

Close Tonquish Creek Is Demand Of Business Men

The fourth regular meeting of the Plymouth Home Furnishings Group will be held at the home of Mrs. Henry Hondorp, 1432 West Ann Arbor street, Monday, March 4th, at 1:30 p.m. Mrs. Jesse Tritton and Mrs. C. W. Ferguson, the local leaders, have received from Miss Gertrude Reis of the Michigan State College instructions for reseatting chairs.

During the afternoon, Mrs. Tenen will demonstrate reseatting chairs using the cane method. Mrs. Ferguson will reseat her chair with rush or Hong Kong grass. Any lady wishing help or advice may bring her chair with her.

Anyone wishing to see this demonstration may feel free to come to the meeting as visitors are always welcome.

The elimination of the foul smelling open sewer that flows through the heart of the business district of Plymouth, sometimes referred to as Tonquish creek, will be eliminated in some way if the business men of Plymouth have anything to say about it.

Believing that a poll of the membership of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce on the various municipal projects that have been under consideration for the past year, might be of some benefit in selecting those regarded as of greatest importance, Secretary Berg Moore has turned over to the city the information he secured, and the Tonquish creek project was first on practically all of the ballots.

Improvement of the water system was second in the ranking of Church street completion of assessors plats, improvement of the cemetery water system that has been strongly urged by Fred D. Schrader, and widening Main street were among other projects favored. Sewer work and improvement, a water softening plant and a community building had some votes.

But practically every ballot received was marked first for the Tonquish creek improvement.

No longer is there any clam made that sanitary sewage flows into this creek. In fact from information that is being secured, it looks as though a very great amount of sewage from both Harvey street and Perry street is being dumped into this creek. It is believed that even some of the places along Main street run their sewage into Tonquish creek.

Not only is the creek during the summer time a foul smelling open sewer, but it is also one of the most unsightly places in the entire state, say those who are anxious to have the condition remedied.

Unfortunately it is visible from most of the main streets of travel in and out of the city.

Possibly with sentiment as it is, something can be done before the year is over to end this unsightly and obnoxious condition.

Two More Weeks For '34 Licenses

Two more weeks have been granted to automobile owners who have not yet secured their license plates in which they can use their old 1934 licenses, according to telegraphic instructions received Wednesday night by Berg Moore, manager of the Plymouth branch office.

According to Lansing information Secretary of State Orville Atwood saw what a hardship it would mean to so many automobile drivers if they had to get their licenses before the first of March that he consented to the extension. Because of his illness the special meeting of the city commission which has twice been called during the past week or ten days has been postponed. Mr. Henderson is feeling considerably better and will be able to be around shortly.

Ford Industries Hum-Payroll Is At Highest Peak

All factories in this locality running on full time say workers.

Ford Dealers Unable to Fill Demand For New Cars—Expect Rush To Continue Through Year

Not since the beginning of the many little Ford industrial plants in this vicinity have so many workers been employed in them as at present and never before have the Ford wage totals paid to his employes in this part of Wayne county been so great.

While no authoritative statement can be secured from any one associated with the company, it is known that the Plymouth plant at the Waterford plant, the valve plant at Northville and the plants at Phoenix and Nankin Mills are employing more men and women now than at any time since these plants started operation.

Not only are there more men and women at work but so great is the rush at the Ford plants that it has been necessary for them to work six days a week recently. This extra time has produced the men with the biggest pay checks they have received since the days when Mr. Ford topped the labor market of the world by the highest wages ever paid for labor.

From all that can be learned there is every indication that the Ford business will be held up to its present high peak during the entire spring and summer, and possibly next fall.

Ford dealers everywhere are "craving" for cars. Paul Weidman declares that he could deliver immediately several dozens of cars if he could secure them. Mr. Marz of Northville makes a similar statement. They have the longest list of unfilled orders for Ford cars they have ever had.

Not only are the Ford factories running at top speed in this locality, but the same is true over at Dearborn, where the same high production average is being made.

In addition to all of this work in the producing factories, the new factory at Newburg which is at present under construction, is providing labor for some 25 or 30 men. When completed the Ford company will manufacture all of the new cars used in these various plants.

Enlarged considerably from the first plans, the Newburg plant will be one of the ideal small factories ever erected in America. It will have every convenience known to industry. When placed in operation it will provide steady employment for 25 or 30 workers.

Arno Thompson Favors 4th Idea

Arno Thompson, who for years has been one of the active members of the Plymouth Ex-Service Men's club and has taken a lively interest in all community affairs, is enthusiastic about the suggestion that Plymouth take an active part this year in the celebration of the state's centennial anniversary.

Not only does he think Plymouth should hold some sort of a celebration, but he is of the opinion as many others that this community could win for itself much state-wide advertising by re-producing just as near as possible the Fourth of July celebration that was held here some 80 years ago.

It would be a very easy matter for the veterans of the world war to appear in the parade dressed as were the soldiers of the Revolution who resided in Plymouth and took part in that famous celebration that brought hundreds and hundreds of pioneer settlers to Plymouth," said Mr. Thompson.

Guild Again Asks For Additional Aid

New members new and used clothing and bedding of materials from which warm clothing and bedding may be made are gratefully received by the Needlework Guild. In normal years the activities of the Guild are confined to a few months in the early winter, but during the past two years the local Guild has carried on this used clothing exchange in an effort to help in these times of real distress. The room at the Starkweather School is open each Tuesday from 1 to 4:30 p.m., but the activities of the Guild in Plymouth are by no means limited to the few hours each week that this room is open. Phone number 24, 833 or 469 if you have any clothing or bedding that is clean and in fair condition and that you can spare for the immediate use of someone who needs such things. Spring will soon be here—but there still is cold weather ahead. Keep on helping!

Tests Necessary In Some Cases To Find All Outlets

The sewer survey project which was recently started as a ERA project has progressed to a point where all the available office records are brought up to date. The next step is to make a field survey to determine the location and type of sewer connections at houses and buildings where adequate records are not available in the city offices.

This work requires a survey from house to house and the obtaining of information from householders concerning their sewer and plumbing connections. Paul Groth, one of the older city employees, has been assigned to the work of compiling the field data. According to the city manager, Groth will be required at times to conduct a series of tests in order to determine definitely into which sewers the storm and sanitary sewage discharges. The cooperation of householders effected by this sewer survey is requested in order that all necessary information can be obtained for the permanent records.

The importance of such information to the city hall will increase as the size of our city increases and as the ownership of property changes. In many cases the present owners are familiar with the sewer connections, but in future years the only source of such information will be the records of the city. Therefore, it is of extreme importance to obtain and record this information.

Eva Scapulla takes the part of a French courtesan, Alvah Elzerman, that of a millionaire soap manufacturer, and Robert South, that of a blase American fortune hunter.

One of the objectives of the Kiwanis Club, which to promote more understanding and better relationship between rural and urban dwellers, was borne out Tuesday evening when the local Kiwanians were hosts to twenty-six farmers from the vicinity of Plymouth.

County Agent Carr spoke at some length on the A.E.R. which is the Agriculture Emergency Relief. He explained the manner in which farmers are paid to reduce acreage on certain crops and the general idea for aiding farmers. He was very optimistic in his predictions regarding the situation of the farmer during the coming year.

Both business man and farmer profited from the gathering. Each has problems of the other that realizes exist, and a get together of this sort enables them to see the other fellow's side.

Condition of Adolph Kehrl Grows Critical

Adolph S. Kehrl, father of Floyd Kehrl, lies in a critical condition at Plymouth hospital and attending physicians fear that he can survive but a short time. Mr. Kehrl has been in ill health for sometime. He underwent an operation a few days ago and his condition was discovered to be of such a nature that there is little that medical skill can do to assist him.

While sitting in a chair talking with his wife about the prayer meeting he had attended at the First Baptist church earlier in the evening, Louis Shaal, aged 82 years and one of Plymouth's oldest residents, dropped over in his chair and died. He died shortly before 10 o'clock. While at the meeting he seemed in his usual good health and took a keen interest in all that was taking place.

KILL IT, QUICK!

Among the many bills that have been sent to the Michigan State legislature by Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes for enactment into law in this state is one that if passed would permit the officials of any municipality in Michigan to borrow any amount of money they desired and without a vote of the people. In other words, if by chance the city officials of Plymouth wanted to borrow a million dollars they could do so and the taxpayers of Plymouth would have nothing to say about it, except to pay the bill.

There are many bills presented at each session of the state legislature that are bad. This bill is not only bad, but it is stupid, even though it comes from Washington.

The legislature can serve the best interests of this state by killing the measure so quickly that it can never be revived. If the measure is typical of all other bills that the Washington administration has sent to Lansing to be enacted into laws, there is but one thing for Michigan to do, ignore the whole batch and tell the office-holders of Washington to go to it. If that is the price this state is going to be asked to pay in order to get a little welfare help from Washington the sooner we forget all about a federal hand-out the better off we will be.

MRS. ROOSEVELT

Never before has this country ever had a president's wife who has said so much and been quoted as freely as has Mrs. Roosevelt. Sometimes her comment has been worthwhile and interesting. Other times, it has been flat, and might we add that it has been rather unbecoming to the wife of a president. Her comment the other day on the Hauptmann trial was entirely out of place, and Mrs. Roosevelt should know that matters of this kind are the last thing in the world that one occupying her place in the world should discuss. It would seem as though one as astute as President Roosevelt would put an end to so much "free talking" on the part of the first lady—but maybe Presidents sometimes have no control over what they want to talk about.

GUILTY

There has not been the slightest question in the minds of the average citizen as to the guilt of those who tried to steal last fall's election by a phony recount some weeks ago in Detroit. Now that some of the important witnesses have disappeared so that they will not have to testify before the grand jury, all doubt, if there has ever been any as to the criminal conspiracy that existed, has been removed. There is but one thing left for the proper officers to do, and that is to see to it that EVERY one who had anything to do with this crime is punished to the limit.

