Starkweather P. T. A. Will Hear Health Talk Monday Evening

Starkweather P. T. A. will hold their regular meeting in the school auditorium on Monday evening, Feb. 18th, at 7:30 p.m.

Better Get New Auto Plates Now

You had better get your new license plates now if you do not want to get into the waiting line.

Shades of Spades! Plymouth Cribbage Gets Perfect Hand

There are events that only happen about once in any person's life and one of them is getting a 29 hand in a game of cribbage.

This happened in a four handed game last Saturday evening, Feb. 12, between Mr. and Mrs. Showers and Mr. and Mrs. Galen Cripe.

Mr. Cripe did the dealing and dealt Mr. Showers the five of clubs, hearts and diamonds, the jack of spades and another card of no importance.

Mr. Showers of course now feels that he is eligible to join the ranks of expert cribbage players and Mr. Cripe says there are no better dealers in Plymouth.

Women Hear Of Soviet Schools

"Education in Soviet Russia" will be the title of the discourse given before the Woman's Club of Plymouth by Dr. Howard Y. McClusky.

Aside from the present deep interest taken in all discussions pertaining to Russia, no member can afford to miss hearing Dr. McClusky who comes to us well equipped to speak with authority upon his chosen subject.

Mrs. Ada Murray will act as chairman for the day, in the absence of Mrs. S. N. Thams.

Other members of the committee for the day are Mrs. Earl Wellman, Mrs. Donald Sutherland, Mrs. Ray Norton, Mrs. John Harmon, Mrs. E. M. Cline, Mrs. Albert Schroder, and Mrs. Carl Schlenderer.

Ben Blunk Has Finished Course

Ben Blunk, manager of Blunk Brothers Electric Appliance department, has just completed a post graduate course in the Kelvinator service school.

ShIPLEY'S Hen Does Another "Believe It Or Not" Two Egg Stunt

"Old Ripley," the famous hen that has brought fame and glory to the hen-coop belonging to Howard Shipley on 239 Fair street, has just added another "Believe It Or Not" stunt to the long list that has made "chicken history" at Shipley's place.

What is pretty good—but "Old Ripley" decided it ought to be a bit better so the other morning when Mr. Shipley went out and the hen house to gather the eggs there was a big one in one of the nests.

When the madame started to crack open this especially big egg, she discovered that inside the hard outside shell was another perfectly formed egg with another hard shell around it.

The prize was turned back to Mr. Shipley who put it in a glass can to take around town to show the doubting Thomases. The egg-within-an-egg has been on display for the past day or so in the office of The Plymouth Mail.

Shrine Dance To Be A Big Event

All arrangements have been completed for the Washington Shrine dinner-dance to be held at the Mayflower hotel by the Suburban Shrine club of Western Wayne county.

Plymouth Methodists Will Welcome Bishop of Church

For the first time in the one hundred years Plymouth Methodist a bishop of the church is coming to Plymouth to speak to members of the church in this city.

Rev. P. R. Norton has announced that next Thursday evening, Bishop Edgar Blake, one of the country's outstanding church leaders will be in Plymouth to address the church members at the "church family supper" to be held at that time.

The occasion will commemorate the one hundred fiftieth anniversary of the founding of Methodism in America, and the one hundredth anniversary of the coming of the first resident pastor to the Plymouth church.

Bishop Blake is a native of Maine. He is a graduate of the Boston School Theology, also of New York Wesleyan University, and De Pauw. He was ordained as a minister in 1899 from 1912 to 1920 he was at the head of the Methodist Board of Sunday School and until his election as bishop in May 1920. He is also a member of the Knights Templar order of the Masonic Lodge.

The supper will be the usual pot luck variety, open to all who desire to attend. Those who desire to make sure of room at the table would do well to arrange a group of ten and reserve a table. The anniversary supper of the Methodist church will not be for the purpose of financial exploitation but merely for good fellowship.

The story of Plymouth Methodism goes back to the early days when Plymouth was but a little hamlet of half a dozen log houses surrounded by dense forests, known only to the Indians and wild animals that roamed at will over a vast territory extending west from Detroit.

The addition of the new heating plant makes possible a better use of the community house unit. This will be enjoyed next Monday night by the young people when the boys Epworth League basketball team, and also the girls team each have a basketball game in the gymnasium with teams from Wayne. No admission will be charged to these games, but the public is invited. Again on February 28 the men of the church and their friends will have a fish supper in the church for men and boys and will then go to the Gymnasium for basketball and volleyball games.

Randall Made A Cadet Colonel

John P. Randall, a graduate of Plymouth high school in 1931 and at present senior in the Engineering division at Michigan State College, was recently accorded the highest honor which can be granted to a military student in that institution when he was appointed Cadet Colonel of the combined infantry, cavalry and artillery units.

As cadet colonel, Randall will have complete charge of the spring parades, which are a weekly feature at State since he is now the highest ranking student officer in the M. S. C. Reserve Officer's Training Corps.

These honors which have recently been bestowed upon him are his election to the office of president of Tau Beta Pi, a national honorary engineering fraternity; and his appointment as general chairman of the annual spring parades, which are a weekly feature at State, which was held this year on January 18.

Plans Complete For The J-Hop

The pupils busy with decorations for the J-Hop are not finding their work in vain. For the job is nearly finished.

The transformation of the auditorium into a modern ballroom and the melodious strains of Bob-bly's orchestra will undoubtedly attract a big crowd. Because of limited space the auditorium will accommodate only pupils of the Plymouth high school and those who present invitations at the door.

Berden Attends Big Bible Conference

David E. Berden, 364 Adams Pl., Plymouth, was among the many hundreds of registered guests at the Moody Bible Institute, Chicago, who attended the sessions of the twenty-ninth Biennial Week Conference from February 5 to 8. Thirty-nine states and fourteen foreign lands were represented, and the speakers were of international eminence.

The ball room of the hotel will be decorated in patriotic colors. Don Patterson's orchestra has been secured for the occasion. In addition to the dancing, dancing and bridge games that are being arranged, there will also be a short installation service of the new officers. Blake Gillis will formally assume his new duties as president of the club. The committee in charge plan to make the affair one of the most delightful of the winter.

Needlework Guild Will Call For Your Gifts To The Needy

Spring may be "just around the corner" but winter is still with us! New and clean used clothing and bedding, or material to make warm clothing for bedding, or money for our shoe fund—these are urgent needs.

If you have contributions for the Needlework Guild phone 460 24, or 633 and your donations will be called for and promptly passed along to someone who needs it.

Worker Killed When Tree Falls In Wrong Way

Salem Young Man Meets Instant Death Out At Country Club

Edward H. Cline-Smith, 31 years of age and son of Mr. and Mrs. Manley J. Cline-Smith who reside in Salem township, was instantly killed Monday afternoon while cutting wood on the grounds of the Plymouth Country Club.

He had cut a tree so that it would fall away from the side where he was working but as it toppled, it slipped from the stump and turned. He ran to get from under it, but a big limb struck him on the head, crushing his skull and killing him instantly.

Besides his mother and father he leaves to mourn his loss four brothers, Arthur, Stanley, Walter and Kenneth Cline-Smith, also two sisters, Mable and Florence Cline-Smith.

The body was brought to the Schrader Brothers Funeral Home, Plymouth, and later taken to his home. Funeral services will be held Thursday, February 14th, at 2 p.m. at Worden Church. Interment in Worden Cemetery. Rev. Cora Penell of Salem officiating.

Will Be 94 Years Old On Saturday

Arthur Stevens, Plymouth's oldest resident, will Saturday, February 16th, celebrate his 94th birthday. Born near 2 p.m. when Plymouth was just turning from a wilderness into a little settlement in the woods, he has always resided in Plymouth or near here.

Mr. and Mrs. Stevens are believed to be the oldest married couple in the United States. Mrs. Stevens is but one year younger than Mr. Stevens. They will have been married 74 years next August 15. They were married in 1861.

Vaughn Smith And Charlie Greenlaw Are "Prize Winners"

"Isn't he cute!" "What a sturdy little man!" "Oh, look at this one. All the ladies seem to like him." "My, what a little fellow to be walking!"

Plans Complete For The J-Hop

Turning back the pages of the Plymouth Mail to the baby show held at the First Presbyterian church some 30 or 31 years ago, a brief paragraph said Vaughn Smith, now the great big strapping fellow, had won first prize for being the smallest baby at the show to walk.

Greenlaw won a prize for being one of the most popular babies at the show. Howard Root took the other one. Old time friends say Charlie has the same winning smile now that caused him to win first prize for being the fattest baby displayed and Kenneth Kohntz won first place for being the youngest baby shown by the fond Presbyterian mothers.

And would you believe it, Besie Purdy won first prize, being the shortest girl to be able to walk. Witt Bennett won a prize for having the reddest hair of any baby and Evelyn Knapp Bennett was awarded first place among the girls with curly hair.

Mildred Reiman had the blackest hair of any baby and Daniel Agnew had the least hair of any baby on display. The fair, which was awarded first place among the girls with curly hair, Mildred Reiman had the blackest hair of any baby and Daniel Agnew had the least hair of any baby on display.

Shrine Dance To Be A Big Event

All arrangements have been completed for the Washington Shrine dinner-dance to be held at the Mayflower hotel by the Suburban Shrine club of Western Wayne county. The event, which takes place on Friday evening, Feb. 22, is expected to be one of the largest social affairs of the year.

The ball room of the hotel will be decorated in patriotic colors. Don Patterson's orchestra has been secured for the occasion. In addition to the dancing, dancing and bridge games that are being arranged, there will also be a short installation service of the new officers. Blake Gillis will formally assume his new duties as president of the club. The committee in charge plan to make the affair one of the most delightful of the winter.

Carl G. Shear Is New President

At a meeting of the members of the Western Wayne County Automobile Association last Monday evening in the Hotel Mayflower, Carl G. Shear was elected president of the group by the members in attendance.

