed on the owners of dogs who do not secure their licenses promptly.

Dogs will not be permitted to run at large during the months of June, July, August, September and October.

Police officers will be permitted to destroy dogs which are vicious. No distinction will be made in the cost of the license between a male and female dog.

A provision is made for a kennel license, whereby the number of dogs in a kennel are licensed instead of each individual dog.

Engineers Make First Plans For New Postoffice

Foundation Tests Being Made During Present Week By Government

John Patterson Starts Removal Of Garage. House To Come Down In Near Future

Government engineers Tuesday began making foundation tests for the new postoffice building that is to be erected this winter on the John Patterson site on Penniman avenue.

John Patterson this week also started the removal of his garage back of the house. This building, a structure nearly 40 feet square, is as well built a building as there is in Plymouth.

Government engineers state that it is probable work will be started on the new postoffice within sixty days, providing employment during the winter for a large number of Plymouth residents.

Henry Sage Visits Son In Southlands

Henry Sage left Tuesday noon for Louisville where he will spend the next ten days or two weeks on a vacation. His son Harold, is now manager of the Seelbach hotel of that city.

Hamill Making A Final Survey

At the request of the United States treasury department, City Engineer Herald Hamill yesterday started a topographic survey of the John Patterson property on Penniman avenue that has been purchased by the government for a postoffice site in Plymouth.

The survey that is being made by Mr. Hamill will show the location of each tree, the location of water and sewer lines, the general slope of the land and the location of all surrounding buildings.

When the survey is completed and placed on paper the department in Washington will be able to tell all about the appearance of the property and surroundings.

From the fact that the location of trees and other shrubbery on the property, it is evident that an effort will be made to set the building in such a way that every tree possible can be saved.

The government on all new post-office construction work has made the landscaping of the surroundings almost as an important part of the job as the actual construction.

Grange Meeting Well Attended

Plymouth Grange held regular meeting on Thursday evening, Sept. 13th with a good attendance. The business session was followed by an interesting program prepared and presented by the lecturer, J. W. Hutchins in which he featured a study in the leaves of native trees.

The delegates to the county convention reported to Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Rogers of Belleville were elected delegates to attend the 1934 session of the Michigan State Grange to be held at Midland October 30, 31, Nov. 1 and 2.

Wayne County Pomona Grange was announced to be held at Flat Rock on Sept. 29.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Blum attended a "Grunow" convention at the Detroit-Leland hotel in Detroit, Wednesday afternoon and evening.

The November Election Ballot

Table listing candidates for Governor, Lieutenant Governor, U.S. Senator, Congress, Legislature, State Senator, Judges Probate, Sheriff, County Clerk, Treasurer, Register Deeds, Prosecutor, Road Commissioner, Coroners, and Drain Commissioner, with names and party affiliations.

How The Plymouth Republicans Voted

Plymouth treated former Governor Groesbeck much more considerably than other out-state voting localities. He came within 11 votes of carrying this city. The total Fitzgerald vote was 251 and the total Groesbeck vote was 240.

There were 196 votes for Groesbeck in precinct 1, and 44 in precinct 2. Fitzgerald received an even 200 in No. 1, and 51 in No. 2.

Tom Burke was given 20 votes for state senator by his local Democratic friends. He received 59 votes in Plymouth and Judge Arthur Lacy was given 62.

State Senator John W. Reid had a walk-away for the Republican nomination for state senator. He secured 253 votes, the other 'Reid' getting but 34 votes.

Representative Edward Fisher had plenty of support in Plymouth. He was given 294 votes and George Newkirk received but 74.

Former Warden Harry Hubert of Jackson prison proved the surprise candidate in the race for probate judge. He received 99 votes in Plymouth, although Edward Gardner, an high, his vote was 179.

Gomer Krise won an easy victory over Sid A. Erwin for prosecuting attorney in Plymouth. His total vote was 240 to 148 for Sid A. Erwin.

Plymouth Republicans showed their friendship and interest in Northville's candidate for coroner, giving Dr. Linwood Snow the splendid majority of 355.

John Haggerty has the distinction of having received the highest number of votes of any candidate in Plymouth. He was given 387 votes for renomination as road commissioner. Sam Goodman, his nearest opponent, received but 23 votes.

Former Sheriff Henry Behrendt was given a total of 88 votes in the race for county clerk. He received 39 votes and John Cowan received 139.

Herman Lau was given 191 votes in Plymouth for county treasurer and Ira Kreier received 122 votes. Lawrence McClelland had a total of 41 votes.

Leo Nowicki had 28 votes for drain commissioner and his nearest opponent, Frank Carroll had 22.

How The Plymouth Democrats Voted

Apparently Plymouth Democrats were not greatly interested in their contests or else hundreds who voted "Democratic" in the last election decided not to do so in the Monday's primary election.

Frank A. Picard was the favorite among Plymouth Democrats for United States senator. He received 59 votes.

Tom Burke was given 20 votes for state senator by his local Democratic friends. He received 59 votes in Plymouth and Judge Arthur Lacy was given 62.

State Senator John W. Reid had a walk-away for the Republican nomination for state senator. He secured 253 votes, the other 'Reid' getting but 34 votes.

Representative Edward Fisher had plenty of support in Plymouth. He was given 294 votes and George Newkirk received but 74.

Hundreds Visit City Hall—Every One Has Praise

Taxpayers Are Delighted With Improvements That Have Been Made

Suggest Other Ways To Improve City—Crowd Larger Than Had Been Planned For

Plymouth citizens turned out en masse to attend the formal opening and dedication of the new city hall on Saturday afternoon and evening, September 8th.

The dedication committee consisting of Mayor Geo. H. Robinson, Dr. Freeman B. Hoyer, Commissioners Oliver Goldsmith and Ruth Huston-Whipple, City Manager L. P. Cookingham, Berg D. Moore, and Elton R. Eaton, together with Commissioners John W. Henderson and Arthur E. Blunk, were on hand at the city hall to greet the visitors and act as hosts throughout the day.

From every visitor came words of praise for the fine work done by the men engaged in this project and many times the feeling was expressed that the citizens of Plymouth should be very proud of this fine new building.

Line's Employees Enjoy A Picnic

More than fifty managers and clerks from the six Line's 5c-10c Stores in Plymouth, Howell, Brighton, Fowlerville and Grand Ledge met for an educational and social get-together in Plymouth last Sunday.

An evening program was held in the large hall above the new Line store in Plymouth, when the group enjoyed four reels of motion pictures of Michigan, Bard and Animal Wild Life. The high light of the program was in the address and verses of the poet Bill Dodge of Howell, Mr. Hodre.

Mr. Hodre presented a poem written especially for the occasion and dedicated to the Line's Stores. The chief theme of his address dealt with the faith and confidence in one's self and its relation to the success of the whole organization. Group singing concluded a delightful program.

Miss Sheppard And Milton C. Partridge Wedded, September 12

Miss Violet Sheppard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Sheppard of Northville and Milton C. Partridge, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Partridge of Plymouth, spoke their nuptial vows at a quiet ceremony Wednesday evening, September 12 at 7:30 o'clock.

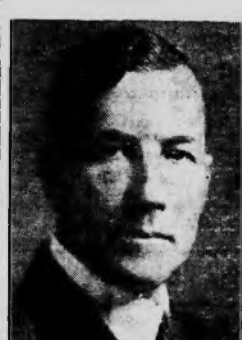

The simple service was read at the manse of Rev. H. G. Whitfield, pastor of the First Presbyterian church at Northville, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Stalter were their only attendants.

There were no festivities after the ceremony, the young couple leaving immediately for the Century of Progress where they will spend a few days. Upon their return they will make their home with the groom's parents.

Mr. Partridge will be employed by Harry Lush, manager of the Penniman Allen Theatre.

