There will be one new face on the Plymouth city commission during the next year...

His election to the commission brought about the defeat of John Henderson, veteran member of the local official governmental organization...

George Robinson and Arthur Blunk were retained on the commission for another two years.

Mr. Wilson who has never before sought office in Plymouth and who was induced to get into this contest over his strong personal objections...

George Robinson, who like Mr. Henderson has been a member of the commission since the formation of the present government...

It developed during the last two or three days of the campaign that a bit of national politics played a part in the local election.

Stanley Corbett, one of the original Roosevelt Democrats in Plymouth and a relative of Edmund Shields...

Out in Livonia township Jesse Ziegler was re-elected by a big vote. John Harlan was made clerk.

William Ely was re-elected supervisor in Northville township over Adolph Balden...

Mr. Guthrie has sent to each member of the patriotic organization the election in just that light and as one entirely without an issue...

The lack of local interest in the election is indicated by the fact that there were nearly 300 fewer votes cast in the city election this year than there were a year ago.

W.C.T.U. Meeting Is Most Pleasant Affair

Plymouth Woman's Christian Temperance Union held a very pleasant meeting on the afternoon of March 28th...

The program was of unusual interest and consisted of readings by the members, and a very splendid report of the 40th Anniversary of the National W.C.T.U. convention held in Cleveland in November...

At the close of the meeting the hosts served tea and cakes, and a social hour was enjoyed by all.

The next meeting will be held April 25th, at the home of Mrs. Simmons.

Through the efforts of the Society, over 4,000 have been corrected, but there are many thousands more in need of our consideration and help.

The correction of a deformity in a crippled child makes a strong appeal.

First—We want to help because it is the human thing to do. These kiddies are entitled to normal bodies...

Second—it is a contribution to the spiritual life of the child. You cannot correct a foot or hand without correcting the heart and soul.

Third—it pays economically. A crippled child is a liability. With the deformity corrected, it becomes an asset to parents, county, state and nation.

Women's Choir Is Coming Saturday

Reports will be given by the Committee chairman on Child Welfare, Education and International Relations.

If a bill that has been introduced into the state legislature by Dr. Edward F. Fisher, state representative from this district, should be passed, the obnoxious practice of the Wayne county coroner's office in insisting that dead bodies be left where they are until some one from the coroner's office arrives to take the body to some undertaker friends...

There have been times in the past when bodies recovered from Phoenix Lake and the Waterford pond have laid for hours in the hot sun waiting for some one to come from Detroit so that the bodies might be removed to the undertaking parlors of some political friend of the coroner.

Once or twice so great has been the indignation of local officers and others who have taken bodies from nearby lakes that they have defied the coroner's office and had the bodies removed to some nearby undertaking morgue.

Dr. Fisher's bill provides that any justice of the peace may order the removal of a body from the scene of an accident or other place where death might have been met due to some form of violence. It is always an easy matter to get hold of a justice and if the measure passes, and this part of Wayne county certainly hopes that it will, the obnoxious practice of permitting dead bodies to lie for hours pending the arrival of some one from the coroner's office in Detroit, will be stopped.

Block Seating Of Wilson On The City Commission

Although he is the owner of lot No. 1 in the H. J. Joffe subdivision on Holbrook avenue, the owner of a considerable amount of personal property a resident of Plymouth for many years, and one of the active business men of the community, and ran the highest of candidates in the city election on Monday, three members of the city commission Tuesday night refused to confirm the election of Edward Wilson, north side hardware dealer, as a member of the city commission.

Objection to Mr. Wilson's election was raised by acting mayor John Henderson who claimed that he does not know that Mr. Wilson is an owner of real estate in Plymouth. There is a charter provision which says that no person shall hold any elective office, who is not 25 years of age, a citizen of the United States, a freeholder in the city and a resident thereof for at least two years prior to his election.

Mr. Henderson's objection, which was supported by Commissioner Ruth Houston Whipple, was based on the claim that they did not know that Mr. Wilson is a "freeholder" in Plymouth.

Commissioner Oliver Goldsmith pointed out that Mr. Wilson knows the provision of the charter, that he is a "freeholder" in the city and a resident thereof for at least two years prior to his election.

Mr. Whipple said that she didn't know whether Mr. Wilson was a real estate owner or no, therefore she would move that Henderson's objection to confirming Mr. Wilson's election be sustained.

Although the city commission has never before provided proof of real estate ownership, the commission voted to require Mr. Wilson to submit proof to them at that time.

City records show no previous case where any one elected to the city commission has ever before been required to prove their claim that they are qualified to hold office.

Two years ago Attorney Perry Richwine raised a question as to qualifications of two elected commissioners because of a banking situation that existed at that time and the connection of two commissioners with the affairs of the bank.

The hostility to seating Mr. Wilson on the commission has created an intense amount of local interest.

Mr. Wilson has never before dated in local politics. He has time and again refused to become a candidate for office and he is a member of no political faction.

While the argument raged upstairs pertaining to the qualifications of Mr. Wilson for the office, he had been elected to be sitting in the city manager's office waiting for the city manager to discuss with him matters pertaining to the campaign for home building and repairing in Plymouth.

He has been one of the most active citizens of Plymouth in boosting anything for the good of the community and taking an energetic interest in all problems that have had to do with the welfare of the community. He has maintained various teams in the yearly athletic contests that have been held in Plymouth and the Wilson Hardware team in the basketball league this year has been one of the real contenders for the city championship.

It is an interesting sidelight that Mr. Wilson who is actively interested in the campaign to have old homes repaired and new ones built in Plymouth, last fall made an effort to secure a loan from the HOLC of a sufficient amount to put a house on the vacant piece of real estate he owns.

