HE MET THE TEST—AND HE WON

In this editorial column the week following the primary election, the statement was made that Hon. Frank D. Fitzgerald, Republican candidate for governor, would meet his first great test at the Republican state convention held in Flint last week. It was stated that upon his ability to say NO much of his political future rested. We predicted that he would have the will power to say NO when the emergency confronted him.

It is history now—but he did say NO and he said it so emphatically that no one could misunderstand him.

He said NO to former Governor Fred Green when he refused to permit the nomination again of Howard Lawrence for state treasurer.

He said NO to former state treasurer Frank McKay of Grand Rapids who wanted an unknown nominated for the highly important office that Mr. Fitzgerald has filled with such credit to himself for four years.

He said NO to the Bernard gang of Detroit that tried to prevent the nomination of Harry S. Toy for attorney general.

When Mr. Fitzgerald set his face westward towards political decency, he spiked the pilot wheel of his ship and directed the cleaning of the Republic. He walked forth as a determined, powerful political captain and aided his crew in throwing back into the sea the sharks that have brought the Republican party to the brink of political oblivion.

The citizens of Michigan are happy today. The hundreds of thousands who through many long years have religiously clung to Republicanism because of their belief in its patriotic principles and because of its long record of accomplishments for national progress, can again go forth, proudly and enthusiastically, and proclaim their belief in Republicanism.

No longer need they shame-facedly go forth making apologies because of the leadership of the party in Michigan.

Mr. Fitzgerald with one stroke cleared out all of the refuse, all that was and is bad and he turned the party back into a straight course of political decency, and honorable public service as the port of destination. We congratulate him upon his firm stand in behalf of the good people of Michigan and upon his ability to say NO to those who have brought discredit to a great political organization. He is headed in the right direction.

WE LIKE DOGS

The enactment of a new dog ordinance by the city commission a few weeks ago has caused quite a bit of comment among some of the dog owners of the city. We like dogs. Back in the days when children were small, the family had lots of dogs, great big Danes, collies, Doberman Pinschers, police dogs and another kind of a dog that experts said was a cross between a German Dachshunde and a Boston bull. Nature seemed to put the face of a Boston aristocrat on the low-hanging dachshunde body. He was a freak, but a good dog. One could not help but like all of these dogs. But that didn't prevent them from being a nuisance and a luxury and we are quite inclined to say amen to the efforts of the city commission to control the dog nuisance of this community. There are many people who make an effort to keep their dogs at home and they do a good job of it. On the other hand there are folks who like to have their dogs live out of the garbage cans of the next door neighbors. It is too bad that there is no way to discriminate between a well-cared for dog and one that is not, but just like everything else, dogs should be treated alike. That is why there is some protest against the new ordinance—people who properly care for their dogs must necessarily be penalized as the result of those who allow their dogs to become a nuisance. A good dog ordinance is right and proper and the dog owners who take proper care of their dogs cannot help but benefit in the long run by a properly enforced sensible dog ordinance.

TOWNS AND TAXES

Towns suffering from excessive tax rates can take a tip from Temple, N. H., whose citizens turn out once a year to work for the town—and have a community "good time" doing it.

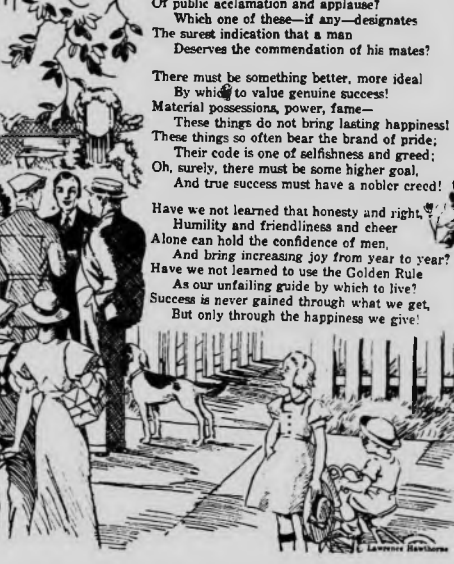

Twenty years ago heavy appropriations for maintenance of streets and improvement of town property were voted down at town meeting. Yet, reasoned the residents, the work had to be done to make community life practical. It was then that the idea of "town day" originated. This year 100 men turned out to give their services, owners of trucks loaned them free of charge and a citizen gave free sand and gravel for roadwork.

While the men repaired the roads, women gathered at the Town Hall and prepared a luncheon. The town band furnished dinner music and everybody had a good time. Work, play and sociability were so combined that citizens look forward to "town day." There are hundreds of communities which would do well to imitate Temple; "town day" is fun—paying heavy taxes isn't.—The Christian Science Monitor.

The old fashioned woman who used to boast about how many glasses of jelly she could get out of a gallon of berries has a daughter who likes to brag about how many miles she can get out of a gallon of gas.

