

Old Santa Not To Slight Homeless Boys And Girls

Nearly 400 Forgotten Children At Training School To Have Gifts School Employees Look After Children Who Are Friendless And Without Relatives

So that this happy Christmas period may not pass without some 350 or more homeless and friendless children enjoying some of the Christmas spirit that brings so much happiness and joy to all the world...

In fact, states Dr. Robert H. Haskell, superintendent of the school, the idea is not a new one this year. The teachers and other workers for several years past have seen to it that no child at the training school went by a Christmas day without a remembrance of some kind from old Santa.

There are nearly 700 children in the school and Dr. Haskell states that at least 375 of these boys and girls will be entirely forgotten by the outside world...

The entire holiday season is to be the most joyous one to the Training school. The program activities will start on Sunday, December 23 with the usual Christmas religious services...

The complete program follows: Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the auditorium. The Echo of a Song, a Christmas Overture with nineteen characters and a chorus of ninety voices.

"The Toys that Had to Wait," an operetta with fifty-one characters. The performance this afternoon is for the pleasure of the friends of the Training School...

Christmas eve. Following a custom established the first year of our community existence a group of happy youngsters will sing Christmas Carols under the windows of each dwelling on the grounds.

Christmas Day: A Christmas tree in each cottage. The presents are distributed from the tree after breakfast.

Wednesday, December 26th: Afternoon: Competitive games and stunts by younger boys. Evening: Basketball, Waocots vs. Plymouth.

Thursday, Dec. 27th: Afternoon: Competitive games by older school boys. Evening: The older boys and girls join in presenting a program constructed over the first year of our community existence...

Friday, Dec. 28th: Afternoon: Competitive games by younger girls. Evening: Basketball by older girl. Analysis vs. Ulskastis.

Sunday, Dec. 30th: Morning: Usual Sunday morning religious services. Afternoon: At two o'clock in the auditorium "The Echo of a Song," a Christmas Overture with nineteen characters and a chorus of ninety voices...

The usual Sunday afternoon visiting in the cottages by parents is not possible this day.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sage, sons Dick and Jimmy, and daughter Joyce, of Louisville, Kentucky, are expected Sunday at the home of his father, H.A. Sage, to spend the Christmas and New Year holiday. Mr. and Mrs. Brink of St. Charles will join them for Christmas Day.

Miss Marion Telft Directs Program

Miss Marion L. Telft, who is one of the elementary grade teachers at Central High School, has directed the Christmas drama program for all the elementary grades at Central Wednesday afternoon, December 19. Recently a two-act play, "The Prince and the Pauper," was presented by the Women's League, Plymouth Normal college at Pease Auditorium, was also directed by Miss Telft.

Asks To Prevent Duplication Of Holiday Charity

City Engages Former Highway Worker To Assist In Effort

In order to assist in the Christmas program and activities sponsored by the several civic, service, fraternal and other organizations in the city, the city commission has authorized the employment of a full time secretary. This employee of the city will be at the service of the general committee appointed to handle the distribution of the Christmas and other winter relief items.

W. G. Holdsworth, formerly of the State Highway Department, has been selected for this position and an office has been established in the city hall. This office will be used as a clearing house for all welfare activities. Names of children to be assigned to the various Christmas parties, names of all families who are in need of this type of relief, and any other information along these lines can be obtained through that office.

The associated charities group will be in a position to accept donations of cash or provisions for baskets, gifts, etc., which will be distributed through the holiday season to needy families. Further information relative to any of these matters can be obtained by calling at the welfare office or telephoning the city hall.

A Cordial Christmas Greeting And Welcome

By Rev. Fr. F. A. Lefevre Years have come and years have gone Since first we heard that Christmas song "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace to men of good will."

Again we shall hear in song and story, in home, in school and in church, the birth of the Infant Saviour, the fulfillment of God's promise, made to fallen man. The Messiah is called. Heaven is brought to earth, the Divine is linked with the human. Jesus Christ is no mere myth, no fiction, but a reality, a personality that lived and lives still. Even to the end of time. Take the story of Christ's birth out of Christmas and you just have another day; place Him in the story and you have a real Christmas, hence it is customary in all Catholic churches to begin this sacred feast with services at midnight on the eve of Christmas; so as to render proper acknowledgment to God for this wonderful gift to man.

Each succeeding year brings with it a problem, that seems well nigh impossible to solve; but thanks to the first Christmas, the coming of him who has said, "I am the way, the truth and the life, whosoever will, let him come and live." Again Our Lady of Good Counsel church will have midnight services for Christmas, a program of Christmas hymns, High Mass, a Christmas sermon beginning at 11:45 p.m. sharp, Monday midnight.

As in the past so too now each one is invited to share in these festivities—protestants especially. It will be delighted to have his non catholic neighbor present at the midnight services. Since you are all my friends, say, I too wish to be your friend, and give the generous hospitality of their welcome to you all on this festive day.

A jolly group of young ladies gathered at the home of Miss Evelyn Schrader on Main street Thursday evening for their Christmas party and co-operative dinner. The guests were the members of the Thursday evening bridge club and all enjoyed the generous hospitality of their hostess. The exchange of gifts at this time added to the pleasure of both guests and hosts.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Vaughn of Flint were Plymouth visitors Tuesday and attended the dinner given by the Kiwanis club.

Woman Gets Cash From Merchants, Beats It South

Puts Over "Successful" Hymn Book Advertising Stunt, Disappears

Church Pastor And Chief Of Police Looking For Woman Who Got Easy Cash In This City

Some 25 or 30 Plymouth business men have been taken for another "ride" by a slick, smooth-talking woman advertising promoter who came to Plymouth last fall and in a most sanctimonious way induced one of the local churches to give her stunt the local backing necessary to put it over.

Now the Rev. Sutherland who was made a victim of the affair as well as were some 30 others, has requested Chief of Police Vaughn Smith to endeavor to locate the woman and force restitution of the money she collected here.

Plymouth, like every other small city and town around big cities during the past two or three years, has been overrun with promoters of worthless advertising stunts, but seemingly from all that can be learned, they have been more successful here than in most other places.

In nearly every case, just as did the woman in this case, these outsiders first get some organization, preferably some church or lodge or patriotic group, to give an endorsement to their plan under the pretext that it will bring to the church or the group that backs it, some badly needed cash for worthwhile purposes.

Naturally anxious to do what they can for their church or organization, these consents are usually given without much thought as to the entanglements that might arise, and without thought as to the tremendous burden placed upon Plymouth business men, when a constituent is asked to donate for this and that and everything under the sun. Plymouth business men like every one else, have their own church, club and patriotic organizations, in which they support and from which they receive an effort to walk away with two or three hundred dollars of "easy" money, make it appear that even though the support is given, their "scheme" must be supported in order to help out a worthy cause.

Kiwanis Club Honors Mastick

Plymouth Kiwanis ended their year last Tuesday night when members, their families and friends were entertained at a huge Christmas party in the hotel Mayflower. The committee consisting of Robert Joffe, Ernest Allison and Edwin Schrader planned a party that brought to a climax a full year of activities for the club.

Earl S. Mastick was installed as president of the club for the coming year to succeed Edwin Schrader. Roy Parrott was elected as vice president, and Robert Joffe and Roy Fisher secretary and treasurer respectively.

The party was a masque affair and men and women were divided into couples for the evening which was pleasantly passed playing Keno, bridge and five hundred.

Plans were announced at the affair for a Christmas party to be held probably Monday of next week. The club hopes to entertain some 500 children at a matinee in the local theater if arrangements can be made.

Mrs. Robert Mimmack and sister, Mrs. Beth Sutherland, plan to leave on Wednesday morning, December 26, for a winter's stay in Miami, Florida. Robert Joffe, the former's nephew will accompany them to Miami, but will not remain.

Traverse City Seeks Masonic Convention

Oscar E. Alsbro, secretary of Plymouth lodge, No. 47, has received a letter from Worshipful Master George Weeks of the Masonic lodge at Traverse City seeking support of the local lodge for Traverse City's invitation for the 1936 state Masonic convention. The convention is always held in late May which would bring it to Traverse City in cherry blossom time, the letter points out.

Storm Fails To Keep Treasure Hunters Away

Hundreds Seek Numbers That Meant Good Fortune

In keeping with weather conditions that have prevailed generally on other pressure dates, the Weather Man this year brought to Plymouth and vicinity Wednesday the worst snow storm of the winter to date. Not only did he bring the heaviest snow fall but added to it the worst driving conditions of the year.

Except on the main thoroughfares where some of the ice that was created before the storm broke was worn off by traffic, automobile travel was undertaken at exceptional risk.

But the storm did not keep hundreds from seeking out the many prizes that were offered by Plymouth business men for those who sought the numbers that brought good fortune.

The one surprising thing about the whole affair was the fact that so many people, in the snow and tramped the slippery streets in the hunt. The Plymouth Chamber of Commerce did a pretty thorough job in the distribution of the papers and it is believed that they were more generally distributed this year than ever before, although in some few cases houses were missed or children picked up the copies that belonged to other numbers.

Christmas Program Of Woman's Club Is Most Pleasing One

The annual Christmas party of the Woman's Club of Plymouth, which was held at the Mayflower Hotel on Dec. 14th, was a happy time for the members of the club and their guests, and a large crowd enjoyed the afternoon.

The Christmas program was in charge of Mrs. George A. Smith and her committee and the guest entertainer was Mrs. Rosemary Hay, Director of Studio of Speech Arts, Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Hay presented a most novel number in the form of a play, "The Rag Dolls Christmas," in which the parts were most ably taken by a group of young children who form a class in dramatics here in our city under the training of Mrs. Hay.

Those taking part in the play were Noel Hoover, Amy Lou Hough, Charles Hoheisel, Anne Johns, Beth Ann Hoheisel, Freddie Hoover, Bobby Johns, Tommy Corey and Midgie Schlanderer of Plymouth and Jean Hay of Ann Arbor.

The dialogue of the play was originated by the children themselves, after listening to several Christmas stories read to them by Mrs. Hay, who then worked the play.

There was an utter lack of self-consciousness displayed by the children in the presentation and their childish spontaneity showed the possibilities of such valuable training.

The costumes were clever and added much to the enjoyment of the play.

Legion Winner Of High Award For Good Work

Plymouth Veterans Win Praise Of National Officials Of Legion

Special Citation For Most Distinguished Service Comes To Plymouth American Legion Post

Members of the local American Legion post are extremely proud today, and the reason for their unusual happiness is the fact that they have been awarded a "Special Citation for Most Distinguished Service," by the National Legion headquarters.

The Myron H. Beals post members have been more than interested during the last few months in building for themselves a permanent home and increasing the membership in their post. The success in these undertakings has been noted by the National officers and their praises of Commander Guthrie and his membership have been high.

National Commander Frank N. Belgrano and National Adjutant Frank E. Samuel were among the first to write to the local Post Commander, and their letters follow:

National Commander December 10, 1934 Mr. Melvin C. Guthrie, Commander, The American Legion Post No. 32, Plymouth, Michigan. Dear Commander:

May I extend to you, and to every member of your fine Post, my hearty congratulations on winning a "Special Certificate for Most Distinguished Service," by reason of your outstanding membership accomplishments. No more pleasant duty befalls me than to assure you that you have justly merited this high award in recognition of exceptional service.