Call Public Mass Meeting To Discuss Housing Problem For Friday, April 12, At Mayflower

Under the arrangements of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce and the Plymouth Federal Housing Administration committee, a public mass meeting has been called for Friday evening, April 12 to be held in the big dining room of the Mayflower hotel. Everyone is invited to attend this meeting, which is scheduled to start at 8 o'clock.

The purpose of it is not only to make available detailed information as to how funds can be secured for repairing or building homes under the federal act, but to endeavor to create local interest in the housing problem that faces Plymouth.

No community in the state is in greater need of new homes or improvement than Plymouth. The housing shortage here has become a real problem and those that have knowledge of the condition are extremely anxious that something be done to remedy it.

He has sent to members of all women's organization a letter urging them to be present at the mass meeting as he believes that if the women can be interested in the movement that a good start will have been made.

George A. Smith, chairman of the Plymouth committee, is especially anxious that there be a good attendance at the meeting. Mr. Smith states:

"The Federal Housing Committee in arranging for the public meeting under the auspices of the women's organizations of Plymouth, feels that it is rendering a great service to the community by bringing to the meeting speakers who will be able to explain the two sections of the Federal Housing Act—Title No. 1 for repair and alterations, Title No. 2 for new building and re-financing."

It will be a real opportunity to get first hand information regarding what is being done in other communities to meet their needs, and what opportunities are available to residents of Plymouth in meeting our needs.

This is not a sales meeting, but purely an educational meeting and I am sure that many families in Plymouth will find it pleasant and profitable to attend the meeting on April 12.

L. E. Wilson, north side hardware dealer who was recently appointed chairman of the committee representing the building and allied trades of Plymouth, says:

Charles Bennett, who has been selected by the state committee as chairman of the local campaign, is anxious to have Plymouth make a good showing in this humanitarian work. It was decided that the city would be divided into two districts with Main street and Starkweather avenue providing the dividing line between the two factions. It is probable that the west side will be assigned to the women and the men will be given all places east of Main street and Starkweather avenue.

Mr. Bennett has announced that he personally will provide the costs of the banquet to fifty of the individuals making the greatest number of sales of stamps during the campaign. The third week of April has been selected as the time of the contest.

The sale of the Easter seals is under the direction of the Michigan Society For Crippled Children. Every dollar raised will go to the aid of crippled children. Stamps are one cent a piece and will be available in any number. Additional details of the campaign will appear in the next issue of The Mail.

Farms Raided By Chicken Thieves Past Few Nights

Chicken thieves have raised havoc in this part of Wayne county during the past two weeks, stealing several hundreds from the flocks of farmers both east and west of Plymouth.

It became known yesterday that because of lack of cooperation from the sheriff's office that a number of the farmers have assumed the responsibility of patrolling the roads at night time in the hope of running across the thieves who are raising them such big losses.

Sam Aldea and his son, who reside on the old Spencer farm on the Haggerty highway have been out for several night, carrying shotguns.

They believe that last Monday night they saw the cars that have been used in carrying on the big poultry raids, but before they could intercept them the cars got away.

Aldea lost 70 chickens and a turkey in one raid by the thieves. William Bauman has lost 50. His farm was raided last week Wednesday night.

More than 70 chickens were stolen from the Adolph Melow place over on the Five mile road and Will Martin who resides on the Six mile road has lost a large number of chickens.

ONE POINT OF INTEREST

We refuse to become excited over the radio row that is taking place between the three human loud talkers now filling the dusty air with a lot of political germs, but there is one point raised by General Johnson in his last talk that every one should be interested in. He states that in view of the fact that Father Coughlin is taking money from the public for supposed public purposes he should make a public accounting of just what he is doing with the money. After all any donation made to him in the way that it is, is public money and should be accounted for in the way that all public money should be accounted for. It is always better to let the public know, and then the public never has reason to become suspicious.

AN HONOR CODE

Many interesting stories are told of the honor code at Washington and Lee University, where it was established by General Robert E. Lee when he became president of the school in 1867.

No supervision of students is exercised during examinations, yet cheating is virtually unknown. Nothing is locked up about the institution; books, articles of clothing and all sorts of property are left anywhere with the assurance that they will not be disturbed.

Several students help to pay their expenses by selling sandwiches, candy, apples and the like, but the sales are made without the presence of clerks. The articles for sale are displayed with price cards, and customers help themselves, placing their money in the cash box. During football game more than $125 worth of lapel buttons were thus bought and paid for without the supervision of anyone, except that when the box was filled with bills a passing professor placed a weight on them to keep them from blowing away.

New students are thoroughly instructed in the requirements of the honor code and impressed with the importance of rigidly observing it, because, it is explained, this school is built around tradition. And the essence of that tradition is that "it's a pleasure to be a gentleman."—Citizen, Key West, Florida.

MORE ABOUT THE NRA

Many people are beginning to wonder just how far the Department of Agriculture will go in its efforts to secure absolute control of the growing, marketing and processing of all agricultural commodities, if given a free hand in the making of our laws.

Judging from the proposed amendments to Agricultural Adjustment Act now before Congress, the sky is the limit. If these amendments are adopted as written, the farmer may have little or nothing to say about the kind or quantity of crops he grows, while buyers and handlers of these crops will have even less to say as to prices to be paid, the quantity to be bought, or the price at which the manufactured product may be sold.

Somewhat similar amendments were prepared for the AAA a year ago but were defeated in the Senate. The opponents of the 1934 amendments held the bill gave the Secretary of Agriculture too wide powers in relation to the conditions under which our farmers would be compelled to operate.

