

Federal Works Program Given City Officials

Only Communities Where There is Little Work To Get Benefit

At a meeting of public officials held in Lansing on Friday and Saturday, May 17th and 18th, which was attended by City Manager L. P. Cookingham, some preliminary facts were obtained relative to the public works program which is soon to be announced.

From the information obtained at the meeting last week, it is apparent that the projects will be divided into four classifications, namely:

- 1. Federal Projects, which will be handled entirely by Federal organizations.
2. Non-Federal Projects, which will be handled by local units of government under the FWA set-up and will be constructed on a loan and grant basis.
3. Work-Relief Projects, which will be handled by local governments and be financed by out-right grants.
4. Administrative Expense Projects, which will be Federal Government Projects that cover the cost of administration of the work done under the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1935.

It is quite possible that the federal projects will receive the first allotment and will be the first to get under way. The Non-Federal Projects, granted under the FWA set-up, on a loan and grant basis, will probably be the next in line for approval by the federal government.

The third type, or the work-relief projects, will probably follow. The first two will be handled by local governmental units under the supervision and direction of Federal and State agencies. These projects will be granted on the basis of the available relief labor in any community and will absorb labor which has not been taken up by the first two classifications.

According to a bulletin received by the city of Plymouth this week from the Division of Applications and Information of the National Emergency Council, projects will be allowed in accordance with the terms of the fundamental principals outlined by the President recently. These fundamental principals are as follows:

- (a) The project should be useful.
(b) Projects shall be of a national character.

Proclamation

To the Citizens of Plymouth: At this season of the year our thoughts turn to the men who have given their lives and services to our government in times of war. The present is a fitting time to aid and honor those who have been maimed and wounded, and who will never again enjoy the enjoyment of healthful living in behalf of these veterans, the annual Poppy Day program has been provided.

The Myron H. Beals Post of the American Legion, assisted by the Ex-Servicemen's Club of Plymouth, will sell the streets of this city, Saturday, May 25, 1935, poppies made by the wounded and disabled veterans of the last war.

As Mayor of the City of Plymouth, I hereby proclaim Saturday, May 25, 1935, Poppy Day and urge all who feel able, to buy a poppy from a veteran. By so doing you will help make life a little more pleasant for some unfortunate defender of our Country, who is handicapped by reason of his war service.

ARTHUR E. BLUNK, Mayor.

AMERICANISM WEEK 1935

Annually The American Legion, Department of Michigan, composed of 45,000 Legionnaires and members of its auxiliary, have devoted the week prior to Memorial Day to Americanism in our work, while Americanism in our State by the press, by the radio, in the schools, and in the pulpit. And annually The American Legion and its Auxiliary of this State have climaxed the observance of this Americanism week with its annual sale to the public of the poppy flower, the proceeds of which sale go to their disabled comrades in the Veterans Administration Hospital of this State, and to aid the Legion and Auxiliary in their welfare activities in behalf of needy veterans and their families of Michigan.

Therefore, in full sympathy with the worthwhileness of the program for the inculcation of a fine spirit of Americanism in our citizenry, and cognizant of the obligations of the American Legion for the care of those who served their country in time of war, as Governor of the State of Michigan, I hereby proclaim the

DO YOU know what became of lovely Betty Bronson, who first gained film fame with her portrayal of "Peter Pan"? Here she is, in private life Mrs. Ludwig Lauerhass, with her son, Ludwig, Jr. Betty doesn't miss the glamor of the cinema but is now a devoted mother and housewife.

Streets Will Be Oiled By City In The Near Future

All Dirt Streets To Be Treated Within The Near Future

At the city commission meeting held last Monday night the city manager was authorized to secure quotations on two trucks of road oil to be used on the unpaved streets of the city. Although a shortage of funds is facing the city at the present time, it was decided by the city commission that unpaved streets should be given an immediate treatment of oil.

A petition for the oiling of one street was received by the city commission on Monday evening, and several calls have been received at the city hall requesting that the dust situation be taken care of immediately. Because of the fact that any treatment applied on the street is much more effective when the ground is warm than when it is at the present temperature, it has been decided to delay the application of oil until sometime after the first of June. One application of oil will cost between $1500.00 and $2000.00; therefore, the city commission wants to be absolutely sure that the most effective job possible will be done.

Under present plans the two tank cars of oil will be received a few days apart, so that a portion of the streets can be taken care of and opened to traffic before the second is received. An effort will be made to notify property owners through The Plymouth Mail the exact date when the oiling will take place in order that all cars can be kept off the street for a period of four or five hours while the oil is penetrating.

No traffic should be allowed on any newly oiled street until it has had an opportunity to thoroughly soak in. This will insure a much better job, and car owners will avoid the nuisance of having tar or oil splashed onto their cars.

Although the financial condition of the city is not at its best at the present moment, the city commission felt that the interest of local citizens in abating the dust nuisance should be taken care of before some of the other obligations of the city. It may be necessary, in order to carry out this program, to delay payment on one of the bond issues for two or three weeks. Local citizens can be assured that before the middle of June practically all of the built-up streets in the city will be given a treatment of road oil.

Theatre Summer Schedule June 2

Manager Harry Lush of the Penniman theatre today announced that the summer schedule of the theatre would start on Sunday, June 2. There are only two slight changes in the bookings, after June 2nd there will be no Sunday afternoon matinees for the remainder of the summer or no shows on Tuesday nights. Except for these two minor alterations in the weekly schedule, there will be two shows each night as usual. Motion picture lovers have some excellent shows booked ahead for them.

week of May 19th to 25th as Americanism Week and endorse the American Legion's program for Poppy Day. Signed, Frank D. Fitzgerald, Governor.

Galin Back From Washington--He Tells of Bonus

Has Favorable Comment On Position Taken By Vandenburg

David Galin, active Plymouth world war veteran who has been intensely interested in all congressional legislation pertaining to veterans and who went to Washington a few days ago bearing letters from both the American Legion post and the Ex-Servicemen's club of Plymouth to Senators Arthur Vandenberg and James Couzens, has returned to Plymouth with a changed viewpoint pertaining to the bonus question.

"I believe that every man who had anything to do with the service during the World War should get his bonus but I am convinced that Senator Vandenberg is possibly right in the position he has taken about the bill that the President vetoed. I see this measure in an entirely different light than before I went to Washington," stated Mr. Galin.

"There is no need for me or anyone else to tell of Senator Vandenberg's loyal support of anything that is for the benefit of the World War veterans. We know his record and we know that he is absolutely sincere in the position he takes on these matters. While he is a Republican and I am a Democrat, that makes no difference. I have always been willing to give every man his due, and Senator Vandenberg is entitled to the best of credit for his fairness and the earnestness of the position he takes," said Mr. Galin.

"I have always been told that there are two sides to every question and that is to this question, however Senator Vandenberg has suggested the right kind of a bonus bill and one that will be fair to the veterans and the country. He is sure that if it is introduced that it can be passed without question, even over the President's veto."

Mr. Galin also had a brief interview with Senator Couzens about the question. He returned home feeling that there will be enacted within the next year or so a bonus bill that will be acceptable to both the veterans and those who were opposed to it but that President Roosevelt has just vetoed.

Saturday Will Be Poppy Day Here

Saturday is Poppy Day in Plymouth. A small army of former service men and their ladies auxiliaries will be waiting to offer to you their little flower, the red poppy that brave bloom that waved so gallantly and sprang so manfully from the mud and carnage of Flanders fields to cheer the hearts of the shell torn soldiers fighting there and to mark the resting places of the myriads who gave their all for their flag and their fatherland.

The combined forces of the Myron H. Beals Post and the Ex-Servicemen's club will serve you this year and offer the poppies made in the Legion Hospital by the men who can no longer be with their comrades in the great outside. Think of them when you buy, and thinking of them, sitting so patiently day after day, week after week, and year after year in our Government Hospitals unable to do ought but fashion

This City Will Profit By Big Ford Pay Boost

Again Leads Industry In Giving Workers Biggest Boost

Several thousands of dollars each week will be poured into Plymouth business circles as the result of the minimum six dollar a day boost just given every Ford factory employe in this vicinity as well as Dearborn and elsewhere.

The Mail has been advised that the increase which became effective Tuesday and provides a minimum wage of $6 per day for every Ford worker does not exempt any one and that every Ford employe in the Plymouth plant, the Nankin mills plant, the Waterford plant, at Northville and at the new plant at Newbury as soon as it is placed in operation will benefit by the raise. In some cases the pay raise means much more than $6 per day for workers.

In addition to the nearly 600 people who are employed by the Ford Motor company in these plants, there are a number of men from Plymouth and vicinity who are working in the Rouge plant and they too will benefit by the raise. Roughly estimated the Ford pay raise will bring into Plymouth and this part of Wayne county nearly $4,000 in additional pay roll money each week.

According to information given out at the Dearborn offices of the company the pay raise for all Ford employes adds something like $2,000,000 a month to the Ford pay roll.

The statement issued in behalf of the Ford company pertaining to the raise states: "A statement on behalf of the company, issued Tuesday by N. W. Ayer & Sons, Inc., advertising agency, follows:

"The Ford Motor Co. announced today that it has restored the $6-a-day minimum wage, which is back to the Ford wage level of 1926. All employes receiving the present minimum of $5 a day will be raised to $6, an increase of 20 per cent, and many of the wage brackets above the new minimum will be given hourly rate advances from 5 cents upward.

"The average wage paid will be considerably above $6. Both Ford and Lincoln shops are included in the new minimum. A total of 128,000 employes (Continued on Page Seven)

Thomas B. Davis Dies at Age of 97

Thomas B. Davis, 97 years of age, for years one of the most enthusiastic anglers of Michigan, died early Thursday morning at his home, 861 Williams street after a brief illness. He was the grandfather of William T. Pettengill and had lived in Plymouth over twenty years following his retirement as a general merchant. The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Schrader Bros. Funeral home. Rev. Walter Nichol officiating. Burial will take place in the cemetery at Wayne.

Girl Killed In Auto Accident

When some unknown automobile driver cut his car in front of the machine driven by Wayne Parker, 19 years old of 1950 Elaine avenue, Detroit, the Parker machine was forced into the ditch near the intersection of Territorial road and the South Lyon road Tuesday night about 10:30 and Miss Marion Weaver, 20 years old of 1995 Pullerton avenue was so badly injured that she died a few hours later in Sessions hospital at Northville. The Schrader Bros. ambulance from Plymouth was called to the scene of the accident and hurried the girl to Sessions hospital where she was found that her skull was fractured.

Parker told Chief of Police William Safford that the automobile that hit his front wheel swerved slightly on the road, but continued at high speed down the highway.

His own car was turned completely over and in the crash the girl was fatally injured. Parker escaped with a few minor cuts and bruises. The combined forces of the Myron H. Beals Post and the Ex-Servicemen's club will serve you this year and offer the poppies made in the Legion Hospital by the men who can no longer be with their comrades in the great outside. MEMORIAL DAY

It's the Old Soldiers' Day and they're coming down the street With a band and the flag that they follow once again. There's a roll of the drums and the steady crunch of feet In their ranks swinging by who one time were fighting men. There they are in their blue and their tin hats and O D. In their youth and their age, for their canes are aiding some; And the whole town is out and the kiddies shriek with glee As the old soldiers march to the cadence of the drum. And some were there at Gettysburg and some at San Juan, And some went roaring forward in the steel-swept, mad Argonne. And some still hold the ground they won within the red Argonne.

Delinquent Dog Owners Look Out!

If the few dog owners of Plymouth who have not paid the licenses for this year have any idea that they are going to escape payment, they have another guess coming from what could be learned at Monday night's city commission meeting. City manager Perry Cookingham had prepared a report, showing the payment of dog taxes during the past year and there was on the list about twenty who have not settled. The dog ordinance provides a penalty for those who do not pay.

The new licenses will be due for the next year within the immediate future. Those who have not paid for the past year will be billed for last year as well as the new year. If the remittances are not immediately forthcoming from these delinquents, the city attorney has been instructed to take immediate action against those who have kept dogs and have not paid the licenses.

Over 300 dog owners of Plymouth have paid and city officials believe that those who have not paid will do so when they find out that prosecutions will follow if the licenses are not paid for the past year. Merely the payment the next year in these cases will not suffice.

Thieves Brake Into Gas Station

Deputies from the sheriff's office in Detroit have so far secured no clue to the guilty parties who last Friday night broke into the Hi-Speed gas station at the corner of South Main street and Ann Arbor road. Sometime during the night one of the windows was smashed and the place entered, the thieves taking away six new tires, some 50 spark plugs, numerous cartons of cigarettes, cigars and many other small articles. Some excellent finger prints were secured and officers will have no difficulty in establishing identification once arrests have been made.