With a strong and united front, your Post is now ready to render further distinguished service in the cause of our American Legion. We have a program that is worth fighting for. Its fulfillment will require that same spirit of leadership which your Post so nobly exemplified in its determination to fill its ranks with loyal, hard-fighting Legionnaires. I know that you will not fail.

It will be doing me a distinct favor by expressing to every member of your Post my personal felicitations and greetings. In the name of the Legion, I salute you all. Yours in comradeship, Frank N. Belgrano, Jr., National Commander.

Office of the National Adjutant December 10, 1934 Mr. Melvin C. Guthrie, Commander, The American Legion Post No. 32, Plymouth, Michigan. Dear Commander:

The citation for "Special Certificate for Most Distinguished Service" is a high tribute to your fine leadership as Commander of your Post and to the active cooperation of your members. This early contribution to our 1934 membership has enabled the National Organization of The American Legion to exceed by far the membership of the same date a year ago. This outstanding record of such constructive interest and loyalty, supported by the public and I well realize that it is just such a record as this that is making it possible. A congratulatory note from the National Adjutant and loyal support of the American Legion program on the part of your Post will keep the Organization on the highway of patriotism and loyalty.

The slight increase in membership of your Post may continue on to unprecedented heights under your command. Sincerely yours, Frank E. Samuel, National Adjutant.

The Post is grateful to Plymouth business men who have assisted them in their work during the season and Commander Guthrie stated today, "I would like to thank the help of Plymouth friends the work he has undertaken would have been impossible."

The Christmas Party given by Plymouth Union December 13th, at the home of Mrs. John Rattenbury, of Ann Arbor St., was a very enjoyable affair. The program was short. Current events were brought in many items of interest, and the Christmas playlet "Many A Slip," written by Miss Nettie Pelham for the occasion, and amusingly rendered by Mesdames Vesely and Mack made a decided hit.

Dondero To Maintain Two District Offices

During the first regular session of the 74th Congress, which opens on January 3, 1935, Congressman George A. Dondero will continue to maintain two district offices, one at 522 Washington Square Bldg., Royal Oak, and the other at Redford, his home secretary, R. F. McConnell, will be at the Royal Oak office every Wednesday, beginning January 2nd, and at the Redford office the other days of the week. An appointment for the office may be made by calling Royal Oak 0426.

Change Name Of Ann Arbor St. To Ann Arbor Trail

City Commission Acts To Prevent Confusion In Future

A petition signed by fifty-six residents and property owners on Ann Arbor Street was filed with the City Commission last Monday night, requesting that the name of this street be changed to Ann Arbor Trail.

The Commission passed a resolution authorizing the change of the name of this street, which will conform with the name assigned by the Wayne County Road Commission to other parts of the highway of which this street is a part. As soon as possible the street name signs will be changed, showing the new name.

The reason given by the petitioners for a change was that a considerable amount of confusion exists in trying to locate addresses on Ann Arbor Street, because of the fact that the portion of S. 12 which runs through Plymouth is known as Ann Arbor Road. It is believed that the change of this name will eliminate the confusion which existed in the past.

D. A. R. Meets

The regular December meeting of the Daughters of American Revolution, Sarah Ann Cochran Chapter met Monday, December 16, in the home of Mrs. George H. Wilcox, Mrs. Carl H. Bryan, the Registrar, presiding. Mrs. Donald P. Yerkes, the chaplain read from the second Chapter of Matthew. After the prayer and salute to the flag, the regular routine of the business hour followed, during which the delegates and alternates to the state and national D.A.R. conventions were selected. For the state, which meets at Grand Rapids this year, the delegates were Mrs. Carl H. Bryan, and Mrs. D. T. Randall. Alternates Mrs. Sherwin A. Hill, Mrs. Frederick Lendum, Mrs. J. M. Bennett, Mrs. Hatlie Baker, Mrs. Donald P. Yerkes, Mrs. Walter Nichols, Mrs. George H. Wilcox, Mrs. Robert Reek, Mrs. Glenn Jewell, To the Continental Congress in Washington, Mrs. Carl H. Bryan, Alternates: Mrs. Sidney Storing, Mrs. George H. Wilcox, Mrs. Sherwin A. Hill, Mrs. J. F. Busby, Mrs. Fred A. Dibble, Mrs. L. F. Easton, Mrs. D. P. Yerkes, Mrs. J. B. Hubert, Mrs. J. M. Bennett.

The current events in charge of Mrs. C. L. Dubuar, were very interesting. Mrs. Sidney Storing told of the Townsend Plan of old age pensions a plan that appears to be utterly impractical to all but its promoters. Mrs. Frederick Lendum told of the religious trouble in Mexico. Six years ago Mrs. Lendum to speak with a real understanding of the situation. The conquest of Mexico left two distinct classes then, the conquered and the conqueror. The Indians "converted" at the point of the sword, have ever been a source of dissension, and their idols are placed along side of the Virgin Mary in the Catholic churches. These churches are magnificent beyond anything we have here, and very numerous, 87 in a city of 100,000. Mexico is a hot-bed of communism, and if the children are driven out, we will have for a neighbor a state very similar to Russia, said one of the speakers.

Mrs. Chase told of the efforts toward Slum Clearance. Some say "Slums make the people." Others "People make the slums." There are arguments on both sides. The rate of mortality in the new building in England was found to be higher than in the old. The slight increase in life, depriving the people of the necessities of life. It becomes a perplexing problem, difficult of solution.

Mrs. Dubuar told of the penalties the children are bringing to save and return as it was originally the home of the children's poet, the beloved Eugene Field.

Mrs. D. T. Randall told the reason of our Chapter name, Sarah Ann Cochran, and reviewed Miss Cochran's life. Plans were also made for the Annual Birthday Luncheon.

The Hillside Barbecue Spare Ribs are the talk of the town. They are the talk of the town. They are the talk of the town. They are the talk of the town.

That all the poultry, live and dressed, that is offered for the holiday trade by The Plymouth Purty Market, was raised by Plymouth residents or farmers in this locality.

Five Hurt When Car Turns Completely Over in Air After Being Hit by Another Machine—Injured Are Plymouth People

CHRISTMAS The Beginning Of The New And The Better

We therefore welcome our Christmas in December. The worship of Christ could not have a better setting than the domestic festivities, social forces, and generous and high helping deeds of our merry Christmas tide.

In no more fitting way can we say farewell to the closing year and all hail to the new, "Christ is born."

We therefore must put off the old man—his moroseness and selfishness, sadness and despair, his peevishness and fretfulness, his feebleness and decay—and put on the new man, which after Christ, is created in true joy, large faith, energetic service, lowly duty, devout obedience and death-daring self sacrifice.

Three Are Hurt In Auto Crash

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Innis and Mrs. Richard Widmaier, injured in an automobile accident a few days ago near Gary, Indiana, have sufficiently recovered from their injuries to be able to return to their homes in this place.

Mrs. Innis was probably the most severely injured, suffering a slight brain concussion. Mrs. Widmaier besides being badly cut, had a fractured jaw. Mr. Innis was cut about the face and badly bruised.

They were on their way home from Chicago when the driver of another car, who apparently fell asleep at the wheel, turned across the road and crashed into the Innis car. Both machines were badly wrecked. The driver of the other car escaped injury.

Asks Donations For Christmas

Groceries, fruits, potatoes and other vegetables are badly needed for the Salvation Army bazaar that is being prepared by Plymouth unfortunates, according to Adjt. Deamody. He especially requests farmers who might have an over-abundance of potatoes in past years, but there are many deserving cases, he has found out from a careful investigation of conditions.

Alumni Frolic On December 28

Plans have been completed for the annual informal frolic of the Plymouth high school alumni association to be held in the Masonic temple on Friday evening, December 28.

Jack Taylor, chairman of the general committee, states that the public is cordially invited to attend the event. He says every effort is going to be put forth to make the affair one of the best that has ever been held.

Miss Mary McKinnon is chairman of the committee on decorations. Mrs. Edwin Campbell heads the refreshment committee. Lawrence Rattenbury has charge of the musical arrangements and Miss Margaret Dunning is chairman of the publicity committee.

Miss McKinnon states that the decorations will be in keeping with the Christmas season. The Collegiate orchestra has been engaged for the occasion.

Rev. Nichol And Party In Crash Last Monday

Accident Takes Place On Five Mile Road At The Haggerty Highway Intersection—Both Cars Damaged.

Five prominent and well known Plymouth residents Monday forenoon miraculously escaped death or serious injury when the automobile in which they were riding after being hit by another car made a complete revolution and landed right side up again on its wheels next to a tree. In fact it is probable that the tree in preventing the machine from again turning over saved the lives of some of the occupants of the machine.

Those injured in the whirling car were Rev. and Mrs. Walter Nichol, Mrs. Harmon Smith, mother of Chief of Police Vaughn Smith, Mrs. Vaughn Smith and Mrs. Charles Vaughn. Mrs. Weaver was only slightly hurt, but so serious were the injuries of Mrs. Nichol and the two Mrs. Smiths that they were rushed to Plymouth hospital for emergency treatment. It was feared that their injuries were painful but not critical. Mrs. Harmon Smith when picked up after the accident was unconscious for a time. As the car came to a stop on its back, the door of the car was in some way bumped against the door of the car.

Rev. Walter Nichol was thrown from the machine as it came to a stop against the tree. Mrs. Harmon Smith was in the front seat with her feet and legs being in the back seat of the car.

The accident happened on the Five mile road at the Haggerty highway intersection. Rev. Nichol and those in the car with him went back into the other three they had expected to meet a party of friends to go through The Detroit News building.

As they passed Haggerty highway a car driven by M. E. Atchison ran into the car and a half mile west of Salem, Michigan, prevented hitting the Nichol car. Mr. Atchison applied his brakes, but the machine slid on the ice on the side of the road and caused it to swing to the north side of the highway and over the five or six foot embankment at that point.

There are not so many in need of aid in Plymouth this year as in past years, but there are many deserving cases, he has found out from a careful investigation of conditions.

All of the patients have been removed to their homes from the hospital. While Nichol is able to bruises, had a severe cut on her left elbow that required six stitches to close. Mr. Atchison escaped without injury.

Harry Robinson Aids Paper Sale

Off to Detroit to take part for the 21st time in the annual Good News Paper Sale, the greatest sale of newspapers for the benefit of the unfortunate boys and girls of Wayne county. Harry Robinson Thursday morning declared that he hoped to be able to take part in these sales just as long as he is able to "navigate."

Years and years ago no man does guess just how many it was that Robinson was an old time news seller, started nearly a quarter of a century ago selling newspapers every Christmas for the benefit of charity. Mr. Robinson went down to his old friends and associates in the sale. He has been one of the master salesmen of the group for many years.

"Don't forget to wish all my friends a very Merry Christmas for I hope it is the happiest one they ever have had. Tell them too that May Mitchell of Dearborn won first prize at the auction Tuesday, R. C. Morrison of Brightwood, second prize and Mr. Trost of South Lyon, third prize."

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Brown of Detroit were visitors Sunday at the home of their uncle, William Glympe, and family on Maple street.