ON THE WAY OUT

It begins to look as though the brain trusters who swarmed to Washington after the last presidential election, and who were to be back teaching the youth of the nation more about isms and assisms. Surely they have made a failure of righting the ship they said was headed for the rocks—a miserable failure. Not one of the so-called great projects they have advanced to help the country has been a success. Democrats and Republicans alike freely admit that only the RFC has been of any benefit, and that was a creation of the previous administration. From the sentiment one gains up and down the Main streets of Michigan, the quicker the professors get back into the place they belong, the better off will be the nation.

NUTHIN' EVER HAPPENS OUT HERE

Do you remember Webster's famous cartoon called, "Hardin County—1895"? Two old-timers in coonskin caps and home-spun clothes, are talking. One of them is standing knee deep in the snow, with a gun over his shoulder. The other is mounted on a horse with a bag of provisions behind the saddle. In the background is an old rail fence. Let's listen in:

"Any news down 't the village, Erry?"
"Well, Squire McLean's gone to Washington 't see Madison sworn in, an' ol' Spellman tells me this Bonaparte fella has captured most of Spain. What's the news out here, neighbor?"
"Nuthin' a tall, nuthin' a tall, 'cept for a new baby down 't Tom Lincoln's. Nuthin' ever happens out here."

The miracle of human life! Who could dream that the little red-faced boy, born in a log cabin, to Nancy Hanks and Tom Lincoln, would one day take the oath of office on the steps of the United States Capitol? Who could dream that that little bawling infant would give voice to one of the greatest speeches in the English language? In some mystic way men are raised up to meet the problems of an unfolding universe. That youngster who sits across the table from you at breakfast may some day sit in the governor's chair. His freckled face, pugged nose, boy chum may some day discover a cure for cancer. The little fellow toddling down the sidewalk with a sled may write the Great American Novel. The little girl next door may be the Sarah Bernhardt of tomorrow.

God works His magic with human personality under our very noses, and we say, "Nuthin' ever happens out here!"

THE LEGEND OF THE DOGWOOD TREE

Hello Folks: Has Nature's Garden a more decorative ornament than the flowering dogwood tree, whose spreading branches whiten the woodland borders and hillsides in May, as if an untimely snowstorm had come down upon them; and in autumn, paint the landscape with glorious gold, dulled only by comparison with the clusters of vivid red berries hid among the foliage.

According to the legend, in the time of Christ, the dogwood tree was supposed to have attained the size of the oak and other forest trees, and so strong and firm was the wood of the tree, that it was chosen as the timber of the Cross.

The trees were greatly distressed at having been chosen for such a cruel purpose, and Jesus, sensing their regret and pity for his suffering made this promise:

"Never again shall the dogwood tree grow large enough to be used as a cross. Henceforth it shall be slender and bent and twisted, and its blossoms shall be in the form of a Cross—two long and two short petals. And in the center of each outer edge of each petal there shall be nail prints brown with rust and stained with blood, and in the center of the flower will be a crown of thorns. All those who see it will remember, it was on a dogwood tree that I was crucified, and this tree shall not be mutilated nor destroyed, but cherished and protected as a reminder of my agony and death upon the cross."

And so today, upon our hillsides, the dogwood tree grows as the legend promised, its branches slender and bent and twisted, bearing each spring its snowy blossoms and each Autumn its flaming berries.

FLIP AND GLIB

Malcolm Bingay, editor of The Detroit Free Press in his own column, says that the Washington administration, from the white house down, has turned out to be a group of wise-crackers. He says:

"When Paul I, czar of Russia, was murdered in 1800, a Russian nobleman explained to Count Munster the Russian form of government.

"It is," he said, "despotism tempered by assassination; that is our Magna Charta."

There is a growing feeling in America that that expression can be paraphrased to fit what is going on in Washington today.

"We have in Washington now a government of circumlocution tempered by wise cracks."

"From the President down the whole administration seems to think that any serious argument can be answered if they can only think up something funny and smart to get a laugh."

Glib wise crackling, however, has never been considered by students of the subject as a sound substitute for coherent government."

HOW THE PRESIDENT USES THE PRESS

By Theodore G. Joslin
Newspaper Man and Secretary to Former President Hoover

Excerpts from an address delivered before the National Republican Club in New York City, January 26.

The present Administration is the most publicized Administration in all history. It is using to the ultimate every known agency of publicity, the newspapers, magazines, the radio, and the motion picture. Its purpose is to get before the people such information as it wants them to have.

A discussion of the question whether the news is colored involves personal consideration, and that of the greatest interest is the attitude of the President.

He is on extremely intimate terms with the press. He talks to them with an abandon none of his predecessors ever contemplated. He is the best news source they ever had.

He is adroit. Sometimes he talks about one subject deliberately to avoid talking about another. If he gets a sharp question, he turns it off with a laugh or a wisecrack, or, alternately, as he considers the best answer to make, a friendly correspondent in the group comes to the rescue by asking another question that he is quite willing to answer.

The President is not an "impartial commentator."

Rather, he is an active participant. In fact, he is "the works." He is bent on selling his policies to the country so the country will support him in his acts. The press serves his purpose.

The country still has a free press, but it presents less impartial news than heretofore.

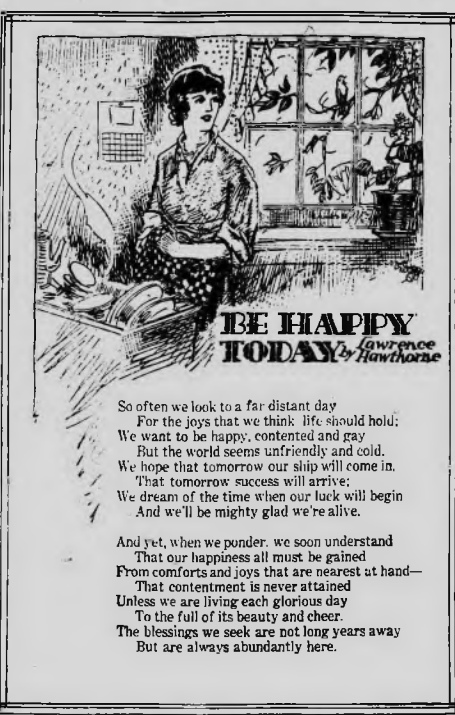

If the news is not warped by the rival forces making it in Washington, it often is given the slant that editorial policy dictates.

Facts are the news of the day—the "tell-the-truth" facts that Theodore Roosevelt called for nearly twenty years ago.

Explanation: You see we spent all the money for the radio broadcast, so we have to get the newspapers to print it free.

A reformer is a person who wants you to let his conscience be your guide.

I think that I shall never see
A boarder lovely as a tree,
Perhaps unless the billboards fall,
I'll never see a tree at all.—Anon.

Rambling Around With Michigan Editors

GYPING HIS NEIGHBORS AND FRIENDS

Some interesting facts have come to light in connection with delinquent taxes. In a larger city not far from Albion, states the Albion Evening Recorder, lives a man known to be a millionaire several times over. He has not paid his taxes in three years, and he owns considerable real estate in his home town, including office buildings, apartment houses, etc., all revenue producing. If delinquent taxes are rescinded he stands to make a great many thousand dollars. The only way the state can collect these taxes is to resume delinquent tax sales. The man has plenty of cash with which to pay his taxes if he wanted to, and if it were a case of losing his property or paying up, he would pay. His code of ethics allow him to take advantage of any technicality of the law. Those who profess to know say that this situation is not at all uncommon in the state. If there is any legislation rescinding back taxes, there should be restrictions as to the type of real estate exempted, with some kind of a provision allowing the state to collect in other ways than seizing the property when it is evident the delinquent taxpayer can pay.—T. O. Huckle in The Cadillac Evening News.

THE WAY OUT

Make no bad news and your home paper will print none.—Ed. Engermann in The Belding Banner.

LAY IT TO THE DROUTH

Detroit residents will hereafter pay one cent more per quart for their milk. Detroit newspapers say the drouth of last summer has made hay and forage scarce and grains high and give that as the reason for the price rise.

The editor has never engaged in the business of distributing milk to the retail trade. He has no idea how much hay, silage and grain is consumed in the processing of milk after it leaves the farm. Perhaps he is mistaken altogether but his information to date is that the drouth affects only the man who owns the herd, raises or buys the feed which the cows eat, and who puts the milk on the loading platform at the receiving stations all at his own expense.

What has caused the editor to doubt his early convictions in this respect is that while the price to the consumer went up from 11 cents to 12 cents per quart, all on account of the drouth, the dairyman who alone suffers from the drouth has his pay raised from $2.25 to $2.48, a total raise of 23 cents per hundred pounds on that portion of his product which goes into the milk bottle.

It appears that so far as the farmer is concerned there were two drouths—one last summer and the other this winter when the price of milk was adjusted. The milk distributor appears able to avoid all drouths.—Vernon J. Brown in The Ingham County News.

BOASTING!

We can't understand why the Russians made so much fuss over completing the five-year-plan in three years. Look at Mr. and Mrs. Dionne. They completed a five-year plan in ONE year.—George Welsh in The Grand Rapids Chronicle.

BOOTLEGGER STILL HERE

One of the arguments for prohibition repeal was that it would outlaw the bootlegger. But it hasn't—even federal and State officials will admit this. The reason is that the bootlegger doesn't have to include in his sale price the various taxes that are levied against legitimate sales. This combined tax amounts to at least one-third of the legitimate sale price, and those who buy illegitimately from the bootlegger save for themselves this tax. It is the old, old appeal to selfishness, and under repeal selfishness finds comfortable refuge within the liquor traffic of today. Verily, verily, John Barleycorn produces some strange and ungovernable ways among people!—George Averill in The Birmingham Eccentric.

The School

The next time you pass a school pause a moment to think what that school means to humanity. Recall the long dark centuries when the masses were kept in ignorance—when greed and oppression ruled the world with an iron hand. From the very beginning of man's struggle for knowledge, self-respect, and recognition of his inalienable rights, the school has been his greatest ally. We refer to the school as "common" because it belongs to us all; it is ourselves working together in the education of our children. But it is a most uncommon institution. It is relatively new. It is democracy's greatest gift to civilization. Throughout the world, among upward struggling people, wherever parents share in the aspirations of their children, the American common school is being copied. Let us cherish and improve our schools. Herman Roe in Northfield Minn. News.