The association organized last fall is composed of all automobile dealers located in Western Wayne county. Edward Miller of Flat Rock was elected vice president and Paul Robson of Belleville was elected secretary and treasurer.

The group meets once each month to discuss matters important to their business. It has become one of the most active organizations of its kind in this part of the state.

Dr. Peck Family Now in Old Home

Dr. and Mrs. Luther Peck moved last Saturday night from the residence of Roswell and Mrs. Lind to their new home on Maple street to their house on Ann Arbor street directly across from the one that burned a week ago.

Through the courtesy of the Tanager family the Pecks had made their home with them since the fire while making their present location ready for occupancy.

Dr. Peck has his offices in the residence at 687 W. Ann Arbor street and they will continue to be located there until the work of rebuilding their large home is completed. It is interesting to note that the house where they are now living was vacated by them 31 years ago when they moved into the home that was destroyed by fire recently.

Did You Know That

Blake Fisher of Burroughs avenue and Guy Fisher of Starkweather avenue were called to Chicago Sunday on account of the serious illness and death of their brother, Alex Fisher. The funeral was held Wednesday in the Chelsea Methodist church with burial at Yale, Michigan. Mrs. Fisher had not been informed as Florence Newell formerly of Plymouth.

Display Will Be At Northville

Kenneth Rathburn who has the Chevrolet agency for Northville and is a member of the Rotary club for both Northville and Plymouth has decided to maintain just one display room for the Oldsmobile car, and that will be at his garage in Northville.

Mr. Rathburn believes that this is going to be one of the best years automobile dealers have had in some time. It has been more than pleased with the interest that has been displayed in the new Oldsmobile. There are many prospects for the car in both Plymouth and Northville and when the weather gets a bit better there are going to be a lot of deliveries of all makes of cars, he states.

Improvements of Water And Sewer System First Projects To Be Recommended By Officials

Plymouth Hopes To Have Much Work Done Here Providing Federal Funds Are Released For Kind of Work That Is Being Proposed

Development and improvement of the Plymouth water system and completion as well as repairing both the sanitary and storm sewer conditions of this city are the two major projects to be submitted by the city for first action under the new government employment program providing funds are released for this work.

This was decided at a special meeting of the city commission held Tuesday night. Naturally to one yet knows or has any idea of what the new government program will consist of, but the state planning commission sometime ago requested that projects of a needed class be listed with the commission so that immediate action could be taken upon the release of the funds, whenever that might be.

The final date set for the return of these was Monday, City Manager Cookingham and Engineer Herald Hamill prepared a list of projects that had been suggested and filed them with the commission in Detroit that day.

The Tuesday evening meeting was held for the purpose of recommending to the state commission the projects regarded as of greatest local importance. Other items were pointed out can be added later.

Apparently the foul-smelling open sewer that runs through the heart of the city is at last going to have attention, as the enclosing of Toniquish creek from Harwood street to a considerable distance east of Main street was made a part of the sewer project providing the county does not include it in its program, where it rightly belongs.

Cookingham was instructed to see the county drain commissioner and report the result of his interview at Monday night's regular commission meeting. He was also instructed to find out if the county road commission would include a grade separation either on Main street or East Ann Arbor in its list of projects.

The total estimated cost of the projects listed by the city of Plymouth was $1,189,000. The city of Detroit at the same meeting submitted projects estimated to cost $400,000. On the basis of Detroit's list, Plymouth was ultra-conservative in its suggestions as if the same ratio were applied, it would be entitled to three or four times as much as was asked for.

Chairman A. R. Glatcoy of the state planning commission estimated that Michigan would be entitled to approximately $240,000. Of the $4,880,000 municipal works fund now being discussed by the federal congress, on this basis, the allocation would be about $60,000 per capita for Michigan governmental units or approximately $300,000 for Plymouth.

These funds would be loaned to the various municipalities with some sort of repayment agreement. This has not been definitely decided, however, but it was the consensus of opinion of municipal officials that, if it were necessary to borrow funds for the purpose of relieving unemployment, most of the municipalities would be unwilling to participate. This opinion was expressed because of the inability of many cities now to meet their financial obligations.

The following fifteen projects were submitted by the city of Plymouth: Improvement of Water Distribution System $60,000.00. Enclosing Toniquish Creek through down town area. $35,000.00. Topographic Maps, property maps for assessing purposes, and survey of underground structures. $10,000.00. New wells for public water supply. $15,000.00. Improving Church street from Main street to Harvey street. $15,000.00. Watering system at Riverside cemetery. $15,000.00. Construction of storm sewers. $75,000.00. Construction of sanitary sewers. $75,000.00. Planting 2500 street shade trees. $10,000.00. Grade Separations—$225,000.00. Ann Arbor Trail at P.M. Railroad. $200,000.00. Farmer Street at P.M. Railroad. $125,000.00. Total $550,000.00. Widening pavement on Main street from Penniman avenue to Mill street. $14,000.00. Construction of concrete curbs on unimproved streets. $40,000.00. Erection of community building. $150,000.00. Water softening plant. $30,000.00. Improvements to sewage disposal plant, sedimentation tank. $24,000.00. Additional Imhoff Tank and Filter. $40,000.00. Black Topping, 5 miles of residential streets. $30,000.00.

The first eight of the projects listed total $300,000.00 and in the most important work in the city which ultimately will have to be given consideration either under the federal public works program or under a local public works program. The improvement of the water distribution system and the installation of new wells will have to be given serious consideration in the very near future if adequate water supply and fire protection are to be provided. The construction of storm and sanitary sewers to the extent shown in the above list could be spread over several years, but should keep up with the general growth of the city in order to prevent further pollution of the open ditches and continues overloading of the sewage disposal plant.

The city commission will determine which projects should be given priority after which plans and specifications will be prepared for submission to the proper authorities when the details of the federal public works program are finally announced.

Kiwanis To Hear Auto Club Chief

Richard Harfst, president of the Detroit Automobile club and a former president of the Detroit Rotary club will be the speaker at Tuesday night's meeting of the Kiwanis club, it was announced yesterday. Mr. Harfst, who has been one of the outstanding champions in Michigan of greater safety on the highways, will discuss subjects of interest to every motor car driver in the state.

MAKE IT A REAL ONE

Now that the city of Plymouth has definitely decided to stage some sort of a celebration in connection with the 100th anniversary of Michigan's statehood, let us work together to make the affair a real success. We can do it by first hitting upon some definite plan for the celebration and next by united action on the part of the entire community. We should be careful to follow a form of celebration that will not be expensive, and that will reflect the early days of statehood. We can make it one of the big events of the year in Michigan, if we will to do so.

A FINE PUBLIC CAREER

Advancing years and a desire to spend the rest of his life without public responsibility has resulted in School Commissioner Eber Yost to decide not to become a candidate again for the office he has filled for 36 long years in Wayne county. Few other elective public officials have ever held office over such a long period, and few have had the public good will so consistently as Mr. Yost.

He first became commissioner in 1899. The problems of the county schools are somewhat different in recent years than at that time owing largely to the change in methods of travel. The horse and buggy was the principal means of transportation thirty years ago. Also, the county school commissioner in those days often rode horse back or walked from school to school when spring roads were nearly impassable for the horse-drawn vehicle. Many of the older Plymouth residents remember his horse and buggy visits to the schools about here.

Previous to Mr. Yost's election to the commissionership, he served as a teacher and superintendent in various schools of the county. He received his education in the county schools, Valparaiso University, and the State Normal College, receiving a degree of Master of Education from the latter institution.

Mr. Yost has always advocated programs of advancement for the rural schools of Wayne county, and has the distinction of being the head of a county school system second to none with its definite county-wide supervision of instruction, health education and public health service, social work activities, Junior Citizens' Clubs, and music instruction in every school. Wayne county rural schools have been inspected and studied by educators from many states and countries.

A system of tests and examinations of recognized merit have been in use for years. From these records, grade levels and progress percentages indicate that Wayne County pupils show as definite advancement as is found in the greater city systems. Mr. Yost retires with considerable pride in his thirty-six years of service to the schools of Wayne county, and he retires from public office with the good will of the public and the knowledge that he has fulfilled a public task well. May the years to come be happy ones for the official who has had such an important part in the conduct of the rural schools of Wayne county as has Mr. Yost.

TAXES

Probably the most unpleasant question of public discussion is the tax question. But taxes we have and taxes we will have.

The state legislature is just now enacting a law which will entirely abolish the state tax on real estate. After thousands of real estate owners had lost their all, some public officials discovered that real estate had been taxed to death, and that real estate could no longer carry the burden imposed upon it.

It is always interesting to read something of some new tax plan that will bring relief to those who cannot pay taxes and still will produce enough revenue to operate government units.

A description of Pittsburgh's "graded tax" plan which sets the tax rate for buildings at 50 per cent of that for land, is contained in a letter received in Detroit by Corporation Counsel Kelly and his assistant, Vance G. Ingalls.

Ward Bonsell, Pittsburg city solicitor, explained in the letter that Pittsburg real estate bears the tax burden for city, schools and county. In Detroit both land and buildings are assessed for taxation at the same rate.

"We impose no taxes whatever on personal property of any nature or kind," he wrote. "Since we tax only real estate, we have not found it necessary to hunt for other sources of income."

"Knowing something of your Detroit system, which is typical of most American cities, I can imagine how difficult it would be for many of your citizens to believe that I am telling the plain truth when I make the following statement:

"1. Articles of household furniture are absolutely untaxed in Pittsburgh. We want our people to acquire, own and keep fine furniture, rugs and the like and we impose no penalty on them for so doing."

"2. Likewise stocks of goods in our department stores and all other stores are absolutely untouched by any tax assessor."

"3. Even machinery of manufacturing companies, although technically part of the real estate, is exempt from tax."

"4. All bank accounts are absolutely free from tax. We want our people to save money and we impose no fine on them when they do."