HON. FRANK D. FITZGERALD Republican candidate for Governor.

HON. ARTHUR J. LACY Democratic candidate for Governor.

THANKS! Fellow Citizen

I wish you would give me enough space in your paper to thank that good, loyal American voter who voted for me Tuesday. I appreciate the honor greatly, but I am sorry to say that I will be unable to get away to attend that convention as a delegate.

Yours truly, Harry Robinson.

Attorney Ford Brooks and Ed. Gayde were Tuesday elected as delegates to the Republican county convention from the city of Plymouth and Mrs. Maude Bennett won the election from Plymouth township.

Stuart Rambo Weds Logansport Girl—To Live In Mackinac City

The marriage of Miss Alice A. Baker, daughter of C. L. Baker of Logansport, Indiana, and Stuart Rambo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rambo of this city, was quietly solemnized at high noon Saturday, September 8 at the home of the bride's father.

The young couple left immediately for the north and will make their home at Mackinac City. For her going away costume Mrs. Rambo chose a brown and green tweed with brown accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Logansport schools and of Hillsdale College and is a member of Kappa-Kappa Gamma sorority. The groom attended Culver Military Academy, spent some time at the Carnegie Tech Institute at Pittsburgh, Pa., and is a member of the Sigma Delta Phi fraternity.

The bride has made many friends in Plymouth during her various visits here who wish her a long, happy contented life.

Comstock Upset Is Big Surprise Of The Primary

Judge Lacy Is Easy Winner - Fitzgerald Has Big Lead In G. O. P.

John Haggerty Is Popular In Plymouth—Senator Reid Is Easy Winner In Senate Race

With Governor Comstock conceding his defeat in the Democratic primary to Judge Arthur J. Lacy of Detroit for the nomination for governor and with Frank D. Fitzgerald running away up state with the Republican nomination for governor, the battle line has been formed for the November election with two outstanding leaders in command of the political forces of the state.

Tuesday's primary vote provided many surprises, first, by the small vote that turned out; secondly, the increased vote in the Republican primary; and third, the amazing strength of Judge Lacy not only in Detroit but out state. The victory of Frank D. Fitzgerald for the Republican nomination had been predicted by some during the past few days.

In view of the fact that so many thousands of candidates were seeking nominations, it has been predicted that there would be a much larger vote than was recorded, but for some reason voters preferred to remain at home. Much less than half of Plymouth's vote was recorded in the Tuesday election.

Outstanding was the victory of John S. Haggerty for the Republican nomination for road commissioner. Haggerty led the ticket both in Detroit and out-county. Plymouth gave him the largest vote of any man on the ticket. Already plans are being made to try and give him a one hundred percent vote here this fall.

Democrats have nominated an unusually strong man for United States senator, Frank A. Picard of Saginaw. He will oppose Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, who had no opposition in the primary.

Senator John W. Reid won easily the Republican nomination for the state senate from this district. The Democrats of the 18th district put up Frank D. Schroeder as his opponent. Mr. Schroeder comes from Highland Park and is practically unknown in this end of the district. He had a small lead in a badly split field of ten candidates for the nomination.

Representative Edward Fisher had no difficulty in winning the Republican nomination for state representative from this district. His opponent will be J. Charles Doner of Garden City who was the Democratic candidate two years ago.

Prospects are that the fall campaign will be a lively one in view of the fact that the Democrats have selected a new standard bearer for the state ticket.

Two Youths Face Serious Charge

Frank Hinchman, 20 years old, former full back on the Northville High School football team, pleaded not guilty to a charge of impersonating a Federal officer when arraigned Friday before Frank Q. Quinn, United States commissioner. Bond of $2,500 was not furnished. Hearing was set for Sept. 14.

Norman Goebel, of Plymouth, held on a similar charge, entered a similar plea and his hearing was set for the same date.

Hinchman and Goebel were arrested last week Thursday afternoon, about three weeks after they are alleged to have gone to the home of Serge Kramer, at Brighton, and posing as United States Immigration officers, demanded to see his citizenship papers. Kramer, suspicious, ran into the yard, screaming for help. The boys fled. Kramer knew the youths and police, after an investigation, turned the case over to Federal officers. This is not the first time Hinchman has been in difficulties.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Crane of Midland were guests of their son, Leo Crane, and family from Friday until Sunday.

THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES

"The Constitution of the United States is a law for rulers and people, equally in war and in peace, and covers with the shield of its protection all classes of men, at all times, and under all circumstances. No doctrine, involving more pernicious consequences, was ever invented by the wit of man than that any of its provisions can be suspended during any of the great exigencies of government. Such a doctrine leads directly to anarchy or despotism, but the theory of necessity on which it is based is false; for the government, within the constitution, has all the powers granted to it, which are necessary to preserve its existence."—United States Supreme Court.

THE CITY HALL

The Plymouth Mail extends to Mayor Robinson and members of the city commission congratulations upon the splendid job that has been done in making the old city hall over into a municipal building that the city can rightly be proud of. The chief item of expense, the labor costs, were paid entirely through various employment funds provided by the government. The work has given to many Plymouth families a badly needed income. That the citizens of Plymouth are interested in what has been done was evident by the hundreds that visited the city hall Saturday to inspect the work. All were enthusiastic in their praise in the improvement, that has been made. The city hall, but a few months ago convenient, badly in need of repair and a structure that had about seen its day, has been converted through CWA and CERA funds into a beautiful and modern structure. We express our congratulations to the city officials who brought about this transformation.

NOW IS THE TIME TO DO IT

The primary election campaign is a thing of the past. We are quite right, we believe, when we say that everybody is glad, except the numerous defeated candidates. But that is all beside the point. During the last few days of the campaign, several workers (tramp) were down the streets of Plymouth like a swarm of bees without a place to light. They not only cluttered up the streets with handbills and dodgers, but they plastered their bills wherever they could find a vacant space. Bills were posted on ornamental fence corners, on windows, buildings walls—everywhere. The job for

Rambling Around With Michigan Editors

STEADYING THE NERVES

Words have failed to express our disgust with the newspapers and magazines which have accepted the deceitful, nauseating and even ridiculous advertising of cigarette manufacturers. Our blood pressure has risen over the paid testimonials written by so-called society leaders endorsing this brand and that. We realize that what we say or think has little bearing on such a breach of good taste as the cigarette manufacturers and the magazines and newspapers continue to do. But now that the New Yorker, ultra smart magazine, has entered the forum some of the useless society dames are being made to appear as ridiculous as they really are.

We take the liberty of quoting from a recent New Yorker as follows:

"The other day we mentioned that the gentleman rider, Crawford Burton, steadying his nerves with a Camel in an advertisement, was subject to a ten-dollar fine for smoking in his silk matter, we understand, came up before the last meeting of the National Steeplechase and Hunt Association and they passed a rule about it. Hereafter any rider caught smoking in an advertisement, and his name is more jumping fences for him, be his nerves steady or wiggly.

"This we regard as a test case. Testimonial-buying cigarette companies have built up a ritzy clientele, and we want to know what the general effect on the Hunt Association's ruling is going to be on all those pedigreed people in the ads. Will the ruling disturb Mrs. Nicholas Biddle of Philadelphia, who shares her husband's enthusiasm for big-game hunting and notices that whenever her energy is low, smoking a Camel renews it? Will it unsettle Mrs. J. Gardner Coolidge, 2nd, who enjoys their full rich flavor; or Mrs. Potter d'Orsay Palmer, who finds them delightfully mild; or Mrs. Thomas M. Carnegie, Jr., on whose nerves they do not grate? If the Steeplechase Association sees fit to drop a gentleman for endorsing a butt, isn't it conceivable that the Social Register, with equal probity, might drop a lady? What constitutes a lady these days, anyway? We were brought up to believe that a lady is a creature of noble bearing whose habits are essentially private. The privacy is gone, and the nobility of bearing is about to go. We dread the day when Mrs. Biddle, having taken one Camel, too many, leaps a fence without even so much as a horse under her."