Likes The Mail

Dear Editor:
I am enclosing a P. O. money order to cover my subscription to The Plymouth Mail which expired July 1st, 1934. Of course we enjoy the paper as it has so much news of our former residence. Sincerely hope you like your new quarters and I wish you success in your new location. I have been transferred to work in the state of Indiana instead of Michigan. This took place last July and I like it real well. I still work out of the Chicago office however and we maintain our home there.
Very truly yours,
Henry G. Oakes.

No Local Fishermen Caught Without New 1935 State License

No one from Plymouth, as far as known, has been caught in the drive made by the state conservation department against fishermen who have been spearing through the ice without a fishing license.
Of 177 arrests made for violations of the fish and game laws in Michigan during the first month of the year, 69 were charged without a license. The largest number of arrests on that charge was reported from Muskegon county.
January's total of arrests was the smallest since March of 1934, a sizeable drop being noted in the number of individuals taken into custody for infractions of the hunting as well as the trapping laws under the December figures. Fines totalling $1,050 and costs amounting to $881.50 were assessed against 721 days in jail sentences was imposed. Twelve respondents were placed on probation and three were dismissed or given suspended sentences. No cases were reported lost during prosecution.
Of the 15 firearms confiscated by officers, seven were single-barrel shotguns, four were double-barrel shotguns or repeaters, and four were rifles. Other illegal property confiscated, while in illegal use or possession, included a 16-foot boat, 300 pounds of venison, 69 traps, four gill nets, four spears, 300 pounds of illegally caught gamefish, 17 beaver pelts, 16 muskrat pelts, an otter pelt, nine rabbits, a live ferret, a mechanical ferret and 10 ice lines.
In addition to the fishing law offenders, conservation officers placed charges against 40 individuals for infractions of the hunting laws and against 30 for breaking the trapping laws.

Swamps constitute about 12,000 square miles of approximately 21 percent of the area of the state, according to the Department of Conservation.

Handball Champ Humbles Old Foe

Herm Dworman Eliminates One Who Counted Him Out

High honors were brought to the city of Plymouth last Saturday by Herm Dworman, local tire and gasoline dealer when he represented this place in the state championship play-offs on the handball courts at Ann Arbor.

Although Mr. Dworman was defeated in the final game for the championship, the title one which he has held many times went to Louis Zerbo of Detroit, state champion for 1934 and 1935, more personal satisfaction was received on the part of the local champ than ever before.

In years previous Dworman has participated in more tournaments than any other one player and has held practically all of the major championship titles. Today he is state doubles champion and had his years not handicapped his deadly left hand, he today would hold all available titles in Michigan.

Followers of the game say that without question Dworman's remarkable left hand will long be remembered throughout the country when that sport is the subject of discussion. Because of his deadly kill shots made with the left hand he has for 12 years been one of the national ranking players.

But to swing back to Dworman's personal glory in the match that ended last Saturday it might be stated that for three years the Plymouth veteran had been considered by himself and other handball exponents as too old to continue in the stiff competition of singles championships. He definitely decided that as far as state championships were concerned he was out of the picture.

Unfortunately however, he had long been a competitor in Detroit city championships and for this one match he had pointed year after year until about two months ago when entries were being made for the contest he found he was disqualified by a certain Detroit group because he lived in Plymouth. This was done it was understood to prevent his left hand from again smashing him to a city championship that has been his many times.

Now, not because Mr. Dworman wanted another silver cup to add to his already large supply, nor not because the city title meant anything particular to him but because of the fellowship and friends he gained by that particular competition it grieved him deeply.

The city championship was held. The group that barred Dworman won the first three places and were definitely sure that one of those three could go to Ann Arbor in the state tournament and bring back the championship to their club. This gave the local tire dealer an inspiration. Maybe he was a little old for keen competition, perhaps his age would prevent him from winning a match but nevertheless the thought came to him that if he would enter the play-offs in the university city he might be matched against those who prevented him from playing in Detroit.

This Mr. Dworman did. Fortunately for him, and explanatory of the big smile he now wears on his face it might be said that Mr. Dworman personally eliminated from competition those who as he says: "did him dirt." Not only did he achieve his greatest ambition in that sport during the last three years but he made many observing fans collapse when his deadly left hand brought the finals which were played last Saturday afternoon. To Zerbo he lost but that matters not, his ambition he achieved and now they wonder if the time will ever come when out of the dark that old left hand may again swing back into competition to upset the best laid plans of masters in the art.

Two Hitch-Hikers Turn Out To Be Two Youthful Holdups

Two youths, arrested in a beer garden near Ecorse and Telegraph Roads last Friday night confessed at the county jail that they held up George Hoppert, 17 year old high school student of Ann Arbor and robbed him of his automobile.

The two are Stanford Sellers, 16 years old and Jack Woolford, 15, both of Wayne. They were turned over to the juvenile authorities.

Hoppert was driving from his home in Ann Arbor to visit friends in Dearborn. While passing through Wayne at 9 p.m. he gave a ride to the two young hitch-hikers. At Michigan Avenue and Southfield Road, he said, the two drew guns and ordered him out of the automobile. They drove away in his car. Two hours later they were arrested in the beer garden.—Wayne Dispatch.

Eight cents of every dollar of their earnings are set aside each year by U. S. railroads to pay their tax bill.

Every fourth pound of bituminous coal mined in America is consumed by U. S. railroads.

The total investment in the railroads of the U. S. is $25,943,000,000.

Yearly pay envelopes normally handed out by U. S. railroads to their employees exceed 2 1/2 billion dollars.

Seed Shortage Alarms Farmers

A serious shortage of seed exists in this country with the result that agricultural interests are warned to beware of questionable lots of seeds. Commissioner of Agriculture, James F. Thomson, warns in a statement issued today.

Owing to the drought conditions of 1934 the harvest on many crops was unusually small and so much was used for re-seeding that very little was left for the 1935 season. Thomson explains. We find on entering the 1935 season that there are rather strong indications of a large demand for seed for spring sowing. At the present time, to many seedmen, it is not clear what all this seed will be procured, but it is freely predicted that in order to supply the demand "the bins will be swept clean." "There is no mistaking the fact that this will mean that many poor lots of seed will enter trade channels that normally would not be used for seeding purposes," he said. "This is the usual procedure when there is a shortage of seed. The shortage seems to be particularly acute with the clovers and other legumes."

The supply of Timothy is very small and at the present time a great deal of Timothy is being imported from Europe to supply the demand for seeding. In the past the supply of domestic Timothy has always been sufficient. "It will be necessary for the seedmen to exercise a great deal of care in selecting their stocks of seed. All lots of seed must be tagged to comply with the Michigan Seed Law and the seedmen should protect themselves by making sure that the analysis tag truly represents what is in the bag."

On all questionable lots of seed we suggest that the seedmen submit samples to the department for test. The farmers would also profit by not taking chances on lots of seed that they intend to sow as invariably after the seed is in the ground, it is too late to correct an error that has been made in seeding without a great deal of extra cost to the farmer who has taken a chance and became a victim of fraud in the seed that he is sowing.

Every effort will be made by the department to prevent the fraudulent sale of seed in the state but it must be borne in mind that the department cannot protect the individual who takes the chance in buying poor seed. Our seed law does not prohibit the sale of poor seed. It merely provides that all lots of seed be tagged to show the quality and the purchaser must protect himself by examining the tag on the bag.

Use Stench Bomb To Kill Good Bill

Legislature Faces Clash Over Methods Used In Booze Sales

By FRANK D. BROWN
Special Correspondent.

Rumblings of another legislative investigation were heard in the House this week where Rep. Martin Bazinski, Detroit democrat, sponsors a resolution calling for an inquiry into the charges that the druggists are endeavoring to get a "corner" on the liquor business in this state. Gov. Fitzgerald's proposal to reduce the number of state liquor stores causes Bazinski to intimate the possibilities of collusion existing to discriminate against other classes of merchants who would like to get a share of the profits accruing from the traffic.

Experience of the "old days" has proven legalized liquor to be a very delicate problem with any state administration. After an absence of 15 years, the old bugaboo seems to have returned in the form of many of the evils of the pre-prohibition era—evils which if not promptly curbed, may jeopardize the Michigan dispensary system. Judge McDonald, chairman of the liquor control commission, declared a few days ago that the brewing industry has fallen prey to the racketeers and that licenses have become a commodity of cash value to certain individuals. An investigation of this phase of the situation is to be launched shortly. The results may be surprising.

The senate insurgents, mentioned in this column a week ago, had their baptism of fire early this week. The first test of their strength since the committee on executive business was reorganized came when the name of Ed A. Nowack was offered for confirmation as a member of the public trust commission. The final decision was in favor of the appointee but the "revolving" senators as a formidable gesture decided that the appointment should be held-up for a time to allow the gathering of certain pertinent information relative to the subject.

Nowack is the publisher of a Lansing weekly newspaper and is one of the better known figures in things political around Lansing. His selection for the trust commission by the governor came about because of his activity of the past few years in expressing through his editorial columns his dissatisfaction with the manner in which defaulted bond issues have been handled by the state.

From Washington has come a batch of bills bearing the endorsement of Harold L. Ickes, federal emergency administrator, which are designed to greatly enlarge the power of municipalities to issue bonds for public works projects. They would authorize local governing agencies to approve borrowing without limit and without a vote of the people.

The bills have been sent by Gov. Fitzgerald to the legislature for introduction but at present rest in the top drawer of Speaker George Schroeder's desk. The question of constitutionality has been raised and the bills are to be overhauled before they are released. As they now are written there is dragged back before the eyes of Michigan taxpayers the ghost of Gov. Comstock's famous "insurrection bond" issue. Michigan's constitution demands that the people shall be consulted before any promiscuous borrowing of money is indulged in—these bills disregard the mandate.