"5. Thus far we have hardly had a tax sale of real estate in the city."

"6. In spite of an unsatisfactory legal situation regarding tax sales affecting mortgages, the accumulated delinquency in the five years of depression only amounts to about half of one year's tax bill."

"7. The financial standing of the City of Pittsburgh is of the very best. It has never defaulted in either principal or interest upon its bonds."

Albert E. Cobo, deputy city treasurer, said the graded tax, by shifting more of the tax burden on land, probably would stifle normal real estate development in the outskirts.

completed the machinery will be installed and operations will begin.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Peterhans came to town Saturday from their farm home two miles south of town. On their return their team became frightened and ran away, throwing both out of the vehicle. Mrs. Peterhans suffered two fractured ribs.

Henry Sage was given a surprise party Saturday evening by about forty neighbors and friends, the occasion being his birthday. The evening was spent at Progressive Pedro. Frank Toncray carried off first prize for the gentlemen and Mrs. George Springer the ladies. Mr. Sage was presented with a fine Masonic charm, the presentation speech being made by J. C. Peterhans. Refreshments were served and all said good night, wishing Mr. Sage many returns of the day.

Five counties in the state reflect the period of British occupancy. Wayne county was named after the British general, St. Clair after the first governor of the Northwest territory. Gladwin after the major who held Detroit against the Indians; Macomb after a general of the war of 1812, and Gratiot after the builder of Fort Gratiot in 1813.

SWEETHEART MEMORIES
by Lawrence Hawthorne

Tonight I sat before the fire
 And listened to the radio—
 A program the announcer called
 "The songs of twenty years ago";
 And as the music filled the room
 With long-forgotten melodies,
 I lived the days of youth once more
 In happy, wistful memories.

I saw my sweetheart as she sang
 Those tender songs when they were new;
 I heard her whispering again
 That every loving word was true.
 And oh, how beautiful she was!
 How graceful and how sweet her charms!
 In joyous retrospect, I took
 That little darling in my arms.

The program ended. Still I sat,
 Enjoying happy thoughts of her
 With whom I sang those fond refrains
 When love's young dreams began to stir
 And then a nestling hand sought mine
 In just the way it used to do.
 And someone said, "For twenty years
 My heart has sung those songs to you."

Rambling Around With Michigan Editors

HE SAYS SOMETHING

Problems of taxation arise because of the greed and selfishness of those citizens who seek to avoid their fair share of the cost of supporting government in its various functions and services. The ideal system would demand of each the precise proportion of that cost in exact ratio to the services and benefits received. Such a system has never yet been devised. The best man has been able to do is to set up certain practices aimed at such a goal. Present day systems have failed to keep up with rapid social and economic changes. Property tax as the main support of government should have been abandoned at least a decade earlier. Such a change would have prevented the havoc wrought among home owners by virtue of unconscionable burdens of unpaid and frequently unpayable past due taxes.—Hon. Vernon J. Brown in The Ingham County News.

HOW TIMES HAVE CHANGED

Anyone who walks or drives a horse on a main highway at night is flirting with death.—Senator Don Van der Werp in The Fremont Times-Indicator.

KIDDING THE AGED

Grover C. Dillman made a statement the other day that the "kidding of the aged" has got to stop. Mr. Dillman seems to be the first public official to come out openly for the suppressing of this very serious propaganda which is going on. It seems incredible that anyone could be so sanguine over misguided statements as to believe that such sums could possibly be paid to aged people, but that this "kidding" which is going on is taking deep effect is evidenced by the fact that notes at banks have been changed so as to pay them from old age pensions, purchases have been made or attempted at stores with the promise to pay from this old age pension and there are other evidences that the people are being fearfully misguided, or "kidded" is the best word. We are glad to see Mr. Dillman nail this stuff!

An old age pension is in the making, but it will be one which can be paid, not the brain child of any doddering doctor or the like! —Frank Bryce in The Grand Ledge Independent.

A SUCCESS REASON

All business that is going ahead is continually trying to make a better product or render a better service.—Grant Rowe in The Milford Times.

GLANCY IS PUBLIC SPIRITED

The State of Michigan is to be congratulated on securing the services of A. R. Glancy of Bloomfield Hills, as chairman of its new State Planning Commission. The fact that Mr. Glancy is prepared to devote his full time to the job without pay, while in itself a piece of good fortune for the state, is relatively unimportant in comparison with the fact that he is a man known to be genuinely interested in the improvement of public affairs, devoid of selfish interests, and qualified to do a good job. We have a strong feeling that if more men of Mr. Glancy's caliber would be willing to accept the responsibilities of public office, a deal of our government troubles would disappear almost over night.—George Averill in The Birmingham Eclectic.

MOTIVE POWER

They've got to run on airplanes with castor oil. We remember back over 70 years when the world's castor oil used to make the average youth run also.—J. E. McMillen in The Linden Leader.

THE REAL AMERICAN IDEA

Senator Schall, (R) of Minnesota opened his remarks on the world court debate with "To hell with Europe." This sounds patriotic but the peace and security of America in these days of rush transportation is in exact proportion to the peace of the world. For the United States to withhold its influence from the only and best agency yet devised to promote world peace is an invasion that adds to rather than lessens our moral responsibility as a people. The munition makers win again. Another thing that enters into this problem is the dividing line among straight three and four generation American families. At the present rate the new foreign-American population will soon control our political destinies. We are less than 50 years away from complete foreign control—that is by American citizens with comparatively recent European traditions. We are on our way, at least mathematically, toward an European viewpoint. Why not put pure blood American influence behind this peace movement now instead of going in eventually under different standards of racial thinking which looking ahead would include religion, moral attributes and political freedom?—Muri DeFoe in The Charlotte Republican-Tribune.

Know What Your Bank CAN and CANNOT Do For You

It is important that you should know what your bank cannot do for you as well as what it can do for you in the way of service.

Your bank under certain circumstances, can lend you funds upon the basis of future contracts or delivery. By means of various credit forms your bank can help you to get immediate payment for goods sold, or advance you money on suitable collateral.

But your bank cannot lend you capital with which to go into business, or in any sense enter into partnership with you. It cannot encourage nor take part in speculation of any kind. Your bank cannot engage in any activity outside of the legitimate field of banking.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH

Richard W. Neale, Pastor
Are you a stranger in town? Are you lonely, or without a church home? If so, visit us at any of our services. You will feel our welcome. Each reader of this page has deep needs which we believe Christ is completely able to meet. Come and see what He is doing for others. Meet with happy, singing church this very Sunday!

"Where is Your Treasure?" is the sermon question for Sunday at 10 a. m. This explains Matthew 6: 19 to 34. Bring your Bible, or share one of ours. This scripture carries God's sure cure for selfishness and worry. Hear for yourself!

"The Third Day of Genesis I In The Light of Modern Science" is the topic of the Sunday evening message at 7:30. Hear the amazing facts of science described in simple terms; and see how they prove the Bible to be God's Word. The critic who claims that the Bible and Science aren't in accord

The mission study groups are finding the book "Suzuki Looks at Japan" very interesting.

Prayer meetings will meet the young people Sunday evening next and will speak to them. The increasing interest in these meetings is gratifying. All young people are welcome.
The Ready Service Class will meet on Tuesday of next week at the home of Mrs. B. W. Blunk on Pennington Road. Associated with Mrs. Blunk on the committee for this meeting are Mrs. Partridge, Mrs. Freyman and Mrs. Potter. Cooperative dinner will be served at 1 p. m. A very special program will be presented which everyone will greatly enjoy. Mrs. Julius Wills and Mrs. G. A. Smith are the transportation committee.

METHODIST CHURCH

10:00 Morning worship, 11:30 Sunday school, 6:40 Epworth League, 7:30 Evening worship.
At the Sunday evening service the choir of the Methodist church at Trenton, Michigan, will give a program of sacred music. This is a chorus choir and a volunteer choir that has been working hard for some time to prepare such a program. Members of this choir have been giving these programs in various churches for some time. An offering will be taken which will go to the Trenton choir, and will be used by them for the purchase of new music.

BEREA CHAPEL

Jas. A. Davis, Pastor
Sunday school, 10:00 a. m. Evening worship, 7:45 p. m. Wednesday evening, 7:30 p. m. Friday evening, Prayer meeting at Pastor's home, 259 E. Ann Arbor St., 7:45 p. m.

Paul says: "For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ; that everyone may receive the things done in his body, according to that he hath done, whether it be good or bad." 2 Cor. 5:10.
There was a small undervirted but faith-filled lad in this country at the time of the great meteor in 1833, when the stars fell from heaven, and people thought the end of the world had come. When on every side, men and women were that night so frightened at the thought that the hour of judgment had come, this lad's mother awakened him from his sleep with the cry, "Sandy, Sandy, get up you! The day of judgment has come!" Instantly the boy was on his feet shouting, "Glory to God! I'm ready!" Can you say that?

Have you had your heat washed in Jesus blood so that you are ready should he come today?
The blood is the bridge that spans the gulf, and brings us near to God and Heaven. It flows for you, it flows for me. O sinner, come, 'tis freely given.

The problem of economic security was discussed from many angles by the Fireside discussion group Sunday evening when Mr. and Mrs. George Burr and Mrs. J. P. Morrow entertained them at supper and the evening. Mr. Burr, after reviewing the reasons for the current interest in unemployment insurance, old age pension and health insurance, called on Ray Johns to describe the extent and hazards of insecurity, what is meant by economic security and what methods are used to give it. George Chute told of the experiences in other countries, particularly England, Belgium and Germany. He further explained the term social insurance by a vivid illustration. The role of social insurance embracing the general standard of health was reported by Mrs. S. N. Thams. Reports on other phases of the problem were made by Mr. Morrow, Mrs. Ray Johns, F. R. Hoheisel, Mrs. Robert Willoughby, Mrs. Hoheisel and Mrs. Chute. Several different proposals, including those now before congress, for providing against the risk of unemployment, sickness and old age, were discussed by the group. It was agreed that only through some federal means could security for men, women and children be achieved.