THE BRAYING KIND

Carrying his crazy and unreasonable practices into further fields Auditor General John Stack who has made himself an ass of the most ridiculous type before his party leaders as well as before the whole state, now seeks to stop state Highway Commissioner Van Wagener's pay check. By what right or reason no one but that man Stack knows. Perhaps just for publicity and to make himself popular with a class of people that are against everything. Van Wagener is not that kind that would allow a tin horn politician like Stack to put things over on him. And we have people in our midst that want Stack nominated for Governor, and they are ungrateful to that point they are favoring Stack against an administration leadership that has given them the jobs they now hold.—Al Weber in The Cheboygan Observer.

The Boots they Wear

by Lawrence Hawthorne

We learn the trails men travel from the kind of boots they wear! Their old shoes soon advise us whether happiness or care More frequently attends them as the path of life they tread. While new shoes make prediction of the course that lies ahead.

His shoes could tell some thrilling tales about a man's career— Some stories that, perhaps, he'd rather have nobody hear; Yes, every step he takes, no matter where the path may lead, Records a message on his boots for clever folks to read.

The care a fellow gives his shoes has this to say to me: His plan of life is good or had in just the same degree! And every time he "shines 'em up" I'm sure he wants to feel That he's a little nearer to his personal ideal.

Good comrades are a pair of shoes and friendly all the day; With faithfulness they do their part to ease life's rugged way; Yet though they bravely shield the one whose confidence they share, We learn the trails men travel from the kind of boots they wear.

Mr. Hoover's New Book Is Untimely

And In Poor Taste At This Time Says Editor Of The Dearborn Press.

Atwood Seeking Secretaryship

(The Dearborn Press) Mr. Hoover was probably very badly advised when he permitted himself to be persuaded into political utterance at this time. For that is how his forthcoming book will be interpreted—as a political utterance, and there probably was never a more uncertain moment for anyone to indulge in that form of expression. No one knows anything about anything at this moment—we are all on the lap of the gods.

What Mr. Hoover contends for is very likely to be the political philosophy of this country for the next hundred years; we are going to be forced back to it by events; but that does not alter the unfitness of choosing this moment for what he has said. It really required no haste in saying, for it is as old as the Republic and will be true when the hectic conditions of today are a matter of history.

It is true that Mr. Hoover does not attack the President, but he would have proved as bad an observer of events had he praised the President. We are dealing with bigger issues these days than Presidents and Parties. Presidents come and go, they arise and vanish, but American principles have something of eternity in them. It is a great mistake for anyone to feel that our historical position depends in the slightest degree on either Mr. Hoover or Mr. Roosevelt.

If Mr. Hoover felt that he had to say what is foreshadowed in his forthcoming book, one could wish that he had averted the danger of political criticism by having postponed publication until after the fall elections. In the present state of the country anything written or anything said by anyone whatever will not have the slightest effect on results. We are going in a certain direction until we reach the end of the road. Mr. Hoover cannot deflect us; it is now too late for Mr. Roosevelt to deflect us, however much he may desire to. This Ship of State cannot be set on a course, and then suddenly stopped and turned like a canoe. We're in it for something and we're going to get it.

It was inevitable that the truth of much of what Mr. Hoover says should be lost in speculation as to whether he is not making a bid to return to the White House. My guess is not could not give him the White House on a silver platter. But press agents can easily blanket what he says by that assumption. The morning papers gave Mr. Hoover's ideas a great play. The evening papers hardly mentioned them, but were replete with Administration spokesmen's totally irrelevant remarks about Mr. Hoover's alleged political ambitions.

It may be that Mr. Hoover needed the money which his writing will bring. My guess is not think so. It may be that he listened too much to admiring friends who said the country needed his thoughts, and of course that is always a present danger with public men. In any case, Mr. Hoover spoke much too soon and to a country that is not yet listening to anyone.

In the first place, he can't write. He writes like some people speak—with great thick mumbling syllables. Ordinary people won't take the trouble to find out what he is saying. And in the second place, all that he is saying now has been said before; he said it during the campaign when no one was listening. In that campaign he said things I could not believe to be possibly within the intention of any American Administration, but I have lived to see them all come true, which almost ranks Mr. Hoover as a prophet in certain particulars. And "Sophisticated" magazines do no harm. Anybody innocent enough to be hurt is too innocent to see the point.

NEWBURG

Rev. Townsend has chosen "The Voice," for the subject of his sermon next Sunday, the last sermon before conference. Conference convenes the 19th at the Jefferson Ave. M. E. Church, Saginaw.

The following officers were chosen at the Sunday school election, superintendent, Mrs. May Stevens, assistant superintendent, Mrs. Lydia McNabb; secretary, Miss Lydia Joy; treasurer, Miss Louise Geney; pianist, Miss Viola Luttermoser.

The Ladies Aid held their annual meeting at the home of Mrs. Jesse Thomas Wednesday afternoon. All the old officers were re-elected with Mrs. May Guthrie as vice president. Plans were made to hold the bazaar and supper October 25th.

Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Stewart of Columbus, Ohio and Mrs. C. W. Ware of St. Clair, Fla., and Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Reynolds and family of Messillino, Ohio, were week-end callers of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Drews.

Try some green tomato marmalade. Cut six pounds of green tomatoes in small pieces. Add six cups of sugar, slice six lemons (thin and boil the slices for about five minutes in one cup of water with 1 1/2 teaspoons of salt in it, then add to the tomatoes and sugar. Heat the mixture slowly, then cook rapidly and stir constantly for about half an hour, or until the marmalade is thick. This recipe will make about three quarts of marmalade.

Green tomatoes can be used for soup stew, marmalade, and mince-meat, and may be fried or stuffed as well as the ripe variety. The green kind isn't quite so rich in vitamins A and C as the red ones but ranks the same in vitamin B content. The flavor is practically the same in both kinds, except that the green ones taste slightly more acid.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"Man" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, September 9.

Among the Bible citations was this passage (Luke 17:20, 21): "And when he was demanded of the Pharisees, when the kingdom of God should come, he answered them and said, The kingdom of God cometh not with observation: Neither shall they say, Lo here, or lo there! for behold, the kingdom of God is within you."

Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p. 259): "In divine Science, man is the true image of God, the divine nature was best expressed in Christ Jesus, who threw upon mortals the truer reflection of God and lifted their lives higher than their poor thought-models would allow,—thoughts which presented man as fallen, sick, sinning, and dying."

You are cordially invited to hear the sermons our pastor, Richard Neale, is preaching on the climax of all Bible prophecy, "The Revelation of Jesus Christ." On Sunday at 10 a. m. the topic will be: "Will You Have to Face God's Wrath If You Reject His Love?" This will be an explanation of Chapters 15 and 16 of the Revelation. At 7:30 p. m. the next two chapters will be treated in an exposition entitled: "Modern Religious Babylon and How to Escape Her Doom."

Our mid-week service for prayer and thanksgiving has a warm place of welcome for you. Scripture predicts that times will come when men are going to be indifferent and unthankful. Are we in such times? Read 2 Timothy 3:1-7 in your Bible and you'll be surprised.

The Gospel is not a secret but good news. Come and see for yourself.

The regular meeting of the Church School Board will be held at the church Tuesday evening at seven thirty.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Loya Sutherland, Minister

In our series of sermons on Old Testament Saints we speak this Sunday morning on Daniel. A man in a lion's den. Here he is given his chief fame. A very lonely place to be but for the presence of God. Nothing to do but wait for the morning. You just can't fight lions, there are times when one must keep to the corner, when sometimes to fight would relieve the pent up soul, but to just wait touches us at the marrow of the bone. Anything but wait, still here he is in prayerful waiting, showing great courage and holding still when his heart ached. Just watching the black hole above until the morning, all this while sure of God. If you are burdened and passing through the lion's den you will get help from this message. Meet us at ten o'clock.