The Only True Success

by Lawrence Hawthorne

What is the truest measure of success?
Is it a million-dollar bank account?
Is it a lengthy list of stocks and bonds?
Is it, perhaps, a generous amount
Of public acclamation and applause?
Which one of these—if any—designates
The surest indication that a man
Deserves the commendation of his mates?

There must be something better, more ideal
By which to value genuine success!
Material possessions, power, fame—
These things do not bring lasting happiness!
These things so often bear the brand of pride;
Their code is one of selfishness and greed;
Oh, surely, there must be some higher goal,
And true success must have a nobler creed!

Have we not learned that honesty and right,
Humility and friendliness and cheer
Alone can hold the confidence of men,
And bring increasing joy from year to year?
Have we not learned to use the Golden Rule
As our unailing guide by which to live?
Success is never gained through what we get,
But only through the happiness we give!

Rambling Around With Michigan Editors

SCHUYLER TELLS 'EM

Malcom Bingay writes "Only God can make a tree" and He didn't make it for you, political candidates to use as a billboard on which to tack your ugly mugs.—Schuyler Marshall, Clinton County Republican-News.

PLAIN TALK

As the investigation goes on regarding the munition profiteers it brings out more disgusting revelations than anybody outside of the ring thought was possible, for it is opening up rings within rings and finding not only in our country but in other countries bloodsucking vipers, who for a price against their own people and governments they accept bribes in order to give the inhuman crowd all the lee way possible regardless of how many of their fellow men must perish in order to satiate their hellish greed. Now that the devils have been shown up with their ill-gotten gains be taken from them or will the whole thing be white-washed and pigeon holed never to be heard of again? The common people awaits an answer.—J. E. McMullen in The Linden Leader.

JOHNSON IS OUT

Gen. Hugh S. Johnson is out. His resignation has been accepted. That's the penalty of politics. Mr. Johnson was summoned to administer a scheme antagonistic to American principles. That he would encounter great difficulties was a matter of absolute certainty. But, it made him so unpopular that he had to hand in his resignation. A political general or president can not afford to keep a man who is unpopular as it unpolarizes the administration. But the beauty of it all is that the sicksters who rolled the balls for Johnson to shoot remain at their posts! That's the irony of the whole thing, and that must eat John's heart out, for he was carrying out only what those who now remain had laid out for him.—Frank Bryce in The Grand Ledge Independent.

FRATERNAL EMBLEMS OUT

M. H. DePoe, in his Charlotte paper, comments on having seen a big Elk's tooth worn by a fellow in Detroit and that he must be a new member. "Doc" remarks further that now that the primary is over a goodly number of lapel emblems and buttons have gone back into the old jewel case for a long vacation. That's the reverse to what it used to be with quite a few candidates. Facts are that we've had more than one argument with candidates who have shed their emblems during a campaign so that they could play both sides and the middle. On the subject of emblems, though, what a change there has been in the last couple of years. A person doesn't see one emblem to scores of them in the past. Seemingly it is taboo to wear fraternal pins, or more particularly emblem buttons in coat lapels. Who started it, how or why, is beyond our comprehension. One thing is certain, that the former big going business of fraternal emblems is a bust at the present time.—Harry Izor in The Durand Express.

MAN'S FOOLISHNESS

Kitch-iti-ki-pi, the Big Spring of Schoolcraft county has fallen victim to man's ego that he can improve upon nature. Workmen employed to clear up the woods and make a city park out of the surrounding area have dug a ditch and let muddy water into the crystalline blue of the big spring basin. Now after every heavy rain it is impossible to see more than a few feet into the depths of the basin. Man is a strange animal.—Vern Brown in the Ingham County News.

One of Plymouth's Great Fairs Started 48 Years Ago Sept. 28

Harry Robinson Has In His Possession One Of The Original Premium Lists Of Fair Held Here In Fall of 1886

"Come to Plymouth to the great fair—September 28, 29, 30 and October 1."
No, not this year—but 48 years ago—the above words covered the handbills that advertised the second annual Plymouth fair.

Forty-eight long years ago L. C. Hough, L. H. Bennett, T. C. Sherwood, W. O. Allen, C. D. Duffee, O. R. Pettinelli, J. M. Collier, S. J. Springer, J. W. Taft, and Byron Poole, all pioneers of this community were active trying to do something for the good of their community.

They organized the Plymouth Fair Association which flourished for a number of years, and at times brought great crowds to Plymouth from all the surrounding country.

There has just come into the possession of Harry Robinson, one of the Premium books of the fair that started in Plymouth 48 years ago last Friday. The first fair was held in 1885. The premium book was printed in the Wayne Review office, which was then the home of the old Plymouth Review, published by the founder of the Plymouth Mail.

The fair was divided into twelve departments. The first department was the cattle department in charge of Joel G. Bradner. Henry Springer looked after the horse exhibit. T. V. Quackenbush, the sheep department. L. J. Kellogg the swine display. John Root ran the poultry show. D. D. Allen looked after the exhibits of grains, seeds and vegetables. Ira E. Kenyon brought together the fruit exhibit. John M. Ward had the agricultural implement display in charge. Carmen Root was in charge of the exhibit of vehicles, domestic implements and manufactures. Will Bassett looked after the display of furniture, harness and leather work. C. B. Crosby had in charge the domestic manufacturing department and Miss Lillie Fairman was in charge of the fine art and floral hall.