The question puzzling state officials is that of whether Michigan would be deprived of full participation in the federal public works program in event the legislature fails to enact these measures or the state supreme court refuses to concur in their validity.

Speaker Schroeder has formally entered the cross-cross controversy involving the pending action on proposals to abolish the state crime commission and the legislative council which many members of the House and Senate regard as a mighty valuable adjunct to the legislature. As a retaliatory move, a concerted effort is being made especially among the democratic members of the House to abolish the crime commission, the retention of which is most acceptable to the governor.

Speaker Schroeder in a non-partisan statement to your correspondent declared that the crime commission, with its work already done, is "a prime example of unnecessary expense and superfluity." On the other hand, the speaker asserted "the legislative council and its studies put the legislature directly in the know on all questions pertaining to our state government without extra expense. The crime commission and other commissions of its ilk are just extra tax burdens. If we are to adhere to honest economic effort we will begin to cut off these extras and start to use our regularly constituted resources, saving ourselves thousands of dollars in expense each year."

Extension of the mortgage foreclosure and land contract moratorium acts of 1933 have been given approval and sent to the governor for his signature. The measures provide for extending the moratorium until March 1, 1937.

One of the few bills to reach the status of law is that introduced under the joint sponsorship of Reps. Watson and Lingenfelter which qualifies Michigan banks, building and loan associations, and other financial institutions under the federal housing act. The new law permits thousands of home owners in this state to avail themselves of the advantages of the act. It is estimated that as much as $40,000,000 will now be accessible for home construction and improvement.

Integral parts of the administration program are now ready for submission to the legislature among which are the governor's proposals for welfare and prison reform. Doing away with the prison welfare and correction commission which would take active charge of all prison and parole matters.

Republican county conventions of the past week served to shunt the attention of the legislators from their work and the coming week will see little more accomplished. The lawmakers are looking forward to the republican state convention in Detroit, March 1, and will be hurrying away from the capital as soon as the formalities of meeting and adjourning can be dispensed with.

Michigan ranks third among the states of the Union in the amount of land under state forest management, reports the Department of Conservation.

Michigan has 83 county governments, 1,271 township governments and 8,775 school district governments, according to the Department of Conservation.

American railroad employees now total 970,893, as against 2,022,832 in 1920.

Redford Store Robbed of $1,244

The Imperial Market was robbed of the office safe containing $1,244 Saturday night, February 16 somewhere between midnight and three o'clock a.m.

The time has been definitely established because at three o'clock Sunday morning residents at 10030 Manor avenue heard the heavy thud of the safe as it rolled from the truck in which it had been taken from the market to the back of the vacant lot next door to that address.

At ten o'clock Sunday morning a neighbor of the Imperial Market returning from church noticed the rear door of the market standing open. He had observed the same phenomenon earlier in the morning when he started to church but thought that probably some of the market staff was about some task within. He reported the open door to 14th Precinct police who discovered the fact that the safe was missing.

A telephone call from the residence at 10030 Manor avenue informed the police that the safe was resting on the rear of the lot next door. The door of the safe was later found at 13500 Manor avenue. The money of course, was gone.

Reconstructing the robbery it would seem that a covered truck drove up the alley behind the market some time previous to three o'clock a.m., that the back door was forced, the safe removed, requiring certainly four or five persons to handle it, and that as the truck drew off with thieves and booty the forcing of the safe door took place under cover of the night and of the truck.

Forcing a door, removing a heavy safe, hoisting the safe door all required some time, so it is safe to assume that the actual robbery occurred not long after midnight.

No finger prints were discovered on the safe.

This is the second robbery of this nature to occur within the present week.

owner himself, the community helps itself.

The owner who improves his own property not only makes it that much more valuable but participates in an appreciation of all property that naturally follows increase in employment," he pointed out. "We are hoping that the results in Michigan during Michigan Better Housing Month will be so marked as to excite general comment."

Press, pupil, radio, theaters, officials and civic leaders, bankers, men of industries, labor organizations, women's clubs—in brief, practically every group in the business and social strata are endorsing the effort under the leadership of local chairmen.

The Michigan Better Housing Month campaign will cover two phases of the National Housing Act. They are listed as Title 1 and Title 2.

Under Title 1 property owners find it easier to borrow money without security to repair or modernize their present properties or installations in houses or apartment houses, stores, factories, landscaping, building of silos, fences or other improvements on farms are among more than a thousand items included. Such loans may be for an amount between $100 and $200 and for one to three years and sometimes longer.

Under Title 2 it is possible to borrow money on a long term mortgage to build new homes or to refinance old ones. The money is loaned by banks or other approved financial institutions in either case and never by the government. The government, however, insures the loan.

It is believed that, with the last obstacle removed, the excessive physical depreciation of properties during the last seven years will be supplanted by normal maintenance and repair.

The moderating influences of the Great Lakes waters on the winter climate of Michigan produce an effect comparable to ordinary climatic conditions of areas 200 miles south, according to the Department of Conservation.

If all the freight cars on U. S. railroads were loaded at one time they would move 95,896,000 tons of freight.

It requires 15.2 pounds of coal to move a railroad passenger-train car one mile.

State Livestock Values Increase

Livestock on Michigan farms, January 1, 1935 was valued at $88,984,000, an increase of 10 per cent over the January 1, 1934 figure of $80,640,000, and a gain of 14 per cent compared with the January 1, 1933 estimate of $77,957,000. According to the annual livestock report of the Michigan Co-operative Crop Reporting Service the January 1 values per head for each species of livestock were enough higher this year compared with last to more than offset the reductions made in numbers of cattle, sheep, and swine, on farms within the State. The above figures on inventorial values do not represent income from livestock production. When the numbers of all kinds of livestock are converted to animal units to allow for differences in size and feed requirements, the composite decrease in the State's livestock population, January 1, 1935 compared with January 1, 1934 was approximately 5 per cent.

The number of all cattle on Michigan farms for January 1, 1935 is estimated at 1,403,000 head, a decrease of 4 per cent from the figure of 1,461,000 head for January 1, 1934. The number of milk cows, which is included in the total of all cattle, is placed at 893,000 head, a decrease of 9-000 head or 1 per cent from the high record figure of 902,000 head for January 1, 1934. The decline in number of yearling heifers being kept for milk cows was relatively large, the January 1, 1935 figure for this class being 147,000 head as against 160,000 head a year earlier. The average value per head of all cattle on Michigan farms January 1, 1935, was $72.20 which compares with $23.40 for the same date in 1934.

Total sheep on Michigan farms, January 1 this year are estimated at 1,103,000 head or 5 per cent less than a year ago. Of this number, 185,000 head were reported on feed for market, which is 30-000 head or 14 per cent less than the number on feed, January 1, 1934. The number of stock sheep for January 1, 1935 is placed at 918,000 head, a reduction of 3 per cent compared with the 946,000 head estimated for January 1, 1934. This is a continuation of the decline in sheep numbers which started in this State in 1929, the figure of 918,000 head for January 1 this year being the smallest for that date since 1926. The average value per head of all sheep for January 1, 1935 is reported at $4.60 which compares with $4.00 for the same date in 1933.

The estimated number of hogs on farms within the State is placed at 516,000 head which is 29 per cent less than the revised figure of 730,000 head for January 1, 1934 and about 4 per cent below the last low point in January 1933. The average farm value per head for Michigan swine, January 1, 1935 was $6.40 as against $4.10 per head for January 1, 1934 and $4.70 for the corresponding date in 1933.

Foley Predicts Building Jump

Michigan, itself, will have an Easter gown and there will be a quickening of labor to the call of private employment if the mobilization of forces being organized for Michigan Better Housing Month, scheduled for March achieves even a partial victory.

Raymond M. Foley, state director of the Federal Housing Administration, who recently spoke at a mass meeting in Plymouth, has set for his goal more construction work in Michigan during 1935 than for the last seven years combined.

He is armed with recent legislative approval of a bill which enables Michigan banks to take full advantage of the provisions of the National Housing Act; with upwards of 250 communities organized to go forward and with "spring around the corner."

"When it is realized that one person in six was normally employed in the building or allied trades and industries and until 'the last six months building had been almost at a standstill for several years, one can easily imagine what it will mean when homeowners generally spend even a modest amount to avert further depreciation of property," Mr. Foley said.

The government, through the Federal Housing Administration, seeks to help the home or store

It was the pleasure of The Plymouth Mail to have as a visitor a few days ago J. John Pope, retiring president of the Michigan Press Association and very successful newspaper publisher and printer of Grand Rapids. Mr. Pope is owner of a string of papers, his chief publication being at Grandville.

J. JOHN POPE

He came to Plymouth to inspect the new plant of The Mail. Without question it is one of the most modern and best arranged newspaper and printing establishments in a city of this size in Michigan, or any other state as for that matter," declared Mr. Pope.

Certainly much thought has been given to the arrangement of the machinery for convenience, quick work and good work. Plymouth has as much reason to be proud of such an ideal newspaper plant as has the newspaper publisher," stated Mr. Pope. "The Plymouth Mail, one of Michigan's best newspapers is rightly entitled to a home in keeping with such a fine newspaper—that a newspaper is not only a credit to the city where it is published but to the newspaper business as well."

Mr. Pope has been one of numerous newspaper publishers who have visited The Mail office in recent weeks. All have spoken in highest terms of the plant. In fact some of the statements have been so flattering that one has a right to feel somewhat elated.

Among other visitors to the plant during the past few days were William Panzer, manager of the Western Newspaper Union of Detroit and Alfred Smith of the same company who has recently been transferred to Michigan from Texas. Mr. Smith stated that in all of his travels over the country in visiting newspapers he had never seen a better made-up and printed paper in a city of this size than The Plymouth Mail.

"A newspaper plant of this kind has been my ideal. Certainly both Plymouth and The Plymouth Mail have reason to be proud of it all," said Mr. Panzer. Slowly but surely the plant is being completed. There are numerous little things yet to be done and when weather conditions permit, there are many little things to be done fixing up the surroundings of the plant, but it is hoped that before summer arrives all of this work will have been completed.