The amendments proposed this year for the AAA are even more objectionable in that while the Secretary would be given all the authority sought a year ago, he would be able to widen the scope of his activity to include every person or unit engaged in the handling of any and every agricultural commodity or product thereof. His authority to enforce department orders would also be greatly strengthened.

The first amendment provides that the Secretary may substitute commodity payments for the present cash payments to the farmers in the settlement for their crop reductions. Farmers who have corn-hog contracts could hereafter be paid with cotton or wheat, or with whatever commodities the Secretary had in greatest quantity or found the most difficulty in marketing.

The AAA is presumed to be based upon voluntary cooperation of the farmer with the Federal Government. If the proposed amendments are made a part of the law, there will be little left of the voluntary idea. Farmers who do not sign allocations of crop contracts may easily find themselves without a market.

The bill as written gives the Secretary of Agriculture the power to enforce a license upon more than a million truckers, wholesale and retail dealers, processors, manufacturers, etc., to inspect their books, contracts and correspondence at any time; to eliminate whatever he may hold to be unfair charges and practices. Such trade restraint may easily result in lower prices for the producer and most necessarily greatly reduce opportunity for competitive marketing.

Adoption of the proposed amendments means turning the agricultural interests of the country over to Federal agencies and political appointees. It should also be remembered that no definite time limit is fixed for the life of these new laws.

Rambing Around With Michigan Editors

A BRAIN TRUST IDEA

Some kind of federal set up looking for new ways to spend has established a class in "woods work" at the Soc. If the Soc hasn't more experienced woods workers that know more about woods work than all the new dealers ever new about work, then Cheboygan can supply the difference and what will those woods workers work at once they learn the new way?—Al Weber in The Cheboygan Observer.

CARING FOR THE OLD FOLKS

The number of elderly and old people is going to increase in proportion to population. It is predicted. Such an increased proportion will be due partly to better care of health, and improved science. People raise relatively small families of children now, so the child population is not so large, hence the elderly people constitute a larger section of the whole. How are all these old folks going to be cared for, is a question many are asking.

One prediction has it that the next generation will have to support 15,000,000 people who are 65 years of age and older.

One thing that will help care for them, is that many of them will continue working. It used to be thought, that when a man was 60 to 70 years of age, the time had come for him to quit work. Of course such people, both men and women, often find it difficult to obtain new jobs now. But many of them are very valuable in the occupations in which they have had long experience. By avoiding mistakes, and using the brains trained through many years of activity, they are capable of rendering service of high value.

The future age should study means of keeping these people at work. Most of them are perfectly capable of working, if they do not go beyond their strength. The problem of millions of these people will be solved, by the ingenuity and enterprise by which they support themselves.

But if the older people are to retain their place in the working world, they must have alert minds. They can not allow themselves to cling to old ideas, nor close their brains against new things. But if they will move with the times, many of them will find the times have need of their knowledge.—Floyd J. Miller in Royal Oak Daily Tribune.

The New N. R. A. Set-Up

By MARK SULLIVAN

Two recent events have a heavy bearing on America's transition to what President Roosevelt speaks of as a "new economic order." What happened in Germany portends many consequences, all somber. Among others, it increases the economic separation of nations from nation, the paralysis of international economic relations. This increase of isolated nationalism throughout the world is cited by Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace as his chief justification for his course in carrying America farther and farther toward the same nationalism. And the nationalism for the United States toward which Mr. Wallace moves, reluctantly, he says, but nevertheless, amounts to a restriction and discipline to individual rights which can only be described as meaning ultimately a new order of society and a new kind of government in America. The type of society toward which Mr. Wallace and N.R.A. move is, roughly, Fascism, the one that happened in Germany.

When we turn to one of the outstanding recent events in America we find there also a new step toward a changed order of society. A board of seven men has been put in charge of N.R.A. The seven are so composed as to make, in theory, a balance. There are two leaders of organized labor, one of whom is an able and energetic worker toward a basically changed status for labor in society. To balance these there are two representatives of industry, both from big industry. There are two college professors supposed to represent the public. Finally there is the chairman, Mr. Donald Richberg.

While very recently Mr. Richberg has been out of favor with some labor organizations, his present elevation is understood to be accompanied by a condition designed to make him, and N.R.A. satisfactory to the labor leaders. It is understood that the new arrangement is accompanied by willingness of the Administration to put through Congress a law which will greatly elevate the status of organized labor in NRA and generally.

For the present discussion let us accept the new NRA board as being what it seems superficially designed to appear. It is a balanced board, with labor and large industry having each two representatives, and with three others acting as umpires.

NRA has the power to fix the wages of nearly every person who works in industry and business. It does fix universally the minimum wage in every industry, and in many it fixes practically all wages. NRA has the power to fix, and in nearly all businesses does fix, the number of hours every person may work. It has the power, and in many industries exercises it, to fix the amount of business each unit may do, and to allocate business. It has the power, and in many industries uses it, to forbid each unit to increase its plant. It has the power, and in many industries uses it, to forbid new persons from entering an industry. It has the power, and in some cases exercises it to forbid a business man or corporation to move from one part of the country to another. It has also the power, and in some cases exercises it, to pass sentence on what General Johnson called "economic death" on any business man or corporation by, among other means withdrawing the blue eagle, without which, in some industries, a business is subjected to boycott, enforced by NRA on the part of all who might buy from the victim. NRA has the power and has exercised it, to put men in jail for violating any rule it lays down.