Early Copy Please Newburg's Big Show On Tonight

Thursday of next week is Memorial Day. This is the publication day of The Plymouth Mail, but so that all of the employes of this newspaper may join with the nation in the general observance of this important holiday, it will be necessary for the paper to be published one day early. We urge our advertisers and our correspondents and all others who have news and notices for the paper to kindly get as much of it in by Monday as possible. However copy will be accepted Tuesday—but it will be more than appreciated if most of it can be sent to the office by Monday.

Grade Children Give Operettas

The pupils of Central school presented the three-act operetta, "Hansel and Gretel," by Humperdink, in the auditorium of the high school Thursday evening, May 23. Children of the Stark-weather school will repeat this performance next Tuesday evening, May 28, beginning at 7.15 o'clock, in the high school auditorium.

Those who took part last Thursday were Norman Pearsall, Hansel; Mary Jane Olsaver, Gretel; James Zuckerman, the father; and Ardith Rowland, who portrayed both the witch and the mother. A large chorus was made up of the rest of the grade school students. Next Tuesday evening the main characters will be James Shingler, Hansel; Nancy Dunham, Gretel; Charles Crumm, the father; Bob Daly, the witch, and Elaine Locke, the mother. Much work has been put forth by Miss Henry, the director; Norma Jean Roe and Miss Cavanaugh, accompanists; Miss Weatherhead and Miss Blader, who planned the costumes; Miss Kees, director of the dances; and Miss Fry, who was in charge of the scenery. These entertainments were sponsored by the PTA's of both schools.

Monument Will Be Unveiled On Decoration Day

Plymouth Ready To Honor Veterans of The World War

Memorial Day observance this year in Plymouth will center around the new monument erected in Kellogg Park, on which will be placed three bronze tablets commemorating the soldiers of three wars. These tablets were designed and placed by the Ex-Servicemen's Club of Plymouth, the membership of which is drawn from the ranks of all United States and Allied Wars, together with representatives of the Regular Army and the Navy, the Coast Guard Service and other peacetime services.

All the tablets are 16 in. x 26 in. in size, one for the Grand Army of the Republic, one for the United Spanish War Veterans and one for the World War Veterans. The World War tablet has inscribed the names of the boys from Plymouth who died in service in 1917 and 1918.

The line of march, led by the massed P.H.S. and Community bands and the 3rd Squadron, 106th Cavalry will form on Church street in front of the high school and proceed on Main street to Kellogg Park where the Memorial Services and unveiling will be held.

The speaker of the day will be the Rev. Walter Nichol, whose theme will be built around the Plymouth of earlier days and the sturdy settlers sons, who went forth at Lincoln's call to preserve the Union and their grandsons and great-grandsons who answered the call of McKinley and Wilson.

It is expected that a majority of Plymouth citizens will all be on hand to do honor to these heroes and to help dedicate the only monument in the history of Plymouth erected to her sons who fell in their Country's service.

No one, especially those who have erected this monument and who have themselves seen the hardships and horrors of war, have the wish to glorify war for war's sake, but they do wish to keep in memory the spirit of sacrifice and patriotism displayed by the pioneers who built Plymouth and the State of Michigan and did not hesitate to defend the work of their hands and heart.

Try Case At City Hall Monday Eve

Pleading not guilty to a charge of violating the transient merchants ordinance of Plymouth when arraigned before Justice Arthur S. Nichols of Northville Wednesday forenoon, the trial of Mrs. Carolyn O. Dayton will take place Monday evening at 7 o'clock in the city hall of Plymouth. The trial will take place in this city due to the insistence of Mrs. Dayton that the case be heard in Plymouth.

Mrs. Dayton who for the past two or three years has had rented a portion of the basement in the library building for a small eating place, sometime ago decided to open it up. The city ordinance provides that the operator of any new business place in Plymouth shall pay a license fee of $20 per year until the property is on the assessment roll. This Mrs. Dayton has refused to do, declaring that she has been a resident of this city for a great many years and that she is not a "transient merchant" and that the city has not collected the fees from other new business places that have opened up since the ordinance was passed in August, 1933.

Install Chimes At Funeral Home

One of the large pipe organ companies has recently completed the installation of some chimes in the Schrader Bros. funeral home in Plymouth. The beautiful tones have been heard recently during the funeral services. Funeral services that have taken place in this funeral home. They are played directly from the organ board by Mrs. O'Conner, well known Plymouth pipe organist.

Plymouth probably has one of the most complete and finest funeral homes of any place in Michigan, not excluding some of the larger cities. Fred D. Schrader its owner, has never failed to install the latest of anything that has been devised which in the slightest adds to the perfection of his funeral home.

Sunday Service For Veterans

The American Legion and the Ex-Servicemen's club together with the Ladies Auxiliaries from each organization will be the honored guests at St. John's Episcopal church on Sunday morning, May 26th at a Memorial Service. The speaker will be the Venerable Leonard P. Hagger, Arch-Deacon of the Diocese of Michigan assisted by A. F. Plant, Lay reader

CONGRATULATIONS

It was with real pleasure that in looking over the names of the various representatives in the state legislature it was noted that Dr. Edward Fisher of this district was one who had voted against the notorious dog racing bill. It is difficult to believe that such a measure will pass the senate but in these days of political hi-jacking and log-rolling you can expect most anything from a legislative group. Again congratulations, Dr. Fisher.

CCC POLITICS

The newly elected congressional representative Fred Crawford of Saginaw made the "startling" discovery the other day that there was politics in the CCC allotment of the good supervisory jobs. Of course the congressman is new in Washington but if he will turn some of the pages back a couple of years he will find that there hasn't been ONE thing done in Washington that didn't have for its intent some political benefit somewhere. A little slow, Congressman, but nevertheless your new findings are based upon facts, it appears.

MEMORIAL DAY

This Memorial Day is not merely a holiday, but rather a holy day, it is our All Saint's Day, sacred to the memory of the glorified dead who consecrated themselves to their country. It is well that, in the hurry and press of our times, when the higher soul within us is choked and stifled by the more sordid cares of the hour, by the selfish struggle for place and self, we should pause for a period to dwell upon the memory of the illustrious dead who gave their lives for their country, and who typify that higher and truer Americanism which lies within us still, dormant, and latent indeed, yet ready to spring again to the surface whenever the needs of the country issue a new call to arms. It is well that we should do them the honor which honors ourselves in the doing. They laid the world away; poured out the rich, Sweet wine of youth; gave up the years to be Of work and joy, and that unhopied serene Which men call age; and those who would have been Their sons they gave, their immortality. Bid us remember in what hour they gave All that mankind may give. That we might live.

SENATOR MOORE

The Detroit News and some of the other big newspapers of the state are finding out all about the Senator Moore's tax evasion schemes some two years after The Plymouth Mail revealed it all to its readers. Any one who ever took the time to study out the Moore bills as originally introduced into the legislature know one thing, that they had for their object benefit only to the tax evaders. Mr. Moore, as it was stated in The Mail two years ago, is personally interested in the legislation he claims is for the benefit of all the people—but, if it should pass, it will profit him to the extent of something like $9,000 or $10,000. Well that is something to work for after all, even if it is at the expense of the fellow who pays his taxes.

AN INEXCUSABLE APPOINTMENT

It was with the greatest of surprise and keenest of disappointment that 17th congressional district admirers of Governor Fitzgerald read of the appointment by the Governor the other day of Clyde Fenner as a member of the Wayne county jury commission. Not only did Lansing news dispatches carry a report of his appointment to this responsible place, but news reports also told of the awarding to Fenner of the exclusive sale to the liquor commission of a new label for all liquor bottles sold by the state that will be pasted over the corks from now on. This business for which Fenner is the agent will reap him a fair sized fortune each year he has the contract.

But it is the recognition of Fenner by an important appointment that galls Republicans in this part of the state. Fenner has been a Democrat until Comstock and other party leaders refused to recognize him as a member of that party. He was a candidate in the recent Democratic primary for congress in this district and during that campaign he spilled forth more venom against Republicanism and Republican leaders than all the rest of the Democrats of the state put together. After his defeat by the Democrats in their primary, he organized a political party of his own which went flop and as far as known he has never been anything but a sort of hit and miss political lobbyist. His so-called Forgotten Men's Club (at so much per) sent out an endorsement of both Lacy and Fitzgerald in the last campaign.

Possibly all of this favoritism to Fenner is explained by the revelation that Fenner is a nephew of Dave Crowley, the Governor's Wayne county representative. Being an attorney, Crowley would naturally be interested in the membership of the Wayne county jury commission. The unfortunate part of the whole affair is that the appointment only adds something more for the Republicans to try and explain during the next state election which is approaching all too fast.

Rambling Around With Michigan Editors

NOT A BIG LAUGH

A bill to do away with the office of Governor and that of the other elected heads of State departments, they to be substituted by a five-man board with power to hire a manager to run the State was greeted by guffaws and treated lightly by our State Legislature. It was treated as a joke. There is more of serious concern than humor in the suggestion and Representative P. Dean Morley of New Troy, introducer of the measure, is far in advance of present day thought when he proposed submitting such a constitutional change to the electorate, and one will not be far amiss when predicting that the time will come when a change of this kind will receive serious consideration. That it has never been tried is no reason that the managerial form of government cannot be made applicable to the State the same as to a city unit. In fact the short ballot which has been advocated in many States and which many in Michigan now favor, is a long step in that direction.

CUT CREDIT TIME

Why not a law prohibiting credit beyond 60 or 90 days, or, on longer time, limited to 25% of the debtor's assets over and above all other liabilities and exemptions. What an improvement there would be in every community. Nearly every merchant who gives credit (and many are seeking an opportunity to sell on the installment plan) has hundreds of dollars in accounts on his books that can be never collected. Saving the money with which to buy an article and buying it after enough is saved will create a better judgment in making one's purchases. Some people are flattered by the offer of credit and exceed the bounds of good judgment. Some buy on the expectation of increased salary, income from other sources, and to take advantage of a bargain they "will never have a gain" and giving no thought to sickness hospital bill, increased expenses in other ways, and depressions that have a habit of hitting us occasionally, making it impossible to meet the obligations contracted with more optimism than forethought.—H. "WAITAH! I DON'T LIKE THIS MEAT"

I was reading the other day where the advance guard of the Alaskan settlers that are being sent to that country by the benevolence of the federal government, complained that the dining car service on the train was not what they thought it should be. They revolted because the bread served them was already buttered and they complained because the variety of meats served on the car was not extensive enough to suit them. But to me the amusing part, if one can really feel amused at the evidence of arrogance and un-American spirit displayed, was their reasons. They "believed that their rights had been assailed and they were willing to get off the train in the middle of the desert, unless they might have what they believed was their right to have." Think of that, you people, who have striven these years of your life to build up an independent course of action in keeping with the forefathers who made this nation and who must pay the bill out of your savings—a parcel of people, many of whom are making the trip simply for the novelty of the affair and all of whom are taking advantage of a silly extravagance on the part of our welfare innovations, complaining because their dining car service isn't what they think it ought to be! Is this the road that the "more abundant life" is traveling? If it is it doesn't take any one endowed with the gift of prophecy to tell where it's going to lead to. If the federal welfare department had projected a program to place people upon lands in this upper peninsula and do for them half of what they are doing for these people they are sending to Alaska there would be some sense to it. If a man can't make a living on a piece of good land in the upper peninsula he certainly can't make it on a piece of land in Alaska. The whole thing is arranged for spectacular effect. We know some of the so called "settlers" that are going to Alaska and our bet is that they'll be back inside of a year if their relatives will send them the money to get back with Trappers don't make farmers in Alaska any more than they do in Michigan.—Thomas Conlin in The Crystal Falls Diamond Drill.

Understanding World Affairs Possible Inflation

By Mark Sullivan

The country is passing through another period in which thought about possible inflation is conspicuous in newspapers and market places. By possible "inflation" as the word is used here, is meant an extravagant rise in prices, whether due to fiat currency or to a great and sudden expansion of credit.

The present flare-up about inflation goes far further than the one which arose about November, 1933, but not so far as the first, which blazed up about the time the country went off the gold standard in April and June, 1933.

In any outburst of attention upon possible inflation, and in inflation itself, a material element is mass psychology. Granted the right conditions—and many of these conditions exist—the expectation of inflation, if widespread enough, creates the thing expected. The present thought about possible inflation includes the element of psychology to a greater degree than in the previous periods.

Partly as cause and partly as effect, at least four incidents have contributed to the psychological part of the present wave. Three important public officials, Governor of the Federal Reserve Eccles, chairman of RFC Jones and Senator McCadoo, who was formerly Democratic Secretary of the Treasury, have all spoken of the Federal bonus bill, which would be direct inflation of the currency, as a thing that would do no great harm. Such expressions reflect a spirit of tolerance of inflation in those who make the statements and have a tendency to give rise to inflationary psychology among those who read them.