THE KERNS TRAGEDY

Michigan citizens were appalled the other day by the tremendous loss of life that took place in the fire that destroyed the Kerns hotel. Seemingly it was just one of those things that was destined to be, but what a tragedy that so many useful citizens and such a great fire loss could take place in such a short time. Fire is one of the greatest destroyers in nature. Seemingly when every precaution is taken there is some little careless thing that escapes the most watchful attention, resulting as it always does in disaster. To the Kerns family, who were among the most genial hotel hosts in all Michigan and who suffered not only a tremendous financial loss but the loss of a son as well, all of Michigan expresses sympathy. Probably there were no better known and more generally liked hotel hosts than were the members of the Kerns family. Over a long period of years it has been a real delight for thousands of people of the state to remain at the Kerns while in Lansing, due entirely to the friendly and courteous attitude of the Kerns. The fire is just one of those things which during the centuries have now and then appalled humanity.

SILENT NIGHT

Silent night, holy night,
All is calm, all is bright,
Round yon Virgin Mother and Child,
Holy Infant so tender and mild,
Sleep in heavenly peace,
Sleep in heavenly peace.

Silent night, holy night,
Son of God, love's pure light,
Radiant beams from Thy holy face,
With the dawn of redeeming grace,
Jesus, Lord, at Thy birth,
Jesus, Lord, at Thy birth.

Silent night, holy night,
Shepherds quake at the sight,
Glories stream from heaven afar,
Heavenly hosts sing alleluia;
Christ, the Saviour, is born!
Christ, the Saviour, is born!

CONGRATULATIONS

It is a real pleasure for The Plymouth Mail to express to the Exchange club of Northville and the business men of that community our congratulations upon the wonderful Christmas decorations that have turned the two business streets of the community into such beautiful places. The decorations are attractive both day and night. The use of colored illuminating lights, nearly all uniform in size and arrangement, adding much to the beauty of it all. It shows what can be done when a united group starts out to accomplish something worthwhile. Again we say congratulations. It was the Exchange club of Northville that sponsored and made successful the Christmas decoration plan.

CHRISTMAS

Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest.
For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light.
Matthew 11:28-30.

And he took a child, and set him in the midst of them, and when he had taken him in his arms, he said unto them:

Whosoever shall receive one of such children in my name, receiveth me; and whosoever shall receive me, receiveth not me, but him that sent me.
Mark 9:36-37.

Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not; for of such is the kingdom of God.

Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall not enter therein.

And he took them up in his arms, put his hands upon them, and blessed them.
Mark 10:14-15:16.

Woman, where are those thine accusers? hath no man condemned thee?
She said, No man, Lord. And Jesus said unto her, Neither do I condemn thee; go, and sin no more.
John 8:10-11.

Another Christmas Day, and never was one more welcome. The world celebrates Christ's birth more than nineteen hundred years ago, rejoices in the coming of a religion based on kindness, mercy, sympathy for the poor, love of helpless children, forgiveness of sin.

The texts printed above embody the Divine character and gentle goodness of Christ, upon whose name Christianity is founded.

In these days of anxiety, long continued worry and disappointment, of hope deferred, the market the heart sick, the earth finds comfort and consolation in the most beautiful figure in all the history of a troubled world.

The Divinely beautiful figure of Christ is seen triumphant over evil, and from the very depths of sorrow and suffering lifting mankind to happiness eternal.

Men complain of their worries and struggles. But what are these compared to what Christ endured, for the sake of sinful mankind?

The Christmas duty is first to provide, as well as each can, for the happiness of those that depend on him, second, to extend happiness to others, particularly to the old and feeble, and the children.

"Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me."

In preparation for Christmas Day, read again the story of Jesus' life as it has come down to us, told in a few chapters quickly and easily read in the four gospels.

You see the Child lying in the manger, a Divine light encircling the baby head, the supernatural infant, safe in the arms of His loving mother, gazing in wonder at strange animals in the stable, the Child's birthplace.

You hear again the warning to him that would hurt a child that it were better that a millstone were hung around his neck, and he cast into the depths of the sea, for "their angels do always hold the face of my Father which is in heaven."

And you read the sermon on which all great and true sermons have been based for centuries, The Sermon on the Mount.

"Blessed are the poor in spirit; for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

Blessed are they that mourn; for they shall be comforted.

Blessed are the meek; for they shall inherit the earth.

Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness; for they shall be filled.

Blessed are the merciful; for they shall obtain mercy.

Blessed are the pure in heart; for they shall see God.

Blessed are the peacemakers; for they shall be called the children of God.

Blessed are they which are persecuted for righteousness' sake; for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

Blessed are ye, when men shall revile you, and persecute you, and shall say all manner of evil against you falsely, for My sake."

You read the command that men have not yet learned to obey:

"Ye have heard that it hath been said, Thou shalt love thy neighbor, and hate thine enemy.

But I say unto you, Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you."

You see Christ healing the leper by the power of God and His own faith, bringing back to life the twelve year old daughter of the head of the synagogue, all His words so simple, all His works and miracles based on faith in "My Father which is in heaven."

Then comes the last terrible day, after the trial before Pilate, when the mob chose that Barabbas, the murderer and insurrectionist, instead of Christ be set free.

The work of glory and salvation is done, only the fulfillment, the death in agony, remain.

And they bring him unto the place called Golgotha, which is, being interpreted, The place of a skull."

Two thieves, crucified, hung on either side of Him, the Roman soldiers cast lots, dividing among them the clothing taken from His body.

Then in the sixth hour.

"There was darkness over the whole land until the ninth hour.

And Jesus cried with a loud voice, and gave up the ghost."

Men may change, religions may be modified, science may crowd out much of simple faith. But the beauty of that life and death for others, the willingness of a divine being to die that the world might be saved, will never fade from human memory.

From that hill called "The Skull" there shines a light that will shine on forever. The birthday of One who lived in poverty, and died in agony for the poor, the unfortunate, the children and the mothers, will never be forgotten.

one built to the south side where formerly a window was placed. Another important change for the better is that of providing an independent exit for the gallery.

A year ago last fall B. B. Bennett began the manufacture of a toy game called "The Coon-Town Shoot Gallery." Quite a large number were manufactured before the Xmas season closed and the toy seemed to take with the little people immediately. Next year Mr. Bennett contemplates enlarging his business by not only manufacturing more "Coon-Town" but taking on several other toys he has in mind. More help will be needed and consequently more money will come to Plymouth.

Entrance to U. of M. Is Revised To Permit Greater Flexibility

Entrance requirements for the University of Michigan were brought into closer relationship with modern high school courses when the Regents at their mid-December meeting adopted a program of flexible "sequence requirements" replacing prescribed standards, some of which have been in force for twenty years.

Under the new admission plan high school credits in these fields, but units are classified into "sequences," permitting a choice of subjects, instead of being rigidly prescribed.

Requirements under the new set-up are two major and two minor sequences. A major sequence consists of three or more units in one of the five groups, while a minor is two or two and one-half units. This allows the main requirements to be met from four of the five groups, while the balance of the fifteen may be made up of any studies giving credit toward high school graduation.

To a Neglected Friend

Had a dream the other night,
And it gave me such a fright!
Dreamed a ship left you and me
On an island far and sea;
It was lonely, bleak and small—
No inhabitants at all;
Not so bad, until the day
Rescue boats took you away;
Someone said that, if I'd learn
To be friendly, they'd return—
Said that people seldom knew
Such delightful friends as you,
And that leaving me behind
Might impress it on my mind!
Just a dream, but you can bet
It's a dream I'll not forget!

Rambling Around With Michigan Editors

THE TOWNSEND PLAN
There is considerable comment these days concerning the so-called Townsend Old Age Pension plan. The proposal has created a wave of popular approval from those who do not stop to analyze what it means in terms of added taxation.

Briefly, all persons more than sixty years of age would be retired from active work on a monthly pension of $200 under the Townsend plan with the restriction that all of the money would be spent within the boundaries of the United States during the month. Dr. Townsend claims that his scheme would put millions of dollars in circulation; would help relieve unemployment by taking elderly people from active duty and by creating a demand for more work through the stimulation of industry. He proposes to pay his pension out of the sales tax of 10 per cent on the gross retail business.

Here are a few facts. The number of persons eligible for pension is estimated to be 10,000,000. This means that $2,000,000,000 would have to be paid out per month in pensions or a total of $24,000,000,000 per year. The total retail business of the United States last year was only $34,000,000,000. Thus a ten per cent retail sales tax would yield $3,400,000,000 or only enough to pay the pensions for a little more than a month and a half. It would take a sales tax of 70 per cent to finance the plan for a full year. Even during 1929, the total retail sales were only $50,000,000,000 and during that prosperous period it would have taken a sales tax of 50 per cent to finance the Townsend "brainstorm." Thus to pay this pension it would be necessary to raise the cost of living from 50 to 70 per cent.

Every one in the United States undoubtedly is sufficiently humanitarian to wish that each elderly person could be assured a comfortable income, but it is verging on the fantastic to suggest that this happy state of affairs can ever be achieved under the Townsend plan. It would be physically impossible for any country to bear the tremendous financial burden, and those who go about the country intimating that it can, are raising false hopes which eventually must cause considerable unhappiness. Richard Cook in The Hastings Banner.

DIRT
There is a lot of dirt that can be washed away, but there is another kind in circles of both the rich and low that can never be washed out or erased. You may try to cover it up, but when least expected its horrid head is visible. This is the dirt that damns individuals and corrupts communities when not blotted out on the start, and the cause of it is largely because proper individuals lack the moral fiber and the public dismiss it as not any part of their business, when each man and woman makes up the picture. E. McMillen in The Linden Leader.

TWAS A BEER YEAR!
The American people have enjoyed a year of beer, and when the highball was as legal as the income tax. It has been decided by a beer year, for the citizens of this country including babies and all have drunk an average of five and one half gallons of beer each. That is 75,000,000 gallons legalized beer, aside from the many gallons which the bootleggers have handled. Oh, yes, the American imbibers have also covered up nearly 60,000,000 gallons of whiskey. No wonder we have a gay country to live in. Santa Claus for those who want work, and plenty of booze to lick up the receipts of those who do! Frank Bryce in The Grand Ledge Independent.

New Trailer Law Effective Jan. 1

The department of state will be unable to register and issue license plates after January 1 for trailers weighing more than 3,000 pounds unless the trailers are equipped with brakes in conformity with the law adopted by the legislature in 1933.

The law also prohibits the use of trailers of 3,000 pounds on the highways after that date unless they are equipped with brakes that can be operated by the truck driver.

Reports reaching the department of state are to the effect that many owners of trailers are not familiar with the provisions of this law. Section 6-a of Act 253 of Public Acts of 1933 reads as follows:

"It shall be unlawful to operate any train or combination of motor vehicles upon the public highways of this state, on or after the first day of January, nineteen hundred thirty-five, unless the power generating unit of such train or combination of vehicles be equipped with brakes as required by law, and unless each and every other vehicle in said train or combination of vehicles, the gross weight of which shall exceed three thousand pounds, be equipped with air, vacuum, hydraulically or electrically operated brakes, or some equally effective device, for controlling the speed of such vehicle and adequate to control the movement of and to stop and hold such vehicle, which brakes may be applied by the chauffeur or driver of such train or combination of vehicles to each vehicle in such train or combination of vehicles concurrently, and which brakes shall at all times be kept in effective condition of repair and ready for use at the discretion of such chauffeur or driver.