These and other powers are now in the hands of a board made up of equal representation from labor and industry with a third group acting as an umpire and supposed to represent the public. It is to be observed that the representatives of industry are from large industry. It can hardly be claimed that small business is represented.

Too much of large business, an equal partnership with labor such as now exists in the NRA board is completely satisfactory. But it is satisfactory on one condition only: if business has the privilege of immunity from anti-monopoly laws, if it has the privilege of fixing or agreeing about the prices at which it sells, then it is satisfied to let labor have the privilege of fixing wages. It is a shortsighted view on the part of business, but one frequently held, that the wage rate does not matter if it can be included in the price fixed by agreement among employers and passed on to the public.

But let us now turn to another event of recent date. In the Senate, Mr. Borah, in a casual and unexpected roll call on an unrelated measure, came within ten of having enough votes to take away the privilege which NRA gives to business to make price agree-

The Wagner Labor Bill

By WALTER LIPPMAN

Opponents of the Wagner labor bill have been saying that it would set up a "labor dictatorship" and Senator Wagner has declared that there is not a scintilla of truth in the charge. No one, I believe, will ever know which of these contentions is true. For if the bill were passed it could not be made to work and instead of a labor dictatorship or the opposite it will simply produce interminable and inconclusive litigation and dispute.

In his explanatory statement accompanying the bill Senator Wagner says that Section 7-A is being reduced "to a sham and a delusion," and that "everybody needs a law that is precise and certain." He is right on both counts. But if ever there was a law that is not precise and not certain it is this bill.

The purpose of the bill is to use the power of the Federal government to protect the right of wage earners to organize in order to bargain collectively. The first question that arises is: What does the practical meaning of a bill? The answer is important if we are to have a precise and certain law. Senator Wagner's answer to this vital question of jurisdiction is completely and absolutely vague. His bill proposes to draw the Federal Government in to all labor disputes about the right to organize that are affecting commerce." Here at the outset is the material for an endless series of lawsuits. It would take years for the Supreme Court to define the practical meaning of a phrase that is as broad and as woolly as Senator Wagner's.

The trouble is that Senator Wagner is trying to extend the Federal power over labor relations as widely as possible. It would have been more statesmanlike to have begun by limiting the Federal government's responsibility to the cases it might hope to deal with, and Senator Wagner may think he has hit upon a device for stretching the Constitution. But what he has really done is to impose upon the government a responsibility it cannot possibly meet. His bill leads labor to think that the Federal power protects unionization in every town and in every industry in the United States. But the fact is that if the courts do not deny this power the sheer difficulties of administration will nullify it. Thus in one way or the other we shall have another sham and delusion.

Having embraced all commerce vaguely, the bill then defines the "rights of employees" which are to be enforced by civil and criminal sanctions. These rights are also vaguely defined, not precise and not certain. An employer may not "interfere" or "restrain" or "coerce" or "dominate" or "encourage" or "discourage" the organization of wage earners. A board of three men in Washington is intrusted with the simple task of deciding whether an employer in San Francisco discourages John Smith from joining the A. B. C. union and encouraged him to join the X. Y. Z. It is preposterous to put such a burden upon mortal men and it is in the last degree foolish to lead labor to think that the Federal government is as omnipotent and as omniscient as this bill requires it to be.

The trouble here is that Senator Wagner is trying to use the cumbersome process of litigation to enforce vague "rights" when there is a much simpler way of protecting the rights he is trying to protect. This is the method of

That is about as far into the future, into Mr. Roosevelt's "new economic order," as we can now see with any confidence. For the present the new setup in NRA industry and labor in equal partnership, points toward Fascism, the corporative state. That would not last long in America. What would succeed it cannot be foreseen with any definiteness.

Tremendous Trifles

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON

It WAS long and brown and tufted—trous—the hair of twenty-three year-old Jane Melrose—and those who saw and admired it little realized that it was the hair of a nation. But that was before Gen. John Burgoyne invaded New York in the summer of 1777.

Jane Melrose was visiting in the home of her widow mother near Fort Edward that summer. She had been warned of the danger from Burgoyne's Indian allies, but she refused to go to a safer place. Her lover, David Jones, a Tory, was coming back from Canada. She intended to wait for him.

But she waited too long. A war party entered the cabin, dragged the two women out. Two Indian warriors began quarrelling over possession of the girl. Suddenly one of them turned and shot her and she fell from the saddle his scalping knife did his ghastly work.

When the Indian exhibited his trophy in Burgoyne's camp the general was furious. But his rage was nothing compared to that of the New York Patriots. "Remember Jane Melrose" became a rallying cry.

Patriot propagandists spread the tale and that master propagandist of them all, empty Benjamin Franklin, made good use of it in stirring up sympathy throughout Europe for the cause of the Americans. So there is no doubt that the story of Jane Melrose encouraged Patriot morale at a time when it was very low and had a part in bringing about the final victory for them.

For a limited time God seems to be on the side of the largest purse and the largest cannon. But justice is as certain as it is slow.

Be sure to praise your child as often as you find fault with it.

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 277): "Good cannot result in evil. As God himself is good and is Spirit, goodness and spirituality must be immortal. Their opposites, evil and matter, are mortal, error and error has no creator. If goodness and spirituality are real, evil and materiality are unreal and cannot be the outcome of an infinite God, good."