The sum of many contributing factors is put in words by a fiscal authority of high standing, D. E. W. Kemmerer, of Princeton, who, testifying before a Senate committee, said that with respect to inflation America is "on the brink of a volcano." The meaning is that the country is in danger of widespread apprehension that the purchasing power of the dollar may fall seriously, leading people to get rid of dollars by using them to buy goods and stocks, and leading thus to a rapid and violent rise in prices to extreme heights, which would be inflation.

For any one to say under these circumstances that inflation is not likely, would be very rash. The truth is that the forces making for inflation are stronger than the forces operating to hold it in check.

Yet there are forces and conditions which tend to avert inflation. One is the possibility, suggested by Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau, that the nations of the world may get together and agree upon a stable relation of their respective currencies. Such a stabilization would not only minimize the dangers of inflation in America and elsewhere, it would be, without qualification, the most wholesome one step that can be taken toward remaking a normal and orderly world.

The question now is whether anything will be done in response to Secretary Morgenthau's gesture of willingness to stabilize. If progress is made upon the reasonably near future, we shall probably avert not only inflation but other dangers equally serious. But, if, after Mr. Morgenthau's gesture, nothing is done, the world after a little while will be apt to conclude that stabilization is impossible or far distant. If that state of mind should arise throughout the world, the consequences might be serious. One consequence would be to increase the likelihood of inflation in America.

The present situation about stabilization of currencies is much like that preceding the World War. Competitive reduction of the values of currencies is indeed a kind of war, a war of prices. In July, 1914, as now, the statesmen of each country practically all believed that war was imminent and that it should be averted. But then, as now, they were unable to come to the agreements that would avert war.

There is in America another possible condition that would work against inflation. NRA expires June 16. If it should be renewed, prices of manufactured goods would tend to go on a competitive basis. Even if, as now seems probable, NRA should be renewed with all "intrastate" business exempted, the same result, competitive prices, would be likely to follow for a much larger proportion of business is "intrastate" than is commonly supposed.

NRA as it exists is largely a price-maintaining or price-raising institution, both as respects manufactured goods and wage rates. With NRA suspended, or with intrastate business exempted from NRA, nominal wage rates would be likely to go down, though real wages in the form of purchasing power would not. If a general tendency toward lower prices and wages were brought about by suspension of NRA there would be less reason for the high prices of farm crops maintained by triple A, and that, too, might go over the dam.

In short, there is at least a possibility of the crumbling of the whole structure of Mr. Roosevelt's "planned economy," with the result that prices of everything would seek their natural relation to each other. There is a school which believes strongly that this condition would be the basis of a true and prolonged prosperity. Planned economy has definitely lost favor both in Congress and in the country. Even a general tendency toward lower prices would be a force working against inflation in the sense of a violent rise in prices to extreme heights.

The First Memorial Day Proclamation

"We should guard their graves with sacred vigilance. All that the consecrated wealth and taste of the nation can add to their adornment and security is but a fitting tribute to the memory of their sinned defenders.

"Let no wanton foot tread rudely on such hallowed grounds; let pleasant paths invite the coming and going of revered visitors and fond mourners; let no vandalism of avarice or neglect, no ravages of time, testify to the present or to the coming generations, that we have forgotten as a people the cost of a free and undivided republic."

"If other eyes grow dull and other hands slack and other hearts cold in the solemn trust ours shall keep it well as long as the light and warmth of life remain to us.

"Let us, then, gather round their sacred remains and garland the passionless mounds above them with the choicest flowers of springtime; let us raise above them the dear old flag they saved from dishonor; let us in this solemn presence renew our pledges to aid and assist those whom they have left among us as a sacred charge upon a nation's gratitude—the soldiers' and sailors' widow and orphan."—From an order issued May 5, 1866 by Commander-in-Chief John A. Logan of the G.A.R.

Northville Team Here on Sunday

The Northville Wolverines will meet the Plymouth Schradler-Haggerty in the second game of the series, Sunday, May 26th, at Plymouth-Riverside Park.

Saturday, May 25th, Plymouth will start their schedule of Saturday afternoon games by having the Paris Cleaners of Detroit as the opposing team. Paris Cleaners is a member of the Class A division of the Detroit Baseball Federation.

The local club is promoting the Saturday afternoon games so as to bring to the local baseball fans the privilege of seeing the best teams of Detroit in action.

Both Saturday and Sunday games will begin at 3 p.m.

In the Plymouth-Northville game played at Northville last Sunday, Plymouth was defeated by the score of 11 to 4. Plymouth's seven errors was the main factor in their setback.

George Bowers started on the mound for Plymouth and was relieved in the second inning after blowing five hits for a total of seven runs. Harold Kunkin finished the game allowing five hits in seven innings.

Lee Burrell, a large southpaw went the route for Northville pitching fine baseball.

Charles Wolfrom drove out a home run in the first inning with the bases loaded, Raymond Westphall connected for a triple driving in two of Plymouth's four runs in the third inning.

Profits and Loss In Chain Letters

Plagues have frequently swept the country but never so fast as did the chain letter bug that hit Plymouth a few days ago and within 24 hours had infected everyone in town.

Stories of fabulous sums made by various individuals seemed to be the incentive but stories of how Joe Doe and Bill Easy had been "taken in" failed to stop the infection speed.

Some did make a fairly good cleaning, with Walter Faber holding the bag containing the most checks. Late accounts said he had "cleaned" up more than $40. Margaret Dunning was some $20 to the good. Dr. Paul Butz, Mrs. Walter Harms, John Blckanstadt and others had reaped in fair totals. Glenn Smith admitted he sent out $1 but had received only $2 in return. Roy Fisher, Max Moon and 4,492 other people up and down the streets didn't say just how much they had made or lost.

Doctors say that the chain-letter "bug" is of short life and that the epidemic which has been sweeping Plymouth for ten days will probably end by the end of another day or two.

New Park Team Wins First Game

The Plymouth Park baseball team won the opening game of the season Sunday at Plymouth Riverside park, with a fairly good sized crowd present to witness the contest.

Tonkovich's home run in the first inning started Plymouth Park off on the road to victory over the Highland Park Orioles last Sunday at Riverside Park by the score of 11 to 4.

The leading hitter of the day for Plymouth was Tonkovich who got two hits out of three trips to the plate.

Bassett started on the mound and was relieved by Sinta in the seventh inning.

Next Sunday at 1 p. m. the Plymouth Park team engages the league leading Wyandotte team at Riverside Park.

Decoration Day finds Plymouth Park at home against Hazel Park game starting at 1:00 o'clock.

Building Beautiful Home Out in Rosedale

Among the many new homes being built in this part of Wayne county is one in Rosedale Gardens for Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Shierk of Dearborn. They have under erection on Ingram boulevard just off Chicago boulevard a large, one story residence with garage annexed that will be completed late in the summer.

The new home will be one of the most complete and beautiful in that fast growing section. Mr. Shierk has for years been the Michigan representative of the Miehle Printing Press Manufacturing company of Chicago.

Legislature To Quit and Go Home

By FRANK D. BROWN, Special Correspondent

A certainty now exists that shortly after this week's column reaches its readers that the 58th regular session of the Michigan legislature will become a matter of history. The coming week is expected to produce a much welcomed adjournment and thereby finish will be written to a record which in practical accomplishment has meant little or nothing to the people of the state. This legislature like its predecessor has been embroiled in political and patronage squabbles to such an extent that the quality of work turned out has suffered materially. This session will probably be remembered as the one in which came the "do-nothing" session; a serious indictment of the private and political interests that have been in the saddle and have ridden high while it lasted.

The Senate early in the week adopted a resolution setting May 15 as adjournment day. The resolution was introduced to the House where an attempt was made to give it immediate consideration. It has, however, shunted to the House rules committee where it has remained pending for several days. Important bills including the PWA enabling bills demanded by the democrats. Indications are that the resolution will make its appearance early next week and while the actual date may be altered by a few days, it is now conceded that the session will not continue much beyond the 28th.

Efforts to effect a recess rather than an adjournment have been abandoned by the democratic leaders in the House who a week ago were quite active in stirring up sentiment in favor of such a procedure. The past week has brought about the "surface-healing" of some of the sore spots which existed between the governor, the democrats and the insurgent republicans. Lieut. Gov. Tom Read and his coterie of "young" republican senators have sought to make peace with the executive office and for the first time during the session there appears to be a semblance of unity and harmony among the several factions. Though too late to do any good, evidently there is a desire to part as friends.

Continuing his efforts to keep legislative appropriations within the scope of anticipated revenues, Gov. Fitzgerald has sent a special message to the lawmakers pointing out that already more than eight million dollars has been voted over and above all possible income for the next biennium. Determined to balance the budget, the executive intimates that if necessary he will exercise the full extent of his authority. This is taken to mean that he will veto certain appropriations if necessary to fulfill his earlier pledges of curtailing governmental expense and thwarting the levying of new taxes.

The controversial and much discussed school-aid bill which has occupied the center of the stage almost from the start of the session is now only one step removed from becoming law. Both houses have finally been able to agree on its many complex provisions and have laid it on the governor's desk for his signature. In its final form, the measure provides for a $22,500,000 appropriation, a figure half way between that proposed by the governor and that insisted upon by the school people of the state. Although the sum is two and a half million over that which Gov. Fitzgerald declared would be the maximum amount he would approve, it is believed he will sign it.

Among the provisions of the measure are the following:

1. Provides for an appropriation of $36,040,000 for 1935-36 less the primary fund estimated at $13,800,000 to $14,400,000.
2. Provides for an appropriation of $37,400,000 less the primary fund for 1936-37.
3. Sets up a continuing appropriation for each year thereafter of $38,000,000 annually less the primary fund.
4. Requires local units of government to levy at least two and one-half mills to come under the benefits of the act.
5. Sets aside 11 per cent of the total appropriation yearly as an equalization fund to help needy districts unable to provide the minimum education program of $48 for each elementary child and $65 for each high school child.
6. Creates allowances for transportation for rural districts voting to close, thus encouraging voluntary reorganization of school districts in the interests of economy.
7. Limits the use of state aid to operating expense.
8. Gives township and rural agricultural school districts transportation aid up to $40 per child and an increase in the amount of aid allowed for elementary children. Additional allotments for township districts maintaining outlying schools is also provided.
9. Requires payment of high school tuition costs by the state direct to the districts.

The dispute over the exemption of certain items from the sales tax is nearing a solution although it has been definitely decided by the adverse vote of the Senate that foodstuffs will not be placed on the free list. The only exemptions provided as the bill now stands take in farm seeds, fertilizers, feed for farm animals and items consumed in the process of manufacturing articles for resale.

Aid for property owners who have found it impossible to keep abreast of their tax payments is provided for in a measure which received the governor's signature this week. The time for paying 1934 and 1934 assessments without penalty has been extended to November 1. The new law sets a collection fee of four percent whereas under the general tax laws penalties and interest charges have amounted to as much as 14 percent.

The name of Jackson prison has been changed by final action of the legislature on a proposal designating the institution as "The State Prison of Southern Michigan." The measure was urged by the business interests of the city of Jackson who have objected to having their community referred to as the "prison city."

Work on the old age pension and welfare appropriation bills is being rushed to get under the adjournment deadline. The House has appropriated five million a year for old age pensions and ten million for state welfare relief. Senate amendments later cut the old age pension fund to two million and the welfare fund to eight million. The bills are now in conference committees with the likelihood existing that the figures may be raised to the original levels.

Emerging from the House taxation committee a few days ago is a joint resolution which would submit to the voters next year a proposed income tax amendment to the state constitution. Revenue from a graduated tax, it is variously estimated would increase the state's revenues by as much as eight to fifteen million dollars annually. The resolution has a proviso that not less than one-third of the money so raised should go to finance the old age pensions and welfare relief, and another third to school aid.

As the legislature swings into the final week both houses are angling for the advantage in the last-minute jam which always occurs. The House is attempting to hold back Senate bills until the Senate has acted on House measures. Likewise the Senate is disposed to consider its own bills before it does those originating in the House. In the end the large part of all remaining bills will pass by the boards.

Will Give Three Autos This Year

Directors of the Northville-Wayne county fair association are going to do things in a big way over at the nearby fair this year. It was decided at the meeting of the fair board the other night to give away three automobiles this year, one on each night of the fair. Last year one automobile was given away on the last night and it drew a tremendous crowd.

There will also be a complete change in the acts that are to be offered this year and Harry Robinson and Marvin Sloan who are working on the horse race program hope to offer the best series of races the fair has had in years.

Secretary Floyd Northrop reported much more interest in the fair than he has noted in many previous seasons.