Miss Dora Gallimore Sings In Christmas Concert In Ypsilanti

The Normal College Choir, Christmas concert in Pease Auditorium at Ypsilanti pleased a capacity audience "Sanctus" by Bach ended the program. 30 alumni now teaching in Michigan schools were invited to take part in this. Miss Dora Gallimore who is teaching Music and Art in East Detroit was in the group. After the concert the choir was invited to a reception at McKinney Hall at which they surprised the conductor, Mr. Alexander by singing a special carol, dedicated to him, composed by Miss James and Mrs. Sabourine of Ypsilanti. Many people from Plymouth were there.

A Christmas Thought

Each year we witness the recurring miracle of a world temporarily transformed by the spirit of Christmas. At the approach of this holiday season people think less about their individual differences, and more about their common interests and welfare. . . . Why should this transformation be temporary? Why must a world, groping in the darkness of innumerable problems, emerge briefly into the narrow band of Christmas light and warmth, only to stumble back into darkness again? The greatest need of the world today is the growth of an all-year Christmas spirit of good-will and co-operation. It would solve most of the problems of the future. . . . It is in this spirit that we wish you a Merry Christmas, and a full and Happy New Year.

Christmas Trees
By MARJORIE HAYES
in Boston Herald

N EARLY every one has a Christmas tree nowadays, but if you had been a child in America a hundred years ago the chance are that you might never have seen one. The custom was universal in England many years before it was very common here, except in communities of German or Scandinavian settlers. For it was in Germany that the Christmas tree had its origin. There are several different legends in regard to it. Here is one which dates from the Twelfth century.

An English monk named Winfred who had gone as a missionary into Germany, came upon some priests about to sacrifice the young prince Asulf to the god Thor beneath the "blood oak." He stopped their ceremonies and ordered them to cut down the oak, whereupon a young fir tree appeared in its place which Winfred told them signified the tree of life, or of Christ's living. From that time Germans who became Christians made the fir a part of the Christmas festival, decorating it with gilded nuts and apples to shine like stars.

The two trees most commonly used for Christmas trees are the spruce and fir. They look very much alike, but the spruce is likely to shed its needles after two or three days in the house, while the fir remains in good condition much longer. There are several ways in which you may distinguish them, first the cones. Those of the spruce hang downward while the cones of the fir are held erect.

The spruce tree is pyramidal in shape, the long cones hanging from the branches near the top. The needles are arranged in spiral rows around the stem, those at the top pointing sharply upward. They have three or four distinctly angled sides. Some common varieties are the red, black, white and Norway spruce.

Fir trees in various sections of the country are the balsam firs which grow abundantly in the mountains and which we find displayed in our markets at Christmas time. The fir is shaped much like the spruce, but the needles are flat and blunt, and usually spread featherwise from two sides of the stem only. They are dark green above and silvery beneath. The dark purple cones stand erect, glistening with balsam near the top. Balsam also exudes from the trunk, and is used for medicine. The fresh needles are used as a stuffing for sweet-smelling balsam pillows.

Another evergreen sometimes used as a Christmas tree is the hemlock. It is more slender than the spruce, with feathery waving branches which grow very close to the ground. The needles are arranged in two flat rows on the twigs, and have tiny stems. They are soft, and silvery underneath. The cones are tiny, growing at the ends of the twigs. The bark is used in tanning leather. Wreaths made of branches with little cones on them are very lovely.

Murphy Talks To Exchange Club

Leonard J. Murphy, former member of the state highway department staff of Plymouth and chairman of the Fitzgerald-for-governor committee that operated so successfully here in the last election, was a speaker last week at the Exchange club meeting in Lincoln Park. The report of the excellent address he made appearing in the Lincoln Park paper, follows:

"Cities all over the country are changing to the city manager form of government with highly satisfactory results, members of the Lincoln Park Exchange club were told by Leonard J. Murphy, director of the Freshman College, in Lincoln Park, who was the speaker at the weekly meeting of the organization Wednesday night.

"About 450 cities throughout the country have adopted the new form of city management and each month more municipalities are being added to the roster," he told his audience, pointing out that the city manager plan is spreading rapidly into every state.

"Mr. Murphy in addition to his educational vocation, has made a special study of political science and at one time was employed in the office of the city manager of Royal Oak, which has given him a keen insight into the various forms of government.

"The speaker traced the history of politics and government from the colonial days, when mass meetings were called every time a weighty question was to be decided, up to the present, when political and government changes are being made daily. He told how catastrophes have brought about legislation that caused sweeping changes in the conduct of civic affairs, using as an example the Kerns Hotel tragedy in Lansing this week and pointing out that the catastrophe will probably bring about legislation in the state to safeguard the lives of hotel guests. The history of cities have been changed by floods, earthquakes and other tragedies, he declared.

"In stressing the fact that the city manager set-up is the 'ideal form of local government,' Mr. Murphy declared that it centers responsibility and executive authority and puts the operation of a municipality on a business basis. It takes advantage of experts in their field and eliminates political patronage. He advocated the selection of a specially trained man for the post who has never been a resident of Lincoln Park. It is almost impossible to select a skilled man by popular vote, he declared.

One should not speak evil of people with whom he has just dined within a radius of a hundred yards from their house.—Andre Maurois.

to our doors. On airport roofs the name of city or field will be outlined in greenery.

Merchants may advertise toys and gifts in electrical letters placed horizontally on their flat roofs, and some will even have rooftop show-cases, with extra large dollies lying in cribs, bicycles flat on their sides, or complete football suits spread out to catch the eyes of youthful passengers. "Hey, Dad! Down there on Scott's roof—that's what I want Santa to bring!"

In the country the beauty of winter scenery will be decided by looking down upon it, instead of viewing it sideways. Looked at that way, a red barn and a pond set in the midst of evergreens becomes one of the loveliest sights from the air.

"When all of us take to flying about at Christmas time—at other times, too, of course—a family in Iowa or Michigan may order 'Christmas dinner from a Chicago grocer, or maybe they'll just hop in the plane and have that dinner in a Chicago restaurant. Another 'maybe'—perhaps they'll have 'curb service' right in the plane! Already transport planes for long journeys have served hundreds of flying Christmas dinners.

G. R.'s Hold
Service Meeting

The Senior Girl Reserves held their annual Christmas service meeting on Friday, December 14. Each girl was supposed to bring to the meeting a project which she was making to be given to some unfortunate child for Christmas. Among the gifts brought were rag dolls, gingham dogs, jig-saw puzzles, and various mechanical toys which the girls had painted. This Christmas work is done under the supervision of Eleanor Strable, chairman of the service committee.

The Intermediate and Junior Girl Reserves also held their Christmas service meetings last Friday. They made Christmas greeting cards and painted toys which they had brought from home.

The Agricultural Club gave two programs this week: one at the Hough school house and the other at the Stone school house. The programs included the showing of the film entitled "Golden Harvest," which was shown at the club meeting a week previously to this time. Romaine Lee played several numbers on his accordion at the Hough school on Monday night. On Tuesday night, Dean Herrick and William Swadling played several numbers between the changing of the film and the Dramatics Club presented a short one-act play entitled "The Elusive Mr. Bangs." It is the hope of the club to have at least two films a month to be shown at the club meetings and also at outside places.

Basketball captains for the girls class tournament were elected last Tuesday and Thursday nights. The captains are freshmen, Elizabeth Stevens, Helen Norrgrove and Ellen Nyström; sophomore, Madolyn Weller, Dorothy Hearn, and Angie Roginski; junior, Mildred Postiff and Tessa Kinrade; senior, Anna Urban and Eileen Archer.

The Senior Prom, given by the class of '35, was a very successful affair. There were about one hundred and seventy paid couples who attended the party. The class and advisers received many compliments for their lovely decorations and enjoyable music. All are thankful that it was such a success and the Senior class wishes to extend their appreciation to those who made it such including: City Hall, Mrs. Bennett, Mrs. Crumie, The Methodist and Presbyterian and Baptist churches and the Mayflower Hotel, as well as to the many parents.

Under our present system a high school student is required to have 16 credits in order to graduate but only 15 are needed to enter college. Twelve of these 15 must be academic units such as English, mathematics, science and foreign language; the other three are elective.

Under the new system a student needs only 10 units to enter college with at least two "major sequences" of 3 units each including English, and two "minor sequences" of two units each. Also in addition to English the high school subjects have been reclassified under four headings: foreign languages, mathematics, natural sciences, and social science. By this method a student has only to present 3 units of English, three units from one of the four groups named, and two units from each of two other groups. Thus if he desires he may omit one subject entirely such as foreign languages which are now required.

It is hoped by using this method it will enable a student to go farther in subjects which he is interested in.

Both the old and new plan of units will be used between February 1935 and September 1937 and any student entering in this period may do so under either plan. Thus the classes graduating in 1935 will be able to enter with a foreign language credit, but after September 1937 all freshmen entering college will have to do so under the new plan.

Grand Slam of the Month: Huey Long almost makes us regret the Louisiana Purchase. -American Lumberman.

The feast of the Nativity was celebrated in a small town in southern Italy. The church bells had been ringing from early morning and now were giving their pealing cry.

Through the streets the gay processions of citizens passed. At every corner parents with their children dressed in their Sunday best were chattering in gay mood. The gaily violins, mandolins were playing and the people were singing their favorite melodies. All the people had been up from early morning and were celebrating the feast by the main event of attending church. All the churches were decorated beautifully and had been illuminated many hours before. The stained glass windows looked fascinating with the dim glow of the candles behind them. The interior of the churches was decorated with boughs of orange and lemon trees, with nature's own fruit hanging from them and the stars around the church and altar made it seem very holy and sacred.

families went home discussing the families went home discussing the ceremony and every one was gathering with his relatives to eat dinner together. As one passed the quiet streets at the dinner hour one could smell the faint odor of stovato coming out of the opened doors accompanied by the odor of their fine rich pastries.

As it grew late and we were walking along the street we heard the shuffling of feet and at a distance we saw young and old dancing merrily to the gay notes of the fast polkas.

Editorial

The Senior Prom now being over we can now pass judgment on it. It was in the opinion of many who attended, one of the finest parties ever given in the school. However, it was so successful that many were forced to stand because of the crowded conditions. It was the fact that a large number of non-paying spectators occupied many of the chairs which were intended for the dancers.

In the future some method of controlling the number of spectators admitted must be decided upon.

First, some kind of ticket should be issued as the invitations are accepted and the admission paid which will be taken up at the door. Second, parents should be invited to inspect the decorations between six and eight o'clock. Third, is the method used in Northville. A small charge admits the spectator to the balcony where he may watch; this is also a source of profit to the class.

Library Circulation
Increases Rapidly

Due to the reorganization of the library by Miss Fiegel and her faithful staff of librarians the number of books available for readers has been greatly increased which is shown by the increase in the circulation for the first three months of this school year. During September there were 348 books drawn out. In October 781 and in November 937.

The librarians have made many Christmas posters for the library and have placed above shelves which contain Christmas books and also posters on special holidays which have been placed above a shelf containing hobby books. These hobbies greatly improve the appearance of the library and are very thankful to the students in choosing their library books.