Two Candidates Address Women

FRED C. FISHER

Plymouth members of the League of Women Voters held one of the most important and interesting meetings of the present winter Monday afternoon at the city hall. They had as guest speakers two of the candidates for important county offices. It is their plan to have others come to Plymouth before the campaign is over.

The first speaker was Fred C. Fisher, candidate for the Republican nomination for school commissioner. Mr. Fisher has served many long years as deputy commissioner and his record of public service is outstanding. He is without question the best qualified candidate in the field for this office.

He spoke briefly of a bill now pending in the state legislature which will take this office from Detroit city politics and make it an appointive office in counties of over 250,000 population. At present there are over 100,000 voters who help nominate and elect this official who serves rural schools only and has nothing to do with the city schools of Detroit, although the votes of that city control the election.

The next candidate to speak was Miss Henrietta Rosenthal, a woman candidate for one of the Democratic nominations for circuit judge.

There was also some discussion of some of the various projects that the city hopes to secure under the funds congress is

VIKINGS FIRST OF ARCTIC EXPLORERS

New Evidence Changes Accepted Ideas of Northmen.

Washington.—Swedish archeologists are changing usually accepted ideas of the Vikings. Evidence dug from the sandy shores of the Baltic sea proves they were peaceful merchants, pushing their trade from London to the Bosporus. Gone is the traditional Viking of English history—a savage warrior who spent all his time dashing across the seas in an open boat, raiding peaceful communities.

The trouble, archeology now indicates, is that reliance has been placed on biased sources of information. British, Irish, and Frankish chroniclers could hardly be expected to appreciate the finer qualities of the "blind heists" who conquered them.

"For an accurate picture of the Viking age one must go to the sagas, that great mass of legend, history, poetry, and law collected from oral tradition and written down in the Twelfth century," says the National Geographic society. "Archeologists exploring the lost civilizations of Greenland, Scandinavia, Russia, and the Baltic are succeeding in verifying much of this valuable source of material."

Altered World Geography.

"Geography made the Vikings a sea-faring people, and they in turn altered the geography of their world. Early settlements in Scandinavia were built along the coast where deep winding fjords made overland travel next to impossible. The sea was a natural highway and ships were built to ride the storms of northern latitudes. These boats were small, less than 80 feet long, with high curved prow and stern, a square rigged sail of brightly colored wool, and 20 to 30 sets of oars. King Canute's long ship boasted 120 oarsmen, but this was a royal exception.

"In these slender craft, steering by sun, moon, stars and wind, the Northmen dared unknown seas and incredible distances. Boats were as speedy as they were seaworthy, making the trip from Norway to Iceland in four days, and from Denmark to England in three.

"The Vikings were a hardy, adventurous race, and their fatalistic religion made them fearless. Life was a dangerous game wherein one strove to win as much fame and honor as possible in the short time allotted by the Norns (the Fates). Games, contests, and feats of strength were tremendous in number. Many are the tales told of Olaf Trygvason, the king of Norway who challenged Klarten of Iceland to a swimming match. Olaf had a ship, 'Long Serpent,' the mightiest boat in the North. It is said he could walk completely around this while his men were rowing, stepping on each oar and juggling three daggers as he went!

First Arctic Explorers.

"The history of Arctic exploration begins with the Vikings, who found and lost a northern empire. Around the North cape and into the White sea they sailed in search of furs and ivory. Venturing westward, Rabna Floth came to Iceland. There a group of noblemen, escaping unjust taxation under Harold Harrafaer, established a colony. From Iceland, Eric the Red pushed on to a land of black rocks and glittering ice which he named Greenland to encourage men to settle there. The Greenland colonies prospered and grew rich through three centuries, trading in furs, ivory, walrus hide, and whale oil. Then as they had risen so they faded, and by the fourteenth century had vanished, forgotten save in the sagas. The sagas tell also of Lef Eriksaon's voyage to Vinland and how he found first a land of flat stones, then a wooded shore, and last a country of vines and grapes.

"The story of Viking exploration in the East is less familiar. Swedish traders ventured farther and farther along the great rivers of Russia until they reached the Black sea and the Caspian sea. Fortified trading posts were built in Latvia, Lithuania, East Prussia and Russia. A favorite route was up the River Neva to Lake Ladoga, along the Volkhov to Lake Ilmen, and then down the Dnieper to the Black sea. A Viking dominion was established around Lake Ladoga and Novgorod. It was founded by Rurik and his band of Rodslagen, or Russ—enlisted sea warriors of the Baltic coast. So Russia owes her name to Viking traders.

"Thousands of foreign coins from Arabia, Germany, France, England, and the Byzantine empire have been unearthed in Scandinavia, proving the wide reach of Viking commerce. More than half of these coins have been found in Gotland, a little island in the Baltic directly in the path of the great east-west trade route. Recently a vessel of Huddell's design was discovered there.

"Viking ships carried more romantic cargoes than the rubber, steel, and oil of modern trade. Baltic amber, Iceland wool, Swedish horses, falcions from Norway, no furs from Greenland and Lapland were exchanged for British wine, honey and linen from England, Russian hats, silks from the East, and saddles from Spain."

Nice Girl

SPEECHLESS. Mrs. Brenzel started at her sullen-faced son as the full, awful meaning of what he had just told her sank into her brain. Years ago, before her late husband had made a fortune in pickles and preserves, Mrs. Brenzel would have accepted the present situation with some philosophical statement like "Boys will be boys." But in her new and exalted sphere she could only look upon it as the tragedy of tragedies.

"You say you asked this girl—this Claire De Stong—to marry you?" she said.

"I did," Henry replied in a dull tone.

"My poor boy," Mrs. Brenzel almost wailed the words. "You were trapped. Those chorus girls are always scheming to—"

"I'm afraid I did, mother."

Henry shifted nervously. At twenty-four he was what is generally known as a misfit.

"Henry, you will leave this matter to me," Mrs. Brenzel said at last.

"Yes, mother," Henry said dutifully. "But she's really such a nice girl—"

"Nice? Don't be a fool," Mrs. Brenzel ordered.

That afternoon her car drew up at the small apartment house where Claire De Stong lived. The girl herself answered the door.

"Are you Miss De Stong?" Mrs. Brenzel demanded.

"I am."

"Henry's mother?" How nice of you to call!

"I have not called," Mrs. Brenzel said firmly. "Not in that sense. I wish to see you for a moment."

Mrs. Brenzel followed the girl in to a dimly lit sitting room.

"I understand," she began, "that my son Henry has been talked into proposing marriage to you."

"Talked into, did you say?" Claire asked in a puzzled tone.

"Yes, I believe in saying what I have to say simply and without beating about the bush in any way, Miss De Stong."

"Well, it's news to me," said Claire. She took a cigarette from a silver case at her elbow and lit it.

"Do you mean that he has not proposed?" Mrs. Brenzel demanded.

"I don't mean anything of the sort. He certainly has proposed. I have the letter in my writing desk now."

"That's what I meant. He has been inveigled."

Suddenly Claire broke into Mrs. Brenzel's sentence with a laugh. Mrs. Brenzel shifted uncomfortably in her chair.

"What I want you clearly to understand, Miss De Stong, is this: Henry has no money of his own. Not a penny. And if you insist on marrying him even his allowance will stop. I never weaken," she added, "once I've made up my mind."

Claire struggled for calm. "Henry told me you were rather hard," she observed. "It's a pity he hasn't a little, even a little of your nerve, Mrs. Brenzel."

"I must ask you not to be impertinent," Mrs. Brenzel snapped.

Claire flushed. "I don't know about that," she cried. "You come to my apartment uninvited. You grossly insult me and then tell me not to be impertinent. What do you expect me to be? Grateful?"

"The poor boy now sees he has made a mistake," Mrs. Brenzel continued paying no heed to the girl's outburst. "He is as anxious to do the right thing as I am. And it's quite obvious that money is what you're after."

"Well, Henry hasn't anything else, has he?" Claire asked.

"I am willing to pay you a thousand dollars for that letter. I have the money right here." She tapped the purse in her lap. "A thousand dollars," she repeated.

Claire smiled. "Is that what you think Henry is worth?"

Mrs. Brenzel frowned. "To you, yes," she said, thereby registering her first score.

The younger woman smiled again. "It's a bargain," she said. "I'll get the letter."

"If you ask me," was Mrs. Brenzel's parting shot, "you've done very well out of this affair."

"Exceedingly well," Claire agreed enthusiastically. "Now John and I can be married."

"John?" Mrs. Brenzel came to a full stop at the door.

"My game," Claire explained. "We've been sweethearts for years, but couldn't afford to get married. The depression, you understand. That's one reason I took that dancing job. I wanted to help. But now, thanks to you, Mrs. Brenzel, everything is all right."

Mrs. Brenzel glanced sharply at the girl.

"But—" she began.

"I see you're still thinking of Henry," Claire cut in. "Well, I intended to write him today, and refuse him, of course, but I'm quite sure you can explain everything to him so much better now. Good afternoon, Mrs. Brenzel—and thank you!"

Hauptmann Jury Did As Expected

News of the decision of the Hauptmann jury convicted Richard Hauptmann of first degree murder was about the only thing discussed in Plymouth Thursday. From expressions heard up and down the streets, every one seemed to think that the verdict of guilt was right. Some said they thought the jury might return a verdict of guilt carrying a life sentence. A few thought there might be a disagreement, but these few declared that they thought Hauptmann guilty.

STUDENT COUNCIL PLANS BUDGET

The net profit received from the Student Council dance, held Feb. 1 was $15. After all bills were paid the total balance in the treasury was $110. The question was then brought up whether or not the price of admission to the elimination debate should be changed, and it was decided that the price stay at fifteen cents.