Retail Credit Sales Show a Much Better Business Condition

Retail credit sales and collections continued to show substantial increases during the month of January as compared with the same month of 1934, according to the monthly review of retail credit conditions compiled by the Research Division of the National Retail Credit Association—just received by Betty Moore, secretary of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce.

Although the increases are not as high as those shown in previous months it must be remembered that January of last year had shown a very encouraging increase over the preceding year so that the climb out of the depression is still continuing at about the same rate it has maintained for a whole year. Significant facts of the review are highlighted below:

- 80 cities reporting 22,752 retail stores represented.
- 64 cities reported increases.
- 7.9% was the average increase for all cities.
- 38.2% was the greatest increase (Butte, Montana).
- 5 cities reported no change.
- 11 cities reported decreases.
- 20.0% was the greatest decrease (Huron, S. D.).
- Credit Sales:
- 60 cities reported increases.
- 10.6% was the average increase for all cities.
- 52.0% was the greatest increase (Springfield, Ohio).
- 8 cities reported no change.
- 12 cities reported decreases.
- 25.0% was the greatest decrease (Las Vegas, Nevada).

Michigan is interlaced with approximately 2,000 streams, states the Department of Conservation.

From 35,000 acres set aside in 1903, Michigan's state forests have increased to an area of 900,000 acres, or nearly three times the size of the average southern Michigan county, states the Department of Conservation.

His Fear The Nation's Fear

The mass demand for economic security will grow louder and louder. My fear is that the politicians will hear it, while the business men, industrialists and financiers will not. If this happens, we shall be in for a generation of legislation that will level the men and enterprises of the United States down to a slimy secure but uninspiring and, in my judgment, ultimately unproductive life even for the masses. I refuse to believe that we are doomed to the destiny of fairly well-clothed and fairly well-fed puppets of the all-embracing state. And yet it is just this that political pressure from masses will drive us unless business and industrial leadership promptly and effectively develops a workable and widely effective economics of plenty. I want security for all as ardently as any Stalin wants it, but I want it in terms of a civilization that knows how to correlate security and freedom. As I watch the relentless encroachment of the state, in one European nation after another, upon private enterprise and political liberty, I want more than ever to be able to will to my son an America in which a great economic leadership has made possible the preservation of the inspiring advantages of private economic policies for the distribution of wealth in the light of its technical processes for the production of wealth.—Glenn Frank, President of the University of Wisconsin.

John Sugden Lands Real Fish When He Goes Out After 'em

When John Sugden goes fishing he goes with the intention of bringing some fish home with him. He returned Saturday from Saginaw bay where he had been spearing through the ice a few days with Dwayne Sugden, another man who now knows how to handle a spear. The fishing party returned with 15 nice wall-eyed pike, one weighing close onto six pounds. In fact the most of them ran anywhere from three pounds to better than five pounds. Mr. Sugden says that a week ago Sunday there were over 500 cars out on Saginaw bay. They drove out 15 miles on the ice where the fishing by the use of the spear was especially good. He has returned to the bay again and hopes to have as good luck as he did the previous week.

Shrine Club Party Is A Pleasing Affair

The Washington birthday dance of the Shrine club held last Friday evening at the Mayflower hotel proved to be one of the enjoyable social events of the winter. Guests enjoyed both dancing and card playing. Visitors were present from Northville, Salem, West Point Park, Rosedale Gardens, Ypsilanti and some were here from Detroit. The crystal ball room of the hotel was most attractively decorated for the event. Don Patterson's orchestra provided the fine music for the dancing.

House Repairs Urged By Foley

Director Urges Home Owners to Begin Repair Work

(By Raymond Foley) As Plymouth and upwards of 50 other communities prepare to observe Michigan Better Housing Month, set for March, it might be well for me to discuss briefly Title One of the National Housing Act now fully effective in Michigan with the Governor's signature of the Michigan enabling act.

The Modernization Program which has been inaugurated by the Federal Housing Administration is not essentially a borrowing program. Its purpose is to encourage property owners to modernize and otherwise improve their properties. The figures that have been transmitted to us from the field in fact show that a conservative estimate of the new, extra volume of modernization work being stimulated by the Federal Housing Administration would be that four times as much is being done as in the past. Cash as is being done on insured credit. However, the credit plan is such an important basic tool in the program that I am going to talk about that, rather exclusively.

What we call "modernization credit" is important for two reasons. One is that it makes available immediately to a great many persons who have not the cash, or who do not want to use their savings for these purposes, an opportunity, at low cost and under favorable terms, to build value and liveability and improvement into their properties, many of which have deteriorated greatly in recent years. The other is that it affords a new approach for industry—manufacturers, contractors and material dealers—to go to their prospects with an effective selling argument. Many other business men have found that after using credit as an approach the property owner preferred to use cash after all.

Every loan made for modernization may multiply itself in results. There are few things more powerful than the force of a neighbor's example. One man paints his house and the man next door will paint his house. Another man puts on a new roof and the next-door owner puts on a new roof. One wife gets a new bathroom or new equipment installed in the kitchen and she wants as good as her neighbor has. Because of these improvements, by means of this credit, are now made available to many times the number of property owners who could have them ordinarily, the Modernization Credit Plan has become especially significant. One man may borrow, but several are influenced by his improvements, may use cash.

This is a plan to use private capital. It is not a use of Government funds except insofar as the Government Contract of Insurance guarantees a certain percentage of any credit loss which may be sustained by the financial institutions. This ought to be very small indeed compared with the amount of business developed. The plan is workable. Even during the adverse winter months it is showing more than seasonal results.

How To Conserve Eyesight To Be Lecture Theme

Famed Authority Will Tell Ways To Save Eyes From Damage

DR. MATTHEW LUCKIESH, noted scientist will speak in the auditorium of the Detroit Edison Building, 2000 Second Avenue, Detroit, at 8 p. m. on Thursday, March 7th, on the subject of vital interest. All principals and teachers of public, private and parochial schools; members of parent teachers associations; health officers and social workers; oculists and other interested people of Plymouth and this vicinity are invited to attend.

Dr. Luckiesh is the founder of what is known as "The New Science of Seeing." The new science which aims to save eyesight by preventing eye abuse. His scientific researches over a long period of years have brought to light a mass of vital facts about eyesight, which forms the basis for his talk on "The New Science of Seeing."

Among other things the Science of Seeing has pointed out the way in which civilization has lifted heavy loads from the backs of human beings. It has added tremendously to the tasks our eyes must perform. This has resulted in an appalling amount of eye trouble. These figures tell the scarcely creditable story of crippled eyes in the United States:

A. birth perfect vision. School, 20% defective vision. College, 40% defective vision. 60 years, 95% defective vision. Laboratory studies have definitely proved that improper lighting along with greatly increased use of the eyes at night are the principal causes of defective vision.

Dr. Luckiesh and his associates through "The New Science of Seeing" are attempting to arrest the increase in impaired vision, and the more deeply hidden penalties of poor seeing conditions.

Dr. Luckiesh and his associates through "The New Science of Seeing" are attempting to arrest the increase in impaired vision, and the more deeply hidden penalties of poor seeing conditions. Their plan of attack includes three objectives: First, to make the public "eyesight conscious." Second, to bring about periodic examinations by eyesight specialists of as large a part of the population as possible. Third, to correct the poor lighting conditions which tend to abuse eyesight and to waste other human resources.

Many little known facts are being brought to the attention of the public, such as the following: 1. That we use one-quarter of our energy to see, and that a business or professional man seated at his desk for long periods under poor lighting may be as tired after a day's work as a man engaged in hard physical labor.

2. That 80 per cent of our knowledge comes through our eyes, and that today we are using our eyes for severe visual tasks about 30 per cent more than was common a generation ago. 3. That if a child has to hold the book he is reading much closer than 14 inches, the chances are his eyes are being strained. The remedy is eye-glasses or better lighting, or both.

4. Sunlight measures around 10,000 foot-candles. A foot-candle is the light of one candle at a distance of one foot. In the shade of the old apple tree there may be 1,000 foot-candles or more. Indoors, in the chair by the window, the light measures 200 foot-candles. Yet at night, we

Mrs. Zona Harris Is In U. of M. Hospital Has Fractured Skull

The many friends of Mrs. Zona Harris who resides on the North W. road near Waterford will be glad to know that the injuries she received when she fell on the ice a few days ago is not as serious as at first feared. She is suffering from a fractured leg that will confine her to her bed for nearly two months however. She is now in the University of Michigan hospital where she was taken after being in emergency hospital at the Plymouth hospital. Mrs. Harris at the time of the accident was getting out of her automobile on Starkweather avenue to call at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Parmenter to see Mr. Parmenter who has been confined to his home for some time by illness. As she alighted from the car she slipped on the ice in such a way that the large bone in her left leg was fractured near the hip. At first it was feared she had suffered additional injuries. It will be some time before it will be possible to remove her from the University hospital to her home.

D. U. R. Waiting Station Moved

Out in the barnyard on the farm of John Bunya on Bonaparte road some three or four miles east of Plymouth has gone into an appalling amount of trouble for over a quarter of a century stood on South Main street. Roy Wilkie jacked the old building up Tuesday afternoon, loaded it on his moving truck and cut to its final resting place where the structure that for so many years provided the starting and stopping point of the traveling public of Plymouth.

Within the frame walls of the old structure the boys and girls of the town used to meet. It was a sort of "meeting" place for Sue and Bill, Roy and Mary and all the other boys and girls who used to like to come down town to see the boys and girls. Earl Fluelling, who purchased the south side of the D. U. R. property, sold the waiting station to Mr. Bunya who thinks now it will make a nice place for his porkers to sleep at night.

The removal of the building, has made considerable difference in the general appearance of the east side of Main street and when the new Fluelling service station goes up, one will hardly know the waiting station. The beginning of Plymouth has been the main thoroughfare of the community.

The Illuminating Engineering Society has organized a Better Light-Better Sight Committee whose aim is to bring the story of eyesight conservation to the people of Michigan. The meeting in Detroit, on March 7th, has been planned as part of this eyesight care activity. The Committee is fortunate in securing Dr. Luckiesh as speaker, and it is expected that the auditorium of the Detroit Edison Company will be filled.