New Books of Modern Poetry at Library

The ninth annual celebration of Poetry week is being held this week with the "Golden Scroll" medal of honor presented to "The outstanding poet of the nation," and a scholarship award made. William Rose Benet, Robert Coftin and Audrey Wurdemann, Pulitzer Prize winner for this year, will broadcast their poems during the week. Women's clubs and groups interested in poetry are giving over their meetings to readings from modern poetry.

Some of the modern poetry in the library is listed below:

Cavender's House, by Edwin Arlington Robinson.
Son of Earth, by Leonard Thurno's Landing, by Jeffers.

Tremendous Trifles

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON

COLD OR HOT?

IT'S a little tube about half the size of a steel knitting needle and about as round. It influences our behavior, our market, our clothes and our comfort. It's a thermometer for measure. It was a glass tube that was set in colored water. Galileo could hold the air with in his hand and find a measure of heat from his own body.

Up to 1640, however, there was no agreement as to what scale should be used on the fascinating instrument.

In 1714 Fahrenheit of Danzig evolved a scale, using the interval of 180 degrees. The freezing point of water was given as 32 degrees and the boiling point at 212 degrees.

This is the only invention that has such a background of universal cooperation from scientists of all nations.

Celsius proposed a scale in 1742 with a freezing point of water at 100 degrees and a boiling point at zero. These degrees were reversed some time later by Christian of Ljona and became the centigrade scale. It's a tremendous trifles—that little glass tube!

Makes Plea For Support of Band

Editor Plymouth Mail:

It will take one thousand dollars to support the Plymouth Band properly for the coming season. The state legislature stated about three years ago that money can be raised by taxation to support a band, but first it has to pass in the commission. The commission wants the band, but at the same time they have to do what the citizens of Plymouth want them to do. The proposition put up is that the commission should make a contract with the band to give twelve concerts during the summer. Another proposition is for the band to petition the taxpayers to support the band, then put the petition before the commission and if it passes the band would receive one thousand dollars for the support and maintenance. If the taxpayers vote for the band in this way it has been stated that each taxpayer would be assessed only twenty-one cents more per annum.

Last summer the band gave several concerts in town on Saturday nights. The musicians gave up many evenings for rehearsals and the concerts. After the musicians worked hard for a very small sum of money, they turned it all over to buy music and equipment, keeping out none for themselves. One thousand dollars would barely be enough to buy uniforms and sufficient music. The players are willing to give up many more evenings this summer just to see the band exist. Several playing engagements had to be refused last summer because the band didn't have uniforms.

The band is willing to give up more time for instruction. Now is this worth twenty-one cents to each tax payer? It certainly ought to be, because last summer there were large crowds at every concert, which proves that the people are interested in the band and should be willing to support it.

John E. Nash, 10A, a member of the band.

GORDON LEADS ROCK BATTERS

Jack Gordon, Plymouth's left fielder continues to lead Rock players in batting by amassing a 421 average. Two substitutes, Jack DeLaurier and Don Blessing, are the only other players holding a percentage over 300. This is an unusually poor year for the team's sluggers as eight regulars are batting below 300, the batting records of all Rock players are as follows:

The Big Demand of Truck Buyers Today is for Economy

IT PAYS 3 WAYS TO BUY CHEVROLETS

Today, when every wise buyer of trucks is particularly interested in getting dependable transportation at lowest cost, the money-saving advantages of Chevrolet Trucks have a particularly strong appeal. Truck buyer after truck buyer is discovering that it pays three ways to buy Chevrolets. And truck buyer after truck buyer is deciding to take advantage of the big savings which Chevrolet offers. You, too, will get better haulage service at lower cost by buying a Chevrolet Truck because of these triple economies:

1. Chevrolet Trucks sell at the world's lowest prices.
2. They use less gasoline and oil because they are powered by six-cylinder valve-in-head engines.
3. They give longer, more dependable service because of the extra quality which Chevrolet builds into every part of its products.

Visit your nearest Chevrolet dealer—this week. Have a thorough demonstration of the right Chevrolet Truck for your haulage needs. Buy a Chevrolet and get better truck performance at the world's lowest prices!

COOL TO PUT A • ELECTRIC RANGE IN YOUR KITCHEN on Trial* - - - - PROVE FOR YOURSELF THAT ELECTRIC COOKING IS COMFORTABLE COOKING

You have probably heard a great deal about the advantages of an electric range—the feature of COOLNESS, among others. Here is your chance to see for yourself how surprisingly comfortable your kitchen is—even in the warmest weather—when you do your cooking electrically. You can use the electric oven for baking or roasting and it will not noticeably raise the temperature of the room. This is because the oven is well-insulated and semi-sealed: There is no stovepipe to carry the hot air from your oven through the kitchen, heating up the atmosphere, as in a fuel-burning stove. And on the surface units, the heat goes directly from the electric element to the cooking utensil. All of the heat is used for cooking: Little can escape into the room, and there is no hot flame to heat the surrounding air and make the kitchen uncomfortable.

Electric cooking is COOL cooking.

* We want you to try an electric range in your own kitchen. We want you to enjoy cool electric cooking without making any investment or being under any obligation. So we have arranged a special trial offer. We will install an electric range in your kitchen without initial charge, and let you use it for six months, removing it without charge if you do not like it. During the trial period, you pay for the service as registered by your meter, plus a monthly charge of $1 for the range. If you decide to keep the range, your monthly payments will be applied toward the purchase price. If you decide that you do not want it, the range will be removed at our expense. Since this trial plan was begun a short time ago, over 4000 of our customers have taken advantage of this offer. Send in your application for a trial range today!

A study of one thousand families using an electric range showed a cooking cost of

Mrs. Carl Bryan New D.A.R. Regent

The Sarah Ann Cochran Chapter, D.A.R. held its annual meeting in the pleasant home of Mrs. James Busby at Fairmont, Northville, with twenty-seven of the forty-seven members present, Monday afternoon, May 20.

A ritual opening meeting was used for the first time. The salutation of the Regent, Mrs. Carl Bryan, sets forth clearly the objects of the society in these words: "To perpetuate the memory and spirit of the men and women who achieved American Independence, to promote the development of an enlightened public opinion, and to foster patriotic citizenship."

After reading the reports of officers and committees the following chapter officers were elected: Regent, Mrs. Carl Bryan; Vice Regent, Mrs. Sidney Strong; Chaplain, Mrs. D. P. Yerkes; Recording Secretary, Mrs. D. N. McKinnon; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Cass Chase; Treasurer, Mrs. Sherwin A. Hill; Historian, Mrs. George Wilcox; Directors, Mrs. John B. Root, Mrs. Hattie Baker, Mrs. D. T. Randall, Mrs. Walter Nichol.

At the close of the business meeting a discussion on the subject of National Defense was presented most ably by Mrs. Sidney Strong, of Plymouth, Mrs. D. P. Yerkes, of Northville, and Mrs. Frederick Lendrum, of Farmington. Mrs. Strong defended the integrity and patriotism of the relief workers, presenting a tangible proof, Mrs. Yerkes introduced Mrs. Elizabeth Dillingham's book "A Who's Who and Handbook of Racialism for Patriots," and Mrs. Lendrum closed the discussion reading several excerpts from an article by Mrs. Becker, the new National Regent, in the National Defense News, one of which follows:

"Many have caught the vision that National Defense means more military defense, that it

ALEX SLEIGHT

Meet the oldest employee, in point of service, of the Kroger Grocery and Baking Company. He is Alex Sleight, 3211 Berwyn Place, Cincinnati. Although 76 years old, Mr. Sleight is rounding out 43 years of serving Kroger customers. He began working in 1892 when the Kroger chain consisted only of six stores. For several years he worked behind a counter with B. H. Kroger, founder of the Kroger company.

means defense of those principles and ideals upon which the nation is established, belief in the Home, and in the responsibility of the individual for the common weal. 'United We Stand' and 'In God We Trust' shall not be empty words."

A delightful social hour ensued the hostess serving ice cream and cake.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Carmen Root. The guest speaker will be Mrs. Donald K. Moore, in whose honor a cooperative luncheon will be served.

Kinyon School Year Is Ended

The Kinyon school closed this week for the summer vacation. Twenty pupils were enrolled during the past year.

On the last afternoon a short program was given to which the parents and friends were invited. The subject of the program was "Our School," and compositions on this subject written by the pupils from the fourth to the eighth grade were read.

The songs and folk dances given at the May Festival in Detroit last week at which time most of the pupils took part were again presented.

As a result of the new standard achievement tests recently given to all pupils in the rural schools of Wayne county, Eleanor Dean of this school had the highest score with Doris Williams ranking second.

The school picnic was held Saturday, May 18th at Riverside Park, with about forty present. It was a perfect day and all reported a fine time.

The world is full of joy and cheer,
Of beauty and of song;
There's happiness for everyone,
And those who trow along
With gladness glowing in their hearts
Are mighty sure to find
That life is tenderly to us all,
And fortune's hand is kind.

There may be clouds of grief or pain
That sometimes dim the view,
But after just a little while
The sun comes smiling through;
So, help yourself to happiness
Wherever it may be,
For God has filled the world with joys,
And all of them are free!

Understanding World Affairs

THE SECRET BATTLE

By Walter Lippmann

Somebody once asked Arnold Bennett what he thought of the reviews of his latest books. He replied that he had not read them, but that he had measured them, and that their length was quite satisfactory. Applying the same method of criticism to Secretary Morgenthau's radio address, it may be said that it covers fifty-eight inches of newspaper print; that fifty-two inches are devoted to an inadequate oversimplified and partisan history of past events which might better have been omitted entirely, and that six inches deal with international stabilization and are interesting and important.

Former Secretary Mills has punctured the fallacy of the historical part of the address. It attacks the Hoover Administration for not going off the gold standard in the winter of 1932. The event showed, I believe, that it would have been wise to do this, to recognize that when Britain and the countries of the sterling bloc abandoned gold, the existing international gold standard was wrecked, and that any country, like the United States, Germany or France which stood by it was doomed to suffer a terrible deflation. There were a few who said this in 1932. If Mr. Roosevelt was one of them he did not announce his opinion, and, therefore, neither he nor any member of his Administration is entitled to attack Mr. Hoover for not having had the foresight of their hindsight.

The truth of the matter, I believe, is that we fought to stay on gold in 1932 because almost every responsible person in both parties felt in honor bound, quixotically perhaps, but none the less genuinely, to make every honest effort to maintain the gold parity. The British had held out till their gold reserves were exhausted; we held out till our economy was prostrated by the effort to deflate. The hypercritical may say that Britain could have staid on if Britain had been willing to face the ordeal of reducing wages and interest and other fixed costs; they may say we could have staid on by paying out more gold and liquidating still more drastically than we did wages, interest, and the capital structure of banks, insurance companies, farms and local governments. But the reasonable and charitable judgment on both nations is that they endured just about all that their people could endure before seeking the relief of depreciating the currency.

But when everything of this sort has been said, who knows what the verdict of history will be? The record has been made, and neither Mr. Morgenthau's effort to condemn it for the Democrats nor Mr. Mills' attempt to justify it for the Republicans will alter in the slightest degree the irrevocable past.

In regard to that portion of the address which was devoted to stabilization, the best as well as the worst that can be said is that it matches Mr. Chamberlain's statements on the same subject. The official British opinion is that stabilization must wait until the British government feels that the dollar and the franc are in a relation with the sterling which the British view of the British interest. The official American opinion is that the American government is prepared to stabilize on conditions which suit the American view of the American interest. We think those conditions now exist as respects sterling and the dollar, and we should be glad to stabilize at approximately the old rate of exchange. The British do not think those conditions now exist and do not wish to stabilize now.

We shall come no nearer to agreement by indulging in moral recrimination across the Atlantic. The two countries are in the same moral position. We tried to get the British to stabilize at the end of 1932 and early in 1933. We were rebuffed. The British tried to get us to stabilize in June 1933, and they were rebuffed. We have been trying to get the British to stabilize for some months now, and we are being rebuffed. When one country has been ready, the other has not, and so for three years the monetary disorder has continued.

One of the unpleasant aspects of the matter is that neither government believes what the other says officially. For both know that the whole thing is an elaborate maneuver in which there is no complete disclosure of all the facts by either government. Both currencies are being manipulated by huge secret funds. The secrecy may be necessary, but it creates intense suspicion. There has never been any true accounting of what the British Equalization Fund or the American Stabilization Fund have done, are doing, or are intending to do. The Americans see that the price of gold in sterling has been rising steadily for more than three years and they have been allowed to learn that the British fund has made a profit. They conclude, perhaps wrongly, but naturally, that Britain is deliberately depressing the pound by selling it short. They resent it because as sterling depreciates, it presses on the American level. The British have seen first, our raising of the price of gold, and more recently our raising the price of silver. Nobody has ever explained the silver policy and yet it makes a lot of trouble for British interests in China and threatening to make worse trouble in India.