The Story of the Bible Told in Pictures

The Building of Babel.—We are told in Gen. 11: 1: "The whole earth was of one language and of one speech." But mankind became restless and undertook to build a city, and a tower whose top would reach unto the heaven. "And the Lord said, Behold, the people are one, and they have all one language; and they begin to do: and now nothing will be restrained from them, which they have imagined to do. Go to, let us go down, and there confound their language, that they may not understand one another's speech. So the Lord scattered them abroad from thence upon the face of all the earth: and they left off to build the city. Therefore is the name of it called Babel; because the Lord did there confound the language of all the earth: and from thence did the Lord scatter them abroad upon the face of all the earth."—Gen. 11: 1-9. ### CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH

God's news is good news to those who have repented and believed the Gospel. Why not visit a friendly Bible church? Come to Calvary this Sunday. You will feel our welcome.

Our pastor preaches at 10 a.m. Sunday on "The Cost and Reward of Following Christ." The Lord Jesus said to all his disciples, "If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily and follow me." Luke 9:23. Which costs more: to serve yourself or Christ? He says that no man can have two masters. Who is your master? Your eternal destiny is dependent on your choice. If you reject him he will reject you. Do not experiment with your soul and spirit. Read the third chapter of John's Gospel; noting verses 3:16-18 especially. There's a great reward for investing your life in the salvation and service of Christ. Hear about it Sunday. Meet with a happy, singing crowd.

Sunday evening at 7:30 our pastor will preach on "What Will Your Harvest Be?" Read Galatians 6:7-9.

All readers who know LeRoy Tillotson can help him without cost, in a new interesting way. He sends us fine reports of his progress at Moody Bible Institute. Would you like to help him? If so, phone Mrs. J. F. Root for information. Her number is Plymouth 4125F11. Thank you. Prayer and Praise service is on Wednesday at 7 p.m. Young People's Fellowship is on Fridays at 7:30.

The Heart of the Community

THE yellow moon drops below the horizon. One by one the houses darken as silence settles over the countryside. It is a time of rest, of slumber.

But there is one building where rest does not enter, where the windows never darken; for the work of the telephone exchange, like the work of a sleeper's heart, must go on by night no less than by day.

Here trained operators, alert and skilful, sit at the junction of many wires. Here are linked all who would speak across the miles of darkness. . . . Somewhere an anxious mother is awakened by a childish, fretful cry. . . . Somewhere furtive footsteps betray the presence of a prowler. . . . Somewhere, in a cellar, smouldering rags send warning smoke drifting through a home. . . . At some lonely crossing two cars crash and overturn.

In these emergencies, help is as close as the nearest telephone. Over a waiting wire speeds the call for aid—for the doctor, police, fire department, an ambulance. If that wire were not waiting, there would be heavier penalties of grief and loss; help, at times, would arrive after help had ceased to be of use. Faithfully rendering a vital service both night and day, the telephone exchange plays a part which makes it, in a sense that is very real, the heart of the community.

Scully Gets New State Position

Edward Scully who was dismissed from his position last week with the state sales tax board because of his politics, has been notified of his appointment to a temporary position with the state highway department laboratories in Ann Arbor. This is under one of the state departments controlled by the Democrats.

He will become office manager of the department and expects to assume his duties within the next week. Mr. Scully has been most active in local Democratic affairs for sometime and his selection to the place in Ann Arbor comes as a result of the knowledge on the part of Democratic state officials as to the work that he has done for his party in this locality. He was the organizer and one of the officers of the first Roosevelt club organized in Western Wayne county.

Legislature Has Much Work To Do In Next Few Weeks

By FRANK D. BROWN
Special Correspondent

The 58th legislature enters the third month of its deliberations with little accomplished behind it but plenty of work yet ahead of it. Looking back over the past 12 weeks one sees a sad picture in which procrastination, partisan squabbling, job scrambling and vote swapping are the highlights. A sad picture, indeed, but the opportunity still exists for the lawmakers to redeem themselves and salvage from the wreck something helpful to Michigan citizens and taxpayers. If this is how ever it will have to be within the coming two or three weeks as already these warm spring days have begun to have their effect, causing members to turn their thoughts to the work awaiting them on the farm or back in the office.

April 8 would be set as the final date for the introduction of new bills if a resolution now before the senate is adopted. This is the first indication that the solons may close up shop and go home by the end of the month. If it is approved the adjournment should follow within a few weeks.

Both houses recessed Thursday afternoon until next Tuesday in order that members might return to their districts for the spring election.

The unpopularity of the NRA was brought to the front in the House this week when many democrats joined their republican colleagues in defeating the Nichols-Baginski bill which would have created a state industrial recovery administration to correlate the work of the national administration. The measure was intended to permit the governor with the consent of various industries, to impose codes, regulating fair trade practices, wages, working hours, etc.

Repeal of the old age pension act passed in 1933 and the setting up of a new pension system in the state is accomplished by a bill which has passed the senate. The farcical $2 head-tax imposed by the old law and which by people ever paid is eliminated by the new proposal. The pensions, estimated at $4,000,000 annually, would be financed by direct treasury appropriation. As sent to the House, the measure allows maximum pension of $30 a month to eligible persons of 70 years of age or over. Among other requirements specified is that of citizenship, residence in the state for 10 years, and the pensioner cannot possess real estate of valuation in excess of $3,000.

The controversial school aid bill providing for $25,000,000 a year to finance the state's public schools has gone through the House with colors flying despite efforts of Rep. Vern Brown (R) of Mason, to reduce the support of the face of almost $10 a month in case it is passed by the senate in its present form. There is a strong likelihood that the senate will not concur in the amount, if such should happen. Gov. Fitzgerald has been quite outspoken regarding his intention to exercise his veto power and in all probability will do so.

Rep. Brown, who is chairman of the House taxation committee, attempted to have the appropriation reduced to $20,000,000 annually but secured only scant support. On final roll call the bill was approved 91 to 4.