Mr. Latture Talks
To Torch Club

Mr. Latture, adviser of the Torch Club, worked his way through college by cooking in a restaurant and once cooked at Camp Gray and so was the ideal one to make a speech on "Camp Cooking" to the Torch Club members Friday, December 16. Mr. Latture first explained that a good cook will always have a good fire, and then he told of the importance of a good fire. He went on to tell what utensils and foods are necessary for campers. Later questions were asked by the boys and answered by an adviser. This speech was very helpful for campers and would be campers alike.

Junior Hi-Y Holds
Skating Party

A group of members of the Junior Hi-Y club met at the school at seven o'clock last Tuesday evening and went to Newburg for a skating party. All enjoyed themselves and the skating ended, they professed to be excellent skaters.

Dance Committees
Are Appointed

The committees for the Freshman Dance, which is to be held January 11, have been appointed by the class president. They are as follows: publicity, Ellen Nyström, chairman; George Walters and Isabel Lieteke, orchestra; Bob West, chairman; Gordon Moe, chairman; Myra Drews and Ethel Tuck Floor; Richard Gilis, chairman; Richard Innis, Joe Archer, Edward Bassett, and Aurel Marcos. Tickets: James McClain, chairman; Robert Evans, Douglas Kay, and Colorette Mattinson, and Helen Norrgrove. Refreshments: Althea Shoemaker, chairman; Marian Shoemaker, Doris Schmidt, Charlotte Williams, and Crystal Nichols, chairwomen; Jane Ferguson, chairman; David Hale, Norma Gould, Astri Hegge, and Donald Schmidt. The hosts for this dance will be Robert Beyer, class president, and Marion Luttermoir, vice president.

Handicraft Club
Makes Presents

The members of Handicraft Club are making certain pulls and pictures for Christmas presents. The curtain pulls are made by tying a series of knots and making a tassel on the end. The pictures are made in three plywood and then waxed.

Nowadays

The new president of Mexico is young, popular, unorthodox. Most widely discussed of his plans is his opposition to the Catholic Church.

Most Americans find it difficult to conceive of Mexico's religious problem. In the first place Pres. Cardenas has proven to be quite a shock to the voters who expected him to be quite more violent towards religion than he is. Tomas Canabal who named his sons "Lucifer" and "Cain" was expected to receive the office of Minister of Interior which would give him the power to crush religion. Instead this post went to conservative Ignacio Teller and Canabal received the agricultural post, a position having no religious connection. Cardenas has actually modified the anti-religious clause of his party's six year plan.

Noted Sociologist
Addresses Youth

Describing his two years with the boy and girl tramps of America, Dr. Thomas Minahan of the University of Minnesota, opened the Michigan Youth Congress meeting at Ann Arbor. He deplored a social system which allows such conditions to exist among the boys and girls. Welfare work he pointed out were of little help. He told of traveling from station to station and city to city trying to secure clothing for himself and two boys. In every case he was refused. The only alternative is to feed and beg food and clothing. These facts of life is leading to malnutrition, disease, thievery, and loss of morality on the part of youth. The lexicon of youth, he concluded, is no longer without the word fail.

The second speaker of the conference was Richard Rabb Whitten, chairman of the Student League for Industrial Democracy, who spoke against Fascism and for a program of positive social action. He said, "The Fascist old as human stupidity. We can lift mankind, but we can't do it by drowning out every atom of intelligence." The Fascist program, he said, is based on the theory of using black shirts to cover empty stomachs and black hats to cover empty heads.

Mr. Whitten is a student at Louisiana State University and had a great deal of first hand information on Huey Long, whom he called "Long's censorship." He said that he must do more to oppose Long than to poke fun at him. Whitten commended his fellow students for their action in refusing to accept Long's censorship. Dr. Minor, newly elected president of the League against Fascism and War, gave a short talk on the menace of Fascism. Waldo McNull, chairman of the Rocky Mountain Congress, presided at the meeting.

Several students and teachers from Plymouth were present at this opening session.

Western Travel
Talk By Leader

On Monday the Travel club had the privilege of hearing Miss Lovell tell of her experiences while traveling through the western part of the United States. She visited the Rocky Mountains and spent some time climbing them. This seems to be the greatest sport for the people especially in Idaho, Wyoming, and Colorado. She went to the Yellowstone National Park and there saw "Old Faithful" which sends up a high hill of salt water every seventy minutes. Morning Glory pool which resembles the flower morning glory, and Hot Springs. She visited Mt. Washburn on July 4 and found the mountain covered with six feet of snow. The Saw Tooth and Owyhee Mountains belong to the Rocky Mountain family and are located in the northern and southern parts of Idaho respectively.

At Silver City she went through "Stripped Mine," which received its name during the time of the silver rush in California. People came and took all of the silver leaving it stripped.

She emphasized the fact that it is much more interesting to travel by car than by train even though one has some funny experiences while traveling on those lonely roads in the west. The occupation of the people in this territory is mining. She told us that while driving through a farming district she saw rice being raised on a basis in front of each farm house, and so for curiosity's sake she asked a farmer what they were, and was informed that they were mail boxes.

SOCIETY NEWS

A very pleasant surprise was given Wellman Fillmore last Saturday evening when fifteen of his school friends came to help him celebrate his sixteenth birthday which was on Sunday the sixteenth. Games and dancing was the entertainment for the evening after which they were all seated at one large table in the dining room and refreshments served. The table decorations being in pink and white. A large birthday cake in pink and white occupying the center of the table. He was then presented with several beautiful and useful gifts. The guests were Emily Ingall, Madeline Weller, Virginia Cline, Ellen Nyström, Barbara Hix, Dorothy Day, Vivonne Hearn, Ernestine Hartung, David Ingall, Harold Thorne, Alvah Elzerman, Russell Magraw, Robert Soth, Glen Day and Elton Bakewell.

A Christmas party given by the Business and Professional Women's club for their little girl guests last Monday evening was a very pretty affair. A dinner was held in the crystal room of Hotel Mayflower, in a perfect Christmas setting of candlelight and a big Christmas tree. Christmas carols were sung in unison, accompanied on the piano by Miss Carol Campbell, and later Santa appeared on the scene, with gifts and candy for all. The committee consisted of Misses Katherine Kahl, Florence Stader and Hildur Carlson.

Christmas Day guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Blunk on Maple avenue will be Mrs. Myrtle Murray and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Henderson of Plymouth. Mr. and Mrs. George Roberts and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Lyke and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Lyke and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Myrlan Lyke of Salem.

Mrs. M. J. O'Connor, Mrs. O. P. Beyer, Miss Marion Beyer, Mrs. Frank Dicks, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney D. Strong, Miss Marguerite Henry, Miss Marian Wurster and Mrs. Nancy Holiday were among those from Plymouth who attended the rendition of Handel's Messiah at the Hill Auditorium in Ann Arbor Tuesday evening.

The Ready Service class of the Presbyterian Sunday school enjoyed a potluck dinner and Christmas party on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. J. H. Willis on Maple avenue.

Local News

Mrs. W. E. Hoover of Whitmore Lake has been spending a few days with her daughter, Mrs. S. N. Thams.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wiseman were Sunday callers of the former's sister, Mrs. Riley, who is ill in Harper hospital.

Mrs. Wm. McCullough returned home from St. Joseph hospital, Ann Arbor last Friday, Dec. 14th, and is convalescing from a goitre operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Emory Holmes and children, Kathryn and Barbara Jean of Detroit, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Chambers.

Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Chambers spent Tuesday evening with the former's nephew and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Will Chambers in Wayne.

Mrs. Hattie Holloway and Mrs. Blanche Robinson will spend Christmas with their children, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Holloway of Detroit.

John W. Proctor, who has been in the Deaconess hospital, Detroit, the past three weeks, underwent a serious operation last week Thursday and at this time is slightly improved. His many friends hope for a speedy recovery.

Rev. Edgar Hoencke is confined to his home by illness. He hopes to be able to carry through his Christmas work, but physicians have advised him that he will probably have to go to the hospital for treatment in the immediate future.
The second lesson of the Clothing Project was studied by the Hough club women, under the leadership of Miss Emma Dubord, Home Demonstration Agent for the Home Economics Extension service, Wednesday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. John T. Maxwell on Joy Road. Dress accessories, their importance and necessity in being a well-dressed woman as well as many good suggestions for Christmas was discussed and found to be very interesting. The next meeting to be held in February will be at the home of Mrs. Perry Hix.

The Salem group met Wednesday, Dec. 12 at the home of Mrs. Nelson Bender for the second lesson on this year's extension course. A short business meeting was held in the forenoon with a potluck dinner at noon. The afternoon discussion was on what accessories to wear to complete your costume when to wear them and what type would be most appropriate. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Myra Taylor on the second Wednesday of February.

Get New License Now, Says Chief

Chief of Police Vaughn Smith is out with a warning to the hundreds of automobile drivers in Plymouth who have not secured their new driver's license as required by state law.

Approximately 260,000 Michigan motorists are operating automobiles without driver's licenses, according to records of the department of state given to Chief Smith.

The present motor vehicle operator's license law, which was adopted by the 1931 legislature, 750,000 motorists obtained new licenses by Dec. 1, 1931. These licenses must be renewed every three years but thus far in 1934 only 490,000 drivers have applied for new permits.

While operating a motor vehicle without a proper license has been a misdemeanor in Michigan for years, the financial responsibility act, adopted by the 1933 legislature, makes a motorist without a license liable to the provisions of that act.

"The present operators' license law is intended to bar those unfit to operate automobiles from the highways," Secretary of State Clarke W. Brown asserted. "It protects every user of the highways. I suggest that every automobile driver look at the expiration date of his present license and if it has expired or will do so in a short time, he should apply for a new one."

In order to provide prompt issuance of licenses, the operators' license division of the department is now working 24 hours a day.

Blunk's Window Display Relic

On display in the window of Blunk Bros. department store is a miniature house and garden owned by Karl Schlanderer of Plymouth that was constructed two years before the close of the Civil War.

The miniature garden was made by Paul Ruff of Ann Arbor for Paul Schlanderer on his first Christmas and has since been used by his son Karl for his first Christmas and the latter's children for their first Christmas.

A beautifully decorated house on the top of a hill forms a background for the front yards which is covered with snow and has several figures on it. Four of the figures in the house are part of the original display made in December 1861.

Horse Killed That Had Rabies

A horse belonging to Oley Drayton, who resides on the farm of Mrs. Maude Bennett on West Ann Arbor road just west of Plymouth was discovered the other day to be suffering from rabies and had to be shot. As far as known this is the first case of rabies that has been found in this locality in many years.

A week or so ago one of the horses used by Mr. Drayton on Mrs. Bennett's farm was discovered to be acting strangely. County Agent Ralph Carr was called at Dearborn and the matter was reported to the state veterinarian's office in Lansing. The state sent Dr. E. B. Cavell of Northville to the farm to investigate and he discovered the case to be that of rabies and ordered the horse killed.

It is not known how the horse contracted the disease but it is feared that a dog might have bitten the horse. Three weeks ago a mad dog was discovered in Novi township and it was killed. Mrs. Bennett or Mr. Drayton have no knowledge of any stray dog being on their farm but it is urged that other farmers watch their stock and dogs carefully for any indications of the disease.