The group then discussed the budget which is as follows:

Money Receivable—

Stunt Night, $40. Musicals, $10. Basketball, $20. Gym demonstration $15. Dance, $15. Money Deposited, $110. Total $215.

Expenses—

Honor banquet, $80. Baseball, $50. Sports letters, $20. Golf and Tennis, $15. Plythean, $7.50. Track, $20. Debate awards, $15. Debate, $5. Miscellaneous, $15. Total $227.50.

Then it was decided that if the Student Council could not meet all its expenses, they might sponsor a paper raid similar to the one last year which was very successful.

Later Mr. Matheson passed the three small basketballs which the Student Council had purchased for the free throw contest, and first prize being a gold basketball, the second a silver, and the third a bronze.

Kills Pheasant

When Jake Stremich moved out on Plymouth road and opened up the Hillside Tavern, he began feeding a pair of pheasants that he saw in the neighborhood. They became so tame that he was finally able to feed them right out of the back door of his place.

Late Sunday morning when down fixing his furnace, he heard a shot. Suspecting immediately that some one was shooting at the pheasants, he ran up stairs just in time to see a stranger get into an automobile holding the hen pheasant that he had shot.

He also heard the fellow's son sitting in the car, ask "Did you get 'em both, pop?"

"Pop" isn't going to get 'em both if Jake can help it. The license number on the car was so covered with mud that Mr. Stremich could not get it as he whizzed away to the east.

Lights of New York

By L. L. STEVENSON

Dr. Harold C. Urey, who was awarded the Nobel chemistry prize for 1934, sometimes lives up to the Fontaine Fox title, "The Absent-Minded Professor." One morning up at Columbia, where he is a professor, he entered a classroom and gave his lecture. After some time had elapsed, he discovered that the faces before him were all unfamiliar. He had merely wandered into the wrong room. On another occasion he started out wearing shoes that were not his. His award came to him for his discoveries in regard to heavy water. The hydrogen content of heavy water, known as deuterium, weighs twice as much as the hydrogen element in ordinary water. It used to cost $8,000 a pound. Now the cost is only from $8 to $20 a pound. Few laymen know what heavy water is. No layman knows what to do with it as yet. It is regarded as extremely valuable to science, however. Scientists hope to learn atomic secrets through it—witness the "dance of the molecules" or something of the kind.

Elect an Out-County Lawyer Circuit Judge

The cities, villages and townships outside of Detroit in Wayne County have a population of nearly half a million people. At present, all of the 18 Circuit Judges of Wayne County are Detroiters.

On the basis of fair representation, based on population, Detroit should have 12 places and the rest of the county 6 places on the Circuit Bench.

There are many lawyers outside of Detroit in Wayne County eminently qualified to sit as Circuit Judges.

Old Friends Busy in Behalf Of Candidacy of Judge Marschner

Many old time friends of Judge Adolph Marschner in Plymouth and western Wayne county have taken a special interest in his candidacy for re-nomination and re-election to the circuit bench this spring.

JUDGE A. F. MARSCHNER

Educated in the Detroit public schools, a graduate of the Detroit Institute of Technology and of the Detroit College of Law he has for years been one of the outstanding members of the Detroit bar.

In his long service in a judicial capacity he has always been opposed to involving politics in the administration of his court duties.

Judge Marschner was the first to preside over the conciliation division of the circuit court now a permanent part of the court, to assist litigants in coming to an amicable understanding of their difficulties, to avoid delays in litigation and to take from the trial of cases the ordinary red tape so-called.

It affords litigants the opportunity of direct contact with the judge without the embarrassment of trial, and under the new method of dispensing justice it becomes the object of the court to dispose of the case as quickly as possible, and at a minimum cost of time and money to all concerned. The court must take a personal interest in each case instead of standing aloof, and accomplishes more by coming in direct touch with the parties interested.

Judge Marschner was instrumental in taking an important part with the Depositors' committee of the Guardian Bank in assisting to bring about the full pay-off to all depositors in that institution who had deposits up to $1,000.00.

In this effort, 90,000 Wayne County depositors received their full deposits.

Gardening and swimming are the judge's favorite recreation.

He is a nephew of the late Edward Marschner.

ward F. Marschner, deceased, and has always shown an active interest in cultural German developments.

Quoting Judge Marschner on the moratorium law, having to do with mortgage and land contract foreclosure: "Until the wage earner is upon safer footing we must recognize that the emergency of extending help to those in distress is still foremost in terminating the rights of all parties, and the court must deal equitably with both the owner and the purchaser as well."

Annual Fish Supper At Salem Tonight

Tonight, this Friday evening, will take place the annual fish supper of the Salem Federated church. For this important event Rev. Cora Pennell has secured Dr. G. E. Carrothers of the University of Michigan, who is director of the bureau of co-operation with educational institutions, who will give an illustrated lecture on the Philippine Islands. The dinner will begin at 6:30 o'clock and Rev. Pennell states that there is a general invitation to every one to attend.

OBITUARIES

BERNICE I. RYDER. Bernice I. Ryder, wife of Earl A., passed away at her home at 254 Ann street, Thursday February 7. Funeral services were held in the Schrader Brothers Funeral Home, Sunday, February 10, at 2 o'clock with Rev. Fred Burnett of Holly, Michigan, offering a condoling message of sympathy and comfort. Mrs. Hazel Moon and Mrs. Alta Woodworth, accompanied on the organ and violin by Mrs. Edna O'Connor and Miss Doris Hamill, sang two beautiful numbers, "No Night There" and "Lead Kindly Light." Interment was in Riverside cemetery.

Bernice Crumble was born November 8, 1901 in Northville, Michigan, and when she was very small her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George B. Crumble, moved to Plymouth. She was a member of the 1920 graduating class of Plymouth high school.

On November 8, 1921, she was married to Earl A. Ryder of Plymouth. For the last few years they had made their home with his father, Nathaniel Ryder, on Ann street. Last October she was stricken with a fatal illness and died February 7 at the age of 33 years. In the course of her few years her desire to aid others and her friendly disposition had drawn innumerable acquaintances into a close friendship.

She leaves to mourn their loss her husband, Earl, her mother, Mrs. Maude Crumble, two brothers, Merritt and Goodwin, and a wide circle of relatives and friends. The many lovely floral tributes were mute evidence of the high esteem in which she was held by all those who knew her.

MISS JULIA S. WILCOX

Miss Julia S. Wilcox, age 65 years, who resided at Muskegon, Michigan, passed away Sunday morning, February 10th. The body was sent to Schrader Brothers, Plymouth, on Tuesday, February 12th. A funeral service was held at 3:30 p.m. Interment in Riverside cemetery.

Shrine Clowns Make A Big Hit

Tuesday was a big day for the children of the Wayne County Training school. Upon the invitation of Dr. Robert Haskell, the clowns appearing in the Shrine circus of Detroit came to Plymouth and for nearly one hour provided more fun and merriment for the children of the school than they have had in many a moon. The clowns were all dolled up in their grease paint and funny fixings—and wouldn't Barnum and Bailey give a fortune to have them join the big circus! It was a great day for the Training school kiddies. Dr. Haskell and his teaching staff at the school are most appreciative of the visit of the Shrine clowns.

New Books Listed At Plymouth Library

Because of the latest picture in which George Arliss appears, "The Iron Duke," there has been special interest in biographies of Napoleon. Wellington, and in the background of English and French history of the period, about the time of the Battle of Waterloo. Marshall Ney and Blucher appear in the drama, parts of which are in Belgium, and in London Arliss is noted for the historical accuracy of his settings and costumes. Plymouth has the volumes listed below and in addition any one interested may borrow books from other county library branches.

- Napoleon, by Ludwig.
Napoleon, by Balville.
Napoleon, by Belloc.
Growth of the French Nation, by Adams.
Story of France, by Van Dyke.
Napoleon and his Marshalls, by Macdonell.
Napoleon the Little Corsican, by Hathaway.
Hero Stories of France, by Tappan.
Book of England, by Dark.
Boy Life of Napoleon, by Foa.

Home Nursing Class Started At Salem

The American Red Cross of Washnetaw county is sponsoring a class in home nursing for the ladies of Salem. This class will begin Tuesday evening, February 19, at 7 o'clock and will be held in the upstairs room of the Union school.

It is hoped that there will be a good response to these and it is certain that the course will be practical, helpful and enjoyable. The class will begin promptly so try to be prompt in coming. There is no charge for these courses.

PATCHEN NEWS

There will be a P.T.A. dance at the Patchen school Friday evening, Feb. 15. Frank Keherer has made arrangements for some very good music, so come and have a full evening of fun.

There will be Valentine parties Thursday afternoon.

A very interesting P.T.A. meeting was held Wednesday evening. Dr. Metzger of Detroit discussed the subject, "Preparing the Child for School," and Miss Rauha Savolainen of Wayne sang some very lovely solos.

Robert Adams returned to school after a week's illness. Earnest Keherer was very happy to tell us of the arrival of a new sister at his home. The Home Making group met with Mrs. Toms Tuesday afternoon here at the school.

Schrader Team Trims The Mail

Ouch! The fast Plymouth Mail basket ball team which a year ago set the world on fire by its speed and ability to sink baskets from any angle on the floor, took another slip into the unknown Tuesday evening when the speedy Schrader basket shooters humbled the Mail team in a fast game at the high school gym. The victory put the Schrader team in third place, but with the Wilson Hardware stars holding first place by a safe margin over the crack Daisy team.

Table showing standings of basketball teams: Wilson 7 0 1000, Daisy 7 1 887, Schraders 4 2 667, Faculty 3 4 429, Barber Shop 2 5 287, Plym. Mail 2 6 250, Ball Studio 1 5 167, Merchants 1 5 167.

SPEND BILLION IN 1935 FOR RECOVERY

Great Corporations Plan Extensive Improvements.