11:15 Bible School.

7:30 In continuing our discussions on the Second Coming of Christ we speak this hour with reference to signs in the church and the amazing Jew. Christ is surely coming and we believe it becomes a heart searching matter

No Change Made For Drug Stores

Combination sales of merchandise, typical of which is the "One-Cent Sale"; and the sale of merchandise upon a condition involving the element of chance, similar to what is commonly known as the "Suit Club Plan" will in the future be regarded as violations of the retail code.

Provisions covering such transactions were included in amendments to the code approved by the National Recovery Administration. A public hearing on the amendments was held May 4. They were presented by the National Code Authority.

The prohibition of combination or group sales is an addition to the code's article on loss limitation. It provides that "in group offerings or sales of merchandise, the selling price of the group shall not be less than the sum of the minimum selling prices of the individual items of the groups," as determined in accordance with provisions already in the code.

It is added that "in group offerings or sales of merchandise, where the selling price of one or more items of the group is indicated, the price indicated for each item or items, expressly or by inference, shall not be less than the minimum price of each item or items."

The amendment provides that the added section shall not be construed to apply to the use of bona fide premiums.

Sales methods of drug stores will have to undergo little revision, since it is stated that the addition in the code shall not apply to the sale of drugs, medicines, cosmetics, toilet preparations, drug sundries and/or allied items" described in the supplemental provisions of the code applicable to retail drug establishments.

Following is the added section regarding the use of a lottery or similar element of chance as a sales promotion device:

"No retailer shall sell or offer for sale any merchandise upon a condition which involves a lottery, game, or element of chance, similar to what is commonly known as a 'Suit Club Plan,' provided, however, that this subsection shall not apply to nonprofit organizations not definitely constituted to carry on retail trade."

THE PILGRIM PRINTS

Official Publication Friday, September 14, 1934 Plymouth Public Schools

Notice!

Several boys in the junior and senior high school have expressed the desire to work at odd jobs, such as window washing, taking care of lawns, clerking in stores, etc. afternoons after school and Saturdays. Anybody desiring the services of these boys will please call 610 or get in touch with the high school principal. They are good, dependable boys and the work would be done to your satisfaction.

Look The New Teachers Over

Three new teachers are on the staff of Plymouth high school this year. They are Mr. Campbell, Mr. Landsburg and Miss Wieselev.

Mr. Campbell, when interviewed for Pilgrim Prints, exhibited some strange complex to keep his past a deep, dark secret. He explained that he graduated from St. Thomas University in St. Paul, Minnesota. The University of Minnesota and Michigan State Normal College at Ypsilanti. He has earned a degree in Civil Engineering. He has never taught school before. Mr. Campbell intends to establish residence in Plymouth. He replaces Mr. Carr, who is now teaching in Detroit.

Mr. Landsburg has brought a new course of study to the high school, the Smith-Hughes Course in Agriculture. He has received a Bachelor of Science degree from Michigan State College and a Master of Science degree and a Master of Arts and Education Degree from University of Michigan. He specialized in agriculture. He taught two years in Sandusky, Michigan and two years in Vicksburg, Michigan, before coming to Plymouth. He is a native of Deerperville, a town in the Thumb of Michigan.

Miss Wieselev is replacing Miss Berg as a history teacher. She received a Bachelor of Arts degree from Findlay College at Findlay, Ohio. She majored in history and English. Miss Wieselev is a native of Findlay, Ohio but is living in Detroit at the present time.

Long sleeves in winter may be more sensible, but it's nice in the spring to see elbows that aren't rusty.

Another vacationist was Joe Merritt. Joe is a fishing enthusiast, and on one fine summer's day, Joe and an unpacked their fishing trip. They rode their bicycles over miles of loose gravel road, until finally they arrived at a spot which Joe said would yield dozens of fish. The two parked their bicycles and unpacked their baggage, lunch and fishing tackle. Only then was the horrible fact discovered. Joe had forgot to pack the fish hooks.

Incidentally, we are curious to discover the full meaning of Miss Wells' newest problem, seems that the local chief of police has taken her house away from her, of course it may not mean anything, but we wonder—

Competition Column

During the summer we met that infernal pest of pestion, Jack Wilcox, the dean of the sea himself. The conversation ran something like this:

Wilcox—Hello, my good man. Are you going to write for Pilgrim Prints next year?

Junius—As far as I know, I am.

Wilcox—Now, see here, Junius. Let's get down to the point. Are you going to edit CCC (Crazy Competition Column)?

Junius—As far as I know, I am.

Wilcox—Oh, dear. (Walks off).

We will now discuss vacations. Take Jim Latture, for instance. You have seen these Buck Rogers' Pistols, we assume. Well, on the handle is Buck Rogers' autograph. Now for the surprise. Those aren't really Buck Rogers autographs. They are forged. And who do you think the forger is? None other than Jim Latture. Yes sir, he autographed hundreds of guns during the summer. Junius remembers when Latture took the Buck Rogers' funny paper away from a student in class. Students will be glad to learn that he will have no objections now.

We nominate Coach Matheson as a man of principles. He refused to work with the girls' team, Daisy, because he "didn't want to work with those dumb students."

Class Debaters Hold Meeting

Intending to participate in the rapidly approaching inter-class debates, more than a dozen high school students met with Mr. Latture, school debate coach, Monday, September 10. Freshmen, sophomore, junior and senior classes were represented.

This year's debate question, "Resolved, that education in the several states should be equalized by substantial annual grants from the federal government," is similar to that adopted by the state debating organization. It deals largely with the dangerous financial situation in American schools.

For the second time a school inter-class debating contest will be held. Affirmative and negative terms of two members will contest during the week beginning Tuesday, September 18, and the two opposing teams with the greatest number of victories will debate before an assembly, for the school championship.

The freshmen will be represented by two teams, consisting of John Moore and David Hale; upholding the affirmative, and Astri Hegge and June Taylor, negative speakers. Jewell Starkweather and Thomas Brock will play a sophomore negative case as Dorothy Heenan and Jeannette Brown. An eleventh grade negative team includes Roland Rhead and Russell Kirk; Jack Sessions and Harry Fischer are affirmative speakers from the same class. Katherine Schultz and Beulah Starkweather, an affirmative team, represent the seniors. At least one other team, probably from the tenth grade, will probably be organized.

While their number is approximately the same, of last year's team's only two remain the same those of Jewell Starkweather and Thomas Brock, and Katherine Schultz and Beulah Starkweather. Jack Sessions, Russell Kirk, and Harry Fischer also participated in the inter-class debating of 1933.

Debates are to be held in Study 3 and other high school rooms. The judges will be teachers.

A new motion picture is named "Here Comes the Groom." It is about time that the poor guy was getting a little attention.

The ladies are more interested in what a bride is married to than what she's married to.

LOOKING FORWARD

Another school year has started bringing around another football season. For the first practice held last week over forty fellows reported. There are a number of last year's linemen back, but there is only one regular backfield man who returns. Plymouth high school is looking forward to a very successful year and consequently they need the help of the students. The first game will be played September 22nd at the Michigan School for Deaf and Dumb. The entire schedule is as follows:

Sept. 22—Mich School for Deaf, here.
 Sept. 28—Howell, here.
 Oct. 5—Ypsilanti, there.
 Oct. 12—Excelsior, here.
 Oct. 19—Wayne, here.
 Oct. 26—River Rouge, there.
 Nov. 2—Dearborn, there.
 Nov. 9—Northville, there.

Leaders' Club Now Too Crowded

Sixty seven girls turned out for Leaders' Club Monday fifth hour. Out of this number the junior and senior classes were each represented by fifteen members, the sophomores by fourteen and the freshmen by twenty-three.