T. C. Sherwood was president of the association. L. C. Hough was treasurer. J. M. Collier was secretary. S. J. Springer was chief marshal. O. R. Pettinelli was vice president and W. O. Allen assistant secretary.

The horse races were referred to in the premium book as "exhibition of speed in the harness."

Managers of the "exhibition of speed" were Byron Poole and L. H. Bennett.

There was no division of trotting and pacing races but on the final day there was a running race.

The horse exhibit was divided into five different classes. First came the thoroughbreds, then the draft horses, carriage horses, roadsters and finally horses for all classes of work.

This division gives some idea as to the importance of the horse as a domestic animal some 50 years ago. Its services were divided up just about in the same way that automobiles are today.

The fair book is filled with advertisements from Plymouth and Detroit merchants.

Bassett & Son were the furniture dealers and funeral directors of Plymouth at that time. They carried a half page ad in the book. H. Willis advertised the fact that he manufactured wagons, sleighs, etc., and that his fitting was promptly and neatly done. Horse shoeing was also a specialty.

"Plenty of stable room for horses," said William Allen in his ad of the old Beaman house. John King was advertised as the clerk.

John L. Gale advertised the fact that he was a dealer in drugs, medicines, groceries, boots and shoes, and paints and oils.

E. N. Passage advertised "the finest barber shop in town."

B. Poole was a "general dealer in grain, salt, coal, plaster and lime."

A. M. Potter advertised the fact that he was a manufacturer of harnesses and a dealer in "horse clothing." He also carried a "large stock of furs and woolen goods."

M. Conner & Son had one of the largest ads in the book. They were dealers in hardware, tinware and glass as well as wooden ware.

P. B. Park had "rigs to let day or night at reasonable rates."

A. Felham, dentist, said in his ad "all work warranted."

The "Red Front Drug Store" was run by Pinckney and Chaffee. In addition to drugs and medicines, they sold groceries, tobaccos and dye stuffs.

C. E. Crosby and Co. advertised their place as the "Old Reliable House." Dry goods, oil cloth, hats and caps and wall paper were sold in "exchange for butter and eggs."

A. H. Dibble carried a line of boots and shoes from the best "Home and Eastern manufacturers."

E. Bradner, advertised the fact that he sold groceries, barrel churns, barbed fencing, glass and nutty.

The directors of the Plymouth National bank were Samuel Lyndon, I. N. Starkweather, E. F. St. Johns, E. C. Leach, L. D. Shearer, George Van Sickle, O. R. Pettinelli, William Geer, L. H. Bennett, J. C. Hough, D. B. Wilcox, S. J. Springer and T. C. Sherwood.

It is interesting to note that the officers of this bank were practically the same as officers of the fair association.

Polley and Wherry were manufacturers of the Plymouth Iron Harrow which they advertised as the winner of first premiums at all state and county fairs.

C. A. Frisbee was a dealer in lumber lath and shingle.

C. J. Hamilton and Co. advertised the "Little Gem" stove pipe holder that was far superior to anything else on the market. The stove pipe just couldn't fall down, if it was used.

W. H. Hoyt was the owner of the Plymouth Marble Works. Besides making tombstones, his ad said he made stone covers for wells.

W. J. Burrow was postmaster. He advertised in a half page space that you should go to the postoffice for plain and fancy stationery, school supplies, sewing machine oil and needles. He also took subscriptions for newspapers.

E. P. Lombard and W. I. Smith sold fire, life, lightning and wind insurance.

R. G. Hall & Son carried dry goods, woolens, dress goods, notions and hosiery.

"Restaurant and Lunch counter," choice cigars, and agent for Niagara Falls Laser, said Charles Miller in his ad.

"The Plymouth Rock Bottling Co." sold bottled goods "such as lemon, vanilla, sarsaparilla, birch beer and Plymouth Rock ginger ale." Also a "reliable" cure for headache, sleeplessness and indigestion.

Bennett & Dunn ran the central market.

"Starkweather still continues to do business down in 'Joppa' where honest goods are sold at lowest honest prices. Everything for sale," read one ad.

W. F. Markham—manufacturer of wood cisterns—over 2,000 in use and not a single complaint," said Mr. Markham's ad.

Charles Bremser, general blacksmithing and repairing and manufactured iron harrows.

"Go to G. V. Bentley's for your agricultural implements, seeders and harrows. Skating rink, Main street, Plymouth," said another ad.

"Streng Brothers—fresh salt and smoked meats, always on hand."

Besides all of these advertisements—and Plymouth business men were as good advertisers in those days as now, there was published the premium list which showed that the old fair association was liberal in its cash awards.