There are consequently, Americans who firmly believe that the British Equalization Fund is a sinister agency, and there are Britons who believe that our monetary actions are irresponsible lunacy.

The ugly but accurate way to describe this whole thing is to say that it is a currency war conducted in secret and obscured by rigid censorship and propaganda. It is a war in which neither side can be victorious and can dictate to the other the terms of settlement. The British have managed their currency very successfully in the sense that they have maintained a stable price level in Great Britain. But they are able to manage it so successfully because they have the dollar and the franc fixed on gold as a base on which to operate. If France and the United States decided to manage their currencies as the British are managing theirs, there would be no fixed points and no country could manage its currency. On the other hand, the sterling bloc is so extensive and so powerful that only ruinous measures could conceivably force the British to stabilize on gold against their will.

It is a stalemate. Either side, the sterling countries on the one hand, France and the United States as gold countries on the other, can intensify the international chaos but neither can by its own action dictate the settlement. It is a stalemate which can be ended only by agreement.

The tragic aspect of the matter is that any reasonable agreement would remove most of the difficulties that are now regarded as obstacles to an agreement. It is like a traffic jam which becomes worse and worse because the British say traffic must move on the left side of the road and we say it must move on the right side. An agreement as to either side would move the traffic. So it is with the question as to whether the rate shall be $4.86 or less. If it is $4.86 the British may have to deflate a little; if it is $4.60 we may have to deflate a little. But since stabilization at either rate with the French adhering at some reasonable rate for themselves, will end the hoarding of gold and cause gold prices to rise all over the world, a small disadvantage in the rate would be quickly surmounted. The competitive advantages to either country from one rate or another are trifling compared with the advantages to both of them from increase in the volume of world a rise in gold prices and a great trade.

Thirty Million Miles of Ford Economy

More miles. Faster miles. Greater economy... that is the story of the Ford V-8. There are conclusive figures from owners to show that it is the most economical Ford car ever built.

A particularly interesting and complete report of costs comes from a national fleet owner who has owned 854 Ford cars which have run more than thirty million miles in business use.

175 were Model T Fords which were run 5,017,075 miles. 599 were Model A Ford cars which were run 24,041,632 miles. 80 are Ford V-8 cars which have been run 2,982,886 miles.

This owner's cost records show that Ford V-8 cars cost 12% less to operate than the Model A Fords and 31% less than the Model T Fords. And they covered more miles per month! The monthly average for the Model T Fords was 1509 miles. . . . For the Model A Fords, 1866 miles. . . . And 2571 miles for the Ford V-8.

Each year the Ford car gives you more in value and performance and costs you less to operate.

A MEMORIAL DAY THOUGHT

The soldiers of three wars, who will march on Memorial Day, loved peace, but gave up the pursuits of peace, because they loved their country more.

It is the fervent wish of every American today that the future may ask no similar sacrifices of our sons, but we honor those brave ones, living and dead, who did have the courage and the patriotism to serve their country in times of need.

Big Increase In Traffic Deaths

Chief of Police Vaughn Smith has been advised that officials of the Michigan state police fear there is going to be an increase of more than 50 percent in traffic fatalities over last year unless there is an immediate curtailment of accidents within the state.

Officers says Chief Smith are doing all within their power to check the increase in automobile accidents. In a letter to Chief Smith, Captain Raymond Sprague of the state police declares:

"Killings in our streets and highways from January 1 to May 15 are at a rate that means at least a 50 per cent increase in deaths during 1935." Captain Sprague said: "There is no need for these fatalities. Most of them are caused by the carelessness of motor car drivers. Pedestrians are to blame for some."

"Inattention on the part of drivers, driving too fast for existing conditions and getting on the wrong side of the road are the three chief causes of traffic deaths. Survey of traffic fatalities during safety week bear this out."

"If motorists will display just a little more caution and if pedestrians will do the same we can lick this problem. The police alone can not do it. As Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald said in opening the safety campaign, an army of police, jail for all offenders and other drastic means might help, but won't halt these deaths. Education of the driver, he said, is the most needed thing. We feel that every motorist is sufficiently intelligent to educate himself to traffic safety, once he realizes the danger of the road."

EX-FOOTBALL PLAYER FINDS HOUSEWORK A HARD JOB

"NO TIME to do that? Why, you have all the time in the world. Nothing to do all day long, except a little thing like keeping house!"

How many women have been told that by their husbands! And how many have answered, "Just try it for a day and see if it's nothing!" without much apparent effect.

Well, one man has tried it. Being unemployed, he thought he would do his wife's little job of housework while resting. And now he wonders, and has voted his wonder, how his wife ever stood it.

The man is Reuban Greene of Wauwatosa, Wis. Up to not so long ago, or all the time he was employed at his regular work, he was one of those husbands who thought his wife had nothing to do. Housework, in his opinion, was just another kind of resting, another name for play or vacation. But he has changed his mind. This is what he wrote to a Chicago newspaper:

"The depression has done me a lot of good. Believe me, I always thought the women had a cinch pushing a broom around and flipping a rag over the furniture. I was right guard on my college team in the days when a guy had to weigh 225 pounds to be considered a candidate, and I find it no cinch."

"How my little wife ever got away with that job! She must be a constitution like a turtle. Well, anyway, the depression has taught me to value and appreciate my wife. I've lost 35 pounds and know how to shake a wicked mop." Experience teaches. Enough said!

Mrs. Bodles and daughter of Redford, and Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Chambers of this place were Monday evening visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Schmiede, south of Newburg.

Mrs. Edith Rhead, who has spent the winter months with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. William Glymuse, left Sunday for her home in Lapeer. Her son, Roland, of that city came after her.

Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Blunk Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Blunk, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mumby, Mr. and Mrs. George Howell, Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Woods and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Frederick enjoyed a "chicken" dinner at Frankmuth Sunday.

The Loyal Daughters class of the First Baptist church held their May meeting at the home of Mrs. Pearl Houchins on Canton Center road, Tuesday, May 21st, with thirty-nine members present. After the business meeting games were played and a very delicious lunch was served by the committee.

On Saturday afternoon fifteen friends of Miss Dorothy Sanders were entertained by Miss Reiva Schilling and Mrs. Arthur McGory at the Schilling cottage at Walled Lake the affair being a "miscellaneous" shower in honor of Miss Sanders. On Tuesday evening about twenty of her friends were invited to Mrs. McGory's home on Adams street where the guests showered the bride to be with groceries. Games were played and a most interesting evening passed.

Even the Farmer Gets Air Conditioning

SOMEbody is always giving the farmer a tractor with more comfort, more power, more traction. Low pressure tires started it all. Now come these Hula brothers of Medford, Okla., and steal the show at the national equipment displays at Wichita, Kan., with this "tractor of the future." It is air-conditioned, and is sound-proof to give good reception for its radio. Even a cigar lighter is included on the instrument panel.

Federal Works Program Given

ture that a considerable portion of the money spent will go into wages for labor.

(c) Projects which promise ultimate returns to the Federal Government of a considerable proportion of the cost will be sought.

(d) Funds allotted for each project should be actually and promptly spent and not held over until later years.

(e) In all cases projects must be of a character to give employment to those on relief rolls.

(f) Projects will be allocated to localities or relief areas in relation to the number of workers on relief rolls in those areas.

(g) To move from the relief rolls to work on such projects or in private employment the maximum number of persons in the shortest possible time.

It is apparent from the above information that the city of Plymouth will receive no greater allotment than is required to employ the present number of employable persons on local relief rolls. The relief rolls now in the city of Plymouth are the lowest in over two years; therefore, it cannot be expected that a program anywhere near the size of the CWA program will be obtained.

The project which has been given greatest consideration by the city commission is one for the enlargement of the water mains in the two business districts. These water mains are now inadequate for proper circulation of water and for adequate fire fighting purposes. The project which has been outlined includes the expenditure of about $70,000.00 for new mains and hydrants and a new source of water supply. It will be the policy of the city commission to submit this project for first consideration and if the same is approved work should start within a very short time. This work is also of a nature which can be undertaken in the winter months and may be used as a reservoir for men who are thrown out of other work projects started earlier in the year. This work is very badly needed by the city of Plymouth, and will be of great advantage if it can be obtained on one of the grants by the Federal Government. The city's financial condition will not permit the financing of such a project with local funds.

Will Lay Pipes Before Paving

The city commission instructed the city manager at the Monday night meeting of the city commission to make a study of the sewers and water mains which are necessary before the widening of the pavement on Plymouth road by the Wayne county road made to the city commission as commission. At the present time there is a 6 inch water main in Plymouth road, but there are no water stub lines to serve the vacant property.

It was recommended that these stub lines be installed in advance of the paving.

There is no sanitary sewer whatsoever in Plymouth road nor any storm sewer, however, both are needed before the paving is done. Surveys, plans, and estimates will be prepared of the sewer requirements, and a report made to the city commission as soon as the work is completed.

New Streamline Train Rolls Into Plymouth Yards

Local Business Men Get First Chance To See "Abraham Lincoln"

Numerous residents from Plymouth were down to the Pere Marquette depot early Tuesday morning to get the first glimpse of "The Abraham Lincoln," the new streamlined steam train that will be put into service by the Pere Marquette July first.

Christened "The Abraham Lincoln" last Wednesday in Springfield, Ill., by Gov. Henry Springer, the gleaming new streamlined steam train rolled into Plymouth as railway employees and business men stood at the depot to watch its advent.

The train, which will be on the daylight run between Chicago and St. Louis within a few weeks, is being taken on a tour of the Middle West. It will go to Toledo, Dayton and Cincinnati before being put into regular service.

"Comfort and safety are the first principles which have been considered in constructing the 'Abraham Lincoln,'" said R. M. van Zandt, of Baltimore, director of public relations for the B. & O. "The train has not been 'pepped up.' Even so, it has done 110 miles with the throttle only half open. On this trip we traveled at 32 miles an hour."

The visitor will notice that the engine, the "Lord Baltimore," is not built on exaggerated streamlines. The six eighty-four-inch driving wheels are plainly visible. The engine, like the rest of the train, is in a deep shade of blue, an "old B. & O. royal blue," used on some of the coaches in the 90s.

Steps fold up so that the doors are flush with the side of the car to reduce wind resistance. The windows are of shatter-proof glass throughout. Every member of the train has "rubber heels" to absorb shock. Walls and roofs are insulated and floors are cork-lined.

F. A. Stine, manager of the dining car and commissary departments, who came with the train, is especially proud of the new diner, the only one of its type in the world. It has the kitchen in the center, with table service for 32 at one end and counter service for 10 at the "tavern end."

Reclining seat coaches, one in brown leather upholstery and the other in mohair, are fitted as smoking cars. Arm rests and backs are adjustable. Two Pullman chair cars, one with an observation parlor, complete the six-car train. The rear of the observation car is rounded to cut wind resistance. Throughout the air-conditioned train temperature and humidity are controlled.

Lights, shades, draperies and upholstery were designed by Miss Olive Dennis, of Baltimore, engineer of service.

The "Abraham Lincoln" is made up of separate cars, each a unit. Extra cars can be added as the traffic demands. When the train was christened, Gov. Homer used a bottle of water from the Sangamon and Mississippi Rivers and Lake Michigan, bottles of water in territory associated with Lincoln's history.

OBITUARIES

ROBERT M. GARDINER

Robert Meldrum Gardiner who resided at 1630 East Ann Arbor Trail in Plymouth township, passed away early Monday morning, May 20th at the age of 61 years. He was the husband of Jean Gardiner, and father of Ellen Gardiner Laible, of this city; brother of David L. Gardiner and Mrs. Charles Campbell, both of Tibury, Canada, and Mrs. D. A. Martin of Detroit. The body was brought to the Schrader Brothers Funeral Home, from which place funeral services were held Wednesday, May 22nd, 1935 at 3 p.m. under the auspices of Plymouth Masonic Lodge No. 47 F. & A. M. and Tonquish Lodge No. 32 IOOF, in the Riverside cemetery. Rev. George Jeffery of the Scovel Memorial Presbyterian church of Detroit officiating.

HOMER BURTON

Homer Burton was born in Huron, Indiana, March 22, 1882, and passed away from this life on May 15th, 1935. Mr. Burton was the son of Hardin and Alice Burton. In 1906 he was married at Saranac Lake, N. Y., to Gertrude Derby. After their marriage they made their home for a time at New Castle, Ind., from there they went to Saginaw, Mich., where Mr. Burton began his work with the Pere Marquette R. R. Co. Here they spent sixteen years, and for the last fourteen years Plymouth has been their home.

Early in life, at the age of sixteen he was united with the Huron Baptist church and has since lived a most consistent christian life. Mr. Burton was known for his loyalty to his friends and neighbors, whether they were young or old. Most certainly no man could have been removed from our community that had a larger place in the hearts of his friends than this good man. His ear was ever ready to hear the call of need and it is needless to say that a great host of people shall miss the work of his hands and the ready smile which was always manifest even under most trying circumstances. This most unfortunate circumstance has removed a valuable citizen from our midst and the testimony of his fine friendship was upon the lips of all who knew him.