The purpose of this club is to broaden the girls' knowledge of officiating and directing athletic contests. For actual officiation of tournament games the girls receive points for their school letters. Sportsmanship and fair play are two of the main objectives of this group.

Classes Enroll Same Number As Last Year

Although there has been a little confusion in classifying and re-classifying, everyone is settled now, and is just as studious as ever.

Listed below is the enrollment for the past year and the present year, showing increases and decreases.

7th grade, last year 110, this year 85. 8th grade, last year 82, this year 114. 9th grade, last year 135, this year 122. 10th grade, last year 122, this year 106. 11th grade, last year 93, this year 111. 12th grade, last year 85, this year 86. Total, last year 627, this year 625.

WEST PLYMOUTH

Twenty-two children are enrolled in the Kinyon school this year. Four are beginners. They are Claude Root, Shirley Miller, Harold Williams and Donald Schaufell.

Claude Henry Root is the fourth generation of the Root family to enter the Kinyon school. His great grandfather donated the school grounds to the district in 1848. The deed written by Roswell Root is in the possession of John F. Root. Why the school was called the "Kinyon" School no one seems to know, unless it was the proximity of the Kinyon farms. Those who have preceded little Claude are his father Henry R. Root. However, this is the third school building to occupy this site.

The Junior Citizenship club had their first meeting last Wednesday. The following officers were elected: President, Virginia Stewart; vice president, Ida Spangler; sec and treas, Delores Frost. Health officer for girls, Doris Williams. Health officer for boys, Jack Kiof.

Mr. and Mrs. Serine, parents of Mrs. Orin Rigley, and her sister, Mrs. Mae Venette and Mr. Van Epps with their two children all of Detroit spent last Saturday at the Rigley home on Golden Road.

John Harwood's condition remains unimproved.

Whenever words of comfort seem to fall short of the situation we are reminded of the cemetery salesman who was trying to sell a lot to a little old lady. He wound up by saying, "Just think, wouldn't it be a great comfort to know that after you were laid to rest beside this beautiful lake?" "What!" exclaimed his prospect, "with my rheumatism?"

The ladies are more interested in what a bride is married to than what she's married to.

Problems Same Out In Far West

Business out in the northwest and on the Pacific coast is just like it is here, no one knows what the future holds and no one says business is good—but all are hopeful of better times, stated Nelson Schrader of Northville who has just returned from the west with Mrs. Schrader where they have been on a trip.

"I was asked about business, and I got the same answer always. There is a lot of public work being carried on. One business man out in Oregon told me that his state had borrowed so much money from the federal government that the home repair business saw the big dams that the government is building out in the northwest. They say it is for flood control but I was told of the thousands and thousands of acres of land that would be cultivated if the irrigation was completed. Here in some states the government is cutting down crop production and out there they are spending millions so that more crops can be grown. I was stoned reading about what it is all about. Others out there feel just as I do about it, they do not know and cannot understand the conflicting ideas of it all," stated Mr. Schrader.

We did find people more hopeful and there seemed to be more touring and that the industry has been in a number of years. People I guess have decided to go places anyway. But if any one has an idea that business is any better in the west than it is here, they are mistaken. It is no different, nothing less than terrible as the result of the drought. But one encouraging thing was the general optimism we found in most places we stopped. That always helps."

Plymouth Buick Team Wins Game

The local Plymouth Buick team won its fifteenth victory of the season last Sunday at Riverside Park by winning the odd game of a three game series with Garden City by the score of 7 to 6. Against these fifteen victories the local boys have ten defeats chalked up against them for a winning percentage of 60.

Simon's great relief pitching enabled the local boys to win as Gale weakened in the late innings.

Lester Basset and Tonkovich were the leading hitters for the local team. Basset had a double and a triple in four trips, while Tonkovich had two walks and a double in two official trips to the plate.

Next Sunday at 1 p. m. Harry German and his Old Timers will be the attraction at Riverside Park. Bobby Veach and Stinson and other old timers will be here with Harry German and his base ball team.

Don't forget the big game at 1 p. m.

Old Cow Bell Rings When Veterans Meet In Annual Reunion

When the historic cowbell rang at Pontiac last Friday to call to order the veterans of the 22nd Michigan Infantry at their annual reunion, there were only four comrades of the old regiment present. These were Marvin Bogart, 94 years old, of Wixom, M. J. Whitney, 88, of Detroit, L. L. Frank, 92, of Rochester, and Augustus Hornum, of Mendon, Mich. These four are believed to be the only survivors of the 22nd.

This regiment was largely recruited in Oakland county and with Col. Moses Wisner in command left Pontiac Sept. 4, 1862. They returned, ranks sadly depleted, in June 1865 after participation in some of the notable conflicts of the war.

The battle-flags which they carried are kept at Lansing but the old cowbell, picked up soon after they left Pontiac and carried with them through the war, is a treasured relic that has been hung at each of their reunions. It has since the war, been in the keeping of Marvin Bogart of Wixom.

Still all the great losses of the last twenty years were due to the same old conditions never would change.

It's a wonder that children survived in the old days, but maybe germs took one look at the dirt and gave up.

Many Improvement Can Be Made About Your Home With Money Uncle Same Will Loan You For Repairs-Berg Moore Receives Approved Lists

Secretary Berg Moore of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce has received from the government a list of equipment for the home that the government will make loans for under the home repair and improvement plan that the government is now sponsoring. The following list of equipment considered as "built-in" under the regulations of the Federal Housing Administration, and therefore included in improvements which may be financed by insured loans.

Plumbing equipment, including tubs and showers. Individual lighting plants and equipment. Incinerators and other garbage disposal systems, if built-in. Non-detachable heating systems and equipment (coal, wood, oil, gas or electricity). Domestic water heating equipment if non-detachable. Conversion oil burners, including oil storage equipment and thermostatic controls. Heating control devices. Automatic stoking and ash removal equipment, if permanently attached to heating unit.

Lighting fixtures if integral part of wiring or gas system. Radiation, if part of heating system, including valves and accessories. Individual gas-making machines and equipment. Water works system. Wells and cisterns, including pumps and windmills. Individual sewerage disposal systems, including septic tanks. Water supply and sewerage connections with public mains. Air-conditioning equipment, if built-in. Humidifying equipment, if built-in. Built-in ventilating equipment, including fans.

Forced heat circulating equipment. Fire escapes. Sprinkler systems. Fire and burglar alarm systems. Elevators and dumb waiters. Kitchen units, including ranges and refrigerators, if built-in. Linoleum and other floor covering, if laid. Built-in ironing boards, dinettes, flower boxes, cabinets, bookcases and cupboards. Built-in laundry chutes. Built-in refrigerators including automatic refrigeration. Fitted storm doors and sash built for porches, windows, etc. Fitted screen doors and windows built for porches, windows, etc. All kinds. Built-in door or wall mirrors. Automatic garage door openers. Weather stripping. Awnings made for windows and porches. Coal chutes. Built-in package receivers and mail boxes. Concealed residential wall safes.

The above items are given as examples of the type of equipment which, under the regulations, become a part of the real estate when installed. There may be other equipment of like characteristic which, if it becomes a part of the property when installed, likewise is included.

The Federal Housing Administration will be glad to rule on any specific items on which a question may arise.

The following list includes types of equipment which, under the regulations covered by Bulletin No. 1 (Modernization Credit Plan) are "movables" and therefore may not be included in improvements financed by insured loans.

Furniture of all kinds. Floor and other lamps. Show cases (unless built-in) desks. Radios. Porch swings. Electric fans. Toasters. Electric and gas irons. Ranges and stoves—gas electric, coal or wood—unless built-in. Food mixing machines. Vacuum and other types of cleaners, unless built-in installation. Individual detachable gas and electric heaters. Single-unit air conditioners, unless built-in.