Mr. Robinson highly prizes the old Plymouth Fair Premium List book as far as known the only one in existence.

A WANT AD COST LITTLE

How much will my electric bill be if I use an electric range?"

You can find out exactly by means of this TRIAL PLAN!

If you have asked yourself this question "How much will my electric bill be if I use an electric range?" and wondered if you could afford to use a range, you need hesitate no longer. Here is a way to find out EXACTLY what your bill will be—and you do not need to BUY the range first. You can use the range ON TRIAL in your own kitchen—test it thoroughly under all conditions—cook three meals a day on it—use all your favorite recipes. Then, when you have received your electric bill and found out how much the range costs YOU to operate, when you have become acquainted with its many superiorities, when you have decided whether or not you like it, make your own decision: Keep the range or send it back, whichever you choose. There is no obligation.

Here are the details of the trial plan: We will install an electric range in your kitchen without initial charge, and let you use it for six months, removing it without charge if you do not like it. During this trial period, you pay for the service as registered by your meter, plus a monthly charge of $1 for the range. If you decide to keep the range, your monthly payments will be applied toward the purchase price. If you decide that you do not want it, the range will be removed at our expense.

Since this trial plan was begun a short time ago, nearly four thousand of our customers have taken advantage of this offer. Send in your application for a trial range today!

A study using an electric range shows a saving in cooking cost.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
 10 a. m. Worship, 11:30 a. m. Sunday school. Rally Day next Sunday, and the Presbyterians are anticipating a fine day with two very special services.
 At 10 a. m. o'clock the members of this church are expected to gather almost 100 per cent strong to share in the worship service.

and to break bread together in a great communion service. Individual attendance records will be kept of those members participating in the Lord's Supper.
 The Rally Day service in the Sunday School is to be one of unusual interest. The church choir will lead in the praise service and furnish several duets and solos. Members of the school will take part in the exercises. The general theme is "The Lamp Within Thy Hand." Every class in the school is expected to be up to full strength.

Several classes have held meetings during this week and a marked increase of interest is being shown.
 The meeting of the Busy Women's Club which was called for Tuesday of this week was postponed and will be held on Tuesday of next week at Mrs. Hillmer's home, 711 Starkweather avenue. There will be a cooperative dinner at noon and a program and social hour will follow.
 On Wednesday of next week the Woman's Auxiliary will entertain the Women's Union of the Northville Presbyterian Church. The meeting is called for 2:30 p. m. The Northville women are providing an excellent program. Plymouth women will serve refreshments. For two good reasons every woman of the church should try to be at this meeting on Wednesday: first, because it will be a real inspiration to be present and second because she is hostess to a neighboring church society.

The Synod of Michigan meets in First Presbyterian Church, Kalamazoo, next Friday from Tuesday to Friday. This is the one hundredth anniversary meeting of the Synod.
FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH
 "Reality" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in All Christian Science Church, throughout the world on Sunday, September 30.
 Among the Bible citations was this passage (Ps. 85: 8): "I will hear what God the Lord will speak, for he will speak peace unto his people, and to his saints; let them not turn again to folly."
 Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p. 298): "Life, Truth and Love are the realities of divine Science. They dawn in faith and glow full on in spiritual understanding. As a cloud hides the sun it cannot extinguish, so false belief silences for a while the voice of immutable harmony, but false belief cannot destroy Science armed with faith, hope, and fruition."

All Star Team Humbled Here
 Plymouth Schrader-Hagerty pulled a surprise last Sunday at Plymouth-Riverside Park, when they conquered an All Star team from the Down River League, by the score of 9 to 2.
 Francis Bridge, local girl athlete, made her first appearance as a member of the Plymouth club, and proved her ability as a player. She played centerfield and scored the second Plymouth run in the first inning after drawing a base on balls.
 Orsan Atchinson, chosen to face the All Stars on the mound, proved to be very effective, allowing eight well scattered hits. His teammates excellent fielding and timely hitting figured in the victory. Plymouth made two errors and had one of them turned out to be troublesome.
 Arnold Carroll, the main pitcher for Schmidt's Famous in the Down River League, was elected to pitch for the All Stars. At times he seemed to trouble the Plymouth pitchers, but did not come through in the tight spots. The All Stars had five errors chalked against them that turned out to be disastrous.
 The Michigan Farmers, of the Class A division of the Detroit Baseball Federation, will put in their second appearance of the season at Plymouth - Riverside Park Sunday October 7th. In their first visit to Plymouth, the Farmers shut out Plymouth, 8 to 0. The locals will be out to even the series Sunday. Be sure to see this game with Miss Francis Bridge playing in her second contest of the season. Game time at 3:30 p. m.

New Books Received At Plymouth Library
 The following new books have been received at the Plymouth Library:
 "Debt Possession," by Lide. A story of South Carolina in the early 1700's.
 "Spider in the Cup," by Shearing. A horror story that holds one in suspense.
 "Indeed This Flesh," by Flannery. A story of an ordinary man.
 "While Rome Burns," by Woolcott. Witty tales by a great reporter.
 "Maris Paluma," by Niles. A love story of an Indian maiden and a young Spanish caballero, told against a background of the Spanish conquest of Guatemala.