Dr. Luckiesh is a prominent member of the American Physical Society, the Franklin Institute, the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, the Optical Society of America, etc., and is Director of the Lighting Research Laboratory of the General Electric Company. He has published hundreds of scientific and technical as well as popular articles, and has written several books. Dr. Luckiesh is not only an outstanding scientist. He is a man of great character, and a magnetic speaker. All interested persons are invited to attend this meeting as guests of the Better Light-Better Sight Committee of the Illuminating Engineering Society. There is no charge for admission.

Wayne Judiciary Is Country's Best

University Professor Declares County Leads In Law Administration

The Wayne Circuit Court is one of the outstanding courts of the United States in its originality, its ingenuity, enterprise in devising ways of handling business, is the tribute paid to the present bench by Professor Edson R. Sunderland, of the University of Michigan law faculty and secretary of the Judicial Council of Michigan.

Professor Sunderland made this statement following a survey recently completed of the work being done in Detroit by the judges of the Circuit Court.

From one end of the United States to the other, the Wayne County Circuit Court is recognized today as the leader in court reform whereby law is administered more quickly and to better advantage to all concerned. This may be news to many Detroiters, but within the past ten years it has become known over the nation.

Many commissions from other states have come here to study the methods by which the court won its outstanding place.

Six years ago the docket of the Circuit Court was so congested that it was nearly four years behind in its work. This meant a wait of from two to four years for people to have their cases tried. During the last four years, by court reform methods established by the present bench, this congestion has been cut down so that now cases may be brought to trial within a year after they are started. This is considered as nearly an ideal condition as can be obtained under the most favorable circumstances in any court.

Where it formerly took from a day to a couple of months to impanel a jury to hear a case, it now takes less than half an hour. This method of accomplishing this was originated here and has been copied all over the country. It is estimated that in this matter alone the judges have saved the taxpayers of Wayne County annually as much as it costs to pay two judges and their staffs of clerks, deputy sheriffs and stenographers.

Perhaps the greatest action of the Court in that it helped the most people in a time of severe trouble was the establishment of its moratorium policy in the foreclosure of mortgages and land contracts. This was the first court or government agency to grapple with the depression problem which confronted thousands of home owners in Wayne County alone.

More than two years before any state legislature adopted a moratorium act and before Congress set up the federal H.O.L.C. the Wayne Circuit Court took the initiative. It allowed an extension of time to creditors during which they could readjust themselves to conditions and arrange to continue payments according to their ability. Thousands of "forgotten home owners" in Wayne County were able to save their homes by this action of the court, while people elsewhere were losing theirs.

The waiving of trial by jury was instituted here recently. Now 61 per cent of criminal cases before the court as well as all chancery cases, are tried by the judge alone. Jury service has been improved and at the same time jury expenses reduced 85 per cent.

Another reform has been in the matter of time lost by appeals from court to court. These have been cut down extensively, and when granted are heard quickly.

A "No Progress Docket" has been established under which cases that have made no progress for a year are dismissed unless a showing is made that justice requires their continuance. A "Trial Docket" has been instituted in which hundreds of cases are settled by conferences of judges, attorneys and litigants, to the satisfaction of all concerned.

Under the new system the court operates with a presiding administrative judge. Under this plan the court has made a most amazing reduction of costs to the taxpayers of Wayne County and at the same time given direct, speedy justice.

In New York where a judicial council is now advocating the idea of an administrative judge, Joseph W. Kaufman, Chairman of the Committee on Judicial Council of the City Club, states in an article printed in the World-Telegram, February 20, 1935, that:

"The idea of an administrative judge represents a new kind of thinking in court reform. Our courts represent a vast industry, a complex business, requiring business administration and business technique. New laws, new rules, new judges, are not the most direct and practical solution. New management is."

Poultry Market Most Promising

Rising prices and a more favorable outlook for poultry will undoubtedly lead to an increased demand from Michigan farmers for baby chicks this spring, and buyers are warned by the poultry department at Michigan State College not to jeopardize the success of chick raising by failing to get the brooding quarters early.

Early chicks have the best chance to mature sufficiently to be ready to go in the laying house as producing pullets when eggs are the best prices. These chicks are harder to raise because more careful attention must be paid to maintaining brooder temperatures and to the prevention of diseases within the houses. This attention should be given however, and an early start made to obtain the most profits from the future flock.

Brooder houses should be thoroughly cleaned before any chicks are placed in them. Thorough cleaning means considerable hard work and plenty of hot water, but if any dirt is left in the house, it probably will be a refuge for bacteria which will kill the chicks later. Sprinkling disinfectant in a house does not clean it. The disinfectant will not penetrate dirt which is present, so the dirt should be removed before the disinfectant is used.

Scrubbing the house with plenty of water and soap is more important than using disinfectant. A coarse broom or brush will save a lot of back bending in the scrubbing process. Use the disinfectant after the house is cleaned and follow the manufacturer's directions.

Early chicks have to stay in house until good weather comes, but clean range should be ready for them when they go outside. No range should be used upon which poultry has run within the past two years. Several of the kinds of bacteria which cause chick diseases will live in soil for two years. If the ground is contaminated with these bacteria, the chicks will become infected. There is no profit in treating sick chicks. Disease outbreaks should be prevented. Clean houses and ranges will do this.

After an individual (young lady) breaks about five appointments with another individual (young man) even the young man ought to be able to overlook the next appointment.

It will take more than a plan to solve the social problems of the United States and the individual citizen of Wayne county can help the job along by taking care of himself or herself.

OBITUARIES

MARY ACKER FLEMING
Mary Acker Fleming was born on May the tenth, 1860 at Morpeth, Ontario, Canada, and passed from this life on the morning of February 25.

Mrs. Fleming was the daughter of Peter and Mary Ann Acker and was one of seven children. Beginning at the age of fourteen she spent some years of her life in Detroit. Her husband by a former marriage passed away, and in April of 1906 she was married to Thomas Fleming at Windsor, Canada. They came to Plymouth twenty-six years ago and have since made their home here.

In August of 1933 Mrs. Fleming was baptized and united with the First Baptist church. Until such time as she could no longer leave her home she was always found in her place in God's house and her prayers and heart interest will be greatly missed by her pastor and friends. Mrs. Fleming was much loved by her near neighbors and surely their devotion to her and the care given her by them is worthy of mention.

There remain to mourn her loss one son, Charles McKinley Fleming of Plymouth, one brother, George Acker, of Mt. Pleasant, Mich., and two sisters, Mrs. Eliza Beusse of Morpeth, Ont., and Mrs. Addie Ayling of Alma, Mich. She leaves also a host of friends among whom she lived through this period of years in Plymouth. Her supreme concern to the end was for her own and for her friends and surely it will be the desire of all such to seek to answer her prayers. Funeral services were held from the Schrader parlors on Wednesday afternoon, Rev. Loya Sutherland officiating. Burial in Riverside cemetery.

The Story of the Bible Told in Pictures

Man Created in the Image of God.—After God created fish and fowl, beasts and cattle, and everything that creeps upon the earth after its kind, He created man in His own image and gave him dominion over the brand-new planet. The Biblical account of man's creation is recorded in Gen. 2: 7: "And the Lord God formed man of the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and man became a living soul." One of a series of Bible pictures made by Matthew Merian, Seventeenth century engraver.

At the ten o'clock hour the pastor will bring a message on "Successfully Serving." What was Christ's method of propagating His church? Years ago somebody said: "The fruit of a Christian is another Christian." One day from this Sunday our church will go into eight days of special Crusade. Dr. Robert Lietz of Flint will lead us in this work. Full announcement will appear next week. Since this is our regular communion Sunday we shall carry out the service of dedication of our new communion table which was a gift of the Bartlett family in memory of their mother.

This was postponed one week because of the illness of the pastor. Mr. Bert Giles is chairman of the program committee and has arranged a most attractive evening which is to be patriotic. See full particulars elsewhere in the paper. Next week there will be several Way-side prayer services held in different homes. The places for these will be announced at the Sunday morning service. For many months not a few have been praying for a genuine revival to come to Plymouth. We beg all Christians to join us in this prayer.

Come and worship with us we extend an invitation to all who would like to attend these services. Be not deceived, there are only two ways, the broad way which leadeth to destruction and death, and the narrow way which leadeth to everlasting life. An infidel who had lived his life saying there was no God, on his death bed cried out: "I would gladly give $150,000 to have it proved to my satisfaction that there is no such place as hell!" Why didn't some of his infidel friends come to him then and prove to him there was no hell? They didn't come because they couldn't prove it. God's word is true. There is a hell and all those who are unbelieving and wicked in this life will be "turned into hell."

He that believeth on the Son, hath everlasting life; and he that believeth not on the Son shall not see life; but the wrath of God abideth on him. St. John 3: 36.

Among the Bible citations in this passage (Matt. 2: 19-20): "But when Herod was dead, behold an angel of the Lord appeared in a dream to Joseph in Egypt, advise, arise, and take the young child and his mother, and go in to the land of Israel: for they are dead which sought the young child's life."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Keys to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 30): "As the individual ideal of Truth, Christ Jesus came to rebuke rabbinical error and all sin, sickness and death, to point out the way of Truth and Life. This ideal was demonstrated throughout the whole earthly career of Jesus, showing the distance between the offspring of soul and of material sense, of Truth and of error."

There is no substitute for the services of your Eyesight Specialist!

AN eyesight specialist can lengthen the life of eyes young and old. He also knows that correct lighting is essential to perfect vision. Unless you use exactly the right amount of light for each seeing task—unless you have enough light for comfortable, EASY SEEING—eyestrain will result and your eyes will be injured. We suggest these four simple rules to guide you in obtaining good lighting for your home: (1) Use correct size lamp bulbs—"WATTS". (In table and floor lamps, use 40 watts in each socket for 3-socket lamps; 60 watts in 2-socket lamps; 100 watts in 1-socket lamps.) (2) Use SHADES on all lamp bulbs to prevent GLARE. (3) Use shades with light-colored linings to get the most light. Wide shades, open at the top, are best. (4) Have at least one-tenth as much light in the rest of the room as you have on your book, newspaper, sewing, etc.