The last vestige of the state property tax is now assured of removal with the signature of the governor to the two bills repealing the mill taxes for the support of the University of Michigan and Michigan State College. The measures eliminate the 6-10 mill tax for the former institution and the 2-10 mill tax for the latter, both of which constituted a $3,500,000 levy.

Aid for distressed property owners is promised by the Nichols bill now before the House. The proposed legislation would cancel penalties on delinquent 1933 taxes providing they are paid before December 1, 1935. There would be a one percent collection fee however. Special assessment taxes are not included in the provisions of the bill.

A thrust at high salaries paid state officers and circuit judges has been made by Senator Leon Case. Watervliet newspaper publisher and democratic floor leader, who sponsors five bills calling for sharp reductions among the "big money" class of public servants.

Among those affected by the Case proposals are: state highway commissioner from $7,000 to $6,000; securities commissioner from $7,000 to $4,000; utilities commissioners from $7,000 to $4,000; justices of the supreme court, $8,000 to $6,000; circuit judges, $5,000 to $4,000; and the superintendent of public instruction from $6,000 to $5,000.

Similar attempts to "get at" the high salaried state officers have been made in the past but got nowhere. Department heads are too well entrenched behind a bulwark of patronage coercion to permit the success of any such "reform" legislation. The average legislator is inclined to think twice before supporting measures of this sort and thereby jeopardize the chances of relatives and friends continuing on state payrolls. Senator Case's proposals without question contain plenty of merit, but will likely die in committee.

The first of the budget bills, indicating the approach of adjournment, has come from the House ways and means committee and provides for the outlay of $20,175,953 during the first fiscal year and $20,139,188 for the fiscal year 1936-37 for general state purposes. The measure includes $12,000,000 a year for welfare. Institutional and departmental appropriations were the main separate bills yet to be introduced.

TRACK SQUAD ELECTS FIGHTING CAPTAIN

All the boys who are interested in track reported for their first meeting Monday, March 19. Twenty-six boys reported and Mr. Matheson gave them rules and examples to follow; he also explained the rules for the benefit of those who are new to the track squad. He then asked if they would rather elect a captain then or wait till the team was picked but the boys decided to elect one while they were all present.

There are five letter men who were on the team last year. These were nominated for the captainship. Three of these boys are seniors and the other three are juniors. The votes were well distributed among the six fellows with Elwood Elliott leading by a small margin.

Elwood has been a member of the track team for two years and has made an outstanding record for himself by running the mile and setting a school record which he says he will try hard to break again this year and he has says he will cooperate with the coach and try to make the team one of the best the school has ever turned out.

Elwood came to this school from the Starkweather school and never went out for sports till he was a sophomore, when he was picked by the coach to make a very good record because of his ability to stick with a thing till it was done. Since then Elwood has made quite an outstanding record in all kinds of sports, being a member of the football team for two years and of the basketball team for two years and of the tennis team for one.

And he is again out for tennis this year. It seems that he will play doubles with one of the fellows on the tennis team.

Elwood has gone to state tournaments for running the mile and has helped the school set a standing of good sportsmanship and fair play.

H. Williams, '35 in Eng. 11A.

PLYMOUTH WINS FRESH DECLARATION

James McClain of the ninth grade won first place in the freshman declamation contest held last Friday at Ecorse high school, and Patricia Braidel of the seventh grade won third place in the short story telling contest. James McClain gave the declamation "King Phillip to the White Setter" by Edward Everett and received a blue and gold pennant to represent first place. Second place went to Ecorse and third place to River Rouge. Patricia Braidel told the story "The Selfish Giant" by Oscar Wilde. She was awarded a blue and white pennant indicative of third place. Ypsilanti won first and Ecorse second place in the story telling contest.

The declamation contest was open to freshman and the story telling contest to seventh and eighth graders. Plymouth's representatives were selected after several elimination contests in the school. The final contests at Ecorse were judged by three members of the University of Detroit'sVarsity Debate Team.

NOSING AROUND

Hello my frans. It seems quite a while since my last greeting but the news has been lacking. This week we have some choice bits. There is really going to be a Stunt Night tonight and of course we shall take first prize (we hope) but if our noted dramatics teacher has anything to say, the "freshies" will take it and make history. Well we're afraid it's going to be quite a little to her.

The biggest problem faced by the seniors is "What are we going to do skip day." We have the radicals who say raise whoopee, the conservatives who say go to Lansing (you know, see your own country first) and then the in-betweens who just shrug their shoulders and say, "It's such a big problem for me." When the day comes we shall probably find ourselves on a bus headed somewhere to return sometime but goodness knows where or when.

My what spring will do and has done to and for some people! Ask Bob Solb or Elzerman.

Elwood Elliott seems to look much brighter these days and the only reason lies in the fact that he has moved to a new location within a block of the school and now he can sleep until 8:25 instead of 8:15 and thereby get more rest. Some people get all the breaks.

We suggest that Jack Selle sleep more nights so he won't sleep offstage and make a late entrance because it is very embarrassing to have to make up your own lines. Of course this may be asking too much of him because you know he has so much to do with all those fenders to bump out and cars to paint, etc.

There seems to be a new fad this spring which is known as the penny sucker fad. Don Thrall is the originator and has many followers. Oh well children will be children you know.

TRACK MEET AT ECORSE TODAY

Plymouth will hold their first dual track meet with Ecorse high school this afternoon at 4:00 o'clock. The meet was scheduled to be run off here but the Plymouth track is not in shape and it will be held at Ecorse instead. Although the team has had only a short time to get in condition, they do hope to go places against the Ecorse track team. Last year the rocks received a severe beating from the Crimson squad. Coming with the local squad and get them a boost this afternoon. Meet in front of the school and we will all go together.