MORTGAGE SALE

Default having been made in the terms and conditions of a certain mortgage made by W. HAROLD LIGHTBODY and LILLIAN H. LIGHTBODY, his wife, of Detroit, Wayne County, Michigan, Mortgagees, to FORDSON STATE BANK, Michigan Corporation, of Fordson, Michigan, Mortgagee, on the 17th day of August, A. D. 1928, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for the County of Wayne and State of Michigan, on the 20th day of August, A. D. 1928, in Liber 2191 of Mortgages, on page 521, which said Fordson State Bank by changes of name became known as the Bank of Dearborn, of Dearborn, Michigan, a Michigan corporation, which said mortgage was on, to-wit, the 12th day of July, A. D. 1932, assigned to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, a Federal corporation, and recorded on December 4, 1934, in the office of the Register of Deeds for said County of Wayne in Liber 271 of Assignments, on page 53, which said mortgage was thereafter, to-wit, the 5th day of August, A. D. 1934, assigned to the Guardian Bank of Dearborn and recorded December 4, 1934, in the office of the Register of Deeds for Wayne County in Liber 271 of Assignments, on page 60, on which mortgage it is claimed to be due at the date of this notice, for principal interest, certification of abstract and taxes, the sum of Five thousand Six Hundred Ninety-five and 63/100 Dollars ($5,695.63).
No suit or proceedings at law or in equity have been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage or any part thereof. NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN by virtue of the power contained in said mortgage and the statute in such case made and provided and pursuant to the power vested in the undersigned liquidator by resolution adopted by the stockholders of the Guardian Bank of Dearborn, Dearborn, Michigan, in minutes thereof duly called and held on the 15th day of August and 20th day of October, A. D. 1933, at each of which meetings more than two-thirds of the outstanding capital stock was present and voted thereon: that on Friday, the 25th day of March, A. D. 1935, at 12 o'clock noon, Eastern Standard Time, said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale at public auction, to the highest bidder, at the southerly or Congress Street entrance of the County Building in the City of Detroit, Wayne County, Michigan, (that being the building where the Circuit Court for the County of Wayne is held), of the premises described in said mortgage, or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay the amount due, as aforesaid, on said mortgage, with the interest thereon at seven per cent (7%) and all legal costs, charges and expenses, including the attorney's fee allowed by law, and also any sum of money which may be paid by the mortgagee, necessary to protect his interest in the premises, which said premises are described as follows: All that certain piece or parcel of land situate in the City of Dearborn, in the County of Wayne, State of Michigan, and described as follows, to-wit: Lot number eleven (11) R. H. McDonald's MORROW FIELD SUBDIVISION, of lots one (1) and two (2) Commissioners in Partition Estate of Ernest A. Houman and Christen E. Houman, husband and wife, of Dearborn, A. D. 1927, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for the County of Wayne and State of Michigan, on the 19th day of September, A. D. 1927, in Liber 205 of Mortgages, on page 81, which mortgage was assigned by Theodore Kluck, of William A. Blunk and Minnie M. Blunk, husband and wife, by assignment dated the 8th day of June, 1928, and recorded on the 17th day of June, 1928, in Liber 204 of Assignments on page 309, Wayne County Records, and whereas Minnie M. Blunk is deceased and said mortgage is now owned by William A. Blunk as survivor, on which mortgage there is claimed to be due at the date of this notice, for principal and interest, the sum of Four thousand Five Hundred Forty-five and 68/100 dollars, and an attorney's fee as prescribed by law, as provided for in said mortgage, and no suit or proceedings at law having been instituted to recover the moneys secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.
Notice is hereby given, that by virtue of the power of sale conferred on said mortgage, and the statute in such case made and provided, on Tuesday the 19th day of March, A. D. 1935, at twelve o'clock noon, Eastern Standard Time, the undersigned will, at the southerly or Congress Street entrance of the Wayne County Building, Detroit, Michigan, in the County of Wayne, that being the place where the Circuit Court for the County of Wayne is held, sell at public auction to the highest bidder, the premises described in said mortgage, or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay the amount due, as aforesaid, on said mortgage, with seven (7) per cent interest, and all legal costs, together with said attorney's fee, to-wit:

Woman Gets Cash From Merchants, Beats It South

—which in every case is their own pocketbook. It is declared. Last fall some woman giving the name of Hurri Buva Who, or some such name, pointed out to Rev. Sutherland that she had a very legitimate way for him to scure for his church some new prayer and hymn book and some cash.

She would get the advertising from the Plymouth merchants for the hymn books and the church would get the funds for its treasury. In the way the matter was presented, it all looked very fair and above board.

The woman went to work and from what can be found out collected something like $200 or more from local merchants. One paid as high as $12.50, giving the money for what he thought was of benefit to the church.

Then the woman failed to come back to town when she said she would. Rev. Sutherland became suspicious and began checking back on some of her "references" and in company with Chief Smith visited the address in Detroit she had given the pastor.

There they found that it wasn't her home at all, that it was simply a place where she had her mail sent to and she picked it up now and then.

Then they drove over to Wyandotte where she said she had put out a very successful church hymn book, backed by the merchants of that city. They there found that a city ordinance prevents such "easy" money from being taken from the merchants and that the scheme was never worked there.

The investigation led on to the discovery that Okosso, Center Line and numerous other places had been worked by the woman. In fact a number of women's clubs had fallen for the plan.

In endeavoring to trace the woman down, Chief Smith has a clue which leads him to believe that she is now in Florida, enjoying the southland winter on the money so easily made in Plymouth and other nearby communities. Chief Smith states that it is doubtful if the woman can be brought back from another state, as the largest amount involved is only $12.50 cents, and that makes only a minor offense if any at all.

Rev. Sutherland, who did what he thought was right and for the benefit of his church, is doing all that he can to aid the officers in finding the woman and in bringing her back so that proper settlement can be made.

Chief Smith has expressed himself as indeed grateful to Rev. Sutherland for reporting the matter to him and giving him the remarkable assistance he has in the matter.

Rev. Sutherland has also requested The Mail to express his personal regrets to all of the business men who were called upon by the promoter for the way they turned out.

He states the officers, has taken the right attitude in the matter and they are cooperating in an effort to fight this matter and as well end one of the things that has threatened Plymouth merchants for some time.

Baggage Rates Revised And Cut

Substantial reductions and other modifications in baggage charges and regulations were made recently by railroads operating in Trunk Line and Central Passenger Association territories, according to F. W. Hamill, Plymouth Pere Marquette Agent.

In the future parents traveling with small children will be permitted to check as part of the free baggage allowance, such articles as baby carriages, go-carts, velocipedes, and tricycles, for which at present a separate charge is required. Outdoor enthusiasts will have the same privilege afforded to bicycles, steam chairs, sleighs, toboggans, skis, snowshoes, campers' outfits, including boxed provisions, and club and sporting paraphernalia, such as fishing rods, guns, and golf, hockey, lacrosse, baseball or football equipment.

Present restrictions as to shape and additional charge for oversized trunks, will be generally abolished. The maximum weight for single pieces of baggage will be increased from 250 pounds to 300 pounds, but passengers having baggage weighing in excess of 150 pounds per adult ticket or 75 pounds per child ticket will be charged for such excess weight as at present. The rate for transporting dogs, cats, or birds will be cut in half.

Storage charges at stations on both trunks and hand baggage will be considerably reduced. The list of destinations to which baggage may be checked for delivery direct to hotels or residences at a moderate charge will be greatly enlarged. Mr. Hunter points out that the new arrangement for handling baggage, which becomes effective on eastern and central railways December 15, will offer the traveling public many new conveniences free of charge and others at substantial savings.

The Pere Marquette wrecker was called here Tuesday morning to pick up a derailment at the depot. A few freight cars had been derailed when train was backing into the side track to allow another train to pass. Trouble in the switch allowed part of the train to run into the siding while part started down the main line, terminating in the derailment. Although it occurred at 6:00 in the morning, the wreck was not picked up until about 1 o'clock in the afternoon. However, the main track was cleared for traffic so that none of the morning trains were held up.—South Lyon Herald.

HIGHLIGHTS In The Federal Housing Administration Campaign For Glorious Michigan

The number of communities with Better Housing Program chairmen appointed in Michigan was increased to 83 during the week.

Although the leading bank in Flint has made 160 loans, it has had but one delinquency.

During the week the Detroit Committee perfected plans for a well-coordinated modernization promotion program during the winter and spring.

The Community Club and Rotary Club of Bad Axe each passed resolutions to take part in the local campaign. The send-off for the campaign was a joint noon meeting with the State Director, December 5th.

A site has been obtained in Royal Oak for an old home to be modernized as an exhibit. The canvass in Southern Oakland County resulted in an estimated $100,000 dollar value of proposed repair and modernization jobs.

Michigan will have a Better Housing exposition in Convention Hall in Detroit, March 9-17, 1934, under the leadership of the Detroit Committee. This will be a section of the "Little World's Fair" which is to be staged by the "Detroit-Michigan Exposition" organization. Local committees will be encouraged to have local exhibits open at the same time.

The Port Huron Committee has arranged an interesting way of disposing of its model home now used as headquarters. In Port Huron from July 1 to 4 there is a Blue Water Carnival, which is an annual event in cooperation with Canada. An agreement has been reached between the Better Housing Program Committee and the Blue Water Carnival Committee whereby the Carnival Committee is now furnishing and will continue to furnish a full time man to the Better Housing Committee in exchange for which the model house will be turned over to the Carnival Committee, which will call it during the Carnival. Last year the Carnival was attended by 100,000 people.

For the week ending November 30, the dollar value of property modernization in Michigan, financed with notes under the National Housing Act, increased 14 per cent over the total for such modernization during the whole two previous months. The amount of each modernization loan made to date to Michigan, home-owners now averages $350.00. At one time the average was running $500.00. Since modernization is becoming more and more popularized it was to be expected that a larger number of smaller loans would bring the average down. However, in 17 other states the average bank loan is still between $400 and $550 per loan in large volume.

Many families on the north side of the city during the past few evenings have enjoyed the sweet singing of the youthful carolers who have been going from home to home singing Christmas songs. The Central Parent Teachers Association, sponsor of the plan, is most appreciative of the gifts made to the singers. The children will go out again Sunday and Monday evenings.

The group is composed of Edna Hobbins, Virginia Shaw, Agnes Schomberger, Betty Hayley, Lillian Rutherford, Margaret Allen, Inez Westfall, Margaret Erdelyi, Marjorie Allen, Mildred Allen, Madeline Allen, Ardit Williams, Rose Mary Schomberger, Robert Daniels, Detting, Jack Butz, Evelyn Schomberger and Elma Highfield. The children are in charge of Margaret Allen and Margaret Erdelyi.

Four general topics were offered for discussion. These included "Contemporary European Affairs," "Socialization of Medicine," "Industrial Democracy" and "Limitation of Incomes and Inheritance." The judges were Miss Carr, Dr. Latta and Mr. Gosling.

Jack Butterick infused personality into his speech on "Distributive Aspects of Government and State Taxes" and with Edith Barber, winner of first prize among the women will go to Lansing, November 27 to represent Olivet College in the State extemporaneous contest.

Vets Working For A New Chevrolet

The Plymouth post of the American Legion is heading the list of contestants in the Chevrolet Attendance Contest now being sponsored by the Chevrolet Motor Co. in Michigan.