Nowadays
 The question chosen for high school debate this year is that of federal aid to state education.
 Two and one half million children of school age are not in school according to a statement of Geo. Zook, former United States Commissioner of Education. He further points out that sixteen colleges and one thousand five hundred commercial schools have closed their doors in addition to two thousand closed rural schools. The average rural teacher received a higher wage than the NRA minimum for unskilled labor.
 It is a difficult position for those in opposition to the plan to oppose the theory of equalization of education. Supporters of the plan, however, must not forget that the federal government is already far in debt. It must be remembered that education can not be defined in terms of dollars and cents. It costs far less money to give a Southern student the same education as that given New England equalization of education would be expressed in terms of the course of study and opportunity for advancement of the student.
 One of the principal issues of the question is that of the negro problem. If it can be shown that the educating of the Southern negro would raise their standards of living, equalization passes from the realm of desirability and into the realm of necessity. On the other hand if the negroes would waste their education the money might better be spent elsewhere.
 The question this year is one which has many possible plans and should be of great interest to every student and teacher.

Tripping Among The Daffodils
 Well, trans. I am in again, and with the latest and dirtiest dirt of the week I'll tell you about it.
 This week starts a new column in competition with the old stand-bys but don't you worry, we can hold our own. This so called column is "Nosing In" or "Snooping In" or something but he better start chiseling in. His author is none other than Norvall "Gable" Bovee who amuses the librarian by wiggling his ears. Only they won't wiggle.
 Has anyone seen Wyath Dunn's car, pardon me, I mean Ford, not car. This daring young lad took a little too speedy and there happened to be some one else at the same corner. Well, that's all right, Wyath, that time your loss was my gain.
 Patsy McKinnon calms her nerves in Latin class by chewing her tongue.
 I thought any one in high school was past the stage of wearing a bib but Betty Housley is an exception; yes, sir, she really wore a bib to school.
 Jack "Kilowatt" Wilcox takes a part in another play and what a comedy it is! He just lays them in the aisles every time he opens his mouth. Any time you want to know if ginger ale is good or not just let Pussfoot test it for you. He has a way all his own.
 The old romance of Rex and Doris has resumed again just like all other things have resumed since school has resumed. (Looks like things have started.)
 School has a peculiar effect on some of us. Sterling Rorabacher talks to himself in study hall. He says he likes to hear a good man talk.

Debaters Elect Student Council
 Electing two student council representatives at a single meeting. Plymouth high school debaters recently selected Jack Sessions and Jewel Starkweather to positions in the Student Council as forensic representatives. Since both candidates nominated were tied in the election, Jack Sessions will serve during the first semester and Jewel Starkweather during the second. A debate contest will be chosen in the near future.

New Stamp Club Plans Programs
 Having elected officers at a previous meeting, the recently formed Stamp Club, assembling Thursday, September 27, planned a series of programs for the next four weeks. It was determined to include other hobbies in the club's activities in order to provide an interesting weekly program. Talks on various stamps have been scheduled.
 A bulletin board has been placed outside Room 30, and various stamps and notices will be displayed there. At the next meeting stamps portraying athletics will be discussed by William Holdsworth and a collection of Indian arrowheads displayed by Russell Kirk.

Farm House Burns, All Furniture Lost
 Fire, at an early hour Sunday completely destroyed what was known as the old Teshka farm house on East Base Line road, on the Washtenaw and Wayne county line. All contents, too, were burned.
 The place was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Rakestraw (Lillian Lyke) and their small daughter. Mr. Rakestraw had left for his work about midnight. About five o'clock his wife was awakened by the smell of smoke and upon investigating found the entire kitchen ablaze. She rushed to the telephone and called her parents who live about a quarter of a mile north, and then found that she barely had time to rescue her child and get out of the building, so quickly did the flames spread. Mrs. Rakestraw and the little girl were in night attire and were taken to the home of her parents.
 The Northville fire department responded to the alarm but could do nothing. Every piece of furniture, excepting an old chair, and all clothing were destroyed. The place is the property of Arnold Teshka an employee of the Kelvinator Company in Detroit.
 The Rakestraws have many friends and sympathy is felt for them everywhere. Community folks have arranged a party at the old German church (one mile south from the burned building, at 7-Mile road) for this Friday night for the benefit of the family.—South Lyon Herald.