A WONDROUS ADVENTURE

After the hoping and dreaming,
After the striving for gain,
After the planning and scheming,
After the toiling and pain,
After the long years of waiting—
When all our labors are through,
What have we done toward creating
Lives that are noble and true?

What have we done to bring gladness?
What have we done to bring cheer?
Have we caused heartache and sadness?
While we are journeying here?
Who has been helped by our living?
Who has found joy at our hands?
Have we been faithful in giving
All that true friendship demands?

Life is a wondrous adventure,
Happy, successful and bright,
Free from regrets and from censure—
If we but plan it aright.
Joys will be ours for the taking,
Gladness will bless every day—
If we are helpful in making
Other hearts happy and gay.

STORY OF RUBBER PRESENTED TO AGGIES

Ag club members last Tuesday saw a very interesting film, "The Story of the Rubber Tree." This story began with the crude rubber stage and carried right through to the finished tire. Another film was also shown and there were many interesting points on how the crude rubber is secured from the trees and how the supply is kept constant by the replanting of rubber trees on the Goodyear ranch.

PROTECT your child's Eyes

WITH THESE 5 LIGHTING ESSENTIALS

Young eyes need the best of care in early years . . . because at this stage a child's inquisitive mind is leading him into the realm of books. More and more time is spent in reading—and because of this fact, there is danger of permanent injury to eyesight if proper lighting is not provided. Abuse of the eyes through poor lighting results in eyestrain and near-sightedness. Figures show that one out of every five school children has defective vision.

You can easily make sure that you have good home lighting by following these five simple rules. (1) Use correct size lamp bulbs—"WATTS." In table and floor lamps with three sockets, use 40 watts in each socket; with two sockets, 60 watts; with one socket, 100 watts. (2) Have at least one-tenth as much light in the rest of the room as you have on your book, newspaper, sewing, etc. (3) Use SHADES on all lamp bulbs to prevent GLARE. (4) Use shades with light-colored linings to get the most light. (5) Have enough lighting fixtures or portable lamps to insure the proper intensity of light throughout the room.

These 5 principles will assure reasonably good lighting and will provide proper seeing conditions for every member of your family.

Business Leader Dies Suddenly

Burch Foraker, for many years one of the outstanding telephone executives of the country and an industrial leader in Detroit and Michigan in the last nine years, died in Detroit last Friday morning after an illness of several weeks. Death was due to anemia and complications. Mr. Foraker, who was chairman of the board of directors of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, had been active at his office until recently.

A builder of men, he had trained from their beginning in telephone work many of today's executives of Bell System companies. He himself had risen from the ranks, for he entered upon his life's vocation as a telephone installer at ten dollars a week when he left college to take employment with the New York Telephone Company in 1893. At the end of 30 years he not only had served as the head of that company's plant department in New York City but had built there the world's largest and finest metropolitan telephone plant.

In 1924 he came to Michigan as president of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company and threw himself completely into the task of creating a telephone system second to none. He resigned as president last October and was elected chairman of the board of directors.

Mr. Foraker was born February 17, 1872, in Hillsboro, Ohio, son of Captain Burch Foraker and Joseph of the late U. S. Senator Jos. B. Foraker. He was graduated from the Hillsboro public schools and attended Ohio Wesleyan and Cornell universities.

Taking his telephone job in New York, he worked in all divisions of plant work and worked out many ideas for improvement of both plant and methods that have been adopted as standard world wide.

Advancement in the organization carried him, in 1924, to the position of upstate general manager for the New York company, in charge of the company's activities outside of the metropolitan area. From that position he was chosen to become president of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company.

Mr. Foraker was elected president for the year 1929, of Wolverine chapter, Michigan, and the following year, national president of the Telephone Pioneers of America, a national organization of telephone men and women who have been in the service 21 years or longer.

Funeral services were held at Hillsboro, Ohio, Mr. Foraker's birthplace, on Sunday.

Don't Hurl Boulders Into The Channel

The attitude of Congress should drive Detroit's business executives to the river.

It is bewildering to see a government, pledged to recovery, trying to strangle the employer—the only person who can promote recovery through re-employment.

A confidence destroying attack has been made upon business by government. Bankers were blasphemed. Security exchanges were mangled. Public utilities received a sustained onslaught causing billions of losses of over three billion dollars.

Because someone in office wants to punish an individual holding a large block of shares, hundreds of thousands of innocent fellow stockholders—whose stake is more important to each of them—are being shoved into the wringer.

All business is endangered by legislation threatening holding companies. Many stockholders are threatened by Senator Wheeler's proposed excise tax. Other bills aim to destroy confidence, checkmate recovery and prolong unemployment and misery.

In Detroit we have one graphic base for hope. Go down to our river, one of the greatest channels of commerce in the world. See what's going on there.

This same government that is acting to destroy confidence is spending tens of millions of dollars to deepen this channel and prepare it for the greater demands of future business. Hence the new Livingston and Lake St. Clair project.

Congress may come, and Congress may go. Our river bore ships before Congress existed. It was the reason for Detroit's origin. It can be a reason for our future growth. Its calm steadiness should be emulated by emotional boomerang throwers.

If the professional proponents of current legislation could prevail, our rivers might as well dry up. It's as senseless to rip up roads and rails.

A recovery Government would try to blast away all trade barriers—roads in rivers—stupid tariffs—legislative restrictions—racial boycotts—class distinctions.

For our peace of mind we must look forward to the ships, the smoke, the steel, and the jobs—that American industrial genius has assured for this area.