New York—The nation's great corporations will spend a billion dollars next year in long-delayed capital improvements to speed recovery, Federal Housing Administrator James A. Moffett announced. Steel, automobile, oil and communication industries are leading the way, Moffett said. The heavy spending is to be done in connection with the government's housing program.

The administrator asserted the United States Steel corporation would devote $400,000,000 to replacements and modernization, treble the amount expended in 1934. The automobile industry, inclusive of Henry Ford, he added, would spend $200,000,000 and Mr. Ford himself $20,000,000.

Moffett announced that American Telephone and Telegraph had decided to appropriate $200,000,000 in repairs and betterments and the Standard Oil company of New Jersey had set aside between $67,000,000 and $73,000,000.

In an address before an advertising club luncheon here, he said that the Federal Housing administration already had created $145,000,000 in new business and that the home construction project would give industry $20,000,000,000 more.

Great as is the modernization program, the new construction program provided in the housing administration act is even greater, Moffett said, declaring that 5,000,000 new homes are needed. He continued:

"Five million homes, with the average cost of each home as low as $4,000, give us a total of $20,000,000,000 in new homes as soon as we can get to the job of building them.

"No such market has ever before in all history been offered to industry. And it is your privilege and your opportunity to help industry get the maximum from it."

Barnacles Give Jobs to Many in San Francisco

Chester, Pa.—The lowly barnacle has at last come to the aid of mankind. The recent San Francisco marine strike held the steamer San Felipe in her dock until quite a lot of the sea creatures crusted the hull of the craft necessitating a complete scraping and painting, thereby giving employment to a number of men in the San shipyard here.

The San Felipe was the worst job that had been in the yard for some time.

The cost of removing the barnacles, the dry docking and routine repairs of the vessel in this yard ranges from about $25,000 for an ocean liner down. They are expensive creatures to shipping interests, but small as they are they give work to many jobs.

Metoposaurus Is Back After 140,000,000 Years

Berkeley, Calif.—After an absence of some 140,000,000 years the metoposaurus has returned—but he isn't his old self.

In fact, the miniature amphibian in the University of California Museum of Paleontology is only a clay model of the extinct creature, which, scientists say, was a distant relative of the present-day salamander.

The model was constructed by sculptors, Adele Stockpols and Audrey Horn. It was modeled from a skull and other skeleton remains dug up in the Painted Desert of Arizona recently. Paleontologists estimated from the fossil remains that the metoposaurus was about eight to ten feet long.

Largest Prime Number

Chicago—Dr. Samuel L. Krleger wore out six pencils, used 72 sheets of legal size note paper and trazed his nerves quite badly but he was able to announce that 231,554,178,474,852,390,847,141,970,017,375,815,706,530,980,351,251,128,978,915,826,259,279,871 is the largest known prime number.

A prime number is any figure divisible only by itself or 1.

Hen Lays 3-Inch Egg

North Haven, Conn.—If Omar J. Dunham's hen could crow, it would have a good reason to. It laid an egg eight inches in circumference and weighing slightly more than a quarter of a pound.

Finds Men Prefer Their Co-Eds Dumb

Evanston, Ill.—Co-eds of Northwestern university were accused of making low scholastic grades to attract the men. Prof. John J. B. Morgan, of the psychology department, said girl students "proceed on the theory that men like them dumb."

The suggested that men submit the co-eds to intelligence tests before dating them.

"If they were required by prospective escorts to establish high intelligence quotients before dates, the university's scholastic record would soar like a rocket," Professor Morgan added.

Aged Man Sleeps In A Deserted Auto

An old man, seventy-nine years of age, came to the Spring farm northwest of town Monday asking for food. The Springs were sorry for the old fellow, took him in and fed him. After he had eaten and become thoroughly warmed he dozed off into sleep and they hardly were able to awaken him. The Livingston County sheriff's office at Howell was notified and a Deputy Sheriff came after the man. He told of having spent the night in an auto he found parked near an abandoned house and said he left his satchel there. He was unable to tell just where it was and Green Oak Supervisor Will Duncan finally located it in an old car standing in a delapidated shed on the Guldner or old Hopper place. The satchel contained a quantity of clean garments, umbrella, scissors, flashlight, glasses, etc. The man had $17 on his person and claimed to have made his living by working on farms here and there. He named a place in Pennsylvania as his home. He also spoke of friends in Detroit and it is likely he will be taken to the latter place.—South Lyon Herald

One of Many Things You Can Do Under Housing Program Can Soon Spear

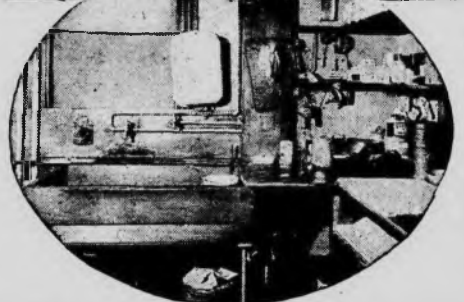

Drab, dingy kitchens make a veritable ordeal of the task of preparing meals. Particularly is this true when the kitchen has a poor arrangement of equipment and is lacking in up-to-date facilities for the housewife. Kitchens of this type usually are those that were built years ago, before the modern kitchen improvements were available. Any old kitchen, no matter how great its shortcomings, can be transformed into a place of beauty and charm, and made comfortable and convenient. Why not include such a project as your part of Plymouth's Better Housing Program, now under way.

If there is not enough natural light, windows can be enlarged or additional ones installed. Darkness can be further dispelled by placing a drop light over the stove or in other places where there is not sufficient light. Cupboards, cabinets, shelves and bins can be built to provide for convenient storage of food, cooking utensils and dishes. If there is unutilized space beneath the drain board or the sink it can be used for a vegetable bin, and perhaps save many steps to the back porch or the basement. Serving dishes stored in the old-fashioned cupboard in the dining room can just as well be placed in twin cupboards at each side above the sink.

At the right are actual photographs of a kitchen before and after modernizing. The new kitchen has all the latest conveniences: Built-in cabinets, built-in sink with large shelves and drain at a most convenient height, colorful linoleum floor, tile walls, built-in light above the sink, an automatic cooking range, mechanical refrigerator, built-in broom closet and ironing board—and other conveniences.

What a pleasure it is to prepare a meal in a room like this!

You can buy a new kitchen now without down payment and on easy monthly terms through credit facilities opened up by the national Housing Act. Ask your local bank or other financial institution cooperating with the Federal Housing Administration about their loans for modernizing.

Can Soon Spear Non-Game Fish

Director P. J. Hoffmaster of the state conservation department has written to Plymouth fishing fans that the list of streams in this part of the state where lights can be used during the forthcoming sucker spearing season is not yet completed, but will be so in the near future. Plymouth fishermen are hoping that the Huron river will be one of the places open to the use of lights this year, the same as it was a year ago. Noxious fish in certain designated non-trout streams of Michigan will become the legal targets of spear welders March 1 when a two and a half month season opens on carp, suckers, redhorse, mullet and garpike. The season continues open to and including May 15.

It will not be lawful to use spears on Muskegon river or on Pine river from Summer dam to Alma dam in Gratiot county.

Spearing with artificial light is prohibited except on streams or portions of streams designated by the director of Conservation. A list of streams open to spearing for non-game fish is now being prepared and will be in the hands of conservation officers before the season opens. This is the list Plymouth fishermen are waiting for.

Use of dipnets for the taking of suckers, carp, dogfish and garpike in streams designated by the Director of Conservation also becomes legal March 11 and continues legal to and including May 15. Dipnetting in Muskegon river, however, will not be permitted. The list of streams open to dipnetters will not be in the hands of conservation officers before Mar. 1.

Coyote Killed Near Inkster Recently

Who's Afraid of the Big Bad Wolf?—Not I said Edward Notnagle when he returned from a rabbit hunting trip with a huge coyote killed near the village of Inkster. It is the first coyote ever killed in the village, say old timers. Mr. Notnagle is the dog-catcher in Inkster and his experience with canines helped greatly when he encountered the coyote. Many hunters and spectators were of the opinion that the hero had killed a vicious looking dog, but while Mr. Notnagle had never seen an animal just like it in this section, he decided to shoot and look afterward.

"I was looking in the brush out between the John Daly and Guley Roads," Notnagle said, "hoping that a rabbit would jump out. All of a sudden the animal appeared. It looked larger than any dog I had ever seen, so I let 'em have it."

The animal was said to have been responsible for the disappearance of chickens around Inkster.—Wayne Dispatch.

Your eyes won't tell you!

MOST of us choose lamps because they are attractive and ornamental, or because they fit in with the decorative scheme of a room. We take it for granted that our lamps are furnishing good lighting when frequently our eyes are being strained by poor lighting and do not complain until it is too late. There are four essentials of good lighting that you may quickly and easily follow in your own home: (1) Use correct size lamp bulbs—"WATTS." In table and floor lamps with three sockets, use 40 watts in each socket; with two sockets, 60 watts; with one socket, 100 watts. (2) Have at least one-tenth as much light in the rest of the room as you have on your book, newspaper, sewing, etc. (3) Use SHADES on all lamp bulbs to prevent GLARE. (4) Use shades with light-colored linings to get the most light.

Plymouth Rotarians Plan To Observe 30th Anniversary

Organization In Brief Time Has Become World Wide

Plymouth, with one of the most active Rotary clubs of any city of its size in the country, will take some part next week in the general world-wide observance of the 30th anniversary of the founding of the first club on February 23. President Lynn Felton will at today's meeting detail what he has in mind for this important event next week. There are now more than 3700 Rotary clubs throughout the world. An increase during the last five years of an average of one new club every three days has brought the membership of Rotary International to 3,730 Rotary clubs, with an individual membership of nearly 154,000 Rotarians within a few hundreds of the highest total in the history of Rotary, and steadily increasing. "If we will but observe the evident signs of encouragement," said President R. L. Hill, of Columbia, Missouri, U.S.A., "we shall realize that Rotary is succeeding. Everywhere I go I find a spirit of optimism in spite of trying times. Rotary is succeeding because Rotarians are striving for the things that count. We pick out the worth while things in life and do them." In this extension of Rotary in the past five years, Rotary clubs have been organized in many additional countries on every continent. The most recent country to be added to the list is Lithuania, where a club was chartered at Kaunas last November. A club has been organized at Reykjavik, Iceland, and has made application for election to membership. The origin of this great world-wide movement had its inception in a meeting in Chicago, February 23, 1905, when Paul Harris, a lawyer and three of his friends. It was the founder's purpose to bring together some of his friends and their friends in a club designed primarily to encourage fellowship among the leading business and professional men of a community.