A politician can't get elected without stating the reasons why he should get the votes. How can a business expect to be elected to success unless it tells the people the reasons why it should be patronized?

In All other strictly detachable and movable equipment and apparatus.

Aside from specific equipment, such as indicated above, the cost of making all types of repairs, alterations and improvements to any type of building (both labor and materials) may be included in insured loans. In addition, such improvements to the grounds on which the buildings stand as—

Sidewalks, curbs and driveways, of permanent materials, where property is improved with buildings. Underground lawn-sprinkler systems. Demolition of old buildings (labor). Silos, barns, sheds, and other buildings on improved farms. New garage and out buildings. And similar items.

Plymouth Writers Win Special Mention In Writing Contest

Supt. George A. Smith And Mrs. Sara Ross Win Special Mention In State Newspaper Series

Nearly a year ago, The Michigan Press Association an organization consisting of newspaper publishers of the state, conducted a state-wide contest on the subject of Community Newspapers. The contest was sponsored by Adrian Van Koevering, publisher of The Zeeland Record and one of the most successful newspaper men in Michigan. Hundreds of entries were received from all over the state. The Plymouth Mail has been publishing some of those that won favorable mention.

Out of the many submitted from Plymouth, The Mail has retained two that were awarded special mention for publication at the end of the series.

They were submitted by George A. Smith, superintendent of schools and Mrs. Sara L. Ross. These excellent papers follow:

"WHY A COMMUNITY NEWSPAPER"
By George A. Smith
During chaotic conditions caused by changes in economic situations everything from the church to the sewing society is challenged to show "why it should exist."

In examining reason why the community paper should exist, it is necessary to examine the pages of the instrument in order to determine exactly what it contains. The one great function which is unique in the local newspaper is that it consolidates a community through its social, church, and local industrial news and expresses the community's view upon great public problems.

There are many people in each community who seldom read the metropolitan dailies, but depend upon their general information from the interpretation placed upon national problems by the local editor, who in most instances in Michigan, is able to sift the junk and ballyhoo from the material and worthwhile problems which are continually before the public. For instance, to read the metropolitan dailies on Michigan bank investigation is to make a student of finance realize that these dailies are dominated by definitely controlled policies; because you would hardly know just what to believe if you read two of them because of their varying emphasis and omissions.

It is the duty and privilege, and therefore, of the editor of a community newspaper to set forth in his editorial column the material facts relative to the banking and other situations, and leave the prejudices of wealth and big interests to the metropolitan dailies who depend upon ballyhoo and headlines for the sale of their wares.

The arrangement and content of the community newspaper is such as to arouse and maintain among beginning readers (boys and girls) an interest which is necessary for future good citizenship. The columns of the metropolitan dailies are not interesting to beginning readers because at the time they begin to enjoy news, they are not interested in crime, ballyhoo, and sex, but are interested in the local news (which is within their own comprehension) the local advertisements, social, school, and church doings. After a few years of the reading of the community paper, because of its interest satisfying material, they then begin to choose the better type of magazines and dailies.

In substance then, the work of the community newspaper is to produce community solidarity; to interest the beginners in reading periodicals by presenting for their consumption the type of news which is vitally interesting to them; to protect the community from radical ideas, both of individuals and of Communism, by giving political facts without bunk and ballyhoo; to aid the community in the expression of its natural and vital news, harmonizing the same with national issues in such a way that it will not be destructive to community life.

A nation can be no stronger than are the natural community units, and an institution which, more than is possible for any other institution, stabilizes and builds into the community thought the health and happiness which the community paper does, is an indispensable element in training men and women for the duties of citizenship.

"WHY A COMMUNITY NEWSPAPER"
By Sara L. Ross
Some people might ask "Why subscribe for a small weekly newspaper when I can get all the latest news in a large city daily?" It is true that the large city daily contains foreign, national and near to home news, but it does lack many things that a purely local or community newspaper contains.

The news items in a community newspaper concern the activities of our friends and acquaintances or at least people we meet in a casual way.

If we wish to rent or buy a house in the town we live in, naturally we expect to look at the ads in the local paper. In fact the advertising section of a community newspaper is of great value to many readers. When help is wanted, it is logical to advertise in the "Help Wanted" column of the community newspaper and it is also the logical place to look for work. If we have anything to sell our community paper is the proper place to send our ads.

The churches advertise their suppers, bazaars and entertainments. Most fraternal organizations do the same. Our merchants want us to know when a new stock of merchandise has arrived. How is that to be accomplished? Easy, just tell us through a simple ad in the Community Newspaper!

Usually in these papers a few columns are devoted to the churches giving the name of the church, name of the preacher, and hours for the various services, so people who do not attend regularly may ascertain these special items at any time by referring to the community newspaper.

A community newspaper is especially valuable to keep us informed as to the date of elections and when some very special event is to take place in our village or city.

The school life is a vital part of every community and a page devoted to both the scholastic and athletic activities is very desirable and especially when that page is edited by the pupils themselves. It is encouraging to the parents, enlightening to the lay public and an inspiration to the pupils themselves.

The "Society" news is enjoyed by the feminine readers of any newspaper and when the participants are people well known in a community it is vastly more interesting.

A community paper is especially appreciated by people who have lived in one place for a number of

Need No License To Fish Big Lakes

Although the Department of Conservation expects the game-protection fund will realize about $375,000 this year from the sale of fishing licenses, it is believed that total receipts would be much higher if the present license law required the purchase of a license to fish in Great Lakes waters.

In placing the resident license fee at 50 cents and reducing the non-resident fee to $2 last year, the legislature exempted the waters of the Great Lakes and connecting waters from fishing license requirements.

This is a factor that prevents the game protection fund from realizing a large revenue from fishing licenses. Due to this circumstance Michigan's fisheries contribute only about 10 percent to the cost of law enforcement, whereas the proportionate share should be about 40 percent, according to the Department of Conservation.

Under the present law non-residents, as well as residents can fish with hook and line in any of the waters of Lakes Michigan, Superior, Huron, St. Clair and Erie and St. Mary's, Detroit, St. Clair, and Saginaw rivers without buying a license.

Perch fishing from the docks or breakwaters in southern Lake Michigan, fishing in the bays and channels of Les Cheneaux Islands of northern Lake Huron, trolling in the bays and on the reefs of Isle Royale in Lake Superior, rainbow trout fishing in the Saginaw Rapids of St. Mary's river, some of the finest rainbow trout water years then moved to another state perhaps. How welcome the old home paper is! People living in rural districts get a great deal of comfort and enjoyment from their community paper.

Sometimes the only way we learn of the death of old friends and acquaintances is through the community newspaper.

Some community newspapers print short stories especially at Christmas, time and even stories for children.

There are new recipes for the cooks in most community papers and articles about what is the latest style in clothes. If there is a library in the district often we find a list of the new books ready for circulation in the paper.

Last but not least about any newspaper that makes it a valuable part of our home life is the editorials. Some people perhaps overlook that section of a paper but it is never too late to cultivate the habit of reading editorials!

in the country; pike and bass fishing lower St. Mary's river, bass and perch fishing of Lake St. Clair, St. Clair and Detroit rivers and the Michigan waters of Lake Erie—all stand exempt under the existing fishing license law in Michigan. Fishing may be legally done in any of the above mentioned waters without a fishing license.

This, it is believed, represents a substantial loss of revenue to the Department of Conservation. A more equitable license arrangement with the increased revenue derived would make it possible for the fisheries division to contribute a more proportionate share of administration costs. There are no exemptions under the hunting license law, similar to those of the fishing license law.