He was a member of Lodge No. 77 F. & A. M., Saginaw; Bay City Consistory, the Shrine at Saginaw, The Pere Marquette Veterans Employees Association and the Odd Fellows of Plymouth. Surviving are his wife Gertrude; a daughter Patricia and five brothers and sisters. Alva Burton, of Columbus, Ind.; Mrs. Walter O'Donnell, of Seymour, Ind.; Mrs. Ora Ellis, of Stillwater, Okla.; Maude Burton, of Wilmington, Okla., and Mrs. Edith Duncan of Bedford, Ind.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Loya Sutherland and Rev. Ray Norton, from the home on Harvey street, at the services of Plymouth Lodge No. 47, F. & A. M.; Tonquish Lodge No. 32, I. O. O. F., and the Shrine. Burial was in Riverside cemetery. "Leave all to God; thy vision cannot scan His ways of righteousness. His depths of grace. But thou shalt know when thou dost see His face How full of holy love His perfect plan.

Leave all to God; but hear Him speak to thee. Cling thou to the more to Me when clouds are dark. Make sure that thou thyself art in the ark. All else thou then wilt calmly leave to Me."

This City Will Profit By Big Ford Pay Boost

will be affected, of whom 81,000 are in Detroit. Among Detroit employees more than 41,000 will receive the dollar-a-day increase.

"The new minimum will put an additional $2,400,000 a month on the company's payroll. "When the depression fell in 1929, Ford increased his minimum wage to $7 a day, which remained in effect until near the end of 1931, when a $6-a-day minimum was resumed. A year later the minimum dropped to $4 a day. In March, 1934, it was increased to $5 a day. The present $6 minimum was the highest regular figure the Ford industries ever reached, until an extra dollar was added in an attempt to break the depression by increased purchasing power.

"This cost the company $33,000,000 for the 22 months it was in effect."

Simultaneously with the announcement of the pay increases, the advertising agency made public a brochure outlining the history of the Ford wage policies. Excerpts from the latter booklet follow:

"In the last 20 years, Ford Motor Co. has paid its workmen a total of $623,000,000, over and above what the company needed to have paid had it followed the general wage scale.

"In January, 1914, Henry Ford voluntarily raised wages in his plants from $2.37 a day to $5 a day. It was an unheard of step and economists freely predicted ruin for the company. Instead, it was the first of a long series of such voluntary wage increases by Mr. Ford and the start of a Ford policy.

"In 1918, he added a 15 per cent bonus, to the annual wage of his men payable in December, but because some men quit during the year and lost their bonus, he ordered it paid pro rata every day.

"In 1919, the minimum wage was increased to $6 a day. In 1920, an employees' investment certificate plan was introduced which by the end of 1924 had paid Ford employees a profit of $25,000,000. Of this sum, $14,000,000 was the guaranteed profit. The remainder was paid employees' investors because business justified it.

"In 1929, just 37 days after the great crash, a dollar was added to the Ford minimum wage making it $7 a day. This wage was paid in spite of deepening depression until November, 1931. The extra dollar meant $33,000,000 more in Ford workmen's profits during that period of uncertainty.

"The minimum was maintained for some time at $6. And throughout the depression it never went below $4. In 1934, the minimum wage of $5 a day was restored, but the average Ford workman's wage in 1934 was $5.92 a day.

"Mr. Ford has said repeatedly that wages are far too low and recently declared that 'we haven't seen any real wages yet.' An axiom of Ford manufacture is that 'high wages and best materials are the only road to low prices.'" of Richard G. of Rosedale Gardens and Mrs. Judith Hanchett of Detroit; daughter of Mrs. May Greenly, sister of Edward Greenly, all of New York City. The body was brought to the Schrader Brothers Funeral home, from which place funeral services were held Wednesday morning, May 22nd, at 10 a.m. Interment in Woodlawn cemetery, Detroit, Michigan. Mr. W. G. Holdsworth officiating.

Nearly Hundred at L.O.T.M. Banquet

Nearly one hundred great-grandmothers, grandmothers, mothers and daughters attended the annual Maccabee Mother and Daughter banquet last Wednesday evening.

The guests were seated at tables gaily decorated with miniature umbrella favors and colorful potted plants.

After a lovely dinner Capt. Ethel Emerson presented the following ladies who gave an interesting program. Invocation by Alicia Estep; Introductory talk by Helen Emerson; "A Toast to Mothers," by Doris Campbell which was answered by her mother, Com. Elsa Campbell in a "Toast to Daughters."

A group of songs by all the Junior Maccabee Daughters: Poem, "Mother's Day," by Past Com. Dora Wood; Reading, "Mother's Glasses," by Mildred Hester; Songs by The Three Drows sisters and Dorothy McCullough; Humorous Reading, "Ma and the Auto," by Edna Marlow; Assistant Great Commandant, Mrs. Dora Nicholson of Detroit gave a splendid talk on "The Observation of Mother's Day"; song by Drows and McCullough foursome.

The oldest Mother, the youngest mother and the youngest Junior Daughter present were honored with gifts from the hostess. Past Com. Dora Wood presented Lady Anna McKeever with a cameo pin in recognition of her 45 years of membership in the local hive and for many years of service as director of flower fund. Record keeper Edna Marlow added her bit and conferred Life Membership to Lady McKeever; the highest honor which a hive can bestow to any of its members. Hattie Holloway also received honorable mention. Mrs. M. G. O'Neil, 30 years membership to her credit.

A humorous reading "House Hunting," was read by Myrtle Dosebach. A song by Junior Chorus, and after thanking the various committees for their splendid cooperation Lady Emerson brought the evening to a close by asking all to rise and sing the Doxology.

Kiwanians Have Pleasing Affair

Plymouth Kiwanians Monday night enjoyed one of the most pleasing social events of the year with nearly one hundred present for the affair. The club had as guests the ladies of Kiwanis and the members of the Wayne club and their wives.

President Earl Mastick extended a cordial welcome to the visitors and the response was made by Dr. James Caraway, president of the Wayne club. Music for the evening was provided by the song leaders of the two clubs. Frank J. Fournier of Wayne and Chauncey Rauch of Plymouth. There was a national radio hook-up for a time which enabled the Kiwanians to hear a part of the proceedings of their national convention being held in Texas.

Following the delicious dinner served by the Mayflower, those present enjoyed also bridge and dancing.

Half-Century Experience Proves This Company Asset to Michigan

The more than four and a half million dollars this big company has paid to Michigan property owners during the past 50 years has proven the value of this old insurance institution. This large amount represents 86,653 separate losses, and much of the property destroyed would never have been replaced without the insurance which the owners had in this company.

These property owners showed good business judgment by having one of our liberal windstorm policies. Be protected—the cost is low.

On and Off the Record by Lee Montgomery

If you fell for the chain letter gag don't feel so bad about it. The intelligentsia of your county government were taken too. With possible two exceptions in the entire county building every one bit some of them taking two or three bites to make sure. These two exceptions are merely hearsay and are mentioned only because we know that no generic statement is ever true.

It is rumored that one or two received hundreds of dollars in return. It is a fact that hundreds received nothing in return. Reporters from the three Detroit papers on this beat admit their offices were caught with the fever and that even the editors took a chance. We might remember that the city is only as strong as its weakest link.

"I have made a diligent search and am unable to find the defendant." Wayne County's divorce laws have made this statement sufficient to obtain a divorce decree in the past. The Court has never bothered to check the truth of the affidavit. The court has neglected to investigate in any way in order to give the defendant a fair break. The Friend of the Court, established to handle such cases, has never been called on by the courts to check this type of affidavit.

Judge Marschner of Circuit Court recently sentenced Alfred C. Coul to ten days in jail for obtaining a divorce on a falsified affidavit. He told the court that he was unaware of his wife's whereabouts, when he had seen her 24 hours before the decree was granted and had corresponded with her for a year before. The wife, with two children, did not know she was divorced. The court took it for granted she had disappeared strictly on the word of Coul. A June meeting of the Judges will change this procedure.

Friends of Harold E. Stoll have arranged an informal dance and bridge to be held at the Statler Hotel, Saturday, May 25th. Over 1200 people are expected to attend this public commendation of Stoll's work while a public servant.

Gil Lubin, who is in good standing with more organizations than any other County Employee, has given the affair a push and rest usually missing in parties of this magnitude. He is keeping up his reputation as a go getter made years ago in the war. The wholehearted enthusiasm shown whenever he gets behind a project generated the phrase "leave it to Gil."

John C. Cowan, nature lover of repute, and incidentally the County Auditor you so recently gave a vote of confidence, has received news that quintuplets were born on his Warren road farm. He is already negotiating with a national broadcasting hook up and several booking agents. He insists that the Dionne quintuplets from Canada are back numbers compared with his pointing out that his can walk, talk and fight although scarcely two weeks old.

These particular quintuplets are goats. Now don't say "well, that's different" because it isn't. Goats are like humans in birth matters according to Cowan, and have one or two kids at a time. Cowan considers that his are eligible for comparison with Dionne's and challenges that gentleman to a contest, any contest. Name your contest, Dionne.

Within the next few weeks this column will explain to you where each dollar goes that you pay to the county on taxes. Each week beginning next week a county department will be described, telling what percentage that office takes of your dollar and what it buys for that portion of each dollar.

In good times, and bad times taxes are always taxes, and each individual thinks it a personal affront when the County Treasurer mails them a tax bill. Tax money seems to come harder than any other and has since time began. The reason for this is more or less obvious. We do not see what we buy. We are not told specifically what our dollar purchases, and how we will benefit by it. When we spent 12c for a loaf of bread we buy something tangible and concrete. We have something that we can see, feel and eat. When we pay the same 12c toward taxes we get little that we can readily see, nothing we can feel, and certainly nothing we can eat. If it wasn't paid, however, there would be a great many of us who wouldn't eat, feel or see anything. This will be explained in detail next week.

Despite the leniency of the divorce laws and the reputed free thinking of the youth of today, records from the County Clerk's office show that marriage is as popular as ever, and that this institution, at least, is able to hold its own against the marauders of sound society. In Wayne county which should show a good average for the country, we find that last month 1727 new couples joined the belief that two can live as cheaply as one. During this same period only 357 families were legally separated.

Free county hospitalization can be the most beneficial of all those duties delegated to county government. It also, if handled badly can be both dangerous and heart rending. We can draw many different conclusions from the following incident which occurred in the county building a few days ago.

A man entered one of the court house offices at 8:30 in the morning to see if he could get a free hospital bed. He was sick man. He knew it, and so did everyone

Communications

Editor Mail: Will you please accept my very sincere thanks for the excellent job of publicity you did through your paper in connection with the crippled children seal campaign. I am sure that your fine work had a great deal to do with the outstanding success of the seal sale under Charlie Bennett's direction. I will appreciate it if, through your paper, you will express the thanks of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children to all those contributing to the success of this campaign. Particularly Charlie Bennett, members of the Rotary Club, the Kiwanis Club and all others who did their bit.

Your sale of more than ten seals per capita of our population insures that the sale in your community will be a record for the entire state. In the name of all the little children who will be helped by your fine spirited effort, I send you my warmest congratulations. With best wishes, I am Yours sincerely, Emmet Richards, President, Michigan Society for Crippled Children.

Mr. Lynn H. Felton, President, Rotary Club of Plymouth, Plymouth, Michigan. My Dear President Lynn: Our good friend Charlie Bennett has, within the past half hour, happily surprised us by bringing into the office personally a check in the amount of four hundred sixty-nine dollars and forty-five cents ($469.45) which means that he and his committee, through the splendid help and support of the Rotary Club, have sold 46-945 Crippled Children Seal Opportunity Seals. This, indeed, is a marvelous accomplishment and shows what can be done. I doubt very much whether this record will be surpassed or even nearly matched anywhere in the entire state. Do you realize that Plymouth went over the top to the tune of ten seals per capita population. Last year, the highest goal reached anywhere in the state was five seals per capita population, and this only in one instance.

I have been in close touch with the progress of the campaign in Plymouth and know that such an accomplishment is due to the splendid type of organization for the prosecution of the Seal Sale in Plymouth. I wish it were possible for us to thank each organization and individual who had a part in making the Seal Sale a success. I cannot let the opportunity pass by, however, to thank Elton Eaton, through the medium of this communication, for the splendid impetus given to the cause in Plymouth through the columns of The Plymouth Mail. I also know that the Kiwanians and others, especially the good ladies, contributed splendidly and helped in assuring a most successful campaign there.