Rock Win From Ecorse 39-27

Playing with some of the pep and skill which they have lacked all season the Rocks whipped Ecorse 39-27 last Friday on the big Ecorse floor. Kinsey and Williams took high point honors scoring thirteen points each. Rhea, Wagenschutz and Kennedy each took technical fouls. Trondie was sent from the game in the third quarter for fouls.

Reddick opened the scoring by sinking a foul shot but Schifle hooked a basket over his shoulder for two points, intercepted a pass in middle of the floor and passed to Schifle who made a field goal. Williams also made a basket and Ecorse took time out. Trondie sunk a basket and Rhea was sent in for Craig. Vollmar and Backlazz each made baskets and Ecorse again took time out. Kinsey opened the second quarter by sinking a basket. Rhea and Vollmar each made baskets shooting from the foul line. Backlazz made a foul shot and Ecorse slipped through the Plymouth defense for another two points. Kinsey then in quick succession sunk two baskets. Wagenschutz missed a foul shot but the ball bounced back to him and he completed a perfect field goal. Elliott also made a basket. Kennedy for Vollmar. Kinsey, Trondie and Kennedy made free shots.

Taking the ball from the tip of it, Williams quickly sunk a basket to open the second half. Kinsey then made another basket and Ecorse again took time out. Kennedy being replaced by Vollmar. Vollmar then made two baskets. Trondie fouled Williams who sunk both of his free shots. Craig and Elliott both sunk free shots also. Craig made a field goal for two more points but Williams made two for a total of four points. Rhea made a free shot and Kennedy replaced Trondie who had four fouls. Williams made two free shots. Kennedy and Elliott opened the last quarter sinking baskets. Kinsey also sunk a basket but fouled Rhea who sunk a free shot.

P.H.S. RESERVES LOOSE LAST GAME TO ECORSE

The Plymouth high reserves lost a hard fought battle against the Ecorse team last Friday evening, the score being 14 to 13. Although the Rocks were ahead at the quarter they could not keep the lead. When the first half ended the score was tied 8 to 8. In the second half the local team could account for only five points, while Ecorse scored three baskets for six points. Robert Williams was high point man for Plymouth with six points. Sino and Jablonski shared high point honors for Ecorse with four points each. Sino making four out of four foul shots. Out of a total of fourteen games, this season, the reserves have won six and lost eight which is not bad for a team which is composed of all freshmen and sophomore players.

LEADERS CLUB COMPLETES TOURNEY

The girls in Leaders Club completed the three-court basketball tournament last week. Team No. 1 received first place giving each member of the team thirty-five points toward her school letter. Marion Shoebright and Althea Shoemaker are captains of this team. Second place went to team two, the captains which are Angie Roginski and Dorothy Hearn. After playing team three to play off a tie the score being 7-6. The girls on this team received twenty-five points. Frances Bridge and Mildred Postiffs team which took third place received fifteen points toward their school letter.

This week the club began playing two-court basketball and the teams kept the same captains as before.

J-HOP PROVES BIG SUCCESS

About 350 people danced to the music of Bobby Grayson's orchestra at the J-Hop of the class of 1936. Decorations were of a patriotic nature consisting of American flags, silhouettes of George and Martha Washington, a reproduction of Mt. Vernon, and silver walls, all surrounding a large revolving crystal ball suspended from the center of the auditorium where it cast colored light upon the floor and walls.

ELIMINATIONS BEGIN IN DECLAMATION

The first eliminations in declamation were held in Miss Waldorf's three English classes last Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday during which each student gave all or a portion of his declamation. Every student in each class acted as judge and voted for the two or three best each day. The eleven selected as best were as follows: Ferdinand Bodnar, Margaret Reeder, Jewel Starkweather, Patricia Cassidy, Dorothy Hearn, Richard Linnis, Barbara Nutting, Jeannette Brown, Edith Mettetal, Tom Brock and Florence Norton.

CLASS NOTES

Miss Ford's biology classes have been performing experiments to prove the first law of botany. To prove this a pea seedling was planted with the roots on top of the ground and the stem underneath. In growing the roots turned and went down to the ground and the stem turned and came up to the top of the ground. The second was osmosis. The shell of an egg was removed with acid and the egg placed in water swelled up proving osmosis. The third was hydrotropism. Radish seeds were planted in the bottom of a sieve with the roots turned toward the dirt. This week the seventh grade music class enjoyed listening to a very interesting talk on Paderewski, given by Lorraine Renaud. This talk was also given before Miss Waldorf's public speaking class.

STUDENT COUNCIL PLANS ASSEMBLY

Last Tuesday the Student Council discussed the next pay assembly which will feature Bob Briggs and it was decided that the price stay at five cents. Another pay assembly was discussed before the council, this one being "Wonders of Electricity" and since this program is so interesting, the members decided to feature it three times on one day, if they could get an open date. The price was set at ten cents for this. The question of prizes for stunt night was brought before the council and it was decided to have the prizes on the same plan as last year which was that 70% of the proceeds go directly to the student council and the other 30% divided into first, second, and third in ticket selling and first, second, third for the best class stunt.

NOSING AROUND

Well folks the second big event of the year is over and was it a big success! Just ask the Juniors! They are so elated over the compliments about the scenery that they are figuring to wait until two days before their prom next year before starting preparations so as to break their all-time record of two weeks made this year.

MR. NORTON SPEAKS TO TORCH CLUB

Rev. P. Ray Norton, pastor of the Methodist church spoke to the members of the Torch Club last Friday. He based his talk on an editorial from the Detroit Free Press, dealing with George Washington's principles and their application today. Mr. Norton stated that through problems of the present time, the fundamental remedy is always the same and if a person leads a virtuous life, he will be capable of meeting any situation.

COMPETITION COLUMN

Front Page—Several students and one teacher of Plymouth high school recently signed their lives away without knowing it. Circulating around the school was a petition on a clause of which read, "And we, the undersigned, pledge to decapitate ourselves at an expression of our sincerity." Willings to state the petition completely ignorant of its meaning, the students soon filled the page with signatures. As a capping climax, Mr. Norton used Washington's principles of living extensively through his speech to the members.

DEBATE TEAM HOLDS PRACTICE

As preparation for the approaching debate with Walled Lake, Plymouth high school recently held a practice debate with Tom Brock, Jack Sells, and Katherine Schultz. The girls and boys held a practice debate with affirmative speakers Friday, February 22.

CENTRAL SCHOOL NOTES

Kindergartners made hatchets and cherry branches to celebrate Washington's birthday. They have made silhouettes of Washington and cut free hand outlines of hatchets.

Mrs. Cassidy's pupils have made health posters and learned a song "Before I Come To School" in hygiene class. In language class they have read stories about Lincoln and Washington and have illustrated them.

The children in Miss Dewael's room are doing splendidly with their marionette show. They now have the candy house made, using real gum drops for the chimney and flowers they have finished painting and dressing the marionettes.

Mrs. Byrd's pupils have made Washington booklets. Annabelle Heller's team is ahead in the spelling contest. Howard Hood is absent because of mumps.

The fourth grade A's in Miss Widmayer's room are beginning the study of the Middle Atlantic states in geography, and in arithmetic they are learning long division. They have made Washington booklets.

STARKWEATHER NOTES

Last week Doris Share brought a pretty primrose plant for the room. The children did exceptionally good work in cutting large silhouettes of George Washington and the parchment white paper. The pupils have learned a new "Bo-Peep" dance.

The children in Miss Stader's first grade have learned the poem "Twinkle, Twinkle Little Star." Last week they colored Washington hats and flags to take part in the parade which they held in their room. The pupils made a doll bed and a chest of drawers for their play house.

The sixth grade elected Chas. Crumm, president; Judy Ann Ansel, vice president; and Evelyn Stewart, secretary. They also elected Phillip Williams and Lew Robinson for assembly and bulletin. The girls of the Central school and the Starkweather school had a tournament in German Bat Ball.

Plymouth High School Enters Regional Tournament

Coach Matheson is going to enter the Plymouth basketball team in the Regional Tournaments which will be held at Ypsilanti, March 7, 8 and 9. Although the team did not have a very successful season, they did begin to look very good the last two weeks.

As there are not enough class B schools in this district to have a district tournament, as in most parts of the state, this class B group will start right off with the Regionals. A few years ago the winner of the Upper Peninsula and the winner in the Lower Peninsula would play for the championship, but recently it was decided to have a championship team from each peninsula as there was usually a great deal of trouble for both teams to get together.

The Intermediate Girl Reserves of Plymouth high school will hold a bake sale on Saturday, March 2, at Galen's Meat Market from ten o'clock in the morning until two in the afternoon. You can save yourself the trouble of Saturday baking by purchasing your baked goods for the week-end from the Girl Reserves.

TO MARK 300TH YEAR OF BOSTON COMMON

Pageant Next Summer to Depict Historic Events. Boston.—Saved from modern road builders and street wideners only by the high-powered indignation of the Boston Common society, the tercentenary of fifty acres of cowpaths, lawns and shrubbery, uncrossed by rapid transit line or highway, will be celebrated next summer.

Of course, thousands of persons are incensed each day because of the disinclination of Boston antiquarians to let go another foot of land from the Common for needed street widenings or permit the building of roads across it, but other thousands revere it for its place in American history and the breathing space it affords in the heart of downtown Boston.

For this reason, a committee is now raising a fund, tentatively placed at $200,000, to reconstruct the scenes and homes of vanished days, the duels, ducking stools and hangings, during the 1935 celebration of its three hundredth anniversary.

As it was 300 Years Ago. With the help of the Emergency Relief administration, the committee, headed by Everett B. Mero, hopes to draw from the past a representation of three hundred years of history—show the plot as it was when Quakers and pirates dangled from its elms as it was when young Wombidge and his rival dined at forty paces for the favors of a Boston belle.