All persons fishing in Great Lakes waters without a license contribute nothing to the cost of propagating and planting fish or to the protection of fish. In most instances where hook and line fishing is popular in Great Lakes waters, commercial fishing is not permitted and the water involved automatically come under the protection of the law with resultant demands upon enforcement. The burden of protection thus falls entirely on those who fish only in the inland waters of the state for which a license is required.

The non-resident annual license fee under the present law is $2 and the special 10-day fee is $1. The wife of a non-resident licensee may obtain a similar license for 50 cents. The legislature last year reduced the fee of the annual non-resident license 50 percent.

Sale of non-resident licenses both annual and special, has shown a marked increase since the reduction was made, indicating that the lowered fee is more popular with outsiders.

the new Plymouth Lake, for a day or so last week had the pleasure of witnessing the first flock of sea gulls that ever landed about here, secure a good, square meal from the minnows that fill the lake.

James Gallimore, manager of the Ford plant, and other old time employees say that they have never before witnessed sea gulls flying in that locality.

Once in a great while in past years a lone sea gull has now and then landed on Phoenix lake or some other nearby lake, but just for a day or so. Never before has there ever been a whole flock of sea gulls on any lake near here.

NOTICE
STATE OF MICHIGAN—ORDER OF THE CONSERVATION COMMISSION—DUCK, GEESE, BRANT, COOTS, WILSON'S SNIPES AND WOODCOCK.
The Director of Conservation, in compliance with Federal regulations in regard to ducks, geese, brant, coots, Wilson's snipe and woodcock, recommends certain regulations.

THEREFORE, the Conservation Commission, by authority of Act 230, P. A. 1925, hereby orders that regulations on ducks, geese, brant, coots, Wilson's snipe and woodcock, as provided by Act 286, J. A. 1925, as amended shall be abridged to permit the hunting of such migratory waterfowl during the season of 1934 from October 3rd to November 11th, inclusive, excepting all Mondays and Tuesdays which are designated as rest days; and to prohibit the taking of ruddy duck, bufflehead, Ross's geese, cackling geese, and provide daily bag and possession limits as follows:—Ducks (except ruddy duck, and bufflehead duck)—12 in the aggregate of all kinds, but not more than 5 of any one, or more than 5 in the aggregate, of the following species—canvassack, redhead, greater scaup, lesser scaup, ringneck, blue-wing teal, green-wing teal, cinnamon teal, shoveller, and gadwall; and any person at any one time may possess not more than 24 ducks in the aggregate of all kinds, but not more than 10 of any one, or more than 10 in the aggregate, of the following species—canvassack, redhead, greater scaup, lesser scap, ringneck, blue-wing teal, green-wing teal, cinnamon teal, shoveller, and gadwall, and not more than 4 geese and brant may be taken in one day; and to prohibit the hunting of woodcock in the upper Peninsula.

His Prediction Has Come True!

When Herbert Hoover was campaigning for reelection to the presidency two years ago he declared that if he was not re-elected and if his policies were not continued, grass would be growing in the streets of the busy industrial centers of America.

His prediction has come true! In fact the grass has grown up so high that some of the business neighbors of William Conner are urging him to mow it.

The irony of it all is that this grass would have to sprout up through the concrete right in front of a place that has been the Democratic headquarters of this fast growing little industrial center, there is grass growing, just as President Hoover said it would.

Another Pay-Off At The Big Bank

Something like $35,000 is being poured into circulation in Plymouth as the result of another five percent pay-off by the Plymouth United Savings bank. The holders of memorandum agreement certificates if they have not yet received the cash on this pay-off, can secure it by calling at the bank. Many are leaving it on deposit for future use. About $35,000 in cash made available at this time is proving of untold benefit to a large number of people.

Two Sunday Concerts At The Hi-Hat Inn

Jens Sorensen, owner of the Hi-Hat Inn, formerly the Nankin Mills Inn on the Ann Arbor Trail just east of the Wayne road, has announced two special orchestra concerts Sunday, one in the afternoon and the other at 7 o'clock in the evening. He has engaged the Wausen orchestra of 40 pieces, under the direction of Ever Eriksen, well known Danish musical director who was at one time instructor in the Royal Conservatory of Music in London, to play for both of these concerts. During intermissions, "The Ben-net Buds" will provide the entertainment.

Hundreds Visit The New City Hall

of offices and meeting rooms which have been provided.

The items which attracted the greatest amount of attention seemed to be the exceptionally fine job of interior decorating, including the blending of colors between the ceilings, moldings and walls. The woodwork in the downstairs hallway and offices was also regarded with considerable interest by the visitors. The most outstanding item of interest seemed to be the mural in the commission room done by artist Edward McCandlish, of Plymouth.

Many people gathered in the Commission room and studied this picture on the south wall for a considerable length of time. Mr. McCandlish was present in the commission room and was asked many questions by the interested visitors. He also made pencil sketches of many of the guests as they passed through the commission room.

A list of twelve proposed projects was posted in the commission room and the guests were asked to indicate on a ballot prepared for that purpose, their choice of projects for work under the present CERA or future programs. Approximately two hundred persons indicated their desires in this matter by selecting certain of the twelve projects which were suggested. The project receiving the greatest number of votes was the one for the enclosing of Tonquish Creek. The next most popular project was a watering system for the Riverside cemetery, which the proposed Church street paving job received the next highest number of votes. An outdoor wading and swimming pool stood fourth in the list with the water main project following very closely. The tree planting project and the sidewalk repair project were tied for sixth place with the proposed Main Street widening job running a close seventh. Sewer construction took the eighth position while improvement of parks and concrete curb construction on unpaved streets were tied for the ninth position. The project receiving the least number of votes was the one covering the preparation of assessors plans. The latter project has already been started under CERA and at the present time seven men are engaged in this work. Probably the reason for this project being so low in the list is little understood by the average person. This project will make possible the correcting of many property descriptions which are now covered by long, and in some cases inadequate, descriptions.

One of the features in the demonstration of municipal activities was the trial run by the fire department. All of the firemen were on duty during the evening hours and at 8:55 p. m. when the greatest number of people were on the inside of the city hall, a fire alarm was turned in and both trucks responded to the call. Many of the people in the building were afforded the privilege of seeing the fire department in action and now have a better understanding of the duties and responsibilities of this fine body of well trained firemen.

On Monday and Tuesday many people who were unable to attend the opening ceremony on Saturday, visited the city hall and were shown through in the same manner as the guests on Saturday. The city employees will be glad to show any person or persons through the building who were unable to attend the ceremony on the opening day. If persons desire to be shown through the building they will indicate the same to any of the employees of the city hall, who will gladly escort them through the building showing the various outstanding features of the re-modeled building. A limited number of souvenirs are still available and these will be furnished to any persons desiring them.

The committee on arrangements appointed by the Mayor consisted of Commissioner Robinson, Dr. F. B. Hoyer, Commissioner Goldsmith, Elton Eaton, Berg Moore and L. P. Cookingham with Commissioner Whipple as chairman. The reception committee consisted of the city manager and Commissioners Robinson, Henderson, Whipple, Blunk and Goldsmith.

Extension Work Starts Sept. 19th

'The time has come,' the wails said, 'to talk of many things. And next Wednesday, Sept. 19, is the time for us to talk of the extension work in Home Economics carried on by Michigan State College. That is the date set for Rally Day in Wayne county, when all who are interested gather together to discuss the different projects scheduled for the coming year. The place is the community house on Stout avenue, just north of Schoolcraft Road.

Miss Emma DuBord, Home Demonstration agent for Wayne county, will tell about the work for the coming year, which will include Home Furnishing, Clothing and other projects. She will also tell all about the trip to New York this past summer. Afterward Miss Irene Taylor, Extension Clothing expert from M.S.C. will give a demonstration on remodeling hats.