Competition Column
 We saw a new version of the "heads, I win, tails, you lose" game at the Dea and Dumb foot" ball game. The two captains came together to flip the penny and as the coin was hurled into the air, the mute captain gave himself a gentle tap behind his ear, indicating his choice.
 Junius has in his possession a letter from one Ruth Marie Wilson to one "Sekaterly Hawkins." It caused quite a riot in history class so Junius had to take it away from her. She told him that his adventures made her scream, or something like that, effect. She may recover said letter by applying at locker No. 13.
 There was considerable comment in one of the classes when a fair young thing inferred that William Tell shot an apple from his son's head at a distance of one hundred feet. Several gentlemen remarked that an apple couldn't be seen at four hundred feet. Jim Livingston saved the day for her when he suggested that it might have been a spy apple. Should we shoot him or should we not?
 This week we begin a new feature. In each this week the prize is offered for the most remarkable necktie, and it is won by Jack Selle for that yellow affair which he drapes around his neck. He will receive his award in a few days via mail. Next week a new prize will be given in a new field.
 We saw Miss Ford joy riding in Dean Herrick's Rock of the Hesperus.
 Junius II.

Drama Club Sees Play
 The Senior high drama club presented, "The Pot Boller," at their last meeting.
 This play was given by the seniors at the freshman reception. It is a very humorous play about a play writer. The director or Mr. Suds is played by Jack Wilcox. Miss Woodenhead, a learning author is portrayed by William Brown. Miss Pencil and Mr. Inkwell are taken by the villainess and villain Eva Scarpulla and Alvah Ezerman. Mr. Rules is played by Norvall Bovee. Miss Ivory is played by Jean Joffe and Mrs. Ivory by Doris Fishlock.
 The Drama Club elected Miriam Brown as Student Council representative.

BUDGET BOOK AIDS OWNERS TO PLAN MODERNIZATION

Floyd Wilson, heating contractor of Plymouth announced yesterday that he had just received for distribution here a limited number of copies of the book, "How to Prepare Your Modernization Budget," which is being distributed at the World's Fair in Chicago in the Modernization Center maintained by the American Radiator Company.
 The book was published as an aid to home owners in connection with the Federal Government's movement to provide better housing through modernization, and is offered here without charge to home owners who call for it.
 The Budget Book is forty pages in length. Presenting a typical average home, it takes it room by room and offers suggestions for modernizing and improving it. It treats such possible fields of modernization as plumbing, roofing, painting and decorating, structural changes, heating, electrical work, masonry and landscaping.
 For each section of the house comprehensive lists of improvements are offered under each of these headings. The owner is asked to check every item in these lists which he would like to consider for his home, and to make a summary, on special pages provided, of work to be done in each field.

 Attractive photographs throughout illustrate the benefits of modernization.
 The home owner is also given full details on the procedure to follow in securing his Better Housing loan.
 Floyd Wilson is prepared to undertake any type of heating modernization work for the home owner and arrange for its financing under the terms of the Federal Housing Administration. Through an arrangement with the Heating and Plumbing Finance Corporation of New York, they can arrange all details of the financing. The home owner does not have to obtain a special loan from a bank or other institution to pay for the heating work he wishes to have done. Phone 638.

SAMUEL WINTERS
 Samuel Winters who resided at the home of his sister, Mrs. Mary Wingard at 685 Starkweather avenue, passed away Sunday morning September 30, at the age of 70 years. The body was brought to the Schrader Brothers Funeral Home, from which place funeral services were held Tuesday, October 2nd, 1934 at 2 p. m. Interment in Riverside Cemetery. Rev. A party of twenty-four ladies gathered at the home of Mrs. Cleo Curtis Saturday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Fred Killingworth. The afternoon was most pleasantly passed in playing "500." Later a dainty lunch was served at the small tables with pink and white used as the color scheme.

Mrs. William Farley and daughter, Vaun, entertained a large number of guests at a "miscellaneous" shower Saturday afternoon at their home on Adams street honoring their daughter and sister, Miss Imo Campbell, whose marriage to Lynn Fraser of Northville takes place on October 14. Games were played during the afternoon after which Melvin Charles Guthrie as "cupid" and his sister, Rosemary Guthrie, as an "angel" led the guest of honor to a chair where they crowned her with wreaths after which they drew a wagon in loaded with beautifully wrapped gifts which on opening were found to be gifts of linen, china, and other materials. A dainty lunch was served the guests being seated at one large table and other small tables decorated with dahlias in yellow. The invited guests were Mrs. William Fraser, Mrs. Kenneth Rathburn of Northville, Miss Wanda Curin of Walled Lake, Miss Catherine Flood of Wyandotte, Miss Winifred Crouch of Ferndale, Miss Dorothy Dean of Almont, Miss Helen Sberlock of Capac, Mrs. James Lendrum of Urbana, Illinois, Miss Hazel Rayner of Jackson, Mrs. Eugene Starkweather of Saginaw, Mrs. Melvin Guthrie, son, Melvin, Jr., and daughter, Rosemary, Mrs. Willard Lickfeldt, Mrs. Burton Benson, Mrs. Needham Lockwood, Mrs. Edwin Campbell and son, Teddy, Mrs. Lulu Cartel, Mrs. Miller Ross, Miss Christina Gray, Miss Vivian Smith, Miss Ingeborg Lundin, Mrs. Wanda Franz, Miss Winnifred Ford, Miss Marion Weatherhead, Miss Marion Tefft, Miss June Jewell, Miss Winona Kenner, Miss Dora Gallimore, Mrs. Evelyn Stanable and Miss Lorraine Corbett of this city.