Henry Ford Is Country's Only Great Industrialist Who Plans For Future

William Klamsner editor of the Dearborn Press in the last issue of his newspaper declares that Henry Ford is one great manufacturer who is planning his business long years in the future for the man who works. Mr. Klamsner, who is close to the Ford business says:

Michigan's Senator Vandenberg led the Senate trade-restricts Administration's $4,800,000,000 work relief bill last Friday. In his speech to the Senate he said that the measure would obstruct business recovery which must be the main reliance for relieving unemployment. The Senator, we feel, is partly wrong and partly right. Business recovery is the key to the unemployment situation, but the statement that the relief measure would obstruct business recovery is only an assertion.

For the month of January, 27 states reported business as being better than the same month of the preceding year. Seventeen states reported a recession in business, and four reports showed no change. In December 1934, 36 states reported an improvement over the same month of 1933, while only seven states reported a recession. Obviously business is somewhat better than it has been, but it is still a long way from the goal.

It is equally obvious that the improved business condition of the past year has been due, in no small part to the spending of government money through the relief channels. This money has gone the rounds and aided in the general business recovery. There have been some few industries who have unmoored the purse strings and sent some of their money back to work but the latter trend has not been swift-cient to crack the situation for a ready solution. Business recovery even if left alone as Senator Vandenberg advocates, will be slow and it will take quite some time to assimilate a very large part of the now unemployed.

In the meantime there will be people who must have help. The Federal government and the states must carry this burden of relief. The City of Dearborn and surrounding territory of the Townships of Dearborn, Nankin, Taylor, Romulus, Canton and Van Buren, and Garden City have approximately 1.4 million families on the relief rolls at the present time. These families include about 5,000 individuals, and the present figures are the lowest in the past few years. Wayne County noting approximately a 16 per cent relief rolls at the present time. And Wayne County is rated by FERA Administrator Hopkins as being the most fortunate district in the Country in this respect.

Which brings us back to the question of who will take care of the relief? Government does not? It may be that the amount requested by the President may be more than is necessary, and again it may not be enough. Let the Senate make inquiry here. We must have relief, but let us have it without politics and let us have it so that it will do some good for the public at the same time. It will be much better to have work-relief than a dole system.

Senator Vandenberg's apology for private business is that the latter cannot be expected to make long-range plans in view of the uncertainty of governmental policies in regard to money, balanced budgets, taxes, etc. The Senator must realize that private business in making long range plans has heretofore thought only in the terms of profit and scarcely considered the security offered to workers. One notable exception to the Senator's assertion is Henry Ford. His long range plans have started and at this stage are more than merely plans. Very few of the larger corporations have offered any plans to relieve the unemployment situation.

A reasonable insistence that the Senator makes is that none of the relief funds be diverted to other channels. His citation was $238,000,000 of the Public Works Administration funds that were earmarked for building new ships, which was not primarily an unemployment program. Let the Navy obtain their own funds and not use the money appropriated for the purpose of relieving distress among the nation's citizenry.

Senator Vandenberg asserts that the past efforts at relief have been a failure, but he offered no logical backing for his commitment. If the millions of people who have been kept alive by the relief measures of the past two years are not a direct refutation of the Senator's statement, then there is no benefit and work relief does, etc., should be stopped at once. While it can readily be admitted that there have been a great many faults in the administration and methods of relief agencies, one should not lose sight of the fact that it was a new undertaking.

Nor should the Senator mistake the motives under which these agencies were established. The primary motive was relief, imminent distress among people who were, and are, badly in need of help. It was hoped that the money placed in circulation would prove to be an impetus to business recovery, and in some proportion it has.

The Senator states that he will gladly support a reasonable and understandable public works program that will prove its own utility and which can be identified as a sound, productive investment. And there are few among us who wouldn't support such a measure, but we fear that the trial and error method will prevail, inasmuch as we have not yet seen the doctor who can prescribe and guarantee a panacea that will cure all of our economic ills, and that, in effect, is what the Senator has asked for.

The number of horses on Michigan farms showed a slight increase during 1934, the January 1, 1935 estimate being 356,000 head as against 362,000 for January 1, 1934. This is the first reversal of the steady downward trend in horse numbers that has been going on in Michigan, as well as other states, since about 1917, and is the result of continued heavy shipments of work stock from other states as well as a marked increase in the 1934 colt crop. The average value per head of horses on Michigan farms since January 1, 1935 is reported at $114.00 which is the highest for that date since 1918.

Plymouth Woman Wins A Magazine Prize For Pudding Receipt

Mrs. Sven Eklund, 443 Adams Street, Plymouth, Michigan has just been awarded a Certificate of Recipe Endorsement by Better Homes & Gardens for her recipe, "Creamy Rice Pudding."

This certificate, which brings national recognition to Mrs. Eklund is given by Better Homes & Gardens only to distinguished recipes which pass its testing kitchen's tests for dependability, excellence of taste, and family usefulness.

In addition to the signed certificate, Mrs. Eklund also received six copies of her endorsed recipe, each bearing the Better Homes & Gardens stamp of recipe endorsement, which she can give to her friends.

In awarding these certificates, it is the magazine's aim to provide proper recognition for the creative work done by women in their own kitchens, and also to raise the standard of accuracy and dependability of recipes as a whole. No other magazine or institution gives this personal recognition and service to its subscribers.

Mrs. Eklund's endorsed recipe follows:

Creamy Rice Pudding

This delicious recipe was taught me by our minister's wife when I was a child. It continues to be a favorite in our family.

Soak 3/4 cupful of rice overnight in cold water to cover. The next morning butter a large casserole and add the drained rice. Stir in 1 cupful of sugar, 1/4 teaspoonful of nutmeg, 1/4 teaspoonful of cinnamon, 2 teaspoonfuls of vanilla, 2 quarts of rich milk, and 1 tablespoonful of butter broken into small pieces. Bake in a slow oven (300 to 325 degrees) for two hours, stirring every 30 minutes. Do not stir the last 15 minutes. A delicate crust should form over the top of the pudding. The pudding is delicious hot or cold and possesses a desirable creamy texture.

Negro Constable Is Arrested Following Gun Play at Inkster

William Shephard, Negro Constable of Nankin Township was tried in the court of Justice John L. Mokersky Wednesday night on a charge of careless use of fire arms.

Shephard is alleged to have dashed into a psychopathic ward at the Eloise Hospital last Wednesday evening brandishing a gun and demanding that Gordon Baldwin, an inmate, give himself up for arrest on a charge of disturbing the peace. Attendants placed Shephard in the Eloise jail. Later that evening he was arraigned before Justice Mokersky and pleaded not guilty. Max Quandt, Eloise supervisor, signed a complaint on recommendation of Dr. T. K. Gruber.

Shephard declared he arrested Baldwin when the latter was acting in a noisy manner in the vicinity of Inkster Road. His victim got away and made a dash for Eloise. He entered the building in search of Baldwin. Baldwin is classed as a parole case at Eloise with privileges of walking about the country-side and declared that he was walking along the road when Shephard attempted the arrest.—Wayne Dispatch.

Clip Out This List And Take It With You When You Vote On March 4th

The Plymouth Mail a week or so ago recommended to its readers that the safest thing to do in the forthcoming election was to re-elect all of the circuit judges who are seeking re-election and select with care the candidates for the places vacant on the bench.

It is more or less gratifying to note that the Detroit Citizens League in its recommendation to the voters of Wayne county recommended all of the present judges as "preferred" on the Republican list. It listed four others as qualified.

The Republican list follows: The 17 preferred Republican candidates, listed alphabetically, are:

VINCENT M. BRENNAN, incumbent.

SHERMAN D. CALLENDER, incumbent.

ALLAN CAMPBELL, incumbent.

JAMES E. CHENOT, incumbent.

HOMER FERGUSON, incumbent.

The league says of Judge Harry J. Dingemann, Republican candidate for re-election, fourth term: "Excellent record in judicial service, but because of serious ill health has been and is unable to discharge the duties of this office, therefore, is not rated preferred."

For our Democratic readers who might not have seen the list when published, these are the preferred Democratic candidates for circuit judges as recommended by The Detroit Citizens League:

Democrats For Fred T. Harward

Frederick T. Harward, candidate for Circuit Judge on the Democratic ticket, was born in the State of Maine, son of a clipper ship captain. His family were among the earliest settlers in New England. They fought in the French and Indian Wars and in the Revolutionary War. He is a life-long Democrat, as was his father and grandfather before him.

He was graduated from Williams College and the Law Department of Yale University.

He came to Detroit in 1897 and was associated for some years with the late Judge George S. Hosmer, who was a Democratic Judge in Wayne County for 36 years.

Mr. Harward was trial lawyer for the Detroit United Railway from 1909 to 1923, General Counsel for the Grand Trunk Western Railroad from 1929 to 1932. He was appointed by President Roosevelt on the NRA Compliance Board in 1933, and became its Chairman upon the resignation of Abner Larned. This Board tried 15,000 cases; put hundreds of men to work by shortening the hours of labor, and prevented chiseling in wages by unscrupulous employers.

Mr. Harward has tried 1600 civil cases; appeared before the State Supreme Court 85 times; the United States Circuit Court of Appeals 6 times, and the United States Supreme Court once.

He ran 16th among all candidates in The Detroit Times Primary, led the Democrats in the Wayne County Bar Association Primary, and ran second among the Democrats in the Detroit Bar Association Primary.

State Releases More School Cash

The second payment of $7,200 to the Plymouth school district under the Thatcher-Sias legislative act is expected to be made within the next few days, the state officials at Lansing having announced that the money is ready for distribution among the public schools of the state.

This will make a little over $14,000 of the anticipated $20,000 that this school district expects to receive during the present school year.

Because of the increased amount of revenue the state is receiving from the sales tax and the liquor tax, the condition of the general fund is of such a nature that school authorities expect to receive the full amount before the end of the school year. If the entire amount is received, and there is no reason to believe that it will not, Plymouth will have a full ten months' school year.