Inspired by the enthusiasm generated in this first club, the founder began efforts to organize Rotary club in other cities. It was three years before the second club was organized in San Francisco, but within five years, sixteen of the largest cities in the United States had Rotary clubs. When there were sixteen clubs in the United States, the founder felt that there should be some co-operation between them. With Chesley R. Perry, he brought together in Chicago the representatives of the sixteen clubs in August, 1910, and the National Association of Rotary Clubs was founded. Paul Harris was elected president and Chesley R. Perry, chairman of that convention, was elected secretary.

At the convention in 1912, the name International Association of Rotary Clubs was adopted, and charters were issued to Rotary clubs in Winnipeg, Canada, London, England, and Dublin, Ireland. The name was shortened to Rotary International in 1922. Cuba was the first non-English speaking country to welcome Rotary. The Rotary Club of Havana was chartered in April, 1916. On the continent of Europe, the first club was founded at Madrid, Spain, in 1921. In South America, the first club was founded at Montevideo, Uruguay, in 1919. In Australia, the first club was formed at Melbourne in 1921. In Asia, the first club was formed at Shanghai, China, in 1919.

The name "Rotary" was suggested by Paul Harris from the early custom of holding the meetings of the club in the offices of the members in rotation. The founder also devised the classification principle, restricting membership in the Rotary club to but one man in each distinct line of business or profession. From the name "Rotary" and the thought of rotation among one's friends, came the inspiration for the Rotary emblem, first a simple wheel and later the cog wheel, which was adopted in 1924. At the second convention, 1911, the expression: "He profits most who serves best," was adopted as the best expression of the principles of Rotary. Some years later the phrase "Service Above Self" was coined and the two expressions were united in 1916 to form the Rotary motto of today.

Dearborn Goat Is Dead From Rabies

In spite of the fact that it had received the Pasteur treatment, a goat owned by O. L. Smith, of 260 River Lane, is believed to have died last week from rabies. The animal was bitten on Dec. 2, by a rabid dog which also attacked two valuable Doberman Pinschers owned by Mr. Smith. All three received the Pasteur treatment at a local veterinary hospital and were later returned home. Last week the goat began snapping at everything within its reach, and within a few days was dead. The head was sent to Ann Arbor by the Board of Health, for examination. — Dearborn Independent Michigan has a total area of 57,715 square miles. This area is equal to the combined areas of England and Wales, or one-fourth that of France, according to the Department of Conservation. Michigan ranks second among the largest producers of copper in the world, according to the Department of Conservation. It has produced about 8,500,000,000 pounds of copper valued at about $1,300,000,000.

OLD LANGUAGE AID TO ALPHABET STUDY

Canaan Cuneiform Writing Important Discovery.

New Haven, Conn.—Discovery of a hitherto unknown prehistoric Semitic language, revealing the source of the ancient and modern alphabets and offering a new key to controversial passages in the Bible, was announced by Dr. Julian J. Obermann, visiting professor of Semitic languages at Yale.

Cuneiform tablets, found at Ras Shamra, near Antioch, in northern Syria, disclosed the language of Canaan, and, according to Doctor Obermann, "are written in a new alphabet that proves to be the oldest known."

He termed the find "an epoch-making discovery in the field of Semitic antiquities and the most important find since the Babylonian cuneiforms have come to light."

The tablets, he said, were inscribed during or before the Fifteenth century, B. C., and offer a previously unknown link between techniques of cuneiform and the principles of alphabetic script. The Ras Shamra tablets, he said, although written in cuneiform characters, employ only 30 signs, using them as alphabetic letters, whereas other systems known consisted of hundreds of signs representing a) lables of ideograms.

The new Semitic dialects of Ras Shamra promise to throw light on the evolution of the letters common to ancient and modern alphabets, revealing how the various letter came to have their individual shape, and how they came to be arranged in their traditional order.

As a result of the discovery, he said, Biblical literature and antiquities will be better understood.

Neither the language nor script was understood when the tablets first were found by an archeological expedition of the French Academy of Inscriptions and Belles-Lettres, he said. The decipherment was by French and German scholars, "opening a door to the understanding of Semitic law and civilization which scholars only a few years ago did not know existed."

Several times reference has been made in this space to those Times Square subway change makers who so throw coins that one hangs back and is overlooked by the hurrying sardine. They used to be content with a nickel. Late reports have it that now when a dollar bill is changed, the retained coin is a quarter.

Rocks Beaten By Ypsi Quintet 28-20

Although the Plymouth high school basketball team put on a second half rally, they were defeated by Ypsilanti last Friday evening by the score of 28 to 20. This game was played on Ypsi's large floor, and the Rocks scored only two points in the first half while the Ypsi team scored twenty-two points. In the second half the local team held Ypsilanti to one field goal and four free shots. Plymouth scored eighteen points in this half, but they could not overcome the great lead which Ypsi had obtained in the first two periods.

In the first half, Hosdick, of Ypsilanti, started the scoring with two baskets. Schifle then made two free shots, the only points Plymouth got in the first half. The remaining minutes of the half Goodson made two baskets, Jones a basket, Hosdick three free throws, and Duffy three field goals and three free shots.

Kinsey started the second half with two field goals for the Rocks. H. Williams and Wagenschutz made free shots and Gates followed with a basket. H. Goodson made a basket, while C. Goodson made two free shots. J. Williams sunk a free throw and Kinsey made another field goal. Wagenschutz and Kinsey sunk field goals and Hosdick of Ypsi put in a free shot. Wagenschutz made another free shot as did Hosdick, and Kinsey made a long shot for two more points. The final score was Ypsi 28, Plymouth 20.

RESERVES LOSE CLOSE GAME

The Plymouth reserves were defeated by Ypsilanti in a close, hard fought game Friday night. The close score of 13 to 12 Gordon Moe, a guard for the Plymouth team, was high point man for the local team, making three field goals in the first minute of the game. Incidentally all three baskets were made from or near the center of Ypsilanti's floor. Egge also made a field goal. Zeigler made a basket and a free shot and Fulton also made a field goal. Near the end of the game Walters and Zeigler made baskets, putting Ypsi ahead 9 to 8. In the second half, Wikkie made a basket and a free shot while Egloff followed with a free shot. Brown made a field goal and just before the half ended Elliott, of Ypsi, made a basket, the final score being Ypsi 13, Plymouth 12. The Rocks showed a great deal of improvement from their first game, they played with Ypsilanti, that score being 28 to 8 in Ypsilanti's favor.

COMPETITION COLUMN

Presenting Junius II own tablet size newspaper. Frank Page—Elaine Shingleton would have made a great hit with her recent radio broadcast if anyone had listened to her. Bob Wingard had booked a toy microphone to an adjoining radio set and succeeded in convincing Elaine that it would really broadcast. She trustingly approached the singular phrase, "Hello mama and papa!" The next day Wingard enlisted the aid of many students who slyly told Elaine that they enjoyed her broadcast. She believed it.

Literary Department—Norval Bovee's Noyse Column of last week was one of the finest pieces of creative writing Junius has seen in some time. The remarks credited to Junius were as much of a surprise to him as they were to you, but it was a good idea anyhow.

CLASS NOTES

All of Miss Waldorf's tenth grade English students are learning portions of various declamations for class work. Those interested in entering the elimination contests beginning February eighteenth will learn the complete declamation.

The public speaking students also under the direction of Miss Waldorf are memorizing their own orations and will compete in a contest to be held February 19. Those three who are fortunate enough not to be eliminated will contest against each other for the school championship. March 6 in assembly.

Mr. Bentley, after a quest for class notes says that the seventh and eighth hour biology class have done nothing except stand by the radiators thawing out. Mr. Bentley also adds that the general science groups are occupied in the same manner of higher education.

The eight A foods class held a tea after school last week. Doris Buzzard and Phyllis Barrows were in charge of the program. The tea consisted of a short play and songs.

The second group of the eight A foods class entertained the seventh B clothing class at a tea. Miss Ford's biology classes are studying the germination of seeds and the environment in which they grow. The girls have taken the seeds home and planted them in flower pots and jars and are watching them very closely to see how the seedlings break through the ground. They are also planting them in different extremes to see where they grow best, such extremes as very warm, extreme cold, dark, light, with and without air.

Miss Ford's general history classes are studying Napoleon Bonaparte in his victories and defeats. They are also making a map of all the countries conquered by him at the height of his power. In connection with this they are also studying the characteristics of great men and determining what characteristic all great men have in common.

EIGHTH GRADERS ELECT OFFICERS

The eighth grade class elected its officers for the second semester Wednesday, February 6. In the different group meetings nominations had been held before in an open meeting. The new president is Dorothy Roe, who was vice president while in the seventh grade. The vice president is Dorothy Roe, who was vice president while in the seventh grade.

The subject of the Senior Girl Reserve program last Friday was famous musical compositions. Beulah Starkweather, who had charge of the program, chose composers representative of the various European countries and played their famous compositions on the victrola for the enjoyment of the group. She told something about the life and the general character of the music of each of the composers. Among the selections reproduced on the victrola were "Festivals" by the French composer Debussy, as played by the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra; "Norwegian Bridal Procession" by Grieg; an overture by the Russian composer Tchaikovsky, and a selection by the Czechoslovakian composer Dvorak.