Again let me say that I wish it were possible to thank each and every one personally, but of course, in view of the fact that it would mean considerable time and expense, that is impossible. We do, however, thank you on behalf of the Board of Directors of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children, the Wayne County Committee, of which our good friend Charlie is a member, and the crippled kiddies themselves for your answer to their plea, and in closing let me assure you that this money will be spent economically and wisely in the service of crippled children. Cordially and Rotarily, Percy C. Angove, Executive Secretary.

Mr. Lynn H. Felton, President Rotary Club, Plymouth, Mich. My Dear Lynn: I cannot tell you how much I appreciated the splendid cooperation given us by Plymouth, under the leadership of "Charlie" Bennett, in the seal sale. I think that Plymouth is entitled to the gold medal, at least I have not heard of any other community which has realized such a high per capita sale, and I not only wish to thank you, but to com-

P.H.S. TRACKMEN LOSE TO YPSI

With the loss of Elliott and Wagenschutz the Plymouth track team was nosed out by Ypsi last Monday by the score of 48 1/2 to 53 1/2. The Ypsi sprinters slammed in the century and the PHS vaulters evened the score in the pole vault. During the entire meet it was nip and tuck and the relay was the deciding event—Ypsi-lanti won that by twenty yards. Because of a loose track the times were very slow. Williams was high point scorer with eleven points.

Below is a summary of the events. 100 yd. dash—first, Klavitter, Y. second, Fulton, Y. third, Estermeier, Y. Time 10:85. 1 mile run—first, Herbst, Y. second, Coffin, P. third, Royal, Y. else who looked at him. He had the shakes. In fact, he had them so badly that he couldn't sit down for more than five minutes at a time. He was one of the first people in the ante room. People began to come in, at first slowly, and then in great numbers. More than 35 people must have passed him during his six hour wait. His shakes went from bad to worse, and finally a guard, with a good heart and a simple understanding of human need, instructed the man to go to the fifth floor to the bureau of investigation and see director Sam Leve. The man followed instructions and a few minutes later was in an ambulance bound for the hospital. He had malaria fever.

The County Building cat is dead and buried. He was killed in an elevator accident a few days ago, throwing the county building employees into deep mourning. County Auditor Ed. Williams who recently saved him from the wrath of Judge Gillis and beat a contempt of court charge, gave him a fitting burial in Mt. Elliot cemetery.

This cat beloved by all who knew him, was one of the most remarkable of all those in the feline family. He drank water from the hall fountains, and could tell time, making inspection tours of the offices at regular intervals. He could play ball, eat, and laugh in human manner. We insert the funeral dirge, authored by Charlie Crellin, newspaperman, poet, politician and friend. Here lies the corpse of Socrates. The County Building cat. Untroubled now by mice or fleas. An elevator crushed him flat.

No more he prowls the basement floor. With lady friends to play and dine. Extinguished now forever more. His merry lives that numbered nine.

Judge John D. Watts, whose clean sports program has made him the idol of the children of Wayne county, will realize a life long dream on May 21st. The Sandloters of Detroit, a non-profit organization of which the Judge is president, will open a recreation center on that date at Adair street and Jefferson avenue. It will be the largest park of its kind in the county. When completed it will include baseball diamonds, football gridirons, tennis courts, skating rinks, and facilities for all other outdoor sports. A field house is now completed with showers and lockers. Flood lights make it possible for a special program every night. Present plans for this night entertainment includes baseball and boxing.

4 DIFFERENT SIZES IN... DUTCH OVEN SUSAN The Electric Cook. Includes images of the product and a price list: 8-QUART SIZE 9.95, 6-QUART SIZE 10.95, 12-QUART SIZE 11.95, 4-QUART SIZE 5.95 to 8.95.

Here is DUTCH OVEN SUSAN in half-a-dozen different sizes... one to fit your needs exactly. The 6-quart size will roast a 10-pound ham, a 6-pound chicken, or a large leg of lamb. The 12-quart size will easily accommodate a 15 1/2-pound turkey. And if you wish something with a smaller capacity, "Small Sister" Susan is the answer. Small Sister Susan is an electric casserole, and in 2, 3, or 4-quart amounts, will prepare all casserole dishes such as waterless pot roast, Boston baked beans, fried chicken, baked potatoes, etc., to melting perfection. Dutch Oven Susan is easy to use. You simply plug it into any convenience outlet, and it will do every cooking operation possible on a small stove. It will roast all cuts of meat; it will fry eggs, steaks, chops, etc.; it will bake cakes, pies, cookies, biscuits and muffins; and it will hold half-a-dozen pint jars when canning by the cold pack, hot water bath method. Yet it uses only about as much electricity per hour as an electric toaster, and it is so compact that it can be tucked away in a corner almost anywhere. Dutch Oven Susan cooks a complete meal for a family of six—two vegetables, a roast, potatoes and gravy—and it permits you to go out for the afternoon while the meal is cooking. See this modern appliance on display at all Detroit Edison offices, Department Stores, and Electrical Dealers.

The Story of the Bible Told in Pictures

Moses Views the Promised Land.—Deuteronomy, the fifth and last book of the Pentateuch, or the books of Moses, contains a body of law given in the fortieth year of the Israelites' wandering, and consists mainly of three addresses given by Moses in that year, which was the last year of his own life. Following these addresses an account of the delivery of the Law to the Levites is given, a Song of Moses is recited in the ears of the people, the final benediction of the twelve tribes is given and the closing scenes in the life of Moses are recorded. The picture, engraved in 1625 by Matthew Merian, depicts Moses overlooking the land of Canaan from Mount Nebo. And the Lord said unto him, "This is the land which I swear unto Abraham, unto Isaac, and unto Jacob, saying, I will give it unto thy seed: I have caused thee to see it with thine eyes, but thou shalt not go over thither." So Moses, the servant of the Lord, died there in the land of Moab, according to the word of the Lord.—Deut. 34: 4-7.

Ascension and Memorial Day Service May 30th, 10:00 a.m. In the assurance of His Words at His departure. (Matthew 28). "All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth. . . . Lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the earth." We gather on the Day of our Lord's Ascension to the Right Hand of the Power of the Father and implore Him for PEACE, peace of mind and heart over against our God, and peace among men on earth. He has thus graciously heard our pleas for peace. You mothers and fathers, who are so proud of your young lads, come, raise your hearts to the Father of Peace with us, that He might avert the sad scourge of war from us and spare our babies the agony of this horrible slaughter. So many of us sit stupidly down to the feast of returned prosperity which the Lord has given, we hear the rumble of the cannon, we smell the smoke of poison gas, we see the increased armaments of every nation, all gathered for another terrible war, AND FORGET OUR GOD until it is TOO LATE. Who can then spare you mothers the anguish of heart at the thought of your boy writing in agony on a strange battle field, crying his eyes out in vain for a word, a soft caress from you? Who will then help you fathers, when at your workbench you will again be manufacturing the bloody tools of bloodshed to press into the hands of your fair boy to maim and to kill and to be maimed and killed in turn? WILL YE NOT TURN TO YOUR GOD, YE UNGRATEFUL GENERATION? "Serve the Lord with fear and rejoice with trembling. Kiss the Son, lest He be angry, and ye perish from the way, when His wrath is kindled, but a little. Blessed are all they that put their trust in Him." Psalm 2

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 311): "Through false estimates of soul as dwelling in matter, belief strays into a sense of temporary loss or absence of soul, spiritual truth. This state of error is the mortal dream of life and substance as existent in matter, and is directly opposite to the immortal reality of being."

It is merciful and helpful to remember that there are times when it does not take much to save a man; one plank from a ship, one ladder against a burning building, a hand stretched out at the right time, one word fitly spoken, the influence of one life, perhaps that of a child. The necessary thing is that we bestir ourselves and use the means at hand. THE AVERAGE MOTORIST DRIVES 10,000 MILES A YEAR

8,000 of these miles are within 25 miles of your home

Constant starting, stopping, accelerating waste your money—if your gasoline doesn't have these Three Different Kinds of Power

10,000 MILES A YEAR! Enough to cross America 3 times! Don't you often wonder how you run up this MILEAGE?

It's the little trips . . . the 2 miles to school . . . the mile-and-a-half to market . . . to the bank . . . the continual stop-and-go that EATS UP GASOLINE!

These short trips call for 3 kinds of power in gasoline . . . POWER for quick starting . . . POWER for accelerating . . . POWER for steady runs. And these 3 must be present IN PERFECT BALANCE.

Super-Shell, the first truly BALANCED gasoline, cuts driving costs 3 WAYS:

- Can save up to a cupful of gasoline on every "Cold" Start. Super-Shell starts instantly—often warms up in half the time of ordinary gasolines—with less wasteful choking and so you use less gasoline.
- Can save up to a cupful of gasoline in 10 Minutes of Hard Pulling. Because of Super-Shell's even volatility, you can accelerate rapidly, or race your car up hills—on less gasoline, without knocking.
- Can save up to a cupful of gasoline in One Hour of Steady Running—many motorists report. Every drop of Super-Shell vaporizes more completely at every engine temperature. So it saves on long runs, too.

THESE THREE SAVINGS of gasoline result in more mileage per tankful. Start saving money with Super-Shell TODAY!

CENTRAL SCHOOL NOTES

The morning kindergarten children are learning how to read. All of the children are practicing for the forthcoming May Festival.

Mrs. Casady's pupils have been observing safety week by making safety posters and using their stop and go sign to teach children how to cross the street. They are going to build a safety town soon. In nature study they have been studying the blue jay and have drawn pictures of him. They have also learned the names of four flowers, the violet, the tulip, the mayflower and the trillium. The children have many new story books to read, bought for them by the PTA.

Miss DeWaele's pupils have six new books from the PTA library fund. These are books that the children can read for themselves. Safety week was observed by making posters. The class is making an Indian village.

The children in Miss Prantz's room have dramatized the story "Sleeping Beauty" and memorized the poem, "The Robin." They have been observing safety week by making pictures concerning safety first.

The second graders in Miss Weatherhead's room have finished their hundred and thirty combinations in addition and subtraction. The Fairies have concluded the reading of their "Childhood Readers." All of the youngsters are studying the animals in the circus.

Mrs. Bird's pupils have been talking about safety first for safety week. Doris Heintz of that room has moved.

The May poem "Lions and Dragons" was learned by Miss Sly's students.

Miss Hornbeck's students have started their bird study booklets, making covers for them with very original titles. They have already studied three birds and have five more to learn about. Everyone is very enthusiastic in this work, and they have thirteen pictures of various kinds of birds of which the children are going to see who can name the most. Bobby Johns brought a Baltimore Oriole's nest to school for them to study.

One hundred one people attended the exhibit in Mrs. Ulrich's room. The pupils have been writing stories about safety first. They decorated the third floor bulletin board with pictures from Hansel and Gretel.

Miss Detwiler's A class has made very good looking maps of Michigan. Everyone has written safety first stories and made posters.

In fishing for carp or other rough fish anglers use ground or buoy bait to lure the fish to the vicinity. An excellent bait of this kind may be made from bran, oatmeal, bread, boiled rice, and raw liver, well chopped up. A few handfulls cast in still waters a few hours before fishing will attract the fish.

SENIOR BIOGRAPHIES

GERALDINE VEALEY
Geraldine Eileen Vealey was born in Northville, Michigan, on February 3, 1917. She attended kindergarten in Northville but joined the class of '35 in the first grade of the Plymouth schools. Reading and dancing are the hobbies of this former spelling champion. Shorthand is her favorite subject and chop suey is her favorite food. Geraldine's best friend is Alice Prough. She has been a member of Glee Club and Travel Club. She says she used to like school but not this year. She experienced her greatest thrill once when she was driving along a highway and when she came to the place where there was supposed to be a bridge she just dropped off into space. She hopes to attend business college and to become a stenographer. Her greatest ambition is to be a court reporter.

JOHNSTON WILCOX
Johnston Hill Wilcox, better known as Jack or "Kiwi" or "Flyox" was born in Detroit on June 12, 1917. He moved or rather was moved to Plymouth shortly afterward and has been for twelve years a full-fledged member of the class of '35. While in high school he has been a very active member of the Pilgrim Prints Staff on which he edits a column known as the Ad Lib or better the "Chiselers Retired." He has also been active in the Dramatics department for six years and has taken part in many one act plays and also in the Junior Play. He has belonged to the Torch Club, Hi-Y, Junior Executive Board, Senior Executive Board and Student Council of which he is now president. His hobbies are printing, dramatics, history and a model T Ford which as yet has not been driven for want of license. Jack says he likes all of his subjects except Latin with a capital L. The farthest away from Plymouth he has ever been is Boston, which is quite a long way. Jack's main ambitions, he tells, are to be famous, wealthy, well liked, and happy. Well, don't we all? After graduation Jack would like to go to college and take up journalism and thus start on his road to fame. Perhaps he will be a second Randolph Hearst, who knows.