Communications Editor Plymouth Mail: May I take this opportunity to express our appreciation of your editorial comment relative to our project which appeared on Friday, September 21. I would like to state at this time that your editorial has brought much favorable comment from the dealers in your locality, and I believe that you have rendered a wonderful service in assisting this social and economic problem. It would be gratifying to know that the nation possessed more broadminded editors, for the power of the press in bringing about these social reforms is the greatest attribute our country possesses.

Discusses The Amendments

Gasoline Tax-Proposed Amendment No. 2 provides for a maximum levy of two cents on each gallon of gasoline, and precludes the levy of any sales or income tax in connection with the manufacture or sale of gasoline. This amendment is proposed by the Automobile Club of Michigan.

Weight Tax-Proposed Amendment No. 3 provides for a maximum levy of 35 cents per hundred weight as a weight tax on passenger automobiles, and precludes the levy of any sales or income tax in connection with the manufacture or sale of automobiles. This amendment is proposed by the Michigan Farmer.

Income Tax-Proposed Amendment No. 5 would abolish the uniform rule of taxation, and would permit the Legislature to classify property for taxation purposes and pass a graduated income tax levied all revenues are to go to the public schools. It is proposed by the Michigan Farmer.

Justice of the Peace in Detroit - Proposed Amendment No. 6 provides that justice of the peace jurisdiction in civil cases up to three hundred dollars in cities of more than twenty-five thousand. (Applicable only in Detroit.) It was proposed by Joint resolution of the Senate and House of Representatives at the amend session of 1933. It would amend Section 16 of Article VII. Supt. Smith in part said: "Amendment No. 1, 4, and 6 mean exactly what is stated, and whether a person votes 'yes' or 'no' will depend upon his personal judgment in regard to each of the three."

Amendment No. 2, however is a two-part amendment: (a) Limiting the tax on gasoline. (b) Exempting oil companies of all other taxes which may be imposed directly or indirectly for all purposes, such as manufacturing, refining, selling, importing, transporting, and distributing the same in the state of Michigan.

The attorney general's department has ruled that in the event a state income tax comes into existence at some later date, these amendments "would preclude the possibility of collecting" income taxes from "incomes derived from manufacture and sales of automobiles and gasoline."

To lower the tax on gasoline would not necessarily mean the lowering of the price of gasoline because at the present time four states have 2c, twelve have 3c, sixteen have 4c, nine have 5c, six have 6c, and two have 7c, and the price of gasoline at these several states is not in proportion to the distance from the source of supply, and the rate of tax charged in the several states.

To reduce Michigan's tax on gasoline without a national ruling as to a basic price in the several states to which the tax would be added for the sales price, would mean that oil companies would be subsidized in Michigan to make up losses which they would incur because of the tax being greater in practically all of the other states.

Proposed amendment No. 3 has two clauses: (a) Limiting the weight tax on automobiles to thirty-five cents per hundred weight on all motor vehicles except trucks and motorcycles. (b) exempting the automobile companies from any other tax levied on incomes or receipts derived from the manufacture, sale, importation, storage, transportation, or distribution of cars.

By exempting the automobile industry from all tax on revenues received in the manufacture, sale, storage, and distribution of cars, would mean to set up a privileged class in the state of Michigan, the same as is attempted to do for the oil companies under the two-cent gasoline tax amendment.

Proposed Amendment No. 5 (a) Abolishes uniform rule of taxation. (b) Grants the legislature power to pass an income tax. "This is known as the 'Income Tax Amendment,' but the real and important part of the amendment is part 'a'."

Under part 'a' property would be passed in all probability according to its earning power. Whether to tax property according to its earning power is for the individual to conclude. It would probably bring out of hiding many millions of dollars in the way of bonds and stocks and place them upon the assessment roll. On the other hand, it would probably make it possible for real estate speculators to buy land, subdivide it, and probably escape taxation on the subdivision plots almost entirely because they would have little or no earning power. Upon diligent inquiry, voters can probably conclude intelligently whether proposed amendment No. 5 would be desirable or undesirable.

Local Farmers Will Vote Tonight On The Crop Control Plan

A meeting will be held at the Dearborn high school on Friday night October 5th at 7 p. m. for the purpose of determining the attitude of Wayne County farmers regarding future crop control measures.

Some of the points to be discussed and upon which the Department of Agriculture wishes a vote of those who have participated this year are—"Should the program of control for corn and hogs be continued as at present, or should it be for corn alone or should a new form be used including all grains?" Meetings of this nature are being held all over the country and the government wishes to know just what each one thinks about these questions. The probable supplies of grain and livestock next year and following years will be discussed in order to arrive at a conclusion on these questions and all farmers are urged to attend the meeting whether or not they have signed contracts. The meeting will be in charge of Ralph Carr, County Agricultural Agent.