Three pieces by German composers were played; they were "Gavotte" by Beethoven, "Minuet" by Bach, and an overture by Wagner. The program was concluded by the playing of an American negro song "Deep River."

The Intermediate Girl Reserves studied the lives of women who have become famous in various fields of endeavor. Each girl gave a report concerning the outstanding woman. Nina Fishlock had charge of the meeting. Among the reports given were one on Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt by Dorothy McCough, Amelia Earhart by Jane Spring, Helen Wills Moody by Pat Burdell, Helen Keller by Marguerite Zimmerman, Jane Adams by Nina Fishlock, Judge Allen by Margaret Erdelyi, Marie Curie by Ruth Ash, and Josephine Peabody, artist and musician by Jean School.

ROCKS vs. RIVER ROUGE
The Plymouth Rocks will fight the right to say they are as good as River Rouge when the teams meet here Friday, February 15, the first game starting at 7:00 o'clock.

The Rouge team has won three games this season and Plymouth has won two putting them in last place. If the Rocks can win this game they will be tied with River Rouge for last place.

AGRICULTURE CLUB

SEES FILM

The Agriculture Club members were entertained last Tuesday, February 5, by a motion picture film entitled, "A Couple of Bachelor's." This film was sponsored by The National Farm Council, Chicago, Illinois. It portrayed the life of two young boys whose mother and father had died and left them with nothing but a run down farm. It showed their hardships in their efforts to make a living and rebuild the farm. They were finally successful through help from a friend.

The president of the club, having enough credits to graduate, left school at the completion of the semester examinations, and the club decided to allow the vice president to take over the office until the end of the year.

FOUR NEW MEMBERS ENTER SCOUT TROOP

A Court of Honor meeting was held Tuesday, February 5 at which the girls who attended made plans for a tea and planned to go to Cranbrook to use their telescopes to view the moon.

Four new girls have been taken into the group, one of whom, Marion Kleinschmidt, is a new patrol leader with Ingrid Ericson as second leader, and Virginia Stringer and Jane Hood completing the new troop.

Last Friday the girls studied first aid bandaging, signaling, and health rules. They have learned another new song called "The Galway Piper."

HI-Y SUBMITS MANY PROBLEMS

The most perplexing of questions were asked by members of Hi-Y at the last meeting. The questions were written on slips of paper and submitted to Mr. Dykhouse, who either answered the question or requested some club member who felt more capable to give his opinion. The subject matter of the questions was not limited and they included topics relating to school affairs, home life and world problems. The following were a few of the inquiries: "Why don't we have more school dances?" "Has President Roosevelt bettered conditions?" "What should a student do who wants to go to college but is undecided about his life work?"

STUDENTS HEAR EXHIBITION DEBATE

Four members of the P.H.S. debate squad presented an exhibition debate for the senior high assembly program on Wednesday, February 6. The purpose of the debate was to arouse the interest of the students and to gain their support and cooperation for the first State Elimination debate against Utica high school on February 14. At the beginning of the program, the chairman, Katherine Schultz, explained that each year the sixty-four best high school debate teams in Michigan compete in the annual State Elimination Series for the state championship. At the end of each round of debates one half of the schools participating are eliminated until at the end of the fifth round only two schools remain. These two teams participate in the Annual State Championship Debate held at Hill Auditorium in Ann Arbor to determine the champion debate team of the state. The subject of the exhibition debate was the question which the high schools of Michigan have argued all season: "Resolved that the federal government should adopt the policy of equalizing educational opportunity throughout the nation by means of annual grants to the several states for public elementary and secondary education."

The affirmative side of the question was upheld by Jewel Starkweather and Harry Fischer. The negative was represented by Tom Brock and Jack Sessions. The constructive speeches were six minutes in length with a warning at the end of four minutes and the rebuttal speeches were three minutes with a warning at two. Instead of having just one judge to determine the winner of the debate, the audience gave the decision. At the conclusion of debate the ushers distributed small slips of paper and each person was supposed to write on his piece of paper the name of the team which he believed did the better debating. There were 288 votes for the negative and 268 votes for the affirmative.

HANDICRAFT

The Handicraft club, under the direction of Miss Wiseley, started Monday, February 4 to paint pictures of different things with enamel paint on glass. When they finish this project they will begin braided belts.

The Junior high girls, under the leadership of Miss Kees, are learning how to make raffia artures. The senior high girls are being taught how to knit by Patsy McKinnon and Elizabeth Hegge.

STARKWEATHER NOTES

The kindergarten class has five beginners. The children have learned the song "I Love My Doggie." This past week they have cut out valentines.

Miss Cavanaugh's first grade class has made use of their free period by constructing boats and houses with their large blocks. The "Busy Bee" class has read through page twenty in their Elson Pre-Primer. The "Brownie" class has read through page eleven. Frederick Fischer made a new "Ring-A-Peg" game out of wood for the room.

Miss Stuke's first grade class has made a large poster with cut-outs of "The Three Bears."

The pupils have learned the songs "I Had a Little Doggie" and "A Cure for Crossness." Mrs. Pierce and Mr. Cochrane were visitors last week.

The second grade has a new black board border of cherries and hachets, made and colored by the children in commemoration of Washington's birthday. In art class the children made large red, white and blue shields. The number one group in the second grade is reading "Peter and Polly in Spring." The children have enjoyed watching their two calla lily plants blossom into beautiful flowers.

The fourth grade has spent much time in reading Lincoln stories. Fifteen pupils received A for the month in spelling and their names have been added to the monthly honor roll.

The pupils in the sixth grade have made daily surprise packages for Doris Olson who is at the University hospital in Ann Arbor. These contain puzzles, games, stories, letters, gifts and other articles. They have made enough packages to last three weeks, one for each day. The class has elected Charles Crumm for president and Judy Ann Ansel, vice president.

ENGLISH 9 A's BEST THEME

The students in Mrs. Nott's 9 A English class were asked to write themes about their pets. Of all the papers submitted this one, "Eddie, My Pet Racer," was voted the best by the members of the class. The themes concerning pets covered a rather varied list of animals—cats, dogs, turtles, birds, fish, and others. The theme published below differs somewhat from the majority of papers both in subject matter and the style in which it is written.

"EDDIE, MY PET RACER"
Eddie was floating around among the reeds and waterlily pads in the still waters along the east shore of Silver Lake, when I found him.

Perhaps you may wonder who or what Eddie was and why he was so-called. Well he was just a little water-tortoise about three inches long. His shell was hard and slightly rough, of a deep tan marked with a fine green pattern, and his feet and head were of the same dark green streaked with light yellow. He was very handsome as far as it is possible for a turtle to be, and sometimes, when he looked at you with his funny, sleepy-looking little eyes, you could almost imagine that he was grinning at you. I named him Eddie for my best pal, (who of course had to get a turtle right away, so that he might call it Ruth).

After I had had him for several weeks, he became quite tame and would come up and eat out of my hand, although the other turtles, (for we had several), would duck under the water whenever we came near the pond in which we kept them. I fed him little pieces of meat and bread and caught flies for him. He would gulp down the meat scraps and flies with a relish, but I could often find the bread crumbs in the water the next day.

Eating and swimming and floating weren't the only things that Eddie was capable of accomplishing however; he was also a good racer. When we put his head between two planks that were close enough together to keep him from going in the wrong direction, he would win the race nearly every time. One of our main sports last summer at the lake was holding turtle races. We even had the turtles of different sizes compete for prizes at the Fourth of July Homecoming at church. Eddie came all the way from Silver Lake to Salem to participate in the pet show and races; he was victorious in his size and kind, thus winning a box of pink stationery for his proud owner.

I put my odd little pet back into the waters of his old home to spend the winter months, but I expect that before another summer passes by I shall find him again or catch another little Eddie of similar size and color.

CENTRAL SCHOOL NOTES

The kindergarten children are having a contest to see if they can remember to bring their handkerchiefs every day and keep them with them all the time. Each time they bring one a colored mark is put after their names. They have been tearing pictures of snowmen from paper, and drawing snow scenes with white chalk on black paper. Four new children have entered the afternoon kindergarten.

In language class the children in Mrs. Cassidy's room are studying about the famous people who have birthdays this month. In number class they are learning the numbers on the calendar and how to tell the day of the month. Illustrations of the rhymes they have learned have been put in their Mother Goose booklets. They are also making pictures of the American flag and reading health stories.

Miss DeWaele's pupils are making valentines and flags to illustrate the month of February. They were shown some shells from Miami Beach, Florida which Bobby Chute brought back with him.

The children in Miss Frantz's room are learning to tell and dramatize the story "Cinderella." The second grade B's have learned to write their number to two hundred. In paper tearing they have made snow pictures, and are making valentines in preparation for that Saint's birthday.

Miss Weatherhead's pupils have made pictures of Abraham Lincoln in art class. The second A's are learning the combination of nines, and the third grade B's are memorizing the poem "The Land of Story Books."

Mrs. Bird's pupils have been making pictures of Lincoln and patriotic shields. Sylvester Truax has left Central school and is now attending school at Starkweather.

Mrs. Woodbury visited Miss Sly's room last week. The students have been making Lincoln booklets.

Miss Widmayer's pupils are making valentines, and reviewing essential operations in arithmetic. The fourth grade B's are making posters on clothing.

Valentines are being made in Miss Hornbeck's room in preparation for a valentine party. The fourth grade A's are making maps of the New England states and putting on samples of their products.

Mrs. Ulrich's pupils are making patriotic posters, and are writing stories about Lincoln and Washington. Billy Hoover and Nancy McLaren are absent because of illness.

Miss Detwiler's students have made paper silhouettes of George and Mariba Washington and patriotic shields have been drawn and colored in red, white, and blue. Bayless Erdelyi and Phyllis Campbell are captains of this semester's spelling teams.

Mrs. Holliday's sixth graders have made population maps of Asia.