Legion posts of the state have been divided into five zones and the post in each zone that gets the largest number of new members during the six months of the contest will be awarded absolutely free a brand new Chevrolet.

At the present rate the Myron H. Beals post is boosting their attendance it will be hard for any of the other zone contestants to take their lead, stated E. J. Allison yesterday. The car will be decorated with a large American Legion emblem on each side and each of the posts winning a car must use it only for Legion business.

The contest closes April 30th, 1935.

Jack Butterick Is College Prize Winner

Prize of $15.00 for first place in the Reed-Adelphi contest which was held on Monday night went to Jack Butterick of Plymouth, Michigan, freshman. Three women and six men participated in the event which is held each year under the auspices of the Olivet Union and Adelphi Fraternity.

Four general topics were offered for discussion. These included "Contemporary European Affairs," "Socialization of Medicine," "Industrial Democracy" and "Limitation of Incomes and Inheritance." The judges were Miss Carr, Dr. Latta and Mr. Gosling.

Whether you have dinner at 6 or dinner at 8 . . . I'LL COOK A DINNER FOR SIX while you're out for the afternoon!"

DUTCH OVEN SUSAN "The DUTCH OVEN SUSAN, the Electric Cook, and I'll work wonders for you in the way of delicious meals. For $9.50, you can have my services for life—and enjoy electric cooking every day. You can go out every afternoon in the week, and I'll prepare dinner while you're away. When you come home your meal will be waiting, perfectly cooked—piping hot and ready for the table.

"I'm not at all fussy about hours. . . . If you're late, it doesn't matter a bit. I'll keep dinner warm until you arrive, and have everything as well done as if you'd supervised it yourself. You don't need to furnish special wiring for me. Any convenience outlet will do, and I use no more electricity than a toaster.

"I can roast a 10-pound ham, a 6-pound chicken or a large leg of lamb; I can roast all cuts of meat to perfection; I can fry eggs, steaks, chops, etc.; I can bake cakes, pies, cookies, biscuits and muffins; and I can hold half-a-dozen pint jars when canning by the cold pack, hot water bath method.

All the food shown here was prepared at one time by Dutch Oven Susan. There is three-penned rolled rib roast, string beans, potatoes and gravy, and "chocolate bake pudding—a complete meal for a family of six, cooked electrically without attention.

"I have a Small Sister Susan who is an electric casserole. She can't turn out quite as large meals, but she can prepare all casserole dishes such as waterless pot roast, fried chicken, baked potatoes, Boston baked beans, etc., in two-quart quantities. And you'll smack your lips at the delicious flavor she retains in foods!

"Here's a hint: Either my sister or I make fine last-minute 'pick-me-ups', in case you've delayed Christmas shopping too long and don't know what to buy. We're a perfect gift for almost anyone on your list. . . . and we're very attractive in appearance, fitted out in charming Colonial dress. Come in and meet us soon!"

Announcement of Financial Secretary, Mr. A. Rohde.
1. Mite Boxes for Christmas are to be turned in at one of the Christmas Services.

2. The Books of the Congregation will be closed definitely on December 31st. Any contribution after December 31st will not appear on this year's report, but will be duly entered as for 1935.

3. A deficit of $125 ought to be covered before the 31st of December.

Our improved, personal, financial condition ought to be reflected above all in our contributions for our Church. Will your contribution on the report be an honest reflection of the Lord's blessings to you in 1934?

5. The congregation is entirely debt-free; for this we owe our Father thanks.

BEEFA CHAPEL

Jas. A. Davis, Pastor

Sunday School, 9:45. Evening service, 7:45 p.m. Wednesday Children's Program, 7:45 p.m.

The children and young people will be Christmas Caroling on the eve of Dec. 24 and will sing in different sections of Plymouth and those desiring to hear them can just light their porch lights. The singing will consist of a group of choruses and songs a little different from those used at Christmas time. Jan. 1st, there will be a Young People's rally held in the Odd Fellows Temple at McClemons and Seneca St., Pontiac, Mich. If you want to enjoy a real New Year's day come and join us, meetings all day, meals to be served by the Pontiac assembly on the tree will offering plan. Let us start the New Year with God.

Prayer meeting Friday in the home of the pastor, 259 E. An Arbor street. The supreme condition of power in the apostolic church was the definite baptism with the Holy Ghost. The supreme condition of success in soul-winning is the same today. Many in these days are trying to prove that there is no such thing as a special baptism with the Holy Ghost, but a candid and careful study of the Acts of the Apostles will show that there is. Very many in our day also know by blessed experience that the baptism of the Holy Spirit is a present day reality. One ounce of believing experience along this line is worth whole tone of unbelieving exegesis, no matter how subtle and learned it may be. Many have become a power in God's service through meeting the conditions as laid down in the Bible for receiving the Holy Ghost. It is for every child of God and those who would be used of God must get it by any cost. God will bless you at the prayer meeting.

CATHOLIC CHURCH
Sundays — Mass at 8:00 and 10:00. Confessions — Saturday nights at 7:30, and before each mass.
Week-days—Mass at 7:30. This hour makes it convenient for the children to attend on their way to school. All should begin the day with God.

Societies—The Holy Name Society for all men and young men. Communion the second Sunday of the month. The Ladies' Altar Society receives Holy Communion the third Sunday of each month. All the ladies of the parish are to belong to this society.

Children of Mary—Every child of the parish must belong and must go to communion every fourth Sunday of the month. Instructions in religion conducted each Saturday morning at 9:30 by the Dominican Sisters. All children that have not completed their 8th grade, are obliged to attend these religious instructions.

ST. MICHAELS CHURCH
Rosedale Gardens
Father Contway, Pastor
At 11:30 Monday evening, Christmas eve, there will be an orchestra and soloists in Christmas carols in English, followed by High Mass. This service will be over before one o'clock. Last year the church was packed to the door. Everyone is assured a seat.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH
Formerly Church of the Open Door
Richard W. Neale, our pastor, will preach the Christmas sermon at the morning service on Sunday at 10 o'clock. His subject is, "The Meaning of The Virgin Birth of Our Lord, Jesus Christ." What does the Bible say about this? Are its statements authoritative? Must a true Christian hold this doctrine? What is its practical value to us? These oft-repeated questions will be squarely met in this heart to heart message.

At 7:30 Sunday evening the Sunday school takes charge of the Christmas program. A program packed with interest and surprises awaits you. Best of all it is a spiritual program. Its message is — one you'll remember. There will be pictures of the infant Jesus and of the first Christmas. Also pictures of his life and work.

And of course the little tots have their part in it too. You are heartily welcome to join with us in this and all our services.

The Children's Christmas Party will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Spaulding at 257 Hamilton Street this Saturday at 2 o'clock.

We expect our brother LeRoy Tillotson, home this week. He has been studying at the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. He will have a message of vital interest. All friends of the church will want to hear his speech.

Mrs. Elroy Hargrave was taken to the hospital for an operation last Friday evening. Her condition at present writing is still serious.

As Christmas nears we join in wishing all our readers a truly happy Christmas. The Lord said, "I am come that they might have life." John 10:10. His coming to earth brought great joy. His coming to your heart as Savior will bring even greater joy. That is the true Christmas hope and message. Is it yours? It can be. Come and visit us. Or, if you're shut in, write us. We'll gladly visit you.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
Loyla Sutherland, Minister
The happy Christmas comes once more.
The heavenly guest is at the door.
The blessed words the shepherds thrill.
The joyous tidings—Peace, good-will!
The bellfries of all Christendom
Now roll along
The unbroken song
Of peace on earth, good-will to men!—Longfellow.

10:00 a.m.—Morning worship. Subject, "The Side-line Christian, or The Heart of Christmas." Our choirs will bring special Christmas music.

11:15—Bible School. During the Sunday school period we shall be favored with some recitations and songs by the little folks.

5:30—Meeting of the Pioneers. 7:00—There is a beautiful legend of Cathay that has found a new place in the hearts of Christian people in these last few years.

This strange country is called Cathay, and the ruler thereof is one Kublah Khan, a mighty warrior who by reason of his strong will and trusty sword had made himself Lord of the whole land. His government is both wise and just, and is administered to rich and poor alike, without fear of favor. On the Kings birthday, the people observe what is called the White Feast. Then are the King and his court assembled in a great room of the place, which is all white, the floor of marble, and the walls hung with curtains of white silk. All are in white apparel and they offer unto the King white gifts, to show that their love and loyalty are without stain. The rich bring to their Lord pearls, carvings of ivory white chargers, and costly embrodered garments. The poor present white pigeons and hand-fuls of rice. Nor doth the King regard one gift above another so long as all be white. And so they keep the King's birthday."

Upon this legend we shall base our Sunday evening Christmas service. The settings will be most beautiful and the Christmas story again told in Pageantry and music. From the youngest to the oldest we shall bring White Gifts to our King. This service will be concluded by a baptismal service.

Our church building will be open on Saturday evening so that any who desire to do so may see the decorations, and if you are not occupied elsewhere Sunday evening you are cordially wanted at this service.

This church will observe a Watch-night service, announcement of which will appear next week. Our ladies will not be serving suppers during the holiday season the next one coming on Jan. 11.

The pastor will be in attendance next week at the State Minister Retreat which is held at Hillsdale from Wednesday until Friday.

Methodists Will Again On Sunday Provide Way For Childhood Joy

If you were Bobby, a kid of eight, and your father was in prison and your mother didn't seem to care much for you—
If you were fourteen year old Gladys and you and your sister—a year older—had been motherless since you were seven, and your father had failed consistently to provide decent care for you—
If you were a little boy of ten who had been left on a doorstep when you were a few weeks old—all if you were Julia, aged nine, and your parents had been divorced and both had remarried; and you were not acceptable to your step-mother or your step-father, and your own father was trying to find a place for you among people who would be kind to you—
If you were only one of the above described children and an unknown friend suddenly made it possible for you to have the loving care and happiness that should be every child's birthright, wouldn't you believe that after all, fairy tales sometimes do come true?

It so happens that these little stories are all of real girls and boys who need you and you can help to make their dreams come true, if you will.
And there are dozens of other children with similar handicaps.

Beware Of Slick Charity Fakers

Racketeers of various "Trades" are at work in the city and Lieut. Reuben Orr of the detective bureau today issued a warning to all merchants and residents of the city to be particular from whom they buy, and to whom they make charitable donations and to seek the advice of responsible parties before they become party to any business transaction.
The latest to be reported this week was an advertising racket being operated by the name of McDonald and Douglas. He represented himself to local merchants as an advertising man in the employ of the Dearborn Inn Corporation and managed to induce several merchants out of some money. The merchants names are being withheld.

Merchants being approached with advertising schemes may save themselves a lot of grief by seeking information concerning the plan from Lawrence Daly, advertising manager of The Press. Mr. Daly has at his disposal or can secure on short notice, complete information on all advertising matter. The Press will be glad to assist all local merchants in their investigation of any advertising or printing plan which may be submitted by outside firms not known to local merchants. Only a short time will be required to determine if the firm promoting the project is reputable," Mr. Daly said.

Each holiday season "charity racketeers" infest Dearborn. Chief Carl Brooks' advice is this: "Charity begins at home. In most instances there are representatives of state and national organizations in this city and it is not necessary to make donations to outsiders."