Boys Return From The Upper Peninsula

Three Plymouth boys, Elmer Horvath, William Fisher and Oral Highfield, who have been in the northlands in CCC service, have returned to their homes in Plymouth. Elmer was at the camp near Raso in the Upper Peninsula and the other two boys were at the camp near Munising. All of them are in the best of health and speak enthusiastically of their work, although they are glad to be home. The boys enjoyed some of the real fishing that that part of the country offers. Elmer having hooked and landed one 12 pound rainbow on one of the bays off Lake Superior near where he was located.

Jo Jo White Was Plymouth Visitor

Jo Jo White, one of the Tiger star outfielders who is doing his bit to help win the world series for Detroit, was a Plymouth visitor the other day. He spent the entire afternoon playing golf on the Plymouth Golf course, which he declared to be as good a one as he had ever played.

With him were a number of friends who were as enthusiastic as was Jo. They discovered an excellent golf course they had discovered at the Plymouth Country club.

"It's great and you can tell them that I'll be back here again to play this course. Sure we are going to win the world series," he told other players who discovered his presence.

At any rate if the series goes as did the golf game there is no question but what the Tigers have it in the bag, for Jo Jo made his golf companions look like beginners.

SAMUEL J. WINTERS

Samuel J. Winters was born at Grosse Pointe, Mich., June 28, 1864 and passed away early Sunday morning, September 30, 1934. He had been in failing health in the past year and was taken to the hospital for an operation shortly before his death.

He leaves to mourn his loss, two sisters, Mrs. Mary J. Wingard of Plymouth with whom he had lived for the past twenty years and she had faithfully cared for him during his illness. Mrs. William Maxson, one brother, William Winters and five nieces and five nephews all of Bay City, Michigan.

Mr. Winters had been a builder and contractor the greater part of his life and will be missed by many friends he had made during his business career.

The funeral was held at Schradler Bros. Funeral home, Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Burial at Riverside Cemetery. Rev. Walter Nichol officiating.

Plymouth Buick Team Wins Again

The Plymouth Buicks won their fourth straight game and this makes the longest winning streak of the season. By winning this game it also made two straight over Harry's Old Timers. Last Sunday the Buicks won by the score of 7 to 6 and this Sunday the score was 4 to 3.

Sinta pitched five innings and gave the Old Timers only one hit and with good support would have had a shut out. He was relieved in the fifth inning for a pinch hitter when the Buick's scored the 2 runs which won the game.

Warren Bassett pitched the last four innings and gave up only two hits and one run.

C. Levandowski was again the leading hitter when he got two out of four trips to the plate. The first time up he got a double, which made his seventh straight hit but was stopped in his next trip to the plate.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Bakewell, 137 Caster avenue, entertained forty-two guests on Saturday evening, Sept. 29 in honor of the latter's mother Mrs. Wm. Bakewell it being her birthday. The evening was spent playing cards and singing old songs. The guest of honor received several lovely gifts.

Cattle Test Costs To Be Paid For By Govt.

Indemnities for reactors to the blood test for Bang's Disease (contagious abortion) are now to be paid for by funds from the Federal A.A. Previously an owner took all his loss—now he may receive Federal aid up to $20 for a grade animal and $50.00 for a pure bred.

Bang's Disease causes more loss and inconvenience to the cattle owners than any other disease and in addition buyers are all demanding blood tested cattle both from the Public Health and financial standpoints and this is an opportunity to get a start on a clean herd.

Application for the forms should be made to Dr. T. S. Rich, Room 712, State Office Building, Lansing, or you may leave your name with Ralph Carr, County Agricultural Agent, Dearborn, who will see that the proper forms are supplied.

Clinic For Sewing Machines October 8

As announced last week, A. J. Bell is coming from Michigan State college to help clean and adjust sewing machines. There is still room for two or three more machines for the clinic, anyone wishing to bring her machine, call Mrs. Bruce Woodbury, 1462 Sheridan avenue, phone 499M. Each lady is asked to bring to the clinic her sewing machine, a pie tin, one pint of kerosene and a supply of cleaning cloths.

Under supervision of Mr. Bell each lady cleans her machine and adjusts it with his help. All interested are requested to be at the high school by 10 a. m. Monday, October 8, so the machines may be started on time and finish early.

Ladies who took their machines to the clinic last spring have had splendid results.

Paul Edwin Pettigrew, born recently in Fort Worth, Texas, weighed 16 1/2 lbs. at birth. His father weighs more than 200 and his mother nearly 300 lbs.

Walter Varum, Ph. D. of Los Angeles Junior College, earned his doctorate degree on an investigation of knee-jerk reflex. He made a record of over 10,000 jerks.

Harry Willis, New Orleans, La., heavyweight mascot of a decade ago, has failed the money test of every year for the last twenty years, always shedding at least 50 lbs. in 30 days.