The ladies are asked to reach the community hall at 11 a. m. if possible. Cooperative luncheon is planned from 12:00 noon to 1:30 p. m. when the program will begin. All are asked to be prompt. So the program may be finished by 4:00 p. m. Mrs. S. W. Spicer, Mrs. Jesse Thirteen and Mrs. W. MacLeod have been named committee for Plymouth to arrange details as to lunch and transportation. They have asked all the ladies to meet at the corner of Kellogg Park at Penniman and Main streets at 1:30 a. m. Those who do not drive may have places in otherwise empty cars. Anyone desiring to attend Rally Day please get in touch with Mrs. Spicer or Mrs. Truitt, phone 533W or with Mrs. MacLeod. Let us have as large a turnout-out of Plymouth as possible and give the winter's work a fine start.

LOCAL NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. L. Lawton, Miss Ruth Clark and Arthur Lawton of Albany, N. Y. will arrive Sunday for a few days' visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Campbell on North Harvey street en route to the World's Fair in Chicago.

Mrs. John Strub, daughter Margaret, sons, Louis and George, Mrs. Richard Straub and the former's niece, Miss Gretchen Boyce of Ohio, left Wednesday for a few days at a Century of Progress.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wileiden of Lansing and Miss Martha Von Grand Rapids will be visitors at the home of A. M. Wileiden Sunday. The former's mother returned home with them.

Miss Caroline Shaw, who returned here Saturday from Black Lake where she spent the summer will leave Sunday for Bowling Green, Ohio, to resume her duties as teacher.

Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Moon and family and his mother, Mrs. Nellie Moon, spent Sunday with the latter's sister at Gunn Lake.

Korte's All Stars of Dearborn pounded out their second victory of the three game series, over the Schrader-Haggerty's last Sunday, 8 to 2, with the aid of some excellent pitching by Arthur Gastinic and Leslie Suttle. The game was played at Plymouth-Riverside Park.

In the first game of the series Plymouth defeated Dearborn, 12 to 7. Dearborn came back to take the second game 15 to 4, and last Sunday made it two out of three to clinch the series.

The NRA And a Drunken Milk Wagon Driver

Anyone interested in the success or failure of the NRA as applied to industry need go no further than the Ira Wilson and Sons Creamery, Detroit.

Here is a firm that was among the first to sign up under the president's re-employment plan. Figures show they added more than 40 men to the payroll, under the administration's behest to provide more jobs.

These were not lowly paid jobs, either. Forty-five dollars a week for drivers is an average.

The Ira Wilson plant is one where employes have access to the boss' door.

Came the time when organizers got into the ranks and decided to unionize the place. Nothing was done to interfere.

But when one of these men got drunk, he was promptly fired. Here's where the NRA that wonderful child of the Brain Bust at Washington, began to show its precocity.

The men demanded a midnight hearing. It was refused. At five o'clock that morning all drivers who wanted to take out their wagons were told to do so. Those who didn't care to, but instead wanted to go on strike because a drunken driver was fired, were asked to step aside. Families filled the vacant drivers seats. The dairy business went on. Families were not disappointed. Milk was delivered.

The NRA contended that the Wilson milk firm was high handed. They ordered some of the men who refused to take out milk deliveries reinstated. The Wilson company stood its ground. It refused to do that. As a penalty, the blue eagle was taken away.

We highly commend the action of the Ira Wilson and Son's dairy. The drunken driver should have been fired. The men who stood by him should have lost their jobs. The people who pay for milk being delivered should be served, and they were.

The NRA is manifestly unfair. Anything that is so grossly lacking in fair play cannot win the commendation of the American people. We have seen the cancelled checks of some of the men who walked out. One drew $60.70, another $45.35, and a third $70.55—all for one week's work piece. One of these men is a cripple.

We believe in fair treatment of workmen. We also believe in fair treatment of employers.

When the NRA takes it into its head to stand up for things that are wrong, its own influence totters.

Ira Wilson has not been known as an exploiter of labor. But he has been known as a staunch fighter for what he considers to be right.

We believe that Ira Wilson has the right to fire any drunken employe and that the NRA or any other agency that attempt to interfere with such disciplinary procedure is tearing down rather than building up industrial relations.

Ira Wilson is to be congratulated in not bowing down to the erroneous edicts of an unintelligent bureaucracy. —From The Redford Record

Battle Of Lake Erie Fought 121 Years Ago

Just one hundred and twenty-one years ago last Monday, Detroit and this part of Michigan was re-claimed for the United States from the British as the result of the successful battle on Lake Erie by Commander Oliver Perry. Probably if it had not been for that victory the British flag would be flying over Plymouth today.

Out of that successful naval battle on Sept. 10, 1813 came one of the country's most famous historical declarations — "We have met the enemy and they are ours."

In order to stop British military operations in the upper Mississippi Valley, it was planned to cut off their communication with eastern Canada by obtaining command of the Great Lakes. To do this, Master-Commandant Oliver H. Perry collected a fleet of nine vessels on Lake Erie, having built five of the ships from green timber and Bayley built a similar fleet of six British vessels. On September 10, 1813, the two home-made fleets met at the western end of the lake. On his flagship, the LAWRENCE, Perry hoisted a blue flag bearing the divine words of Captain Lawrence, "Don't give up the ship." The LAWRENCE and two small ships soon hauled ahead of the remaining United States ships and became engaged by the entire British Squadron. The LAWRENCE was soon a wreck and Perry having fired the last effective gun with his own hands, rowed in an open boat to the NIAGARA with his 13 year old brother and a few survivors. Then he brought the other ships into action and soon with the LAWRENCE to receive the swords of the surrendering British captains. He reported the victory on the back of an old letter saying, "We have met the enemy and they are ours—two ships, two brigs, one schooner, and one sloop." The victory regained the Michigan-Detroit territory for the United States and had a marked effect on the peace negotiations. Perry's original flag bearing the words, "Don't give up the ship" has been carefully preserved and is on display in Memorial Hall at the U. S. Naval Academy where it serves as an inspiration for the Nation's future Naval Officers.

Human rights have taken first place over property rights in the New Deal and all that it portends.

Eloise Inmates Now Number 7123

The drought is credited with increasing the number of indigents at Eloise Infirmary by Dr. Thomas K. Gruber, superintendent. On Saturday the registration totaled 7,123 which is 225 more than was established at the summer peak a year ago. An all time high was established last winter with a total of 10,220.

Many who would be employed on farms were conditions normal, have been forced to seek charity," Dr. Gruber said.

The institution has facilities for caring for approximately 12,000 indigents.

Strikes are like fevers. They must run a certain length of time before the employers and employees arrive at a stage when they show symptoms of common sense.

First Meeting Voters League

The first meeting of the fall was held by the League of Women Voters Monday Sept. 10th, in the lovely new community room in the city hall.

A large number of interested women attended and during the meeting both party ballots were displayed and studied.

Following the business meeting candidates or some interested party speaking for the candidate were introduced in order by the President, Mrs. Ruth Huston-Wipple.

Cole of Northville spoke for Dr. L. W. Snow of Northville, candidate for coroner.

Ralph A. McHugh of Detroit, gave a brief review of Judge Arthur J. Lacy's qualifications and platform for governor on the democratic ticket.

Dr. Edward F. Fisher of Dearborn, Republican candidate for re-election for the 4th term for state representative expressed his ideas very pleasantly.

Judge Joseph A. Gillis, republican, seeking election as Judge of Probate gave a human touch in explaining the work he has accomplished in Common Pleas Court.

Paul W. Voorhies, former Attorney General spoke for Frank D. Fitzgerald, republican candidate for this office and the plans he had for the future if elected.

Miss Anne F. Alpern, attorney of Detroit, represented Mrs. Marguerite Montgomery also an attorney and Public Administratrix of Wayne county who seeks the election on the democratic ballot. Miss Alpern stressed the need of a woman for this office.

Alex J. Groesbeck, republican.