The food store racket is another one to be watchful of, police warn. Men will place an order and ask to take it out to the car for their wife's approval, giving the excuse that their wife is crippled and unable to come in to the store.—Dearborn Press.

all of whom are known to the Methodist Children's Home Society, an organization that reaches out its hands in a statewide service to the needy in all walks of life, all denominations, and many nationalities.
The Society helps hundreds of girls and boys in the course of a year, but far more could be accomplished if finances permitted.
Its work centers around the Children's Village, a unique community on the outskirts of Detroit which affords the little ones entrusted to its care, normal family life of the highest type, as well as special attention in the case of "problem" children. One of the cottages in the Village has been closed for several months because there has not been money to finance it.
Once a year the society makes a definite request for funds to carry on its noble work. This annual effort is known as the White Gift Offering, and is taken on the two Sundays preceding Christmas in the Methodist Churches throughout Michigan.

All friends of the Society, of whatever church affiliation, are invited to send a contribution, no matter how small, to the Methodist Church in their community. Or it may be mailed to the Methodist Children's Home Society, Children's Village, Redford Station, Detroit.

In addition to money there is an urgent need for sweaters, stockings, pajamas and bedroom slippers (all sizes), bed spreads, sheets and pillow cases (small sizes), sugar, canned milk and cereals, canned fruit and vegetables, children's magazines, and good books.

If you want to help make the fairy tale come true for Julia and Bobby and Gladys and the many other children the Methodist Children's Home Society has on its waiting list, remember the White Gift Offering!

Santa's Joined the "Caterpillar Club"
By Earle Hooker Eaton

The motor car now goes so fast. That reindeer days are largely past. And airplanes swift may do the work of Santa who will never shirk. The job of giving gifts and boys Their sleds and dolls and other toys; For Santa has a parachute. And "boils out" on the chimney route. For just like "Lindy" he's no dud— He's joined the "Caterpillar Club!"

If reindeer throw a shoe or two. And fail to get the cargo through; If motor cars blow out a tire, Or get all messed up in the mire; And Santa Claus is in despair, He merely flies up in the air. And if the airplane junks him too, He drops straight down the chimney flue. For just like "Lindy" he's no dud— He's joined the "Caterpillar Club!"

A Little Cat Lost
A Christmas Story
by Martha Banning Thomas

"PETER that little boy in the apartment on the first floor has lost his kitten again!" Good Heavens!" Peter whipped the paper over to the financial sheet. "That makes the fourth time, doesn't it? I hope you're not hating that I go out this cold night and hunt for it."
"No-no, but I talked to his mother today, and she said Allan's Christmas would be ruined if they couldn't find that kitten. She said that he wouldn't look at the tree they brought. She said that to divert his thoughts she gave him a present beforehand—a large toy dump-truck. He put it on the floor and went to the window. He just stands there, Peter, looking and looking." "Why don't his own parents go out and search the neighborhood? I don't quite see where we come in."
"They have. Peter. But the boy's father is away all day, and has had to work late all this week. His mother can't leave the child alone down there, and he's too little to walk far... and she can't push the go-cart through all this snow."
"Um-m-m... well, I see that more snow is expected tonight." "Peter!"
Down went the paper with an irritated rustle. "Say it out loud, Mary! You want me to get out of my house slippers, put on my coat, and get chills from hunting for somebody else's cat."
Mary sniffed. "I've been out until I had to get dinner," she said. "I know you don't want to, but..."
A door in the lower hall opened. A childish cry came up the stairs. "My kitty! He'll be all cold and hurt!" My... kitty!"
The outside hall door shut. "There goes his mother. She didn't even ask me to stay with Allen."
"It's got so now a man can't have a moment's peace in his own house, even on Christmas eve, rumbled Peter. In a minute he was ready to go out.
Mary ran downstairs to stay with Allen. Peter slammed out the door.
The streets were still deep with snow. All day and all night it had fallen. The trees bent under it. The bushes were hidden beneath a white burden.
Mary stayed for an hour with Allen. At the end of that time there was the sound of much merriment on the walk. Two persons came in the hall, pounded on the door. "That's mummy!" cried Allen. "And I know she's got kitty!"
It was Mummy. It was Peter. It was Kitty.
"Found the poor little thing hunched under a box in the back yard of a store! Well, boy... take your cat, and Merry Christmas!"
On the way upstairs again, Peter's arm crept about Mary. "That woman is a good little scout. Lots of pluck. I guess when you have a kid... you like to please him... even if it's a great nuisance. Glad you told me. What say, Mary we have our tree this minute? I'm bursting with good will, and I feel like presents!"
So they had their tree. And Allen had his kitty.

Winter Fishing Season Starts

Freezing weather, snow and ice, have brought a new pastime that takes its place beside rabbit hunting in the interest of Michigan sportsmen. Fishing through the ice in its various forms is now in full swing throughout the state, according to the Department of Conservation.
Rabbit hunting is legal to and including Jan. 31 in both the upper and lower peninsulas, but those individuals who enjoy sitting in a fishing shanty on an island lake or fishing through the ice in the open may enjoy their sport as long as the ice remains on the open waters.
Except for designated trout lakes and streams all inland waters of Michigan are open to legal fishing until April 30.
Spearing and hook-and-line fishing affords an outdoor pastime that will help sportsmen to bridge the winter months. The spear may be used through the ice on a fishing shanty, or February on waters not otherwise closed to spearing. The following species of fish may be taken with the spear: Carp, suckers, mullet, redhorse, sheepshead, lake trout, walleye, pike, pickerel, northern grass pike or pickerel, garpike, muskellunge, whitefish, ciscoes, pilotfish or Menominee whitefish, and dogfish. The use of a jacklight or any form of artificial light with spears is illegal.

As in past season, state fishing regulations permit each hook and line fisherman the use of no more than five single lines with one hook attached to each line for fishing through the ice. The lines must be attended every two hours.
The following species of fish may be taken by means of hook and line through the ice or until April 30: Wall-eyed pike, great northern grass pike or pickerel, perch, rock, calico and strawberry bass, crappies, bluegills and sunfish, white bass, warmouth bass, muskellunge and all non-game species. Black bass may not be taken after December 31.
Under the general fishing license law adopted by the state legislature in 1933, the possession of a fishing license is necessary for fishing through the ice.

New Church Opens Over In Garden City

First services in the new St. Raphael's Catholic Church, located on Merriman Road just north of Ford Road, in Garden City, was held Sunday, December 16. The first service was a low mass said at 8:30 followed by a high mass at 10:30.
The attractive new building, the first Catholic Church to be erected in Garden City, is built according to the Mission style and is of face brick construction. An air-conditioning unit has been installed as well as a modern heating plant. Art glass figures are incorporated in the windows.
Rt. Rev. Michael James Gallagher, bishop of the Diocese of Detroit, it is reported, is scheduled to preside at the dedication of the new church on Sunday, December 23. Fr. G. Stech is pastor of the parish.

Rotarians Hear High Official

On Friday evening, December 14, the Plymouth Rotary club held an inter-city meeting with the Northville Rotary club of Northville in the Crystal dining room of the Mayflower hotel at which time Roscoe Bonsteel, district governor of Rotary International paid both clubs his official visit.
Following the splendid dinner served under the supervision of Rotarian Clare Maben, president Lynn Felton called upon each Rotarian present to introduce himself and then turned the meeting over to Roscoe Bonsteel, Governor of Rotary International who addressed both clubs. Later the Governor called upon members from both clubs to briefly state the activities of the committee upon which they serve whereby ideas could be exchanged.
The purpose of the Governor's visit was one to establish good will and to promote the ideals of Rotary.
The meeting was very interesting and it goes without saying that those members who were absent missed one of the most educational Rotary meetings the club has had in sometime. President Felton regretted that there were so many absentees due to the holidays and many other conflicting events.

Buick announces continuation of... its Smart Style... Proven Superiority... Established Prestige of Quality and Value ... and every fundamental Buick Engineering Feature, already proved and now improved by further progress.

THE public, in the first 10 months of this year, by investing in new Buicks more millions of dollars than in any other car except the three of very lowest price, gives striking, even sensational recognition and approval to the superiority of Buick quality and Buick value.
Buick was ahead of its time this year. Buick for 1935—already a proven product—is ahead now. The building this year of the finest cars Buick ever built, in a volume nearly double the 1933 output, has brought forth important new improvements and refinements, bearing upon performance, smoothness, dependability and general economy.

Compare the Buick for 1935 as you will. You will see here the value for your money. You will buy a better automobile only when Buick builds it.

A Christmas Reunion

By Helen Gaisford

CHRISTMAS DAY! But not the happy chiming of former years ring through the little town. A week ago, the brilliant bell had rung another bell, but now the fever was so devastating that not even that slight notice was paid the victims. To the tired doctors and nurses, rushed in from surrounding cities, Christmas meant only another day. Doctor Dickson, passing through an improvised ward, spoke to the nurse. "You'd better get a cup of coffee. Miss Wilson, and I'll try to find a relief. When did you sleep last?" "I came down two days ago," she answered. "but it does not matter. There is too much to be done for me to stop now. I do believe your treatments are getting results, and please, do not—I want to see it through."

No Mistake

A Christmas Story By Helen Gaisford

"CHRISTMAS!" reasoned Mary. "is a very foolish time to quarrel with one's sweetheart." She was knitting half-heartedly on the fle she had started for Bob a week ago. Well, now it could be for her father. The color might be a bit too bright—if Bob only weren't so stubborn! The needles clicked viciously. Her mother was busy wrapping presents. "Mary," she called. "Christmas dinner is ready. Go to the kitchen and get the turkey. No, thanks," she answered rather stiffly. "That affair's all over." "You haven't broken up?" Her mother came to the door. "Why, Bob is quite the nicest boy you've ever gone with. I'll bet he's blue."

A Genuine Christmas

by Katherine Edelman

GRANT NEWBY waited impatiently in the telephone booth the receiver held tightly against his ear. Surely something was lacking. What was it? The Christmas spirit, of course, that special something in the atmosphere that was the thing that made Christmas real. And it didn't seem to permeate the confines of a big city hotel. He sighed as he stepped from the very atmosphere of the season... excited voices... whistlings... unwrapping packages... the singing of the lovely old carols. A glim came into his tired eyes at the memory. Why couldn't he bring something of that homey spirit into this big hotel? He could try. Grant Newby found that almost all people are alike when it comes to Christmas. There wasn't a person in the hotel who wasn't happy to join enthusiastically in his plans. There was a quick rush for wraps—a quicker rush to the street in search of gifts. The hotel help were going to be surprised by such a Christmas as they had never had before. The guests, men and women, were going to adopt their own received something. In addition, small articles were in purchase and placed by number on the Christmas tree. These were for the guests themselves. The very spirit of Christmas seemed to fill the place as the gifts were passed around. "No, it was mine." "Anyhow, forgive me." He kissed her and held her close and whispered in her ear. After a while she pulled away. "Bob, where did you ever get that?" "Why, you sent it to me." "Oh of course. Excuse me a moment." In the kitchen she confronted her mother. "Did you send Bob that tree?" she demanded. "Why, yes, dear." The older woman admitted. "Did I make a mistake?" "Mistake nothing!" She caught her in a bear hug. "Bob and I are going to be married, darling. Isn't this a wonderful Christmas?"