Clear all the channels. Congress will adjourn some day—The Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bell of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sharp and Earlard of Ecorse spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. H. Felton. The day was Mr. Bell's birthday anniversary. Pictures of the four generations were taken.

Fix Dates For The May Festival

The Ann Arbor May Festival of 1935, to be given May 15, 17 and 18, will be exceptional. Twelve major celebrities are listed, six of whom are new artists, while six are old favorites. Five conductors and three notable ensembles groups will participate. Four choral works, including two premieres, will be performed; and a substantial reduction in the prices of tickets is announced.

The new artists include the spectacular Mary Moore, coloratura, the sensational Helen Jepson, lyric soprano, and Myrtle Leonard, whom Schumann-Heink refers to as "the other contralto," all of the Metropolitan; Maxim Panteleff, stupendous Boris of the Russian Grand Opera Company; Wilbur Evans, one of America's delightful baritones, and Ruth Posselt, distinguished American violinist.

The old artists include the ever welcome Martinelli, and Althouse Metropolitan Opera tenors; Ethyl Hayden, soprano, and Theodore Webb, baritone, both supreme oratoric singers; Josef Lhevinne, the master pianist and Paul Leyssac, of the New York Civic Repertory Theatre, narrator.

Earl V. Moore, will present the Choral Union and the Chicago Symphony Orchestra in "Klink David" by Honegger, and "Boris Godunov" by Moussorgsky; the latter in English. Frederick Stock and Earl Delamater will lead the orchestra in brilliant works. Howard Hanson, will direct the premiere of his own songs from "Drum Taps," and Jova Hiebke, will give the premiere of Dorothy James' "Jumbies."

A substantial reduction in the prices of season tickets has been announced, whereby the entire Festival of six concerts may be heard by those who hold "Festival coupons" to the past series of Choral Union Concerts, for $2.00, $3.00 and $4.00, or an average price for individual concerts of from 33 to 67 cents. For those not holding Festival coupons, the price is $5.00, $6.00, $7.00 each. For individual concert tickets purchased separately, the prices remain at the reduced levels of last year, $1.00, $1.50, and $2.00 each.

Automatics Out For Duck Hunters

Every Plymouth sportsman who hunts ducks, geese, coots, woodcock, jacksnipe, gallinules or rails next fall must have the capacity of these guns to three shells to conform to a new federal law, according to H. R. Sayre, chief of the Field Administration Division, Department of Conservation.

"An amendment to the federal migratory bird laws, providing for a three-shell limit on repeating shotguns, was signed by President Roosevelt February 2 and became effective immediately," Sayre said. "Official notice has been sent to all conservation officers in Michigan. The amendment will be strictly enforced in the manner of other federal regulations in this state."

The three-shell limit has long been advocated by sportsmen and conservationists throughout the country to limit the killing possibilities of shotguns when used in hunting migratory game birds. Sayre stated, its enactment as a federal law was hastened by the alarming decrease of ducks and geese during the past several years.

"The new regulation supply means that every sportsman will be strictly enforced in the use of geese, coots, woodcock, jacksnipe, gallinules and rails must use a gun that shoots no more than three shells at one loading," Sayre said. "Arrangements already are being made by gun manufacturers to supply 'plugs' for repeaters of five and six-shell capacity that will reduce the capacity of these guns to three shells. The plugs, it is said, will be supplied at a nominal cost to the sportsman. One manufacturer, who makes a more expensive type of repeater, is planning to furnish the plugs free."

The ducks or geese hunter whose five or six-shot repeater does not conform to the new regulation will face federal and state prosecution, according to Sayre. The effect of the new law places a premium on shooting accuracy and curtails the slaughter of waterfowl by hunters who use repeaters that in some cases shoot as many as 12 shells without reloading.

Amazingly New! Different! Coolerator

The Air Conditioned Refrigerator

FULL FAMILY SIZE Air Conditioned REFRIGERATOR COSTS ONLY $72.75

SO NEW, so startlingly different is Coolerator from any refrigerator you have ever known, that it changes all your ideas of dependable, economical home refrigeration.

Ice cubes in five minutes! No mingling of food odors! No more need to cover dishes! No more drying out of foods! All in a refrigerator that costs only 1/3 to 1/2 of what you'd expect to pay—a refrigerator that 65,500 women already herald as the greatest new advance in the whole field of refrigeration.

Coolerator differs from all other refrigerators because of its patented air conditioning chamber, which washes and humidifies the air and passes it through the food chamber several times each minute. This moist air does not rob food of its own moisture and flavor, but does absorb and carry away food odors.

Coolerator uses ice for its refrigerant, but in a different way than it has ever been used before. For example: one icing lasts from 4 to 7 days. Another: ice melts flat—from bottom of cake.

Prove these facts in your own home, with a free ten-day trial of one of the beautiful new 1935 Coolerators.

HOME MODELS FROM $30 TO $150
There's an air conditioned Coolerator for every budget. Larger models for commercial use. Ask us to explain how Coolerator reduces refrigerating costs.

ICE CUBES IN FIVE MINUTES!
All plenty of them—crystal-clear, taste-free—turned out at a moment's notice by clever, patented ice cube.

NO NEED TO COVER DISHES
Even better won't pick up strange odors in containers. Covering dishes or wrapping food is no longer necessary!

A JOY FOREVER
Beautiful Dulux finish withstands even hammer blows. This costly dress is worn by EVERY Coolerator model.

ACCEPT FREE 10-DAY TRIAL—We'll gladly place in your home a new Coolerator model of your own choice. Try for 10 days without cost or obligation.