EDWIN WINGARD
Edwin Oliver Wingard sometimes better known as "Mud" was born in Plymouth on June 1, 1916. One of the "bad" brothers of lower town, Ed is quite wrapped up in a certain freshman girl who has the mumps at present. Ruth Hobbins by name. His hobby is buying and selling at a profit. (No, he is not Jewish) and his occupation is typing chain letters for prospective millionaires. Ed was a member of the Torch Club. He was connected with the Senior Play as stage manager and head chief curtain puller. Ed always has a "line" which he hands out at the slightest invitation. His pastime is making bets with Jimmie Livingston on whether or not Jimmie will take a certain girl to a dance. If the bets were paid each would owe the other about one hundred dollars. So far no money has been exchanged.

Up to last year lower town residents were annoyed by Edwin's suggestion, "Let's play cops and robbers."

HAROLD E. WILLIAMS
Harold E. Williams, a tall, dark, young athletic fellow, was born in Detroit, November 17, 1916. He came to Plymouth when just a little shaver, and he has always attended Plymouth school. Harold has two things that he would like to do after he graduates in June: work on travel laboratories, gymnasium, gardens Woman's Building, Mary Mayo Hall, Home Management Houses and the Library. Lauretta Hauk was one who judged the food products prepared by the collected students. Dorothy Hughes judged the child care problems, and Doris Campbell the selection and construction of clothing. Doris was surprised to see one of our former students, Mary Mettetal, who was one of the models. Mary is attending college and studying home economics. The girls listened to several lectures and to the giving of awards to the best judges. After the program Miss Lundin and the girls from our school visited the Capitol building in Lansing and the college campus at East Lansing.

WALTER WILSON
Walter Edward Wilson was born in a house on the corner of Middle Belt and Plymouth Roads, July 21, 1918. Before entering our class in his freshman year he attended the school in Belleville besides going to a little grade school, known as Glen school. Walter has bluish eyes and dark hair. He would like very much to take up electrical engineering next year either at Ann Arbor or Ypsilanti. During his four years in high school he has been in class sports and orchestra and he also participates in the Musicales. His favorite hobbies are riding horse back, fishing, hunting, and playing baseball. Walter dislikes onions and English but he likes physics, color, blue, and pineapple pie. He is often seen coming from the library, as he likes fiction books of all kinds. His favorite author is Farnol, Wilter, as he is sometimes called, will have nothing to do with the fairer sex, so he says.

ELIZABETH WILKIE
Elizabeth Wilkie (Betty to you) was born on December 30, 1917 in Grand Rapids, Mich. She attended the Fitzgerald school in Detroit before entering the eighth grade. She has enjoyed being a member of the Travel Club, Glee Club, Junior chorus, and Drama Club. Betty is a very quiet girl and she dislikes concerted pieces. Her favorite girl friends are Vivian Delvo and Jane Dodge, and you see the three together driving around in Betty's car practically all of the time. Her favorite colors are blue and brown, and her favorite study is chemistry. The book which she considers her favorite is Barrets of Wimpole Street, and her favorite author is Beth Streater. Edrich. She loves to drive out in the country. She enjoyed a lovely trip to Wisconsin several years ago. Dancing, reading, and going to the movies are favorite pastimes. (We had to do a great deal of pleading to find out the name of the young man she goes around with and the only satisfaction we received were his initials which are E. C.) Her biggest ambition is to be a successful business woman or a librarian.

HOME ECONOMICS GIRLS GO TO LANSING
Anne Donnelly, Doris Campbell, Lauretta Hauk, and Dorothy Hughes were chosen from the home economic classes to attend the second annual Home Economics Day at Lansing, Friday, May 10. When they arrived at the Home Economics Building, the girls were given a program which they were to follow. They took a trip through the home economics rooms, research laboratories, gymnasium, gardens Woman's Building, Mary Mayo Hall, Home Management Houses and the Library. Lauretta Hauk was one who judged the food products prepared by the collected students. Dorothy Hughes judged the child care problems, and Doris Campbell the selection and construction of clothing. Doris was surprised to see one of our former students, Mary Mettetal, who was one of the models. Mary is attending college and studying home economics. The girls listened to several lectures and to the giving of awards to the best judges. After the program Miss Lundin and the girls from our school visited the Capitol building in Lansing and the college campus at East Lansing.

PLYMOUTH GOLF TEAM DEFEATED

Plymouth's golf team was defeated by the Dearborn team, Wednesday, May 15 at Dearborn Hills. Dearborn, the Plymouth team was given a good exhibition on how to play golf by their rivals, Dearborn having a score of 377 and Plymouth 355. The Plymouth team consisted of L. Coffin who was low with 83, H. Williams next with 86, L. Moe was third with 87. Coffin shot a good game and made two birdies and six pars. Jeannette Brown was going good and made one birdie and five pars.

YPSI GOLF TEAM DEFEATS PLYMOUTH

Plymouth's golf team was again defeated only this time by the Ypsilanti golf team on Thursday, May 16 at Westchester Golf Club, Ypsilanti. It was a close game, but if Plymouth had been playing as they have before, they would not have been defeated. Ypsilanti was low with a total of 387, and Plymouth high with a total of 395. The Plymouth team was composed of L. Coffin, who was low for Plymouth with 95, M. Michaels was second low with 98, L. Moe 99, and H. Williams high with 103.

COMPETITION COLUMN

Front Page - Junius, accompanied by Harry Fischer, Robert Ross, and Dave Hertzberg, the last two being from River Rouge, recently took a trip through the chemistry buildings at the U. of M. After seeing the diligent students toiling in the university's black-smith shop, the following exclusive interviews were given on the subject of higher education in a black-smith shop.

Fischer—"I think fruit farming has a great future."
Rosa—"Heaven forbid!"
Hertzberg—"I like those easy chairs in the law building."
Junius—"I do not choose to pound and hammer."
Financial Section—Every time an English teacher suggests the preparation of a theme, prolonged echoes of agony pour out from the throats of most students. The truth of the matter is that everybody has writer's cramp resulting from rapid reproduction of chain letters. Junius sent some out and received 100% of which, while not as much as some took in, was enough to make the late Mr. Ponzl look sick.

DEARBORN DEFEATS PLYMOUTH 12-6

Playing at Plymouth Riverside Park Plymouth's baseball team lost to Dearborn who doubled their score 12-6. Gates and Zielasko each getting across for two runs, Gates getting a triple in the sixth, Smith taking triple in the first scored on O'Brien's single. Frye got on third on Sockow's error and scored on Levagood's single. Dearborn's big inning was the second in which they scored five runs. Plymouth took four runs in the third but were behind throughout the game. Pitchers were Schiffe for Plymouth and Krashowcz and O'Brien for Dearborn.

DEBATERS HOLD SCHOOL CONTEST

Affirmative and negative teams representing freshmen sophomores, junior and senior classes held debates on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, May 15-17, in the first part of the tournament to decide the inter-class debate championship of Plymouth high school.

The question being debated this season is stated, "Resolved: that the several nations of the world should make a government monopoly of the manufacture and sale of combat instruments of war." Twelve teams are participating in the contest.

The sophomore team of Jewell Starkweather and Tom Brock leads the affirmative at present, with three victories and no defeats. Roland Rhead and Russell Kirk, juniors, are the present negative victors. Of the three debaters in which each team participates, these two teams are the only ones remaining undefeated.

Katherine Schultz and Beulah Starkweather have been defeated once, Jack Sessions and Harry Fischer once, Gerald Greer and Paul Thoms once, Dorothy Hearn and David Hale once, Alfred Cutler and Stanton Burton three times, Mary Katherine Moon and Betty Mastick twice, Jane Taylor and Betty Flairty twice, Marion Luttermoser and Marilyn Holton twice, James Honey and Howard Ebersole three times, and Barbara Hubbell and Florence Norton twice.

Each team will hold three debates more, in this way meeting every team of the opposing side. At the conclusion of the elimination the affirmative team and the negative team with the highest number of victories will debate for the school championship.

PLYMOUTH LOSE TO DEARBORN

The Plymouth netters lost again to Dearborn who beat them 5 to 0 on May 15 at Dearborn. The Plymouth team has not upheld its honor of winning another cup to place in the trophy case. The players for Plymouth were Herter, Moe, Burden who played singles, and Anderson and McTrit, and Smith and Norman. B. who upheld the doubles.

The Plymouth coach has had to pick a whole new team in the middle of the season and hopes they will turn out to be winners.

The fan belt should be examined occasionally and adjusted as required.

STUDENT COUNCIL DISCUSSES PICNIC

In order to add to their treasury, the Student Council arranged for a school dance open to pupils only. Jewell Starkweather was appointed chairman of chaperons, Miriam Brown of refreshments, Ray Trimble of floor, and Jean Jolliffe of publicity. The dance was presided of the Musical were presented to the council. The problem of the school picnic was brought before the council. There was a discussion whether or not the seventh and eighth grades should be allowed to go with the high school but the council did not arrive at a conclusion. Whitmore Lake was suggested for the picnic and after much discussion it was decided to wait until the next meeting.

STUDENT COUNCIL DISCUSSES PICNIC

Mrs. Lewis Bryant, of Culleroka, Tenn., has worn the same hairpin every day since early in 1903.

STARKWEATHER SCHOOL NOTES

The first grade children have read and memorized several poems, among which are "Blum," "Here and There and Everywhere," "Bad," and "Bursting." They have enjoyed the new library book "Tale of the Good Cat Jupiter," last week they studied the dandelion flowers and drew it. The best three illustrations were posted on the bulletin board.

The pupils in the second A number one class have finished the book "Billy Boy on the Farm." The second B class has been having vocabulary tests. Phyllis Lee received a Gold Star button in Penmanship, and only two papers from the second grade class were rejected. All the pupils who had been out of school on account of illness have returned.

The fourth grade pupils observed safety week by talks, posters and other illustrations. The class has enjoyed the story "Alexander Tale of a Monkey," which Miss Loper has been reading to them every day.

The fifth grade pupils who received improvement certificates for writing from the Palmer Company are Naomi Pierce, Rose Nowotarski, Robert Phillips, Arthur Fulton, Dorothy Marie Fisher, Romona Fisher, Dorothy Drews, Lottie Schlinski, Donald Vanderveer, and Marvin Klein-schmidt. The pupils receiving finals are Norma Holton and Harold Jarsky.

ROCK'S TRACK TEAM SECOND AT REGIONALS

Doris Olson, a pupil in the sixth grade, visited the class during the exhibit. She has been unable to attend school because of injuries received in an accident, but will be able to enter school next fall. Another visitor in the sixth grade was Judy Ann Ansel, a former pupil of the class.

Although the Rock's cindermen put up a promising battle throughout the entire meet, the Birmingham boys proved to be a little too much for them at the Regionals last Saturday. With the splendid performances of Wagenschutz, Kinsey, Williams, Innis, and Ash the local team was able to hold a fair margin over the Birmingham team until the 220 yd. dash and relay were run off, but the crimson sprinters proved to be unexcelled, consequently the Plymouth boys were beaten by seven points. Wagenschutz turned in the best performance of the day, in class B, winning the high jump, broad jump, high hurdles, and placing third in the low hurdle event. Jack Kinsey and Arnold Ash placed first in the shot put and 440 yd. dash respectively. Williams and Innis tied for second in the pole vault with three Birmingham vaulters. In the relay, the Plymouth team placed fifth and Elliott took a fourth in the mile. Below are the results of the meet.

Birmingham, 42%; Plymouth, 35%; Ecorse, 23%; Berkely, 21%; Dearborn, 18%; Howell, 18%; Ypsilanti, 14%; East Detroit, 10%; Rochester, 6; Wayne, 6.

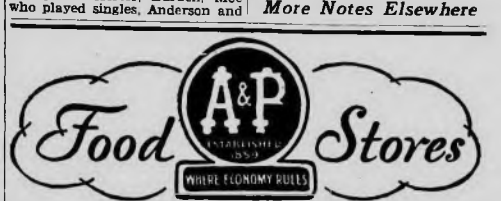

Wagenschutz, Kinsey, Ash, Williams, Innis will be entitled to go to the State Meet which is being held this afternoon and tomorrow at East Lansing. After going through our past records we find that the Plymouth track team of '35" is by far the most successful group we have had in a number of years.

STUDENT COUNCIL ARRANGES DANCE

The last school dance of the year will be held tonight in the auditorium at 8:00 o'clock. The Student Council hopes to have this dance a splendid success, and if you want to bid the seniors farewell at the last school dance, here is your chance. The music will be furnished by the "Melody Boys."

Plymouth lost again to Ypsilanti who beat them 5 to 0 on May 16 at Ypsilanti. Plymouth has not won one tennis match this year. Herter, Burden, Moe who played singles, Anderson and Martin, Smith and Norman who played doubles were the Plymouth players.
